Rites Held For Joseph F. Petty

Friends and acquaintances in Lincoln County were shocked and saddened to learn of the death of Joseph Franklin Petty, 63, on June 16 at Hot Springs.

Mr. Petty, a retired merchant, who was born March 23, 1887, in Gaston, Ind., had been a resident of this community for the past 16 years. He was in failing health for several months prior to his death.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon, June 19, at the Carrizozo Trinity Methodist Church, with Rev. O. J. Rainey, Fort Stanton, officiating.

The beautiful floral pieces which covered and surrounded his casket were mute testimony of the esteem in which Mr. Petty was held by his fellowmen.

Favorite hymns of the deceased were played during the services by L. W. Snider.

Interment was at Cedarvale Cemetery, White Oaks, with Louis Hoffman, Dan Chavez, Fay Harkey, Louis Nalda, W. W. Gallacher and Price Miller serving as pallbearers.

Survivors in the immediate family include the widow, Mrs. Beatrice M. Petty, Carrizozo; one daughter, Mrs. Ruth Grantham, Republic, Wash., and three sons, Vernon, mayor of Carrizozo; Ralph and Jesse Petty, also of Carrizozo. Relatives from out of town who attended the funeral were George Petty, Bakerfield, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Petty, Mesa, Ariz.; and Mrs. Ruth Grantham, Republic, Wash.

The late Mr. Petty was the son of Thomas W. and Emma L. Petty, and came to the Southwest as a young man. On November 14, 1910, he married Beatrice M. Crow, Phoenix, Ariz., and they resided in El Paso from 1914 to 1918, moving to Alamogordo in 1919. They maintained a residence there until 1933 when they came to Carrizozo.

During his residence in Alamogordo, Mr. Petty was active in civic affairs and he and Mrs. Petty were much in demand as vocalists at numerous church and social affairs. The senior Pettrys have been active members in Presbyterian church work.

The deceased was employed for a number of years as manager of the Southwest Lumber Company Commissary, Alamogordo. At one time the elder Pettrys also operated a hotel at High Rolls.

T. E. Kelleys Return From Texas Vacation

The T. E. Kelleys, Carrizozo, returned June 9 from a 10-day vacation trip which included stops in Midland, Dublin, Grandview, Alvarado, Dallas and Fort Worth, Texas.

At the majority of their stops, they visited relatives of Mrs. Kelley, but in Dublin were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kelley, uncle and aunt of Mr. Kelley.

Mr. Kelley's uncle is 84 years of age, and he and his wife recently celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary.

Carrizozo Republicans To Entertain Victory Caravan

The Carrizozo Republican Women's Club will honor members of the Republican Victory caravan with a buffet luncheon at 12:30 P. M. on June 28 at the local fire hall.

Mrs. Meyer Barnett is chairman and assisting her on the committee are: Mesdames J. G. Moore, Roy E. Shafer, William Gallacher, R. E. Lemon, J. H. Fulmer, Leandro Vega and Marvin Roberts.

State Party Chairman John W. Knorr has announced the caravan will visit 80 cities and towns in every county of the state on their fact finding tour. gubernatorial Candidate Edwin L. Mechem and Paul Larrazolo, candidate for lieutenant governor, will accompany Knorr on the entire trip.

The group will meet informally in the afternoon and the public is invited to join them in discussion.

The members of the caravan plan to spend that night in Alamogordo and go to Ruidoso the following day.

Local Boy Chosen Boys State Representative

Bob Powelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Powelson, Carrizozo, was chosen state representative for the year 1950 at the recent Boys State held in Portales June 4-13.

He also won second place in sports and brought home three ribbons for football, basketball and baseball.

During their week's stay in Portales, the boys were given a course in law enforcement, and upon completion of it, were given an examination. Bob made a grade of 92 per cent in this examination.

Young Powelson's trip was sponsored by the local Lions Club, and he is happy to have had the opportunity to attend Boys State. This organization is a project of the American Legion, designed to give outstanding junior students in New Mexico high schools actual experience in the conduct of public office.

The boys set up their own municipal and state governments, hold campaigns and elections, and operate the offices of a week. Outstanding governmental authorities serve as advisors.

Bob stated the experience is well worth the time and no boy should miss the opportunity. He enjoyed the experience tremendously.

Bob, who is working for Albert Seay, Carrizozo fencing contractor, during the summer months, plans to leave with his father July 1 for Livingston, N. J. They will spend two weeks there visiting Bob's sister, Mrs. Roger Munsee (nee Virginia Powelson).

