"Death March" Veteran Dies

By HELEN WHITEHEAD

War casualties and stories of the inhuman and brutal practices of the Japanese aren't exactly news any more, but they do serve as a reminder and a challenge to us to guard our future.

Thus, our memories were jogged with the news of the death of 28-year-old Sergeant Newton F. Kemp in Carlsbad on Friday, January 13. A resident of Carlsbad, young Kemp was a survivor of the infamous Bataan "March of Death," and his own untimely death occurred as a climax of injuries, malnutrition and resultant tuberculosis sustained while in a Japanese prison camp.

Newton Kemp was captured by the Japs and interned from September, 1943, to July, 1944, at Los Pinaos in the Philippines after the Battle of Bataan. A couple of the guards often beat the starving soldier for some trivial or trumped-up reason. He had an acute pulmonary hemorrhage in April, 1944, for which he not only received no treatment, but, exhausted and underfed, he was forced to work 10 hours or more a day building Jap air bases. The acutely ill six-foot sergeant, whose weight usually averaged between 165 and 167 pounds, lost almost 50 pounds on the exceptionally poor and inadequate food.

Sergeant Kemp was returned to the United States for hospitalization following the Jap surrender. He spent five days at Letterman Hospital in San Francisco, before being sent to Bruno General Hospital in Santa Fe, N. M., on October 17, 1945; the diagnosis—far advanced tuberculosis. In June, 1946, an enormously emaciated young man, he checked in at Fort Stanton, but when he was discharged at his own request on October 29, 1946, his weight had been upped to 145 pounds. From September 7, 1948, until June 28, 1949, he was a patient at the Veterans Hospital at Albuquerque, which he left against medical advice, although plans were being made to transfer him to Fort Stanton, which he had requested, in order to be nearer Carlsbad.

According to a veteran ruling, there is a 90-day penalty for leaving a hospital against orders. However, the regulations provide that for any one of the following three conditions, considered to be emergencies, a patient may be readmitted: (a) past due pneumothorax, (b) haemoptysis or (c) high temperature and acutely ill from tuberculosis infection. As an emergency, he was admitted to Fort Stanton Hospital on July 24, 1949.

Funeral services were conducted Monday morning, January 16, at Carlsbad, followed by interment at Capitan Cemetery, Monday afternoon. The late Newton F. Kemp was born in Paloverde, Ariz., January 19, 1921, and is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ann R. Kemp of Carlsbad; one brother and two sisters.

Santa Rita School to Give Benefit Dance

A benefit dance for Santa Rita School will be held on January 28 at the Community Hall. Excellent music will be provided for dancing.

The funds derived from this affair will be applied toward retiring the present indebtedness on the Santa Rita School. It is reported that such debt is now under $1,000, thanks to the efforts of Nick Vega and his committee. Mr. Vega is president of the building committee.

The library, which is enjoyed by the students at Santa Rita School, was obtained as a result of the untiring efforts of the school and building officials.

Grizzlies Conquer Cloudercroft, NMMI

The Carrizozo-Cloudercroft basketball tilt last Friday proved to be a fast one with the winner unknown right up to the last minute. The Zozoites played the Cloudercroft boys on their home court, and it was nip and tuck during all four quarters.

The score at the end of the first quarter was 11-10 favor of Carrizozo, but at the halftime Cloudercroft had tied the score, 22-22, and by the end of the third quarter had nosed out the Grizzlies by 33-31.

With 25 seconds left to decide the game and the score 44-42 for Cloudercroft, Herrera put the ball in the basket for a tie. Carrizozo fouled a time or two then, but Cloudercroft missed the free shots.

At the last moment of the game, the Grizzlies gained possession of the ball and Leandro Vega made good on his throw but was fouled by the other team in his attempt. This gave the Carrizozo man a chance for a free throw even though time had been called. Vega made good on the shot and clinched the game for Carrizozo by a score of 47-44.

Huffmyer was high man for Carrizozo with 12 points, while Swope of Cloudercroft led with 19.

Most of the Grizzlies' points were made at the beginning of each quarter.

The Zozoites met the boys from New Mexico Military Institute at Carrizozo on Saturday night. The Institute lads were all set to avenge their defeat at the hands of the Grizzlies during the Capitan tournament.

The local boys, however, held them to two points in the first quarter, while scoring 10 points for themselves. In the second quarter, Institute made a comeback, gaining 15 points while holding the Zozoites to eight. At halftime the score was 18-17 favor of Carrizozo.

The third quarter was a different story—the Grizzlies got their second wind and added another 15 points to their score, while the Cadets scored only six.

