Ruling Deferred in Local Welfare Dept. Firing

SANTA FE, Sept. 15.—The State Merit System has taken under advisement a case which would set precedent for employees covered by the system who are discharged because of situations which are brought about through no fault of their own.

The council heard an appeal by Mrs. Lorene Casey, who was discharged as Lincoln County Welfare Department director because she refused to transfer to De Baca County.

Welfare Dept. Director Alva Simpson explained to the council that he ordered the transfer in line with Welfare Board policy which favors rotation of personnel.

In Mrs. Casey's case, Simpson told the council, she had been caught in the middle of a controversial situation in the county.

"We don't care about her personal life or the merits of the complaints against her," he said. "In fact, we assumed the complaints against her are false."

But he points out that since a controversy does exist in which Mrs. Casey figures, the department feels her work will suffer.

Simpson said two county commissioners had led delegations to Santa Fe to complain about her.

His explanation came at the end of a Thursday session in which Herbert Holt, attorney for the department, contended that it was the department's right to fire its employees for cause. Mrs. Casey's refusal to agree to the transfer was classified as insubordination by the department, which was just cause for her dismissal, he said.

Council members Eleanor Berchtold and Victor Kleven agreed that the department had the right to discharge Mrs. Casey for refusing to accept the transfer order. But Kleven, an Albuquerque educator, wondered whether "the transfer order was made to circumvent dismissal."

"There might not have been sufficient grounds to dismiss her under the merit system so they try to send a person to the sticks to force her to resign," he said.

He thought this required an explanation of the department as to Mrs. Casey's opponents in the county.

Mrs. Casey, who has been with the Welfare Department's Lincoln County office for some six years, had her own ideas of the source of her trouble.

Mr. Simpson discussed this with some politicians down there and they said they want a Republican in the office," she said. "But I've been a Republican for 21 years."

At another point in the hearing, she said that "there are a few politicians who are unhappy that I am there."

This brought a retort from Simpson that there is "absolutely no politics involved."

"Then why is Mr. Jones interested in this case... he and Mr. Gallacher?"

The two are prominent Republicans in Carrizozo. William Gallacher is GOP Lincoln County chairman.

Simpson replied that the two had merely told him there was controversy in the community and that Mrs. Casey was involved in the controversy.

Kleven, who acted as chairman for the session, asked Mrs. Casey if she was "interested in politics."

"No, My husband doesn't even like to vote."

L. W. Waterman, supervisor of welfare personnel, testified that in cases where there are complaints and personalities are involved in administering an office, the easiest way out is for the department to transfer the party involved, regardless of whether there is any truth to the accusations.

Waterman pointed out that Mrs. Casey had been in Carrizozo for many years. "Where an employe has many relatives and has spent time in the community, feelings build up, which means that department work suffers."

Kleven asked Mrs. Casey if she felt the transfer order was used as a means to get rid of her.

"Yes. There are a few people

Annual Teachers' Picnic Held At Nogal Canyon

By ROBERTA KEY

Monday night the Carrizozo faculty and their families drove to Nogal Canyon to enjoy the fellowship of the annual teachers' picnic. There the new teachers acquainted themselves with other members of the faculty and their families. Mr. Bartkus introduced his wife, who had just arrived from the East.

After a sociable period of visiting and talking, faculty wives spread a picnic lunch in a clearing in the midst of pines. There was an abundance of delicious food, enjoyed by all. Following the clearing of the tables, and singing around the campfire, the group headed back to town, having spent an enjoyable time together.

Former Student Longs For High School Days

By ELAINE SHULTS

Monday morning Mr. Manire read a portion of a letter from a former student of Carrizozo High School who is now in the service. The letter as read by Mr. Manire stated:

"You know, sir, they say experience is the best teacher. Well, I have had a lot of experience in getting into trouble in school. I look back now and see where I have wasted valuable time and just played around in school. I would give anything if I could come back and enter school in my freshman year. A fellow doesn't think at that time what he is going to learn. He just thinks, 'Well, I have four more years to go.' I hope some of your present students take advantage of my mistakes because the service is a little rougher than high school.

"Thank you again, and any time I can be of service to you, please let me know."

Bologna, spread? Where's the bread? A Carrizozo girl tells this story on herself. Just recently she, with a group of high school students, was enjoying a picnic lunch when it was discovered additional sandwiches were needed. The local girl and a companion volunteered to go to town to remedy the defect, where they were most careful to select an inviting array of sandwich fillings and hurried back to their party with as little fuss of time as possible. A little later they were dismayed but not defeated by the revelation they had forgotten to purchase additional bread to go with the sandwich fillings. Their solution? The spread went on the bologna which was eaten without benefit of bread.

Battle Lines Shaping In RR Rate Investigation

Battle lines are shaping up in connection with two widespread investigations by the Interstate Commerce Commission of railroad class rates in the west, reports the State Corporation Commission. One of these cases involves rates between points in Mountain Pacific Territory (Western Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico and all states west thereof to the Pacific Coast) and the other concerns rates between all points within such territory and all points in the United States east thereof.

The corporation commission's rate expert, Edward Mahoney, has recently returned from an ICC "prehearing conference" in Salt Lake City on these two cases. Rate experts of the state commissions of all of the 11 western states, except Nevada, were present. They reiterated their previous position they would work towards securing a scale of rates within the west, and between the west and the east, based on mileage, no higher than that recently ordered by the ICC for the eastern section of the country. Mahoney said that class rates today in this western territory are a veritable hodgepodge, resulting in many rates which are unduly high and discriminatory. While the railroads offer no objection to the investigations, it is evident that they have no intention of voluntarily agreeing to the extension of the present eastern scale for the west. H. C. Barron, chief counsel for the western lines, indicated at the hearing the lines were considering three and possibly four different scales for the west, all of which would presumably be higher than that recently ordered by the ICC for the eastern two-thirds of the nation.

