Plans Approved For Lincoln County Hospitals

County Clerk J. G. Moore received a telegram last Friday afternoon from Dallas, Texas stating that the United States Public Health Service had approved contracts for both the Carrizozo and Ruidoso hospitals.

Time given for construction of these projects was three hundred (300) working days from date of approval. This message from the regional office was cheering news to those people who had been sitting on the anxious seat since the commissioners met the 14th inst., and gave their approval to the bids. Gilchrist Construction Company of Las Cruces and West Construction Company of Roswell were the overall low bidders.

An up-to-date hospital calls for other up-to-the-minute improvements for Carrizozo and naturally we believe they will come. Now, shortly the ground will be broken for the biggest step ahead for a long time.

CHIEF SUGGESTS "FIRE SAFETY" HOME CHECK

How much would your house cost to build today?

The question is Fire Chief Faye Harkney's. Building costs have risen 100 percent above those of 1938, making it more important than ever that home owners protect their property, the chief declared in a statement urging all householders to cooperate in this year's Spring Clean-Up.

The house that cost $5,000 before the war, he added, would cost $10,450 to build today.

Many home-owners may not have increased their insurance proportionately, and fire would be a double tragedy in the loss of the home and greatly increased costs of rebuilding, the chief warned in his request that householders start their home check-up.

Here's How to Begin

Outlining a systematic clean-up, the chief suggested:

Work from the basement up. Get rid of all rubbish, old newspapers, magazines, odd pieces of furniture or clothes, that may have collected in the cellar, in the yard or garage, in closets or the attic.

Clean out the furnace and other heaters throughout the house. See that metal containers are available for ashes and that rubbish or kindling wood is never placed next to the furnace where it might ignite from the heat.

See that the ceiling and walls near the furnace are properly insulated with asbestos or other noncombustible material, leaving at least an inch of air-space.

Inspect Chimney

Clean the chimney checking for cracks through which heat might escape. The best way to locate broken flues is to feel the walls around the chimney all the way upstairs, watching for any spot uncomfortably hot for your bare hand.

Never use kerosene or other flammable liquids to quicken a stove fire. Don't use gasoline, benzine or naphtha for home cleaning. It is safer to send clothes out to professional cleaners, but if cleaning must be done at home, be sure it's with fluids listed by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.

Place a metal screen in front of the fireplace. See that portable heaters have guards on them and that they are so placed that they can't be knocked over easily.

Fat all oily mops and rags where air can circulate freely about them. Matches should be kept in metal containers out of the reach of young children. Enough ash trays should be distributed about the house for all smokers.

Committee Members

Senator Clinton Anderson, and Representative John E. Miles are on committees to approve statehood for Hawaii, in their respective Houses of Congress, in Washington D. C.

Never force your advice upon people whose friendship you crave.

PROPERTY REASSESSMENTS

The last legislature appropriated $200,000 for the use of the State Tax Commission in having a reassessment of property made for the purpose of equalizing property values among the various counties and among property owners in each county. Under that appropriation 7 counties have been surveyed and a revaluation made. One county has been partially completed. The State Tax Commission is now asking for $480,000 to complete the survey and revaluation in the remaining 24 counties, the work can be done over a period of two years. It is believed that this revaluation can be completed within the next 12 months at a considerably reduced cost. Whatever the cost may be, it should be completed so as to become effective on the 1950 tax rolls. The increased revenue would enable the counties to increase salaries for officials and deputies and would enable the State to meet the increased cost of State departments, etc. It would also increase the bonding capacity for the State and for all units of government.

REGISTRANTS MUST REPORT CHANGE OF ADDRESS

Draft registrants must inform their local draft boards of their change of address, and it is their continuing duty to register within the time prescribed by law. The law requires that every registrant shall keep his local board informed of any change as to status. This applies to registrants who have reached the age of 20, as well as to all others.

Registrants may enlist at the recruiting station in the Regular Army, Air Force, Navy, Marine Corp, or Coast guard, until the Selective Service System receives the next call for examination and induction. Volunteer enlistments are not accepted through the local boards.

FEDERAL TAXES IN N. M.

In the calendar year 1948, the total of all types of Federal taxes collected in New Mexico was $50,069,800, as compared with $50,378,079 in 1947—an increase of $5,700,821. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1948, the total was $55,320,140, as compared with $48,116,166 for the year ending June 30, 1947, $45,944,588 for the year ending June 30, 1946, and $37,685,763 for the year ending June 30, 1945.

The oil drillers are still faithfully at work—or were—until it became necessary to buy another 400 feet of pipe to shut off the water which was present at a depth of 750 feet. They have been drilling in a red clay formation for several days, but now Mr. Rice states that they are getting out of the red clay into harder formation mixed slightly with spots of black. Mr. Rice considers this new formation better, as the drillers hope to be able to place the iron casing on a firmer, rocky base, after the water is piped off. Without any other delays they hope to be about 900 feet in depth by the last of next week.

EDITORIAL

JUST THOSE WHO LIVE HERE

The Citizens of Carrizozo are the only ones who are interested in the town. No other community is interested. No other community will make any effort to bring industries here or to add to the institutions that make for community or civic improvements. Each town is interested in its OWN fortunes.

This is natural and is to be expected. If Carrizozo is to improve, that is grow and prosper, if our schools are to be made better, our civic societies function properly, our stores improved, or our trade territory extended and developed, it will be because we of Carrizozo take an interest in these things and work for them.

A town is just about what its citizens want it to be. The responsibility about what Carrizozo will be tomorrow, next year, five years, ten years or even twenty years from now is ours. We can't sit down and wait for the things we want or expect them from other sources; it will never come. The duty, the test, the privilege are ours—and it can be done. Let us face the responsibility. Let us rally to the call and make our town the town that it should be. Get behind the local organizations; help them because they are willing to help you to have a prosperous enterprising town.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Pillows that are aired frequently will last longer. It isn't necessary to hang them out of doors; just pin the pillow on a line in the house so that the air can circulate around it. This fluffs it up and dries out possible perspiration dampness.

