Letter From Former Residents

Following letter was received from Mr. and Mrs. Luther Baker. We publish part of letter and description of Garrison Dam:

We enjoy your paper as it keeps us in touch with our home county where I taught for 13 years. I am now employed by the Corps of Engineers U. S. Army, as an Engineer in the Soils and Geology Branch of the Engineering Division. We are engaged in the construction of the world's largest rolled Earth Fill Dam. I am sending you a folder which may be of interest to you and others in Lincoln County. I will be glad to answer any questions that may come to your attention in regard to the dam and other things connected with this project.

We wish to take this opportunity to convey our greetings to our many friends in Lincoln County and to assure them that we will be happy to hear from them. We shall always feel that Lincoln County is our home and hope that we may some day return there to live. I am happy to note that many of my former pupils are going to college and are taking an active part in county activities. We will be especially happy to hear from them and from their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther V. Baker.

THE GARRISON DAM AND RESERVOIR PROJECT

The Garrison Dam and Reservoir Project is being constructed by the Corps of Engineers, Department of the Army, under the supervision of the Division Engineer, Missouri River Division, Omaha, Nebraska. Design and field operations are being accomplished at the immediate direction of the District Engineer, Garrison District, Fort Lincoln, Bismarck, North Dakota.

The town of Riverdale is being built to house the personnel engaged in the design and construction of the dam and appurtenances thereto. When completed, the town will house about 4000 persons. It will be all modern and equipped with proper facilities; such as, stores, churches, recreation building, hotel, hospital, fire and police stations, schools, telephone exchange, family quarters and administration buildings necessary for a town of this size.

The dam and town are located on the Missouri River approximately 77 river miles north of Bismarck, South Dakota, in McLean and Mercer Counties.

The Garrison Dam and Reservoir will be one of the key units in the comprehensive plan for control and development of the water resources of the Missouri River Basin. This comprehensive plan, which envisions the construction of some 105 reservoirs, is known as the "Pick-Sloan Plan" from its co-authors Major General Lewis A. Pick, Division Engineer, Missouri River Division, and W. G. Sloan, Assistant Regional Director of the Bureau of Reclamation.

Though development of the Upper Missouri River was considered and investigations for suitable dam sites were initiated by the Corps of Engineers prior to 1900, it was not until 1944 that Congress authorized the Garrison Dam and Reservoir Project. The Project authorized by the Flood Control Act of 1944 is one of a system of multiple-purpose reservoirs on the Missouri River included in the general comprehensive plan for the development of the water resources of the Missouri River Basin.

The job then, of harnessing the Missouri River and its tributaries to serve man usefully and not destructively has been assigned jointly to the Corps of Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation under the comprehensive "Pick-Sloan Plan." Other Federal and State agencies such as the Federal Power Commission, the Department of Agriculture, National Park Service, Fish and Wildlife Service, Public Health Service, Bureau of Indian Affairs, and Public Roads Administration are cooperating to assure development and coordination of all inherent benefits of the unit.

On October 4, 1944, the first shovel full of dirt was turned on the excavation of the dam proper. This was preceded by approximately one year of preliminary work, during which some temporary housing, the connecting high way and railroad, and the construction of bridges were built. At the end of the working season of 1948 approximately 7,800,000 yards of material will have been excavated and 4,400,000 yds. of all placed in the dam, together with a short initial section of one mile. Present plans indicate completion of the dam in 1951.

Wedding Shower

The ladies of the Capitan Baptist Church gave a wedding shower last Monday evening at eight o'clock, June 27, in the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robinson of Capitan, honoring the marriage of two young members of the church, Billy Petree and Elizabeth Jones. Color scheme of azure and marigold was carried out. A host of friends and relatives presented the couple with many lovely gifts which were displayed. The guests wrote advice to bride and groom, after which Rev. Chester Bunch, the new pastor of the Capitan Baptist Church led in prayer, immediately following this the couple cut the beautiful cake. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served.

The young couple were united in marriage in the Hillcrest Baptist Church, Carlsbad, New Mexico, at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon June 26. The single ring ceremony was performed by the bride's father, who is an ordained minister, and Rev. Fay Hinton, who is an old friend of Jones' family and also pastor of the Hillcrest Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Jones of Capitan, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Elsworth Petree of Capitan Billy and Elizabeth, both graduated from the Capitan Union High School where Mr. Jones is principal. Billy finished in 1948 and Elizabeth in 1949. They are making their home in Capitan.

Couple Married Last Saturday

Miss Myrtle Leslie and J. W. Barnes were united in marriage at the home of the groom's parents Saturday evening, June 25 at 8:00 o'clock, with Justice of Peace, Manuel Chavez officiating. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Leslie. She was born and reared in Carrizozo. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Barnes and has spent his entire life here. He is an employe of the Southern Pacific Company and is an excellent young man. Friends extend good wishes.

NOTICE

Dr. E. A. Grisoni has opened an office in the Phillips building. He will be in Carrizozo on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Office hours 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

NOTICE

Beginning July the 6th at 7:30 p.m., Robert Hawkins of Hot Springs, New Mexico, will be in Carrizozo to begin a series of gospel sermons at the Church of Christ. These services will begin each evening at 7:30 p.m. and continue 10 or 12 days. The public is invited to attend.

PROCLAMATION

The people of this village will have the opportunity the first 15 days of this month to show pride in their community by engaging in a Cleanup and Sanitation campaign for this vicinity.

As Mayor of Carrizozo I do hereby proclaim July 1st to 15 1949 as Cleanup period for the purpose of general sanitation for the prevention of illness and disease, and beautifying our community.

During this prescribed period the Village will furnish free garbage and trash collection facilities to all citizens within the village limits. All debris to be picked up must be placed in a convenient and accessible place at the edge of alley-ways.

