Chester Foust Purchases Local Ford Dealership

The past week a deal was consummated in Carrizozo which is of wide interest to the whole county. Mr. Roy Shafer, successful and popular operator of the Carrizozo Auto Company sold his interest in that business to Mr. Chester Foust, formerly of Chicago but now of Nogal.

At present Mr. Shafer hasn't made any business plans but he intends to remain in Carrizozo. Mr. Shafer has been a faithful advertiser, and a loyal patron of the Lincoln County News - Outlook from the time he went into business here sixteen years ago. We are glad he intends to remain here, and whatever line of business he may pursue he will have the cordial well-wishes of a host of patrons and business associates all over the county.

Mr. Foust is well known here. He is a former Chicago business man and has spent his summers here for the past several years. Like scores from the Northern and Eastern states, the lure of the great Southwest was too much for him, so he located here, where he is warmly welcomed.

Mr. C. E. May will be associated with Mr. Foust in the Carrizozo Auto Company.

ADAM LARA SERVING WITH TOCHIGI MILITARY GOVERNMENT TEAM IN JAPAN

With the Eighth Army in Sendai, Japan, December 13, 1947—Sergeant Adam Lara, son of Paul M. Lara of Glenoco, is now with Tochigi Military Government Team, located at Central Honshu Island.

The Tochigi Military Government Team is located at Utsunomiya, which is located in a large valley 100 miles north of Tokyo. The largest obstacle which confronts Sgt. Lara and other members of the team is the ever present threat of inflation that is boosting the cost of living in Japan. To overcome this obstacle, the team must be ever alert to assure that the directives from General MacArthur's headquarters are being adhered to by the 1,500,000 Japanese that the Tochigi Prefecture.

Sergeant Lara entered the Army on February 2, 1945. He is the holder of the Asiatic-Pacific Theatre Ribbon, Occupation Ribbon for Japan, and the Victory Medal. He was assigned to the Tochigi Military Government on April 21, 1946.

Methodist Church

Rev. Howard S. Pitts, Pastor

"A Happy New Year!" depends upon whether we are becoming the kind of persons to whom true happiness is given. To really enjoy life is to live in accord with life's deepest and highest meanings. So "Happy New Year!"

At Trinity Church, we resolve to assist every Carrizozo home in planning helpful family worship.

We resolve to assist every church school teacher to become a better spiritual leader. (Tuesday evenings teachers' meeting will begin in the near future.)

We resolve to support the work of the Woman's Society for Christian Service. This Wednesday, Trinity will be host church for the entire zone, from 10:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

We resolve to discover the spiritual resources of the Bible. Each Sunday, at 5:30, at the church, we will discuss the Book of Romans. This Sunday, on Chapter 2, Clyde Shults is our leader.

We resolve to improve the Youth program—balancing recreation with guidance for a Christian faith. In the Youth Fellowship, Mrs. Grace Eaker, Coach Helck, and Miss Daisy Dickenson are the new leaders. This Sunday at 7 o'clock at the Woman's Club, Charles Hodgins, Betty Brewster, and Ann Eaker have charge of the program until 8:40, at which time the pastor will lead a devotional program in the church sanctuary. The Intermediate Fellowship is already doing a notable work in the study of great personalities in the Bible. Their leader is Mrs. J. E. Thornton.

We resolve to make the morning church service more helpful for all ages. Beginning this Sunday, the Children's sermon will be a continuous story, the Story of the Bible.

We resolve that the choir, the church school and the Official Board will become obsessed with one desire: to serve Christ. The Official Board will meet this Monday at 8 p. m., after a brief meeting of the Board of Education at 7:30.

The sermon for Sunday: "The Living God". Holy Communion will be served, and all persons who feel the need of Christ are invited to partake of our Lord's Supper. Let any come whom Christ Himself would bid welcome.

FORD DEALERSHIP CHANGES HANDS

I wish to announce that I have sold my interest in the Carrizozo Auto Company to Mr. Chester Foust and I wish to thank my many friends for their loyal patronage during the past 18 years. The new Company under the able management of Mr. May will continue to give Ford users the best service possible to give. Mr. Foust is going to spend sufficient money to give the type of service that Ford users are entitled to and it is my earnest hope that he will be successful and prosperous.

My best wishes to all for a happy and prosperous New Year.
—Roy Shafer.

SCRIPTURE: Jude 24, 25; Revelation 16:22
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 145:1-13

God's Eternal Rule
Lesson for December 28, 1947

THE last Sunday of another year brings us to a very fitting lesson, based on passages of Scripture found in Jude 24, 25, Revelation 16:22, and Matthew 2: The devotional reading is Psalm 145:1-13.

"Now unto him that is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy, to the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever. Amen." Jude 24, 25.

With this benediction, let us pause at the rapidly ebbing shoreline of the departing year, asking the meaning of God's goodness and mercy as reflected in the Christmas season and through all the days of our earthly pilgrimage.

As the Wise Men brought their gifts to the Divine Babe in Bethlehem, let us today wisely appraise his gifts to us during the past year, and examine our hearts to see if we are duly grateful.

