WOMEN'S CLUB NOTES

The Corona Federation Women's Club met Thursday, August 12th for their regular meeting. Officers for another year were elected and installed as follows: President Mrs. Geraldine Perkins; Vice-President Mrs. Mollie Hancock; Secretary, Mrs. Jean Sulzemeir; Treasurer, Mrs. Myrtle Davis; Parliamentarian Mrs. Laura Argenbright. Various committees were appointed by the President for the coming year. Outgoing officers were congratulated upon their efficiency in the successful year just past.

Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Hancock gave a piano duct.

"Plans for a better Civic and Social Corona" were presented by Mrs. Perkins. Each member answered roll call by giving a suggestion for improving our community.

New members were Mrs. A. J. Atkinson and Mrs. Floyd Toland. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Hancock.

Delicious refreshments were served at the social hour that followed.

"High Lights of New Mexico History" will be the main subject presented at the next meeting, August 9th. Members will answer roll call with "Why I Like New Mexico."

PERRY M. MELTON

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist church in Corona Friday August 13, 1948 for Mr. Perry M. Melton, old time rancher of Lincoln county, who died at his home in Tularosa last week. Rev. Markham of the Presbyterian church conducted the services. Rev. Miller, pastor of Corona Baptist church read the scriptures.

The Central New Mexico Electric Cooperative is receiving applications for a manager for the system. (Says Ben Roberts)

Work is progressing with the R. E. A. a little more rapidly now. But, it will probably be a year yet before this project is actually completed and we are able to use the power for which we have waited so long.

A basement for the new Presbyterian church was started last week. The work of digging the basement was donated by Dillon & Aiken contractors for clearing the R. E. A. line. The basement is 40 by 60 and 4 1/2 feet deep. It will be used as a recreation room when the church is finished.

Mrs. Donnie Franks, Mrs. Callie Franks and daughter, Mrs. Jean Sulzemeir, made a business trip to Albuquerque last week.

Remember the school picnic Sunday, August 22, at Red Cloud Canyon. Come, bring a basket lunch, meet the teachers, and enjoy the day. There will be an Assembly Program 9:00 o'clock Monday morning at the Gymnasium. A

NOTICE

The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church will meet Wednesday afternoon August 25th at the home of Mrs. L. Z. Manire at 3:00 P. M.

Atty. H. Elfred Jones presented the News force with some very large and tender stalks of Chinese cabbage. Mr. Jones tells us a small backyard garden plot started more or less as a hobby, has produced so profusely that the family enjoys fresh garden vegetables daily.

Mr. Frank C. Miller and Mr. Charles D. Fuller of Roswell were business visitors in Carrizozo on Wednesday of this week.

Mrs. John Rolland of Hatchita and Mrs. Maggie Espy were El Paso visitors Tuesday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. "Bud" Campbell and Ernie Campbell of Ruidoso visited Miss Gloria Campbell this week.

Former Carrizozoan Manage Ford Agency

As announced by the company last week, Mr. Marvin Roberts, former Carrizozo boy and son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts, has moved his wife and two small boys here from Albuquerque and has assumed his duties as General Manager and Vice President of Lincoln County Motors, Inc.

A corporation of local business men purchased the Ford agency last January from Mr. Roy Shafer and continued to operate the business in the Carrizozo Auto Co. building on Main street until more spacious quarters could be secured. The new quarters in the El Cibola property are nearly ready for occupancy.

Lincoln county's 200 per cent increase in their Ford quota has enabled the Ford people to take care of numerous customers on the waiting list for Fords, Ford trucks, and tractors.

Mr. "Duff" May is service manager and Mr. Orville Luttrell will be employed as office manager and parts man.

REGISTRATION UNDER SELECTIVE SERVICE ACT TO BEGIN AUGUST 30

Mr. Herman E. Kelt, chairman of the Local Selective Service Board, today warned all male persons, age 18 through 25, that the registration will start on Monday August 30. He particularly stressed the fact that veterans in the age bracket regardless of the amount of service they have had, must register the same as everyone else.

Mr. Kelt further stated that veterans should bring their discharge papers to the place of registration so that dates of entry into the service and separation would be accurate. Also of vital importance is the correct military serial number to be entered on the registration card.

Places of registration in the county are Corona, Capitan, Hondo, Ruidoso and Carrizozo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Marler accompanied by Mr. Marler's mother, of Ruidoso were guests at the home of Miss Gloria Campbell this week.

Photo shows Governor Thomas J. Mabry presenting a bronze replica of the seal of the State of New Mexico to Irwin L. Peiffer, New Mexico representative of the Prudential Insurance Company. The seal, along with the seals of the ten other western states and the Territory of Hawaii will form part of a historical display in the favor of Prudential's new western home office building now under construction in Los Angeles.

Lane - Sherrill

Miss Alma Viola Lane became the bride of Mr. Raymond Loyce Sherrill, Saturday, August 14, 1948 at 8:00 p. m. in a quiet ceremony held in the Methodist church in Alamogordo. Rev. Watson officiated.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Lane and for the past several years has taught the second grade in the Carrizozo Public school, she is also associated with her sisters, Miss Margaret Lane and Mrs. Oscar Moore in the Lane Sisters Ladies apparel shop.

Mr. Sherrill is the son of Mrs. R. L. Sherrill of Carrizozo and served in the U. S. Coast Guard in World War II. At present he is employed at the Nu Way dry cleaning establishment.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple left for a short honeymoon in Arizona.

The couple plan to make their home here and the bride will continue to teach.

CLARK - BRAZEL

Candlelighted and in a setting of beautiful flowers, in a quiet informal wedding Mrs. Yvonne Melton Clark became the bride of Mr. Paul Taylor Brazel Monday, August 16 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Shelton in Corona; Rev. J. D. Hopper performing the ceremony.

The bride is the lovely daughter of Mrs. Francis Melton and the late George Melton. She was reared in Lincoln and Otero counties, receiving her schooling in Tularosa and Alamogordo, where she has a host of friends.

