Star-Lites

MOVIES, MIKES AND MISCELLANEOUS

SOON AGAIN—The Zany Marx Brothers will have us rolling in the late with their slap-happy cavortings in a new United Artist's release "Loys Happy" . . . and Ilona Massey, who is rated as one of Hollywood's most beautiful will grace the cast. Ilona was born in Budapest, Hungary and has won renown as an operatic star and an actress in gay sophisticated comedies in Europe.

Ilona Massey stardom both there and in Hollywood. Miss Massey loves Western movies and her conversation was well sprinkled with "you alls" long before she reached our country due to the many Western pictures she attended in Europe.

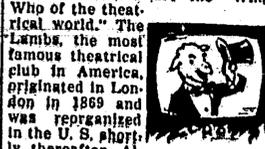

GROUCHO'S TIMELY philosophy we recall: "March is when you answer the government's quiz program—a costly little thing played by mail. The only difference between this and other quiz programs is that you don't get paid for the right answer."

"IN BEHALF OF YOUNG teachers, thanks for publicizing the human side of our profession and thereby encouraging those who have been contemplating teaching as a career" wrote a Maine teacher to Eve Arden (school may be on CBS Sunday "Our Miss Brooks" show). And many leading educational associations write Eve constantly to express their appreciation for her program.

Eve portrays a fun loving, capable and likable person on her own radio program which she has had on CBS since last summer and she is also under contract to Warner Bros. for two pictures a year. The spot in her heart for the Broadway Southside hospital hold again suitable for a stage play. "So it's not unlikely she'll be operating on radio, movie and stage simultaneously one of these days."

THE NEW YORK LAMBS CLUB takes to the videolans this season with "The Lamba Gambol" over NBC Television Sunday evenings (8:30 p. m., EST) . . . and the big names scheduled are the "Who's Who of the theatrical world." The Lambs, the most famous theatrical club in America, originated in London in 1869 and was reorganized in the U. S. shortly thereafter. Although it is the oldest club of its kind, its inner sanctum functions are virtually unknown to the public. Up to now, the club's private shows (dramas) have been "for members only" and all roles played by men because its an all male organization. Many a top hit began as a one act play on their fabulous club stage. Reversing tradition of some 75 years, the new television show not only literally throws open the club doors to the public but outstanding feminine stars will appear on most of the video frolics by special invitation.

WHEN BARTLETT ROBINSON switched to a dramatic course at Carnegie Tech, a budding architectual career came to an abrupt end. Bart plays the male lead in NBC's daytime drama "Fortia Pack Life." He made his debut with William L. Garrison in "Camille" in Central City, Colorado and while there joined the "Sunday Players," a group which presented Bible stories over a local station. The group played Bart Robinson to Hollywood and went on the air now 11 years later Bart still gets checks for the use of the records made from the scripts. At present he is also cast in the Broadway play, "Light in the Sky" and because he knows his "Portia" part so well is allowed to arrive at the NBC studio, after theater rehearsal, to complete with makeup and go into his radio part with no rehearsal other than having read through his script.

Federal Travel Tax Meets Disfavor

With a heavy summer travel season only a few weeks away, the vacation-minded public is voicing increasing objections to the 15 per cent federal tax on rail, bus and airline tickets. Claude Peterson, vice president in charge of passenger traffic for Southern Pacific system, said today. The burden is especially heavy in the West and Southwest, owing to the above-average length of vacation in these areas, Peterson pointed out. "Outlook for travel by rail during the approaching summer vacation season is encouraging", Peterson said, "but the volume of travel will not crowd out trains as it did in war times when the tax was imposed to discourage civilian travel to make room for members of the armed services and other essential travelers. There will be ample space for vacationists on our trains 1949, and the wartime tax, which adds $15 to every $100 spent for travel, therefore no longer serves any purpose. It is hoped that the present Congress will repeal the tax and thereby relieve American travelers of this unnecessary burden."

New Plastic Foam Used in Insulation

Material Is Called Lightest of Solids

The world's lightest solid and amazing plastic foam that swells up when baked like a cake to 100 times its original volume—has been developed by Westinghouse scientist for use as a new insulating material.

The new product is expected to find its way into many uses in appliances used in farm homes and about the farm.

Even lighter than some gases, the new material weighs from 10 to 20 times less than the fluffy meringue on a well-baked pie.

Robert F. Sterling, 29-year-old chemist, and the man chiefly responsible for the new product, said

Shown here is a refrigerator completely insulated with the new plastic foam insulation material. This is the way the refrigerator looked after the insulation job was done, but before door liner and other parts were put back in place.

It is the result of a three-year search for an effective insulating material that will fill large areas, yet weigh "next to nothing."

The foam is made by heating a molasses-like synthetic resin at about 350 degrees Fahrenheit until it expands to 100 times its original volume, then solidifies. Thousands of gas bubbles entrapped in the foam "float" it up and give the plastic its lightness.

Foamed into pre-fabricated metal wall sections, a two-inch thick layer weighing only 300 pounds would be enough to insulate a complete six-room house, Sterling said.

Resistant to fire, moisture, fungus growth and insects, the foam is low enough in cost to be practical for many applications and uses, the scientist said.

Not only do imprisoned air bubbles give the new plastic great lightness, but they also provide it with its excellent insulating qualities. So-called "dead air" is one of the best insulators known among commonly available materials, Sterling said.

Cover That Cough

"Cover that cough, smother that sneeze" is not only good advice for people in public places, it has practical meaning in the cow barn, too.

Danger that coughing cattle may spread respiratory infections to their stables is highlighted in a research report from the American Veterinary Medical association.

The report describes an unusual case of tuberculosis of the eye in a heifer. A tuberculous cow with a bad cough, stanchioned next to the heifer, is believed to have spread the disease.

AVMA points out that this case occurred in England, where bovine tuberculosis is widespread. Although tuberculosis has been reduced to a minimum in United States herds, coughs and sneezes are nevertheless a menace because they may spread all kinds of respiratory infections. Isolation of any animal showing respiratory symptoms is urged, therefore, to protect the rest of the herd.

Field Mice Destructive To Malon Crops, Seed

Unflood damage is done each year to cucumber, cantaloupe and watermelon fields by mice destroying the seed which are planted and also the plants which are up and bearing fruit. E. A. Bowers, Clemson college crop specialist, says Bowers explained that the meadow mouse destroys the seed after they are planted, and the pine mouse eats off the plants at the ground.

Safety Pin Inventor Sold Rights for $100

New York.—One hundred years ago a Brooklyn inventor got a patent for a remarkable household gadget, with the result that nobody today remembers him, but everybody uses his product.

