Camp Meeting To Begin 11th Year

By DOROTHY GUCK
Billy the Kid made Lincoln County famous for the renegade glamor of earlier days. The Ranchmen's Camp Meeting on Nogal Mesa has given us the unsurpassed distinction of being the birthplace of the cowman's unique religious services.

This year marks the tenth anniversary of the encampment on Nogal Mesa, a non-denominational, typically western meeting. Horses, are being shod, boots are wearing new polish, and camping gear is leaving the barn rafters preparatory to opening religious services July 19.

In 1940, a group of frightened and understanding westerners met in El Paso to discuss the possibility of supplying more cowmen with opportunities for religious devotion in remote sections of the Southwest where churches were few and far between.

Nogal Mesa, because of its strategic location in Lincoln County, and because of its awe-inspiring view of the distant plains and mountains, was chosen as the site of the first camp meeting. A tent was erected for religious services, food was donated by ranchers and cooked by their wives. Now, the Nogal Mesa Camp Meeting holds services for hundreds of people in a huge pine tabernacle built on the very rim of the mesa. Food is still cooked over open pits but under the experienced direction of Santiago, the well known chuck wagon cook. It is served cafeteria style in a long dining hall.

Perhaps you'd like to perch on a hand-made bench or "hunker" under a giant juniper and listen to the hair-raising tales of the oldtimers. Perhaps you'd like to feel the lift the beautiful panorama of New Mexico's natural scene from the mesa top gives you. Maybe the horse-shoe pitching, the ball games, the singing and story telling under the stars appeal to you. When you have sunk your teeth in Santiago's barbecued beef and listened to the gentle words of the men who lead the services, then you will know the good things in life are free.

Some people camp on the mesa, bringing their own camping equipment and partaking of the three meals served daily. Others drive over each morning anew. Whichever you prefer to do, don't miss the experience of seeing what has become a western tradition.

The daily schedule is as follows:

- 6 A. M.—Breakfast.
- 8:45—Short devotions.
- 10:45—Morning religious service.
- 12 Noon—Dinner.
- 2:45—Afternoon religious service.
- 5 P. M.—Prayer meeting.
- 7 P. M.—Supper.
- 7 P. M.—Evening religious service.

This year Rev. Robert Goodrich, First Methodist Church, Dallas, and Rev. Everett King, First Presbyterian Church, Albuquerque, will be the speakers. Glenn Johnson, Dallas, will be in charge of music.

A general cleanup day in preparation for the encampment will be held July 15.

Clyde Shults To Conduct Methodist Services

Substituting for Rev. Ollie E. Hall, pastor of Carrizozo Trinity Methodist Church, Sunday, is Clyde Shults, local high school teacher. Rev. and Mrs. Hall left last Sunday to attend the wedding of a daughter in San Jose, Calif.

Shults has chosen as his text for Sunday's sermon, "Ye Must Be Born Again." He told "The News-Outlook" he had spent two years in study and prayer before the selection of this sermon was revealed to him, and considered it his best sermon.

Shults added he is of the opinion the public has never heard this text explained as he proposes to do, and believes it will give the congregation food for thought, whether or not it agrees with him.

The public is cordially invited to attend services at Carrizozo Trinity Methodist Church.

Nursing School Starts Recruitment Program

Launching of an intensified recruitment program to combat the critical shortage of nurses throughout the Southwest, was announced recently by officials of the Hotel Dieu School of Nursing, El Paso.

Initial step in the program will be to acquaint recent high school graduates of the benefits to be derived from a career of professional nursing.

Pointing to the ever growing shortage of trained nurses as a serious health situation, officials warned that the condition is steadily growing worse because of the increasing number of patients utilizing hospital facilities and the growing trend for shorter hours for attendants.

"Opportunities for professional nurses were never better. It is one of the few professions where the demand is continually exceeding the supply," Sister Mathilde, hospital administrator, said.

The recruitment program, which will climax with the enrollment of a new class at the Hotel Dieu Nursing School in August, coincides with the start of construction on a $2,050,000 addition to the local hospital. The annex, which will give the hospital badly needed facilities and beds, will provide additional clinical opportunities for the school's student nurses.

Hotel Dieu's School of Nursing, the only institution of its kind in this area, is approved by the Texas State Board of Nurse Examiners, the American College of Surgeons, American Red Cross and holds membership in the American Hospital Association.

A well-balanced three-year scholastic and clinical program is taught by a qualified resident faculty, staff physicians, and professors from Texas Western College with which the school has an affiliation.

Full information and application forms may be secured by writing to Sister Paul, Director of the Hotel Dieu School of Nursing, El Paso, Texas.

Hondo Man Seriously Injured In Auto Accident

An automobile accident, which occurred late Saturday night near Lincoln, caused serious injury to Andrew Richardson, about 29, Hondo.

Richardson suffered a possible fracture of the skull, contusions and a number of broken ribs when his pickup left the road and was completely demolished. The injured man was taken to Fort Stanton Hospital after the accident, to which there were no witnesses, the sheriff's office said.

Retail Business Volume Sets New April Record

ALBUQUERQUE. — With construction sales spearheading the way, New Mexico retailers rang up a new record for April volume this year, surpassing the amount of April, 1949, by nearly 7 per cent.

Professor Ralph Edgel of the University of New Mexico Bureau of Business Research, said that sales of construction materials reached their highest level since July of 1948 and employment its highest point since October, 1949.