New Mexico Ranchers To Teach Ranching

"Citizens are giving New Mexico school teachers some competition," according to an announcement by Roy Forehand, president of the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association.

Four leading New Mexico ranchmen have agreed to give a course in "Ranching and Livestock Production on Private Lands" at colleges in Albuquerque, Silver City, Fortales and Las Vegas. The lectures are in connection with regular summer classes for teachers and classes have been arranged under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Bush Jones of the U. S. Forest Service in cooperation with Charles L. Rose, superintendent of public instruction.

Citizens assisting include George F. Ellis, Bell Ranch; Bud Williams, Clovis, and Homer Berkshire, Estancia.

J. S. Culbertson, Lordsburg, will conduct a class on his ranch in Hidalgo County near Lordsburg. The class will travel by bus to ranch headquarters.

Grace Morris Awarded Certificate of Merit

The proud possessor of a certificate of merit awarded by New Mexico Girls State is Grace Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morris, Carrizozo. She is also wearing the blue and gold pin, symbol of her participation in the third annual session of this organization to promote better understanding of government by the youth of New Mexico, held in Portales June 11-18.

Girls State is sponsored by American Legion Auxiliary, Department of New Mexico, and Eastern New Mexico University, Portales.

Miss Morris reports a delightful if strenuous week of observing how government actually functions by participating in the running of a make believe governmental agency.

The group of girls selected to attend the Portales sessions were initiated into the functioning of state, county and municipal governments to give them a better understanding and promote a keen interest in good government.

The Carrizozo girl was assigned to serve as city attorney for Sandia. She won her first case only to have it appealed to the Supreme Court.

Other Lincoln County girls attending the Portales sessions last week were Sue Griffin, Green Tree; Shirley M. Morgan, Captain; and Marjorie Titworth, Tinalandia.

John Henry Foster Succumbs Saturday

A resident in the vicinity of Carrizozo for the past 16 years, John Henry Foster, 81, succumbed June 17 at 5 P. M. in the local hospital.

Mr. Foster had been in failing health for about a year. He remarked to a friend a few days prior to his demise he had put all his trust in the Lord Jesus Christ.

Funeral services were held June 20 at 2 P. M. at the T. E. Kelley Funeral Home with Rev. Jesse F. Allen of the First Baptist Church officiating. Interment was at Evergreen Cemetery, Carrizozo.

Born October 15, 1869 at Chattanooga, Tenn., Mr. Foster moved to Texas as a young man, settling in Vernon. He married Eula Jones Shankles September 8, 1907. They moved to New Mexico in 1931 and since then most of his time had been spent on ranches nearby Carrizozo. At his death, he owned several horses which were greatly prized by him.

Mr. Foster served with the United States Army during the Spanish-American War.

He is survived by his wife, Eula B. Foster, Carrizozo; a son, Orville Foster, Vernon, Texas; two daughters, Mrs. Alcega Dean, Garfield, N. M., and Mrs. Audrey Wilson, Carrizozo; a step-son, Elmer Shankles, Gentry, Ark., and 11 grandchildren.

Central New Mexico REA Coop To Let Bids

Bids for the construction of transmission and distribution lines in the C Section are to be let around the middle of July. The contractors are already coming in and riding over the proposed lines in preparation for their bids.

The major portion of the lines in C Section lie in the Estancia Valley, however, there are some lines in the Corona area and west of Mountainair to Abo and Scholle.

Manager Carl H. Johnson of Mountainair said:

"It is planned to stipulate in the contract for the C Section that the contractor use local capable labor living in this area. The successful bidder's name will be published. People desiring work must make their application with the contractor. Please do not leave your application with us, as this matter will be handled by the contractor. Work is progressing very nicely on the lines from Corona to Vaughn, Knobs and Pastura."

Janet Mae Shafer Weds D. E. Young

In a quietly beautiful home ceremony, Janet Mae Shafer and Donald E. Young repeated their vows before Rev. John L. Lawson of Albuquerque, Saturday afternoon, June 17, and exchanged wedding rings.

Baskets of white carnations against a background of greenery formed the improvised altar in front of which had been set white lighted tapers.

As the guests assembled, Mrs. Ann Eaker Hest sang "My Faith in Thee" and "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Japne Shafer, who also played the traditional Wedding March.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ankle length gown of white all over embroidered organza, fastened with a tightly fitted bodice and full circular skirt. Other details were the V-neckline, cap sleeves and tiny covered buttons which fastened the back down to the waistline. Her tiered veil of illusion hung from a halo of the same material.

She wore white lace mitts and carried a white Bible covered with white roses and an orchid from which cascaded streamers of white satin.

