Outlook Vol. 40 — No. 10

Mrs. Jane Gallacher

Mrs. Jane A. Malcolm Gallacher age 91, passed away at the home of her son, William W. Gallacher last Thursday, June 30, 1949. In the passing of this fine and devoted mother a long and useful life came to a close. Mrs. Gallacher was an unusual woman with great strength of character. And even in the later years of her life she was active and full of the vim and vitality of a much younger woman.

Mrs. Gallacher spent some time in the hospital here but became much improved and returned to the Gallacher ranch home last week. Everything possible was done but to no avail. Mrs. Gallacher was born July 26, 1858 in Ayershire, Scotland. She came to the United States in 1871 at the age of 13. She never entirely lost her Scottish accent and many of her friends who greatly enjoyed conversing with her.

When she was 20 years of age she was married to Mr. Wm. W. Gallacher, Sr., in Joliet Illinois. Four children were born to this union, two of whom preceded their mother in death. John Malcolm who passed away in 1928 and Harry A. Gallacher who passed away on December 24, 1938. The other two, Mrs. Maggie Kelt of Tucumcari and Mr. Wm. W. Gallacher who resides near here on a ranch survive their mother. Also surviving are nine grand children, and many, many, devoted friends.

When she came west Mrs. Gallacher lived first at Carthage, New Mexico and later in 1887, during the gold rush days, she moved to White Oaks where she lived until 1914, at which time she moved to the Gallacher ranch to live with her son. Later she moved to Carrizozo and spent three years.

Casket bearers were Mr. James Cooper, Mr. L. P. McClintock, Mr. L. Huffman, Herman Kelt, Roy Ward and Doyle Rentfrow. Mrs. Roy E. Shafer was in charge of the flowers, assisted by Mesdames L. M. Huffman and Lorene Casey.

Before Mrs. Gallacher moved with her parents from Scotland she united with the Presbyterian church and retained her faith throughout her long and eventful life. She was true to her faith, loyal to her friends, devoted to her children and when left a widow she worked faithfully to set them an example of upright and honorable living.

Funeral services were held at Trinity Methodist Church in Carrizozo at 2 P. M. last Saturday July 2nd followed by interment in the White Oaks cemetery. A great many people paid tribute to this gracious woman of pioneer days by following her casket to its final resting place and by heaping the mound with the most glorious flowers from our great Southwest.

People from out of town who attended funeral were Mrs. M. M. Kelt and sons John from Tucumcari and Frank, Portales. Yedon Gallacher of Bakersfield who reached Carrizozo too late for funeral went to Tucumcari to visit his aunt Mrs. M. M. Kelt and other relatives.

Mrs. Bill Coffelt of Tulare, Calif. is here to visit her parents Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Barnett. Mrs. Coffelt was formerly Miss Hilda Ann Barnett.

Mrs. Ruth Swift and little son of Tucumcari are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Barnett here this week. She came to visit with her sister, Mrs. Coffelt during her stay.

"The way to a man's heart..."

By NANCY COOK

Why do some housewives think of Chop Suey or Chow Mein only as restaurant dishes, instead of serving them at home? Both are simple as ABC to prepare, and it's a wonderful way to use up leftover cooked pork, beef, veal or chicken. The main ingredients—canned bean sprouts, mixed chop suey vegetables and soy sauce—are carried by most super markets and independent stores. The basic recipe:

AMERICAN CHOP SUEY OR CHOW MEIN

Melt ¼ cup butter, margarine or vegetable fat in skillet. Add 1 cup finely chopped onions. Fry for 3 minutes. Add 2 cups of celery, cut fine; 1 teaspoon salt; ¼ teaspoon pepper; ¼ cup hot water. Cover and cook 5 minutes. Add 1 can of bean sprouts, drained, or 1 can of mixed chop suey vegetables; and 2 cups of meat, cut in thin strips. Bring to a boil. Then combine and add flavoring and thickening. Cook 5 minutes. Add soy sauce to taste at table. Yield: 4 big portions.
*Flavoring and Thickening: 1/3 cup of cold water; 2 tablespoons of cornstarch; 1 tablespoon of soy sauce; 1 teaspoon of sugar.

Rosemary, an evergreen of the mint family, is most commonly used to season roasts, stews and soups, or as a flavoring in jellies and sauce. Rosemary, a girl's name, is also the name of a radio program—heard daily on CBS—starring lovely Betty Winkler in the title role.

It's interesting to note that Betty's handsome husband in real life plays the part in "Rosemary" as well. Interesting, too, is the fact that Likes Rosemary Betty likes to serve her guests dishes in which Rosemary, the herb, is an essential ingredient. Here's the recipe for one of my favorites:

SCALLOPED EGGPLANT
Peel one large eggplant, cut in cubes. Add 1 cup coarsely crushed soda crackers. Add ½ teaspoon salt; ½ teaspoon pepper; ½ teaspoon of rosemary.

Turn into greased baking dish; top with bits of butter or margarine (about 2 tablespoons). Add sufficient milk to cover. Bake about ¾ of an hour in 350° oven. Yield: 4-6.

Day Party Fare... why not plan a shower for your favorite bride-to-be? Suggested festive refreshments: Chocolate Pinwheel Cookies and Ice Cream.

This easy recipe, from the files of the makers of Blue Bonnet Margarine, makes delicious Pinwheels, and rates high in flavor, nutrition and economy.

PINWHEEL COOKIES
Sift 1½ cups sifted pastry flour, 2 teaspoons cream-of-tartar baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt.
Cream 1/3 cup margarine; add gradually ½ cup sugar. Add 1 un-beaten egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 3 tablespoons milk. Beat well.

Combine with sifted dry ingredients. Mix well. Divide dough in half. To one half, add 1 square melted unsweetened chocolate. Roll each half into thin rectangular sheet. Place one layer on top of other; press firmly, and roll up like a jelly roll.

Chill several hours. Cut in ¾-inch slices. Place on greased baking sheet. Bake in 375° oven about 10 min. Makes 48 cookies.

Roll cream cheese balls in crushed corn flakes... use as a topping for fruit salad.

