BUBONIC PLAGUE EXPERT SPEAKS HERE

Dr. Ehlers, our District Health Officer, told a P. T. A. Meeting Monday night, that altho the situation seems to be under control, the State Health Dept. has secured the services of Dr. Vernon D. Link, who flew here from San Francisco. Dr. Link is with the Nat'l Bubonic Plague Laboratory in that city. Dr. Ehlers introduced Dr. Link who made the following talk:

Dr. Link said that we have had Bubonic Plague in this country for the past 49 years. We had our first epidemic in 1900 in San Francisco, and it lasted 3 years. The second epidemic was in San Francisco, the summer of 1907, and it lasted almost a year at that time. We have had other epidemics of plague in Galveston, Fort Arthur and Houston, in New Orleans and Pensacola, Florida. Altogether we have had about 500 cases, and roughly about 2% of those have been in California. Most of the epidemics occurred when rats and mice became infested with the flea which carries the germ. It is primarily a disease of animals, and man becomes involved secondarily.

In New Mexico we know the plague has been in the wild animal since 1938. This was in Catron County. In sixteen counties to date we have found plague. Taos, Sandoval and Lincoln counties have cases this year.

It is a rare disease, but a serious one. Years ago 25 of the afflicted persons would die. Today, given a case of plague which can be treated soon, a doctor will lose very few lives. The disease is spread from one animal to another by means of the flea. The flea will bite an animal, the animal will bite a human being. Most wild animal fleas that we have in this western country will bite a human.

If you are bitten on the leg, the fleas that cause the plague will crawl up the leg to the groin where the "Bubo" (swollen lymph gland) occurs. If the flea bite is on the arm, the Bubo will occur in the arm pit. This type of disease is not contagious in a while the lymph glands will break down and be destroyed. The important thing in plague prevention is to prevent rats and mice from getting into your home. Stay away from sick or dead wild animals you may see. Do not touch them. If any of your friends get a swelling in the arm pit or groin, tell them to go to a doctor immediately.

It is common in wild rodents, most of them. We have found it in rabbits, and the owl. It is possible for cats and dogs to transmit it, but they seem to have a good resistance to it. If you sets have fleas, might be a good idea to spray them with DDT now and then.

All the doctors in New Mexico have sent letters describing this disease and its treatment, so they should be well informed.

The plague will affect rodents in these germs will be spread throughout the body. Then you have septicaemia, and most of the organs will be affected, especially the lungs. When a person gets Bubonic Plague, he lowers germs into the room, and these might be inhaled by another person. Two of the three cases we have had in New Mexico this summer had signs of disease in their lungs. Fortunately, there have been no secondary cases.

Actually the danger from plague in this country is not great. It is a rare disease. The worst form of the disease occurs when rats or mice in cities become infested.

Exactly the same way it does man. It will wipe out an entire prairie dog town.

There is a vaccine for disease, but it is not very effective. We would instead give one of the new drugs, which are more dependable.

The County Agent, Mr. Radcliff, has worked out a plan to poison rodents in this county. If 5 or 6 people would like to go in together and buy 100 lbs. of poison grain (for $10), he would be glad to put out the poison.

MRS. EINER EAKER

The passing of Mrs. Elmer Eaker has evoked general expressions of grief in this community where almost her entire life had been spent. She was universally admired for her exemplary character that manifested itself in her kindness to others, and devotion to her church and to her family. She was popular with all with whom she came in contact and had many fine characteristics that will forever linger in the memory of her family and friends. She was a member of the Methodist Church and despite her illness of the past year she maintained her sweet Christian spirit that characterized her entire life.

As a citizen she had every attribute that marked her above the average in willingness to serve her family her church, and her country.

As a mother and a wife she was loyal and devoted and in turn her family was devoted to her.

As a friend she was constant and faithful. She was highly respected, very lovable and aside from being a devoted wife, mother and friend, her years were enriched by the many religious and civic activities which contributed to the uplift of the community, town and county.

The Rev. Harry L. Webb, who conducted funeral services read the following obituary:

Grace Helen Eaker, born Dec. 31, 1901 at White Oaks, New Mexico daughter of Robert H. and Leor Taylor, the ninth child of fifteen children, passed away at Carrizozo, New Mexico, Nov. 13th, 1949.

She received her elementary schooling in White Oaks school and in 1917 moved to Carrizozo with her parents, graduated from the Carrizozo High School in 1923.

She married Elmer Eaker February 29th, 1924 in the Trinity Methodist Church, Carrizozo, by Rev. McPherson. Three children were born to the union, Ann, Alma, and John, whose deep devotion is a tribute to her motherhood.

She was noted for her varied interest in the community. She was a member of the Eastern Star Lodge, Parent Teachers Association, Carrizozo Woman's Club and was elected by her fellow citizens as a member of the Carrizozo School Board.

Soon after her marriage, she was employed by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company as telegraph operator in same office with her husband for about ten years, and since 1938 she has assisted her husband in their drug store until she was stricken with illness a year ago.