Hot mince meat on waffles with hard sauce is a deliciously rich dessert.

To remove liquid fat from hot broth, pour it through a clean cotton cloth which has been wrung out in cold water.

When pressing velveteen or corduroy place a bath towel under the part to be steamed. Dampen slightly and press on the wrong side with an iron. The nap will have a fresh, steam-cleaned look.

Gift wrapping paper from Christmas, birthdays, etc., makes a gay lining for dresser drawers.

Wallpaper cleaner can be used to clean paper or parchment lamp shades successfully.

When using a plunger to open a clogged drainpipe, it will prove more efficient if you rub a thick coat of petroleum jelly along the flat bottom edge of the cap; this will provide a tighter seal.

Water stained bottles can be cleaned by partially filling them with hot water, adding some small pebbles, BB shot or broken egg shells and then shaking vigorously.

New 'Cow Bomb' Used In Spraying Animals

Dry DDT Crystals Now Practical for Spray

A new animal disinfectant device called the "isomist cow bomb," is now available for use on livestock.

The cow bomb is used to apply a deposit of dry DDT crystals to the hair and hide of livestock for protection against the horn fly, house fly, stable fly, cattle lice, ticks, mosquitoes and certain other insects.

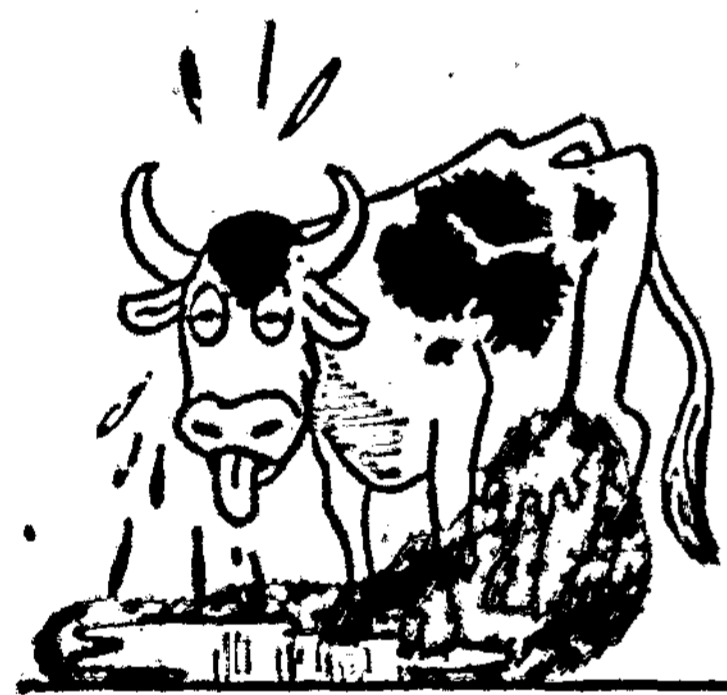

Dry DDT goes into suspension in water less readily than any other form and withstands rain more desirably. It contains no oil to cause burning or to help DDT penetrate the hide. The DDT particles are microscopic in size and thus a given amount covers a greater area than other forms. It is said one isomist cow bomb will treat approximately 100 cattle with the recommended 30 second treatment. It provides protection for cattle on pasture for about three weeks under average conditions. To help prevent lice infestation, prophylactic treatment of all additions to the herd is recommended.

The isomist cow bomb can be used on dairy and beef cattle, hogs, horses and sheep.

The procedure recommended for cows is to cover the body of the animal with paint sprayer motions at from 12 to 18-inch distances; for legs only 6-8 inches. Total time per cow is about 30 seconds.

Heat Hurts Cows

American dairy farmers have learned that some discontented cows, like some discontented women, can be expensive as well as unpleasant.

Most of the cow's troubles can be traced to heat and humidity. A cow, unlike a human being, can perspire only through the mouth. So when the temperature and humidity inside a barn get high, the animal becomes uncomfortable and stubborn—particularly at milking time.

The U. S. department of agriculture says an average cow gives off almost a pint of water every hour through breathing. In addition to the high humidity caused by this breathing, a cow has an extremely high body temperature. During the winter months when the cows are in the barn most of the time, this combination results in the generation of an enormous amount of water vapor and heat. When the warm, moisture-laden heat comes into contact with the cold walls, condensation and frost is formed.

The net result to the farmers is rotting beams, joist and siding; a loss of hay because of the mold created by moisture and frost; milk contamination, disease, particularly among the young stock; reduction of milk production because of the discomfort to cows, and farmers are forced to work under unpleasant conditions.

A simple solution to all these costly problems is an automatic cooling unit which is proving tremendously popular with dairy farmers in general and cows in particular.

Superphosphate Held Best For Sugar Beet Fertility

Ordinary superphosphate is the best source of phosphate when used as a fertilizer for sugar beets, wheat and barley, according to Dr. Sterling R. Olsen, USDA soil scientist and Robert Gardner, agronomist at the Colorado college experiment station.

Experiments on various fertilizers containing radioactive phosphorus, indicate that calcium metaphosphate will close second.

Use of Green Color In Spring Food Menus Will Enhance Appeal

WHETHER IT'S a party you're planning or just a family menu you're preparing, take a tip from nature and use the delicate green colors of foods generously. They'll give the ill of spring to your meals.

The green of vegetables may be combined with white or yellow to great advantage for appetizing meals as well as colorful tables. If you're cooking the green vegetable, it's important to remember that overcooking will make the delicate green look dull as well as lose important nutrients, so keep an eye on the clock.

