NEW POPULAR SONG OF NEW MEXICO

A new song called "New Mexico" with lyrics that fully describe the state has just been published, and is destined to become very popular. The delightful melody is hummed by most everyone after hearing it only once.

The popularity of the song should be nation-wide and should be of great value in publicizing New Mexico. The enchanting melody and words are tinged with all the romance and adventure of New Mexico, yesteryear and today.

This new song has been copyrighted by Ted Jones, a well-known New Mexican, who spent sixteen or eighteen years traveling over the state in the operation of motion picture theatres for a large theatre company. Mr. Jones collaborated with the composers, Irving Bibb and Lynn Cowan, on the words and music.

Mr. Jones headquarters in Los Angeles. He is president and general manager of two theatre companies operating sixty theatres in three states. He has recently completed a one reel travelogue of New Mexico which will be shown throughout the nation. The short subject is in color and entitled "Elbow Room".

At the present time he has a story for a feature motion picture now in the writing stage, which he intends to photograph completely in the State of New Mexico. The screen story is being written by Lillie Hayward, author of such screenplays as "My Pal Wolf", "My Friend Flicka", "Tahiti Nights", "Blood on the Moon" and many other outdoor pictures. The picture which is yet untitle, will be an outdoor feature in color and will be filmed in many locations throughout the State. Many of the persons in background scenes and the extras will be New Mexico people. It will be a class "A" motion picture produced and directed by some of the famous Hollywood names. An actual shooting date has not been set, but the plans are for a spring or summer shooting schedule. This new feature film will be the first production of Jones New Mexico Corporation for the making of movies in this State.

Remember, tomorrow, Saturday December 11th is the day of the annual Woman's Club bazaar which will be held at the club building starting at 10:00 a. m. Come early for the best selection.

NEW POPULAR SONG OF NEW MEXICO

A new song called "New Mexico" with lyrics that fully describe the state has just been published, and is destined to become very popular. The delightful melody is hummed by most everyone after hearing it only once.

The popularity of the song should be nation-wide and should be of great value in publicizing New Mexico. The enchanting melody and words are tinged with all the romance and adventure of New Mexico, yesteryear and today.

This new song has been copyrighted by Ted Jones, a well-known New Mexican, who spent sixteen or eighteen years traveling over the state in the operation of motion picture theatres for a large theatre company. Mr. Jones collaborated with the composers, Irving Bibb and Lynn Cowan, on the words and music.

Mr. Jones headquarters in Los Angeles. He is president and general manager of two theatre companies operating sixty theatres in three states. He has recently completed a one reel travelogue of New Mexico which will be shown throughout the nation. The short subject is in color and entitled "Elbow Room".

At the present time he has a story for a feature motion picture now in the writing stage, which he intends to photograph completely in the State of New Mexico. The screen story is being written by Lillie Hayward, author of such screenplays as "My Pal Wolf", "My Friend Flicka", "Tahiti Nights", "Blood on the Moon" and many other outdoor pictures. The picture which is yet unutilized, will be an outdoor feature in color and will be filmed in many locations throughout the State. Many of the persons in background scenes and the extras will be New Mexico people. It will be a class "A" motion picture produced and directed by some of the famous Hollywood names. An actual shooting date has not been set, but the plans are for a spring or summer shooting schedule. This new feature film will be the first production of Jones New Mexico Corporation for the making of movies in this State.

Story of Revolution

Lesson for December 5, 1948

THE MOST important history in the world is in one small book. The most important movement, the most revolutionary, the one that is destined to change the world more than any other, is the Christian church. The story of how it began is in the book of Acts. No other book in or out of the New Testament tells this story: The history of the beginnings of the one and only international, interracial, worldwide movement that sets out to aim at nothing less than a complete transformation of mankind, the Revolution from Within, the Christian Church.

Dr. Foreman

What the Church Is THERE are hundreds of churches today and they do not all agree. But every church, whatever its name or peculiarities, aims to stay on the course marked out by the Christian church when it was one and undivided, the church of the Apostles. We look back to the story in Acts to see what the true church is.

In the very beginning, the church was not the place where the Christians met for worship. It was not the officers. The Apostles themselves were not the church. The church was not a thing at all; it was people.

In Acts these people are called Christians and never called churchmen or church-members. They are given more meaningful names. They are called "disciples," that is, learners, students. They are called "believers." They are called "brothers" for their life was like that of a family. They are called the people of "the Way,"—travelers together to the same destination. The church, in short, is a fellowship, the Family of the Friends of Christ.

How the Church Began THE infant church was like all human babies; it began small and poor. No bystander would have expected it to live; but it had life in its heart. Two forces set that church on its way. One was the command of Christ.

The people who were in it, or rather the people who were the church, took their orders from Christ. It was because of him that they went out to bear witness to him to the "utmost parts of the earth."

Then the people were filled with the Holy Spirit; they were guided constantly by the Spirit. The book of Acts has often been called the "Acts of the Holy Spirit" rather than of the Apostles.

Leaders GOD never does for people what they can do for themselves. So guidance of the Spirit was never a substitute for human leadership. A true church is not a mob; it acts, as the New Testament church did, in an orderly fashion.

One of the church's first problems was that of finding leaders. The history in Acts is largely the history of certain leaders—John, Peter, Paul. But these were not alone. Not even the Apostles tried to run the church like a dictatorship. The people themselves chose the officers who were ordained by the Apostles.

What the Church Does FIVE things the Apostolic church did, and these mark any true church today. They "continued in the Apostles' teachings;" the beginning of all our church schools and Sunday schools is in that brief phrase. They formed a fellowship; the church then was not a list of names of people who cared little for one another; it was a true family.

They observed the sacraments; they and their households were baptized, and they continued "in the breaking of the bread." Baptism and the Lord's Supper have always been observed in some form in every Christian church! They "continued in prayer;" a church in which only the minister prays is a feeble affair.

Above all, they were "witnesses." That is to say, they told the story of Jesus—his life, his teachings, his death, his resurrection. Jesus lives! Jesus is Lord! So the Apostles preached, from Jerusalem to Rome and far beyond. But their preaching would have been mere shouting in the wind, if Christ had not lived again in thousands of everyday Christians.

Homemade Presents Are Sure to Please Discriminating Friends

A DAY or two or three spent in the kitchen instead of out among Christmas crowds will yield several lovely as well as edible presents to give your closest friends.

Most people are so busy around the holidays, not only with shopping but with entertaining that food presents will be really welcome.

Think how nice it is to receive some colorful jelly to serve with Christmas dinner or a homemade coffee cake done up in gala wrappings!

