'51 Plymouth On Display

The new 1951 Plymouth, which went on exhibition in dealer showrooms throughout the United States on January 13 and is now being shown at the Shafer Motor Company, Carrizozo, features new qualities which produce driving and riding ease heretofore unknown in automobiles of any price range.

Designers have given the Plymouth a striking new silhouette and refinements in the interior are innovations in the lowest price field. The styling improvements retain the traditional roominess of the cars.

Easier to drive and more comfortable, the new cars have greater beauty, more safety features and broader ranges of vision than ever before.

Engineers say the new "safety-flow ride" takes the bounce and wallop out of bumps. A new application of hydraulic flow control in the shock absorbers provides a more gradual change of resistance during spring deflections and thus a softer ride when driving on average roads. It also exerts extra resistance on rough roads to a degree where driver and passengers are almost completely freed of the discomfort of being jolted around.

The lines of the new Plymouth have been beautified. An appearance of massiveness combined with smart streamlining is induced by a new grille, beautifully redesigned front fenders and hood, a wider windshield and a larger rear window. Narrower windshield pillars together with the wider windshield provide additional lateral vision. To utilize fully the greater vision through the new rear window, the rear view mirror is two inches wider. The chair height front seat and the new design of hood and front fenders permit the driver to see the road nearer the car.

A unique pressure vent radiator cap, which has been added at standard equipment, permits the cooling system to be operated at atmospheric pressure during normal driving conditions. Under high load, high temperature driving conditions, the new radiator cap provides a pressurized cooling system to allow high coolant temperature without boiling or loss of anti-freeze.

All Plymouth engines now have a built-in by-pass cooling system permitting water circulation and resulting in more uniform temperature throughout the engine during the warm-up period.

The new Plymouth interiors offer the finest selection of upholstery and trim and the most harmonious color schemes in the company's history. The colors which have been chosen provide throughout the interior a pleasing combination of shades in harmony with the car's exterior color. Designers say the interior is an unparalleled achievement in combining practicality with luxury. Always noted for spaciousness, Plymouth now has even more head room and more room to stretch out in comfort in the rear seat.

To go with the high quality of the upholstery, there is a handsome new instrument panel which features a more convenient grouping of controls, newly shaped instruments, and improved coloring and lettering for easier checking while driving.

The wide, deep chair height seats, the ease of entrance and exit, and all the other traditional Plymouth features for driver and passenger comfort have been retained.

There are nine body types in the new Plymouth line.

License Plates On Sale At H. Alfred Jones Office

Automobile license plates are now on sale at the office of H. Alfred Jones, local attorney. Jones stated the new policy of the Motor Vehicle Department is to distribute the plates only from the business sections of towns. He added truck license plates have not yet been received but are expected shortly.

Jones said all requests for special license numbers are being handled, and will continue to be, on a first come first served basis.

Carrizozo Basketballers Win One, Lose One

Carrizozo High School cagers edged out the Ruidoso Warriors, 40-34, January 11 on that team's home court in the surprise upset of the week, but were scalped in the tilt with Dexter there (last year's champions) on January 13, 79-23.

In the Ruidoso-Carrizozo game, the Warriors were leading at halftime 15-12—but the Grizzlies came back in the last half to win by the narrow margin of 40-34. Jimmy Barnett was high for Carrizozo with 15 points, and Peterson of Ruidoso led his team's scoring with 11 points.

Carrizozo had 15 fouls called on them and netted 12 out of 24 free throws. Ruidoso made 21 fouls and bagged nine out of 18 charity tosses.

Dexter took the lead in Saturday night's game with a score of 79-28 when the last quarter had ended. Jimmy Barnett led for the Grizzlies with 10 points and Moore of Dexter netted 18. Total fouls called on the local team were 25, with 14 for Dexter. Carrizozo had four men off the court by the final whistle. Of the free throws, Dexter caged 15 out of 35 and the Zoolites six out of 18.

Carrizozo's B team was defeated in both games, losing to Ruidoso, 34-23, and to Dexter, 43-29. The local team led Ruidoso 17-13 at halftime but failed to keep the lead. Gerald King totaled eight points for Carrizozo, while Morrison, Ruidoso, was high with 14. In the Dexter game, Joe Luercas led for the local team with 12 points, and Jackson of Dexter was high with 14.

Services Held In Corona For Lincoln Co. Pioneer

Services for A. J. Imhoff, 78, pioneer resident, were held in Corona January 3, 1950. Pallbearers were Marshall Tracey, A. C. Hester, J. L. Rogers, Willis Lovelace, Del Jameson and J. E. Robinson.

Survivors include his widow, three sons, Elzie of Douglas, Ariz., Eldon of Willows, Calif., and Bill of Phoenix, Ariz.; two daughters, Mrs. Bordie Smith of Thoreau and Mrs. Edna Lovelace of Corona; two grandchildren and four step-grandchildren.

Albert John Imhoff was born May 30, 1872, in Springfield, Mo. He attended public schools there and later moved to the Indian Territory where he served as deputy United States marshal until 1900. He came to New Mexico in that year and established a livery business at Kenna. He was married there to Miss Myrtle Grove in 1905. Mr. and Mrs. Imhoff came to Corona in 1907, and made their home there since, except for three years spent in California. Mr. Imhoff farmed and ranched north of town until a few years ago when he moved into town and served as deputy sheriff.

A loyal friend and neighbor, John is missed by the young and old whom he greeted as he went about his daily errands.

Southern Pacific Official Urges Water Conservation

The following letter, dated January 4, urging Carrizozo residents to conserve water from the Bonita pipe line, has been received by the village of Carrizozo from P. D. Robinson, water superintendent for the Southern Pacific Company in this district.

"We wish to call your attention to the many items that are now being published in most daily newspapers in regard to water shortages in the southwest, and to our various letters requesting water users to conserve water from our Bonita pipe line and other places.

"This is to advise that to date, there has been no snow pack or rain on the Bonita water shed and our water supply for the year 1951, no doubt, will be taxed to the limit with the operation of additional trains, due to the national emergency; therefore, we again request that each and every water user limit the use of the water they are now enjoying to the very minimum."

On Honor List

Honor students at Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, who made a "B" plus average or higher, included Mary Alice Shrum, Carrizozo, Miss Shrum is a freshman student at the school.

Silva-Salcido Wedding Takes Place In Ruidoso

A wedding of interest to Lincoln County residents was that which united Miss Martina Silva, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tustarulo Silva, Picocho, and David Salcido, son of Mr. and Mrs. Faustino Salcido, Hondo. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert Auman at the Catholic Church in Ruidoso on December 30.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin wedding gown with long train. Her lace net veil was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. Her bouquet of white carnations was fashioned in the shape of a fan with white satin ribbon decor. A tiny blue bow was fastened to these ribbon streamers which the bride chose as her traditional "something blue." For "something borrowed," she wore pearl earrings belonging to her sister-in-law, which matched the string of pearls fastened round her neck. White gloves and white satin slippers completed her costume.

Mrs. Roman C. Nunez, matron of honor, was gowned in pink satin and carried a nosegay of yellow carnations and greenery. The bridesmaid, Mrs. Pedro Salcido, wore blue satin and her flowers matched the ones carried by the matron of honor.

Flower girls were Misses Mary Kamecs and Libby Salcido, wearing frocks of pink satin and carrying nosegays of pink carnations, and Gloria Nunez and Etelle Fresquez in blue satin and carrying nosegays of blue flowers.

Following a reception at the home of the bride, which was attended by a large group of friends and relatives, the guests were invited to a dance in Hondo given in honor of the bridal party.

Remodeling Of New Odd Fellows Hall Completed

The remodeling of the new Odd Fellows Hall in Carrizozo which has been underway for sometime is now completed, and its dedication was marked by the joint installation ceremonial conducted by the Odd Fellows and Daughters of Rebekah on January 6.

The building housing the lodge and its auxiliary was formerly known as the Southern Pacific Recreation Building prior to its purchase by the Odd Fellows. The land upon which it stands has been leased to the local organization by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company.

The long porch which faced the tracks has been enclosed to form a combination kitchen and dining room as well as two other small rooms. Inside the former recreation hall, a stairway from the basement has been removed to form a solid floor, and several interior partitions have been torn out. The interior of the building has been painted an off white shade and a new stove and sink are installed in the kitchen. The building has steam heat and a plentiful supply of hot water.

The basement has been redecorated and additional bedrooms added. These rooms are rented by railroad men whose runs necessitate a stopover in Carrizozo. An outside entrance provides access to these rooms.

Child Care Subject Of Picacho Guest Speaker

Child care was the subject chosen by Mrs. George Wilcox, Roswell, guest speaker, at the regular meeting of the Picacho Woman's Club on January 8 at the schoolhouse.

Another topic of importance was the proposed workshop for the children of the community. Plans to make it a reality were under discussion.

Mrs. Wilbur Coe, Glencoe, thanked the club for the camellia plant which she received as a Christmas gift from its members. Guests at the meeting included Mesdames George Wilcox, Wilbur Coe and Sparkman.

Members in attendance were Mesdames Charles Fuller, Fred Romero, L. A. Cole, Andrew Fresquez, Dick Fresquez, Hugh Sloan, A. N. Kimbrell, R. C. Nunez Sr., C. Tabor, Marie Casey and Miss Elsie Kimbrell.

Hostesses for the evening were Mesdames Hugh Sloan and L. A. Cole.

Career Ends After 31 Years Service

By DOROTHY GUCK

The cattlemen on the Lincoln National Forest will miss Lee Beall as Forest Service grazing deputy. He retired the first of January after 31 years of service.

Beall was born in Oakville, Texas, September 13, 1888. He served two years overseas in France and Germany during World War I, then joined the Forest Service in 1919 as assistant ranger in the wilderness area of the Gila Forest. In 1920, transferring to the Guadalupe District of the Lincoln, he rode cross country to his new station with all his worldly goods carried on his saddle and two pack horses.

Vera Vest of Carlsbad became his bride in 1921 and they remained in the Guadalupe five more years before moving to the White Mountain District in October, 1926. After four years service during the years before Ruidoso became such a well known recreational area, the Bealls moved to Capitan and remained until 1935. Many people there still consider them home-folks. He spent a few months on the Mayhill District and was promoted to the Alamogordo office where he remained until his retirement.

This tall thin man is known and admired by every cattlemen in the county. He was born on a ranch and understands the grazing problems of the stockmen. He has earned the right to wear his spurs as justly as the Forest Service badge. During 15 years in the Alamogordo office, he handled ably all of the most disastrous forest fires. But when asked for an account of the most outstanding incident of his career, he said, "It was the drought of 1922."