Done at the City Hall this 1st day of July, 1949.

Vernon Petty
Mayor.

Chuck Wagon Supper

The Lions really had a field day last Saturday. The people came from far and wide and seemed to enjoy themselves immensely. The chuck wagon was there — and so were the cats. Mrs. Lewis Farris was the maker of the "sour dough" biscuits. She must be a past master in the art as there were not even enough left for samples. After the chuck wagon supper dancing and a fish pond were big attractions rides on the fire truck and a general frolic for all ages; a street dance and announcement was made of the winners in the baby contest, which follows:

- Winner of first prize: John Michael Ortiz, and a suck win $10.00 Cash given by J. B. and Betty Howell and the Steak House
- Also a winner of first place in the boys division, he received: $5.00 savings account at the bank $2.00 check from Zuewals Auto Supply $5.00 credit slip from Harkey Lumber Co. and El Cibola Hotel $1.00 credit slip from Vidaurri's Free meal at the Do-Nut Shop and prize winner in the boys division Charles Wayne Barnum
- $5.00 credit slip from Burton's Hdw.
- $2.00 credit slip from Ortiz Brothers Service Station
- 3rd prize winner in boys division Larry Dale Jolly
- $5.00 credit slip from NuWay Cleaners
- First prize winner in girls division Era Dell Hemphill
- $5.00 Savings account at the bank
- $5.00 check from the Lincoln County Motors
- $5.00 Book from Petty's
- $1.00 credit slip from Paden's Drug
- 2nd prize winner in girls division Linda Margaret Stearns
- $5.00 credit slip from Carrizozo Mercantile
- $2.50 credit slip from Lane Sisters
- 2nd prize winner in girls division Janice Gale Graham
- $5.00 credit slip from Carrizozo Hardware

INJURIES PROVE FATAL

Dan Ortiz 37 was fatally injured yesterday morning about 10 when he was working at his job in the Southern Pacific yards. Mr. Ortiz died enroute to the hospital. No arrangements have been announced for funeral. He is survived by his widow and several children.

Engagement Announced

Announcement has been made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Gretchen Helene Munzinger to Mr. Weyman A. Hartley of Carrizozo. The couple will be married August 14th in St. Joseph Catholic Church in El Paso.

The bride to be was born in Omaha, Neb., but moved to El Paso when quite young. She attended Loretto Academy and Ohio University. At present she is employed by De Feuy Cather Co. El Paso.

The Prospective groom is a son of Mrs. Beulah Hartley of Carrizozo and Mr. Carl Hartley of Los Angeles. In the last war he served in the U. S. Navy in the Pacific theatre of war. He will receive his degree from A & M College in Civil engineering in January. Recently was published notice of his being chosen to represent A & M College chapter at the National convention in Oklahoma City.

Both the bride and groom are brilliant students. Engagement was announced last Sunday afternoon at a tea at which 100 invited guests were in attendance.

Mrs. Jake Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong and their 8 month old twins and Mrs. Rodenberg visited Mrs. Ira Johnson in Alamogordo from Friday until Monday.

Mrs. S. W. Kelsey arrived this week and will visit her mother Mrs. Johnson, who has just arrived home from the hospital in Tucumcari.

Mr. Ingram Pickett was in Carrizozo enroute to the Press Association last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thornton left Wednesday for Arkansas to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Harkey spent a few days in Tucumcari and Albuquerque this week.

Formal Opening

Will be held today and Saturday for the Carrizozo Repair Service, who are opening their new quarters in the old Outlook building across from the postoffice. In connection with the formal opening will be a demonstration of the new Domestic sewing machine. A man qualified for this demonstration will be present, and all ladies are invited to be there to see what can be accomplished with this wonderful machine. Everybody Invited.

Golden Wedding Anniversary

Tuesday, June 28th Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ferguson celebrated their Golden wedding anniversary at their ranch home on Nogal Mesa. The home is nestled in the hills, and is surrounded by shade trees with luxuriant foliage. New Mexico's sun in all its golden splendor blest the occasion, while a New Mexico mountain breeze mildly fanned the guests, who were seated on the porch, in the yard, in the house and everywhere.

Present were thirty-six members of the immediate family. The reception was a "come and go" affair that lasted from 2 until 6 p. m. and possibly longer as we saw several people who said they couldn't get there by 6 and would have to go later.

The many lovely gifts were displayed in the large dining room, where the long table spread with a lace cloth and covered with the beautiful dishes and silver was a delight to the eye. In the center was a large 3 tiered wedding cake with miniature bride and groom. The cake was trimmed in gold color flowers, and flowers of rich golden hue graced the table at intervals.

Mrs. Ferguson was wearing a lavender organdy, other members of the party were wearing pastels of different shades. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson have lived in their home on the Mesa for their entire married life. All their children were born and reared there. They are, Champ Clark; Don E. Mora S. Wallace, Mary, Beale and Wm. Mc Donald. In addition to Mr. Ferguson's ranching activities he has held down some fine positions, politician, and otherwise during a remarkably successful and active life. For a number of years he was High-way engineer.

41 Per Cent of Land In U. S. in Herbage

Grass Top Resource, Cattlemen Assert
Grass is one of the greatest resources of this nation. In the United States there are approximately 770 million acres of land which will grow nothing but hay, grass and other herbage unfit for human consumption.

This great acreage represents 41 per cent of the total land of the nation. About 9 per cent of the lands in the United States are plowable but are used also to produce pasture, hay or forage crops. It can be concluded, therefore, that about 50 per cent of the United States would not be used if it were not for meat animals.

This little fellow, obviously so well-started in life, is symbolical of what good pasturage can mean to cattle and just how much cattle depend on grass. In the United States there are approximately 770 million acres of land which cannot grow anything but hay, grass and other herbage.

