Fort Stanton

By FRANK E. SMITH

A meeting was held at the Dr. David Cooper home here at 8:30 P. M. Thursday, February 2, for the purpose of discussing grand strategy and tactics for "Operation Peaches," still mysterious. Those present were Clarence Boyd, Tom Burleson, Margarita Chavez, Lawson Finn, Jim Howard, Barbara Howes, Dan Kusanovitch, "Red" Morrell, Bert Minter, Carl Ness, Ruth Ostrander, Leo Payman, Ed White, Henry Sanchez, Nina B. White and Roy E. Whitehead, M. D. Dan Kusanovitch was named chairman and Ed White, for very obvious reasons, (Honest Ed he was known as in those days) was unanimously elected treasurer. To stimulate the "gray matter" of the group an excellent but potent liquor was served. From time to time "Operations Peaches" items will be found in this column.

On Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burleson visited Dr. and Mrs. Don English at Roswell and on Sunday they entertained Mr. and Mrs. Ed Amonette and their daughter, Jean, of Roswell.

Miss Ruth Sikes took time out to attend a county teachers' meeting.

A baby girl weighing eight pounds was delivered at 9 A. M. February 1 to Mrs. Seth "Pancho" Hernandez. The proud father informed me that the little girl's name will be Mary Louise.

Rudy Zamora fell down the stairs at the Captain grade school, injuring himself rather badly, and is at the time of writing in the Marine Hospital.

I was requested by a card company in Boston to stop payment on a check I had sent them as they think it was one of the thousands of checks stolen in the bank's million dollar robbery.

Came a letter the other day from Mrs. Fred Carson (nee Victoria Freeman), a long time subscriber to The Lincoln County News-Outlook, thanking me for writing the doings of the Fort Victoria used to live at Captain and during the war worked here and met Fred Larson, then a patient. Shortly thereafter they were married and moved to San Francisco, where they live in their own home with two little daughters, Victoria and her family are getting along fine and send greetings to their many friends in Lincoln County.

The Bill Browns have a new brown four-door sedan after making a trip to the Chevrolet dealer in Carrizozo. Mrs. Gladys Sutton returned to duty after taking time off for her terminal leave.

It is perfectly all right to call Mrs. Carl Ness "Grandma" as her daughter, Sue, now Mrs. Cliff Durr of El Paso, had a visit from the stork and the baby boy, weighing 8 1/2 pounds, is to be named Gary Arthur. Shortly after the child was born at the South Western General in El Paso, Grandma Flossie Ness paid a call.

Joe A. Gomez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gomez of Lincoln, left Albuquerque February 7 for U. S. Training Station, San Diego, Calif., after successfully passing the physical examination. Good luck, Joe.

Editor George Fitzpatrick showed what he thought of the "Man Jean" article by Dorothy Guck of Capitán by giving it the feature spot in the February New Mexico magazine.

Mrs. Grace Reed is quite an equestrienne, having been more or less born in the saddle. All horses seem to be gentle and quiet with her as far as I can judge.

Carl Ness and Louis Spain were among those who paid me a visit this week.

A number of folks from the Fort attended the wedding of Lucia Melique and Monroe Sanchez of Hondo. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Vito de Baca at St. John the Baptist Church in Lincoln at 8:30 A. M. Saturday, February 4.

Gilbert Barela and Bill Lukech of Socorro, driving a 1939 Chevrolet, were in an accident last Saturday night on Highway 389. William Wills and Frederick Vincent, in a 1938 Chevrolet, were the occupants of the other car. All escaped with minor injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shaw motored to the Cavern City last Saturday and visited Mr. and Mrs. Perry Sears, who now live in Carlsbad.

The Tom Burlesons visited with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burleson Jr. at their home in Monahan, Texas, last weekend.

Having procured a "water tender," Mrs. David Cooper was able to go on a shopping trip with Mrs. Leo Payman to El Paso. Lots of shopping was done until the pocketbooks were getting down low. Dr. David Cooper, the "water tender," was glad to relinquish his job on the return of the lady of the house.

