Large Crowd Attended Womans Club Luncheon

A very good crowd attended the covered dish luncheon at the Woman's Club building last Friday, 6:30, September 30, which was Family night. The buffet supper was bountiful and delicious. The school faculty and their families were guests of the club and were introduced by Mr. Spurlock and Mr. Myers.

The following program was announced by Mrs. Ratliff:

Piano solo — Mr. Brewster.

Vocal solo — Mr. Brewster with Mr. Snyder at piano.

Male quartet — Members of the Lions club — Messrs. Vernon Petty, Fred Napp, Clyde Brewster, and Bill Nickels sang three numbers with piano accompaniment by Mr. Snyder.

Two harmonica solos — Mr. Lewis Farris.

Dr. J. P. Turner showed several of his moving pictures.

Everyone present spent an enjoyable evening and many thanks are due to the committee, Mesdames Hayes, Stokes, and Ratliff.

Floyd LaFayette Rowland

Mr. Floyd L. Rowland, who was bookkeeper for the City garage for a number of years was found dead at Santa Rosa last week. A coroner's jury found that death was due to heart failure.

Mr. Rowland's only survivors are married daughter, Mrs. Katherine Rowland Stabbe of Pittsburg, California and two grandchildren Mrs. Stabbe had her father's remains shipped to that point for funeral and interment, which were held last Sunday.

The trick cigar that explodes in the face of the unsuspecting smoker has a counterpart in boot-legged cigarettes imported into New Mexico by residents who seek to evade the provisions of the State Luxury Tax Law, according to the State Bureau of Revenue. A delayed explosion, in the form of a crack-down on violation of the law, may startle New Mexicans who have fallen for the blandishments of out-of-state vendors and who have purchased their cigarettes at bargain prices that sidestep the New Mexico statute.

The minimum price for standard cigarettes in New Mexico is $1.90. The out-of-state dealers quote prices as low as $1.65, postage paid. But the joker is that these cigarettes do not carry the New Mexico cigarette tax stamps and the law says specifically that "it shall be unlawful for any wholesaler, retailer or consumer to purchase or acquire cigarettes upon which the stamps provided for in the act (New Mexico Luxury Tax Law) have not been affixed."

Fines ranging from $25.00 to $300 and jail sentences up to 180 days are the penalties prescribed by law for violators of the Luxury Tax Law.

Several states in which the mail order cigarette vendors operate have regulations that require notification to the New Mexico authorities of sales made to consumers in this state. While some violators of the law are, so far, evading the tax a large number have already been reported by authorities from other states.

Most New Mexicans, realizing that the proceeds of the cigarette tax go for assistance of the needy aged of the state, are complying with the law. However, it is the minority that is dodging the tax and who may find the unexpected explosion as a result of illegal smoking.

Mrs. Ralph Petty who has been ill of pneumonia is much improved.

Mrs. Charles Hodgkin underwent an operation in an Ancho hospital Wed.

Uncle Sam Says

The first oil well was drilled in 1859, sixty years ago. Drilling is still going on even under the ocean. Occasionally one of these wells bursts into flame and "spits in smoke" so much of the profit. Much the same thing happens when many of my nephews and nieces allow their money to burn holes in their pockets. Your government offers a safe, sure way of holding on to some of that pay check. That is through the Payroll Savings Plan for the purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds.

Amateur Show

--Sponsored by Juniors

The amateur show sponsored by the Junior Class of Carrizozo high school, September 29th was a great success. The public was invited and everyone enjoyed it. There were some really good acts presented.

Play consisted of three divisions: Dancing stunts and music. The crowd applauded generously, and winners were judged by applause of the crowd. Following were winners in each division: First was dancing won by Billy Hicks and Herbert Langfeld; posed as negroes, singing "I Got a Shoe" and a dance, "Cut the Pigeon Wing." Second was a stunt won by Charles Hodgkin and Don Shultz. Don dressed as a country girl, sang "Country Girl" accompanied by Charles on the guitar.

Football Game Last Friday

Ruidoso came to Zozo for a football game Friday and got one. Although Ruidoso went home with the score (0-0) both teams put up a real fight. Carrizozo made 11 first downs for 127 yards. Carrizozo made 169 yards rushing and the rest of her yards passing while Ruidoso made 111 yards rushing and the rest passing. Ruidoso made her touchdown when Carrizozo received a 16-yard penalty for illegal use of the hands. They put them so close to the goal line Carrizozo was unable to hold them. Some say this penalty was the difference in the two teams.

An announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Marietta Means and Mr. Vernon Lee Miller. The wedding took place in Alamogordo on September 30. Marietta plans to remain in Carrizozo and work for a short time.

Lincoln County Sales Increase

Lincoln County, with a 20 per cent increase in retail sales for July 1949 over July 1948 was one of 12 counties in the State showing sales increases above the 2-per cent gain registered by the state as a whole. These estimates are based on school tax collections and issued by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of New Mexico in the September issue of its monthly bulletin New Mexico Business.

Despite the country's 85 per cent decline in apparel sales, which is much greater than the 18 per cent registered for the state, and the 48 per cent decline in building materials activity, the state shows only 27 per cent decline. Increases in other categories result in the county showing a net gain.

The Bureau reports increases in sales of automotive dealers, 62 per cent; subsistence, 80 per cent; furniture and appliances, 44 per cent; and other retail 14 per cent.

This isn't Georgia but we are hearing a lot about peaches.

LESS LABOR AFTER LABOR DAY

With summer's end, thoughts turn to fall house-cleaning and getting ready for the days when you spend more time indoors. When it comes to waxing and cleaning there are lots of little ways to save time using a handy, renewable applicator for self-polishing wax (they cost under a dollar) using an electric floor polisher (you can rent one in your neighborhood) using Johnson's Cream Wax that cleans and polishes furniture and woodwork in one application; applying thin coats of wax regularly to furniture, woodwork, leather goods, lampshades and hundreds of other surfaces—then keep those wax-protected items clean and shiny by a new listing.

Seven-Day Religion

Lesson for October 9, 1949

EMPLOYERS don't care much for letters of recommendation signed by preachers. Not that they think preachers are dishonest. The employer is glad to know where the chap is on Sunday mornings. But he would rather have a letter from somebody who sees him every Saturday night and Monday morning.