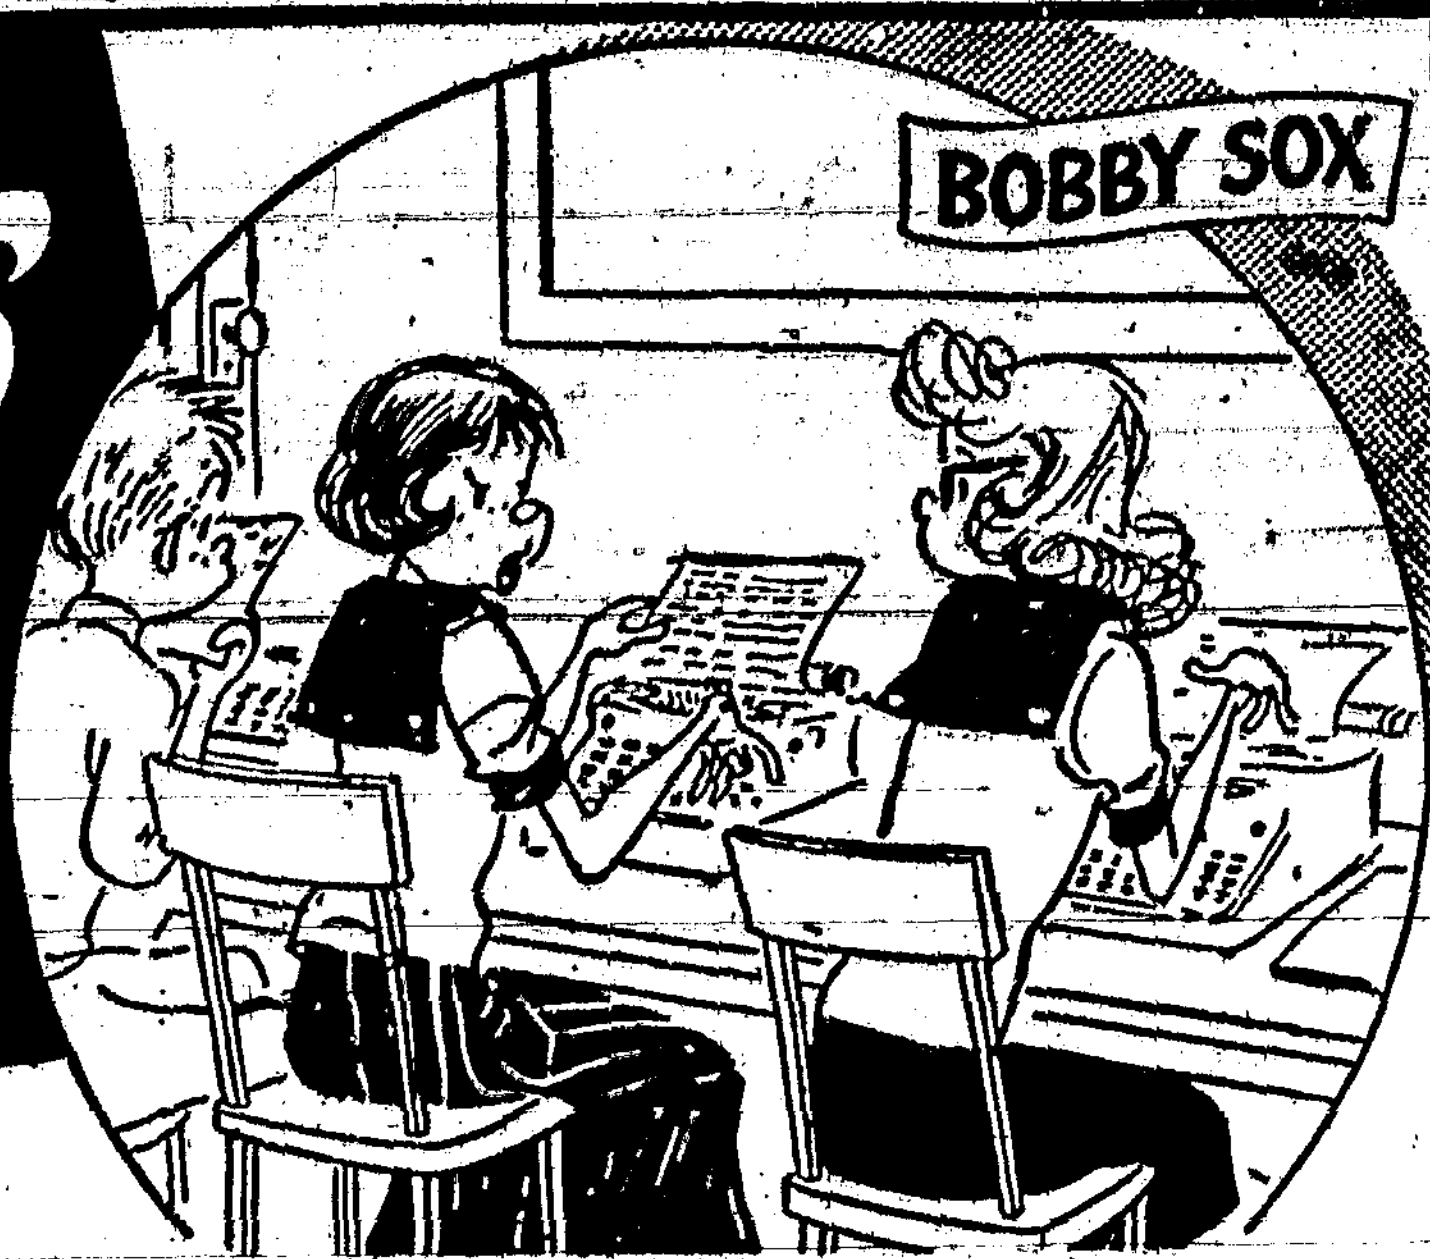

Things to Remember... white sugars should be measured with a light touch... flour, too... but brown sugar should always be packed down lightly in the cup.

Russians Claim Capture of First 'Baby' Whale

MOSCOW.—The crew of the Russian whaling ship Slava reported from Odessa that they made the first catch on record of a live baby sperm whale during a hunt in the Antarctic.

Unfortunately, the crew members said, they had no proof since the ship's biologist ordered the whale set free because he required more than a ton of condensed milk daily to stay alive. The crew's report said: The whale, which was as long as a Moscow trolleybus, at first resisted all attempts by the huskiest members of the crew to catch it. Finally, with the aid of a winch and rope, the whale was brought under control. When an extra heavy rope broke when they tried to pull the baby whale aboard it was decided to tow it back to Odessa alive. But the ship's biologist ordered the whale's liberation because it required daily more than a ton of condensed milk.

Difficult Problem
Catching a baby whale is more or less like taking a fingerling trout, in that it violates sound conservation practices. Dr. Harold Anthony, chairman of the Department of Mammals of the New York Museum of Natural History, said.

Declaring that the capture of a whale calf is also extremely difficult, he suggested that the baby caught by the Russian whalers had probably been turned loose on that account. The young whale could not have been kept alive in any event, Dr. Anthony said. Even had the Russian factory ship been prepared to furnish the estimated ton of condensed milk a day, and to devise a formula and to induce the infant cetacean to take it, the baby would have suffered most probably from over-feeding, he indicated.

Explaining that there are gaps in scientific knowledge of whales, because their submarine habits make observation difficult, he said: "A young whale would require several hundred pounds of milk a day, but I doubt that it would require a ton."

Has Collection
The Museum of Natural History has a collection of young whale specimens, including a cast of an infant sperm whale that found its way into the Gowanus canal in Brooklyn about 15 years ago, presumably by following a ship after becoming separated from its mother. Whaling literature lists calves 40 to 50 feet in length found following their mothers and presumably subsisting on milk.

The conservation of whales, made necessary by the great efficiency of modern methods of killing them, is the subject of an international convention signed at London in 1937 and revised in 1938. This agreement provides for an observer on factory ships to see that the conservation provisions, including non-molestation of calves and their mothers, are carried out.

Russian ships, however, are presumably not bound by the convention, since the Soviet Union is listed among the nations that abstained from signing in 1938.

Tides Said Slowing Up Planet, Extending Day

WASHINGTON.—Tides raised by the moon in the earth's liquid core are slowing the planet's revolution and increasing the length of the day. This thesis is advanced in a report prepared for the official organ of the British association for the advancement of science by Dr. W. M. Elsasser of the University of Pennsylvania.

It long has been known that the length of the day is increasing by a minute fraction of a second each year. This generally has been attributed to the frictional drag of tides in shallow seas, the Bering sea alone accounting for almost half the effect.