Lee Beall worked with the cattlemen before the fences restricted the stock to designated areas. Weeks in the saddle, checking and driving herds, gave him the heart of a cowboy. Good rains and abundant grass meant happiness and prosperity to Lee Beall, though he enjoyed no personal gain. When droughts and hard times hit the cattle country, he was one cowboy who owned no cattle yet suffered with his friends. His fellow supervisors, Fred Winn, Fred Arthur, Carol Dwire and Earl Moore, saw the forest well managed and adequately protected during his long years of service.

Beall plans to remain in Alamogordo, where he resides with Mrs. Beall and his two daughters, Jennie Lou and Raynell. His son Jack, who is married and resides in El Paso, has one child, Janet.

The personnel of the Lincoln Forest honored Mr. Beall with a dinner at the home of Sam Servis, Alamogordo, January 13, and presented him with luggage. Ranger and Mrs. Guck, Ranger and Mrs. Earl and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morgan attended from Capitan.

Lee Beall can never be replaced and his many friends wish him the greatest happiness in his retirement he has so justly earned.

Fulton Terminates Service With Lincoln Commission

Maurice G. Fulton, former historian for the Old Lincoln County Memorial Commission with headquarters at Lincoln, announces the termination of his contract with the commission in order to devote full time to his research work on the history of southeast New Mexico.

Publication of the results of such research is planned, Fulton stated.

Mr. Fulton's resignation was accepted at a recent meeting in Roswell which was attended by Judge C. R. Brice, retiring justice of the New Mexico Supreme Court.

In Concert

A member of the orchestra personnel, Mary Ann Cox, Fort Stanton, will appear in a concert to be given by the Eastern New Mexico University Symphonette Orchestra, Portales, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the university theater. Miss Gillian Buchanan, associate professor in music, will conduct.

Hondo PTA To Sponsor News Subscription Drive

The regular meeting of the Hondo High School PTA was held on January 9 with the president, Roman Nunez, presiding. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary and Mr. Shotts, the treasurer, gave a report of the finances. The reading of the PTA prayer by Mrs. George was followed by the other business of the meeting.

It was decided that the PTA would sponsor a drive for subscriptions to the Lincoln County News, a proposition which was offered by Ann Kinnard, co-publisher, at the December meeting. Mr. Hamilton was put in charge of the drive which will be carried on with the help of the classes. Other matters for discussion were subscribing to the PTA magazine, strongly urged by the president and Mrs. Thomas, and the sending of a delegate to the PTA national convention.

Mrs. John Thomas of the program committee explained that the speaker of the evening was unable to be present, and in lieu of this, a discussion was held regarding the types of programs preferred by parents and teachers. The room count was won by the seniors, and after this was taken, the meeting adjourned for a delightful hour or more of coffee, cake and visiting.

Mesdames Frank Titworth, Ed Nelson and Joe Salcido were the hostesses for the evening's refreshments which were extremely enjoyed by all.

Glenda Sue King Chosen Girl Scout Patrol Leader

Glenda Sue King is the newly elected patrol leader of the Carrizozo troop of Intermediate Girl Scouts. She replaces Alberta Shaw, who has moved to Alamogordo.

Jean and Linda Edington received their formal investiture into the local troop on January 16 at the home of Mrs. George L. Zimmerman in a ceremony conducted by Mrs. Ace Baly, leader of the group.

Members of the troop are assisting Mrs. J. P. Turner, March of Dimes chairman in this area, in the work of inserting and addressing envelopes in connection with solicitation for this fund.

A field trip on January 20 is planned by the local group which will take them through the museum at Lincoln. The Carrizozo Brownie Scouts will accompany the Intermediate Scouts on the trip.

In conjunction with the trip, Mrs. Baly reminds the members of both groups they cannot participate without written permission from the parents. Forms to be used for this purpose have been provided the Scouts and should be returned to the respective leaders of the two groups.

At the "Fly Up" ceremonial held in the T. A. Speicher Jr. home on January 17, wings were presented to Jonette Harkey and Vivian Sandoval, Mary Alice King. The ceremony was open to the public and is held when a Brownie Scout reaches the age limitation for that group and attains the status for entrance into the Intermediate Scouts.

Sedillo-Sandoval Nuptials Held In Alamogordo

A wedding ceremony performed before the justice of the peace in Alamogordo on January 6 united Mrs. Vivian Sedillo, Carrizozo, and Andrew Sandoval, Alamogordo.

The bride chose as her wedding costume a suit with a pencil slim black skirt and a gray jacket fashioned with a back peplum. Her accessories were white.

The maid of honor, Miss Elsie Lopez, Carrizozo, wore a black taffeta dress styled with a V-neckline and full skirt with taffeta ruffle. With it, she wore white accessories.

George Sedillo served the bridegroom as best man. A reception was held at the bride's home in Carrizozo after the ceremony for a number of relatives and friends.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Bennina Sedillo, Carrizozo. The couple will make their future home in Alamogordo where Mr. Sandoval is employed at Holoman Air Base.

Mrs. Sandoval is the mother of three children by a former marriage.

Albuquerque Firm To Open Iron Mine Here

Tentative plans of Wylie Bros., Albuquerque, to develop an open pit iron ore mine 28 miles west of Carrizozo were related this week by C. R. Jurgensen, Albuquerque, superintendent.

The mine is known as the Jones District and is just over the line in Socorro County. Jurgensen stated it would require additional time to determine the extent of the mining operations the Albuquerque firm can carry out successfully as well as economically.

According to estimates of geologists, there are approximately a half million tons of ore to be had from the property. The company hopes to mine 500 tons a day, which means the operation would require approximately three years to complete.

Jurgensen stated it should be known in 10 days or so whether their method of operation is feasible and they can continue to mine the ore.

If it develops mining operations are to be continued, the firm will need 15 or 20 trucks (the company leases the trucks used on the job) and 12 to 15 men in addition to the truck drivers. The ore would be loaded in Carrizozo.

Present equipment at the mine, according to the superintendent, includes a compressor, two jack hammers, a 4-yard shovel, and a bulldozer. Two trucks are being operated now and a stockpile of approximately 400 tons of ore has been taken from the mine.

If it is determined the property can be mined successfully and economically on the open pit method, some employment for local men will be created. At present, four local residents are employed on the project.

Hondo Extension Club Starts New 4-H Project

Members of the Hondo Extension Club at their last regular meeting voted to give $35 to start a new 4-H project in the Hondo-Hondo Valley, Carl Radcliff, county extension agent, reports.

The project when completed will involve a flock of five breeding ewes, the income from which will be used to make 4-H Club work partially self supporting in the southern part of the county.

Ranchers will be contacted and asked to assist in getting four other ewes. The flock of five ewes will then be placed in charge of a 4-H Club member under the supervision of a committee of local 4-H leaders and the county agent. The club member caring for the flock will receive the wool clip as his compensation for managing the flock, but all funds received from lambs that are sold will be placed in the 4-H club treasury and will be used to sponsor educational tours and other events necessary in promoting 4-H work. Replacement ewes will be kept each year in order to maintain a flock of five breeding ewes. The flock will be tattooed, branded and given close supervision with the hopes that it will be a means of raising approximately $75 each year to promote 4-H activities.

Mrs. Blanche Ethel Sturt Named School Assistant

The appointment of Mrs. Blanche Ethel Sturt, Ruidoso, as secretary to Mrs. Lorine Samelsson, county schools superintendent, has been announced. She assumed her new duties last week.

She is originally from St. Louis, Mo., but has been a resident of Ruidoso off and on since 1935, and a permanent resident since 1942.

Mrs. Sturt is ardent in her opinion New Mexico is a wonderful place to live, a belief which is shared by many other Middle Westerners who now call this state "home."

She formerly operated a flower and gift shop in Ruidoso.

Highway Survey Crew Seeks Temporary Housing

A visitor in Carrizozo this week was Arthur Lucero, location engineer for the State Highway Department, who came here to locate temporary housing for a crew of approximately seven.

The housing is needed in connection with the planned reurvey of Highway 54 between Carrizozo and Corona.

IOOF Lodges Install Officers

The joint installation of officers for the I. O. O. F. Carrizozo Lodge No. 30 and Daughters of Rebekah, Coalora Lodge No. 15, was held in the new lodge hall here on January 6. The event also marked the dedication of the building recently purchased by the lodges and remodeled.

Approximately 250 members and guests attended the installation ceremony, including visitors from El Paso, Alamogordo, Deming, Ruidoso and Roswell.

Principal speakers included Vernon Petty, mayor of Carrizozo; Herman E. Kelt, Carrizozo postmaster, as well as lodge officials H. Guyon, Deming, grand master; Wayne Johnson, Alamogordo, grand warden; B. R. Fulker, Roswell, district deputy grand master, and R. L. Cole, Roswell, noble grand.

The new lodge officials for the current year are R. G. Stewart and Mrs. Marian Schlarb, noble grands; John Ferguson and Mrs. Helen Nowell, vice grands; D. F. Wooten and Mrs. Connie O'Rear, treasurers; Earl Harrow and Miss Era Berry, recording secretaries; Mrs. Lois Carl, financial secretary; J. W. Taylor and Mrs. Ethel Mae Roberts, Joe Ferguson and Mrs. Mildred Hust, conductors; Wesley Young and Mrs. Bessie Hodgins, chaplains; Mrs. Marie Shults, musician; Cecil Thompson and Mrs. Sara Ferguson, inside guardians; T. J. Longley and Mrs. Jewel Ferguson, outside guardians; Herman E. Kelt and Mrs. Georgia Harkey, right supporters to noble grands; Ray Evans and Mrs. Elizabeth McVeigh, left supporters to noble grands; Tom O'Rear and Mrs. Erlina Tubbs, right supporters to vice grands; James Thompson and Mrs. Florice Barnum, left supporters to vice grands; Bert Chaney, right scene supporter, and H. F. Kilpatrick, left scene supporter.

Outgoing noble grands were Roy Harmon and Mrs. Dorothy Current.

Serving as grand installing officers were B. G. Barnum, district deputy grand master, and Mrs. Annie Withers, district deputy president. They were assisted by the following officers, J. F. Tom and Mrs. Georgia Harkey, grand wardens; Calvin Carl and Mrs. Erlina Tubbs, grand treasurers; H. Elfred Jones and Mrs. Rachel West, grand secretaries; J. N. McDaniels and Mrs. Anna Bell Duncan, grand marshals; M. O. Longley and Mrs. Winzell Wacker, grand chaplains, and Rayne Withers and Mrs. Edna Carl, grand guardians.