Religion Won't Keep Sweet by Itself

IT IS a temptation as old as a wall and life on the other. But the prophets showed, once and for all, that God has literally no use for religion, which has been dissected off from life. Religion which is kept apart from life turns sour and bad. In Isaiah's time, everybody knew there was something wrong with the country.

Isaiah's diagnosis was shocking: Religion is our principal trouble. God is tired of it. What? The pious people would exclaim. Look at the crowds in the Temple every holy day! Listen to all the prayers, count the number of tithers. If anything is wrong with our country, it can't be religion! But religion it was.

Why God Was Tired

A CATHOLIC priest would shock everybody should he call Vatican City "Hell's Half Acre." Isaiah shocked his fellow citizens by calling Jerusalem "Sodom and Gomorrah." Those cities were the worst places the Hebrews had ever heard of.

They were so bad the Lord had to destroy them by fire—not if good people could be found there. The prophet follows up that first shock by another. Every single expression of organized religion comes under the prophet's lash. Sacrifices and offerings (v. 11), attendance at the sanctuary, observance of the Sabbath and other holy days (v. 13), church gatherings, corresponding to our rallies and conventions (v. 13), even prayers (v. 15).

Put that into modern terms: attendance at church, Bible reading, tithing, praying—if that is all, then all is no good. It may be religion, and of course it is one kind of religion; but not the kind God wants.

Indeed, Isaiah says God hates it; he is "fed up" with it (vs. 11). What was wrong? Isaiah tells them that, too, in short simple words. "Your hands are full of blood."

Oh, the people would protest, we are not killers, we don't lay a hand on anybody. Isaiah goes on to explain: seek judgment (i.e. justice), relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

You don't kill outright, you churchgoers; he would say, but you are so indifferent to justice in your city, you take so little interest in the people at the bottom of the heap, that people die here, widows and orphans die, simply because no one cares.

What Makes a Town Worth Saving? ALAS, nobody did care. One hundred and more years went by, and Jerusalem came close to its end. But nobody thought that disaster could strike. The belief had grown in every one's mind that the Temple of the Lord would forever insure the safety of the city in which it stood.

But a young prophet, Jeremiah, preached a sermon on the same theme as Isaiah's (Jer. 7): It is not the temple that will save you, it is not church attendance that will bring you the favor of God.

As the men of Jerusalem looked back to the great days of Moses, they thought of the sacrifices and offerings, the tabernacle and the rituals and all the pageantry and paraphernalia of a picturesque religion, as the great thing that God had given them.

But God remembered it otherwise. Jeremiah even says (with understandable exaggeration) that God had not said a word about sacrifices and offerings; the Ten Commandments, with all they implied, were the main thing.

Lift-Type Device Used on Tractor

Will Aid Materially In Easing Farm Chores

To help with those odd chores about the farm that so often are time-wasting and back-breaking, Pittsburgh forgings company of Coraopolis, Pa., has developed a lift-type utility carrier for use on tractors.

The Pittsburgh carry-lift is attached in a few seconds to tractors through the regular implement suspension points. Made of alloy spring steel and structural steel, it will handle loads as heavy as 700 pounds.

An important feature of this new unit is its quick conversion from a platform lift to a fork lift, making it universal in the types of loads it can both lift and carry. It can be used as a platform lift either with or without a back panel, and pockets are provided for standard 2"x4" stakes. The frame is punched to provide easy securing of loads and for the addition of a wooden platform.

The farm carry-lift is attached in seconds through the regular tractor implement suspension points. Heavy containers can be tipped and rolled onto the platform without lifting. The tractor engine raises the carry-lift.

Used as a fork lift, the utility carrier works like a small hay-buck, and thus can pick up bulky material without the lift having to be loaded by hand. Heavier loads can be handled in this way by using skid-pallets. Its capacity for light, bulky loads can be extended materially by putting 2"x4" fork extensions into the brackets provided.

Lifting of heavy containers like milk cans, drums and barrels is eliminated by the carry-lift because these can be tipped and rolled onto the platform which practically rests on the ground. Small buildings, range shelters, and feeders can be easily and quickly moved by tipping slightly and running the forks beneath them. Heavy bags of seed grain can be taken to the field with a minimum of lifting, and field feeding is made both quicker and easier.

The carry-lift will be found particularly useful because material can be moved over any kind of ground, under any condition where a tractor can operate and in places that might be inaccessible by other means of transportation.

Popular Belling

A victim of the war, the first red rubber agricultural belling has been made available to farmers by a Pennsylvania manufacturer. Available since 1940 only as a higher-priced industrial belling, the red rubber belling was a pre-war favorite with America's farmers. This farmer's smiles as he gets his first roll indicates a big welcome on its return to the farm market. This belling is particularly popular because of its added flexibility and toughness.

Value of Bicarbonate Use In Swine Feeding Tested

An experimental feeding program to determine the value of bicarbonate of soda in the feeding of hogs is being conducted this fall at Iowa State college.

Experiments will be aimed at determining whether the feeding of bicarbonate of soda produces observable benefits in the growth of swine and whether the ingestion of amounts equal to 1 per cent of the ration will produce results.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS

Win Family Favor with Hearty Soups

(See Recipes Below)

Substantial Soups

COLD, BLUSTERY DAYS call for changes in the family meal plans. Something hot, something tempting with which to start off the meal is waiting and it takes the edge off those appetites which have been sharpened by the elements. That something can be soup, be it luncheon, dinner or supper.

You could serve a different kind of soup practically every day when its cold enough and never repeat the same kind because the variety may be infinite. Give your menus a lift in nourishment and interest by trying out kinds which you've never had before and see how your rating goes up with the family.