She chose white for her wedding dress and wore white and blue accessories and a string of French emethyst pearls for something old. For something new she carried a 1948 coin, she also carried a white bible.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ware W. Brazel and was also reared in Lincoln and Otero counties. After his graduation from Tularosa High School, he joined the armed forces of our country, in which he served five years. Since his return home he has been associated with his father, successfully, in the ranching business southeast of Corona. He has many friends who wish him happiness.

The bride and groom were attended by a sister of the groom, Miss Bessie Brazel and a brother of the bride, Mr. George Melton.

After a short honeymoon, the couple will be at home in Tularosa and Mr. Brazel will be associated with his father in the frozen food locker business at Alamogordo.

Their many friends wish Mr. and Mrs. Brazel much success and happiness.

A. degree. He also had experience with the U. S. Army Band during three years of army service in Europe. He will direct band, teach English and Spanish. Mrs. Taylor is to be librarian and instructor in junior high school English.

L. W. Clark, new superintendent of both schools, was formerly a superintendent in the Mesilla Valley and later was State high school supervisor for four years prior to the war. Since returning from four years of U. S. Navy service he has been with the Veterans Administration as Training Facilities Specialist until last year. During the last year he was State Surplus Property Agent and procured seven million dollars worth of government war surplus property for the colleges and schools.

LUNCHEON AND PROGRAM PLANNED FOR SECOND ANNUAL CLUB MEET HERE

Extension Women's Clubs from all over the county will get together Thursday, August 20th at the Woman's Club building at Carrizozo for the second annual covered dish luncheon and program.

The theme of the program this year is "New Mexico" and each club will present a part of the program for the afternoon. The Carrizozo Women's club have several musical numbers scheduled, also a presentation of early Lincoln county history will be given. Corona Extension Women's club will again present an original skit under the direction of Mrs. L. Parker. The first county meeting of this kind was held in August of last year and met with such enthusiastic approval it was decided to make it an annual affair.

Everyone is invited to attend this luncheon and meeting which will start at 11:00 A. M. Plan now to spend next Thursday with your neighbors, the club women of Lincoln county.

MRS. EDITH LENARD TO DISTRIBUTE LICENSE PLATES

Mrs. Edith Lenard has been appointed license plate distributor for this district. Mrs. Mary Lou Welch, who has been the local distributor for the past two years, resigned to move with her family to Logan, N. Mex.

Like Mrs. Welch, Mrs. Lenard will dispense the plates from her home.

Dr. and Mrs. P. M. Shaver are having a glassed in porch built on the front of their residence on Alamogordo avenue.

First Three Rivers Ranch Kid's Rodeo Sunday August 29th

"Three Rivers Kid Rodeo" will be sponsored for the first time this year by Mr. T. F. Ryan at his Three Rivers ranch Sunday, August 29th, starting at 2:00 p. m.

The rodeo is open to young boys and girl contestants of Lincoln and Otero counties under sixteen years of age. An entry blank will be found on page 5 of this paper, all children wishing to enter the rodeo must have the blank signed by their parent or guardian.

There is no entry fee required for this event. Mr. Ryan has invited the parents to accompany the contestants.

High point winners from Lincoln and Otero counties will receive an expense paid trip for themselves and one parent or guardian, to the Southwestern Championship Kids Rodeo to be held September 3-4-5 and 6th in the Coliseum in El Paso, Texas.

Rodeos for kid contestants have met with much success everywhere and if the Three Rivers contest proves popular enough this year, Mr. Ryan plans to make the "Kid Rodeo" an annual affair.

Come on boys and girls, be the first with your entry. Remember, your entry blank signed by your parent or guardian must be received by Mr. Ryan not later than Thursday, August 29th.

These Foods Make a Picnic
(See recipes below)

Picnic Foods
WE ALL AGREE that picnics are fun, but how's the food holding out, now that you've already had some picnics during the summer? Is the variety still there to tempt jaded appetites or are you ready for some quick and easy ideas full of inspiration?

You'll want to keep anything edible simple and easy to prepare as well as easy to carry because it's no fun to get worn out in the process of packing, and there is also nothing worse than arriving with soggy sandwiches as well as bruised fruit or muddled cake.

Everyone will feel better at picnics if you plan well balanced meals, so have your share of starches, vitamins and minerals.

Sandwiches are a standby, but they can have infinite variety. Add some crisp vegetables to the filling when you can, thus making the texture interesting and more delicious.

Plan to use fruit in season, carefully washed and wrapped, of course, so you can enjoy eating it. Cakes should be simple, and are best made in square or oblong pans, tucked in a box and cut when served. No chance for messing when it's done this way!

HERE ARE SOME delightful fillings for sandwiches which I know will be a hit with the folks. Chill the fillings, and they won't soak through the bread.

Savory Ham-Vegetable Filling.
(Makes 8 sandwiches)
16 slices bread
1/2 cup softened butter
1 cup deviled ham
1 cup grated raw carrot
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup mayonnaise

Spread sliced bread and butter. On eight slices spread deviled ham. Combine green pepper, carrot, salt and mayonnaise. Spread carrot mixture on ham and place buttered slices of bread on top. Cut as desired and wrap well.

Egg Salad Sandwiches
(Makes 8)
4 chopped hard-cooked eggs
1 cup minced celery
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup minced stuffed olives
1/4 cup mayonnaise

Mix all ingredients together in order given. Spread filling on cracked wheat bread which has been buttered.

Shrimp Sandwiches
(Makes 8)
1/2 cup canned and cleaned shrimp, crabmeat or lobster
4 tablespoons butter or substitute
1/2 teaspoon minced onion
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon mustard
2 tablespoons minced stuffed olives

White or whole wheat bread. Mince the shrimp and mix with the remaining ingredients. Chill thoroughly before spreading on bread.

Chicken-Ham Sandwiches
(Makes 6)
1/2 cup ground, cooked chicken
1/2 cup ground, cooked ham
3 chopped, stuffed olives
1 1/2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice

LYNN SAYS:
Do Something Special With Your Salads

Scoop out fresh and nicely firm cucumbers. Flake a can of salmon, season it with lemon juice and mayonnaise and fill the hollowed cucumbers. With this peas, some crackers and cheese and luncheon is served.

