Rates Listed By REA Manager

Following a discussion by Daniel E. Brenton, local attorney, at last week's meeting of the Carrizozo Lions Club, Brenton requested W. C. Cooper, manager of the Otero County Cooperative, to submit comparative figures on electric rates in effect in Carrizozo and for REA rates. The attorney also requested information concerning factors which he felt the local townspeople were interested in knowing. Mr. Cooper's reply is printed for the information of our readers:

"Mr. Daniel Brenton, Attorney at Law, Carrizozo, New Mexico.

"Dear Mr. Brenton—
When the representatives of this cooperative met with the council of Carrizozo, recently, in a discussion of the proposed purchase of the electric properties of Carrizozo by the cooperative, a comparison of rates, that of Carrizozo to that of the cooperative was shown by the writer and it was pointed out to the council that the cooperative rates were lower.

"It seems that this isn't generally known in the town and we have prepared a comparison that you can use in any way you see fit. It is pointed out that we have used a rate schedule that was given by the mayor and we assume that it is correct. Minor errors might appear in the comparison for which we have, no control.

"It further seems that a definite statement is needed to indicate exactly what rate the cooperative would offer to Carrizozo. We would offer our rate known as 'village' and is the one in use by the cooperative now and has been since it started. It is pointed out that the 'village' rate is not applicable to the rural areas. In concentrated areas it is possible to use a lower minimum than that in thinly settled areas.

Shafers Entertain Visitors

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Shafer, Carrizozo, are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jewell, Middletown, Ohio. Mr. Jewell is a brother of Mrs. Shafer. Another guest of the Shafers this week is Mrs. Donald Young (nee Janet Shafer) who is visiting her parents while her husband is on a business trip for the Harry H. Heriman & Company, heating and ventilating contractor, Denver. Mr. Young is an engineer.

Picacho Exhibit Wins Fair Ribbons

The Community Booth, sponsored by the Picacho Woman's Club at the Eastern New Mexico State Fair, Roswell, was an outstanding success. Picacho residents are very proud of the many ribbons won for the various entries.

The Picacho booth placed fourth, and much credit goes to Curtis Tabor and his students in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. The 14 students, under the supervision of Tabor, built miniature houses to represent homes in the village, and reproduced a miniature village which was a replica of Picacho. The ribbon awarded for this exhibit has been placed in the youngsters' scrap book.

Art exhibit awards in drawing went to Viola Sanchez daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sanchez, and Patsy Nunez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Nunez.

Awards for exhibits in landscape and crayon were won by Henry and Balentine Avila, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Avila; Ursula Montoya, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Montoya; Ramon Torres, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donato Torres; Vicki Pineda, daughter of Tomas Pineda, and Shirley Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Cole.

Miss Frances Fuller, fifth grade student at Picacho School, is the proud holder of two ribbons won by her horse "Blaze" in the show last Saturday. Miss Fuller rode him in two events—the Children's Western and the Children's Equestrian.

Awards were also made to Mrs. V. W. Luckett for her corralled sheep, and the Goodrum brothers received a number of blue and red ribbons for their Rambouillet sheep. R. C. Nunez holds a ribbon on his Delaine sheep and the Fuller ranch and T. J. McKnight were also given awards for their showing of sheep.

Carrizozo Brownie Scout Organization Formed

Under the supervision of Mrs. Truman A. Spencer Jr. the following Carrizozo girls between the ages of 7 to 10, inclusive, have completed the requirements to make them eligible for Brownie Scout membership: Willie B. O'Rear, Betty Schlarb, Susan Spencer, Jonette Harkey, Cecilia Chavez, Shirley A. Lewis, Wanda J. Lawrence, Frances Schlarb, Mary Alice King, Opal McBrayer, Billie J. Crumbley, Jerilyn Graves, Vivian Sandoval and Sandra Kay King.

The aim of the Brownie Scouts organization is to teach members to help in the home and render service to others without self-exploitation.

The troop committee is composed of five or more civic minded persons in an organization who usually sponsor the troop. Carrizozo Troop No. 1 is sponsored by the local Lions Club. The leader of the troop is Mrs. Spencer. Other officers include Mrs. Fred English, assistant leader, and Mrs. Fay Harkey, treasurer. Mrs. Johnson Stearns assists on field trips when the girls study nature and wild life.

The first project of Troop 1 is one of interior decoration. The girls are now completing plans for the decoration of the interior of their Brownie hut.

Mrs. Baty, who has recently moved to Carrizozo from El Paso, has expressed a desire to start an intermediate troop in Girl Scouting, the range age for which is from 10 to 14 years, inclusive.

Mrs. Baty has been active in Scout work for several years and reports she has already had inquiries from six interested girls. Mrs. Baty has informed Mrs. Spencer she cannot accept the responsibility of supervising a group of intermediate scouts without assistance and suggests the possibility there may be mothers in Carrizozo who are willing to devote some time to this work.

To Continue Bake Sale

The Woman's Society of Christian Services at Carrizozo announce they will continue their rummage and bake sale one more day—October 14. The sale will start about 9 A. M. at the local Firemen's Hall and continue throughout the day.

School Legislation Topic Of PTA Discussion

The Carrizozo PTA meeting was held Monday night in the grade school auditorium with approximately 50 parents, teachers and patrons present.

Wallace K. Myers, elementary school principal and president of the South Central District of the New Mexico Education Association, outlined two important school problems which, it is hoped, will be brought before the Legislature when it convenes in January. The first of the two is the reorganization of the state school administration. He spoke of the inadequacies of the present law by which the state superintendent of public instruction need meet only the one qualification of being able to win an election. Under the present setup any person, regardless of educational qualifications, may run for state superintendent of public instruction in New Mexico. Furthermore, he can hold the office for only two successive terms, or four years, which allows for no continuity of policy.

Myers explained the plan which has been proposed by the executive committee of the New Mexico Education Association. Under this plan the state superintendent of public instruction would be appointed or elected by a state board of education on the basis of his educational qualifications and experience, and would hold the office as long as he was doing satisfactory work. The state board, under this plan, would consist of nine members, one from each of the nine judicial districts in the state, with terms staggered so that only one person's term would expire each year. A constitutional amendment will be required to make this change in the organization of the school administration.

Another problem discussed by Myers concerned leakage of school funds which, during the past five years have cost the schools of New Mexico over four million dollars. He explained a law passed in 1943 allowed a certain percentage of the tax money, which the people of the state were paying for the education of the state's children, to revert to a general fund from which it is unobtainable by the schools. A new law setting aside school funds for schools only is being proposed in order to stop this leakage. This will also require an act of the Legislature.

Following Myers' talk a film concerning the control of tuberculosis was shown. Mrs. Clyde O. Brewster, chairman of the Lincoln County Tuberculosis Association, reported that the mobile X-ray units would be in Carrizozo about October 23 and urged all adults and school children to take advantage of these X-rays.

Lincoln County Entries Receive Fair Awards

Lincoln County came in for considerable recognition at the Eastern New Mexico State Fair, Roswell, last week.

In addition to the awards given to Picacho residents and Tom and Mickey Guck, Nogal Mesa (the stories of these awards will be found elsewhere in this issue) Bobbie Peebles drew another reserve championship for one of his sheep, as well as two blue ribbons and some lower placings for some of his other sheep.