Of the total feeds consumed by beef cattle 78.7 per cent is grass, hay and dry roughage. A minimum of grain is needed to bring feeder steers from 700 pounds to 1,000 pounds when the principal part of the ration is made up of hay, ensilage or other roughage.

The process of producing beef cattle normally involves the following steps:

1. The purebred operator who produces the sires and females which are the foundation of beef animal production. This branch of the cattle industry is one that requires heavy investment and efficiency in management.

2. The commercial breeder who produces the calves which are the offspring of commercial herds of female and purebred sires.

3. The pasture cattleman who weans the animal from the weaning or yearling stage to two years old, taking his profit from the poundage gained on grass and hay.

4. The feeder who "finishes" the animal from grass stage to slaughter condition, disposing of a large percentage of roughage.

Crop Rotation

Crop rotation with deep-rooted legumes, plant food and good management methods are the "gas, oil and lubricants" that keep your soil's crop producing machine going on high.

Each of these has a job to do. Each needs help from the others. They all have to work like a team.

Valuable as a good rotation is in balancing soil-building legume crops against soil-robbing row crops, it has to be backed up by wise land management methods. Cropping in even the best rotation drains the soil's supply of phosphate and potash.

And even if your good management program puts back every scrap of barnyard manure, plows under the legumes and returns straw, corn stalks and crop aftermath to the soil, you still ship away hundreds of pounds of plant food in the grain, hay and milk you sell every year.

Good Pasture Increases Dairy Herd Production

With 2.5 million fewer cows on farms now than in 1944, possibilities for profit in dairying are greater if labor-saving, high value pasture is the center of the production program. Good pasture can increase milk output and cut production costs. That means a bigger profit margin. Getting bigger pasture yields is a matter of feeding the soil plant nutrients so it can feed legume-grass mixtures.

Bighorn Sheep Being Trapped To Save Herds

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.—The Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep, normally a carefree animal which asks nothing more of life than a chestful of fresh air and a few simple vittles, is learning that life can be hideous.

The state game and fish department has rigged up a fancy Fu Manchu type trap near here to kidnap the bighorns from the mother herd.

This trap consists of a drop-gate which spans the natural walls of Tarryall canyon, and 100 yards of wire stretched up one canyon wall to a point of concealment. The sheep trot through the gate into the dead end of the canyon, someone yanks the wire and the gate falls behind them.

Next morning the bighorns find themselves a couple of hundred miles upstate, barking their shins on a clutter of unfamiliar rocks, minus many of their dearest relatives, dry-mouthed from the bait of salt that lured them into the drop-gate trap, and probably hating themselves.

For Own Good

Actually it's all for the good of the bighorns, but you can understand their embarrassment.

The game and fish department has "transplanted" some 17 groups from the Tarryall herd, establishing new herds throughout the Rockies in Colorado. The idea is simple. There are about 1,000 sheep in the mother herd near here and the food supply (lichens, leaves and shrubs) runs thin at times.

George W. Jones, the department's sheep-trapping technician, says the job is a ticklish one for several reasons.

"When you spring the trap you don't want more than 17 sheep inside it," he says. "That's about all we can crowd into our truck at one time."

"We try to snare two big, old rams, two young rams, and the rest ewes. That gives you an ideal start on a new herd after the transplanting. The old rams are smart and can keep the herd out of trouble. Then when the old rams lose interest in the ewes, the young ones are beginning to get family ideas."

Court in November

Bighorns do most of their court-ing in November, in a swirl of snow and sleet and assorted mixtures of both. A really productive ewe drops only one lamb a year.

Because of this unspectacular birthrate among the big curly-horned animals, and the fact that they die by the hundreds if denied their normal diet, the state must coddle them. Back in the 20's they ran short on chow, became diseased, and threatened to die out completely. Those that managed to survive looked sickly and clumsy hopping about the rocks.

The state's total bighorn population today is between 4,500 and 5,000, Jones says. His hope is that the transplanting project will be successful enough to warrant a bighorn hunting season in the next decade or so.

Franklin Will Reveal How Was Wealthy at Age of 42

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—In a will written in 1757, Benjamin Franklin intended to leave his wealth and personal belongings to relatives, friends and institutions.

This was disclosed when the long lost will was made public by the Franklin Institute as part of the celebration of its 125th anniversary. It also was the 200th anniversary of Franklin's discovery that lightning was electrical.

Franklin was wealthy when he quit business at the age of 42. Dr. Robert A. Millikan, California Institute of Technology, said the philosopher retired with an income of about $15,000 a year, which he termed equal to approximately $50,000 today.

He willed various small amounts of money, property and personal belongings to members of his family.

All of his household goods and furniture were willed to his wife to dispose of as she desired. Income from his printing business, which he owned jointly with David Hall, was divided equally among his wife, son William and daughter Sarah.

He also provided that in event of his wife's death and no offspring had been born to his children, the printing business income should go to the children and grandchildren of his brothers and sisters.

His wife was willed two houses and lots on Market street in Philadelphia. Another house in Boston was to go to his youngest sister, Jane Mecom. At the time of the will Franklin held the mortgage on the Boston house, occupied by his eldest sister, Elizabeth Douse.

All his electrical apparatus was to be awarded to Yale college at New Haven, Conn.

Plan Colorful Menus, Easily Prepared Food For Holiday Occasions

HOLIDAYS are often hard on a mother because there is not only the whole family home for all meals, but also guests which may number several. Consequently, the lady of the house is so busy with food preparation and consequent clean-up activities that she never has a holiday at all.

If you're planning to celebrate Independence Day at home, use some of these simple suggestions for meals. The colors and other suggestions are in keeping with the theme of the day, but the food is kept simple by day-before preparation, and by very easy, last-minute undertaking.