At the conclusion of the ceremonial, members and guests adjourned to the dining room where a bountiful buffet supper had been prepared by the local Rebekahs. The table decorations were supplemented by vegetables cleverly fashioned to represent flowers. The centerpiece of the 40-foot table was built around a huge red candle with red and white snowballs and evergreen boughs surrounding it. The large white cakes placed at each end of the buffet table were topped with three links made of pink icing, and within the links were the letters F, L and T, also made of pink icing. The letters signify Friendship, Love and Truth and symbolize the goals of the two groups in their contacts with fellow beings.

After supper, the lodge hall was cleared for dancing to music provided by Orville Lutteral and E. R. Rhodes, Alamogordo.

Herman E. Kelt, D. F. Wooten and M. O. Longley arranged the program for the evening's events and members and guests declared it one of the most successful and enjoyable installations ever conducted in Carrizozo.

Ten Years Of Progress In New Mexico Schools

The progress of the New Mexico system of public elementary and high school education over the last 10 years can be measured by the amount of funds made available and also by the qualifications of the professional personnel who make up the administrative and instructional staff in each school unit. Comparing the two years ended respectively June 30, 1940, and June 30, 1950, the total of all school budgets in 1939-40 were $9,380,000; 10 years later in the year 1949-50 the total of all school budgets was $30,955,085, more than three times the total budgets for 1939-40. Included in these totals are teachers' salaries amounting to $5,124,465 in 1939-40 and $19,500,802 in 1949-50. During this period there was a very substantial improvement in the qualifications of teachers, as indicated by their training. In 1949-50, of 4,959 teachers, principals and supervisors, 80.6 per cent had bachelor or master's degrees. As to emergency certificates, it is reported by Director of Placement Bureau Ellen W. Vaughan of the State Department of Education for the current year only 27 emergency certificates and permits have been issued, as compared with 113 in 1949-50, 209 in 1948-49, 244 in 1947-48, and 370 in 1946-47.

The total number of superintendents, principals, supervisors and teachers in New Mexico in 1939-40 was 4,433 and 5,460 in 1949-50. The average salary of these principals, superintendents, supervisors and teachers was $1,170 in 1939-40 and $3,303 in 1949-50. It may be noted that the average teacher load, that is, the ratio of students per teacher, was 25 in 1939-40 and 23 in 1949-50. Another important consideration in the compensation of teachers is that, if service is maintained on a satisfactory level for a probationary period, teachers have practically permanent tenure in these positions. Various types of insurance are available to teachers, with a percent of the premium paid from public funds. More important still is the very liberal allowance for retirement for superintendents, principals, supervisors, teachers, custodians, nurses and other regular full time employees of the public schools. They may retire at the age of 60 and thereafter receive for the remainder of their lives an allowance equivalent to 60 per cent of the average salary for the five years immediately prior to the date of such retirement. For instance, if the salary is $3,000, the retirement allowance would be $1,800, which is provided for from the school equalization fund without any charge against the salaries of individual employees. The practice in other states is a contributing one, the individual teacher paying a certain amount of his or her salary to help build up a reserve for retirement.

According to the National Education Association Bulletin, New Mexico in 1949-50 was one of the 10 states in which teachers' salaries were higher than an average of $3,000. This number included Arizona, California, Connecticut, Florida, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Nevada, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Oregon, Rhode Island, Utah and Washington. In New Mexico there are teachers' salary schedules in all the counties, and a study of 4,837 full time classroom teachers in 1949-50 revealed some significant figures. Of this number 1,555 were rural school teachers and 3,402 were municipal teachers. The study was made from data filed in the office of the educational budget auditor and was edited so that the distribution reflects as closely as possible salaries of full time classroom teachers only. The median (the salary at, or above, which at least 50 per cent of the teachers are paid), for all teachers in the state was $3,196 a year in 1949-50. Two years before, in 1947-48, it was $2,749. As an indication of the possibility of increasing salaries, it is pointed out that in 1947-48 there were 21 teachers receiving salaries of $4,000; in 1948-49 there were 125 teachers, and in 1949-50 there were 267

Car Maker Boosts Record to 25 Million

A giant cake lettered with the production milestones of the company marked Chevrolet's observance of its twenty-fifth millionth automobile. Above, T. H. Keating, general manager of the division, watches his top assistant light the candles (l. to r.) E. W. Ivey, administrative assistant to Keating; W. J. Scott, general manufacturing manager; W. E. Fish, general sales manager, and E. H. Kelley, chief engineer. Registering an achievement without precedent in the history of the auto industry, Chevrolet built its 25th millionth car on January 11, its 24th millionth June 30 and the 25th millionth December 22. The last milestone was reached with new 1951 models.

Letter to Editor

Editor, News-Outlook:
 The Otero County Electric Cooperative was incorporated in November, 1939, and in January, 1940, 75 miles of lines were energized. These energized lines served only about 200 members. After 10 years of operation, the Otero County Electric Co-op is serving 1,425 consumers, this includes both town and rural members.

In every state of the Union, you can find the different cooperatives serving rural areas with electricity. These cooperatives are local owned, for each consumer of electricity has a share in the business.

Many people refer to us as the REA. REA is a government agency, so these people sometimes think we are government owned, not knowing that REA merely lends us money as well as loaning money to municipalities and private power companies. The cooperative, like any other cooperatives, are non-profit organizations which operate on a non-profit basis. There is no revenue to pay taxes on. The cooperative pays all taxes, teachers receiving $4,000. In 1947-48 there were 2,279 teachers receiving $3,000 or more. In 1948-49 there were 2,483 teachers, and in 1949-50 there were 3,196 teachers receiving $3,000 or over. There were only 73 teachers who received less than $2,000 in 1949-50, as compared with 253 in 1947-48 and 125 in 1948-49. The per capita funds made available per student in average daily attendance, in elementary and high schools in New Mexico in 1939-40 was $58; in 1949-50, the per capita average was $256, three times the amount available in 1939-40. For the current year, 1950-51, it is estimated the per capita budgeted per student will be $271.—New Mexico Tax Bulletin.

Two All-Time Records Set By Chevrolet Division

Two all-time records for biggest year's production by a single company in the history of the automobile industry were announced by the Chevrolet Motor Division as it prepared for long term defense commitments.

The first record is for U. S. plants alone, 2,015,150, the second is for total production of 2,107,493, including Canadian plants—as is traditional in automobile industry record keeping. Both exceed old records that have stood since 1923.

"This achievement makes except income taxes, which has been stated previously that the cooperatives are non-profit organizations.

Uncle Sam needs the help of every American business, large and small, in the nation's crisis. He is asking each business to:

1. Pay its fair share of taxes under laws fair to everyone. Cooperatives do.
2. Produce and distribute all possible goods and services. Cooperatives do.
3. Refuse to profiteer, thus checking inflation and reducing our tax burden. Cooperatives cannot profiteer.

PROPERTY OWNERS WARNED ON DELINQUENT TAXES

Property owners who have not paid all the taxes on the property they own for 1949 and prior years are advised that on the 15th day of January, 1951, in the office of the County Treasurer in each county, all property delinquent for taxes will be sold. This means that such property will be put up for sale and a certificate of sale will be issued to the highest bidder. However, the original owner will have two years in which to redeem the property, after which period, unless taxes are paid by the original owner, a certificate of sale will be converted into a deed to the successful bidder. Property owners who are not sure whether all their taxes for 1949 and prior years have been paid as required before January 15 should visit or call the assessor of their county and learn the status of their payments.

We're Growing with the WEST!

Western states have had substantial population gains in the past ten years. The average growth in the seven states we serve has been about 24%. But the number of telephones has more than doubled in most communities. That means more people you can call—more who can reach you.

Bringing a telephone into the world involves a lot more than just delivering it. It has to be connected with all other telephones in the community, and that takes more wires, poles, cables, switchboards and other equipment. Moreover, as telephones are added, the job becomes more complex and costs (particularly at today's high prices) go up.

We've spent $162 million since the end of World War II to meet service requirements in the seven states. Large additional amounts of new capital will be needed for continued expansion and improvement of service. There is only one source of money for such expansion: It must come from people with savings to invest. And they will do so only if our earnings compare favorably with those of other businesses.

Chavez Says New Mexico Aided By 81st Congress

When the Eighty-first Congress closed its books this month the ledger showed evidence of constructive work in behalf of New Mexico in the Senate and House of Representatives, according to Senator Dennis Chavez.

In the fields of water resources especially did the Sunshine State hit highs, asserted the senator, in a review of the two-year period.

During the Congress, interstate compacts were realized on both the Pecos and Canadian Rivers to pave the way for New Mexico development of those two streams. Both compacts produced considerable controversy between New Mexico and Texas, and in each instance the battle was carried on not only in the states but in the Senate as well.

Irrigation projects at Fort Sumner and Maxwell were converted into reclamation districts, the Maxwell project being realized after a presidential veto of one bill. Inter-agency problems on the San Juan River in northwestern New Mexico were erased and work is now in progress to complete that study, the senator said.

The Upper Colorado River Compact, of which the San Juan is a part, is going forward largely through a $500,000 appropriation from the Senate Appropriations Committee, of which Chavez is sixth ranking Democrat.

Complete authorization of the $80,000,000 Middle Rio Grande flood control and reclamation project, harnessing some 400 miles of the river, came this past year after a partial authorization of $3,500,000 was obtained in the Eightieth Congress.

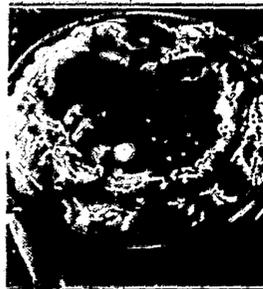

More specific attention to country roads, and an end to the by-passing of small towns in highway relocations, came as the result of the federal aid to highways bill passed this past year.

The state's water problems and needs at Carlsbad, Silver City, Gallup, Roswell and all along the upper reaches of the Pecos River, and her rural road and public building were brought to the attention of senators through a series of public hearings held in New Mexico by Public Works Committee members.

"This is one of the very few times when senators have gone into a state to see what needed to be done and heard it from the people rather than official spokesmen," Chavez said. "Most congressional committees enter states to investigate, but we went there to learn and to use the information in passing on legislation before the committee."

