AROUND THE HOUSE

To Renovate Oilcloth
If the design on oilcloth fades taddy before the cloth itself is worn out, you can renovate the cloth by painting it with ordinary enamel.

Spilled Grease
If milk or grease is spilled on a hot part of the stove and starts to burn, sprinkle salt on it immediately to prevent an unpleasant odor.

Roach Control
Any of the home controls for roaches, including borax, sugar, or plaster of paris can be used against roaches; they will be just as effective.

Fruit Pies
When you bake a fruit pie or some other dish that's likely to run over, put a cookie sheet under it. The cookie sheet will be lots easier to clean than the inside of the oven.

Avoiding Spillage
To avoid the spillage that usually occurs in carrying a freshly filled ice tray from the sink to the refrigerator, place an empty glass upside down on the center of the tray.

Accidents Chief Killer Of Children in America
CHICAGO.—Here's a word of warning to all Moms and Dads: Accidents are the greatest kid-killers in America! Accidents far out-rank any of the more generally feared childhood diseases as a cause of death among children 1-to-14 years old. There were 10,731 accidental deaths in that age group in 1947—three times more than were claimed by pneumonia, the next most important cause of death. And accidents caused 42 times as many deaths as poli.

God Our Comfort

Lesson for November 6, 1949

AS THE ENGLISH language keeps on changing, words do not always keep on meaning what they once did. "Comfort" is one of these. When our Bible was translated into English in 1611, the translation most English-speaking people use, the word "comfort" had a bigger meaning than most people put into it nowadays. We think of it as meaning soothing; but it is a bigger idea than that. God is not merely a soothing Dr. Foreman God. We think of "comfort" as meaning to make comfortable; but it is a stouter word than that. God does not always make his people comfortable. The word means to strengthen, to steel against fear and despair, to put backbone into people.

"Fear Not, O Worm!"

AT THE TIME of the prophecies we study this week, the Israelites had been kicked around a good deal. They had felt the conqueror's boots, they were discouraged, as all good people are when somehow God seems to be letting evil forces triumph. Their little world had split wide apart, their little nation had been blown to the winds.

To those people, torn by terrors and bowed down by wretchedness, people who were in serious danger of developing a once-for-all "inferiority complex" people who were about to lose all their backbone, the great prophet brings his messages: "Comfort ye my people, saith your God."

The whole idea is in this one sentence (Is. 41:14): "Fear not, O worm Jacob! ... I am your helper, saith the Lord." God does not indulge his people in foolish pride. Beside the Almighty they are worms, insects. Nevertheless, worm though he may be, the man who trusts in God will not be afraid. He will not trust in his own powers, he will not trust in luck, he will trust in God.

A worm by itself is nothing; but with God on his side, the weakest of men can say with Paul, "If God be for us, who can be against us?" God's men do not get their courage up by flexing their muscles or admiring themselves. They grow in courage as they grow in the knowledge of God.

Goodness And Power
ANY ONE who saw "Edward, My Son" will remember the tragedy of that family. A boy's character went slowly to pieces, because his father was determined that nothing should be too good for him. To gain his purpose the father ran roughshod over everyone who stood in his way, and eventually ruined the lives of all around him, including his son's and his own. The mother, on the other hand, could see, as the father could not, what his indulgence was doing to the boy, making him a weakling and a rat. But she was too weak to stand up against her husband, and her life too was ruined. That story is a kind of parable.

The prophet reveals a God who is both powerful and good; but suppose God were only good but not powerful, or only powerful but not good? Then the world would be in a mess, as that boy Edward was in a mess.

But these three are all in the same God. A God who is power only, might do as Edward's father did, destroy his children without even intending to do so. A God who is goodness only, might want to do right by his world yet not be able to do so, like Edward's mother. A God who knew what was right but neither wanted nor was able to do much about it, would not be a God at all.

Housewives Can Inspire Meals With Novel Salads Made of Fresh Foodstuff

"I NEVER have trouble thinking of salads to serve during hot weather when there's so much available of salad ingredients," says a homemaker. "But salad inspiration during winter is a big problem!"