She was preceded in death by five sisters and one brother. She leaves to mourn her absence her devoted husband E. S. Eaker, two daughters, Ann and Alma and one son John, five sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Pearl Reasoner, Bowie, Texas, Mrs. H. M. Cook, Ojai, Calif., Mrs. C. B. Ellsworth, Grand Rapids, Mich., Mrs. Winnie Robertson, Carrizozo, N. Mex., Mr. Max Taylor, Paramount, Calif., Mr. Robert Taylor, Albuquerque, New Mexico, Mr. Hewitt Taylor, Albuquerque, N. M., Mrs. Ann Veasey, Carrizozo, N. M., one uncle, Mr. Julian Taylor, Las Cruces, N. M., one aunt, Mrs. Mildred White, Long Beach, California, all of whom are present except Mrs. Ellsworth. She also leaves several nephews, nieces and cousins.

Others left to mourn her absence, Mrs. Anna Roberts, Carrizozo, N. M., Mrs. Aca F. Evans, Los Olivos, Calif., Mrs. L. T. Bacott, Douglas, Ariz., Mr. Albert Roberts, Carrizozo, and a host of friends.

She united with the Trinity Methodist Church, Carrizozo, and was a member of board of stewards, counselor of the Youth Activities, a loyal in church attendance in her active days. She was superintendent of the Sunday School.

She was especially cared for during her long illness by her sister, Mrs. Winnie Robertson, whose care, love and cheerfulness contributed much to her comfort and happiness during this illness.

Funeral services were held in Trinity Methodist Church, Carrizozo, 2:30 P. M. Tuesday and burial was in local cemetery.

Hall bearers, three brothers Max Robert and Hewitt Taylor, cousins Scott Taylor, Albert Roberts, and Marvin Roberts.

Members of the local Chapter, E. S. were flower girls.

The flowers were magnificent and filled the church with beauty emblematic of her life.

Carrizozo's magnificent 25-bed hospital has almost become an actual fact. A trip through the structure last Monday morning made us realize the importance, convenience and the actual necessity of a well equipped hospital for this county.

We started at the main entrance, walked through to the kitchen, and to all other rooms in turn.

The interior is finished in perfect shades of pastel—pink, blue, cream, green, yellow, rose pink. All hues blend so perfectly in each separate room that before you are aware of your change of heart—you would not wish the colors replaced by the snow-white commonly used in hospitals.

First you enter the lobby then the receptionist's room; two halls run the entire length of the building, which gives an air of spacious comfort. On one of these halls is the nurses' station where at all times she has a view of the patients' rooms; first room is a 4-bed ward; then, an emergency room. There are twelve bed rooms, most of which are 2-bed wards.

There is an examination room, delivery room, operating room, x-ray room and dark room, pediatric room and also a doctors' lounge.

The nursery is something extra special. It contains six bassinets, and an adjoining spacious formula kitchen where a variety of formulas may be made to suit each infant. The nursery is done in two shades of pale green, and of course is entirely glassed in. A sterilizing room equipped with a room for storage of instruments and medicines.

There are two full bath rooms for patients, separate rest rooms for visitors, rest rooms for nurses and for the hospital help; a sound proof telephone booth, two large linen closets and everything that either doctors or patients might need.

The kitchen is already partly equipped. A large refrigerator for storage of meat and other perishables occupies almost an entire wall. Another smaller refrigerator cabinets for dishes, utensils, silverware, a large Maple Chief gas range. Another thing is an electric dishwasher and a separate large sink for the pots and pans.

The nurses have a dining room all their own which will have chrome furniture. The lobby too will contain chrome and leather furnishings.

The boiler room has two large boilers; two Bendix washing machines are also installed there.

Peace and credit are due the Gibraltar Construction Company of Las Cruces; to the architect, Mr. Truman J. Matthews of Santa Fe, and to the engineers, Messrs. Davis and Foster of El Paso. All these firms by their wholehearted cooperation, experience and knowledge have created a work of art which is already a source of pride to the county and a joy to the people of Carrizozo.

Purchasing agent, Mr. Wallace Ferguson of Captain has most of the equipment on order, and numerous articles are arriving. When the furnishings arrive and are placed we are sure all will combine to create a perfect hospital.

HUNTING FATALITY COULD HAVE BEEN AVOIDED

Jack Webb, 30 Bloomfield, N. M., who admits he shot and killed Mrs. Juan Jaquez, on Nov. 12 because he thought the movement he saw looked like those of a buck deer, has been booked by police on a charge of involuntary manslaughter, according to Ray Bell, Chief of the Game Department's Field Wardens.

Bell, who has spent the last few days helping in the investigation at Aztec, N. M., said that both Webb and his wife, who were in the car at the time of the shooting, claimed they sure thought they saw the horns of a buck over gray object.

"Mrs. Jaquez," Bell said "was shot with a cal. 348 Winchester using a 150 grain bullet at a little over 100 yards. According to the statement made by Webb, he suddenly stopped his car on a highway when he sighted what he thought was a deer lying down under a low bush. His wife handed him the rifle and after rolling down the car window he rested the gun in the door and shot. Mrs. Jaquez was wearing a gray jacket and a varicolored skirt."

Webb has been a resident of New Mexico for 23 years and has hunted for the last eight years, according to Bell.