The New Mexico monthly business bulletin stated that business permits in January, March and May of this year exceeded those of any month of previous years and the average for the past five months far surpasses that of any preceding period.

The business study gave a much darker picture of the mining industry. Copper production was cut back after a spurt during the first three months of 1950. Production of lead has been reduced to about one-third of the 1940 level.

Zinc has been mined in quantities about two-thirds of the production rate of one year ago and coal has struck an all-time low. Oil was down 5 per cent from last year but potash gained substantially in April from the March figures. Employment in all mining industries was more than 10 per cent under the figure of April, 1949.

With retail sales for April, 1950, up 7 per cent from April, 1949, the only retail groups not showing gains were apparel stores and jewelry stores.

The only districts in New Mexico not showing increases in retail sales in April over March of this year were the extreme northwest, northeast and southeast parts of the state. The district making the biggest showing from March to April was in southwest New Mexico which takes in Catron, Luna, Grant and Hidalgo counties.

Counties showing the gains in retail sales in April, 1950, over April, 1949, include: Sandoval 50 per cent up, Rio Arriba 26, Benavillo 22, Grant 18, Catron, Socorro and Mora, up 16 each, San Juan 13, Luna and Taos 10 each, Otero 9, Santa Fe and Roosevelt 8 each, Torrance and Hidalgo 6 each, DeBaca 3, San Miguel 1, and Harding and Curry, showing no gain or loss.

New Mexico counties showing losses in volume of retail sales for the year's period are: Lea 20 per cent down, Chaves 19, McKinley 17, Colfax 16, Eddy 11, Dona Ana 10, Valencia 8, Lincoln 6, Quay 4, Union 3, Guadalupe 2, and Sierra 1.

Curtailment Of Postal Service To Start July 17

Curtailment in postal service in Carrizozo, effective July 17, is reported by Herman E. Kelt, postmaster.

Upon the recommendation of postal inspectors on their recent visit to the local post office, the money order, postal savings and savings bond window will close at 5 P. M. daily except Saturday. On Saturday, window service will be limited to the hours of 8 A. M. to 1 P. M. Mail will continue to be dispatched to the trains and distributed to the boxes as heretofore.

Work At Nogal Cemetery Scheduled For July 30

A group of workers, headed by Mrs. Fred Current and Messrs. Marvin Roberts and Arthur Helms, have designated July 30 as the date they will meet at Nogal Cemetery to perform necessary maintenance work.

No regular work day at the cemetery has been scheduled for several years, according to Mrs. Current, and repairs to some of the fencing are needed, as well as attention to the various burial plots.

Mrs. Current stated her group are urging those persons with relatives or friends interred at Nogal Cemetery to be there at 9:30 A. M. on July 30. She also suggests interested persons bring a picnic lunch and plan to spend the day on the cemetery project which is most necessary and worthwhile.

No tools will be provided, and individuals are reminded to bring their own.

New Mexico State Fair Sept. 23 Through Oct. 1

Visitors to the 1950 New Mexico State Fair, to be held in Albuquerque from September 23 through October 1, will see many improvements in the buildings and grounds.

Over $130,000 has been spent since closing day last year to bring the total net worth of the State Fair plant to well over the $2,000,000 mark, according to Leon H. Harms, State Fair manager.

Principal sum to be expended this summer is for a new addition to the grandstand. Harms says the stands will be able to provide for 8,000 persons. Construction is well under way—and the completed grandstand addition will be ready for opening day, Saturday, September 23.

Other improvements for 1950 include a new paddock and saliva testing room, a new section providing more and better parking facilities, additional turnstiles at the main entrance to the grandstand and a new administration building.

Harms said copies of the 1950 Premium Book will be off the presses and ready for mailing sometime after the middle of this month. Exhibitors desiring a free copy should address their request to Leon H. Harms, Secretary-Manager, New Mexico State Fair, Box 1693, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Dixie Tallyho On Display Saturday In Carrizozo

One of the most versatile pieces of equipment to be put on the market will be on display Saturday at the Lincoln County Motors, Inc., Carrizozo.

The Dixie Tallyho is a complete one-piece unit which will convert any one-half ton truck to a 10-passenger station wagon. No bolts, screws, or fasteners are needed. With a rigid tubular steel frame and heavy reinforced canvas top, this newest invention is safe, comfortable, weather-proof and attractive.

In stormy weather the sides with heavy clear plastic windows may be lowered easily. The seats are mounted on proven steel tubular construction with comfortable spring action. Wood bottoms and backs are heavily padded, and covered with Durand plastic, which is easily washed with soap and water and will not crack or burn.

The Dixie Tallyho serves a number of needs, including those of sawmillers, contractors, utility companies, institutions, hotels and others who want and need a low cost carrier.

Marvin Roberts, president Lincoln County Motors, announces the public is invited to view the Dixie Tallyho which will be on display at their showroom Saturday, July 15.

Three 4-H Programs Offer High Awards

Three national 4-H awards programs—girls' record, canning, dress revue—offer special incentive to rural girls enrolled in club projects, according to L. S. Kurtz, state 4-H club leader.

County winners in each will receive honor medals, and state champions will earn educational trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November.

National awards are $300 college scholarships in the girls' record and canning programs, and leather case scissors in the dress revue. Donors of awards in the respective programs are Montgomery Ward, Kerr Glass and Simplicity Pattern Company. The programs are conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

New Mexico state winners in the programs last year were Nancy Parrish, Portales, in canning; Oneta Johnson, Lake Arthur, in dress revue, and Lois McKinley, Melrose, in girls' record.

