Party Attracts More Than 300

The members of the Carrizozo Lions and Woman's Clubs presented 310 Christmas socks, as well as toys to the children of Carrizozo, at the community Christmas tree in Plaza Park Saturday afternoon.

Long before Santa was due to arrive, the youngsters were swarming over the park to be on hand to greet him. Upon his arrival by the modern conveyance of truck, instead of the traditional reindeer and sled, he was given an enthusiastic welcome by the children who crowded around him to make known their Christmas wishes.

Santa, in a jovial mood as is characteristic of this idol of all youngsters, proceeded to the bandstand, where, with the help of Roy Shafer, Carrizozo Lions president; Duff May and others, he distributed the socks filled with candy, fruits and nuts and augmented them with a toy for each child.

The pleased smiles of the children as they walked down from the bandstand with their gifts gave visual proof of the success of the party sponsored by the local Lions and Woman's Clubs.

For some of the children, it meant the only visit from Santa they would have.

The one sad note in the joyous occasion was when the supplies of candy and toys were exhausted before all the children had passed before Santa.

Last year out of 225 filled socks, approximately 25 or more were left over, but this year, even with the additional number, there were not enough to go around.

The beautiful pre-Christmas weather is believed to be one of the reasons for so many youngsters being on hand for the celebration. A mild day, the bright sunshine warmed the many shoppers observed on the streets of Carrizozo. The kids had a date to keep and the weatherman cooperated with them to help make the community Christmas tree the largest and most successful to date.

In view of the extraordinary large attendance this year, the two civic organizations announced precautionary measures will be taken next year to prevent a repetition of a shortage in supplies; thereby causing disappointment for some eager and hopeful youngsters.

Mrs. Lewis Farris headed the Woman's Club committee, and Messrs. Lawrence Queen and S. M. Ortiz were the Lions Club committee to make arrangements for the Christmas party.

Sheriff Ortiz was the genial Santa for the occasion.

Concluding the Christmas tree party was the awarding of two suits by the local Lions. H. R. Jackson, Captain, was the lucky winner of the two suits given away by the Carrizozo Lions Club.

Painting By Amateur Is Cherished Christmas Gift

A cherished Christmas gift of the Clyde Shults, Carrizozo, is the picture received from their son, Don, a student at State College, Las Cruces, and an amateur painter.

Young Shults has caught the bleakness of winter in his painting of a mountain peak and surrounding area. Although unidentified, the peak with its splashes of snow, bears a resemblance to Nogal Peak. The surrounding forest area is depicted in its winter dress of brown.

The student is at present enrolled in the engineering school, but is contemplating changing to art work.

He has painted several other pictures, both original and reproduction work, and displays exceptional ability.

Atwoods Miss Sunshine

A Christmas card received from the Clyde Atwoods, Vine Grove, Ky., indicates that state could use some of New Mexico's sunshine. Mrs. Atwood said they had seen the sun twice in two weeks, and that it had rained or snowed every day. She asked to be remembered to all, and signs "The Duck Footed Atwoods."

Master Sergeant Atwood, formerly a deputy sheriff in Lincoln County, is now stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

Air Raid Warning Signals Given Test

Carrizozoans were given a preview last week of signals which will be used to warn the villagers of attack should World War III be declared and the enemy succeed in reaching this vicinity.

One test signal was given the afternoon of December 21, and, on the following night, another one was heard. All lights were turned out with Friday's test in order to give the villagers a realistic warning of what might happen.

Prior to the dates of the test signals, officials had circulars distributed which gave the dates of the signals, a description of them, and information concerning survival from atomic attack. The following is a summary of such information:

Effective at once, the two stage warning code will be used to announce imminent "attack" and the subsequent "all clear" signals. The "red alert" public warning signal will consist of both village sirens sounding for a period of three minutes. The "all clear" signal will be a series of three steady one-minute blasts, interrupted by a silent period of two minutes each. If an air raid warning should become necessary during a prolonged "black out" period portable sirens will be used on the same time interval schedule. When the "red alert" warning is sounded, you should act immediately.

Survival secrets for atomic attack:

Try to get shielded—if you have time, get down in a basement or subway. Should you unexpectedly be caught out of doors, seek shelter alongside a building, or jump in any handy ditch or gutter.