The third quarter ended with Carrizozo leading, 33-23. In the last quarter, the local boys coasted a little, scoring only eight points while the Institute made 10.

The final score was 41-33 in Carrizozo's favor. Both teams displayed good sportsmanship with only seven fouls called against each of them. Herrera was high man for the local team with 13 points, and Burton gained 12 points for the visitors.

The Grizzlies have lost to only two teams so far this season. Hagerman defeated them in the Capitan tournament after having lost to the Zozoites in a previous game. Alamogordo handed them two defeats around the holidays. The Carrizozo quintet has played 13 games to date.

Carrizozo is slated to play two games on its own home court this weekend. They will meet Corona on January 20, and Carlsbad on January 21.

Both teams are expected to provide keen competition.

Odd Fellows to Hold Benefit Box Supper

Carrizozo Lodge No. 30, IOOF, will hold a benefit box supper and dominoes party on Saturday, January 28, at 8 P. M. at the Odd Fellows Hall. The proceeds derived from this event will be used in furnishing and repairing their kitchen.

There will be a number of attractive boxes of food to be auctioned, and the bidding should prove lively. A large attendance is urged.

Richmond-Jackson

Louis A. Richmond, Artesia, and Ruby Jackson, Eunice, were united in marriage on January 7, 1950, at 5 P. M.

The ceremony was performed by C. D. Weems, justice of the peace, Rudoco. Witnesses were Meedames O. A. Lualaba and C. D. Weems.

Lincoln County Hospital To Open January 28

According to Dr. J. P. Turner, Lincoln County's new hospital in Carrizozo will be open for inspection on January 28.

This new building is one of the most modern to be found in this state or elsewhere. Turner states, however, that the hospital will not be open to patients until February 1. He is to be in charge of the hospital and supervise its staff.

A silver tea will be served from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M., and a benefit dance is scheduled for that night at the Carrizozo Country Club. Janet and her Starlighters of El Paso have been engaged to play for dancing. Admission will be $5 per couple, and tickets may be obtained at the hospital or at the door of the Country Club. The proceeds from these events will be used to purchase additional hospital equipment.

The new hospital is a triumphant achievement for Lincoln County. A great deal of work was necessary before it could become an accomplished fact—there were many setbacks and discouragements. Even after construction was actually started, delays occurred to prevent its opening on schedule. There were long periods of waiting for the necessary building materials and hospital equipment, of which a shortage yet exists. But all things must pass, and at long last Lincoln County will have the hospital it has so urgently needed.

Lincoln County may be justly proud—this edifice represents more than just a modern building. It represents the unflagging zeal, untold work, and keen foresight of those individuals who had the welfare of Lincoln County at heart and were willing to spare no effort toward fulfillment of their desire to provide the county with the best facilities known to medical science.

Dr. Turner urges the public to attend the hospital's open house, and inspect for themselves this beautiful new building and its up-to-the-minute equipment and facilities for rendering the best possible service to its patients.

Ancho PTA to Sponsor Four-Act Mystery

The Ancho Parent-Teacher Association is sponsoring the production of the four-act mystery thriller, "The Ghost Bird," on January 27 at 7:30 P. M. at the Ancho School Auditorium.

This "who dunnit" mystery comedy is being presented under the direction of F. Myrick Russell, dramatic coach and teacher at Ancho.

The setting for the murder is a lonely country home whose occupants all have a motive for committing the deed, and is complete with the usual "props" of the howling storm outside, screams inside, and a bloody knife. A super crook, "The Vulture," is also on the scene.

The cast is composed of the following local players who have spared no efforts to perfect their characterizations:

Vernelle Hightower as Catherine Belmont; Manuel Aragon, Will Belmont; John Allen Hightower, Carl Thomas; Allie Snodgrass, Andaluia Anderson; Ramon Montano, Tobias Tollivar; Lavine Snodgrass, Brad Buckhart; Rosie Aragon, Celeste; Maude Risinger, Mrs. Dore; David Luras, Jenkins; F. M. Russell, Phillip Graham; Katie Marie Snodgrass, Bella Walker; Mabel Otero, Annie Bloom.

Special sound effects will add to the "suspense" of this mystery thriller, and the audience is promised a laugh a minute during the four acts.

Mrs. Chas. Littell Funeral Rites Held on Friday

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Charles S. Littell were held last Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Trinity Methodist Church in Carrizozo.

Mrs. Littell, who passed away on January 10 at the home of her son, John, in El Paso, had been in ill health for the past two years.