Mrs. Sally Streetkin, Corona, exhibited a fat lamb which took second place, and was purchased by the Valley Oil Company at $230 per pound. This company then presented the lamb to the extension clubs of Lincoln County. Officials of the clubs have not yet decided what disposition will be made of the gift.

Woman's Club To Meet

The Carrizozo Woman's Club will hold its regular monthly meeting October 20.

The program arranged by Mrs. Elva S. Wilson is based upon the subject of elementary education. J. H. Morris, principal of Ruidoso High School, will address the members of the club. Mrs. Dorothy Guck, Nogal Mesa, is scheduled to give a reading. Mrs. Guck, who writes a news column for this paper, is fast gaining fame as a writer. She has had a number of articles accepted by various publications and her story of the Bonita fire which appeared in the past issue of New Mexico Magazine, has great human interest appeal.

Meehem Says Promises Void

Republican candidate for the state's governor, Edwin Meehem, in his speech before a large group of persons at the Carrizozo Grade School auditorium, said "Don't pay any attention to what candidates say about finishing highways." Meehem stated a five-member highway commission, in accordance with a recently passed law, will be appointed by the new governor, and the appointments must be approved by the state Senate. After that, the gubernatorial candidate said, the question of roads is up to the commission and the governor can only make suggestions. Meehem added the people of New Mexico were tired of promises and believed the appointment of a highway commission would be the solution to their problem. He added he could recommend construction on Highway 54.

The recent Dee Donnell reassessment program drew fire from the Republicans. Meehem said $200,000 was originally appropriated for the reassessment work in 31 counties, but that only six counties had been completed. Later, he added, an additional $400,000 was appropriated to complete the work. Meehem claimed taxes were raised in every county except one in New Mexico and there are still inequities which will necessitate more money being spent on this survey. He stated the burden of the new tax program rested upon the small home owner and the small businessman.

The 7 cent gasoline tax imposed by the state was brought up by Meehem who claimed service station operators near the borders of the adjoining states were going out of business because they could not compete with the lower tax rates of those other states.

In his attack on the leaders of the Democratic party, Meehem cited a number of departments and charged them with waste of the taxpayers' money, and claimed 5 per cent of Democrats on the payroll were working full time at politics and using state cars, gasoline and oil. He later accused the Democrats of collecting 3 per cent from the income of these workers for campaign purposes.

Meehem also accused the Democrats of using for campaign purposes their knowledge of persons on the lists of the Welfare Department who are receiving welfare checks. He claimed like Republicans were refused access to the lists of these people because of "federal regulations."

Other candidates who spoke included L. S. Drake, Lincoln County candidate for representative; Jose Armijo, for state treasurer, and Steiner Mason, for Congress.

William Galtcher, Carrizozo, introduced the speakers.

Drake said he wants the gasoline tax reduced and will do his best to give Lincoln County good representation if elected.

Mason and Armijo expressed their pleasure at being in Carrizozo and said the goal of the Republicans was to turn the state government back to the people.

Mason accused Dempsey and Klies of quitting Congress to campaign and said Mabry "just plain quit." Both Mason and Armijo attacked the federal administration and cited the Korean situation as mismanagement of the nation's affairs.

The state Republican candidates did not say how they propose to remedy the alleged evils of the present Democratic administration other than they want to give the government back to the people. Meehem said the state candidates will be back in Carrizozo before election on November 7.

BIRTHS

October 1—Michael Mirabal, 6 pounds 8 1/2 ounces, to Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Mirabal.
October 7—Richard Vernon Cordes, 7 pounds 11 1/2 ounces, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cordes.
October 8—Donda Jo May, 4 pounds 18 ounces, to Mr. and Mrs. Duff May.
October 8—Wynell Hobbs, 5 pounds, to Mr. and Mrs. Tillman Hobbs.

Demos Fill Two Post-Primary Vacancies

At a meeting of the Lincoln County Democratic Central Committee on October 5 in Carrizozo, two new candidates were selected to fill the vacancies on the ticket due to the withdrawal of Frank Boyce, candidate for representative, Sixteenth District, and Don J. Queen, candidate for county clerk.

Boyce recently accepted a position with a firm of investment brokers in New York City and Queen is now employed by the federal government at Hobbs.

John Davis, Hondo, was selected by vote of the central committee as a candidate for the office of representative, and Brazell Fresquez, Picacho, was named the party's candidate for the office of county clerk. Both men were given a unanimous vote by a two-thirds majority of the eligible voting members of the committee.

Davis, a graduate of Rowell High School, came to Lincoln County three years ago. He had worked at Fort Stanton for a year when he decided to make Lincoln County his permanent home, and purchased a ranch near Hondo.

A veteran of World War II, Davis saw active service as a radarman. Davis is married and the father of two children. His wife, Caroline Davis, was recently appointed curator of the museum at Lincoln.

Carl Ness, chairman of Lincoln County Democratic Central Committee, states: "John Davis is honest and sincere. I think he will make Lincoln County a fine representative."

Davis has played the character of Billy the Kid in the last two annual Lincoln Day celebrations.

Brazell Fresquez, candidate for county clerk is a native of Lincoln County, and his family name is an old and well known one in the county. A graduate of Hondo High School in 1940, Fresquez served three years in the Air Force in World War II. After he received his discharge, Fresquez enrolled at City Community College at Santa Fe where he studied for two years prior to accepting employment in the State Fish and Game Department. He remained with that department for five years, returning to Lincoln County after the death of a relative. Fresquez is at present actively engaged in the management of several of the family's business enterprises.

Called To Active Duty

Fred Chavez Jr. left October 4 for San Antonio where he will receive his assignment to active duty.

A member of the U. S. Army Air Force reserves, Chavez saw overseas duty in Germany during World War II.

Mrs. Chavez (the former Mary Vidauri) will remain here for the present, but may join her husband after he receives a permanent assignment.

The couple have one child, Ernest.

Mr. Chavez's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chavez Sr., Capitlan. The elder Mr. Chavez is employed with the Tittsworth Company there.

Mr. Chavez Jr. was employed at the Nu-Way Cleaners, Carrizozo, prior to his leaving for active service.

Mass Meeting To Be Held To Discuss REA

As we go to press, word is received a mass meeting will be held next Thursday, October 19, at 7:30 P. M. in the courtroom of the Courthouse at Carrizozo.

The meeting is being held to give the townspeople and other interested persons in the community an opportunity to hear a discussion on REA power, and voice any questions they may have concerning REA vs. municipal ownership.

Captain Girl Selected

Elva Rose Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson, Capitlan, announces she has been selected by a New York company as their representative in this area to obtain magazine subscriptions.

When Miss Johnson has completed the necessary requirements, she is eligible for a cash award which she desires to apply towards a college fund.

Carrizozo Downed By Tularosa, 25-2

Tularosa's Class C team met the local Grizzlies last Friday afternoon in a game which saw the return of all Carrizozo's injured team members with the exception of Tony Adler.

In the first quarter, Tularosa threw a pass that went 98 yards, but was penalized for offside. In the next play, Buddy Gerrar, of the Tularosa team, was caught in end zone by Donald Calentine and Bobby Hicks and Carrizozo scored two points on a safety.