Drop flat on ground or floor—To keep from being tossed about and to lessen the chances of being struck by falling and flying objects, flatten out at the base of a wall, or at the bottom of a bank.

Bury your face in your arms—When you drop flat, hide your eyes in the crook of your elbow. That will protect your face from flash burns, prevent temporary blindness and keep flying objects out of your eyes.

Don't rush outside right after a bombing—After an air burst, wait a few minutes then go help fight fire. After other kinds of bursts wait at least one hour to give lingering radiation some chance to die down.

Don't take chances with food or water in open containers—To prevent radioactive poisoning or disease select your food and water with care. When there is reason to believe they may be contaminated, stick to canned and bottled things if possible.

Don't start rumors—In the confusion that follows a bombing, a single rumor might touch off a panic that could cost your life.

Do not use the phone unless absolutely necessary. Leave the lines open for real emergency traffic.

Bread Driver Has Helper

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Minier, Carrizozo, are announcing the birth of a six pound six ounce son, Sammy Lynn, on December 24.

The proud father, who is the distributor for Holsum Bread in Lincoln County, said he was rounding-up bread supplies that afternoon, and was greeted with the news of his fatherhood upon his return.

Minier, happily distributing cigars, added he'd wait a few weeks before attempting to train the lad to help with bread deliveries.

Korean Crisis Creates Demand For Workers

The Korean crisis has created urgent demands for new workers in eight occupational fields, Veterans Administration announced in a report to its field offices.

The eight fields were selected, the report said, to illustrate the general "lightening up of the labor market" that has resulted from America's mobilization program.

They include health professions, grade school teachers, ship radio operators, electronic technicians, scientific and technical professions, skilled metalworkers, railroad jobs, and clerical positions.

James Morriss, Samie Ehart, Wed In El Paso

A marriage which took place in El Paso on December 23 at 7 P. M. in the First Presbyterian Church united Miss Samie Ehart of that city and James Morriss, S. N. U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morriss, Carrizozo. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam N. Ehart, former Carrizozo residents.

Rev. Frank F. Jones Jr. performed the double ring ceremony with Mrs. Priscilla Wilson, organist, playing the traditional wedding music. The church decorations carried out the Christmas theme.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white wool suit with navy blue accessories and carried a corsage of Tallman roses with ribbon decor.

Her sister, Nadine Ehart, as maid of honor, was gowned in navy blue taffeta with matching accessories, and carried a gardenia corsage.

William B. Morriss, El Paso, served his brother as best man.

After the ceremony, attended by only members of the immediate families, the bridal party returned to the Ehart home where a reception honoring the newlyweds was held.

The bride's table was centered with a white cake topped by a miniature bridal pair over whom hovered an angel figurine symbolic of happiness.

Toasts in punch were offered by the guests to the future happiness and prosperity of the bride and bridegroom.

The young couple remained in El Paso for their honeymoon as Mr. Morriss must report on the West Coast shortly for reassignment to duty. He has been on furlough after seeing action in Korea.

The new Mrs. Morriss is employed with the Mountain States Telephone Company, El Paso, and she will make her home there during the absence of her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morriss and son, Jeff, Carrizozo, attended the wedding of their son and brother.

Christ Story Presented By Local Methodist Church

The story of the birth of Christ in pantomime was presented by children in the beginner, primary and intermediate classes of the Carrizozo Trinity Methodist Church under the direction of Mrs. T. A. Spencer Jr.

The scenery and props for the background of the story were cleverly fashioned by Mrs. Spencer and her workers. Miss Frances Degner, who played the role of the Madonna, produced the lifelike cardboard figures of the sheep surrounding the crib of the Christ Child.

The youngsters were grave and reverent in their portrayal of the most wondrous story of all—the birth of Christ and the visitor who came from afar to honor Him and bear Him gifts.

During the portrayal in pantomime, a choir of youngsters from these classes sang a number of the old Christmas carols.

The youth group of church was in charge of the worship service, assisted by Mrs. Fred Napp.

At the conclusion of the program Santa Claus (played by C. A. Branum) appeared to distribute oranges and socks filled with Christmas goodies.