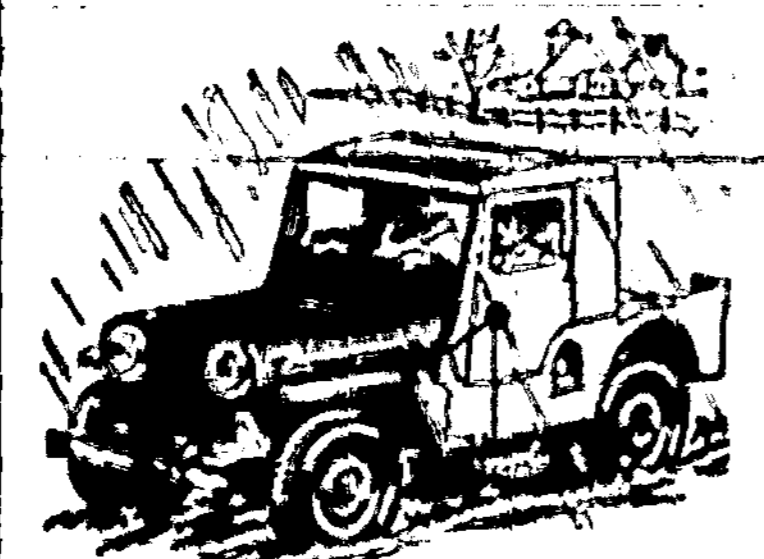

Anyone wishing to subscribe to this paper may do so by contacting me or seeing Flossie Ness at the Fort Stanton Store. Just $2 a year in the state.

Hawaiian Sweet Potatoes Delicious, Easy

For a delicious dinner that's quick and easy to prepare, a platter of hot pre-cooked ham slices with Hawaiian sweet potatoes is an appetizing treat. The ham slices may be served cold, or heated with the sweet potatoes, and you can use two pounds of fresh sweet potatoes, or the canned dry-pack sweet potatoes, prepared according to the recipe below.

The seasoning that really makes the flavor sing in this recipe is pure monosodium glutamate which is sold in grocery stores under the name Accent. Made from beets or wheat, Accent does not add any flavor, color or aroma of its own but instead, intensifies and picks up the good natural flavors of meats, poultry, seafood, vegetables, gravies, sauces and soups. Easy to use, it's packed in red-and-silver canisters, or a red topped glass Accent shaker.

Hawaiian Sweet Potatoes
 3 cups sweet potatoes, mashed
 2 tbsps. butter or margarine
 1/4 tsp. Accent
 1 tsp. salt
 Pineapple juice
 Pineapple rings
 Brown sugar

Heat mashed sweet potatoes, add butter, Accent and salt. Mix well. Add enough pineapple juice to moisten slightly. Arrange pineapple slices in shallow baking pan. Shape sweet potatoes into six balls and place on pineapple rings. Sprinkle tops with brown sugar and dot with butter. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) until hot and lightly browned, 25 to 30 minutes. Make 6 servings.

dent of Capitán, passed away in Roswell on Sunday, February 5. Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church in Capitán and burial in the Capitán Cemetery. He is survived by his widow and child and other relatives.

The American Legion and auxiliary held their respective monthly meetings at the Legion Home Wednesday, February 1. After both meetings adjourned refreshments were served to both Legion and auxiliary members by hostesses Mrs. Frances Shaw and Mollie Fish. The auxiliary held a bake sale Saturday, February 4, at the Titsworth Store.

I extend pity to no man because he has to work. There never has been devised, and there never will be devised, any law which will enable a man to succeed save by the exercise of those qualities which have always been necessary to success—the qualities of hard work, of keen intelligence, of unflinching will.

CORONA NEWS

By MRS. A. E. MULKEY

John Bryan died Tuesday morning after a long illness. He was 77 years of age, and lived with his brother, Lou Bryan, near Corona. The Bryan brothers came to Corona about 1909. Funeral services were held at 10 A. M. Wednesday and interment was at the Corona Cemetery.

Mrs. E. J. Mayhugh received word last week that her mother, Mrs. A. F. Whitstone of Kerrville, Texas, had fallen and broken her hip. Mrs. Mayhugh went at once to be with her mother, and she may remain with her for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hale of Alpine, Texas, and Mrs. Oscar Hale of Hot Springs, N. M., were here last week visiting their grandson and nephew, Randy Gene, Randy Gene was born January 19. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hale of the J. P. Kennedy ranch.

There will be a dance at the Corona School gymnasium on Saturday, February 18, for the benefit of the Catholic Church. Members of the Catholic Church hope to begin work next month on the new church building.