The man was Walter Hunt; the gadget was the safety pin.

Hunt never knew his invention may have antedated him at least 4,000 years (some say since the bronze age, more than 2,000 years B.C.) But nobody ever tried to patent it, and he was given patent No. 6,281.

That should have put him on easy street—but Hunt needed money and within the short space of three hours he had conceived the idea, made a model and sold his rights for $100.

Had Good Mind "Hunt had a good mind, but very little practical sense," said Joseph Nathan Kane, a writer who digs up historical characters and brings them back to life.

"He gave his inventions away to pay his debts, and he always owed money."

According to Kane, one day in 1848 Hunt went to see his friend Jonathan Chapin. He slumped into a chair and buried his face in his hands.

"What's the matter, Mr. Hunt?" Chapin asked.

"I owe you 15 dollars."

"I can let you have a little more," Chapin said.

"What good would that do? I can't even buy my wife a meal of victuals."

Suddenly Hunt lifted his head.

"I have it, I'll be by this afternoon and pay you."

Hunt hurried to his shop and rummaged around until he found a piece of brass wire about eight inches long. He pointed one end.

Then he bent the wire and made a loop so that the two sides acted as a spring. He bent the other end and brought the point through it. He made a right twist and looked at what he had done. It was a shielded safety pin.

Then he went to see a manufacturer named Richardson, who locked the gadget over carefully.

"I'll give you $100 cash," he said finally.

"All right," said Hunt.

"And of course you'll apply for a patent and assign the rights to me."

"One hundred dollars," said Hunt. Richardson peeled off $100 in small bills. Hunt paid his friend Chapin, and hurried home.

"Bully," he cried to his wife, "here's 25 dollars. We can eat again."

A few months later, on April 10, 1843, the patent was issued.

This was the legal beginning of a contrivance that has served a thousand and one purposes.

British Youth Jubilant As Candy Now Unfashioned

LONDON.—Candy came off the ration after seven dreary years. This was big news among the youngsters of Britain.

Savings banks were being pryed open so the big burst of the new freedom may be financed adequately.

The confectioners' windows looked wonderful.

The conversation of the young fry, who have been limited to four ounces a week for a long as they can remember, was filled with such technical terms as:

Hundreds and thousands—jelly-stoppers—bull's-eyes—sherbet dabs—and, of course, lollipops and suckers.

Some large candy companies remembered that, while the ration ticket is in the discard, quite a few children haven't got a savings bank to raid. So, all around the country, thousands of pounds of candy were distributed free. One firm alone sent big boxes to 120 dependent children's homes.

A manufacturer estimated there are seven million British children of lollipop age who had never bought an unrationed piece of candy.

'Vacuum Cleaner' Rigs Suck Oysters from Sea Bottoms

AKRON.—A new method of harvesting oysters with a giant "vacuum cleaner" rig that sweeps clean the bottom of the sea has been developed by a New Haven oyster grower in co-operation with E. F. Goodrich engineers.

The suction equipment not only loads about 1,000 bushels of oysters an hour but catches at the same time thousands of destructive oyster drills, a boring snail which is one of the principal enemies of the shellfish.

The oyster company uses a converted army FS, the type of vessel that transported supplies to military installations on isolated small islands in the Pacific. On the port side is a 40-foot length of 10-inch steel pipe to which is attached 20 feet of flexible suction hose and a six-foot nozzle resembling that on a household vacuum cleaner.

Wedding Plans

IF YOU'RE PLANNING to entertain after the wedding and make all the refreshments yourself, with just a little help, do consider a simple menu as the most effective means of doing it.

You'll probably have to cook in large quantity since many guests will be there.

Time will have to be spent on the decorations. All in all, if you want everything to go perfectly, it's best to have a simple menu which can be carried out more perfectly than a larger, elaborate menu.

FOR A LARGE wedding reception, a simple but effective menu goes like this:

Assorted Tiny Sandwiches

Pastry-Chips

Stuffed Olives

Salted Nuts

Fruit Punch

Coffee

Wedding Cake

Ice Cream or Ice Cream Mold

The cake may be made in several layers of different sizes. If you desire a smaller cake, use three or four layers of the same size. In either case, make the cake and decorate it at least 24 hours ahead of serving time so that it can be sliced easily.

Here's a good recipe for a large cake. The filling and icing recipes follow:

Six Layer Wedding Cake (Serves 16-18)

6 cups sifted cake flour

6 teaspoons baking powder

1 teaspoon salt

1 1/2 cups shortening

4 cups sugar

2 teaspoons vanilla

1 teaspoon almond extract

2 cups milk

10 egg whites

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening with vanilla and almond extract until fluffy. Fold in sugar and blend until thoroughly mixed. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, in small amounts, beating after each addition, until smooth. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry and fold in gently. Pour into greased, waxed-paper lined pans and bake in a moderate (350°) oven for 30 minutes. This recipe makes six nine-inch layers.

Lemon Filling (For 6 nine-inch layers)

2 1/4 cups sugar

1/2 cup cornstarch

1/2 teaspoon salt

3 tablespoons grated lemon rind

1 cup lemon juice

1 1/2 cups water

3 eggs, beaten

3 tablespoons butter

Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt thoroughly. Add remaining ingredients in order given and blend thoroughly. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until thickened. Cool.

Ornamental Icing

2 cups sugar

1 cup water

3 egg whites

1/4 tablespoon cream of tartar

1/4 teaspoon vanilla

1/2 teaspoon almond extract

Boil together sugar and water, without stirring, to 242° or until a small amount dropped from a spoon spins a thread. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry and pour on hot syrup in a thin stream while beating constantly. Add cream of tartar, vanilla and almond extract and beat until thick enough to spread. Cover cake smoothly with a part of the icing and beat remaining icing until cool and stiff enough to hold shape when forced through pastry tube. When coating on cake has hardened, decorate as desired with remaining icing forced through pastry tube. If icing becomes too thick, add a few drops of hot water.

YOU MAY TINT some of the icing forced through the pastry tube a delicate yellow or pink if you want tiny roses for decoration. Also tint part of the icing a pale green if you want leaf decorations for the roses.

For the top of the cake, you may purchase a bride and groom decoration or a pair of lovebirds.

When setting cake on a platter, place fresh flowers all around the base of the cake, for decoration.

