Edward L. Queen

Expressions of sorrow and regret were heard everywhere when it became known that Mr. Edward L. Queen had passed away suddenly last Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock, at the home of his sister and brother in law, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lemon.

The Queens moved here recently from California, and were installing some mining machinery at White Oaks, where they are making preparations to open their mine. Mr. Queen had expressed a desire to go down into the mine, but his sons persuaded him to wait a few days. He had seemed in good spirits Friday, but a sudden heart attack proved fatal within a few short minutes.

The family is well known here and highly regarded by a host of friends, especially among the old timers who knew them in the years of White Oaks' golden prosperity of 1907 and 1902 and later.

Mr. Queen was a mining engineer of ability, with skill to achieve, and capability to carry out and devise to a special degree in his chosen profession.

Gravelside services were held last Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in the White Oaks cemetery, with Rev. Harry L. Webb in charge. Mr. Clyde Brawster sang his favorite hymn, "Blessed Assurance, Jesus is Mine." Rev. Webb quod words of the song "Gold Mine in the Sky."

Pal bearers were Messrs. J. H. Palmer, John E. Wright, D. L. Jackson, W. O. Gallacher, James Cooper and Herman E. Kelt, Sr.

Flower women were Mesdames Roy E. Shafer, Wm. Gallacher and Glenneth Stokes.

Relatives who came from a distance to be present at the last rites were Mr. and Mrs. James Lee and son Alton, and wife from Douglas, Arizona; a niece, Mrs. Gladys Schlunegger from San Bernardino, California; and hosts of old timers from all over Lincoln County.

Rev. Harry Webb who conducted funeral services read the following obituary:

Edward Lawrence Queen was born in Pueblo, Colorado, August 10th, 1881, and departed this life at Carrizozo, April 22, 1949, at the age of 67 years, 8 months and 12 days. While a small boy he moved with his parents to San Antonio, New Mexico, later to White Oaks where he grew to manhood. On January 1st, 1902, he was united in marriage to Miss Mae Lee, who survived him. In addition to his faithful companion of 47 years, he is survived by 1 daughter, Mrs. E. Whitwell; two sons: Lawrence L. and Donald J., 1 grandchild, Donald Queen and 1 grand-daughter, Carol Lynn Queen, all of whom reside at White Oaks.

Mr. Queen together with D. L. Jackson and the late A. A. Lane were associated for a number of years in the ownership and operation of the North and South Homesteads mined at White Oaks.

In 1918 he with his family moved to Douglas, Arizona, and later to Los Angeles, California. Since that time he had been engaged in the mining industry in California, New Mexico, Arizona, and Nevada. He recently returned to become associated with his sons, nephew and A. E. Baker of Los Angeles, in the operating of mines at White Oaks. He was well known in the Southwestern States as a mining engineer. His return here was especially pleasing to him as it gave him an opportunity to return to the mountains among which he had spent the greater part of his life.

Brother Edward Lawrence Queen united with the White Oaks M. E. Church South, August 20th, 1902. He was a man of sterling integrity, a fond and loving husband and father, and will be sorely missed by the sorrowing family and a host of friends.

More than half (51.4%) of the families in the U. S. haven't waited for a Federal housing agency to build them a home. They own their own. In fact, since the war, began there has been an increase of 25% in home ownership.

A year ago, in 1947 for example, two million two hundred thousand people bought homes at an average price of $7500-$8500. 880,000 of these homes were purchased by veterans. Over 4/5 of a million of these new home owners earned less than $3000. per year.

AN EXHIBITION OF PASTELS WAS HELD IN CORONA SUNDAY

Alfred Morang, Santa Fe painter, writer, and lecturer, who will be present as guest artist for a gallery talk at the opening reception of "An Exhibition of Pastels," 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. Sunday, April 24, in the Music Room, Grade School building, is unusual among New Mexico painters in that he is one of the half dozen or so impressionist painters of the State. Working in this approach, he has evolved an individual technique by which he produces vibrant landscapes, unusual figure studies, and interesting experiments in abstraction. Oil is his principal medium, although he uses some water color and enamel, and works extensively in pen and ink and drypoint.

Mr. Morang's most important teachers were Carroll S. Tyson, outstanding Philadelphia Impressionist and collector, and the late Henry E. Inell, N. A., one of the better known landscape teachers of modern times.

A writer as well as an artist, Morang has published articles and stories in more than 100 magazines and newspapers since he began writing early in his career. He has illustrated his own work, some of Erskine Caldwell's, and poems by John Poda and Joseph Hoffman. His book, "Adventure in Drawing," was accepted as the textbook by the State Department of Education.