Make a gift list of food presents, then bring out the recipes and decide just how much of each to make. Wrap prettily and deliver just as you would other presents. Keep a few extra boxes of food gifts to give just in case someone you'd forgotten drops in unexpectedly.

If you put up a lot of jellies, jams and preserves during the summer, bring these out and wrap in gay paper and tie with fancy bows. Even one jar makes a perfectly delightful present.

For more elaborate presents you might want to give several jars on a tray that may be used for relishes or sandwiches.

JUST IN CASE you do not have enough jars of jelly from summer, here are some recipes to replenish the supply.

Cranberry Jam
(Makes 13 6-ounce glasses)
7 cups prepared fruit
2 cups sugar
2 cups light corn syrup
1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, add four cups water to about three and one-fourth pounds of fully ripe cranberries. Bring to a boil and simmer, covered, for 10 minutes. Sieve pulp to remove seeds, if desired. (For spiced cranberry jam, simmer fruit with one-half teaspoon ground cloves and one teaspoon cinnamon

Presents made in your kitchen reflect your interest and thoughtfulness to the recipient of the gift, especially if you give gay and colorful jars of jellies and other canned goods. Use some of the stock you put up this summer for gifts.

or one and one-half teaspoons of any desired combination of spices.)

Measure sugar and corn syrup into a dry bowl and set aside until needed. Measure prepared fruit into a five to six quart kettle filling up the last cup or fraction of cup with water if necessary. Place over hottest fire. Add powdered fruit pectin, mix well, and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. Four in sugar and syrup at once, stirring constantly. (To reduce foaming, one-fourth teaspoon butter may be added.) Continue stirring, bring to a full, rolling boil and boil hard one minute.

Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once.

Apricot Jam
1 pound dried apricots
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 cup seedless raisins
1/2 cup water in which apricots were soaked
1 orange

Wash apricots and soak in water enough to cover for one hour. Slice orange fine and cut each slice in fine pieces. Mix all ingredients together.

Cook slowly until thickened. Fill jelly glasses and seal with paraffin at once.

Pear and Apple Conserve
8 hard pears
6 tart apples

LYNN SAYS:
Make Wrappings Gay For Home-Made Gifts

Plum puddings can be given away in small colorful bowls or molds with the paper over the top. The scallop treatment around the paper gives a festive effect.

When you're giving away cookies in a round, flat, tin box, make it decorative by placing a lacy frill around the edge of the cover. A real holly sprig on top will show off much better if placed on a small lace doily.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- Rolls
- Beverage
- Orange Tapioca Pudding

- 1 1/2 lemons
- 3/4 pound preserved ginger
- 3/4 pint water

Pare, quarter and core pears. Pare apples, core and cut crosswise into one-half-inch slices. Grate rind of lemons and add juice to the water. Cut ginger in small pieces. For every pound of fruit allow one pound of sugar. Boil sugar and water to a syrup, then add remaining ingredients and boil 45 minutes or until thick and clear. Place in sterilized cans or jars and seal at once.

This Christmas tree coffee cake will make a welcome present for neighbors or close friends, because it's good to eat as well as very festive appearing. To make it, use a yeast dough recipe given in the column and decorate with candied red and green cherries to give the effect of lights.

- Christmas Tree Coffee Cake
(Makes 1 tree cake)
- 1 cup ready-to-eat bran
  - 1 cup scalded milk
  - 1/4 cup shortening
  - 1/4 cup sugar
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1 cake compressed yeast or 1 package granular yeast
  - 1 egg, well beaten
  - 2 1/4 cup sifted flour

Combine bran, milk, shortening, sugar and salt. Stir until shortening is melted, then cool to lukewarm. Soften yeast in this mixture. Add egg. Stir in flour to make a soft dough; cover. Let stand ten minutes. Knead on lightly floured surface. Place in a greased bowl. Cover and let rise in a warm place until doubled in bulk. Punch down.

Form dough into a long rope or roll about one inch thick; swirl back and forth on a cookie sheet in shape of a pine tree, reserving a small portion of the dough to use for the trunk of the tree. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in a moderate (375-degree) oven for about 25 minutes. When cool, frost with uncooked icing (made out of powdered sugar and a little milk) and decorate with candied cherries to represent lights on a tree.

HERE IS an excellent fruit bread to have on hand for the holidays because it will keep fresh for weeks if kept wrapped in waxed paper and placed in a tin. Slice it thin and use for sandwiches. It makes a lovely gift.

Fruit Bread (Makes 3 loaves).

- 12 eggs
- 3 cups sugar
- 6 cups flour
- 2 tablespoons baking powder
- 2 cups chopped seedless raisins
- 2 cups chopped walnuts
- 1 cup chopped, candied orange peel

Beat the eggs and sugar together for 10 minutes on an electric mixer. (Hand beating will take an hour so you'll have to enlist help from the youngsters!) Fold in the flour and baking powder which have been sifted together. Add the fruits, mixed and floured with a bit of extra flour. Bake in greased loaf pans in a slow (325-degree) oven for one hour.

This is a nice bread for a gift. It's rich and has a distinctive flavor because of the walnuts. Serve it for sandwiches when entertaining, rather than for a meal.

Englishmen Laugh At Their Own Brand of Humor

LONDON. — In vaudeville they used to say: "He who laughs last is English."

But the British know that old cliché about their alleged lack of a sense of humor isn't true. They laugh as often and with the same response as the Americans. Only they don't always laugh at the same things.

That probably is natural, considering there is an ocean between the two nations. Recently a British poll was taken on who laughed at what and when in this country.

It showed that the British city dweller is more apt to laugh at jokes about war and current affairs, while the countryman guffaws mainly at domestic humor.

People over 40 laugh more at religion and drunkenness and dialect stories. Younger folk seem to go for "shaggy dog" stories.

Favorite British Joke.
"Four years ago the same poll asked the same questions on humor and decided that this was the favorite British joke:

Having ordered a plate of cabbage, a restaurant customer plastered it over his head. What are you doing with that cabbage?" demanded the proprietor. "Is that cabbage?" said the customer, "I thought it was spinach."

The same joke has reappeared in many forms in this year's poll. Here is one of the variations:

A man enters a pub, orders a beer, drains it and walks straight up the wall, across the ceiling, down the other side and out of the door. "That's odd," said another man at the bar. "Yes," said the barmaid, "he usually orders ale."

And another:
"This morning," says a man to a friend, "Julius Caesar got on the No. 9 bus with me at Marble Arch and told me he had to race back to Rome for the Ides of March."

"You're lying," snapped the friend. "The No. 9 bus doesn't go to Marble Arch."

More English Humor.
"Two spinsters went for a tramp in the woods—he got away."