In the field of public works, the committee also passed two other measures: One provided for both present and future construction and the second made available loans for the municipalities, counties or a state agency for the blueprinting of fire stations, sewerage systems and other public necessities.

Meatime MARVELS

BEUF CASSEROLE
One-dish meals are a joy to the housewife. They save time and trouble in preparation and make dishwashing a light job. Here is a suggestion for a splendid meal—a dish that contains a wealth of food values. Try

Beef Casserole
5 strips of bacon or salt pork
3 cups (2 lbs.) beef cut in cubes
salt, pepper, and flour
1 cup sliced onion
1 1/2 cups peas
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 1/2 cups tomato juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
4 carrots (sliced)
mashed potatoes

Fry the bacon or salt pork. Season flour with salt and pepper. Dredge the cubed meat. Brown the meat on all sides in the pork or bacon fat. Add sliced onions, sugar, lemon juice, and Worcestershire sauce. Cook about five minutes. Add tomato juice. Cover and steam until almost tender. Add carrots and peas. Cook until meat and vegetables are tender. Place in casserole. Top stew with well seasoned mashed potatoes. Brown lightly in hot oven or under broiler unit. Serve hot. (Lamb or veal may be used in place of beef.)

The 1951 Ford F-1 pickup truck and other models in the new Ford truck line feature as optional equipment a new "5-Star Extra" cab for added comfort. An enlarged rear window in all 1951 Ford trucks provides better all-around vision. The steering column gearshift is standard equipment on the F-1 truck. The new cab, with many passenger car features, is sound-proofed with undercoating and roof insulation. Seats, including backs, are adjustable, and cushions have a thick foam rubber pad.

Carrizozo Movies

Walt Disney's new feature in his True-Life Adventure series is entitled "Beaver Valley" and comes to the Lyric screen January 19 and 20. The print is in technicolor with music.

The beaver whose pelts lured pioneers to the West long before the gold and land stampede is the leading character. A great provider and family man, the beaver is shown in home and dam building, and in battle with enemies. The picture was filmed in remote regions of Montana and Minnesota.

Among animals performing in "Beaver Valley" are moose, deer, bear, badger, raccoon, fresh water otter. The feathered characters include eagle, duck, owl and heron. A prowling coyote is seen as the constant menace to the beaver family. Salmon are also pictured as they come home to spawn, surmounting incredible obstacles as they do so.

The Congress removed responsibility of the Navajos to maintain the Gallup-Durango highway and Gallup-Window Rock highway through Indian land as those roads have become part of the state highway system. Heretofore about $20,000 from Indian funds had gone into maintenance of these roads.

The New Mexico State Fair got title to the Indian exhibits building at the Fair Grounds and about one-third acre of ground on which it is situated in another law affecting Indians. While the government held title to the land and buildings, no government agency seemed to have funds to maintain it, and now the New Mexico State Fair has the exhibits building as a part of its overall plant.

In the field of forests, 13,277 acres of eroded watershed land owned by the state was added to the Carson National Forest near Taos as a protective flood measure for Taos. The federal government will start a range and forest improvement and restoration program on these lands.

Cleveland Meet Stresses Importance Of Schools

The mounting importance of America's public schools during the international crisis was emphasized recently by nationally known figures at a gathering of citizens from 28 states in Cleveland, Ohio.

The occasion was the second annual dinner of the National Citizens Commission for the Public Schools, a non-profit organization to encourage further citizen participation in behalf of public school improvement. The commission is financed by the Carnegie Corporation and the Rockefeller Foundation.

Speakers were Alan Valentine, economic stabilization administrator; Frank W. Abrams, chairman of the board, Standard Oil Company of New Jersey; Roy E. Larsen, chairman of NCCPS and president of Time, Inc.; and Henry Toy Jr., executive director of the commission.

"Even as we talk of education we can almost hear the drone of enemy bombers, the rattle of machine guns and the crash of bombs," Valentine told the audience. "What place has education amid such sounds? What chance has education in a world tottering on the abyss of atomic war?"

Valentine warned "we have not yet begun to experience the inflationary pressures arising from our military defense program. Inflation is the inevitable result and inflation uncontrolled could be literally ruinous. The Economic Stabilization Agency report has its important role in this effort but the job can be properly done only with the help of other agencies of the government, and of the American people."

"No one can foretell with certainty how long the present struggle will last or what form it may take but one thing is sure: if the forces of inflation—already dangerous but not yet unleashed by our defense effort—on a gigantic scale—if these forces are not held in check they will wreak havoc on the domestic scene and destroy many of those fundamental values in American life which it is our purpose to serve."

Inflation, he said, "means that every special interest must for the time being be subordinated to the common interest." He added that "if this simple fact is generally understood it is my conviction that the worst effects of uncontrolled inflation can surely be avoided."

Valentine pointed out the qualities necessary for a stable economy are those "which a nation can develop only in its schools, its churches, and its homes—and in our modern nomadic society the most influential of these appears to be the school."

Larsen, an chairman of NCCPS pointed out that by 1954 elementary school enrollment alone will reach a record 30,000,000 children, with a continued in-

A Boy, a Dream and a Goal

IN THE HOPE of earning one of the 734 awards—which include eight university-scholarships with a total value of $20,000—offered in the 1951 competition of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild, William Worth of Detroit sketches the design of the model car he will construct and enter in the competition. Boys between the ages of 12 and 20 desiring to enter the competition may do so by writing the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild, Detroit-2, Michigan. A total of $25,000 in awards and scholarships will be given youths designing and building the best model cars.

Land Values In State Rise Since Korean War

A recent report of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics indicates that land values in New Mexico have risen rapidly since the outbreak of the Korean War, says J. Z. Rowe, extension economist at New Mexico A & M College.

Preliminary figures for November indicate average value per acre for farm real estate in New Mexico rose eight points since July using the period 1912-1913 as a basis. That July, land values had been dropping. In March, 1949, land values in New Mexico were 193, compared with 100 for the 1912-1914 period. In November, 1949, values dropped to 190 and in March, 1950, to 188. Land values for the United States as of November, 1950, were only 79 points higher than the base period, while those in New Mexico were 25 points higher.

"The rapid increase in the value of farm real estate is not surprising," Rowe explains. "The purchase of farms has been a means which many people employ to hedge against inflation-create for the five years after that.

"Community action for a good school system must mean cooperation among all elements of a community, with integrity and unselfishness of purpose. May we urge the citizens who would take the time and interest to enter the fight for better schools to put aside at the outset their various individual and personal prejudices. The contrary or emotional approach of the individual or group with a special axe to grind with regard to the local school program can and has torn a community apart," said Larsen.

"To decide what kind of schools they want citizens of a community will inevitably be deciding what kind of community they want. They have begun to crystallize a vision of their ideal community life."

Henry Toy, the commission's executive director, outlined the accomplishments of the commission during the past year estimating that there were 5,000 citizens groups in the country working for better schools in their home towns, of which number approximately 1,000 are in contact with the commission for information and encouragement on how they can improve their schools.

School Of Mines Issues Booklet On Well Tests

The newly published "Index to Samples From Oil and Gas Well Tests in Library at Socorro, New Mexico," will greatly increase the usefulness of the collection of cuttings and cores maintained by the State Bureau of Mines and Mineral Resources at Socorro. Designated as Circular 22, the booklet is available without charge from the bureau.

The well sample library, maintained by the Bureau of Mines, division of New Mexico School of Mines, contains cuttings and cores from nearly 1,800 wells distributed throughout the state. All have been indexed by section, township and range, and sample intervals noted.

The well sample library promotes knowledge of New Mexico geology by bringing together in a permanent collection, subsurface samples which can be worked and reworked as discoveries are made and new techniques developed. From microscopic study of these cuttings the depth of producing horizons and the type of oil reservoir rock can be determined.

The sample library is in use constantly, not only by geologists of the bureau, but by oil company and independent geologists as well. Facilities are provided for examination and study of samples by qualified individuals and organizations. To facilitate this study there is a card index with name of operator, fee owner, county and survey locations, and sample range for each set of samples.

Supplementary lists will be made available from time to time as additional samples are added to the library.

SOUTHERN CHICKEN CASSEROLE

The South and fried chicken are synonymous where food is concerned, for Dixieland has been famous for its fried chicken since plantation days. Now from the new South comes a delectable variation on the fried chicken theme. It is called:

- Southern Chicken Casserole
- 1 fryer disjuncted
 - 1/2 cup flour
 - salt and pepper
 - 2 tablespoons fortified margarine
 - 2 small bay leaf
 - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 - 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
 - 1/2 cup water
 - 1 small can mushrooms (stems and pieces)
- Season the flour with salt and pepper. Cover the chicken well with the seasoned flour. Place in casserole. Dot with bits of margarine; add bay leaf, mushrooms, Worcestershire sauce, lemon juice, and water. Cover. Place in a preheated moderate oven (325° to 375° F.) and cook for 1 1/2 hours.

Miss Sally Mae Pfeiffer gave a piano solo entitled "Palmolive" by Chopin. Hostesses were Mesdames Carl Carlton, T. B. Ford and James Griffin. The next regular meeting will be Thursday, February 8. T. B. Ford will give a talk on "Communism and Democracy."

Nogal Mesa

By DOROTHY GUCK

John Hayward, assistant forest ranger on the Mayhill District, was instantly killed when his car skidded off the icy road just below the Cloudercroft highway tunnel, January 13. He was on his way to attend the retirement party for Lee Beall in Alamogordo.

Mr. Hayward directed the Mesquero Red Hats and the Hopi fire fighters when they gained such renown at the California forest fires. He managed the Capitlan District in September while Mr. Earl was at ranger school in Flagstaff, and he lived at the Mesa Ranger Station for a month before Christmas while working with other Forest Service men to rebuild the phone line.

The Gucks and Earls were to attend full military funeral servlisted in the Air Force. Joe was a member of the 1950 graduating class of the Capitlan High School. The teen-agers enjoyed a dancing party held at the VFW home on Friday night, January 12.

Jo Bert Chaney is using crutches to protect a bad ankle. He sprained it while practicing basketball.

The Thursday Bridge Club has resumed its club activities after a month's lull. The club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Bill Humphries on Thursday of last week. Bridge prizes were received by Mrs. Tom Utterback and Mrs. H. R. Douglas of Carrizozo.

A United Nations flag was presented to the high school by the ladies auxiliary of the Norton Pepper Post of the VFW. The presentation was made by Mrs. Rayford Burnett during school assembly on Friday, January 12.