In addition, certain California interests are objecting to any possible disturbance of their present rates, even going so far as trying to quash the investigations. The California Manufacturers Association of Los Angeles and the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce have filed motions with the ICC to discontinue and annul the proceedings. Mahoney explained these California interests have many favorable rates brought about by inter-coastal and coastwise steamship competition as well as intensive truck competition locally. New Mexico has no quarrel with this situation so long as the rates to and from New Mexico are reasonable, but because many of them are not, the corporation commission has petitioned the ICC to disregard the motions of the California interests and continue the investigations in the public interest.

Disincorporation Of Green Tree Ruled Void

In a decision handed down Monday at Carrizozo by District Judge W. T. Scoggin the disincorporation of the village of Green Tree is declared to be void; that it is a legally constituted village; and the Lincoln County Board of Commissioners is restrained from interference with its operation by its duly elected and qualified officials.

The board has also been instructed to return $400 collected by it as the license fee of a Green Tree business place for the year beginning July 1, 1951. Frazier, Quantus and Cusack, Roswell law firm, is handling the case for the village of Green Tree, while Robert J. Sellers, assistant district attorney, represents the Lincoln County Board of Commissioners.

It is reported the board will appeal the case.

Direct GI Home Loans Again Available In N. M.

The Veterans Administration announces direct loans for homes and farm houses are again available to World War II veterans in most New Mexico areas. The VA had discontinued such loans last June 30 when legal authorization expired.

Direct loans are available to veterans throughout New Mexico except in Bernalillo and Santa Fe counties, and within the corporate limits of Carlsbad and Hobbs. Only loans for farm houses are available to veterans in Chaves County.

Direct loans will be made only to veterans who establish their credit and otherwise qualify under the law. Applications may be made in letter form direct to the loan guaranty officer, V. A. regional office, Albuquerque.

The new law also eased restrictions against veterans who finance their homes through private lending agencies with VA guarantees.

Any veteran of World War II

who has had no home loan since April 20, 1950, may now qualify for a VA guaranty of 60 per cent, not to exceed a total of $7,500, for home loan purposes. For example, a veteran having used $1,500 of his loan guaranty entitlement for a farm, home or business real estate loan any time prior to April 20, 1950, has remaining to his credit under the new authorization for home loan purposes only, $7,500 less the $1,500 already used, or $6,000, which would permit a 60 per cent guaranty on another home loan in the face amount of $10,000 if the loan was otherwise eligible.

Previously, if a veteran had made a home loan prior to April 20, 1950, he was limited to the total of a $4,000 guaranty. Thus the new law allows a large group of veterans increased guaranties, even though they have already used a portion of their entitlement on previous loans.

In 1900 one farm worker produced enough for himself and seven others; now he produces enough for himself and 14 others.

Assignment New Mexico

By G. WARD FENLEY George Campbell, Amarillo, told the Duke City Rotary Club last week that a person born with all five senses in good shape is richer than he will ever become.

In Roswell last week (Record) a Negro airman was hit over the head with an asphalt, bitten on the left arm, and stabbed in the leg with a butcher knife because he spurned a proffered kiss from his girl friend, Belatedly, he found a brick and bashed her over the head with it.

The Socorro Chieftain reported that the town was thrown into panic when Fire Chief Percy Miller's pet kittens playfully jerked the cord that works the fire alarm system.

We didn't get the entire story but the Otero County Times said last week that at a wedding of a prominent pair Sergeant Don Clark sang: "The Lord's Prayer." Did they need to?

Later in the yarn, Raynell Beall served the three tired brides cake. Hard day evidently when the one bride becomes three tired brides on her wedding day.

Jack Stilton's proof reader on the Carlsbad Current Argus complained a dog lover's letter complaining about "staring the animals and killing them from thirst."

In supporting the current drive for more careful driving of cars on New Mexico highways, some wag composed a little poem: "A nut at the wheel, A peach on the right, A curve in the road— Fruit salad tonight."

Up in Wisconsin the Madison Journal ran a head: "Boy, 14, beats women with sponge cake." Pretty solid foodless foods, we'd say.

And the Canton (Ill.) Daily Ledger put it laconically: "Man dies fatally." Another good way to die (and this in the Raleigh, North Carolina, News and Observer): "Ceremony unites Barbara Mangum, Mr. Roland, and Dr. Robert J. Dignam."

I see where they are making them get up early in Las Cruces. According to the Sun News, "The new federal rules require a dawn

Carrizozo High School Classes Elect Officers

The junior class of Carrizozo High School has selected Alma Eaker, daughter of E. A. Eaker, as its president for the ensuing year. Miss Eaker served her class as student council representative last year.

The sophomore class is headed by Lou Hyden with Sam Wedell as vice president and Bobby Hicks, secretary-treasurer. Class sponsor is Raymer Shaw.

President of the freshman group is Sammy Stidham; Anne Gallacher was chosen for vice president and Verna Ruth Petty is its secretary-treasurer. Sport Harkey has been named reporter and M. S. Mirimanian will sponsor the freshmen.

The names of the senior class officers are announced in another story in this issue.

