V. F. W. Party

Lawson D. Fish

The Norton Pepper Post No. 1480, Veterans of Foreign Wars is developing a reputation in this area for producing exceptionally fine parties and the affair which took place the seventh of May did much to add to that reputation. Parties are thrown on the slightest provocation. Following an old established custom, the guest list was composed of only members of the VFW and their invited guests. Attendance was by invitation. Everyone danced to the music of a very good string band.

The occasion for the party was the birthday of our Commandant, James Thompson. Jim insisted that he is only 39 years old, but those of us who know him (and who jokingly) are sure that he is at least 30 or 31. Red Burnett ventured the information that no matter how old he is, he is old enough to know better.

About eleven in the evening a beautifully decorated cake three feet long, two feet wide, and very high was brought into the main assembly room. Covered with tin, blue candles, all lighted, and generously decorated with blue and white icing, the cake made a picture that would cause even the toughest of Veterans to ponder the obvious respect of the men who had selected him for their leader.

The Post presented Commander Thompson with a gold belt buckle bearing the ancient and honored Cross of Malta—Official Emblem of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. There were numerous other gifts from his close friends.

From time to time various distinguished guests have been present at our parties. This last one gave us a special treat in that the Department Commander, William C. Alexander and the Department Quartermaster and Adjutant Edwin Kilmer and Mrs. Kilmer were present. It is the first time since the inception of the Post over three years ago, that the present Department Commander could take advantage of one of the rare opportunities to be away from his work long enough to go anywhere. We feel highly honored that he could be with us.

Mr. Alexander is a Police Judge and a U. S. Commissioner in Gallup where he now has his home. Born and raised in Ohio, he went to California in 1930 and became a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in 1933. He was Post Commander in San Fernando, California in 1934 and 1935. Coming to New Mexico he became Post Commander in Gallup in 1939 and 1940 and was promoted to Department Commander in 1948. His tenure of Office will soon expire to the regret of every Post in this State. Mr. Alexander was a Marine Corporal in the Yangtze Campaign in 1926 to 1929.

Appreciation

Rev. Harry I. Webb, Pastor of Trinity Methodist Church in Carrizozo, wishes to Sincerely thank the members and friends of the Community for their liberal support during the Conference year 1949 - 1950.

Poppy Day

By declaration of our National American Legion Auxillary President, the last Saturday before Decoration day is our National Poppy Day. Therefore on May 28, 1949 the local Auxillary unit will greet you on the streets of Carrizozo with the poppies made by the disabled veterans of our Veteran Hospital.

The funds derived from these sales can be used only for assistance to veterans' children. And as the demand is growing for this assistance, we are expecting the cooperation of all citizens in our small community, during the last year, we have paid for two to six tons of poppies and furnished eight boxes and baskets of food and clothing at Christmas time.

Let us be generous and with each donation be humbly thankful our own son or loved one is not disabled, but it is the Poppy should be more sacred.

Poppy Chairman,

questions regarding his medals, decorations, etc. were answered with a broad grin—nothing else. Members of the VFW admire and respect that kind of a soldier. Mr. Alexander gave us a short talk and commented the Post quite generously on its activities. We, the members of the Norton Pepper Post, hope very much that the Department Commander will come back often and we wish him every success in the future.

Build Youth Camp Quota $1000

Through the cooperation of various organizations, individuals, committeemen, and 4-H Club Members, Lincoln County has now raised over one-third of its thousand dollar quota toward the building of the $30,000 youth camp in the Sacramento Mountains.

Lincoln County has been asked to raise only $1,000 on the $30,000 youth camp. This is one of the smallest quotas set. Other counties have been asked to raise as high as $4,500. If everyone will help, we can soon raise our county quota. A special effort is being made to have the money raised in all counties at the earliest possible date, in order to use the camp constructed in time for use this year.

Checks should be made out to the "Lincoln County 4-H Club Fund" and mailed to Mari P. Radliff, County Extension Agent, Box 217, Carrizozo, New Mexico; or donations may be given to a 4-H Club Member or committeeman, who identify themselves with proper credentials.

Your contribution and support will be greatly appreciated.

The Lord's Supper

Lesson for May 22, 1949

LET US CLEAR UP some very common misunderstandings of what the Christian religion is. Some (both enemies and friends) think it consists in turning one's back on the world, living in a sort of happy wonderland where the evil of the world is altogether shut out and forgotten. Another notion is that Christianity presents an angry God Dr. Foreman (or one who can very easily be made angry) laying down the law to mankind. Another is that Christianity is a purely individual affair. And still another is that Christian religion consists of the teachings of Jesus and that is all it is. Every one of these misunderstandings vanishes in the light that shines around the Lord's Supper.

Betrayal
PEOPLE SOMETIMES think that religion shuts men's eyes to the ugly realities of life. Some religions try to do so; but not the religion of Christ. He knew the kind of world this is; he never let his disciples forget it.

On that last night, dark forces were closing in on him. One of his own circle would betray him. Yet it was in that sort of atmosphere, heavy with betrayal and hatred, that Jesus began this sacrament of faith, hope and love.

The true Christian does not live in a fool's paradise, he does not imagine that everything is lovely in the nicest possible words. The sacrament which is the heart of his worship is itself a reminder of the ugliness of the world which man's sin creates.

Blessing
AND HE BLESSED the bread. If Christianity consisted mainly of condemning wickedness and denouncing sinners, then at the center of our worship we would have some symbol of dread and awe, like fire and brimstone, a consuming flame.

But no—at the heart of our worship is a thing as simple, plain and friendly as a loaf of bread, bread on which the blessing of God has been asked. Blessing, not cursing; invitation, not threatening, is at the heart of our religion.

Whenever you see some one whose chief idea of being a "good Christian" is going around proclaiming the meanness of the world, cawing at everybody and everything.

Breaking
AND BROKE IT, and gave a single picture to express the meaning of Christianity. Some of the pictures are beautiful, but many of them miss an important truth. What shall it be? A picture of a shipwrecked woman clinging to a rock? Of a saint praying in a long solitary vigil? These leave out something vital. For Christianity is a fellowship. No Christian is complete by himself.