A friend met Harry Pollitt, British Communist leader, in brilliant sunshine with his umbrella up. "It's raining in Moscow," Comrade Harry explained.

Winston Churchill met Health Minister Aneurin Bevan in the house of commons and the Socialist leader asked Churchill for twopence to ring up a friend. "Here's fourpence," said Churchill, "ring up all your friends."

A child climbed on a hobby horse in a department store and refused to get off. The store psychologist was called and after he whispered in the child's ear it immediately went home with its mother. "What did you say," marveled the mother, "to make my naughty child so obedient?" Said the psychologist: "I merely whispered 'Get off that dashed horse or I'll break your dashed neck.'"

Australians Plan 3,000 Ton Bomb Blast in New Guinea

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA. — There is going to be a big bang up in New Guinea early next year.

The Australian army and air force are planning to set off 3,000 tons of bombs in one mighty blast. It will rank with the biggest half dozen man made explosions of the world.

These were five atom bombs and the detonation of 8,500 tons of high explosives on Helgoland, German fortress island, in April, 1947.

The New Guinea bombs, left over from World War II, will go up at a dump at Tadij near the big war-time base of Aitape.

Scientists from England and Australia will be there to study the effect of the blast on the earth's crust. About 20 seismograph recording stations will be scattered around the explosion area.

The noise of the explosion should be big enough to be heard for hundreds of miles. The electric detonators that will explode the bombs likely will be about seven miles from the center of the dump.

Geophysicists hope the study of the blast will give them more facts about the earth's crust in this part of the world.

Barred From Marriage, Four Teen-Agers Commit Suicide

NEW DELHI, INDIA. — Four teen-age boys and girls committed suicide with poisoned candy because their parents, of different castes, forbade their marriage, a Lucknow newspaper said.

The newspaper, the National Herald, said a third boy, a mutual friend of the two couples, also died in the love pact.

The dispatch gave these details: Two Hindu sisters, daughters of a lawyer, two male students and the third boy left their homes in Hamirpur City when the boys' and girls' parents of different castes, refused them permission to marry.

They celebrated on the banks of the sacred Jumna river their "reunion in Heaven" and then distributed poisoned sweets among themselves.

The five bodies were buried side by side by the weeping parents. Hindus bury bodies of unmarried persons but cremate others.

NEW MEXICO HEALTH CLINIC TO MEET DECEMBER 15TH

A legislative program aimed at improving health conditions in New Mexico, especially in rural communities, will be proposed at a meeting of the Executive Board of the New Mexico Health Council in Albuquerque, Dec. 10, Glen Gris ham, of Albuquerque, chairman reports.

The board will draw up plans for presenting health legislation to the next session of the state legislature, Gris ham said.

Among important issues to be discussed will be expansion of the water facilities program. Last year $20,000 was appropriated for improving water conditions. That sum was sufficient for improving water conditions. That sum was sufficient for projects in only three communities.

Other legislative matters expected to be approved include a state pure foods and drugs act, liberalization of the hospital enabling act and state sanitation act.

Gris ham said all members of the New Mexico Legislature have been invited to attend the meeting which is open to all members of the Council and persons interested in health problems. The meeting will start at 9:30 a. m., in the basement of the Student Union Building, University of New Mexico campus.

How Much Government?

It's 2,272 miles from New York to Salt Lake City, Utah. Yet, if all the civilian employees in the executive branch of our federal government were six feet tall (they're not), and you placed them head to toe on U. S. Highway 30, they'd reach the distance easily with 1.4 miles to spare.

Perhaps nobody can ever know just how many there are. During the first four months of this year, they increased at a rate of more than 400 a day. Use another comparison. There is one executive worker in the federal government for every 21 income taxpayers. In other words, these 21 taxpayers are paying the salary of the 22nd man. And that's just in the executive arm of the federal government.

Paying the Piper

Each and every American citizen must not fail to be interested in this problem of mushrooming government. As long as we fool ourselves into the habit of asking for more government, we'll see more and more added to the payrolls and we'll pay higher and higher taxes. We need to decide how much government we want. Certainly the more of it we set up the more we have to pay for. At the rate we have been going in the last decade, most of us will be working for the government in a few years.

That would be one of the simplest ways to take the country into socialism. Let most of us be drawing paychecks from the government, in salaries and various benefits, and we would have socialism right here without voting for it. What we need constantly to remember is that the government has not a cent to spend except what it collects from you and me and from our neighbors.

It's Up to Congress

Our next Congress will have a real test, and a real opportunity. Last year, the 80th Congress provided this historic opportunity by establishing a commission to study the reorganization of the executive side of our government. Membership of the Commission includes some of our most public spirited citizens. These experts are giving the structure and functions of many a government agency a thorough going over. They are also studying expenditures, with the idea of proposing changes that will bring both economy and efficiency.

Must Say: "No!"

The 81st Congress will have the job of acting upon whatever recommendations the Commission may present. It is not an easy task. Any executive finds it hard to top off an office here, and an office there. When the government starts a service, it is hard to find a stopping place. Moreover, each and every department will fight to the finish for increased personnel and more money.

May the coming Congress find enough grit and gristle to stand up and say no. We must end waste and extravagance in government. When nearly thirty cents out of every dollar you earn goes directly or indirectly toward support of federal government, that is too much. We cannot continue to be the strong and financially stable nation we must be, unless something is done to curtail the spread of government.

"Farming" Versus "Ranching"

Talked to some editors who run my column in their papers—in states where there's mostly cattle and sheep raising—about the differences there might be between farming and ranching.

And they told me: "Joe, there's no real difference between cattle-men and farmers. We make our living from the land like your folks do; we have the same 4-H Clubs and Granges; the same problems of prices and marketing.

"When it comes to recreation, we have the same liking to get together now and then for a barbecue and a friendly glass of beer."

And from where I sit, that about sums it up. Ranchers may have different names for things or grow different crops. But all over America folks who work the land share those common traits of hard work, sober moderation, and good fellowship, whether they're growing cattle for beef, or barley for good American beer and ale.

THE NEW MEXICO WEEKLY NEWSLETTER

DR. G. Ward Fenley

An open letter to V. S. Izzard, editor of the Amarillo News-Globe: Dear Mr. Izzard: Last week in your News-Globe you addressed an open letter to I. E. Keen Raftery of the University of New Mexico division of journalism inquiring about New Mexico place names.

In part, you said: "Leaving Amarillo, which has an English name, one passes through Vega, Clovis, San Jon, Tucuman, Cuervo and Santa Rosa—all of which speak of the shining armor of the conquistadores and the copper-skinned Americans of the pueblos. But suddenly the visitor on Highway 66 is confronted with a roadside sign proclaiming the town of Moriarty! Moriarty! Who was he? How did this Irishman get mixed up with Spaniards and the Indians?"