The eighth graders have elected Richard Vega for their president and the class' other officers include Willie Vega, vice president; John Sandoval, secretary-treasurer, and Lupita Nevarez, reporter. Class sponsor is Clyde A. Shults.

Seventh grade officers are Felix Guebara, president; Glenda Sus King, vice president; Beverly Baly, secretary; Billy Hicks, treasurer, and Scott Lewis, reporter. Miss Jewel Rheems is the class' sponsor.

Ham Radio Station

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roberts planned a trip to El Paso this week where they plan to pick up equipment for a ham radio station that Roberts expects to operate. The local family are hopeful they will be able to communicate often with their sons and other servicemen when the station is completed.

Girl Scouts Gather Clothing For Austria

The Carrizozo Brownie and Intermediate Girl Scouts recently completed the gathering of clothing which was sent to Austria with the postage paid out of the treasury of the Brownie troop.

Approximately 16 to 20 members of the two troops attended the marshmallow roast and watermelon feed at the T. A. Spencer Jr. ranch last Friday night. The watermelons came from the garden on the ranch which was maintained by the Scouts last summer.

The following is the fall and winter schedule of meetings for the two groups: On Wednesday afternoons at 3:30 the members of the Brownie group will be picked up at school and taken to the Scout hut on the Spencer ranch.

To Finish Boot Training

A long distance call from Donald Roberts to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roberts, informs them he will finish his Navy boot training at San Diego about the end of October. Hugh Roberts, not a relative but who is considered as a member of the local family, upon hearing that Donald had joined the Navy wrote the lad's parents that they should worry about the Navy instead of Donald. Hugh Roberts is also serving with the U. S. Navy, and it is Donald's hope that the two may be assigned to the same ship.

Spills and broken bones are all part of the game to the daring Rodeo performers at the New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque. The 1951 Championship program Sept. 29-Oct. 7 will offer $9,000 in purses to the lucky boys.

Fishing and Hunting

Assistant State Game Warden Homer Pickens said a good season over most of the state should provide good hunting during the 1951 bear season which opened at noon Saturday, September 15.

Providing for the hunting of bear with or without the use of trained dogs, the season will run through November 5. Two later seasons are scheduled and the bag limit will be one bear for the year.

Department fieldmen report old Bruin lurking in several places around the state. The Coyote and Gallinosa area, northwest of Espanola, the Chama and Taos areas and the Johnson Mesa country east of Raton are all good prospects. To hunt the Johnson Mesa nimrods will have to secure the permission of local landowners.

In addition, the south end of the Jemez, centering around Bland, will be opened for the season this year. The area had been declared closed earlier this year but a later regulation will permit hunting.

Throughout all districts, Pickens cautioned hunters to be on the lookout for state game refuges.

The State Game Commission has declared the emergency situation on Elephant Butte and Caballo Lakes ended and the usual regulations on fishing have been reinstated, since the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation has declared the irrigation season over and the gates on both lakes have been closed to further draining.

Reports from fieldmen indicate a total of 18,000 acre feet of water remaining in Elephant Butte reservoir. Water content and temperatures indicate favorable fishing conditions at both lakes.

State Fair To Feature Famed Square Dancers

A special feature scheduled to appear each evening during the rodeo performance at the New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque, Sept. 29-Oct. 7, will be the famous Boom Town Mounted Square Dancers from Burkburnett, Texas.

The group differs from other mounted organizations in that it does not confine its performances to drills. Each performance is a complete square dance on horseback.

Variety is the spice of the colorful program. This is attained by change of dress, ranging from white to brilliant reds and purples. The quarter horses, which are used exclusively, have been matched in color, size and temperament.

The most thrilling dance, from the spectators' point of view, is the "Grand Figure Eight." It is also the most dangerous for the riders and horses. With the horses running at full speed and missing each other by mere inches, the smallest error in judgment and timing could be fatal.

NOGAL MESA

By DOROTHY GUCK

Perhaps a few of you wonder why I have the same news as Anne Earling quite often, so I'm going to explain. I have the best neighbors in the world on the Mesa, but not too many of them. Everytime I get a little short of neighborhood gossip, I go to Captain and peek over Anne's shoulder as she gathers news and just swipe it. Now if any of you are brave enough to read all the paper, you'll get some items twice. Most of the news Anne gathers and I dig is certainly worth telling twice, I hope. Mrs. Phillips seems to have quite a few things to tell. I might spend one week soon peeking over her shoulder.

Mrs. Henry Feebles left last Friday to drive to Missouri with Mrs. Mankinen and Mrs. Howard. She expects to spend the days until the 23rd trying to spoil her grandchildren.

Frank Smith drove down from Clovis for the weekend with the Dan Jones family. His wife, MaryBelle and daughter Donna returned home with him.

Ike Kennedy spent three days at the Nogal Lake picnic grounds doing Forest Service maintenance work. The lake is still getting lots of weekend visitors.

Leota and Peg Pflingsten returned from the tour of Herford Breeder's Ranches with the highest praise for the Herford Association officers. Six hundred people took part in the tour with 187 cars. The first day a barbecue was served at noon at the Cope-land Ranch by the county extension club. The evening meal was a barbecue at the Clayton stadium served by the Lions Club. The second day the Jeffers were hosts at a fried chicken dinner served by the Clayton National Guard. The night meal was a buffalo dinner served at the Philmont Scout Ranch. The third day six calves weighing 250 pounds each dressed, were barbecued for the crowd at the Johnston and Johnston Ranch. In between the eating, a thorough inspection was made of the cattle and range practices. Station KLMX at Clayton broadcast much of the tour and a loud speaking system was installed in one of the trucks traveling with the group. The trip was very enjoyable and educational to the Pflingstens.