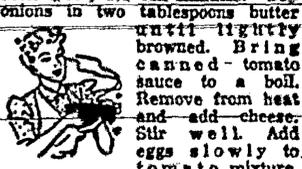

Weather permitting, serve supper outdoors, and save getting formal about the service as is usually the custom in the dining room. You may use colorful paper plates and napkins, too, thus eliminating much of the dish washing that always comes after eating.

HERE'S an easily prepared menu which may be started the day before:

- Tomato Onion Pie
 - Celery Curls
 - Carrot Sticks
 - Black Olives
 - Tutti Fruitti Salad
 - Ice Cream Cookies Lemonade
- How to do: Prepare celery and carrots the day before and refrigerate. Place olives to chill. Prepare salad and place in freezing trays. Make cookies and make or buy the ice cream. An hour or so before dinner, prepare the tomato onion pie, and while it bakes, set the table on garden or porch.

Tomato Onion Pie (Serves 4-6)

- 1 1/2 cups crisp cracker crumbs
 - 1/2 cup melted butter
 - 2 1/2 cups thinly sliced onion
 - 2 tablespoons butter
 - 1 1/2 cups canned tomato sauce
 - 3 eggs, slightly beaten
 - 1/2 pound sharp American cheese
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- Mix crumbs and 1/2 cup butter. Press into nine-inch pie plate to form crust. Bake in a moderate oven (350°) for ten minutes. Fry onions in two tablespoons butter until lightly browned. Bring a can of tomato sauce to a boil. Remove from heat and add cheese. Stir well. Add eggs slowly to tomato mixture.

Add salt and pepper. Pour over onions which have been placed in the crumb crust and bake in slow (325°) oven about 45 minutes or until set.

Tutti Fruitti Salad (Serves 6)

- 1/2 cup shredded coconut
- 1 cup maraschine cherries, halved
- 2 oranges, sectioned and sliced
- 1 cup crushed pineapple, drained
- 2 bananas, sliced
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise

Toss together coconut and fruits. Chill and fold in cream which has been whipped. Fold in mayonnaise. Freeze until firm in refrigerator trays. Serve on lettuce cups.

Whatever your menu plans for the holiday, you'll want to have plenty of cookies to serve with fruit or ice cream for snacks and dessert. Make them appropriate by having star shapes and rectangles with stripes, as pictured.

LYNN SAYS: Flavor Tricks Improve Simple Dishes

Grated horseradish added to hollandaise sauce will win you many compliments when served with fish, baked, boiled or fried. Mix strained honey with butter and heat. You couldn't have anything better for waffles, pancakes or French toast.

Introduce flavor to waffles by adding a tablespoon or two of molasses to the batter just before baking.

For a porch supper on the Fourth of July you can plan this "patriotic" onion pie which fits into the color scheme of things with its rich red color. The pie has a crumb crust and a filling of canned tomato sauce, onions and cheese.

- LYNN CHAMBERS—MENU
- Chicken Baked in Milk
- Baked Potatoes
- Peas with Mushrooms
- Hot Rolls
- Grated Carrot-Pineapple Salad
- Fudge Sundae
- Star Cookies
- *Recipe Given

If you want to serve barbecued frankfurters for a garden supper, these may be used in the following simple menu:

- Barbecued Frankfurters
- Picnic Salad
- Corn on the Cob
- Rolls
- Butter
- Mustard
- Relish
- Fresh Fruit or Berries
- Cookies
- Beverage

Bake the frankfurters in an oven with the sauce, or place them in a skillet so they can be cooked with the sauce on an outside grill. The menu requires little other preparation except for the salad.

- Barbecued Frankfurters (Makes 6 rolls)
- 6 frankfurters
- 6 rolls
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon mustard
- 4 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon tabasco sauce
- 1/4 cup catsup
- 2 tablespoons vinegar

Melt butter, add onion and cook until clear. Add dry seasonings, sauces, catsup and vinegar. Cut a three-inch slit in each frankfurter and place them in a baking dish, slit side up. Pour sauce over them and bake in a moderate (350°) oven for 20 minutes. Place in split, toasted, buttered rolls. Garnish with green onions, if desired. Serve extra sauce separately, if desired.

Picnic Salad (Serves 6)

- 4 cups cubed, cooked potatoes
- 1/2 cup chopped green onion
- 1/2 cup sliced celery
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 6 hard-boiled eggs, sliced
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 2 cups grated carrot

Combine potatoes, onions, celery and seasonings. Add eggs and mayonnaise. Toss lightly with carrots, chill and serve with greens.

HERE are some cookies which will be appropriate for the holiday:

- *Orange Sugar Tarts (Makes 5 dozen)
- 1/2 cup butter or substitute
- 1 cup SUGAR
- 1 egg
- 1/4 cup bran
- 1 cup sifted flour
- 3/4 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 2 teaspoons grated orange rind
- Colored Sugar

Blend butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Add bran and blend. Sift flour together with baking powder and salt; add to first mixture alternately with orange juice. Stir in orange rind. Chill. Roll out dough to 1/4-inch thickness, working with a small amount at a time and keeping the remainder chilled. Cut into star shapes with floured cutter; sprinkle with colored sugar and bake on a greased baking sheet in a moderately hot (375°) oven about 10 minutes.

Orange marmalade is an old favorite with toast, but try this idea for a real treat: place slices of cream cheese on top of the marmalade and broil until the cheese is bubbly.

Broccoli looks good and is tasty, too, if you dress it with plenty of melted butter and garnish with rice, hard-cooked egg.

Save your sausage drippings for gravy. Saute a few mushrooms in the drippings, then thicken with flour and add milk. This is especially delicious for chicken.

Smile Awhile

Number one boy—"My grandfather lived to be 98 years old." Number two boy—"Gee, that's old all right. What finally got him?" Number one boy—"Plot number 8, section 15 of Evergreen Cemetery."