Strawberry Punch (Makes 8 quarts)

2 quarts water

1 cup granulated sugar

1 cup corn syrup

4 quarts strawberries

1 1/2 quarts chilled orange juice

1 pint chilled lemon juice

2 quarts ginger ale

2 thinly sliced limes or 2 quarts lemon sherbet

Combine sugar, water and corn syrup. Bring to a boil. Add the washed, hulled strawberries and boil, covered, for four minutes. Remove, strain through a sieve, without pressing, and chill. Just before serving, combine with other ingredients. If using sherbet, place in scoops on top of punch in punch bowl.

Coffee (Serves 25)

1/2 pound drip grind coffee

4 1/2 quarts boiling water

Tie the coffee loosely in a fine cheesecloth or muslin type bag. If desired, mix coffee with one egg, including the shell, to which has been added a small amount of cold water. This will make coffee clear.

Drop the bag in the water which is boiling in a large kettle. Cover the kettle and turn heat very low. Let coffee steep for 12-15 minutes. Remove bag and serve coffee as needed. This will give 25 people an average coffee cup serving.

Look into your garden for salad inspiration. Lettuce, spinach, radishes, carrot sticks and a bit of watercress, if you have it, make a delectable green salad.

Start a meal off with a salad to pep appetites; watermelon, honeydew and cantaloupe balls, pineapple cubes, red cherries and a topping of sherbet.

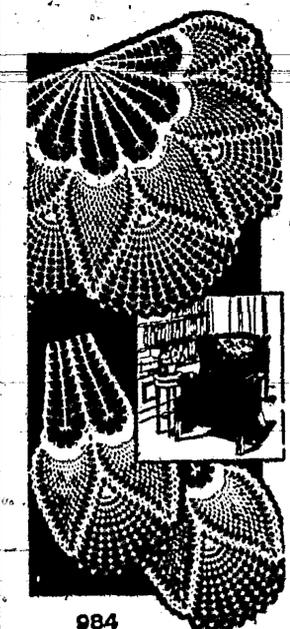

Lima beans left over from supper? Mix them with chopped sweet pickle, celery, sliced, stuffed olives and mayonnaise and serve for lunch.

Registration Required

A "delinquent" is a person required to be registered under the Selective Service Law, who fails or neglects to perform any duties required of him under the provisions of said law.

The most common forms of delinquency are failure to give change of address, failure to return questionnaire, failure to report for physical examination or for induction. Failure to register is also considered to be delinquency and may be prosecuted in the Federal Courts the same as any other violation.

Due to the fact that no registrants are being inducted at the current time, many registrants have become careless, particularly in not notifying their local board of changes of address.

Should Selective Service again become operative in the near or distant future under the present act, those individuals who have become delinquent during this period may be ordered to report for induction at the first induction date, regardless of dependents, prior service or any other consideration.

In such cases should the registrant fail to report for induction, the case must be immediately reported to the United States Attorney to prosecute.

ON THE JOB

NEW MEXICO MOVIE—The employment security commission of New Mexico has received prints of a movie which was produced for the agency by Kling studios of Chicago. The film is now showing in theaters on the east side of the state. It is called "Employment Security in New Mexico," tells the story of the operations of the employment security commission and its state employment service. Governor Thomas Mabry, Benjamin D. Luchini, executive director of the commission, and other commission employees appear in the film, a documentary narrated by Jim Amecho. In addition to the professional size films for showing in theaters, the commission has 16mm films of the same picture which are available for showing in schools and colleges. The picture was made to acquaint New Mexicans with their employment security program.

CHANGE OF TITLE—We've changed the name of the column, but it's the same rich, beautiful prose that appeared under the heading of "Jobology."

AID TO THE BLIND—The new $50,000 training center for blind adults recently opened at Alamogordo fills a longtime need in service to New Mexico's blind workers. Because we are not an industrialized state, few training opportunities have existed for the blind in New Mexico. At the new training center it will be possible to train workers for placement with small employers who could not, by themselves, afford to set up training programs for the sightless. New Mexico's new facility for the training of the blind is a symbol of the great strides made in solving the problems of the handicapped under democracy during the past two decades. It is not so long ago that the only occupation available to the blind was that of walking the streets with a cane and a tin cup. Today blind workers are found in all types of industry, many highly successful in fields of technical and professional work.

PLANS—New Mexico girls graduating from high school this June and making plans for the future would do well to consider the fields of secretarial work and nursing. Grassroots information, gathered from local sources, shows that in most parts of the state there is a good demand for well-trained secretaries and for trained nurses.

GRADS—Lists of June graduates of the University of New Mexico, New Mexico A. & M., and Eastern New Mexico College who wish to secure employment in their home state are now available at all local offices of the state employment service. These graduates were trained in New Mexico supported schools and they can repay New Mexico taxpayers only if they work in this state. Employers who have openings that could be filled by these college-trained people are invited to call at any of the 18 local offices of the state employment service for more information regarding available graduates of the class '49.

BOUDREAU PEPS UP WITH A HAMBURGER

Lou Boudreau, player-manager of the world champion Cleveland Indians, takes time out between workouts to pep up his energy with a hamburger and a glass of milk. Lou's favorite sandwich is a hamburger deluxe, prepared like this: Add a teaspoon of grated onion to each tablespoon of softened butter or margarine. Spread on split hamburger bun. Make the sandwich with hot seasoned hamburger, lettuce, and chili sauce or relish.

LINCOLN COUNTY YOUNG MEN JOIN FRATERNITIES

Two of the new pledges were from Lincoln County: Sherrill Fuchs, junior animal husbandry major, Glencoe, and Howard Harkey, animal husbandry major, Ancho.

Alpha Delta Theta fraternity at New Mexico A & M College recently pledged eight students. New pledges include John King, sophomore civil engineering major, Carrizozo.

Eleven new members were initiated into Alpha Omicron chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon, national fraternity at New Mexico A & M College, at the campus TKE house last Sunday. One was Glenn Snow, freshman arts and sciences major, Carrizozo.

Why Name Calling?

The calling of names is a propaganda technique based on delusion and trickery. It has been common in politics for a long time, and has done its part to give politics a bad reputation among the people in general.

Americans are accustomed to a certain amount of this in election campaigns. But surely we have not come to the place where we expect it in the halls of Congress. In legislative sessions, when serious national problems are being discussed, it is a bit disturbing to hear so much name-calling. Any American has the right to disagree with another and to speak out his mind. But it is not necessary always to discredit those who disagree with us.

Freedom Is Fragile

The worst thing that has happened in America in the last twenty years has been the tendency to divide our people into class groups. Our country has long been known as the "melting pot," where immigrant lads and backwoods boys can become bankers and industrialists. High born or low born, rich or poor, in America it never really has mattered. The important thing in America is that a man may plan and live out his own dream.