It needn't be so, especially if you check over these inspiration-packed tips in today's column. All foods used are available during cool weather, and you'll be surprised at what salads can be whipped together without mental fatigue.

Badly needed vitamins and minerals are found in fresh fruits and vegetables to a much greater extent than in cooked foods where water, steam and air have rendered many of them useless. The best way to get their full benefit, therefore, is to serve raw foods. What better way to do this than in salads?

FRUIT SALADS, when made large and beautiful enough, will double as salad and dessert or salad and appetizer. They may be garnished with a scoop of sherbet or dressed with a piquant dressing.

Fruit Salad Combinations

1. Alternate wedges of grapefruit, oranges, apples, pears and calavo. Serve with honey or lime-flavored French dressing.
2. Fill canned peach halves with cream cheese and chopped nut mixture and garnish with unpeeled raw apples.
3. Put three cups fresh cranberries through food chopper with two apples and one large orange. Add two cups sugar. Serve, mounded, on a pineapple slice on a bed of lettuce.
4. Serve pear halves filled with a cream cheese and crumbled ginger-snap center on lettuce leaf.
5. Sliced bananas marinated in lemon juice, then mixed with orange sections and thin, unpeeled apple slices look pretty, taste well.

Carefully cooked or drained canned vegetables may be used in vegetable salads with raw ingredients for contrast and texture interest. Here are some suggestions:

Vegetable Salads

1. Arrange 4-6 asparagus tips (cooked or canned) on lettuce, encircling them with a green pepper ring. Serve with French dressing to which chopped chives or stuffed olives have been added.
2. Mix shredded red cabbage with fried and crumbled bacon. Toss together with tart mayonnaise.
3. Serve cooked chilled broccoli with a French dressing into which is placed crumbled, hard-cooked egg and crumbled blue cheese.
4. Cooked lima beans mixed with diced pickled beets, chopped parsley and onion are excellent on a bed of lettuce.

A combination of citrus fruits makes an excellent salad for cool weather eating. Dress it down by having simply the fruit on a crisp bed of greens. Dress it up by topping with a scoop of colorful sherbet.

LYNN SAYS:
Try New Food Combinations For Flavor Possibilities
Baked, smoked ham, butts take on delicious flavor as well as glaze if you brush them with orange marmalade just before serving.
Don't bother icing cupcakes after they've cooled. Simply swirl them in corn syrup and top with chopped nuts or coconut.
Add onions and celery to potatoes when you're making soup if you want to sharpen the flavor of the soup in a subtle fashion.

When you're having hot soup for lunch, team it with a hearty salad and make the meal out of it. Macaroni with celery, cheese, hard-cooked eggs, green pepper, bacon curls, olives and banana strips rolled in chopstick nuts makes a generous plate that takes care of main dish and dessert.

Golden Gate Salad Bowl (Serves 8)

- 1 clove garlic
 - 1 cup spinach leaves
 - 1 small head chicory
 - 1 small head lettuce
 - 1 cucumber, sliced
 - 1 head cauliflower, uncooked, broken into flowerets
 - 1 head watercress, separated
 - 10 radishes, sliced
 - 1 bunch parsley, chopped
 - 4 tomatoes, sliced
 - 1 green pepper, cut in rings
 - 2 carrots, shredded
 - 1 cup chopped celery
 - 1/4 cup sliced onions
 - French dressing
- Cut garlic clove and rub salad bowl with it. Wash all vegetables and dry thoroughly between towels. Tear spinach, chicory and lettuce leaves. Add remaining ingredients and toss together. Add enough dressing to coat vegetables but not to soak them. Serve from salad bowl.

New England Colelaw (Serves 4-6)

- 2 cups finely shredded cabbage
- 1/2 cup sour cream
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 2 tablespoons sugar

Mix vinegar and sugar with soured cream and add slowly, stirring constantly to shredded cabbage. Dust with paprika and serve from large bowl.

