Commissioners Reject Local Option Petitions

The Lincoln County Board of Commissioners who met in session Tuesday to consider the budget for the next fiscal year, told the News-Outlook they will reject the petitions of approximately 1,100 persons calling for a local option election to vote on Sunday liquor sales in the county. The petitions were presented by liquor dealers of Riverside and Ruidoso at the June 4 meeting of the commissioners. The rejection of the petitions is based on information from the district attorney's office which indicates Sunday sales by local option are illegal. Attorney General Joe L. Martinez stated, when the question first arose, New Mexico law permitted local option elections, but reversed himself later and said former Governor John E. Miles had vetoed that section of the law in 1939.

The Lincoln County commissioners said they expected to notify A. B. Carpenter, Roswell attorney, who is handling the case for the liquor dealers, of their decision. Carpenter is reported to be seeking the state Supreme Court to take original jurisdiction in the matter in order to avoid a long court battle. At present time no further information had been received concerning this aspect of the case.

At the June 4 meeting of the board of commissioners, dealers from Ruidoso and Riverside were in Carrizozo to present their arguments for Sunday liquor sales, and indicated they will make a test case of the issue to determine its legality. They argued a number of businessmen in the Ruidoso area may be forced to leave if liquor sales on Sunday are not permitted, and stated a large volume of business is being lost to the county from the "area" as a result of Sunday liquor sales in Juarez. The liquor dealers did not amplify their statement concerning "area."

Their attorney, A. B. Carpenter, told the commissioners at the June 4 meeting he is basing his case on the contention the former governor did not have the power to veto that section of the law referring to local option elections for Sunday liquor sales. Carpenter contends the only time the governor may veto a portion of a bill is when that portion concerns appropriations. He added the bill should not be classed with the usual appropriations bills since it was a revision of a former bill and the only reference to an appropriation contained therein is that 7 per cent of license fees, etc., collected be used to cover administrative costs. He stated that Governor Miles did not strike out that portion of the bill.

Carpenter also contends that on bills passed during the last three days of the Legislature, the governor has a six-day period to sign and return. Since Miles signed and returned this particular bill within the required time limit, said the Roswell attorney, it is his belief the bill in its entirety is the law.

It was emphasized by Carpenter the greater portion of the county's population is in the Ruidoso area which he stated is a source of considerable revenue to the county. He also stated the large number of signatures obtained—about 1,100—indicated the residents of Lincoln County want permission to buy liquor on Sundays.

Church and temperance groups throughout the state have indicated they will oppose any action to invalidate Miles' veto of the section of the law pertaining to local option elections. A number of residents in Lincoln County have indicated their opposition to Sunday liquor sales.

Makes West Coast Trip

Mrs. Vernon Petty, wife of the town's mayor, has returned from a West Coast trip where she took her mother-in-law, Mrs. J. F. Petty, to Los Angeles for an indefinite visit with the latter's sister, Mrs. Ella Varner. The senior Mrs. Petty has been in ill health. While in California, Mrs. Vernon Petty was the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. L. Crowe of Marysville.

Hospital Landscaping Contingent On Funds

Further landscaping at the local hospital is contingent upon replenishment of the fund for that purpose, hospital authorities said this week. The landscaping fund is depleted and the additional work needed must wait until money is available for the purpose.

Landscaping completed to date includes cement block walls enclosing the grounds in front of the hospital and from the rear of the hospital to the lot line and extending along it to the nurses' home; planting of shrubbery in the front and on the side of the hospital; a lawn in front of the hospital; and a flower bed along the side of the building. Mrs. Charles Fuller of Pecos has taken over the planting of the flower bed and has made herself responsible for it.

The State Highway Department informed the hospital it will blacktop the parking lots whenever workmen and equipment are in the area, but in the meantime hospital authorities with the assistance of the village of Carrizozo are hauling in gravel to ally the dust problem, since it is not definitely known when the state will be in this vicinity.

Future landscaping plans include the planting of more lawn, shrubbery and flower beds, the planting of a row of trees along the inside of the wall in front of the hospital, and an additional wall along the side street by the hospital.

The Tres Valles Garden Club and the C. A. Byers Nursery at Ruidoso have assisted the local institution in the landscaping done to date, but further work cannot be done until funds are available.

At the opening of the hospital in January, 1950, a silver tea was held to provide for landscaping, and approximately $300 was collected at that time. The Tres Valles Garden Club later allocated $100 to supplement the fund, and several individual contributions were received.

The landscaping that has been done so far has added immeasurably to the attractiveness of the two new buildings, and anything that can be done by the community to effect the completion of the necessary work that remains to be done will pay dividends of civic pride in knowing the Lincoln County Municipal Hospital and grounds will compare favorably with any in the state.