Before we explain how Moriarty came into being, Mr. Izzard, let us suggest that if you travelled other highways in New Mexico, you would be even more impressed with native nomenclature.

Should you go north from Tucuman to Clayton, you would hit Logan, Centerville, Sedan, Amistad and Nara Visa—all names with peculiar histories.

From Gallup north to Shiprock there's a mouthful of jawbreakers: Gameroo, Tohatchi, Drolet's, Toadlena, and Newcomb. Wonder how Newcomb got mixed in this batch?

From Albuquerque south on 85 it's Spanish territory: Isleta, Belen, Los Lunas, Bernardo, Socorro; then west Magdalena, Datil, Quemado and Pletown—a good name as a climax to the series.

NO RH. RE OR REASON

Like to, say, most New Mexico place names "Just grewed," Mr. Izzard, But Moriarty was a natural of Christ.—Henry Van Dyke.

There was a Mr. Michael Timothy Moriarty who left Indianapolis in the early 1880's to seek a cure for his rheumatism. Sitting in the Estancia Valley, he intended to return north when his condition cleared. History does not tell us what happened to his rheumatism, but he did live to a ripe old age and died in 1932 on the sheep ranch he operated at Moriarty. His daughter, Mrs. George Woodman, still operates the original sheep ranch—now turned into grazing spot for white-face cattle.

FAMILY PLACE NAMES

New Mexico had a way of perpetuating family names. Maljamer between Lovington and Artesia was named for three children of Mr. William Mitchell: MALCOLM JAMES, and MARJORIE—thus, Maljamer.

Tinnie received its name from the first postmaster's daughter by that name. Same evidently goes for Lucy, Elida, Dora, Senorita and Eunice. There were Otis, Claud

Stanley, Lon, Grady, Moses and Roy.

HAPPEN-SES

Legend says that Socorro and Lemitar were playing a game of Baseball in the dim past and one side yelled to its players: "Sock-a-row of em!" Thus Socorro. The fans for the other team yelled back: "Lam-the-tar out of it!" Thus Lemitar.

Oltimers say that there was a roadbuilding cook over next to the Arizona border in the early days who could not bake cakes, but HOW HE COULD MAKE PIES. An excuse for Pietown.

One explanation says Cimarron came from "Summer-on."

SOME CAME NATURALLY

The postmaster at Highrolls says that if you ever lie down and start rolling you won't stop until you reach the next county—40 miles away. Hot Springs, Radium Springs, Cloudercroft and Artesia are self-explanatory. Likewise, Waterflow, through which the San Juan, Animas and La Platta rivers flow witnessed two-thirds of the down flow of water in New Mexico. Wagon Mound, up toward Raton gets its name from the mountain ridge to the east as does Rabbit Ears in northeastern New Mexico—Los Orjeas de Conejo. Ruldoño evidently comes from a fast flowing, noisy creek.

Their Future is in the Balance

Meat animals are what they eat! It takes a balanced ration to keep them healthy, growing and gaining. Successful livestock men know this. Hundreds of controlled feeding experiments prove it. Morrison, the great feeding authority, states: "Lambs on unbalanced rations require 48% more corn and 16% more hay for each 100 pounds of gain!"

Balanced rations for hogs show spectacular results. Anyone can make a lot of fat and a little lean with corn and water. But that's the slow, expensive way. It takes a pile of corn to do it. But with corn balanced with protein and minerals and vitamins hogs can be fed to market weights in six months or less. Think of the corn you can save—11 bushels of corn alone will make 100 pounds of pork, but only 6 1/2 bushels of corn plus 35 pounds of protein supplement will do the same job faster.

Scores of feeding trials prove that a balanced ration pays with steers and lambs, whether on the range or in the feedlot. In fact, the same basic principle applies to all livestock and poultry. Forage and other homegrown feeds, properly balanced with protein and minerals, make more and better meat pounds at less cost.

Continuous research affords new and exciting means of using available materials in improved rations for livestock. At first, tankage alone was used to add protein to hog rations. It did a good job. Then research proved that a combination of proteins is better than one kind alone. A mixture of tankage, soybean meal, linseed meal and, in some areas, cottonseed meal, produces better quality pork even faster. This improvement in rations makes for more efficient and economical use of proteins. But what about vitamins and minerals? Here, too, many advancements in techniques of supplying these nutrients have been made. Dehydrated alfalfa, milk solids, vitamin oils, and some synthetic sources provide essential vitamins and other factors. Mineral balance is necessary, too. Salt, the universal need, supplies sodium and chlorine. Steamed bone meal supplies calcium and phosphorus, and other major minerals. With these, alert research men now are combining other known essential elements, such as cobalt, manganese, iron, iodine, copper, and magnesium, to turn slow gainers into fast gainers.

How good are you kids at knowing the names of the animals used to help you play games?

In baseball, what part of a steer do you wear? Why, the glove has a padding that's made from its hair!

In what game would you say the pig best fits in? Yes, football, that's right—the ball's called a "pigskin"!

And the last time you walloped a tennis ball—wham! Did you know that the racket strings came from a—lamb?

By-products that meat packers save every day increase livestock values, make stockmen more pay.

Martha Logan's Recipe for BAKED HAM SLICE

Cover a 2-inch-thick slice of ham with honey or orange marmalade. Add 1 cup water or fruit juice. Bake in a covered pan in a slow oven (225° F) about 25 to 30 minutes per pound (about 2 hours).

Quotes of the Month

It's cheaper to warm water with fuel in the tank heater than with corn in a steer.

E. T. Robbins, University of Illinois
For proper nutrition of brood sows, feed good quality alfalfa hay liberally, ground or otherwise. Use at least 10% in mixed rations for sows, or self-feed the hay in a rack.
Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Station

A flock of 300 hens will consume 17 tons of water annually. If possible to install, running water in a laying house will save a lot of walking, carrying and plain hard work.
M. A. Seaton, Kansas State College

A phosphorus supplement fed to ewes in amounts to satisfy their requirements would increase their vitality, help maintain their weight during the winter, and increase the percentage lamb crop.