Alfred Morang's birthplace is Ellsworth, Maine. In 1929 he moved to Portland where, besides teaching violin and art, he organized group exhibitions including his own work and that of other painters interested in contemporary tendencies. There he married Dorothy Aldeh Clark, also a musician and a painter.

Since Morang came to New Mexico in 1930, his work has been shown throughout the Southwest at the University of Denver, Museum of New Mexico, University of New Mexico, and other galleries. He won two first and two second prizes in landscape at New Mexico State Fair exhibitions. In the East, his paintings are shown regularly in New York City at the Hall of Art and at the Guggenheim Foundation for Non-Objective Painting; and on the West Coast by the Decker Flynn Galleries in Hollywood. In the New England States, Morang has exhibited at the Boston Art Club and in the West End Art Gallery in Boston. The Philadelphia Print Society and the Miniature Print Society exhibit his prints.

In Santa Fe, Morang conducts his own art school. In addition, he does a weekly Friday evening broadcast over station KTRC, "The World of Art," and writes a feature art article and a weekly column "Art in the News" for the Santa Fe News. For the past three seasons Mr. Morang has been art lecturer for the Museum of New Mexico traveling exhibitions.

POPPY DAY IN CAPITAN

Preparation for the observance of Poppy Day, May 7, have been completed in every detail. Mr. Hall of the Capitan Drug store, has very generously donated his store windows for advertising our sale. There you will soon see the poppies growing "between the Cresses row on row."

The poppies to be offered for sale on May 7 are exact replicas of the wild poppies which grew in the battle cemeteries of France and Belgium during World War I. They were nature's floral tribute to those who died and as soon as the American Legion and Auxiliary were organized, the flower became our memorial emblem. When more young Americans gave their lives in Europe's poppy-studded fields in World War II the poppy became their memorial flower too, and it now signifies remembrance for America's War dead no matter in what part of the world they gave their lives.

The poppies to be sold here are the work of disabled veterans in the Ft. Bayard hospital. The Veteran not only earns badly needed money by making the little red flower but the employment is considered valuable as occupational therapy.

Wont you wear a Poppy on May 7 and help this worthy cause?

Jesus Is King

Lesson for May 1, 1949

IT IS A SIN to tell the truth out of season. So declares a famous Protestant creed. It is not always good nor wise to tell everybody everything you know.

Keeping your mouth shut may be one of the best things you ever do, Jesus himself knew how to keep a secret till time to tell it. He never uttered an untruth about himself, but for a long time he did not openly declare his conviction, in spite of being pestered to say Yes or No about it.

The question was: Are you the Messiah? This was the same as asking, Are you the King? Jesus would not say Yes, because the mere word would be taken to mean "revolutionist" or traitor. But he would not say No, because he was a king; indeed of all men he had the best right to the title.

Dr. Foreman

Royal Entrance

BUT WHEN the time came, Jesus did declare himself king in a spectacular way. We know the story as the "Triumphal Entry into Jerusalem," the story of Palm Sunday, now so fresh in our minds. Jesus lived in a nation of people who were familiar with the meaning of symbols, both in word and action.

When Jesus rode into the ancient capital where his forefathers reigned, astride a male colt, the people knew, and he knew they would know, that this was not just somebody riding a mule on a Sunday morning. In the history of the Hebrews, mules were the steeds of kings.

King Solomon was crowned riding on a mule. There was a famous prophecy (Zech. 9:9) that when Jerusalem's great king should come, he would be riding on just such a royal steed. So when Jesus rode into Jerusalem, the people threw their palm branches and shouted their welcome, not to the teacher and prophet, but to the King.

Tears in Triumph

IT WAS NOT altogether a victorious occasion. Jesus knew too well how cheap and easy "demonstrations" can be. In his mind's eye he could see a cross standing outside Jerusalem, and in his inner ear he could hear this same dusty-throated mob, now shouting "Hosanna!" yelling instead "Crucify him!" Tears stood in Jesus' eyes. But they were not tears for himself; he never wasted energy in self-pity. They were tears for that blind city, tears for its coming destruction — the city that did not know the way to peace.

Master of the Temple

BOLDER THAN JESUS' triumphal entry was what he did inside the city. It was one thing to claim royal rights over the nation; but at the temple Jesus' claims reached far higher. It should be remembered that in the eyes of all Jews at that time the Temple was also a holy place. It represented the dwellingplace of the invisible God. Now the priests at the time were more profiteers and politicians than priests. They carried on what today we call a "racket" in the sale of animals for sacrifice and in changing the ordinary money of all countries into the local Jewish shekel (in which coin alone could temple offerings be paid).