Some folks apparently have forgotten that these freedoms of ours are fragile and perishable. Unless we attend to the keeping of each of them, it is possible to lose them all. The building of class consciousness is one of the very worst things we can do to our American life. It could be the entering wedge of all kinds of "isms," any one of which in time might well put us in chains.

Unwholesome Effect

The term "big business" is used as name-calling by unthinking persons and by those who have torn up their sleeves. Name-calling of business, big or little or any size, can have nothing but an unwholesome effect upon the American scene. A U S Senator was quoted in the press recently as saying: "It appears that big business would rather risk a continued inflation of prices than balance the budget through increased taxes."

You see, all the people of the nation are paying about a third of their total income in taxes. Must anyone who believes that taxes should not be raised be placed on the receiving end of a name-calling campaign? One Senator on the Senate Labor Committee keeps branding a "fascist" certain of those who oppose increased taxation.

Public Opinion

Does this mean the Senators cannot make out a reasonable case for increased taxes? Does it mean that they can defend the case for higher taxes only by hanging ugly tags on those who oppose tax increases?

If we must try to turn labor against management—if we must turn the public in general against employers who are providing millions of jobs at the highest wages ever earned—then I am afraid we have reached a level that signals the end of our American way and our high standard of living.

STOCKMAN WARNS NEW MEXICO TO GUARD WATER RIGHTS

Albuquerque—Warning that New Mexico must be on guard to protect its interests in water rights of the Colorado River is contained in an article published this week in the May issue of the NEW MEXICO STOCKMAN.

The article reports on a recent hearing in Washington before the Senate Committee on Interior Affairs dealing with the disposal of Colorado River water. Testimony at the hearing put New Mexico and Utah in the category of having "small-but-undetermined-interest" in the Colorado River water.

Rights of the several states to water from the Colorado watershed were supposed to have been determined by the Colorado compact of 1922, signed at Santa Fe after years of haggling between the states, the New Mexico Stockman's staff writer points out. Only recently, he adds, Colorado, Utah and New Mexico reached agreement as to their respective percentages of stream flow and signed an agreement which has since been ratified by the respective legislatures and governors of the three upper basin states.

The Washington hearing was prompted by the recent action of California, seeking a determination of her rights to the water through the courts. Arizona, meanwhile claims that California's rights were determined in the original compact and opposes taking the matter to the courts.

In the recently-completed three-state compact, New Mexico's share of the water was set at 13.7 per cent of the stream flow. The Stockman's article points out that while this is comparatively small percentage, it is sufficient water to provide for an important irrigation project within the Navajo reservation; to increase five-fold the irrigated area of San Juan county; and make possible the multi-million dollar proposed trans-mountain diversion of Colorado river water into New Mexico's Chama river and thence into the Rio Grande.

If New Mexico's interest is undetermined, as claimed at the hearing, the article states, "Then these projects are in jeopardy and so is the future economy of the state. It is time for New Mexico to be on guard."

In the same issue of the New MEXICO STOCKMAN, new sidelights on the life of famous John Simpson Chisum, trail driver and legendary Pecos Valley cattle baron, are recorded in an article by Will Robinson, retired editor of the Roswell Dispatch.

Hamsters Wax Fat and Happy On Diets Designed for Dogs

This chipmunk-like animal, anxiously reaching for his dinner of canned dog food, is a Syrian Golden Hamster. He and scores of his relatives are kept to test the effectiveness of various canine rations.

By TOM FARLEY

Although they probably don't know it, and couldn't care less if they did, a group of small, chipmunk-like animals are helping to make Fido's daily dish the last word in canine chow.

Known as the Syrian Golden Hamsters, the little mammals, who look as if they escaped straight from the pages of Peter Rabbit complete with sleek red fox jackets, are kept to test the effectiveness of formula after formula of prepared dog food. They were chosen for this purpose because they reproduce so rapidly (the female usually produces several litters of a dozen young a year) that the value of a diet can be observed on several generations in a matter of months. If dogs were used it would take years before the results of a specific type of formula became apparent.

In the ultra-modern laboratory of one of the nation's greatest producers of first-grade canned dog food the hamsters live in metal-lined drawers that have meshed-wire bottoms and fronts. Usually after a few months away from their native Syria they become so domesticated they'll climb to the top of the drawers when they see a meal approaching.

Information on the effects of diet on reproduction gathered through study of the hamsters formed much of the basis for the Department of Agriculture's regulations for the awarding of their seal of approval to first grade canned dog foods. Foods carrying the seal produce strong healthy stock that should bear strong healthy pups—or the hamsters have lived in vain.

In their wild state the hamsters feed chiefly on roots, fruits and grains, mixed with an occasional lizard or bird to furnish the protein.

CHICKS

State College, N. M., May 28—An innocent appearing O. O. D. package has New Mexico A. & M. coed Sue Culpepper knee-deep in the poultry business.

Few are the Southwestern radio listeners who haven't heard the flattered "B-A-B-Y, baby C-H-I-C-K, chick, Clint, Texas." The accompanying commercial guarantees 100 lively baby chicks, at least one of which will be a rooster, and a live bird in exchange for any chick that doesn't survive to maturity.

Some unidentified friends of Sue heard the advertisement. Shortly thereafter a boxfull of chirps and cheeps arrived for the Santa Fe coed—O. O. D. charges of $7.50.

Between trips to Las Cruces for chicken feed, Sue cast about for a hatchery location. She was turned down on the idea of keeping them with her in Rhodes residence hall. They spent the first night exposed to the elements.

When the weather changed for the colder, Sue slipped her chicks into the kitchen of an A & M sorority house. At the instance of her sisters, Sue moved her 100 bundles of feathers to another location. Late time the brooder house was a converted storage room in South Hall.

An elementary education major and inexperienced in the finer points of poultry raising, Sue scatters feed with one hand while the other clutches an Extension Service bulletin. And when colored light bulbs couldn't be located for her homemade brooders, Sue, with typical feminine ingenuity, painted regular bulbs with crimson nail polish.

She hasn't decided the eventual fate of her chicks, providing the residents of South Hall agree to tolerate them. Of one thing she's certain—she isn't taking advantage of the Clint, Texas offer to replace every dead bird with a live one.

CHICAGO RAILROAD FAIR

Amarillo, April 20—Preparations for the Chicago Railroad Fair on June 25 are well under way.

The Santa Fe Railroad has announced many improvements in its replica of a southwestern Indian Village which last year featured its exhibit.

