Hot Lunches Now Being Served At Local School

The hot lunch program for Carrizozo Public school, got off to a good start Monday with the opening of the new lunch room located in the former primary room in the Grade School building.

Mrs. Ruby Hemard has been employed as cook and so far, has been assisted by students. The range from the Home Economics room has been moved to the lunch room and a large hot water tank, salvaged from the old school building, has been installed. The tables used in the hot lunch program some years ago, which had been loaned to the Carrizozo Woman's Club, have been returned to the school and are now in use. Benches were made by the Manuel Training students.

An average of 135 pupils a day are now being fed at the school at a cost, to the student, of twenty-cents per meal by the week or twenty-five cents, single meal. Over fifty pupils who come in to school on busses are now eating a well balanced hot noon meal.

There have been many generous donations received from local people, such as cooking utensils, dishes etc. More silver and dishes are needed, especially soup bowls, and large cooking vessels. Anyone having extra articles of this kind are asked to please call 90, Supt. Manire's office.

Many mothers have offered to help can fruit and vegetables. Anyone having an overabundance of fruit or vegetables are asked to call or write Mr. Manire and the foodstuff will be called for. A pick-up truck has been loaned the school and the driver has kindly offered to go any place in the county to obtain fruits or vegetables. Mr. Manire assures any donors that nothing will go to waste, as many fruit jars have already been brought in.

Monday the menu consisted of: String beans, mashed potatoes, cabbage salad, peaches. Tuesday: Peas and carrots, potato salad, cookies. Wednesday: Creamed beefs, mashed potatoes, lettuce and tomato salad, peaches. Rolls and bread are served with each meal and a student is welcome to a second helping, or even a third. The food is served cafeteria style to avoid waste. Each student, when finished cleans his or her plate at a container provided and places the plates and silver in separate receptacles.

The prevailing high cost of milk makes it impossible to serve milk with the lunches. When powdered milk is available, it will be used in the making of hot chocolate.

The Federal Government issues a rebate of seven cents per meal served on the milkless meal and nine cent rebate on meals which include milk.

The School Board and Supt. Manire are to be congratulated for the fine job of getting the project started. They will continue their efforts to make Carrizozo's hot lunch program equal to the best in the state. All supplies are purchased locally.

The Freshmen put on the program in Assembly and kept the large audience laughing for nearly an hour. The two pictures shown at the Assembly were very good. One was about bears in Alaska and the other about rodeos and steer roping and riding.

Every Monday throughout the school year there will be good pictures shown—the best that can be obtained and a program presented by the school. Parents and visitors are always welcome to every program.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hancock took their daughter, Mary Eleanor to El Paso last week to enter school there.

Lincoln County Prospectors Can Now Seek Uranium For U. S. Government

Ford Dealer Gives Help "Geiger Counter" Made Available For Testing Samples Weekly

Lincoln County ranchers and prospectors now have opportunity to try for the $10,000 reward offered by the Atomic Energy Commission for discoveries of uranium-bearing ore. A "Geiger counter" the electrical apparatus used for determining radio-active rocks, has been presented to Lincoln County Motors, Inc., local Ford dealers, by Mr. Mason M. Warner, President of Warner Electric Company of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Warner were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Foust at Rancho Rischuelo last June. Mr. Warner is an alumnus of the Military Academy at Roswell, and deeply interested in this area.

The Geiger-Muller counter will be on display at the new Ford quarters in the El Cibola Hotel. The device records the presence of uranium or radium by both a sensitive dial reading, or by "clicks" in headphones. It is battery-operated, compact, and can be easily carried by a prospector.

More than twenty types of rocks contain uranium, but the two types which may be found in this area are the richest kinds of radio-active ore, Pitchblende, a black, metallic rock, carries value of both radium and uranium. It is most often found as a vein running through other rock, and is remarked by its dull, metallic color.

Another high-grade uranium ore is "Carnotite", which is a soft, canary-yellow rock much like sandstone. It is this type of ore most likely to discovery in the mountains of Lincoln County. Mr. Foust has several samples of Carnotite.

Governor Thomas J. Mabry and Messrs. Clinton Anderson, Guy Sheppard, A. M. Fernandez, Reed Miles, Ingram B. Pickett stopped briefly in Carrizozo Tuesday enroute to Mayhill, New Mexico to attend the all day celebration of the completion of Highway 83, sponsored by Chambers of Commerce of Artesia, Alamogordo, Tularosa, Cloudcroft, Mayhill, Weed, Hope and Lovington. Principal address of the day was given by Governor Mabry.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Walker returned Monday from San Angelo, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bostian and their guest Mrs. Boldion returned Tuesday from Ruidoso where they had been vacationing at the Bostian cabin.

C. A. Branum, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Branum left on Wednesday to enter N. M. M. I. at Roswell where he is enrolled as a Senior in the High School department.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. English are vacationing in Peckville, Penn. They will visit their daughter Mrs. Paul Burton and family in Scotts Bluff, Nebraska on their trip home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Payne were visitors here Sunday from Capitan.

