HIGHWAY USERS PAID $5,095,205 TAXES IN 1947

Abuquerque, N. Mex., Jan. 3, 1949—New Mexico highway users paid $5,095,205 during 1947 to the Federal Government in special automotive taxes, C. G. Laverty, chairman of the New Mexico Highway Users Conference and vice-president of the New Mexico Motor Carriers Association, disclosed today.

The New Mexico vehicle users' biggest payment to the Federal Treasury was in the form of the 1 1/2 cent Federal gasoline tax. A total of $2,228,544. was paid in this tax alone. Federal excise taxes collected in the State on automobiles amounted to $684,131; on tires and tubes $935,336; on automotive parts and accessories $631,884; on trucks $419,824; and on lubricating oil $195,489.

These taxes, Mr. Laverty pointed out, go to the national governments general funds, whereas states generally depend on their special automotive taxes for highway purposes. More than 600 organizations, including a number of New Mexico groups, have petitioned Congress to end these emergency Federal taxes which were heavily increased during the war.

The figures were compiled by the National Highway Users Conference. They include only those portions of the total collections which are attributed to highway use.

Star-Lites

MOVIES, MIKES and MISCELLANEOUS

TO FACE THE CAMERA again for the first time, since the birth of a baby last spring, is Martha Scott who will co-star with Jeffrey Lynn in RKO Radio's "Sam Wynn." Martha was born on a farm and received her early training in music, drama and acting. She has ambitions to become a star. She borrowed money to attend the U of Michigan, tried teaching for 8 months, worked in a Chicago department store, got a part in Detroit's Civic Theatre, did a series of Shakespearean parts then arrived in New York with just $50 and a lot of courage. Her first real break and the turn of her career was the part of "Emily" in the stage play "Our Town" which led to the same part in the movie and a long-time Hollywood contract.

HAGGARD HARRIS' HOPS... and we don't mean the Junior Hop, Sundays, between dawn and dark are Phil's busiest days when he has both "The Harris-Faye Show" and the "Jack Benny Show" on his hands - he's the professor of punctuality! Phil is up at 6:20 a.m. going thru both scripts. All day long, he dashes frantically from one studio to the other for story conferences and hours of rehearsals as well as making last minute changes on his own show and necessary substitutions on the other show. Even his dressing room is crowded with people right up to broadcast time. At the signal for the air, Phil opens the first show and spends a fast 28 minutes directing and going thru his part then joins wife Alice Faye on "The Harris-Faye Show" (at 7:30 p.m. EDT) just as the announcer is introducing him for a half hour of songs, gags and laughs. Day is done, brother, (at 8) but we forget to ask: What he ate, how he keeps the 2 scripts unscrambled and who said it's fun to be famous?

"PLEASE TO BEGIN". These words, spoken every Friday night over the CBS network by Fletcher Markle, introduced the "Ford Theater", one of the finest dramatic shows on the air. Markle's also has been a star.

Only 27 years old, he was unknown to American Audiences little more than a year ago. Today, he directs the greatest stars of stage and screen in radio (and writes some of the adaptations). Fletcher Markle (lions) for the "Ford Theater" which has been acclaimed by critics as "the best program in radio." While serving in England with the Royal Canadian Air Force, Markle was commissioned by the British Ministry of Information to write the documentary film on the Robot bomb. He came to American radio in 1947 when he wrote and directed 3 plays for "Columbia Workshop". In addition to directing "Ford Theater" he is director and co-author of the new film "Jigsaw" soon to be released.

HERE'S ANOTHER MISSOURI MISS who has made cinema-news. Next to be released is Warner Bros. "The Girl From Jones Beach", co-starring Virginia Mayo and Ronald Reagan and two more will follow on it's heels. Virginia Mayo is decided, at the age of 6, to be an actress (without encouragement from her family). Luck was on her side, however, for her aunt operated a dramatic school which she attended. She made her first appearance at the age of 3 and following high school joined a vaudeville act. The act reached Broadway in "Banjo Eyes" with Eddie Cantor - Billy Rose saw her and signed her for his famous Diamond Horseshoe. Goldwyn looked and gave her a contract and Warner signed her in 1948. Strangely enough, Virginia's real name is Virginia Jones.

Before Sunrise

Lesson for January 2, 1949

TAKE another look at your new calendar. 1949 it says: 1,949 years since the one single event on which turns the history of the world—the birth of Jesus. (As is well known, the first calculators missed the exact date by four or five years; but the main idea is there all the same.) With the coming of the Son of God to this earth, it was as if a twilight world first saw the sun. Military Government [F WE go back in imagination and think what the world was like before there was a bit of the Christian religion in it, we can better understand the story of Jesus and of the nineteen Christian centuries. For the next six months we shall be thinking, week by week, of the life of Jesus Christ. But first let us think of the world in which he lived. Jesus' homeland of Palestine was run by a military government. Roman soldiers were everywhere, taking the best of everything. Jews could scarcely forget, even for a day, that they were a beaten people, any more than a Japanese or American can forget it these days. Jesus grew up in the sort of atmosphere which military occupation always tends to produce: uncertainty, fear, hatred and desire for revenge, tense with underground plots, rumors and conspiracies. The Romans found Palestine hardest of all their possessions to rule. When Jesus was a boy there was a terrific uprising near his home, and the Romans crucified 2,000 people in reprisals. Established Church WE MUST not think there was no religion before Jesus was born. There was too much of it—that is, of the wrong sort. The "established church" of Jesus' land was the Temple at Jerusalem, with its complicated ritual, its countless beasts roasting on the great altar, its white-robed choirs chanting by day and night. The High Priest himself was appointed by the Roman overlords; chosen for his skill in rabble-soothing, he held office on condition that he could hold the masses in check. However, the Jerusalem temple was a very small part of the actual religious life of the ordinary citizen. Even the most religious would see the place only a few times a year. Jesus seldom referred to it, and it was finally the leaders of the established church who hounded him to his death. The Sects THEN as now, not all the religion of the people was confined to the official priesthood and "officers of the church." There were other religious groups, unofficial sects, and not all good. There were the Sadducees, aristocratic and wealthy, professing a strictly this-world religion, not believing in any life after death and rejecting most of the Scriptures. The Pharisees were the unofficial religious leaders of Israel, as the priests were the official leaders. They were the traveling preachers, the Bible teachers, the D. D.'s of that time. Closely associated with these were the Scribes, experts in the study of the laws of Moses. They should have been good, but what Jesus thought of them can be seen in the blistering words of Matthew 23. Watching for the Dawn IT WAS a discouraging world in which to be born. Under the Roman heel, with government in the hands of foreigners, with religion under the leadership of political bosses, hypocrites, church lawyers and fanatics, it was not a hopeful time. And yet there were some really Godlike souls. The stories in Luke 1 and 2 bring before us God-fearing people old and young: a priest who had real faith in his heart, old, old people who prayed for nothing else so much as for God's kingdom, and simple shepherds who welcomed the message of God. And above all, Mary the blessed among women.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Decoration of Bedrooms Easy With Professional Trimmings