Again native Indians from the Santa Fe Southwest will live on the fair grounds in the pueblos, hogans and wickiups which the railroad has constructed.

Authentic Indian sandpaintings will be made daily in a glass enclosure permitting them to be viewed by fair visitors without interruption of the medicine men who make the paintings.

Indian arts and crafts workers plying the trades of silversmithing, weaving and basketry will be housed in an open shelter permitting Indian Village visitors to watch their handicrafts. Also in the shelter will be two looms on which Spanish-American weavers will make the famous Chimayo blankets.

The Indian Trading Post which last year attracted many visitors will be enlarged for the 1949 Fair. Added to the Santa Fe exhibit will be an arcade located near the north entrance of the Village showing a section of all the states through which the railroad passes in large photographic murals.

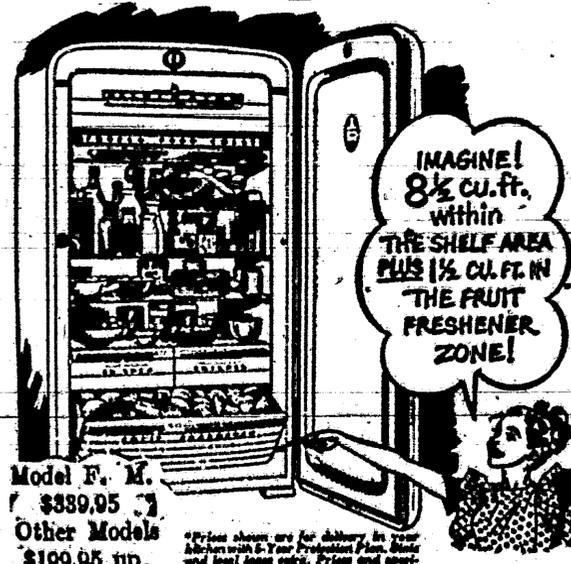

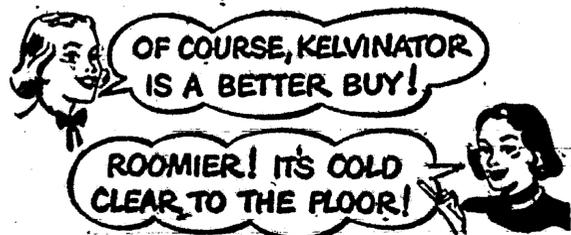

A large quonset hut seating about 250 people will also be added to the Village and continuous motion pictures from 2 PM to 10 PM typical of the scenic southwest will be exhibited free.

America's Lowest-Priced Straight Eight!

Until they see the actual figures, few people realize that the big, beautiful Pontiac eight is America's lowest-priced straight eight. Not only does it undersell all other straight eights by a substantial margin, but it actually costs less than many six-cylinder cars!

The fact that the Pontiac eight gives so much for so little is the basic reason for the great and growing popularity it enjoys.

Pontiac has distinguished appearance, and distinctive Silver Streak styling. Its spacious body by Fisher is handsomely upholstered and appointed.

And finally, it is powered by the world's sweetest engine—a great straight eight which is supremely smooth and quiet, instantly responsive to the accelerator, packed with power—an eight which gives peak performance and economy.

We honestly believe that no other car carries such definite assurance of really enjoyable performance at so low a cost. We invite you to come in and take the wheel yourself. We're sure you'll be very pleasantly surprised.

To Combat Fire Hazards

The U. S. Forest Service and the New Mexico State Employment Service, with assistance from the mayor of Carrizozo and the mayor of Capitan have completed plans for meeting fire emergencies in our nearby forest areas during this year's fire season.

These agencies are keenly aware of the fire hazards that exist at this time of each year. Furthermore, they realize the vital importance of our forest to industry, to sportsmen and to nature lovers. The wholehearted co-operation of the public is urged in giving protection to our forest by fire prevention practices and by control of fires should they occur. The Alamo-gordo office of the New Mexico State Employment Service, which serves Lincoln County, is listing all individuals eighteen years of age and over who are physically able to do arduous work and who are willing to accept this type of work. In reporting for duty, these men are instructed to wear heavy field denim or khaki with strong high shoes and medium weight socks.

The Forest Service will immediately notify the Employment Service should help be needed for a fire emergency. A pre-arranged signal of five blasts from the town siren in either Carrizozo or Capitan will be sounded and those who have registered for this work are to report immediately to the Fire Stations of their respective towns, ready for departure. In addition to an hourly rate of pay, the Forest Service will furnish transportation and subsistence.

Any person willing to accept this type of work is requested to call at the itinerant office of the New Mexico State Employment Service at the Court House in Carrizozo, between 10:30 A. M. and 2:30 P. M. on any Friday.

LINCOLN COUNTY 4-H CAMP FUND DRIVE UNDER-WAY

Committees and 4-H Club members in the various communities have consented to assist in their respective communities to raise the $1,000 fund for the construction of the 4-H Camp that will be built near Cloudcroft. The camp will accommodate the 14 counties in the southern part of New Mexico. It will not only be used by 4-H Clubs, but will be available to organizations such as FFA chapters, Farm Bureau, Women's Extension Clubs, Livestock Growers' Associations, civic, and other youth religious organizations.

The first contribution for the worthy project was made by the Corona Women's Extension Club, who gave $50 to the cause. School Superintendents and Principals are cooperating by permitting the collection of a small fee for movie films shown to pupils of the schools. Twenty-five dollars and ninety cents were raised by showing films at the Carrizozo school and $25 was raised through movie films shown at the Capitan Highschool. The county agent has made arrangements to show films at the Hondo Highschool, Hondo Gradschool, San Patricio Gradschool, Lincoln Gradschool, and the Corona Highschool this coming week.

All donations will be handled under a special fund known as "Lincoln County 4-H Club Fund." Checks should be made out in this manner and the money will be deposited in the Lincoln County Agency Bank at Carrizozo until the amount is raised, and then a check will be sent to the Southern New Mexico 4-H Club Foundation.

Lincoln County has been asked to raise $1,000 as their contribution for the construction of the $30,000 camp. All business firms, professional people, ranchers, and farmers are asked to assist in raising the fund.

Donations may be given to 4-H Club members or committeemen who identify themselves with proper credentials, or checks made to the "Lincoln County 4-H Club Fund" and mailed to Carl P. Radloff, County Extension Agent, Box 217, Carrizozo, New Mexico.

If you are interested in reading the details of the 4-H Club camp plans, each postmaster in the county has been asked to post one of the 4-H Camp leaflets for your reference.