However, it also is known that the core of the earth is liquid in a strange form—iron at an enormously high temperature but under tremendous pressure. But it would respond like water to the pull of the moon, Dr. Elsasser says.

These internal tides act like brakes on the earth's rotation, he explains. This theory, he says, satisfies the observed rates better than if the retardation were ascribed to the drag of sea tides alone. The theory assumes that the core of the earth is rotating somewhat more slowly than the shell and that there are areas of tidal turbulence, essentially storms inside the earth.

The idea of drag due to internal tides receives support from long-time records of changes in the earth's magnetism in local areas, recently published by the terrestrial magnetism department of the Carnegie Institution of Washington. These indicate a different rotation rate for the core and the crust and a gradual displacement of the latter from East to West. It is almost as if there were two rotating plates, one inside the other.

Fatigue Causes Depression
Continued depression without apparent reason often is due to fatigue. Persistent efforts to secure sufficient sleep on good quality bedding every night usually will result in better spirits. If the depression continues, however, a doctor should be consulted.

Ayrshire Breeders Testing Production

Keep Average Chart, Record of Animals. The Ayrshire breeders' association is the only cattle-breeders' organization in the field which maintains "average" rather than "selective" production records of its cows, according to officials. At this time, it was reported, some 16,000 Ayrshire cows are voluntarily "on test." Daily, certified records of all phases of production and lactation are averaged into monthly records and these, in turn, are averaged into annual records. From these annual figures, "herd" averages are then computed, and these are computed into the only "breed" averages extant. Owners of the Ayrshire cattle are given duplicate copies of the production records compiled with the help of foolproof IBM machines. This system is of immeasurable help to Ayrshire farmers in operating their herds and disposing of surplus cattle.

But this painstaking "cows on test" project is only one of the many operations conducted by the A.B.A. staff. The birth of every Ayrshire calf is recorded and registered.

The operations of the A.B.A. are helping to make Ayrshire cattle one of the most popular breeds of dairy cattle in the country. The Ayrshire is reported the highest producer of 4.0 per cent milk of any breed. Only Ayrshires produce "naturally homogenized" milk—the fat globules are so fine and tiny that they are integrated by nature with the rest of the milk. Ayrshire milk is in great demand by hospitals, and by doctors with on-diet patients.

Montana Farm Families Assist County Agents

More than 6,500 rural men and women in 43 Montana counties gave freely of their time during 1947 to assist county extension agents in carrying forward programs aimed at bringing about improved farming and homemaking methods and better rural community living, according to the year's end report of R. Opera Singers Aided By Hearty Appetites, Caruso Chef Claims

NEW YORK.—The news that the Hollywood tenor Mario Lanza had reduced from 220 pounds to a slyphlike 185 filled John Trасса with horror.

It makes him think of the days Enrico Caruso would storm into his kitchen in artistic distress because he thought he detected that one of his chins was disappearing.

"John," the great tenor would moan, "you must think of something more fattening. I must have resonance. Resonance must have bulk; do you want me to sing only to the first rows of the orchestra? Remember there are five balconies at the Metropolitan opera house."

Caruso was a good eater, he ate what he liked and let the calories fall where they might. And Trасса thinks it was something more than a coincidence that he was also the greatest tenor who ever lived. Similarly he wants to know where there is today a basso like Feodor Chudapin, a man of gargantuan appetite.

"As Caruso's chef I cooked for Chudapin and for many other great stars of opera like Mme. Schumann-Heink, Luisa Tetrazzini, Mary Garden, Jean De Reszke, Alma Gluck, Antonio Scotti and Nellie Melba," he recalled. "There wasn't a reducing diet among them. And how they sang! These emaciated singers of today couldn't stand on the same stage with them."

Child Who Returned $53,000 Presented With $5 Reward

MONROE, WIS.—Because the "pencil case" she found on the sidewalk was really a bank deposit folder containing $53,000, seven-year-old Sharon Broge got some new shoes.

Sharon took the case home and opened it with the assistance of her five-year-old sister, Diane, and her nine-year-old brother, Gary. Instead of pencils they found currency and papers. They were disappointed.

An older sister, Lavon, 16, saw what the children had found, and she and her mother, Mrs. Helen Broge, notified the police. The money and negotiable securities were turned over to a cheese company whose clerk had dropped the folder en route to the bank. Police did not disclose the identity of the company or the clerk.

The cheese company presented Sharon with a $5 bill. When Sharon finished showing it around the neighborhood, she bought some new shoes.

American 'Jayees' Lavish Gifts on Brussels Mayor

BRUSSELS.—Americans bearing gifts crowded into the ancient town hall and presented Burgomaster Joseph Van de Muelebroeck with offerings ranging from a sack of oranges to a plastic tablecloth.

In a happy-go-lucky ceremony, members of the United States delegation to the fourth world congress of the International Junior Chamber of Commerce named the burgomaster "official salesman of democracy." Delegates from 14 nations were present.

Joseph H. Saunders of Alexandria, Va., vice-president of the American delegation, gave Van de Muelebroeck a leather bound volume of "Documents of Freedom" and a bound copy of George Washington's will, the latter on behalf of the city of Alexandria.

West Virginia's Arthur Belton produced pamphlets illustrating his state's industrial accomplishments and a special passport to permit the burgomaster to "tour our little Switzerland of America."

Minnesota's Coope Hamon of Minneapolis offered a canvas and leather gun case to remind the burgomaster that Hamon's home state is a "hunter's paradise."

With all his gifts stacked up beside him the mayor thanked the Americans for their generosity and good wishes and then gestured toward a table laden with wine bottles.

"The drinks," he said in good Americanese, "are on the house."

Ex-Merchant Prince Dies With Only $6,176

LONDON.—Harry Gordon Selfridge, American-born merchant prince of London who once entertained Kings, died with only 1,544 pounds ($6,176) to his name.

The size of his estate was disclosed when his will was filed for probate. Selfridge died in May, 1947.

Selfridge made and lost two fortunes. At the height of his career he was a confidant of European royalty and nobility and entertained lavishly on his English estates.

He founded the London store that still bears his name after he had worked in Chicago with Marshall Field, who taught him department-store operation. The London store encountered financial troubles during the depression. Selfridge retired in 1939 with a continuing salary of 2,000 pounds ($8,000) a year.

He was born in Ripon, Wis., and spent his boyhood in Jackson, Mich.

Fellow Rules for Fruit and Berry Canning
(See Directions Below)

Can Fruits Well

SUCCESSFUL fruit and berry canning is comparatively simple, but good results depend upon your being well-informed of the proper methods as well as accuracy in carrying out certain given directions.

If you canned fruits and berries last year and had some spoilage then check over the tips in giving and see where you slipped. True economy depends upon having success with every jar you've put up.

Lack of success in putting up fruit and berries may not have been due to any canning procedure. Your first essential job is to select sound fruit and berries. Fruit or berries must be firm and ripe. Over-ripe material may be used for jams and jellies but should never be canned whole.

Discard bruised berries or fruit as well as those which are speckled. The fresher the fruit or berry, the better is your chance of canning successfully. If you have your own orchard or garden, then you can go right out and pick the produce and rush it into the kitchen for canning. This is the ideal way to can.

Blanching Means Removing Skins

IT'S sometimes desirable to blanch fruit, or peel it. This process means dipping the fruit, such as apricots, peaches, etc., in hot water for a minute or so, then in cold water. The skin will slip off easily with just a slight pressure of the fingers or palm.