The racket was notorious; every decent Jew hated the priestly profiteers. But no one had ever done anything about it, for that would mean assuming an authority over the temple that no man dared to assume.

But Jesus took it on himself. His direct and even violent action in smashing the racketeering ring was a mark of something more than ordinary self-confidence. He laid claim to being no less than the Master of God's Temple. He was acting in the name of God and with the authority of God.

Master of Man

WHEN THE CHRISTIAN church calls Jesus "Lord" and "King" today, we are making no claim for him which he did not make for himself. What we mean by these titles is that Jesus Christ, for us and for all men, is the authority above all others.

Elevators Found Helpful on Farms

Perform Most of Heavy Lifting, Transport Jobs

On today's electrified farms, elevators perform most of the heavy lifting and short transportation jobs. Although used for a number of years to some extent, these devices did not acquire widespread popularity until World War II.

It was during the worst of the manpower shortage period that elevators were used most. They answered the demands of older men for mechanical help to replace employees called to service. And they saved the day for younger farmers in helping them save time for more important production tasks.

This photo shows how baled hay can be raised with an inclined plane elevator.

Farm elevators are either portable or stationary. In general, motors for portable elevators range in size from one-half to one horsepower. Tests made at Idaho state college indicate that an average load of grain can be emptied and cribbed by one man in from six to eight minutes with the aid of a portable elevator.

Elevators also are used for raising or moving a wide variety of farm produce, including hay, loose or sacked grain.

The use of elevators in farm work has been found highly desirable because of the freeing of labor for other tasks and the amount of time saved over the run of a crop year.

DN-289 Efficient

Typical injury on fruit from eye-spotted bud moth.

The development of a new and efficient dinitro fungicide and insecticide for orchard use has been announced by the manufacturer, Dow chemical company.

The chemical is the triethanolamine salt of dinitro-sec-butylphenol and is effective against a wide range of fruit pests and diseases. First used experimentally during the 1942 season, the compound is now ready for commercial use under the trade name DN-289. It is available as a stable, clear solution which contains eight ounces actual dinitro-sec-butylphenol in each quart and which is readily miscible with water.

DN-289 has shown high efficiency as an insecticide for use in the dormant period against a variety of insects such as the rosy apple aphid, the currant aphid, the black cherry aphid, the mealy plum aphid, eye spotted bud moth, the cherry case-bearer, the pear psylla and oyster shell scale on apple and lilac. It also has given very promising results in control of the San Jose scale, scurfy scale and the eggs of the European red mite. As a fungicide, DN-289 has been used successfully for the control of sooty blotch on pears.

The amounts of the compound required to attain good control ranges from one quart to two quarts in 100 gallons of water. Aphids are controlled with one quart, while two quarts are needed to kill bud moths, case-bearer and the pear psylla. Heavier concentrations may be needed to control oyster shell scale.

Research workers are conducting extensive tests to find other insects and diseases that may be controlled with the chemical.

Ladino Clover Produces Better if Bee-Visited

Ladino clover on which bees were allowed to work freely produced 40 times as much seed as that from which bees were excluded, according to an experiment conducted by Dr. H. A. Scullen.

From 100 clover seed heads worked by bees he obtained 13,848 seeds, while from 100 heads screened against bees he got only 366 seeds, or fewer than four seeds per head.

Spring Meal Salads Should Be Kept Crisp, Always Look Delectable

HAVE YOU ever eaten salads that looked as though they had been pawed over too thoroughly in the making? Or have they warmed and wilted before reaching the table?

No matter how good the salad originally may have been, if it suffers from either of these faults, no one is going to enjoy it. The salad should be crisp and neat. Garnish it, yes, but don't over-do it or the salad will lose its much desired freshness.

The ingredients for a salad as well as the plate, bowl or platter on which it's served should be given a thorough chilling in the refrigerator. Save the salad's finishing touches for the very last preparation before serving the meal.

For the heavy meals, your best choice is a cold, crisp tossed salad. This may be made entirely of greens. You may add any of the following ingredients to a simple green salad: sliced or quartered tomatoes; cucumbers, sliced very thin; radishes; green onions; or grapefruit or orange sections.