County extension agents will furnish full information on these programs.

Ventura-David Nuptials Held Here On July 8

At an early morning ceremony held in Santa Rita Church on July 8, Miss Mary Ventura and Peter L. David repeated their wedding vows before an altar blanketed with pink and white carnations interspersed with ferns. Father Vito C. de Baca performed the marriage rites for the young couple.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown with lace detail. Her fingertip length veil was fashioned of illusion and she carried a white lace handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Dan Elliott, Carrizozo. The strand of pearls which she wore was a gift from the bridegroom. White carnations formed her bridal bouquet.

Miss Angelina Ventura, sister of the bride and her maid of honor, was gowned in Nile green and carried a pink carnation bouquet.

Bridesmaids were Miss Flora Chavez and Mrs. Tony Coyazo. Their gowns were Nile green and yellow, respectively, with accessories of pink. Their flowers were pink carnations.

Flower girls were Mary Oilda Sanchez, Elsie Lopez, Daisy Samora and Anita C. De Baca, who wore frocks of pink and carried white carnation bouquets.

Best man was Paul Monreal, and ushers were Rudy Padilla, nephew of the bride, and Lalo Coyazo.

A reception was held at the Carrizozo Woman's Club immediately after the ceremony for a number of relatives and friends.

The new Mrs. David, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucas Ventura, Carrizozo, is a graduate of Santa Rita School and was employed at the Steak House restaurant here.

David, son of Mr. and Mrs. William David, Metairie, La., graduated from high school there in 1945 and is a member of the U. S. Army stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash.

The couple's honeymoon will be spent in Metairie, after which they will go to their future home in Tacoma, Wash.

Well Child Clinic Has Large Attendance

The Well Child Clinic held at the Lincoln County Health Department offices, Carrizozo, on July 6 and 7, drew a large attendance.

Dr. J. P. Turner, local physician, examined 59 youngsters during the two days the clinic was held. It was discovered a number of the children needed tonsillectomies and dental work.

Parents of youngsters needing medical attention were advised by Dr. Turner to take them to their family physician, and it was emphasized correction be made prior to the youngsters starting school.

The next clinic is scheduled for August 15 and 16 at the Lincoln County Health Department offices in Carrizozo. The examinations will be made from noon on of those days.

Mrs. Allie Bumgardner, county nurse, announced the completion of a three-day course in home nursing care this week.

Under the supervision of Dr. Turner and Mrs. Bumgardner, seven students were given the Red Cross home nursing course. They were taught to observe symptoms of illness; home care of patients; improvising equipment for home nursing care; symptoms of communicable diseases; their care, etc.; supplies for home medicine cabinet; complete nursing care for patient treated in home under a physician's orders, and what to do in emergencies. The seven students will receive certificates.

Mrs. Bumgardner stated the course will be available to all communities and high schools in Lincoln County at a date which will be announced later.

Lincoln School To Have Food Concession Aug. 6

Mrs. Alice Boyd, principal of the school at Lincoln, was in Carrizozo Tuesday to make arrangements for the school's food concession on August 6.

Visitors to Old Lincoln Day may be served a noon dinner in the school's lunch room, and Mrs. Boyd expressed the hope they will be well patronized, as all proceeds go to the Lincoln School fund.

Reservoir Repaired; Water Pressure Up

Water was flowing steadily into the reservoir at Carrizozo this week, and reports from all sections of town indicate a marked improvement in its water supply.

Repairs to the reservoir which were started about the middle of June, were completed last weekend, and the water turned back into it.

An acute water shortage became generally known on June 14 when practically the entire village was without water.

Mimeographed notices were distributed on June 15, reportedly from the mayor's office, which informed city water users the Southern Pacific Railroad was requesting them to curtail their water usage because of drought and the railroad's seasonal peak of activity. Railroad officials later, however, stated the lessened pressure was due to necessary repairs being made to the reservoir.

It was reported that due to leaks in the reservoir, more water was being lost than was used here in town.

From June 14 until last weekend the town has been more or less harassed by lack of pressure. Some residents in low-lying sections were fortunate to have water at all times even though pressure was low, but other residents including several business places suffered at various times from lack of water. The south-east sector has borne the brunt of the water shortage, but reports from there indicate that since Wednesday they have noticed a marked improvement.

It has not yet been ascertained whether the return of a full schedule of trains through town will lessen the town's water pressure.

Stolen Car Recovered In Record Time

The 1949 Chevrolet reported stolen from Elmer Huest, Carrizozo, Wednesday afternoon was recovered in record time. Road blocks at Roswell, San Antonio, Vaughn and Alamogordo were set up within 10 minutes after the theft was reported to the Lincoln County sheriff's office.

The stolen car was spotted by Patrolman Joe Trujillo a short time later as it was being driven through San Antonio.

Sheriff S. M. Ortiz reports the Huest car was stolen by a minor, who had previously taken a 1940 Ford in Clovis and Driven it to Roswell where he abandoned it. He is alleged to have stolen a 1949 Chevrolet in Roswell and driven it to Carrizozo where he abandoned it and picked up the automobile belonging to Huest. The sheriff's office recovered the car taken from Roswell.

Sheriff Ortiz credits the quick apprehension of the boy to the efficiency of their two-way radio communication system.

Lincoln County officials are turning the boy over to Chaves County authorities for return to Roswell where he will be tried. Ortiz said this routine was being followed to save Lincoln County taxpayers the cost of his trial.