Southern Chicken Salad (Serves 8)

- 1 orange
- 15 large grapes
- 15 salted almonds
- 1 banana
- 1 apple, diced
- 3 cups diced, cooked white meat of chicken
- 1 cup mayonnaise

Remove seeds and membrane from orange sections and cut in half. Cut grapes in half, removing seeds. Split almonds; slice banana. Mix all ingredients lightly but thoroughly. Serve chilled on lettuce.

Macaroni Salad (Serves 8)

- 2 cups cooked macaroni
- 1 cup diced celery or cucumber
- 1 cup diced American cheese, if desired
- 1/2 cup chopped pimiento
- 2 diced, hard-cooked eggs
- Salt and pepper to taste
- Mayonnaise
- Bacon curls
- Banana strips with chopped nuts
- Olives, carrot strips, radishes

Mix together macaroni, celery, cheese and chopped pimiento. Add salt and pepper, then just enough mayonnaise to taste. Arrange on platter, and garnish with eggs, bacon curls, banana strips sprinkled with the chopped nuts, olives, carrot strips and radishes.

To extend quick-frozen strawberries for desserts, mix them with drained, crushed pineapple. The combination is exciting for quickly made jam, ice cream or pudding toppings and shortcake mixtures. Meat loaf will be more interesting and colorful if you serve it with tart, bright red cranberry sauce, fresh or canned.
Sliced oranges with halved and seeded Tokay grapes are an excellent idea for a colorful, flavorful salad to serve with a heavy dinner.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE
By Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: I was recently given two antique glass cream pitchers, but they have been washed in soap and water so much washed that the designs in the glass are filled with a soap crust. I have failed to remove this after repeated trials. Can you give me any help?

ANSWER: I believe the deposit is more from hard water than soap, although this has probably stuck to the glass also. If the pitchers are of cut glass of some kind without any painted designs, the crust should soften by soaking with a non-flammable cleaning fluid, giving it plenty of time to act. Kerosene may also help. A stiff brush would be convenient to work with.

QUESTION: We purchased a farm and are remodeling the small Colonial house on it, in which we now live. We added an underground garage and expect to use the top for a porch. It is now covered with maple floor boards; but a friend advises against it, saying the cement floor would crack later. It is 10x20 ft. and we shall not build a roof over it for a year or two. What is your opinion?

ANSWER: I agree with your friend; I do not advise using cement over the maple boards, for the job almost certainly would be unsatisfactory. You would find it more practical to cover the boards with a top-quality roofing canvas, and then paint it with a good-quality deck paint. The canvas should be properly laid by someone who understands the work.

ARMY INFORMATION

Recruiting service regulations permit the enlistment in high enlistment grades of officers who are to be released from active duty, according to T. Sgt. Glen L. Hagge, Army & Air Force Recruiting Sergeant in Alamogordo. Such regulations insure that any officer who is slated for relief from active duty as an officer and who desires to continue in the military services, may continue on duty in a high enlisted grade, according to the branch of service in which he desires to serve, and the conditions under which he was accepted for commissioned status and released from active duty.

The purpose of the desire of the services to have ex-officers enlist is to retain their ability and training in the service. The advantages of the retirement program and extra pay for length of services continue from officer to enlisted stated.

The recruiting Sergeant in Alamogordo will be glad to consult with officers contemplating relief from active duty, and has pointed out that the varied conditions under which each officer has seen service requires individual attention to insure complete advantage of the rights and privileges under the law.

When you talk about
VALVE-IN-HEAD
 you're talking about

The Power that made Buick Famous

If you want to know what's "the newest thing" in automobile engines, look at the Buick engine pictured here, and you'll see the words "valve-in-head."

But it happens that this isn't new with Buick. As a matter of fact, the valve-in-head engine was invented back in 1902—U. S. Patent No. 771095—and immediately, Buick adopted the principle, which became the first in a long string of "Buick firsts."

Not everyone went for the idea then. In spite of the fact that this engine "breathes" more, freely—gets fuel in and exhaust gases out more easily—others hung onto their pet ideas.