Chicken salad takes on an elegant air when it's served in canned peach halves. Sprinkle with toasted, sliced almonds.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- *Ham and Vegetable Sandwiches
- *Egg Salad Sandwiches
- *Chicken-Ham Sandwiches
- *Deviled Eggs
- Whole Tomatoes
- Potato Chips
- Grapes or Watermelon
- Mince-meat Goodies
- Lemonade or Milk
- *Recipes Given.

Combine and spread on white bread.

DEVILED EGGS are handy to have on a picnic to eat either with the sandwiches, by themselves or with tomatoes or other relishes. Here's a tasty way in which you may prepare them without too much work:

- *Deviled Eggs.
- 8 hard-cooked eggs
- 4 tablespoons softened butter
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- Dash of pepper
- 1 teaspoon vinegar
- Mayonnaise

*Cut eggs in half lengthwise and remove yolks. Mash yolks and combine with butter, salt, mustard, pepper and vinegar. Add mayonnaise to make a creamy consistency.

Refill egg whites and sprinkle with paprika. Chill.

HERE ARE SEASONAL fruits suitable to take on a picnic: Apples, plums, nectarines, peaches, berries, cantaloupes and watermelon. Oranges, apples and bananas are also good standbys. Grapes and cherries are delightful. Berries and peaches may be washed, sugared and placed in mason jars with tight covers. If you are taking melon, it's best to chill it thoroughly, wrap in waxed paper, and cut and scoop out the seeds just before you serve it.

IF YOU LIKE easy-to-carry cookies to take along with you, serve them with the fruit or as snacks between meals if you are making the picnic a whole day affair.

- *Mince-meat Goodies
- (Makes 4 dozen)
- 1 cup shortening
- 2 cups sugar
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 3 cups sifted flour
- 1 cup mince-meat
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon ginger
- 1 teaspoon cloves
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup chopped nuts

Cream shortening and sugar together until fluffy. Add eggs and flour enough to prevent mixture from curdling. Add mince-meat and dry ingredients, sifted together, and the nuts. The amount of flour varies with the amount of liquid in the mince-meat. The mixture should be stiff enough to drop from spoon onto a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate (375 degree) oven about 10 minutes.

Released by WNU Features.

Have you ever served a shrimp salad in cucumber cups? Or try the salad in green pepper rings, garnished with wedges of red, ripe, well chilled tomatoes and deviled eggs.

Melons have an affinity for lime seasoning. Marinate wedges or balls of melon in the juice before serving them on crisp lettuce leaves.

Pimiento cups are a nice innovation for salads. Try filling them with an egg and celery salad

Perpetual Motion Machine Is Hidden Somewhere in West

SEATTLE.—Somewhere in the Northwest today there is a machine which represents a half-million-dollar investment and half the life of Peter Mollow Ivanoff.

Ivanoff worked for 30 years in his 300-thousand-dollar Seattle machine shop to overcome friction.

But he would have bristled with indignation if you asked him, "And how's your 'perpetual motion machine' coming along these days Ivanoff?"

"He called it a co-motional machine," said Lawrence Vick, disciple of the brilliant Bulgarian, who died here several years ago.

"He wasn't a failure—he had something, I'm sure of it," Vick said.

"You could walk into his shop, twirl a shaft of a multi-geared gadget. And you couldn't hold the other end of the shaft with a Stillson wrench."

Offers His Services
Today, Vick offers his 20 years' experience as machinist with Ivanoff to any engineer who is willing to continue where the Bulgarian left off.

"But it would be much easier if we could find that machine," he said.

Ivanoff, having no living relatives, bequeathed his plant and machine to several Vancouver (B. C.) residents who had subsidized his work with cash gifts.

Vick said he thought the frictionless machine was gathering dust in some Vancouver warehouse, but the 14 trustees claim the machine is still in Seattle.

"Ivanoff ignored the guffaws and chiding of professors who referred him to basic physical laws when he began his experiments," Vick said.

Engineer Conducts Test
But finally—after 30 years' work—he was ready to unveil his invention and a large electrical company sent an engineer to conduct tests.

"A battery of meters was attached and voluminous notes were taken," Vick said.

"The last meter was read. Immediately the engineer signed an affidavit claiming the machine free of friction."

But the engineer was signing his own dismissal notice. "The company fired him on the spot, accusing him of wrongly connecting a meter," Vick said.

Vick, however, believes the engineer. No one knows what Ivanoff thought, but shortly afterward he began wasting away. The doctors said he died of cancer. Vick isn't so sure.

Holdup Men Force Victims To Have Champagne Spree

SACRAMENTO, CALIF.—Police sought three holdup men who reportedly forced two victims to drink champagne until unconscious.

Albert Soulaies, detective, said five employees of one of Sacramento's plushier bar-restaurants told this story:

At 2 o'clock in the morning three customers pulled guns on the five workers. Three of the employees, Clem Smith, Ray McCarthy and Rudolph Neuman, were bound.

Two others, Martin Kalana and Klakl Iwaki, were forced to drink champagne and wine. Their hair was scissored off and their clothing torn.

"The last I remember," Kalana told police, "somebody was standing over me saying, 'Hurry up and drink some more!'"

Kalana and Iwaki spent one day recovering in a hospital.

"A sixth victim, George Miller, was hurried in at gunpoint from a service station nearby, police were told. He and Smith were robbed of $150 before the gunmen left the cafe.

Smith had been ordered to open the restaurant safe by that hour, but fumbled unsuccessfully, Soulaies said.

Sisters Meet For First Time

A London airport was the scene of the meeting of two sisters who had never seen each other before, although both were over thirty years old. When Miss June Morgan, 31, stepped down from the plane arriving from the United States she was greeted by her sister Violet, 34, now Mrs. Clifford Evaris of Reading, England, who had been left in Great Britain as a child when her parents went to America, where June was born three years later. Each sister had photographs of the other and they had no difficulty in recognizing each other at the crowded airport.