Son—"Well, dad, you've managed to live to a ripe old age. How did you manage to keep the germs of disease away from you all these many years?" Father—"I'll let you in on a little secret, son. I attribute my longevity to the persistent use of garlic. Now don't breathe that is a soul." Son—"The secret or the garlic?"

Once there was a very rich old bachelor whose sole recreation seemed to be in leading the girls a merry chase. One young girl was a little doubtful about the advisability of chasing a man so old. "Don't you think he is a little too old to be considered eligible?" she asked her aunt.

Fifteen-year-old Viola had reached the crossroads of life but for her it was positively the end, but really. Her father went up to her room when he heard a lot of sobbing after she had returned from a dance.

"My dear," she replied with a wisdom born of years of experience, "he is a little too eligible to be considered old."

"Why, Viola, darling, what happened?" he asked gently. "Oh, Denny and I had a fight," she explained. "Now I just know I'll never get married. It seems I'm not old enough for the young men and not young enough for the old men."

He—"They tell me Colonel Lively is a sexagenarian." She—"The old fool; and at his age, too!"

Southern Pacific Orders 67 Diesels

Southern Pacific announced today that orders have been placed for 67 diesel locomotives of various types, at a cost of more than $28,000,000, in furtherance of its extensive improvement program.

In making the announcement A. T. Mercier, president of the railroad, said the new orders will raise to approximately $241,000,000 the company's post-war expenditure for new rolling stock, nearly $90,000,000 being for 263 diesel locomotives.

Deliveries of the newly ordered diesel locomotives are scheduled to start in October of this year, and when the current order is completed in June, 1950, Southern Pacific will have a total of 462 diesel locomotives of types in operation on its lines Mercier said.

Of 196 diesel locomotives previously ordered since V-J day, the railroad had received 163 by mid-June, of which number 64 are of 6000 horsepower. The company's present fleet of 238 diesel switchers is one of the largest of its kind in the country, the railroad president pointed out.

Included among the 67 diesels just ordered will be 28 of 6000 horsepower each, for main line service; 17 road switch locomotives each 1500 horsepower; and 22 switchers, each 1000 horsepower. The company also is acquiring an additional passenger diesel unit.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Harry Lyman and daughter Mrs. Barbara Knapp, and her infant daughter, Laura, and Mr. Wesley Stebbins all of Clovis were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. U. Finley last week, and remained several days. One might add that Laura is the only great grandchild the Finleys have, and therefore considers it her prerogative to preside as queen of the place when visiting here; a matter which meets the approval of her great grand parents.

Mrs. Ethel Skinner, accompanied by Mrs. Brooksie Donaldson of Carlsbad visited their many friends here last Friday. While here Mrs Skinner was a visitor at the News office.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dow, Sr. left last Sunday for Houston, Texas on account of the serious illness of their son Gene who was expected to undergo a major operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Smith, Clovis were here last Sunday and Monday visiting old friends. Mr. Smith is a veterinarian.

Mr. and Mrs. James Duncan and family arrived here Wednesday from Mountain Home, North Dakota and will live here. They will live in one of the Leo Car apartments.

Mrs. R. L. Huffmeyer left last Sunday for Arizona to visit her new granddaughter for a week.

Donald Shults arrived home from Tatum, where he has been visiting since the close of school.

Mrs. Shults returned from a week at Clovis where she visited her mother. She accompanied Elaine to Clovis when she left for her trip to Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ewing and son of Houston, Texas were here from Saturday until Monday as guests of the Henry Hoffman family. Mr. Ewing is a cousin of Mrs. Hoffman's.

Mrs. C. C. Hurst, Sinton Texas is one of our most recent subscribers. Mrs. Hurst is an old timer here, she being formerly one of the Grumbles girls. We welcome subscriptions from those who lived here in years past, as well as our new comers.

Rev. O. L. Oldham of Finnie was in town Tuesday of this week on business. Mr. Oldham states that his son, John left this week for Canyon, Texas where he will take a course in music and also take some high school work. He will be gone for the remainder of the summer.

NEW MEXICO NOTES

From A
 Wheelchair
 By: Katherine
 B. Mabry

Colorado Springs, Colo.—As this is being written I am enjoying my first attempt to walk since my accident of seven months ago which left me a broken hip. I still must rely upon my wheelchair most of the time. I am attending, with my husband, the annual conference of state governors at Colorado Springs, the third one for me.

Here the chief executives of all the states and territories are meeting to discuss and resolve problems common to all, or most, of the states. This practice of having annual meetings of governors has been observed now for some forty years and rarely more than one or two governors are absent from these meetings. Two years ago the group met at Salt Lake City and last year at Portsmouth, New Hampshire at Wentworth by the Sea—which is a very commodious and charming frame building in which was agreed to and signed, in 1905, the treaty of Portsmouth.

This was the treaty which ended the war between Russia and Japan. Many relics and reminders of that famous gathering initiated by President Theodore Roosevelt were still to be seen about the place. Rooms occupied by the president and those used by the Russian and Japanese leading statesmen were still in use, but appropriately marked for the group which came nearly a half century later to work, likewise, for peace, although in a more abstract way.

Ours is a small world, and certainly a small nation. There are few problems which are not common to every state and territory of the nation. We are working for peace and security when our states are able to work together for the betterment of the social and economic life of all the states. Of course, there are still some conflicts and will be for some time, no doubt. The richer and more populous states still feel the sting of having to help carry the burden of social security.

public health, education and interstate road constructions in the less populous and rich states to the West. But that they are doing even with a bit of begrudging shows that we have advanced a long way in one generation.

In 1910, for example, when the entire cost of all government, national, state and local was only three billion dollars, as against nearly sixty billion today, every state was standing on its own resources and we had not come to learn that public health, social security, education and highways affected all, the country's economic and social life. And our national sense of obligation to the less fortunate states and areas had not been aroused.