Then came the airplane, with its need for maximum power from every drop of fuel—and every maker of internal combustion airplane engines adopted the valve-in-head principle.

And more recently—with the hope that higher-octane fuels will become available—a lot of automotive engine designers are taking a new look at the valve-in-head idea.

But just for the record, we'd like to point out that Buick got there first.

And ever since, Buick has gone steadily ahead, building up a name as "valve-in-headquarters." Buick engineers reshaped pistons to put Fireball wallop in these engines. They stepped up compression ratios as fast as better fuels came along.

So perhaps you'll want to remember, when you hear the term "valve-in-head," that this is the type of power that made Buick famous.

If others want to climb on the bandwagon, we say "more power to them"—and no pun is intended.

But Buick has been doing more with valve-in-head right from the start.

And—we might add—it stands to reason that Buick is not through making this type of engine better and better.

MORE CLEARLY THAN EVER—

DUCK STAMPS

Of the record-breaking sale of 2,127,598 Federal "Duck Stamps" to sportsmen and collectors for the period July 1, 1948 to June 30, 1949, New Mexico Sportsmen purchased 9,010, State Game Warden Elliott S. Barker said today.

The largest sale in any state for the last fiscal year was 171,888 in California while Texas move to second place with 164,075 sales.

Duck stamp, according to Barker formally cost $1.00 but this year's duck stamps which are now on sale at Post Office through the country cost $2.00.

"With the season beginning at noon Friday, Oct. 14, it might be well to remind sportsmen that every hunter of migratory birds who is 16 years of age or older must have on his person a duck stamp of current issue with his signature in ink across its face," Barker said.

Let's Keep The Record Straight

"Two years without a hunting fatality in New Mexico is a record we are mighty proud of, and by the Grace of God and a little common sense we will avoid one this year," State Game Warden Elliott Barker said today.

Injury from guns is thought of in two classes. One is injury from a gun accidentally discharged in a car, in camp or in the field, while the other type is the shooting of another hunter by mistaking him for some kind of wild game. The first type can be avoided by using the proper care with firearms. There is no possible excuse for the latter ever to happen.

"The best slogan for hunters to keep in mind to avoid hunting accidents is "Be Sure It's Legal Game Before You Shoot". If a man takes time to figure out just what species of game he sees and in case of deer, whether it is a buck with forked horns, there will be no danger of killing a fellow hunter," Barker said. "And it will also eliminate the deplorable killing of does and fawns and livestock. Always Be Sure Its Legal Game Before You Shoot."

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Nourse Raps Deficit Spending; Decontrol Fails to Boost Rent; Military Budget Tops 15 Billion

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

U.S. SPENDING:

Deficit System Hit

It seemed an obvious conclusion that the President's council of economic advisers was having little effect in influencing government officials to insist upon a real effort by the administration to put its financial house in order.

ANY such conclusion would have been bolstered by the fact that Dr. Edward G. Nourse, chairman of the council, was quitting that body. In an address before the national retail farm equipment association, Dr. Nourse hit hard at federal deficit spending and charged that the government is "slipping back into deficits as a way of life."

Instead of deficit financing, he said, the government should be "putting its fiscal house in order and husbanding reserves to support the economy if times prosperous times overtake us."

According to reports, Dr. Nourse had informed President Truman that he was going to leave the government, although there was no word as to whether the President had accepted or would accept the resignation.

WELL-PLACED official circles were said to believe that Nourse's decision to leave the advisers council was because of his belief that he had failed in what he regarded as a fight to keep the council on a strict professional plane of fact-finding and advice-giving, divorced from political issues.

In his address, Nourse was critical of elements among labor, agriculture and management, chiding farmers for "demanding stimulative prices," labor for demanding shorter hours in the face of the need for increased production.

RENTS:

Keep Level

A rather surprising thing had happened. A survey showed that lifting of rent control in more than 600 areas had not resulted in wholesale rent increases. Lifting of controls, put into effect in wartime, began last April 1.