Lincoln County Students Attend FHA Sessions

Two Lincoln County students are numbered among the 14 teenage New Mexico girls participating in the western leadership training course for Future Homemakers of America at Estes Park, Colo., this week. The two girls are Misses Barbara Cannon of Ruidoso and Connel Dean of Blingham.

Accompanying the group were Miss Catherine Dick, itinerant teacher-trainer in home economics with the State Department of Vocational Education, and two adult advisors of FHA chapters, Misses Peggy Ray of Fort Sumner and Ethel Stanley of Dexter.

The 14 members of New Mexico's delegation are officers in the state association, which has 65 chapters with a total membership of 2,431 girls.

Home On Leave

Corporal David A. Sanchez has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Joe Ortiz, and family, of Carrizozo. Sanchez, who is on furlough from Brooks Air Base, Texas, expects to receive an assignment in the Far East. The young soldier, who also is visiting other relatives and friends in Carrizozo and vicinity, reports his base was recently alerted for a storm of hurricane proportions, and made a number of elaborate preparations for the safety of the camp's personnel. However, the air base was fortunate enough to be missed by the storm by approximately 50 miles.

Newsman Convened; Deplore Attacks

Members of the New Mexico Press Association at their convention in Santa Fe last weekend were unanimous in a resolution which deplored recent attacks upon employees of the Santa Fe New Mexican at a night club in the capitol city, and expressed the hope the attitude of the city police in those particular instances was not "typical."

It is alleged the attacks are the result of articles published by the Santa Fe paper alluding to city council meetings at which it was reported gambling existed in the town without satisfactory police action. District Attorney Bert Prince has called for a grand jury in Santa Fe County to meet at the earliest possible date, and take up this situation as well as others.

Approximately 150 editors, publishers and members of the working press convened in Santa Fe last Friday for their summer convention. Murray M. Morgan, Alamogordo, president of the association, presided at all sessions.

Registration opened at the La Fondá Hotel where Mrs. Edwin L. Mechem, wife of New Mexico's governor, entertained at a buffet breakfast for the visitors. A noon luncheon at the hotel with Santa Fe printers and publishers and the Chamber of Commerce as hosts marked the official opening of the two-day conclave.

Larry Martin, Denver Post columnist who recently returned from a trip to countries behind the Iron Curtain, gave a talk on conditions there and mentioned some of his experiences. He named persons and places where the undercover movement against communism is in full force, and that the Communist form of government is failing in many places over there because promises to the people have not been kept. Martin declared that the clothing and food sent to several of those countries had done more to slow down communism than any other thing the United States had done. He related that letters were getting to persons in the Iron Curtain countries, sent there by relatives and friends in this country, and the messages sent by the U. S. residents were having a profound effect. Martin also stated that radio broadcasts from this country were getting through and that the people were listening. One man, reported by Martin as an anti-Communist, told him a year or more ago there were approximately 150,000 persons working against communism, but during the columnist's recent visit in Europe, informed him there were at least a quarter of a million people fighting its

Lincoln County Ropers Club Cancels Rodeo

The annual Capitan rodeo scheduled to be held in July has been canceled, according to an announcement made by the Lincoln County Ropers Club.

The cancellation, reports club officials, is necessary because of inability to secure cattle for the event.

However, two benefit dances for July 3 and 4 to be sponsored by the club and the Capitan Fire Department are now being planned. Proceeds will be divided between the two organizations and placed in accounts the funds from which are used for special projects. The fire department's fund will be used to replace damaged clothing of firemen, or medical treatment in case of injury.

Watch next week's issue of the News-Outlook for complete details regarding these benefit dances.

Vets Representative To Be In Roswell Tuesday

Richard M. Lawson, contact representative for Veterans Administration, informed the News-Outlook he plans to be in Roswell Tuesday, June 26.

Lawson stated veterans and dependents of veterans are invited to contact him at the office of the mayor in City Hall between the hours of 10 A. M. and 5 P. M. on that date for information or assistance in connection with veterans' benefits.

Lincoln Co. Horses Win Awards In Sandia Show

Owned by Mrs. Pat Winter of Carrizozo, the three gelding sons of Silverstone AQHA-P-100 (a grand champion horse belonging to Mrs. Winter) won an array of awards at the Sandia Horse Show held in Albuquerque June 16-17. Snooper Silverstone, aged 3, won first in the junior Palomino model class, second in the barrel race, and third in the reining class against approximately 30 aged horses.