GREENS WHICH ARE often used in a salad may consist of tender hearts of lettuce, endive, chicory, romaine, celery and water-cress. Toss these together with a well-seasoned French dressing made as follows:

- French Dressing (Makes 1 quart)
- 5 tablespoons honey
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 1 tablespoon dry mustard
 - 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
 - Dash of tobacco sauce
 - 1 tablespoon paprika
 - 2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar
 - 1/2 cup distilled vinegar
 - 1 can condensed tomato soup
 - 1 1/2 cups salad oil
 - 1 clove garlic

Mix all ingredients together. Place in a quart jar, store in refrigerator and use as needed. Shake well before using. Here's a beautiful salad bowl around which you'll enjoy building the whole meal!

A VEGETABLE MEDLEY as pretty as the season itself goes into this next salad arrangement.

- Spring Salad Bowl (Serves 6)
- 2 cups cooked peas
 - 6 cooked cauliflowerets
 - 2 cups cooked green beans
 - 2 tomatoes, peeled and sliced
 - French or Roquefort dressing
 - 1 head lettuce
 - Watercress
 - Radish roses

Marinate vegetables, each one separately in French dressing for one hour in a cold place. Line

Dramatize your salad greens by teasing them in a bowl and giving them a few dashes of well-seasoned French dressing. Color may be added to the different shades of a green salad with tomato wedges, carrot strips or grated hard-cooked eggs.

salad bowl with the outside leaves of lettuce, and place four lettuce cups around the center of the bowl. Fill each one with one of the vegetables and garnish the center

LYNN SAYS:

Use these Combinations For Delicious Salads

Garnishes for a salad add nourishment as well as beauty. Try some of these: asparagus spears marinated in French dressing, paper thin slices of onion, dipped in paprika, stalks of endive stuffed with Roquefort cheese paste, and grated carrots.

Cream or cottage cheese add protein to a meat-ry meal when mixed with chopped chives and sour cream. Serve in a lettuce cup.

A chilly entrée using left-over ham and other salad ingredients is a welcome platter on a warm humid day. It provides vitamins and minerals for pep and zip, and makes delightful eating.

of the bowl with watercress and radish roses.

- Fresh Fruit Salad Bowl (Serves 4)
- 2 bananas, cut lengthwise
 - 4 slices avocado
 - Lemon juice
 - 1 head celery, shredded
 - 4 long strips cantaloupe
 - 4 slices pineapple
 - 3 orange segments
 - 12 black cherries
 - 12 honeydew melon balls
 - French dressing

Dip banana and avocado in lemon juice. Line a salad bowl with chicory and on this arrange the banana and cantaloupe. Alternate pineapple, avocado and oranges in the bowl. Make a nest of the cherries and garnish with the melon balls. Serve with dressing.

Cottage cheese is the base of this next salad, accompanied by greens and fruits. It's nice to serve Sunday evening for supper or for luncheon on a warm day.

Cottage Cheese-Fruit Salad (Serves 6)

- 1 grapefruit, segmented
 - 2 oranges, segmented
 - 1 avocado, pared and sliced
 - 1/2 head lettuce
 - 1/2 head French endive
 - 1/2 bunch watercress
 - 1 1/2 cups cottage cheese
 - Sour cream
 - French dressing
- Marinate fruits in French dressing and chill. Toss together all salad greens in salad bowl and pile cottage cheese which has been mixed with sour cream, in center of greens.

VARIATIONS: Use tomato wedge, orange segments, Use pineapple spears and strawberries instead of grapefruit and avocado. Use fresh figs and ripe cherries instead of avocado.

Ham or chicken may be combined with other salad essentials to give you delightful main dish salads for warm days. They're a wonderful idea for using leftovers.

Ham Mousse (Serves 6)

- 2 tablespoons gelatin
- 2 1/2 cups bouillon
- 2 teaspoons grated onion
- 2 1/2 cups cooked ham, ground
- 1/2 cup celery, chopped
- 1/2 cup radishes, sliced
- 1/2 cup green pepper, chopped
- 1/2 cup real mayonnaise

Soften gelatin in one-fourth cup cold bouillon. Heat to boiling the remainder of the bouillon and add to gelatin mixture. Chill. When beginning to jell, add onion, ham, celery, radishes and green pepper. Fold in real mayonnaise and pour into a mold. Chill until set. Unmold on platter, garnish with watercress and radish roses. Serve with mustard mayonnaise, made by mixing three-fourths cup of real mayonnaise with one-fourth cup mustard-with-horseradish.