Mrs. J. V. Tully has returned to her home in Tularosa after visiting her sister, Mrs. Paul Mayer.

Mrs. Otho Lowe of Capitan visited Mrs. Henry Hoffman Tuesday.

General Russell C. Charlton, State Director of Selective Service of Santa Fe, was a business visitor in town last week at the local Selective Service office.

Carrizozo Second Annual Rodeo This Saturday and Sunday

AIR PARCEL POST SPEEDS DELIVERY

September 1, the United States can boast of the most modern and expeditious delivery service in the world, according to Postmaster Kelt of Carrizozo.

The new, highly specialized airborne service, enacted into law by the 80th Congress, will afford patrons of more than 42,000 post offices in America and its possessions unexcelled shipping facilities. Transit time will be reduced to a fraction of that required by other modes of transportation.

Postmaster Kelt pointed out that air parcel post packages will receive the same particular consideration shown air mail in routing. In addition, identical doorstep delivery will be given to air parcel post as is afforded other forms of mail, making the airborne mail service unique in every respect.

He added that distinct air parcel post stickers, printed in red, white and blue and bearing the likeness of a winged package with the earth's globe underneath, will soon be available without cost at the Carrizozo Post Office to apply to outgoing packages.

"With a scheduled plane taking off or landing within the United States on an average of every seven seconds around the clock, and an overseas-bound plane leaving our borders every 30 minutes, we stand ready to give our patrons the fastest parcel post service offered anywhere," Postmaster Kelt said.

WARNING TO BICYCLE RIDERS

State Patrolman E. V. Martinez this week warned all riders of bicycles to observe the following rules: 1. Keep on the extreme right side of the road. 2. Do not ride double. Bicycles are one-passenger vehicles. 3. Do not ride on the sidewalks.

Violators apprehended for breaking these rules will have their bicycles taken from them and the "bikes" will be impounded at the City Jail.

As stated last week, a great deal of attention is being given jaywalkers by the local police. All pedestrian crossings have been indicated by painting white lines and citizens are again warned to cross the streets in these lanes. Brake and light stickers were due September 1st. Only 48 hour warnings are given.

STATE LAND COMMISSIONER PROTESTS EXPANSION OF PROVING GROUNDS

Santa Fe, Sept.—2—State Land Commissioner John E. Miles today made public a letter he has written to President Truman, protesting the proposed expansion of the White Sands Proving Ground by approximately one million acres.

Asking the President to review the record of the hearing held at Las Cruces early last month, Commissioner Miles pointed out that New Mexico already "has lost heavily of state, privately-owned, and federal lands to military projects."

"Originally the Army during the course of actual hostilities obtained the use of great areas in New Mexico at an absolute minimum cost," Mr. Miles wrote. "The acquisition was by condemnation of 'use for term of years' followed by so-called 'co-use agreements.'"

"The expectation, if not the actual understanding, of New Mexico people and the disaccommodated ranchers was that military use would cease concurrently with demobilization and the cancellation of war contracts, etc., after hostilities ceased. This expectation has in no sense been realized.

"The record of the Las Cruces public hearing is being transcribed in Washington; when this is completed, I hope you will see your way to secure a copy of that transcript for the purpose of careful study.

"Should it be determined that this proposed taking is a funda-

Stock are in the chutes; last Sunday Messrs. R. A. Crenshaw, Pat and Wayne Withers, Orville Luttrell, J. E. Thornton, Joe Ortiz, James Duncan, L. M. Huffman, Louis Nalda and two of his ranch hands spent several hours corraling ten range burros for the team tying event. The best string of bucking steers available is in the pens for the cowboys who "like them salty".

The parade will form in front of the Municipal Locker plant, proceed down Alamogordo Avenue and Main Street to the Rodeo grounds. The entire committee has worked tirelessly to put on a good fast show.

Admission prices are $1.00 for adults; 50c for High School Students and 25c for children.

There will be a big cowboy dance Saturday evening at Millers hall Elmer Hust and his orchestra will furnish the music.

The Ladies Auxiliary will have charge of the refreshment stand.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION TO MEET MONDAY SEPT. 8

The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting as we are going to welcome the teachers and show them we are with them 100%.

LYRIC THEATRE TO CLOSE 3 DAYS FOR REMODELING

Mr. A. P. Sitton, owner and operator of the Lyric Theatre is having extensive painting and redecorating done to the theatre building. Mr. Ben Sanchez is doing the painting.