This is the time, too, when you can use many of the green vegetables in salads in raw form. Keep them crisp so there's no wilting and you'll have foods as fresh as the season itself.

IF YOU'RE PLANNING a St. Patrick's day party for oldsters or youngsters, you'll like this salad.

Grapefruit Lime Salad (Serves 3)

- 1 package lime-flavored gelatin
- 1 cup hot water
- 1 cup canned grapefruit syrup
- 1 cup drained, canned grapefruit
- 3/4 cup sliced stuffed olives
- Salad greens
- 1 avocado
- Mayonnaise or French dressing

Dissolve the gelatin in hot water. Add the grapefruit syrup then chill until mixture begins to thicken. Add the drained grapefruit and olives. Turn into small individual molds and chill until set. Unmold on salad greens, garnish with avocado slices and serve with mayonnaise or French dressing.

Begorra, if it doesn't look just like a party for the youngsters with perky lime gelatin shamrocks sitting prettily on slices of lime bavarian cream. Feature this delicious Irish dessert on a green linen or paper tablecloth, and you have a picture table.

IF YOU'RE GIVING a party for the youngsters and want to give them just a snack, you'll find the next recipe a savior your problem completely. Perky shamrocks are set on slices of Bavarian cream, and are guaranteed to be the hit of the party. As a matter of fact, it would be a good idea to hang onto the recipe as it offers all sorts of possibilities.

With little chick cutters you can use lemon-colored ones for Easter, red and pink flowers for May day, etc. Serve them on a base of lime Bavarian cream or on plain cake or ice cream. Jolly thought, isn't it? Try it soon.

*Lime Bavarian Cream (Serves 2-3)

- 1 package lime-flavored gelatin

apple juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Then fold in whipped cream. Add sugar to pineapple and fold into gelatin mixture. Turn into 10x10x2 pan and chill until firm.

Mean while, dissolve the other package of gelatin in 1 1/4 cups hot water. Turn into another pan of the same size as one used above. Chill until firm. Then cut 8 or 9 shamrock shapes with a shamrock cookie cutter. With spatula, carefully arrange shamrocks on first gelatin mixture, allowing one for each serving. Chill. Cut in squares.

If desired, cubed or diced gelatin may be used for decorating instead of shamrocks.

Asparagus tips riding on toast points with smooth, well-flavored cheese sauce make a truly spring-like dish for luncheon or supper. The green and yellow color scheme which this combination makes will make a welcome sight for winter-weary appetites.

ASPARAGUS, that aristocratic vegetable, which comes into season early in Spring is, sometimes called sparrow grass. But whatever you call it, this handsome green-tipped vegetable is one of the true appetite treats of the season.

The vegetable can be changed from supplementary to a main dish if you serve it on toast with a cheese sauce because cheese is a high grade protein food. The cheese sauce is also an excellent idea to remember if you want to add interest to leftover vegetables.

Asparagus on Toast with Cheese Sauce

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups milk
- 3/4 pound American cheese shredded
- Salt, pepper
- Hot, cooked asparagus tips
- Toast points

Make cream sauce with the butter, flour and milk. When thick and smooth, add the shredded cheese and stir until it is melted. Season to taste. Place each serving of asparagus on 2 toast points and cover with a generous amount of hot cheese sauce.

If you want to make a spring vegetable platter that looks pretty as well as one which interests winter-jaded appetites, this next recipe is just the thing:

*Spring Vegetable Platter (Serves 6)

- 1 pound green beans
- 4 medium carrots, cut in strips
- 1 box frozen asparagus
- 1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
- 1/4 cup butter
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice

Cook green beans in boiling, salted water for 30 minutes. Cook carrots in boiling, salted water for 15 minutes. Cook spinach without water 5-8 minutes. Arrange spinach in center of platter and garnish with egg. Arrange drained green beans and carrots in spoke fashion around the spinach. Pour over them a sauce of the butter melted and mixed with lemon juice. Garnish the platter with the following: Roll slices of luncheon meat spread with salad dressing around tiny sweet pickles. Fasten with toothpicks.

Like creamed cauliflower? Stick 1/2 cup of salted almonds in the white sauce after pouring it over the vegetable for appetite appeal.

Young cabbage cooked in milk rather than water is delicious to taste.

Melted butter mixed with lemon juice and chopped parsley makes an excellent sauce for whole cooked carrots.

Cup of corn added to 3 cups of cabbage and seasoned with crisp, crumbled bacon and a bit of sugar is delicious.

For Joyful Cough Relief, Try This Home Mixture

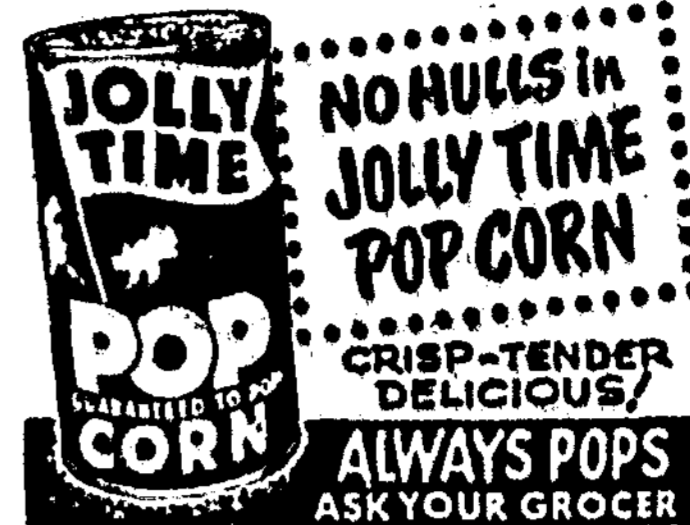

This splendid recipe is used by millions every year, because it makes such a dependable, effective medicine for coughs due to cold. It is so easy to mix—a child could do it.

