CAPITAN

By MARY F. WERNER
The square dance given by the Capitan PTA was very successful as far as enjoyment by the ones attending, but not near enough of our members attended. The Fort Stanton square dance group was there almost 100 per cent but the Capitanites did not do so well. These dances are given by the PTA for the purpose of entertainment as well as to help build up a small treasury. We would certainly love to see more out to the next one. If you are not a square dance fan make it a point to attend a time or two and we promise you will become one.

The annual firemen's picnic was held at the picnic grounds at Nogal Lake Sunday. The firemen entertain their wives and families every year with a picnic prepared by the men. This year was especially nice as they had as guests the Carrizozo firemen and their families. Mr. and Mrs. Ike Broocke and boys of Carlsbad were also up, Ike having been a Capitan fireman. The dinner consisted of all the fried chicken you could eat, also salad, cakes, drinks, ice cream and iced watermelon and I almost forgot the best dish, chicken gravy. The day was spent in playing bridge, canasta, pitching horse shoes, sleeping or anything you desired to do.

A pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Frank Taylor was given at the home of Mrs. Ray Provine, with Mrs. A. J. Bivens and Mrs. H. T. Yarbrough as co-hostesses. The honoree received many beautiful and useful gifts. The refreshment table was beau-when they stop in Alto is "This is the roughest road we have ever traveled (I can't quote what the local people say about it) this being a bad impression instead of a good one, I think we should have another election so that our roads will be maintained. They were maintained just before last election and if we have to wait until the next one for them to be worked, I believe it will be too late."

Howell R. Spear Joins Carrizozo Law Firm

Howell R. Spear, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Spear of Clauch, recent newcomer to Carrizozo, is associated with the local law firm of Brenton and Hall. The young attorney is a graduate of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, and graduated from law school at the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque this past spring. Born in Morenci, Mich., he came to New Mexico with his parents in 1934, and the family purchased a ranch near Clauch. Paul Spear, also of Clauch, is an uncle of the local attorney. Mrs. Howell Spear, who also graduated from the University of New Mexico this year, is in Al- buquerque studying for the bar examination which is expected to be given about the middle of August. She will join her hus- band in Carrizozo shortly. Young Spear said he will wait until she arrives to start house hunting.

week by the illness of her son, Ralford. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fortner of Springfield, Mo., were here re- cently visiting Mrs. Fortner's sis- ter, Mrs. O. S. Burns. While here the Burns family and the Fort- ners made a trip to the White Sands. Rev. Paul Syms of Albuquerque will hold a revival at the First Baptist Church in Corona August 5-19. The morning services will be at 10 A. M. and the evening services at 7:30. Everybody wel- come. Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Mulkey of Wichita, Kan., spent last week with Mr. Mulkey's son, Albert Mulkey and family. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pfeiffer and daughter, Sally Mae, will be home next week after a three weeks trip to California and other points of interest in the western states. Gerald and Joyce Berryman, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Berryman, had their tonsils removed at Mountainair last week. Albert (A. E.) Mulkey, owner of Corona Motor Company (Kaiser-Frazer dealer), made a busi- ness trip to El Paso Monday. Several Corona residents at- tended the annual meeting of the Central New Mexico Electric Co- operative on August 1. Work on Highway 54 from Vaughn just down is progress- ing. Another daughter of Mrs. Montoya, Grace, of Carrizozo, is spending her vacation at Corona this week.

Fort Stanton By FLOSSY J. NESS The Bur. S. McClain family are looking forward to a visit from Mr. McClain's sister, Mrs. Hanna M. Foot of Eugene, Ore. Mrs. Foot is a lab technician employed at present by the Clinic of Student Health Service. She was sched- uled to arrive Tuesday, July 31. Dr. and Mrs. Kopping are en- joying a visit from his two brothers, Al and Ray, and his mother from Chicago. Mrs. Lenor Stemmer, one of the local nursing staff, is away on her vacation. Her travels will take her to Seattle, Wash., and up into Canada. The Emmet Womack family are visiting with friends and relatives in Texas. Four patients are getting ready to depart for the West Coast, des- tination San Francisco. They are Percy Wiggs, George Chapin, Dave Hutzler and Captain Daniel Gillkison. George Chapin, the lucky one of the group, is to re- ceive his "fit for duty" discharge at San Francisco; the others are slated for surgery. The Adolph Wilson family re- turned from Roswell where they have been spending their vaca- tion. That is if you could call being away on vacation, their time was put in on hard labor improving some of their proper- ties in that city. We have had some rain at Fort Stanton and it is surprising how fast the lawns have flourished back to green again, with the re- stricted water usage of last month, they had a tendency to spot up. We could still use a good deal more rain, though. If you care to renew your sub- scription to the Lincoln County News, please drop in the store and we will take care of it for you. Korean Vet Joins VFW