*Crabmeat Bisque

- 1 1-pound bunch broccoli
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons finely minced onion
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 4 cups milk
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon paprika
- 1 teaspoon worcestershire sauce
- 1 cup grated American cheese

Prepare broccoli: cook washed vegetable in an inch of boiling, salted (1/2 teaspoon salt to 1 cup water) water for 15 to 20 minutes, or until tender. Slice or chop fine and measure. There should be about 1 1/2 cups of the vegetable pulp. Melt butter in saucepan, add onion and cook until tender. Blend in flour. Gradually add milk, stirring constantly, and cook until thick and smooth. Stir in broccoli, seasonings and sauce. Add grated cheese and stir until melted. Serve in warm soup bowls with a sprinkling of more grated cheese on top.

A delicious and different variation of cream soup is bisque which is somewhat thicker, but there's no trick to its preparation.

*Crabmeat Bisque

- 1 1/2 cups shredded crabmeat (8 1/2 ounce can)
- 1 1/2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 1/2 cup evaporated milk (1 tall can)
- 1 egg
- 1-2 tablespoons lemon juice

Remove any shell from crab meat, then shred. Melt butter; add flour, salt and pepper, and blend until smooth. Add boiling water and cook until mixture begins to thicken. Add milk and continue cooking until slightly thickened. Beat egg; add lemon juice and stir into white sauce along with crab meat. Heat to serving temperature and serve immediately.

HERE ARE TWO hearty soups, both of them regional favorites:

Dutch Vegetable Soup

- (Serves 10)
- 2 cups dried lima beans
- 1 large soup bone

LYNN SAYS: Soup variety tempts Cold-Sharpened Appetites Frankfurter or salami sliced 1/4-inch thick adds flavor and richness to pea, bean, corn and tomato soups. When you want to get fancy with soup garnishes, serve with a float of salted whipped cream, sprinkled with slivered toasted almonds. If soup seems thin and unappetizing, drop a few pieces of macaroni into it for thickening and texture interest.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- *Crabmeat Bisque
- Tossed Green Salad
- Melba Toast
- Fudge Cake
- Beverage

*Recipe Given

- 2 cups tomatoes, fresh or canned
- 2 cups corn kernels, fresh or canned
- 2 cups chopped cabbage
- 1 large turnip, diced
- 1 carrot, sliced
- 1 onion, sliced
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 teaspoon flour
- 1/2 cup milk

Soak lima beans in enough cold water to cover, for several hours or overnight. Wash soup bone thoroughly and cover with cold water. Bring to boil and simmer for three to four hours. Skim off fat and add drained lima beans and prepared vegetables. Season to taste and cook until vegetables are tender.

er, about one hour. Mix flour with milk and stir into soup. Cook for 15 minutes and serve hot.

Back Bay Fish Chowder

- (Serves 6)
- 1/2 pound salt pork, sliced
- 2 cups diced fish
- 6 small potatoes, sliced
- 2 onions, chopped fine
- 3 cups boiling water
- 2 cups milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper

Fry salt pork in deep kettle. When crisp, remove pork and add fish, potatoes and onions. Add boiling water and simmer one-half hour, or until potatoes are tender. Add milk and cook for five minutes longer. Season with salt and pepper and serve with pilot biscuits.

CABBAGE SOUP is an old-fashioned favorite, and you've probably made it often. Here, however, is a tasty recipe for it, seasoned to perfection with salt pork and a few wisely selected herbs.

French Cabbage Soup

- (Makes 2 1/2 quarts)
- 1/2 pound salt pork, cut in cubes
- 2 quarts cold water
- 2 spray parsley
- Pinch of thyme
- 1 bay leaf, crushed
- 1 cup diced raw carrots
- 1 cup diced raw turnips
- 1 cup diced raw potatoes
- 1 quart finely shredded cabbage
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 1 teaspoon salt

Place pork in soup kettle with water, parsley, thyme and bay leaf. Bring to a boil and simmer gently for one hour. Strain out pork and herbs. Add vegetables to the broth with salt; bring to a boil and simmer for one hour. Add pork to the soup, and season to taste with more salt and pepper, if desired. Serve with grated cheese, if desired.

Clam chowder and consommé can stand a bit of tartness so it's a smart idea to float thin lemon slices on top of the soup when serving.

Grate cheese or puree some red pimientos and fold them into whipped cream for a colorful soup garnish—especially attractive for the cream type soups. Soup will tempt youngsters and oldsters alike if it's sprinkled with buttered popcorn just before serving. This is an excellent idea for tomato, pea and corn soups.

Just then the elevator stopped and the two men got off and left the wide-eyed passengers wondering what to do about the situation.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble—to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. CHANGE of LIFE?

Are you going through the tubercular-sometimes called "peppercorn" to women (35 to 55 yrs.)? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel so nervous, highstrung, tired? Then do you have a Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Pinkham's Compound also has what Doctors call a stomachic tonic effect! LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes slip in their work—do not act as Nature intended—all to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and speed the whole body machinery. Symptoms may be aching backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, swelling up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, (swelling of nervous system) and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is either health or neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor! DOAN'S PILLS

Lincoln County Bond Report
 Residents of Lincoln County invested $1,519.00, at issue price, in U. S. Savings Bonds during August, the Treasury Department has reported to Mr. S. E. Grelsen, Chairman of this County's Savings Bonds Committee.
 Series "E" Bonds attracted $1,519.00 of this total, which will return $2,026.33 to the owners if held to maturity.
 During the Opportunity Bond Drive, April 1 to July 18, Lincoln Countians placed $13,732.00 in Series "E's", being 33 per cent of the quota; during August 1948 $1,256.25 were so invested.
 "Savings Bonds are an accepted form for investment of savings by a great many people," said Mr. Grelsen. "They are the safest securities in the World today, pay a guaranteed return as interest, and may be cashed at any time after 60 days from purchase date, in case of emergency."

P. T. A. MEETING
 The October meeting of the P. T. A. will be held at the grade school building Monday night, October 10 at 7:30. A program consisting of group singing, a talk by Mr. Ernest Wellington on the soil conservation program in Lincoln County, and a program given by the sixth grade pupils under the direction of Miss Thelma Zuber, will be given. It is planned to show a movie, also. The public is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Doil Ray were here from Newman last week to visit Mrs. Royle Ward for the week end.