Storage Chest Solves Extra Space Problem

One of the big features of this chest, beside ample storage facilities, is its utilization of unused space. Being suspended between large wooden wheels the chest can be rolled under the bed, even over rugs with very little effort. Its capacity is truly amazing. Being dustproof, it provides an excellent place to store your finest things.

Anyone can build the chest by following the full size pattern now available. It tells what materials are needed, shows location of belt and screw holes and provides the simplest method of building. All the materials needed are now available at lumber yards everywhere.

IF YOU have a problem storing extra bed linen, out-of-season clothing, or just about one hundred other articles everyone collects and doesn't know where to put, this under-the-bed storage chest should be of interest to you. While the pattern offered suggests building a chest approximately 30" wide, 42" long by 6" deep, it can be built to any length required.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Most common types of shoe polish can be removed with cleaning fluid. Or, on washable whites, let the polish dry and then brush most of it off. After that, wet it and let it dry again so you can brush it again.

When an uncolored photograph (not glossy) needs cleaning, wipe it with a damp cloth; then place it face down on a smooth dry cloth until it's dry.

When you empty a hot-water bottle, blow air into it and then screw the stopper in.

To keep sandwiches fresh, wrap them in waxed paper; but before you fold the paper over, run a warm iron along the double edges. The wax will melt and the edges will fuse.

To scrape the bottom of a pot, use a wooden spoon or the sharp end of a wooden clothespin. This minimizes noise as well as damage to the pot.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: Our gas refrigerator has taken on a yellowish color. How can I restore it to its former whiteness?

ANSWER: Try washing the surface with mild soap and warm water. Rinse with a solution of javelle water, using about three teaspoonsful in a quart of water, and wipe dry.

QUESTION: What can I do about hot water pipes that constantly cause the paint to peel off? I wish to repaint several rooms and would like this information.

ANSWER: You could use a radiator enamel, following the manufacturer's directions for application. But you should make some allowance for a slight darkening of the color under heat and choose a shade a little lighter than you otherwise would select. The pipes must be clean and cold for a good paint job and for thorough drying.

QUESTION: Please send me information on sealing the inside of a concrete stock tank, size 10' x6'x3'. This tank has walls about a foot thick. Last winter the water in this tank froze, causing tank to crack.

ANSWER: The following method should serve: Cut into the crack with a cold chisel to make it deeper (at least one inch) and wider, so that a patch can be forced all the way through. Brush out all loose bits of cement and sand. Soak the edges with water and then pack the crack with a stiff mixture of one part portland cement and three parts of clean, sharp sand, using only enough water to make a workable mixture. Keep the patch damp for several days so that mortar will have time to cure and attain full density.

TAXPAYERS WANT ROADS—NOT MORE TAXES

C. H. Washam of the New Mexico Motor Carriers Assn. cautioned public officials against "drawing the wrong conclusions from the taxpayers' demand for road improvements."

"Sometimes when taxpayers voice a request for better roads, some officials mistakenly assume that the way to answer their request is to increase taxes," he said.

"Nothing could be more mistaken—or more unnecessary. For, as highway user groups here have been pointing out for many months past, there is more money available in New Mexico for highway purposes now than at any previous time—money accumulated in the highway department balance and more rolling in every day. Present state taxes on motor vehicles and motor fuel are producing revenue at the highest levels in history. And on top of that, millions of dollars will be received from the Federal Government for new highway construction."

Mr. Washam expressed the belief that "highway users" are fully aware of this situation and promised that his organization would carry on a continuous educational campaign to keep them aware of it.

"What the taxpayers are demanding is what they have already paid for, and what they are now paying, and will continue to pay for in record-breaking amounts."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh Ed's Barn Gets "Unpainted" A couple of traveling painters drove up to Ed Cary's farm, and offered to paint his barn real cheap. Next thing Ed knew he had a bright red barn—looked fine! Only thing was—after the first rain, the paint washed off! And by that time the traveling painters were not to be found—most likely in another county. From where I sit, Ed made a mighty obvious mistake. As Dec Wilson says, you wouldn't buy an unknown kind of beer from a stranger who offered it to you cheap. You'd get it from a licensed dealer, or at a licensed tavern, just as you'd get a decent paint job from a licensed painter. Because you know that that license is a public obligation. And when it comes to beer, it's backed up by the Brewer's Program of Self Regulation—which endeavors to see that taverns selling beer are decent law-abiding places, committed to the public interest. We are a little late this week on account of an ornithologic study this morning as we were closing the forms and preparing to go to press, which we are still unable to solve. A species of the family Fringillidae, new into the office this morning, and after a successful chase, in which the entire force took part, the feathered beauty was captured without bloodshed, and is now safely tied by the left hind leg to a chair post. It may be a linnit, a siskin, a delfinch or a bullfinch, but it certainly is a second cousin to the corduleis canaria. He leaves the impression, however, that he is tongue-tied, for nary a note has it twittered. A Mexican friend dropped in later, and solved the question of its species. He said it was what his people call a canaria mexicana and was considered a good omen at all times, especially previous to election, as it meant a democratic victory in November.

Just one ballot—that was sufficient—and on the 18th, at Santa Fe, W. H. Andrews was declared the republican nominee for delegate to congress from the territory of New Mexico. The vote, stood, Andrews 110; Spies 44, and Mann 20. This was six more votes than reported last week.

Make these 4 comparisons before you buy any car

COMPARE THE VALUE COMPARE THE POPULARITY

Yes, compare the features—compare the prices—compare what you get for what you pay—and you, too, will come to the conclusion that Chevrolet continues to be first in value, just as it continues to be first in Big-Car Quality at Lowest Cost, and just as it continues first in demand, year after year.

You can identify the biggest value in any list of products by picking out the one product which enjoys greatest popularity, year after year; and, of course, in the field of motor cars, that one product is Chevrolet—outstanding leader in popularity for the total 17-year period, 1931 to date!

COMPARE THE FEATURES

Only Chevrolet combines the United Kneec-Action Ride for gliding smoothness; the world's champion Valve-in-Head engine for performance and economy; Body by Fisher for tasteful beauty; and Fisher Unisteel Construction plus Positive-Action Hydraulic Brakes for all-round safety protection!