For her traditional "something old," the bride wore a gold locket belonging to her mother and which is an old family heirloom. Her ear rings were borrowed, and her something new and something blue was a garter made by her mother-in-law.

Barbara Jean Brannum, maid of honor, wore a gown of lavender organza with white lace Dutch style cap and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Jack Holly, Longmont, Colo., served as best man. Immediately following the ceremony, approximately 100 guests gathered at the Woman's Club House to wish the newlyweds happiness. The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth and centered with an all white four-tiered cake mounted by a miniature bride and groom. The cake, a work of art, was made by Mrs. Zane Petty.

Mrs. Patty Stephenson was in charge of the guest book, and Mesdames Johnson Stearns, J. B. Howell, sisters of the bride, and Kelley Stephenson served champagne and cake to the guests.

The young couple left immediately after the reception on a honeymoon trip to Grand Canyon. They will return to Carrizozo on June 22 for a few days before leaving for Santa Fe where Mr. Young will do some work for his company prior to traveling on to Denver, their future home.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Shafer chose a champagne colored dress, red accessories and wore a red carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue sheer with blue accessories, and wore a red carnation corsage.

Out-of-town guests for the ceremony included Mr. and Mrs. Carl Young, Jack Holly and Dwayne Leonard, all of Longmont, Colo.

Many pre-nuptial courtesies have been extended the new Mrs. Young, including showers by Mesdames Kelley Stephenson and R. E. Lemon; a dinner by Mrs. Clarence Sparkman, and a breakfast by Mrs. Will Ed Harris.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Shafer of Carrizozo, is a graduate of the local high school and is now enrolled at Central Business College, Denver. Young, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Young, Longmont, Colo., is a graduate of Longmont High School and attended the University of Colorado. He served in World War II as an air cadet in the U. S. Army, and is presently employed by Harry H. Herman, heating and ventilating engineers, Denver.

Before their departure, the bride gave her maid of honor a boncho belt, and the best man was presented with a silver belt buckle by the bridegroom.

Local Team Defeated, 2-1

Al's Super Market defeated the Carrizozo baseball team, 2 to 1, June 18, at Socorro to win the last game of the series. The first game was won in 10 innings by Carrizozo on the local diamond. The local team will meet the Alamogordo Air Base nine June 25 at Carrizozo.

Federal Engineers Aid State In Water Studies

Federal assistance has gone to the attack of New Mexico's water problems with the announcement that a staff of Reclamation Bureau engineers will assist the state's Water Resources Development Board.

The federal bureau's action was a result of a request by Robert McKinney, chairman of the state's Economic Development Commission and Water Resources Development Department of the Interior for "the full-time services of technicians qualified in the fields to be covered."

McKinney said activities of the technicians will be aimed at planning the best usage and development of the state's existing surface waters and known underground basins.

Another phase of the research is under way at the New Mexico School of Mines, where rain-making techniques are under scrutiny. There, a group headed by School resident Dr. E. J. Workman and Nobel Prize winning scientist Dr. Irving Langmuir, are conducting experiments to increase rainfall by cloud modifications.

Grant of an additional $15,000 to the School of Mines project was announced by McKinney. It comes after a $7,500 allocation June 3 by the Economic Development Commission. Of the latest grant, $10,000 comes from the governor's emergency fund and $5,000 from the EDC. The school will receive the money about July 1.

Commenting on the addition of new talent to the water resources expert, McKinney declared the EDC expects their work to be highly important in solving the water problems.

Dr. Workman has received information the School of Mines will receive two advances of federal funds for plan preparation for two projects, one advance in the amount of $3,000 for construction of a laboratory and office building and one advance in the amount of $1,500 for construction of a golf course and recreational area.

The advance of $3,000 will be used for the preparation of detailed drawings and specifications for the construction of the laboratory and office building, comprising approximately 8,500 square feet, to be used by the New Mexico Bureau of Mines and Mineral Resources, a department of the New Mexico School of Mines. The advance of $1,500 will be used for preparation of detailed drawings and specifications for the construction of a nine-hole golf course and recreational area. According to the applications filed with the Community Facilities Service, E. W. Adams, architect for the New Mexico School of Mines, will prepare the plans and specifications.

Construction is expected to start in September, 1950, with an estimated cost of $80,000 for the laboratory and office building, and $62,000 for the golf course and recreational area.

Community Facilities Service representative for New Mexico is C. A. Brannum, with headquarters in Santa Fe.