By Etta Halcy

"WHAT can I do to make my bedroom and dressing table look as though I'd had a decorator do it?" This is a query often asked because women desire to have their rooms look like a decorator's pleasant dream.

With the coordinated fabrics and other aids at their disposal, women don't have to have a bedroom or dressing room like the proverbial catch-all for all unwanted furniture and knick-knacks. Properly treated, any room can be the homemaker's dream.

The main bedroom in the home is used by the parents so that it should not be too fluffy or feminine or Dad will feel out of place. Neither does the room have to be too tailored so the lady of the house feels uncomfortable in it. The idea is to strike a happy medium, not by combining the two extremes, but by selecting plain furnishings, livened by decorative trimmings, or by using plain and floral fabrics to best advantage.

Whatever you decide to do, make up your mind in advance that drapes or curtains will not be skimpy; and that you will do the whole room completely instead of renovating just part of it.

The first step is to remove or alter any terrible examples of furniture. Mirrors with too much gingerbread, bed headboards and other pieces of

Pre-Shirred Ruffling

Pre-shirred ruffling can solve the problem of what to do with a small window. A mirror covered shelf underneath the window doubles as a dressing table or a miniature powder room while the small window is framed with pre-shirred ruffle. Five-inch ruffle is used on the window and shade and white dots are painted on the shade to carry out the decorative effect.

with the style of the rest of the home.

When the bedroom is small, it's best to concentrate on plain colors, as prints or floral fabrics will make the room look too crowded.

Some bedrooms use drapes just as do living and dining rooms, while others look best with ruffled organdy or dotted Swiss curtains. If you have several windows and are using ruffled curtains, you might like a ruffling on the top fabric which is being used in the room, on the dressing table or on the bedspreads.

Ready-Made Trims Will Save Time

You can save precious time and energy by making use of pre-shirred ruffling of fine quality glazed chintz to add the decorator's touch to your bedroom and dressing room. These come in plain, floral or dotted types and a wide range of colors.

For the valance problem you will find the ten-inch width very useful; it's also grand for deep ruffles on bedspreads, dressing table skirts and the like.

These trimmings are ready for use as purchased, with both the bottom and top edges already finished. The material is shirred with generous fullness onto a rod pocket of self material. This pocket is in a width that accommodates any standard curtain rod, or it may be attached directly to the surface with tacks.

When buying the material you don't have to double or triple the amount you need to take care of ruffling. You buy only the amount of pre-shirred material you need since it's measured by the straight heading.

You can carry out the decorative scheme in your room even further if you like. Paint or paper the shelves in the closet with the same material you have on your walls, and use the pre-shirred trimming as a bounce for the shelves. The narrow width is best for this.

The five-inch width can also be used for framing windows, mirrors, ruffling for curtains, bedspreads, pillow tops, dressing table skirts and ever so many other pepper-upper arrangements.

Shelf or Two Serve As Dressing Table

You don't necessarily have to have a dressing table with a bench to have a miniature powder room in your bedroom. There are other ways to give yourself the convenience of a place of your own where you can relax in front of a mirror to comb hair or put on make-up.

If you have a window in the bedroom, a shelf may be constructed underneath it to serve as a dressing table. In the absence of a window, you might place a shelf or two on the walls of the bedroom and use this.

Still another idea which is practical is to use a screen as the basis of a miniature powder room. If you want to hide a door, place a screen in front of this, using the middle screen for a light-weight shelf and a mirror.

An old piano bench can be padded and covered to give an attractive settee for the dressing table. Or, you may buy an inexpensive hassock for it. An old worn-out hassock can be attractively covered to give you a lovely seat.

One wide shelf is enough for the table since you do not need to have it hold too many items.

If you are using a narrow shelf, such as glass ones which may be purchased, it's best to have two of them. Use atomizers in crystal bottles and atomizers in crystal or colors to add a decorative note to the table.

London Tobacco Shops Feature Women's Pipes

Some of the more enterprising London tobacconists have begun to feature women's pipes of attractive design with slender stems and half-sized bowls. It is admitted that not many of the new pipes have been sold, but the shopkeepers reason that if the cigarette famine continues more women will turn to pipe smoking.

Milk House Heaters Solve Farm Problem

Can Be Attached to Milk House Walls in Winter

Nobody enjoys working in a cold milk house. But until very recently, farmers could do little about it—except, perhaps, add another layer to their already uncomfortably bulky clothing.