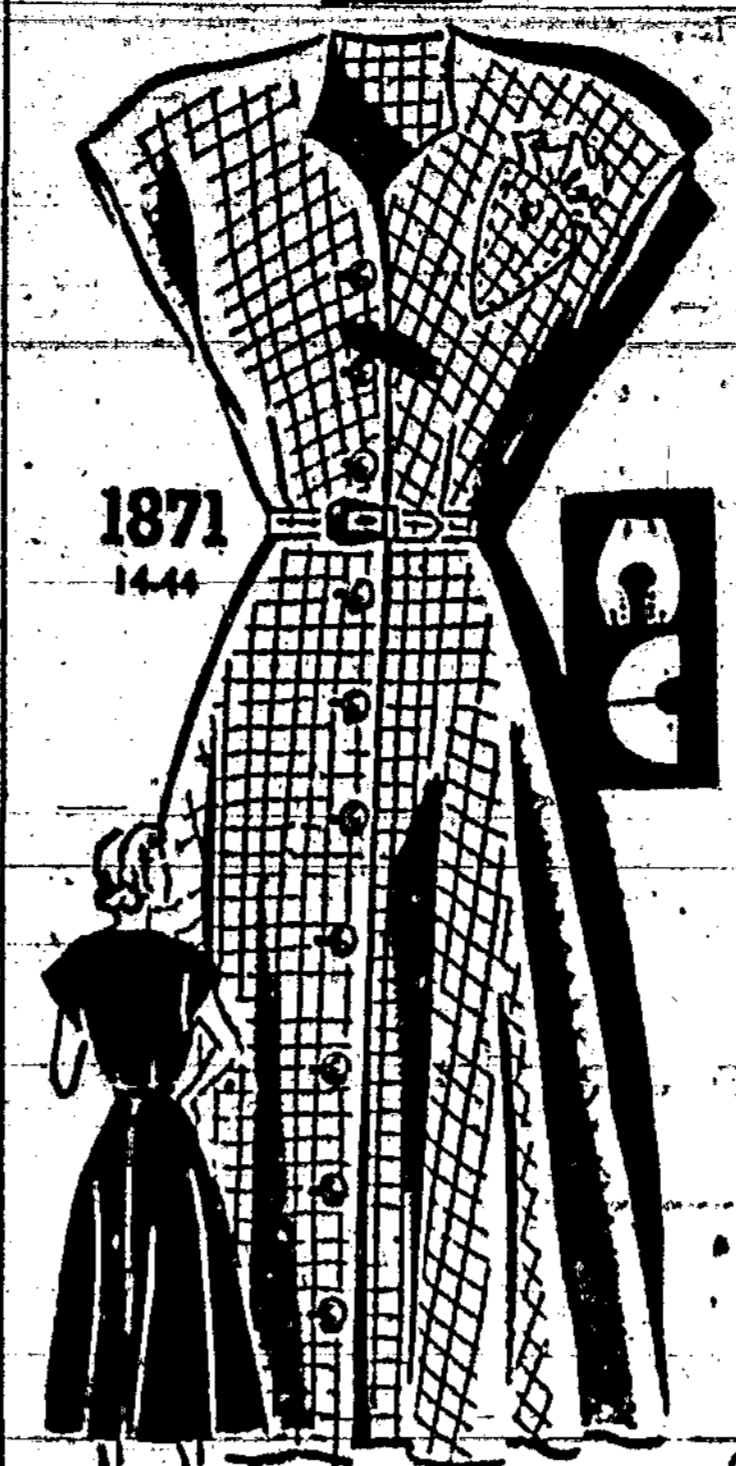

Scoop out cucumbers and fill with tuna fish salad. Serve with potato chips, sliced, hard-cooked eggs and tomato slices.

Fruit salad dessert idea: melon balls, white grapes, strawberries, pineapple spears, peach halves and scoops of sherbet.

Cold meat platters may form the base of a salad. Use summer sausage, liver sausage, baked ham, and sliced tongue for one platter.

Stretch chicken salad and add interesting flavor to it by using with half as many cooked sweetbreads

Chemists Surpass Natural 'Scents'

Until recently it took almost 25 tons of violets to produce a single ounce of essence, or natural oil—and a ton of roses produced only 10 ounces of rose oil. Moreover, to date no one has been successful in extracting lily-of-the-valley or lilac fragrances from the blossoms because the natural oils of these flowers are too delicate to survive the process.

However, modern chemists can synthesize these—and many other scents known and unknown in nature—by means of coal tar compounds.

Over one and a half million motor vehicles, one out of every twenty registered in the nation, are operated by the government—1 million by Federal units alone. Stretched bumper to bumper on superhighways criss-crossing the country, they would extend from San Diego to Bangor and from Miami to Seattle and the taxpayer could use the sidewalk. Maryland Tax Review. By the way, what became of that bill in the New Mexico Legislature which required State Departments to buy one of the lower priced automobiles?