Colorado Quarter Horse Race Meet June 28-29-30

The Rocky Mountain Quarter Horse Futurity for 1947 foals will be finished at Kremmling, Colo., this year June 28-29-30 July 1 when the 3-year-olds will run as a part of the four-day race program sponsored by the Rocky Mountain Quarter Horse Association. The 1948 foals will also have their days at this race meet, running 330 yards in the "Baby Trials" carrying 120 pounds.

Middle Park track at Kremmling where the race will be run is equipped with partitioned and photofinish and has been turned over to the Quarter Horse Association by the Middle Park Fair Association.

The quarter horse races, sometimes dubbed the most "truly western type races," will attract a large crowd this year, since the dates do not conflict with Centennial in Denver or Cheyenne's famed events. Purses are expected to total over $6,000 at the REMQA events.

Water Shortage Still Exists In Part Of City

Although a water shortage still exists in the southeast sector of Carrizozo, the situation in the town proper has improved. Reports indicate some portions of the southeast section are entirely without water for long periods, while other portions have it only at times.

An article in the Albuquerque Journal on June 17 reported Southern Pacific's division superintendent, P. D. Robinson, as insisting there was no water shortage in Carrizozo, and that the railroad pumps so much through the pipelines, and if towns along the line use too much the levels of the reservoirs drop and water must be rationed. He is quoted in this article as saying, "However, there is still plenty of water in Bonita and other dams."

Robinson is also reported as stating the railroad supplies only surplus water from the dams to communities along its route and the communities distribute it.

F. A. Page, water supervisor for Southern Pacific's Rio Grande division, was quoted in the June 17 issue of the El Paso Times as saying the town will be able to use as much water as it needs when repairs to the reservoir are completed. He was also quoted as saying if a water shortage existed in Carrizozo it was caused by the residents' inability to conserve water by cutting down on unnecessary usage.

Carrizozo's mayor, Vernon Petty, was reported in the Times June 17 issue as having pledged cooperation with Southern Pacific in conserving water. The Times article quoted him, "We won't ration water unless it becomes absolutely necessary, but we will conserve as much as possible."

According to reliable sources, the leaks in the reservoir have been causing the city the loss of more water than it is using. It is this reservoir that is now being repaired.

At press time, Mayor Petty was contacted regarding reports of lack of water in some portions of the southeast section. Petty said he hadn't heard about it, but suggested The News-Outlook contact Lawrence Queen, local utilities superintendent, who would render any possible assistance.

Queen, upon questioning, explained there was danger of turning off water in the main part of town to get it to all parts of the southeast section, inasmuch as air pockets would develop, and in case of fire the city could not get water until all the air pockets were out of the lines. He stated the entire town has fire protection as they can turn on an emergency pump to get pressure to the southeast section also, but there isn't enough water for all the town at present and the lower part of town gets the water, and there isn't sufficient pressure for all of the upper portion of town to receive it.

Queen said the city has been hauling water in tanks to residents who were without it, and will continue to do so upon request.

F. A. Page, water supervisor of the Southern Pacific's Rio Grande Division, was quoted in the El Paso papers on June 16 as stating repairs to the reservoir would be completed in another week.

The Lights Go On Again All Over Carrizozo

The local town's street lights came back on this week. Lawrence Queen, local power plant superintendent, reports the large motor that has been down for several weeks undergoing repairs is now back in operation.

Local residents were urged to conserve on power during the period of emergency, and street lights were shut off alternately by sections.

From what information The News-Outlook can obtain, it will be 10 days or more before repairs are completed at the reservoir. However, reliable sources inform us that adequate repairs are being made as rapidly as possible and that we should have plenty of water then.

It appears (again this information comes from reliable sources) the present water situation has been building up over a period of several years to the point that because of leaks in the reservoir, more water is being wasted than is used in Carrizozo.

We are glad to learn Southern Pacific officials are attempting to remedy Carrizozo's serious water problem, and we urge that the job not be rushed through to the end the repairs are not properly completed. We feel sure all Carrizozo citizens are willing to share and share alike, and that they do not want the southeast sector to be denied water from the city mains while the rest of town appears to have sufficient to meet their needs.

The work ordered done by top Southern Pacific officials is a highly commendable action and we are grateful for their efforts to stop the waste of water and alleviate our suffering. There is no doubt in our minds these top officials were unaware of our situation until it was called to their attention and their prompt response is extremely gratifying. We are sure these officials would be the last persons in the world to allow any waste of water to continue when Federal and state governments and private individuals are investing many thousands of dollars in the study and research work of automating and water resources in New Mexico.