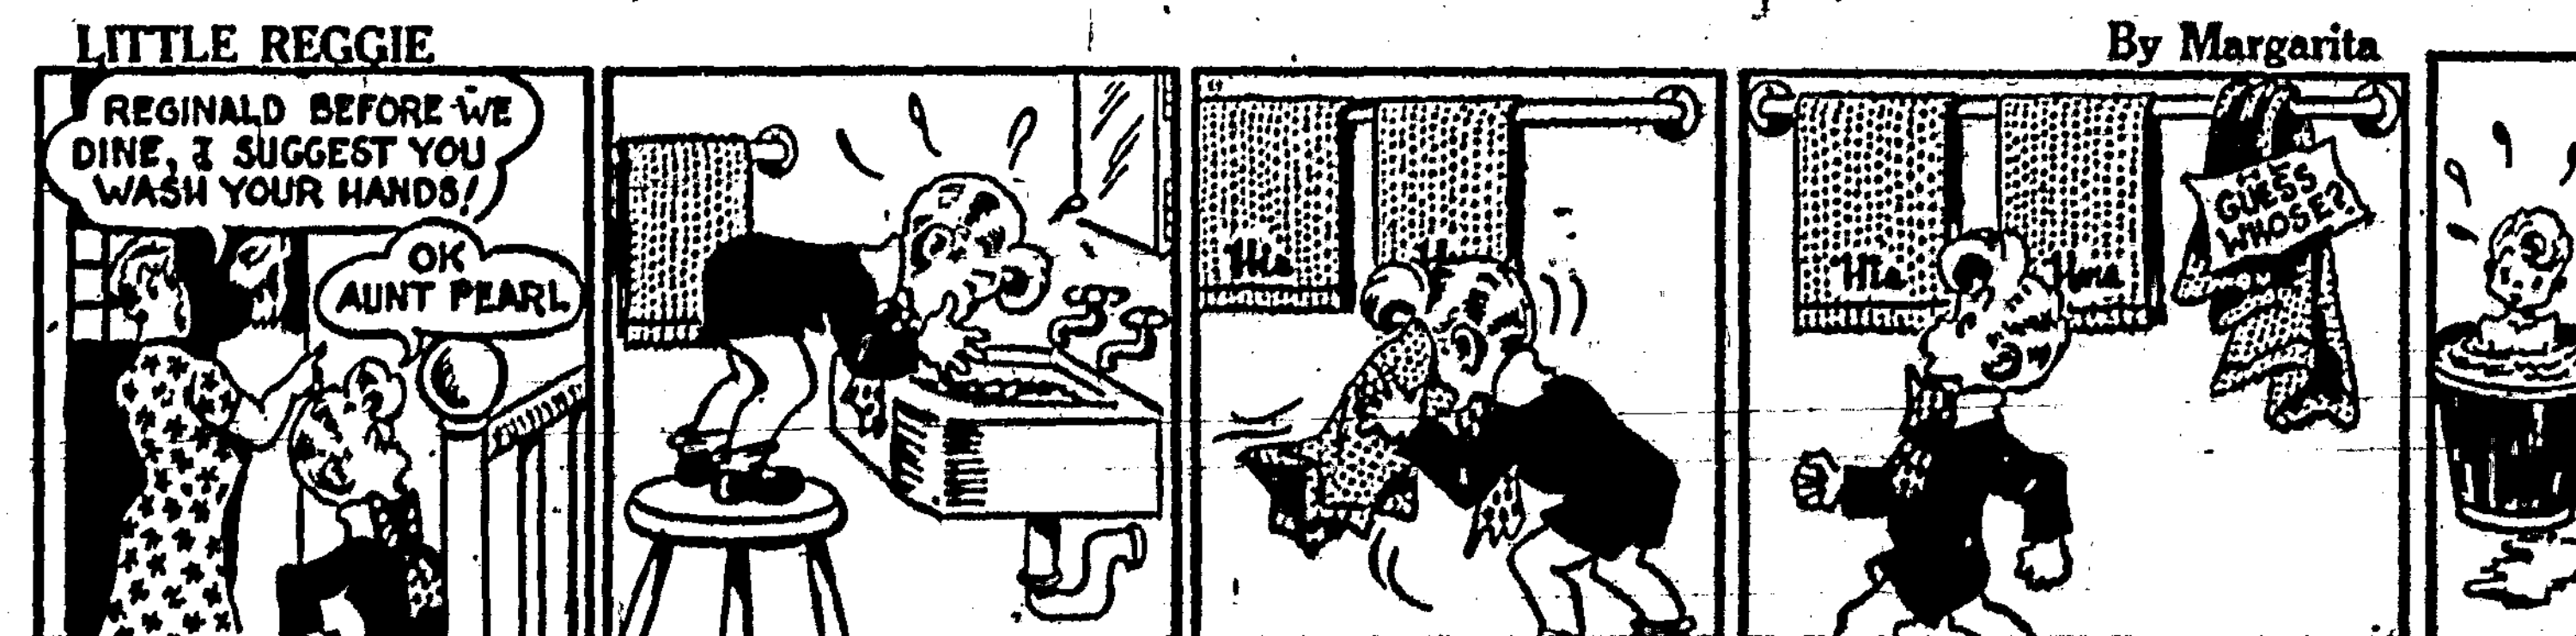

At the heart of our religion is a Communion. Few if any Protestant churches allow any one even a minister, to give the Holy Communion to himself, by himself.

The true Christian never finds himself, his true self, alone; only in fellowship. A Christian belongs with other Christians as much as one coal in a bed of coals belongs with all the rest.

Blessed
JESUS TEACHINGS are so important, so full of wisdom and of living power, that often some one will say that Jesus was a teacher and only a teacher, and that following his teachings is all that Christianity is. Jesus did not think of it in this way.

True, his teaching is of the utmost importance; but that was not and is not all. As M. H. Deetes Murray said years ago, Jesus was the only teacher who has died for his teaching. But he did more than that: he died for those he taught.

The cup at the Holy Communion reminds every one who partakes of it that Christ was not only a teacher; he was a sacrifice.

One-Story Home Grows in Favor

Plan Well Suited To Farmers' Needs

The one-story home with basement for the laundry storage purposes and the heating plant is growing in popularity. Highly suited as a farm home because it eases housekeeping, its popularity is demonstrated by the number of ranch-type houses being built today in both rural and metropolitan areas. The one-story and basement house pictured here offers features that justify the popularity of homes of this type. Planned as a farm home, it includes the conveniences of modern design found in city homes. The narrow kitchen is accessible to both the dining area at one end of the living room and to the dining porch. Sink and storage shelves are along the outside wall, with the stove and additional storage area on the inside wall. This arrangement provides numerous economies.

The work room is adjacent to the dining room porch but far enough from the living and bedrooms to confine disturbing noises. The two bedrooms, each with two exposures, contain ample closet space and are close to the bathroom.

The garage is separated from the house by a breezeway, which can also serve as an outside porch.

The basement includes several features considered essential to comfortable living on a farm. It is entered from the back porch, eliminating this traffic from the living area of the home.

The cold room is ample for storage of glazed fruits, vegetables and other farm produce. Plenty of electrical outlets in this room provide current for a food freezing locker.

