Recital to be Held April 23

The recital to be held in the Woman's Club Building on April 23, 1949 at 8 o'clock in the evening will be of great interest to all. The program is quite varied and contains music to suit many tastes.

Miss Helen Beaty, lyric soprano, is a student of Mrs. L. L. Spratt of Artesia, New Mexico. She is a senior in the Artesia High School where she ranks high in scholarship and leadership. This young artist has been awarded a full scholarship in the School of Music at Northwestern University where she published last summer. Miss Beaty has also studied for two summer terms at the National Music Camp at Interlocken, Michigan. In the summer of 1948 she won the highest camp honor awarded by the faculty.

Miss Jo Margaret Gore, violinist student of Mr. Ted R. Best of Carlsbad, is a junior in the Artesia High School. She is a young artist of much promise and should go far in her field.

Mrs. Helen M. Derbyshire, accompanist for these girls is a graduate of Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio and a splendid musician. We hope that all of you interested in the music will make every effort to be present at the recital which these young artists have so generously prepared for us. It is not often that Carrizozo and vicinity has an opportunity to enjoy such an excellent program of music. There will be no charge for this recital.

EDUCATIONAL AWARDS TO OUTSTANDING 4-H'ERS

Sixty-five educational awards to outstanding 4-H Club members in Colorado, New Mexico, Texas and other states served by its lines, will be offered in 1949 by the Santa Fe Railway, in continuance of its policy of annually encouraging American boys and girls to train themselves in agricultural pursuits, President Fred G. Gurley announced.

The awards are cash sums sufficient to defray all traveling and other expenses for the winners to attend the National 4-H Club Congress held in Chicago. Certificates of merit from the Santa Fe President are presented to the individuals as a 'keep-sake record' of their achievement and participation in the awards.

Winners are certified by the state 4-H Club leaders to the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, headquarters in Chicago, and the railroad takes no part in the selection of winners except in establishing the original basis for the awards.

In announcing the 1949 awards, President Gurley stated that their purpose is to help 4-H Club members to help themselves and that the Santa Fe takes pride in the fine records its past winners have made in their home communities.

CHAVEZ' WATER RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

Washington, April—(special)—A water resources development program which would fit the small river basins lying in one state, and at the same time fit the regional projects, is getting thought from Senator Dennis Chavez of New Mexico.

Chavez, chairman of the Senate Committee on public works, disclosed in an address before the National Rivers and Harbors Congress here this week that he would like to see a development program to fit all river basins in a single approach.

The New Mexico Democrat told the Congress some members of which are hostile to a further spread of authorities like TVA, that he would give "any approach" to the resource development a "fair look" when it was before his committee, which handles legislative dealing with flood control and rivers and harbors.

"We have seen the Tennessee Valley in operation and we saw another approach in the Pick-Sloan Plan—a division between the Corps of Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation on a development project—or the Missouri Valley," he said.

The objective is the same, and I am interested only in the end result. "Of late, I have begun to wonder and work on something in the way of coordination and integration of development programs that would be designed for the small valleys lying just a single state as well as the big regional river basins."

It is known that Senator Chavez in recent years given thought to a comprehensive development program encompassing the entire Rio Grande River basin, the Pecos and San Juan in New Mexico. The Senator is felt to lean toward an idea that each river basin should have a comprehensive plan within itself to utilize fully the resources therein for the common good of the basin.

INCOME FROM STATE LAND OVER TWO MILLION DOLLARS

April 14—Income from New Mexico's 11 million acres of state land amounted to $2,715,000 the first three months of this year, Land Commissioner Guy Shepard announced today.

This was an increase of $541,000, or almost 25 percent compared to the land revenue during the first quarter of last year.

"Around 95 percent of the three-month income this year came from oil and gas leases and royalties," the Commissioner said.

All of the net revenue is distributed to New Mexico's public schools and the land endowed institutions, Shepard explained. "Prospects appear good for still more oil and gas production on the State acreage in several counties," he said.

Heaven Is Real

Easter Lesson for April 17, 1949

HEAVEN IS just as real as Chicago. More so, because Chicago will in time cease to be, while heaven lasts forever. A few atomic bombs, a whiff of some new plague, can make Chicago vanish; but no atomic bomb can touch heaven. The pity is, so few Christians really believe this. We can get mail from Chicago, but who ever heard of mail from heaven?

Wait, though... there is mail from heaven, and you have it there in your Bible. If you accept it for what it is, the Word of God, then it is the Word from heaven. To be sure, it does not tell us much about heaven. If you were actually traveling to Chicago, you would not begin by studying a street-map of that city. What you would need is a map of the roads between.

So the Bible is not a guidebook to the "City Four-Square;" it is more of a road-map to help us find the way between here and there. Nevertheless, the Bible does assure us that heaven is real.

Christians have many reasons for believing in the reality of the future life, and some of these may not be in the Bible; but the best reasons are there.

Jesus Believed It

WINIFRED KIRKLAND has truly said that Jesus did not simply believe in immortality; he lived it. Jesus would never have called this world or this life trifling or unimportant. But all around, under and over and through this visible world, Jesus was aware of another. He lived and acted as a citizen of both worlds. He talked of life after death - or for that matter, of his own life before his birth - as calmly and naturally as you would speak of next week or next summer.

Christ Is Risen

MANY PEOPLE feel it would be easier to believe in the future life if someone who had been across the line of death would return across that line to bring a message from the beyond. So they attend seances and they listen to table-tappings and go through all manner of weird performances in order to get a word or two from someone who has passed on.

But all the time we do have a record of a Return. Indeed it is The Return. We call it the Resurrection. The message of Easter is not summed up in scraps about some "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere;" it is in these three words: "Christ is risen!"

He did not return in darkness, he was not under the control of any "medium," he did not make himself known by ghostly hauntings. He was seen at supper-tables, he spoke to his friends on a mountainside, he came to fishermen on a spring morning by a lake shore. The earliest Christians doubted some things; but few doubted that the Lord was risen indeed.

Heaven Begins With God

THE CURE for the troubled heart, Jesus said, is faith in God. One of the strongest reasons for believing that the future life is real, is the nature and character of God himself. Jesus said as much once, in an argument with men who did not believe in immortality: "God is not the God of the dead, but of the living." If we were God's paper dolls or toy soldiers, he might weary of us as a child wearies of its toys, and sweep us all into destruction without a moment's thought. But if we are truly his children, then when life's evening comes, he will call his tired children home.

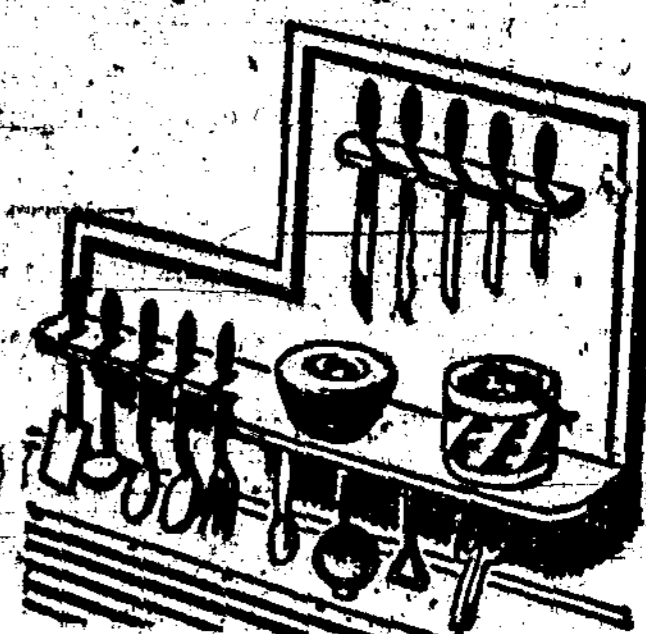

Eternal life has two sides, the heaven-side and the earth-side. The church has never believed that simple immortality is the same thing as the heavenly life.

A Judas, when he dies, goes (as Peter sadly said) "to his own place." A Judas carries out his own hell with him. But a man like Paul, or any Christian who has been at home with God here on this earth, when at last death comes, will, as Whittier said:

"Find himself by hand
In a better Place."

4-H Clubber Takes Fox-Trapping Crown New York State Rates Raymond Premru

The title of New York's fox-trapping champion for 1948 is held by Raymond Premru, of Gorham in Ontario county.