As in all large companies, there are always employees who apparently are little concerned with the welfare of their employers or their fellowmen. The negligence of a few can harm many, but the Southern Pacific heads are aware now of our serious situation here in Carrizozo, and we believe they will do everything in their power to alleviate our suffering.

We cannot help but think our own city officials have been dilatory in respect to our water problem. If it is true Carrizozo has been confronted with this situation in previous years, on many local residents tell us, and that the reservoir has leaked for sometime, we should like to know what, if anything, was done by the city dads to enlist the aid of the Southern Pacific officials in remedying the matter.

We questioned several city officials and were astounded at their replies. One said: "We will go along on a conservation basis" — how can the people in the southeast conserve what they do not have? Another said he'd heard about their shortage over across the tracks, but didn't know what was being done.

Another flatly denied there was lack of water in that sector despite evidence to the contrary. We in Carrizozo proper suffered not at all when compared to the travail of our neighbors in the southeast section. One thing these men were apparently agreed upon, was their fear of antagonizing the Southern Pacific.

The News-Outlook is not afraid of top Southern Pacific officials — we know that men who have reached the heights these men have are not mean, small-souled individuals who would suddenly deprive small helpless Carrizozo of their only water supply. We are not afraid to take our chances with men of their calibre.

We don't expect the impossible of Southern Pacific. We want an adequate supply of water and we want to know what we can do to secure it. Other towns have found ways and means — Carrizozo now stands on the crossroads to growth and progress, or the road that leads nowhere.

Artificial breeding associations in the U. S. have made considerable progress in the past 10 years. Ten years ago, there were less than 3,000 herds, but today there are 372,888 herds in three artificial breeding associations.

Cemetery Association Is Formed In White Oaks

A group of citizens met recently at the Ladies' Aid Hall in White Oaks to organize a cemetery association.

The following officers and board of directors were elected: Bryan Lightower, Anelio, chairman; Mrs. Leonard Whitwell, White Oaks, co-chairman; R. E. Lemon, Carrizozo, secretary and treasurer. Board of directors: Robert Leslie Sr., Captain, chairman; William Gallacher, Carrizozo; Don Queen, White Oaks; Reed Sherrill, Carrizozo; Orris Smith, Captain; R. A. Crenshaw, White Oaks, D. L. Jackson, custodian of cemetery.

The purpose of the association is to enlarge, fence and improve the cemetery at White Oaks. More than $100 was raised at the meeting.

Many former prominent citizens of Lincoln County are interred there, including William C. McDonald, once governor of New Mexico; John Y. Hewitt and Dr. N. G. Paden.

Any interested persons wishing to contribute to this cause will please mail their donations to R. E. Lemon, Carrizozo.

Lower Tax Rates

With the increased assessments of property throughout the state, there should be lower tax rates. It has been the declared objective of the revaluation project to bring about uniformity in assessments rather than to obtain increased revenues. Property owners should, therefore, insist on a reduction in the tax rates for all purposes.—New Mexico Tax Bulletin.

Petroleum Peggy Says

Here's a tip for spring and summer days that means more outdoor activity for all of us. Stock up on some absorbent paper towels for the kitchen and bathroom. They will save money and work.

Just put a handy roll of package of paper towels where they can be grabbed easily by dripping hands and you'll be amazed at the results.

What do you think is used to make paper absorbent? Something you least expect to attract water—petroleum. Oil turns up in many unexpected places, doing some job that makes life easier, better and more comfortable for all of us.

Warm weather prompts many people to get out road maps, travel folders and—bank books. For them, it means vacations are not far off—and plans must be made in advance.

This year, according to one magazine survey, average middle income Americans on vacation will travel greater distances and spend more money "getting away from it all" than ever before. The survey, covering 2,500,000 families with incomes averaging $3,970 annually, showed plans to travel an average of 1,630 miles and spend $270 on vacation trips in 1950. This is 831 miles and $60 more than the same group reported for 1949.

As usual, the automobile is the most popular method of vacation traveling. The airplane is second choice, especially for longer distances.

World War II Widows Eligible Home Loans

Unmarried widows of veterans who died as the result of service in World War II may now obtain VA guarantees on GI home, farm, and business loans. Gen. A. Robens, manager of the VA regional office in Albuquerque, announced he had received instructions from Washington implementing this amendment to the GI loan provision contained in the recently enacted Housing Act of 1950.

Eligibility requires the veteran must have served in the armed forces at some period between September 16, 1940, and July 25, 1947, and his death must have been the result of service while on duty, or from service connected causes following discharge. An additional condition is that the widow must not have remarried following the veteran's death.

Widows who are eligible for GI loan benefits by virtue of their own service in the armed forces receive no additional benefits as widows.