Ruidoso Couple Observes Forty-Ninth Anniversary

The forty-ninth wedding anniversary of the S. E. Boelians, Ruidoso, was celebrated December 24.

The former Carrizozoans were married in Topeka, Kan., December 24, 1901.

New Mexico's Next Governor

Governor-elect Edwin L. Mechem, who will be inaugurated at noon January 1, is the first Republican governor in 20 years and the fifteenth governor of the state of New Mexico. Mechem is a resident of Las Cruces.

The couple were married in Carrizozo December 24, 1925, at the home of the late Dr. F. H. Johnson, with Rev. John H. Skinner officiating.

Five Inductees To Leave Carrizozo Grade School Principal Resigns Post

The local Selective Service office has five inductees scheduled to leave from Lincoln County during January.

Leaving on January 3 are Aaron Ray Lack, Captain, and Lois Salazar Vigil, Captain.

Those reporting on January 18 are Orlando Gabaldon, Claunch; William Babers, San Patricio, and Richard Chavez, Captain.

Mrs. Edna Laramie, clerk of the local Selective Service Board, announces she has calls for 15 physicals to be taken on January 8, and 15 more to be taken on January 16.

Carrizozo Man's Car Overtaken Near Oscura

An Oldsmobile coupe belonging to Luciano Gutierrez, Carrizozo, was overturned one mile south of Oscura early Sunday morning.

No injuries were reported but the car was practically demolished.

The sheriff's office stated Gutierrez reported he had loaned the automobile to a couple of young fellows, the identities of whom have not been established.

The accident which occurred about 3:30 A. M. December 24, was first reported by a crew on a Southern Pacific train that was headed for Carrizozo.

Local Hospital Receives A M A Recognition

The board of trustees of the Lincoln County Municipal Hospital, through W. J. Hadley, superintendent, announces it is now registered with the American Medical Association.

Registration requirements are strict, and the local hospital is probably one of the smallest ever admitted. Rigid investigation is made to determine if the hospital meets all necessary qualifications for registration. The admission of the local hospital has been pending since July, which indicates investigations are thorough and not taken lightly.

Factors taken into consideration in the examination of a hospital include organization, physical plant, medical staff, pathology and laboratory diagnosis, radiology, anesthesia, nursing service, pharmacy, medical records and ethics. The foregoing departments of a hospital must conform with certain rules and regulations set by the association in order for the hospital to be eligible for membership.

The registration of the local hospital means it will now be listed in the directory of hospitals in the American Medical Journal, one issue each year being dedicated for such purpose. It will also be listed in "Modern Hospital" (the blue book of hospital administration).

Some of the advantages of registration with the American Medical Association include availability of up to date information on hospital administration and laws; out of town physicians who may wish to recommend a hospital to a former patient who is moving, can check the journal and inform one of the nearest registered hospital in the new residence area; and information on new techniques and discoveries in medicine and surgery.

Heart Attack Fatal To Billy The Kid Claimant

An old cowboy who claimed to be Billy the Kid of Lincoln County shooting fame died Wednesday with his boots on.

He was O. L. (Drushy Bill) Roberts, who was walking along the streets of Elco, Texas, at noon Wednesday when he fell and died of a heart attack.

Roberts recently went to Santa Fe claiming to be Billy the Kid and to ask Governor Thomas J. Mabry for a pardon.

Governor Mabry turned down the request.

Roberts moved to Elco about 12 years ago from Gladewater, Texas. He told people he was 90 years old. He and his wife lived in a shack there. He had with him many documents which he said supported his stories of early day adventures and Indian fighting.

He always wore frontier clothes—a light tan cowboy hat, a leather jacket with a fringe, and boots.

"I never drink tea, coffee, rot-gut or liquor," he told a reporter some time ago. "I live on sweet milk, cornbread and turnip greens."

W. A. Morrison, who represented Roberts' claim to being the Kid, left El Paso by train Wednesday for Elco to attend the funeral. He has asked the widow for permission to make a full notation of all scars and marks on Roberts' body.

Roberts also backed up the claim by James Dalton, on the Confederate pension rolls of Texas, who said he really was Jesse James of early day bandit fame.