From any drugist, get 3 1/2 ounces of Pinex, a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its soothing effect on throat and bronchial irritations.

Then make a syrup by stirring two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

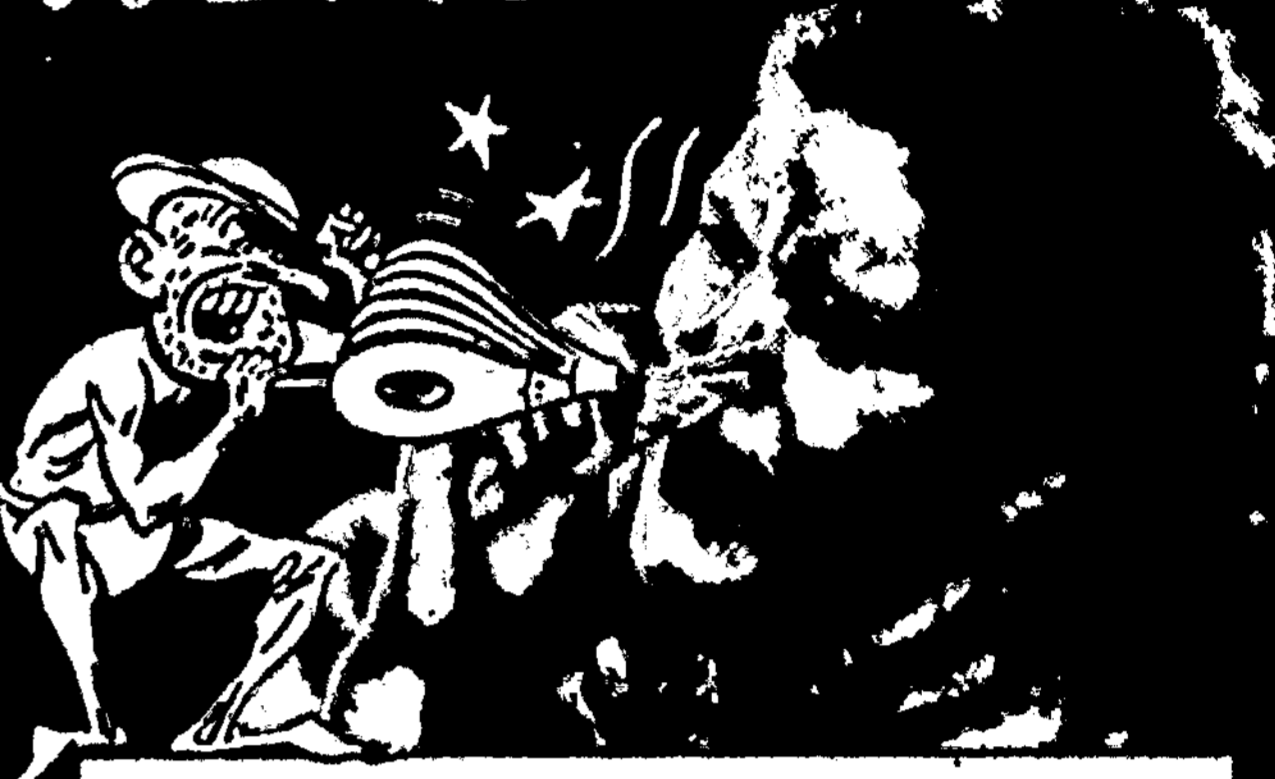

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle and fill up with your syrup. This gives you a full pint of cough medicine, very effective and quick-acting, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and is very pleasant—children love it.

You'll be surprised by the way it takes hold of coughs, giving quick relief. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way. Pinex Saves You Money!

School Lunch Week 7-11

Parents and other local leaders will find out first hand this week how the community school lunch program operates in Lincoln County. They will be invited to eat a meal with the children and watch this popular program in operation. Mrs. Elva Wilson, Lincoln County Superintendent, said today. "We want every one of them to be our guest for one meal sometime during the week and find out for themselves just how important the lunch room is to community living," she explained.

The week of March 7-11 has been proclaimed School Lunch Week in New Mexico by Mr. Chas. L. Rose, State Superintendent. Throughout the state more than 200 schools are observing the occasion. Twenty-five per cent more children are eating in our lunchrooms this year than last and the program is still growing. Mr. Rose pointed out.

The School Lunch Program is sponsored state-wide by the State Department of Education in cooperation with U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

Two fold purpose of the program is a wholesome meal daily for growing children and larger outlets for farm products.

THE NEW MEXICO WEEKLY NEWSLETTER

(By Dr. G. Ward Fenley)
 I am in full agreement with an organization known as Owsen, Owsen stands for a group that would Oust Words Seldom Ever Needed from the dictionary.

For instance, says the monthly publication entitled "The Postage Stamp," Owsen as a word means "any bovine quadruped" and bovine means "dull and sluggish" and quadruped means "having four feet". So, like The Postage Stamp, we first do away Owsen.

And Come To Think of It
 Another word we'd oust is Sea Squirt. Sea Squirt means simple Ascidian; Ascidians are simple or compound tunicates; Tunicates are marine Chordates; Chordates are one of phylum having a notochord, which tells us absolutely nothing.

But we did find that an onion is a tunicate, so maybe a Sea Squirt is a sea onion.

But further along we discovered that a sea onion is not a sea squirt at all; it is an official squill. Nonsense to me -- it is.

And our dictionary said that Kulak is a rich peasant. Personally we'd rather be a poor millionaire. Page that Postage Stamp writer and maybe he'll take you on as a member Owsen.

If We Had Our Way
 Another thing we'd change up, besides putting a lot of unnecessary words from the English language, is our crazy English spelling which is one heck of a mess.