The youthful 4-H club member led the list of 800 trappers from 32 counties with a total catch of 50 during the year. Second honors went to Gene Gage, of RFD 1, Canandaigua, who trapped 42. Tied for third with 34 foxes apiece were Russell Killian, of Cowlesville, and William Smith, Jr., of Ancramdale.

With the side of his garage piled high with pelts, here is Gene Gage, of RFD 1, Canandaigua, New York state, who trapped 42 foxes during 1948 and won honors in the statewide contest.

The 800 trappers in the contest accounted for 1,091 foxes, with red-pelted specimens outnumbering the gray animals six to one, according to Prof. D. B. Fales, assistant 4-H club leader. After four years, a total of 3,768 foxes have been trapped by rural boys of the state.

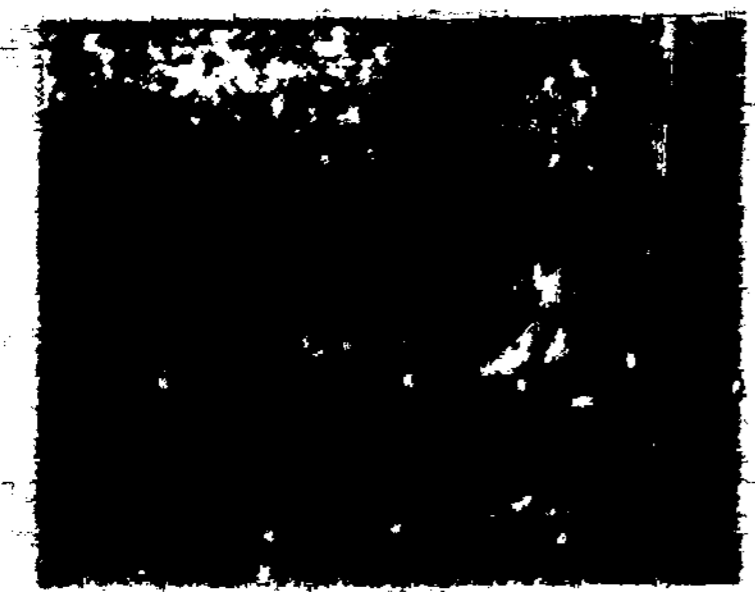

Some 60 county trapping champions were honored at the banquet which brought the 1948 season to a close. Agricultural and conservation officials and adult professional trappers attended the ceremony and watched the presentation of awards.

Premru, the state champion, received a repeating shotgun as top prize. Other awards totalling about $250 in value were presented other trappers and pelt preparation winners.

The New York state poultry council, the state Farm Bureau federation, the state conservation council and the American Agriculturist co-operated in sponsoring the program of awards, entertainment and banquet.

The annual fox trapping contest is conducted by the New York state extension service in cooperation with those agencies and the state conservation department.

New Crop Blower

A new farm machine that saves the farmer time and labor by automatically blowing forage wherever he wants it has been placed on the market by the New Holland Machine company.

This new crop blower can swallow blow it anywhere the farmer wants up to 20 tons of hay per hour and to store it. Or, if the farmer is filling his silo, the blower handles up to 25 tons of chopped corn an hour.

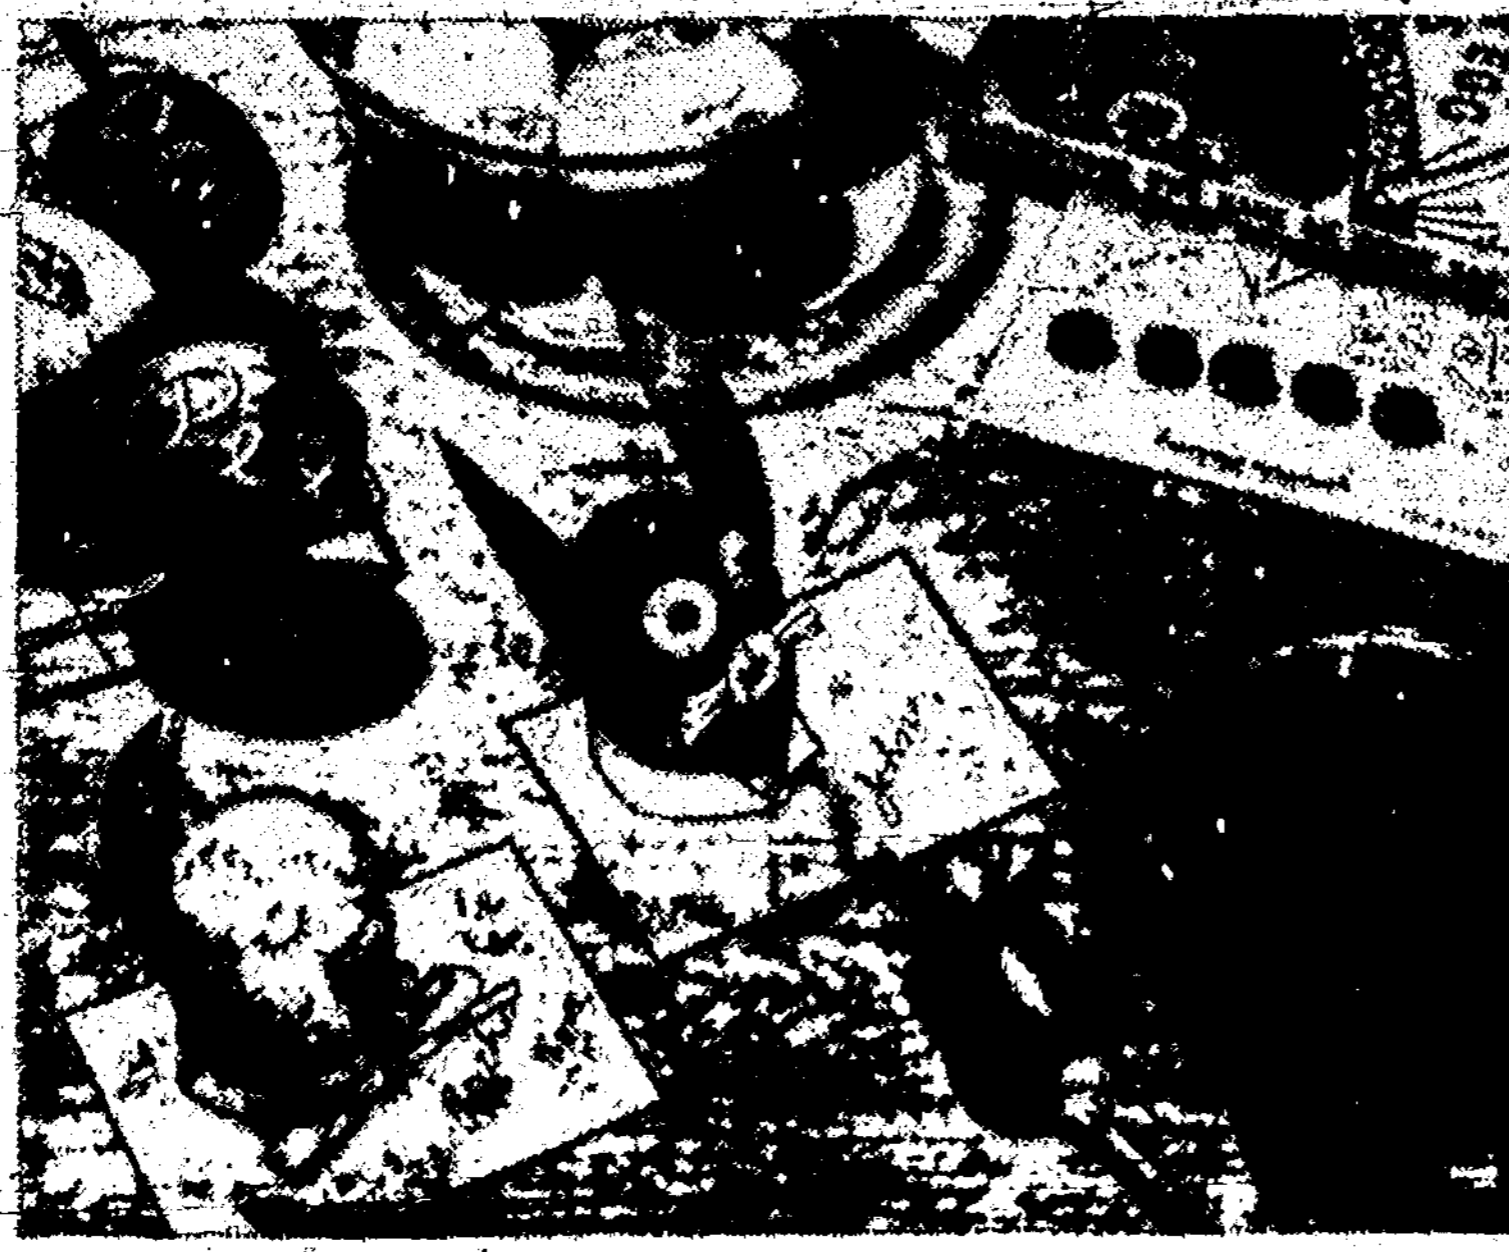

Weighing 1,360 pounds, the blower has a 12-foot hopper for receiving crops from the field. A patented leveling device keeps the forage flowing evenly into a large throat which feeds a 42-inch flywheel.