If you're blanching a bushel of fruit, do it in small doses. Letting the fruit stand in either the hot or cold water for more than the required minute will make it too watery.

Hot Water Bath Best for Fruit Canning

FRUITS and berries, generally hold their shape better when packed hot or cold into the jars and are then processed by the hot water bath.

The open kettle method, whereby the fruit is cooked in a large kettle on top of the range and packed while boiling hot into sterilized jars, is preferred by some people.

After packing in the jars, the

LYNN SAYS: These Canning Tips Will Help You

To make one quart of canned fruit, you'll need two and one-half pounds of fresh apricots. The same weight of peaches and pears will also give a quart of canned fruit.

Two medium sized pineapples are needed to yield a quart of the canned product.

When packing fruit into jars in its raw state (cold pack), add syrup to within one and one-half inches of the top of the jar.

pressure cooker may also be used for processing. The pressure cooker, however, is not as essential to canning fruits and berries, as it is in tanning vegetables.

Precooking is recommended on the chart above for such fruit and berries as are watery. This method gives a better pack.

Wash Fruit Thoroughly, But Avoid Soaking

BACTERIA lurk in soil, and for this reason, it's necessary to wash fruit and berries thoroughly. However, this does not mean that you allow the fruit or berries to soak in water. They may become waterlogged and give you a very watery pack once the fruit is in the jar.

Whole fruits should be washed under gently running water and placed in a colander to drain as soon as washing is over. Berries may be dipped in and out of fresh, clean water in a basin and then placed in a colander to drain. Running water may break the berries apart.

How to Choose The Best Syrup

IN THE CHART, it is suggested that you add syrup to the fruit or berries after it has been packed in jars. In some cases, it is advisable to precook the material in syrup before packing in the jar.

For the small soft fruit such as sweet cherries and berries, use a No. 1 or a thin syrup made as follows:

Use three cups of water to one cup of sugar and bring to a boil. The medium, or No. 2 syrup is used for peaches, sour berries, rhubarb, cherries or gooseberries. It is made by using two cups of water to one cup of sugar and bringing to a boil.

The heavy, or No. 3 syrup is generally used on large sour fruits that have to be made extra sweet.

Scum should be removed from the syrup after cooking, before pouring the syrup on fruit.

Corn syrup and honey may be substituted in whole or in part in making the syrup. All honey, and no sugar, will change the flavor of the fruits as well as make it slightly darker.

From three to three and one-half pounds of strawberries are needed for a quart of canned material since they have a high percentage of liquid.

One and one-half to two pounds of cherries or plums will yield a quart of the canned product.

To sterilize jars for canned foods, wash them first in warm, soapy water. Rinse thoroughly. Cover jars with warm water and allow to come to a boil. Boil for 15 minutes. Let stand in water until ready to use.

Star-Lites MOVIES, MIKES and MISCELLANEOUS By LYN WILSON "IF YOU DON'T LIKE the programs on radio, produce better ones!" It's challenging but exact advice given Irene Wicker which goaded her to develop "The Singing Lady" radio series. Irene went on the air in 1931, narrating beloved fairy stories and changing her voice to suit the characters. Today, her ABC television character and stories are brought to life with special fairyland settings and a "cast" of famous Suzani Marionettes. Miss Wicker is a product of Quincy, Ill., and played summer stock while attending the University of Illinois. But take it from Paulette Goddard, now working on Columbia Pictures' "Anna-Lucasta," there's more excitement to long black silk stockings! In one scene Paulette rolls off a pair of the longest, sheerest to see. "Good, very good," commented director Irving Rapper. "But we want the almost glamour. So this time, do it slowly—vocally, as though you were well, rolling your eyes." Fair Premiums Over 50,000 Dollars

Albuquerque.—Cash premiums totaling more than $50,000 will be offered in the various livestock divisions of the 1949 New Mexico State Fair, Sept. 25 - Oct. 2. Leon H. Harms, Secretary-Manager, announces. These include awards in beef cattle, dairy cattle, horse, sheep, swine, poultry and small stock divisions.

While New Mexico's Fair is among the youngest of the state fairs, premiums offered to livestock producers rank the same of the major shows of the nation, Harms said. Because New Mexico is one of the most important livestock producing regions of the southwest, the fair annually attracts some of the top breeders of registered animals, he said.

In urging livestock producers to exhibit at this year's Fair Harms pointed out that more than 10,000 livestock men attended the 1948 Fair.

"There is no better method of advertising livestock and showing other producers the quality our New Mexico breeders are producing," he said.

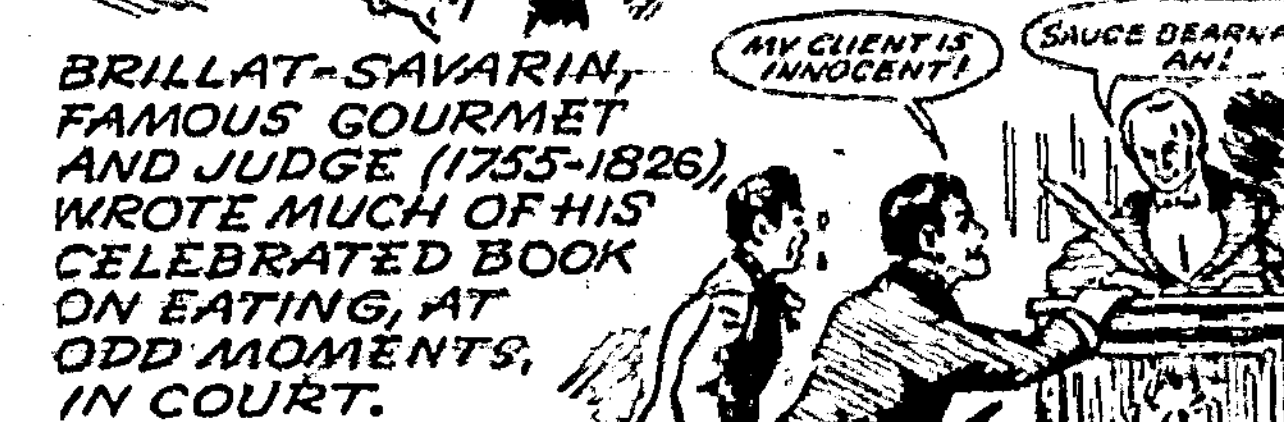

Full details on closing dates and entries are included in the premium book, copy of which can be secured by writing to New Mexico State Fair, P. O. Box 1698, Albuquerque.

Southern Pacific Orders 67 Diesels

Southern Pacific announced today that orders have been placed for 67 diesel locomotives of various types, at a cost of more than $23,000,000, in furtherance of its extensive improvement program.

In making the announcement A. T. Meier, president of the railroad, said the new orders will raise to approximately $241,000,000 the company's post-war expenditure for new rolling stock, nearly $90,000,000 being for 263 diesel locomotives.

Deliveries of the newly ordered diesel locomotives are scheduled to start in October of this year, and when the current order is completed in June, 1950, Southern Pacific will have a total of 402 diesel locomotives of types in operation on its lines, Meier said.

Of 196 diesel locomotives previously ordered since V-J day, the railroad had received 153 by mid-June, of which number 64 are of 6000 horsepower. The company's present fleet of 238 diesel switchers is one of the largest of its kind in the country, the railroad president pointed out.

Included among the 67 diesels just ordered will be 28 of 6000 horsepower each, for main line service; 17 road switch locomotives each 1500 horsepower; and 22 switchers, each 1000 horsepower. The company also is acquiring an additional passenger diesel unit.