At the last meeting of the City Council, Earl Hagerow was appointed police judge for the village of Capitlan. Earl Hagerow, 24, is believed to be the youngest police judge in the state.

Results of basketball games played in Capitlan on Friday, January 12: Eighth graders, Alamogordo 53, Capitlan 33; freshmen, Magdalena 27, Capitlan 33.

Don't forget that on Monday, January 22, the Globe Trotters and the Terrible Swedes will play basketball at the high school gym in Capitlan.

The ladies auxiliary of the Norton Pepper Post of the VFW entertained about 50 patients in the Fort Stanton Hospital with a bingo party and refreshments Monday evening. State DAV Representative Kenneth Ferguson assisted the ladies during the party.

Paul Jones is working on a ranch out of Muleshoe, Texas. Bob and Henry Peebles are helping Peg Pfingsten build a new fence.

Fred LaMay went to El Paso to undergo a major operation. The first of the month snow was far heavier on the western slope of the mountain than on the eastern. The four inches on the Mesa has almost disappeared.

Those new electric blankets gave lots of people a few nights of cold feet and Joe Wigley some miserable working hours before he found and corrected the trouble. It's a good idea to keep a featherbed handy, or a couple of bricks for warming.

FORT STANTON

By FRANK E. SMITH

The ladies of the Capitlan Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary came over on Monday evening and put on a bingo game for the hospital patients. About 45 of the boys were able to take part in the game and all received one or more prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Morey of Seneca Castle, N. Y., sent a card announcing the arrival of another baby daughter on the day following Christmas. The little girl, who was given the name Aletra Christina, weighed 7 pounds, 10 ounces at birth. Mrs. Morey will be remembered as Peta Miller of Capitlan.

Mrs. Ray Baker entertained the ladies of the USPHS Bridge Club on Thursday afternoon. Four tables of bridge were in progress and prize winners were Mesdames Joe Ferguson, Tom Burleson, Grace Reed and Howard W. Kopping. Something new in the way of refreshments was served, but I did not get the details or the recipe.

Gabriel Gomez, now of Albuquerque, was down here for a few hours on Sunday, visiting around with friends and well-wishers.

Trinidad Gameroz, formerly employed at the Fort and now working in Mexico with the U. S. group who are cooperating with the Mexican government in putting down the cattle epidemic, is back here for a brief vacation.

We deeply regret the passing of Dr. Milton Pollard, who died of injuries suffered in an automobile accident shortly after the start of 1951. Dr. Pollard will be missed as he was well liked by all with whom he came in contact. The children at the Carrie Tingley Hospital, Truth or Consequences, will especially miss him.

Salas had to check in the hospital on Sunday night due to a severe attack of the flu.

William Ferguson was given a blood transfusion last week and has improved enough to return to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Travis Werner, in Capitlan.

Paul Jones is working on a ranch out of Muleshoe, Texas. Bob and Henry Peebles are helping Peg Pfingsten build a new fence.

Fred LaMay went to El Paso to undergo a major operation. The first of the month snow was far heavier on the western slope of the mountain than on the eastern. The four inches on the Mesa has almost disappeared.

Those new electric blankets gave lots of people a few nights of cold feet and Joe Wigley some miserable working hours before he found and corrected the trouble. It's a good idea to keep a featherbed handy, or a couple of bricks for warming.

Any and all persons objecting to the probate of the said Will are hereby notified to be present on the 15th day of February, 1951, at 10:00 O'clock in the forenoon, and show cause if any they have why said Will shall not be admitted to probate.

Witness my hand and the seal of the Probate Court of Lincoln County New Mexico, by order of the Judge of said Court at my office in Carrizozo, New Mexico, this 9th day of January, 1951. J. G. Moore, Clerk. Otila E. Vega, Deputy (Probate Court Seal) (Jan 12, 19, 26, F 2)

IN THE PROBATE COURT OF LINCOLN COUNTY STATE OF NEW MEXICO) IN THE MATTER OF) THE LAST WILL AND) TESTAMENT, AND OF) No. 741) THE ESTATE OF) JAMES T. BOOKY,) DECEASED.) NOTICE OF HEARING OF FINAL ACCOUNT AND REPORT TO THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO TO:

Alice P. Booky, Joseph J. Booky, Albert Roger Booky, Ernest Booky, and to all unknown heirs of the said James T. Booky, deceased, and all unknown persons claiming any lien upon, or right, title or interest in, or to the estate of said decedent, GREETING:

You and each of you are hereby notified that the executrix of said estate, Alice P. Booky, has filed her final account and report herein and that the Probate Court of said County has appointed the 8th day of March, 1951, at the Office of the Probate Court, in the Court House in the Town of Carrizozo, New Mexico, at the hour of ten o'clock A. M. as the day, time and place for the hearing of objections to said final account and report; and that the Probate Court will proceed to determine the heirship of said decedent, the ownership of his estate, and the interest of each respective claimant thereto or therein, and the persons entitled to the distribution thereof. The name and address of the attorney for the executrix are G. L. Reese, Sr., 213 North Kentucky Ave., Roswell, New Mexico.

WITNESS my hand and the seal of said Court on this the 10th day of January, 1951. J. G. Moore, County Clerk, and ex-officio Clerk of the Probate Court of Lincoln County, New Mexico. By Otila E. Vega, Deputy. (P. C. SEAL) J19-26 F2-9

(S.O.05'E.), a distance of Thirty (30) miles more or less to the place of beginning, said lands being in Socorro County, State of New Mexico, and that the reason for such annexation is as follows:

That the location of this area proposed to be annexed to the County of Lincoln lies on the East side of the Socorro foothills as well as the Montano National Forest and also, the extensions of the White Sands Federal Bombing Range of the United States War Department which conditions form a natural barrier to the residents of this territory to travel and attend business in the County-Seat of Socorro County and make it more convenient and economical for such residents to attend governmental business in the County-Seat of Lincoln County, State of New Mexico.

You are hereby further notified that within thirty days after the publication of this notice, but not thereafter, any resident of Socorro or Lincoln Counties, on behalf of himself and of all other similarly situated, may bring an action in the District Court of Socorro County against any one or more of the signers of the petition hereinbefore filed with the County Commissioners of Socorro County, alleging that the petition has not been executed by the requisite number of signers, or that the description of the area to be annexed is not accurately described, or that the conditions for such annexation as set forth herein do not exist.

You are hereby further notified that unless your petition is filed within said thirty (30) days, as hereinbefore set forth, you will be barred from any objection thereto.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, on behalf of said County Commissioners, I hereunto set my hand and the seal of said County Commissioners.

New Silver Anniversary Pontiac

New and Beautiful Proof

At a Dollar for Dollar you can't beat a Pontiac!

Be prepared to see two striking things when you come in to examine the wonderful new Silver Anniversary Pontiac. First, you will see why Pontiac is acknowledged to be the most beautiful thing on wheels. You will see a brilliantly good-looking car, with its trash, Gull-Wing styling, colorful new interiors and clean, exciting lines. Second, you will see a price tag on these magnificent new Pontiacs which is so low that you will find it hard to understand why anybody ever buys any new car but a Pontiac! Here, indeed, is double-barreled proof that dollar for dollar you can't beat a Pontiac! Come in and see for yourself.

Soil Conservation Group Hears Carrizozo Banker

A. E. Huntsinger, who heads the local bank, addressed the fourth annual convention of the New Mexico Association of Soil Conservation Districts on the danger "eroded lands make for eroded people."

"In my 38 years of banking," Huntsinger declared, "I have seen many changes—movements for better working conditions and for greater industry. But during that time we have ruined our soil faster than any other nation."

Huntsinger pointed out sound conservation practices will know the need for many costly dams and similar projects. He also stressed conservation can come only through cooperation, "because the strength of the nation depends on the strength of the land."

Resolutions passed by the association at the meeting which closed Saturday included:

1. A national land inventory should be completed as soon as possible to determine conservation needs.
2. Highways should be asked to cooperate with the conservation program through proper maintenance of right-of-way.
3. The State Bankers Association should be asked to provide awards for conservation achievements.
4. All federal lands within soil conservation districts should have conservation practices.
5. The governor should be asked to proclaim an annual SCS week.

Huntsinger is chairman of the agricultural committee of the New Mexico Bankers Association.

Temporary Suspension Of Navy Active Duty Orders

A temporary suspension of active duty orders for naval reserve seaman recruits and seaman apprentices has been announced by Eighth Naval District headquarters in New Orleans.

Formerly reservists in these two pay grades could volunteer for active duty after they had received draft notices, provided they had enlisted before September 1, 1950. This permitted them to serve in the Navy instead of being inducted. The Navy cannot now take draftees.

The order was suspended January 5 in order to avoid a bottleneck at recruit training centers. The Navy said the suspension was a precaution against bringing men into uniform faster than they can be accommodated, equipped and trained. The suspension will be lifted as such time as recruit training capacity is again available.

Ruidoso Scene Of Scout 'Explorer Ski Party'

Ruidoso will be the scene of the first "Explorer Ski Party" for all interested explorers in the Eastern New Mexico Area Council, Boy Scouts of America. The dates are January 19, 20 and 21.

The event will get underway Friday evening with games at the Ruidoso Club House Saturday will be spent at the ski course. (In event of no snow for skiing another program has been planned.) Saturday evening will be spent on the Mesalero Indian reservation under the leadership of Rueben TenHaken, minister of the Mesalero Mission. An indoor campfire has been planned with the Mesalero Indians taking the lead.

Sunday morning will be filled with Indian handicraft demonstrations until church services. After church services, explorers will return home.

Local Scout Activities

The activities of the local Boy Scout troop for the past few weeks are reported by their scribe, Dick Doss.

Young Doss states the troop's plea for toys for needy children resulted in a large number being collected.

The members of the troop were taken on another hike to the Mal Pais last Saturday by their scoutmaster, Spencer Devitt, in conjunction with a series of tests the boys have to pass for their various classifications.

Troop members who have been successful in their second class tests are Dick Goss, Billy Hicks, Gene Garrison, Jimmy Lucero and Bobby Eshom. Scott Lewis has successfully passed his tenderfoot class examination. L. Z. Manire, Carrizozo school superintendent, was the examiner.

Badges will be presented to the foregoing members on February 18 with the observance of Parents' Night.

The local troop is presently engaged on current Scout projects.