In the second quarter Tularosa drove 45 yards for their first touchdown, and the ball was carried over the line by Don Mendoza. They did not make good on their conversion.

The next time Carrizozo had the ball, David Marujo, Tularosa, intercepted Bob Powelson's pass on the Grizzlies' 35-yard line and went over for a touchdown.

The third score in the second quarter was also made by Marujo who ran ball off tackle for 10 yards for a touchdown.

During the third quarter, Buddy Gerra went from the 10-yard line, after a sustained drive of 40 yards, to finish Tularosa's scoring for the day.

Although Carrizozo took to the air during the fourth quarter and was inside the visitors' 20-yard line three times, they failed to score because of fumbles and intercepted passes.

Jimmy Barnett played for the first time last Friday afternoon since the Corona game when he broke his leg. It was also the first time Jerry Kennedy has played since he broke his leg in the game with Capitlan.

The local team will meet Capitlan today (Friday) at Capitlan, and there is a possibility Tony Adler may be in the lineup. Capitlan has lost one game—with Ruidoso, 7-0. Ruidoso is leading in the Class C conference.

The local team hope to give Capitlan a good battle with their new defensive and offensive.

Funds Being Raised For New Basketball Uniforms

Those jars observed around town bearing a message that invites onlookers to join in the celebration for Homecoming Queen are the receptacles for coins which will go towards new uniforms for the basketball team. Candidates for queen are Lou Hyden, freshman; Emily Ann Johnson, sophomore; Carol Hadley, junior, and Norma Compton, senior.

The homecoming queen will be crowned at half time of the Carrizozo-Ruidoso game here on October 20.

Every member of student council is busily engaged in promoting this project for new uniforms.

A football dance will be held the night of October 20 at the Carrizozo Woman's Club by the seniors of the local high school, when the queen will again receive her crown. The members of the football team will elect captains for the ceremony of crowning. Admission is 25 cents.

About $35 has been collected to date from the jars.

The colors of the two jersey uniforms are gray trimmed in scarlet. The colors of the two jerseys for each uniform will reverse each other.

Body Of Soldier Found Near Rest Camp

The body of a soldier from a rest camp near Fort Stanton was discovered in a parked car approximately three miles from the Fort on a side road about 10 A. M. on October 10. The body, which had been there for approximately 10 days, was found by an employe from Fort Stanton.

Investigators from Walker Air Base, Roswell, and Sheriff S. M. Ortiz held an inquest in the sheriff's office at Carrizozo, and declared the soldier's death a suicide from carbon monoxide gas, apparently caused by attaching a hose to the exhaust pipe of the car and running it into the car. Ortiz stated an autopsy on the body was conducted at Walker Air Base.

The identity of the soldier has not been released pending notification of next of kin. It is reported that the only relatives of the deceased live in Denmark.

600 More Sign In '54' Protest

The movement which more than 60 Ancho residents started when they sent John E. Miles, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, a telegram complaining of the condition of Highway 54 and requesting his help in doing something about it, has gathered force.

Last week approximately 350 Corona residents sent him a telegram demanding immediate action and stating they were tired of more than 20 years of promises.

This week more than 600 residents of the community of Carrizozo have added their pleas to the demand for action. The Carrizozo telegram is reproduced below:

"Honorable John E. Miles, Santa Fe, New Mexico.

"The citizens of Carrizozo and surrounding territory want you to use your influence to complete Highway 54.

"This national highway is impassable. Tractors alone can crawl through this slough of Lincoln County. Our school children can't get to school, patients can't get to our hospital, ranchers can't get to town, and cattle buyers refuse to traverse it.

"Citizens will need it to get to the polls in November. Please help us change our 'mud to axle' trail to a 'paved farm to market' highway. We join Ancho and Corona in their appeal to you."

Wednesday night Republican Gubernatorial Candidate Edwin Meehem told a large group in Carrizozo not to pay any attention to the promises of the candidates about completion of highway; that a five-member highway commission, to be appointed by the new governor, will decide all highway problems. The governor, said Meehem, can only make suggestions.

Meehem failed to take into consideration, however, Lincoln County residents don't want to wait until after election. They want immediate action, and believe they were promised this contract would be let before January 1, 1951.

They believe 20 years in long enough to wait and it's high time concrete action is taken. Meehem apparently failed to understand the people of Lincoln County are not depending upon election promises—they have had enough of those, including any promises of recommendation for completion of this highway. They will be satisfied with nothing less than a definite program of completion—in black and white so there can be no further repudiation on the part of state officials.

Lincoln County residents are hopeful their requests will receive action. At least Curry County farmers have received assurance of action on their problem road—State Highway 106 between Tuleo and Hollene. They have been assured by Burton Dwyer, state highway engineer, the road will be put in "first class condition as an earth-graded road."

Curry County farmers became disgruntled with the condition of their road and repeated promises that never brought results. They let their wrath be known and it is bringing results. The Highway Department has also stated they will consider a request from the Curry County commissioners to put that 25-mile stretch of State Highway 106 on the "federal and secondary system for future paving."

Highway 54 is a federal one and action should be taken immediately on the construction necessary for its rightful place in the state's system of important primary highways.

To Hold Dance

The Carrizozo Country Club will hold a dance Saturday evening, October 21.

Janet Vacher and her Starlighters will play for the dancers from 9 until 1.

Political Authority Issues
Bulletin On Primary Law

ALBUQUERQUE. — The primary law of the last legislature is back before the voters of New Mexico again.

Professor Charles B. Judah, political authority of the University of New Mexico's division of government research, has released a bulletin outlining the pros and cons of the controversial law which helped split the Democratic Party into two factions during the recent primary.

The party split has been healed, Judah says, but the problem it left behind—what to do with the pre-primary convention—still remains to be settled.

The study finds that New Mexico's primaries for the last decade have been plagued by an unusually large number of persons seeking their party's nomination for various offices.

Charges of pay-off filings and filings designed to split votes of strong candidates have been rife. The pre-primary law, passed by the last legislature sought to correct this situation by causing each party to hold a convention prior to the primary election.

The operation of the law, the UNM bulletin reveals, was optional with the county for local offices but mandatory for state offices. Under it the party convention would ballot on each office. Each person designated as a candidate had to receive 25 per cent or more of the total vote of the convention.

Under the system a prospective candidate could be the sole designee by getting more than 75 per cent of the convention's vote, or there could be a maximum of four party designees if the vote were evenly split four ways. Probably, however, there would be only two candidates designated for the minor offices and one for the more important ones.

The regular party primary then would be in the nature of a run-off primary in which the registered voters of each party would select their candidate from the list provided by the vote of the convention.

As Professor Judah notes the voters would sometimes have no choice if the designating convention piled up a big vote for one particular candidate for any one office. The law also provides, says Judah, that undesignated candidates can run on independent tickets in the general election.

Professor Judah cites the record of other states which have used a similar system. Three states, South Dakota, Minnesota and Massachusetts, tried and abandoned the device. Four others, Colorado, Nebraska, Utah and Rhode Island, have found it good enough to retain.

With regard to the New Mexico law Judah gives no recommendation, but he says the voters can: (1) vote against the measure; (2) vote against the particular system proposed; (3) vote for it because he thinks it a good measure; (4) vote for it because he believes that in spite of its weaknesses it will be an improvement over the present nominating system.

