Mrs. Alice Roberts

Mrs. Alice Parker Roberts, one of Lincoln county's most highly respected and best beloved women, passed away in the early hours of the morning Saturday, August 13, 1949.

Mrs. Roberts may truly be called a pioneer for she had made her home here since 1867. She was born June 2nd, 1860 at Rusk, Texas and was married to Mr. S. G. Roberts in September, 1875. They moved to New Mexico in 1887; Mr. Roberts died in 1913.

Mrs. Roberts was a devoted wife; an indulgent and thoughtful mother. Throughout the years her children in turn were devoted to her; her sons came frequently from California, Colorado and Nevada to visit their mother. Her grandchildren too, were faithful visitors.

For the past nine years Mrs. Roberts had made her home with her two daughters, Mrs. Ada Edmiston and Mrs. Anna Roberts.

Prior to that time she had resided in her own home on Elm street until she became unable to keep house due to failing eyesight.

She was a splendid neighbor and devoted friend. Never a time when she could do anyone a kindness or be of service did she fail to respond. Her charitable attitude toward everyone and her devotion to her church when she was able to attend made her life a shining example.

During the time of her illness no one heard a murmur or complaint. She was cheerful, hopeful and courageous. She will be missed by all her friends but most especially will she be missed by her sons and daughters who were ever thoughtful, tender and whose filial love and respect was unflinching.

Survivors are two daughters and four sons: Mrs. Harry Edmiston and Mrs. Anna Roberts, Carrizozo, N. M.; J. J. Roberts, Hotchkiss, Colorado; J. A. Roberts, Las Vegas, Nevada; Bert L. Roberts, Oakland, California; P. P. Roberts, Oakland, California.

Funeral services were held in Trinity Methodist church here, Monday afternoon August 15, at 2:30 with the Rev. Harry L. Webb officiating; Mmes. L. Z. Manire and E. A. Casey sang two of her favorite songs, "Will there be any Stars in my Crown" and the "Old Rugged Cross."

Last rites were at the graveside in Nogal cemetery where interment was made.

Pall bearers were Messrs. Bowen Zumwalt, C. E. Degner, Marvin Burton, Roy Harman and Pete Johnson.

Floral offerings were magnificent and formed a blanket deep and wide above her mound.

Staff Sgt. and Mrs. Fred Picure, and two children arrived last Friday from Austin, Texas to visit their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nickels and their brother Bill Nickels and family.

Mrs. Nina Weddle of San Francisco arrived Monday to visit Mrs. Jake Herring and the Garcia families and Mr. and Mrs. R. Smith.

A Day in Old Lincoln

Last Sunday a great many people from Carrizozo took in the Lincoln day festivities which wound up with the escape of the youthful outlaw, etc. Frankly, last year's entertainment was better. I devoted two or three columns to the story last year, but this year it wasn't worth it.

Instead of a "get-together" for old timers of the area and an opportunity to boost the museum it has been commercialized.

The Lincoln county war was stark tragedy, but the play— as presented was a farce. Indeed from the numerous outbursts of laughter it must have been a farce-comedy.

The Ruidoso square dancers and dancers from the Hondo school were graceful and beautiful, dancing in perfect time and rhythm. Mr. Montes trained the Hondo dancers. The Mexican dances, the old time music and other localized performances were unparalleled, including Mr. Massey's fiddling, Mr. and Mrs. Hazee's music and even Pearl's baritone which was a perfect symphony.

We might also mention what excellent work Sheriff Ortiz and Deputy Atwood did handling the traffic.

APPRECIATION

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all our friends everywhere who in any way assisted during the illness and at the death of our dear mother and grandmother. We also thank everyone who gave flowers and for expressions of sympathy.

More Than 11,000 Died in Disasters During 1948

More than 11,796 persons were killed in disasters throughout the world in 1948, according to the 1948 Britannica Book of the Year. This count does not include, of course, the thousands killed in single scattered accidents.

The greatest number of deaths, more than 8,000 resulted from natural phenomena. Of these, more than three thousand persons perished in a series of earth quakes in Haiti, Japan, in June, Korea, and in the Philippines. Also took a large toll. The tabulation does not include the hundreds killed in floods in southern Turkey, in which an actual count of the dead was impossible.