Carrizozo Batters Luis Lopez To 7-1 Defeat

The Carrizozo baseball team defeated the Luis Lopez nine on the local diamond, July 9, 7 to 1.

The visitors scored in the first inning to take a brief lead. Carrizozo got a run in the third to tie the score and collected three more in the fourth to take a permanent lead.

Your State Government By Thomas J. Mabry-Governance

"Better build schoolrooms for 'the boy' than cells and gibbets for 'the man.'" Eliza Cook.

In the preceding two articles, I have discussed my own policy, and that of the State Board of Parole, as it pertains to clemency for prisoners confined in jail or the state penitentiary. I have explained that I have never acted on any of these cases except on the recommendation of the State Parole Board, or the sentencing Judge.

The question arises as to how the parole board determines when an individual confined to the penitentiary should be released, especially those who are serving life sentences.

All state penitentiaries grant their inmates time off for good behavior. This is a morale building measure and one that is conducive to better discipline among the prisoners than would be the case if prisoners knew they would not be rewarded for good conduct, and they had nothing to look forward to except the fixed and distant day of their sentence ending.

In New Mexico, we have the habitual criminal law, which has not been generally applied except in portions of the eastern section of the state. Under this law, a person convicted of a fourth offense is automatically sentenced to life imprisonment, if the law is strictly observed, even though he is guilty of a minor felony, including the theft of say, thirty dollars, or writing a $3 check without funds to cover. A case such as this would, of course, deserve special at-

Adequate and reasonable utilities are vitally necessary if Carrizozo is to grow. The Southwest is rapidly coming to the front in the economic development of the United States.

If Carrizozo is to take an important place in the economic development of this Southwest area, it must be alert to all possibilities for growth and prosperity, and be ready to take advantage of every opportunity offered.

We can no longer live in the past. Our leaders must look to the future—not the past. They must strive for progress and cease thinking in terms of what was done years ago. We're living in the present, and the future is what we make it. The past was good, but let's make the future even better.

The men may recall with nostalgia the "good old days," but what woman really desires to perform her daily household tasks by the methods used 30 or 40 years ago?

How about it, Carrizozoans? Why not tell your leaders what you think the town needs, and let them know you are willing to do your share to make Carrizozo one of the state's outstanding communities?

Once it is determined whether or not the project is possible, let us go all out to obtain a water system of our own. The News-Outlook feels sure it will pay rich dividends in the long run. Time pauses for no man—one cannot go back, but whether one goes forward or stands still depends upon the individual.

The same is true of the town of Carrizozo. Much has been achieved over a period of years, but another crossroads has been reached. Are we headed down the dead-end road to nowhere, or shall we take the one marked "Future Growth and Prosperity"?

Intelligent and far-sighted leadership can carry the town far along the latter road. A long range program covering all the facilities needed to place Carrizozo in its rightful position of importance should be worked out by our city officials. Once the town's residents fully understand what it is possible for them to have in the way of material comforts and conveniences, there is little doubt they will do their share toward achievement of such benefits.

Past leaders of Carrizozo have done a good job in achieving for the town what it now has. Nevertheless, some of those projects are now outmoded or inadequate. It is up to the present leaders to expand and improve the work of their predecessors. Utilities which may have been adequate 30 years ago are no longer sufficient for the town's present and anticipated needs.

attention on the part of the parole board, as the individual may never have been involved in anything more than similar minor felonies.

In other cases involving life sentences, and indeterminate sentences of three to five years or five to 10 years, as examples, our own parole board observes pretty much the same rules that govern all other boards of pardons and paroles throughout the nation.

An analysis of the rules of other states show that the majority do not have statutory minimum time limitations on life sentences. Those states which do have prescribe varying minimum limits of from five years, less good time earned, to 20 calendar years. Several of the states have no general time limitation whatsoever. Some states grant paroles after one-third of the minimum has been served.

One state allows life terms to be paroled after serving as little as five years and several after seven or eight years. New Mexico's policy on life sentences is as strict as any in the nation, with only two or three exceptions. Our policy has borne good results. It gives some hope to prisoners who are serving life sentences that if they obey the rules of the institution, they can be released after serving from around eight to 15 years. This, of course, depends on the nature of the crime and the attitude and behavior of the individual prisoner.

Republican Women Form More Clubs in State

New Mexico Republican headquarters in Albuquerque announced this week the formation of 10 new county Republican women's clubs.

The new organizations give the GOP women's groups in almost every county in the state, according to Mrs. J. N. Dyer, state president of the Republican Women's Clubs.

"Well organized women's groups in the state will mean victory for the Republican party in November. The women can have the deciding voice in the next election if they are reached and told about the sorry record of the corrupt state machine," Mrs. Dyer said.

She said clubs over the state are now making plans to reach Republicans, Democrats and Independents to present to them the record of the state administration and the platform of the Republican candidates.

"When dissatisfied Democrats team up with Republicans and Independents, Edwin Mechern will be elected governor and the rest of the ticket will be victorious," Mrs. Dyer said.

Probably the cheapest landing field in aviation history has been achieved here on the mesa. After riding it of cacti, a wind sock was added this week, and next will be some sort of markers. Dr. Waggoner, who has flown up from Roswell on surgical missions, says it's no trouble locating it as is, in the day time, of course.