In one corner of the laundry is a shower.

Automatic Harvester

Another farm job is brought closer to complete mechanization by this automatic field forage harvester. Within a few minutes the corn harvesting unit can be substituted for the hay pickup attached to the basic machine. With hay unit, the machine automatically picks up hay from the windrow, chops and blows it into a trailing wagon for removal to mow or silo. With corn attachment, the machine sweeps along the row, cutting and chopping corn for silage.

Lice, Mange Top Pests Of Those Harming Swine

Two of the most common and harmful pests on hogs are lice and mange. If insects are permitted to feed on hogs, the animals will have stunted growth and be more subject to disease, says the University of Louisiana agriculture extension division.

Farmers are reminded that by controlling insects they increase the value of pastures and feed and thus increase their earnings.

Weddings, Graduations Should Be Considered As Ceremonial Events

IS THERE a graduation coming up in your family? Or, are you planning a bridal shower for a daughter or a neighbor? These are big events and should be treated with proper pomp and ceremony.

Some women get shaky when they plan to entertain because they can't see quite how they're going to get the house in spic and span order. Keep the kiddies from getting underfoot while preparations are under way and still get together the refreshments.

Select a simple menu that can be prepared in advance, and you'll have the perfect answer to entertaining. A sandwich loaf and a cooling punch bowl are easy enough to serve. Make the sandwich loaf the night before; get together the ingredients for the cool drink and refrigerate them, too. When serving time arrives you have simply to bring things together.

For a youngsters' party, serve glamorized milk drinks and simple cookies, baked in advance. Or, give them sandwiches with the beverage because these, too, may be made in the morning for an afternoon party, if they are wrapped in waxed paper and refrigerated.

A glorious cake makes an excellent duet for a punch bowl. For a shower you might try a refrigerated type because women love them dearly and they are just a little bit more fancy than a baked cake.

Youngsters will come a-flying when you announce that eating time is here with these delightful glasses of cherry ice cream float. A chilled and nutritious milk drink, the floats may be served with cookies for an afternoon or evening snack.

IF YOU'RE planning to serve a punch, make fruited ice cubes in advance.

Squeeze the fruit juices and place them in separate glass jars in the refrigerator.

When party time arrives, simply put them all together in a large bowl or a pretty pitcher and the beverage part of your gay doings is well under control.

Orange Punch (Serves 15)
1 pint orange juice
1 pint orange sherbet
1 pint vanilla ice cream
1 pint ginger ale
Beat orange juice, sherbet and ice cream with a rotary beater. Add ginger ale and stir thoroughly. Serve at once from punch bowl.

Fruit Punch (Makes 1 gallon)
1 quart strong tea
1 cup lemon juice, strained
1 cup orange juice, strained
1 cup sugar
3 cups grape or cranberry juice

1 quart water
1 pint ginger ale
Mix tea, fruit juices, water and sugar; chill. Just before serving add ginger ale and pour over a large piece of ice in a punch bowl. Garnish the punch with sprigs of mint, maraschino cherries, slices of lemons and oranges.

HERE'S AN IDEAL recipe for a punch for the youngsters:
Pineapple Milk Punch (Serves 4)
2 cups cold milk

LYNN SAYS:
Simple Sandwiches Make Good Refreshments.

Combine 1/2 pound of cottage cheese with a dash of onion juice, salt, pepper and two tablespoons of chopped cucumber or onion. This is enough for eight full sized sandwiches.

Cream cheese softened with mayonnaise, then mixed with chopped, salted almonds and a few chopped maraschino cherries make dainty little sandwiches.

A bowl of punch, decorated with slices of lemon, orange and sprigs of mint, makes an easy and festive way to entertain a crowd. Cookies, cake or sandwiches may be served with the punch to complete the party fare.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU
Baked Ham Slice
Scalloped Potatoes
Broiled Tomatoes
Jellied Vegetable Salad
Orange Muffins
Butter
Beverage
Chocolate Cake
Recipe Given

2 cups cold pineapple juice
3/4 cup coffee cream
1/4 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice
Pinch of salt
12 drops peppermint extract

Combine all ingredients in a shaker or beat with a rotary beater until foamy. Pour into tall glasses; garnish with a sprig of mint and serve immediately.

Just the sight of these glasses of fruit ice cream float are enough to make youngsters cheer. The recipe suggests cherries but other kinds of fruit such as strawberries, raspberries or blackberries may be used in place of cherries.

Sandwich Loaf (Serves 8-10)
1 1-pound loaf unsliced bread
Butter
1 1/4 cups ham salad
1 1/2 cups egg salad
1 cup red jelly such as currant
2 ounces cream cheese

Trim all crust from bread. Cut loaf of bread into four lengthwise slices. Butter each side which filling will touch. On the first bottom slice place egg salad, top with bread slice; cover top of that slice with ham salad. Top with another slice and cover that with jelly. Top with slice of bread; wrap loaf in waxed paper and place a weight such as a bread board on it. Chill in refrigerator for several hours.

Then unwrap and cover whole loaf with cream cheese which has been softened with cream and tinted pale green. Save a bit of the cream cheese and tint this pink or yellow and force through pastry tube to make rosettes to decorate loaf.
Chocolate Cake (Makes 2 3-inch layers)
2 ounces unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup hot water
1/2 cup shortening
1 1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 cups sifted flour
1/4 teaspoon soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup buttermilk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cut chocolate in pieces. Add hot water, cook and stir over a low flame until a thick smooth paste is formed. Cool. Cream together sugar and shortening. Beat eggs until creamy and add to sugar-fat mixture. Blend in chocolate. Sift together the dry ingredients, then add to the first mixture alternately with buttermilk. Fold in vanilla. Bake in two nine-inch greased pans in a moderate (350°) oven for 25 minutes.

Frost with chocolate icing between, on top and sides. Sprinkle with chopped nuts, if desired.

This chocolate cake may also be frosted with Seven-Minute Icing and sprinkled with crushed peppermint stick candy.

To make a very festive cake, frost with sweetened, whipped cream and sprinkle the top with shaved, unsweetened chocolate.

Tried Cole slaw sandwiches? Mince the cabbage fine, and have sufficient salad dressing in it to moisten it for spreading. Add some chopped bacon for flavor and spread on whole wheat bread.

Mix ground leftover meat with finely shredded carrots and chopped hard-cooked eggs. Add enough mayonnaise for easy spreading and serve on rye bread.

Another filling that calls for seconds uses crushed peanut brittle with enough softened butter to make a nice spread for sandwiches.

Care of Floors
Question: A few months ago I had all the floors sanded, filled and varnished. I would like to wash them but have been advised not to use water, as it discolors floors. Please advise.