Frank A. Williams of the Clayton News came up with a simplified spelling paragraph last week. It read:

"Frequently az u look about you u ma c 4 yorelf many peeplo hoo wood like 2 b n yor chooz, but if thawur, the wood find ur chooz also hurt ther feet. Thus wec mitte lurn 2 get along with what we hav and lurn 2 lik our posichun in lif az many condishuns kan be improved with pachunts."

Editors on Bandwagon
 Many New Mexico editors have already jumped on the bandwagon sponsoring a new type of spelling.

The Espanola News reported last week that the "chairman at Santa Fe called a meeting of the "Pays and Means Committee".

Ed Scarrett, recently appointed editor of the Tucuman News, let one slip in reporting the stealing of some "pastry goods and a March of Dimes box from the Tucuman American Bakery Company". Maybe the pastry goods were no good anyway, Ed.

Louder Please
 The Martins of the Grant Beacon
 The Martins of the Grant Beacon caught the Albuquerque Tribune short the other day on a want ad.

It read: LOST: Vicinity Urban Motel Highway 66, small, black tan terrier, white blaze on forehead, 13 old pet of child traveling to N. Y., deaf but answers to Sammy. Reward. Call 2-1628. "Deaf but answers to Sammy. . . hm-m-m, that we've got to . . . or hear."

Some Editors Invent Words
 Mrs. Agnes Kastner Head of the Hobbs Flare last week wrote: "Three little Hobbs boys were sitting on a crab". It took me a while to figure that one out.

And the Las Cruces Sun News started off an eloquent paragraph about the Santa Fe lawmakers: "In the meantime. . . ."

If you'll just read New Mexico papers, it is a liberal education. Wes Huff of the Gallup Independent wrote recently: "Dr. S . . . is retiring from practice. Though hale and hearty at 65, the doctor says all he wants is a little peach and quiet."

Both weeklies and dailies of New Mexico get in on the fun. Editor Guthmann of the Springer Tribune was telling of a near tragedy in his community recently when someone phoned for help in a week voice".

While We're Outlawing Things
 It's not the big words in the dictionary and the hi-falutin' spelling that worry us most. We're in complete accord with Bob Nelson (one of New Mexico's be-cushioned legislators) who wrote recently in the Tucuman American that he was considering introduction of a bill to outlaw work.

"Work", says Bob, "is the worst habit anyone can form and it leads to another bad habit-- eating. While you may break yourself of the working habit-- it sure is hard to stop the habit of eating."

And In Conclusion
 That's all this week except what Luke McLuke (Cincinnati Enquirer) wrote about the HLC: "They darn near doubled the cost of things and we stood for it because there were war prices and warzells. Then comes peace and they add a couple of cents onto the cost of everything to celebrate peace. If warzells, peacezellers."

LIVESTOCK REVENUE DROPS

For 1948, according to the New Mexico Stockman, livestock growers sold $91,430,170, as compared with $101,923,596 for 1947—a decrease of $10,493,420. This decrease is due to heavy sale of breeding cattle in 1946-47.

TAX DATES TO REMEMBER

February 28 is the last day for paying automobile registration license. It is also the last day for making property tax returns for 1949. By March 15, the final Federal income tax return should be made and by April 15, the State income tax return should be made for 1948.

REWARD FREE ENTERPRISE OR SUFFER, SOCIETY WARNED

Ann Arbor, Michigan—Society must not be niggardly in its rewards of incentive, enterprise and risk-taking if it is to maintain high employment and a high standard of living, warns Clare E. Griffin, professor of business economics at the University of Michigan.

Any national policy that discourages adventure is a step toward stabilizing depression, he writes in "Enterprise in a Free Society," just published by Richard D. Irwin, Inc., 3201 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

Quoting Sumner Slichter of Harvard that "a nation of security seekers is pretty certain to suffer chronic unemployment and become stagnant," Griffin traces what he regards as a trend in America that might lead to disaster unless reversed.

"In recent decades," he writes, "owners, managers, psychologists and others have given much attention to incentives for workers. But also in recent decades, we as a society have been less concerned with the incentives of entrepreneurs. This neglect can obviously have serious consequences."

Griffin sees a growing tendency of government to reduce business management to a dead level through discriminatory and privilege legislation. This limits ingenuity and ability and discourages expansion of employment.

Constantly increasing production, accompanied by constantly improving methods of distribution, are declared essential to high employment and good living.

To accomplish this, he recommends that a "healthy optimism" based on an intelligent understanding of the interdependence of capital and labor replace the "VS" policy created by those who set "all against each other" for selfish reasons. This calls for labor, business and political statesmanship, which can be forced by public opinion if "economic illiteracy" can be overcome.

WOULD IMPOSE CEILING ON FOREIGN CRUDE OIL

State Land Commissioner Guy Shepard went on record this week as endorsing proposed Federal legislation to place some sort of ceiling on the importation of foreign crude oils into this country.

"Most of our other important production industries have similar protection already," Shepard said. "And certainly the time has come for our National government to show the same concern for our oil industry."

He cited the figures showing that imports of crude oil into this country had increased 150 per cent during the past year, now amounting to 600,000 barrels daily.

"We in New Mexico have a vital stake in this situation—all of us," Shepard asserted. "Our oil industry here now is producing almost one-fourth of all State revenue."

More than 40 per cent of the proven oil and gas lands in this State are owned by our public schools and State institutions. Their total revenue from our petroleum industry amounted to well over nine million dollars last year alone.

He declared that if foreign imports continue to increase as during the past year, the domestic oil industry would inevitably suffer and be retarded.

Shepard emphatically endorsed a Senate Joint Resolution proposed for enactment by Congress, to place some reasonable limitation on the imports of foreign crude oil under existing future trade treaties with other countries.

FRENCH GIFTS EXHIBITED IN ONATE HALL ST. MICHAEL'S CAMPUS

The gifts presented to New Mexico by the people of France, which arrived in Santa Fe in the New Mexico car of the Merci Train, were displayed to a constant stream of visitors in Onate Hall in the Campus of St. Michael's college last week.