A Sweetheart Banquet will be held Tuesday evening, February 14, at the school gymnasium. About 60 young people of high school age are expected to attend. The banquet is being sponsored by the Baptist Church and the Baptist Women's Missionary Union. A news item handed to us last week stated that "Many Corona patrons are becoming interested in a parent-teacher association for our community." We wonder just who these are who are interested, and what good could be accomplished through an association. We believe we have one of the best schools in the state, and our superintendent and teachers are the best to be found anywhere. If an association would be a benefit to the community, and not just another social to attend, then we are for it.

If you will learn that happiness depends largely upon regarding work as a privilege and an opportunity instead of as a burden and a trial, you will have laid one of the main foundations of success.

Government Costs Less In New Mexico

The citizen of New Mexico bears a lighter tax load for upkeep of state and local governments than does the average citizen of the country, according to a study of the state tax system published this week by two professors of the University of New Mexico.

Dr. Nathaniel Wollman, associate professor of economics, and Professor Ralph L. Edgel, director of the Bureau of Business Research, made the tax study. Entitled, "Patterns of New Mexico State Finance," the 37-page pamphlet was listed as No. 1 in a series on "New Mexico Studies in Business and Economics," to be published by the bureau.

While the study throws a favorable light on cost of government in New Mexico, it also finds that the upper income class bears a relatively smaller share of the tax burden in New Mexico than in the United States generally.

In addition to a number of suggested reforms, the work recommends a study of the state's financial system between now and the convening of the next Legislature; also that a professionally staffed budget bureau be created to provide "valid data and competent advice regarding the state's financial needs and resources."

As one of 21 tables and graphs in the pamphlet, the authors offer a comparative study of the tax burden in New Mexico and in all states as an average, taking in taxes for state, county, local and public school costs for the year 1945.

New Mexico's total cost was $78.07 per capita, the study shows. For all states it averaged $118.87. The study points out that income per capita in New Mexico was 75 per cent of the U. S. average in that year. Adjusting the national income to that of New Mexico, they find that the average cost per person nationally for state and local government still ran $39 compared with New Mexico's levy of $78.07.

While the state tax burden runs higher than the national average in the year selected for study, on an income basis, the cost of local government is considerably less. This, the authors say, indicates that "local governments in New Mexico assume a much smaller share of the responsibility of government than democratic decentralization of power requires," adding that "serious consideration should be given to increasing the revenue of local governments."

Other reforms of the tax structure of New Mexico suggested by the authors include:

Relinquishing the property tax wholly to county and municipal governments;

Increasing the proportion of total income derived from personal income and inheritance taxes;

Keeping property tax assessments current and equal to market value;

Enforcing fairly or giving up taxation of personal property;

Considering a "pay-as-you-go" income tax plan for New Mexico;

Doing away with the earmarking of tax moneys if and when a state budget bureau is established;

Reducing the state debt.

In their study, the authors make a comparison of tax income and expenditure in New Mexico with all of the states and with the state of Wisconsin, whose tax system they label "better than average," adding that it is in distinct contrast to New Mexico's program of public financing.

Greatest difference in the two systems, the authors find, is that New Mexico's takes a larger per cent out of small incomes.

They present a table of tax sources showing that New Mexico derived 69.7 per cent of its taxes from general sales, gasoline, liquor, tobacco and use taxes in the fiscal year 1947, compared with 59.6 per cent in all states and 30.9 per cent in Wisconsin.

Income taxes, on the other hand, provided only 5 per cent of tax revenues in New Mexico in 1947, including taxes paid by both individuals and corporations; compared with 45 per cent in the average state and 41 per cent in Wisconsin.

Foremost among the principles of sound finance, the study asserts, is that the tax burden should be based on "ability to pay," which in turn is determined largely by income.

They question the fairness of the property tax as it operates in New Mexico and point out that it is an inflexible tax whose income does not change with the price level. In 1947 in New Mexico it amounted to $2.5 million, or 7.5 per cent of the state's $32.8 million of tax revenue.

The study shows that the property tax, as the main source of the general fund, fails to keep pace with rising costs of government. During the period 1942-47, when the cost of state government shot up 87.5 per cent, receipts from property taxes increased only 10.5 per cent. To meet such a situation, there must be either higher taxes or new taxes, or money must be borrowed. Thus, at a time of general prosperity and rising prices, the state may be increasing its debt.

In commenting on tax expenditures, the work points out that in 1947 a total of 85.6 per cent of state tax revenue was earmarked for certain departments. Schools got 40.6 per cent, highways 32.4 per cent, public welfare 9.7 per cent; local governments 7 per cent; state police 5 per cent, and the public utility commission, 1.7 per cent.