What Makes Democracy Tick

Every Spring we have "Clean-up Week" in our town and it sure spruces the place up. Things like trash piles in vacant lots, or a dead tree limb hanging down over the sidewalk are reported to the property owners by a committee.

Everyone co-operates. We seldom ever have to send Tom, the policeman, around for a little talk. And naturally, everyone benefits, too. It makes our town more pleasant to live in—and it's good for business... attracts people.

Our tavern-keepers here have much the same system, only every week is "clean-up week." Through the Brewers' Self-Regulation Program, the Brewers and the tavern-keepers co-operate in seeing to it that places selling beer and also are kept clean and law-abiding (with no trash around).

From where I sit, that's real democracy at work—voluntarily co-operating and governing ourselves for the common good of everyone.

In Memorium

As one stands beside the mound of a loved one who has passed on, there is comfort in the age old thought—here might an appropriate memorial be erected to perpetuate the qualities one has known and grown to love. By the erection of a Roberts' Memorial there will be a permanent reflection to the world of a personality it has lost.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman Wants Welfare Department; Veterans Will Get NSLI Dividends; Big Four Agree on Austrian Pact

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

ROOSEVELT CHATS WITH TRUMAN . . . Another Roosevelt, Franklin D. Jr., chats in the White House with President Truman. The meeting occurred shortly after young Roosevelt was sworn in as congressman from the 26th New York district, replacing the late Sol Bloom. F. D. R. Jr. made it plain he is a Democrat and a member of Mr. Truman's "team."

WELFARE: More for Less

Signing into law a bill to reorganize the federal government, President Truman offered a major proposal. He wants a new department of welfare created with its chief officer given full cabinet rank. THE IDEA is not a completely new one. It was heard frequently during the early days of the Roosevelt era, much oftener during the latter years of F. D. R.'s regime. While this proposition commanded chief attention of the nation's press, the President offered six other streamlining plans aimed at giving the taxpayers better service for less money. These included: Transfer of the U.S. employment and unemployment compensation offices to the labor department. PLACING of the two key defense agencies — national security council and national security and resources board — directly in the President's office. Tightening up administration of the post office department, maritime commission and civil service commission. Transfer of the public roads administration to the commerce department. The President said the plans, which followed closely several major recommendations of the Hoover commission on government organization, will not "automatically" produce efficiency and cut spending. BUT HE SAID they open the door to improvements that will make the government "more vigorous" and operate more smoothly at a lower cost "over a period of time."

No one expected any reduction in federal spending, and the President's conclusions might be construed as a preliminary defense setup for continued federal outlay at the present, or an increased level, despite the Hoover commission recommendations and the President's own seven-point manifesto.

Under the new payments, announced by the VA, each ex-serviceman or his heirs would receive an average of $175 from life insurance dividends. Described as a "dividend" the money is to be repaid from two sources:

1. An eight billion dollar surplus which developed from the fact that G.I. insurance premiums were based by law on a standard mortality (death) rate table which turned out to be higher than needed.

2. Earnings from the surplus. In general, it was explained, every veteran who took out national service insurance and kept it in force at least three months will be eligible — provided the policies were not issued after January 1, 1948. No refunds are to be made on policies issued after that date.

MEANWHILE, government officials saw in the insurance dividend payments a timely "shot in the arm" for business in 1950 which

White House Repairs Still a Question

It appeared that all the commotion about repairs to the White House wasn't quite over, although congress approved and sent to the President a money bill carrying funds for work on the White House. The money was included in a measure calling for expenditure of 671 million dollars for various government obligations.

THE HOUSE, which had passed the bill earlier, accepted a one-word amendment approved by the senate. The change would put it up to a special six-man commission whether a separate residence should be built for the first family, in addition to the job on the White House itself.

GERMANY: Partial Accord

The four-week conference of the council of foreign ministers of the four major powers had ended with partial accord having been reached. The western powers and Russia cleared away obstacles to an Austrian independence treaty and agreed to try to get along a little better in Germany.

THE RUSSIANS, however, were in there pitching right up to the final moments of the parley. The conference ended in a flurry of excitement as Russia sought unsuccessfully to make a last minute change in the announcement of the meeting's results.

The Reds had promised not to reimpose a blockade on Berlin in return for efforts to revive east-west trade in Germany. This was contained in a six-point statement of principle by the Big Four to guide negotiations in Germany.

The Russians were supported in their 100 million dollar claim on Austria for German assets, and swung an uppercut at Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito by dropping their support of Yugoslavian claims on Austria. These were the points which cleared the way for an Austrian treaty which has been ordered for presentation by September 1.

DESPITE the improvement in east-west relations growing out of the conference, American spokesmen were not optimistic in evaluating results. U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson had no immediate comment.

Work on the Austrian treaty, however, was termed a "substantial step" forward and of no little importance because it would free Austria and push Soviet troops farther back into eastern Europe. It was felt that ground had been neither gained nor lost in Germany.

should serve to stimulate sales. They recalled that the terminal leave payoff of some two billion dollars in 1947 provided a sizeable such stimulus for the nation's business.

The plan to start the checks rolling in January brought vigorous criticism on Capitol Hill as Representative Keating (R., N. Y.) demanded that congress set October 15 as the deadline. He introduced a bill to hurry the dividend payments to that date. He declared that the government had "overcharged" veterans on their life insurance, and that the money should be refunded "immediately, not a year from now."

LONG SEARCH SEEN ENDED

Chlorophyll in Toothpaste Fights Decay A new toothpaste containing chlorophyll may be the answer to the long-time search for a preventive for tooth decay. Use of chlorophyll in the new product was announced by Dr. Gustav W. Rapp, professor and research biochemist at Loyola university's dental school, and his assistant, B. F. Gurney. The new paste acts to do away with all of the conditions generally thought by dental authorities to be causes of dental decay, according to Dr. Rapp and Mr. Gurney, and owes its unusual powers to the use of the water-soluble derivatives of chlorophyll, which is the magenta-green substance that gives grass and all other green plants that color. Long known as essential to all life, chlorophyll previously has been used with excellent results.

'UNIVERSAL MAN':

Johann von Goethe From every state, in the union and from many foreign lands, distinguished visitors are pouring into the historic little frontier town of Aspen, Colo., to pay honor to a man born 200 years ago. The Goethe Bicentennial Convocation and Music Festival (June 27-July 16) is presenting an imposing roster of thinkers, writers, statesmen, philosophers, educators and musicians who will seek to re-examine and re-interpret the works and philosophy of Johann-Wolfgang von Goethe, the Universal Man, as it pertains to the atomic age. HEADING the impressive list of lecturers is Albert Schweitzer, of French Equatorial Africa — philosopher, doctor, musician, theologian — acknowledged throughout the civilized world as the foremost modern disciple of Goethe. The music festival, running in conjunction with the convocation, will feature compositions based on Goethe's works, monumental music of equal stature to Goethe, and music contemporary to him and known to have been inspiration al to him.

LABOR: Bad Timing? Was the postwar buggy ride of consumer demand and increasingly higher wages really over? The Ford motor company thought so and said so. CONFRONTED with a list of demands by the united automobile workers union, the company made a significant counter-proposal. Instead of pay raises and pension, health and welfare plans as drafted by the union, the company proposed to peg wages where they are for another 18 months. Such action, said the company, would "set a stabilization pattern for the entire (national) economy at this critical time."