COMPARE THE PRICES

You'll agree with millions of other car buyers that prices—like quality—are a major consideration in these times; and just as Chevrolet's Big-Car quality is unique in its price range, so Chevrolet prices are the lowest in its field. Chevrolet costs less to buy, to run and to maintain!

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Congress Fights Truman Proposals; High Crop Goals Set, Wheat Cut; Atomic Tests Assure New Power

By Bill Schoeniger, WNU Staff Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the newspaper.

CONGRESS: Feudin' and Fightin'

Bitter recriminations resounded as the fight between President Truman and the GOP-controlled congress moved into a new round with convening of the extra session of the 80th congress.

In a dynamite-laden atmosphere, the President appeared before a joint session of the congress which he had labeled "one of the worst in history" to demand a sweeping anti-inflation economic program. The reception for both the President and his program was cool as Republicans launched their wrecking-crew tactics.

Defiant GOP leaders charged Mr. Truman with playing politics and prepared to play politics of their own. The net result, it appeared, would be a short special session.

Initial step in the GOP's program of obstruction was a decision that the extra session should consider only those recommendations made by Mr. Truman which could "pass a test." This test, established by the majority conference, set the qualifications for congressional action as follows:

Proposed legislation must be emergency in character. It must contain a problem of national importance. It must be a program which can be processed properly within the time available to an emergency session.

This available time for processing would be no longer than a period of congress which would not "interfere with the proper conduct" of the autumn campaigns.

No appropriation bills were to be considered, nor would any consideration be given to confirmation of nominations which might be sent to the senate by the President.

Over all hung the threat of a Dixie Democratic filibuster against the anti-poll tax bill, which would widen the rift between Mr. Truman and the southern wing of his party.

There were no surprises in the President's recommended legislative package. He proposed a re-imposition of the excess profits tax; limited restoration of price controls, even more limited wage controls and enactment of the Taft-Elliender-Wagner housing bill.

WHEAT:

Goal Cut

As clogged elevators and enforced embargoes once again mark the nation's harvest of another bumper wheat crop, the department of agriculture recommends a cut of 8 per cent in wheat acreage in its preliminary recommendations for the 1949 crop year.

Although continued high production of other major grain commodities is recommended, a slight decrease is suggested for wheat acreage, which has increased sharply in recent years in response to war and relief needs.

Looking forward in a move to conserve the country's soil resources, the department points out that "a better balance between soil-conserving and soil-depleting crops will actually assure higher productivity over a longer period of years."

Farmers also are urged to provide for sufficient summer fallow and, in marginal areas, to plant grass seed on land which is not suitable for sustained production of crops.

Also considered in arriving at the wheat goal were this year's increased carry-over, prospects that the 1948 crop will be second largest in history and possibility of smaller demand because of improved crops in importing countries.

The department recommended wheat plantings for 1949 of 71.5 million acres which, with an average yield of 15 bushels an acre, would mean production of nearly 1.1 billion bushels. July estimate of 1948 wheat production was 1,241,751,000 bushels.

In setting another farm goal, the department recommended a beef cattle breeding herd of 15.5 million cows next January 1, a decrease of about 500,000 head. Better management, improved feeding practices and thorough culling, it was suggested, will "put the cattle industry in better position to supply the meat requirements of the increased population."

The recommendations are submitted to state agricultural councils for consideration. State goals and final national goals are determined on the basis of state review and recommendations.

PRECARIOUS PERCH

Americans Seek Economic Security

Increasingly aware of the need for economic security for themselves and their families, Americans will spend approximately 18 billion dollars for that purpose in 1949, the Research Council for Economic Security estimates.

The estimate covers payments made under private or government organized plans to meet to

Hands in Pockets

Face to face with the congress he had labeled "worst, save one," in history, President Truman was greeted by one of the coolest congressional receptions ever accorded a chief executive when he appeared before the special session. Only polite applause came occasionally from the galleries and from administration followers; Republicans kept their hands in their pockets.

A-BOMBS:

New Force

The veil of secrecy which has shrouded most of the post-war atomic energy experiments was lifted, a tiny bit at least, for the American public in the fourth semi-annual report of the atomic energy commission and an accompanying statement by President Truman.

Justifying the secrecy, the President contended that until controls are established on the international level to prevent use of atomic energy for military purposes "we cannot, as a nation, afford to disclose these secrets which make this new force the most deadly form of military weapon." With that statement, the American people, anxiously eyeing war clouds on the horizon, are inclined to agree.

Some measure of reassurance was contained in both reports, stressing the fact that the nation has gained new power in atomic weapons. Both disclosed that the secret tests of new type bombs at the proving grounds on Eniwetok island early this year were highly successful.

The commission's report, the fourth semi-annual summary to congress as provided by law, indicated there were three bombs used at Eniwetok in the spring project known as "Operation Sandstone." Principal study was "on the generation of nuclear explosion itself" rather than "on the effects of the nuclear explosion," as was the case in the earlier Bikini tests.

The report stressed developments of atomic energy research in medicine, agriculture, metallurgy, other sciences and industry. Radioactive materials have been given 230 institutions and commercial agencies for experimentation.

LIVING COSTS:

Hit Peak

They changed the name—from cost of living index to consumers price index—but they still can't change the trend—upward and ever upward.

In fact, the index struck an all-time high on June 15, with food prices reaching record-shattered levels, the bureau of labor statistics reports.

The index, which represents retail prices of goods and services bought by moderate income families in large cities, registered 171.7 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

Further increases are inevitable, too, for wholesale prices hit an all-time high during the week ended July 17 and it takes about a month for their impact to be recorded in retail prices.

The new consumers price index is 9.3 per cent higher than a year ago; 28.8 per cent above June, 1946, when price controls generally were abandoned, and 74.1 per cent above the August, 1939, level. On V-J Day in 1945 the same index was 129.3 per cent of the 1934-39 average.

DRAFTEES:

Old Fals

In an endeavor to make the upcoming draftees as happy as a khaki-colored lark, the army is removing its "petty annoyances" as it completes plans to process men inducted under the first peacetime draft in history.