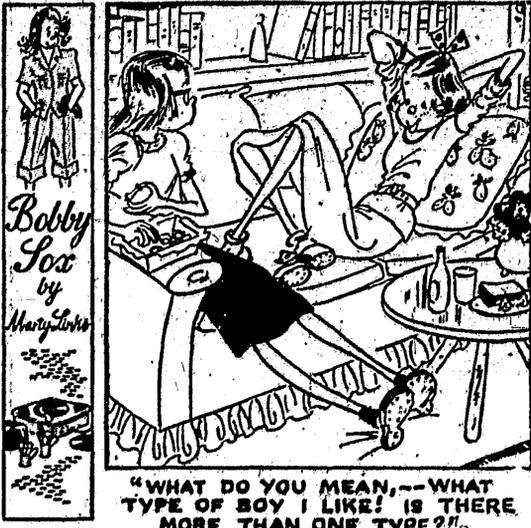

Painting of the exterior of the building is already completed, the interior walls are being painted this week. There will be no pictures shown Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday of next week while the work of cleaning and repairing the seats and painting of the foyer is being done.

mental of the military program of the United States, then the economic progress of New Mexico must necessarily yield and our protest disregarded. This essentially, however, has not yet been made clear. "Should the withdrawal of these thirty-three townships of land for the permanent use of the Army be authorized, I urge you to take such steps as may be necessary to see that the New Mexico ranchers and citizens affected be adequately compensated for their displacement, and the State of New Mexico be accorded the privilege of exchanging its lands within the entire military corridor for other lands of the United States, and without the opposition of other federal land holding agencies.

At the Word of Command

Lesson for August 29, 1948

DO PEOPLE always do what they know is right? You would think so; but they don't. It is strange how many excuses people can think up to get out of doing what they know in their hearts they ought to do.

But not this man Ananias. He was a shining exception. There are three Ananias in the New Testament, and this one makes up for the other two.

One of the others was a rascally priest and one was a famous liar; but this Ananias, another of the "unheralded" characters from the Bible, is famed for going when God said, "Go." We know nothing much else about him, but this is enough.

No Wonder He Hesitated

IT WAS just after the conversion of Saul. At the time of our story, nobody had ever heard of Paul, only of Saul as he was then called; and nobody heard anything good. He was a bitter, ruthless man. He had no use for Christians. Extermination was his only answer to the Christian challenge. The name of Saul brought terror.

On this day of our story Saul had been only three days a Christian. He had had nothing to eat all that time, and he was said to be blind. You may be sure that Christians stayed away from him. His Jerusalem cronies had no doubt given him up as crazy; but no Christian would go near him either. At this point our Ananias had a vision: The Lord told him to go to Saul and lay his hands on him in help and blessing. Naturally Ananias held back. This was a dangerous man, said he. But again the Lord in the vision said, "Go," and Ananias went.

Suppose Ananias had said "No"? That might have changed the whole course of Christian history. How? He could have thought of many an excuse. "Aren't there other men who can baptize Saul as well as I can? . . . This whole vision may be only a mistake . . ." And so forth. But not when it became clear to him that this was God's will, Ananias went, though he still did not like it.

How is it with you? When you know what you ought to do, what is the first thing you think of? How to do it, or how to get out of doing it?

Taking Orders From God

HOW CAN we tell when it is really God who commands us? Most Christians today are suspicious of visions, and well we may be. Too many crazy things have been done by people who saw "visions" for us to trust such experiences very far.

One way in which God's orders come to us is in the Word of God, particularly in the words of Christ. For example, take one of the hardest things Jesus ever said: "LOVE YOUR ENEMIES AND PRAY FOR THOSE WHO PERSECUTE YOU." That sounds tough. It is tough. But it is a command. Yet don't most of us leave that command in the closed Bible and act as if the words had never been said?

That brings up another question. Is it likely that Ananias became fond of Saul all at once? Hardly. Ananias could not have liked the man; there was then nothing about him to like. We know from Paul's own words that people generally were not attracted by his looks. Yet Ananias, who could not have liked Saul, much less been fond of him, went and called him "Brother" and gave him his start in the Christian life.

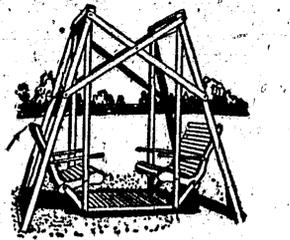

Do You Know a Soul?

NOT FAR from where you are sitting at this moment there may be someone like Saul. He is a Christian, but a new and (so far) poor one, maybe. Someone nobody believes in, someone you scarcely know. It may be a child out of some low-grade home; it may be an ex-drunkard (not so long over it) or an ex-convict even; perhaps someone who has actually done you a wrong.

But this person may be just where Saul was, needing a friend. God may already have touched his heart, all he needs now is the human touch of a Christian friend. Maybe you can't love him, can't even like him; but if he is a human soul God loves him. If you can help him, then you are his Ananias. You know what you ought to do. Will you do it?

Soil Bank Account Determines Returns

Check Up on Solvency To Assure Prosperity

Check up on your soil fertility "bank account." It's more important to you than the number of dollars you have in your commercial account.

Your present and future prosperity depends on your soil's crop producing ability. Crop producing ability, in turn, depends on the size of your soil fertility bank account—how you match deposits and withdrawals.

Every crop you sell carries with it nitrogen, phosphate, potash and other plant nutrients. Unless you balance these withdrawals with good management "deposits" that replace nutrients, rebuild organic matter and repair damaged soil structure, your soil bank account will be overdrawn.