Carrizozo Basketball To Resume Play Jan. 5

Carrizozo High School basketball fans will see their favorite team in action again on January 5 and 6 after a week's vacation for the holidays.

On January 5 the Zozettes will go to Roswell for an engagement there and on January 6 the Eunice High School team will come to Carrizozo.

New Year's Dance

Another holiday dance at the Carrizozo Country Club is scheduled for Monday night, January 1.

Janet Vacher and her Starlighters will play for dancing between 9 P. M. and 1 A. M. Admission is $1.50 per couple.

Mechem Takes Oath January 1

The first Republican governor in 20 years, Edwin L. Mechem, will be sworn in Monday, January 1, as the fifteenth governor of the state of New Mexico.

According to Carl A. Bishop, chairman of the Inaugural ball finance committee, advance reports of ticket sales indicate an early sell out. The committee is desirous of making it a statewide inauguration with as many visitors as possible from the 32 counties in New Mexico.

Bishop said it appeared a tremendous crowd will attend the ceremonies with visitors from every county, and added a large sale of tickets was made in the outlying districts.

Tickets for the Inaugural are available in every bank in the state.

A charge of $10 per couple is being made in order to defray expenses for the inauguration. After paying expenses, all surplus funds will be placed in the Inaugural fund, which is a non-partisan account held in Santa Fe and reserved exclusively for the Inaugural ceremonies of each new governor.

For the ball, dress will be optional for men. It is presumed the ladies will wear evening gowns and during the day, formal or semi-formal afternoon dresses.

Public address facilities are being provided so that those on the outside may hear the ceremony. The entire inauguration will be broadcast throughout the state for the benefit of those unable to attend.

Major General Charles H. Corlett, chairman of the Inaugural committee, stated accommodations are limited, and suggested visitors from outlying districts contact the Chamber of Commerce, 114 Shelby Street, Santa Fe, for reservations.

Following is the inauguration program:

11:15 to 11:45 A. M.—Music by Santa Fe High School Band.

11:45—Governor Thomas J. Mabry and Governor-elect Edwin L. Mechem with military aides arrive; invocation by Archbishop Adwin V. Byrne.

"I do the best I know how, the very best I can; and I mean to keep on doing it to the end. If the end brings me out all right, what is said against me will not amount to anything. If the end brings me out all wrong, 10 angels wearing it was right would make no difference."—Abraham Lincoln.

I am happy to know that as I leave the office of governor at the end of my second term I am leaving the state a healthy solvent, prosperous and going concern.

Great demands have been made in the last four years on the limited finances of the state to meet the growing needs of the expanding services required by us. We have met these demands without any substantial tax increase and from year to year have left healthy cash balances in the state treasury.

I want to thank all our friends the general public, the state officials and the employees who have cooperated with me in holding down these growing costs as much as possible while aiding with expanding services and giving our state good government.

I wish for my successor all the good luck in the world. This is a difficult job under any circumstances. It will not be less difficult surely that we are facing these new and trying problems brought on by the ugly situation now challenging all freedom loving people everywhere. These times call for the honest and wholehearted cooperation of all our people regardless of party affiliation or other conflicting interests. I am sure our new governor will have this.

Petty political bickering and quarreling over credit for achievement in these times is going to be mighty distasteful to a lot of people. There was never a better time to adjourn politics than right now.

As a nation, we are facing a determined and well armed challenge to our very existence. Nothing could be more important than that we here in New Mexico help meet this challenge with as much unity and good will as we can muster.

We are going to preserve our republic and the way of life she affords us; but we are not going to do it the easy way. Easy, care-free, normal living must go. And

FORT STANTON

By FRANK E. SMITH

Mrs. Stella Zamora was the happy recipient of the makings of a Christmas dinner when the Roy Scouts of the Fort Stanton troop presented her with a turkey and all the trimmings on Christmas Eve.

Bert Minter and Ray Baker were over on the Rio Grande near San Marchel to get their quota of Canadian geese. Both expect to go out again on another wild goose chase.