"Something has to be done about this hunting fatalities," Bell said. In addition to the charge of involuntary manslaughter, Webb violated two of the most widely-known game regulations; shooting from a public highway and from an automobile. If Webb had gotten out of his car and had walked but a few steps off the road, he undoubtedly would have seen that his target was a woman and not a deer. How simple it would have been to have followed the Game Department's oft repeated warning to all hunters to "Be sure its legal before you shoot."

Spokesman of God

Lesson for November 27, 1939.

GOD MAKES USE of strange characters. What shall we think of a preacher who tried to beg off from being a preacher? What can we make of a man who actually reproached God for forcing him into the ministry? How shall we rate a man who in time of war urged his own nation to surrender, who was believed by almost nobody, who was repudiated by his own class and even his own family? Dr. Foreman

What can we say of a man who was often in hot water with the city authorities, who spent months of his time in jail, who was called subversive, and who never got along with the established religion of his time?

The prophet Jeremiah was that man; yet posterity honored him. His own generation thought him a liar. But some then knew, as we know today, that he was a teller of God's truth, a spokesman of God.

Was He a Pessimist?

WE KNOW (Jer. 1) that Jeremiah did not wish to be a prophet in the first place, though unlike Isaiah he shrunk back not from a sense of sin but because he thought of himself as a mere child.

We know (chap. 20) that at times he was thoroughly discouraged about himself, and even cursed the day he was born. It is also true that in the last war waged by his little country of Judah before it was smashed, his advice from beginning to end was "Surrender."

No wonder people thought him a pessimist, a calamity-howler. But before we call him such names we must remember two things. First is, that his unwillingness to be a prophet, and the fact that so to speak he hated the job, marks a vital fact: he, perhaps even more than other prophets, sensed the difference between his own ideas and what God was saying through him.

Even when what the Lord said was not what they themselves would have wished to say, they spoke for the Lord nevertheless. The other thing to remember is that when everybody wants to believe a pleasant lie, and a man comes along telling the unpleasant truth, he is not a pessimist, he is simply stating facts.

Jeremiah stood by the facts as God gave him insight to see them. If they jalled him for it, he could not help that; but they could not shut his mouth nor close his eyes.

Was he a patriot?

JEREMIAH was constantly accused of acts and attitudes which today might be called "subversive," though he dearly loved his country. This was because he dared to rebuke the ambitions of his country's leaders.

They said: Our country shall be free! But Jeremiah knew it would not be free. They said: Our king will conquer! Jeremiah knew he would end his days a prisoner. Jeremiah was unpopular, to put it mildly, because he advised his country to take the only place among the nations it could take—a humble one.

Then, as now, many persons think that patriotism means believing yours is the perfect country. If anyone points to injustice in our land, some one may yell, "Deport him!" But Jeremiah showed what is a true patriot. He is not necessarily the man who approves all the foreign policies of his nation (Jeremiah approved not one), nor the man who speaks only good of his country and his people.

The best patriot is the person who, seeing his country as God sees it, will dare to speak out against evil wherever he finds it.

A Way to Know God

JEREMIAH knew God well, and the trouble with his contemporaries was that they did not know God. But Jeremiah did not say: "Know God by becoming a prophet like me," for he knew that only a few are called to be prophets. Neither did he say, "Go to church oftener," for you can see in chap. 7 what he thought of the Temple of his time. He pointed to the good king Josiah (chap. 13). That king had found God, not in a mystic vision like Jeremiah's, not in burnt offerings and sacrifices, but in the doing of justice looking out for the exploited, caring for the helpless, seeing that justice was done.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS

Make Your Fruit Cakes, Plum Puddings in Time For Leisurely Ripening

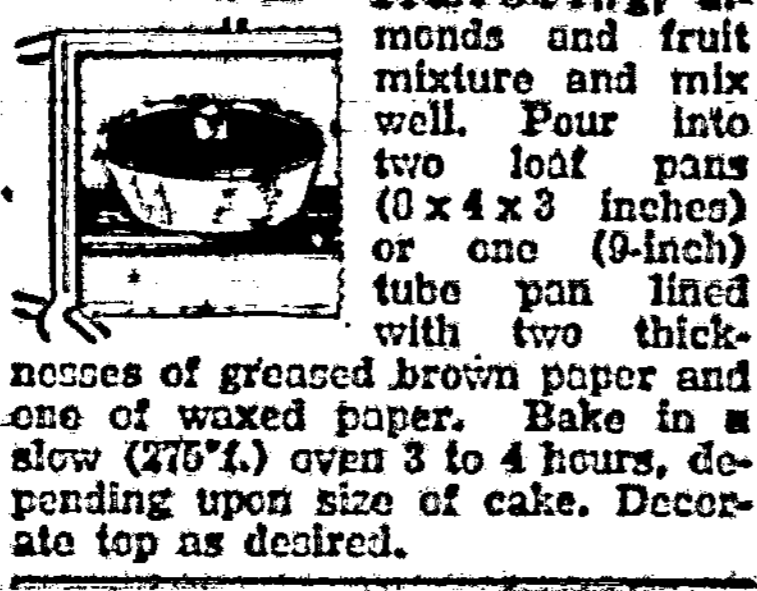

BEFORE YOU GET CAUGHT in the crush of holiday shopping or tangled in festive tinsel and wrapping, give a thought to your fruit cakes and plum puddings. These should be made at least a month or more before the holidays to give them time to ripen and mellow so their flavors will be perfect.