Ralph Vance was at the Pflingsten ranch for the weekend. The dust haze that covered the country last week gave several people the forest fire scare. Though it is dry enough to burn in some places, we're grateful the haze was dust, not smoke.

Mr. and Mrs. Rench were at the Holmes ranch Monday. Judy says her dad, Roy La-May, has a new pickup.

Rayford Rannels reports the temperature dropped to 34 degrees at Bonito Dam Sunday night.

"C" Day Climaxes Freshman Initiation
By ROBERTA KEY

After a solid week of scraping low before a demanding horde of seniors, weary freshmen were considered sufficiently "broken in" for the climax of the freshman initiation—"C" Day, Monday morning the freshmen appeared at school clad in various costumes ranging from the white robes of an angel to the sinister black cape and curling mustache of a villain. With considerable dignity the class bore guffaws and snickers from fellow schoolmates. The "freshies" were herded into a truck and driven south of Carrizozo to a foothill upon which the "C" is located. With admirable forbearance, and assistance from a hot-shot, the freshmen began enlarging the "C." Rocks were rolled down the mountainside and placed in position. By noon, the "C" had been enlarged some 10 yards in length and five yards in width. Time out for lunch, provided by obliging freshman girls, then back to work they all went. Three sacks of lime were mixed with water. This mixture was carried down the hill and poured on the rocks. There was lime enough only for the top and middle sections of the "C"—the bottom part went unpainted.

Following the completion of work on the hill, the freshmen were marched back to the school auditorium to face their superiors, the seniors, and the rest of the high school in kangaroo court. There they engaged in various hilarious activities such as blindfolded partners feeding bananas to one another, and a couple racing down the length of the auditorium pushing chalk with their noses. To Ann Gallacher went the prize for the best sport, and to Richard Means, dressed in pink as a bride, went the prize for the best costume. A lusty rendition of the "Alma Mater" ended the assembly program, and "C" Day, long-suffering freshmen! You were wonderful sports.

Kefauver Crime Story Series Now Appearing In News-Outlook

The most startling and eye-opening facts about organized crime in the United States is revealed to citizens of Lincoln County in the serialization of Senator Estes Kefauver's sensational book, "Crime in America," which started in last week's issue of the News-Outlook.

The story is written by the man who pioneered the investigation from the beginning. The committee hearing disclosed such amazing information on crime throughout the country that the American people scarcely could believe what they had heard.

And now, with the full, documented story prepared for newspaper use, the Lincoln County News-Outlook is proud to offer it to its readers.

In the course of the 18 installments, the whole seemingly fantastic story of high political corruption, of the dope combine, gambling, white slavery and every other conceivable form of vice will be unfolded before citizens of Lincoln County who follow Senator Kefauver's absorbing story.

Here are the testimonies of men, relating sordid stories of the Mafia, Murder Inc., and the Crime Syndicate. The amazing evidence presented is irrefutable. That this evidence and the whole story of the investigation need be brought to the people of America's small

Cherry Pie Contest

Perhaps the most interesting contest at the State Fair from the judges' viewpoint is the Cherry Pie Baking Contest.

The winner of the State Fair contest in Albuquerque during the fair, Sept. 29-Oct. 7, will receive a free trip to the national contest in Chicago, with transportation, hotel and food provided for her and her chaperon.

The state contest again will be held at Youth Hall, and is open to girls who will have passed their 15th birthday by February 21, 1951, but who will not have passed their 21st birthday by March 1, 1951. The national finals will be held February 21.

towns, as well as its large cities, is beyond any doubt.

Senator Kefauver's investigation has been called the greatest crime hunt in history. This series names and digs into the corruption in government with no respect or concession to political parties. Lincoln County News-Outlook readers will be astonished at the sensational findings.

"Crime in America" is a call to the American people to smash the vicious crime element which is sapping the morals, vitality, health and wealth of our nation.

With the edition of September 21, the second installment of "Crime in America" will appear in the Lincoln County News-Outlook. Watch for this amazing story and continue it weekly through the 18 revealing installments.

IN THE LAST FEW YEARS, we have nearly tripled our investment in plant and facilities to serve New Mexico telephone users.

- The increase in investment has been very substantial for two reasons. First, we have tried to keep pace with continuing demand. Second, it takes a lot more dollars to provide facilities at today's high cost levels.
- In the last five years we've spent $18½ million for construction of new facilities, and our program this year calls for $5½ million more.
- Not only is more equipment being added daily throughout the state, but New Mexico users are finding the telephone more and more useful.
- Ten years ago, about 200,000 local and long distance calls were being handled daily. Today the volume has tripled, with a daily average approximating 600,000.
- The combined efforts of 1,000 skilled employees are building for New Mexico a telephone system to match the state's growing needs.

Capitan School

The contract for building the school by Little & Fawcett is enclosed stating the structure was to be built of brick and stone and finished inside of Texas pine.

The box contained a note stating that Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Gray were the first American family to settle in Capitan, raising six children, one of whom was born in the townsite July 12, 1889.

There is a list of 143 students who were attending school in Capitan at that time.

The essay by Mary Skehan is a perfect replica of the long outmoded way of writing essays: "Build these more stately mansions, O my soul,

As the swift seasons roll! Leave the low vaulted past! Let each new temple, nobler than the last, Shut thee from heaven with a dome more vast."