Mrs. Dan Kustanovich was advisor for the U. S. Public Health Service Women's Afternoon Bridge Club. Instead of playing, she gave opinions when players got into a "what'll I do now" spot. Those who played were Mesdames Baker, Burleson, Gaston, Gould, Lithgow, Merrell, Parker, Reed, Stemmer, Shaw, Whitehead and Miss Reid. Prize winners were Gould, Baker and Whitehead.

Mrs. Edward Sawyer, her mother, and daughter Gay arrived from Galveston to be near her husband, a patient here at the Fort. They are at Carrizozo but hope to get something closer, perhaps in Capitan. Can anyone offer a suggestion?

Mrs. Reed came back from her Texas vacation just loaded—with fish. An all-around outdoor girl, fishing is just one of the sports she enjoys.

New medical equipment has been arriving at a pretty good clip, including a new BMR machine (basal metabolism), bronchoscopic instruments and another Wangenteen, which is an indispensable suction gadget. Dr. Whitehead is apparently very proud of the BMR because if he's asked me once, he's asked a dozen times—"Did I tell you we have a new BMR machine?"

"Butch" Amlich is well on the mend after surgery as are Godfrey Herrera and Red Burnett. In spite of warnings to drive carefully, we are still having auto accidents. The latest is Andrew Richardson, who suffered a number of broken ribs, contusions and a possible skull fracture.

Dr. and Mrs. Lithgow left the Fort Sunday morning for San Francisco where he starts a residency. This leaves Dr. Whitehead doing a solo job until July 24 when a young doctor has been promised. Washington must think he's super, but time will tell.

The Misses Fage, Mason and Howell took Dr. Whitehead to the races Saturday. None of them are shouting too loudly about their winnings, but they did have a good time.

There was no scheduled baseball game Sunday, but just some practice work.

STATE COLLEGE — Having terminated one of several contracts with the U. S. Navy Bureau of Ordnance, three sections of New Mexico A. & M.'s physical science laboratory can look back on a year of accomplishment for the Navy's rocket research program.

In the past year two telemetering groups and a photographic force participated in the firing of 14 rockets for the Navy bureau of Ordnance. The PSL group were responsible for telemetry, the means of obtaining information on the rocket in flight through radio transmission from the rocket to the ground.

PSL engineers directed the telemetering operations on three

Assignment New Mexico

By G. WARD FENLEY

With the ever increasing influx of tourists, dudes and eastern tenderfeet, we have one heck of a time keeping New Mexico New Mexican.

Right now Santa Fe's Bill Harrison and Carlsbad's Jack Sifton are dueling over whether to pronounce rodeo as ro-day-o or rod-e-e-o. Bill says ro-day-o is Spanish and western style; Jack says ro-day-o is dudish, snobbish and sophisticated.

Western Signposts
Last week, the Clovis News Journal gloated over having a real, live African lion escaped and on the prowl. When he was corralled and back in the zoo, the Clovis police shrugged it off as "merely routine."

Gordon Greaves went into ecstasy last week over a square dance team that executed intricate didos on horseback down Peralta way.

A. L. (Pot) Bert was giving a big plug to Arlesia's August Party when he wrote up an elaborate description of the United Veterans square dance team.

"Women," said Pot, "on the team use 11 yards of material in their skirts. Men's shorts are of the same color as the skirts of their partners."

Now, just a minute, Pot. That's going a bit too far.

The Western Craze
The trend is the same all over the state. We're doing our damndest to stay western. Down at Lincoln, they're re-enacting the escape of Billy the Kid August 6 just like it happened back in 1881.

The western atmosphere is dear even to New Mexican youngsters. The Vegas Optic said last week that three Vegans, Jimmy Bickel, Jack Kaemper and Walter Kincaid (all attending the Valley Forge Boy Scout Jamboree) had sold three cockle-burrs for $1.50 to an eastern boy with the promise that if he'd keep them cold for three weeks, the burrs would hatch out porcupines.

One hundred and twenty affixes of dynamite were touched off last week in the center of Fortales and the Daily News said the explosion caused only a "ripple of excitement."

We still like to think we are tough—wild, woolly and full of fleas, and never been carried below the knees.

The Truth Of The Matter
The truth of the matter is—whether we like it or not—we've gone the way of other frontiers. The horse, buggy, stage coach, wagon train, chaps, spurs and even the language have been modernized.

If Billy the Kid should return today, his greatest danger would be threading his way through automobile traffic.

The Railroadmen's Home Life Magazine expressed the trend of the nation:

"When Noah sailed the ocean blue,

He had his troubles same as you. For days and nights he drove his ark

Before he found a place to park."

I got all mixed up reading a classified ad in The Lincoln County News-Outlook last week. It read "Call at Rolland's Drug Store for well-belt." And here I was thinking that, what with all the queer calls and whistles that well belt walked down the street in a neat skirt and only danced up the belt a bit in drug stores.

Funny Old World

Nowadays, when you see a New Mexican youngster strolling down the street, you don't wonder whether he'll become president, or a bank executive, or a western cowboy. You think in terms of the Barefoot Boy poem as parodied in Overland Life:

"Blessings on thee, little man, Barefoot boy, with cheeks of tan; Trudging down the dusty lane With no thought of future pain; You're our one and only bet To absorb the national debt.

Little man with cares so few We've got lots of faith in you; Guard each merry whistled tune, You are apt to need it soon. Have your fun while you can, You may be a barefoot man."

AND IN CONCLUSION, that's all this week except the yarn about the Louisiana State University student who failed to graduate because he flunked a course in marital relations. But the next week his wife presented him with a baby boy.