The pool tables at the Seamen's Social Club were loaded down with prizes last Wednesday night, when the auxiliary of the Norton Pepper Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Captain started the bingo game. A capacity crowd was on hand for the affair and everyone had a nice time. A number of non-members of the auxiliary were also on hand to help out in any way possible. The prizes came from auxiliaries all over the state of New Mexico. It sure was a real good party.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Merrell entertained the Percy Parkers, Ray Bakers and the "Red" Merrells on Saturday night at their home and served egg-nog to their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Baker had a number of folks from Dexter, Roswell and Austin, Texas, for Christmas dinner. This was the first Christmas the Bakers had spent at the Fort.

People came from Roswell, Ruidoso and all along the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley to be on hand for the Lincoln County Christmas party in the main dining room of the hospital on Friday night. Judging from the comments heard after the show, the party was a great success and it is hoped that it is but the first of a series of such Christmas get-togethers. The little black book of Dorothy Gray Gueck came in handy for the reading she gave and most everyone wondered who would be the next to get in the limelight of the monolog.

Rudolph Treas and Mrs. Casey of Meccelero had something different in the way of entertainment, as Mrs. Casey sang "Silent Night, Holy Night." Rudolph crayed a nativity scene Leota Pfingsten gave a reading and was well applauded Betty Pfingsten, whose name now is the kind one has to write down, sang a couple of songs. Wilbur Coe, Peter Hurd and "Duckshot Roberts" Dan Storm got together with their guitars and gave out with several Spanish or Mexican songs. Lloyd Bloodworth acted as master of ceremonies and also led in the singing of a number of Christmas carols by the choir and audience. All in all, it was a pretty good party. "The Emmett Womacks had a houseful of company over the holidays. Jack and Diane Shaw spent their Christmas in bed as the result of both of them contracting the mumps. Messrs. Takichi Shimabukuna, John Davis, Melvin Fillingame, Walter Kruhmin and Knut Wingard helped out a great deal at the Craft Shop by wrapping about 200 packages that were later distributed to the patients. Dana Kuslanovich acquitted herself admirably at the organ when she played for the midnight mass at the Sacred Heart Chapel. The little chapel was crowded.

The service at the Chapel of Our Redeemer was also well attended. Sergeant Dill Osuna and Jean Sanchez stopped in to see me for a short time on Tuesday. They had come up from El Paso to spend some time with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sanchez. Mr. and Mrs. Ed White had open house on Christmas evening and lots of egg-nog was dispensed to the many guests from the Fort and near vicinity.

In its place must come more sacrifice, more tolerance, more unselfish devotion to duty as good citizens, and all the faith in ourselves we can enlist. Faith and courage can, and must, replace fear and frustration. God grant us the strength of heart and soul to mobilize completely all our talents for that unselfish and courageous conduct, personal and political, needed in these grim and perilous days.

Mrs. Mabry joins me in thanks to all of you for the thoughtful things you have done for us, and the kindness bestowed during our four years at the capitol. And we want especially to thank you for the charity with which you have appraised our errors and shortcomings.

Some things we shall leave behind, but these remembrances we take with us to keep always as I now return permanently to private life.

Fire Losses Increase During Winter Months

Winter is fire's favorite season, the National Board of Fire Underwriters warns.

Fire losses usually rise when the temperature falls, the organization points out, in urging homeowners to take special care with their heating systems in preparation for the cold months ahead.

Where possible, thorough inspection and cleaning of the entire heating system is advisable during the early fall, before it is placed in full daily operation. Frequently defects which developed during the spring and summer can be remedied easily, but if neglected might lead to a serious blaze.

"Forcing" a furnace or heater which is giving insufficient heat is a dangerous habit, the engineers of the national board observe. Often a checkup by a competent repairman will reveal that some repair is needed to make the device give better service, and attempts to "force" it may cause a fire.

The engineers also offered these four safety tips:

- 1. Keep a metal screen in front of your fireplace. 2. Never use gasoline or kerosene to "quicken" a fire. 3. Remove newspapers, magazines and other combustible rubbish from your home. Often these are responsible for a blaze. 4. Use a metal container with a cover for hot ashes... never a wooden or cardboard container.

Vibronic infection, caused by a germ called Vibrio fetus, is being recognized as an important cause of breeding troubles in cattle.