TAKEN as a whole, however, rents in key decontrolled areas did go up a little, but the hike was not as severe as most observers had predicted.

The survey disclosed that landlord reaction to decontrol was spotty. One major factor in the over all rent picture was said to be the number of vacancies available—a factor which might, after all, have considerable restraining effect on any appreciable over-all rent increase. Some landlords raised rents, but had to cut them again when tenants moved out. Also some landlords were still bound by leases issued in the period before decontrol.

According to the survey, increases were scattered, rather than general, in most places.

THUS THE PICTURE of the rent situation generally is clouded by the factors enumerated, factors which may of themselves have enough restraint value to hold down rent hike, as well as a disinclination of landlords to raise rentals to levels most Americans expected.

Continuing strikes, loss of income, more accessibility of housing sites may all combine to keep any general and extensive rent increases from being made in the near future.

MILITARY:

15.5 Billion

If war comes, America intends to be ready. Demonstrating that fact, congress finally got together on a record peace-time military appropriations bill totaling approximately 15.5 billion dollars, including funds to build the air force up to 68 groups.

BREAKING a month-long deadlock and spurred, no-doubt, by reports that Russia has the atomic bomb, house and senate hurried through the details of the final measure which went to President Truman for approval.

In this action, the senate finally bowed to house insistence on giving the air force some 10 groups and 740 million dollars more than President Truman had requested for it.

CONCERN over the possibility of enemy atomic attack was indicated when congress also appropriated 50 million dollars to start construction of a vast radar screen designed to warn the United States of any enemy air attack.

MIDDLE COURSE

India Would Fight if Liberty Threatened

India will steer a middle course, clear of entanglements in the cold war, but when "man's liberty or peace" is endangered, then India will fight.

That was the declaration of India's prime minister Jawaharlal Nehru in a foreign policy speech in New York a few days after his arrival in the United States. He called upon the world to talk

Record's In

President Harry S. Truman, with congress finally in adjournment, would have to go to the people with the record of that congress in the fight for Democratic seats in the 1950 elections. Little of his program was enacted, but there was little doubt he would defend the congress to the end.

BIG DAY:

Break for Kids

Underprivileged children in more than 3,000 U. S. and Canadian communities will receive assistance from a far-reaching program of youth welfare announced by Kiwanis International and The National Kids' Day Foundation, Inc.

J. Hugh Jackson, Stanford, Calif., president of Kiwanis International, in announcing the cooperative effort, said "the problems of underprivileged children are the problems of the entire nation but their solution depends upon local action. There are more than 3,000 Kiwanis clubs which are geared for participation in the program."

FOCAL POINT of the campaign will be the observance of an annual "National Kids Day," the first to be held on Saturday, November 10, when each community will be asked to enlist the support of its citizens in meeting the problems of local youth.

The Kiwanis president emphasized that National Kids' Day will not be celebrated as a holiday or used as a gift-giving occasion. "It is our intention to use the observance of this day as a means of rallying the forces of each community toward solving local juvenile problems," he continued. "By this means, we hope to raise additional funds to carry on a year-round program of youth activity in cities and towns in the U. S. and Canada. Money raised in each community will be spent in the same community for the benefit of children."

CHARLES PETTIJOHN, executive secretary of The National Kids' Day Foundation, Hollywood, Calif., said his organization was formed last year to call national attention to the plight of underprivileged youth to enjoy some of the benefits normally accruing to boys and girls in more fortunate circumstances. The Foundation also seeks to attract attention to the accomplishments of youth and to stimulate additional interest in the problems of youth.

DEFENSE:

A Speedup

The United States was moving swiftly to meet the threat of Soviet possession of the atomic bomb. President Truman and the atomic energy commission had ordered a $9 million dollar expansion of atom bomb facilities at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Hanford, Wash.

THUS THE RACE to see whether the U. S. or Soviet Russia could produce the most bombs seemed to be on, and with it went any immediate hope, at least, for any international control of atomic energy. The extent of the U. S. effort in the race was seen when authoritative quarters announced that the new atomic-plant-construction program ultimately would cost 300 million dollars.