Whirling at speeds up to 1,200 r.p.m., this huge "fan" blows crops through an eight-inch pipe wherever the farmer wants to "aim" it.

Fertilizer Formula Found "Sure Bet" After Tests

Maryland corn producers looking for a "sure bet" now have their answer. Five years' tests show that 300 pounds of 2-12-16 fertilizer applied with the fertilizer attachment on a modern corn planter is practically a "sure bet." Research workers at the state's agricultural experiment station report that this application gave higher returns for the fertilizer invested than any other practice.

Use Easter Eggs for Place Cards (See Recipes Below)

Easter Plans

ONE OF THE TRADITIONAL highlights of Easter will probably be the coloring of Easter eggs. Though some adults think that coloring eggs is strictly child's play and should be left to youngsters, a large percentage of grownups doesn't agree. As a matter of fact, many people welcome Easter as a time when their artistic skill can be brought into full swing.

You may make the eggs as elaborate or as simple as you like. Perhaps a few brightly colored eggs in a gay basket as a setting for the Easter breakfast table are all you'll want. On the other hand, you may want to try out your skill at making faces or pencilling names on colored eggs.

With certified Easter egg colors that come with a handy writer, you'll be able to create eggs as simple or professional as you like. Eggs will be effective and appropriate place cards at the Easter dinner.

Two appropriate creations certain to appeal are the pert bunny and a coy little chick. Stiff white cardboard is used for the base and for the stand-up collars that hold the eggs.

Use yellow dye for the chicken. Rest the egg on a collar with a perky bow tied under the "chin." Paint on eyelashes and attach a paper beak at the right place. Stand a feather up the back, and you'll have a chicken everyone will love!

The rabbit is prettiest when dyed light blue or pink. Use little white reinforcements (the kind the youngsters get for notebook paper) for the eyes and mouth. Bits of white string tucked under the "mouth" make whiskers and long, tapering pieces of crepe paper make the ears. Turn the collar down in front to make a pointed collar and the bunny is complete.

EASTER DINNER might be built around lamb with appropriate sauce and spring vegetables.

Roast Leg of Lamb
Have leg of lamb boned and rolled by the butcher. Wipe with a damp cloth. Mix together the following: one-third cup fat or salad oil, one minced clove of garlic, two teaspoons marjoram, three-fourths teaspoon powdered mustard, one teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon paprika. Rub the mixture over the meat before roasting.

For boned, rolled leg of lamb, set the oven slow (325°) and roast, without water or other liquid, 45 minutes to the pound if the meat weighs between four and five pounds. For a heavier leg of lamb, roast 42 minutes per pound at the same temperature.

HAVE YOU EVER tried sweet potatoes with lamb? They're a delicious combination. Here are two recipes from which you may take your choice.

LYNN SAYS: Here's What to Do With Easter Eggs

Eggs decorated for Easter may be used in many different ways to add nourishment as well as interest to meals. They should be hard-cooked before decorating, of course!

Mix the whites of four hard-cooked eggs with two cups of white sauce and poach this over toast. Press the yolks through a sieve to decorate the tops of the creamed whites.

NEW HOUSE DRAWS MUCH ATTENTION

Both during construction and especially since completion the new house built by S. C. Snow in Carrizozo has caused much talk among many compliments to Snow and Harkey Lumber Co. for whom the house was built.

There are too many advantages to mention in this article in regard to home ownership. For example, a house such as this with 1 1/2 of purchase price down payment the balance can be paid off in 15 years at 4 1/2% interest with payments running around $25 per month.

This house was built as you if Carrizozo know, in spare time and out of materials that were at hand. Every one in business knows that over a period of years an accumulation of stock occurs that because of the small quantity or other reasons is not sold.

Those who built the house want you to see their work as an example when you have work to be done. Designing, carpenter and plumbing work was done by S. C. Snow, Jack N. Harkey who has promoted the thing is due much credit for designing the house, keeping material and interior decoration and painting; Frank Vega and Frank Jr. with the plastering and painting.

has been on the carpenter and plumbing end of the house. About The Builder

S. C. Snow whom many of you have met since his moving to Carrizozo is originally from Abilene, Tex. He moved to New Mexico last spring to get close to a supply of pumice or Scoria which most of you know as volcanic cinders. At that time he was anticipating the use of such in precast houses.

During the war he was in the 37th Construction Battalion and in 17 months was on 27 different bases both in the U. S. and overseas in both theatres of operations. He was one of 65 men elected from the 15th Battalion and detached to go on special jobs where few men with knowledge of more than one trade was necessary.

In March of 1947 he sold out to Rominger Bros. Since that time has built one 12-house FHA project in Abilene, Texas, 2 warehouses and a residence in Olney, Texas. On completion of that job came to New Mexico.

SELECTIVE SERVICE REQUIREMENTS OF REGISTRANTS

Asserting that officials in Washington are expecting the summer vacation season to see a record-breaking number of student-tourists off for Europe, Col. Russell C. Charlton, State Director of Selective Service for New Mexico, said today that the Selective Service Law is specific in requirements that all registrants keep their local boards informed as to their whereabouts—after they become twenty-six as well as before.

In order to comply with the law and leave with a free hand, Col. Charlton said, student-tourists before departing should report the following information to their local boards:

1. Date of departure. 2. Approximate itinerary. 3. Date of expected return. This may be done by mail, Col. Charlton said. There is no printed form.

While he did not ascribe to any widespread intent to violate the law, Col. Charlton declared that the bulk in inductions had caused misunderstanding in the minds of some registrants as to certain legal obligations. He emphasized that the obligation of the registrants to keep local boards informed as to their whereabouts does not cease when they become 26.

WEEKLY SWING OF SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

(USDA)—Most southwest farm products brought steady to stronger prices during the past week despite weakness in some cattle and vegetable, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Very light offerings of Klommore strawberries held firm at $8.50 per 24 pint crate in week-end trade at Hammond, Louisiana. Sweet potatoes strengthened under good demand in southern Louisiana as cured U. S. No. 1 Porto Ricans brought $4.50 to $5 per 50 pound crate. Week's trade found beets unchanged in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, but carrots weakened slightly in light demand. Eagle Pass and Winter Garden districts moved cutleaf spinach for packers slightly weaker at $1.75 per bushel.

Lighter receipts of livestock at southwest markets found prices generally steady to strong, although lower grade cows and all grade calves sold mostly 50 cents to $1 lower at Fort Worth, and San Antonio. Oklahoma City quoted vealers to $27 and choice heavy calves to $28. Best calves reached $25 at Fort Worth, $26 at San Antonio, and $28.50 at Houston. Good and choice vealers topped at $32 at Denver.

Hogs brought steady to 25 cents higher prices in Texas and Oklahoma for the week, and 50 cents higher at Denver. Sows held unchanged in Texas, but gained around 50 cents at Oklahoma and Colorado markets. Good and choice medium weight butcher hogs topped at $21 in Texas, $21.50 at Oklahoma City, and $23 at Denver. Sows ranged from $16 to $17.50 in Texas and Oklahoma, and from $16 to $18 at Denver.