One of the recent amendments authorized VA to make direct loans to eligible for home purchases after July 19, 1950, in localities where mortgage financing at 4 per cent interest is not available.

Big Reduction In Freight Damage Claims

Claims for loss and damage to freight handled by Southern Pacific's western lines were reduced by more than 50 per cent last year as compared with the previous year. Len Mayrisch, the railroad's manager of freight protection and station service, said today.

In pointing out the effectiveness of his company's continuing campaign aimed at safer handling of freight shipments, Mayrisch gave much credit to shippers and the railroad's employees. All concerned, he said, are joining in the movement for stronger packaging, better loading and more careful movement of shipments. He said the company's heavy expenditure for new rolling stock and new facilities has helped materially.

Southern Pacific has invested millions of dollars in mechanizing its handling of less than carload shipments and in developing protective containers of superior design. The company gives free packaging and loading advice to shippers, maintains a laboratory for testing materials, and has impact registers on many cars. Its operating officers confer at least once a month with employees directly concerned with freight protection, Mayrisch explained.

Your State Government
 By Thomas J. Mabry, Governor
 "A certain amount of opposition is helpful to a man; kites rise against, and not with, the wind."—Hamilton Wright Mable.

The present administration is particularly proud of its accomplishments in the field of alcoholic beverage control. The three year record is marked by two highly important changes in the liquor license regulatory policies of the past.

The first significant change was the establishment of a policy calling for heavy restrictions on the issuance of all new liquor licenses. Secondly, although not required by law to do so, we have made every effort to give the cities and counties a controlling voice in all liquor license matters affecting their own communities by always having the favorable recommendations of the local authorities before issuance.

Admiral W. K. Phillips Heads 8th Naval District

NEW ORLEANS—Rear Admiral William K. Phillips, USN, last week became commandant of the Eighth Naval District, succeeding Captain Thomas L. Lewis, USN.

The Eighth Naval District command includes regular and reserve installations, excepting naval air activities, in New Mexico, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas.

Admiral Phillips graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1917. A native of Tennessee, he commanded the USS Oakland, anti-aircraft cruiser, during most of World War II. Later he commanded cruiser divisions 15 and 18 and became commander of all Atlantic fleet destroyers before going to Guantanamo Bay.

Mrs. J. E. Griggs, Saline, Texas, writes to renew her subscription and says receiving the paper is like having friends visit her each week.

and transfer of licenses. If they do not approve, no license issues.

On January 6, 1947, a few short days after taking office, a temporary "freeze" was placed on all new licenses pending a statewide survey of the need for additional liquor outlets. As a result of this survey, a permanent moratorium on all new licenses was put into effect and no licenses were issued for one year. After the moratorium was lifted very few licenses were issued and only after careful consideration of the requests from local governmental bodies. This represented a sharp break with regulatory practices of the past.

At the beginning of the administration of my predecessor in office, there were a total of 758 liquor licenses of all classes outstanding. This includes dispenser, retailer and club licenses. At the close of that administration the total had been increased by 329 additional licenses giving a new total of 1,087 active licenses.

The 329 additional licenses issued by that administration is to be compared with the 102 new licenses issued by your present administration in three and one-half years. Of these, 33, or approximately one-third of the total, were club licenses issued in the main to organizations made up of returning World War II veterans.

We have broken the regulatory policies of the past by giving the recommendations of local governing bodies absolute control in deciding if a new license should be issued in their home districts. We feel that the legislature intended that those affected have a say as to the location and number of liquor licenses to be issued in their midst. So great has been the weight that we attached to the recommendations from local government that we have invariably had the favorable recommendation of local authorities before issuance of a new license. And in some cases we have declined to issue a new license, even with the approval of local governing officials, where we felt there were already enough people in this business, at such places.

In my messages to the legislature in both sessions, I asked that body to consider some reform in the matter both of issuance of licenses and policing the industry. I think there should be some restraint of law and limitation on numbers to be licensed, rather than to leave so much to the discretion of the bureau in charge. This is something for the next legislature to consider.

HOW THE PLOTTERS WORK

It has been difficult for the American mind to accept the fact that for many years there has been at work in America a well organized, adequately financed and shrewdly directed Communist conspiracy to destroy our form of government.

This fuzzy thinking has even prevailed in some quarters despite the repeated statements of FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover branding the Communist plotters for what they are, and in spite of the New York jury verdict finding 11 top American Communist Party leaders guilty of teaching the violent overthrow of our government.