The hymn, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," was sung by Rev. and Mrs. Harry L. Webb, Mrs. William MacVeigh and Clyde Shults. The choir sang "There Will Be No Dark Valley." Pallbearers were Herman Kelt, John E. Wright, J. E. Fulmer, Roy Harmon, Robert Huffmyer and Roley Ward.

Rev. Harry L. Webb officiated and interment was made at White Oaks, the former home for many years of Mrs. Littell, and where the body of the late Mr. Littell lies at rest also.

Sue Reid was born July 8, 1872, at Dansville, Ky. She was united in marriage with the late Charles S. Littell on April 19, 1900. Two sons were born of this union—John of El Paso and William of Missoula, Mont.

The deceased's husband passed away in January, 1949. The couple would have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on April 19, 1950.

The passing of Mrs. Littell is a sad loss to her relatives and many friends in Lincoln County and elsewhere. She was a gracious mother, and a kind and thoughtful friend and neighbor.

Woman's Club to Hold Valentine Tacky Dance

A Valentine dance is being planned for February 4 at 8 P. M. by the Woman's Club, which should prove loads of fun for those attending.

Mrs. Fred Napp is in charge of the committee and they have designated it as a Valentine Tacky Dance, which means that the tackier the costume one wears, the more apt one is to walk off with the prize.

Among the feature dances of the evening are the Broom Dance, Whistle Waltz and the Woman's Schottisch. Dan Cupid will be very much in evidence, but his identity is being kept secret.

The dance will be held at the Woman's Club House, and Pinkie Rickerson has charge of the ticket sales. Admission will be 75 cents for those in costume and $1 for those who do not wear a tacky outfit.

Laura Farris is in charge of refreshments and we understand that the 75 cents admissions will provide complimentary refreshments, but the holders of the $1 admissions must pay for theirs. It is also announced that light refreshments of coffee, doughnuts and cokes will be sold.

Jane Shafer is in charge of the decorations and music.

Lions Plan Timer, Scoreboard Project

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Carrizozo Lions Club on January 12, it was agreed to assume the responsibility for providing the local high school gymnasium with an electric timer and scoreboard.

The basketball committee was delegated to secure the gift, and raise funds necessary for this purchase. Last Friday, after the Carrizozo-NMMI game, three members of the committee, C. D. May, Ernest Roberts and Fred Napp, met with the following school faculty members: Manire, Spurlock, Mirimanian, Shaw and Myers, to formulate plans for securing the scoreboard.

The Grizzlies' loyal fans will have the opportunity to share in this project in a comparatively painless manner. On Monday, January 30, at 8 P. M., the Zozoites will meet the Lion-sponsored Independents in four fast quarters of basketball. There will be an advance sale of tickets and those who are unable to attend are nevertheless urged to participate in this project by purchasing as many tickets as possible. The committee is reported as believing they can promise a hair-raising game, and that the new timer and scoreboard will be delivered and installed in time for this match.

Tickets will be sold by students and Carrizozo citizens interested in this project.

Several senior classes of Carrizozo High School have given money as their graduation gift to the school, with the stipulation that such money be applied toward the purchase of an electric timer and scoreboard. This accumulated fund will be added to moneys secured from the Lion-sponsored project.

Lincoln County Oldtimer Dies in El Paso

By HELEN WHITEHEAD
The hosts of friends of Mrs. William Houston Marr of Tularosa were saddened by her sudden death at the Southwestern Hospital in El Paso on Wednesday, January 11, following a serious operation.

Her husband and five children, who survive her, were at the bedside when she passed away. Funeral services were held on Friday, January 13, at 2 P. M. at the Methodist Church in Tularosa.

Mrs. Harold Williams of Artesia, Calif., and Mrs. Jim Wiley of Tucson, Ariz., sisters of Mrs. Marr; three sons and their families, Barney Marr of Oakland, Calif., "Jiggs" Marr of Fort Stanton and "Hoot" Marr of Tularosa, and her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Coleman of El Paso, were here for the services. In addition, many friends from Lincoln, Otero, and Chavez counties paid final tribute to Mrs. Marr.

Eva Crawford was born in Brown County, Texas. She and William Houston Marr were married there in 1899 and moved to Lincoln County two years later, where they resided until they moved to Tularosa in 1923. Recently they had celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, chalking up 50 years of marriage, and had also visited their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. "Jiggs" Marr, at Fort Stanton.

Also surviving are 12 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

Lincoln County Boy in University "Who's Who"

Charles P. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Wilson of Ancho, is one of 11 Eastern New Mexico University students to be elected to "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges." The 11 were chosen by a secret committee and were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership and cooperation in educational and extra-curricular activities. The student's promise of future usefulness and general citizenship are also considered.