To a certain degree, this injunction of the poet has been needed in our district, for each successive building or room used for school purposes in the last few years has been better in some respect than the one just preceding it. About four years ago, the old Mexican house on the road between here and the camp served as school house.

From there, the school was transferred to a small room in a private house on the outskirts of the present town. This same room being used for a dining room in the mornings and evenings by the family living in the house.

Then, the building recently owned by R. E. Weiden was rented for the school. And there the first public school in the new town was taught. From this latter building the school was removed to the Redmen's Hall, its present location.

"But today, April 10, 1901, all these advance-movements are far surpassed by the laying of the corner stone of our grand two-story school house, the walls of which we hope soon to see rising toward the skies and proclaiming to all observers that the citizens of this place are so deeply and truly and sincerely interested in education that they are glad and willing to go to the very bottom of their pockets to advance its best interests.

"As one who has worked hard through many discouraging years to keep up the public schools of this section and who has spared neither time nor money in the cause Mr. S. T. Gray stands forth preeminent.

"And may he and all live to see this prospective building the pride and glory of our town, and may its presence ever be an incentive to us to press forward in the upward path of high and true learning and living."

The address of F. C. Matteson was a glowing oratorical speech tracing the custom since earliest history of placing a cornerstone at places of special significance. He then points out that the world had reached a progressive age when education was universal. The school was being dedicated to a furtherance of the education of the masses in a world where material gains were becoming less essential. Mr. Matteson hoped that most of the boys of school age would take advantage of the opportunity of attending school in Capitan and thus become better citizens. He ends by saying, "We know not what is before us, but we lay this foundation stone in faith and hope. We are building today, not only for ourselves and our children, but for coming generations. They are interested in this event. They are coming forward to take our places as we pass on to the silent land; and for them, as well as for ourselves, I do invoke upon this building the blessings of Heaven, and dedicate it, as far as I am able, to the twin deities of Wisdom and Justice."

I believe we can say the trust of Mr. Matteson and all the others responsible for the building of the old red brick school house was not misplaced. Before its death, thousands of feet had worn the stairs of the two-story building seeking the education made possible by those first citizens in our democratic land who fought for and secured the rights of the American way for all posterity.

A quarter horse and Palomino colt sale will be held at the New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque on Thursday, Oct. 4.

The Jones had six more children born to them in Lincoln County. Mildred, who is married to Bob Pfingsten of Tucuman; Opal, wife of Lamoyne Peters of the Mesa; Lucille, now Mrs. Lee Smith of Clovis; Marvin, who is employed by the Department of Game and Fish in Reservey; Paul, who works for the Forest Service on the White Mountain District and recently married Arlene Richardson of Muleshoe, and Marybelle, wife of Frank Smith of Clovis.

Dan Jones has always been respected as one of our best citizens. Mrs. Jones is a friendly, vivacious and pettie mother of a family of which she is justly proud.

Manuel was schooled in Angus and Capitan. He set out to see a little of the world during the lean years following the stock market crash. He tried ranching in various parts of New Mexico, mining in Arizona and farming in Texas before he returned to work in the round house in Carrizozo. He married Edna McBryer in 1939, and soon after moved to El Paso transferring to the Capitan branch of the Southern Pacific Company and served with the wrecking train crew of the S. P. as fireman. He was the last fireman to work on the crew that tore up the tracks when the run was discontinued.

The Jones have three school-age children, Pat, Sharon and Mike. We are glad to have them return to Lincoln County and hope their department in the Titsworth store will grow and prosper.

The hardware department of the store has been taken over by W. H. (Bill) Nickels, Carrizozo, the son of a prominent Lincoln County citizen, the late Sam Nickels, his mother, Mrs. Sam Nickels, is convalescing from a broken arm at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Cook, in Kingman, Ariz.

rizozo, Duran, ranches near Ancho, as well as near Bingham in Socorro County where they lived from about 1929 until 1949, when they sold their property and moved to Texas for the benefit of Mrs. Corn's health. The Corns were the parents of one son (now deceased) and five daughters, one of whom died in infancy.

At one time Mr. Corn operated a garage at Carrizozo in partnership with Hiram Garrard, and later built the structure that houses the Garrard Hotel here.

Serving as the late "Doc" Johnson's nurse at the old Carrizozo Hospital for several years, she was known by many younger generation Lincoln County residents as "Mama Corn."

The late Mrs. Corn was a member of the Baptist church for more than 30 years, and is especially remembered for her many kind and neighborly acts. Dr. Smith of Clovis recalls with loving memory the generosity and kindness of his foster parents who took him into their home in White Oaks when he was only 11 years old. The doctor, who was an adventuresome lad, had run away from home and made his way to White Oaks about which he had heard. He did not reveal the name of his home for some time and Mr. and Mrs. Corn, who could not bear to see the youth wandering around without proper care, took charge of him. The doctor, who became a member of the family about 1906, was nicknamed "Six-Shooter Bill" by several White Oaks residents of those days. A daughter of the Corns reports Dr. Smith has more than repaid the kindness extended him by her parents and that he is a well beloved member of their family.

Dick Roberts Injures Ankle In Laundry Press

Dick Roberts in a long distance call to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roberts, here, informed them he had inadvertently caught his ankle on the pedal of the steam press he was operating in the Navy's laundry at Pearl Harbor and chipped the bone. He reported he is experiencing no difficulty from the injured ankle which has been taped, and is able to perform his routine duties.