Among steps recommended for keeping your soil bank solvent are: Use deep-rooted legumes regularly in the rotation. Apply lime on the basis of soil tests. Use commercial fertilizer containing phosphate and potash as needed. Return manure, corn stalks, straw and other crop aftermath to the soil. Use contour cultivation and other conservation methods where necessary.

Just as you will get a notice if your checking account is overdrawn, lower per acre yield and higher per bushel costs will notify you if your soil bank account is being overdrawn.

Farm Bulldozer Blade

This bulldozer blade can be attached or removed from a tractor in three minutes. The blade was salvaged from an old road scraper and the pushers are old 1 1/2 inch galvanized irrigation pipe. The U-clips which attach the pushers to the tractor are 1 1/4 or 1 1/2 inch flat iron which was bent into shape and welded to the pusher pipes. Braces for the frame are 1 1/4 inch pipe.

Hampshire Sow Sets New Production Mark

Ringold Lady Dora, 753,656, with the litter with which she established a new production record for the Hampshire breed. This sow is the first to have made a "Six Star" record in the Hampshire registry. She is five years old and has raised 75 pigs in eight litters. In her six star litters she has raised 82 pigs, an average of 10.3. These pigs weighed a total of 418 pounds, 55 days after farrowing. She is owned by William C. Goodheart Jr., Eaton, Ohio. She was fed corn, oats, alfalfa and pelleted milk by-products prior to farrowing. Her pigs were raised on a ration of seven parts corn and three parts oats with 8 per cent milk by-products added.

Tests Disclose Silage Increases Hay Tonnage

Tests of haymaking methods show that considerably more tonnage of feed will be obtained from a meadow crop when it is put in a silage than can be produced by any other method of storing.

Analysis of field cured and mow cured hay and of grass silage show a larger percentage of protein in grass than in similar forage cured either in the field or in the mow.

Here's Why Steak Costs So Much in The Butcher Shop

OMAHA, NEB.—A $5 bull calf, born on the western Nebraska range and fed grass and corn for two years as a steer, will bring 35 cents a pound on the Omaha livestock market. And that's not top price.

For a housewife to place on the broiler—steak from that one-time wobbly-legged calf, she must pay her butcher $1 a pound. That's average current price for best loin.

Here's the trail a specific Aberdeen Angus bull calf travelled before he ended up on the dinner plate:

He weighed about 75 pounds at birth, and was worth $3. In the first year of his life he grazed off seven acres of grassland, ate about two tons of hay, licked block salt and underwent a de-sexing operation.

In the second summer he had grown into a 711-pound steer and was ready to be sold to a feeder, a stockman who specialized in "finishing" cattle into beef-on-the-hoof. The steer brought 10 cents a pound, netting his former owner $114.

Transportation Costs
The feeder paid $1.91 to transport the steer by train to his home town, and 21 cents to truck the animal to his farm. The feeder kept the glossy black animal 11 months.

The feeder followed the American Meat Institute's formula for fattening the animal for each 100 pounds of gain:

Seven hundred thirty-two pounds of grain costing the feeder five cents a pound; 60 pounds of protein at six cents a pound; 245 pounds of hay at 1 1/2 cents a pound; 385 pounds of silage at one-half cent a pound, and 8 1/2 days of outside pasture running 75 cents a month.

The cost of feeding, insuring, and caring for the critter was $164, making a total expenditure of $278 to the feeder.

Steer Gains Weight
The steer gained 600 pounds to a total weight of 1,300 pounds. At $35 per hundredweight, he returned $405, a 68 per cent profit, or $190, to the feeder.

The carcass of the former 75-pound bull calf yielded 68 pounds of loin, only 8 per cent of the dressed weight of 850 pounds.

Prorated, that 8 per cent of loin cost the packer $37.44. At a wholesale price of 80 cents a pound, the loin brought the packer $54.50.

That money was for the cut of meat to produce steaks, not pot roast or chuck.

The housewife paid the retail price of $1 a pound for a piece of meat which, two years ago, represented 5.23 per cent of the calf-on-the-hoof, was worth about three cents.

Lawyer Explains in Legal Terms How Client Was Bitten

CINCINNATI.—Mrs. Anna Wagenlander, 70, Newport, Ky., filed two suits for $12,000 each in common pleas court, charging she had been bitten and mauled in the Cincinnati club by a chimpanzee belonging to the Zoological Society of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Wagenlander charged the animal attacked her when she stepped from an elevator at the club, where she was employed.

Jack Glenn Williams, attorney in the action filed on behalf of Mrs. Wagenlander, said:

"Plaintiff had no knowledge of the presence of simians among the group waiting for said elevator, nor in the exercise of reasonable care in departing from said elevator could plaintiff distinguish said chimpanzee from its keepers and the other anthropoids, waiting there."

"Plaintiff was not aware until thereafter that said elevator, or said Cincinnati club, catered to or were used by wild animals other than of the species homo sapiens, especially apes, far from their native haunts in Africa, and even several miles from the strong cages of the Cincinnati zoological gardens where the aforesaid elevator-riding chimpanzee usually makes his home, but without elevator service."