This left 14.4 per cent for the general fund, or roughly $4.5 million out of total tax revenues of $32.5 million, for all other activities of the state government. As a result, the authors

Vic Vet says

ALWAYS MAIL YOUR GI INSURANCE PREMIUMS PROMPTLY! THAT WILL PROTECT YOU AGAINST LAPSE AND THUS PROTECT YOUR DEPENDENTS, TOO

note, one phase of government may be sadly lacking for funds while another has more than it needs.

Needs of various departments, they assert, change from year to year with changing economic and social conditions. For that reason, they recommend establishment of a state budget bureau.

HOW MUCH FOR CLOTHES?

Americans are the best-dressed people on earth. They spend on the average about 14c out of each dollar of income for clothes and personal care. How much each individual spends depends, of course, on income and personal wants. But people who manage their money well have more funds for clothes and for other things they desire most. Capitan, New Mexico

"No man really becomes misinformed until he stops asking questions."—Charles P. Steinmetz.

Several have inquired of us why we can't get along with less cost in state and local government, and suggest that public welfare, highways and schools take too much of the tax dollar.

This inquiry inspired a search by me of the records to see just how much each department in the state takes and what agencies are getting the biggest cut out of the tax dollar.

Good highways and good public schools are the things we all want and they are costly, as you can see. Surely, in four or five years we should be so caught up with new highway building that we can reduce the cost in terms of millions by reducing the gas tax materially; but we will still have the job of continuous maintenance, of course.

We are actually operating some divisions of state government with less personnel than that of a few years ago, although salaries are up over pre-war days just like all other costs.

In the fiscal year 1912-13, the first year of statehood, for example, it cost less than $4,000,000 to run all local and state agencies in New Mexico. Today we are spending over $30,000,000.

Our public schools are now supported almost wholly at the state level, mostly from the sales tax, incidentally; and, the fact that over $25,000,000 annually is now spent for the support of public schools of the state, as against less than $1,000,000 spent in the first year of statehood, shows how we have expanded our educational program, and are having to pay for these essentials of government.

This great tax increase has been general throughout the nation, of course. In fact, near the turn of the century, the federal government spent for the support of all agencies at the national level only about $1,000,000,000, while today the federal expenditure is about $40,000,000,000 a year.

As a matter of fact, in New Mexico only 18 per cent of the total tax for all purposes is used for all the state agencies proper. This includes salaries for all elected officials and their staffs in the executive, legislative and judicial branches of government.

Figures and statistics are dull reading. I know, but the more we interest ourselves in a study of the facts and figures affecting the operation of the public business the better will we be circumstanced to help in improvement of services and achieving economy.

Hospital Board Extends Thanks to Public

The board of trustees of the Lincoln County Municipal Hospital at Carrizozo sincerely thank the people of the county who so generously donated their money and time to make our hospital a great success both socially and financially.

The silver tea and dance have netted the landscaping fund over $400 to date.

Most especially do we thank the good ladies of our community who donated the sandwiches, cookies, coffee, tea, sugar and energy which made our tea a success.

Of the more than 3,000 counties in the U. S., nearly all are served by county extension agents. Many counties also have home extension agents.

Future Farmers Initiate Green Hands in Capitan

The Collegiate Chapter of the Future Farmers of America motored to Capitan Friday, January 13, to put on a Green Hand Inflation for the Capitan chapter. Fourteen members of the Capitan High School became Green Hands.

The ceremony was performed by the Collegiate Chapter in the presence of the Capitan school assembly. The Capitan FFA Chapter was presented to the chapter by the Collegiate Chapter president, Jim Stalneprals.

A Capitan Chapter Sweetheart was chosen by the Collegiate Chapter members. There were four candidates, one representing each class of the Capitan High School. The senior-class representative, Vada Morgan, was selected.

Superintendent Clark presented the Collegiate Chapter team to the high school assembly and expressed their appreciation of the services of the Collegiate Chapter. R. D. Cox is advisor of the new chapter.

To Observe Founders Day

Founders Day will be observed with a silver tea and program at the regular meeting of the Carrizozo Parent-Teacher Association on February 13 at 7:30 P. M. at the grade school auditorium.

The students of Miss Minnie Neill will present a short program. Mrs. Gloria Poddard will speak on "Founders Day." The girls from the home economics class will feature the skit, "PTA Cornerstones," under the direction of Mrs. J. G. Moore. Omer Spurlock will report on the Southwest regional conference of the National Commission for Defense of Democracy Through Education, which he attended in Phoenix on January 28.