LABOR MANAGEMENT FARM BUREAU FORUM

On March 25 and 26, at Carlsbad, there will be held a forum for the discussion of problems involving labor, management and agriculture. Undoubtedly such discussions will mean much to the general welfare of our communities and our Nation, and while it is not intended that the discussions will result in any definite recommendations or resolutions, it will furnish a distinct contribution to problems affecting the economy of the State and especially of the Southeastern part.

AIR FORCE CAREER PLAN ALMOST READY FOR IMPLEMENTATION

HQ., 509TH BOMB WING (M), WALKER AFB, ROSWELL, NEW MEXICO, April 20—The new Air Force career plan for warrant officers and sergeants is 90 percent complete, according to word received from Strategic Air Command Headquarters. The program is now in the stage of review and revision of directives, forms, and procedures effected. The new program is expected to be implemented between September of this year and January, 1950.

The basic principles utilized in the career plan will be a flexible classification structure; aptitudes, abilities, and interests will figure in selection, classification, training and assignment; airmen will be stabilized in fields, eliminating wasteful training; and the promotion policy will be more liberal for qualified personnel.

The Career Fields will be broken down into administration, finance, statistical, legal, transportation, supply, radar maintenance, radio maintenance, instrument and intricate equipment maintenance, automotive and related equipment, utilities, and others. Within these Career Fields, further specification will be made as to the exact job performed, by notation of the numbers system presently used.

Another step in the career plan will be the re-naming of enlisted and warrant grades. Privates will be known as Airmen, 4th class, privates first class will be airmen, 3rd class, etc.

It is also contemplated that persons with particular skill and efficiency in their jobs will be given special increases in pay rather than grade promotions. Thus, a good mechanic, or other worker, who deserves recognition but is not qualified to be an NCO will be duly rewarded for good work.

It is expected that the complete career plan will be published in the very near future.

NEW MEXICO NOTES

From A. Wheel Chair
By: Katherine B. Mabry

The hearts of all of us who read the tragic story of little Kathy, rescuee were deeply stirred. We waited for the radio news hour or for the next paper to tell us whether this help for little child had been rescued from the deep well into which she had fallen. Men from miles around dropped their work and hastened to help in the rescue work. Perhaps some who came thought in the spirit of the theatrical more than in terms of an unselfish desire to help rescue a helpless child.

But, most of the volunteers were there because something deeply imbedded in the souls of all of us was tugging at their heartstrings. It was the desire to aid with all they could the powerless and the innocent. These men worked long hours and hard at the task, even when they knew that there was little hope of finding little Kathy alive.

No one asked who would pay the bill for the labor or the machinery employed in the work. "Money couldn't hire men to toil like that—here's a place money has no value," said one of the men directing the rescue. Hundreds stood by ready to take the place of others exhausted at the work. All these men knew—cared about just then, was that a little three year old girl had slipped and fallen into the narrow well and that somebody had to dig down beside this and make another and larger excavation and do it quickly if little Kathy was to be saved.

How fine it would be if human generosity could perform as well, and as spontaneously, under the many, equally trying, if less dramatic, circumstances, which face us every day. It is expecting too much, perhaps, that there should be a sustained public interest in child welfare and child safety in the abstract sense. We need to have tragedy brought close to home, where we can see it clearly or at least where we can know some of our friends whom it has touched, before we can be made to realize what sorrow tragedy brings to its victims.

The mother and father of little Kathy just didn't stop to think that an open, uncovered well was a hazard in their child's playground. They didn't think it could happen to their little girls, or, they thought, perhaps, some day they would get around to covering the hole and making it safe.

I suppose that millions of mothers and fathers will now, for a while at least, think of danger spots at playgrounds and about the home where their own child might be injured; and many will take steps to remedy conditions. But it took the life of a little child to awaken in many of us these simple thoughts of care which we should constantly entertain. How many mothers have now inquired of the safety of the school where their little tots go since the terrible fire disaster of the Effingham, Illinois hospital a few days ago.

It seems that the soft caress of fortune and smooth sailing never awakens within us the fine instinct of thoughtfulness and caution which sudden and unexpected disaster can inspire. It is too bad that we have not yet found a substitute for the shock of tragedy to save us from these terrible avoidable accidents. No one can know how many lives little Kathy has saved, in giving up her own.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How To Cut Out The Cut-Ups

Our school principal, Miss Cooper, believes in putting kids on their honor. She told me, "It works better than threats—providing you weed out the few incorrigible ones and teach them a lesson."