Placed on exhibition Thursday evening the multitude of gifts, which ranged from large paintings down to small examples of French craftsmanship in glass and metal, gave expression of the gratitude of the French people for the gifts presented to them through the medium of the famed Friendship Train.

Through the cooperation of Bro. Benildus, college president, the facilities of Onate Hall were made available for the Santa Fe exhibition. At the completion of the showing the gifts, which number in the hundreds will be distributed throughout the state to schools and museums where they will be permanent reminders of an unusual example of friendly international relations.

Drew Pearson, famous journalist and radio commentator, the originator of the Friendship Train idea, was in Santa Fe for the ceremonies connected with the arrival of the Merci Train in New Mexico.

RAILROAD SAFETY BOARD

The best safety record in 12 years is reported by the Association of American Railroads for 1948. In 1948, with 41,150,000,000 passenger miles only 19 passengers were killed in train accidents. There were only 42 passenger fatalities from all causes.

IN A LITTLE OVER TWO YEARS, Kentucky-born, Patricia Neal has pulled herself into the bright lights of Broadway and Hollywood. She worked as a doctor's assistant, hotel dining room cashier and hostess, model and jewelry store clerk while trying to get started, and after several hard knocks and knocking hard on Broadway doors, made her debut on the stage in 1947 in "Another Part of the Forest" which netted her five performance awards. With Patricia's looks (and ability) Hollywood couldn't overlook her. "John Loves Mary" was her first film and she has just captured the much desired feminine lead in "The Fountainhead" in which Gary Cooper is starred.

HANDSOME GLENN FORD, one of Hollywood's most popular leading men, has been chosen to portray the sensitive, ambitious and sometimes bitter American author, Nathaniel Hawthorne, as a young man, in "A Valentine for Sophia" heard this month on NBC's Monday "Cavalcade of America." "A Valentine for Sophia" is the story of Hawthorne's early writing career, and his romance with the lovely Sophia Peabody, which almost stopped the wondrous flow of words from his pen. Sophia, however, with her patience and love, managed to turn Hawthorne back to a literary career. Other top names scheduled for "Cavalcade" this month are Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and Zachary Scott. Ford is married to dancer Eleanor Powell.

FIRST TO RECOGNIZE the radio talent of wide-eyed Irene Beasley, now musical mistress of "Grand Slam," was her home town Memphis, and first to develop a brand new idea for a radio show, back in 1946, was Irene herself. Her program was the first on the air to include both studio audience and listeners in a musical quiz contest. And the fan mail she received! We've been to her office and can vouch for a daily deluge. And no wonder. "Grand Slam"—full of fun, music and beautiful prizes—is one of CBS' most popular weekday programs.

Irene Beasley, 32, is the latest of the "New Faces" which netted her five performance awards. With Patricia's looks (and ability) Hollywood couldn't overlook her. "John Loves Mary" was her first film and she has just captured the much desired feminine lead in "The Fountainhead" in which Gary Cooper is starred.

SPECULATION is that Walt Disney's trip to New York, this month may be due to television interest.

THE "GOLD" exchanging hands this year threatens to out-do the gold rush of 1849 if the cash contacts already started are any indication of the trend. One of the biggest among those heard of, to date is the "49er Gold Rush Contest" (totaling $102,000) being announced on NBC's Wednesday "Blondie" and Saturday "Dennis Day Show" as well as CBS' Sunday "Our Miss Brooks." Frankly, the odd "49er Gold Rush" $2,000 ("micro drop") had us puzzled until we found there was a reason. All 4,991 cash prizes include the figure 49, in the amount or number of prizes, in honor of the 100th anniversary of the 1849 gold rush—result, one hundred and TWO thousand dollars!

Glenn Ford, 32, is the latest of the "New Faces" which netted her five performance awards. With Patricia's looks (and ability) Hollywood couldn't overlook her. "John Loves Mary" was her first film and she has just captured the much desired feminine lead in "The Fountainhead" in which Gary Cooper is starred.

INCOME FROM OIL AND GAS LEASES

Santa Fe, March 3—Income from oil and gas leases on Santa Fe lands totaled more than $177,600 during the month just ended. This represented an increase of $66,000 over revenue from the same source in Feb. of 1948. State Land Commissioner Guy Shepard said today.

Almost 10,000 acres were leased for petroleum development during that month this year, compared to less than 9,000 last year, he said. "The encouraging fact about this is that the more producing wells drilled, the larger the royalty payments our land-endowed state institutions will receive."

Thirty-five tracts were offered for lease by the state land office this Feb., and these attracted 180 separate bids. One parcel drew 11 bids, the bidder paying more than $35 per acre. "In time, Shepard said, developments in the San Juan basin were encouraging. The state owns several tracts in that area, where gas activity has increased rapidly in the past several months.

LOOKING AHEAD

•An Enterprise Story
 Freedom of enterprise is a strong and dynamic principle. It continues to work us wonders despite the many ways we have hedged it about. The sorry plight of our time is that we have found such a fine way of life, proved that it works so well, then cared so little to protect and cherish it. Yet, a lot of us pay first-rate lip service to free enterprise.

But when it's time for the crucial test, what happens? We let the politicians (who ought to become statesmen when elected) spread the death-web of bureaucracy far and wide. We seem to agree that government can do it—oh, just almost anything—so much better! We tax industry and incomes until capital is too scared to have any enterprise left. In short, we back enterprise right up to the precipice, and seem not to realize what we have done.

50,000 Lives
 I have said that free enterprise still works us wonders. One of the most amazing examples of freedom of business enterprise has been working miracles right before our eyes now for five years, and we have scarcely noticed it. One of the nation's top science writers, J. D. Ratcliff, has outlined the miracle-story of penicillin manufacture in the January issue of "Nations Business." Ratcliff says this great medicine is now the biggest selling item in the drug trade, saving 50,000 lives yearly from pneumonia alone.