First Calves Forecast Production

by Marvin Koger, Animal Husbandman New Mexico A. & M. Experiment Station

Want to estimate efficiency of calf production in your cow herd? The cow's first calf tells more than her good looks. In a New Mexico study, we took the weaning weights of first calves weaned by three-year-old cows. These weights were compared with the weaning weights of calves raised by these same cows in the next four years. Cows and calves were placed in five groups (according to the weaning weight of first calves). Here's the 5-year record:

Groups	Average First Calf Weight From 3-Year-Old Cows	Average Calf Weights From Same Cows for Next 4 Years
Group 1	321 pounds	404 pounds
Group 2	349 pounds	417 pounds
Group 3	383 pounds	430 pounds
Group 4	403 pounds	443 pounds
Group 5	441 pounds	456 pounds

Considering only the two extremes, Group One and Group Five, it was shown that breeding stock picked from Group One could be expected to produce, for the next four years, calves that had a yearly average weaning weight of only 404 pounds. But those picked from Group Five should produce calves with a yearly average weaning weight of 456 pounds, 52 pounds more than Group One.

These figures show that later calves are apt to be a repeat performance of the cow's first calf. Cows doing poorly their first calving year continued to produce the lightest group of calves. They were poor risks. Culling cows with light, scrubby first calves would be well repaid in greater profit through more efficient production.

If you would like a full report on this experiment, write to New Mexico A. & M. Experiment Station, State College, N. M.

"It takes a big tractor to pull a heavy-duty plow"

This large tractor is especially designed to handle the big and heavy jobs—easily, efficiently, economically.

This little tractor is good when used for its proper purposes. But it is not built to pull such a heavy plow.

It's the same way with business, including the meat-packing business. There's need for all kinds and sizes of packing plants—large ones as well as small ones. Two-thirds of the livestock is produced west of the Mississippi River. Two-thirds of the meat is eaten east of it. Bringing meat and meat-eaters together is a big job!

That's where the "big tractor" proves its worth. The country needs nation-wide meat packers like Swift & Company. For with processing plants located where most of the livestock is raised, we can help bridge the gap between western range and feedlots and the kitchen range. It is an important job, filling the vital needs of producers and consumers. As we have served them over the years, we have grown. And as we have grown, so also our ability to serve has grown.

VETERANS NEWS

Veterans Administration has announced that its current dental work backlog is the lowest in two years.

Dr. Boin R. East, director of VA's dental service, said that during the three months ending September 30 the agency's dental workload was pared from 291,051 to 229,544, a reduction of 21 per cent. He said he expected an even greater reduction by June 30, 1949.

Private dentists have cooperated with VA in caring for the service-connected dental disabilities of World War II veterans. They handled 88 per cent of the examinations completed during the three-month period.

No deadline has been placed on the time in which veterans with 60 per cent or more disabilities may qualify for increased subsistence for dependents, VA said. Creighton E. Hays, VA deputy administrator for Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and New Mexico, has announced that increases in subsistence will be paid from the date proof of a veteran's dependents is received by VA. Vets who had made their dependents a matter of record with VA prior to September 1, will receive retroactive payments to September 1, providing they file complete proof of dependents

It is nauseating to read, day after day, in the territorial press, "What would be a suitable name for New Mexico when it becomes a state?" Some suggest Lincoln as an appropriate name. But why Lincoln? What did Lincoln ever do for New Mexico? Why change the name state or no state? However, it is not a state yet, anyway, which reminds us of the old-time recipe of how to cook a rabbit, and then

There will be a grand dance and supper at Nogal on Christmas Eve. On Christmas day there will be sweepstake horse races, only cowpops eligible to be entered.

An exchange says: When the frost is on the whiskers and my overcoat's in soak, then this sort of open winter doesn't strike me as a joke, and I wish the good old summer might come sloping back once more—when I'd kick and raise a rumpus as I've always done before. I would use a smoky language as I tried to swat the flies, and I'd quote from wicked authors when the sweat got in my eyes; so I'll just pretend I'm happy, and I will not snarl or croak, though the frost is on the whiskers and my overcoat's in soak.

Minimum construction requirements, designed to assure veterans that the homes they purchase with the aid of G. I. loans are of sound construction, have been announced by V. A.

The construction requirements which will become effective December 15th deal with quality of materials, construction techniques, workmanship, installation of necessary home equipment and related structural details. They parallel minimum construction requirements of the Federal Housing Administration.

The standards apply only to proposed construction for sale to veterans where, VA is asked to give an appraisal of reasonable value before construction begins.

A strapping 25-year-old farmer veteran with both legs gone has just harvested a corn crop in western Iowa that, acre for acre, ranks with the top crops of the nation.

He is Ralph Neppel of Carroll Iowa, who was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for bravery he displayed after his legs were blown off in Germany.

Half of his 240-acre farm was planted in corn. Some of his acreage yielded about 100 bushels to the acre, or more than double the anticipated national average of 41.7 bushels per acre. His total yield also was far above the the predicted 1948 Iowa average of 59 bushels per acre.

Wearing a pair of artificial legs provided him by VA, Neppel does most of his own work on the farm. He keeps equipment in running condition, does his share of disking and plowing, operates the tractor on his corn picker and in his spare time sells electrical appliances and equipment to farmers.

Miss Patsy Dolan, daughter of Mr. W. P. Dolan of Tucuman and Mrs. J. G. Herring of Carrizozo was married in Albuquerque to Corporal Ralph C. Smith of the Holloman Air base, Alamogordo, N. Mex. Marriage was solemnized at the home of Johnnie and Richard Dolan brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Smith was born and reared in Carrizozo; is a graduate of Carrizozo High School. After graduation Miss Dolan was employed in the county clerk's office, more recently she has been secretary at Holloman Airbase, where she met Corporal Smith.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Pressure 'Out' in Berlin Controversy; British Welcome Lilibet's Princeling; Farmer Priority Looms in Legislation

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: What opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

PRESSURE: Polite 'NO'

Sore point in all the Berlin controversy continued to be the Soviet blockade of the ex-Ritch capital.

Following his return from a Florida vacation, the President went into a full-dress review of American foreign policy with Secretary of State Marshall and W. Averell Harriman, U. S. ambassador-at-large in Europe.

The gravity with which United Nations leaders viewed the Berlin situation was evidenced in the efforts of U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie, and H. V. Evatt, general assembly president.

THESE TWO made-urgent appeal to chief executives of the four big powers—going over the heads of these nations' U. N. delegations to do so—to bring the Berlin dispute to an end and thus bring about world peace.

This appeal was without avail. The United States, France and England said "no," politely but firmly. They declared the issue must remain in the hands of the U. N. security council until the Russian blockade is lifted.

Evatt and Lie argued that the dispute cannot be settled within the cramped confines of the security council and should be aired in the wider fields of the general assembly.

AGGRAVATING the situation was the coming winter with its consequence obstacles to the air lift. The Russians appeared content to wait out this phase of American aid to Germany in the apparent conviction, or hope, that bad weather would so impair air lift efficiency as to make it negative in the battle for Germany.

If the situation were to be resolved by diplomatic means, American thought and procedure on the question would carry top weight with the Big Three.