On orders of Gen. Omar Bradley, chief of staff, to remove "the petty annoyances that sent many World War II veterans away hating the army," training officers prepared to greet the recruit like "an old friend of the family."

Only the finest officers and non-coms will handle the draftees, training officers promised. The recruit will even be given a $5 advance on his $75 a month pay the first day in camp so he won't be broke. He won't even have to wait to "tell it to the chaplain," as he'll be taken to the chaplain during his orientation days and urged "to let his hair down."

All of this will take place at eight major training centers which have been set up to receive the draftees and give them their basic training. They are Fort Knox and Camp Breckenridge, Ky.; Fort Riley, Kans.; Camp Chaffee, Ark.; Camp Pickett, Va.; Fort Ord, Calif.; Fort Jackson, S. C., and Fort Dix, N. J.

The standard 13-week army training course has been condensed into eight "tough" weeks. Later draftees will be selected for specialist training or sent directly to duty. About half of the draftees will see overseas duty, probably in Korea, Japan, Germany, Alaska, the Canal Zone, Hawaii or Caribbean defense area.

It Might Have Been

Had there been no World War II, no abdication of the late King Victor Emmanuel and no dissolution of the House of Savoy, by vote (taking the crown away from ex-king Humbert), then Victor Emmanuel, pictured here, third of the line, might have been fated one day to sit on the throne of Italy. Seemingly the least unhappy about the turn of affairs is handsome, blond Victor Emmanuel, now at Geneva, Switzerland.

GERMANY:

Explosive

Germany remained an explosive issue in the strife-torn international picture.

As the titanic East-West struggle for Berlin continues, reports were current that four-power talks would be resumed in an attempt to settle the crisis there as well as to scan the entire European situation. The rumors circulated after top diplomats of the U. S., Britain and France were closeted in a series of conferences.

In the biggest air lift in history, U. S. and British planes continued to transport food and fuel to the beleaguered city. The big planes averaged 4,500 tons of essential goods daily in their effort to break the Russian blockade.

Violence broke out in the Russian sector of the capital city as thousands of Germans jammed banks to exchange their money for new Soviet-sponsored currency.

Although she looks like a prim schoolmarm, Berlin's woman mayor, Socialist Louise Schroeder, courageously defied Russia's order to dismiss the anti-Communist deputy police chief.

IN ANNAPOLIS . . . An 18-year-old plebe at the U.S. naval academy shouldered a heavy burden when he took his oath. The plebe is John Paul Jones of Piqua, Ohio, no descendant of his famous namesake.

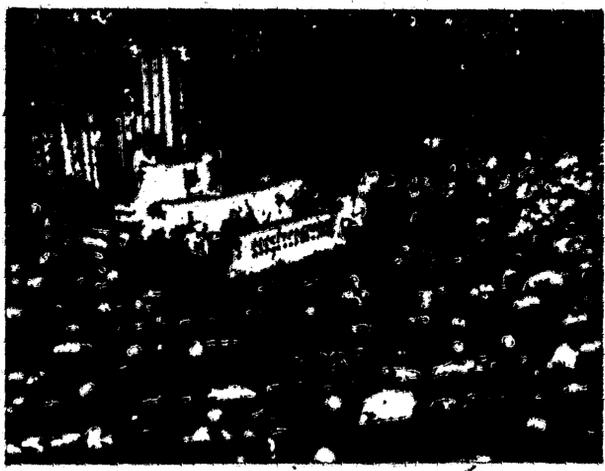

IN FORT WAYNE . . . Joseph Neal, 45, survived by a nose when he was buried for 30 minutes in a collapse of a sewer trench. A fellow worker tore away some of the dirt to expose the tip of Neal's nose. Later, firemen and police dug the rest of him out.

IN BALLINAW, OKLA. . . E. W. Floyd, 48-year-old grocery clerk and brother of the onetime Public Enemy No. 1, Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, was elected sheriff in a bitterly fought contest.

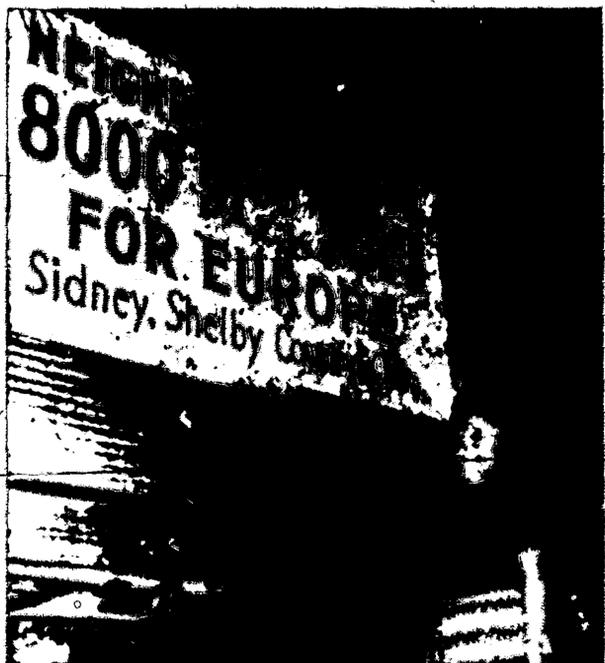

IN CHARLESTOWN . . . Farmer Eben Trussell drove his new car home, parked it in the barn lot. There a bull calf saw his reflection in the windshield, took a running leap, crashed through the glass and bounced back on the hood. A veterinarian stitched the bull together and a mechanic did the same for the car.

THEIR NOMINATION AFFIRMED . . . Henry A. Wallace and his running-mate, Sen. Glen Taylor of Idaho, take bows from rostrum of Philadelphia convention hall after their selection as presidential and vice-presidential candidates of the Progressive party. Taylor is holding his two-year-old son, Gregory. Selection followed procedures used at major party conventions, with the difference that Wallace had decided to run for president before he organized the third party, the convention's action being merely a rubber stamp deal.

NO LOVE LOST HERE . . . President Truman is shown delivering a tough 34-minute message before a truculent congress at the special session. The joint session of congress, which he has termed "one of the worst" in the nation's history, gave him scant applause. This general view shows the President at the speaker's rostrum.