Sheep and lambs scored advances of 50 cents to as much as $1.50 throughout the southwest. Spring lambs arrive in greater numbers, although overall receipts fell below a week ago. Choice lambs sold upward to $27.50 at San Antonio, and $29 at Fort Worth, while 84 pound offerings touched $32 at Oklahoma City. Denver turned good and choice lightweight wooled lambs at $31 per hundred pounds.

Yellow corn advanced about a nickel for the week, and wheat, oats and white corn a cent or less. Barley and sorghums left 1 to 2 cents. No. 1 hard wheat closed Monday at $2.40 1/4 to $2.40 1/2 in bull carlots. Based on No. 2 grades, white corn sold around $1.72, yellow corn $1.63 1/2, and barley $1.38 to $1.40. Galveston moved No. 2 white oat at 91 1/4 to 92. No. 2 yellow milo brought $2.58 to $2.63 per 100 lbs.

Eggs and poultry sold firm to higher during the past week. Most current receipt eggs brought around 40 cents a dozen. Heavy hens ranged from 32 to 35 cents a pound at Fort Worth, 34 to 36 at Dallas, 36 to 38 at Denver, and 38 to 43 at New Orleans.

Southwest peanuts held firm during the week, and some unusual early planting started in North Texas. Hay and feeds met seasonally slow trade with weaker undertone. Rice sold steady to slightly lower with short grain varieties showing the decline. Heavy rains throughout most of the southern rice belt delayed planting.

Cotton sold unchanged for the week. Spot middling 15/16 inch closed Monday at 32.40 cents a pound at Dallas and Houston, 32.45 at New Orleans, and 32.55 at Little Rock.

Socialism and Taxes

Can high taxes take us down the road to socialism? Yes, a whole lot farther than most people think. Top economists are pointing right now to danger signs that affect you and your job. With taxes having long ago neared the "breaking point," it is just possible that unwise legislation for more spending and more taxes could upset the nation.

The plight of our nation is in right now, because of a tax load that requires more than a quarter of every dollar of national income, was apparent in the President's recent message. Mr. Truman stressed the need for high steel production and for expanded facilities (Steel output is hitting new all-time peaks—even better than war time highs.) It would be the part of the federal government to build plants and produce steel, if private industry did not. Mr. Truman said. For this, who would supply the capital?

Obviously you would. By paying taxes. When government goes into business, the effect is to spend money, not make it. That has been proved too many times. But on the face of it, Mr. Truman's proposition—that the government get into the steel business—is nothing more nor less than socialism pure and simple. Continuing, Mr. Truman said there must be $4 billion in new taxes, mostly from corporations. The contradiction of it all makes food for serious thought.

With one breath, the government thus orders business to "plan for steady, vigorous expansion," and with the next proposes taxing policies that will make it impossible for industry to have funds for expansion. Despite already high taxes that make capital timid, the steel industry has somehow reached enormous production levels. But more taxes remain a dangerous threat. What Congress does about taxes this year may have great influence on the production of the future.

Incentive Destroyer

Heavy taxes are a certain hindrance to production, and hence to prosperity and national well being. More than any other one factor, taxes can smother initiative. They destroy incentives to get ahead, to save, and to invest. Taxes take at least half the total income of all persons with incomes of $5,000 a year or more. This group represents only one-tenth of America's families, but it is from this group that the bulk of risk capital must continually flow into new enterprises.

A Plague of Taxes

That high taxes are now keeping funds away from business enterprise is a sobering fact. Figures will show that in the eight year period from 1940 through 1947, individuals cut back their holdings of corporate investments by nearly a billion and one-third dollars! Taxes do prevent savings for investment.

Be assured that if the federal budget takes $42 billion from the people, the price of everything from bread to shoestrings will contain its share of that multi-billion dollar figure. That is why government spending must interest you. The more government spends, the more it must collect. And government has nothing, except what it gets from the people. Then when people pay, incentive is in grave danger. The gargantuan tax can overthrow America is "Big Government." This destroyer feeds on taxes.

Have you heard Dr. Benson and the radio drama "I and of the Free" Check your local station for time.

Ounce of Prevention...

Cowboys of just a few years ago would have been puzzled by the above illustration. But livestock producers today see it as a picture of a routine job... vaccination of a calf to help keep him healthy.

Livestock producers and meat packers have a common goal: to supply America with all the wholesome, nutritious meat this nation of ours needs. And so at every step of the way—from range, farm and feed lot to the tables of consumers—precautions are taken to produce meat of the best possible quality... meat that will receive the familiar round purple stamp "U. S. Inspected & Passed." This purple circle, found on every important cut supplied by federally inspected packers, is the housewife's guarantee of good, wholesome meat.

Growing animals are subject to various ailments: Meat, milk, wool and other valuable by-products... enough to supply a good-sized nation... are lost on farms and ranches each year. Add to this the lost grain and grass fed to animals which never live to maturity, or fed to unthrifty livestock that gain slowly. Total dollar losses run into billions.

Much has been done toward reducing these losses. New drugs and chemicals, such as the sulfas, penicillin and phenothiazine, are conquering livestock ailments, pests and parasites. But some of these causes of reduced production and profit are stubborn. To lick them will take increased knowledge, cooperation among neighbors and a constant watch for danger signs. But the increased earnings which can result from these efforts make them more than worth while. Production of healthy livestock is the only way to keep the markets for the meat you produce supplied and expanding. In solving your problems your local, state and federal veterinarians are good men to turn to for help.

Price Balances Supply and Demand

In the first six weeks of the year livestock and meat prices have dropped with great rapidity. In my 24 years with Swift & Company I have never seen prices start down from so high a level. It is the law of supply and demand at work.

When the wholesale prices of meat—the amount meat packers can get for it—go down, it means lower prices for livestock. It always has been and always will be that way. When demand for meat increases, we are able to pay producers more for their livestock. The prices Swift & Company, and the other 26,000 meat packers and commercial slaughterers, pay for livestock are governed by what they can get for the total available supply of meat and the by-products. As in the past, so in the future, livestock prices will result entirely from the balance between supply and demand.

Let's Be For Things Seems to me that most of us spend too much time and blood-pressure being against things. Let's be for things. Let's be for freedom of choice and initiative. Let's be for a system which allows a man to choose freely his own work, to make his own opportunities, to plan his own production. Which lets him decide where and how he lives; how he spends or invests his earnings. Let's be for our country, where a man's the boss of his own time, his own thoughts and his own political and religious beliefs. Let's take a good look at the rest of the world, then reverently thank God, and be for the United States.

Hope you have a prosperous summer, and we'll be looking forward to being with you again. Meanwhile, if you're in Chicago, plan to visit us at Swift & Company. All of us in the Agricultural Research Department cordially invite you to drop in for a chat. We'll be looking for you!

Quotes of the Month

The livestock producer, both by nature and by necessity, is a true conservationist. He would no more deliberately ruin his property on which he depends for his livelihood, and which he hopes to pass on to his children, than the manufacturer would deliberately tear down the plant in which he operates.

A. A. SMITH, President
American National Livestock Assoc.

Livestock provides one-third of all the food energy in the American diet, and 80 per cent of all the land used to produce the nation's food supply is devoted to livestock production. That is the story of a big business, vital to all Americans.

Saving More Lambs

By Alexander Johnston, Wool Specialist,
University of Wyoming, Laramie

Because every lamb grown to market maturity will now bring from $15 to $20, lamb mortality has become a source of increasing loss. Lambing practices reflect this. Open range lambing is decreasing. Pasture lambing is increasing in favor. Bands of from 600 to 1500 ewes are run in fenced separate meadow pasture. If spring storms are prevalent, shelter sheds are provided. The ewes lamb by themselves with little assistance.

Shed lambing is popular, especially when July or August fat lambs are desired. The lambing band is kept in a feed corral or small pasture adjacent to a lambing shed. When a ewe lams, she and her "green" lamb are taken into the shed to an individual pen or "jug." After a day in the "jug," they are put in a larger pen with others. Gradually, over a period of 3 to 10 days, larger and larger units are merged. From the shed these bunches go out to green pastures or into feed yards until the pasture grows. Under this system of almost complete control, a very high percentage of lambs is saved.