It's a comforting thought, too, many homemakers have found in years past, to have their Christmas desserts all snugly wrapped, ready to be eaten well in advance of all the other holiday food preparation. In case you want to give away fruit cake and plum pudding as presents with "warmest regards" from your own kitchen, decide exactly who will be the lucky receivers, and plan accordingly.

PLAN TWO DAYS for making your fruit cake. The first day is usually spent ordering the fruits and nuts and getting them ready, along with lining the pans with paper. The second day is spent mixing and baking, as well as decorating and wrapping the cakes for storage.

- Hours of Plenty Fruit Cake (Makes 5 pounds)
- 2 1/4 cups golden raisins
 - 1 cup dried apricots
 - 1 1/2 cups sliced citron
 - 1 cup cut candied pineapple
 - 1 cup halved candied cherries
 - 1 cup shredded coconut
 - 1/4 cup apricot whole fruit nectar
 - 1 1/2 teaspoons nutmeg
 - 2 teaspoons mace
 - 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1/4 cup thick orange marmalade
 - 1 cup butter or substitute
 - 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
 - 4 eggs
 - 2 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 - 1 1/4 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 - 1 1/4 cups finely chopped blanched almonds

Rinse raisins and drain. Pour boiling water over apricots and let stand five minutes. Cut into thin strips. Combine with raisins, citron, pineapple, cherries, coconut, nectar, spices and marmalade. Cover and let stand overnight. Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, and beat thoroughly. Add flour sifted with baking powder and salt and mix well. Blend in flavoring, almonds and fruit mixture and mix well. Pour into two loaf pans (8 x 4 x 3 inches) or one (9-inch) tube pan lined with two thicknesses of greased brown paper and one of waxed paper. Bake in a slow (275° F.) oven 3 to 4 hours, depending upon size of cake. Decorate top as desired.

Bake your fruit cakes in loaf pans or tube pans, whichever you like, but bake them early. Then they'll have a chance to ripen properly before the holidays and taste their mellow best. This Hours of Plenty Fruit Cake, light in color, is packed with luscious candied and dried fruits, golden raisins, coconut and almonds.

LYNN SAYS: Try These Tasty Seasoning Tricks: Rice pudding is an old-fashioned favorite, but it will have more flavor if you make it with brown in place of white sugar. Plump the raisins in hot water before adding to the rice. Spread toast with chutney before serving the Welsh rarebit. Yes, it's different but interesting. Baked pears become a favorite dessert when they're served with nutmeg flavored cream.

Plum puddings, like fruit cake, should be given a month or so to ripen before serving to taste their best. Here's a truly festive pudding with fruits, nuts and spices combined with suet, molasses and bread crumbs.

FOR THOSE who prefer a dark type of fruit cake, here is a recipe which gives excellent results:

- Dark Fruit Cake (Makes 10 pounds)
- 1 1/2 cups candied cherries
 - 1 pound candied pineapple
 - 1 1/2 pound candied apricots
 - 1 pound citron
 - 2 pounds seeded raisins
 - 1 pound currants
 - 1/2 pound raw, shelled almonds
 - 2 1/2 pounds (2 cups) sifted flour
 - 1 teaspoon baking powder
 - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1/2 teaspoon cloves
 - 1 teaspoon nutmeg
 - 1/2 pound shortening
 - 1/2 pound brown sugar
 - 1 1/2 cups cider
 - 6 eggs, separated

Cut the cherries in halves. Thinly slice the pineapple, apricots and citron. Wash raisins and currants and dry them. Blanch and chop almonds. Mix all these ingredients together. Sift together flour, baking powder and spices. Combine fruit and flour mixtures thoroughly. Cream together shortening and sugar. Add egg yolks and beat thoroughly. Add cider alternately with fruit mixture until all are thoroughly mixed. Beat egg whites stiff and fold into cake mixture. Line the bottoms of 4 pans (8 1/2 x 4 1/2 inches) with brown paper. Grease the paper and fill pans with cake mixture 1/2 full. Place pans on a rack in a large roaster which has about 1/2 inch of water at the bottom. Cover the pan and set in a slow (275° F.) oven for 3 1/2 hours. Remove pans from roaster and set in oven, at same temperature, for 1/2 hour to allow cake to dry.

- Plum Pudding (Makes 2 3-pound molds)
- 1 pound seedless raisins
 - 1 pound currants
 - 1/2 cup chopped nut meats
 - 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
 - 2 teaspoons baking soda
 - 1 teaspoon cloves
 - 1 teaspoon allspice
 - 1 teaspoon nutmeg
 - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 4 eggs
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 2 cups pure dark molasses
 - 2 cups buttermilk
 - 1 1/2 cups finely chopped suet
 - 1/2 cup grape juice
 - 2 1/4 cups fine, hard bread crumbs

Wash and dry raisins and currants, combine with nutmeats. Dredge with one cup flour. Sift remaining flour, baking soda, spices and salt. Beat eggs, add crumbs, sugar, molasses, buttermilk, suet and grape juice. Add raisin mixture and blend thoroughly. Add flour mixture; mix thoroughly. Pour into two greased three-pound molds. Cover and steam for three hours. Cool puddings, wrap in heavy waxed paper and store in a cool place. Re-steam to heat and serve with hard or other type sauce.