Marine amphibians took at least 1,200 lives. Of this total, an estimated 1,100 were military and personnel dead after an explosion aboard a refugee steamer south of Shanghai, China, in December.

Air disasters accounted for 715 of the dead, and included such major tragedies as the June crash of a DC-6 near Mt. Carmel, Pa., in which 43 passengers were killed, and the presumed loss of a French plane carrying 32 passengers near Martinique.

Fires and explosions were next highest among the killers, accounting for at least 1,100 lives. Seventy-two died in traffic disasters, including the 13 persons aboard a British bus which caught fire. Railway disasters accounted for the loss of 66 lives, and 33 were killed in miscellaneous disasters, such as the Detroit, Pa., smog.

DEVOTIONAL READING: Job 37:14-24

Singing, Shining

Lesson for August 21, 1949

EVERY ATOM of the universe, said Calvin, sparkles with the glory of God. That is our thought for this week. In the created universe we can see the God who is more wonderful than all his works. The selected Psalms express four different aspects of God's creative power. Psalm 8 brings out the dignity and the glory of man, made to be master of the earth; Psalm 19:1-6 listens to the majestic music of sun and stars; Psalm 65:9-13 sees nature as a farmer sees it, in terms of sun, rain and crops; Psalm 104, one of the noblest poems in existence, celebrates God's glory in all things great and small.

Dr. Foreman

Mystery THESE inspired Psalmists saw a high truth: Nature is for man's use, in part, but has also a value, a beauty and a splendor all its own; and it is one of the ways by which we can know God. What is true of nature is true, far more, of the God who created all things. One of the thoughts suggested to their minds was the mystery of nature.

Even today, with all that science has discovered, there is mystery in the most elemental facts of existence. What is light? What is life? What is energy? Where did it come from and what is the destiny of it all? A common grass blade performs miracles that chemistry has not yet initiated. The mystery of nature suggests the deeper mystery of nature's God.

Power WE ARE beginning now to realize, even better than the Psalmists could, how much energy there is in nature. We have seen tragic evidence of the atom's power. Now we have also found that while energy cannot be destroyed, it cannot be created by us, though it constantly changes form.

As the water in a power station which has run through a turbine will not climb back up to turn the turbine again, so the whole universe (they tell us) is in the process of running down.

But how was the universe born, how was energy born, in the first place? How was the universe, so to speak, wound up? Science does not profess to know; but religious answers by faith: In the beginning, God...

Beauty THE writer of Psalm 104 was well aware that some parts of nature are useless to man; but he rejoiced in them none the less. Few of his neighbors had any use for whales, for example, but he takes delight in the whale (he calls him Leviathan) just playing in the ocean. St. Augustine, in the same mood, says somewhere about things like wasps and spiders that if we could forget that they bite, we would be greatly awed by their beauty and the perfection of their mechanism. Indeed, St. Augustine, in one of his prayers, calls God "Pulchritudo," Beauty. Just as God is The Truth and The Good, so he is The Beautiful.

Law THE writers of these nature-Psalms (especially 10 and 65) were impressed by another fact about nature: its regularity. You can count on the sunrise, you always know which order the seasons will follow. Even things like earthquakes and tornadoes, which seem pretty unpredictable, follow laws of their own. Science has now shown this to be true on a cosmic scale. The stuff of which the farthest stars are made is just the same (only a lot hotter!) as the stuff in the rocks under your feet at this minute.

The laws that govern the fall of a leaf or the shape of rain-drops are the same laws that can be seen in the whirling of star-dust fifty million light years away.

The Creator of all is not erratic, eccentric or capricious. He is the God of Law, for from his infinite Mind come all the patterns, known to us or yet unknown, by which the vast fabric of the universe is woven. Mystery, Power, Beauty, Law: All nature, not only the stars, shine with all these—and as Addison says,

"Forever singing as they shine, The hand that made us is divine."

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Melt-in-Your-Mouth Pies Need Know-How (See Recipes Below)

Pastry Perfection ARE YOUR PIES wonderful to look at? Do they have a meltingly tender crust? Is the filling a delightful surprise instead of a disappointment? Unless you can answer a resounding "yes" to each of those three questions, better take a good look at tips given in this column. They'll help you reach pastry making perfection if you put the hints into practice.