Dick told his parents that his mates celebrated his 20th birthday anniversary with a party aboard ship and that he had served part of the birthday cake made and sent to him by his mother.

The young sailor does not expect to receive another leave until January or March, and sent greetings to his many friends in this county.

REA Board Meets

An announcement from Wilbur Coe, Glencoe, one of the trustees of the Otero County Electric Cooperative, this week stated it had been learned at the Sept. 15 meeting of the board of directors of the cooperative that approximately 300 consumers had failed to make their membership legal. As a result, said Coe, it was necessary the board postpone the recessed annual meeting until those members have had opportunity to establish their eligibility for voting.

According to the Glencoe man, the board also voted to revise the amendments that were to have been submitted at the regular meeting, and all members will be given ample notice of the forthcoming conference and the proposed revisions.

Other trustees of the Otero County Electric Cooperative attending the Sept. 15 meeting included Charles Fuller and Milton Noble of Picacho.

Women's Society For Christian Service Meets

The Women's Society for Christian Service of the Carrizozo Trinity Methodist Church met September 11 at the home of Mrs. J. E. Thornton.

Mrs. Spence Davitt, president, presided at the gathering where plans were formulated to furnish the kitchen in the new church educational building now under construction.

Plans were also discussed for the rummage and bake sale to be held September 27 at the Carrizozo Fire Hall, starting at 9 A. M.

Miss Frances Degner presented the program on "Religion and Economics" in which she was assisted by Mesdames F. O. Brown, C. E. Degner, L. Z. Manire and Clyde Brewster. Twelve members of the organization and two visitors attended the afternoon event at the conclusion of which guests were served with the delectable refreshments for which the hostess' cookery ability is well known.

The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Calvin Carl with Mrs. J. E. Thornton in charge of the program entitled "A Review on A Christian Vocation."

A series of visitation get-togethers is being held to stimulate interest of the society's members in the meaning of the work of the organization, as well as to attract new members. The first of the series of meetings was held at the home of Mrs. Pay Harkey on September 12 with the second scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. Clyde Brewster September 19. The latter announced this week that women of any religious denomination in the community are cordially invited.

Carrizozo High School Seniors Elect Officers

Carrizozo High School seniors have elected their class officers for the current school term, according to Birtha Shrum, class reporter. Other elected officers include Richard Lopez, president (Lopez received the unanimous vote of the class); Elaine Shults, vice president, and Viola Vega, secretary-treasurer. The class sponsor is Miss Bettie-Lou Grogan with Clyde Shults as the co-sponsor.

Miss Shrum reports the local seniors have concluded the initiation of Carrizozo's freshman students who were acknowledged by their tormentors as being most cooperative. The letter "C" was willingly painted on a nearby hillside, according to the reporter, with only the help of an instrument known as a "hot shot" and the members of the mighty senior class.

At the conclusion of their duty painting, the freshmen and the seniors, together with their sponsors enjoyed a picnic lunch provided by girl members of the freshman class.

Both groups expressed their enjoyment over the gathering and vowed the freshmen initiation of 1951 will never be forgotten by any of the participants.

Miss Shrum also reported the senior students have ordered their class rings as well as an additional one which will be presented as a gift to their sponsor, Miss Grogan.

Records on dairy heifers produced through artificial insemination show that they average 40 pounds more butterfat than their dams. DHIA records on 429 dam and daughter pairs show an average of 378.8 pounds of butterfat for the dams, while the daughters averaged 424.8 pounds per year.

Pink And Blue Shower Held For Mrs. Ben Smith

A pink and blue shower held at the Carrizozo home of Mrs. Elbert Brown during the afternoon of Sept. 12 honored Mrs. Ben Smith, wife of the custodian of the jail here.

Games were enjoyed by the guests with Mesdames Betty Stewart and Walter Hobbs of Ancho the recipients of the prizes awarded to the winning players.

The gift table was centered with a large stork around which the guests heaped their offerings. The honoree, the former Myrtle Hobbs of Ancho, received a number of attractive gifts for the heir or heiress expected in December. The Smiths, who are hoping the new baby will be a son, have two daughters.

Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served by the hostess after the opening of the gifts. The guests, who are friends of the honoree, included Mesdames Elva Wilson, Betty Stewart, Rose Harkey, Walter Hobbs (mother of the guest of honor), Bryan Hightower, John Allen Hightower and Harry Straley of Ancho; Dirmat Bond, Corona; Dee McDaniel, Ernest Aguayo, Clara Bell and Herman Kelt, Sr., all of Carrizozo.

Ruidoso Beats Carlsbad. Ruidoso was on the winning end of the 25-9 score in last Friday's game with the Carlsbad B team in the latter town.

Buck Morrison was high point man while his teammates, Billy Tucker and Marion Gayden, were other point boosters for the Lincoln County football players.

Friday's game is reported as the 17th consecutive win for the Ruidoso players. They are scheduled to play Capitan today on their home field.

Kan. Red Cross Praises Carrizozo Students

A telegram received this week by Mrs. Laura Crawford, executive secretary of the Lincoln County Red Cross chapter, from J. H. Abrams, chairman of the Shawnee County Red Cross chapter at Topeka, Kan., expressed appreciation for the thoughtfulness of Carrizozo students in offering clothing to refugees of the flooded areas in that state.

The Carrizozo students had expressed to Mrs. Crawford their desire to aid Kansans made homeless by the recent floods with a collection of clothing, but Mr. Abrams' telegram stated the emergency clothing quota had been filled and no further need existed at this time.