Detailed Report Given Chavez

A detailed report on Lincoln County's needs in connection with the building and maintenance of its secondary roads was presented to Senator Dennis Chavez and his subcommittee last Tuesday in Roswell by Harry Straley, chairman of the county's commissioners. He was accompanied to Roswell by a delegation from the Lions Club of Carrizozo.

Straley's report disclosed the fact that the road funds received by Lincoln County for the 1948-49 fiscal year totaled only $8,816.76. Out of a total area of approximately 6,000 square miles, there are about 450 miles of county-maintained roads. The funds received for road work in this county are approximately the same each year, and it is obvious that they are insufficient even for the maintenance of the roads already built.

It is very evident that Lincoln County must have federal aid if its roads are to be kept up to par. The maintenance of such roads is vital to the welfare of every person in this county. "Farmer to market" roads must be kept accessible and are an integral part of the state's highway system. The well being of entire communities are largely contingent upon the adequacy of these secondary roads.

According to Straley, $190,000 of federal money has been set aside for Lincoln County's secondary road work. He further states that it is planned to divide these funds among the three districts, and that the county commissioners have recommended to the State Highway Department as follows: One-third to be spent in District 1 on the Tinnie-Arabela road, and the remaining two-thirds to be spent in Districts 2 and 3 on the road from Carrizozo to White Oaks. Anyone who has traveled over these roads recently will realize the necessity for this construction.

In addition to the improvement needed on these roads, Straley reports there are two locations in Lincoln County that require bridge construction.

A new bridge is needed across the Hondo at Tinnie, and another one across the Bonita at Double Crossing.

These crossings are on school routes and are hazardous at many times during the year. There are no funds whatsoever, the commissioner said, for the building of such bridges, and no source of income from which it is possible to obtain the necessary money. He also reported that engineering facilities are not available to Lincoln County at the present time.

Industrial Arts Class Makes Field Trip

An interesting and educational field trip was taken last Wednesday by Industrial Arts Class students of Carrizozo High School. W. K. Myers was in charge.

The first inspection was made at the Prestridge Lumber Company, Alamogordo. They viewed the process of lumber manufacturing from the original log to the finished products.

In the afternoon, the students visited the Alamogordo School for the Blind and the Adult Training Center for the Blind, which is operated in conjunction with the school. They were shown the broom shop and watched the operation of the machines used in their manufacture.

In the wood shop the class inspected a chest of drawers under construction.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 20, 1950

A recent article on the 52,000 veterans who are mental patients in the various Veterans Administration hospitals has impressed us deeply. We wonder how many of our readers are fully aware that more than 17,000 of these men have not been visited by friends or members of their families in more than a year. Many appear to have been forgotten entirely except for those hospital workers whose sympathies have been aroused and who are trying to do for these men what their families should be doing.

It is true that some patients might be disturbed by visits from friends or relatives, but on the other hand there are many who are fully capable of returning to their normal world, and need only a helping hand over the initial adjustment period.

Preliminary results of a survey made by the Psychiatry and Neurology Division of the Veterans Administration Department of Medicine and Surgery disclosed that in some hospitals nearly half the mental patients hadn't had a visitor in a year. In one hospital, only 218 patients out of 785 had a visitor during the same period.

Through the social service department one VA hospital recently contacted the families of a selected group of 16 patients. Fourteen families responded with visits. The thought that it was necessary for a social service agency to bring these relatives to the realization of their responsibility is rather astounding to us. It is hard to believe that these families were entirely heartless, and yet they were certainly thoughtless to say the least. Admittedly, there are circumstances beyond the control of everyone which prevent the accomplishment of that which we may most desire.

These men present a problem that is not alone the responsibility of the relatives—each one of us should realize that "there but for the Grace of God go I," and pause to think "what can I do to help?"

VA has announced that it will increase its efforts in further stimulating the interest of families and friends in these "forgotten men."

New Mexico's mental patients are sent to Fort Lyons VA Hospital in Colorado, or to the U. S. Public Health Hospital in Fort Worth, Texas, according to the VA in Albuquerque. Even though it may not be possible for all of us to pay personal visits, let us keep in mind the need of these men—undoubtedly, there are ways in which all of us may help to make the lives of these patients more pleasant.

N. M. to Promote Driver Education

New Mexico and the other 47 states have joined in a common program designed to promote driver education in the high schools as a means of curbing teen-age recklessness on the highways and generally improving driving habits among the nation's future motorists, the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies announced in New York.