THE UNION, among other things, has demanded that wages be pegged to the cost of living. Pointing out that the cost of living is down and that the market for cars might drop up to 32 per cent after this year, the company declared flatly that it would reject any change in the work contract which would mean higher labor costs — whether in the form of wage increases or pension or welfare funds.

THUS the issue was hastening to a showdown. Could industry stand firm against another round of wage increases, or would labor with its organized power so stifle industry that capitulation would be inevitable?

Indicted There was much of mystery and charge-and-counter-charge in the events out of which grew the federal indictment of Preston Tucker (above). Tucker and five others were indicted by the government on charges of mail fraud, conspiracy in violations of the securities and exchange act. Tucker has retaliated with charges that the securities and exchange commission has made it impossible to continue production of the Tucker car, which was to be powered with a motor in the rear.

RED HUNT: Harvard Cool Harvard, the nation's oldest university, was having nothing to do with any Communist-hunting. There was a reason, officials said. They felt that to do so might be a danger to the university's freedom and to its academic integrity. AND, Harvard held, American freedom is the school's "true glory," as it once told a man who tried to "buy" it for 10 million dollars.

The Harvard policy statement in connection with Communist-hunting activities was put this way: "There will be no harassment of professors for engaging in open and legal meetings. There will be no apparatus of inquiry and 'closer watch.'" "The harm done by the effort necessary to discover even a single clandestine party (Communist) member would outweigh any possible benefit."

PROMISES: Made for Housing House Republicans indicated they were tired of the federal housing wrangle. So, they promised, they'd introduce a housing bill to substitute for the administration's program. It was said to include a plan for privately-owned homes and some low-rent property. In fact, the substitute measure would embody most of the administration's sum-clearance ideas.

KAYE SAYS "NAY" TO PLACE ON COMMIE LIST . . . Glowering around a bit with the famed Sir Harry Lauder in Glasgow, Scotland, filmland's top filmmaker, Danny Kaye, indignantly denied a report of the California state senate committee on un-American activities which listed him among Hollywood notables who followed or approved some of the Communist party line.

NOW HE'S IN THE 4-H CLUB . . . President Harry Truman, who is well on his way to becoming a member of every going organization in the U. S., received an honorary 4-H club pin when delegates to the 1948 annual national 4-H club camp called at the White House to pay their respects. At the presentation were Mary Hovvers of Payne county, Okla., and Don Kutter of Shelbina, Mo., shown presenting the pin.

IN YOUR OWN BACK YARD . . . Vacation home brings the urge to see strange sights. And while such awesome spectacles as this giant moose in the Black Hills of South Dakota do not appear in every part of the country, most Americans can find an amazing variety of interesting places within a 100-mile radius of their own homes. Authority for that statement is Miss Carol Lane, women's travel director of the Shell Oil company's touring bureau and one of the nation's leading travel authorities.

THERE'S ALWAYS FISHER' . . . These coal miners of the H. C. Frick company at Munc, Pa., don't seem to be too disturbed over facing a prolonged work stoppage as a result of UMW leader John L. Lewis ordering a "vacation" for "stabilization of the industry." Instead, they watch A. J. Boyle explaining his new gadget, "lary-fisherman's friend." It holds the rod, locks the reel when the fish nibbles at the bait.

REUNION . . . Mary Jane Truman, of Grandview, Missouri, sister of President Harry Truman, had a warm reception for the President on his arrival in Little Rock. The President was there for a reunion with his former Battery "B" artillery buddies.

MISS OAL . . . Jane Ann Pedersen, 17-year-old Santa Rosa blonde, was chosen "Miss California" in the beauty contest finals at Santa Cruz. She will represent the state in the "Miss America" competition at Atlantic City in September.

"BACHELOR" MOTIVE . . . As relaxed and content as son Harold, 4 months old will allow her to be, Mrs. Marian Andrews, Stow, Mass., contemplates the future as a "bachelor" of science. She was graduated from Prince school of retailing.

GUNNER . . . This is Ruth Ann Steinhagen, the Mapple-eyed, long-haired girl who lured Phillies first baseman Eddie Walker to her hotel room and calmly shot him. Although Walker never had seen the girl, he apparently played a big role in her dreams.

FRISKY CUB . . . Frankie Frick, newly appointed manager of the Chicago Cubs, buttons his shirt in dressing room at Wrigley Field. Frick succeeds Charley Grimm, who became a club vice-president in the Wrigley organization.

UN CHAPEL WILL HAVE NO ALTAR . . .

'Divers Are the Ways to Approach God'

. . . IT CAN BE A MANGER OR A MOSQUE

By H. I. PHILLIPS

DIVERS ARE THE WAYS . . . The chapel of prayer in the new United Nations headquarters will have no altar or windows. A shaft of sunlight will come through the roof. A huge marble slab, memorializing the war dead, will be the only object in the simple, cylindrical structure.

No altar. . . No stained-glass windows. No man of Sorrows with His example of love, sacrifice, sorrow and ultimate victory that has stirred millions through the centuries. Just a shaft of sunlight beating in from above to symbolize hope, truth and an omnipotent power . . . Yet here can be the Universal Temple, the Cathedral of the Earth, the Prayer Room of All Races, Creeds and Sects, all communing with a Supreme Being in the realization that without it they are as video puppets!

these shadows may men of all faiths find truth, charity, brotherly love and respect for the eternal verities. Here, denied all symbols, may they hear the flutter of wings, stir to distant trumpets, and mark, "Thou shalt not kill" in a dozen tongues.

Grate Noll Crowell

In Many Tongues

HE WHO has suffered much speaks many tongues. He can be understood, he understands. The language of the countless ones who reach for sympathy with weak imploring hands; To each in his own tongue he has the words That bring the quick relief of tears; he speaks And suddenly old heavy burdens lift, And there is hope again for him who seeks.

O you who have grown weary of your load, Shoulder it bravely again a little while. There will be those who may require of you Help to go some first bewildering mile With grief or pain. God will have need of you As His interpreter that you may tell Them of the hope ahead, of the healing years, And of His love. Oh, learn the language well!

A shaft of sunlight! Nothing more! Yet in it the Christian, Jew, Confucianist, Buddhist, Mohammedist and Zoroastrianist may know the mysteries of faith, see the holy of holies and seek the inspiration and guidance desired by all men.

In it, the Christian will see the manger at Bethlehem, hear "Holy Night," perceive the shepherds watching their flocks by night. . . know the cleansing beauty of the Sermon on the Mount. . . feel the horror of Golgotha. . . thrill to the Resurrection moral!

Here may the Jew commune with Moses and his ancient prophets, the Turk turn to Mohammed and the Indian seek guidance from his separate gods. In this simple chamber may all hear the timeless voice!

May this be a "room at the inn," a manger, a temple and a mosque, breathing the true essence of divinity.

Here may troubled men, charged with a great duty in an hour of frightful peril, subscribe to the words of Sri Ramakrishna: "As one can ascend to the top of a house by means of a ladder, a bamboo, a staircase or a rope, so divers are the ways to approach God, and every religion in the world shows these ways. Different are the ways that lead to the Temple of Kailash; similarly varied are those that lead to the House of the Lord."

"There will be no windows. . . Yet on these walls and in

"A marble slab will be the only object in the room . . ."