High Gifts for Jesus
READ again the second chapter of Matthew, particularly the section which describes how the Wise Men brought their gifts—rare and precious gifts—to the Son of God. They were rich gifts, meaning that they were costly. We dare not bring anything to Jesus that does not represent a measure of sacrifice.

Contemplating the days ahead, what shall be the test of our gifts to Jesus? Shall we give him our left-over time? Shall we be satisfied to bring him a pittance of material gifts? Or shall our gifts, like the gifts of the Wise Men, be the first fruits of all his increase? He asks for our love, our loyalty, our glad and sincere devotion.

The Long Look
NOW we come to the heart of Sunday's lesson in Revelation 21:3: "He shall dwell with them, and they shall be his peoples." God's eternal rule will be gladly acknowledged and received if all place their hands in his hand at the gate of another year.

Nineteen forty-eight holds many question marks. People are afraid. They are confused. And here comes the message of Sunday's lesson—"He shall dwell with them, and they shall be his peoples."

The world is passing away, the lust thereof, but they that put their trust in God shall abide forever and ever. God's eternal rule has been vindicated in history. It will be vindicated again and again in the coming year wherever his people cast themselves in unwavering faith into his care and keeping.

We shall do well to read again and again the chapters in Revelation, 16-22, and see how all who walked with God were victorious, and how all who forgot him and forsook his ways, were destroyed.

Do we not see the clear application for our day and generation? The nations that forget God do die.

God's Eternal Rule

LET us turn now to the verse in Psalm 146, which reads: "Thy Kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations."

Every thoughtful person is today wistfully searching for certitude—for the assurance that behind these dark clouds that lower over our frightened world the sun still shines. Better, that the sun shall break through these clouds.

Our lesson gives that very assurance. This is our Father's world. He lives! He reigns! And he waits to reveal himself to us in wisdom and power. He will not force himself upon us. We must open the door to him. He stands and knocks.

Is that not enough to bring us to our knees in the fervent prayer, "Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth as it is done in heaven."

Beginning in the home, and spreading into every area of life, may the truth of Sunday's lesson become the watchword of America and of all lands as we enter upon the "New Year." Thus panicked, we shall be strong and prepared to meet and master every problem at hand and ahead.

"Our God our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home."

TRAINING YOUR DOG

THERE'S a great difference in dogs. So if you are going to own a dog, give time and thought to what kind of a dog it should be. If you have lots of room—fields, woods, lawns—the working class dog is for you. Collies and Belgian Sheepdogs are included here and they have proven their value in herding sheep and cattle.

The German Shepherd dog is another breed outstanding for herding ability and an excellent watchdog. Working dogs are dignified, powerful, serious lot yet they will smother you with affection if treated right. Other breeds of dogs, as classified in the American kennel club, their health, diet and training were discussed in our booklet No. 78.

Send 25c in coin for "How to Raise and Train Your Dog." Write to: WFB Features Dept., 345 West 17th Street, New York, New York. Print name, address with zone, booklet title and No. 78.

One Mild
She waited at the corner, joyously—then pensively—then expectantly—then casually—then anxiously—and an hour passed.

"Man," she said, "is a brute, faithless and untrue, incapable of keeping a promise."

Two hundred yards down the street he said the same things about women. She was at the wrong corner.

For Harmony
"What's the matter, Jackie?" demanded the bookshop manager. "Can't you help the customer?"

"No, sir," replied the assistant. "He's trying to find two shoes that squeak to the same key."

Her Reputation
A woman on holiday posed for a snapshot in front of the classic ruins of an ancient temple in Greece.

"Don't get the car into the picture," she begged, "or my husband will think I ran into the place!"

Doing nothing is the most tiresome thing in the world, because you can't stop and rest.

Almed Right
"Jimmy!" his mother exclaimed. "How dare you kick your little brother in the stomach?"

"It's his own fault, Ma. He turned around."

V. A. EXTENDS DEADLINE ON RENEWAL OF GI POLICIES

Washington, D. C.— Responding to American Legion representations—the Veterans Administration has extended the deadline for the reinstatement of lapsed GI insurance from December 31, 1947 to July 31, 1948.

The American Legion has been urging the VA to defer the deadline to encourage more World War II veterans to re-establish their NSLI policies. A bill supported by The American Legion which would extend the reinstatement time to December 31, 1948, is now before Congress and already has been passed by the House.

The extension of time for renewing policies under liberal privileges permit veterans to reactivate their lapsed policies without the necessity of taking physical examinations.

ROOSEVELT COUNTY SAFETY PROGRAM TOPS THE STATE

Roosevelt county has again been selected by the State Extension office as carrying out the most outstanding 4-H safety program of the year in New Mexico. As a reward the County Extension office at Portales will receive a General Motors plaque of merit, appropriately engraved to designate the honor. The county also won this honor in 1946.

Ann Nabors and Joe Cole, assistant county Extension agents, reported that 300 of the 300 4-H members enrolled in safety projects completed the safety surveys.