You may be interested to know that there are more than 10,000,000 boys and girls in 4-H work in the United States; 8,500 members in New Mexico; 3,500 boys and girls are enrolled in club work in the 14 southern counties. More than 130,000 New Mexico boys and girls have benefited from 4-H Club work since the program originated.

The 4-H insignia is a symbol of education and leadership training which is helping to improve farm incomes, living standards, satisfaction from community life, and which is preparing young people for the responsibilities of tomorrow the country over.

All counties have been asked to raise their quota by May 10, 1949, so if you wish to assist with this worthy cause, please act promptly.

Your contribution and support will be greatly appreciated.

Club Initiates 13 Members

State College, N. M., May 31. Thirteen new members have been initiated by the Block and Bridle Club at the New Mexico A & M College. One new member is from Lincoln County, Sherrell Fuchs, junior animal husbandry major.

Sylvester Says:

"100 years is a long time to wait for a house, but by building 500,000 public housing units per year it would take the government 100 years to place every "low-income" American family in government public housing."

The average earnings of families now living in public "subsidized" housing is $2,200. There are approximately 20 million American families with incomes no higher than that.

On the basis of $2,200 a year income, more than half the families in the U. S. qualify for a home in a government housing unit.

But most American families haven't learned how helpless they are, for, according to U. S. Census figures, over one-half of our families with incomes below $1,000 per year already own their own homes.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

New Roosevelt Political Dynasty Seen in FDR, Jr.'s Vote Triumph; Clay Urges Accord With Germany

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

ROOSEVELT:

Old Tradition

The old tradition was running true to form; you can't beat a Roosevelt. Young Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., most like his father in looks, charm and smile, won the New York congressional seat left vacant by the death of Spl. Bloom. And he won it with the national administration and Tammany allied against him.

FDR worshippers were jubilant. Those who had fought the "champ" throughout his years in the White House professed to see in the election result the creation of a new Rooseveltian political dynasty.

Already the cry of the exultant victors was "on to Albany," New York capital which Franklin D. Roosevelt, four-time President of the United States, used as a springboard to the White House.

Denied the Democratic nomination, young Roosevelt ran on the Liberal and Four Freedoms parties' tickets in a contest which kept Manhattan's west side in an uproar for months. A surprise to many Americans, who did not know such procedure was permissible, Roosevelt does not reside in the district he will represent in congress. It seems that all the while there has been no bar in the law to prevent a candidate from living in one district and representing another.

DESPITE his victory as a standard bearer for two other parties, Roosevelt declared he is still a 100 per cent Democrat.

Campaigning, he visited thousands of voters, turned on the old Roosevelt charm, mingled with the masses in their homes, attended house parties as honor guest, made street corner speeches.

One defeated candidate sounded a familiar note heard so frequently during other Rooseveltian campaigns:

"The formula in this election was a glamorous name and a quarter of a million dollars, and neither of these did we have."

BARKLEY:

No Guards

"I'm a big boy now. And besides, who would want to harm a young man like me anyway?"

Thus did Kentucky's Alben W. Barkley, Vice-President of the United States, dismiss the idea of personal guards.

BARKLEY, who will be 72 in November, goes where he wants, when he wants and flatly refuses protection of any sort.

He told newsmen that President Truman had "tried to get me to accept a few secret service men," but was turned down.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and top G-man J. Edgar Hoover also offered to provide bodyguards. But Barkley wanted his freedom. "I like it better that way," he said.

Barkley claims he's just a "common man, nothing fancy." In fact, he gets a kick out of people trying to figure out how to address him.

"STILL call myself senator," he says, "a habit after 22 years in congress, but the kids call me 'veep.' I like that."

He could also be called Mr. President, since that's how he's referred to in the senate over which he now presides.

RADIO:

Godfrey Tops

Carrot-thatched, gravel-throated Arthur Godfrey, radio's chief exponent of the "be yourself" type of entertainer-announcer, led the CBS network in earnings during 1948. He was paid $440,514.16 last year by the broadcasting system for which he labors.

Newcasters didn't fare so badly, however. Lowell Thomas was a close second with $420,300. Oddly enough, the network boss, Frank Stanton garnered only a measly $109,738.80. All these figures covered income before Uncle Sam took his cut, so there was some difficulty in trying to ascertain just how much "take home" pay these gentlemen received.

For the ABC network, Don McNeill, emcee of the Breakfast Club, was top, with earnings of $180,329.40.

Paul Whiteman, ABC's musical director and vice-president, received $145,310.56. Again the network president ranked lower. ABC's president Mark Woods got only $78,000.

Last Man Over

Lt. Joe Russo, U.S. army air force, is shown holding a bouquet of flowers presented to him after he landed his airplane at Tempelhof airdrome to complete the last airlift flight before the lifting of the Berlin blockade.

GERMANY:

Clay Speaks Up

If Gen. Lucius D. Clay, retiring United States military governor in Germany, had his way, America's ex-foes would be permitted back into the company of democratic nations as soon as possible.

BACK in Washington where he was feted and decorated by President Truman, Clay warned that unless Germany is restored to the community of western nations, an alliance with Russia by our former enemies is inevitable.

Speaking to the house of representatives, the general declared that the German people, in spite of their recent history of aggressive war and "extreme cruelty," now had shown their preference for a government standing for the "dignity of man as an individual."

In the spirit of the residents of Berlin who survived through the airlift, Clay declared, there is a spark-for-German-freedom that "may grow with the years." He told the senate how the people of western Germany had adopted through their parliamentary council a constitution which guarantees free elections and is "devoted to reestablishing in Germany the dignity of man."

WITHOUT referring to the Soviets by name, he charged, nevertheless, that the Russians have two objectives that were irreconcilable with the efforts made by the United States, England and France to create a four-power government in Germany based on international cooperation.

He defined these objectives of what he termed "the fourth power" as intent to exact the maximum in reparations from Germany and to set up a government that could be controlled or exploited by a police state.

COMMUNISTS:

Losing Ground

Whatever was responsible—the American airlift, a conviction that American democracy had more to offer or a general revulsion to all police states—the Communists weren't doing so well in the eastern Berlin elections.

THIS was in contrast with the confident predictions of Communist politicians in the Soviet zone of occupation of an overwhelming majority.

The vote was being taken on a "people's congress" of 2,000 members, all hand-picked by Communist-controlled organizations and put on a single ticket. However, the Communists were picking up only about a third of the votes expected.