In it may the envoys see the devotion of the gallant dead, the sufferings of the widow and orphan. . . May its rugged simplicity picture the kid in the sandlots suddenly defending a bloody barricade and echo the schoolgirl's laughter suddenly changed to words of comfort in a field hospital.

This is the indispensable structure, the all-important chamber. This is the simple, unadorned place without which all the elaborated council chambers will be as a field without sun or rain. This is the cornerstone!

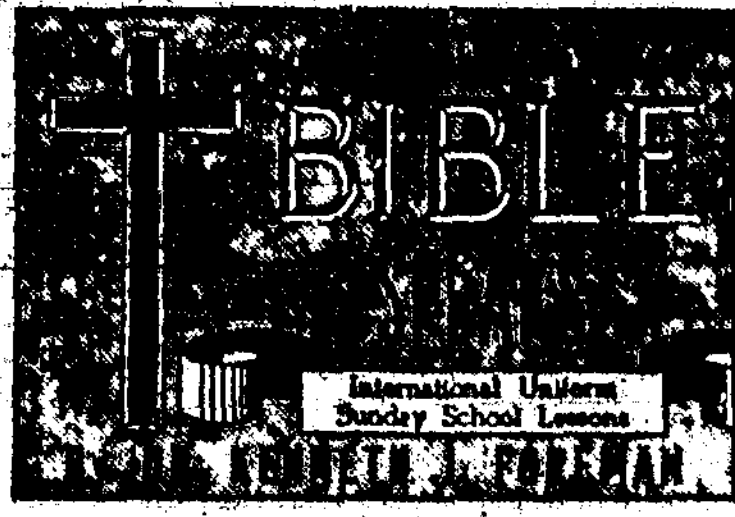

CUFF STUFF

"The President insists that congress has flagrantly ignored the November mandate of the voters." —News item . . . That ol' Forgotten Mandate, ag'in.

It seems only yesterday that a channel swimmer was somebody in the water, not somebody shifting the television stations.

Ye Gotham Bugle

One of the most perfect video skits we've seen was a recent one by Boris Karloff which opened with a three-quarters close-up of him in his most terrorizing form. He was wielding a hatchet and exclaiming, "Remember, you must strike straight and hard! You must strike often! And you mustn't miss a single stroke." . . . In the surprise finish, he was revealed as a scoutmaster instructing Boy Scouts on woodmanship.

Marching Songs

Lesson for July 10, 1949

WE did not win all the battles we fought with Japan. The day of a certain naval defeat near the Philippines, an American "baby" carrier, left to its fate, was doing its best to get away from the pursuing Japanese. All afternoon it dodged and twisted. Enemy destroyers and planes were hot on its trail, and it was a "sitting duck" in case they really got the range. No one on board expected to live. The only question in anybody's mind was: How soon will they get us? But late in the afternoon, for some reason never explained, the enemy gave up the chase, and the American ship slipped off into the protecting night. The next day, as the men gathered for a special service of thanksgiving, the chaplain read the 124th Psalm. It came as a new Psalm altogether to those men, even to those who had known it by heart: "If it had not been the Lord who was on our side, when men rose up against us, then they had swallowed us up quick, when their wrath was kindled against us; then the proud waters had gone over our soul. Blessed be the Lord, who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth."

Let Me Write A Nation's Songs

THE POWER to thrill has not been fact by the Psalms, as the men on that carrier found out. The group numbered 120 through 134 in our Bibles are known as the "Pilgrim Marching Songs," and were originally used by the Hebrews as they went year by year up to their capital city of Jerusalem and to the Temple which was the center of their religion. Then as now, the Hebrews were a singing people. A nation that cannot sing, a nation without songs, is a dismal country indeed.

Difference among various countries is symbolized by their songs, or the lack of them. The Chinese, for instance, have no song that draws them all together in the same way that Englishmen are united in "God Save the King" or as Frenchmen once were by the "Marseillaise."

When it comes to pass, as once it did in the United States, that one part of the nation will sing one song (say, "John Brown's Body") while another part will not sing that song but another one (say, "Dixie"), then civil war is at the gates. Only people who will sing together can be trusted to live together.

Where the heart is full, there will be song. Revivals of religion are revivals of singing. To this day a stranger in a strange city, looking for a church home, is most likely to settle down in the church where the singing is the best.

It is not an accident that the Moravian church is at the same time the church that makes more of Easter than some other churches. It is the church where at funerals the music is never sad but joyous, not mourning-songs but triumphant hymns of Christian faith.

Patriotism and Religion READ these marching Psalms through—the reading time is only a few minutes—and see for yourself how the ancient Hebrew men of God united their praise of Him with love for their country. To this day, in our Christian hymnals, patriotism and religion are often combined. The English national anthem, "God Save the King," is a prayer; so is "America the Beautiful." National hymns have a rightful place in a book of public worship. For while patriotism, by itself, is a poor substitute for religion, still a man who will not love his country lacks something of being a good Christian, and on the other hand a man without faith in God makes a very poor citizen.

Star Dust STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD

BETTY CLARK, star of the Sunday ABC "Betty Clark Sings," is one of those rare people who should be a lesson to all of us. It wasn't too surprising to learn that 12-year-old Betty recently was graduated from elementary school with an average of more than 90 per cent. She looks very intelligent. I was slightly surprised to learn that she skips rope and goes roller skating once a week. And of BETTY CLARK course she is exceptional as the only child in America who has her own network show. But what makes all she does especially remarkable and courageous is the fact that charming little Betty has been totally blind since birth.

The harpsichord which Eugene Ormandy bought in Vienna for Dr. Frank Black, conductor of "Harvest of Stars," with James Melton, couldn't get used to New York weather. Went out of commission and spent a year being repaired.

"The Adventures of Sam Spade" moves to NBC in September (same time, same star, Howard Duff) after being heard on CBS since September of 1946. Before that the show had put in a couple of months on ABC.

Stacey Harris, radio actor, will make his screen debut in "Postal Inspector." Harris started his acting career with Burt Lancaster on the Broadway stage, then turned to radio when Lancaster turned to Hollywood.

William Bendix finally had to wear make-up in "The Big Steal." On location in Mexico he picked up such a deep tan that his face had to be lighted to the shade it was in the scenes filmed earlier in Hollywood.

The Fiction INFECTIOUS LAUGH

By Richard H. Wilkinson

IT WAS ETHAN PRYOR'S laughter that first attracted Abigail to him. When Ethan laughed every one else laughed. The sound had that mirthful, appealing quality that was infectious. It was good to hear. It gave you a feeling of well-being.

This all happened in 1923, when Ethan's retail antique business was netting him $15,000 a year. It was easy to laugh then. They were a jolly couple.

In 1931 Ethan's retail antique business dropped off from one-half its top amount to one-third, then to one-quarter.

That year passed and the next. The Pryors didn't find it so easy to laugh. They gave up their seven-room apartment and moved into a less expensive one. In January of 1934 they moved to a single room in an unfashionable part of the city. Ethan was barely making enough to keep them from starving.

Abigail hunted for a week and eventually won for herself a job. It wasn't much of a job. She sat behind a glass window all afternoon and evening selling tickets for a stock company performance. The stock company wasn't doing so well. It looked as though it might fold up any day. But it paid $15 a week and would have to do until she could get something better.