Nutrition Studies Aid Sheep Parasite Control

Sheep growers may be able to reduce parasite losses considerably by keeping an eye on the nutrition of their flocks.

For one thing, recent studies have shown lambs getting a balanced ration are better able to survive the effects of certain internal parasites, such as hookworms. Studies also have demonstrated lambs are less likely to be weakened by stomach worm infection if they receive a blood building mineral supplement. In the latter case, the minerals help to restore blood robbed by the parasites.

On this basis, research veterinarians think sheep producers who are feeding a phenothiazine-salt mixture for controlling internal parasites ought to get better results by adding minerals to the mixture. Copper and iron would be of definite help, they believe, and cobalt and manganese also should be included.

Calf Killed By Bullets That Never Hit It

The case of the bullets that killed a calf without ever hitting it is reported by Maine veterinarians—not as a contribution to mystery fiction, but as a warning to cattle owners.

The Maine Veterinary Medical Association says a calf died of lead poisoning after licking a target practice board peppered with 22 bullets.

Another report from the Maine organization tells of a case of lead poisoning in cattle due to chewing on an old piece of painted linoleum that had been thrown into a pasture.

"Lead is lead from any source," the veterinary medical association warned. Most farmers are aware of the danger of letting animals lick lead paint, but they overlook the fact that lead in any other form may be just as attractive to cattle and just as deadly.

Honey, which makes a delicious sauce for ice cream, can also be used as an excellent sweetening in frozen desserts.

"Copper Canyon," which opens Sunday and continues through Monday at the Lyric Theater, is an outdoor epic bristling with action from start to finish.

Photographed in color, the story concerns a group of miners driven off their land by a ruthless industrialist who refuses to smelt their ore. They enlist the aid of a former Army officer, posing as a vaudeville trickshot artist, who leads them to triumph.

Ray Milland, the star, who proves as much at home in action pictures as in drawing room comedies, draws gorgeous Hedy Lamarr for his partner in romance.

The excellent supporting cast includes Macdonald Carey, Mona Freeman and Harry Carey Jr. (son of the late famed star of countless western films).

Editor, News-Outlook: Every day the Otero County Electric Co-op is contributing its share to America's strength for peace or war. Our country's natural resources are at work for the people. Vital electric energy is being distributed to the farms throughout our land by rural electric lines, built by farmers themselves—and paid for—the cooperative way. Power bottled up in mighty dams and transmitted by government effort throughout the nation is being distributed directly to farm people. Electric power—the farmer's electric hand—is being distributed to those people who are the producers of food, the farmers of the United States. They are the ones who need it most in this time of partial mobilization. For farm power is power for defense! ALLEN E. MOORE, Electrification Adviser, Otero County Electric Cooperative, Inc.

County Agents Plan Outstanding Program

County Agent Carl A. Radcliff, Carrizozo, who has just returned from the annual agents' conference held at State College, states an outstanding program has been planned for 1951.

The program has been arranged on the basis of the needs of the people as they were submitted at planning meetings held by members of the extension clubs, 4-H leaders and various individuals prior to the state conference.

It calls for a total of 123 educational meetings to be held in Lincoln County by State Extension Service personnel, local leaders and the county agent. A few of the major topics to be discussed are:

For men—World Trade; Orchard Management Practices; What is New in Insecticides; Establishing and General Care of The Farm Poultry Flock and Dairy Herd; and Landscaping and The Home and Its Surroundings, and The New Herd and Flock Improvement Program For Cattle and Sheep.

For women—Flower Culture; Home Sewing; Interior Decorating; Tips On Successful Ironing; Flower Arrangement and Care; Remodeling Hats; Alumnum Etching; REA Cooking School; Panel Discussion On Current Events; Suggestions For Use Of Cotton Bags; and Table Service and Etiquette.

4-H program — In addition to the training received by 4-H club members in caring for their livestock and home management projects, meetings are held semi-monthly on civic and agricultural problems. A few of the major topics planned in the year's program are:

Panel discussions on: Good Manners; Common Ailments and First Aid Treatment Of Livestock; Story Of Our Community; Judging Sheep; and Judging Beef Cattle. Short demonstrations will be given at least monthly by different club members on subjects pertaining to their project work. Topics of a few of the demonstrations for the girls include: Milk Drinks; Making Cheese; Making Soups; Making Salads; Making Ice Cream; and other topics of this nature.