Experiments conducted in the last two or three years, however, have helped solve the milk house heating problem. One type of equipment, developed as a direct result of such agricultural engineering experiments, is shown in the accompanying illustration. It is a 3000 watt, 240 volt, thermostatically controlled electric space heater. Easily attached to the milk house wall, it is five feet high and produces a temperature range of between 40 and 50 degrees.

Other new developments along this line include the use of small hot water radiators which are connected to standard dairy water heaters, and the conversion of electric milk cooler compressors into heat pumps.

Most farmers, however, are interested primarily in "spot heating"—that is warming only the specific places in which they happen to be working at the moment. This is a relatively simple job and can be done by placing heat lamps directly above or adjacent to the space to be warmed.

Those Greener Pastures

The old saying that "grass is greener on the other side of the fence" has a scientific basis in fact, according to Dr. William A. Albrecht, head of the soils department of the University of Missouri.

Cattle's grazing habits, he said, are based on a search for feed that will best nourish them.

"When a cow risks her neck to get grass on the other side of the fence," he declared, "she is showing good sense. She does this because the neighboring grass not only looks, but is greener. She is instinctively seeking grass from soil high in protein producing elements."

Feed that contains body-building bone-making values comes only from soil that is high in mineral fertility, Dr. Albrecht said. Declining soil fertility means a decline in the health of our livestock, our crops and ourselves.

Dr. Albrecht warned that widespread loss of "life-giving elements" from the soil is becoming more serious.

Rebuilding the soil's fertility strength so that it can produce crops with body building values, said Dr. Albrecht, depends on proper soil management. That includes liming, the growing of deep-rooted legumes regularly in the rotation, the use of phosphate and potash fertilizers and the return of barnyard manures and green manures to balance fertility losses through crop removals.

From Chick-Fed Mink To Chic Fur Coats

Poultry raising habits of wild mink have provided a tip for economy in the feeding of captive mink which for years have been fed on horse meat and fish.

But the fondness of mink for poultry suggested the feeding of the waste from poultry dressing plants—the heads, feet and entrails. Experiments proved that both adult mink and kits thrived on this cheap diet.

furniture of poor design should be altered or replaced.

Take a good look at the rug; does it jump out at you or does it form the proper tone for the room?

Select Furnishings In Home Style

If your home is furnished in conventional Eighteenth century style, you'll hardly want the bedroom a mass of ruffles and floral chintz. A far more attractive way to do the bedroom would be in a quilted rayon that has both a note of luxury as well as dignity.

This may be purchased by the yard to use as you see fit for drapes, bed covering and dressing table; or, if you prefer, buy it already made in your respective sizes.

If the home is modern or a combination of modern and conventional, plain fabrics with interest in texture are your best choice. These are best done in a tailored style, but if used in some of the cheerful modern colors they will not let the room look overly masculine.

If your home is early American or Colonial, plan on using some of the plain cottons or pretty floral patterns as they're most in keeping

Be Smart!

A novel touch to dramatize the mink talked of backsept silhouette is the full-tail coat. The slinking of the jackets of the same serves two purposes: it accents the skirt fullness and at the same time makes for better line. In falls and taffeta for more formal wear, the full-tail slash is often combined with a sleeve fitting bodice. It is also a popular and pretty touch on the best jackets or deary loved by the younger set.

To Relieve Your Cough, Mix This Recipe, at Home

You'll be surprised how quickly and easily you can relieve coughs due to colds when you try this splendid recipe. It gives you about four times as much cough medicine for your money, and you'll find it truly wonderful. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's no trouble at all. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey instead of sugar syrup.) Then put 1/4 ounces of Pinex (obtained from any drugstore) into a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This makes a full pint of medicine that will please you by its quick action. It never spoils and tastes fine. This simple mixture takes right hold of a cough. For real results, you've never seen anything better. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness. Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients in concentrated form, well-known for its quick action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

BACKWARD GLANCES

40 YEARS AGO FROM 1909 CARRIZOZO NEWS

Scarcely a day passes that some prospective settler does not get off the train at this station. Quite a number arrived during the past week, and have been looking over the country. On Tuesday, a carload of farming implements wagons household goods, etc. belonging to some settler, were unloaded at this station.

The Rebekah lodge at Capitan instituted several years ago, has been transferred to Carrizozo where a majority of its members now reside. The new lodge held its first meeting Tuesday, January 5, 1909 in the Bank building. It was well attended and an enthusiastic meeting, and augured well for the future of the lodge and a large membership.

The local members of the Masonic order have been granted a dispensation to form a Masonic lodge in this town. The officers have already been elected, the paraphernalia purchased, and all that is now needed is the arrival of the grand officers to complete the institution and start the lodge on its mission of usefulness.

30 YEARS AGO FROM CARRIZOZO OUTLOOK

James Baxter came in Friday after one year's absence from Carrizozo, during which time he has been at his old home in Columbia, Mississippi. The old "Outlook" extends to "Jimmy" the hand of welcome with the hope that he will carry out his intention of remaining with us for the future.

Mr. Paul Mayer returned Sunday from Tulareca.

No matter what we have had to cause us either pain or sorrow in the past year, we are bound to ask ourselves the question concerning the year to come: What of the New Year? What will it bring? The world war is over and we are thankful, although some of us have as a result of the war, been left alone with broken hearts.

20 YEARS AGO FROM 1929 LINCOLN COUNTY NEWS

A. B. Zumwalt, who has been in the service of the railroad company for many years, and for the past ten years the active and efficient superintendent of the Eagle and Bonito pipe lines, has been promoted to supervisor of the water service between Orogrande and Vaughn.

One of the features of the new model A Ford car which is typical of the care that has been devoted to details of design, is the theft proof ignition lock with which it is equipped.