Governor Thomas J. Mabry personally authorized New Mexico's participation and has appointed Charles Ross, state superintendent of public instruction, as state coordinator of the program. In that capacity, Mr. Ross will promote driver education in high schools throughout the state as an effective and permanent means of increasing public safety on the streets and highways.

States that meet fixed high standards of achievement in driver education are awarded a bronze plaque each year by the association. The awards are determined entirely by an impartial board of judges consisting of nationally prominent educators, safety specialists and state officials.

State Would Lose Control of Road Fund

Pending legislation which would bypass state control over highway construction received studied attention Monday.

Witnesses at a Senate public works subcommittee hearing were asked what they think of a pending proposal which would make highway funds available directly to city and county governmental units.

Witnesses were questioned as to what the State Highway Department has done to solve local road problems and some of the answers weren't complimentary. The subcommittee, headed by Senator Dennis Chavez, opened a series of hearings on public roads, public buildings and flood control in New Mexico. It is to take up a proposal for a highway to Los Alamos later.

It was told early in Monday's session by Governor Mabry that the state is able to match at least twice what it is now receiving in federal highway aid funds.

Highway construction in New Mexico is now controlled by the State Highway Department, which plans projects and makes actual allocation of federal and state funds.

Governor Mabry was asked what his views are on the pending legislation making funds available direct to counties. He commented only, "I think we should use (federal) gas tax funds for highways only."

Mabry, the first witness, said New Mexico is faced with an imperative need for more money and better New Mexico highways will be of utmost importance for military use in event of an emergency.

Religious Life in Alaska

By REV. JESSE F. ALLEN

Approximately 90,000 persons reside in Alaska in addition to the military personnel. The resident population is made up of 80,000 whites and 40,000 natives. Eskimos and Indians compose the native population.

A survey in 1948 indicated there were 249 churches and missions located in 105 different places in Alaska.

Southern Baptist work was first started in Anchorage. On September 19, 1943. The membership included 17 members, 15 of them being servicemen. From that small beginning of one church and 17 members the work had grown by January 1, 1949, to five churches and three missions with a total membership of approximately 870.

Rev. Felton H. Griffith is pastor of the First Church and Rev. Odele Lane is in charge of the Government Hill Church.

Southern Baptist has a well organized convention located at Anchorage with Rev. B. Clarence Evans as executive secretary-treasurer. Their monthly publication is The Alaska Baptist Messenger.

At Juneau, another church was constituted in February, 1949, by Rev. J. T. Spurlin.

The southernmost Baptist church in Alaska is at Ketchikan and was organized on September 19, 1948, with 42 members. This church maintains a mission on Annette Island 25 miles away. Rev. and Mrs. B. I. Carpenter are the missionaries in charge.

Rev. and Mrs. C. O. Dunkin conduct a mission at Fairbanks for the natives, which is attended by 40 or 50 Eskimos and Indians.

Dr. C. E. Matthews, secretary of the evangelistic department of the Home Mission Board, and four other preachers conducted revival services in all the Southern Baptist churches in Alaska in 1949.

Lincoln Co. Residents Invest $66,531 in Bonds

S. E. Grelsen, chairman of this county's U. S. Savings Bonds Committee, announces that residents invested $66,531.25 in Series E, F and G Bonds during December. This is compiled from reports from Federal Reserve banks and does not include purchases made by residents of this county who are members of the armed forces. Neither does it include purchases made by federal civilian employees through the payroll savings plan. Purchases by these two groups are compiled and reported twice a year.

Total enrollment in 4-H clubs in the U. S. in 1949 was 1,853,000 boys and girls in 82,000 clubs.

VA Hospital to Build New 37-Bed Ward

Invitation for construction bids to provide an additional 37-bed ward at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Albuquerque has been announced by D. K. Dalager, manager.

He stated that the VA in Washington will open sealed bids February 7 for labor and materials necessary for converting Building 10 to medical wards. This large two-story structure had formerly been used as attendants' quarters. Work to be performed includes general construction alterations, a new transformer room, new exterior stairway, plumbing, heating and ventilating, electrical work, kitchen and sterilizing equipment, electric dumbwaiter, and other specified items. Drawings and specifications may be obtained without cost by writing the Technical Service, Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

Dalager stated that the project, which should be completed this year, will increase available beds at the hospital from 291 to 328, of which more than two-thirds are for general medical purposes.

If the farm tractor is warmed up or used inside a building, be sure there is plenty of ventilation, carbon monoxide, a deadly poison, cannot be detected by odor.