Heart Disease Is Your Business

By HELEN WHITEHEAD

The various forms of diseases of the heart and blood vessels, or to be technical, cardiovascular diseases, took a toll of 628,000 lives in 1947 in the United States, or a greater number than the combined total of the next five leading causes of death. One out of every three deaths is chalked up to some form of heart disease and one out of every 20 persons suffer from some form of the disease. These figures are too sobering and challenging to shrug off with any real assurance that "this can't happen to me."

The nearest contender for the title of the nation's No. 1 killer in the 1947 statistics, which is the last year for which complete figures are available, was cancer with 190,000 deaths, accidents next with 100,000, nephritis 80,000, pneumonia 62,000 and tuberculosis in sixth place with 48,000 deaths.

Fifty years ago the story was different when tuberculosis, the great white plague, was the top killer. During that period this killer fell from a tragic preeminence as the nation's No. 1 killer to be replaced by diseases of the heart. Americans, spared death in infancy and childhood, live on the average to around 67, which brings other problems such as an aging population. Our lengthened span of life is partially due to the high incidence of heart disease, for never before have we had so many middle-aged and old people in our population.

Fifty years ago most physicians diagnosed all ailments of the pumping apparatus as "heart disease," and a pronouncement of "heart disease" was the equivalent of a death sentence. Many took to their beds or cut their activity to near nothing in order to hold the grim reaper at bay. Years of scientific investigation have accurately defined 21 distinct types of heart disease. Leading the list by a wide margin and accounting for 80 per cent of the total deaths are rheumatic, hypertensive and coronary heart disease.

Rheumatic heart disease, caused by rheumatic fever, is the leading cause of death in childhood. It kills almost five times as many youngsters as infantile paralysis, whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and cerebrospinal meningitis combined. It is estimated that 1,000,000 people in the United States today are suffering from rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease. During the last war more than 40,000 young men were immobilized because of rheumatic fever and the bill for compensation and care of these veterans alone will soar into millions of dollars. This type usually starts after the age of 5 and may recur one or more times. Because of advance in preventive treatment, the average rheumatic heart disease patient, under good medical care, can lead a normal life for many years and if the results from the use of the new Cortizone and ACTH are favorable, rheumatic heart disease may even be prevented.

High blood pressure, or hypertension, is the most common cause of heart disease in middle age. Hypertension throws an additional load on the heart, causing it to wear out much too early in life.

Coronary heart trouble, which is another disease of the middle aged, is the result of hardening (arteriosclerosis) of the coronary artery. This condition is sometimes referred to as coronary occlusion or thrombosis, which means there is something plugging the artery. Since the heart muscle depends on the coronary arteries to supply nourishment, it is apparent that an obstruction can be serious. The severity of the attack depends on whether the main trunk of the artery or one of its branches are involved. The latter is the more common and not necessarily fatal. There may be good news for these sufferers, too, if the new drug "Tromexan," now being tested by Doctors Irving Wright and Grafton Burke at the Cornell Medical School, lives up to their expectations. Working under a grant from the American Heart Association, Dr. Wright says that this new anti-clotting agent is definitely superior to any other medicine taken by mouth to reduce complications following coronary occlusion.

The problems of heart disease takes a heavy toll in sickness and disability as well as death. It drains business of brain power, often striking down thousands of men and women in their prime just when they are beginning to make their richest contribution to society. The economic cost of heart disease is staggering in terms of loss of life, absenteeism, disability, loss of gainful employment and care and treatment programs. An estimated 152,100,000 work days, or billions of dollars in productivity are lost each year because of heart and blood vessel diseases.

We are a nation of donors. In 1922 a group of America's foremost cardiologists formed the American Heart Association to fight heart disease in a planned, scientific manner. Later it was reorganized into a national voluntary agency, with local affiliates in major areas of the U. S. which marked a significant step forward by providing leadership and a national program. The establishment by act of Congress of the National Heart Institute in the U. S. Public Health Service reflects the growing interest and concern of the government with this major health problem. The American Heart Association has developed a plan of action geared to the precise nature of the problem with the first line of attack in scientific research, education with new knowledge which

A radically new idea in electric range design has been introduced by F.igidaire in this compact, 30-inch "Thrifty-30" model equipped with a giant oven that stretches clear across the porcelain-finished cabinet. The big oven will bake six pies or 10 loaves of bread at once, and is heavily insulated for most economical operation. In addition, this smartly-styled range is equipped with four new "flat-top" cooking units, a waist-high broiler and automatic oven controls, cooking lamp, appliance outlet and super-size utensil drawer.