Garnish your ham with steamed apples which have been molded in cider or lemon gelatin. The flavors suit the ham perfectly. When you want to stuff a roast of pork or pork chops, you'll find that apples and prunes or raisins and apples have a wonderful flavor affinity to the pork. Minced pork sausage and rice mixed with egg, shaped into cakes and fried in the skillet, slowly and to a golden brown are a deliciously different dish to have for breakfast.

"Checked" Enamel
QUESTION: Is there any way to smooth the enamel on our woodwork without completely removing it? It has several coats of various colors of enamel and varnish on it. There are fine cracks or checks in some of the enamel. Could we rub it with turpentine or something, then sand it before repainting? If we have to remove all the old paint, how should we do that? Use a paint and varnish remover? We want to repaint our woodwork, but those checks show through so that it doesn't look nice.

ANSWER: You have the right idea, but in reverse—that is, you should use the sandpaper first, and then clean off with turpentine before repainting. If you were going to varnish, you would have to take off all the old finish; but as long as you are going to use paint again, I do not believe it will be necessary to take off all the paint, which would be quite a job. But the cracks and checks should be sanded out smoothly so that they will not show through the new finish.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How About Being A "Good Sport"?

Big pow-wow the other night at the Fire House between farmers and the town fellows who go fishing and hunting on their land. Easy Roberts says: "We don't mind anyone going on our property. It's the carelessness—gates left open, fences broken, fire started, even livestock getting hurt."

Farmers and sportsmen both liked the idea and went home friends. From where I sit, that meeting showed how folks can get together and work out safeguards for each other's good.

It's like the Brewers' Self-Regulation program whereby tavern owners cooperate in setting up safeguards to keep their places clean, bright and law-abiding. In this way, "no trespassing" signs are never needed!

Then Slim Dalton spoke up. "Some of us may have been a bit careless, but from now on we'll get permission first. Besides that, we're offering a $50 reward for information about any destruction to a farmer's property!"

The big advantage of the train is ROOM

ROOM to stretch your legs

You don't have to fold up in a cramped, uncomfortable seat when you travel by train. You can stretch your legs, relax and watch the scenery in comfort. Steel rails are so smooth you can read without straining your eyes. Or catch up on your work.

ROOM to walk around

You're not confined to your seat on the train. You can get up and walk around whenever you wish. Comfortable rest rooms for men and women in every car.

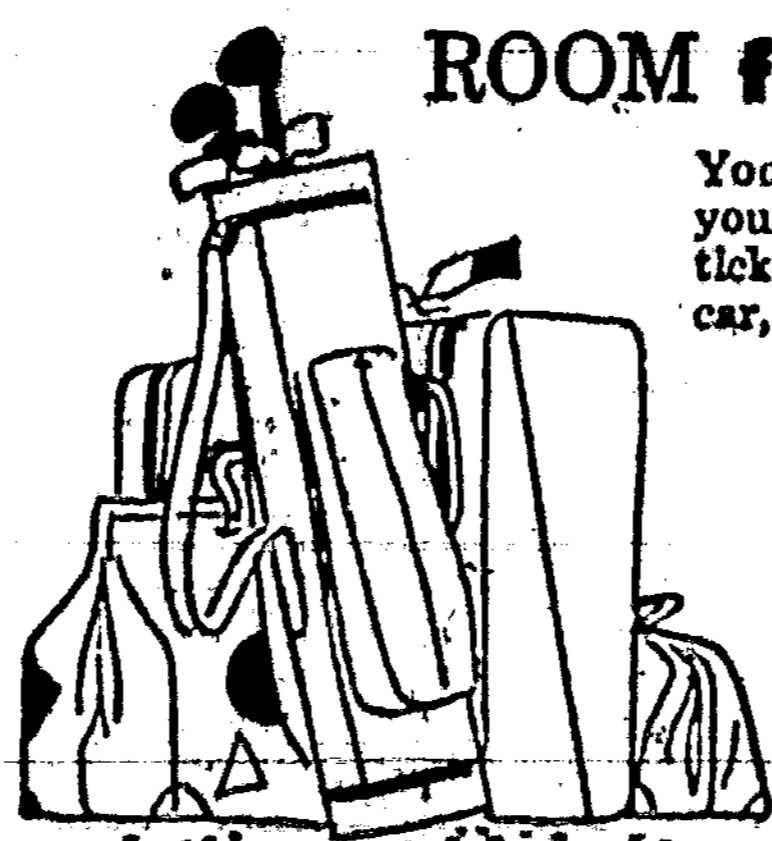

ROOM to eat

On the train you eat in style at a table, with clean linen, good food and service. You pay no more than you would in any good hotel. In coffee shop cars even less.

ROOM for luggage

You can take a normal amount of luggage into your railroad car with you. In addition, on most tickets, you can check 160 pounds in the baggage car, without charge.