Perhaps the school of thought which now urges us to go back at least in some degree to local support and responsibility for these things may have good argument for its position. Cost of all government has arisen to stupendous heights. It may be that we look too much to the national capital to direct our policy and pay the bills and yet, we of the poorer states cannot well take that position until we are stronger financially.

What part in government interest most women? That is a question frequently asked. I am not sure that I could answer that question but it seems to me that we can say that women generally are interested in the same things about government which interest men and more or less to the same extent. There might be this qualification: women do give more thought perhaps to schools and civil cleanliness, health and child welfare problems, than come men.

It is easy to understand why the mother, for example, would feel more keenly the importance of good schools, or naturally, the problems of the child are closer to her heart. Yet, we and women just as interested in the economics of government, from the local level up, in all its phases. I fear that we still hold too closely to the old ideas that women voters hold too slight an interest in the big question of administration of government, decency in politics and integrity in official conduct.

The New Mexico Constitution, when it was written in 1910, provided that women could be given the power to vote in school elections but not otherwise. And under the Constitution, they could be a Notary Public. That was as far as her office holding rights extended. The Constitution makers could not trust her any further than that—just then. When she was given the vote, she showed that she thought and voted upon all questions of government not unlike men, and took about the same degree of interest in voting.

Even before they had the right to vote in New Mexico, women were lobbying legislatures to improve on many governmental operations. We know that they were women who brought to us the publicly supported library and the public health program. In later territorial days, women were urging our lawmaking bodies to do away with the old out-worn and costly fee system for the payment of certain county official salaries.

They had no vote then but they had vision, and a noble spirit, while stirred them to work for good law even though they could not vote for them or administer them. The old fee system was outlawed by the Constitution, we remember, and public health and child welfare were given official notice as something really important about the time women were given the vote. This is not to say that men were not also interested in these governmental reforms, but they were moving rather slowly until the women gave voice to public sentiment then being aroused.

The women's vote is not considered today so unstable and immature as it once was. Sentiment and emotion rule them in most matters about as it rules men, let me say. Maybe women on juries would not be a bad idea. Many states which have the law seem to like it. New Mexico has not gotten around to that yet and there seems to be no great demand for it from either the women or the men.

New Mexico does not move on waves of excitement as in a crusade, and maybe that is just as well.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

GOP Leaders Rap Demo Depression And Plan Bill to Meet Situation; Brannan Plan Held Farm Vote 'Bait'

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.

FARM VOTE:

Boff Is Set There was more to the Brannan federal farm program than had met the eye. According to seasoned Washington observers, the plan would serve as a bait for the farm vote in the congressional races next year.

For instance, if administration leaders could extend wartime price support for another year, it would give voters a chance to pass on the controversial Brannan plan. Thus the plan could be dangled as a major issue when Democrats and Republicans began struggling for the important farm vote.

AT a midwestern Democratic conference, both Brannan secretary of agriculture, and J. Howard McGrath, chairman of the national Democratic committee, made a plea for extension of the price support program as they began to plan for next year's tug-of-war with the GOP.

McGrath, making it plain that the Brannan plan has Mr. Truman's endorsement, said continuation of the present relatively high-price support program was to be preferred to the Alken long-range farm law passed by the 80th Republican congress. Unless congress acts, McGrath pointed out, the Alken law will go into effect next year.

The Brannan plan is designed to support farm income at a "prosperity" level, but at the same time to provide consumers with lower prices for perishable foods—especially meat, dairy and poultry products—when there are surpluses. It would use government payments to assure desired farm cash returns.

PRESENT laws direct the government to support prices of major products at not less than 90 per cent of parity.

CONJURER:

Nome, Smiles Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., who inherited a name and a smile to conjure with and wasted little time in conjuring with them, has been duly sworn in as a member of the house of representatives.

The 34-year-old congressman from New York's 20th district, filling the seat left vacant by the death of Sol Bloom, ran as a candidate of the Four Freedoms and Liberal parties, although he will operate as a working Democrat in the legislative arena.

ROOSEVELT failed to get the regular Democratic nomination during the campaign so he ran on the Four Freedoms ticket. In so doing he scored a popular upset over the regular (Tammany) Democrat, a Republican and an American Labor candidate.

The third son of the late President took the oath from Acting Speaker John W. McCormack (D., Mass.), while his mother beamed happily from the gallery.

During his first day on the job Roosevelt CHATTED briefly with President Truman; denied a rumor that he might run for mayor of New York; allowed that he hoped congress would repeal the Taft-Hartley labor law, enact Mr. Truman's civil rights program and put through a national housing act.

It all looked like a reasonable beginning for another Roosevelt political career.

HOUSING:

Action Seen Indications were that despite opposition from many quarters, the administration's big new housing bill would get out of committee and go to the house floor for action.

THE RULES committee, which twice last year killed similar legislation, had refused to clear the current bill. But Rep. A. J. Sabath (D., Ill.) was predicting the committee would act to clear the measure.

Sabath was on fairly safe ground, for under the new house "anti-bottleneck" procedure adopted in January, the multibillion-dollar housing bill could be put to a house vote over the rules committee's objections.

THE housing program, one of President Truman's major campaign promises, was approved by the senate April 21 on a 77 to 13 vote. It then bogged down in the house.

The bill calls for a vast program of slum clearance, low-rent housing and farm housing aids.

SCHOOL AID BILL OPPOSED

Eisenhower Warns of Too Much Government

Dwight D. Eisenhower, speaking not as a military leader but as a college president, again saw fit to warn the nation against letting the federal government get too strong. It was the second time the supreme commander of Allied forces in World War II had issued that warning.