In their safety program the 4-H members practiced bicycle safety rules, farm, home and highway safety, first aid, and proper ways of transporting a sick person.

Members working in the safety drive appeared at 20 public programs during the year to make speeches. In addition they gave 20 demonstrations and appeared on two radio programs. Some phases of safety was included in the program of every club, and every boy and girl enrolled in 4-H Clubs in the county participated in the project.

During Child Safety Week, the Roosevelt County Fair was being held, so the 4-H Club sponsored a safety program which included a speech given by Governor Thomas J. Mabry, and one by Travis Corbin, a 4-H who was national winner in the 4-H Farm Safety award program this year. Jackie Pool of Portales, 1946 national winner in safety program, presided at the event.

NEW RECORDS SET BY S. P. IN 1947, MERCIER REVEALS

In spite of a nation-wide equipment shortage, Southern Pacific rolled up a record of great achievement in 1947, according to President A. T. Mercier.

Reviewing the railroad's activities, in a year end statement, he revealed that Southern Pacific carried its largest peacetime freight load in the past 12 months, setting an all-time record for efficiency as measured by gross ton-miles per train hour—a factor involving both the train load and the speed with which it is carried. This feat was performed, he said, through teamwork of railroad men and shippers. However, net earnings in 1947 were a third less than the six per cent considered a fair minimum for industry in general, Mr. Mercier disclosed. This was due, he said, to the fact that although wages and prices of all materials have greatly increased, passenger fares and freight charges remain less on the average than they were 25 years ago.

Southern Pacific has ordered or authorized more than $162,000,000 worth of new freight and passenger equipment since the end of the war, the rail president announced. These orders include 20,500 freight train cars; an additional 5,000 refrigerator cars for the Pacific Fruit Express Company, of which Southern Pacific is half owner; 107 streamlined passenger cars, 48 Diesel-electric locomotives for main line use and 43 additional Diesel-electric switch engines.

"Shortages of materials and construction difficulties in railroad equipment builders' plants have held back deliveries of new rolling stock so urgently needed to replace worn-out cars and augment the overall supply," Mr. Mercier said. "We are carrying on as best we can with the equipment now available to the railroads," he continued, "and we are glad to report that new freight cars are now reaching us at a rate faster than old-war weary cars are being retired."

BACKWARD GLANCES

FORTY YEARS AGO FROM 1908 CAPITAN NEWS

In addressing your letter do not forget this is 1908.

For the laudable purpose of relieving the stringency in the money market, and instilling more confidence into the matrimony market, and for other purposes, the young ladies of Capitan will give a leap-year ball at the school house next Friday evening, the 10th inst., to which all eligible bachelors, over 16 and under 60, are cordially invited. The ladies on this occasion will run things according to the feminine idea of how affairs of this kind should be conducted, and the gentlemen will have nothing to do but keep their seats and "wait to be asked", and to remember that "popping interrogations" will not be tolerated, that being the privilege of the ladies during the year. A sumptuous midnight supper will be served at the hotel. Ladies will be charged one dollar admission; gentlemen free.

A "Poor-Little Rich Girl" will disclose Mary Pickford in a picture which, is quite different from anything in which she has appeared before. The Carrizozo Theatre will open Saturday night. Admission prices as follows: Adults, 18 cents, war tax 2 cents; children 9 cents, war tax 1 cent.

A letter of commendation from President Woodrow Wilson was received by the local board for having completed the work of selecting the first contingent of the National Army.

School re-opened Wednesday, with a full crop of teachers on hand to meet the children after the holidays. Supt. Conway reports the need of still another teacher. The school has grown so rapidly that it is difficult to house all the pupils and to supply teachers for them.

UMT Puts New Face on Old Army

Universal Training Program Called Modern, Democratic

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

(Why should universal military training be necessary at all? How does the present plan differ from the "draft"? This is the second in a series of articles on this pertinent subject.)

WASHINGTON.—What is universal military training? The more I learn about it, the more I am convinced that most of the people—both UMT's supporters and opponents—have very little idea of what it really is.

I'm most interested in the people who oppose UMT because I think they are doing themselves and their children a great injustice by allowing their thinking to remain out of focus.

I'd be willing to bet that nine-tenths of the general public who discuss the question are looking past the object of discussion, their ideas focused on something which no longer exists. They have not examined what is actually in front of them, and therefore are arguing from a completely wrong hypothesis. Old ideas stick.

Baukhage

In other words, many people do not realize what UMT is NOT. It is NOT anything like the military service (conscription) which some of us knew from personal contact in the past, and others knew from hearsay. UMT, as proposed in the national security training act, is totally different in many essential principles from the "draft" under the selective service system.

First way is this necessary? Let me quote the reasons given by the House of Representatives armed services committee, as digested in the November issue of the Army Information Digest (which article should be read in its entirety for a real grasp of the subject):

1. The United States has traditionally depended heavily upon the civilian reserve components. In every major war, the regular forces have constituted less than 10 per cent of the total strength. These wars have been fought by citizen soldiers, directed and organized by a small nucleus of professionals.