Objections to the system are: (1) It would restrict the right of the people to choose their officials; (2) It would tend toward less selected candidates; (3) It would eliminate able men without political connections; (4) It would further complicate the system; (5) It would be bad in New Mexico because it is a one-party state which should have a run-off primary instead of a pre-primary convention; (6) It would not guarantee at least two candidates for an office and it would eliminate the undesignated candidates from the party ballot; (7) It would foster machine politics because it would allow state and county employees to sit as delegates.

Arguments in favor of the system are: (1) It would restore party responsibility for the action of public officials; (2) the designating body could be used profitably by other social groups in screening candidates; (3) it would result in a balanced ticket; (4) state making would be brought into the open and be subject to official regulation; (5) individual campaign expenses would be reduced as would the consequent obligations of public officials to private in-

FORT STANTON

By HELEN NASH WHITEHEAD
 Ray Baker's Boy Scout troop No. 58 left Fort Stanton Saturday morning for Carlsbad. En route they visited the largest artesian lake in the world located on the Oasis farm, east of Roswell. It flows 9,100 gallons per minute. The group stopped at Lake Van, near Dexter, for soda pop and hamburgers prepared by Scouts Eddie Nomack, Jimmy Thompson, Willie Zamora and Scoutmaster Baker before going on to Carlsbad and White City where they made camp.

Every boy pitches in, and helps—some collected water, wood, and wood is scarce in this part of the country and the cooks prepared evening chow, while Dick Bingham and another group put up the tents. After chow and a grand game of "Capture the Flag," the happy youngsters were ready for a night under the stars.

Breaking camp after eggs and bacon the youngsters were really excited—they were a ct u ally about to see these underground wonders, a first for many, which made it more interesting.

Credit for transportation, etc., is due to Joe Ferguson and Henry Sanchez, who took the entire group to Roswell. From there they had the loan of Roy Phillips' car to Oasis ranch at Roswell. They left the Phillips truck and were met by John Ferguson and the Ed Whites, who brought back a load of weary Boy Scouts.

It was a surprise to learn that the Warren Gastons had left Fort Stanton for Elida, N. M., a town between here and Portales. Seems he got a better job with quarters—I know they will be missed. Good luck.

A two-car collision between here and Lincoln brought quite a lot of work to the Fort Stanton Marine Hospital, also quite a lot of pain and the loss of at least one car—all because of a signal that was not given.

Miss Margaret Tillotson, our assistant dietitian, has brought her mother to the Fort. The other evening they and Mrs. Stember, who were wondering whether they could get a fourth bridge, ended up with three tables.

No word has come from Frank Smith, who went to San Francisco over a week ago for an operation.

Dr. Whitehead has been in the hospital at Roswell this past week after a round with Dr. Waggoner.

Miss Eileen Reid, who has recently been promoted to chief dietitian, is busily getting ready for her orientation trip and convention at the Statler in Washington, D. C.

Have you forgotten Fort Stanton's blood bank? Understand a patient coming up for a thoroplasty hasn't any donors so far. It's a good idea to know your own blood type, for your own sake, too.

Fair Official Compliments Lincoln County Contestant

A letter from Pat Hill, publicity director, New Mexico State Fair, this week compliments Veda Lou Branum, Lincoln County's contestant for Queen at the recent State Fair, held in Albuquerque.

Hill's letter states that although Miss Branum did not win the state title as fair queen, "I think you will be pleased to know she was certainly well liked by everyone and a credit to Lincoln County."

terests; (6) more intelligent voting would be promoted; (7) it would eliminate or reduce evils developed under the present system.

America's total highway deficiencies—on state highway systems, in urban areas and on county and township roads—have been documented by a Congressional committee at over $41 billion. Additional deficiencies—caused by greater traffic volumes, higher speeds and wearing out of existing highways—are accumulating at the rate of $1.4 billion each year. If the nation's highway network is to be brought up to 1950's needs within the next 10 years, annual expenditures of $5 billion are needed. We are spending only $1 billion yearly now.

Prevention Of Rust And Corrosion Essential To Car

DETROIT.—Prevention of rust and corrosion in automobile cooling systems is important for continued good service of a car, according to E. L. Harrig, manager of the Chevrolet service and mechanical department.

"Judging from the limited use of corrosion inhibitors with water it is apparent that many motorists do not realize the seriousness of this problem," Harrig said. "In the winter, the standard antifreeze products contain inhibitors which prevent corrosion. But the problem is even more serious in warm weather or in southern climates because of higher operating temperatures."

Oxygen from the air in the cooling system is the most serious cause of corrosion. Harrig cited other causes as presence of corrosive mineral salts in the water, exhaust-gas leakage into the cooling system, use of unneutralized acid or alkaline cleaner solutions and the use of certain acid-containing stop-leak preparations.

"Radiators should be flushed and cleaned before use of antifreeze or corrosion inhibitor solutions. In cold climates, the inhibitor in the anti-freeze solution is adequate and should not be mixed with other inhibitors. In spring, the system should be drained and flushed and an inhibitor added for summer. However, if the permanent type antifreeze (ethylene glycol) is used, it may be left in the cooling system during the summer."

In warmer climates, the cooling system should be flushed and cleaned every spring and fall, and a fresh filling of a good corrosion inhibitor added.

State Demo Chairman Charges 'No Campaign'

SANTA FE, Oct. 5.—Democratic State Chairman Ray Rodgers charged today that "the Republican candidates obviously have no real campaign except their complaint at not being in office."

"They are basing their appeal on deceptions, half-truths and downright falsehoods," Rodgers said. "The record of the Republicans in New Mexico is so horrible their current crop of hand-picked candidates won't even mention detail."

Citing GOP criticism of the highway department, Rodgers declared that New Mexico had less than 500 miles of paved roads when the last Republican administration was voted out of office in 1930.

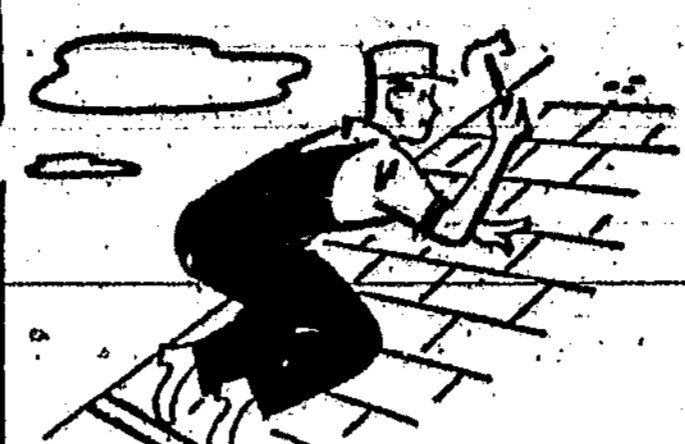

"Today, after two decades of Democratic administration, our state has more than 5,000 miles of surfaced highways—one of the highest per capita mileages in the nation," Rodgers asserted.

He said that 1,400 miles of paving was constructed during the four years Miles served as governor, 1938-42, "and at the lowest cost in the history of our state."