NOTICE
 The New Mexico State Employment Service has discontinued itinerant service to Carrizozo for the time being. This is due to the low number of contacts being made to the office each Friday and will in all probability be changed if there is an appreciable increase in activity here.
 In the meantime any employer from this area in need of workers or information is requested to contact the Alamogordo Local Office. Any workers in need of a job and wanting to file an Unemployment Insurance claim should also call at the Alamogordo office. The office is located at 801 New York Avenue and the telephone number is 382-R.

MIGHTY MIDGET

CHICAGO—This tiny but efficient stapler has become one of the most efficient little household, school and office aids in the "family tool chest." A 98-cent seller, it fits into vest pocket, purse, brief case, school bag and desk or kitchen drawers with equal ease because it's only 2 and 1/2 inches long. Despite its size, it performs with the same fool-proof precision of large and expensive staplers.
 It speeds packing lunches and children's sandwich bags, keeps bills, checks, receipts or clippings in order. It's also handy for tacking shelf paper and curtain tie-backs. Dad uses it for organizing office papers in the evening, while the children like it for stapling school themes, outlines and reports. It's available at stationery, drug, department and leading hardware stores everywhere.

 Mrs. Harry Morris was in Roswell Saturday and Sunday where she visited relatives and friends. While there she attended an anniversary celebration at which 150 guests enjoyed a picnic dinner in the Park.

Uncle Sam Says

Next to a stack of golden grain in the fields or a tree loaded with fruit, a farmer's proudest possession is his stack of U. S. Savings Bonds. These Bonds enable him to oil up his financial machinery and maintain a reserve which insures his home, land, livestock and equipment. His future is secure. The wise farmer builds his financial reserve in Savings Bonds from profits when his crops are good. That reserve is the windbreak against a stormy period. And it grows $4 for every $3 invested in ten years.

RED CROSS FIELD DIRECTORS SOLVE SERVICEMEN'S PROBLEMS

Red Cross services to the armed forces are available wherever U. S. servicemen are stationed. Here a Red Cross field director goes right to a young sailor at work on his ship for the facts he needs to help solve a problem.

The sailor was young. He had finished his home leave in a southern coastal city and was heading back to his California base. He said goodbye to his parents and to an older brother, a marine veteran just returned from service. Then he left by bus. A few hours later the older brother was killed in an automobile accident. The family appealed to the Red Cross to locate the younger son so he could return home. Within a short while a Red Cross chapter secretary along the route intercepted the bus, broke the news, and hoped the lad get started back home. There the chapter got in touch with the field director at the west coast base and verified the facts for the commanding officer who was being asked to extend the sailor's leave. Once or more every minute, around the clock last year, the Red Cross performed some service for members of the military forces and their families. Among the nearly three quarters of a million cases handled, a large percentage involved supplying verified information concerning home conditions requiring emergency leave or extension of leave. While the Red Cross cannot grant leave to a serviceman, military authorities depend upon its post field directors and the network of chapters for reports of conditions underlying such leave requests. Field directors in 364 military installations and hospitals and 1,059 itinerant and sub-stations in this country and abroad aid servicemen with personal problems that range from cables and budgets to helping straighten out delays that hold up pay or family allowances. The serviceman has his family problems, marital difficulties, financial strains, and family illnesses—all disturbing to morale. Field directors, providing 24-hour service at military installations, are pretty much in the same situation as the family doctor. They are routed out of bed at all hours to face any one of a hundred complicated problems. Sometimes it may be to get a report on the condition of a critically ill member of a soldier's family, or to lend him money for an emergency trip home, or to find housing for a family unexpectedly arriving at the post. Whatever the problem, the serviceman feels free to turn to the Red Cross for help, knowing that he will find a sympathetic friend in the man wearing the Red Cross uniform.

State Fair Rodeo

Albuquerque, N. M. That rodeo is the Southwest's favorite sport was demonstrated during the 1949 New Mexico State Fair when paid grandstand admissions for the night rodeo contests exceeded those paid for grandstand admissions for the afternoon races during the eight days by more than $9,000.00. It was the State Fair's Greatest rodeo, with more than 100 entries, including many of the top hands of the West and it drew standing room only for five of the eight night shows, with hundreds turned away at the Saturday night show, (October 1st, when rodeo fans who could not gain admission for standing room, battled at the gates with officers.

Santa Fe, Oct. 7 New Mexico children will be exposed to "three Rs" in an atmosphere of healthfulness, color and efficiency if educators have their way in planning schools of tomorrow, R. H. From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Why Firemen's Houses Don't Catch Fire

At the last meeting of the Town Council, Bill Simpson brought up the subject of our Volunteer Fire Department. Claimed that our town was getting big enough to have a regular paid Department. Judge Cunningham objected! "As long as we serve on the Volunteers, we'll keep thinking about fire and be careful about fire hazards at home. We might get careless if we just left the job up to someone else." We figured that made good sense and decided to keep the volunteer system... banded together for our own protection... "putting fires out" before they start! From where I sit, running a town is like running a business—and a successful businessman "does his own checking up." That's why the brewers and tavern owners cooperate in their Self-Regulation program. They know it's up to them to see that their places are clean and law-abiding. They don't leave the job to someone else because we can do it as well.

John Brown's (AI on CBS' My Friend Irma) strangest single broad cast was when he played a man who was murdered, the murderer, the cop who arrested him, and the judge who pronounced sentence.

The Men's Tie Foundation has named Ralph Edwards of NBC's This Is Your Life show as Mr. Celebrity for 1950.

Horace Heidt has received 90 awards for his work in behalf of America's youth on his CBS Sunday night program. His trophies, plaques, certificates fill a room.

Like other big radio stars, NBC "Big Town's" Fran Carlon is preparing for TV. She's appearing regularly with a small drama group.

Nearly everyone writes radio fan letters. Even Chicago University's President Hutchins penned two notes to Actor Eddie Mayehoff to laud his portrayal of a professor. Heroism knows no sex. Police radio operator Dorothy McGuire, Orlando, Fla., proved this by directing the rescue of a 22-month-old boy who had been bitten by a rattlesnake—a deed which won the hero award on CBS' Call The Police show. Staffer Cotsworth (Casey on CBS' Crime Photographer) was a top Broadway star before turning to radio in 1942. He starred in 20 plays. Short shorts: TV will come to most rural sections in 5 years. Charles Luckman, Lever Brothers president, coined a new term on a recent broadcast by labeling talk of a possible depression as "jabber-litters."