2. In the past, geographical isolation has provided adequate time for training and equipping large numbers of Americans—fresh from civil life and unskilled in the art of war—before it was necessary to send them into battle. In any future emergency, however, no such cushion of time can be expected. There must be sufficient trained forces in being on any future emergency day.

3. The regular forces today constitute no more than the traditional nucleus of professional military skills. Furthermore, they are spread thinly over a large area of the world, engaged in occupation duties. In the circumstances, the size and degree of readiness of the reserve components become matters of the most vital concern. For if these reserve components are not adequate, the overall military strength of the United States is a hollow shell.

4. The reserve components are far below their authorized strengths and are without hope of filling their quotas by voluntary means alone. These authorized strengths represent the barest minimum estimate of manpower requirements.

5. The national guard is at approximately 16 per cent of its authorized strength, the organized units of the organized reserve corps at 14 per cent, and the unassigned reserve pool at 36 per cent (summer of 1947). The 1,200,000 members of the unassigned reserve pool are merely names on paper, untrained and unorganized.

6. UMT would build up the reserve components to their authorized strengths, and would achieve a stability and an increased efficiency of our ready forces that do not now obtain. The alternative would be a regular army of about 4,800,000.

7. Consideration was given the claim that future warfare would be of the pushbutton variety requiring "only a handful of scientists." This claim is a dangerous illusion. If there is another war, it will be more "total" than the last, and will involve a greater number of human beings without any hope of distinguishing the combatant from the noncombatant. The war in all probability will come into the cities and the homes of the people of the United States. In such event, the survival of recovery of the nation might well depend on the presence of well-disciplined and able-bodied men in every community.

The foregoing, then, were some of the reasons which guided the armed services committee of the House to vote out a national security training act. The act would set up four agencies:

NATIONAL SECURITY TRAINING CORPS, consisting of all young men to be trained. Although these young men, legally, would have military status, they would not be members of the armed forces, would be subject to no duty other than training and would become members of the military establishment only in a national emergency.

NATIONAL SECURITY TRAINING COMMISSION, which would set the policies, standards, substance and character of the training program. The commission would consist of three paid members appointed by the President—two members, including the chairman, to be civilians, and one to be from the armed forces.

GENERAL ADVISORY BOARD, which would provide the commission with the best technical advice on the moral, religious and educational phases of the program. The board of 10 to 25 members would be composed largely of civilians, serving part time (with pay), but would include at least three members of the armed forces. It would have no policy-making authority.

SELECTIVE TRAINING SYSTEM, similar to the selective service system of World War II, which would register, examine, classify, assign, defer, deliver and maintain records of men registered under UMT.

As you note, although military training (in the modern sense which is more than ever training in many valuable civilian skills) is the basis of the national security corps, it is devoid of many factors which have made universal service in the past traditionally objectionable to the American people.

In these days, any military training insofar as it involves killing is objectionable to the balanced personality. But, since we have not eliminated the predatory forces in the world, have not even isolated them, certain measures of self-protection like UMT are necessary.

What are the features of military training which stick in the craw of the average free American?

Probably the first (the thing that used to overwhelm me at certain moments in my early months in the army) is the lack of freedom. No longer was I a free man whose liberty could be curtailed only after a jury trial and the judgment of my peers. Suddenly, I was confronted by the Articles of War, the court martial system, and in some cases (although I personally never suffered much from it even in wartime) the petty tyranny of a superior in rank.

But the training under the proposed national security training act is not subject to the Articles of War at all during the first phase of its training and only conditionally during the additional six months of service, depending on which option he may elect.

Some of the 640 teenagers from all states who are trying a six-month UMT experiment at Fort Knox.

aware of the cardinal principle of successful foreign relations that commitments abroad are worse than useless unless the nation forms strong and lasting alliances to support those commitments. The hemispheric treaty had in it the makings of a good foreign policy.

Meanwhile, President Truman had some thoughts on how inter-American defense could be advanced from theory to the realm of actuality. He proposed to congress that the Panama canal be converted into a sea-level waterway (see map), and that a unified command be established in the Atlantic area with Adm. H. P. Blandy in authority over army, navy and air forces from Iceland and Greenland to the Caribbean.

CHALLENGE: Accepted

Republican leaders had issued a direct challenge to the administration to offer a bill incorporating President Truman's ration-and-control recommendations for combating inflation, and the measure which the administration finally proposed was neither more nor less than anyone had expected.

Handed to the senate judiciary committee by Averell Harriman, secretary of commerce, the specific bill called for expansive powers to ration food, gasoline, steel and other scarce commodities.

Theoretically it was a bill to allocate materials to essential users, control business inventories and

Defense Pact Ratified; Inflation Bill Offered

This is, as Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (Rep., Mich.) told his fellow senators, "a significant moment to demonstrate the solidarity of this hemisphere."

And with the knowledge of that certain fact uppermost in their minds members of the U. S. senate voted 72 to 1 to ratify the inter-American defense treaty agreed to by 21 American republics at the Rio conference last summer.