Answer: The manufacturers of hardwood flooring do not, as a rule, approve of using water on such flooring. As your floors have been so recently varnished, it should be fairly easy to clean them with some of the special cleaning preparations intended for this purpose. Or you can clean them by wiping with cloths damp with turpentine. Consult your hardware dealer. First take up the loose dust in the usual way.

MOUNTAIN STATES TEL. FILES NEW RATE SCHEDULES

The Mountain States and Telephone and Telegraph Company to day filed new schedules of rates for exchange and toll services with the New Mexico State Corporation Commission which would increase its gross revenues in New Mexico about $61,000 per month.

The filing of the new rate schedules was accompanied by a letter from E. C. Phillips, New Mexico El Paso Manager of the Company in which he stated that the filing of the revised tariffs was made necessary by the present seriously depressed earnings of the Company.

Between the end of the war and December 31, 1918, 30,912 telephones were added in New Mexico as well as 21,698 miles of additional toll circuits.

In 1948 alone the Company's gross construction program in New Mexico amounted to more than $4,000,000, the largest telephone construction program in any single year in the history of the state.

The demand for service continues and it is expected that the Company's 1949 construction program will be about the same as last year's program, $4,000,000.

Among the additions planned in New Mexico in 1949 are: 200 miles of pole line; 1200 miles of exchange wire on poles; 19,000 miles of exchange wire in cable; 7,500 miles of long distance circuits; major building additions; 21 switchboard positions; 13,000 terminals of dial central office equipment; and 650 lines of manual central office equipment.

The company estimated that its return on intrastate investment in New Mexico would be less than 3 per cent for 1949 under present rates.

The letter stated that the Company's present law earnings in New Mexico are due to four principal factors:

- (1) Inadequate rates under the present operating conditions.
(2) The increase in wage rates which affect expenses, 58 cents of every dollar of revenue received by the Company in New Mexico is spent to cover wage costs, and the Company's average hourly wage is now over 90 per cent more than in 1941.
(3) Increased material costs. The cost of practically every thing used for giving telephone service has increased substantially since immediately before the war. For example, poles are up, 73%; cross-arms, 172%; cable, 105%; dial equipment installed, 40%; buildings, 80%; and installers' trucks, 100%.

(4) The increase in the investment per telephone as telephones are added. At the beginning of 1948 the average investment per telephone in New Mexico was $205. The investment per telephone added in New Mexico in 1948 averaged $414.

The letter stated that the Company would need large amounts of new capital to carry out its construction program in New Mexico that investors will not risk their savings in a business unless they have an opportunity to earn a fair return. If earnings are insufficient to attract the required capital, the Company had no choice, it must top plant expansion and service improvements.

The increase in rates together with the 1947 increases will amount to an over-all average increase of about 22 per cent over the 1939 intrastate level. The letter points out comparisons with the following advances which have taken place in other prices: lumber up, 218%; lead, 97%; farm products, 175%; food, 112%; wholesale prices, 94%; wearing apparel, 93%; new automobiles, 89%; iron and steel, 77%; and railroad freight rates, 32%.

The letter points out that if the increases included in the new schedules had been in effect for the entire year 1949, the rate of return on the intrastate investment in New Mexico would be about 5.7 per cent.

JOBOLOGY

P. S. He Got The Job—The Young man hesitated outside the door, squared his chin, then went in. He was a veteran, looking for a job, and the door he entered was the door of a local office of the New Mexico state employment service.

Frosted Doughnuts—An employer swears it's true. He was training a new worker in the details of a baker's helper job.

He had to quit and this time the veterans administration doctors told him his best hope was to seek employment in a high, dry climate—in Arizona, Colorado, or New Mexico.

When Bob left the employment office he was assured that employers would be contacted in his behalf, that if there was a sales job open he would have an opportunity to try for it.

He had liked that work; he had a pleasant, outgoing personality; and the work was something he could do despite his health condition. He had something to offer an employer.

FIVE POLIO PRECAUTIONS ARE LISTED FOR PARENTS

Warning that the 1949 polio season is "just around the corner," the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis today issued a list of precautionary measures to be observed by those in charge of children during the epidemic danger period which usually runs from May through October, reaching its peak during the hot, mid-summer months.

- 1. Avoid crowds and places where close contact with other persons is likely.
2. Avoid over-fatigue caused by too active play or exercise, or irregular hours.
3. Avoid swimming in polluted water. Use only beaches or public pools declared safe by local health authorities.
4. Avoid sudden chilling. Remove wet shoes and clothing at once and keep extra blankets and heavier clothing handy for sudden weather changes.
5. Observe the golden rule of personal cleanliness. Keep feet lightly covered and safe from flies or other insects. Garbage should be tightly covered and, if other disposal facilities are lacking, it should be buried or burned.

The National Foundation also listed the following symptoms of infantile paralysis: headache, nausea or upset stomach, muscle weakness or stiffness, and unexplained fever. Should polio strike in your family, call a doctor immediately. Early diagnosis and prompt treatment by qualified medical personnel often prevent serious crippling.

The organization emphasized that fear and anxiety should be held to a minimum. A calm, confident attitude is conducive to health and recovery. Parents, it said, should remember that of all those stricken, 50 per cent or more recover completely, while another 25 per cent are left with only slight after effects.

If polio is actually diagnosed, contact the chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis serving your community. This chapter will pay that part of the cost of care and treatment which patient or family cannot meet.

NEW MEXICO NOTES

From A
Wheel Chair
By Katherine
E. Mabry

Well, they used to say that women lose their temper when they try to argue political questions more easily than men. I believe that men can be worse. I seldom see women getting excited over political questions of the day, although I am sure that they have just as deep and sincere an interest in good government as the men have. And having an interest in good government they, like the men, take interest in the problems of government. The men seem to have a corner on bad temper—and bad tastes, at times, might I say.

I am about to conclude that we are indulging in arguments over some current political questions, rather than in discussions. The difference between an argument and a discussion, someone has said, is that you can indulge in the latter without getting mad.

And speaking of women in politics, the question is often asked whether women have improved the tone of politics since they have been given the right to vote. Perhaps the improvement does not always appear at first sight, but I do believe that there has been an improvement in the political field since we obtained woman suffrage some thirty years ago. It is not true, I believe, that the man and wife always vote alike on political issues and candidates. We all no doubt know of many exceptions to this rule. But let's concede that the man and wife do usually vote alike for the same candidate and in favor of or against the same issue. We also know that the woman, appreciating she has the power of helping to decide as well as the less potent right merely to discuss with her husband these political questions, does bring to bear more forcibly her ideas on questions relating particularly to the home and the school, and touching deep moral issues. If we concede that a wise solution of issues involving the home, school and public and private morals is important as we work toward good government, then we must agree that the woman's vote has been a help to that end.