James Ridgway, Ruidoso, recently returned veteran of the Korean theater of action, was recently signed up as a member of the Captain VFW post by Post Commander Red Burnett.

PFC Ridgway landed in Korea in March, 1951, and after two months of continuous front line fighting was wounded and sent back to the United States. He received his honorable discharge on July 12.

Among the awards given the Ruidoso veteran are the Purple Heart and three Oak Leaf Clusters.

RETURN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Daniels, Temple, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Griffin, Cleburne, Texas, returned to their homes last week after a stay at the summer home of the T. E. Kelleys at Eagle Creek. Mrs. Daniels is Mrs. Kelley's niece.

Mrs. Hazel Perry spent the weekend at the Pfingsten ranch en route to Silver City to attend the school bus drivers convention.

Pete Vance, nephew of Leota Pfingsten, left with his father, A. M. Pete promises to return to the ranch soon and stay until school starts.

Jack Zumwalt of Carlsbad stopped in Nogal to pick up his mother, Mrs. Bowen Zumwalt, who will travel with him to Sheridan, Ore., to visit her son, Wayne Zumwalt.

Mr. and Mrs. LaMoyné Peters, Nogal Mesa, and the Joe Wiggins of Captain returned Saturday from a trip to Grand Canyon. They also visited the Painted Desert and the Petrified Forest. We complain of the drought here but feel better after listening to some of the "dry tales" told by LaMoyné and Joe. They said there are thousands and thousands of piñon and cedar trees along the route dead for the want of moisture, and that some of the towns of Arizona are shipping trainloads of water in for drinking. If you wanted to refill your thermos jug, they said, you had to pay for it, and in one place where they stopped to eat it cost a nickel extra for a glass of water.

VFW Entertains Patients

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Captain VFW Norton Pepper Post 7688 entertained recently with a bingo party for the patients at Fort Stanton Hospital. Bed patients who were unable to attend the festivities were given cigarettes and smoking tobacco.

Wash cloths, donated by the auxiliaries of VFW posts E. de-P. Bujac No. 3277, Carlsbad, and Norton Pepper 7688, Captain, were given to all hospital patients at Fort Stanton.

Coffee and doughnuts were served to the Fort Stantonites at the conclusion of the bingo games.

Fort Stanton patients requested their appreciation be extended the two posts for the kindness shown. Members of the Norton Pepper post gave a vote of thanks to Sergeant Groove and Corporal Platt, Walker Air Force Base at Roswell, for their assistance in the staging of the party.

Other dinner guests. The senior Mr. Cox, who is 79 years old, is visiting his son, Sam, but said he really made the trip to New Mexico to attend the ranchers camp meeting. I guess you could call Henry a native of Lincoln County as he was born and reared near Alto where his parents settled in 1885.

Home On The Range CONCERNING NEW MEXICO

By WILL ROBINSON
"Old Lincoln Day" will be held at the ancient capital on August 12, and it is expected that by that time the association will have 2,000 members, over 1,000 of them home folk. The pageant and other doings will be worthwhile and then some.

After resting up a bit, Mrs. Tom Babers is postmistress at San Patricio again, a job which she acceptably filled for seven years before she felt that she had a rest coming.

In Concert

Misses Maurine Holman, Ruidoso; and Mary Ann Cox, Fort Stanton, members of the summer session chorus which is one of three groups of music students at Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, participated in the outdoor concert held Tuesday night in the school's quadrangle patio. The concert was open to the public.