Next time, try the train

ROOM to sleep

Pullmans have big, comfortable beds—each more than six feet long and three feet wide. Soft mattresses, clean sheets, plenty of blankets. A courteous porter is always on duty to serve you. And when it's windy, stormy and wet, you'll be snug and warm on the train.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

France, Canada Urge Atomic Pact; British Labor Gets Speedup Rule; G.M. Dividend Sets Industry Mark

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

NEW NAVAL OPERATIONS BOSS CONGRATULATED . . . U.S. Navy Secretary Francis Matthews (left) congratulates Adm. Forrest P. Sherman after the latter was named by President Truman as chief of naval operations to succeed Adm. Louis E. Denfeld. Denfeld was let out because of criticism of unification and defense policy in the armed services setup.

ATOMIC PACT:

Asked by Two

France and Canada joined at Lake Success in asking that all nations do everything in their power to ban use of atomic bombs and control atomic energy.

THE APPEAL was directed to all—and especially the Soviet union—to forget traditional ideas of the sovereignty of nations and join an atomic pact that would promote security and peace.

It was a sincere gesture, but about all that could be said of any results that might ensue was that it was a "nice try."

The proposal did have the support of the others in the majority group of the 53-nation political committee of the U.N. general assembly, but Soviet Russia was still to be heard from on the suggestion. The French-Canadian resolution actually meant the majority pow-

Plane Record

Commercial planes were darting about the world faster and faster. Latest speed record for commercial planes was claimed by Pan American lines, which reported its stratospheric Westward Ho landed at London in 9 hours and 12 minutes after leaving New York.

Capt. Robert D. Fordyce, Jackson Heights, N. Y., commander of the Westward Ho, did it with the aid of a tail wind which at times reached a speed of 75 miles an hour.

The plane traveled the Great Circle route and its average speed was about 205 miles an hour. The plane carried 21 passengers and a crew of 10.

Only a day before, a Pan American plane flew from New York to London in 9 hours, 21 minutes, which had bettered the existing mark by 20 minutes.

BRITISH LABOR:

More for More

It has been a fairly well established philosophy of trade unions to frown on the "cogger beaver" who likes to demonstrate how fast he can work or how much he can produce in a given time. In fact, some unions prohibit members from engaging in any type of production speed contest.

The philosophy is understandable, if not popular. It is one which takes care of the union member who hasn't the ability, the skills or the physical stamina to keep up with the would-be speed demon. The philosophy has been applied often enough for critics to charge that it has amounted, in many instances, to an actual work "slow down."

ALL THIS being a matter of record, England's labor government's move to allocate higher rewards for greater labor productivity came as a surprise to many U. S. supporters of the Atlee regime. They began to speculate whether the prime minister was laying up trouble for himself among his labor adherents.

The British government's turning away from this traditional philosophy of labor was explained on the basis that it must be done to meet growing demands for higher wages to offset higher living costs. Therefore, the ministry is advocating a system of tying wages to the rate of production, rather than the price index.

GOLD HOARD:

Really There

Those skeptical, apprehensive citizens whose dreams had begun to be haunted by the awful spectre of doubt that Uncle Sam's purported gold store at Fort Knox wasn't there at all could all relax. The gold was there, all of it.

ASSURANCE came from a source certainly qualified to know, for that source was Leland Howard, assistant director of the U.S. bureau of the mint. It is his duty to examine personally the gold hoard at least once a year.

"There's more than 12,000 tons of it (gold) at the Ft. Knox depository," he reports. That's more than half of the 24 billion dollars worth of the stuff which the government keeps under lock and key.

RUSSIA:

Direct Warning

Soviet Russia was doing a bit of boasting and chest-thumping about the atomic bomb for her arms stockpile.

IN A SPEECH broadcast from Moscow, Georgi N. Malenkov, a member of the Soviet inner circle, warned that with the atomic bomb in Russian hands a third World War would "wipe out capitalism." His was the main speech in celebration of the 32nd anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

"If the imperialists unleash a third world war," he said, "this will not be the grave of individual capitalist countries, but of world capitalism as a whole."

He said that atomic energy in the hands of capitalism is the "means of bringing death."

Turning to a new note for the moment, he declared that "we do not want war and are doing everything to prevent it." Then, discussing atomic energy again, Malenkov asserted that atomic energy "in the hands of the Soviet people must and will serve as a mighty weapon of unprecedented technical progress and further speedy growth of the productive forces of our country."

FOLLOWING THE PARTY LINE right down to the final syllable, he charged that the United States has a plan to "enslave the entire world" and that this plan was "borrowed from the mad plans of Hitler and Tanaka (pre-war Japanese militarist) but different in that it exceeds both plans together."

Despite all the boasting and the bombast, there existed in many minds a doubt that Russia has the atomic bomb as we know it—a weapon ready to be dropped at will.

POLITICS:

Sound & Fury

The sound and fury of the 1950 congressional campaign was touched off rather prematurely by Minnesota's Harold E. Stassen in Minneapolis—where he accused President Harry Truman of making "vicious and untrue" statements in his attacks on political enemies.

AND STASSEN is one of those enemies, for the former Minnesota governor and now president of the University of Pennsylvania, is a certain candidate for the GOP presidential nomination in 1952.

Stassen charged that Truman used historical references in his recent St. Paul speech to "wrap the cloak of Jefferson around himself," but that actually the President "long ago personally trampled on the cloak of Jefferson."