Simple Enough for Youngsters to Make (See recipes below)

For Amateurs Only ARE YOUR CHILDREN shy and awkward in the kitchen or can they don an apron and turn in a creditable performance as a cook?

Mothers who give their children the run of the kitchen occasionally deserve a bouquet of orchids because they are helping to turn out well balanced, healthy children. And it does mother good, too, if son or daughter occasionally can whip up a batch of good cookies or cake, or prepare a tasty salad.

There are days when youngsters just simply are bored with their usual pursuits and then they tend to wander around the house without anything to do. Perhaps it's too stormy to play outside or maybe all their friends are on vacation. This is the psychological moment to suggest they try their hand at being an amateur chef.

Give them a few pointers beforehand if they need it so food will not be wasted, and help only if it's requested once they start their culinary adventure so you won't spoil it by being the "extra cook in the broth." Have it understood, too, that the kitchen is to be cleaned after they finish.

I'VE OFTEN SAID that anyone who can read, can cook. But here are simple recipes that involve no complicated procedures. Let the children try these recipes so especially designed for them that they will really have a wonderful adventure on their day in the kitchen.

Boys and girls alike will enjoy making these hamburgers, and they are so easy, you simply won't have any failures:

1 tablespoon flour
1/2 onion, grated
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup catsup
Bacon

Fried onions
Mix the meat with eggs, flour, onion, salt and catsup. Beat the mixture thoroughly with a large fork or spoon. The longer the mixture is beaten the better. Form into thin cakes. Spread a layer of fried onions between two cakes and press the edges of the meat together. Place a strip of bacon around the hamburger, fasten with a toothpick and fry in hot fat or place in the broiler. If using broiler allow cakes to brown six to eight minutes on each side. If frying, allow a little more time for hamburgers to cook.

BOYS AND GIRLS alike will enjoy making a salad and tossing it together with a fork and spoon the way real chefs do:

*Tossed Green Salad (Serves 6)
1 head of lettuce, cut in quarters
4 tomatoes, quartered
1 bunch watercress, if desired
1 cucumber, peeled and diced
1 bunch green onions, cleaned
1 green pepper, sliced thin
1 bunch celery, diced
1 bunch radishes, sliced
Lettuce caps
French dressing

Chill the vegetables thoroughly after preparing. Place all in a large bowl. Add French dressing and toss.

LYNN SAYS:
Use Proper Methods When You Cook
Do you use neat methods when you cook or is everything a jumble when you get into the kitchen?

First check the recipe you use and see if you have all ingredients on hand.

While the food cooks, wash all the dishes you have soiled. In this way, you never will have an accumulation of dishes in the sink when you get ready to eat.

Most dishes are easy to wash after they have been soaked. Have a pan of suds ready so that dishes, cups, measuring spoons and other utensils can be placed in the water to soak as soon as you finish using them.

Paper toweling should be used to wipe greasy pots and pans before washing so that grease does not accumulate in the drain pipe. Never let silverware which has egg on it stand without rinsing. Egg tarnishes silverware.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: I have bronze screens that have been discolored because someone rubbed yellow soap all over them. This has made them green. I have tried to clean them by washing them and also used kerosene, but this has not helped. I would appreciate any suggestions.

ANSWER: I believe wiping the screens with a cloth dampened with ammonia would take off the green discoloration. Be careful of ammonia fumes. If this fails, try a good metal polish. An alternative would be to wash with ordinary vinegar, in which has been dissolved as much salt as will be taken up; then rinse well with clear water. The solution can be made into a paste by the addition of flour.

QUESTION: My chimney has leaked for years. Numerous repairsmen could not find the leak. I also had a waterproof coating applied. The leak is over the fireplace. Can you advise me?

ANSWER: There may be breaks in the mortar joints, especially at the joint over the fireplace. Or the bricks themselves may be old and porous. Defective flashings at the roof line might be another cause. Try to get a good chimney mason to visit the house on a rainy day and find out just where the trouble lies. He may advise putting on a chimney cap, for rain may come down the chimney. Perhaps a tuck-pointing job may be needed, and also a coating of cement base paint containing a waterproof.

Insects Cause Food Loss
Insect pests reduced cottonseed production last year by an amount which would have provided 4,500,000 people for a year with as much fat as now is included in European diets. Each 100 pounds of cottonseed meal will replace 250 to 300 pounds of grain when the oil meal is used for livestock feed. Some authorities estimate that control of insects that attack corn would add 100 million bushels to annual yields.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How to Choose a Tenant

Most tenant farmers in our country have been in their homes for years—because farm owners have been careful whom they've picked.

Take Bert Childers. He chooses family men with children—the more children the better—because he's found they're stable, temperate, industrious—the kind who'll settle for a moderate glass of beer at night and be ready for a good day's work next morning.

And from where I sit, the brewers are pretty particular whom they have for "tenants" in their industry—that is, the tavern keepers who sell beer. They do everything they can to see that they're temperate, law-abiding good citizens.

And under their program of Self Regulation, any tavern falling short of those high standards is first warned, and then reported to the right authorities. Yes, good tenants make a mighty big difference, in a farm or in a tavern. It's worth being choosy!