The first section of the concert presented the summer session band, followed by the brass ensemble as the second part of the program. The third and last section of the concert featured the summer session chorus.

Accompanist for the chorus was Miss Cox.

Special Interest Senators

THE PUBLIC was asleep at 3 A.M. when the senate staged its most revealing debate on price control. Asleep also were many newspapermen.

Yet the speeches certain senators made at that time—just as price controls were scheduled to expire—and the amendments they introduced, give the clearest of all pictures regarding who pulls the strings to make certain senators dance.

At about 2:30 A.M. up spoke Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan, his silver hair more awry than usual. He had an amendment which would have increased the price of automobiles throughout the nation.

Ferguson did not mention the fact that his wife and son-in-law are heavy stockholders in a subsidiary of one of the biggest automobile companies—Chrysler. Nor did Sen. Willis Robertson of Virginia mention it, as Sen. Elmer Thomas was unkind enough to do three years ago when he threatened to expose Ferguson's family interest in Chrysler unless Ferguson quit investigating him.

However, Robertson, alert to catch the significance of Ferguson's amendment, warned his colleagues that it was "tailored perfectly to increase the price of automobiles."

"Then this is a roll-up amendment," snapped Clinton Anderson of New Mexico. "If we want chaos in price administration, this is the easiest way to get it I have ever seen."

Then, turning to Ferguson, the New Mexico senator observed: "It applies primarily to the automobile industry."

"The senator is correct," admitted Ferguson. "Why should that industry be discriminated against?"

"The profits of automobile manufacturers were reasonably good, were they not?" Anderson shot back, referring to the fact that most big motor companies have just celebrated their highest profits in history.

"Now we come to the secret. The senators want to fix prices so as to determine profits," angrily shouted the Michigan senator.

Ferguson had reason to expect his automobile amendment to pass like other special-interest amendments, log-rolled through in the early hours of the morning. But it was defeated—with Michigan's other senator, Blair Moody of Detroit, voting against it.

Heart sick Senator

One of the greatest speeches of the inflation debate was delivered in the senate at about 3 A.M. It was by a man whose banking firm has made him a multimillionaire but who fought vigorously against the big-business lobbies—Herbert Lehman of New York.

Though Lehman is 73 years old and served as governor of New York more terms than any man in history, he is new to the senate. And he seemed hurt and disappointed at the mad scramble of his colleagues to vote for the special interests.

Finally he rose, and speaking sadly, softly, said:

"What I am about to say is not going to please my colleagues in the senate. Yet I must say it. Here we are engaged in a life-and-death struggle, a struggle for survival against the most ruthless enemy in history, fighting on two fronts, on the military and on the economic.

"We ought to be engaged exclusively in considering legislation to benefit all the people of the country, legislation to keep our country on a sound economic basis. Yet, here I see and hear senator after senator rise, not to concern himself with the issues before us, but to play politics, to blast the Administration. I tell you, it has made my heart sick to hear all this. It makes me feel that we are betraying the people who send us down here.

"We are about to pass a bill which is a bad bill, a bill which is not in the interest of the people of our country," Lehman continued. "I know there is nothing I can say which is going to reverse the trend and bring about the ends I and many of my associates and the people seek. Deep down in our hearts, we all know that these ends are necessary. Yet some are acting without regard to what is right. But I hope that we are not going to be supine or satisfied with what we have done.

"I assume that what I have said will not set well with some of my colleagues," Lehman concluded. "Yet I am glad I said it. I think it is something which had to be said on the floor of the senate."

Peanuts and Milk

Senators Ed Thye, Minnesota Republican, and Warren Magnuson, Washington Democrat, also pushed through an amendment to freeze dairy and peanut products at their present high prices. But Senator Anderson objected.

"The bill we are considering is designed to try to put ceilings on prices," he said. "How is a measure that would prevent prices from dropping germane to a bill that is trying to put on ceilings?"

SCANNING THE WEEK'S NEWS of Main Street and the World

Allied Officials Again Expressing Belief Talks On 'Smooth' Footing

HOPEFUL SPECULATION—As the UN and Red Korean negotiators resumed efforts for a cease-fire agenda at Kaesong (without the "protection" of the armed Communist guards), Allied officials expressed the belief that the problem of getting something on the agenda would be quickly solved. There were hints that the talks were going smoother after the lay-off and the situation was more relaxed.