The newspaper comic strip technique is now on TV in Ruthie On The Telephone, which is telecast 6 nights a week in 5 minute strips. Laugh Talk: Grace—I think we should open a new bank account. Harry—Why? Grace—Because the old one doesn't have enough money in it. CBS' Junior Miss.

Well, Shut My Mouth!

NEW YORK CITY—Most of our famous explorers such as Admiral Byrd and Will Beebe belong to the Explorers' Club on W. 72nd St. Although you may not be lucky enough to bag a celebrity on a visit to the club, you will see some very fine specimens of game that celebrities have bagged. This leathery old Hippo was getting to look a little dingy until General Richard Oglesby Marsh decided to brighten him up. The famous engineer and scientific explorer who has several paragraphs devoted to him in "Who's Who" says an occasional coat of paste wax is just as effective in preserving the hides and horns of beauties like Hippo as it is in beautifying and protecting the floors and furniture of the club.

"Buick's the Buy"

It's part of every street scene—something you see every day.

Car owners in three different price classes—all happy about the same thing.

One of them drives a new Buick SPECIAL, which you see poking forth its new, bold-look forefront at the left of our picture.

Another will tell you there's nothing like the SUPER's "happy medium" of size and comfort, power and easy handling, style and standing.

And if you're looking for prestige, where is your money going to buy so much as in that handsome 18-footer, the ROADMASTER, with its 150-hp performance and really royal bearing?

But all these good folks get together on this:

There's no ride quite so soft and cushiony as the Buick ride, whatever the size and series. There's no power quite so satisfyingly lively as Buick's high-compression, high-pressure Fireball power.

Above all, there's no "buy" like a Buick—no car that gives you such a rich dollar's worth of smartness, handling, comfort and liveliness for every dollar you pay.

So why not look the whole line over? Your Buick dealer has these grand travel-mates in a baker's dozen of different body types and sizes. Start your shopping in his showroom—and you'll find that even on delivery he has exactly what you want.

BUICK alone has all these features

52" smooth DYNAFLOW DRIVE • FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area • SWING-EASY DOORS and easy access • "LIVING SPACE" INTERIORS with Deep-Crode seating • Spacious riding GUARANTEED COR SPRINGERS • Lively FIREBALL STRAIGHT-EIGHT POWER with SELF-SETTING VALVE LAMBS (Dynaflow Models) plus HI-POISED ENGINE MOUNTINGS • low-pressure tires on SAFETY-RIDE RIMS • Double-Duty WHEELS • DUREX BEARINGS, main and connecting rods • BODY BY FERRIS

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Red Delegate Urges U.N. Accord; World Awaits Pound Cut Effects; Walkouts Plague Major Industry

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

RUSSIA:

A 'Sweet' Note

The Russian theme in international accord was growing a little sweeter, if Andrei V. Vishinsky, Soviet foreign minister could be taken at his word.

WEARING a broad smile, Vishinsky had urged United Nations members to cooperate. The gesture was made by the chief delegate as he arrived in New York by plane to attend the fourth United Nations general assembly sessions.

Disdaining the usual brusque "no comment" for reporters, Vishinsky was almost voluble. "The Soviet delegation," he said, "is fully confident that the United Nations is on the head of the Soviet government, Stalin, said—a serious instrument for the maintenance of peace and international security."

Then he added: "There can be no doubt that the general assembly would be able to solve the important problems before it providing the nations of the U.N. show a sincere desire to cooperate with each other and in accordance with the principles of the U.N. charter."

Other delegates, advised of this and remembering the almost innumerable Russian "vetoes" in matters where cooperation might have been most valuable, decided to await development at assembly sessions to see just how far the Russian affable manner would go.

DEVALUATION:

Wait and See

To say that reaction to Britain's devaluation of the pound sterling was mixed, would be an understatement. Instead, reaction ranged from hope to fear, from confusion to jubilation "I told you so's" from all those who had held that devaluation was the only answer to Britain's current economic crisis.

AND that was the chief rub—was the solution one that would solve just the current situation, or was it the entire answer? The bulk of the thinking on that angle was that it was not the long-range panacea, with most observers preferring to "wait and see" before committing themselves to any analysis of the devaluation effect.

Meanwhile Canada had joined the parade of English-connected nations devaluating the pound.

THE DEVALUATION move was a two-edged sword in the British dollar crisis, for just as it might result in increased buying of British goods by Americans because of lowered costs, it would mean, too, that the English would have to pay more for the items they bought at home. The pound value was cut from $3.03 to $2.80, an action which alarmed most importers.

While expressing fear the move would cost them a great deal of money, most traders said they "didn't know a thing" yet and couldn't speculate until they had some word from British manufacturers.

SOME DEALERS and importers declared they would take a beating on the reduced values of their inventory of British goods already bought and paid for at $4.03 to the pound.

Fire Hazards

Of course one can live in a fire-trap—but the question is: How long?

The National Fire Protection Association, calling attention to Fire Prevention Week October 9-15, poses this question and points out that 11,000 people lost their lives in fires last year. More than twice that number were seriously injured. One-third of that number, the association reported, lived on farms.

Dry roof is vulnerable.

Reporting that a few structural hazards account for at least half of all farm fires, the NFPA urged farmers to take steps now to eliminate such hazards. These steps were listed as: checking of wiring systems; wetting down of inflammable roofs in dry weather; inspecting heating plants and chimneys; and protection of main buildings with lightning rods.

MARSHALL PLAN FUNDS

Money Helps Fight Disease in Europe

Critics of the Marshall plan could find little fault with one phase of it, at least. For the record showed that through this means the United States was throwing the full weight of modern medical science into Europe's battle against war-spawned disease and malnutrition. This was disclosed by ECA officials in Paris.

Through the Marshall plan,

New Justice

Judge Sherman Minton, of U.S. circuit court at Chicago, was named by President Truman to succeed the late supreme court Justice Wiley B. Rutledge.