The hemispheric agreement for mutual defense of nations in the Americas embodies three main points:

1. In case of armed attack from outside the hemisphere, all nations have the automatic right to meet the attack with military force.
2. If attack occurs inside the hemisphere, American nations may go voluntarily to the aid of the victim, with consultations to follow.
3. If attacks occur both inside the hemisphere and outside the security region immediate consultations will be called.

Virtually unanimous approval of the treaty by the senate was a good indication that congress was fully aware of the cardinal principle of successful foreign relations that commitments abroad are worse than useless unless the nation forms strong and lasting alliances to support those commitments. The hemispheric treaty had in it the makings of a good foreign policy.

Meanwhile, President Truman had some thoughts on how inter-American defense could be advanced from theory to the realm of actuality. He proposed to congress that the Panama canal be converted into a sea-level waterway (see map), and that a unified command be established in the Atlantic area with Adm. H. P. Blandy in authority over army, navy and air forces from Iceland and Greenland to the Caribbean.

CHALLENGE: Accepted

Republican leaders had issued a direct challenge to the administration to offer a bill incorporating President Truman's ration-and-control recommendations for combating inflation, and the measure which the administration finally proposed was neither more nor less than anyone had expected.

Handed to the senate judiciary committee by Averell Harriman, secretary of commerce, the specific bill called for expansive powers to ration food, gasoline, steel and other scarce commodities.

Theoretically it was a bill to allocate materials to essential users, control business inventories and continue export controls; but administration spokesmen admitted that the allocation powers provided for would authorize the government to impose consumer rationing and even to buy up entire grain crops if it saw the necessity for such action.

And through the welter of the administration-Republican melee over what to do and how to do it there came at least two charges of "socialization" from top U. S. businessmen leveled at the government's avowed program.

FODDER

Spuds for Cattle

A New Jersey cattleman, Eugene K. Denton, has a theory that might go a long way toward easing the grain shortage.

His idea is to feed cattle raw potatoes instead of grain.

Experimenting with 20 yearlings purchased especially for the purpose, Denton fed them on a special diet, based on ground potatoes, salt and molasses, for 25 days. The steers, which averaged 667½ pounds when the experiment began, showed an average gain per steer of 1.4 pounds a day or 25½ pounds per steer for the test period.

Prof. William Ljungdahl of Rutgers university department of animal husbandry called the experiments a success.

Denton made public this simple formula: To every 100 pounds of freshly sliced potatoes add one handful of regular salt and one gallon of molasses water. The molasses water is prepared by adding one pint of molasses to one full pail of water.

LANDON: Big Medicine

All M. Landon, the Kansas budget-balancer who might have been president of the United States if Franklin D. Roosevelt hadn't defeated him by a landslide in 1934, has come out publicly in favor of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower for President in 1948.

Landon was known to have joined forces with Roy Roberts of the Kansas City Star to push the Eisenhower bandwagon. In Chicago to address a Kiwanis meeting, Landon said, "The Kansas delegation to the Republican national convention will be for Eisenhower." That, coming from the shrewd former governor of Kansas, was strong political medicine.

"I don't think any of the politicians in my state will get out of line on that. I think I know what the general's social, economic and political views are. He hasn't said anything to me about the presidency directly or indirectly but it's my guess he will make his views known when he leaves the army and they will be all right."

Meanwhile, it was announced that Eisenhower was scheduled to take over his scheduled position as president of Columbia university next June 1—just about two weeks before the Republican national convention is supposed to convene;

PROFITABLE DUST BOWL

Idaho Cashes in on Phosphate

Out in Idaho they have a "dust bowl" that not only is not worrying the good people of that state but stands to bring them in a lot of money.

They're even planning for its expansion, for in that dusty, sagebrush-covered expanse of land lies 60 per cent of the known American supply of phosphate rock, source of phosphorus, one of the three primary plant foods.

Experts say that the dusty treasure which Idaho is shipping here and there in an ever-widening range holds the key to a new and broader agricultural economy in the entire intermountain and Pacific West.

eastern Utah and southwestern Wyoming was a tropical playground for countless prehistoric monsters. In passing on to whatever reward was in store for them, these monsters bequeathed themselves to posterity in the form of rock phosphate, some six billion tons of which are estimated to be underground in that Idaho-Utah-Wyoming sector.

Prior to 1934 use of phosphate in the West was negligible. The rich, volcanic soil was in little need of fertilization. Also, the limited supplies of the commercially manufactured fertilizer were being used almost exclusively in the eastern and southern states.