Under this setup, President Truman's evident intention to spurn discussion of the problem unless the Berlin blockade were lifted, would indicate the United States was prepared to continue the "cold war" with the Russians, and to bet with the elements that the air lift would continue to be efficient and that Premier Stalin and his Communists would have to come to terms in the end.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN reiterated that he planned no American mission of any sort to Moscow, and that he and Secretary Marshall were in accord on all questions. The President would stand for no pressuring in discussion of the Berlin question, even if it came from top chieftains in the U. N.

PRIORITY: For Farmers

The man with the hoe put the "X" where it counted November 3, and, as a result, America's farmers are to reap a share of President Truman's smashing victory at the polls.

Even now, administration chiefs are moving to give the nation's farmers top priority over labor in any legislative program coming up for action by the next congress.

THE FARMER'S reward is to come immediately—not in the future—and the outlook is that labor may have to stand behind the farmer when awards for a part in President Truman's triumph are to be handed out in a legislative program.

Best friend of the farmers when the plums are to be passed around is Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan. No doubt of where credit for Mr. Truman's victory belongs, Brannan already has assigned Louis H. Bean, department economist and election forecaster, to prepare charts and graphs to show the President that he owes his election primarily to the farmers.

THAT ISN'T all that will be done to insure the farmers a fair return on their investment in Mr. Truman, for top level planners are drafting a new "flexible" price support program to go into effect early in 1949. Instead of 1950, as would have been the case under the Republican Aiken farm bill.

Add to this the fact that Senator-elect Clinton Anderson (D., N. M.), Missing Link?

Anthropologists appear to have turned up another "missing link" in the evolution of man.

The latest find, discovered in an ancient Transvaal cave in South Africa, may provide a clue to the earliest known of man's ancestors. The bones of this prehistoric creature, who may have lived a million years ago, indicate he might have been a "man-ape" who carried weapons and built fires.

Day of Judgment

Hideki Tojo, former prime minister and top war lord of Japan, was found guilty of wartime atrocities by an allied tribunal in Tokyo and was sentenced to death by hanging. He is the last survivor of the infamous Hitler-Mussolini-Tojo axis.

former agriculture secretary, took a direct hand in supervising drafting of the new measure and personally will introduce it, and it becomes evident the farmer's happy place in the administration sun is most assured.

How will farmers fare under the administration plan? Here's the projected program: To protect the farmer against anticipated crop price fall-offs, he would be given a flexible price floor that would protect growers, but would not burden U. S. taxpayers with any extended permanent subsidy of farm surpluses.

PROVIDE adequate storage facilities for farmers in corn and wheat belts to prevent loss of bumper crops.

Extend reclamation and soil conservation benefits to more farmlands and provide an increased rural electrification for more farmers, this to be sponsored and paid for by the government.

This, then, is an extension of the benefits which farmers may have felt were imperiled in the Dewey program, and for which they felt they were voting when they cast their ballots for President Truman.

WELCOME: Infant Rex

For hours the solemn-faced constable had kept his vigil in the chill of the November night. Impassive in the face of the huge throngs that pushed against the gates he guarded, he waited for the word.

At last he saw a royal page, garbed in blue, walk stiffly from a palace doorway. The page strode to the constable's side, bent over and spoke in a low voice.

THE CONSTABLE'S face lighted, he walked quickly to the iron railing against which the crowd was densely packed and declared exultantly: "It's a boy!" Then throwing his head back, he shouted: "A prince has been born."

To Princess Elizabeth, heir-apparent to the throne of England, and her consort, Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, had been born a son. A prince by a special royal decree of King George VI issued several days before the birth of the child. Their young prince was born just six days short of the royal couple's wedding anniversary, November 20.

THE NEWS that Elizabeth's child was a son told the usually stolid Londoners what they wanted to hear—that the royal heir was a child who might someday be their king.

Both he and his mother would be cut off the line of succession to the throne should a son be born to the king and queen; monarchical governments, even of the benevolent type, are fading from the world scene; the contracting empire's dimensions are subject to speculation, but even were these things non-existent, there is the last and greatest imponderable of them all—the atomic bomb.

REFUND: Pay Up

If you're an ex-GI and figure to cash in on those service insurance dividends next year, make sure you're square with the Veterans' administration or you're likely to get left in the cold.

VA says it may withhold all or part of the checks of two groups of veterans—those who have received overpayments for education or training subsistence and those who have defaulted on GI loans.

? Current Events ?

You probably will recall that the U. S. had a presidential election (sounds of screaming) a few weeks ago. It was the biggest upset since Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over the lantern in Chicago, and it will take its place as one of the most unusual in a long line of distinguished American elections. The subject merits a few questions which merit a few answers. Do you know them?

1. Mr. Truman is the first native of Missouri to be elected President. In what two states were the largest number of Presidents born?

2. In this election four southern states voted against the regular Democratic party. How many southern states deserted the party in 1928?

3. Seven vice-presidents have succeeded to the presidency on the death of the chief executive. How many of these, besides Mr. Truman, were elected to a full term as President in their own right?

4. When does the President's term of office begin? And when do those of senators and representatives?

5. There are nine men in Mr. Truman's cabinet. Other Presidents elected recently have had 16-member cabinets. Why the difference?

ANSWERS

- 1. Virginia—eight (Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, William Henry Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, Wilson); Ohio—seven (Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Benjamin Harrison, McKinley, Taft, Harding).
2. Five: Texas, Virginia, Florida, North Carolina and Tennessee voted Republican.
3. Two: Theodore Roosevelt and Calvin Coolidge.
4. President's term begins January 20, those of senators and representatives on January 3.
5. Under the armed forces unification act of 1947 the cabinet positions of secretary of the navy and secretary of war were eliminated and just one office—secretary of defense—was added.

MILLENNIUM: Very Unfunny

When a radio comedian backs off from laughs, the event rates in news value with the man-bites-dog item.

But there's a method—about $16,000 worth weekly—in Arthur Godfrey's madness. Godfrey is the guy who has ordered his musicians not to laugh at any of his jokes.

THE RED-HEADED radio comic explains wistfully that his musicians used to laugh at his jokes, sing with him and "have all kinds of fun." But that's all over now, Godfrey says.

He adds that union rules provide that if his musicians laugh at his jokes, or join him in songs, they will come under an additional union, the American Federation of Radio Artists. And that, says Godfrey, would mean an extra cost of $800 to $900 a week for each musician.

His men would sing choruses and they'd kid each other, the comedian says, but now "if they open their mouths to sing they come under AFRA's jurisdiction. That adds the extra salary."