Declaring that he is opposed to legislation which would make fed-

Bares Mission

Ex-Communist Editor Louis Budenz is shown as he told a senate committee that Gerhardt Elster, who fled the U.S. as a stowaway, was ordered to Europe by Moscow to train "new espionage agents" for use in the United States. Budenz testified in connection with the committee's probe of subversive activities by aliens.

DEPRESSING:

'Right Now'

"I regret," the senator from Maine said, "that we are now in a state of depression. It is not a thing of the future. It is right now."

After thus evoking the spirit of the 1930's, Sen. Owen Brewster announced blandly that senate Republicans shortly would sponsor a 50-million-dollar public-works and relief-planning program "to meet the growing Democratic depression."

THE BILL to be projected along these lines would not in itself provide funds for public works, but merely would finance the planning of a "shell" of such works to be started when deemed advisable.

Sen. Robert Taft (R., Ohio), who also is in on the deal, said that what he had in mind was a bill that would establish the framework for federal grants to states if their relief cases should reach a certain percentage of their total population.

Said Taft: "What we Republicans want to avoid is the creation of another WPA like Harry Hopkins ran."

Without trying to guess how much relief spending might be necessary under such a plan, Senator Brewster opined that would "depend upon just how bad this Democratic depression gets."

Whether this "relief bill" proposal is sincere or whether it is a cynical attempt to discredit the administration in the face of the coming 1950 elections, only time would tell.

TRUMAN:

Drops Curb Bill

There was one thing about President Truman—he was beginning to develop the ability to recognize a hint when he saw it. There have been times when the President seemed to suffer from an ability to do that, but now it's different.

The President, obviously with an understanding ear to the ground, has decided he won't press congress to give him standby war powers.

THAT'S not only wise of the President, it's good strategy, particularly since it would have been impossible for the administration to convince the 81st congress that any such powers are needed.

However, there was an official reason advanced for the change in objectives. One authority described the revision of plan as a "quiet demilitarization" of the national security resources board on White House orders. In other words, the emphasis would be away from keeping the people agitated and alerted for possible future war.

THE war powers bill would have provided a detailed mobilization act covering priority and seizure powers, controls over prices, transportation and production and transportation. It would, if enacted, go into effect automatically on the declaration of war emergency by congress.

Mr. Truman was said to have decided it would be inappropriate to try to get such a law passed in peacetime.

RED CHINA:

Quiescent Communism, like the worm in the bud, was creeping swiftly through China as the presence of the Red conquerors began to make itself felt.

At one village meeting in northern China, a man, bewildered and dismayed by the use of the Russian hammer-and-sickle flag in Chinese Communist meetings and parades, ventured to rise and ask a question:

"WHY IS THIS DONE?" he said. "Russia is a foreign country and we are Chinese."

And the presiding political commissar snapped, "This subject is not on the agenda."

About the only thing that did show up on the agenda throughout the country was the puzzled but ready acquiescence of the Chinese to Communist rule.

As a result, the nation appeared to be well on its way to assuming a regular orbit as a willing satellite of Russia.

FOR THE MOST PART there have been no signs of coercion or compulsion in the relationship. There is every evidence that the Chinese Communists are in fact eager to follow the dictates of Moscow. And that revolution should be enough to destroy any illusion that the Chinese Communists are just simple agrarian reformers.

They are whole-hearted, completely dogmatic Communists, following the doctrines laid down by Karl Marx and adapted for 20th century application by his disciples, Lenin and Stalin—and by Mao Tze-tung, leader of China's Communists.

THERE IS as yet no conclusive evidence that the Kremlin is giving direct, active aid to the Chinese Communists. But the affinity and spirit of cooperation that exists between Moscow and Peiping, capital of Communist China, is tangible enough.

The application of China's internal situation to the rest of the world is disturbingly clear: Through the rule of Mao Tze-tung and his party, China inevitably is becoming a massive extension of the Soviet power bloc.

PRICE SUPPORT:

Smoke, Smoke, Smoke

Arrangements for new price support programs for tobacco were announced by the federal department of agriculture.

THE government will make loans on flue-cured tobacco at 90 per cent of the parity price—as it was June 15. Loans on burley and other types of tobacco would be at the September 15 parity price, except flue-cured tobacco, which would be 75 per cent of the burley rate, and dark air-cured tobacco 65 per cent of the burley rate.

(Parity is a price based on the relationship between prices of the things the farmers have to buy and prices of the products they sell. The government uses a basing period during which this relationship of prices gave the farmer what it considers a "fair profit".)

THE RATES a pound at which the support prices will be paid was to be announced in July for flue-cured tobacco and for other types in October.

The full loans will be made only to tobacco growers who do not grow more tobacco than they are permitted under marketing quotas. These quotas have been set up for flue-cured, burley, fire-cured and dark, air-cured tobaccos. There are no quotas on other types.

Didn't Like It

Lewis L. Stranes (left) member of the atomic energy commission, confers with Chairman David E. Lilienthal after Stranes had told a congressional committee he had not approved shipment of isotopes to "friendly" nations abroad. He was called to the chair over protests of Lilienthal who said, "It is unusual to start with dissenting views."

BUDGET TRIM:

Asked of Truman

Congress apparently wasn't feeling about its demands for more economy in government. Nineteen senators, representing both major parties joined in sponsoring a resolution directing President Truman to cut federal spending by amounts from two billion to four billion dollars. The reductions would be made in funds provided for the new fiscal year, which begins officially on July first of each year.

INTRODUCING "OPPORTUNITY DRIVE" . . . The national capital's famed and historic Pennsylvania avenue is changing its name—temporarily—to Opportunity Drive. The purpose of this move is to aid the U. S. treasury's savings bond drive. In the photo, Miss Rachel Hudson, from the office of Sen. Alex Wiley of Wisconsin, poses with new name signs to be installed during the '48er Opportunity Bond Drive.