Pie is a dessert to have at any luncheon or dinner, whether light or heavy. It might be a rich apple pie, topped with scoops of ice cream if the meal itself has been shy on calories. Pies may be baked or chilled. Their crust may be pastry or crumb. Their fillings may be fruit, berries, juice or eggs or combinations of these, so you see how much variety pie can give your meals.

If you have some especially bright and lovely berries or fruit, don't hide them under a top crust. Place a lattice crust or crumb topping or a lacy fluting of whipped cream on the pie, and let everyone enjoy the handsome looks of the pie.

HERE'S a foolproof recipe for a single pastry shell. If you want a double crust, make twice the recipe:

Pastry Shell (Makes 1 8 or 9-inch) 1 cup sifted flour 1/4 teaspoon salt 5 tablespoons lard or shortening 2 tablespoons ice cold water

Sift together flour and salt. Cut in lard with two knives or a pastry blender. (Avoid using fingers, since they're warm and will melt the fat.) Sprinkle water in, while stirring with a fork. Press dough into a ball, then roll lightly on a pastry cloth or board. Fold over and fit pie plate. Trim edge, fold under and flute. For a baked pastry shell, prick bottom and sides with a fork. Bake in a hot (450°) oven 10 to 12 minutes or until golden brown. If the shell is to be baked with the filling, bake according to directions in recipe.

IF PEACHES are on your mind here's a peaches and cream pie that is really delectable:

Southern Peach Cream Pie (Makes 1 9-inch pie) 1 unbaked pastry shell 6 peach halves, fresh or canned 1/2 cup sugar 1 tablespoon flour 1/4 teaspoon almond extract 1/4 teaspoon salt 1 cup rich milk 2 egg yolks, beaten 1 tablespoon melted butter 2 egg whites, beaten Arrange peaches, cut side down in pastry shell. Mix sugar, flour and salt. Combine dry ingredients with milk, almond extract, egg yolks and butter. Fold in egg whites, beaten. LYNN SAYS: Wise Use of Leftovers Makes For Economy Add variety to waffles by using any of the following leftovers: chopped bacon, 2 ounces of melted chocolate, whole kernel corn, minced ham, nutmeats or chopped raw apples. Many dabs of leftovers can be added to French dressing to add interest to salads. Add the last bit of honey to the dressing for fruit salads, or a bit of Roquefort cheese for great salads.

Cook in top of double boiler until mixture coats spoon. Add gelatin softened in cold water. Stir until gelatin dissolves; add vanilla. Fold in egg whites and whipped cream. Pour into crust and chill until firm. Before serving garnish the top with shaved chocolate. (For doing this easily, use a clean razor blade on a bar of unsweetened chocolate to make the chocolate curls.)

HERE'S a delightful variation of an apple pie with its crumbly, nut topping that's so delicious. This, like a regular apple pie, may be served with scoops of ice cream, if desired:

Crumbly Apple Pie (Makes 1 9-inch pie) 6 large tart apples 1/4 cup sugar 1 1/4 teaspoons cinnamon 1/4 cup sugar 1/4 cup flour 1/4 cup butter 1/4 cup pecan halves 1 unbaked pastry shell Pare apples and cut into eighths and arrange in pastry shell. Sprinkle with one-half cup sugar mixed with the cinnamon. Sift remaining one-half cup sugar with flour and cut in butter. Work mixture until crumbly and sprinkle over apples. Dot with pecan halves. Bake in a hot (450°) oven for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to moderate (350°) and bake for 40 minutes longer until apples are tender.

Leftover biscuits, split in half and covered with cheese and bacon, then broiled make a nice open-faced sandwich for soups or salads. Leftover cocoa may be combined with coffee and served chilled with a whipped cream topping for a delicious beverage. Combine several different kinds of leftover fruit juices for cooling first course beverages; pineapple and strawberry juice; grape, lemon and pineapple juice; raspberry and pineapple juice.

JUST The laundress's rival tried desperately to find someone who could dispute the washwoman's assertion that she had blue blood in her veins. "Could be," said one of those asked, "all the women on her side of the family have used washing-blue for eight generations."