Mrs. Crawford explained the clothing collected through the thoughtfulness of the local students will be used to good advantage in this county or elsewhere if an emergency arises.

Skating Discontinued. The Carrizozo Lions Club announced this week the discontinuance of roller skating at Miller's Hall on Friday nights during the fall and winter months.

Club officials said there was not sufficient patronage to justify its operation, but indicated it would be resumed in the spring.

School and Career Girl Fashions Show Smart Styling

By Erita Haley

SCHOOL and career girls who are anxious to have clothes with the latest style features...

Both luxurious and practical materials are used for clothes of this type, the range being from velveteen to textured cottons...

True blue work denim is still used for separates, and heavy corduroy is a favorite...

Textured woolens, heavy and interesting are being used extensively, both in coats and jackets...

Full skirts for sportswear are something novel, but they're here. With these go the short, thick, fitted jackets or boxy short jackets...

You'll be seeing more of pedal pushers and slacks, too, but they are different from former years: always lean, always tapered...

The sweater look is not just for sweaters; it's used in dresses too

Noteworthy Tweed

A truly nice suit in herring-bone tweed goes anywhere in the best of taste. The new fall skirt is nicely draped...

signs available in luscious fabrics. One seen is a sleekly fitted coat with a padded hipline...

Velveteen, Corduroy Are Popular for Suits, Coats. Coats for the school and career girl in the budget-wise class have high styling, good color and texture...

...and tapered slacks rate for college. Jacket that's a fitted tunic, topped with a little white collar, the trademark of the modern college or career girl.

Denims have been styled for both country and city. Black jet, crisp-trim and soutache embroidery trim some of the corduroy skirts...

Young Girls' Clothes Have Touch of Paris. Girls from three to sixteen need no longer envy their big sisters' clothes...

However, lest mother start worrying about these clothes making her younger daughter too sophisticated, she should be assured that all this has been done with the still young look in mind...

Everything from ponchos to push-up sleeves, from stoles to sheaths and from dusters to dropped shoulder lines are included in the exciting collections of clothes for the young. Plaids using every color in this year's fashion spectrum are available...

Sleepwear is Designed For Double Duty. When you relax, you'll be able to do so in complete comfort. Not only that, but sleepwear is designed for double duty, for both sleeping and lounging.

Pajamas and robe sets come in bright colored flannel, in autumn hued corduroy combined with rich plaids, as well as in quilted and plain denim.

There's real styling evident in some of the sleepwear, too. One of these is an ensemble in red, white and blue striped cardigan worn over a white fencer's shirt and blue pants...

Robes, for the most part, are very roomy and comfortable, some in the easy-to-wear duster style and others in the pyramid style of the new robe.

Date Clothes Designed In Feminine Tradition. Not even a fairy princess can look lovelier than any girl in the new party-going or date clothes of the season...

There are a group of short formal created in beautiful shades of velveteen: burnt orange, fuchsia, aquamarine, red and black. Decollete necklines and full skirts dominate, and these also have the outstanding bodice and skirt detail.

Petticoats hit their full stride with the formals.

KATHLEEN NORRIS

Two Wives in One House—Doubt

WHEN we married, Alfred and I moved to a town some miles away from home," writes Mildred King from Troy. "We bought a somewhat larger house than we needed, because it was all we could get, and I carry rather heavy payments. I got a job with the idea it was temporary...

"We had been married a year when my school chum, Linda, came to town, and got a job with me. We had plenty of room for her, and as I was then expecting a baby it seemed a very normal arrangement for her to board with us and help me with the care of the house. After Jehane was born I thought I would not go back to work, but Linda had lost her job because it involved more standing than was good for her back...

"Linda adores Jehane and manages her better than I do; Al is a good cook and likes to do the marketing on the way home and help her with dinner. You can see how this leaves me out. By the time I get home everything is quiet; Jehane, who sleeps in Linda's of the triangle sort; I know I am lucky to have this housekeeper at a mere $50 a month, which is all she wants. Linda is happy, and Al often says he is a fortunate man. But is this arrangement safe, and what would be the eventual outcome if I let things go on this way for awhile?"

"Yes!" In answer to Mildred I am going to say something that may surprise her. I am saying "yes," to the last question in her letter.

Yes, I'd let things go on this way for awhile, Mildred. I know that many of your women friends, and perhaps your mother, if she were living, might say, "Get rid of that woman! Don't have her in your house another minute! She is a snake in the grass."

But think what that would mean. Breaking up a friendship that all three of you value. Making all three of you uncomfortable. Hurting Al, and perhaps awakening in his heart a loyalty for Linda. Even if he doesn't love her, even if he's one of those men who love domestic peace and good meals and his well-run home and his child and his handsome capable wife, and isn't too analytical, he might easily resent your being "mean" to Linda.

Research Begins On Barrier Reef

Australia Coral Shelf Lures Men of Science

The Great Barrier Reef, the world's largest known coral expanse, stretches for 1,300 miles along Australia's northeast coast. Its mysteries again attract the attention of "sea farmers" and scientists as Queensland prepares to build a permanent marine research station on Heron Island in the reef area.

Since the first scientific probing of the Great Barrier Reef by the British more than a century ago, thousands of its secrets have been unveiled. Countless more remain to be revealed.