BY THE LIGHT OF THE FLASH BOMB . . . This is how Manhattan Island's lower tip looked under the light of a series of 10-million-candlepower flares dropped by the U. S. air force to test its new system of night photography. This picture was taken from Governor's Island. The jagged silhouette of the scenery at the left was caused by different angles of illumination coming from flares which were dropped three seconds apart as the plane went up the river.

TOPS IN TELEVISION . . . Lodged on the pinnacle of New York's skyscrapering RCA building, like a translucent bubble in the metropolitan air, is the new NBC television picture receiving equipment for television. I'VE A WEATHER BREAK—cool in summer, warm in winter—as video star Kyle MacDonnell can attest after inspecting the "dish" which serves as a receiving antenna.

FAVORITES OF FATHER TIME . . . Lulu Appling, ancient but able shortstop of the Chicago White Sox, takes a lesson on how to play his "position" from Willie Mays, infield wonder, who was a world champion before Appling was born. SHE the world's three-cushion titleholder, Mays was his first world's crown in January, 1948. Lulu's Lulu Appling has been with the Sox for 19 years, and is still going strong.

NEW PROFILE . . . Bearing a profile remarkably like that of his late, great father, John Barrymore, Jr., 17, is ready to start a screen career of his own—in a western. The lady is his mother, Mrs. Dolores Costello Vrawiak.

MAIL AND FEMALE . . . This lass is Barbara Ann Greenbaum who, at 22, is the youngest postmaster in New Jersey and possibly in the nation. She has been nominated for the job at Greenwich, N. J., but has served in the position on a temporary basis for the past year.

"HE'S A BUM" . . . Umpire Jim Muehlck slows down Washington catcher Al Evans who, slightly exasperated, wanted to hang one on Indian Manager Lou Boudreau. Boudreau had accused the Washington pitcher of deliberately trying to hit a batter.

BABY-NURSE . . . Nothing a new baby is no problem for LARRY WRIGHT, hospital corpsman at Oak Knoll naval hospital, Oakland, Calif. The hospital has 75 teenage sailors as members of the nursery staff.

TIME AND TRIAL . . . Judith Coplan, charged with conspiring with Communists while working in the state department, glanced profoundly at her watch outside a municipal court in Washington before reporting to the courtroom.

If Alexander Knox doesn't like his role in "The Judge Steps Out" it will be his own fault; he collaborated on the screen play.

Ben Johnson, star of "Mighty Joe Young," was the favorite stunt man of Gary Cooper, Errol Flynn, Johnny Weissmuller and most of Hollywood's other male stars before John Ford and Merian Cooper discovered him in "Fori Apache."

The opportunity to paint Paulette Goddard posing as "Anna Lurasta" accounted for the stampede of students to enter the contest sponsored by Columbia Pictures at the Art Students League in New York.

The Fiction Corner

MISTER GILL

By Richard H. Wilkinson

AT FIRST Mr. Otis Gill had seemed to take a liking to young Arthur Forbes. But he changed his opinion when the Champion began to buck the choppy seas of the open Atlantic.

3-Minute Fiction

The young couple smiled politely but with a lack of enthusiasm. Neither of them felt equal to the task of getting up and following on young Arthur Forbes' heels.

After a time Mr. Gill saw that the youth at the other table was staring toward a port-hole, and his grin broadened. The port-hole was located far forward, and with each dip of the vessel one could see the entire slope of a wave, from trough to crest.

HE WATCHED idly for a few moments and then looked away, conscious of a feeling in his stomach not wholly normal. The sensation passed and he looked again at the port-hole, feeling more comfortable in his position. Instantly the same strange sensation attacked him again. Mr. Gill was sober now; his face pale, his eyes glassy. Realization of what was happening to him came like a shock. He was comatose! Helplessly, miserably ill. Never in his life could Mr. Gill remember feeling so utterly at the mercy of anything.

"I'll change your order, sir. Bring you some hot food." Mr. Forbes smiled. "Thanks. And say, steward, that was a smart idea of yours—asking me to play the role of the helplessly-seekish passenger and placing Gill at that table directly opposite the port-hole."

New 'Electric Brain' Will Solve Problems, Translate Tongues

LOS ANGELES.—A new type of "electric-brain" calculating machine, capable not only of performing complex mathematical problems, but even of translating foreign languages, is under construction at the U.S. bureau of standards laboratory at the University of California's institute of numerical analysis here.

While the exact scope which the machine will be given in the translating field has not been decided, the scientists working on it say it would be quite possible to make it encompass all the 60,000 words in the Webster Collegiate Dictionary, with equivalents for each word in as many as three foreign languages.

Its "memory" for numbers and "commands" fed into it, instead of being based on vacuum tubes or containers of mercury in which electric impulses are stored, will be based on a cathode-ray tube of the same sort as is used in television. This will increase its scope and speed and greatly simplify its design.

When a foreign word for translation is fed into the machine in the form of an electro-mathematical symbol on a tape or a card, the machine will run through its "memory," and if it finds that symbol on record, will emit automatically a predetermined equivalent—the English word.

Tenants Find $40,000 Cache While Re-Decorating House

CHICAGO.—Mrs. Lucille Schader threw away a jar containing $500 in Mexican gold coins found in her father's house in Duquoin, Ill. Later she was dazed by news that tenants in the house had found an estimated $40,000 worth of jewels, oil, and rail stocks and government bonds while redecorating. Mrs. Schader said her father, Michael Bradley, 53, a coal miner, died March 28. She went to Duquoin to tidy up his house preparatory to renting it, found a jar containing "buttons," and threw it out. Neighbors noticed the bottle, and a bank identified the "buttons" as Mexican coins. They were placed in escrow.