Two very distinguished looking Southern gentlemen met on the street one morning after having attended a party the night before. The major greeted his ranking officer with all the respect and solemnity that the occasion demanded. "Colonel," he said, "how do you feel, suh?" The colonel's reply was just a bit on the brusque side. "Major," he declared a little thickly, "I feel like hell, suh, as any Southern gentleman should, suh, at this hour of the morning."

A social climber, trying to impress a prominent member of a club she had just joined, traced her ancestry all the way back to Julius Caesar. The prominent member admitted that went back quite a distance but pointed out that the pedigree of her own family filled six pages of parchment and in the middle was a notation, "About this time the world was created."

When Your Back Hurts - And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par. It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly, many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood. You may suffer sagging backache, rheumatic pain, headaches, dizziness, getting up at night, leg pains, swelling, sometimes frequent and painful urination with stinging and burning in another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder. There's no need to doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on medicine that has won country-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Here's WHY Firestone CHAMPIONS GO THROUGH WHERE OTHERS HANG UP! LET'S talk facts... Here is a tire that has extra bar height, extra bar length, and a curved bar design that outcleans, outpulls, and outlasts any other tire. NO OTHER TIRE has ALL these advantages. Those massive tread bars take a bigger bite, a better hold—and THAT'S NOT ALL. Because they're curved for self-cleaning, they keep right on pulling while other tires only clog and spin. And here's another big feature. Every inch of tread-bar length does its share of the pulling because the low-pressure body design puts ALL of the tread in FULL ground contact for a FULL TRACTION BITE. Because it's patented, this tire gives you many advantages which no other tire has. Let your Firestone Dealer or Firestone Store demonstrate these facts to your satisfaction. 3 RULES FOR MAXIMUM TRACTION 1. USE FIRESTONE CHAMPIONS 2. USE FIRESTONE HYDRO-FLATION 3. USE ONLY 12 LBS. WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

A-Bomb Output Hits Record Peak; House Approves Vet Pension Hike; Anderson Proposes New Farm Plan

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Editors Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.

ATOM BOMB:

Record Output

Maybe the atomic bomb isn't the world's most fearful weapon. Maybe the bomb's effectiveness for destruction has been over-emphasized. Maybe it doesn't mean anything at all—but if potential enemies of the U.S. could squeeze any comfort from those "maybes," they were welcome to it.

For the United States had announced that its atom bomb production had reached an all-time high in the first six months of this year, and production is now on an assembly-line basis.

IN making that announcement, the atomic energy commission also announced that enormous tonnages of low grade uranium ores, have been located in this country, and could be used to produce A-bombs in an emergency if foreign supplies of high-grade ore were cut off.

All these disclosures were contained in the commission's sixth semi-annual report to congress.

Pointedly enough, the report made no mention of recent to-level secret conferences relative to sharing information with Britain and Canada.

It did have a lot to say, however, about the problems behind those conferences—United States' dependence on high-grade uranium ore from Canada and the Belgian Congo.

THE REPORT revealed that reserves of semi-processed ores are being built up steadily "to assure continuity of production." Research is being pressed on new extraction methods to cut the cost of processing the low-grade ores which abound in this country. And "actions have been taken to improve and make more certain the supply of ore from abroad."

This latter statement, which was not explained, presumably referred to later negotiations with Britain and Canada for a long-term agreement on exchange of atomic information and division of uranium ore.

FARM PLAN:

Something New

Farm plans, or substitutes therefor, were still kicking around the halls of congress, despite recent legislative action retaining the current program of farm price subsidies.

Latest proposal in the field came from Senator Anderson (D., N.M.) but it was another formula which didn't appeal to everyone's taste. Senator Anderson is the same gentleman who was onetime U.S. secretary of agriculture.

BRIEFLY, his plan called for flexible government supports for some crops, rigid control plans for others, and authority to try out the Brannan plan for subsidy on some perishables.

Anderson heads a seven-man subcommittee casting about for an acceptable farm bill.