"As in years past, the Republicans again are trying to hoodwink the public by telling only half the story," Rodgers declared. "Points they might choose to criticize in the record of outstanding accomplishment by the Democrats in New Mexico in the past 20 years will be a slap at the Republicans themselves if they tell the whole truth."

Local Woman Visits In Pacific Northwest

Mrs. J. E. Thornton, Carrizozo, returned recently from a tour of the Pacific Northwest which included Oregon, Washington, Utah and Idaho. Mrs. Thornton made the trip with her son, Earl Thornton and family, Corvallis, Ore., who were on their way home after visiting their parents.

Mrs. Thornton was especially impressed with Corvallis High School's band. That organization played for the farewell celebration in honor of the football team of the state university at Corvallis when the members left for the game with Michigan State at Lansing, Mich.

The celebration was held by the city on the downtown streets, and the team presented with gifts.

In Salt Lake City, the Thorntons were members of a group on a tour conducted by a great-grandson of Brigham Young. They were shown around Mormon Square and the purposes of the various buildings explained.

Mrs. Thornton also enjoyed hearing Dr. E. Stanley Jones, missionary from India, speak on the unification of all churches. Dr. Jones spoke to 4,000 persons in the gymnasium at the college in Corvallis, and stressed that churches should be unified even though they retained their individual denominations.

The Lyric Theater is showing Jack Carson in "The Good Humor Man" October 17 through 19. The comedy starts when Carson as an ice cream salesman is thrown into the freezing compartments of his truck by gangsters pursuing a blonde. This episode starts a series of adventures which cause Carson to be implicated in murder and robbery.

The manner in which Comedian Carson proves his innocence with the help of his girl friend Lola Albright and escapes from the killers is pure slapstick. Lloyd Bacon is the director of this happy screwball comedy.

By Thomas J. Mabry GOVERNOR

"Education makes a people easy to lead but difficult to drive; easy to govern, but impossible to enslave." - General Omar N. Bradley.

With an enrollment of some 10,500 in our state institutions of higher learning and with a plant investment on the campuses of some $18,000,000, higher education in New Mexico has become a big and expensive business.

We all favor education and we will give unstintingly in support of it. The taxpayer will complain of a tax hurting here and there but he is as yet reluctant to direct much criticism to the educational budgets.

With the unparalleled growth of our higher institutions of learning and the expanded facilities in all fields of college training, I predict that in the near future we are going to see more caution in appropriating funds and more watchfulness over the administration of these institutions. I hope this caution will not retard us and that the criticism will be constructive.

Our enrollment in our university and colleges has been phenomenal. For example, in the state university alone the total budget rose from $666,500 in the fiscal year 1939-40 to $4,000,000 for the current year! This does not all come from the state general fund, of course, but the appropriation from the general fund has risen in about the same proportion.

I point this out merely as a warning to our administrators of higher education. They must be on guard against a taxpayers' revolt against the over anxious school management in each of the institutions to "out-do the Jones" in many educational frills and ornaments which, perhaps, we can well do without.

We are coming to the time I believe, when we, the taxpayers, will direct an inquiring and critical mind to the question whether we are training enough boys and girls in the strictly productive field—those who are better fitted to employ their hands at a craft or occupation than they are to overload a mind with a kind of learning which can never bring them the happiness, success or economic security which they desire and deserve.

Should we not think a little more in terms of what education and preparation is needed by the young man who can wear the work clothes of honorable labor and a little less of what is needed for the fellow who hopes always to wear the white collar and sit in a swivel chair?

We are going to face this problem before too long and the educational leaders and our school administrators had better be ready with a well worked out answer before the over burdened taxpayer rebels against what some think is a one-sided educational system that is taking more of the tax dollar year by year.

Much progress has already been made in our high schools toward this technical and vocational training. They seem to have seen the need sooner than some of the rest of us, and yet some of our colleges are also making progress.

I feel that our own state schools, common and of higher learning, are doing a splendid work. But I also know that it is all becoming very expensive. I predict that the educator who directs more thought to improvement in teaching in the vocational field of manual arts, agriculture, applied science research, and the various crafts that maintain our fast growing economy, will receive, as he shall deserve, the plaudits of the taxpayer, and eventually, of the man and woman he has thus helped to train.

Political Authority Issues
Bulletin On Primary Law

ALBUQUERQUE.—The pre-primary law of the last legislature is back before the voters of New Mexico again.

Professor Charles B. Judah, politics authority of the University of New Mexico's division of government research, has released a bulletin outlining the pros and cons of the controversial law which helped split the Democratic Party into two factions during the recent primary.

The party split has been healed, Judah says, but the problem it left behind—what to do with the pre-primary convention—still remains to be settled.

The study finds that New Mexico's primaries for the last decade have been plagued by an unusually large number of persons seeking their party's nomination for various offices.

Charges of pay-off fillings and fillings designed to split votes of strong candidates have been rife. The pre-primary law passed by the last legislature sought to correct this situation by causing each party to hold a convention prior to the primary election.

The operation of the law, the UNM bulletin reveals, was optional with the county for local offices but mandatory for state offices. Under it the party convention would ballot on each office. Each person designated as a candidate had to receive 25 per cent or more of the total vote of the convention.

Under the system a prospective candidate could be the sole designee by getting more than 75 per cent of the convention's vote, or there could be a maximum of four party designees if the vote were evenly split four ways. Probably, however, there would be only two candidates designated for the minor offices and one for the more important ones.

The regular party primary then would be in the nature of a run-off primary in which the registered voters of each party would select their candidate from the list provided by the vote of the convention.

As Professor Judah notes the voters would sometimes have no choice if the designating convention piled up a big vote for one particular candidate for any one office. The law also provides, says Judah, that undesignated candidates can run as independents in the general election.

Professor Judah cites the record of other states which have used a similar system. Three states, South Dakota, Minnesota and Massachusetts, tried and abandoned the device. Four others, Colorado, Nebraska, Utah and Rhode Island, have found it good enough to retain.

With regard to the New Mexico law, Judah gives no recommendation, but he says the voters can: (1) vote against the measure; (2) vote against the particular system proposed; (3) vote for it because he thinks it a good measure; (4) vote for it because he believes that in spite of its weaknesses it will be an improvement over the present nominating system.

Objections to the system are: (1) It would restrict the right of the people to choose their officials; (2) It would tend toward less selected candidates; (3) It would eliminate able men without political connections; (4) It would further complicate the system; (5) It would be bad in New Mexico because it is a one-party state which should have a run-off primary instead of a pre-primary convention; (6) It would not guarantee at least two candidates for an office and it would eliminate the undesignated candidates from the party ballot; (7) It would foster machine politics because it would allow state and county employees to sit as delegates.

Arguments in favor of the system are: (1) It would reduce party responsibility for the action of public officials; (2) The designating body could be used profitably by other social groups in screening candidates; (3) It would result in a balanced ticket; (4) State making would be brought into the open and be subject to official regulation; (5) Individual campaign expenses would be reduced as would the consequent obligations of public officials to private in-

FORT STANTON

By HELEN NASH WHITEHEAD
 Ray Baker's Boy Scout troop No. 58 left Fort Stanton Saturday morning for Carlsbad. En route they visited the largest artesian lake in the world located on the Oasis farm, east of Roswell. It flows 9,100 gallons per minute. The group stopped at Lake Van, near Dexter, for soda pop and hamburgers prepared by Scouts Eddie Nomack, Jimmy Thompson, Willie Zamora and Scoutmaster Baker before going on to Carlsbad and White City where they made camp.