AMERICAN BANKING IN ACTION
WORKER, CUSTOMER, INVESTOR

In America the same man can be all three—a worker, a customer and an investor. As a worker you are free to change your job, as a customer you can buy where you please; and as an investor you can put your savings wherever you can get a fair return on your money. (For instance, 65 out of 100 Americans deposit in thrift accounts.) This right of choice is another American freedom we should cherish and preserve.

Looking Ahead

By GEORGE S. BENSON

WHY BE THRIFTY?

Ben Franklin's old wisdom: "A penny saved is a penny earned" had a great part in building America. In fact, it made enough sense to become a part of America. Our thriftiness contributed wonderfully to building this land of ours, and the folks who saved their pennies had a lot to do with it. You can count over most of the great companies that serve us so well today, and behind nearly all of them you will discover a history of saving and thrift that made the original idea possible.

But I say that saving money was one time a good philosophy. That is because it was practiced. It would be just as good today, and would go a long way toward creating the jobs and opportunities upon which the future of this nation must depend—if the philosophy of saving were put to more use. But saving and thrift have today fallen into dishonor. Today, the man who thinks of saving his money and then of investing those savings is likely to be called a foolish man.

Fatalities on Thrift
People who know facts can call such a man foolish. There are two reasons for this attitude. First: it is nearly impossible to save money. Government taxing policies and government discouragement of private thrift make it a well-nigh impossible feat for the few people who have "investment size" incomes to save anything at all. So why try? Second: there's not sufficient incentive to invest. Heavy corporation and income taxes make earnings from investments so low that very few of those who do save will take the risk involved in putting new money into industry.

The people of this nation are rapidly forgetting what those habits of personal thrift, of laying it up for the rainy day, have meant in the growth and progress of the nation. And this is true despite the fact that a dollar of private investment, is 14 times more effective creating jobs than a dollar of government money. When money is put into business it goes to work, benefiting everyone. But money taken from business and investors is a great drag on the whole nation's welfare.

On Teaching Thrift
I am seriously concerned lest our youth grow up losing sight of the importance of thrift. This week (January 17 to 23) has been designated "National Thrift Week," and it seems to me this is a good time to pause and do our bit toward the preservation of thrift. Whether we teach our young people thrift, both by precept and example, can have a lot to do with America's future.

Our young folks must be taught that there is no such thing as "easy money." We cannot afford to educate this generation that the best way to make money is to go into politics, marry into it, win a radio "give away," find a new "racket," wait for a rich uncle to die, win the sweepstakes, or live on the dole. It is possible to get money in all these ways, but they are not the right ways. This country was not built by those wishful thinkers who are ever looking for the quick dollar.

A Thrifty Nation
America was built by dreamers, however. We can give most of the credit to those practical men and women who had ideas. It was either their own hard earned dollars or the savings of others of like courage, that made those dreams come true. If there was any gamble, it was simply the risk they dared place upon their own ideas and abilities. They had the necessary courage and vision. They had enough incentive to engage in enterprise. In a word, that is the philosophy of free enterprise.

May America's philosophy always be thus. We must know and understand the meaning of thrift. More than that, we cannot afford to penalize those who would save money, by any national policy or practice. Savings put to work, in the form of capital for new and growing enterprises, must continue to be our best insurance for prosperity and full employment. My hope is that we shall become a nation of thrifty people. This would do much to preserve our nation.

Mercier Cites Industry Growth Along SP Lines

While industrial development and population growth continued at a rapid pace in 1949 in the territory served by Southern Pacific, the railroad encountered various offsetting conditions.

There was a national leveling off of railroad revenue from the postwar high of 1948, in line with the decline in general business, but traffic remained far above the pre-war level. At the same time, the rising cost of providing rail service, partly met by increases authorized in freight rates, reached a new peak.

These observations highlight a year-end review of Southern Pacific activities, released recently by President A. T. Mercier of the railroad. He pointed out that the population gain since 1940 in the eight western and southwestern states served by

Rate increases granted this year were less than sufficient to balance the increase in labor costs, he continued. The 40-hour week for non-operating employees, which became effective September 1, will cost nearly $14,000,000 annually. Southern Pacific is 34 per cent, compared with only 91-2 per cent in the other 40 states.

"In 1949 we have received or ordered 195 additional diesel locomotives at a cost of $65,500,000. During the past year we have received 3,123 new freight cars and have under delivery or authorized for purchase 4,209 more, at a total cost of $54,500,000," Mercier concluded.

Farm Land Values Continue to Decline

Dollar values of farm land in the U. S. though still about double the 1935-39 average, continued to decline during the four months ending November 1, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In New Mexico, there was a decrease of 2 per cent during the four-month period.