The paddock system of lambing also is receiving favorable attention. Ewes, after they lamb, are transported from the range to the lambing shed by trailer. After a day or two in the shed, a small bunch is made up and turned into a small pasture with a shelter shed. In a day or two, several small bunches are merged and go into a larger pasture. This is repeated until at the end of two weeks or so, the summer bands are assembled.

Sylvester Says:

Don't be fooled. Lungs are not as bad as they look. More homes per hour are being built here than anywhere else on earth. We have more telephones, bathtubs, radios, electrical power, automobiles and square footage of housing per person than any country on earth. You can build a home here without a government permit—in England you cannot. Here tens of thousands of homes are being built for investment and rent—in France they dare not. Socialized housing in Europe has meant less housing. Government controls on industry have always been followed by less production; less comfort and convenience for the masses.

CANCER FUND DRIVE DURING APRIL

A recent survey shows that people fear cancer more than any other disease and with good reason. For 17,000,000 Americans now living are marked to die of cancer.

The American Cancer Society is leading the fight against cancer with a constantly expanding program of Research, Education and Service.

Millions of dollars have been allotted to discover the cause of and cure for cancer. Millions of educational pamphlets, posters, films, ads, etc. are teaching people how to recognize cancer and what to do about it. A million volunteers are carrying cancer control right into the home—supplying cancer dressings, transportation, home services.

The crusade against this dreaded killer is bearing fruit. More than 66,000 Americans will be saved from cancer this year!

However, this vital program requires vast sums of money which must come from the public.

In April Cancer Control Month by presidential decree—the American Cancer Society makes its only plea for funds to the very public for whom it fights.

Your help is needed to achieve this year's goal.

Your help is needed even more this year than last because the cancer death rate will continue to rise each year unless we all CONTINUE TO DO something about it.

NEW MEXICO NOTES

From A
Wheel Chair
By: Katherine
B. Mabry

NEW MEXICO NOTES

From a wheel chair
(By Katherine B. Mabry)

I am looking forward to early in May when my doctor tells me I can perhaps walk a little again. Six months is a long time to wait to have to repair a broken hip. But when I think of the many more serious and lasting injuries my friend and acquaintances have received, I feel that complaints from me would appear selfish indeed.

Only three weeks ago I listened to the tear laden voice of a devoted father tell the governor of an accident which had just taken both feet off his young son preparing to enter the University of New Mexico Law School this fall. Working in the railroad yards to make money to attend college this fine twenty-one year old lad, the only son, fell beneath a train and suffered the terrible tragedy of having now to go through life without natural feet.

The boy was most cheerful, the last report we had, and still plans on entering school. A fine show of courage which I am sure will take him through. He has been told that modern science would give him help and that he would not miss his natural feet "too much".

Another case which has come to my attention is that of a burn from exploding gas mistakenly used to kindle a fire which has permanently disfigured for life a beautiful and attractive young mother; one who had hopes of keeping her beauty and charm to inspire her daughter and friends with her natural loveliness of complexion which so few of us possess. "Why could not a less lovely face have suffered this misfortune?" someone has asked. Well, providence does not work out His plans so we can understand them. We can, and must accept them as they are, for the best. "Anyway," remarked another friend of the victim "although her beautiful face has been deeply scarred, her fine inner self which is even more beautiful, has been saved for us to love and admire".

Accidents, most of them unavoidable, of course, have broken hearts and withered many fine characters which could not bear it. Other accidents have served to make better and braver men and women.

The girl who lost both arms in an accident never gave up the thought that she must be a musician—and play the piano, of all things! She did not give up and she did become a fairly good pianist, using a high chair instead of the conventional piano stool, and playing with her toes. And this girl was a New Mexican, incidentally.

So, those of us who have so much to be thankful for in so many ways should be ashamed to complain too much as we sit and nurse our little troubles, or injuries, in the shadows and the sorrows and trouble of others so overpowering in consequence.

I wish we could be more careful to avoid these tragic injuries. We are told that at least 85 per cent of these "home" injuries are avoidable; and that an almost equal percentage of highway and travel accidents need not have occurred. All of us should strive to observe more carefully, and advocate more consistently, that care which can save us and our loved ones so much sadness and grief.

G. I. INSURANCE TERM PERIOD TO END SHORTLY

Several million NSLI policies will reach the end of their term period during the next few months, Mr. Carl F. Krumm, Regional Insurance Officer of the Veterans Administration announced today.

An application of renewal must be submitted with at least one month's premium before midnight of the last day of the term period, but the new policy may be dated the following day, giving it the same effective date as the expiring policy. This is also true of conversions and the converted policy would bear the same date.

When a term policy expires at midnight on Sunday or a legal holiday there is no extension of time and the application for renewal or conversion must be submitted to a VA office before midnight the last working day before the end of the expiration period or must be mailed and post-marked before midnight of the last day of the term period, and include the necessary remittance, Mr. Krumm stated.

When renewing or converting G. I. Insurance it is recommended that new beneficiary and settlement option forms be completed in order to bring all phases of the insurance up to date.

Consolidation and conversion of term insurance may be effected while premium waiver is in effect. However, it has been determined that term insurance policies with different premium due dates may not be consolidated and converted while premium waiver is in effect, due to the fact that waiver is granted effective as of the monthly anniversary date and is discontinued as of the ending date of the insurance month. Policies in force under waiver of premium provision bearing like premium due dates may be consolidated and converted under one permanent plan policy as of the policy bearing the latest effective date, Mr. Krumm stated.

Mrs. L. R. Le May of Nogal who has been in the Southwestern General Hospital in El Paso for some time underwent a major operation Tuesday of last week. She is improving.

Pracian Monroy of Albuquerque was here last week to attend his mother's funeral. He was employed by the Veterans Administration in Albuquerque.

Radio-Telephone Comes to The Farm

SEDALIA, MO. — Progressive farm equipment dealers have seized on the new radio-telephone service to speed up farm service calls and solve an old problem: how to keep contact between the service truck and the dealership sometimes many miles apart. Emergency calls for repair work on farm implements sometimes come at critical times during harvesting or planting season, when every lost day costs money. Service was slowed by sparse communications in the rural areas, so that service trucks burned up valuable time retracing steps. Some farm equipment dealers have installed radio-telephones in their service trucks. Now the home office can put the service truck on an emergency job almost immediately and maintain constant communication with the operator in the field. Above, Scudder Hull of the Engle Tractor and Implement Company here, puts in a call from a customer's farm to his office, using the radio-telephone in the service truck.

Bright sun shining—new greenery showing—soft breezes calling you onto the highway—this is the season that Buick of yours was made for!

This is the time when you'll want to hear the sweet hum of its eager power, feel the lazy comfort of its easy stride, get the springtime feel of its thrilling action.

And you can have all that—with just a little attention to some simple things to shake the winter out of its bones.

For instance—the rusty sludge that has accumulated in your radiator should be cleaned out. Transmission and rear end may be low on lubrication, and should be checked. Crankcase oil should be changed to a summer grade.

The underside of your car has taken a lot of splashing on wet roads. Some of the chassis grease has been washed out, some of it fouled with mud and grit.

Time to Spring Clean your Buick too!

So it's time to drain out the dregs of winter. Time for a little of the knowing, loving care every Buick gets at the hands of our Buick-trained men, armed with Buick-developed tools, Buick-established methods, Buick-engineered parts.

It doesn't take long, doesn't cost much. But it goes a long way toward making old Buicks step out again like lively spring colts. How about stopping in—this week—to see about a spring rejuvenation for your faithful Buick?

Check your car— Check accidents!

Driving is twice the fun when you have complete confidence in your car—when you know the tires, brakes, steering, lights and the like won't let you down.

All together, there are 10 points to be checked for safety on any car. Bring your Buick in for us for a thorough going-over before getting off on your spring safari. We'll take the worry and fuss off your hands—so you can be carefree at the wheel.

What can I do to help bring prices down?

You can do plenty. For instance, you can refuse to pay extra bonuses for scarce articles. You can postpone buying things you don't actually need. You can add to your bank account and thus help provide credit so business can finance the production of more needed goods. Why not start today? Open an account here and make deposits regularly.

The New Mexico Weekly Newsletter
Dr. G. Ward Fenley

This New Mexico place name argument is about to get out of hand what with a resident of Lake Charles, Louisiana, putting in her four-bits worth of information.