It is the poor bird in the crate that determines the price. Grade market poultry for uniformity.

An application of 100 pounds of superphosphate to every ton of fresh poultry manure prevents loss of nitrogen.

USDA Announces Price Supports For Wheat, Corn

Price supports for the 1950 crop wheat and corn have been announced by the production and marketing administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The 1950 crop wheat will be supported at 90 per cent of the parity price of July 1, 1950, for producers who comply with acreage allotments. The parity price for wheat on July 1 was $2.21 a bushel. The price support for wheat will be effected with product loans and purchase agreements, as in 1949-50. Storage allowances will be continued on the same general basis as last year. This means the Commodity Credit Corporation will make farm storage payments and assume warehouse storage charges on wheat which may be delivered to CCC under the support program. Loans and purchase agreements will be available through January, 1951.

As for corn, in the commercial corn area, the 1950 crop will be supported at 90 per cent of the parity price as of October 1, 1950, for producers who comply with acreage allotments. In the non-commercial corn area (including New Mexico), where there are no acreage allotments, a temporary average loan rate of $1.05 a bushel has been announced. Rates by counties will be given at a later date. The final rate for the non-commercial corn area will be 75 per cent of the commercial area rate. Price supports will be implemented through loans and purchase agreements, available to producers from time of harvest through May 31, 1951.

Kitchen Fix-Ups
Are you tired of paper shelving that has to be replaced frequently? Try finishing off the shelf with a band of colored gummed tape. Such tape (it's about an inch wide) comes in many bright colors; can be bought in most dime stores... Feel the need of an easier way to store measuring cups, pancake turners, kitchen brushes and the like? Then why not put up a simple shelf and on the underside of it screw cup-hooks? If your utensils have wooden handles without holes, insert a screw-eye into the end of each handle and slip it over a cup-hook-to-hang... Incidentally, if you're putting up a shelf with brackets, be sure to fasten the board to the brackets before putting brackets into the wall... One more trick, if you use colored gummed tape for shelving (as suggested above) use the rest of it to edge your kitchen window shades.

University To Study Southwest Economy

President Tom L. Popejoy said this week the University of New Mexico will have a prominent role in the work of the Committee on Southwest Economy.

The establishment of this committee was recently announced by Leon H. Keyserling, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers in the executive office of President Truman.

Popejoy said the special committee, which is due to make a report on the potentialities of the southwest region, will be composed of leading economists in the area.

He stated the University of New Mexico would be the contractual agent of the committee and would administer the funds made available for research as well as other administrative tasks.

As executive secretary of the committee, Dr. Nathaniel Wollman, associate professor of economics at the university, will, under the direction of the committee, be responsible for coordination of the work.

States involved in the study include: Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas, southeastern Colorado, southern half of Kansas, southern part of Missouri, and that portion of New Mexico east of the Continental Divide.

In setting up the committee, Keyserling stated: "The Southwest region is an area of considerable economic potential and promise for years ahead because of its endowment of natural resources and its growing population."

The Department of Interior, Keyserling continued, requires a sound estimate of what the potentialities of the southwest are as a guide in determining the magnitude and nature of the department's resources conservation and development program in the area.

The committee will work closely with the Southwest Field Committee of which C. L. Forsling is chairman and with the Council of Economic Advisers and its staff members.

Keyserling outlined the principal objectives of the study:

1. Identify the major opportunities for economic development in industry, agriculture, mining and trades and services.
2. To list the major problems and obstacles to economic development in the various fields.
3. To analyze longer term economic potentialities of natural resources and related industrial and service activities of the southwest region as a guide in determining the resources conservation and economic means, public and private, which will be required.

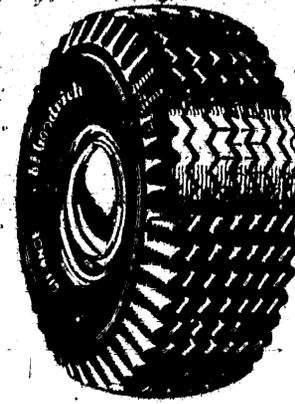

and public, including federal, state and local—designed to facilitate the realization of the region's opportunities and the overcoming of its problems.

4. To recommend policies, programs or other actions—private

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President—Harding College

DO AS I SAY, NOT AS I DO

There came to Harding College in this week's mail an imposing educational kit from our federal government. It contained seven colorful textbooks and brochures designed to equip teachers to teach school boys and girls and college students how to be thrifty, how to manage money wisely, how to live within one's income. One brochure is an elaborate four-color journal for classroom teachers; and the kit, prepared by the Treasury Department, also contains a book of thrifty songs and another with the script for a one-act play on thrift.

Upon careful examination I found these teaching aids to be excellent. They offer practical programs of thrift and money management for youngsters. The techniques presented are sound. If utilized in our schools and colleges which are not already stressing thrift, the instructions should be valuable. However, for the federal government to be undertaking to teach its citizens thrift, sound budgeting, money management and wise spending cannot, under present circumstances, be taken without a grin and a somewhat sickly grin, at that.

How To Spend Wisely?

The government's "Lessons in Arithmetic," an excellent thrift text, says: "No matter how well he learns reading, writing and arithmetic, a child will never be able to look out for himself properly unless he also learns how to spend wisely, how to save and what to save for."