'Mines' Instructor Shows Pictures; Addresses Lions

Guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Carrizozo Lions Club January 17 at the Carrizozo Country Club was S. M. Jones, assistant professor in geology at the Socorro School of Mines. Jones discussed the various known types of volcanoes and illustrated his talk with motion picture slides of volcanoes located in many parts of the world.

Wednesday night's meeting was attended by 30 members and guests and plans for the club's zone party in February were formulated. J. G. Moore and Leslie Snider are in charge of the arrangements.

Norton Pepper VFW To Award Handmade Rug

A handmade rug is to be given away at the VFW home in Carrizozo on the night of January 24. Details may be obtained from L. D. Fish, Fort Stanton, commander of the VFW Norton Pepper Post.

Fish reports the rug as a beautiful piece of typical Mexican hand work. He stated the rug was brought to him by Ted Gomez, Department of Agriculture, who is stationed in old Mexico.

Fish adds the rug, measuring approximately 9x12 feet, has been on display in several places, and that those who have seen it declare it well worth more than $100.

Gets Deferment Quotas

Deferment quotas for ROTC students at New Mexico A. & M. College, Las Cruces, have just been announced by Lieutenant General Leroy Lutes, commanding general, Fourth Army, Fort Sam Houston.

The ruling means the college will be able to give approximately all members of its ROTC infantry and air corps units deferment status (1-D) so long as they remain in good standing in their college courses.

A Defense Department spokesman has issued a statement saying the "widespread and unnecessary" concern and confusion had been caused among college students by various public statements and by the activities of overzealous local draft boards in telling students they had better enlist in order to have a choice of service.

Nick Vega Appointed State Liquor Inspector

Announcement of the appointment of Nick Vega, Carrizozo, as a state liquor inspector, effective January 22, was made this week.

The following counties are included in Vega's jurisdiction: Lincoln, Otero, Chavez, Eddy and Lee.

Featured In Newsweek

Last week's issue of Newsweek featured an article about the work of Dr. Jack C. Haldeman in Alaska.

Dr. Haldeman is a brother of Mrs. Ernest Key, Carrizozo High School teacher, and has visited here.

To Hold Banquet

The banquet of the second annual conference of county officers of the New Mexico Medical Society will be held January 27, 6:30 P. M., at the ballroom of the Hilton Hotel in Albuquerque.

Dr. Austin Smith, editor, Journal of American Medical Association, is scheduled to speak on "The Future for Medicine."

PERSONALS

Mrs. Cora Boone was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. William Graham, and family in Alamogordo Monday.

Mrs. Mary Stebbins and son, Lonnie, of Tracy, Calif., are visiting in Carrizozo in order to be near Mrs. Stebbins' brother-in-law, George Stebbins, who is hospitalized.

George L. Zimmerman, local attorney, left this week to attend the Oil and Gas Institute of the Southwestern Legal Foundation at Dallas. Sessions were scheduled for January 18, 19 and 20.

Mrs. Gussie Johnson, city clerk, vacationed during the month of December. She spent the first five days in Tucson, but returned to Carrizozo after learning her brother-in-law, George Stebbins, had been hospitalized here. John Wright of the Ruidoso Telephone Company took Mrs. Johnson's place during her absence.

Mrs. Esther Lewis, who has been employed by Western Union here, is transferring to Lordsburg effective February 6. She will conclude her duties in Carrizozo Saturday and then vacation for two weeks before assuming her new duties in the Lordsburg office. Mrs. Lewis has been training Miss Seney Trujillo, Captain, this past week to take over her duties in the local office.

To Receive Degree

Marion J. Fuchs, Green Tree, is included among the 40 seniors at the University of Texas College of Education, Austin, Texas, who are candidates for degrees at the close of the current semester, January 31, according to Dean L. D. Haske.

Chennault Has Plan

CLAIRE CHENNAULT, a big leathery man who speaks with a gruff intensity, has a plan for starting fires against Stalinism in Asia.

The famous Flying Tiger general who fought with the Chinese Nationalists has been pounding on doors in Washington and saying: "Let's arm the hatred against Russia which is spreading across China. The greatest fear of the Communist is of the guerrillas—a million of whom hold great peckers on the mainland. We should drop weapons to them, and smuggle munitions across the borders."

"The spirit of revolt is so strong in China today," says Chennault, "that Communist members don't dare go out alone for fear of being ambushed. The Communists control only the cities, the rail centers and the ports. The best troops are engaged in Korea, Tibet and along the Indo-Chinese border. But the guerrillas have only the arms they can steal. If we give them help, they can take the pressure off Korea."

Silver Bullets

Protecting the Chinese coastal area in the south, he left playboy Gen. Chen Yi, who has 500,000 troops stretched from Shanghai to Canton. General Chen, noted for his concubines and his drunken parties in Shanghai, has been bitterly rebuked by General Lin of being a "bad Communist."

Once a Kuomintang leader, General Chen has been susceptible to "silver bullets" in the past, might be so again.

In contrast, General Li Po-chan, the one-eyed Communist war lord directing the invasion of Tibet, is loyal to Moscow.

However, a number of anti-Communist leaders, not tied up with Chiang Kai-shek, are available to foment revolt, according to Chennault. Ma Pu-fang, a Moslem, is now in Cairo asking help from Arab nations. He was the governor of a vast area bordering Tibet and would be a rallying figure for the 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 Chinese Moslems. Ma Hung-kwei, the ex-governor of Manchuria, is in San Francisco, and Chang Fa-kwei, a leader of the Cantonese, is in Hong Kong.

General Chennault proposes that the United States arm and supervise the guerrillas through a military mission headed by Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, commander of American troops in China during World War II. He also recommends giving the Nationalist forces on Formosa modern planes for raiding the mainland.

"If this is done," says the Flying Tiger, "China will become a flaming hell for the Communists. They won't be able to conquer Korea for putting hot fires at home."

Russian Targets

After all the brickbats congressional Republicans have been tossing at Secretary of State Dean Acheson, it was like sweet music to President Truman when retiring congressman Andy Biemiller, Wisconsin Democrat, told him: "Mr. President, you showed a lot of spunk by sticking up for Acheson. What many of his critics don't seem to realize is that Acheson is one of the few Americans the Russians would like to shoot. He's the chief engineer of our anti-Soviet policies."

Truman appeared slightly startled, but agreed with Biemiller that a liberal, middle-of-the-road program was what the Russians feared most.

Anglo-American Relations

Kenneth Lindsey, a British member of parliament, said to a group in America: "I have crossed the ocean many times between England and America, but this is the first time I felt I entered a strange world. I can tell you we have no intention to back the befuddled, policy of MacArthur."

One American countered that British coolness toward Chiang Kai-shek was part of a plan to keep the Communists from taking Hong Kong. "We know we cannot hold Hong Kong," replied Lindsey, "but we do have great fear for Malaya. If we lose Malaya, we lose the sterling bloc, and there is no better way to lose Malaya than to go to war in China."

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Reds Launch Offensive in Korea; U.S. Works on Japanese Treaty; Army Calls for 80,000 Draftees

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspapers. Unless a news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.

North Korean and Chinese Communist troops concentrated for another blow on U. N. forces below the 38th parallel. Chief concentrations points were at Yechon (1) and northwest of Seoul (2). A Red attack (3) northeast of Kumchon, pushed back the South Koreans more than a mile. Red patrols were near Kacsong (4). South Korean troops fought a preliminary battle near Hyeon (5). Reds were also massed north of Chunchon (6).

KOREA: The Story Repeated

The story of the Korean battle seemed to repeat itself. Forced to withdraw from North Korea after pushing the Communists out of South Korea and almost to the Manchurian border, U. N. forces received the full force of Chinese and North Korean troops as they plunged south of the 38th parallel.

U. N. troops gave ground and further retreats appear in store for them. The main feature of the attack was the overwhelming numbers of Chinese and North Koreans rushing U. N. defense positions. At least 300,000 men were thrown into the first attack.

The Communist plan for the conquest of South Korea was to separate the eastern and western sections of the defense line, isolate them and then destroy them at will. Meanwhile, observers who recently returned from Korea report the morale of the soldier at the battlefront much better than that on the homefront.

Americans at home were pictured as frightened, frustrated, and swept with recurrent waves of defeatism and despair. The men in battle were pictured as neither frightened nor discouraged.

There was no criticism of American leadership in the war or criticism of the fighting ability of any nation's troops.

ARMY: New Call Issued

The army called for 80,000 draftees in March, raising total draft quotas to 450,000 since the Korean outbreak. Eighty thousand had already been scheduled for January and February.

With the armed forces building toward a manpower total of some 3 1/2 million as rapidly as possible, the army anticipated a combat strength equivalent to 24 divisions when the current expansion goal is reached next July 1.

An infantry division numbers 18,000 men and is a self contained fighting unit with supporting weapons such as tanks and artillery. At the beginning of the Korean conflict the army had 10 divisions, only one at full war strength. It had 21 regular divisions, with four national guard divisions and two guard regimental combat teams (usually 3,000 men) as of January 1.

Selective Service officials reported 217,000 men had been delivered to the army up to January.

TAXES: Higher in 1951

With the new congress in session, President Truman was expected to ask for more taxes at any moment to meet the mounting cost of the nation's defense.

Although the size of the new tax program was not disclosed, one administration official reported the President would try to put the government as nearly as possible on a pay-as-you-go basis. The program, however, will include higher personal and corporation levies.

It seems unlikely that a new tax program can bring expenditures and receipts into balance because spending for the fiscal year 1951 may reach $75,000,000,000. The present tax program, including the excess-profits tax, will yield revenues of only about $45,000,000,000.

BIG FOUR: Conference Plan

Some weeks ago the United States, Britain, and France proposed that another big four conference be held in an effort to settle the many pressing world problems. After long weeks of waiting, the Russians replied. Officials would not reveal just what was in the Kremlin reply. It was evident, however, that the western powers were disappointed and that a big-four meeting was not closer than when it was first proposed.

It was believed that Russia was not prepared for any unqualified discussion of the many galling points of friction between the western democracies and the totalitarian Soviet system.

It was also rumored that Russia wanted the western powers to accept the Prague declaration which served notice that the Communist led nations of eastern Europe would not tolerate rearmament of western Germany.

Russia was also reported to have taken the stand that Communist China would be represented before any discussion of the explosive situation in the far east could be undertaken.

No one in his right mind could believe that the United States would accept any of the conditions. Thus the conclusion that a big four conference is not likely in the near future.

ACHESON: Production and Faith

Secretary of State Dean Acheson gave the United States a prescription for 1951—"production and faith."