Joe Marsh

Care of the Insane Important

To the credit of the governments and the people of the United States the care of the insane, or mentally deficient is now one of the most important functions of government with efficient institutions of this kind in every state and several very efficient ones, also being operated by the Federal Government

The Clayton act and the Federal Reserve Bank act were passed by the Congress during the first term of Woodrow Wilson as President.

VETERANS NEWS

Veterans who reinstated their lapsed G-I insurance during July by paying only two monthly premiums are advised by VA to make another premium payment before August 31 in order to avoid the risk of having the policy again lapse.

One of the two monthly premium payments, VA explained, covered the 31-day grace period following the date of lapse, during which the policyholder also had insurance protection. The other monthly premium was for protection during July, the month in which reinstatement was made. Another premium in August, depending on the premium due date of the policy, and originally issued—not the date the lapsed policy was reinstated.

By the time the October premium becomes due, most veterans who have reinstated will be receiving regular premium notices each month.

The best way to guard against lapsed policies, VA said, is for veterans to make prompt monthly payments regardless of whether they receive premium notices from the VA.

The number of World War II veterans in the Rocky Mountain region training as future farmers under the G-I Bill and Public Law 16 has more than doubled during the past year, Veterans Administration said.

On July 1, 1948 there were 5,505 veterans receiving institutional on-farm training in Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming. This compares with a total of 2,458 receiving similar instruction on July 1, 1947. Largest increase was shown in New Mexico, where 1,682 former servicemen were training in agriculture as compared with only 126 in 1947. Farm training program in the four-state area, VA officials said, are still hampered by the lack of qualified instructors.

Colorado had the largest number of veterans in institutional on-farm training, reporting a total of 1,828 on last July 1 as compared with 1,117 on July 1, 1947. In Utah, 1,563 veterans were training as against 948 last year. Wyoming had 432 farm trainees in 1948 and only 117 in 1947.

Of the 5,505 veterans included in the farm training program, 507 under Public Law 16.

The program provides that trainees must receive at least 200 hours of group instruction and from 50 to 100 hours of individual instruction together with work experience and training on the farm.

The training period is as long as necessary to meet the particular needs of the individual veteran to a maximum of the veteran's eligibility, not to exceed four years.

Most programs in this area provide not more than two years of training for veterans who have had previous farm experience.

The new cement block school building is rapidly assuming shape. The masonry is nearing completion, and the carpenters have begun work on the interior. The contract calls for its completion by October 1st, but it is possible that it may require a little longer time to get it ready for school. The building is two stories, with four large rooms, superintendents office, cloak rooms, etc. It will be an imposing structure when finished, and will be an advertisement and an aid to the town; for about the first question asked prospective settlers is, "what kind of schools have you?"

THE FICTION CORNER

THE RIFLE

By DANIEL F. LINDSAY

"ONLY $30." The clerk smiled down at Jud as he handed him the rifle.

"Uh," Jud hesitated for a moment as his trembling fingers ran along the dull barrel. "I haven't got that much."

"Sorry son." He took it back. Jud's wistful eyes followed him as he sat in the rack and hurried down the counter. Thirty dollars! He had a sick feeling as he stumbled out of the store. Why, he'd never even had his hands on that much money. As he walked down the street he swung the bag of salt from hand to hand. If a rifle cost that much, think how much that house must have cost. Enough to buy all the rifles in the world.

Reaching the edge of town he started up the twisted mountain road. Unconsciously his bare calloused feet avoided the blistering hot rocks. Any other day he would have walked close to the jagged cut formed by the road. Today he didn't care about the cool shade. His mind was still back at the little store. Maybe his Pa would get it anyway. The thought made him half run. As he rounded the curve he could see his mother waiting for him in the doorway.

"You sure made a quick trip Jud. What you so excited about?"

"I got to talk to Pa." He handed her the bag of salt and went inside for a drink of water. She followed him with amused eyes.

"What about son?" He hung the cup back on its hook and shook his head. "Man talk, mom."

"Oh, I see," she ducked her head. "Well, he's out in the upper pasture." He rushed outside again. "Pa," he shouted as he reached the edge of the tree ringed field. "It's down at the store."

"What's down at the store, son?" His eyes were affectionate as he watched Jud gallop toward him. "The end of the world done up in pink ribbons?"

"No, Pa." His young face was serious as he slid to a stop. "My rifle. The one I want."

"Oh?" Pa looked away uncomfortably. "You sure it's the one you want?" How he had dreaded this day. All winter long they had talked of guns, particularly the one Jud would get some day. Each time they went to the store Jud would rush eagerly over to the shiny gun case, but they never suited him. "Gradually it had reached the maybe, comedy stage. Pa had been glad.

"Sure Pa. I went down for a bag of salt and there it was." His eyes were shining. "You ought to see it."

"How much did they say it was, son?" Mentally he braced himself.

"Well," his face fell a trifle. "It was $30." Pa took his hand, "we'll have to talk about it later. Right now I want you to help me mend some fences."