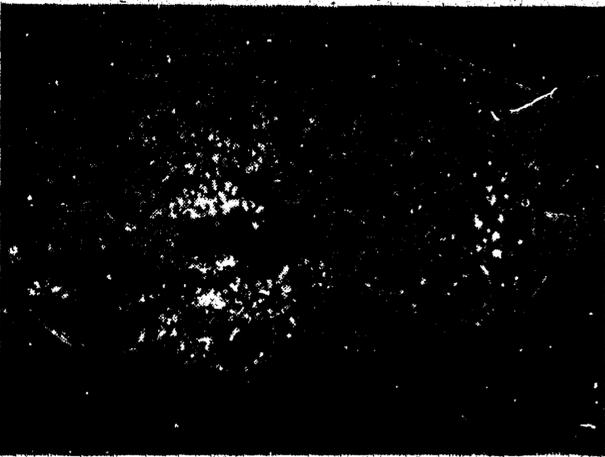

came worried because he could not obtain sufficient fertilizer for his vast farm lands. So in the spring of 1944 he began construction of his own superphosphate plant in Pocatello.

Originally designed to turn out 80,000 tons annually, Simplot's plant has been expanded to the point where now it is producing 300,000 tons a year of "18 per cent" superphosphate.

The "18 per cent" means that when the phosphate rock has been pulverized to dust and treated with sulphuric acid, 18 per cent of the phosphoric acid in the rock is made available for use by growing plants.

Greet the New Year With a Buffet Supper!
(See recipes below.)

Welcome the New Year

Do you like to fix big platters of food and set a large table? If you do, then this is the time to have a feast. Invite some of your friends with whom you'd like to welcome the new year, and serve them a snack buffet style.

Naturally, this can be on the eve of the New Year itself, or at any time in the afternoon or early evening of the day itself. You'll have fun, too, because there's the feeling of turning a clean page in your life, and it's only natural you should want to start out such an occasion with your friends.

Your menu does not need to be expensive. Select one of these menus and work it out with your linens and dishes.

Menu I

Savory Meat Pie
Lettuce with Russian Dressing
Cleverleaf Raisin Beverage
Peach Gelatin

The meat pie is savory and tempting for the cooler weather, and menfolk will like its meatiness. The dessert is especially lovely but easy to make; in fact, why not make both of these things ahead of time?

Savory Meat Pie

(Serves 6)

- 1 pound beef chuck
- 1 pound lamb shoulder
- Flour for dredging
- Lard for browning
- 12 small onions
- 4 carrots
- 4 potatoes
- 1 cup string beans
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 2 cups meat stock

Have meat cut in one-inch cubes. Dredge with flour and brown in hot lard. Season with salt and pepper and place in casserole. Also pile vegetables into casserole. Add 4 tablespoons flour to fat in pan where meat was browned, and stir until thickened. Add 2 cups meat stock and let cook until thick. Pour this over the meat and vegetables and cook in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 20 minutes. Remove from oven and top with a biscuit crust. Return to a hot oven (400 degrees) for another 20 minutes and bake until crust is well browned. If you want a nice glaze, on the crust, brush with beaten egg before baking.

Peach Gelatin

(Serves 6)

- 4 or 5 canned cling peach halves
 - 1 package raspberry-flavored gelatin
 - 1 cup hot water
 - 1 cup peach syrup
- Arrange peach halves, smooth side down, in bottom of a large round mold or pan. Dissolve gelatin in hot water; add peach syrup and stir to blend. Pour sufficient gelatin mixture over peaches to cover. Chill. Chill remaining gelatin until congealed but not firm. Whip until very light and thick. Pour over plain gelatin. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serve with table cream, soft custard or whipped cream.

Russian Dressing

(Makes 1 1/4 cups)

- 1 cup olive or salad oil
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- Few grains cayenne
- 1/4 teaspoon white pepper
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 2 teaspoons prepared horseradish

LYNN SAYS:

Tasted Cooking Hints
Save Few Tips
Green peppers taste best in salad when shredded or sliced finely rather than chopped.
When you make cream puffs, drop the dough into muffin tins instead of on a cookie pan to insure high puffs.
Using two spoons instead of a fork when turning a roast in a pan will save the juices because there is no pricking of the surface.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- Platter of Cold Sliced Turkey, Beef or Ham with Assorted Cheese Potatoes Au Gratin Molded Vegetable Slaw Spiced Peas Crisp Celery Plum Pudding Hard Sauce Beverage

Combine, beat or shake thoroughly before using. Pour over crisp wedges of lettuce.

With the price of tender cuts of meat so high, you may feel you'd like to have a beef cut for New Years because of its traditional place on the menu, but would rather forego roast beef itself. Then why not plan a menu of this kind?

Menu II

Danish Pot Roast
Brown Gravy
Boiled Potatoes
Celery Pickles Olives
Corn in Pepper Rings
Luxury Cake

The combination of seasonings will make this beef roast very interesting and pleasing.

Danish Pot Roast

(Serves 6 to 8)

- 3 1/2 pounds chuck roast of beef
- Flour for dredging
- Lard for browning
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- Salt and pepper

Dredge meat with flour and brown on all sides in hot lard. Season with salt and pepper, sprinkle with brown sugar and add vinegar. Add 1 cup hot water. Cover tightly and cook slowly until done. Remove pot roast onto hot platter and thicken the liquid for gravy (3 tablespoons of flour stirred smooth in 1/2 cup water).