Acheson, in a radio interview, said we have the power to retaliate against any aggressor who attacks us and our friends and that power cannot be overlooked.

"We expect to make ourselves respected and to deter aggression," he said. "The prescription which we need today is the prescription which Mr. Churchill gave to England in 1940—blood and toil, sweat and tears—and may I add, faith in our country, faith that the great task before us can be done and that it will be done."

Acheson's statement was remarkable in that he echoed a growing belief throughout the country. Americans who had been described as frightened and frustrated in 1950 seemed to be settling down quickly to a new year of sacrifice and determination.

The last few months have been called America's darkest hour, but they may be even darker before the United States is fully rearmed and ready to face its enemies.

TRAFFIC: A War at Home

While American troops were being killed in Korea, Americans at home slaughtered themselves on the highways during the Christmas and New Year holidays.

Complete tabulations were not complete for the New Year holiday, but during Christmas there were 724 violent deaths in the United States, 545 of them in traffic mishaps.

The accident rate was more than 100 above the number of persons killed in traffic accidents during the 1949 Christmas holiday. The 1950 toll almost equaled the record of 555 set in 1936.

In the city of Los Angeles alone there were 11 traffic deaths, 900 injured, and a total of 1,084 accidents. It was significant to note that police in that city charged 352 persons with driving while intoxicated and another 1,222 were charged with drunkenness.

Only one state—South Dakota—escaped without a single reported fatality that could be attributed to the Christmas observance.

UNITED DEFENSE FUND Organization Formed to Aid Financing of Welfare Services

The United Defense Fund, Inc., a new organization for financing of national health and welfare services made necessary by the defense effort, got under way recently with an appeal to the Community Chests in more than 1200 cities for funds to support a program of services in 1951.

meet the frequently expressed desire of local Community Chests that appeals to them from national agencies, especially in time of special need, be properly screened, budgeted, and united in their financing—just as is the Community Chest itself.

The organization of the United Defense Fund, Inc. was preceded by a series of conferences which included the national agencies and groups concerned and representatives of Community Chests.

E. A. Roberts, president of Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company, Philadelphia, Pa. was elected president at the first meeting of the Fund November 28, in New York City.

Services to receive support from the United Defense Fund, Inc. fall into two groups at present. The first group is concerned with services to the armed forces and will be conducted by: American Social Hygiene Association; Associated Services for the Armed Forces (which includes Jewish Welfare Board, National Catholic Community Services and YMCA); National Recreation Association; National Travelers' Aid Association and Y.W.C.A.

The second group will provide services to communities congested by the national defense effort. These services will be conducted by: Child Welfare League of America; National Organization for Public Health Nursing; National Federation of Settlements and Neighborhood Centers; National Urban League; National Catholic Community Service; National Recreation Association and Y.W.C.A.

The national campaign goal for the United Defense Fund, Inc., as approved by the National Budget Committee for services to be given in 1951 is $7,300,320. Community Chests throughout the country will be asked to provide $4,025,101 of this goal with the remaining $3,275,219 to be secured from New York City and other non-Chest sources.

THE FICTION CORNER ROOMS FOR RENT

By Dorothy Boys Kilian

"HONEY, YOU DON'T really think you can rent these rooms for the summer, do you?" Dick Shipley, still in his greasy coveralls, frowned as he found his pretty young wife sitting on the wide-board floor in an upstairs bedroom, mending a faded blue rag rug.

"Oh, well, the doctor says I need plenty of exercise," Margaret said soothingly. "There's the doorbell, I'll get it." Dick, still looking troubled, started downstairs.

"There was a lengthy murmur of voices in the upstairs hall. Then down came Mr. Frost, a hand on Margaret's elbow, and she accepted the little attention as the most natural thing in the world.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The mid-century White House conference on children and youth held recently in Washington got something of a shock.

Three teenage high school pupils and a college student put their case bluntly to adult delegates of the conference. They demanded less coddling and more responsibility.

"Our aims are simple," said Arnold M. Pincus, Columbia University student and chairman of the youth advisory council. "We want to work for responsible citizenship and individual happiness. We want the opportunity to share the total concerns of our society and to begin now to share them as full citizens."

Other youths attending the conference emphasized that young people need the "practical experience" of working with their elders. The adults were also told that parents know about the problems of youth but "won't take time out" to do something about them.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Any Room Can Be Made Charming With Gay Slip Covers

By Litta Haley

REMEMBER WHEN the slip cover was a dust protector? It's not so long ago when we slipped them over the furniture and then played we would be able to remove them before anyone would see them!

Sometime ago slipcovers came out of their hiding, and how very fortunate they did! Now, they are stars in their own right and can make almost any room in the home, one of fresh beauty and charm.

Though some may think of slipcovers as something with which to hide worn, dirty and unattractive upholstery, they're something more. People starting a home frequently buy muslin covered pieces, and plan to slip cover furniture during the course of its life.

You see, slipcovers may be changed every time you want to change the color scheme of a room, and this may happen twice a year, and certainly two or three times during furniture life.

People like slip covers so well they have both a summer and winter set, and thus make possible two different rooms.

Slip covers enable you to simplify your cleaning. In dirty localities where dust and spot abound, you can whisk them off, launder them and have a fresh room, much more readily than cleaning the upholstered pieces.

Change the wall colors, and you can change slip covers, much more

Keep Sink Sanitary

Want dishwashing to be an art instead of a chore? Then make it part of your dishwashing routine to pour one tablespoon of an approved chemical drain cleaner down the sink to prevent clogged drains which cause sewer germs to lurk near the sink as well as food and dishes. It's more fun, too, to wash dishes when the drain is clear, clean and fast running.

any cutting or sewing, for in this way you'll do the shrinking, and then you'll never have to worry about not having slip covers to fit perfectly.

Wet the material thoroughly and stretch out to dry. It may be pressed before you sew, or even start the cutting.

Professional shrinking service is available in some communities, and can also be used. The price is usually based on the number of yards of material used.

Enlist all the sewing aids available for your slip cover project. These include zippers for the covers in place of snaps, for they'll save time in putting on as machines can be used to attach them. It's also easier to remove and replace the slip covers with zippers.

Pinking shears can now be purchased at reasonable prices and should be used for finishing the edges, particularly if you're using a fabric that ravel easily.

Use durable thread and adjust stitching to material so that sewing will be secure. Then the covers will not need constant mending where seams have sprung loose.

Slip Covers Give Cue to Colors

In redecorating a room you may choose the covers first, and then base the color choice of the room on the materials used. Small rooms should have solid colors as they seem to make it less crowded. The larger rooms can be filled nicely, and economically, with the prints, plaids or floral designs.

Combination slip covers are just as easy to make as those in one material. If you want to freshen and brighten the room with design, have the seat and back of a couch or chair done in plaid or floral while the arms and bottom carry a solid color. The solid used should match as closely as possible one of the pre-dominant colors in the print or plaid.

In using these combinations of fabrics, you can go still further in the decorating scheme by adding a touch of printing or plaid to lamp shades or for picture frames used near the furniture to be covered.

In large rooms, you can make your conversational groups each in a different combination. It's effective to have a fireplace group done in print, whereas a group near a window or wall can be in a solid tone, matching a color in the print group, or done in a shade lighter or darker than the wall color.

Basic furniture can be inexpensive, and even second-hand if it's well made, repaired and clean. The proper slip cover can make it look several times what you paid for it. Take, for example, the sofa or couch which must double as a bed at night. One of the nicest types of covers for this is a dust ruffle attached to a slip that fits under the mattress. The scalloped throw will hide the bed, and make it look like a comfortable couch. It is, however, easy to remove when you make up the bed.

Suppose you have a floral chair or studio couch and want to give the room a tailored look. A textured, solid material done in a tailored type will do the trick of conversion. The bottom may have deep pleats all around the chair or couch, or it may simply have deep kick pleats at the corners.

Two chairs which you want to use in a grouping may have same lines, but their covers are at odds. Make matching slip covers, and they'll look like twins.

Round chairs are comfortable for bedrooms because they're soft yet firm enough to sit in while dressing. If you want to give a new look to an old one, slip cover it in velvetene, one of the jeweled colors so popular now.

Keep Slip Covers Clean, Fresh Because of the ease with which they slip on and off, you can maintain greater cleanliness with slip covers. Small spots should be treated immediately. Place cardboard or newspapers underneath the cover while doing spot removal, so you do not stain the muslin or original fabric.

KATHLEEN NORRIS

Charity Can Cure Restless Wife

"I AM A FRIGHTENED WOMAN," writes Mary Friedman, from Indianapolis. "Here in the midst of a modern city, with good health, a good husband, and plenty of this world's goods, I am beginning to be sick with terror. When I married Frank, 39 years ago, I would have said that what my life today would have fulfilled my highest dreams; I only wanted one child, I got him, a fine boy now in high school, I wanted to love my husband and to have him love me, and that difficult wish was granted, too. Frank is a wonderful man in every way.

"Well, then, what's the matter? I wish I knew, I've even been to a psychiatrist, but as he began his kindly, sympathetic questions I suddenly began to laugh and then to cry and I unceremoniously left, and didn't go back.

"The symptoms of my trouble—and believe me, it is trouble—are these: I feel a terrible distaste for everything, in sudden fits and starts. Making a bed, discussing meals with my part-time maid, dressing to go out with Frank, lunching with women friends, I will find myself suffocating with a terrible restless feeling, as if I wanted to scream, tear things to pieces, rush out into the open air. Often I find tears running quietly down my cheeks.

"Reading a book seems out of the question now, and things like card games, movies, radio, all the amusements that once meant something to me just make me ache with boredom.

"I told the psychiatrist that I needed excitement, romance, self-expression and as I said it, it sounded so adolescent and immature that I was ashamed. When Frank asks me what I mean by en who do go into these neurotic despairs, and find it almost impossible to get their feet firmly on the ground again, and once more breathe the air of healthy living and serving and enjoying life.

Well, perhaps the interests of a woman's life are like a bank. Put love and interest into your life from the beginning, from the happy days when everything goes well, and later on you can draw out that love and interest, infinitely increased in volume. Spread your sympathies and activities from the golden days of youth, first love, engagement, marriage, honeymoon, now home, now baby, now friends. Live fully and generously in those years, and when the first flush of zeal and enthusiasm begins to fade—as it must—you will have a hundred outlets for your energy that are not essentially dependent upon youth and bloom.