Chairman McMahon (D., Conn.) of the congressional atomic energy committee, called the project a "major expansion effort." McMahon would not say that the action stemmed from Russian progress with atomic fission, but there was a certain evidence of haste inasmuch as White House clearance for the project came just six days after President Truman announced the atomic explosion in Russia.

INDUSTRY:

British Threat

How will the British devaluation of the pound and the resultant decrease in factory wage rates affect U.S. industry?

Potentially, the threat of very real and devastating competition from that source is seen by James F. Lincoln, nationally-known U.S. industrialist and president of the Lincoln Electric company, Cleveland.

"IF WE were to send 10,000 American production experts to England and the European continent for one year, those countries could shut down every industrial plant in the United States," said Lincoln in an interview in Cleveland. He had just returned from a two-week tour of industrial concerns in England, Holland, Belgium and France.

His judgment, he said, was based on the fact of the factory wage rate decreases in England, following devaluation, and a similar effect on nations affected to an average of pressures thus established. Lincoln declared that the devaluation action had cut wage rates in the nations effected to an average of only one-seventh of the wage level in this country.

If these nations can continue to throw goods produced at those wage levels into this country, Lincoln observed, there is a strong threat to American industry as a result.

UP TO NOW, he pointed out, that hasn't been done because European manufacturers are still enjoying a seller's market, and European production methods have not yet reached a stage of development which will allow them to compete with American-made products. "The menace to United States industry will come," Lincoln said, "when the home markets of these countries are saturated and when U. S. production methods are more widely applied abroad."

RED A-BOMB:

Not Bluffing

Russia has had the atomic bomb as a "real weapon" since 1947.

That was the statement of Russia's Andrei Vishinsky as he put the blast on a campaign in the United Nations to put Yugoslavia on the security council.

SO, whether or not the Russians really have the bomb developed to the actual threatening stage, the Soviets were playing right along with President Truman's announcement that the bomb was really theirs. Possessors of the bomb or not, the Russians were now in an advantageous strategic purpose diplomatically as if they had it.

Vishinsky went on to predict "painful consequences" for the United Nations if Yugoslavia, with U. S. support, wins a security council seat over Czechoslovakia.

AT a news conference the Soviet representative reminded reporters of a Tass communique last September which disclosed that Russia had had an atomic weapon.

And that was the farthest Vishinsky had gone in the current U. N. session concerning Russia's possession of the bomb. On September 23 he had declared that the U. S. had no monopoly on the bomb, but had not amplified that statement.

WAGES:

75c Minimum

More than a million and a half workers in interstate commerce were due for a pay hike as a result of congressional approval of a bill raising the minimum wage rate from 49 to 75 cents an hour. The estimated annual cost was 600-million dollars.

While raising the wage floor, the bill changed the language of the wage-hour law so as to remove coverage from possibly several hundred thousand of the persons now under its provisions. The bill went to President Truman where early approval was predicted.

Champ Cow

The American Guernsey club of Peterboro, N. H., proudly presents Spar Hill Climatic, seven-year-old pure-bred golden Guernsey, as its choice for champion cow of the year. During the year, the cow gave 23,000 pounds of milk and 1,200 pounds of butterfat, four times the average yield.

THE 'WITCH':

A New Prison

Swearing and muttering, the Koch, blonde "witch of Buchenwald," was transferred from an American military prison to the custody of German police who have charged her with 30 Buchenwald murders.

With her charged crimes reading like a list of horrors from medieval history, the wife of the one-time Buchenwald concentration camp commandant was widely accused.

TEN YEARS FOR TOKYO ROSE . . . Mrs. Iva Toguri D' Aquino was sentenced in San Francisco to serve 10 years in a federal prison and to pay a $10,000 fine for her Tokyo Rose broadcast during the recent war. She is shown here as court adjourned with Deputy U. S. Marshal Herb Cole behind her and defense attorney Wayne Collins grasping the arm of her chair.