Inspired, a little ashamed, Ethan went job hunting himself. He hunted a week, two weeks, without success. He began to brood. Abigail did her best to cheer him up, to get him into a happy frame of mind. "Let's hear the old laugh ring out, darling. A pleasant frame of mind is half the battle." She sat on the arm of his chair. "Tell you what, let's celebrate. Let's take $5 and go down to Tony's. We can have a gay time for a change."

THEY WENT to Tony's. They drank wine and ate a big dinner. They danced. They sat and watched the floor show. It wasn't a bad floor show. Among other things there was a comedian. The comedian was sad. He wasn't funny. But Abigail laughed. She laughed as though she thought he was tremendously funny.

Ethan looked at her. A fond light came into his eyes. She was trying to be gay. She was doing all she could to bolster up his spirits. He could at least help. Ethan laughed. It was the old time, mirthful, appealing laughter. It rolled out and filled the room. Others heard it. Others laughed. They couldn't help it. They laughed with Ethan. The comedian was inspired. After the show a man came up and sat down at Ethan's and Abigail's table. Abigail introduced him, the owner of the stock company show where she sold tickets. His name was Jones.

"Listen," said Mr. Jones. "We'll pay you $5 a night to come and laugh at our show. It's supposed to be a funny show. You can put it across."

Ethan scratched his chin. He looked at Abigail. He said: "Well, I dunno. For $49 a week I might consider it." "Gold!" said Mr. Jones. Ethan looked at his wife when he got home. "You planned it!" he accused.

"Sure," said Abigail. "When you have something it should be cashed in on. You can laugh your way to riches, my dear."

Times were getting better. People were buying antiques. By the beginning of 1938 he was doing quite well. That summer he enlarged his shop.

"Well," said Abigail, happily. "I guess we laughed our way through that depression all right."

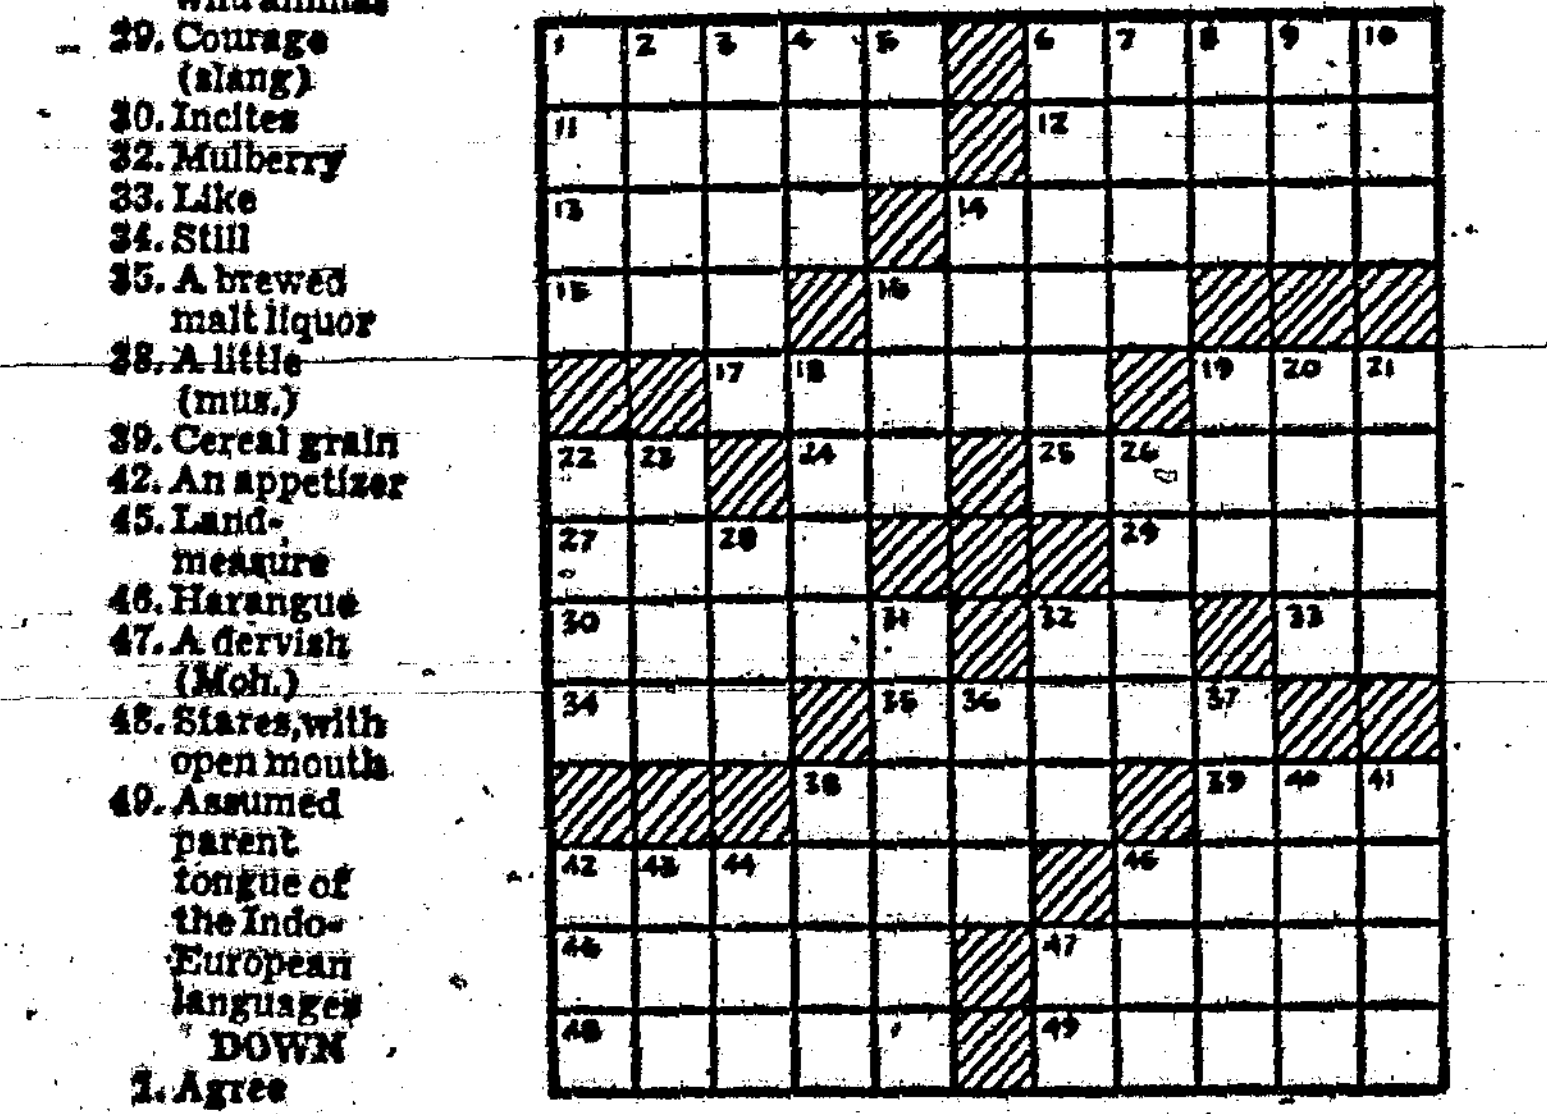

Ethan kissed her. Then he threw back his head and began to laugh. He laughed loud and long. "There!" he said. "That laugh isn't going to cost you any cent. From now on I laugh because I want to and free of charge. Honey, I love you."

"Ditto," said Abigail.