The man on the American streets, however, was not too full of optimism. Those who had followed the criss-cross, tic-tac-toe pattern of the war and the inevitable breakdown of the initial conferences knew that there was no available sounding board to gauge the pattern of events in Korea. Most Main Street citizens approved the action of Admiral C. Turner Joy, senior UN delegate, in refusing to continue the negotiations until certain Allied rights were recognized. The spark of aggressiveness offered hope that, years hence, we might ask one another who won the war in Korea.

LET'S CHECK THE RECORD—Administration forces and Truman backers on Capitol Hill started off the week with an eye to the 1952 elections and a beckoning gesture to the voting public on Main Street.

Realizing the pressure from Republicans and anti-administration forces, the parties-in-power felt it wiser to get everything possible in the way of economic control bills in order to prepare some manner of checklist for the voting public.

The Administration decided to move quickly for final action on the new defense-production measure, in whatever form it could be shuttled through to replace the original law which expired June 30; is currently in force only through Congressional resolution. The law carries powers for wage and price control, materials allocation, and other measures. Party leaders only hoped they would not have to compromise too much and too often to get the results.

REASONABLE CEILINGS—The long-awaited Washington explosion came in the House as the battle over federal authority to roll back prices opened with loud fanfare. The Administration's willingness to compromise went for naught as farm-area congressmen balked like the proverbial mule.

Before the debate got under way, minority leader Martin and Republican Wolcott (Mich.) leveled charges that the Administration hoped to load the pending control bill with pet "socialistic schemes . . . to sneak in the thoroughly discredited Brannan farm plan through a system of so-called production subsidies."

Administration forces sought the compromise by offering an amendment to retain the present 10 per cent rollback on live beef prices, but forego other farm rollbacks. Farm bloc speaker Cooley (D., N.C.) however, suggested a ban on all farm-price rollbacks—including the one already made on beef. Cox (D., Ga.) went further—seeking to bar all price rollbacks on industrial goods as well as farm products.

The hopes of the Administration thus lay in finding a way to woo the farm-area congressmen and also take advantage of the House Republican leaders' promise to help pass a law that will keep prices "within reason."

UNPROVEN ANGEL—In New York a federal judge gave evidence that life is becoming tough for Communist leaders in the U.S.; for the second time in a week, the Civil Rights Congress was outlawed as a bondman in federal court.

The dozen-and-two were already out on bond made by CRC, the Red's angel, but Judge Ryan held the Congress had failed to show clear title to bonds; ordered them to find another angel or come back to jail.

MANDATORY SENTENCES—In Washington the House came through with overdue attention to the narcotics problem, voicing approval of a bill requiring mandatory jail sentences for narcotics-law violators.

The measure, Senate-bound, provides for one to five year sentences for first-offenders; five to ten years for second offenders; and a 10 to 30 year term for three-time losers. The law would apply to both peddlers and addicts; should be a strong weapon to fight one of the nation's grave problems. Across the country parents, after watching with growing horror the dope probes and hearings, expressed the hope that here was a strong axe to keep the narcotic wolf from the family threshold.

AN EYE FOR AN EYE—The United States lashed back at Hungary for the expulsion of two American envoys from Budapest two weeks ago; ordered that nation to call home two top diplomats, Peter Varkonyi, legation attaché and Lojos Nagy, charge d'affaires. Varkonyi was to leave "immediately," Nagy as soon as new minister Emil Weil could present his credentials.

The move was retaliation for the expulsion of American envoys and other pressure that had caused cessation of U.S. information and educational activities in Hungary. It marked, however, a new low in diplomatic relations between the two countries—relations that had seemed improved recently by the release of American businessman Robert A. Vogler.

AND THE RAINS CAME—As the week began, the most costly flood in the history of the nation moved East from Kansas City along the Missouri river, leaving the gateway to the Southwest strangled with slowly receding waters.

Residents along a 400 mile waterway counted the damages, 75,000 or more had been left homeless, 400,000 more otherwise affected. Losses were estimated close to the billion dollar mark, nearly twice as much as in the 1937 Ohio and Mississippi rivers floods.