Slowly the afternoon passed for Jud. Every minute seemed a year. He watched his father's set face out of the corner of his eye. By the time they started back down the path toward the house his heart was heavy. Whenever Pa acted like this it meant they didn't have the money. Silently he ate his supper and went to bed.

It was several hours before he fell asleep. He listened closely to the rise and fall of his father's voice, straining to make out the muffled words. It was useless. The walls of the old log cabin weren't built for eavesdropping. After a while he heard the sounds of their going to bed and the house was silent. He lay there staring miserably at the ceiling, his mind filled with the deep aching and despair that goes with wanting the unattainable. Finally his tired little brain could stand no more and he fell into a restless sleep.

The early morning sunlight streaming across his face woke him. He started to jump up, then remembered the rifle and sank back. The sounds of hungry animals edged around his consciousness. He could hear Pete, Blackie and Joe, his lame sheep, bleating for him. At least, he shrugged his shoulders, I've got them.

"Son," his mother came in from the kitchen. "As soon as you're dressed your Pa wants to talk to you."

"All right." He hurried into his pants and shirt. At least he would know for sure. His father smiled as he entered.

"Good morning Jud."

"Morning Pa." His eyes searched his father's face for a sign.

"Your mom and I talked about the rifle last night, son." Jud just stood there. "And we don't think we can spare the money right now."

"Okay, Pa," his face fell. "$30 is a lot of money."

"But," his father continued, "we did think of a way you could get the rifle if you wanted it bad enough."

"Oh, I do, Pa." His face was one broad smile. "I want it more than anything in the world."

"Enough to sell your sheep?"

JUD pushed open the screen door and walked outside without answering. His mother and father exchanged glances and went on with their breakfast.

Once away from the house Jud hurried to the little pen. The sheep hobbled over to his side. He slipped one arm around Pete's neck and his mind went back to the day he had crawled down into the ravine in search of him. He stood there a long time while a chain of memories passed over him. Finally he wiped a tear on his shirt sleeve and went back inside the house.

"I want the rifle, Pa." He held his sturdy little body still.

"All right son. It's up to you." His father got to his feet and went outside. Jud sat down at the table, swallowing the lump in his throat. His mother filled his plate with pancakes. He didn't even know they were there. Through the screen door he could hear his sheep being loaded into the battered old truck. A rifle was better anyway. When his father tooted the horn he got up solemn faced and kissed his mother.

All the way to town he kept his eyes away from the back of the truck. Just as they came to the slaughter house he could stand it no longer. "Pa," he burst out. "They won't hurt long, will they?"

"No, son," his father's eyes shone kindly. "They'll never know what happened."

"All right." He stared out of the window while his father sold them. When the man took them away he swallowed hard, then shook his head. His father handed him the money and they drove off.

"Want me to come in too, son?" Pa smiled as they came to the store. Jud shook his head and hurried up the rickety steps. Half a minute later he came back out wearing a proud smile.

"Say, Jud, that's some iron." His father put the box of shells on the seat between them. "Why, it's even better'n mine."

"It sure is a beaut, Pa." He held it upright between his legs all the way home.

All afternoon, they could hear the crack of the new rifle echoing down the range. Then toward evening there was a long period of silence. When they called him for supper he pushed open the screen door and shuffled inside. His sigh was heavy. Pa looked up with an understanding smile.

"Regret your bargain, son?"

"No," he shook his head, "but I miss my lame 'uns."

"I know, son. Growing up is tough."

"Yes, Pa." He ran his fingers along the dull barrel. He tried hard not to think about Pete, Blackie and Joe.

JIVIN' YOUR JEANS

There's an epidemic of blue jeans parties sweeping through teendom. Maybe it's just a reaction to all this "new look" dressing up that's been going on. Even though the new name for a jeans party is a "bums rush," you usually turn up looking pretty elegant—even in jeans. Here are some of the ways you dress them up to the occasion.

SISSY STUFF—One way to feminize your jeans is to cut them off, pedal-pusher length, and edge them with eyelet ruffling. Ditto around the neckline of your tuck-in sweat-shirt. No, Elmer—the farmer's daughter never looked like this!

CLIPPED ACCENTS—You'll attract attention (and imitation, too) if you roll up your jeans and hold them in place with clip clothes pins. As a formal touch, paint your clothes pins with red polish, and, while it's still moist, sprinkle some sequins on them.

WASP WAISTED—That's how you'll look if you bind your ombre silk scarf, cummerbund fashion around your waistline at the next jeans jamboree. A matching scarf tied around your head please, with long ends hanging gypsy style at one side. Now, all you need is a golden earring—of, maybe, Ray Milland.

GOLD PLATED—For a really new look, gild your jeans with a gold kid belt; wrap take gold chains around your neck and dive for the oyster in gold kid ballets or sandals. A coat of gilt paint will transform last year's black ballets, in case you've squandered your allowance on malteds and bubble gum.

Try out any of these tricks at the next bum's rush and the only thing blue about your jeans will be the color—see?