Of special significance was Mr. Hoover's statements that the Communists have made "amazing strides" in gaining a foothold in the legal profession and are now concentrating on strengthening their position among the unions in America's heavy, strategic industries and in our highly important media of communications such as the newspapers, the magazines, radio, movies, television, etc.

Even while the FBI chief was thus trying again to alert the nation to the Communist internal menace, another crusade, almost identical to Communism in its basic objective, was being carried on in our country in a highly organized way.

Many Americans who found it difficult to accept the facts of the Communist conspiracy until the traitors and spies began to be rooted out of our federal government find it still more difficult to understand that the efforts of the present Socialist planners would have the same effect on our form of government.

In England the Fabian Socialists who gained control of that country didn't reveal their actual intentions until after they had taken over the Labor Party; and even then they labelled their objective not as a "Socialist State" but as "The Welfare State."

trate various political, social, governmental and labor groups. Out Of The Bag The Socialist Planners have been burrowing into the fabric of our nation's life for more than 25 years.

The Socialist plan is to infiltrate both American political institutions and American minds. In the institutions, they establish Socialist policies and practices so gradually hardly anyone is aware; and through infiltration of our thought-shaping media such as the press, radio, textbooks, the movies, etc., they condition the American mind to accept the gradual change as "progressive" and to hold in contempt those who challenge "Socialism."

Evidence of Pre-Historic Men In Southwest

Little is known about pre-historic men in the Southwest, but there is evidence of them. That's what Dr. Erick K. Reed, regional archeologist for the national park service, told the conservation workshop at New Mexico Western College on June 13.

Main part of Dr. Reed's lecture was on the Sand and Folsom man who inhabited this area before 1100 A. D. Not much is known about these pre-historic men because no skeletons have been found.

Only evidence that points to the fact that they were here are a few arrowheads and pottery that have been found, according to Reed.

The archeologist also told about the Pueblo man who was here between 1100 and 1400 A. D. A lot more is known about them because they left more relics. They were known to have high degree of civilization.

Dr. Reed pointed out that most archeologists agree that man did not originate here, but came to this country from Siberia, across the Bering Strait.

Nearly every day some place in the county is showered with rain. The mountains are beginning to look green, the starch gets washed out of the shirts on the line, and we don't have to dig so deep for fishing worms.

Probably the nicest thing about the rains this year is the possible prospect of long life if given our forests. The extreme fire hazard has lessened. That does not mean we should throw matches about promiscuously or leave our campfire burning. It only takes a couple days of summer heat to dry out the duff. Last year we had a 10-acre fire the day after a two and a half inch rain, and the fire started beside a puddle. But chances are, we won't have any more fires in the 1,000 acre category this year if the rains continue. The boys are having lightning fires after each storm, but they are "duck soup" to douse, compared to the man caused burns.

If you ever doubted the erosion damage a forest fire causes, take a run up Bonita, or try to. There has been practically no runoff from any canyon above the dam, except where fire destroyed all the ground cover this spring. In the canyons affected by the burn, water washed unchecked across the blackened earth, carrying debris in every rivulet, piling it high in the road, making it impassable to car travel.

It would be nice to have enough rain so the ranger could go to the rodeo July 4. I think he has been on fire duty 18 consecutive July 4's.

Ray Bell flew by the other day to give us the latest report on "Little Smokey," the cub rescued from the Captain fire. He is still caged in Ray's backyard, but expects to fly to Washington, D. C., soon and give fire prevention more publicity for the Forest Service. The little fellow gets sick in a plane. He's mighty snicky about his food, too; eats pabulum, no other cereal, honey, milk and fresh berries. He's kind of a grouchy rascal, too. The severe burns he received certainly did not improve his disposition.

Ben Pfingsten has a couple lovely young ladies visiting him. I think they are nice.

Lucia Klingston has returned home after a week in Captain.

Glenda Peters entertained her friends at a birthday party June 18 at Nogal Lake.

Sam Cox was on the Mesa Saturday, riding the range in search of a little fresh air. Skunks have been making a nightly visit to the Cox home in Fort Stanton. Dick moved to Nogal to spend the summer with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Floy Skinner.

The Game and Fish Department removed 40 carp from Nogal Lake by netting. A fisherman removed 50 last Saturday with enough bait. Maybe in time the trout will bite again.

Historical Society To Present Annual Pageant

The Last Escape of Billy the Kid, the annual pageant presented by the Lincoln County Historical Society, will be held on the museum grounds behind the old Lincoln Courthouse, Sunday, August 6, according to C. Davis, committee member.

The pageant committee of the Historical Society this week issued an invitation to all residents of Lincoln County to attend a meeting Monday evening, June 26, at 6:30 at Lincoln, to participate in the planning of this year's production of the popular pageant.