SMALL TOWN PEACE MOVEMENT . . . As high government officials and foreign diplomats falter in their quest for world-wide peace, residents of Shelby county, Ohio, demonstrate that small peoples everywhere can play a significant role in the movement. Through their peace movement, known as "Neighbors in Action," Shelby county residents hope to promote peace by sending food and goodwill overseas.

WHEN A FELLOW NEEDS A FRIEND . . . Although only a year old, little Donald Thomas Mellon already knows what it is to be heartbroken. He has lost his dog, Sandy, a brown Pointer pup, and here he is under the bed letting the world know his grief. Peany's father, Donald A. Mellon, tries to comfort his son and look, but to no avail. The dog followed Mellon to work and was picked up by two people in an automobile. A search of all corners failed to produce the missing pet.

THE FICTION CORNER

AND AN ELEPHANT

By WILLIAM CUTHBERT

"UH, UH, Daddy could see it coming again! He had just settled down to read the evening paper when Barbara climbed on one knee, and George Henry took possession of the other.

He let the newspaper drop to the floor. He couldn't read with a pair of heads in front of his eyes.

"How old am I, Daddy?" Barbara asked.

This was better than Daddy had hoped for. He was expecting something else. "You'll be three next month," he told her.

He thought that if he used a little child psychology he could keep the children's thoughts on their ages and birthday parties, instead of having them think of that other thing. "You're five, George Henry," he said, "you'll soon be going to school."

George Henry said bluntly, "tell us a story."

Here it was, that other thing that he could see coming. "Not now," Daddy groaned, "I don't feel like telling a story."

"The three bears, heh, George Henry?" Barbara chimed in.

They settled back expectantly in Daddy's arms. Their flannel pajamas were soft and warm as his arms embraced them.

"Once upon a time there was three bears," Barbara prompted.

What could Daddy do? He shrugged his shoulders helplessly. "The three bears lived in a cabin at the edge of a woods."

"No Goldlocks," George Henry said, "tell us about the three bears and an elephant."

"An elephant?" Daddy didn't feel like plotting a new story. "It will have to be Goldlocks," he said.

Barbara clapped her little chubby hands. "Goody," she cried, "what does the elephant do in the story, Daddy?"

"But I don't know any elephant story."

"Remember the one you read out of the book that you wrote?" This was George Henry trying to refresh his Daddy's memory.

Daddy tried to think over the juvenile stories that he had written and had published. He couldn't place an elephant story that had anything to do with three bears.

"No Daddy, it wasn't in the book," George Henry suddenly remembered, "you just told it to us."

The easiest thing to do, Daddy decided, was to make up a story, then rush the children off to bed.

"During the day," he continued, "the sun shone bright on the cabin and kept the three bears warm."

"What was the bears' names?" Barbara wanted to know.

There could be no question about the names. Whether it was bears, pigs, ducks or rabbits, the names had to be the same.

"One bear's name was Barbara; another, George Henry, and the third, Sally."

Sally was the children's eight-year-old sister. She had just started to take violin lessons, and Daddy could hear her in her bedroom trying to squeak some notes out of the G string.

"As I was saying, the bears were kept warm in the daytime by the hot sun. But at night when the sun went to sleep, it got very cold, and the bears had to keep a fire in the hearth of the open fire place."

The telephone bell rang, and as the children's mother came from the kitchen to answer it, Daddy remained silent. This was a rule in the home. No one talked while some one else was speaking on the telephone.

The children hugged against Daddy. He thought they might go to sleep.

Their mother talked for several minutes. Daddy gathered from the things she said that she was giving Mrs. Piper, a neighbor who lived up the street, a recipe for cheese pie.

When his wife went back to the kitchen, Daddy looked at the children. Their eyes were closed. Ah, no more story telling tonight, he thought.

George Henry opened sleepy eyes. "So the three bears had to keep a fire at night?"

Daddy began to talk softly, soothingly. This would put the children

George Henry said bluntly, "tell us a story."

sound to sleep. "The bears had to have wood for their fire, so every day they went into the woods to chop down a tree."

"Louder, Daddy," Barbara told him, "I can hardly hear you."

George Henry wiggled a bit and asked, "Where's the elephant?"

"The elephant?" Daddy had forgotten there was supposed to be an elephant. "The elephant, uh, we'll get to him . . . the bears had to go to the woods for fire wood. One day Sally bear was chopping down a tree. It was a big tree, for most of the small trees had already been burned, and she became tired. George Henry bear took the axe and began to chop—chop—chop."

"What about the elephant, Daddy?" It was Barbara this time.

"Suddenly the bears heard another sound in the woods. George Henry bear stopped chopping to listen. Thump—thump—thump! All three bears were startled. They never heard this noise before."

Barbara smiled. "Here comes the elephant."

Daddy ignored the interruption. "George Henry bear dropped the axe and the three bears ran as fast as they could back to their cabin, and they locked themselves in."

George Henry sat up straight, all sleep disappearing from his bright blue eyes. "Did the elephant chase them, Daddy?" he asked.

Daddy sighed deeply and said sternly, "Will you two settle down and allow me to tell the story?"

Meekly, George Henry settled back in Daddy's arm.

"That night it was very cold and the bears had no wood to burn. They huddled near the damp fire place and almost froze."

"The poor bears," Barbara mumbled. She looked like she might cry.

"The next day," Daddy said hurriedly, "the bears decided that they just had to have wood, so they went back among the trees. After they made sure that no other animal was in sight, Sally bear picked up the axe and began to chop—chop—chop."

"Please Daddy, tell us about the elephant," George Henry held his hand against his mouth to hold back a yawn.

"But before long, the thumping noise again rang out in the woods. Thump—thump—thump. The bears were too frightened to run this time, and suddenly a big animal stuck its head and long trunk between two trees and glanced bewildered at the three shivering bears."

"Let it be a good elephant, heh Daddy?" George Henry said.

"All right, it was a good elephant, and it asked the bears why they were frightened? None of the bears dared to speak, so the elephant looked around and saw that they had been chopping at the tree."