EXES OF TEXAS ARE UPON HER . . . Clyde Harris, Amarillo, Texas, meets his wife, the former Princess Cecilia Victoria Zita Thyra Odolheid Von Hohenzollern, granddaughter of the late Kaiser Wilhelm, on her arrival in New York aboard the Queen Elizabeth. Harris, a former captain of the United States military government in Germany, married the former princess at the ancestral castle in Hechingen, Germany. The former captain and his wife are Texas bound.

LO, THE FOOL FORTMAN! . . . A giant-sized letter calls for a giant-sized pen, says Beverly Nigra in Chicago, who also needed a giant supply of ink when she wrote to President Harry Truman urging that he endorse national letter writing week. It might take a week to write a letter if the stationary and the pen used were this size. However, more letters promote world peace and understanding, Beverly figures.

CURRENTLY MONEYMONGING . . . When this picture was made, the Earl and Countess of Harrowood were in the ocean of a canal in Venice, enjoying their wedding trip. The earl is a son of the British Princess Royal, and his bride, the former Marion Stiles, former American concert pianist. Although his bride is a commoner, the wedding was approved by the king and royal family and the greater part of the British royal family attended the wedding ceremonies.

Ibsen, Shmibsen, She Said; Confide With Me Everything

By BILLY ROSE

I recently read a magazine piece entitled, "What's Wrong with Modern Marriage." In which the author opined that the divorce rate would drop like an over-ripe apple if the average wife showed more interest in her husband's business and hobbies.

Well, maybe so, but you can't prove it by my Uncle Charlie and my Aunt Frieda.

Charlie and Frieda are a couple of oldsters who have been living in a four-room flat on the East Side almost as long as magazines have been printing articles entitled, "What's Wrong with Modern Marriage." Ever since their nuptials, they've had at least one argument a day, and when they stop scrapping that's when I'll start worrying about them.

I remember an evening back in the days when I was knee-high to the Allen Street curbstone when Aunt Frieda came home from the movies with an air of unwavering nobility.

"Charlie," she said tensely, "how is business at the shop, good, bad or fair—to the middle?"

"Eh-neh," answered my uncle.

"Eh-neh," I hasten to translate, means that things being what they are, if a man breaks even he can consider himself a runaway success.

"Eh-neh" is no answer," said Frieda. "I am sick of living in a doll's house."

"I see," said Charlie. "Tonight in the nickelodeon was showing Nazimova in 'A Doll's House' by Hymle Ibsen."

"Ibsen, Shmibsen," said Frieda. "You can't push me out of your life. Confide in me everything, come thick or thin."

"This I'll confide," said Charlie. "When I come home from the shop I'm tired out like a dog. Bad enough I live through the day without it should repeat on me like radishes."

However, with my Aunt Frieda, like Columbus, there was no turning back. She kept picking away until Charlie itemized the day's doings—everything from punch-in to punch-out.

BUT THAT WAS only the beginning. The payoff came a few weeks later when Charlie was fixing to attend his weekly pinocle session.

"I want you should teach me how to play," said Frieda.

"Pinocle!" said Charlie. "Always you are saying pinocle is for loafers and no-goods."

"I ain't saying different," said Frieda, but pinocle is your passion and I don't want it should take my place in your life."

Now, my uncle was a broad-minded man. When women began to bob their hair, his comment was, "They want to ventilate their necks, so let them." But pinocle—well, that was another matter. Nevertheless, he knew better than to talk his wife outright—and, as he explained the game to Frieda, all the while thinking bitterly of the coffeehouse session he was missing, a plot began to hatch in his head.

Next evening he was home early with a bag of wool and knitting needles. "Frieda," he said, "how you make a cable stitch?"

Half an hour later he was in the kitchen tasting the soup. "It needs a pinch paprika," he said.

"You're giving me point-outs how to make soup?"

"Who's teaching? A woman cooks and shops, a husband should similar cook and shop. How much you pay for cabbage?"

"Five cents a head."