From a digest of the Hoover Commission Report: "Government hospital construction costs from $30,000 to $51,000 per bed, compared with $10,000 per bed in privately constructed hospitals... and though there are 100,000 empty government hospital beds, the government is building new hospitals with 38,000 additional beds." Also from the Hoover Commission: "15,432 VA employees are needed to handle veterans' insurance, one employe for each 450 policies; while in private industry the work load per employe is 1,782 policies."

Good Money Management!

The government's "Songs for all Grades" has the following lyric (sung to the tune "I've Been Working On The Railroad"): "We've been saving up our pennies, for a rainy day, we've been being wise and thrifty, by saving them this way." From the office of the budget.

Insurance calls for foresight

Maybe it takes a pessimist—or at least a realist—to foresee the need for complete insurance protection.

But there is nothing that will do as much to make an optimist out of anybody as insurance. For insurance absolutely wipes out many fears.

For example: any boiler or hotwater system can pop its seams any minute... so a wise man pessimistically imagines such a misfortune and optimistically purchases inexpensive American Foss insurance to protect himself against it. Let's talk this over.

J. G. Moore

director: "Estimated gross public debt outstanding (federal deficit) 1950: $258,400,000. 1951: $263,800,000. Should the national debt get no bigger and should it have to be paid by our school youngsters of today, the indebtedness would be more than $11,000 on each boy and girl."

The government's "School Savings in the Social Studies," an illustrated text, recommends in its reading list the following "outside" reading: "Wise Spending for Better Living," published by University of Florida; and "How to Live Within Your Income," Simon and Schuster.

From the office of budget director: "1950 receipts $37,763,000,000; expenditures $43,297,000,000; deficit for 1950, $5,534,000,000."

Lessons Needed Elsewhere
The government's "School Savings in the Social Studies" says: "Teach young people to be frugal is no longer enough. They need rather to practice the wise management of their money and other economic resources."

For a digest of the Hoover Commission Report: "The federal government spends tax money—your money—at the rate of more than $100,000,000 a day. The commission found that several million dollars a day is wasted on poor government management."

I heartily endorse a primary objective of these government teaching aids, which is to sell savings stamps and, subsequently, savings bonds to the school children. The treasury's savings bond program definitely encourages thrift and is one way of financing a portion of the national debt. However, I should like to see the authors of the "thrift" kit publish a special edition for all government officials and department heads, substituting throughout as follows: "Teaching Government officials and department heads (instead of young people) to be frugal is no longer enough. They need rather to practice the wise management of the taxpayers' (instead of their) money and other economic resources of the nation." By their examples, wasteful government spenders are doing more to destroy the virtue of thrift in our young people than all the government's "thrift" teaching aids can repair.

Aerial Spraying Now Utilized By Many Cities

Towns and cities in half the states of the U. S. are turning to the airplane to rescue them from epidemics of disease and from destructive, blighting and expensive infestations of insects. A major increase in the practice of aerial spraying and dusting of communities is one of the highlights in the steadily expanding use of aircraft for industrial purposes.

First large scale spraying of cities from the air was undertaken in 1948 when 119 communities were covered. In 1949 the number was increased to 265 and a much larger number will be covered this year. It is indicated by early applications for waivers filed with the Civil Aeronautics

Fewer chickens will be raised on farms in 1950 than in 1949. Nevertheless, egg and chicken meat supplies will remain adequate. Egg production in 1950 is likely to exceed the record of 1944, while the smaller laying flock anticipated for 1951 will not reduce output of eggs enough to affect civilian consumption adversely.

Aerial application of the new chemical compounds is utilized for numerous purposes. In some cases DDT is sprayed in efforts to reduce the incidence of polio and to eliminate hordes of mosquitoes and flies. In many other cases, spraying and dusting is used to wipe out infestations of insects. For instance, in semi-arid Kansas where destruction of trees would be an irreparable loss, 74 different communities last year used aerial applications of lethal chemicals to wipe out the canker worm which attacks foliage of trees.

Another example is the Miami, Fla., area where last year aerial DDT spraying was utilized every day for six weeks to combat mosquitoes. Public health officials reported there was not a single instance of bad effects from toxicity upon people or animals.

Companion Industries
The widespread increase in the use of airplanes for this type of work is illustrated by the number of communities in 23 states, which last year secured waivers from the CAA for that purpose. They were as follows:

Arkansas 1, Colorado 7, Delaware 4, Florida 21, Illinois 31, Iowa 21, Kansas 74, Maine 1, Michigan 4, Minnesota 2, Missouri 9, Nebraska 3, New Mexico 7, New York 2, North Dakota 1, Ohio 1, Oklahoma 10, Pennsylvania 3, South Dakota 4, Tennessee 1, Texas 22, Wisconsin 14, Wyoming 5.

Waivers are secured from CAA by operators of the dusting or spraying aircraft to permit low flights below the usual altitude.

Latest figures available to CAA show that 1,724 operators are using 4,906 planes in crop dusting, spraying, seeding, fertilizing and defoliating.

Companion Industries have developed also, with 27 companies now making equipment used in such operations and 19 schools giving courses in agricultural flying—some of which are also applicable to the newer techniques of spraying cities.

Shafer, however, believes the standpoint method is more hantary.

Inasmuch as there are no funds at present to provide employment of private engineers to study Carrizozo's water problem, the mayor believes it should be studied through the help of state and federal agencies. It was announced the city's present indebtedness is $127,500.