NO SIGNIFICANCE—Navy spokesmen in Washington declared there was "no special significance" in Admiral Forrest Sherman's conferences with Franco in Spain, although sources reported that the U.S. officer sought the use of navy bases in Spain for the U.S. Sixth Mediterranean Fleet.

Britain and France, opposing admission of Spain into the 12-nation Atlantic Pact, came into the open against the U.S.-Franco ties, said only the Communists stood to gain anything. Uncle Sam, however, seemed to be envisioning a limited role for Spain in the future Western defense efforts. Supply and demand: Franco needs arms and ammunition, America wants naval and air bases.

Let Us Search for Peace
General Matthew B. Ridgway (second from right) bids farewell to the five United Nations delegates as they prepare to return to Kaesong cease-fire conferences. From left are Admiral Burke, Maj. Gen. L. C. Craigie, Maj. Gen. Park Sun Yuh, Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy, senior delegate, Ridgway, and Maj. Gen. H. L. Hodet, 8th Army.

BROADWAY HAS AN ARABIAN NIGHT . . . Shrier musicians march through Times Square.

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN FIGHT RIOTERS . . . Five hundred national guardsmen, their clips loaded and bayonets fixed, took on a mob of 2,000 civilians recently at an apartment building in Cicero, Ill., into which a negro war veteran had sought to move his family. Bricks, bottles and magnesium flares flew through the air. Although no shots were fired, 18 persons were injured and required medical care. Here, crowd surges in on national guardsmen as one soldier grapples to get back bayoneted rifle and companion in jeep radios for help. Cicero is a white section of Chicago, until now uninhabited by other than whites.

HAVE A LIGHT? . . . Unidentified American soldier (left) leans over to offer light to North Korean soldier, perched atop his Russian-built vehicle. The pair were waiting outside the peace-talk building in Kaesong, Korea, while North Koreans and Communist officers discussed matters concerning a possible armistice in Korea. This was before the talks were broken off, after the Reds refused to allow allied newsmen to visit Kaesong and surrounded the U.N. delegation with armed guards. However, the Reds later called off the guards and agreed to admit newsmen to the peace-talk area in Kaesong but not to actual talks.

WHOA! . . . Speech by Rep. Louis C. Rabaut (D., Mich.), in which he warned that if congress does not pass the price rollback law and cut the price of beef, the 82nd congress will become known as the "horsemeat congress," prompted Washington restaurant proprietor Samuel W. Rosenberg, being assisted by Louis Smith, to place the above sign in the window of his restaurant. It is not known whether any congressmen have taken advantage of the offer or not.

USING THEIR HEADS . . . Bald members of the crew of the U.S.S. Boxer, aircraft carrier, know how to use their heads. Here they spell out the name of the ship on which they serve. The ship was in Korean waters.

THIN MAN MUM . . . Dashiell Hammett (above), mystery author, was sentenced to jail by a New York federal judge for contempt after Hammett, chairman of civil rights congress ball fund, refused to answer questions concerning Red ball jumpers or where the ball funds came from.

WANTS SALES TAX . . . Charles R. Slichter, Jr., Holland, Mich., president of National Association of Manufacturers, urges congress to put a general sales tax at the factory level on all manufactured articles except food. This will make other tax unnecessary.

SECRET AGENT . . . Mrs. Mary Markward, Chesterbrook, Va., housewife, who served as undercover agent in the Communist party for six years for the FBI, testifies before house un-American activities committee.

DISCHARGED . . . Stanley Amborski, smuggled out of Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., by his parents, who charged he received improper medical care, has received a medical discharge. With him is his 17-year-old wife, Shirley, who is happy at his discharge.

THE RURAL SCHOOL

Holcomb's Consolidated School A Model for Rural Communities

Adequate educational opportunity is a major desire of all American parents for their children.

When entails difficulties in providing financing of housing teachers and transportation of pupils, the rural school system has been the slowest to develop.

A model of what the rural community can do to meet its problems is the Holcomb community in Finney county in southwestern Kansas.