Every boy pitches in and helps—some collected water, wood, and wood is scarce in this part of the country and the cooks prepared evening chow, while Dick Bingham and another group put up the tents. After chow and a grand game of "Capture the Flag," the happy youngsters were ready for a night under the stars.

Breaking camp after eggs and bacon the youngsters were really excited—they were actually about to see these underground wonders, a first for many, which made it more interesting.

Credit for transportation, etc., is due to Joe Ferguson and Henry Sanchez, who took the entire group to Roswell. From there they had the loan of Roy Phillips' pick-up in addition to the Baker's car to Oasis ranch at Roswell. They left the Phillips truck and were met by John Ferguson and the Ed Whites, who brought back a load of weary Boy Scouts.

It was a surprise to learn that the Warren Gastons had left Fort Stanton for Elida, N. M., a town between here and Portales. Seems he got a better job with quarters—I know they will be missed. Good luck.

A two-car collision between here and Lincoln brought quite a lot of work to the Fort Stanton Marine Hospital, also quite a lot of pain and the loss of at least one car—all because of a signal that was not given.

Miss Margaret Tillotson, our assistant dietitian, has brought her mother to the Fort. The other evening they and Mrs. Stemmer, who were wondering whether they could get a fourth bridge, ended up with three tables.

No word has come from Frank Smith, who went to San Francisco over a week ago for an operation.

Dr. Whitehead has been in the hospital at Roswell this past week after a round with Dr. Waggoner.

Miss Ellen Reid who has recently been promoted to chief dietitian, is busily getting ready for her orientation trip and convention at the Statler in Washington, D. C.

Have you forgotten Fort Stanton's blood bank? Understand a patient coming up for a thoroplastic hasn't any donors so far. It's a good idea to know your own blood type, for your own sake, too.

Fair Official Compliments Lincoln County Contestant

A letter from Pat Hill, publicity director, New Mexico State Fair, this week compliments Veda Lou Branum, Lincoln County's contestant for Queen at the recent State Fair, held in Albuquerque. Hill's letter states that although Miss Branum did not win the state title as fair queen, "I think you will be pleased to know she was certainly well liked by everyone and a credit to Lincoln County."

terests; (6) more intelligent voting would be promoted; (7) It would eliminate or reduce evils developed under the present system.

America's total highway deficiencies—on state highway systems, in urban areas and on county and township roads—have been documented by a Congressional committee at over $41 billion. Additional deficiencies—caused by greater traffic volumes, higher speeds and wearing out of existing highways—are accumulating at the rate of $1.4 billion each year. If the nation's highway network is to be brought up to 1950's needs within the next 10 years, annual expenditures of $4½ billion are needed. We are spending only $1½ billion yearly now.

Prevention Of Rust And Corrosion Essential To Car

DETROIT.—Prevention of rust and corrosion in automobile cooling systems is important for continued good service of a car, according to E. L. Harrig, manager of the Chevrolet service and mechanical department.

"Judging from the limited use of corrosion inhibitors with water it is apparent that many motorists do not realize the seriousness of this problem," Harrig said. "In the winter, the standard antifreeze products contain inhibitors which prevent corrosion. But the problem is even more serious in warm weather or in southern climates because of higher operating temperatures."

Oxygen from the air in the cooling system is the most serious cause of corrosion. Harrig cited other causes as presence of corrosive mineral salts in the water, exhaust-gas leakage into the cooling system, use of unneutralized acid or alkaline cleaner solutions and the use of certain acid-containing stop-leak preparations.

Radiators should be flushed and cleaned before use of antifreeze or corrosion inhibitor solutions. In cold climates, the inhibitor in the anti-freeze solution is adequate and should not be mixed with other inhibitors. In spring, the system should be drained and flushed and an inhibitor added for summer. However, if the permanent type antifreeze (ethylene glycol) is used, it may be left in the cooling system during the summer.

In warmer climates, the cooling system should be flushed and cleaned every spring and fall, and a fresh filling of a good corrosion inhibitor added.

Many sudden outbreaks of bovine mastitis have been traced to a breakdown in sanitary precautions.

State Demo Chairman Charges 'No Campaign'

SANTA FE, Oct. 5.—Democratic State Chairman Ray Rodgers charged today that "the Republican candidates obviously have no real campaign—except their complaint at not being in office." "They are basing their appeal on deceptions, half-truths and downright falsehoods," Rodgers said. "The record of the Republicans in New Mexico is so horrible their current crop of hand-picked candidates won't even mention detail."

Citing GOP criticism of the highway department, Rodgers declared that New Mexico had less than 500 miles of paved roads when the last Republican administration was voted out of office in 1930.

"Today, after two decades of Democratic administration, our state has more than 5,000 miles of surfaced highways—one of the highest per capita mileages in the nation," Rodgers asserted.

He said that 1,400 miles of paving was constructed during the four years Miles served as governor, 1933-42, "and at the lowest cost in the history of our state." "As in years past, the Republicans again are trying to hoodwink the public by telling only half the story," Rodgers declared. "Points they might choose to criticize in the record of outstanding accomplishment by the Democrats in New Mexico in the past 20 years will be a slap at the Republicans themselves if they tell the whole truth."

Local Woman Visits In Pacific Northwest

Mrs. J. E. Thornton, Carrizozo, returned recently from a tour of the Pacific Northwest which included Oregon, Washington, Utah and Idaho. Mrs. Thornton made the trip with her son, Earl Thornton and family, Corvallis, Ore., who were on their way home after visiting their parents.

Mrs. Thornton was especially impressed with Corvallis High School's band. That organization played for the farewell celebration in honor of the football team of the state university at Corvallis when the members left for the game with Michigan State at Lansing, Mich.

The celebration was held by the city on the downtown streets, and the team presented with gifts.

In Salt Lake City, the Thorntons were members of a group on a tour conducted by a great-grandson of Brigham Young. They were shown around Mormon Square and the purposes of the various buildings explained.

Mrs. Thornton also enjoyed hearing Dr. E. Stanley Jones, missionary from India, speak on the unification of all churches. Dr. Jones spoke to 4,000 persons in the coliseum at the college in Corvallis, and stressed that churches should be unified even though they retained their individual denomination.

Movie Fare

The Lyric Theater is showing Jack Carson in "The Good Humor Man" October 17 through 19. The comedy starts when Carson as an ice cream salesman is thrown into the freezing compartments of his truck by gangsters pursuing a blonde. This episode starts a series of adventures which cause Carson to be implicated in murder and robbery.

The manner in which Comedian Carson proves his innocence with the help of his girl friend Lola Albright and escapes from the killers is pure slapstick.

Lloyd Bacon is the director of this happy screwball comedy.

Your State Government By Thomas J. Mabry GOVERNOR

"Education makes a people easy to lead but difficult to drive; easy to govern but impossible to enslave." - General Omar N. Bradley.

With an enrollment of some 10,500 in our state institutions of higher learning and with a plant investment on the campuses of some $18,000,000, higher education in New Mexico has become a big and expensive business.