WALKOUTS:

Cars, Coal, Steel

American industry, fighting to regain pre-war stability, was facing parlous times. John L. Lewis' coal miners had left the pits. The United Automobile Workers union had handed the Ford Motor company what amounted to a strike notice, and now the steel industry was next.

WITH these basic U.S. industries all down, production suspended, millions of workers out of jobs, the national industrial and economic picture appeared dim indeed.

President Truman was coming in for some blame in the steel industry dispute, with critics charging he had "fumbled the ball" in efforts to prevent a strike.

Four days before the deadline for start of the strike, federal conciliator Cyrus Ching had reported no progress in negotiations. Neither side would budge on the key point in negotiations.

The union contended that since it had agreed to forego its demands for a pay raise, the steelmakers should accept the presidential fact-finding board's recommendations for a company-financed welfare fund. While this seemed to satisfy steelworkers, it didn't please the UAW.

ON the other hand, the steel industry was buying newspaper space to claim that it was agreed at the outset that the presidential board's findings would not be binding on either party, and that if a strike resulted, the union would have to assume the responsibility.

Steel leaders took the position, too, that the workers should contribute to the pension-insurance plan costing 10 cents an hour for each man.

BOMBERS:

Givas Reds Pause

The declaration came from a man whose qualifications entitle him to the rating of expert—Gen. Henry H. Arnold, wartime chief of U.S. air forces. The statement, made in a book, "Global Missions," was that it isn't armies or navies that Russia fears, but only far-reaching bomber strength.

"Let's put it this way," the general wrote. "Russia has no fear of an army, she thinks here is just as good and bigger than any other in the world; she has no fear of a navy since she can't see how it could be employed against her; but she does fear our long-range strategic air force which she cannot as yet match, or as yet understand. In the strategic air force, coupled with our atomic bomb, at this writing we hold the balance of power in the world."

"But," he warned, "by tomorrow the picture may change."

Arnold minced no words in the dim view he takes of the Russians. "The Russians," he says, "would have none of the American proposal that the American air force be allowed to build B-29 bases in Siberia to attack Japan." Similarly, he recalled that agreement for bases in Russian territory to be used for shuttle-bombing of Germany, was ended after a short time by Moscow.

The air force, in the current squabble over armed-service prestige as a result of the unification bill, could take much solace and encouragement from General Arnold's statements.

ARMS BILL:

Meddling Feared

The 1.33 billion dollars arms-aid bill had a stalwart supporter in Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (R., Mich.) who termed it a bargain-price peace insurance policy against Communist aggression.

He said he feared that any "meddling" with the bill might impair its force and effect.

Vandenberg, chief Republican spokesman in the senate on foreign policy, declared that the arms-aid program might be regarded either as life insurance or fire insurance and said that in any case it is a bargain policy as far as peace is concerned.

Referring to the North Atlantic defense pact, he said that pact included a pledge to maintain forces that can resist armed attack. Too, he pointed out, European allies have weaknesses that the arms bill would help overcome.

Vandenberg declared that it would be in "honorable keeping" with U.S. treaty obligations to adopt the arms bill. "I think it is definitely and specifically in the interests of our own national defense," he went on. "I think it is a discouragement to war... I think it is prime and vital peace insurance."

He argued that the plan to send American tanks, guns and planes to Europe falls squarely within the commitments of the North Atlantic pact which the senate ratified by a vote of 82 to 13.

He denied sending arms abroad would mean the start of an arms race between the East and West.

Vandenberg's active support for the measure was expected to help it materially in winning final adoption in the senate, since many dissident Republicans would probably go along on the basis of Vandenberg's admitted stature in the field of foreign policy and because of his prestige in the senate.

U.N. TOP MAN:

Soviets Object

Over Soviet protest, Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, anti-Communist campaigner from the Philippine islands, was elected president of the fourth United Nations general assembly. Only the five nations of the Soviet bloc opposed his election.

IGNORING the Soviet attitude, Romulo's first act was an appeal that the delegates make this gathering a real "peace assembly."

According to newsmen, Yugoslavia apparently voted against the Soviet bloc for the first time, in the secret ballot for president, but declined to admit it publicly.

The new president, acknowledging that many obstacles to peace still exist, said the danger of a new war had abated and that the delegates must press this advantage.

HE CALLED upon them to move forward boldly in the spirit of international cooperation called for by the Mexican resolution approved unanimously in Paris last year.

Romulo's choice as chief of the assembly was seen as indicating friction in debate on issues as the Soviet bloc could be expected to fight the anti-Communist leader at every turn where opposition could be maintained. Top Russian delegate Vishinsky had also spoken out for harmony, but on the basis of past performance by the Russians, his attitude was open to doubt.

Anti-Red

Karl Feyer, one of the most courageous oppositionists to defy communism in the Hungarian parliament, is shown beaming happily on his arrival in New York.

RAILROADS:

One Fireman

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen wouldn't like it, but nevertheless, there would be only one fireman on diesel locomotives. The presidential emergency board had ruled that a union demand for a second fireman on these locomotives was out of line, rejected the demand.

THE BOARD said simply that there is no need for an extra fireman on diesel-powered locomotives now in use.

TRADE BODY:

Carson Okayed

Despite some vigorous Republican opposition, John J. Carson was confirmed by the senate as a member of the federal trade commission. The Truman appointee was confirmed by a vote of 45 to 25. Carson's economic views came under heaviest fire from the Republicans, with many charging him with lack of sympathy for the American free enterprise system. Carson, 46, is a former newsmen.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Dumplings: If dumplings are on the same menu as gravy, don't wash the bowl in which the dumpling dough was mixed. Instead, add a little water to the dough which sticks to the bowl, and use it to thicken the gravy.

Test Cake Quality: The quality of a cake can be tested without cutting into the cake itself if you set aside a small portion of batter and bake it as a cupcake. When both cakes are done, a taste of the little one will reveal the quality of the large one.

Cole Slaw Dressing: Instead of vinegar for a cole slaw dressing, use the leftover juice from a jar of sweet pickles. You'll get an unusual flavor.

Tea Flavor: A dried piece of orange rind, kept in the canister, adds a fine flavor to tea.