The village of Holcomb is situated eight miles west of Garden City, the county seat. It has a population of 200. Transcontinental highway 50 and the main line of the Santa Fe railroad pass through it.

On January 6, 1920, three districts voted for consolidation of a school at Holcomb. On July 23, 1921, another district petitioned to be admitted to the union district.

During the past 30 years the Holcomb school has developed a full curriculum, including instruction in the elementary grades, from the kindergarten up, and in the high school full courses on every subject, including vocational agriculture and vocational homemaking.

By 1950 the school owned 12 buildings and 20 acres of land. The buildings included the main school structure, a grade school, a vocational agriculture building, a teachers' cottage, a bus garage, and seven teachers' cottages.

The visitor to the Holcomb community soon senses an attitude of community pride in the school and a marked popular solicitude for the school's welfare.

NO APOLOGIES

YOU'RE LATE, Nell Horner! Taffy handed Nell her jacket to hold for her.

"I know it," Nell said, "And what's more I forgot to bring back that book that my mother borrowed from your mother."

Taffy didn't answer until they were in the car and on their way to the Horner residence for dinner.

"When are you going to say you'll marry me?" Mrs. Horner mumbled. "I was all upset this afternoon because the butcher didn't send the kind of meat I ordered."

"I haven't had any complaints before. Don't I always open doors for you and all the other things a guy is supposed to do?"

"Ob, yes, the matters that can be seen. But just between us two sometimes I think you're downright rude. You never apologize."

"When are you going to say you'll marry me?"

"See why I never apologize," he whispered.

"I won't say it till you say you're sorry you were late and that you forgot the book."

"This time Nell was the quiet one. The situation was still unsettled when he turned onto a winding driveway.

"I'm so sorry I wasn't at the front door," Mrs. Horner mumbled. "I was all upset this afternoon because the butcher didn't send the kind of meat I ordered."

"I don't know how I look in this dress," Mrs. Horner said. "It's one I made myself and I just finished it this afternoon."

Taffy laughed he-s polite little laugh and they went downstairs.

"Yes," Nell said, "Mother's giving Grandma Moses a run for her money."

"Then let's not look at them."

"She wasn't quite clear about what said during the next minute. But somehow Mrs. Horner led Mrs. Horner-out-of-the-room-and-people said goodnight.

"Forgiveness? That was just what my mother needed. Now let's take this book back to your mother and tell her we're engaged."

SOUL!

During his many years in the ring, Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom never developed the killer instinct. Rosenbloom liked to box his opponents silly. Boxing was his forte, but the idea of engaging in a rough and tumble brawl was repugnant to him.

One night, when he was champ, he was pitted against a burly pug, who insisted on using roughhouse tactics. Unfamiliar with the finer points of the game, he kept rushing Rosenbloom, hoping to land a lucky punch.

Rosenbloom danced around his opponent, and calmly proceeded to cut him to ribbons. He crossed, he jabbed, he hooked in a superb demonstration of boxing. This was the way he liked to fight, no hard blows; just science and skill.

By the fourth round, the contender was dizzy, but he still kept rushing the champ. Rosenbloom set his left for another jab, when—crack!—the other ran into it with his chin and fell flat to the canvas, out cold.

Rosenbloom, frustrated by this sudden ending, could not conceal his disgust.

"Why, you double crosser," he growled, as he returned to his corner.

Round-A-Bout
He met her at Friendship, Missouri, followed her to Love, Virginia, and asked her to name the day at Ring, Arkansas. They were married at Church, Iowa, and settled down at Home, Oregon, but the twins were born at Boise, Idaho.

He skunked 'Em
Erza Parsons, a Malmo merchant, whose disposition was ruined permanently by thine income tax and the New Deal, closed down his plant for good and reinvested his funds in a skunk farm. "Now," he reported with some satisfaction, "that dangd government may keep its nose out of my business."

"But, my dear," bleated the poor little hen-pecked husband, "you've been talking for half an hour, and I haven't said a word."
"No," snapped his wife, "you haven't said anything, but you've been listening in a most aggravating manner, and I'm not going to stand for it."

Second-Story Man
"Mamma, what's a cocond-story man?"
"Your father is one, dear. If I don't believe his first story he always has another one ready."