There has been a tendency for wool growers to keep more ewe lambs for breeding. Hence there's considerable demand at present for ewe lambs and older ewes for replacement stock.

Application Must Be Filed to Receive SS

Has your husband told you about that social security annuity which he is building up for you? If not, according to J. Hassler Strickland, manager of the Roswell Social Security Administration office, you may lose several thousands of dollars in monthly payments simply by failing to ask for the money when due.

Strickland said "A wife, 65, who retires from a job under the Social Security Act may qualify for monthly benefits based on her own work. If her husband is a retired insured wage earner, she may also qualify for monthly benefits based on his work. She is paid the larger of these two amounts.

"Most women are completely unaware that monthly benefits are provided under certain conditions for a widow 65 or over, as well as for a widow under 65 who has in her care one or more children of the deceased wage earner. Aged dependent mothers may receive monthly benefits if no widow or children are eligible. If no monthly payments can be made, a lump sum benefit may be due the widow."

Before any type of benefits can be paid, an application must be filed. The Social Security office for southeastern New Mexico is located at Roswell. Anyone living in Lincoln, Chaves, Guadalupe, Eddy, Lea, DeBaca, Curry, Roosevelt or Quay counties should contact that office in order to file a claim or obtain information.

Guide Available For Computing Income Tax

An official U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue guide designed to assist the average citizen in computing his income tax is currently available through the El Paso district office of the U. S. Department of Commerce, according to T. U. Purcell, manager of the office. Titled, "Your Federal Income Tax—1949 Edition," the publication may be obtained from the commerce office for the nominal sum of 25 cents a copy.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue's booklet covers all questions which may come up concerning your tax return; it covers the latest laws, bureau rulings, and court decisions. A detailed index is provided so that any particular information desired may be found quickly and accurately. Facsimiles of tax forms are included in the booklet.

Information based on the Internal Revenue Code on the following subjects is included in the booklet—who must file a return, where and when to file it, family exemptions, collection and refund of taxes, persons abroad, members of the armed forces, non-taxable income, deductions allowable, sales and exchanges of property, business, farm and investment income.

Purcell's office is located in the El Paso Chamber of Commerce Building, 310 San Francisco Street.

By Thomas J. Mabry GOVERNOR

"Perfectionism is a dangerous state of mind in an imperfect world. The best is to forget doubts and criticisms and set about the task in hand..."

Twenty-three per cent of all government cost in New Mexico, state and local, is charged to building, improving and maintaining our highway system...

I was happy to hear Senator McClellan of Arkansas, a member of the Senate committee hearing our road and public building problems at Santa Fe last week, comment upon the splendid setup we have in our State Highway Department...

I was also happy to hear the complimentary remarks by Senator Malone of Nevada, who thought we were fortunate in being able to use all of the 5 per cent gas tax for road maintenance and construction...

The fact that economies practiced by the New Mexico State Highway Department in the past three years have drawn praise from the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, and that we maintain our state highways already built at an average cost of about $360 per mile while the average maintenance cost of all states is about $700 per mile...

It may be of interest to know that although we are now actively maintaining 8,333 miles of road as compared with 7,629 in 1940, we are doing it with 41 less men than were used in that, the last year before the war...

For the entire highway department there were an average of 1,225 persons employed in 1949 compared with 1,487 in 1940, and yet we know we are building and maintaining more miles of road than before the war...

With the 5 cent gasoline tax now available wholly for highway construction and maintenance purposes, it is our hope to let to contract during 1950 an average of at least $1,000,000 per month in federal aid highway construction...

In 1912-13 only $140,766, or 2 per cent, of all state, county and municipal revenue of that fiscal year was spent on highways. We had not yet come to the automobile age in earnest. For the

Teacher Salary Raises Pay Dividends

Increased salaries of public school teachers has paid substantial dividends in improved professional standards of the teachers of the state. The annual report of the state superintendent of public instruction for 1948-49 shows that of 5,016 professional school employees in the state 75 per cent had college degrees.

Only New Jersey and West Virginia have the distinction of employing no teachers with less than two years of college.

The professional employes of this state and the parents of the children who attend the schools are proud of the fact that New Mexico is rated along with the highest 20 per cent of the states, with less than 3 per cent of its professional employes having less than two years of college.

Salary schedules which provide increments for additional college training have encouraged teachers in service to complete degree requirements during vacations and leaves. This factor alone will account for much of the rapid improvement in the past few years of the professional standards in New Mexico. The platform of the association calls for a bachelors degree as the minimum professional training for new teachers in 1953. Those teachers now in service with training below a degree will be encouraged by the available additional salary increments to acquire degrees during summer vacations before that date.

period 1929-30 this had risen to 33 per cent or $7,864,000 and in 1939-40 it was 32 per cent or $11,194,000. It is now $21,000,000.