Hot Water Bottle Patch: Another way to patch a leaky hot water bottle is to melt part of an old jar rubber, rub the molten rubber over the hole with a flat-bladed knife and press it down with your fingers.

ASK ME ANOTHER?

A General Quiz

- The Questions: 1. Will a cow give more milk if she is milked three times a day instead of two? 2. What is the biggest crop in the U.S.? 3. Is there a sure way to tell sheep from goats? 4. How long does it take to feel a pin prick in your fingers? 5. Does the weather always travel in a given direction?

- The Answers: 1. Yes, from 10 to 25 per cent more. 2. Corn. 3. Goats carry their tails up, sheep carry theirs down. 4. About one hundredth of a second. 5. Almost always. In the temperate zones its direction is from the West to the East.

Two New Uses Reported On Aluminum Foil List

Adding to the ever-growing list of uses for aluminum foil, The Aluminum association has reported two more ways that it can be used to make life easier for the housewife.

Number one: place a sheet of aluminum foil underneath the ironing board cover. Because aluminum has a high reflectivity to heat, the foil reflects enough heat back to the under surface of the material so that in effect both sides are ironed at once. The Association also reports that the foil lessens the danger of scorching. Use number two makes outdoor cooking more fun. Wrap hamburgers, frankfurters or any other meats in aluminum foil before you place them over your barbecue grill. The foil will make the meat cook more quickly while retaining the juices that are often lost in open fire cooking. And, if you have time to place your hamburgers on, wrap them in foil and in a minute or so they'll regain their oven-freshness. For baking potatoes in the coals, wrap them in foil first. They bake more quickly and come out without a charcoal finish.

Coloring Margarine: To color margarine for table use, put your electric mixer to work on the job. Then, without cleaning the stray margarine off the mixer paddles, use the mixer for whipping mashed potatoes.

Restoring Mercury: If the mercury in a thermometer separates, try to shake it together. Or dip it in very cold water for a few minutes. If both fail, it's usually hopeless and a new thermometer is the remedy.

Condiments: Keep a large shaker of both salt and pepper in the kitchen and you can add both condiments to a dish with one shaking.

No Waste: During the war Mr. Bill's snatcher was very conservation conscious. He made his wife save all the fats from her cooking. He himself saved the waste paper and flattened the tin cans as per instructions, but his wife couldn't understand why he saved dead electric light bulbs.

"Why are you saving those?" she asked. "We can make the good bulbs last longer," he explained, "by using these dead bulbs during blackouts."

Mathematics: An instructor was teaching a class an intensified course. Realizing that the boys were beginning to show the strain of constant study he decided to ease the situation with a rather pointless question.

"If a chair has four legs, is painted white, and rolls on casters, how old am I?" The surprised students sat dumbfounded. Then the most backward member of the class supplied the answer, 44.

It was the instructor's turn to be amazed. "That's correct," he said, "but how did you know?" The student supplied the second answer, "My brother is 22 and he's only half crazy."

No Need: "That's a waste of money!" shouted the man approached for a contribution to build a fence around the cemetery. "In the first place I can't imagine anybody wanting to get in there, and secondly, if those sinners already in there were to get up out of the ground the fence would melt, anyway."

RAILROAD COMPANIES NOW 'SEND' US...

Patrons Protest Trains That Depart on Time

... AS BING 'TRANSPORTS' PASSENGERS

By H. T. PHILLIPS

SOME OF THE BIG railroad stations in our larger cities are going in heavily for entertainment. It takes your mind off the fact you can't find many posters. It is announced that disk jockeys will now play records, give news items and tell you how the ball games are going, interspersing them among the regular train calls. Never a dull moment.

"Twentieth Century Express now ready! . . . You will hear her laughing across a crowded room . . . Brooklyn 4, Giants 3 . . . On track Number III . . . I don't see me in your eyes any more . . . Will the lady who requested 'Riders in the Sky' and reported she has lost her umbrella kindly call at the information booth . . . All aboard!"

We looked into the matter yesterday. It was somewhat confusing. Our idea was just to get a ticket to Cos Cob. We walked up to the information booth. It was pretty crowded. A young lady wanted to know what time she could catch the "Ball Ha". Another wanted to know how much time there was between the express to Utica and "Strummin, On the Old Banjo."

"What time does the local to Cos Cob leave?" we asked.

"Let's Take an Old-Fashioned Walk," was all we got in response.

"Cos Cob," we repeated.

"DIMaggio just hit a homer with the bases full. Baby, 'It's Cold Outside is up next,'" came to us in loud tones.

"Listen, mister," we shouted at the information man.

"We haven't got that," he replied.

"Haven't got what?"

"The Wedding of Lill Marlene," he answered. "The four winds and the seven seas on track 11 at 3:38 . . . Get your latest news from the tennis matches at window eight."

Here everything was drowned out by an argument between a station attendant and a woman toting two suitcases and a harp. She said a porter had refused to carry her bags as he had never heard her on the Hit Parade.

Both were shoved aside by a cop with a loud cry of "Aw, shut up! I wanna hear 'Room Full of Roses!'"

We finally got the information clerk's attention and repeated "Cos Cob. What time?"

"Is that by Perry Como or Tony Martin?" he asked.

"It's by Mamaroneck," we snapped.

"That's funny. Mamaroneck isn't scheduled today. Would you like to hear how the Yanks made out?"

We gave up and tottered around until we found the Cos Cob track. But the trainmen wouldn't open the door. They were all listening to "Some Enchanted Evening," no dining car, first stop Stamford, has grill car only.

FATHER AND SON

"Popper, what is that money conference in Washington all about?"

"Oh, it's some sort of huddle about British money and ours. Shouldn't you be out playing ball?"

"Is there a dollar shortage in Europe, popper?"

"There is a dollar shortage everywhere, and even you kids had better begin realizing it."

How can the British have a dollar shortage? They use pounds, not dollars.

"They have to have a reserve of dollars for convertibility in world trade."

"But how did they get short of dollars in the reserve, popper?"

"Our dollar is worth so much more that it was in greater demand, I guess, or something. Here's your bat."

"But who demands American dollars?"

"Who doesn't?"

"Is there an American dollar shortage?"