Just a few short years ago penicillin was made in laboratory flasks and sold for a fancy price. But, then, American industry tackled the job of producing penicillin. At first the quoted market price was $20 per 100,000 units, but today a dollar's worth of penicillin will rout dreaded pneumonia.

Courage and Vision
 How did all this happen? Well; it took enterprise and lots of it. Penicillin manufacture was pretty much a guessing game—at first. It took courage to invest and to plan. According to Ratcliff, one small company in the chemical industry had this courage and vision.

It seems that a man named John L. Smith, president of Charles Pfizer & Company, Brooklyn, gets the main honors for penicillin manufacture. Smith was an immigrant to this country at the age of two years, and worked his way up to an education in chemistry. After he became president of that small firm, specialists in microbes and fermentation processes, Smith heard of penicillin. Then Smith took a chance, made possible by America's system of enterprise.

A Real Test
 This man Smith made plans to spend $1/2 million dollars for a giant new penicillin plant. That was big money, for his company was doing only about twice that amount of business annually. Besides, science was not certain about what penicillin could do. But Smith had seen it save lives, and he intended to produce it. He did, in vats as large as tank cars. The demand was great. Then others began to make it. Still, the Pfizer company's sales jumped to 50 million dollars a year. The country had its precious penicillin.

This is a grand success story. But it is not a new one. The same kind of story has been repeated countless times in the building of America. Freedom of enterprise has helped make our land into a land of plenty. It would be well if we should test every bill in Congress, every national policy, with the question: will it encourage, or will it hinder, private enterprise?

Careless with words was the man who coined the phrase, "Easy Payment Plan".

Here's good advice: If things won't come your way, go theirs.

How can I avoid service charges?

A service charge on a checking account is made only when the cost of rendering the service is greater than the earnings the depositor's balance will provide. We would prefer not to make a service charge. For that reason we encourage the depositor to maintain a balance of sufficient size to compensate for the number of checks drawn. WEEKLY PICTURE STORY

There They Stood With Their Cameras . . .

That picture at the top, composed of a flower, a yo-yo and a plethora of human adipose tissue, reduces the male animal to a remarkable degree of absurdity. It probably will strike you as screamingly hilarious. Or it might foster in your mind a sense of vague, unidentifiable embarrassment with the race of man. That's what makes it a good picture. The photographer entitled it "Just Playing" and it won him first prize in the non-professional feature class of the 1948 Graflex photo contest. The following camera studies are other prize-winning entries in the contest.

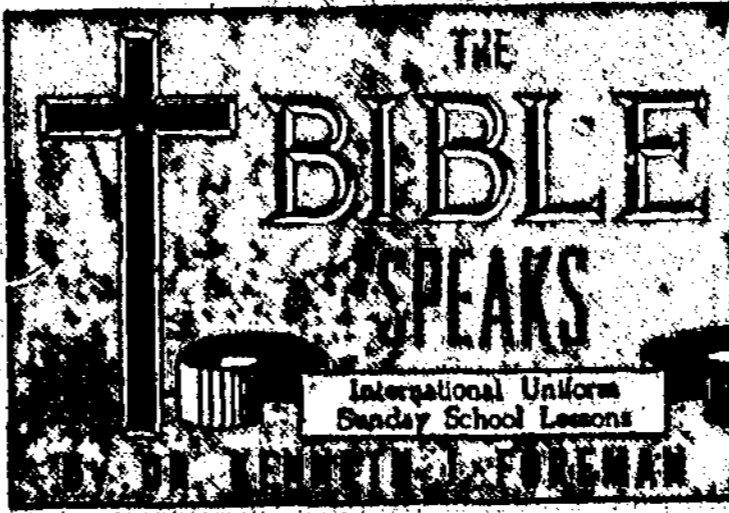

The fissionable photo at the left, "Dall Atomicus," took first prize in the professional action class. It is a surrealist treatment of a surrealist subject, Salvador Dalí, in a surrealist setting. Just what obscure symbolism is embodied in this connection of the leaping Dalí, two flung cats and a flying tongue of water may not be clear to you. Don't worry about this. It probably wasn't clear to the photographer—or to Dalí either, for that matter.

"Oh, My Deah," the picture of the supercilious baby, was awarded second prize in the professional feature class. Photographing young children, although it generally produces an abrasive effect on the patience, nevertheless is amply rewarding when it results in a delightful study like this. Sure, it's more heart-warming than a hot brick.

In contrast to the soft charm of the infant, this photo, "Jumping the Waves," is unique for its elemental grace and the rough, hardy rhythm implicit in the figure of the girl. Basically, the picture is a variation of the "muscles on the beach" theme which usually is represented by snapshots of people standing on their heads or holding themselves out at arm's length on top of a sand dune.

Top sports shot in the Graflex contest was "Pardon My Gloves." The action, arrested at the moment one man's glove crunched against the other fighter's face amounts to an excellent representation of suspended brutality. The impact of the gloves becomes almost a tangible thing to the vicarious beholder. Second prize in the professional action class was the award the picture earned.

Ideal World

Lesson for February 27, 1949

ANY MAN with a revolutionary new idea has to try to explain it. Jesus was no exception. As a young teacher of religion, he had to answer the question which older teachers were bound to put to him: If your teaching is new, how can it be true? And if it is true, what can be new about it? This was a fair question. The Sermon on the Mount is Jesus' answer to it. The main theme of that sermon is the kingdom of God, an ancient phrase but with new meanings as Jesus used it. We can say "The Ideal World" and mean just the same thing.