Legion Auxiliary to Raise Funds for Sick Room

The American Legion Auxiliary in Lincoln County is sponsoring a drive through the Western Farm Magazine to raise funds to purchase sick room equipment for this county.

Mrs. Mabel Vigil, president of Benjamin T. Berry Unit 11, Carrizozo, reports that through the purchase of Western Farm Life subscriptions, sold at regular prices in Lincoln County, the auxiliary will receive funds to be applied toward buying sick room equipment.

Mrs. Vigil stated any sick room equipment which may be purchased as a result of this drive will be loaned free-of-charge-to-any-needy-person-in Lincoln County.

Nineteen fifty wool parity prices should be increased about 6 per cent over recent support levels, due largely to allowance for cost of farm labor.

INDEPENDENTS DEFEAT TULAROSA TOWN TEAM

The Lions sponsored Independents defeated the Tularosa town team here on February 3 by a close score of 39-37. The local team took the lead in the first 30 minutes of play and was leading 17-10 at the end of the half. Tularosa picked up speed in the latter half and by the fourth quarter, it was nip and tuck between the two teams for first place. Luck was with the Independents, however, and when the final whistle blew, they had chalked up another victory. The star of the Tularosa team was B. Sheppard with a total of 20 points, 14 of which were made during the second half.

Insurance calls for foresight

Maybe it takes a pessimist—or at least a realist—to foresee the need for complete insurance protection.

But there is nothing that will do as much to make an optimist out of anybody as insurance. For insurance absolutely wipes out many fears.

For example: any boiler or hotwater system can pop its seams any minute... so a wise man pessimistically imagines such a misfortune and optimistically purchases inexpensive America Fore insurance to protect himself against it. Let's talk this over.

This program protects you and your family by assuring the best possible cardiac services. It gives you the benefit of latest research, and newest knowledge about the care, treatment and prevention of heart disease.

Every year for the past several years, February has been set aside as "Heart Month" by the American Heart Association. This year they have launched a campaign to raise $6,000,000 to continue the war against the first horseman of death, America's No. 1 killer—heart disease. This figure $6,000,000 is significant and worth remembering, because according to the experts, it is predicted that this number will eventually die of some form of heart disease.

Watch for the big yellow posters of the American Heart Association which appeal for your help and the large red plastic hearts in your local stores and shops, where you can drop in your dimes and your dollars to help keep our men in whose peering through their high-powered microscopes, listening to the irregular beating of the fluttering hearts and watching the moving finger of the electro-cardiograph or EKG, write its record of doom or hope. Open your heart, give to fight heart disease.

Anon's Interpretation Of Pessimist, Optimist

In Carrizozo, a pessimist is one who believes that soon the SP will have only wheels on this branch, and that the town water system will be abandoned, that the passenger trains will stop on signal only, that "zoo" will be discontinued as a division point, that the merchants will curiously miss the SP payroll.

A Carrizozo optimist is one who believes U. S. 54 will soon be completely paved north of here, that thousands upon thousands of cars will soon be pouring through "zoo" on the way to Mexico City via Juarez, that the situation of U. S. 53 and U. S. 54 will require stop-and-go lights, that the Malpais can be turned into one of the Southwest's great tourist attractions. A Carrizozo cynic is one who doesn't care what happens.

Why doesn't Father Barna offer introduction, in these columns, to the good sisters who staff the parish school? All we know about them is that they are hard-working, capable women from a Lithuanian mother house in Chicago, and that their splendid efforts are greatly appreciated by all parents of students.

Incidentally, not many folks know that the little Father was an outstanding athlete, particularly in basketball, in his preparatory school days. He also is a better-than-average swimmer. During the past week Father Barna has had his younger sister from Las Vegas as a guest. She is a graduate dental nurse.

The town officials are reported to have experienced some difficulty in collecting the proper license fees due from several merchants for 1950. Just as a friendly suggestion, why don't the town dads release for publication in this paper the amounts paid? It's no secret, for the amount appears on each town license which must be prominently displayed. Publicity on a matter of this kind might make the collection job easier, and spur more accurate computations of the one-