Demonstrations for boys include: Preparing Rations; Blocking Sheep; Judging Different Types Of Animals; Control of Parasites; Mechanical Injury To Livestock; and Poisonous Plants. Details of the various public gatherings will be published in the county newspapers and announcements relative to 4-H and extension club meets will be made by circular letters.

Radcliff said it is hoped the public will attend as many of these meetings as possible.

Radio Reporters To Discuss 'Crises Of '50's'

An important radio and television feature of this mid-century year, with radio reporters from all over the world participating in person at New York in a discussion of "The Challenge Of The '50's—Years Of Crises," will be sponsored at the year's end by the Chevrolet dealers over the nationwide network of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

A full hour on both radio and television, it will be broadcast on the CBS radio network from 3:30 P. M. to 4:30 P. M. (EST) Sunday, December 31. The CBS television network will carry the feature from 1:30 P. M. to 2:30 P. M. (EST) on New Year's Day.

Ten of Columbia's best known foreign correspondents and news analysts will be in New York, the majority flown from their far flung posts especially for the broadcast. Heading the group and acting as chairman will be Edward R. Murrow, crack CBS news reporter and analyst.

The program will give a round-up of facts and opinions from the entire world concerning the critical condition of civilization today, where we have been during the past year and the outlook for the future.

Recorded interviews with prominent statesmen and "men on the street" from all over the world will add dramatic interest. On television, films, animated maps and diagrams will give visual impact to the authoritative discussions of the world outlook.

The radio reporters on the program, in addition to Murrow, and the areas of the world they cover are: Howard K. Smith, European news chief; London; Bill Costello, Korea; Tokyo; Phillipines; Indo-China; India; David Schoonbrun, France; Portugal; Spain and North Africa; Richard C. Hottelet, Germany and Scandinavia; Winston Burdett, Rome; the Vatican; Greece, Yugoslavia; Ned Calmer, Puerto Rico and Latin America; Eric Newmyer and Charles Collingwood, Washington; Larry Lefever, United Nations.

Motorized Monkey Heads Freak Accident List

So you think flying saucers are fantastic? Then just take a look at what the National Safety Council has dug up this year in its annual search for odd accidents.

You may have suspected that some accidents are caused by monkey business. But it remained for Alice, a trained chimpanzee, to clinch it: Riding her motor scooter before an enthusiastic crowd at the St. Louis Zoo, Alice zipped off the stage in a showy exit, ran down Trainer William Rogers and banged him up, but good.

It is relatively seldom that boats and automobiles run into each other. But it happened at Maysville, Ind., when Emmett Holsapple's motor boat, with the "hottle open as it neared shore," leaped out of the White River and crashed into a car parked 20 feet in on dry land.

If autos can be struck by boats on land, fish can be run over by autos while swimming. J. V. Short was driving along the flooded street in front of his home in Toledo, Ohio, when he struck and killed two fish that had migrated from a pond in his yard when high water caused it to overflow.

State Budget Director John H. Bradford of Richmond, Va., has pulled out of some mighty tight squeezes—but none as tight as the collar he tried to button one night in dolling himself up for an important party. Bradford fought so fiercely that he had to go to the hospital for emergency treatment of severe finger bruises inflicted by the collar button.

Gary Wilmer Jr. of Atlanta, Ga., hopes that he makes out better as a real angel than he did on his pilot run. Playing an angel in an amateur theatrical, Wilmer came down to earth with a bang when the cable supporting him above the stage snapped as he floated in mid-air.

Embarrassing describes the experience of Policeman Donald Otto of Detroit. As the young patrolman was strolling with his girl friend on his night off, his service pistol let go and shot off the seat of his pants.

The last thing in the world 9-year-old Theron Longley of Bow, N. H., expected as he wound up for a hot cadenza on his trumpet was that he would blow out four teeth. But that's what he did! Inhaling prodigiously for a final triumphant blast to a stirring march, Trumpeter Theron swallowed a denture he had been wearing since an automobile accident two years before.