"If you had to fill a gas tank, pay the house bills, go to a musical, order a steak dinner or two or hire a plumber these days you would not ask such a foolish question, my son."

"Why is nothing said about an American shortage of dollars?"

"Because Americans think if they have five dollars that will buy only what one buck would once buy they are away out ahead of the game. I hear the Jones boy whistling for you."

"Why must England and Canada and America have different money? Why can't we all get together on one type of money?"

"It would throw too many bookkeepers, accountants, jugglers and mathematical wizards, out of steady employment, my son."

WHEN SAMMY KAYE entered college he was headed for a civil engineering degree. But long before he was graduated he had formed a college band; after he left he kept the crew together, radio called, and his famous "swing and sway" style soon became a national favorite. No other band leader has brought so many different types of air shows to the networks. His "Sunday Sorenade," music interspersed with readings of poetry, was in direct contrast to "So You Want to Lead a Band." "Sammy Kaye's Showroom," on ABC, presents his crisp versions of popular songs. Now he admits that his success has made him start planning a new one, for later this year.

Someone with a statistical mind sat down and figured out that more women named Mary have been picked as "Queen for a Day" than those with any other name. Rating second on Jack Bailey's hilarious program is Betty, followed by Alice, Helen, Ruth and Ann. Some that stretch the imagination have been recorded on the program—such as Malgorgata, Gummel, Anjan and Minal.

KKO returns to the field of big-scale musicals with the announcement that it has purchased "Two Tickets to Broadway," and will produce it on the scale that made movie hits: tory with their Astaire-Rogers films years ago.

Ralph Edwards is trying hard to live up to his new title, "Mr. Celebrity," awarded him recently when the necktie industry gave him his annual award to a star performer from motion pictures and radio. The theme this year, as last, when it was won by Bob Hope, is "celebrity." Presentation took place before 1,200 tie manufacturers from all over the country.

The Fiction Corner THE EXPERT

By Richard H. Wilkinson

NO ONE had much faith in the new sheriff. The night preceding the day of his arrival the ranchers of the Roaring River Valley held a meeting in the Paradise Saloon. Mark Raoul, largest cattle owner in the vicinity, was the spokesman.

"No use in expectin' results from this young deputy they're sending up from the county seat. He's a westerner with eastern ideas an' a college education. Probably got a head full of new fangled notions on how to run down a bunch of Arizona cattle rustlers. Thing for us to do is organize a vigilante group on our own, and wipe them these cattle thieves off the face of the map."

"How we gonna do that," Rex Rupert wanted to know, "when we ain't got a notion where the rustlers is takin' our cattle?"

"We got as good a notion," Mark shot at him, "as any smart young deputy sheriff what ain't dry behind the ears yet."

Vic Stuart, red-headed, freckled, blue-eyed and friendly, arrived the next morning and announced himself to be the new deputy assigned to the Roaring River Valley cattle rustling business. Rex Rupert, self-appointed committee of welcome, looked the youth over and decided the ranchers had been smart in postponing their vigilante organization. But Rex betrayed none of the confidence he felt when he explained the circumstances.

Vic listened and smiled and his blue eyes crinkled at the corners. "Natural," he said, "for Raoul to feel that way. Fact is I have got some new fangled ideas. It takes brains to beat a bunch of outlaws these days, whether they're stealing cattle or operating a racket."

Rex's thoughts were rather glum as he rode back to the ranch. He felt almost sure, now, that the new deputy would fail.

About midday of the next day Vic Stuart rode in just as Rex finished his lunch.

"How many armed men can you provide me?" the youth asked shortly.

Vic Stuart led them to a section of country familiar to them all; the hopes that Rex had entertained began to ebb. Then suddenly they burst out anew as Vic entered a narrow canyon, the existence of which Rex stated, "You ain't found the rustlers' roost!"

"That was easy. Thing is do new is bears as much meat is take care of the rustlers, who are at the present moment engaged in branding your stolen cattle."

which was a surprise to everyone. A moment later he pointed down into a hidden valley where stood a couple of rough shacks and an astonishingly large herd of cattle.

REX asked no question, but directed his men into a fan-shaped line, then ordered them to move down the slope. The rustlers were taken by surprise. They had no idea as to the size of the attacking force, and after a decultery attempt to fight off the invaders, the main body broke and fled.

The big surprise of the affair occurred when Vic Stuart rode up with the masked leader of the rustlers and, standing before Rex and his riders, tore off the leader's mask, revealing the snarling features of Mark Raoul.

"Matter of brains," Vic grinned. "Funny thing it didn't occur to any of you hombres who've lived in this country all your lives that even a bunch of rustlers couldn't camp where there wasn't water. Only water hereabouts is the Roaring River. That was the theory I went on. I got myself a forked hazel stick and used it to locate water and to indicate the direction of the source. Forked hazel sticks never fail to indicate the presence of water if held properly in the hands of an expert." His blue eyes crinkled. "I reckon I'm an expert."

PUZZLE NO. 18

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger C. Whitman

Finishing Walls And Floor of Cellar

QUESTION: I should like some advice on finishing the walls and floor of our cellar, which we now are digging out. Our house was built without a cellar.

ANSWER: The floor can consist of at least four inches of good, waterproof concrete. If you intend to make a game-room, you could cover this with asphalt tile, which should be properly laid by an experienced workman. The walls can consist of poured concrete, or concrete block. They should be waterproofed on the outside by water-grade with two coats of hot tar or asphalt paint. The outside trench can be provided with drain tile to carry off water, or in any case should be solidly packed with earth formed into a bank at the top sloping away from the house. Do not throw any kind of rubble, stones or anything else into the trench can be provided with drain holds volumes of water that may work inside the cellar. (I hope you will have experienced help with this important work.) If you wish to paint the walls either inside or outside, use a waterproof cement-base paint. Get this from a dealer in building supplies or mason supplies.

The dates were changed, the releases stated, because the Department had received many requests to move the season up to include the weekend.

In addition to amending the season dates for the Silver City Magdalena area, the Department has closed the season for antelope in the Fort Union District and those sportsmen who are planning to apply for a permit in that district should pick another area according to the release.