"So the elephant chopped the tree down for them," George Henry volunteered.

Daddy smiled. This would be better than bringing in a lot of complications and would get the children to bed in a hurry.

"Yes, the elephant took the axe in his trunk and chopped the tree into small pieces. The bears then saw that the elephant was a friend, so each gathered an arm load of wood, while the elephant took a big load in his trunk, and they all went back to the cabin."

"Is that all, Daddy?" Barbara wanted to know.

"Not quite. The elephant was so big that it couldn't go through the door of the cabin, and when night came, it had to stay out in the cold, while the bears kept warm near the fire."

GEORGE HENRY could hardly keep his eyes open but he said, "Let the good elephant go inside near the fire, Daddy."

Daddy thought for a moment. How could he get the elephant inside? Suddenly he knew how. "The following morning the bears were so sorry for the elephant that they got out all their carpenter tools and busily went to work."

"Did they build another cabin?" Barbara asked this although Daddy thought she was asleep.

"No, they just made a bigger doorway—and the three bears and the elephant lived happily together ever after."

Barbara and George Henry slept peacefully as Daddy carried them upstairs and put them in their beds.

Then Daddy went downstairs, picked up the newspaper and settled back in his chair. But he didn't read the newspaper. It dropped to the floor as he closed his eyes and went to sleep.

Research Improves Average Crop Yield

Better Machinery and Fertilizer Aid Advance

Farms now are growing about a third more crops than in 1920 and getting the job done in about 10 per cent less time, according to U. S. department of agriculture statistics.

Several factors have made this record possible. One has been the research work of plant breeders in developing heavier yielding, hardier varieties of corn, small grains, root crops, legumes and vegetables. Another is the improvement in machines that helps farmers do more work in a day. A third has been the increasing use of commercial fertilizer and a better knowledge of how to use it.

Even with increasing use of fertilizer, the bigger per acre yields from improved crop varieties are being obtained at the expense of the soil's plant food and organic matter supply, warns Middle West Soil Improvement committee.

"Unless this drain is offset by fertility building practices that put back needed nutrients and replenish organic matter," the committee says, "worn out soils and lower yields will be the eventual result on millions of farms."

Yale Canvas Country For Col. Trumbull

A nation-wide hunt for the paintings of John Trumbull, visual recorder of the American Revolution, has been instituted by a Yale professor.

Theodore Sizer, professor of the history of art at Yale, issued the call for information about the Trumbull paintings in the "Yale University Library Gazette". The first such request for assistance was made by Professor Benjamin Silliman, 24, in 1832 in the "American Art Review".

Sizer, working under a Guggenheim fellowship, is a noted authority on the "patriot-artist". He has compiled the first thorough check list of Trumbull's works, and the recent acquisition by the Yale library of Trumbull's notebook, containing a list of the artist's earlier works, has encouraged Sizer to seek elsewhere for further information.

Col. Trumbull was responsible for the design of the original Yale Gallery, the first such art museum in the United States connected with an educational institution. The purpose of the search is to complete a check list of his works and discover their location.

Col. Trumbull's paintings are richly steeped in the tradition of Yale, New Haven and Connecticut, as well as the revolutionary period. According to Prof. John Marshall Phillips, director of the Yale art gallery, the artist seemed to have a faculty for appearing on the scene of action just as history was being made. He, therefore, gave the U. S. many pictorial records, otherwise unobtainable, of this country's early background.

Vitamin D Will Prevent Development of Rickets

Like the old fallacy about locking the stable after the horse is stolen, treating calves for rickets after they have them is not the same as preventing the disease.

A nutritional disease, rickets are caused by a deficiency of vitamin D in the diet. The animal is unable to store sufficient mineral in the bones, which thus become soft. The bones bend under the weight of the animal, causing bowed legs, knock knees, roughed back, low loin, dropped tail head and depression behind the withers. Once these deformities occur, they cannot be corrected.

Hay Prod Thermometer Permits Constant Check

To reduce danger of a barn fire from spontaneous ignition of hay, Fred Roth, farm safety specialist at Michigan State college, advises construction of a simple hay prod thermometer.

When hay is stored with more than 20 per cent moisture content, danger of heating in the mow is present unless a mow drier is being used. Even small amounts of damp hay, if concentrated in one spot, may cause heating in a limited area.

As heating of the hay can extend over a considerable time, continual checking is advised for two months after hay is put into the mow.

An inexpensive hay prod thermometer consists of 10 feet of one-half inch electrical conduit with an oak or ash point on one end to permit driving into the hay. Six one-quarter inch holes should be punched in the conduit above the point. A dairy thermometer on a string then is put into the conduit. A rubber pad at the bottom of the tube will keep the thermometer from breaking.

Fresh Paint Will Cause Lead Poisoning in Cattle

Painting time on the farm may mean lead poisoning time if cattle get near freshly painted buildings, University of Illinois veterinarians point out. Paint is by far the most common source of lead poisoning in cattle. Cows and calves are fond of licking paint, especially fresh paint from barns, stables, fences or even paint cans and buckets. Old paint cans should be disposed of.

New Insecticides to Save Considerable Grain Damage

A new and safe insecticide material, which itself can save more grain from damage by insects than that needed for the relief of Europe, now is in production, and insecticides made from it are being made available to the consumer in quantity, says Glenn Haskell, president of U. S. Industrial Chemicals.

The new insecticide, which can be used with complete freedom where food is handled, is known as pyrethrons. After three years of exhaustive tests, it has been found effective against a broad range of insect life.

The new insecticide is versatile in its application, and can be used in oil sprays, aerosols, emulsions, dusts or wettable powders. Its non-toxic nature makes it safe for use under any circumstances, Haskell says.

It can be sprayed on the interiors of grain bins, where insects have been taking an annual toll of 300 million bushels of grain in the United States alone, or three times the 100 million bushels needed for the relief of Europe. It can be used safely on growing foods, feeds of animals or anywhere that food is processed or prepared for human consumption. It has complete safety in household or garden use, and can be used directly on animals, without damaging effect to animals or to meat and dairy products.