We all favor education and we will give unstintingly in support of it. The taxpayer will complain of a tax hurting here and there but he is as yet reluctant to direct much criticism to the educational budgets.

With the unparalleled growth of our higher institutions of learning and the expanded facilities in all fields of college training, I predict that in the near future we are going to see more caution in appropriating funds and more watchfulness over the administration of these institutions. I hope this caution will not retard us and that the criticism will be constructive.

Our enrollment in our university and colleges has been phenomenal. For example, in the state university alone the total budget rose from $666,500 in the fiscal year 1939-40 to $4,000,000 for the current year! This 'does not all come from the state general fund, of course, but the appropriation from the general fund has risen in about the same proportion.

I point this out merely as a warning to our administrators of higher education. They must be on guard against a taxpayers revolt against the ever anxious school management in each of the institutions to "out-do the Jones" in many educational frills and ornaments which, perhaps, we can well do without.

We are coming to the time I believe, when we, the taxpayers, will direct an inquiring and critical mind to the question whether we are training enough boys and girls in the strictly productive field—those who are better fitted to employ their hands at a craft or occupation than they are to overload a mind with a kind of learning which can never bring them the happiness, success or economic security which they desire and deserve.

Should we not think a little more in terms of what education and preparation is needed by the young man who can wear the work clothes of honorable labor and a little less of what is needed for the fellow who hopes always to wear the white collar and sit in a swivel chair?

We are going to face this problem before too long and the educational leaders and our school administrators had better be ready with a well worked out answer before the overburdened taxpayer rebels against what some think is a one-sided educational system that is taking more of the tax dollar year by year.

Much progress has already been made in our high schools toward this technical and vocational training. They seem to have seen the need sooner than some of the rest of us, and yet some of our colleges are also making progress.

I feel that our own state schools, common and of higher learning, are doing a splendid work. But I also know that it is all becoming very expensive. I predict that the educator who directs more thought to improvement in teaching in the vocational field of manual arts, agriculture, applied science research, and the various crafts that maintain our fast growing economy, will receive, as he shall deserve, the plaudits of the taxpayer, and eventually, of the man and woman he has thus helped to train.

The average dairy cow needs 12 to 15 gallons of drinking water a day. Once fowl pox strikes a poultry farm, outbreaks are almost certain to occur there year after year unless the birds are vaccinated.

Veda Lou Describes Trip To N. M. State Fair

Loretto Academy, October 2, 1950. To Lions Club of Carrizozo.

I wish to express my gratitude for many thanks to the members of the Lions Club for their making my trip to the fair possible. It was an honor and privilege to represent my county in such a contest.

My only regrets are, however, that each of you were not able to attend the fair. Therefore, I will attempt to relate the more important events, etc., in which we participated.

We all stayed at the Youth Hall, one of the main buildings on the fair grounds. Our first official meeting was held at 2 P. M. Friday, September 22, at the main office. Pictures were taken for the Albuquerque paper, and our official badges were given us along with instructions as to the dormitory, etc. The remainder of the evening was spent in getting acquainted.

Saturday morning was the day of all days. We rode in the parade through downtown Albuquerque representing our counties by the banners we wore. Immediately following this we returned to the fair grounds where the judging of the Fair Queen was to be held. We were instructed by the judges as how we were to ride and show our horses and horsemanship. We dismounted and walked our horses in front of the judges' stand. From 21 girls our Fair Queen was chosen. The title was won by a very deserving cowgirl, Miss Wilma Vaughn of Clovis.

Following this event we rode

Many From New Mexico To Attend Livestock Meet

Advance reservations indicate that more than 300 New Mexico cattlemen and their wives plan to attend the fifty-fourth annual convention of the American National Live Stock Association scheduled to be held in San Francisco on January 8, 9 and 10, according to Horace H. Hening, secretary of the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association. "Plans are underway to reserve as many railroad cars as necessary to carry the delegation to the Pacific Coast convention," Hening said.

The delegation will be headed by Roy Forehand, Carlsbad, president of the New Mexico association.

In a body to the race track, where we were presented to the governor and a large crowd. Later in the evening we rode in the Grand Rodeo entry where we were presented again and also at the big western dance which was held following the rodeo on the balcony of the arena grandstand.

We spent the following days simply attending and assisting in the different events and judging, and helping 4-H and FFA members present their livestock.

Also we did a great deal of shopping and found Albuquerque to be a very promising shopping center of the Southwest.

Our main thrill of the week was our being presented to the famous movie star, Greer Garson, a charming personality and extremely glamorous. We visited and also had our pictures taken with Mrs. Garson.

As the final day arrived, one which was certainly dreaded because this meant we would soon be parting from our many new friends we had made since our arrival. In fact, as we sat for the last time in our box seat during the final performance of the rodeo a few tears were shed in regret that we were parting and that this was our last performance together.

After our farewells and adieus we each parted our separate ways realizing how very lucky each of us were for having been chosen to represent our own counties.

From the bottom of my heart I wish at this time to again express my sincere appreciation to each and everyone who made this trip possible.

Sincerely yours, VEDA LOUI BRANUM.

Woman's Society Holds Zone Meet In Ruidoso

The White Mountain zone meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service was held in Ruidoso, October 3, with Mrs. Warren Barrett, zone president in charge.

A large number of representatives from Alamogordo, Tularosa, Capitan, Carrizozo and Ruidoso were present.

Principal speakers for the day's session were Mrs. M. L. Norris, Clovis, conference president; Mrs. R. B. Sease, Willard, president of Albuquerque district.

Rev. Roy Miller, pastor, Trinity Methodist Church, Carrizozo, and 15 Carrizozo members of the society attended the Ruidoso convalescence.

The next zone meeting of the society will be held in Carrizozo January 10, 1951.

'Honey Dun' Takes Top Award At Roswell Fair

A Lincoln County resident, Mrs. Pat Winter of near Carrizozo, announced her quarter horse mare "Honey Dun" won in the quarter horse mare class, and then was made grand champion mare of all breeds at the Eastern New Mexico State Fair, Roswell last week.

In addition, "Caclque Charro," her 2-year-old quarter horse stallion, placed third in the all-age stallion class. This stallion also won first at Tucuman and fourth at Amarillo.

"Mr. Hancock," quarter horse stallion belonging to Mrs. Marianne McCrea, Albuquerque, was named grand champion at the Roswell show.

"Honey Dun" won the reserve grand champion at the Albuquerque show last spring. She has been a great performance mare, having won many matched cowboy races at the eighth, one-quarter and half. She made many RCA rodeos in the past three years as rope horse and dogging mare, putting her rider in top money. "Honey Dun" was exhibited in Arizona, with her rider roping off her without a bridle. She has been shown in halter three times and has won two grand championships and one reserve.

"Honey Dun" is now 11 years old and has been retired to the broodmare ranks in foal to Silverstone A. Q. H. A. P-130.

Cattleman Will Tour Eastern Packing Plants

Hal R. Cox, well known Dona Ana County cattleman and a vice president of the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association, will leave Las Cruces October 29 for a 10-day tour of eastern meat packing plants and meat distribution centers. He has been invited by Swift and Company to make the tour with a group of 15 other ranchers representing 15 western range states.

The tour will take cattlemen to Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, New York, Baltimore and Washington, D. C. Purpose of the tour is to acquaint the livestock industry with methods used to process and distribute beef on the eastern market.