The reef, lying 20 to 150 miles off the Queensland shore, covers approximately 80,000 square miles. It offers pearl oysters and trochus shells for the mother-of-pearl trade. Its edible varieties of beche-de-mer, or sea cucumber, provide the dried product known commercially as trepang, soup ingredient popular with the Chinese. Many other products from the reef's vast curtain of coral and the life that evolves around it are marketed or await economic development.

Drama has surrounded the Great Barrier Reef since it was discovered by Captain James Cook in 1770. Having no knowledge of it on his charts, Cook sailed his ship into the barrier, the jagged prongs of coral piercing the hull. From the hilltop near where Cooktown now stands, Captain Cook was able to see for the first time the shadows of the reef as he looked far out to sea.

Cook's adventures and those of Captain Bligh, commander of the Bounty, plus the stories of numerous shipwrecks through the years, are still told around the island campuses of those who visit the Great Barrier Reef. For them there is no haunting fear of the dangers beneath the surface of the tropic sea.

This Nebraska Farmer Says: "FIRESTONE OPEN CENTERS FOR ME"

"I farm 320 acres of bottom land. Sometimes it gets pretty dry and hard, and other times it gets soft and sticky. I like the Firestone Open Centers for my farm because, no matter what condition the ground's in, I can always depend on them to do a good job. In my opinion they're the best all-around tires a farmer can use." Glenn Sauffer, Meadow Grove, Neb.

AMONG THE OPEN CENTER BUYERS MORE AND MORE FARMERS CHOOSE

Firestone CHAMPIONS

FROM across the road all open center tires look about the same, but from a tractor seat farmers soon see why the Firestone Open Center outpulls all other open center tires.

Watch a Firestone Open Center in operation. You can see how the sharp taper of its bars makes them bite their way into the ground... You can see how the curved design of the bars makes them cup the soil for a stronger hold... You can see how the Flared Openings between the bars let the soil fall free to keep the tread clean. You'll find the Firestone Champion the best open center tire you can use.

Of course there are over a million farmers who would rather have a tractor center type of tire, and if that's the kind you prefer, get the one and only Firestone Traction Center.

ONCE OVER

Sam, Those Ships Were No Gift?

By H. I. Phillips

RUSSIA still refuses to return any of the 670 ships loaned to it by Uncle Sam during the last world war or to make any fair cash settlement, it is announced. There probably is a note in preparation which will say:

"The U.S.S.R., amused again by the matter, wishes to inform the Government of the United States that, as is well known, by the repeated renewal of inquiries about these ships it is pursuing a course typical of the war-mongering nations. The U.S.S.R., on the contrary, always a leader in the movement for peace, strives for accord by dropping the subject. Even assuming for the sake of argument (and the U.S.S.R. is always happy to assume anything for it) that Russia has 670 vessels lent to it by the United States, could any nation other than an aggressive trouble-maker keep bringing up the matter?"

"The U.S.S.R., in keeping with its well-known policy of striving for better understanding, desires to drop the subject. The simple truth, as is well known to all peace-loving nations, is that these 670 ships constitute an American WAR FLEET. At the very moment they are being employed by the American Government as a means of stirring up another war. The claim is made that these ships are in Russian hands. This is perhaps true, but who is causing a disturbance by means of them? Who is using them to stir up aggressive feelings? The American Government, by repeatedly mentioning these vessels as having been loaned to Russia and asking for their return, obviously arouses bad feeling.

"Not content with asking the return of a loan, which is always apt to stir up ill will, the United States makes the alternative suggestion of a small cash settlement. It must be well aware that the mention of money in settlement of a loan can always lead to an argument and is never conducive to peace and happiness. It is within the power of the United States to remove all cause of unfriendly feelings by dropping the issue and ceasing to point to the terms under which the 670 ships were sent to the U.S.S.R. in her hour of need.

"Washington, by the use of two little words, can bring the U.S.S.R. and the United States closer together. These words are 'Forget it.' But the grasping agents of Wall Street prefer the eight words 'Let's be honest and abide by a contract.'

"These eight words are characteristic of the bourgeois mind. The U.S.S.R. desires to emphasize that these 670 ships are in a sense being used in an attack on Russia. They could well be seized and put on trial immediately as instruments in a plot by the bloodthirsty forces of American militarism to create an issue by which peace and brotherly love can be further deferred. As is well known by all countries interested in world accord, all ships which were sent to Russia by the United States were clearly sent as Christmas gifts and bundles for Russians. The U.S.S.R. has photographs to prove that these vessels arrived decked in holly, that red ribbons flew from the masts and that two cruisers were plainly labeled 'Candy Cane.' Furthermore, the whole world remembers that the great need was for a knockout wallop and that America repeatedly pledged itself to 'aid all we can to the Russian sock.'

room, long asleep, Linda usually asleep, and Al reading in bed waiting for me. It all seems to work like a charm, we almost own the house now, and have added luxuries like a washer, dryer, television and so on. But what good does that do me?

"On Sundays sometimes we picnic with the baby. Al leaving me at the hotel at three. If I were sure in my mind how I feel about all this, I wouldn't be writing you." Mildred's letter goes on. "We are accustomed now to the double income; mine as good as Al's. It means clothes, extras, it means my independence. Linda might take her turn at working now on some job, but she hates the idea, and the little she could pay wouldn't compensate for my being idle.

"The one thing I haven't asked you," this letter concludes, "is this: Is Al in love with Linda, and is she in love with him? That's what I don't know. Linda is not pretty, she is tall, lean, she has a sort of funny whine in her voice and is always making fun of herself. I am dark, small, was always considered good-looking, and have a good figure.