Floy Skinner was down from his Mesa home Monday. Floy has been with the railroad for a number of years, and has recently been made superintendent of the pipe line, succeeding A. B. Zumwalt, the latter having been promoted.

The Annual Watch Party of the Carrizozo Woman's Club was held at the home of Mrs. Nellie Branum Monday night.

10 YEARS AGO FROM 1939 LINCOLN COUNTY NEWS

Father Time closes another volume in his checkered career and the world pauses to conjure who will 1939 bring? Can civilization look forward to 12 months of comparative peace after the hectic year just drawing to a close.

WHEN you see the 1949 Chevrolets, a glance will be enough to tell you they're new—all new—in line and contour, in beauty and style. And when you look inside, and under the hood, and beneath the chassis, you'll see that their newness is not merely in outward appearance, but in design and engineering and construction as well.

But, to a lot of people, the 1949 Chevrolet is already old. They know what it will do, and how exceedingly well it will do it—they know all about its performance, its comfort, its power, safety, durability and economy. They are the engineers and technicians of the General Motors Proving Ground—the largest, most completely equipped, outdoor testing laboratory in the automobile world.

Here, before a single new 1949 Chevrolet

let went into production, experimental models were tested—made to show that they possess, in greater measure than ever, all those qualities on which Chevrolet has built its leadership.

In short, the General Motors Proving Ground tests are your assurance that your new-model Chevrolet has proved its worth through many months and many, many thousands of miles of rough handling.

Soon you will see the new Chevrolet—and when you do, you will see a car not only new, but tried and true.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Accused Get High Court Protection; Top U. S. Officials' Pay Inadequate; Reds Named in Costa Rica 'Invasion'

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

HIGH COURT:

Protects Accused

The Supreme court split 5 to 4 on the issue, but the nation's highest tribunal sustained what Justice Black said was "an established rule" in holding that, in the United States, every person accused of crime is considered innocent until proven guilty.

The court ruled that the rights of persons accused of crime extend to the guilty as well as the innocent.

DISSENTERS to the rule were Justices Jackson, Burton and Reed, and Chief Justice Vinson.

The majority opinion held in effect that:

Regardless of whether there is any "third degree," a confession is invalid if it is obtained while a prisoner is being held illegally through failure to carry him promptly before a committing magistrate.

An actual emergency must exist to justify search and seizure without a warrant.

A person accused of serious crime has unqualified right to counsel when he needs that help for adequate defense.

JUSTICE BLACK said the main finding in an earlier case which set the precedent was that prisoners must be taken promptly before a magistrate. He added that the "plain purpose" of this was to "check resort by officers to secret interrogation of persons accused of crime."

As one of the dissenters, Justice Reed held that the court's decision broadly extended the old rule. By his interpretation that rule was that psychological pressure, or, at least, something more than illegal detention, must be present to invalidate a confession.

He summed up: "This decision puts another weapon into the hands of the criminal world."

U. S. TOP MEN:

Need More Pay

Congress would be asked to do something about it. The salaries of top U. S. officials were too low. For example, cabinet officials should get $25,000 annually, instead of the present $15,000.

It was none other than Budget Director James E. Webb talking. He told a senate civil service subcommittee that "the need for men of ability in the government has never been more critical. Establishment of more adequate rates of pay for top government positions is an essential step."

WEBB HURRIED to explain that he was not speaking for President Truman when he urged that the President's salary be raised. He said he had not even discussed the subject with the President.

Declaring that any salary paid the chief executive would be low, he added that "$150,000 a year would be far more acceptable than the present $75,000."

Webb also suggested that the President be provided with a "realistic" expense account, and that the $25,000 salary of the vice president be brought more in line with that of the President.

The subcommittee was told: "No job in the world is more grueling than the President's. No soldier fights harder for his country than does the commander-in-chief."

SEAWAY:

'Round and 'Round

Washington newsmen might have been pardoned had they uttered an involuntary: "Here we go again."

For President Truman, at a news conference, stated that he was going to press again for congressional approval of legislation to authorize the St. Lawrence seaway and power project.

THE OPT-PROPOSED international project has as yet failed to win congressional approval. The President reiterated his intention to ask for an okay for the proposal after a reporter asked: "Mr. President, are you again going to press for development of the St. Lawrence?"

The President replied that he certainly was. He added that he had urged approval for the multi-million dollar project in almost all of his talks of the Union messages to congress.

ON ONE of these occasions he termed the proposed project "one of the greatest engineering projects of all times."

At his conference, the President said he did not favor New York's plan to develop jointly with the province of Ontario the hydro-electric part of the St. Lawrence project.

Maybe New, Maybe Old

Astronomers Report Discovery of Planet

Perhaps it was new, maybe it was old, but "1946-AA" had faded into the ken of astronomers as a "minor" planet. Showing little originality, the telescope-peepers dubbed it with the numeral of the year in which it appeared. It was traveling a route, they said, which brings it within 140 million miles of earth.

Over the Teacups

Mrs. Chiang Kai-shek, first lady of China, and Mrs. George C. Marshall, wife of the U. S. secretary of state, leave Blair House after having had tea with President and Mrs. Truman. Nobody would admit whether or not Mrs. Chiang made her plea for more aid to China over the presidential teacups.

FIRE BELLS:

Some Are Lucky

With headlines screeching of death and injury in two major hotel fires, the nation's attention was turned again to the potential tragedies lurking in so many of its hostels.

FIVE LOST their lives, 11 were injured and 107 were forced to flee flames in Chicago's old, 17-story Loop hotel, the Victoria. Two of the dead were navy men on leave. Three victims were trapped in their rooms. One was found in the blackened fifth-floor hallway. Another died several hours after he was led from his blazing room.