Yes, languages, gardens, crossword puzzles, games, radio, Red Cross, charities all have their place in a balanced life. Obligations to the less fortunate should play a very important part in our lives as American women, and unless you are sharing, and sharing on a pretty generous scale, it is not surprising that you feel possessions and privileges sometimes fall rather flat.

In your case I would pick the lowest slum in the city, and the dirtiest house. Your organized charities will find it for you.

I would go there every day, take care of an invalid, cook children a school lunch, send filthy bedding to a cleaner, wash dishes and wipe kitchen shelves. There would be small glamor and romance in this undertaking, but there would be heartfilling compensations, and just to get home to a hot bath, an affectionate son, a good and loved companion, an appetizing dinner, a freshly turned-down bed, a fat beer and a long night's rest would begin to seem to you the miracles of wealth and comfort that they are.

Secret Church Fights Soviet

Followers as Numerous As "Sands of the Sea"

LAKE MAHOPAC, N. Y.—An underground Russian church—whose followers "are as numerous as the sands of the sea"—was described before the world-wide council of the Russian Orthodox church outside Russia.

Ivan M. Andreyev, physician and former professor of psychopathology at the University of Petrograd (now Leningrad), said the underground church began forming in 1927 when the Orthodox church split over the issue of communism. In recent years, he said, information on the secret church has been scarce. But he said he had been in contact recently with several persons who had fled Russia who had received letters from underground church leaders.

"The names of 10 bishops at present in the underground church are known to me," he said. "There are bishops, archbishops and metropolitans. There are many priests. How many, nobody knows."

Founded on the principle that compromise with the Soviet government is incompatible with fidelity to Christ, the underground church's slogan is: "I shall not tell thy secret to thy enemies. Neither like Judas, will I give the kiss."

Licenses, Training Urged For Sitters

State legislatures and city councils throughout the nation have been petitioned to pass laws requiring the licensing of all baby sitters, private kindergartens, day care agencies, and nursery and play schools.

It is suggested that such licensing be regulatory in nature and not for revenue.

The present lack of standards for these persons and institutions is highly detrimental to the health, safety, and general welfare of infants and pre-school-age children, petitioners believe. While some of the more progressive cities and states have already begun to inquire into the matter of licensing pre-school centers, entirely too many have been lax and indifferent to this need, many parents contend. Little or nothing has been done, to date, by city and state governing bodies to require physical examinations of baby sitters.

Some parents think baby sitters should, in addition, be required to obtain the signatures of two persons in their community, testifying to their moral character and reliability. They believe that regular courses of study should be required of all baby sitters and directors and their assistants in day care agencies and nursery and play schools and suggest that, as a temporary measure, these courses could be made available in the form of evening classes sponsored by local civic groups or governing bodies.

Pre-Historic Gable

The Cro-Magnon man was the glamorous boy of Europe during the Stone Ages. This tall, handsome, and intelligent man lived between about 30,000 and 10,000 B.C. Like most handsome men, the Cro-Magnon man was clothes-conscious. It was he who discovered how to make better garments by cutting pieces of skin and sewing them together.

easily and less expensively than buying new upholstery. If the room needs cheering and brightening, you can add a new slipcover or perhaps dye an old set. How much easier than trying to change the furniture!

Amateur Hands, If Deft Can Make Slip Covers

No one need be a professional to put together a set of slip covers. Not only the proper types of fabrics are available for the job, but you can buy patterns to help you, if unable to make your own.

The project involves much material, for an upholstered chair will take ten yards, more or less, of material. The sewing, however, is simple and not in the least tricky, especially if you have fitted the cover on chair or sofa and basted before you attempt machine stitching.

Those who have experience with slip covers will tell you the best kind of material to get is that which is sanforized. You may not dream of laundering the covers at home, but you may find it necessary, because it's speedy and economical.

Many of the heavier fabrics are now preshrunk when you buy them. Indian head or luscious colors is available, as are the cotton chints and crash types.

Those which are not sanforized should be shrunk before you attempt bright colors for effect.

Pinking shears can now be purchased at reasonable prices and should be used for finishing the edges, particularly if you're using a fabric that ravel easily.

ONCE OVER Deep-Sea Flivver Relieves Traffic

By H. I. Phillips

EXPERIMENTAL AUTOS include bottled gas, push-button brakes, a motor that slides out of the car on a platform and a case that will run under water. Our ambition is to sign a check with an underwater pen for an underwater limousine. The whole idea of a submersible car is exciting. There is not much fun running one on land anymore. In fact, it has become close to impossible.

Every day sees newer and wider highways, viaducts, tunnels and bridges built to ease traffic. But autos have been coming onto the road so fast that the congestion got worse by the hour. You don't need a map when you start out on an auto trip; you need patience, a good book and some signaling device to reach rescue squads. In searching for a solution, it seems to us that the underwater car is the answer in all coastal, river and lake areas. What a thrill to turn off a clogged artery, shoot down a sidewalk—kerplunk—into the water and get downtown with no further harassment.

For one thing when you are in an underwater car you are freed from all superfluous dialogue with other drivers. The man who opens the window to shout, "Move over, ya bum!" is doomed unless he is a fancy swimmer. For another thing, no traffic lights, especially those "WALK" ones in zones where no pedestrians have been seen in weeks.

Whether back-seat drivers will be less of a hazard a few fathoms deep is questionable. We fear not. The wife will still chirp, "You should have turned off at that last bell-buoy," and "Stop at the next reef and check on your map!"

In time, of course, all the comparative advantages of an auto trip underwater will pass. The authorities will start monkeying with the rules and regulations. There will be an under-seas motor cop, the submerged blinker-light and the sign "Slow Down, Converging Tides Ahead."

We located Shudda Haddim today. He had been in hiding after missing "Empty Talk," at $37.10 and was still moaning low. "The mornin' of the race the wife tells me she will cure me of bettin' or kill me," he wails. "On the way to the track a judge tells me how if he had two dollars he knows a four-horse parlay that couldn't miss. At the track at least four dopes tell me they are gonna give up playin' the ponies if they get even on the next race. And I don't get no hunch on this 'Empty Talk' thing!"

change, romance, self-expression, I don't know. All I know is that I am letting my nerves get out of control and I am afraid of the future.

"Finally," says Mary's letter, "please don't advise me to take up Red Cross or hospital work, study a language, go off on a trip by myself, take up book-binding, upholstery or church work. It drives me mad to think of substituting nambypamby busy work for the raging dissatisfaction deep within me. Sometimes for as much as two consecutive days I will be contented and occupied, then this hunger for something I can't define seizes me and I feel as if I should fly to pieces."

This last sentence reminds me of one of those capable old ladies who sends for a doctor and then gives him a complete diagnosis of her disorder and tells him what to prescribe.

For Mary here mentions several actual cures for her unhappy condition, but discounts them all, untitled, as nambypamby busy work. And ridiculous as it is for a woman as fortunate as she to fall into this state, yet it is just our comfortable protected, apacently carefree wom-

Save Money On This Home Mixed Cough Syrup

Big Saving. No Coughing. So Easy. You'll be surprised how quickly and easily you can relieve coughs due to colds, when you try this splendid recipe. It gives you about four times as much cough medicine for your money, and you'll find it truly wonderful for real relief.

Make a syrup with 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water. No cooking needed. (If you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) Then put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (obtained from any drugist) in a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This makes a full pint of medicine that will please you by its quick action. It never spoils, and tastes like children love it.

This simple mixture takes right hold of a cough. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membrane, quickly eases soreness and eases breathing.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its quick action in coughs and bacterial infections. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

The Good Must Fight

Lesson for January 21, 1951

YOU WOULD think that if ever there arrived on this planet a really good person, he would be popular with everybody. People are tired of meanness, they are sick of being lied to and cheated. They are tired of the sins of others, even tired of their own. So if a really good person should appear, one in whom was no shadow, completely transparent to the Eternal Light, wouldn't everyone flock to him, wouldn't he have the human race in the palm of his hand, as it were, in a short time?

THE ANSWER is No. It is not well to be too optimistic about human nature. As a matter of fact, some of the best persons history has known met some of the bitterest opposition. Indeed, when One came who was completely good, whose life was all light and no shadow, he was no better treated and no more warmly welcomed than less good persons have been.

Jesus Christ had his enemies, strong and well-organized. The number of those who believed in him was comparatively small; the number who did not believe or ignored him altogether, was enormous. The history of mankind is the history of a war, the age long war between good and evil, between God and his enemies. The story of Jesus is one chapter in this history, the most important by far, but by no means the first one or the last.

Why Was Jesus Hated? THE READER should examine the record in the Gospels and try to think for himself who opposed Jesus, and why they did so. One striking fact is that Jesus' enemies were not what we call the "lower classes," much less the "criminal classes." His enemies were rather from out of the top drawer, as we might say. They were the financial, social and religious leaders of his time. They finally got him executed as a criminal.

If there had never been any one to contradict the records of the Sanhedrin, that High Court of Jerusalem, and those records had become recognized as the truth, Jesus would have gone down in history, if remembered at all, as a troublemaker, a lawless and worthless man, whose execution was a protection to society.

Why were these leading men, Jesus "distinguished" contemporaries, so wrong about Jesus? "As he is, so are we..." THE READER should think this out for himself. One reason can be mentioned here: It is very easy for wrong to be so long accepted and so strongly entrenched that it is universally taken for right. Then when the right comes along, especially when in the form of an idea suggested by some one not of the upper crust, it actually seems to be wrong. People kept long in a dark room find light painful! Any one who tries to follow Jesus will find himself up against the same sort of opposition. Any one who proposes to live as Jesus lived, or to change our accustomed patterns of society in the direction which Jesus pointed out, will be called (as he was) a crackpot, a dreamer, an impractical fellow who does not know enough to go in when it rains.

Our Divine Alliance CONSIDER one example of this. A Christian who makes up his mind to dedicate his body a "living sacrifice" to God, and therefore not to handicap himself with the drug of alcohol, is certain, in many places, to be considered a sort of crank. It is not that people will laugh at him, though they will; people will be angry with him for his stand. They will do all they can to make him break his pledge. Instead of admitting a clean and free life, many people are not content unless they can sell that freedom and break down that freedom. So to stand for Christ in any aspect of life is not easy. But we need to remember we fight no lonely fight, our cause is not forlorn. Just as Jesus in Galilee was always on the side of those who were beaten and battered by sin and evil, but still fighting, so now the ever-living Christ is always on the side of those who in their hearts desire good and not evil, cleanness and not dirt, truth and not lies.