Association Awarded Certificate By 4-H'ers

Four-H clubs of New Mexico have awarded the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association a certificate of meritorious service to the youth group in this state according to Roy Forehand, Carla, had, president of the association. "We consider this recognition a great honor and hope we can do more for these youth groups in years to come," Forehand said.

The association sponsors several cash award contests for 4-H and FFA clubs in New Mexico. Among these are the annual Livestock Loss Prevention Contest; the Heller Calf Contest and Feeder Calf contest at the State Fair, and livestock judging contests all prominent in rural youth club activities in New Mexico.

Overcrowding leads to rapid spread by artificial breeding as well as by natural means.

Moxey Attacks Miles Campaign Slogans

ALBUQUERQUE (Special)—Republican Campaign Manager Fred W. Moxey this week dealt sarcastically with two Miles campaign slogans.

Moxey said he had seen literature for the Miles gubernatorial campaign with these phrases: "There is no substitute for experience," and "His word is as good as his bond."

Said Moxey: "The first slogan is accurate. There is no substitute for the kind of experience Miles offers. It is unique. For 30 years he has been on county and state payrolls. Edwin L. Mechem has never been on the state payroll, but as a legislator set up an unexcelled record. On the other hand as governor Miles had the experience of padding payroll to an all-time high, a high unexcelled for the next six years in state government.

"As governor, Miles had the experience of having his administration investigated by a grand jury—the only governor of New Mexico to have experienced this. As land commissioner he doubled his payroll in four years, engaged in all deals and had political workers on the state payroll.

"It is true that Mechem cannot compete with this experience. No candidate who is running for the high office of governor would want to brag about this kind of experience," Moxey said.

Moxey also said that "Miles' word is not very much appreciated by registered Democrats." "Less than 40 per cent of the Democrats who voted in the primary, selected him to oppose Mechem. Two years before, he got only 50 per cent of the primary vote when he ran for Congress on the promise that he would stay in Washington to give New Mexico much needed seniority rights. Thousands of Democrats have turned their support to Mechem to end this brand of politics," Moxey said.

Rancher Checks Drouth Situation For Navajos

George A. Godfrey, Animas, a former president of the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association has spent the past week making a range survey of the Navajo reservation in northwestern New Mexico in cooperation with officials of the U. S. Indian Service. Godfrey was asked to assist Indians and department officials in determining steps to be taken to relieve drouth stricken cattle and sheep on the reservation.

The Navajo Tribal Council recently appropriated $300,000 for relief of drouth livestock on the reservation. Godfrey and a committee from the Indian Service will report their recommendations to the tribal council within a few days.

Who Runs America?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today—keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists—working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

- General Federation of Women's Clubs
- American Farm Bureau Federation
- National Grange
- Veterans of Foreign Wars
- National Conference of Catholic Charities
- American Protestant Hospital Association
- American Legion
- National Association of Small Business Men
- United States Chamber of Commerce
- National Association of Retail Grocers
- National Retail Dry Goods Association
- American Bar Association

Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this un-American excursion into State Socialism. Doctors of America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens at home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. And the thing they stand ready to fight for—to sacrifice for—to die for—is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the proud security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!
Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. Today in America—70 million people are protected by Voluntary Health Insurance! Throughout the Nation, families are insuring themselves against the major costs of illness—at reasonable, budget-basis prices. Voluntary Health Insurance takes the economic shock out of illness. Protect your family now. For information, ask your doctor—or your insurance man.

An American's greatest heritage is the right to learn the facts—and to speak his mind. Maintained with honor and used with sincerity—that right will guarantee forever that

In answer to your questions, my reply is as follows:

"Our wholesale rates are not 1.5 KWH. The Otero County Co-op wholesale rates are approximately 7 mills (which is less than 1¢) and, of course, this current is procured under contract from the Reclamation Service. Here is the main reason why the Otero County Co-op rates are cheaper than the rates in Carrizozo: It costs the village 4¢ to produce 1 KWH of electricity from their diesel engines where we procure this electricity for 7 mills."

"Q. What contribution does the Otero County REA make to each electric light user in the village should it purchase the village electric light system for $121,000?"

"A. In our proposed purchase of the electric facilities in Carrizozo the cooperative would invest approximately $925 for each consumer in the village of Carrizozo. This cost is made up of the cost of the transmission line, carrying 66,000 volts, which we propose to bring up Highway No. 54 from Alamogordo to Carrizozo; the cost of the sub-station at Carrizozo; and the cost of rebuilding the properties in Carrizozo, namely, its distribution system. The foregoing cost would be necessary to provide the residents of Carrizozo with proper and adequate electric service and full and adequate voltage for all the uses which the customers of the village may desire."

"Q. Is the $121,000 which the REA proposes to pay for the electric light system in Carrizozo as much as the Otero County REA can afford to pay for this system?"

"A. This is true, based upon the following: A feasibility study has been made on this proposed investment by the cooperative and it has been shown by such study that the investment of the foregoing cost of approximately $925 per customer can be liquidated over a 35-year period based on the rates the cooperative is now using and now offers to the residents of the village of Carrizozo. This rate is also in line with our policy to increase wages to employees which is offset always by increased usage. In fact, every REA which I have known of in the last 15 years has shown a very definite increase in usage."

"Q. How long have these rates been in effect?"

"A. Since the origin of the cooperative in 1940."

"Q. Are these rates cheaper than other co-ops?"

"A. This retail rate is comparable to the other systems in the United States. This statement is based on actual knowledge obtained from my being in service on 50 similar projects."

"A. Do the villages carry the ranchers under the Otero County REA system?"

"A. The answer is in reverse. The ranchers carry the village."

"Q. Why?"

"A. The village has the lowest return in revenue."

"Q. Why does the village have the lowest return in revenue?"

"A. To answer that question, I would have to state that the usage of electric service on the ranch is of major proportions be-

Democratic Get-Together Draws Large Crowd

The Democratic get-together dance held in Capitán last Saturday night drew a large crowd as Lincoln County residents gathered to dance to the music of the popular Ray Reed and his Lincoln County Boys. Many compliments concerning this orchestra were voiced by those present.

A number of the Democratic candidates for county offices were observed at the grade school gym where the dance was held.

The following itinerary of campaign meetings is announced by Carl E. Ness, Capitán, chairman cause they have more need for such service than you do in the village and consume electricity in much greater volume for their ranch uses."

"Q. Would the REA bring employment and business to this area?"

"A. We would in all probability use the present help and employ many more. We would have approximately 12 men employed in Carrizozo on our payroll permanently. During the first five years, or the development period, we would have on our payroll approximately 20 men from this area."

"Q. If the REA came into the village of Carrizozo, would considerable business follow this development?"

"A. Statistics show that for each ranch installation, approximately $1,300 is spent for wiring and electrical appliances. There are approximately 315 ranches whose owners have expressed their desire to use the REA system if it is brought to this area."

"The writer is definitely interested in providing any possible information to the residents of Carrizozo in order that they can be in a position to make their decision in this matter based on factual information."

"The writer will meet with you, the council, civic groups or individual property owners of the city to answer any questions possible."

"Kindly feel free to call upon the writer in this matter."