Unless the senate and house managed to get together on some program, the delayed-action Aiken law passed by the Republican 80th congress would take effect January 1. It would permit, although not compel, the secretary of agriculture to maintain supports for major crops on a flexible scale ranging from 60 to 90 per cent of parity.

The senators "try-out" proposal for the Brannan plan would be limited to "nonstorage perishables" including oranges, grapefruit, apples and vegetables.

ARMED UNITY:

Up to Truman

Final action on the bill strengthening unification of the armed services was up to President Truman—but there was no doubt that he would affix his signature to the measure in speedy fashion.

BY a lopsided vote of 356 to 7, the house gave final congressional approval to the measure in a bid for greater efficiency and economy in military operations.

The bill, which was sent to the President for his signature, sprung directly from the recommendations of the commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

THE citizens' committee for the Hoover report, headed by Dr. Robert L. Johnson, president of Temple university, immediately hailed adoption of the bill as "paving the way for savings of at least a billion dollars a year, and maybe more."

ROUGH GOING

Adversity Plagues Viking Saga Revival

The "invading" vikings had not counted on England's weather. So, what was to have been a thrilling, colorful arrival of a sleek oaken ship on the Thames, turned into a ride in a green bus, with the Vikings' horned helmets lying in their laps and their sharp spears neatly stacked in the racks overhead. It was all rather anti-climatic.

New Justice

U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark, smiling so broadly here, hesitated but a short while before accepting President Truman's offer of appointment to the United States supreme court bench. Sen. J. Howard McGrath (D., R.I.) was to succeed Clark as attorney general.

PENSIONS:

More for Vets

Veterans of World Wars I and II and the Spanish-American war stood to benefit to the tune of an additional 112 million dollars a year, if a bill passed by the national house of representatives is approved by the senate.

WITHOUT a single dissenting vote, the house passed a measure raising veterans' pensions and disability payments by that figure annually.

There was another possible hurdle for the measure, however, even if it should pass the senate, for house action on the bill was taken despite objections from the White House. Whether this means that President Truman would have the political fortitude to veto such a bill if it ever came to him is an interesting conjecture. The logical supposition is that he would not, particularly if he entertains any ideas of seeking a second term in 1953.

To indicate the potential weight of the veterans' vote as interpreted by house members, despite the fact that there was no opposition, a roll call was ordered and 234 members got "on the record" as approving the measure.

THE VETERANS' administration estimated that the first year cost of the proposal would exceed 112.5 million dollars. It made no estimate of costs in subsequent years.

Principal provisions of the bill: Increase from $138 to $159 rate of pay for total disability; increase monthly payments to widows and dependents of wartime casualties; full compensation for World War I veterans with disabilities presumed to be service-connected instead of the present 75 per cent; additional pay for dependents of veterans with service-connected 50 per cent disabilities.

At present such payments are made only if the disability is 80 per cent.

GIVE-AWAYS:

No Sinicure

The business of winning radio give-away prizes is not all beer-and-skillies. A Hollywood insurance man is authority for the conclusion.

He spent his vacation as a contestant on such shows and wound up with $150 in one week—much more than he could have made working. He attended 30 radio shows, averaging four a day, saying that he couldn't stand any more than that.

That's all he could stand, he said. "It's much more work than working," he explained. The questions are easy, but the nervous strain is terrific. It's too hard on me to do it more than one week each year. He made his killing, however, on one program. He was asked to tell a girl how her husband would feel about her having a baby.

He replied that "things are very convenient for fathers these days." For that he received prizes worth $150. How to get picked as a contestant? Just sit on the aisle and wisecrack as the announcer goes by.

EDUCATION:

Sicker & Strife

The proposal for federal aid to education was getting nowhere fast. Its proponents, realizing all the while upon what thin ice they skated, had believed the plan had been handled with sufficient tact and skill to win some hope of its final approval. But at this stage of the game, that appeared to be nothing more than wishful thinking.

THE explosive issue, made doubly volatile by the injection of the religious issue by a bill offered by Representative Barden (D., N.C.) and by the public row between Francis Cardinal Spellman and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, threatened to kill the proposal entirely.

The Barden bill would exclude Catholic and other non-public schools from all federal aid. Because Mrs. Roosevelt, in some of her syndicated columns, had argued for separation of church and state, Cardinal Spellman accused her of being anti-Catholic. She denied the allegation and pointed to her record as proof.