All lawyers seem now to agree that the additional gas tax put on by the last legislature is not subject to defeat by petition for referendum because the additional tax represents money for the support of a "state institution" and for the additional reason that it is earmarked for the sole purpose of payment of highway bonded debt that has been accumulating over the years.

It is not expected that the effort of the oil companies and one or two newspapers to secure enough signatures to petitions to tie up the road building program for two years, will succeed. New Mexico wants and needs more and better highways.

Many of us remember also that almost one third of all gas purchased in this state is purchased by the tourist. I think we should all be willing for the tourist to help pay the bill.

NOTICE OF MEETING

The Carrizozo Woman's Club will meet Friday May 20th at the Club House. Mrs. Ralph Petty has charge of program—"Installation".

Here's Good Driving News

DETROIT—Here's a new adjustable seat cushion that spells good-driving news. It eliminates slump, sag and over-the-dashboard peer. This new aid to extra-short or extra-heavy drivers is Select-O-Seat, designed by L. A. Young Spring and Wire Corp., engineers here. It provides places in the seat springs for inserting extra coil-spring segments to compensate for extra weight. The fill-in job can be done in a few minutes by the car dealer's service men.

Several makes of 1949 cars carry this new-type cushion as regular equipment. As factory-installed, the cushion should satisfy most car buyers, but additional coil springs for adjustment can be had from the dealer.

Upper left picture shows couple sitting on a Select-O-Seat before proper adjustment for their weights. The man sinks deep in the cushion, throwing his lighter companion off balance. Upper right shows the pleasant effect when extra springs have been inserted—and equilibrium restored. Note that the head of the "driver" has been raised up to the white line indicating proper height for full view of the road. In the lower picture a service man shows how extra coil springs, each jacked in cloth, are easily inserted from the bottom of the seat without disturbing the upholstery.

RED CROSS SUMMER CAMP

St. Louis, Mo.—Camp Fern, approximately 9 miles northeast of Marshall, Texas will be the site this summer of two national Red Cross aquatic schools to be held May 29 to June 8 and August 24 to September 8, according to Melvin Buzzard, Safety Services Director of the Red Cross Midwestern Area Office in St. Louis. Both schools are expected to attract approximately 125 men and women, mainly from communities in New Mexico and Texas, who will be given intensive training in swimming, life saving, small craft, first aid, and accident prevention. The school's teaching staffs will be under the direction of Red Cross national field representatives, Jim Hamilton and Robert Lucey.

Buzzard declared that the purpose of the schools is to make instructors of persons already skilled in swimming and safety methods so that they can develop programs in their own communities. Most students are sent to the 10-day schools by their home town Red Cross chapters. Others come individually, or under employer sponsorship.

"This method of bringing safety education to communities has been steadily developed by Red Cross for over 20 years," Buzzard said. "Aquatic schools give students the best of water and land safety training techniques that Red Cross specialists have accumulated through the years. Though Red Cross national field representatives are constantly qualifying instructors in communities to teach first aid, how to avoid accidents, and swimming and life saving, experience has taught us that added results are obtained by bringing carefully selected groups of young men and women to outdoor summer camp where facilities are ideal and training can be carried on without interruption. The Red Cross provides this training with the stipulation that students agree to conduct Red Cross 'safety' classes in their own communities," Buzzard added that the value of the organization's water safety instruction is proved by the drop of 50% in the nation's drowning rate since the teaching program started in 1941, while popularity of swimming has increased a thousandfold. Thirteen of these schools are in the west and mid-west.

BERLIN:

Clay Is Done

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, stormy petrel of American administration in Berlin, was relieved of his post as military commander in Germany. The action was taken at the general's own request.

CLAY, who has been widely criticized for his apparent "soft" attitude toward German war criminals, notably in the case of Elsa Koch, the "witch of Buchenwald," notorious German horror camp, had frequently asked to be relieved of his command. He said he wanted to return to his home in Marietta, Ga., and "go outfishing."

Clay's leaving would open the way for appointment of the first civilian high commissioner for Germany, something the army has been wanting for a long time.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN, in making the announcement Clay was to leave, said the general deserved the thanks of the American people for his execution "of one of the toughest tasks and accomplishments of American history."

It was no secret that the President and Dean Acheson, secretary of state, were trying to persuade John J. McCloy to take the assignment in Berlin. McCloy is now head of the international bank for reconstruction and development, a position which carries a $30,000, tax-free annual salary.

Pending the appointment of a civilian commissioner, President Truman announced military government deputies and two generals would carry on Clay's work.

The United States, Britain and France have agreed to arrangements for turning over civilian control to the Germans when a provisional government is established for the western zones.

Meanwhile, hope continued for an end, through four-power negotiations, of the Berlin blockade by the Russians.

HOUSING:

Nobody Pleased

The government, it appeared, couldn't please anyone in its efforts to implement the newly-enacted rent control bill.

Scores of landlords and tenants in New York turned out in angry confusion after Federal Housing Chief Figue Woods announced a program for putting the new law into operation. Woods had come up with a plan which he hoped would provide owners of rental property with a "fair net operating income." This was one thing the new law said should be done.

BUT WOODS, in a personal appearance in the nation's largest city, stopped personally into a hotbed of landlord's inquiries.

Landlords assailed the Woods formula as giving inadequate relief to hard-pressed property owners.

The formula was confusing because it contained so many indeterminate factors. It was intended to produce a "net operating income" of 25 to 30 per cent of gross income on some 14 million dwellings throughout the nation still under federal rent control.

As Woods expressed belief both landlords and tenants would be happier under the new formula, a surprised murmur of laughter swept the audience which overflowed the 863-seat hall. Woods dashed from the meeting, where he answered some 50 questions, to a conference with New York's Mayor William O'Dwyer.

WOODS SAID the new formula "goes right down the middle, protecting landlords against rents that would deny them a fair profit and protecting tenants against being charged a higher rent than the fair net operating income allows."

Meanwhile both property owners and tenants seethed, each fearing they were being put upon by the Woods formula; landlords obviously resentful that specific rent increases were not allowed, tenants bitter because of a "mixed-up" formula which they feared held nothing but bad news for themselves.

One most probable result of the formula was that local governmental units would be disposed to let existing conditions alone without petitioning their governors or state legislatures for lifting of rent controls in their respective areas.

NEW DRUG DISCOVERED

Anti-Allergy Medicine Battles Colds

There was new hope for cold sufferers.

An industrial physician reported that an anti-allergy drug has been found effective in controlling common-cold symptoms.