Surround the meat with the vegetable dish suggested in the menu: Corn in Pepper Rings.

Corn in Pepper Rings

(Serves 6)

- 2 cups soaked whole kernel corn
- 1 green pepper
- Butter
- Salt and pepper

Heat the corn with butter, salt and pepper. Cut green pepper into six rings and place around the meat. When ready to serve, spoon corn into rings.

Luxury Cake

(Serves 6)

- 1 quart vanilla ice cream
- 1/2 cup chopped pecan meats
- 1 cup hot chocolate sauce
- 8 squares sponge cake

Split cake in two; place a slice of vanilla ice cream between the cake. Put another bit of ice cream on top of cake and pour hot sauce over it. Sprinkle nutmeats just before serving the cake.
Hot Chocolate Sauce: Melt 1 square bitter chocolate in double boiler, add 1 tablespoon of butter and 1 1/2 cups sugar. Add 6 tablespoons hot water slowly and blend. Add 1/2 cup rich milk and stir well; boil 10 minutes, watching carefully. Cook to soft ball stage, remove from fire and add a pinch of salt and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Cool slightly, then beat until creamy. Keep warm in top of double boiler.

When scalding milk in a pan, grease the bottom of the pan with butter or a little flavored fat to prevent scorching or browning.
To prevent poached eggs from spreading, stir the water vigorously in one direction and drop the eggs in the middle of the whirl.
Save making an icing by sprinkling chocolate chips over a cake after removing from oven. Let stand in warm oven for a few minutes and then spread. Sprinkle with nuts, if desired.

From the Swiss Alps to the Sahara desert, the world will be looking forward to a happier, more complete, and friendlier New Year.

Happy New Year

THE New Year, the turning of another page in the book of our lives. Before us appears a new clean white page, a slab of snow-white marble, whereon we must record the events of the coming year as they apply to us, to our country and to the world. What shall we record thereon? As Longfellow said: "Life is real, life is earnest. Let us then be up and doing with a heart for any fate; still achieving, still pursuing, learn to labor and to wait."
On the new page we might place our first entry: "Smile, save, serve." We can be thankful for another morning of life. We can be thankful for this day; for its failures which we must acknowledge as lessons. We must check our faults and failures. We must scatter seeds of smiles and service, so that they may grow to maturity, so that the reaping will not be shame and sorrow. We will smile, save and serve.

DAY'S MIXUP

The whole world celebrates New Year's Day, but not always on the same date.

The biggest mixup occurred from 1552 to 1772 when Europe and England observed the New Year on the same day but at different times! In 1552, Pope Gregory III eliminated 10 days from the Julian calendar previously in use because it was 11 minutes longer each year than the astronomical year. England did not adopt the new Gregorian calendar until 1772, however, thus observing the same holiday at a later day.

When translated into the Gregorian calendar, the Jewish New Year's varies from September 6 to October 4. The Mohammedans not only celebrate at a different date but their calendar is dated almost 600 years behind the Gregorian since it begins with the Prophet's flight from Mecca in A. D. 622.

Start of The Year

AT THE beginning of each New Year two pathways open. One slants downward, slow deterioration clouding and finally blotting out all mental excellence, spiritual appreciation and even physical strength. The other leads to the finer things of existence, ascending gradually to lofty heights of mind and spirit. At the entrance Life stands with cheery greeting and forward impetus for all who heed. Choose well your way! He who lives fully in the year at hand will create grandly for the year that follows. Regardless of any past, he who is his best self today will find much beauty in tomorrow. —L. D. Stearns.

Progress Continues

On New Year's Day
It was on New Year's Day, 1862, that the first practical fire engine was tested.
The cable across the Pacific Ocean was completed, January 1, 1865.
Social Security administration inaugurated, 1937.
Amerigo Vesputi discovered the Bay of Rio de Janeiro, 1492.

Informality Marked Early Holiday Calls

A gala occasion in the lives of the American belles was New Year's Day of former years. Each expected her men friends to accept her hospitality on New Year's Day. On that day barriers were lowered a bit and the strict social form was relaxed to the extent that the men did not need special invitations or formal introductions, and the young ladies could talk more openly and act more natural than on formal occasions. Food mamma told their unwed daughters that among so many charming and eligible young men they surely must find one on whom they could bestow their affections. It must be noted, however, that the young ladies had to be fast workers. No matter how informal these New Year's Day calls were, it was a gross breach of propriety for a young man to stay more than 10 minutes.

NEW YEAR'S JOY

The theme of New Year's Day always has been one of joy. Regardless of the country or the people, or of the date on which it was celebrated, joy marked the spirit in which it was observed.

New Year's Day of the Mohammedans is given as October 17; of the Hebrews as September, and of the Chinese as early February. The ancient Egyptians, Phoenicians and Persians began their year at the autumnal equinox, September 21, and the Greeks until the fifth century B. C. at the winter solstice, December 21. In 432 B. C. the latter altered the New Year's Day to June 21.

The ancient Romans celebrated December 21, but this was altered to January 1 by Caesar in adopting the Julian calendar.