Emily Johnson of 917 Live Oak, Lake Charles, writes (via the Lovington Press): "I enjoy your KOLM but pardon me for bursting in. I couldn't resist the temptation to tell you about some New Mexico towns in which I had a hand settling."

Another Texas:
Before kicking off, Mrs. Johnson asks: "Are you one of the Uvalde Fenleys? That was my original home."

No, Mrs. Johnson, I never even saw face to face the famous "Cactus" Jack Garner. Will plead guilty to reading a heck of a lot about him though. My home was over around Dallas, so consequently, I never became personally acquainted with the celebrated west Texas dust storms. Have recently made enough contacts with New Mexico storms though.

Dr. J. W. (Bill) Marshall from Wayland College at Plainview, recent visitor to the Land of Enchantment, told last week about a plainview, Tex. boy who was looking heavenward and was hit smack-dab in the face by a drop of rain. Dr. Marshall said it took three buckets of sand to revive him!!!!

Early Lea County Place Names
Early stockmen on unsurveyed Lea County territory says Mrs. Johnson, called their watering places by such names as Rat Mill, Ratum Mill, Plainview, and Prairie View.

The cowboys wanted to propose Rat Mill to the U. S. postoffice department but we argued them out of it for fear of being called "Ratlers," said the Lake Charles resident.

At Prairie View, they held literary societies, spelling bees and other school contests.

Oldtime Resident Returns
Some 23 years later, when Mrs. Johnson returned to her native New Mexico haunts, the port of entry man turned her back to Texas when she inquired about Plainview, N. W. Mexico. She argued, telling him she knew where she wanted to go and, "Heaven forbid, she did not want to return to Texas."

Elida Once More
It seems this scribe is having trouble getting the correct origin of Elida, New Mexico. Mrs. J. D. Marlow, through the Portales Daily News says "that UNM prof is wrong again." Pretty soon we expect to be named

(as one N. M. scribe called Will Harrison) M. W. (mostly wrong) Fenley.

According to Mrs. Marlow, J. H. Gee (not McGehee) named Elida from an unexplained snake driven in the ground with the same word "Elida" on it. So maybe it was not named for Mr. Gee's two daughters, Ella and Ida. We don't know. All we know is what we read in the papers.

Incidentally, Gordon Greaves says about our New Mexico place name bubble that he has received more letters on the subject than on anything since he asked: "What's wrong with Portales?"

Other Place Names

We acknowledge receipt during the week of hundreds of bits of information about other towns in New Mexico—wish we had room for all. Cimarron was not as we facetiously said, from "Simmer-on," but from colloquial Spanish—meaning rough and rugged.

Sorona means crown. Original name was Greathouse's Tavern.

Dillon came from former Governor Dillon—now living at Encino.

Ft. Sumner got its postoffice from General Edmond Vose Sumner, commander of the 9th military district.

Greentree, near Ruidoso, was originally Palo Verde. Recently changed by the postoffice department. La Grulla was for the crosses where a whole cavern was massacred by Indians near the southern New Mexico border.

Shoemaker, near Las Vegas, earned its cognomen from Capt. W. R. Shoemaker, ordnance officer at Fort Union during the Civil War.

S. Omar Barker, noted New Mexico author, attributes the name of Tecolotito to little owl in Spanish and Truchas means, appropriately enough, "Trout."

Van Houten was for Jan Van Houten, owner of Raton coal mines while Watrous gained its name from Samuel B. Watrous, early Civil War settler there.

And In Conclusion
That's all this week, except to remind you that it's nothing new when a recent headline in a local paper said: "6,000,000—highway—travelers—entered New Mexico in 1948."

Folks have always wanted to see and live in New Mexico. Our State will be complete once we annex El Paso. Rightfully the city is ours, and we vote for immediate annexation.

Gen. Clifton B. Cates
Commandant
United States Marine Corps

Sylvester Says:

"Excuse me! But someone just took a quarter out of your pocket." In fact, Uncle Sam (national income and tax tables show) takes more than a quarter out of your pocket every time you earn a dollar.

If the government spends new billions for public housing; more billions for public medical care; additional billions for the unemployed; more billions for maintaining farm product prices; and other millions to subsidize education in public schools—then, will the hand in your pocket take 75% in taxes and leave only a quarter out of each dollar you earn?

Price Reductions Clip Inflation: Rent Control Law Gives Authority To State Governors, Legislatures

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

PRICE DROP: Hits Inflation

American consumers were asking themselves: What does it mean? Why were prices being slashed, the dollar stretching a little further? Was it simply that inflation was being clipped, or was it true, as some have said, that the country is in the midst of a mild recession?

THOSE QUESTIONS were well-founded. For, in the latest economic development, prices of automobiles, accessories, radios, refrigerators and ranges had been reduced.

Continued reductions in such basic commodities as lead, zinc, copper and steel indicated there might be further cuts in manufactured goods in the wind.

One automobile manufacturer announced cuts ranging from $108 to $333 in the price of his cars. The mid-season catalogue of the nation's biggest mail-order house announced "many price reductions in all lines." Even ice cream was down—off three cents a quart in Philadelphia.

Radlos showed the biggest drop. One nationally-known manufacturer announced price cuts of 20 to 30 per cent on nine home model sets. Auto batteries were lower in cost. A refrigerator manufacturer knocked off $20 from some of its models. Steel was down and scrap metal was at the lowest price in almost two years.

WHATEVER ELSE entered into the picture, it was conceded that buyer resistance was one of the main items in the price reductions. The consumer had become more conscious of prices. There had been more hand-to-mouth buying. There was a tendency to "wait and see" whether prices would come down a bit.

Businessmen and industrialists agreed that the "bloom is off the boom"—that a healthy readjustment is underway.

SPEED PILOT: A New Record?

Joe De Bona, by his own admission was a "scared boy."

And he had every reason to be. He had taken off from Burbank, Calif., in actor Jimmy Stewart's nine-year old plane—a souped-up F-51—at 9:20:30 one morning, and exactly five hours later he was zooming into the airstrip at New York's La Guardia Field.

THE PLANE had a cracked cockpit canopy, dangerously low oil pressure, no oxygen, and gasoline for only seven more minutes of flying when De Bona whistled into the airport at 600 miles per hour. "I'll never try a record flight again," he said. "This was too nerve wracking."

Fred H. Wilkerson, official timer of the National Aeronautical Association, said the NAA would have to decide whether De Bona set a new cross-country record. He said the plane carried no barograph, a locked instrument which shows elapsed time, and that the gasoline tanks were not sealed.

THE OFFICIAL coast-to-coast record for a single reciprocating plane such as De Bona flew is six hours, seven minutes and five seconds, set by Paul Mantz on February 23, 1947, in a flight averaging 401.076 miles per hour.

DEFENSE CHIEF: Has Big Job

Louis Johnson of West Virginia had taken on one of the biggest jobs in the world, and had added to the magnitude of the task when he declared the armed services of the United States would be "united as one."

WELL, JOHNSON, in taking over as secretary of defense, was the man whose job it would be to unify the armed services, but his predecessor, James V. Forrestal, retiring to private life as a banker, hadn't been able to do it.

The fact was that jealousy between the services made it practically impossible to implement a congressional act unifying the army, navy and air corps. However, it was said Johnson would come closer to it than anyone else probably could. It was reported he was ready to adopt a "tough" policy to brass hats in all the services and that if unification were possible, he'd bring it about.

FORRESTAL: Medal From Harry

James V. Forrestal, retiring secretary of defense, received a surprise when he called at the White House to say goodbye to President Harry S. Truman. Mr. Truman planned the Distinguished Service Medal on Forrestal's chest.

The citation read that Forrestal had "materially advanced the security of the nation." Forrestal said it was "beyond me" how he merited it.

New Senator

One of the nation's foremost educators, Dr. Frank E. Graham, has been appointed U. S. senator from North Carolina to succeed the late Sen. J. Melville Broughton. Dr. Graham was president of the University of North Carolina.

RENT BILL: Buck Was Passed

The rent control question was red hot. Congress knew it. The people knew it. But something had to be done before controls expired March 31. Congress had to do something. It did. It passed the buck.

A rent control bill was drafted by the 81st congress, but it laid in the laps of state governors and legislatures the real power and responsibility for rent controls.