Texas Rainmaker Sprinkles Crops 24 Hours Daily

ELSA, TEX.—Making rain by seeding clouds with dry ice doesn't interest W. A. Harding, owner of the unique Evergreen farms.

For 11 years he's been making two and a half inches of rainfall a day.

Harding does his rainmaking on his 1,800-acre farm, where he grows alfalfa and sudan grasses for dehydration and manufacture into chicken and horse feed and vitamin pills for humans.

His is the only farm in the world, Harding believes, that operates full-blast 24-hours a day, seven days a week, year after year.

Continual sprinkling, harvesting and dehydration is going on at the T-shaped farm in the lower Rio Grande valley.

Every 24 hours the sprinkling system lays down two and a half inches of rain on a 120-acre block. The next day another 120 acres are showered.

Cuts Alfalfa Frequently By providing plenty of rain, Harding is able to cut his alfalfa 10 times a year, his oats and other small grains three or four times.

His oats are cut when eight inches tall, alfalfa at 16 inches. The harvesters barely clear the soil as they snip off the plants.

"We cut while the plants are tender and have their greenest protein content," explained Harding, one of the real estate men who "opened up" the lower Rio Grande valley after World War I.

The alfalfa and oats are conveyed into trucks and hauled to the dehydrator, where they are fed into a telescopic drum furnace 24 feet in diameter.

Temperatures of 1,760 degrees Fahrenheit bake out the moisture. Then a hammer mill, grinding at 3,000 revolutions per minute, chops the stalks, before they're sucked through a fine screen.

Produces Green Flour The finished product is a pastel green flour, as fine as a housewife's baking flour. The entire dehydration and grinding process takes less than three minutes.

Most of the sacks of green flour are shipped to Kansas City, where they are mixed either with poultry feed or processed into vitamin pills for human consumption.

"The best thing about this farm is that we contract for our production a year in advance," explained Harding, who last year turned out 8,000 tons of dehydrated cereal grasses and alfalfa.

"Our soil is getting richer, too, because of the alfalfa, although we fertilize the oats and sudan grasses."

The farm has its own power supply. Gas wells provide power for the water pumps in the sprinkling system and for heat for the dehydration plant.

Babeon Causes Nasty Uproar in Philadelphia Pet Shop

PHILADELPHIA.—Babs, a five-year-old baboon, came up with her own version of the "bull in the china shop."

Working diligently during the early morning hours, Babs succeeded in picking the lock of her cage in a pet shop.

Then the trouble started. First she freed a canary which promptly found its way to a fire escape door and headed for the wide open spaces.

Babs opened the cages of two sets of puppies, scrambled them thoroughly and as a result, one of the wire-haired terriers got mixed up in a dog fight and killed a 2-month-old chow.

While pandemonium reigned on the first floor, Babs ventured upstairs to the kennels where dogs are kept for owners.

Meanwhile, a passer-by who saw the dog fight downstairs, sent out a call to the shop owner, Mrs. Bertha Dockett.

After calming the dogs and getting them back in their proper pens, Mrs. Dockett's helper, Edward Krimmel set out after Babs with a net.

But Babs dodged Krimmel and was about to follow the canary through the fire escape door when Mrs. Dockett succeeded in luring Babs downstairs with bananas and grapes.

'Foodless Girl' in China Raids Pantry at Midnight

NANKING.—Yang Mei, 20, who swore she had not eaten for nine years, was exposed by the official Central News agency as a midnight pantry raider.

The agency said nurses, feigning sleep at the Chungking hospital where the girl has been under observation for weeks, caught her slipping into the pantry to feast.

She had insisted she lost all appetite for food nine years ago after an illness, but the agency said she had had midnight snacks of chicken, pork and potato stew, porridge, cooked rice, pickled dried beans and other food.

The report said the girl, realizing that she would be unable to maintain her pretense, had threatened suicide.

More Money Spent During 1948

Americans during 1948 are buying houses and automobiles faster than they can be produced and indebtedness is increasing, according to the Federal Reserve Board's 1948 survey of consumer finances.

Fewer folk are saving in 1948 than the year previous. Some 3 million consumers who had savings bonds in 1947 didn't have them the first of 1948. Consumers are doing more of their paying on a credit basis than a year ago. Because buying has increased, they're using more of their savings than before.

It is expected that about one-fourth of the consumers will spend beyond their income in 1948 as they did in 1947.

Grapes in the Sun

Grace Noll Crowell

"The sun, which has all these planets revolving around it and dependent upon it, can ripen a cluster of grapes as if it had nothing else in the world to do."
—GAIUS

THIS purple cluster at my fingertips, Sweet with the essence of the sun and rain, Holds all its boozed nectar for my lips, Holds all of life within its crimson stain. The sun's long concentration brought to bear Upon the rippling vine, the ripening fruit, Is evidence of the great miraculous care Back of the sod, and deep within the root.

So I today in this strange wilderness, This baffling, bewildering earthly hour, Cling staunchly to the faith that God will bless The humblest child who seeks the central power That is his love, and, facing toward the sun, Wait for fulfillment as this fruit has done.