March 25 was the date observed among most Christian peoples in medieval days. In Anglo-Saxon England, however December 25 was New Year's Day until it was changed to January 1 at the Norman conquest, but later it was changed to March 25 and so remained until the English adopted the Gregorian calendar.

"I am done with the years that were, I am quits, I am done with the dead and the old, They are mines worked out, I delved in their pits, I have saved the grains of gold— Now I turn to the future for wine and bread— I have bidden the past adieu— I laugh, and lift hands to the year ahead. Come on! I am ready for you!" —Edwin Markham.

Astride Lion

Among the rare circus acts which are now being performed in this country is that of a wild-animal trainer who makes a full-grown lion gallop around a ring while he rides on its back, steadying himself by clutching its mane.

That's Ambition

It was the job of Joey, the village dillard, as "Keeper of the Cannon," to polish the antique cannon in the village square. During a celebration, the mayor commented on the brightness of the brasswork and suggested the crowd give Joey a rousing vote of thanks. Joey beamed all the way home. "Maw," he boasted to his wife, "the mayor said what a nice job I been doin' on the cannon. Everybody gave me three cheers!"

"You know," said his wife, "I've been thinkin', You been on that job more'n 40 years and got no place. Why don't you buy a cannon and go into business for yourself?"

Ingenious Burglar Alarm

In Jap Temple of 1697

Few modern burglar alarms are as ingenious as the one in the Chion temple in Kyoto, Japan, which was built in the structure when it was erected as a military headquarters in 1697. When the alarm is set, reverberations caused by an intruder walking across the wooden floor produce sounds like the twittering of birds in the rafters. Therefore, he is not aware that his presence is known until he is captured.

1250 Ornaments on Giant Yule Tree

These Chicago children look with awe at the 46-foot Christmas tree at Marshall Field & Company's Walnut Tree room. One thousand two hundred fifty ornaments, built to scale in the store's own work-rooms, adorn the tree. Twelve persons, standing on scaffolding, spent an entire day trimming it.

Based upon information furnished directly from each operator of resorts, resort hotels, tourist courts, cottage-cabin resorts, dude ranches, lodges, inns, etc., the directory provides a comprehensive and authoritative guide to resorts and recreational facilities. Among the most significant features of the directory are the following:

It describes each of state's and province's recreational facilities, specifying all noteworthy sites, historical, shrines and outstanding events held regularly.

It calls attention to scenic and geographical landmarks.

It describes facilities of state and national parks.

It contains brief description of forests, reservations, game sanctuaries, etc.

It offers valuable data about recreational areas, beaches, pleasure and health resorts.

Listings describe each resort's complete facilities, recreation, sports, accommodations, etc.

Need for Unity

The United Nations is a young organization. It was formed about two years ago and now comprises 55 nations. During the past year, it is said, the different divisions have held a total of 1,011 meetings. The chief avowed purposes are to bring peace to the world and to prevent starvation as an aftermath of the war. Great sums of money have been used to provide food for people that are considered destitute. At first it was thought that 1946 would be the critical year. Now, we are approaching the winter of 1947. Some reports say there will be more hunger this winter than last. From various countries in Europe the reports show no improvement.

Certain Objectives
It would seem there is enough power and strength in 55 nations to help this muddled world get somewhere. And surely enough money has been spent to help these hungry nations to begin feeding themselves. The answer is not hard to find. The United Nations has not demonstrated real unity of purpose. Even the leaders among the 55 nations have worked at cross purposes. Each nation has been intent upon achieving certain objectives of its own. This is as true of the "Big Four" as it is of the smaller nations. It is my hope that in some way the United Nations may find unity of purpose and intention. The most I can get out of this present situation, however, is an important lesson for our own country.

No Cross Purposes
In America we have found a good measure of unity, historically speaking. Though we are made up of states and other kinds of groups, we have shown appreciation for the same fundamentals of democratic living.

What is true of the United Nations as a whole is true of nations individually. If we are going to continue to be a prosperous and healthy republic, we too must have unity of purpose. Workers, managers, industrialists, farmers, educators — we must all keep our purposes controlled in the direction of full unity. If one group wants to destroy the capitalist, and another wants to destroy labor unions, these are at cross purposes. If one group wants to eliminate private ownership of property, and another group wants to preserve Constitutional government, these also are working at cross purposes. If we have everybody working at cross purposes, then conditions in our country will grow worse rather than better.

Three Goals
It is imperative that the entire nation be united on fundamentals. It is necessary that all groups work for certain goals. Right now, I would like to suggest three goals we can all achieve together. First, economy in government spending so rigid the public can see that money is being saved. Second, a program of maximum productivity that can attract the enthusiasm of capital, management, labor, and agriculture. Third, a re-dedication of all our groups to preserve individual freedom for the entire nation.

With this kind of unity, right now, in 1947, no one need fear for the future prosperity and well-being of our nation.

The Ohio American Legion now has 741 posts — the result of about 18 new World War II "chapters".