EVERYTHING congress wrote into the present bill can be nullified by a governor or a legislature, if they see fit.

The bill continues rent controls for 18 months, or to June 30, 1950. It sets up a "home rule" process for decontrol of states, cities, or other local areas. Legislatures could remove controls throughout a state, or in parts of a state. A city government, or ruling body of other communities, could pass a resolution calling for de-control and, if the state governor approved it, then the federal government would be forced to abolish controls in that community.

The bill requires the housing expediter to fix rents so as to insure landlords a "fair net operating income . . . as far as practicable." However, it restores old OPA powers for the rent expediter to control evictions. This, some congressmen said, would prevent any mass evictions by landlords.

UNDER THE MEASURE, the housing expediter is authorized to sue a landlord for three times the amount of any charge made against a tenant above the legal rent ceiling. Under old law, the tenant had that power, but seldom used it.

The new act does not authorize further 15 per cent "voluntary" increases in rents, and recontrols any dwellings decontrolled under such voluntary leases, at the rent figure contained in such leases.

Veteran's priority for first chance to rent or buy a new property are continued in the bill.

STOCK MARKET: Curb Is Relaxed

The federal reserve board had taken an action that should make the "ribbon clerks" very happy.

"Ribbon clerks" is a name applied by stock market operators to amateurs who seek to engage in the fascinating business of trying to make several bucks grow where only one grew originally.

THE FEDERAL reserve board ruling was that the down payment on purchase of stocks would be reduced from 75 per cent to 50 per cent.

The board had been pressured for several months by the New York stock exchange, its president, Emil Schramm, and securities dealers generally. They had complained that the previous restrictions had thrown markets into the doldrums and that trading had remained at an unusually low level for months.

THIS WAS CONSIDERED an strong indication the board believed inflation had ceased to dominate the economic situation.

Earlier, the board had relaxed restrictions on installment-buying credit, giving a longer term for installments on purchases of automobiles, furniture, refrigerators, washing machines and radios.

Open Season

In Kentucky, a wife may swear out legally a search warrant against her husband, according to an opinion given by Assistant Attorney General Squire N. Williams. Whether this extends to hubby's pockets was not mentioned in the ruling.

Williams declared, in an opinion given Harry R. Burke, a Proctor-King attorney, that he knew of no state statute preventing women taking such actions.

TRUMAN: Still Adamant

President Harry Truman was nothing if not stubborn.

Rebuffed by the senate armed services committee on his appointment of Mon C. Wallgren to head up the national security resources board, Mr. Truman has served notice the fight is not over.

DESPITE THE FACT that senate policy and tradition seldom has taken such a matter to the floor after committee disapproval, it was understood that Mr. Truman was planning to have the issue taken from the committee and fought out on the floor of the senate. Such procedure has been followed, but only rarely, as senate history shows.

The committee, in declining to approve the Wallgren appointment, stated its position was taken only because of its conviction that Mr. Wallgren was not fitted, either by experience or ability, to hold down the vital key post in the national defense setup.

Truman associates said that if other means fail, they expect the President to urge Millard Tydings, Maryland Democrat, chairman of the committee blackballing Wallgren, to take the lead in a fight to relieve the committee of consideration of the nomination.

SEN. WARREN G. MAGNUSON, (D., Wash.) said he thought there was a possibility that some member of the committee majority might be persuaded to let the nomination go before the senate, although with an unfavorable report.

The committee voted 7 to 6 to reject Wallgren's appointment. President Truman's fight for his old fishing crony and senatorial colleague was not expected to begin immediately. Instead, the President was said to be planning to let the matter rest for awhile so he can see what may be done toward out-manoeuvring some of Wallgren's opponents.

Polio "Fowled" Up?

Shown here, a virologist harvests virus of newcastle disease from embryonated chickens. Science thinks that there is a "bare possibility" that an anti-polio vaccine may be developed from the virus of newcastle disease — an ailment which affects young fowls and usually is fatal to them.

CONFERENCE: That's All, Folks

The Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace had ended without any specifically untoward incidents, barring a lot of boozing and a barrowing by rightist elements of the leftist techniques of picketing and heckling.

A DELEGATION of seven Communists representing Russia had attended, among them the great composer Dmitri Shostakovich. Many had argued the Reds should have been denied attendance, despite Shostakovich's presence among them. But calmer heads prevailed, and the Russians came.

But, it appeared, they weren't ready to go home when the party was over. In fact, the 18 foreign delegates were all set to make a nation-wide speaking tour and then return home, "as soon as possible," as they put it.

HOWEVER, U.S. Attorney General Tom Clark notified immigration officials in New York to see to it that the delegates, Russians and all, leave the United States as soon as they could make arrangements.

The seven Russian delegates were notified that their visas did not allow them to tour the nation; but the state department indicated it would consider any application for an extension of their visas.

THE SPONSORS of the "peace conference" said they did not know what the Russian delegates planned to do, but a spokesman said it was expected all four eastern European nations' delegates would depart shortly.

UNREST: Extent All Over

Psychologists and psychiatrists might easily read into the incident a manifestation of the general unrest which is plaguing mankind just now. At any rate, because a Calcutta soccer team defeated a team from a nearby village, a mob of angry villagers attacked and stoned the train the next time it came through the community.

Eleven persons, including two women, were injured.

OSCAR'S TAKING FEWER ASPIRINS THESE DAYS . . . Pact Is Likened to Alcoholics 'Anomnibus' BUT HE'S KEEPING HIS UNIFORM IN MOTHBALLS

By H. I. PHILLIPS

PURKEY ON ATLANTIC PACT

Ex-PFC Oscar Purkey, veteran of the last war, feels better after reading the Atlantic pact, but he still thinks it's smart to keep mothballs in his uniform and not swear off canned eggs for life at this point.

"If the world was in its right mind, in fair health and not so jumpy, this Atlantic pact would be okay," he writes, "but you got to remember that it is in the same shape as Alcoholics Anomnibus holding a street-corner huddle when a liquor truck turns turtle in full view."

"At first I think this Atlantic pact is not serious on account of it is not accompanied by no news that six blocks along First avenue, New York, is to be torn down to make way for a headquarters," his letter continues, "but I find it is on the level and the matter of an official address will be took up later."

any enemy starts playing rough. Personally, when the shooting starts I'd feel nervous if my side were just to confer on the matter. In the next global war, the steak-puncher is going to have a awful head-start on the boys who go into a conference first. But I guess our side will find a way to perfect the jet-propelled huddle so that there will be only a few seconds of elapsed time between the attack and the answer.

"The swell thing about getting eight out of a dozen nations together like this is that at least it ends the day when they would not go far enough out on a limb to give each other their right phone numbers. They now agree not only to do this, but each one promises to answer the phone, no matter who is calling or how hot is it."

"I am sure the pact is a good thing on account of Henry Wallace and the Daily Worker and Russia is giving it the old elbow. If Henry was for it, I would be pretty suspicious. The way it shapes up to me is that with England, France, Canada, the United States, Belgium and those other nations on my side, I can afford to let Henry stay on the bench."

"I can't quite figure out what the Atlantic Pact does to the UN. Everybody says it does nothing serious, but my common sense tells me you can't have two police departments on the same job in the same spot without some difficulties here and there. I hope they work okay together in this case, but one of 'em will want the star's dressing room maybe, and there is apt to be some professional jealousy. If the friction don't start a new war, I will be satisfied."

"All this Atlantic Pact does is to provide an agreement that all the nations outside the galvanized-iron draperies will consult together if

TH prayer I long had prayed God heard,
Yet answered not a word.