No Hairshirt Here

A picture of sardonic contentment, President Truman accented himself in casual shirt while tripping lightly through his post-election vacation at Key West, Fla. He walled away the dreary hours by formulating the broad outlines of his administrative policy for the next four years, and passed for a moment to turn down a proposal for another Big Four conference at this time.

NEW LIGHT: From Isaiah

New light and interpretation may be thrown on the Old Testament by discovery of the complete scroll of the Prophet Isaiah. All 66 chapters of the book, with only a few portions missing, have been found.

One of the most dramatic Biblical discoveries of all time, the scroll was brought to light recently when four of the oldest Hebrew manuscripts thus far known were found in a cave near the northern end of the Dead-Sea.

Scholars date the Isaiah scroll as early Maccabean, or second century B. C., which would make it the oldest Biblical document yet to be discovered intact.

THE DISCOVERY of a complete Isaiah scroll, dating back a thousand years before the oldest one known, promises scholars an opportunity to seek new meaning from the Bible, and to determine by comparison the extent that errors may have found their way into Biblical manuscripts with the passage of time.

Bible scholars point-out that the Book of Isaiah, like all of the Bible, came down to us as the result of many copyings by scribes who would make additional scrolls as the old ones wore out.

THE GENERAL PATTON . . . Diminutive Mrs. George S. Patton Jr., with one hefty swing breaks a bottle of champagne over the new, low-slung tank named after her late husband, the famed general. During World War II, General Patton was a tough, hard-fighting, fearless armored force tactician and leader who continually demanded more for armored equipment.

SHARMAN IS BACK . . . Sharman Douglas, feisty daughter of Lewis Douglas, U. S. ambassador to Great Britain, returned to the United States a few days ago and found herself immediately surrounded by the press. Sharman's name has been linked romantically with several of the most distinguished young poets of the Empire.

BANNER CROP . . . Military government officials estimate that 340 million bushels of rice is expected to be harvested in Japan this year. On every road, in every town and village of the rice-producing areas, the activity of cutting, drying, threshing, winnowing or transportation to the rice-collection points for sale is evident.

CATHOLIC MONKS . . . Jessica Dragocetta recently received the "Order of Isabella the Catholic" in a ceremony at the Spanish embassy. The award was given in recognition of her interest in Spanish music and culture. Left to right are Spanish Ambassador Juan Felipe Lopez, who made the presentation, Francis Cardinal Spellman, Jessica Dragocetta and the Spanish charge d'affaires German Harshar.

THE JAGGED SCAR
By DONALD HUNTER

Tom and his dad had always been pals, so much so that when "the old man" suddenly became sullen and morose toward his son, Tom attributed it to his "growing up" and he began to find life almost unbearable.

THE Tow-Headed Boy with the hair close cropped didn't know what it was. The old man spent hours just gazing off into space. He sat on the top front porch step, his cane between his knees, his feet planted on the second step and the cane end set on the bottom one. With his hands crossed over the cane head, the right hand carefully covered the jagged scar across the back of the left one.

Other times, when the boy was around, he always seemed busy reading the newspaper. He kept it folded so he could hold it with one hand, the scarred hand concealed in his lap.

Of course, he had never been very talkative. Stoic, like the hill people he came from, he never mentioned his troubles. When he'd chopped his hand with an ax out in the back yard he'd sneaked through the kitchen hiding the mangled bloody member behind him so the boy's mother wouldn't see.

The boy had stood in the front room wide-eyed and anxious with fear when the old man saw him.

"Don't tell your mother, boy!" he'd warned before he went into the bedroom to tear up an old sheet for wrapping his hand.

But the boy's mother had noticed. She sensed the strange atmosphere, the unusual actions. She'd followed him into the bedroom, and the boy had heard the old man shushing her, while she bawled him out for hiding the thing. He kept saying it was nothing—and afterwards he never talked about it, never complained. He just never let anyone see the jagged scar across the back of his hand if he could help it.

Now, the old man was withdrawn; he couldn't get near him anymore, couldn't talk to him. Once, he'd been able to get a kind word out of the old man. He'd say, "That's good, Tom!" or, "That's not the way that ought to be done, Son!" And though there weren't very many words between them, they were the kind that made the boy feel good, and know that everything was all right.

Now, it was different. The old man didn't seem to have time for him. He didn't want to take their long silent walks together anymore, like he used to. And he didn't move around much. He even seemed to resent the boy's presence, like when he'd stumbled that time in the front room and caught himself on his cane. He growled at the boy, leaving him speechless and hurt. But he wasn't old, not like Grampa—and the old mare down on the farm.

Still, the last time he'd brought his report card home from school, happily expecting the old man to say, as he sometimes did, "That's good, Son, good that you're getting your learning!" and smile at him quietly, he hadn't done it.

He'd only glanced at the card on one side then, turned it over and said something that sounded like "Humph!" and handed it back to him shortly. The boy had worked extra hard that last month to get the grades up hoping the old man might break through to him again. He couldn't understand that short "Humph!"

There was something wrong, and the boy wondered if it could be him. His mother seemed to act the same way toward him. Cut him off short, when he'd tried awkwardly to ask her about how dad was treating him. He called him the old man when he was with the other boys his age, not with any disrespect, but he always called him dad around his mother.

"Oh, leave your father alone, can't you?" she said. And he went away sensing an even greater wrong.

Even little Rosemary, the girl he talked to shyly in the school yard sometimes, seemed to be treating him different lately.

"What's wrong with you?" she'd ask right in the middle of his wondering what was wrong with the old man and his mom.

"Oh, nothing—nothing!" he'd say quickly. "Why?"

"Well, you don't talk near so much anymore," she'd say, "and you seem so far away like!"

He wondered if just not paying any attention to her while he was thinking about his dad and mom made her think there was something wrong with him. Or if maybe there was really something wrong with him.

He hated the thought, but it kept cropping up in his mind. Maybe he was adopted! Maybe the old man and his mom were not really his father and mother, but had just adopted him—and he was just now finding it out. The thought frightened him, and he buried it deep in his mind. If it was true, he'd be like the old man; hide his hurt. He'd never let them know he knew!

His father called him "boy" now, instead of "Tom" or "Son," like he had. And he was sharp, almost harsh sometimes.

HE WAS bouncing his ball off the side of the house when the old man came around from the backyard. In an excess of boyish joy, he forgot for a moment what the situation was between them. He threw the ball to the old man. Instead of catching it and firing it back so it would sting his hands the old man ignored it. He did nothing till the ball hit him, and bounced harmlessly off his shoulder.

He tensed then, lifted his cane, "Stop that infernal nonsense, boy!" he yelled.