WITHOUT mentioning Truman by name, Stassen answered directly the President's address at St. Paul in which the chief executive assailed "reactionaries" who, he said, had impeded progress of his welfare program in congress.

Stassen praised congress for refusing to go along with Truman on the "dangerous" Braman farm plan, on the President's request for postwar retention of OPA, and on his demands for pyramided centralized power over a wide range of subjects.

BLARNEY:

A Sham Rock?

Most folks know better than to get into an argument with an Irishman—particularly about anything that is peculiarly Irish, such as the blarney stone.

BUT IN CALIFORNIA, as in Brooklyn, anything can happen, so it wasn't too surprising to find a row over Ireland's famed blarney stone breaking out there.

It all happened when a 15-pound stone, believed by San Franciscans to be a chunk of the real blarney stone, was stolen from a church bazaar. Jim Cummings, custodian of the San Francisco stone chunk, declared he had "documentary proof my stone is authentic."

On Trial Again

GEESE:

Farmer Burned

Near Allegan, Mich., nearly 12,000 Canadian geese were making themselves at home in the grain fields of farmer Andrew Degeus. The loud yackety-yak of the birds as they devoured the grain attracted about 5,000 night-seers. At times, nearly 4,000 of the birds would rise into the air in a black cloud. Spectators thought it was great fun to watch the birds eating their dinner on the farm.

FIRST WOMAN AMBASSADOR . . . Mrs. Eugenie Anderson (right), Red Wing, Minn., newly-appointed ambassador to Denmark, is greeted at Washington's national airport by Mrs. India Edwards, director of the women's division of the Democratic national committee. Mrs. Anderson is the first woman ever to serve in the United States diplomatic service with the full rank of ambassador. She was sworn in shortly after her arrival in Washington. She succeeds Josiah Marvel, Jr., in Copenhagen.

TWO WHO WAIT AND HOPE . . . In New York from Czechoslovakia, 15-year-old Marina Tschernichansky and her grandmother, Mrs. Olga Ovselichev, 78, wait hopefully for the release of Marina's mother, who has been held on Ellis Island for the past 18 months. There has been an official explanation of Mrs. Tschernichansky's detention. Mother, grandmother and daughter are world-revving refugees.

EMPEROR NORNOBS WITH CROWD . . . Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako inspect an exhibit of natural resources of Japan in Tokyo department store. They are looking at a relief map. Since the allied occupation, they have become the country's number one nightseers in contrast to the secluded lives they lived before the war.

NEWEST JET BOMBER TESTED . . . The U. S. air force's newest jet bomber, the Martin XB-51, leaves a smoke trail as the three jet engines thrust it upward on the first flight at Patuxent, Md. The ship remained aloft for 24 minutes on initial flight. The plane has swept-back wings, horizontal stabilizer above the fuselage and dual wheels mounted bogie-type. It carries crew of two in pressurized, air-conditioned cockpit.

OLDSTERS' ATTITUDE

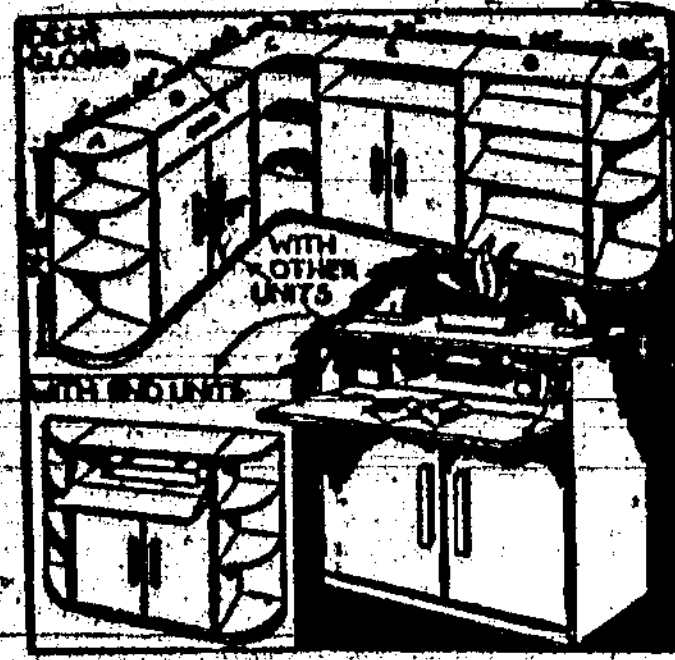

Crankiness in Old Age Linked to Health

According to an Ohio state university professor, crankiness or a cantankerous state in old age is directly proportionate to poor health. In other words, the professor's situation holds basic for the sage that a man is "only as old as he feels."

The professor, Albert R. Chandler, said his conclusion was the result of 205 reports by college students, and young professional people on the personal traits of older persons they knew well. The subjects of the study, the philosophy teacher said, ranged in age from 50 to over 80. Results were presented at the second annual meeting of the gerontological society, where Chandler said age itself was no cause for the weariness to be cranky or irritable, the tests showed.

DOAN'S PILLS

BROADWAY AND MAIN STREET If the Brakes Don't Work Just Hit Something Cheap

A fellow tried to sell me a helicopter the other day. He told me I could hop from the roof of my theatre to my place in Westchester in 20 minutes, and added that it was as easy to drive as a car.