Red Jug Silverstone, also aged 3, was third in the barrel race, and went into the finals for the reining class. This was the first show for the two colts who had five weeks training prior to their entry.

Chester Silverstone, 2 years old, placed third in the quarter horse gelding class.

Grand champion stallion of the show was Chubnik, while Jole Blon (owned by Glen Casey, Amarillo) was selected the grand champion mare. It was the latter horse's 26th grand championship.

Justice of the Peace Manuel V. Chavez, Carrizozo, said charges had been filed on June 20 by Sheriff S. M. Ortiz against a juvenile in connection with the shooting of a gun on the main street of the village last week. Chavez said the juvenile is accused of "discharging a firearm within a settlement."

Capitan Locale Of Geological Study

The 1951 geology field camp from New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology has completed setting up operations five miles north of Capitan for six weeks of intensive geological mapping of that area under the supervision of Dr. Stewart M. Jones, assistant professor. Topographic work on the project was completed earlier.

Dr. John Elliot Allen, head of the geology department, accompanied the group of seven senior and graduate students and Dr. Jones to see them established complete with two galley and schoolroom equipped trailers, which will serve as headquarters while they map 225 square miles of the Capitan Quadrangle.

The field camp is part of the geology course at NMIMT, and occupies six weeks. The stated purpose of this year's camp is to study the general economic geology of the Capitan topography and adjacent areas.

Traveling as a mechanized unit, the class is equipped with two converted radar trailers as operations headquarters. One of these, complete with sink, refrigerator table, a range and refrigerator to utilize butane-type gas, serves as galley; a partition in the rear cuts off space for office and storage of gear. Backed end to end with this and connected by a "breezeway" the other trailer contains 10 bunks, army pullman style, which convert in daytime to beds and study tables when the trailer becomes a classroom. An end bunk reverses in the day to become a blackboard for illustrated examples by Professor Jones. Water for cooking and personal use is provided by a tank truck of 300-gallon capacity. Vehicles used to convey students and equipment beyond usual walking distances into the field are a carryall and half-ton truck.

All students will map and the results of their work will be consolidated in a publication made up of data and information useful to individuals and corporations engaged in coal mining, petroleum exploration, gold, iron, tungsten and ground water resources. Names of all individuals gathering and compiling this material will be credited in the report which, when completed, will be published by the Bureau of Mines and Mineral Resources division of the institute.

The camp will continue in operation until July 21.

Historical Society Plans Annual Lincoln Pageant

A meeting of the Lincoln County Historical Society at the museum in Lincoln on June 24 at 2 P. M. was announced this week by Mrs. Ruth Martin, secretary-treasurer of the group.

The meeting is being called, said Mrs. Martin, to discuss plans for the annual "A Day in Old Lincoln" pageant which is presented by the society, as well as to stimulate interest in the organization. The Lincoln County group has sponsored the pageant since the first year of its inception.

Presiding over Sunday's meeting will be Wilbur Coe, Glencoe, president of the society. He will be assisted by his committee members, Mrs. John Davis, curator at the museum, and Mrs. Ruth Martin, both of Lincoln.

The society is hopeful a large number of Lincoln County residents will attend the meeting, as well as take an active part in its work.

S. P. 'Dieselizing' Fails To Halt Water Curbs

The Southern Pacific Company, who last week, it was disclosed, was conferring with several groups regarding the sale of Bonito Dam (source of the water supply for Carrizozo and other villages along the line as far as Vaughn), stating the advent of the diesel locomotive has made this water source no longer essential to the railroad's operations, restricted water use by Carrizozo residents in a sudden and surprising move this week.

Since the announcement was made last week that Southern Pacific is considering the sale of Bonito Dam, residents of Carrizozo have been under the impression the railroad is no longer in need of the water from the dam, and the order for a drastic reduction in use comes as a complete surprise. Mayor Vernon Petty was advised on Wednesday without advance warning the line into the village was to be "pinched" immediately. The "pinching" of the town's water line means that residents on the south side of the tracks in Carrizozo will be most affected, and the city is acting immediately to give those residents as much relief as possible. Once more the village will cut off water on the north side three hours each day. Those hours are from 6 to 7 and 9 to 10 A. M. and 3 to 4 P. M.

During those hours residents on the south side are urged to draw water for use during the hours they may be unable to draw it through their pipes. The south side of the village is higher than the north and when the railroad "pinches" the line for their use, it cuts down considerably on the pressure and most sections on that side of town will be entirely without water during the hours allocation elsewhere.

Circulars regarding the railroad's restriction of water are being printed as soon as possible for distribution to the residents of the community, urging conservation of water and giving the hours when it will be cut off entirely on the north side of the village.