WITHOUT any attempt to argue the relative merits of each viewpoint, capitol observers were generally agreed that these developments had done nothing to help the plan for federal government to assist in school programs by giving financial aid.

The proposal without the added controversies was stormy enough in itself. Inasmuch as there had been much hue and cry to the effect that federal aid to schools would mean ultimately federal effort to control the choice of what would be taught in the schools.

It appeared that this obstacle to the proposal might have been hurdled, but when the religious issue was injected the fate of the plan was seriously jeopardized.

ADMIRAL BYRD:

For Horizons

The lure of the frozen, silent spaces were calling again and Adm. Richard Evelyn Byrd, veteran polar explorer, was harkening.

ACCORDING to reports out of New York, some 3,600 men and eight ships are earmarked for an Antarctic expedition, to be headed by Byrd, which will have as its objective the mapping of a vast area of unknown territory in the Antarctic about as big as Europe.

If present plans were finally approved, the first ships would sail in October. The expedition would establish a base in New Zealand and remain in the arctic about four months of the south polar "summer," before returning to the United States about April, 1950.

IT WAS UNDERSTOOD the venture depended upon approval of Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, but planning has been underway for some time. This, certainly, would indicate a high optimism that Johnson's approval is assured.

It was said naval planes would probably participate in extensive aerial mapping, air-sea rescue work, and the scouting for ice leads. The goal of the expedition, apparently, is to be a great, oblong stretch of unexplored territory across the South Pole from Little America, site of the Byrd base camp in the admiral's expedition of 1929.

A LARGE AREA, part of which is claimed by Australia and Norway, lying south of Africa and stretching across the snowy wastes of the Antarctic toward Australia and South America, is virtually uncharted, and it is expected that aerial mapping will reveal many of its secrets.

The expedition, if finally approved, would be the admiral's fifth to the south polar regions.

Urged Arms Outlay

Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who put in the major licks favoring appropriation of approximately 1.5 billion dollars for arms to implement the North Atlantic pact, declared the aid program would prevent any aggressor from achieving a "quick and easy victory" in a future war.

WHITE HOUSE:

Tradition Wins

Score a victory for history and tradition: the White House, official abode of the United States presidents, will not be razed. Instead, the historic structure will be given a $20 million-dollar face-lifting job. A GROUP of six men settled the issue once and for all between advocates of renovation and those who wanted to tear down the present building and erect a new one.

HOLDS NATION'S SOCK . . . Michael E. Slindlee, acting treasurer of the United States, looks on as Georgia Neesa Clark, new treasurer, signs her name to receipt for $27,423,541.375.78 in the U.S. treasury's vaults. The cash, currency and securities formerly were charged to the account of Slindlee. The receipt was confirmed by six auditors who certified the figures to two-thirds of a cent.

CLICKS WITH CAMERAMEN . . . Miss North Carolina 1949, Nancy Yelverton, Rocky Mount, still looks friendly and gay as 34th photographer takes her picture, four hours after she started posing on the sands at Atlantic beach, Morehead City, N. C. The cameramen worked in pairs, shooting 15 minutes each. Nancy passed up rest periods because she had swimming and volleyball dates. She's 18, 5' 8", 110 pounds, and has brown eyes, 24 bust, 24 waist and 21 1/2 hips.

SOME ENCOYIN' IRON, PARDNER . . . President Truman examines and admires the pistol carried by Mike Follard, son of a Washington correspondent, who greeted him upon his return by plane from Chicago. The President landed at National airport after a two-and-a-half hour flight from the Windy City where he addressed officials of the Warice convention.

HEARD, BUT NOT SEEN . . . "Children should be seen, not heard" does not hold good for Kathryn Beaumont, 11, British youngster who will play the movie voice of "Alice in Wonderland," a Disney all-caricature version of the Lewis Carroll classic. When she isn't delivering lines in the filming of the story, she is making another kind of delivery on the home front. Kathryn is a daughter of Kenneth Beaumont, British singer and radio performer.

FIRST LADY OF THE GARDEN HOSE

Oh, Can You See by the Lawn's Early Blight?