Just three days earlier, fire struck Chicago's Hubbard hotel, but that time all guests escaped the $100,000 blaze which destroyed the structure.

LUCKIEST GUEST: Mrs. Ann Wells. Twice within the three days she escaped death or injuries from the fires. A guest at the Victoria, she got safely out there, fled unscathed with the 150 guests who escaped the Hubbard hotel blaze.

It was too early to determine cause of the fires, but it was safe to assume that investigations would get underway swiftly as probes sought to eliminate fire hazards. Observers wondered if there were a cycle in the making.

'INVASION':

To the South

Tiny Costa Rica, erupting in strife, held front page space in the nation's press with charges that an "invasion" was being made from Nicaraguan territory. Who, or what, was behind the Costa Rican middle? Communists again? That accusation was hurled.

The Costa Rican government charged that dissident exiles, defeated in last spring's civil war, ganged up with "Communists" and Nicaraguan national guardsmen to launch the invasion.

THE COSTA RICAN incident was nothing to be ignored. The little country, smaller than South Carolina, is literally in Uncle Sam's own backyard and the issues involved were serious enough to merit first-class concern.

The problem seemed squarely up to the western hemisphere republics—for, under the Rio Pact providing for American help to repel an armed invasion, the foreign ministers of the 21 republics would have to determine whether there really has been an invasion, who is to blame, and what to do about it. Their findings could result in the dispatch of American and other troops to the aid of the Costa Rican government.

THERE WERE FEW, however, who felt this would happen. The situation was too muddled to justify any definite forecasts, but some facts were clear.

For instance, the claimed invasion was incredibly small, Costa Rica, herself, placed the number of invaders at 200 or 300 men. If Communists were involved it was unlikely that Anastasio Somoza, strong-man dictator of Nicaragua, and an enemy of the Communists, had anything to do with it. Instead, the row looks more like a post-election quarrel carried on in the time-honored Latin American way—the "outs" resorting to bullets and bayonets in efforts to oust the "ins." But, if the invaders were really aided by Nicaragua, then the matter quite properly was a situation for hemispheric concern.

NEW STARTER:

For Jets

The navy has announced the first successful self-starter for jet and turboprop aircraft engines.

At present these engines are started with cumbersome storage batteries or other heavy auxiliary units outside the plane.

THE RADICALLY NEW self-starter, which can be used on both fighters and bombers, weighs only 85 pounds and can be carried in the planes.

This, the navy said, will enable jet or turboprop aircraft to use out-of-the-way bases which are not equipped to start their engines.

The turbine engine powering the starter also can be used for air conditioning, cabin pressurization, heating and de-icing, and to operate other power-consuming devices.

The power source of the new starter is a gas turbine engine identical in principle with the engine it serves. It uses fuel from the plane's regular tanks.

IN ANNOUNCING the new starter, the navy hinted at much larger jet engines. It said the new starter is more powerful than is needed for engines now in service, and will not be installed on aircraft types already announced or in use.

There are two versions of the small, multiple-use gas turbine. Both were developed under navy contract by the Air-Research Manufacturing Company, of Los Angeles. They took 3 1/2 years and two million dollars to perfect.

The navy said use of the engines is not confined to aircraft. They may be adapted for ground auxiliary work on power units and in industrial applications.

EDUCATION:

By Congress?

A national scholarship program for college and university students will be proposed to the 81st congress, according to an announcement by the National Education Association.

DR. RALPH McDONALD, executive secretary of the NEA's department on higher education, said the program will have bipartisan support.

Department officials have estimated the program would require a minimum appropriation of over 100 million dollars for the first year. They said this would open the doors of many colleges to approximately 250,000 able students. The scholarships would be awarded on the basis of ability. Only the highest one-fourth or one-third of high school graduates would be eligible.

As a basis for the legislation, McDonald said, the department will urge these provisions in the bill:

NO FEDERAL CONTROL of either the institution or the student.

A stipend of at least $400 or $500 annually.

Freedom of the student to select his own school and course of study.

Safeguards against any discrimination in scholarship awards because of race, creed, sex, or other "social circumstances."

McDonald indicated it was not planned to have the bill take precedence over any measure to give federal aid to the states for elementary or secondary education.

Sign of the Times

Rep. Karl E. Mundt (R., S. D.), acting chairman of the house un-American activities committee, looked like he was trying to get the hex on suspected Communists in the U. S. when he announced that the committee would subpoena 15 important witnesses for questioning in the Red spy inquiry.

NOT CLOTHES:

But Birthplace

As the army sees it, it isn't clothes that make the man—it's where he's born.

MAKING PUBLIC a study on the subject, the army declared that a man's geographical background has a lot to do with his muscles.

Experts from Harvard university's department of anthropology compiled the findings for the army. New Englanders tended to be strong, while the weakest of the males were from the South Atlantic states. The Middle Atlantic states, like New England, abound in "well-muscled types." The Middle Atlantic area had the most fat men.

SOLDIERS FROM the Pacific states were generally found to be well-balanced in fat and muscle. Those from the mountain states are often medium fat but muscular, or very fat.

Men from the west north central states lean to average build. Their neighbors slightly to the east, however, included a number of hefty and muscular specimens of mesomorphic humanity.

In the south central area, men from the western section appeared to be better muscled than their neighbors to the east.

LIFTS BAN . . . For the records, James Petrillo, head of the American Federation of Musicians, signed a new contract with recording companies in his offices following the decision of Attorney General Tom Clark that clauses pertaining to the musicians' welfare fund were not contrary to law. This means that orchestras once more can begin to make recordings of musical hits. Petrillo is shown giving the victory sign with Samuel R. Rosenbaum who has been named a trustee of the welfare fund.