Dr. Halsted G. Murray said that 75 per cent of 494 persons treated during early stages of colds reported they were cured or had their symptoms alleviated.

Loyalty Queen

Radio actress Mrs. Ted Steele is shown just after she was chosen as "Miss Loyalty of 1949" in ceremonies on the steps of the U.S. subtreasury building in New York.

LABOR LAW:

Rough Going

If a big league scout were reporting on Harry Truman's performance against congressional moundsmen, he would have to say: "The President simply can't hit fast ball pitching."

And that certainly appeared to be the case. Mr. Truman had been to bat twice already. In his turn during the Mon. C. Waigren appointment to head the national security resources board, he had struck out. Next up with his civil rights program for a bat, he struck out again. Now, with his espousal of repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law, he was at the plate again and, with the house of representatives pitching, there were two strikes on him.

FOR THE HOUSE, by a vote of 217-203 approved the Wood bill which retained most of the features of the Taft-Hartley law.

Administration forces were plunged into gloom. But a coalition of southern Democrats and northern Republicans were jubilant. They were bent on retaining the Taft-Hartley law largely intact, and at the moment they were victorious.

The Wood bill would repeal the Taft-Hartley law on paper, but would re-enact most of its important features. For instance, it would retain the 60-day injunction in "national emergency" strikes. It would keep the present non-Communist oath requirements, but would apply them to company officers as well as union officers.

It would ban closed-shop contracts, but permit them in any state which took affirmative action to permit them by state law.

SPEAKER SAM HAYBURN had made a plea to the house for a compromise bill he put forward in an effort to salvage part of the administration's program, but his speech was in vain.

Whatever else congress might be doing, and whatever good or ill might result, lawmakers were serving notice on presidential candidates that campaign promises to enact or repeal this or that law ought to be conditioned, with the candidate making such pledges adding a word to the effect that those pledges would be kept "provided congress cooperates."

LEOPOLD:

Wants Throne

Dialling the common life, exiled King Leopold III of Belgium has made it clear he wants to return to the throne of his country.

THIS was made known in a letter to his brother, Prince Charles, Belgium regent, in which Leopold said:

"I am convinced you are sharing my views that the time has come for a return to constitutional normalcy." That would mean, of course, an end to the regency and return to kingly rule.

HOWEVER, the outlook for any such development appeared dim. Leopold surrendered the Belgian forces to the Germans early in the war and became a prisoner-of-war. His action in that respect was criticized by many Belgians. The ex-king has not returned to his country since the war. He has been living in exile in Switzerland.

GRANDMAS:

Enough's Enough

Grandma was getting fed up. Enough was enough. And she was becoming vocal about it.

Mrs. Lyn Greene, president of the New York chapter of the National Grandmothers' club, was the spokesman for the grandmas, the spearhead of a drive to make grandma a respected member of every family.

MRS. GREENE and all the other grandmas were up in arms against all the corny gags about grandmas and mother-in-law, too. They were in a crusade to ban such alleged humor from the face of the earth forever. And they held some powerful weapons in their arsenal.

For instance, if the jokes aren't banned, the grandmas said, there would be no more baby-sitting, no more crocheting, no more cookies and cakes. That was the grandmas' ultimatum.

Also knitting needles would stop, not one lullaby would be hummed and daughters "going home to mother" after a tiff with their husbands would have to find hotel rooms, instead.

THE GRANNIES were tired of being made to appear as jabbering, ridiculous troublemakers. But the grandmas were fair about the whole thing. In return for a new status as a "sweet, lovable old dear" they would agree to mind their own knitting.

Mrs. Greene, a professional artist, philanthropist, mother of two sons and grandmother of four small children, believes she is just the person to take the giggles out of references to grandmas.

"THERE ARE STILL a few rocking-chair grandmas, bridge-table grandmas, and drudge grandmas who need to be reformed," she said, but contends this reformation will never come about through silly radio and movie jokes and sillier cartoons.

Eventually Mrs. Greene and the thousands of other grannies in the national organization hope to win so much respect that October 10 will be proclaimed as national Grandmothers' day.

HEADACHES:

Stop Worrying

Have a lot of headaches? Well, stop worrying.

That, according to a Columbia university headache study will cure your noggin knocks.

THE STUDY was conducted with 531 men and women as subjects. These sufferers were given three kinds of treatment. One made use of drugs supposed to help headaches; another "make believe" drugs; and a third a technique in which doctors spent quite some time talking to patients about their worries.

In the first two treatments, the "make believe" potions worked almost as well as medicines designed especially for aching heads. The patients never knew which kind of drugs they were taking.

It was learned in the study that best results came from combining drugs with conversation about worries. The conversation-type of treatment is known as psychotherapy. Its purpose is to discover emotional and mental conflicts. In many cases the sufferer does not realize he has these conflicts, and is likely to get better when he learns about them.

HOWEVER, mere knowledge of the conflicts isn't sufficient. The patient needs faith in his doctor to make this knowledge work. Sometimes this relief depends on how often the doctor sees the patient.

So Tired

People whose feet have ever hurt them will feel a twinge of sympathy for mailman William E. Lilly, Jr., of the Los Angeles post office who took 5,000 letters home with him. Lilly was jailed despite assertions he meant all the time to deliver the letters later.

TRUMAN:

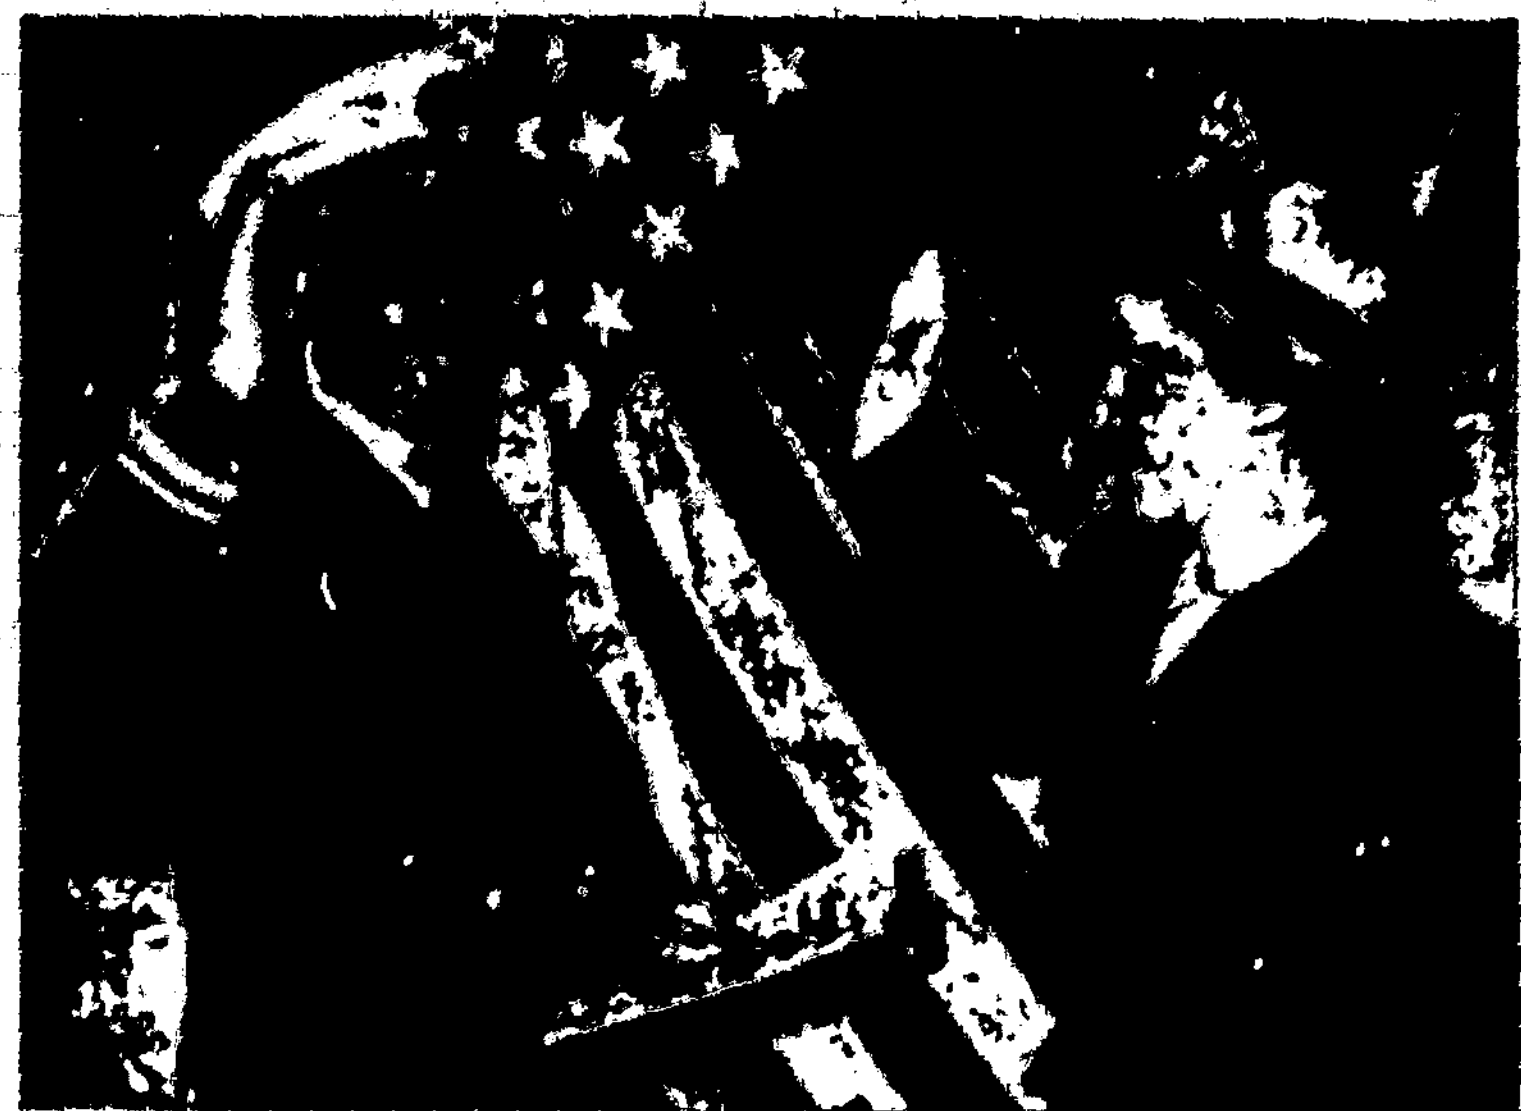

Good Friend

President Truman had some better friends than he thought. David E. Wright, 34, proprietor of a feed store in Dunkirk, N. Y., offered to advance cash to President Truman on his salary check.

Reports had said Truman received only part of one month's check because of a congressional deadlock over a deficiency appropriation bill. Wright wired the President.

"PEACE CARAVAN" IN PARIS . . . The flags of the United States, Britain, France and Russia are carried by this truck, one of many that participated in the "peace caravan" that brought parades to the big mass meeting at Buffalo stadium outside Paris. The meeting was the climax of the "world peace conference" at which "intellectuals" from many lands sang the praises of Russia.

BROTHERLY GESTURE . . . It's all in the family (Uncle Sam's) as navy Lieut. George M. Thomson administers oaths of allegiance to his sister, Eselga Esther May Thomson, upon her induction into the navy nurses' corps. She was graduated from San Diego school of nursing in 1947, and was to be stationed at the Long Beach naval hospital.

AMERICAN MOTHER OF 1948 WITH PART OF HER FAMILY . . . Mrs. E. A. Gilie of Fort Worth, Tex., named American mother of 1948 by the American mothers' committee of the Golden Rule Foundation, New York, said notice of the selection was the happiest day of her life and only presence of all six children could have made it better. She is seated in center with daughter Mrs. Evelyn Gray on left; daughter Mrs. Ellean Flemmons, right; her husband Earle G.M. and a son, Lewis Gilie, standing.

DELEGATE TO FARM YOUTH CONFERENCE . . . Meta Marie Keller, 21, is the principal of one of the most dramatic stories in 4-H club history. She is the only known survivor of a "massacre" in a biological lab, and was picked from thousands of rural youths as a delegate to take a four-month trip to Europe under the International farm youth exchange project by the U. S. department of agriculture. She was chosen because of her outstanding 4-H club work.

FACING DEATH . . . Iris Davis, 24, was reported dying of a malignant brain tumor and her father, Jack Davis, American news-press executive, has made a desperate appeal in Europe for any sort of medical aid which might save his daughter's life.

VISITOR . . . Michele Gino, Italian Socialist senator, is shown here as he arrived at La Guardia field from Rome. He proposed to join Henry Wallace on the latter's nationwide peace tour in which the former vice-president is expected to urge accord with the Russians.

OLD WEAPON . . . Mrs. Eugene Schum is shown behind the circular shield that protected the user of this old weapon—a King Henry VIII breech-loading pistol. The gun is the property of George Harding's Museum, Chicago.