Other matters taken up by council were:

21. Authorization to proceed with street repair work, and, if necessary, purchase oil from the state. Councilman Shafer suggested this repair be paid from water fund as they were necessitated by laying of new water pipe, and keep the town's regular road fund for other road work as necessary.

2. Auditing of city's records was announced as starting July 12.

3. City clerk instructed to invite all auto dealers in Carrizozo to bid on new and used trucks.

4. Application of Luther King to operate the Cactus Bar approved. This is the one formerly known as Nick's Bar.

5. City's allocation of $500 to Lincoln County Hospital due, and will be paid as soon as funds permit.

6. Bills for city purchases read and approved.

7. Note for $4,000 for water department debt to be renewed and an additional $2,500 to be borrowed.

8. Cost of repairs to the city's big motor, which was out of service for several weeks undergoing repairs, is estimated at about $2,500.

Officers accepted for active duty will be reserve or Air National Guard officers and airmen will be from the reserve components of those who have served in the Air Force.

Officers and airmen eligible for recall should have certain special military skills currently required by the Air Force.

Greatest current need for officers is for those in the reserve Air National Guard who have been trained as navigators, bombardiers, communications, radio and radar specialists; medical and dental officers, weather specialists and armament officers.

There is also a requirement for a smaller number of officers in most other categories of Air Force assignments.

Veterans Cautioned On GI Bill Home Loans

In the face of today's record housing boom and era of easy mortgage financing, Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray Jr. has issued a word of caution to the 13 million World War II veterans who still are eligible for VA guaranteed home loans under the GI Bill.

A pamphlet, which includes a letter signed by Administrator Gray and addressed "To The Home-Buying Veteran," has just come off the presses and is being distributed through all VA offices in New Mexico.

Intended as a guide for veterans who contemplate buying or building a home, the pamphlet points out some of the pitfalls and headaches which may be encountered and gives advice toward avoiding them.

First and foremost, it is emphasized that veterans should fully understand a GI loan, like any other loan, must be repaid.

The VA guaranty, which protects the lender against loss, encourages him to make the loan at a very low interest rate and with only a small or no down payment, Gray's letter states. "But if you fail to make the payments you agree to make, the VA must pay the loss to the lender, and the amount paid by VA must be repaid by you. Any compensation or pensions to which you may be entitled could be withheld in whole or in part until such debt is satisfied."

The Veterans Administration also warned the veteran against taking on an obligation too heavy for him to carry. In addition to the monthly payments of interest and principal, he pointed out the veteran home owner also must meet the cost of real estate taxes, insurance, repairs, heat, light, water and other utilities.

Advising strongly against rushing into what may prove to be an ill advised purchase, Gray reminded veterans that they have until July 25, 1957, to use their right to a guaranteed loan.

Now that the post-war housing shortage is easing off, the administrator urged veterans to shop carefully before they buy, to make sure they will be satisfied with the quality and condition of the home, and its equipment.

While VA makes every effort to assure the veteran pays only a reasonable price for the home, taking quality and condition into account, the agency cannot guarantee he will be satisfied with his purchase, Gray added.

Veterans unfamiliar with home construction should seek the advice of a reliable person who knows construction, and competent advice should be obtained in connection with the signing of sales contracts and other documents, the letter warns. Before making a deposit on a home, they should make sure the paper they sign calls for a refund in the event the GI loan deal falls through.

The pamphlet contains a detailed check list of points to be considered in buying a home, including neighborhood, lot, construction and financing.

The number of forest fires in the United States increased approximately 11 per cent during 1949, but the total acreage burned was less than that swept by fire in 1948. Last year, 192,774 fires burned 15,307,419 acres during the calendar year of 1949. During the previous year, 174,128 fires burned 14,206,760 acres.

Ruidoso Farm Purchases Registered Jersey

COLUMBUS, Ohio. — Ernest Blood, Ruidoso, N. M., has purchased one registered Jersey, Volunteer Model Lad, from the herd owned by W. S. Carpenter of Hobbs, N. M.

Jerseys are registered at the national office of the American Jersey Cattle Club in Columbus. The club has kept complete records on all registered Jerseys in the United States since 1868.

Jerseys are especially noted for producing milk that averages more than 5 per cent butterfat. The breed also calves and begins producing milk from three to six months earlier than other dairy breeds. This means faster herd building and earlier milk checks, and makes Jerseys increasingly popular with dairymen.

Construction Starts On New San Patricio School

The rebuilding of the San Patricio School which was burned last November, was started recently.

Mrs. Elva Wilson, county school superintendent, announces the foundation is completed and they are ready to work on the walls. It is hoped the school will be completed for occupancy sometime in the early fall. Mrs. Wilson stated a number of volunteer workers have been donating their services which have been greatly appreciated by the school authorities. It is such co-operation, said Mrs. Wilson, which will enable the rebuilding of the San Patricio School to be speeded up.

Roy V. Anderson, manager of the Anderson Lumber Company, Hollywood, is donating a radio for the benefit of the building program.

Women Of The Scripture Subject Of WSCS

The local branch of the Women's Society of Christian Service met July 5 at the Carrizozo Trinity Methodist Church. The local group met one week earlier because of the zone meeting which was held in Capitan on July 12.

After a short business session, Mrs. O. E. Hall took charge of the group's study period. Women of the Scripture was the subject chosen, and an interesting discussion on the problems and accomplishments of women as related in the Bible was heard.

The Carrizozo society urges all women to attend their meetings, and promises their time will be well spent. The group will meet again on Wednesday, July 26, 2:30 P. M.