Next morning I crawled into the car beside Eleanor. "Just turn this jigger over," she began, "push in this dingus, pull out this doohickey, step on this wing-doodle, press down on this thing—a m a b o b, and you're all set to go."

"What's this gizmo?" I asked. "The hand brake," she said. "You throw it on quickly in case of emergency."

A MOMENT LATER the car went hiccupping down the road. Then for a mile it went smooth as you please. A feeling of confidence came over me, the same feeling all new drivers get just before the lights go out.

Everything went fine until we got to the traffic light in the village. I forgot to precy the hickey-madoodle on the gillooley and the car stalled. The lights changed from green to red, and from red back to green. A cop came over. "What's the matter?" he asked. "Haven't we got any colors you like?"

After switching the radio on and off, I suddenly pressed the right thing. In the order of the way it happened, I grazed the cop, skidded through the safety zone, clipped the fender on a bus, add came to rest with my bumper against a fire plug.

"Lookit, Gene Autry," he said. "I wanna see you do that all over again, and this time pick up the handkerchief with your teeth."

"No kidding!" said the cop. "How long is this class going to last? Some other drivers would like to see this road when Sonny Boy gets through with it."

I shook my head. "I'd better go home," he said. "I don't seem to be doing much good around here."

The Brave of Earth STRONG with the shining shield of their high purpose, Brave with the silver armor of their prayer, We see them face the day, their unseen crosses Almost too heavy for their hearts to bear.

I THREW THE CAR into reverse and backed away from the fire plug. "If you're going to drive much," yelled the cop, "I'd have the car painted red on one side and blue on the other, so the witnesses will contradict each other."

There are two stone posts flanking the drive which leads up to our home. I got past them without a scratch—also without the rear bumper. That did it.

The Fiction THANKSGIVING TURKEY Corner

IMOGENE sat at the kitchen table and listened starry-eyed while Tony read the letter. "Dear Tony and Imogene: I was sorry to hear about Tony's ill luck down there in Carolina, and know you must be having rather a hard pull.

of near destitution, when the town discovered their condition. PRESENTLY TONY turned. He said: "Listen, sweet, as far as I'm concerned, I'd like to live through one Thanksgiving without a turkey. I've had to eat one every Thanksgiving since I can remember, and the novelty of not having to will be a welcome relief.

children and the two grown-ups stared and stared at the great fat bird. They left very soon after that because Mr. and Mrs. Santrell seemed to have difficulty in finding adequate words to express themselves.

3-Minute Fiction If she'd approve—you know how she felt when you two got married and started out on your wild venture. My love to you both, Uncle Rufus. Tony pulled off the last wrapper and grinned happily. Within the cardboard box there nestled a handsome, fat turkey; a delicious, palatable turkey. Tony's mouth watered at sight of it.

And Imogene smiled in prodigious happiness and began re-wrapping Uncle Rufus's turkey. "Darling," she said, "I've been trying to figure out one good reason for marrying you since our wedding day. And now I've found it! Whereupon she kissed him and Tony held her tight in his arms.

They raced up the walk of their little stucco bungalow—and stopped dead still on the veranda. A great package reposed before the front door, and a letter lay atop the package. Tony picked up the letter, stared at the package curiously and tore open the envelope. "Dear Imogene and Tony," he read. "Your Uncle Rufus wouldn't like it a bit if he knew I was doing this. You know how he disappointed when you two got married and went away down South. However, I know you must be lonesome and rather discouraged, and so, under separate cover, I'm sending you a turkey for your Thanksgiving dinner. Please don't acknowledge its receipt, as your Uncle Rufus might read the letter and I'd never hear the end of it. Love to you both, Aunt Sara."

Accompanying the bird were vegetables galore, nuts and fruit and a real plum pudding ready for heating. It was complete, old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner.

At length Imogene stirred. She turned and looked through the window and there was something queer about the expression on her face. Tony saw the look and he came and sat down on the table and took her hand in his.

Star Dust

JAN MINER admits that it is a rather odd distinction — she seems to have received more wedding cakes than anybody else, although she's not married. She has been wed eight times on the air, and each time fans have sent her wedding cakes. Currently starring as "Beth Lambert," alias "Carol Brent," in "Road of Life," Jan looks forward to the day when she can retire to her home in New Hampshire. The farm is on a strictly commercial basis, except for a few of her pet animals, one a horse, "Dr. Malone."

Since a pre-view audience stood up and cheered him at a showing of "The Hasty Heart," young Richard Todd is being hailed around Warner's as the screen's newest star. An Englishman, he was one of the first British paratroop officers to jump into Normandy on D-Day. As a boy he was bedridden for three years with rheumatic fever, regained his health by playing football!

JUST Triple Return An American comedian had just completed a tour of English theaters. The actor was asked how he liked playing before the English audiences. "Splendid," he enthused. "I prefer them to American audiences." "Why is that?" "When the English audience hears an amusing story it laughs first to be polite, then it laughs again when it hears others laugh, then it laughs a third time when it gets the point of the story."

But she was terribly grief-stricken and gave him a slip of paper with the wording she wanted on the stone.