The boy could feel his own lip tremble as he stared at the old man's angry face. He took a deep breath, his young chest swelling quickly with the sharp intake of air. He held it, stiffened his lip. He would not cry. Crying wasn't grown up!

The thought struck him then that maybe that was the whole thing that was wrong. He was growing up! He wanted to turn down that thought right away. If this was what it was like, if this was growing up—then he didn't want to be big! He didn't want to be. It hurt too much.

Why couldn't it be like it used to be with the old man and him? But if that was it—if it was just growing up—then it never would be like that again. And Rosemary—she would never treat him the same again, either. She knew, too! Just getting big, you had to be hard, cold, without love, understanding; feeling or—There was something wrong in just growing up!

The boy started to rub his knuckle into his eye, but stopped. A bleak chill was settling in his heart, as he watched the old man

Night Hog Feeding Shows Good Results

Experiment May Prove Useful During Summer

What is believed to have been the first experiment in night feeding of hogs indicates that this practice may prove highly practical, at least during the summer months.

The experiment was conducted by Robert C. Turner, a Henry, Ill., farmer, who produced an average gain of 92 pounds each on a herd of 107 Duroc hogs he had on his night-feeding program for 63 days. To encourage his pigs to eat during the cool of the night when they were reluctant to eat during the heat of the summer days, Turner erected lights in his hog lot. He had a time clock control set to switch the lights on for two feedings, from 10 to 11:30 p. m. and from 2 to 3:30 a. m. One pole with a single 150-watt bulb and another pole with two 150-watt bulbs lighted the hog lot area, while a third pole with two 150-watt bulbs lighted the self-feeders.

Turner fed a ration of ground oats and a pelleted milk product in the self-feeders, hand fed ear corn, and provided mineral, salt and good alfalfa pasture.

His 107 pigs, farrowed in late March and early April, weighed in for the test at 7,424 pounds, or an average of 69.38 pounds each. They weighed out at 17,370 pounds, or an average of 161.4 pounds each. This meant a total gain of 9,045 pounds of pork, about 92 pounds per pig, or an average daily gain of about 1.45 pounds per pig.

The herd consumed a total of 27,062 pounds of feed at a cost of $1,059.01. According to these figures Turner produced his gain at the rate of 275 pounds of feed for each 100 pounds of pork, or a feed cost of about $1.70 for each hundred weight. The experiment used 148 kilowatt hours of electricity at a cost of $7.40, or about seven cents per pig.

Plush Age on Farm

The future living quarters for Bosie and Dobbin may still be a far cry from farmhouse comforts and big-city penthouse plush, but at least some of them will have air conditioning, in the interests of more milk and better livestock health.

A new barn humidity control system which will reduce excessive barn moisture to levels that will do away with decay, rusting and mildewing equipment, and losses due to spoiled animal feed, bacteria and insanitary conditions, has been put on the market.

The new system will automatically control fans and other devices for reducing excessive animal-produced moisture which in winter often reaches 100 per cent saturation.

Contour-Seeded Fields Produce Larger Crops

Contour-seeded wheat fields produce larger crops than those seeded up and down the slope, according to recent expert reports.

Increases of two to three bushels an acre have been reported on contour-seeded wheat fields in many instances. Also, in addition to producing bigger yields, wheat fields seeded in this manner erode less. It takes little extra time to plow disc and seed on the contour.

WHO HAS NOT SUFFERED

WHO has not suffered does not know All that his God would have him know.

He has not learned the patient trust That those who suffer bravely must.

He has not seen Faith's star arise Above the blackest midnight skies;

Not clung to Hope that lights the way Across the grayest, bleakest days;

Not waited, quietly aware Of God beyond unanswered prayer.

He has not known how deep a peace May follow some sweet, sure release.

Who has not suffered does not know All that his God would have him know.

PARTY PICKUPS We could tell you that the new party game is called "photography" but you'd know that was only a gag, because blackout stuff and kissing games went out with "Chibaba Chibaba." Here are some really good party ideas to keep your guests in circulation and good humor.

Balloon Busters—Tie a balloon to the ankle of every girl at the party. The object of the dabce that follows is for the girls to burst each other's balloons. The boys are the steering committee, steering their partners into strategic positions for bursting other girls' balloons or protecting their own. Last one with a balloon wins a prize. She may need an aspirin, too.

Paper Dolls—Each boy is equipped with old newspapers, a scissors and a paper of pins. Within a specific time he must create a newspaper dress on his partner. Cleverest design wins prize for the designer and his victim. She also receives assorted stabs and pin pricks.

If those games don't help break the ice, better bring on the refreshments early. There's nothing like a banana-peanut butter and marshmallow slurpwich to put everybody in a mingling mood.

IF PETER PAIN TORTMENTS YOUR CHILD WITH CHEST COLD

● Rub in Ben-Gay for prompt, soothing, gentle relief from chest-cold misery. Your doctor knows about those famous pain-relieving agents—methyl salicylate and menthol. Ben-Gay contains up to 2 1/2 times more of them than five other widely offered rub-ins. Mild Ben-Gay was especially formulated for children's delicate skin. Ask for genuine Ben-Gay.

DON'T LET DEATH TAKE YOUR HOLIDAY

Is your Christmas gift list all made out? Wait a minute—here's something you may have forgotten. How about giving one extra gift this year? No, we can't tell you who to give it to. That's up to you. Maybe you will give it to your wife or husband, or one of your children or a complete stranger. You may even end up giving it to yourself. The gift is life!

Each year hundreds of persons are killed by accidents during the Christmas-New Year's holiday celebration. Most of these deaths and injuries are in traffic mishaps. The National Safety Council has found that the traffic death toll on Christmas is two or three times the annual average—the most dangerous single period of the year.

You may be one of the many drivers and pedestrians who will have it in his power to give a gift of life this Christmas. How?

Well, if you refuse to take that holiday drink before you get behind the wheel—you may be giving life to someone.

If you don't try to pass that car on the hill—life can be your gift.

If you slow down when you see that pedestrian step hesitantly from the curb—you may give the best present of all.

It's an ironic fact that the most joyous season of the year is the one most likely to bring traffic tragedy. The reasons are simple, but too often overlooked.

Family gatherings and other festivities of the year-end holiday season bring about the peak travel of the winter, and when more cars are on the move, there is more chance of an accident.

Early darkness plus bad weather add up to poor visibility. Fogged windshields also make it difficult to see and avoid accident situations.

The good fellowship of the season stimulates more drinking, and too often the celebrants clink glasses with death.

Rain and snow and ice, when they are present during the holidays mean slippery streets and highways. And thousands of drivers still fail to adjust their speed to such adverse conditions.

So get out that Christmas list again and write down one more gift—the life you may give if you drive prudently and safely.