SENSATIONAL SWIMMER . . . This is Ronald Gera, 15-year-old sophomore sensation who recently cracked two Illinois state swim records. He attends Lane Tech high school in Chicago. Against an opposing high school team, Gera raced through the 55-yard backstroke in 23.7 seconds. Then he churned the 100-yard free-style event in 51.2. In practice sessions, Ronald has been clocked in record time in other events.

GREAT START . . . Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio, amateur golf star on the right and Dean Stasovak of Winnetka, Conn., a rank outsider among the professional class, turned in four under par 66s to pace a star-studded field in the first round of the Miami open golf tournament. Here they are in front of the clubhouse scoreboard happily congratulating each other on their unusual opening rounds.

OBSCURITE DEFENSE . . . This crucial defense gaffe became an absolute on the bow and arrow with the development of the airplane. This big 16-moother at Fort Funston, built to defend San Francisco bay, is in the process of being cut up for scrap. The gun is 56 feet long and weighs approximately 270 tons. The barrel is being cut into two-foot sections, each weighing about 16 tons.

Ain't It So
In these days of high prices newlyweds are learning that the killing exceeds the cooking. Some wives lead double lives—their own and their husbands'. Why call it "double life"? It's always working overtime. Dads used to squeak "mama" when you squeezed them. Now they squeak "Oh, boy."

WALTER BUTTON GOES HUNTING

By JOHN SHARDA

Walter wasn't the hunting type but, encouraged by his wife, he decided to try his hand. He thought he cut quite a fetching figure in the togs he rigged up, but unfortunately, he learned that a man needs more than appearance to bag some game.

EMMA BUTTON laid aside the sweater she was knitting and cleared her throat. Her husband, Walter, instantly snapped to attention. His lean frame had been comfortably sprawled in his favorite chair, but now he was sitting up straight.

"We could save a lot of money on our meat bill," began Emma, "if you'd get out and do some hunting." Walter remained silent. He was accustomed to being mildly startled by his wife's remarks.

"Zeke Smith goes hunting nearly every Saturday," she continued. "And he always comes home with two or three rabbits. Saddle says they save a right smart amount each week."

Walter thought it was time he said something. "I've never done any hunting, Emma. Zeke's been doing it all his life."

"Humph!" Emma snorted. "You can learn, can't you? And there's a perfectly good shotgun rusting away up in the attic because nobody uses it." She was referring to a weapon of questionable age and condition that Walter had been given by his grandfather.

"But I'd have to buy a hunting license," remonstrated Walter, weakly.

"But I'd have to buy a hunting license," remonstrated Walter, weakly. He saw his line of defense being methodically torn down by his wife.

Emma regarded him deliberately. "One little cotton-tail rabbit would more than pay for a license." Walter surrendered. He might as well make the best of it now.

"Yes, that's true," he agreed. "And the exercise might do me good."

"Of course it would, dear," Emma beamed. As usual she had emerged the victor. "Today's Thursday, why don't you go Saturday?" she queried. Emma was not one to put things off once she had made up her mind.

"That's awfully soon," said Walter, even though he knew it wouldn't do much good to stall. "I'll have to give the gun a thorough cleaning and buy some shells."

Emma glared at him. "You can think of more silly excuses," she scoffed. "Now let's hear no more about it. Come Saturday, (here she paused significantly) you're going hunting!" With these parting words she bundled up her knitting and stalked haughtily out of the room.

As Walter heard her heavy footsteps echoing up the stairs he addressed himself to the empty room. "Well, that's that." He, too, went upstairs to find solace in a good night's sleep.

The next day, after work, Walter went up to explore the attic. He found the shotgun standing in a well-cobwebbed corner. It was covered with a thick coat of dust, and its spots had begun to rust. Walter shook his head sadly. Nevertheless, he carried it downstairs and set to work. Emma nodded approval.

When he had finished, Walter could not help being a little proud of his efforts. The gun gleamed from the tip of the barrel to the end of the stock.

In spite of himself, Walter began to feel somewhat excited. This was his first hunting trip and he intended to make it a successful one.

On his way home from the office that afternoon he had stopped in at the hardware store to get some shells. The proprietor had been most helpful, Walter thought. Not only had he advised him concerning the proper type of ammunition, but he had recommended a particular corn field where, according to him, the rabbits were incredibly plentiful.

Later that evening, Walter surveyed himself in front of the full-length mirror in the hall. He had donned some khaki trousers which he had bought a year ago at a war surplus store but had never worn. A green jacket and red cap completed his costume. He practiced aiming the gun at imaginary targets, glancing out of the corner of his eye to see the handsome reflection he made in the mirror. Not bad at all, he thought.

Emma caught sight of him through the open doorway as he was preening himself. "My, my," she intoned sarcastically, "aren't you the sportsman, though." Her husband hung his head in silence. A fiery blotch of red appeared at his neck and rose rapidly upward until it covered his countenance. He attempted to beat a hasty retreat, but Emma wasn't finished.

"If I were you, Walter Button, I'd wait until I brought home some big game before I started play-acting in front of a mirror." This powerful verbal blast shook Walter visibly.

Finally he managed to blurt, "I guess I'll go to bed. Got to get up early in the morning." Upstairs he scrambled at a reckless pace.

Saturday morning dawned bright and cold. A light snow had fallen. Walter bounded out of bed with unusual vigor when the alarm sounded. "It's a wonderful day to go hunting," he said as he peered out the window. Without waiting to awaken Emma he dressed hurriedly and stole downstairs.

Quickly he fixed himself a breakfast of bacon and eggs and coffee. While he gulped the food he thought about the adventure which lay ahead. Maybe he'd get half a dozen rabbits! Perhaps a pheasant! Why hadn't he gone hunting before, he asked himself. This was a real he-man sport.