Family Mystery
Neighbor: "Sen, your father comes home every evening and bathes and shaves and eats supper and then leaves home, what does he do?"
Little Boy: "That's what mama wants to know."

The camp counselor was explaining the rules of a new game.
"If the enemy calls your number from his side of the battlefield," she said, "you must be a 'dead man' immediately. Drop just where you are and lie still."
Ten minutes later, came an agonized whisper from the youngest camper:
"Please may I move now? I'm a dead man, but I'm on an ant-hill!"

THERE'S A LAW
First Slapsiecker—"By der vay, didt you knowed dot id has now der fashion to dress according to der color of der hair?"
Second Slapsiecker—"I am amasedment!"
First Slapsiecker—"Sure iss id! A man vich has brown hairs shouldt ought to wear a brown suit. Synonymous, a man vich has gray hairs shouldt ought a gray suit to wear."
Second Slapsiecker—"Say, tell me, how shouldt id a bald-headed man dress?"

Share the Wealth
Lucy: "Nobody will ever care for me."
Sergeant: "Don't say that, Lucy. After all, in this world there's a man for every woman. It's a wonderful arrangement."
Lucy: "Believe me, I don't want to change it. I just want to get in on it."

No Free Lunch

Lesson for August 5, 1951

YOU cannot find the words "economic relations" in the Bible, but you cannot find the word "humanity" in the Bible either.

Yet you would not say that the Bible has no message for humanity, and if you say that, it has nothing to say about the economic life. It shows you have not thought what the words mean.

"Economic relations" is an expression for everything that goes into life from a business or money standpoint, everything we buy and use, make or raise or manufacture or sell. Money's not everything, but money's into everything.

The Bible speaks about life, including the economic aspect of it. Nobody can live for a day without having some kind of economic relations, or sin (as a hobo does) by not having them.

ONE vital part of our economic life is earning a living. A learned professor of economics said that the whole subject can be put into one short sentence: "There is no free lunch." He meant, of course, that everything has to be paid for, by somebody, some time. You may get your board "free," but everything on the table costs somebody something, and if you are not paying for it, some one else must.

Now the Bible teaches that every one who is able to do so, should earn his living. Saint Paul made a rule for his churches: "He that will not work, neither let him eat."

That sounds hard-bolled, but makes sense. The Bible has no use for the hobo, the loafer, the "moocher," the "grifter," the person who thinks the world owes him a living. The world owes no one a living.

The Right to Work
IF it is the duty of all of us to earn our board and keep, on the other hand the world ought to give us the opportunity to do so. Along with the duty of earning a living goes the right to earn a living.

We saw, some weeks ago, that a basic Christian principle for right living is the value of individual persons. This holds good for economics as well as for all other areas of life.

What happens to the man who cannot earn a living? If he becomes an "object of charity," in a short while he loses ambition and self-respect. And if he gets no charity, he starves.

So any system or arrangement of society, or any action or condition permanent or temporary, making it impossible for a man to earn his own living, is harmful to human persons and therefore sinful. No one, in short, has a right to a living, but every one has the right to earn a living.

The Risks of Riches
SO far, you might say that Christianity only says what everybody with common sense can see for himself. But Christianity goes further and says something that most people forget: that getting rich is more dangerous than desirable.

The Bible urges us all to earn our own way; but it does not urge us to get rich. Christ warns us that life does not consist in the "abundance of things" a man possesses. There is no virtue in being as poor as possible.

Still, on the other hand, the more a man's property piles up, the more he is tempted to certain sins: the sin of greed, wanting more than our share, more than we can wisely use; the sin of pride, wanting to have more than any one else in sight; the sin of selfishness, wanting to use what we have for our own benefit exclusively; the sin of hoarding, wanting to fill barns or bank accounts for no particular reason except just to see the pile grow; the sin of materialism, measuring success in terms of dollars.

The main question is: Why do we want it? To have something good, or to do good with it? The big Christian question about every relationship and transaction, economic and otherwise, is a question about people: What is this going to do to people? To me? To those who depend on me? To the community?

Pope Pius XII used two words about the economic life which Protestants will agree are of top importance: Make it more human, he said, and more Christian.