SHOCKED . . . Police Marushak registers shock and incredulity as he learns his son, 12-year-old Paul, had been living in the home with him, walked up in a gay secret room since 1939. It was said Paul's mother put him in the room to protect him from military service draft.

DREAM COMES TRUE . . . Cyd Charles usually endorses a secret ambition to play Handel. Dancer Cyd Charles made no secret of the fact she'd like to play Handel's roles. So, in her next movie she'll have a dramatic part.

IF MEN CAN FIGHT AND DIE AS ALLIES

All Races to Have One Place to Pray for Peace

THEY CAN WORSHIP AND LIVE AS ALLIES

By H. I. PHILLIPS

PRAYER FOR U.N. CHAPEL

(The United Nations is to provide a non-denominational chapel in its new home where men of all nations may pray.—News Item)

Within these four walls will be the prayer-room of the world. To this place let the white man and the black man, the Christian and the Jew, the yellow man and the brown man, the Hindu, the all races and creeds—gather to Moslem and the Buddhist—men of hear the still, small voice of whatever God they worship. Here the representatives of all peoples shall come humbly and devoutly in their separate faiths and reach understandings that will save a stricken world.

Here let them kneel separately and at a time of their own choosing and ask their God or gods that their words and actions may never make a mockery of the precepts of whatever religion they observe and cherish.

Guide them as they invoke You. Keep their minds clear and make their decisions just; rid them of suspicions, fears and hatreds. Let them never lose sight of the belief that the Supreme Being of their own faith and of all faiths loathes war and holds peace and the brotherhood of man foremost.

Seldom have the representatives of peoples from the four corners of the earth been in a more difficult spot; rarely have human beings faced tasks more colossal; never have their decisions meant life or death, joy or misery, laughter or tears to so many millions.

Grant that they may not quibble over the details of this room, its appointments or its mood.

Help them realize that if men can fight and die as allies, they can worship and live as allies; that men who serve together in the same armies and navies and in the same cause can worship in the same cloister and in the same hope!

Here let all men find that if there is to be one world there must be one brotherhood, one depth of devotion, one abiding confidence in a Supreme Being.

Make them understand that if a man is not contaminated in the use of another man's council chambers, routines and customs in daily considerations, he can never be contaminated by the use of a common meeting place for meditation and prayer.

Here may no man forget that in every faith a man of any other faith may find the essence of his own faith. The belief in divine guidance. Prayer is universal. How strange that until now those who have come together from all parts of the earth to face the most complicated problems of recorded time have failed to provide a common meeting place in which to seek guidance!

Of all moments in history when men of every race, color and creed needed divine council, this is the most desperate. How barren and hopeless have been these edifices of world peace without recognition of a God above! How futile these proceedings in council chambers of 100 rooms without one room for a Creator!

May this quiet room be hallowed! Here there is no publicity; here no photographers, no newsreels, no microphones, tensions.

Here he may sit not as an important statesman, harassed diplomat or instructed agent, worried over the reactions at home, but rather as a child reaching for the hand in which he has confidence, pleading for the light, believing that nothing matters more than a cause he just.

This room shall be no device of architects, blueprinters and construction crews, its value to be measured in dollars; this shall be a room dedicated in the spirit of all faiths . . . a hushed chamber where every man may find the mood of his own temple.

Within these walls may the United Nations see the universal altar and find that guidance, inspiration and wisdom without which there can be no lasting peace and no brotherhood of man.

Here at last there is "room in the inn!"

White House Repaired From Time To Time

Once again the White House is undergoing extensive repairs. The cornerstones of this historic building was laid in 1792, but the structure was not completed until 1800. John Adams was the first President to occupy it and Abigail Adams reportedly dried the family washing in the still unplastered East Room on rainy days.

Legendarily modeled from the Duke of Leinster's home in Dublin, the building is 175 feet long and 85 feet deep. Popularly known as the "White House," it was painted white to cover the stains of smoke remaining from the serious damages incurred when the British burned Washington during the War of 1812.

THE MIRACLE
"His pain has ceased! O hear, somewhere we met the Master on the way. It may be that we meted Him not. Amid the splendor today! But it was Jesus, for behold The old, old pain is gone, and, lo! A miracle, no less than that Upon the road to Jericho! No less, my heart, we leaped to meet The joy His healing fingers hold. These he who taught the glad sweet light Across Judah's hills of old.

The Fiction CORNER CORDIALLY DISLIKED

By Richard H. Wilkinson

I HAVE NEVER known a man to be more wholeheartedly disliked than Henry Spafford. The reason for it is his braggart qualities, his overbearing sense of importance.

We tolerate him because we like his wife, Madge, but even so our toleration is a chore. The other night I was over to the Spafford's and sat through an hour of Henry's bragging. It seems that the big boss in New York—Henry is employed by the Jason Reid Steamship Company—called up the Philadelphia office where Henry works and Henry answered the phone.

"Jay's a great guy," Henry told me, referring to the incident. "He's asked me to run up to New York to see him a couple of times. I must remember to do that."

"Who's Jay?" I asked. "Jay?" Why, Jason Reid, who owns the line, of course. "Oh," I said.

"The way to get along in any business," Henry went on, "is to let the boss know right off he can depend on you. That's the way I am with Jay."

I left the Spafford home an hour later, furious that I had stayed so long, pitying Madge and disliking Henry with a renewed sense of disgust. "Something," I told Betty, my wife, "ought to be done about that punk. Now he's calling Old Man Reid, Jay."

"The thing to do, Betty smiled, "is to be amused at his ravings, not annoyed. He doesn't hurt any one, and there's always Madge to think of."

"Even Madge," I replied, "won't keep me from hitting that guy one of these days. Something," I repeated, "ought to be done about him."

NEXT DAY I called Hal Wheaton and asked him to have lunch with me. "Have you heard about Henry?" I asked when we were seated. Hal nodded, avoiding my eyes. "I met the poor devil on the street this morning. I don't mind saying that it was an ordeal."

I thoughtfully lighted a cigaret. "Hal," I said, "think of Madge. Isn't there something we can do?" "Well," said Hal, "I've been wondering, too. Poor Madge." He coughed. "I called Bob Taylor of the Taylor Lines this morning. Bob says that he might be able to do something for Henry on our recommendation." "I guess," I grinned, "that's the answer."

And it was. Henry and Madge were over three days later. "I understand you've got a new job?" I remarked to Henry. "Yes," he said with a bored look on his face. "Bob Taylor called up as soon as he heard that I was free, and asked if I'd consider a position with him. Well, you know when a man offers you more money—"

I glanced at Betty. There was a faint smile on her face. I suppose she was amused. I hope so. Because on hour later, with Henry still blowing, I was mad enough to choke him, and almost did.