Dr. Foreman

The Right People
JESUS EMPHASIZES, above all, the kind of people who belong to God's Ideal World. This would be surprising to some modern planners. Communists think that if you can once get a world in which every one has enough to eat and drink and wear, a world where nobody is poor (or everybody is as poor as everybody else, which is all the same thing), you will have the perfect world. Jesus would know this is nonsense. You do not get the perfect world by improving the soil, or the system of government, or the economic system; you do not get it by passing laws of any kind. This does not mean that such things are unimportant—far from it.

But the fact is that even after you get your perfect social system, with perfect politics and perfect distribution of wealth, even a perfect climate and soil, you would still be nowhere near the Ideal World unless you have improved your people.

Is This You
WHAT WE call the "beatitudes" (Matt. 5:7-12) is Jesus' eight-point program for the citizen of the Ideal World. The right people are happy people, to begin with. (The word translated "Blessed" is a regular Greek word for "happy.") But the main difference between different kinds of people is not that some want to be happy while others do not.

Jesus' ideal people are humble, not proud; they see their sins and are sorry for them; they are "meek"—that is, they are not in a hurry to demand their own rights; they do not merely admire goodness, they are positively hungry for it; they are merciful, not careless or cruel; they are pure in heart and not only in speech and act; they are not mere peace-wishers or peace-lovers (who isn't?) but peacemakers; they are people who are brave enough to do what is right.

Salt
DO YOU really want an ideal world? The best way to begin is to learn how to be a citizen of such a world. Jesus uses two interesting simple words to describe the kind of people he means. You are salt, he said,—you are light. Salt and light are old-fashioned things but they have never gone out of date.

So there is no substitute for a really good Christian. Living, here and now, like citizens of the Ideal World to come, Christians are both salt and light.

Salt because they give a taste to otherwise flat or bitter life. Salt because they keep human society from going rotten.

Light
AND LIGHT! Like salt, light ought not to be too noticeable. A glaring light is bad on the eyes, as too much salt is bad on the tongue. So a Christian is not supposed to rub his goodness in on other people, so to speak. He is as indispensable as salt in bread—and should be as inconspicuous. But light, like salt, if it is any good has to be applied directly. A strong light concealed in a steel tube does no good. Swishing the glass end of the salt-cellar around in the soup gives it no flavor. The salt must get into the soup, the light must touch what we see.

So the Christian, God's ideal citizen-in-training, can do the world no good by running away from the world.

If a Christian is going to leave this world better than he found it,—even a little bit farther on toward the Ideal World,—he must come into touch with the world, not to imitate it but to change it.

NEW MEXICO NOTES

What is life like for a Governor and his family? How do they live and work and when do they rest? These questions have been asked me by many readers of my column. Perhaps I should be getting around to an answer.

Life at the Executive Mansion for the Governor and me is much like the life of the average busy household, I suppose, except there are not many quiet or secluded hours. The Governor dislikes the word "Mansion" and seldom uses it himself. He says it sounds to "high hat". He prefers and uses the word "Governor's Home" or "Our House", but, being law abiding, I suppose we should use the term "Executive Mansion".

If it were not for the fact that both of us retire early when we have no engagements (usually by ten o'clock) it would be difficult to find time for required rest, for the Governor is up at six each morning. We have breakfast about 7:30 and then he goes to the office. From there he early morning is gone over before 9:30. From then on anything could happen and then (or before) the telephone starts its day and night of frequent ringing.

We have seven telephone extensions in the house so that one is always handy in all rooms for both of us. Everyone is very considerate about night calls. Rarely anything out there felt to be emergency calls come in after 11 p. m. and the Governor has the happy faculty of being able to answer the bedside phone, make notes in the dark on the scratch pad resting on the nearby table and get back to sleep in a few brief moments. He insists that night calls do not molest him. From my adjoining room the phone is muffled and it does not disturb me too much.

There are four bedrooms in the mansion, exclusive of the servants' quarters all arranged as originally planned nearly half a century ago. With the one large 1890 model bath tub for the accommodation of all guests, plus another for the family quarters, all on the second floor. On the upper floor hall, there still hangs an old phone which, like the big bath tub I have mentioned, has been left—for sentimental reasons—presume.

The Governor and I have always endeavored to make it emphatic that it is not our house but that of every one of you who are citizens of New Mexico.

The proximity of the Mansion to the capitol (it is only one-half block away) works against privacy and ease for the family but it does make it easier for the governor who likes to work long hours and who thus needs to maintain a workshop in the home as well as in the capitol itself. For that reason we do not like the idea of the Governor's residence way off in the hills away from work and people, as had been proposed. Anyone who wants this office must make up his mind not to expect too much of either privacy or rest if he expects to do a good job.

Santa Fe is an interesting and pleasant place in which to live. Of course, it was not entirely new to us, since we had resided here for the eight years my husband was on the Supreme Court.

The Mansion is comfortable but one does get the feeling that it would be nice to settle down to where we could make use of our own dishes and linens and be living in our own home and not in the class and open house of public life which a governor's home must inevitably be. It is nice that the constitution of the state limits the governor's term to four years, in all. Any more could be difficult and, also, I think, it is good for the state to have a change in this position after two terms. It not only brings new honors to someone else, it ought to bring new and improved ideas.

It has been my custom to travel with the Governor on his trips about the state and out of state. This takes much of the time of both of us. I hope to continue that practice when I am able to walk again.

BONDED BRAKE LINING ON CHEVROLETS

Detroit—A new method of bonding the brake lining to the brake shoe that has already proved itself in more than 3,000,000 brake assemblies has been announced by W. F. Armstrong, general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Division.

According to Armstrong, the innovation marks a milestone in production techniques as well as an engineering accomplishment. Exact standards of cleanliness, temperature control and test procedures assure a bond between brake shoe and lining far stronger than any forces encountered in brake service. In addition, the process involves battening of especially designed manufacturing equipment.