Some voters wrote on their ballots "we won't vote for a police state and we reject Communism." Early returns from Berlin showed a majority of "no" votes—the only way the congress could be rejected since only one list of candidates was submitted.

THE "PEOPLES" congress, if it were to be set up, would be the Soviet answer to the western state being set up in the western zone.

Objective observers couldn't fail to see in the initial trend of the voting an indication that in any case where American system and ideologies may be contrasted with that of the Soviets, the latter cannot command support.

Two troopers hauled in Colonel Miller, 71-year old Texan and boss of the 101 Ranch Wild West Show, for permitting use of his panel truck by an unlicensed operator.

ACCIDENTS:

Three Reasons

Plain stupidity, bad manners, and liquor are the top three causes of automobile accidents, accounting for three-fourths of all fatalities, or over 24,000 deaths per year, according to a case analysis by Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

By far the top killers are the "stupid" group of driver offenses—excessive speed, ignoring traffic signs or traffic officers, passing on hills or curves, and other miscellaneous "dimwit" violations; the study finds that one or more of these offenses is involved in 40 per cent of all fatal accidents, and is the principal cause of 32 per cent.

FOOLISH ACTIONS by adult pedestrians—crossing against traffic signals, crossing intersections diagonally, crossing between intersections, coming from behind parked cars, and walking in the roadway in the same direction as traffic cause another 12 per cent of fatalities, based on experience records of 1946, 1947 and 1948. The study finds. Thus 44 per cent of our annual traffic death toll results from failures by drivers or pedestrians to use common sense.

Bad manners, such as road hogging—driving over the center line or actually on the wrong side of the road, and "barging through" when the other fellow has the right-of-way cause another 15 per cent of traffic fatalities, the records reveal.

TRAFFIC DEATHS due to alcohol are estimated by the insurance statisticians at a minimum of 18 per cent—12 per cent due to drinking by drivers and 3 per cent due to drinking by pedestrians. This is the most difficult group of cases to measure accurately, the study points out, because: Many drinking drivers try to conceal such facts in case of an accident, and an unknown number succeed; second, a considerable proportion of other violations such as reckless driving, which are directly blamed for certain accidents, would not be committed if the driver were fully sober and his judgment clear.

Summary: Of our annual traffic toll of 32,000 to 33,000 deaths, 44 per cent result from acts of folly by motorists or pedestrians, 15 per cent result from bad driving manners, and at least 18 per cent from liquor. Total: 74 per cent.

SNEEZER:

150,000 Times

Michael Hippisley had sneezed 150,000 times and was still sneezing. London doctors sought frantically to bring some relief to the 14-year old schoolboy who had sneezed once every three seconds for nine days.

THE only time the boy hadn't sneezed in the nine days was when he was knocked out by drugs or sleeping.

"I've had kerosene up my nose, drops down my ears and hundreds of tablets," Michael told reporters. "Then they cauterized me. I couldn't feel anything any more, but I kept on sneezing."

When news of Michael's plight got about, some 50 callers offered sympathy and advice. One suggested hypnosis. Another said sneeze in a paper sack. Unfortunately, all remedies had been tried.

SCIENCE, making great strides with allergy controls and remedies seemed stymied on this case.

The Hippisley family doctor said that's what he thought it was—the constant "an-chooling" was due to Michael's "abnormal sensitivity to pollen dust."

Cheats Death

Flashing a smile of victory over death, Reid C. Lewis, is shown in hospital at Santa Monica, Calif. His heart stopped after a major operation and remained stopped, as did breathing and pulsebeat, for 13 minutes. His doctor, remembering an old Boy Scout trick which sometimes revives drowned persons by breaking a bone, snapped one of Lewis' ribs and the shock restored him to life.

PARKING:

No, Thanks

In a nation where parking space is at a premium, parkers were shunning a Great Bend, Kan., parking lot in great numbers.

Joseph Nolan, a short-time parking lot operator is authority for the reaction. Nolan opened his lot in the heart of the downtown district. In eight days his gross income was only and exactly $1.30. He tried every device he knew, even "free parking." Still they stayed away.

ROUGH GOING FOR JOCKEY . . . This is the end of the line for Jockey J. Murphy and his mount, Filgrim's Way. After taking the final jump in a steeplechase event at Elmira, Murphy was issued from the hurdler — and just in the right spot for newspaper photographer Jimmy Klemartin to record the jockey's distress.

LADY BULLFIGHTER . . . Cecilia Cistron, celebrated woman bullfighter from Peru, is shown as she prepared to enter the arena in Paris in a bloodless exhibition of her art. Parisians enjoyed the show, which ended with the bull alive and kicking.

FOUR ARMS FULL OF HAPPINESS . . . One never could mistake what is in the face of 25-year old Andy Tompas for anything but sublime happiness. He is shown wrapping legs with the mother he had not seen in many years. Last winter Andy wrote to the editor of a Pittsburgh paper asking help in finding the mother who let him with his grandparents when he was a baby. The mother, living in a distant city, read the story and flew to Pittsburgh. Andy will live with her.

GARDENIA TIME . . . Dixie and Helen Hatfield poses with and amidst some of the flowers at Cypress Gardens, Fla. As a gardenia girl, this Hatfield is the real "McCoy" as she seems to urge that you "wear a little white gardenia."

BARES SPY RING . . . General Izydor Medelaki, former Polish military attaché who resigned his post and refused to return home, declared Communist agents are trying to foment revolution and disorder in the United States in preparation for war.

MANJHI GANDHI . . . Manjhi Gandhi, son of the late Mahatma Gandhi, who is a South African newspaper editor, is visiting the United States to see the country and to observe sessions at the United Nations in his capacity as a journalist.

NAVY BOSS . . . Francis Patrick Matthews had been appointed by President Truman as secretary of the navy. Matthews, 62, is a lawyer and banker in Omaha and has been active in civic life there.

GOOD OR BAD, TELEVISION

Video—the Great, Irresistible Force

HAS FASCINATION FOR MILLIONS

H. I. PHILLIPS

LIVING-ROOM SQUAT

Television is developing a race of sitters—a vast, immovable population of living-room squatters, as it were. In all areas of the country where video has come into play, great masses of people are "settling" glued around the set, absorbed and silent, neglecting small talks, books, papers and even the racing results. The decline in conversation at house parties in television belts has become alarming. Guests hardly speak to one another or to the hostess. Whole evenings are spent in which "come in" and "good night" sum up the total exchange of words.