The sun was just a weak, red ball in the eastern sky as Walter headed his little pre-war coupe toward the city limits. About two miles out, he found the corn field which was to be the scene of his debut as a modern hunter. He parked the car carefully just off the road in a little grove of trees. He clambered out, laden with shotgun, knapsack, binoculars and a great quantity of shells which were distributed among his pockets. He gave the car door a nudge but it failed to shut. However, rather than set down his burdens he disregarded it. The snow had stopped. It wouldn't hurt to leave the car door open.

Off across the field he started, his head held high and shoulders squared. If only Emma could see him now!

The corn field looked extremely long, but Walter wasn't daunted. The bigger the field, the more rabbits there would be, he figured with logic. He wondered idly if he'd be able to carry all his furry victims back to the car in one trip.

By the time he was half way to the end of the field, the bitterly cold wind had chilled him to the bone. His gun had grown surprisingly heavy and it was an effort to move his feet. But still he plodded on. The corn stalks lay like white branches on the uneven soil. And as yet, no rabbits had appeared. Not a single one. They're probably all down at the end of the field, thought Walter.

But at the end of the field, there were no rabbits. Nor did he encounter any on the way back. When he finally observed the car in the distance, Walter felt as though he had tramped a thousand miles.

"What will I tell Emma?" he asked himself out loud. She would scarcely believe that he hadn't even seen a single rabbit. Instead, she'd accuse him of being a poor shot, or of forgetting to load his gun. Hastily he checked. Yes, it was loaded.

If only he would see one rabbit. Just one. Close enough to get a shot. But none appeared.

He was nearing the car now. His spirits had fallen to a new low. His footsteps had slowed considerably as he anticipated the tongue lashing which awaited him at home. Emma was not always an understanding wife. The most disconcerting fact was that this expedition had not been his idea. Emma was responsible but Walter knew that it was he who would suffer. At least he'd get to rest a little as he drove home.

He was within a few feet of the car when he stopped dead still. The sight that met his eyes was a remarkable one.

"For gosh sakes!" he exclaimed. Seated on the seat of his car was a rabbit. A real, live rabbit that eyed Walter with surprise, but certainly not with fear. It evidently had hopped in the car through the open door.

Walter's hand shook as he raised his gun. This was his big chance, he told himself. He mustn't miff it! Then he lowered his weapon as he realized that a blast of shot would ruin his car.

"I've got to get that bunny out of the car," he muttered. "Then I'll shoot him." His day wouldn't have been spent in vain, after all.

Cautiously he inched forward. Mustn't scare the rabbit.

"Shoo!" said Walter. The rabbit didn't stir. If anything, it settled down more leisurely on its haunches. This infuriated Walter. Stepping closer he lunged at the bunny. This time it moved, and fast. But Walter swung into action also. With a jerky motion he brought the gun to his shoulder. Sighting rapidly, he fired. As he picked himself off the ground he glimpsed the white bob of the rabbit's tail as it bounced unhurt toward the corn field.

"There goes my rabbit!" Walter wailed. He stamped upon the ground with rage. Suddenly a sound of escaping air drew his attention.

He gaped with open eyes at his left front tire. It was sinking rapidly. Numerous small holes showed only too clearly what had happened.

Walter went to the trunk and brought out a jack and tire tools. Wearily he sat down on the running board to rest.

It had been a trying day.

Forgetting ill of the past, we start the book anew.

Strange New Year Beliefs Still Exist

Over England and Scotland, in the villages of the plains and highlands, ancient New Year superstitions still exist.

It is considered unlucky to wear old clothes on the New Year; bad luck falls on a house if anyone goes out before someone has entered. If the first comer—"first foot," the natives call it—be a man, good luck will bless the house; if a woman or a fair-haired man, the luck is evil. So widespread is this belief that in many villages the dark-haired men of the community make it a regular business to go from house to house to "take the New Year in."

In Herefordshire, at midnight, the girls rush to the spring. The one who gets the first drink, or the "cream of the well," is sure of a handsome husband.

Unlucky, too, is the good woman who gives away a light on New Year's day. Where a brand goes out, the evil fays come in. The most tender-hearted woman will see her neighbors shiver in a fireless house rather than give away a light on the New Years.

At midnight on New Year's Eve, custom demands that gentlemen kiss the nearest lady. Here's a fine example of army-navy cooperation.

Pins Once Prized As New Year Gift

Bishop Hall's "Satires," published in 1596, tell how every tenant at the dawn of the New Year presented his lord with a fat capon; and Ben Jonson, in his "Christmas Masque" introduces among his cast of characters "New Year's gift in a blue coat, serving man like, with an orange and a sprig of rosemary on his head."

Oranges and nutmeg, gilded and decorated apples, were frequent gifts exchanged among the poorer people. Ladies of fashion delighted in pins, invented during the Sixteenth century to take the place of clumsy wooden skewers. Here we have the origin of our own "pin money"—a gift of money given in place of pins.

Saint Sylvester's Feast Day Marks End of Year

The feast of St. Sylvester, who was Pope from 314 A. D. until his death in 335, is observed by the Roman and Anglican churches on December 31.

In Germany and Belgium the morning of St. Sylvester's Day is commemorated religiously, while the afternoon and evening are devoted to various kinds of horseplay in anticipation of the coming New Year.

Facts and Fancies Of New Year's Day

New Year's with its open houses, parties, exchanging of New Year's cards, horn tooting, Auld Lang Syne and New Year's resolutions, is one of the oldest celebrations. As a holiday it has been observed since ancient times, and has been marked throughout history by the giving of gifts and the exchange of greetings and good wishes.