"I made three very bad boys get all dressed up in baby clothes," she said, "diapers and all. If they wanted to behave like babies then they should look like babies. That cured them."

Reminded me of the Brewers' Program of Self-Regulation. The brewers and tavern keepers are "on their honor." Most of them want to be "good boys" in their communities. So they cooperate in maintaining wholesome surroundings wherever beer and ale are sold, and make a real effort to live up to their responsibilities.

From where I sit, there'll always be a few "bad boys" in every walk of life, but they're mostly the exception to the rule, and they usually don't last long.

A BUTTON MAY MAKE GROMYKO A YES MAN... What if Science Could Control Man's Thoughts? ...OR A RAY MIGHT MAKE HARRY CHEER KREMLIN

By H. I. PHILLIPS

SCIENCE AND THOUGHT CONTROL

WITHOUT assuming any mantle of prophecy, it is fair to suggest that ability to control man's thoughts with precision through science is by no means out of the question. This is more awesome in its interpretations than was the mushroom cloud in 1945.—Dr.

John Ely Hurchard, Dean of Humanities at Massachusetts Tech. There goes that gooseflesh creeping up our spine again!

Say it ain't so, doctor! Tell us you don't really mean that the laboratory will find a way to throw a switch and make a man's thoughts come out the designated slot! Admit you are not serious in contemplating a day when a button may turn a yes man into a no man, nice as it might be to see in converting Gromyko—presto—from a no man into a yes man!

Or is it to be done by rays? Turned, by Joe Stalin, onto President Truman, might they halt Harry in the middle of a stern "We intend to stand by to the bitter end" and bring forth an abrupt cry, "Hooryay for the Kremlin!"

Do you see a time when the Thirteen Men of Moscow, giving uproarious approval to a Pravda editorial denouncing America, may, under a magic ray in the hands of Uncle Sam, suddenly glow with anger and order the Pravda editorial writer shot at once?

Is the time near when Vishinsky, loaded with epithets and rising to execrate the democracies, will, due to a current, a ray or an isotope, break into a broad smile and say, "Ladies and gentlemen, I am just a Happiness Boy. There is nothing in this world like friendship. See what the boys in the backroom will have!"

Can Henry Wallace, mounting the platform, be reached by a mystery beam and his address denouncing ERP, the Truman administration and the Atlantic pact converted into a talk on how to produce better laying hens?

We see the following possibilities:
1.—Moscow issues orders for the complete seizure of China. The Chinese Communist general gets it, but Washington calls on its Thought Control tower, centers the beam on him and renders the general incapable of saying anything but "Nuts!"
2.—The politburo prepares to issue a blast at America. Under the Thought Blitzer the boys cannot think of the words "Wall Street," "Money, Bund" or "Exploiters." This leaves them completely helpless.

3.—A new play opens on Broadway. It is lousy. But the producer has scientific connections. He controls the thoughts of the critics to such an extent they can't even dismiss it as "adequate."

4.—We go to the races with the right combination in the Daily Double. It is 2 and 6. The guy at the window who has a thought control apparatus fills our skull with the numbers 4 and 7.
(P. S.—Nothing keeps us sane except the fact that the winning combination turns out to be 5 and 8.)

Governor Dewey recently vetoed off-track New York racing bills. After his experience last November he may have felt there was ample opportunity for losing in this country without changing the laws.

Whiskey prices have been slashed in 14 states. This brings a high-ball down to where you can complete the payment on it in 11 months instead of 15.

It probably will be a long time before a return to the day when evidence that a man was under the influence of alcohol was not proof he belonged in the upper brackets.
Have you heard of the fellow who is so suspicious of everything he taps his phone to hear his own remarks?

TRIBUTE

Grace Hill Crowell

NO finer tribute ever could be given Than that brief simple utterance of praise. God asks no greater service than this: Leave To raise the standard of men's earthly days. David, the king, "had served his generation"— Straightforward words that shine in his behalf. More challenging in their edification Than any chiseled-marble epitaph.

To serve one's generation, to be giving New strength and courage to one's fellow-man, To tread life's highroad bravely, ever living With one clear purpose, one exalted plan, Will rear for any man a shaft so high Its climbing peak will reach and pierce the sky.