BATTLES FOR THE THIRSTY BLADES

By H. I. PHILLIPS

MISS PRIDGETT'S LAWN

IN ANY PROLONGED dry spell there is in every community the man and woman who find an outlet for a full expression of their sense of sacrifice in all-out solicitude for the lawn. Here they make the ultimate effort, the grand fight, the supreme battle. Their heart bleeds for every blade of grass. They are shaken to the depths by the tiniest yellow patch.

In our neighborhood Miss Arabella Pridgett is easily tops as the great lawn lover. In any moderately dry spell she can go to extremes, but in a real drought, when the reservoirs are low and the water supply critical, she is a study in devotion to the cause of the ever-damp lawn. Then she becomes a first lady of the garden hose, a duchess of the sprinkler. The lawn is her first thought at dawn and her last at night.

Famous battlers for great human causes have shown less energy. Fighters to ease the plight of undernourished peoples have shown no greater energy. Yes, a water famine is threatened, families are urged to go easy, orphan asylums and hospitals have been cautioned to watch the outlets, but with Miss Pridgett her grass is a "must," with top priority. Lincoln showed no greater concern for the slaves. Clara Barton was no more zealous for the sick and wounded.

She was marked. Her mother was frightened by a bare patch in a green hall runner or something. She has a bare-patch complex. Were she with Noah in the flood, she would have come aboard the ark with two lengths of hose and two sprinklers.

Her lawn is an astoundingly vivid green when everything else in hollyhock heights is sere and drab. You can see her busy about it morning, noon and night, every fiber of her being astir over the thought one little blade may be thirsty. She is haunted by a fear of dry patch. One hose is not enough. Miss Pridgett has two. And her second love is the sprinkler. She likes the wide, full-throated, fast-revolving type. When not watering the lawn she goes window shopping for new automatic sprinkler models.

A grand canal mood marks her premises. "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More" is her theme song. She shoots the waterworks not only on dry hot days but even when it rains. Her faith in providence, and the elements is shaky. Let it rain all night and she is out there with the hose in the morning. Miss Pridgett's slogan is "THE HOSE MUST GO ON!"

You hoo, move the larger sprinkler over a foot, lady! There's a blade there that seems undrenched.

Hitler's yacht Ain't so hacht; So whacht!

In a visit to the Grille, once the yacht of der Fuehrer, we are sure we should imagine that great nautical figure, that wonderful exponent of all fine sea traditions, rolling and pitching in a terrific storm and bellowing "All is lost! The microphone has been swept away!"

I go to the movies, and what do I get Romance and romance, and more of it yet. I turn on the radio, I go to a show—Mors musing between a dame and a schmoe. I pick up a pulp or I pick up a slick—Again it's a rooster chasing a chick. It's most revolting; it makes me ill—'Cause I'm a Jack without a Jill. —Tom Weatherly

The American association of university professors upholds the right of all teachers to be communists provided they keep it out of the classrooms. This is like saying it is all right to carry lighted matches in a hay loft provided only good will is shown toward the barn.

We liked Bill Vaughan's crack in his K.C. Star column "The woman scorned is now surpassed in fury by the babe who never even met the guy, but shoots him anyway."

The active head of a yacht club is called a commodore. A commodore is a cross between a humidor and a matador. He has to be kept damp like a humidor and bull-throating like a matador.

Being a commodore entitles you to wear a motorman's coat, white duck-pants and a cap.

There's good news in the economic picture. A slight slump is reported in the slight slump.

The Eternal Weight of Glory
CONSIDERING Time with all its countless years,
Our light affliction is a moment spent
In pain and agony and futile tears.
The things that God in his great wisdom sent
For chastisement will render "a far more
Eternal weight of glory," it is said;
But I am human, Lord, and I implore
Thee more than for my meat and daily bread
For strength to look beyond the things I see
That blur my vision so. I would be wise,
I would move forward toward eternity,
Keeping eternal things before my eyes.