Last year the pageant attracted a crowd estimated at 3,000 and focused attention on Old Lincoln from a wide area.

The production planned for this year will be bigger and better, and the pageant committee urges every resident of the area to attend the meeting and stresses the event is a community project and everyone willing to help will be given a part to play or a job to do.

Coffee and donuts will be provided on the grounds, and those attending are urged to bring sandwiches so business may be combined with pleasure.

N. M. Editor Describes Navajo Mission Work

Among the many interesting features in the spring issue of the New Mexico Quarterly is an article, "The Navajo Missions," by Frank Waters, well known New Mexico writer, and now editor of the weekly El Cerepuzculo of Taos.

Waters describes the work done by the Methodist, Presbyterian and Catholic churches in trying to "civilize" the Navajos. Because of its very frank, personal and sympathetic appraisal of the efforts of different religious groups in trying to educate and improve the health and economic condition of the Navajos, this article is certain to arouse interest in comment.

The author speaks largely from his own experience, for as a boy he lived in the reservation, and later in life he has kept in close contact with the Indian groups of the Southwest.

The earliest educational program, he writes, involved "crudity and stupidity in government schools, kindness and incompetency in mission schools."

Perhaps the most outstanding feature of this provocative article, however, is Waters' warmth in characterizing some of the well-known individuals intimately associated with Navajo life. These characterizations, exhibiting his dramatic, fictional skill, of Mr. Simmons and the flood that destroyed the Methodist Mission in 1911; Dr. Salisbury, the "Big White Doctor" of the Ganado Mission, and Father Halle, "Father Shorty," of St. Michaels Mission, are both extremely informative and entertaining.

Waters concludes his article with a reminder that "Today, three quarters of a century since the first school was established, over 80 per cent of all Navajos are illiterate, and there are school facilities for only 5,000 of the 24,000 Navajo children of school age."

Whether this tragic situation will be corrected, according to Waters, "still depends upon the formulation of a national, long term Indian policy—a policy that will be formulated in part by these people who have now been granted the franchise as voting citizens in both New Mexico and Arizona."

Premium Books For 1950 State Fair Available Soon

Premium books for the 1950 New Mexico State Fair will be ready to mail out about July 1, according to Leon Harms, fair manager.

Harms said the annual premium books contain all rules for entries, entry blanks and lists of awards. He appealed to all exhibitors to write early, for copies. Exhibitors should write to Secretary-Manager, New Mexico State Fair, P. O. Box 1639, Albuquerque, N. M. Premium books will be mailed out without charge of any kind as soon as they are off the press.

The 1950 New Mexico State Fair will be held at Albuquerque from September 23 to October 1. Plans are already under way for the greatest opening day in fair history.

Ted Powers Winner In Matched Roping Contest

A large crowd watched Ted Powers, San Angelo, Texas, walk off with $1,000 prize money in the matched roping contest for a total of 143 seconds with 20 seconds fine, last Sunday at the Louis Farris Arena.

Walter Isaacks, Las Cruces, another topnotch roping star, took 153 seconds with 20 seconds fine in this match.

Top money winners in the jackpot roping were J. B. Kelley, Magdalena; Billy Stover, Tularosa; Ted Powers, San Angelo; Roy Tucker, Jr., Three Rivers.

Ted Powers and Walter Isaacks will be featured in a return match of roping the latter part of August. The date of the August match will be announced later.

Women's Clubs Present $5,000 To Boys Ranch

A concentrated effort by the New Mexico Federation of Women's Clubs has resulted in the presentation of a $5,000 check to toward the building of a chapel and recreational hall for the New Mexico Boys Ranch. It has been announced by Al E. Buck of Albuquerque, president of the Flying BR.

Mr. Buck said the women's clubs took up the project of raising the money some three years ago, at which time Mrs. Laura I. Patton of Gallup was president. "Too much credit cannot be given Mrs. Patton, Mrs. Judd A. Detterick of Los Vegas and the entire membership of the women's clubs throughout the state for this fine achievement," Buck declared.

The Boys Ranch president also said ground has been broken for a new dormitory which will increase ranch facilities to eventually house between 60 and 70 boys, and that land clearing and leveling of some 250 more acres of irrigatable land will go forward as soon as necessary heavy equipment can be obtained.

The New Mexico Boys Ranch was started as a project of the Albuquerque Kiwanis Club in 1914, but has since been expanded to become a worthy project for all New Mexico residents. Boys who presently reside at the Flying BR come from every part of New Mexico.