After-Holiday Meals

SMART HOMEMAKERS; instead of looking on holiday leftovers with scorn, will welcome having them because they save time in meal preparation as well as conserving time in marketing.

Who doesn't welcome succulent slices of ham, turkey or roast beef when served with slices of bread or rolls? They're the refrigerator raiders' delight!

Then, too, there are excellent dishes which Mom can prepare quickly from vegetables and roast. Everything's cooked and needs just a bit of ingenuity and heating to make them ready for the table!

To make leftovers palatable, it's best to disguise them completely. With the right recipes, it isn't much of a trick, and it's fun, too, to test your ingenuity.

*Chicken Rice Loaf (Serves 6)
2 cups diced, cooked chicken or turkey
2 cups cooked green peas
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
2 egg yolks, beaten
1/2 cup milk
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Combine chicken, peas, rice and pimiento. Add milk to egg yolks, then fold into chicken-vegetable mixture. Add onion, salt and pepper. Place in a greased loaf pan and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for one hour. Serve with cream or mushroom sauce. Place pan of Cranberry Peach Taffies in same oven during the last half hour of baking time.

*Cranberry Peach Taffies
4 canned peach halves
1/2 cup jellied cranberry sauce
2 tablespoons butter
6 tablespoons brown sugar

Drain peach halves. Cut cranberry sauce into one-half inch slices; then cut each slice in cubes. Crumble butter and brown sugar together. Place cranberry sauce cubes into hollows of peach halves, allowing at least two cubes to each peach half. Sprinkle with butter-sugar mixture. Place in shallow pan and bake during last half hour with Chicken Rice Loaf.

IF YOU HAD HAM for Christmas, you're undoubtedly looking for a smooth way to get rid of the ham shreds. This main dish loaf stretches the ham with unflavored gelatin and cheese and will make nearly as big a hit with your family and friends as the whole ham. Serve it for a buffet meal or snack with a green salad.

Ham Loaf (Serves 6)
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1/4 cup hot water
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup vinegar
1/4 cup sliced celery

Combine first four ingredients. Heat to boiling and simmer gently until oysters curl. Melt butter, add flour, salt and pepper. Add to turkey mixture. If fresh mushrooms are used, saute them before adding to turkey mixture. Pour into deep, nine-inch pastry tin. Top with sliced ham. Bake in hot (425-degree) oven until top is browned. For pastry, use one cup flour, one-third cup lard, one-half teaspoon salt and two to three tablespoons cold water.

WHEN YOU HAVE just a little turkey left from the roast, it can be extended with oysters in this savory pie:

Turkey-Oyster Pie (Serves 6)
1 cup small oysters
2 cups leftover turkey, cut in strips
1 cup leftover turkey gravy
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup mushroom pepper
1/4 cup mushrooms, if desired
1/2 recipe plain pastry

Combine first four ingredients. Heat to boiling and simmer gently until oysters curl. Melt butter, add flour, salt and pepper. Add to turkey mixture. If fresh mushrooms are used, saute them before adding to turkey mixture. Pour into deep, nine-inch pastry tin. Top with sliced ham. Bake in hot (425-degree) oven until top is browned. For pastry, use one cup flour, one-third cup lard, one-half teaspoon salt and two to three tablespoons cold water.

Sliced ham combined with a spread of mustard butter makes a wonderful snack for ice box raiders.

A mighty tasty way to serve leftover turkey or chicken is to heat it in leftover gravy or a rich cream sauce and serve over French-fried noodles. Small dabs of peas, carrots or other vegetables help out the white sauce.

If you had roast beef over the holidays, serve slivers of the leftover meat over a tossed vegetable salad.

1/4 cup diced sweet pickle
1 cup grated American cheese
1 cup diced cooked ham

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add hot water and salt and stir until dissolved. Add vinegar. Chill until the mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Mix in celery and pickle; divide mixture into two parts; to one, add the grated cheese, to the other, the diced ham. Turn ham mixture into loaf pan and chill until almost firm; add cheese mixture and chill until firm. Unmold on crisp greens and serve with tomato wedges.

IF YOU want a hot dish out of the leftover ham, then combine it with spaghetti as in the following recipe:

Spaghetti-Ham Ring (Serves 6)
1/4 cup spaghetti, uncooked
3 eggs
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons grated onion
2 cups ground, leftover ham
2 tablespoons shortening
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup top milk

Broak spaghetti into small pieces and cook in boiling, salted water until tender.

Beat eggs slightly, add seasonings, milk and ham. Mix with spaghetti which has been rinsed and drained.

Grease a ring mold with the shortening and pour in ham-spaghetti mixture. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 35 minutes. Turn onto a platter and fill the center with buttered broccoli, peas or other vegetables.

WHEN YOU HAVE just a little turkey left from the roast, it can be extended with oysters in this savory pie:

1 cup small oysters
2 cups leftover turkey, cut in strips

Prayer After Pain

HOW can he thank Thee, Lord, for the good gains
Who has not conquered thistle and brist and weed?
How can he thank Thee for the sweet wild rain
Who has not trod parched lands above dead seeds?
How can he lift a grateful heart for peace
Who has not known some red-hot battlefield?
O Lord, how can he comprehend release
Who has not felt as if an old wound healed?

Out of earth's spongy white flowers shine;
Above the old scarred fields wild grasses rise;
Out of the crushed fruits of the sun comes wine;
Out of the night the morning star—the sun,
For every hour of pain that we have had—
Bless for these—Lord, help us to be glad.

—Bruce Noll Crowell

Later that evening, Walter surveyed himself in front of the full-length mirror in the hall. He had donned some khaki trousers which he had bought a year ago at a war surplus store but had never worn. A green jacket and red cap completed his costume. He practiced aiming the gun at imaginary targets, glancing out of the corner of