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

SOMETHING NEW will be added to "Take It or Leave It" on Sept. 11 when Eddie Cantor takes over as quizmaster of the oldest of the jackpot quiz shows. Cantor has spelled Phil Baker on the show twice, in 1945, now steps in permanently. He has been quite a pioneer in radio—when he came into it studio audiences were kept behind a glass screen, seen but not heard. Cantor, used to theatre crowds, brought them into the open, then developed the pre-program show, to get the crowd into the right mood before the show went on the air. Format of "Take It or Leave It" remains the same, with those 404 questions.

Bill Goodwin, playing a movie producer in Warners' "It's a Great Feeling," lies and lies and lies—in an over-sized double bed in a pullman berth, in a lawn swing and on a chaise longue. He's supposed to be exhausted from being harassed by Dennis Morgan's and Jack Carson's efforts to try to make an actress out of Doris Day, cast as a studio waitress.

"Where Men Are Men" marks Chester Conklin's 310th picture in nearly 37 years; he'd have made more if he hadn't retired for eight. Then he came back strong. You will see him in the hilarious "My Friend Irma" soon.

Publicity tie-ups are queer things. Shirley May France, 16-year-old miss who aims to swim the English channel, will do it as an amphibious press agent for Edward Small's historical opus, "Black Magic." A country-wide personal appearance tour is scheduled after she comes home, plus some radio appearances, then she'll be groomed for a screen career.

The Fiction Corner
RAY CASHES IN
By Richard H. Wilkinson

NO ONE would have believed Ray Sharon capable of stratagem. One look at him and you would have catalogued him in the reserved, conservative class of young men who adhered to the propriety and convention. He was a good looking boy with soft ceped patterns dictated by brown eyes and a sensitive mouth. He worked as a clerk in the Southport Trust Company. There was a future there for him.

It occurred not even to Ray that the fine reputation he had could be used as an asset, cashed in on. Not that it, until Phil Clairmont came to town. Clairmont had been born in Southport. At 18 he had gone off to college and not returned. He had been a football hero, an All-American quarterback. After graduation he had sold bonds and coached football teams and written magazine articles on gridiron tactics and given a series of lectures over the radio. He had made quite a success.

Two winters later Phil returned to his home town for the Christmas holidays. The folks gave him quite a reception. They held parties for him and asked him to talk at this function and that. He stayed through New Year's, which was longer than he intended. The reason that he stayed was Sheila Frasersworth, who taught the seventh grade. Sheila was a native of Southport. She had wheat-colored hair and blue eyes. She had known Ray Sharon all her life. She liked him. When they grew up and Ray began taking her around, she was quite happy.

PHIL CLAIRMONT met her at one of the many parties that were held in his honor. He remembered who she was and was quite surprised that she had grown up and blossomed into something that was easy to look at.

Sheila was, after all, only a normal girl. Phil Clairmont was famous. When Phil took an interest in her she was flattered. It gave her a recognition that most any girl would have delighted in. No one blamed her. No one condemned her for it. If anyone felt about it at all it was a sensation of envy. A few wondered about Ray Sharon. A smaller few felt sorry for him. Occasionally she saw Ray and thus it happened that one wintry night Ray and Sheila set out in the former's coupe for the distant town of Merdale to attend a banker's ball there. It began to snow before they were a half hour on the road. "You'd better take the old road through the woods," he said. "It will shorten the journey by five miles."

Sheila thought this would be a good idea. They left the main highway and cut through the woods. But neither anticipated that the storm would reach such proportions. Two miles from the highway they got stuck.

Ray didn't mince matters. He confronted the situation squarely. The chances were even that both would perish. At any rate, he had something he wanted to ask Sheila in case he didn't get a chance later on.

He asked it. Sheila thought of many things, among them what a ninny she'd been. Ray was the man she loved, the only man she could ever love. With death staring her in the face she realized this to be a fact. She put her arms around Ray's neck and told him exactly how she felt.

An hour later Sheila dropped off into a doze. When she awoke she was lying on a couch before a blazing fire. Ray was feeding her hot soup.

No one could have believed Ray Sharon capable of stratagem. He was too definitely catalogued. Which is why not even Sheila suspected that he had planned it all; that he knew about the camp, had stocked it with firewood and provisions, had stalled his car on purpose, had removed most of the fuel.

It had required a courage which he had never suspected he possessed to cash in on his assets.