The old man doesn't go down to the store for the papers or a cigar. Men cut the cinema. It isn't because television is all sheer entertainment. In fact, it has been rather trying, often downright annoying. Video is still in the baby stage. It doesn't look like an extra smart kid. But there is such a diversity of attractions on so many programs over so many channels that there is a fascination for millions in it, good or bad.

So many more thrillers, playlets, vaudeville sketches, hockey games, fights, wrestling bouts, debates, concerts, newscasts, soap operas, comedians, tragedians, actors, dancers, scientists, clowns and puppets come zooming into the old homestead that the audience at least gets action. The reactions are curious. We know one addict who says, "It's so bad that it's absorbing." Another demands, with more enthusiasm, "Show me another medium through which I can get a hockey game, a ski tournament, a forum, a circus, a Broadway show, a couple of westerns, a book review and a carload of miscellaneous entertainers and celebrities without getting out of my chair!"

We have even discovered a fellow who finds some commercials attractive on television. He hated commercials on the radio, but a close-up photograph of a mince pie, a layer cake, a stack of waffles, a bubbling glass of beer or a gal whipping up a dinner on a cooking program intrigues him. He gets sore if a plate of frankfurters and beans doesn't screen well or if a display of gelatins is out of focus. His chief interest in all products seems to be their degree of screen clarity.

take their regular radio or let it alone have been known to go nuts over television. The business of operating the various dials to bring in the entertainment gives them the feeling of being producers, stage directors, dramatic coaches, vaudeville kibitzers and movie promoters. They are never satisfied. They are always monkeying with the dials, trying to achieve the perfect show.

The American public is getting more and more amusement-mad and it looks as if books, magazines and newspapers may have to go all out for showmanship. Man's house used to be his castle; it is now his fight arena, his ball park, his theater, his concert hall, his information bureau and his personal clambake.

The answer to "Shall we go out somewhere tonight?" is "Why?" People used to leave the apartment to kill boredom and seek some diversion. They now accomplish the same objectives with an "aerial stack" and a "booster."

Hurry up with the dinner, mom! There's a prize fight, a wrestling show, six musical revues, a tour of the nighteries, four westerns, a travelogue, a newscast, four mystery dramas, 18 newscasts, a rodeo, a mardi gras and a sailfish tournament on the video tonight!

This 'n' That

Armour and Co. omitted its preferred dividend, saying meat prices have fallen 20 to 30 per cent. Steaks and chops are now worth little more, in fact, than their weight in gold.

VANESSA BROWN typifies everything that a young actress ought to be. Very pretty, with chestnut hair and blue eyes, she has managed, at 20, to complete her college course and make pictures at the same time. Asked how it happened that she was chosen for the mold of the all-star cast of Paramount's "The Heiress," she laughed and said she'd been You've heard her on the air—she toured Alaska with "Vox Pop," has appeared on the Screen Guild and other important shows. She writes, too; has sold three stories to a newspaper syndicate.

Joan Fontaine in "Bed of Roses" will be back at RKO for the first time since she starred in "From This Day Forward" in 1945. A modern drama, it stars her as an iron-willed girl with an insatiable desire to have her own way. Friends who knew her and Olivia de Havilland in their school-girl days say the beautiful Joan herself always had a way of getting what she wanted.

John Hylan deserted films two years ago to devote his time to his avocado ranch at Vista, Calif., but could not resist the role of "Mr. Howard" in "Mrs. Mike," the Dick Powell-Kayala Keyes starrer being produced for United Artists.

NO REGRETS

By Richard H. Wilkinson

VALERIA'S AFFAIR with Elliot Harvey had proved extremely gratifying. After all, Elliot was the most handsome and the most glamorous man at Newfane Lake, and the confession of his love had rather flattered her vanity. But the duration had been brief. Two months, to be exact. She had smiled a little wistfully the night she handed back his ring.

"It's been swell fun, Elliot, but it can't last. The feeling's alone on the surface. It isn't real."

"Not real?" He stared at her, unbelieving. "Good Lord, Val—" But she interrupted him with a gesture of finality. "It's no use, Elliot. You're far too glamorous and handsome to fall in love. I tried hard, but it didn't work." She patted his hand maternally. "Summer romances are fun, and this has been the best ever. No regrets."

A hurt look came into his eyes, to be replaced, an instant later by exaggerated indifference. He tossed the ring, caught it, pocketed it. "O. K., sister. I guess I can stand it." His eyes held that smug, "it's-your-funeral" look that so fitted his role. She felt released, free again. When Doug Metcalf asked her to attend the Country Club ball with him she accepted without qualms of conscience. Doug was big and homely. "Thought there was no harm in asking," he grinned. "You won't find me as spectacular as Elliot."

He looked at her curiously, seemed on the point of asking a question and thought better of it. She knew that he, like everyone else, was wondering if her heart was broken. Well, let them find out for themselves. Their pity annoyed her. Who was this Elliot Harvey, a god or something?

The night of the ball, dancing with Doug Metcalf, she saw Elliot floating by with Sheelah Jackson. He was looking down into her upturned face, oblivious to everything else. Valeria felt a little pang, and impatient at herself, gave her attention to Doug. Doug was watching her and there was worship in his eyes.

SHE WAS DANCING a dreamy waltz with Doug when Elliot cut in. Surprised, she found herself in his arms scarcely before his familiar features became recognizable.

"Well, well, well. Look who's here! How's the Don Juan of Newfane?"
"Val, let's go out and get a punch." His tone was almost harsh. Valeria hesitated. "All right," she said. "I could use something like that. It's been a destructive evening. I'm worn out."
They moved into the alcove where the drinks were being served. He led her beyond and through French doors that opened onto the terrace. The place was crowded, but they found a vacant bench behind some shrubbery, and Valeria sat down. It was good to sit. Elliot bent over her.

"Listen, Val, I can't stand it! I've been crazy ever since you gave me back the ring. I'm going mad. You've got to come back to me!"

Amazed, she stared up at him. His eyes were burning coals. He stood there stripped of his pride and dignity, no longer the confident Don Juan, the breaker of women's hearts. "Elliot, your drunk!"

"I'm not! Val, don't you see I'm not! Don't you see how much I love you!" He dropped down beside her, and suddenly his head was against her breast. He wept.

Val was frightened and bewildered. So all his indifference, his casual acceptance of her decision to break their engagement, his interest in Sheelah Jackson—it had all been pretense. A sham! A mask! An attempt to maintain his Don Juan standing, to nourish his pride and vanity and conceit.

She stood up, suddenly contemptuous, ashamed of her own doubt, disgusted with his weakness. She looked down at him, without pity or compassion or regret, turned away and went eagerly back to find dependable Doug.