"At Fuzarri's on Avenue A, is four cents."

FRIEDA DROPPED a handful of cutlery in the sink. "Fuzarri's is six blocks away."

"So what? The exercise will do you good."

That Saturday night, Charlie persuaded a couple of his cronies to come over for a pinocle session and put up with his wife's playing. At 12 o'clock Frieda said, "I can't keep my eyes apart."

"If no more cable stitches."

"No more pinocle!"

"If no more tasting the soup."

"You got an agreement," said my uncle. And they've been fighting happily ever since.

Maybe you could play three-handed?"

"What kind pinocle player stops so early?" said Charlie. "Deal!" And at 3 a.m., Frieda was dealing them as if they were bricks.

Sunday, Charlie put on his best tie. "Today I go with you to see Theda Bara," he said.

"Is not necessary to go with," said Frieda. "I got a date with the ladies."

"Where you go, I go," said Charlie.

Frieda, afraid Charlie would laugh at Theda's amatory exercises and humiliate her in front of her friends, pulled down the flag. "Marriage is not simple a ball and chain," she said. "You go your way and I'll go to Leow's."

Charlie moved in for the kill. "No more schmoose about the shop?"

offer to exploit their own prowess.

When the shooting was over the range riders went into a huddle. Presently they returned to Johnny. Chuck stuck out his hand. "Mister, we hereby apologize. We know when we're licked."

Johnny grinned. "Well," he said, "I reckon that was Uncle Jim's idea. At first. Then when he found out I was a circus performer he saw a chance to play a joke on you boys. I learned all my stuff in a circus. I got to be pretty good, because I liked the work. In fact, I liked it so well I decided to become a real cowboy. The truth is, I don't know a darned thing about cow-punching and I'd appreciate it a heap if you boys would let me stay and teach me a few things."

"Teach you!" declared Chuck. "Hal Mister, consider yourself 'home."

Columbia will release "All the King's Men" some time near Christmas, to get maximum consideration for Academy Award nomination. Paramount is banking on "The Heiress"; 20th Century-Fox has "Pinky"; Eagle-Lion, "Passport to Pimlico."

Before designing "Mortimer Snerd," CBS' Edgar Bergen spent months in research on phrenology. He made a complete list of all physical characteristics associated with stupidity, then combined them all in "Mortimer."

The University of Denver has adopted Paramount's "My Friend Irma" as the basis of a course in film production and appreciation. The script, still, production and publicity photos/sets used in the picture are being used as visual aids, and sets created by Hans Dreier and Henry Bumstead are on display in the college library.

Lucille Ball is back at RKO, the first time in six years, to make "Easy Living" with Victor Mature. It was at RKO that she met her husband, Desi Arnaz, eight years back, when they were the principals of "Too Many Girls."

Florence Freeman expected to be home awaiting the stork's arrival the last week of September, and the script of "Wendy Warren and the News" was written so as to give the star a vacation. But her son didn't know that in radio everything has to be done right on time. He put off greeting his parents and two sisters until October.

Star Dust STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO By INEZ GERHARD A SINGER has to be something more than just wonderful to make her professional debut on "The Telephone Hour." 29-year-old Barbara Gibson did it September 12, and will be heard again on the program in February. BARBARA GIBSON the broadcast, asked for recordings. Like Lily, Barbara is a coloratura soprano. Unlike her, she's a young American girl—likes to swim and ski, makes her own clothes. Walter McGill, producer of "The Telephone Hour," was at CBS the day she auditioned, heard executives raving about her voice; after hearing her sing he gave her her big chance.

Uncle Sam Says

Thousands of farmers and ranchers all over America are making certain today that their future will be bright and promising by continuing to invest all they can in U.S. Savings Bonds. They realize that this is the safest, surest way to build that financial reserve so necessary to the successful management of a ranch or farm—to provide new buildings, to finance repairs and improvements, to purchase additional livestock and equipment, and to insure a future income on which to retire. Every $15 planted in U.S. Savings Bonds today will grow in just ten years; into $150.