The people in New Mexico want highways which are comparable with those in the more populous and the richer states. We are doing our best to provide just such highways and we are doing it more economically than most surrounding states; but we are still striving for more economies.

FORT STANTON

By FRANK SMITH

Mrs. E. M. Townsend was accompanied by Mesdames Ed White and R. E. Whitehead on a trip to Roswell last Friday. Mrs. White's main purpose for the trip was to visit her daughter, Ethlyn, who is busy getting settled in her newly acquired apartment. Mrs. Townsend and Mrs. Whitehead had come gift buying to do for Dr. and Mrs. Rogers, who soon will be leaving the Fort. One gift was from the Bonita Club, which Mrs. Rogers has faithfully served as secretary-treasurer; the other was for the seven hostesses who are giving a progressive dinner party Friday evening in their honor. All guests will meet at the Paymans for cocktails and further instruction as to where the next course will be served. I just happen to know that the Whiteheads are next on the list for the salad course. Mrs. Townsend is serving the entree, followed by dessert at the Whites. That accounts for only four hostesses, but Mrs. Merrill and Mrs. Baker joined Mrs. Payman to provide the cocktail course. Mrs. Cooper suggested a Huger to top off what promises to be a gala evening. Mrs. Townsend says there hasn't been a progressive dinner here since they came, so at least it will be different.

The "brains" of the Bonita Club met the other evening to accept the resignation of Gloria Rogers (Mrs. Ed) and to name a temporary successor to serve her unexpired term as secretary-treasurer. A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Rogers for a grand job and needless to add, the books and finances are in fine shape.

While we're in the club department may as well report on another meeting of the same "brains" later at the Cooper home to discuss a hush-hush project, and to date that's what it is—hush. The following rhyming couplet is supposed to be a clue: "Hear ye! Hear ye! I'll make no speeches, But watch Smith's column for 'Operation Fechas'."

The McClains and the Bill Goulds are teamed as hosts for the January Bonita Club party. All those present at the Christmas party hosted by this quartet are set for another good time.

"Pictorial New Mexico" by George Fitzpatrick has certainly lived up to its reviews. It's a book for everyone from the armchair traveler, a challenge to the amateur "fotog" to match the beautiful colored and black and white shots, or, like a family album, these pictures may bring many reminiscences, or stimulate a long pull-off trip. Governor

Mabry says in the "foreword" that New Mexico has everything any other state has, only more so. "Naturally," he says, "such scenery as New Mexico offers would be highly photogenic and the pictures presented in this volume are some of the finest that we have seen made in our state."

Chaplain William B. Benson of the Walker Air Base at Roswell visited Father Molinie recently and brought along Lieutenant and Mrs. Lewis Foldesh with their two children, Barbara and Dorothy; Mrs. Marilyn Gorman and Roger Morin, who were on their way to Ruidoso.

Good luck to L. T. (Red) Womack, who went over to Roswell Wednesday to take the U. S. Civil Service written examination.

The Perry Zamoras are proud of the newest addition to their family, Marie Suzanne, who with her two brothers makes a threesome. Grandmother Juanita Chavez of Lincoln, who has a wonderful record as a midwife, delivered the little newcomer.

The boys at Fort Stanton are very grateful to Ola and Constantine (Eki) Janulivious, who sell quite a bit of their beautifully handmade leather goods at the Rodeo Bar which they manage.

Dan Giles and "Red" Ramey came over to visit a few minutes last Saturday and to see about some stationery for their nice new store at Lincoln.

Dr. Mitchell took time out from the hectic business of getting settled to drop a few enthusiastic lines about his new assignment at the Veterans Hospital at Springfield, Mo. The hospital, he reports, is a one-story building spread out over 15 acres and at the moment has 425 patients, 12 doctors, one dentist and 525 employees. Pneumonia are given to the tune of soft, pleasant Strauss waltzes. From the lineup of the working schedule which he sent they have all kinds of consultants in addition to the regular medical staff. They also have all kinds of equipment in every department and a super entertainment program, "but the people here could never be as nice as Fort Stanton," he writes, "and those cocktail parties were second to none. While the weather has not been bad here, it could never equal New Mexico." Chalk up another booster for New Mexico!

Gabriel Gomez, who has received that coveted piece of white paper, which puts him in the negative class, has gone to Albuquerque to work for an optical company.

According to information received, Bryan Johnson will very definitely not be a candidate for