Star Dust

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD
"A YANKEE at King Arthur's Court" has been screened three times; Paramount's new version is the best of the three. Done in Technicolor, with delightful new songs, it stars Bing Crosby, Sir Cecil Hardwick, Rhonda Fleming and William Bendix. Sir Cecil, superb in his comedy role as the king, raises his voice in song and also appears with bare knees, something new for him, though he said recently at luncheon that it's the second time the knees have appeared publicly. The first time was on the stage, when he wore a Roman toga. This is a picture for the whole family to enjoy, expertly directed and acted, beautifully staged.

Paramount will tell movie audiences about 11 of its new pictures in a nine-minute short, "Eyes on Hollywood," starring Alan Ladd and Mary Jane Saunders, it depicts the thrills of a child seeing the inside workings of a studio the first time. Stars, directors, everybody will be seen in special scenes. The film will be available to theaters without charge.
King, dog veteran of numerous landings in the Pacific during the war, makes his screen debut in "After Midnight." In his first scene he leaped at Alan Ladd, tore his leather jacket to shreds, and hung on in a struggle on the ground—then, when Director Mitchell Leisen called "Cut," King immediately relaxed his grip and tried to lick Ladd's face!
Another animal actor celebrated his 13th birthday the other day, on the set of Monogram's "The Kid Came West." He was Rebel, the black horse used by Johnny Mack Brown and his birthday cake was made of straw, with carrots for candles.

The Fiction Corner ARTISTIC ANCESTORS

By Richard H. Wilkinson

"I WISH," said Aime Butterworth wistfully. "I only wish there had been some one in our family who really did something, something worth while, something—" she smiled as she said it—"I could brag about."
Fred Butterworth laid aside the morning paper, gulped down the last of his coffee, shoved back his chair and said: "What?"
Aime overlooked his rudeness. "The bridge club meets here this afternoon," she said, "and I dread it. I dread it because Aggie and Gertrude Wilcox will monopolize the conversation with stories of their ancestors."
Fred scratched his chin and contemplated the wistful look in his wife's eyes. Suddenly he banged the table. "By George, I'd almost forgotten it! Darned if I hadn't. You sit here a minute, sweet, till I rummage around in the attic. I'll give you something to brag about!"
Later he returned with a book. "But what is it?" asked Aime. "It's a book of poetry, that's what it is! Written by my mother and published 20 years ago. There's talent in my family, I'll have you know."

Aime's eyes lighted, then glowed with sudden joy. "Fred! You dear! Is it really? Was your mother really a poet? Oh, why didn't you tell me before! It's just too exciting!"
Fred grinned delightedly. Enroute to the station he began to smile. And by the time he had boarded the 8:15 the smile had developed into an occasional chuckle. Tom Cooke, who usually sat with Fred during the short run to the city, became curious.
"Say what's eating you this morning? Let a man in on it if you've got something that'll fetch a laugh these dull days."
Fred laughed outright. "I'll tell you, Tom. It's too good to keep. But don't on your life breathe a word. It would kill Aime."
TOM MADE SOLEMN promises and cocked his ear. "Well," said Fred, "Aime was upset this morning because she didn't have anything to brag about at her bridge club. The other members, it seems, have artistic ancestors. It made Aime feel bad to think she married into such an uninteresting family, so I dug into an old trunk and produced a book of poems that mother published 20 years ago, and told her to brag about that."

Tom looked puzzled. "What's wrong with that? I'd say a mother-in-law poet was O.K."

"But here's the rub," Fred grinned. "That book of poems is an old manuscript that belonged to my grandmother. After grand-mother died, mother found the script, thought the poems were worthy of publication, added a few of her own choice verses, and submitted the retyped copy to a publisher. Mrs. Publisher ate the stuff up."
"Mother was thrilled. She thought she must have real talent, and went down to the library to study up and read the masters. While perusing a volume of Walt Whitman she discovered some of the very poems that her mother had supposedly written.

"Of course," mother immediately wired the publisher, advising him to cancel manufacturing the book, and explaining that her mother "must have copied some of her favorite Whitman poems, in order to save them. But Mr. Publisher had already printed about 2000 copies, which were ready for distribution. Mother bought up the edition and destroyed all but one, which she kept for sentimental reasons. That one is the book I gave Aime this morning."

SALT LAKE CITY—This little rascal, Timber Ferreo, has an odd name for a girl—and she occasionally takes an odd way to get her dinner. Almost up to the bottleweaning stage, Timber is like a lot of other babies her age; she hates to give up her Evenflo bottle for more adult ways of eating.
Child specialists are beginning to feel that as long as a baby shows a need to suck he should be permitted to do so. The tendency today is to let babies decide for themselves when they are ready to give up the bottle, just as they are also allowed to decide how much food they will take and at what intervals.