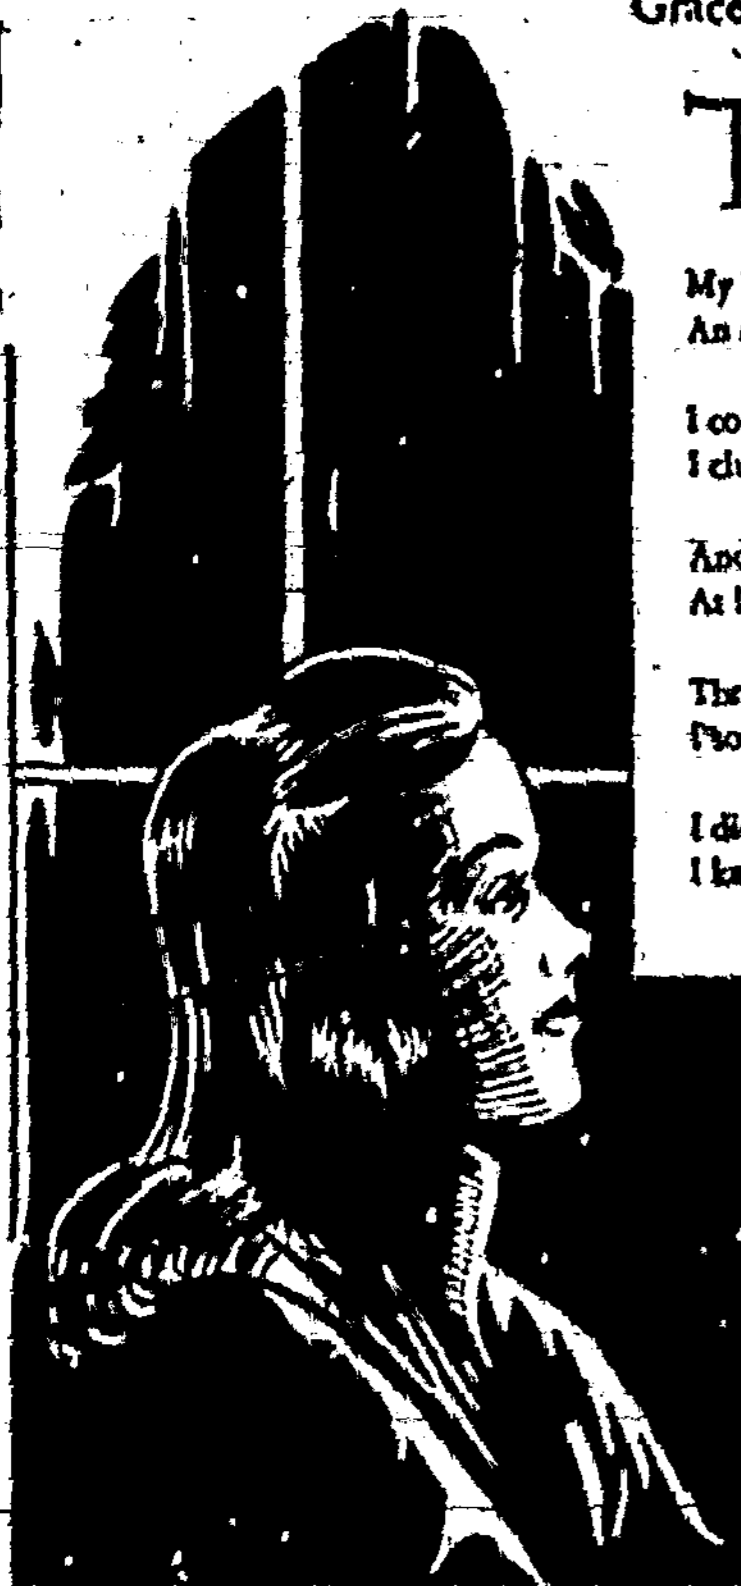

My heart had not been schooled to wait
An answer that came late.

I could not understand! Dismayed,
I clutched His robes and prayed.

And then, strength spent, I kept quite still—
As I had learned His will.

Through strangely silent nights and days
Somehow learned His ways.

I did not hear His voice, yet He,
I know, has answered me.

HAL WALLIS, Anatole Litvak and Kouben Mamoulian will judge the motion picture synopses submitted for the National Five Arts $100,000 award; Norman Corwin, Arch Oboler and Erik Barnouw will pick the best radio scripts. Plays, popular songs and short stories will be judged by equally prominent authorities.

Each sub-contest carries prizes of $2,000, $1,000 and $500, plus up to $70,000 in fellowships as well as professional productions of the winners. For details write to National Five Arts Award, 715 Fifth Ave., New York City. All entries should be sent to that address. Here's a wonderful chance for unknowns!

Anatole Litvak is known for many successful directorial jobs; "Sorry, Wrong Number" and "The Snake Pit" are two recent ones. Wallis has signed Joan Fontaine for "September," to be filmed in Italy in August for Paramount.

Pat Knight thinks maybe it is an omen forecasting her future stardom—during filming of Columbia's "Shockproof" she found a letter in her uniform's pocket, addressed to Joan Crawford, who wore the uniform in "A Woman's Face."

A Moroccan Mishawer, something new in New York parties, launched George Raft's "Outpost in Morocco." Raft against magnificent, authentic background, it is a story of the French Foreign Legion, with plenty of action. The man in the supporting cast, headed by Akim Tamiroff and John Loder, are excellent. Marie Windsor must have been cast only for her looks.

Joanne Dru became an actress because she was too shy to make friends and took dramatic lessons to overcome her shyness. Howard Hawks saw her at a dramatic school, liked her for "Red River."

The Fiction BLUEBEARD'S BET

By Lilliane M. Mitchell

"THEY'RE all curious," insisted Arthur Jordan. "There never lived a woman who wasn't 99-44/100 per cent curiosity. I could quote you a dozen bits of poetry proving the fact."

"For 'goodness' sake, don't!" urged Clem Tate. "I'll take your word for it. Honestly. But Elsie isn't that way. I'm telling you."

"You're the kind that would never be happy with your wife asking you this and looking over your shoulder about in your desk when you're out of the house. I know you."

"Don't speak of Elsie Lyons as 'rooting,' if you please," Clem Tate said coldly. "I'll tell you what. I'll lock the office door and give her the key—since you mention Bluebeard —and then you and I will go out. I'll keep the key of the corridor door, however, and we'll come in again and sit here. I'll tell her not to use that key at all. See? Then if she is as curious as you say, she'll come bouncing in a la Made-moiselle Bluebeard or whatever her name was and we'll be sitting right inside here."

"O.K. with me," said Arthur Jordan. "She'll be in here and don't you forget I told you so. I'd as soon have a homelier girl and one who wasn't so careless anyhow. She's decorative but she'd forget her head if it weren't for the curls there."

Now Elsie Lyons was pretty. She knew that fact as well as anyone else. Fluffy golden hair framed a heart-shaped face with a pointed chin below a widow's peak of hair at the upper edge. Her great grey eyes turned to pansy-color at times. But looks and business efficiency do not always go hand in hand unfortunately and Elsie ran about ninety-nine and forty-four one-hundredths per cent girl and fifty-six one-hundredths per cent efficiency.

"I am locking the door to the private office, Miss Lyons," said Clem Tate distinctly. "I want no one to go in there. No one. Is that clear, Miss Lyons. Here is the key."

"Certainly, Mr. Tate," she said demurely, placing the key in her desk drawer.

The two young men walked resolutely into the outer corridor and the outside door swung too gently behind them.

"Well, Bluebeard, how about it?" asked Jordan when he put the key into the door to the private office. As the door swung open they both looked in eagerly. They heard the telephone in the outer office. Silently they sat down and Jordan gave his partner a poke in the ribs when Clem Tate looked too triumphant as the moments passed.

lowed him and they made their way silently into the outer corridor again.

"Well, was I right, Jordan?" asked Clem.

"You win, Bluebeard—er, I mean, non-Bluebeard," said Jordan. "Say, I've got to have a breath of air after that self-imposed silence. I think maybe we both like talking a little better than we thought we did. I had a thousand things I wanted to tell you while we sat there. But as for your charming little Elsie—she's the real thing all right, all right. Never even clicked the key in the lock, did she? Or looked through the key-hole at us?"

Jordan ambled towards the elevators with a wave of his hand. Clem

Tate stood an instant at the outer door and then entered the suite of offices. He hurried through to the door of the private office and tried the knob.

"Oh—" he said, "Miss Lyons, I forgot that this door is locked. Let me have the key, will you, please?"

"I'm so sorry, Mr. Tate. But I simply can't think what I did with that key. There was a telephone call the moment you left and I looked for the key so that I could—could—er—lay the message on your desk."

"But I said not to go in." She laughed gently. Dimples peeped in and out charmingly. She bent again and then with a sigh she murmured: "Oh! Here it is! I'm so careless!"