The proposed sale was first disclosed on June 13 in an AP story out of El Paso which stated that two Ruidoso men, W. A. Hart and Carmon Phillips, were among those conferring with Southern Pacific officials regarding a deal on the 62-acre lake and 7,000 acres of land between Bonita and Eagle Creeks for a consideration reported as between $500,000 and $600,000.

R. P. Bray, Los Angeles, head of the railroad's district land office, was in El Paso to talk with the prospective buyers. The Ruidoso men were said to hold an option to purchase the property owned by the Southern Pacific Company. It has been closed to the public under the present ownership.

The Associated Press story came as a surprise to water

Local Delegate Reports On Boys State Meeting

Richard Lopez, delegate of the Carrizozo American Legion to Boys State at El Rito last week, gave a report on his experiences as a member of that group.

The delegates attended lectures on law and law enforcement conducted by Phen Perry of the FBI, and Captain White of the New Mexico state police. Tests based on the lectures were given to members of the group, followed by the setting up of a form of government comparable to that of the state. Various delegates campaigned for certain offices followed by an election in which they voted for the candidate of their choice.

Following the election the Boys State government was put into operation with mock courts determining the guilt or innocence of members brought before them. The boys legislature was in session passing or rejecting bills which might later appear before the real state legislature.

The local delegate was elected state representative and took part in the legislative program. It was not all work, however, said Lopez. Teams were organized to participate in various sports, and competed against one another. A demonstration of firearms was given by Mr. Hay, El Paso FBI man, together with a movie of actual crime cases.

At the inauguration of the Boys State governor, Don Wright of Santa Fe, Governor Edwin L. Mechem addressed the delegates and certain officers of the group were given their oaths. Two members of Boys State will attend Boys Nation in Washington, D. C., at a later date.

Historical Markers For Malpais Are Approved

L. S. (Heavy) Drake, Ruidoso, state representative, announced this week the State Tourist Bureau has approved the erection of historical markers east and west of the Malpais on Highway 350 which was requested recently by the Carrizozo Lions Club. The markers give a brief history of the Malpais.

Drake also reported construction is underway north and south of Duran for a total of approximately 11½ miles on Highway 54, and 2½ miles on Highway 37 from Ruidoso to the Municipal Airport.

The state representative said he had expressed appreciation to the State Highway Department on behalf of the residents of Lincoln County for these two projects.

At a meeting of the State Highway Commission in Santa Fe Tuesday, Drake requested more road work on Highways 54 and 37. Ralph Jones, chairman of the commission, told him the State Highway Commission will be glad to consider all requests for state projects as funds are available. Jones pointed out there are 22 counties in which highway construction is necessary.

One Killed In Ruidoso Weekend Accidents

The village of Ruidoso last weekend was badgered with a series of automobile accidents which caused one fatality when a car driven by two youths from Bryson, Texas, hit a wall near the town. The other occupant escaped with severe injuries.

Four other cars from out of state were involved in accidents in Ruidoso over the weekend but no injuries were reported.

Sheriff S. M. Ortiz said this week a warning has been issued there that traffic regulations will be strictly enforced, and added that a conviction for reckless driving may mean the revocation of the individual's driver's license.

Also reported from Ruidoso over the weekend was the theft of a safe from a pharmacy there. Not much money was in the safe at the time it was taken out of the store, police officials reported. The safe was found about 300 yards from the pharmacy.

Charges Filed In Last Week's Street Shooting

Justice of the Peace Manuel V. Chavez, Carrizozo, said charges had been filed on June 20 by Sheriff S. M. Ortiz against a juvenile in connection with the shooting of a gun on the main street of the village last week. Chavez said the juvenile is accused of "discharging a firearm within a settlement."

Two persons standing nearby where the gun is alleged to have been fired narrowly escaped being struck. It is reported the gun was accidentally discharged. At press time, a definite date for hearing of the case had not been announced.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Behind the reluctance of Congress to impose new taxes on the American economy is the growing realization among many members that the tax well is about to run dry. It is becoming increasingly evident that the upward zoom in government spending has to stop somewhere or the nation's financial structure is certain to be shattered.

Some figures serve to illustrate what the increasing cost of government on all levels, but principally in the federal sphere, is doing to the taxpayer. Last year, the federal government alone spent $40 billion. That is roughly $200 for every man, woman and infant in this entire country.

That $40 billion is $10 billion more than was spent by the national government during the six years of 1930 through 1935. It is four and a half times the 1939 total and three times the amount spent in 1941. It is more federal spending in two hours than Thomas Jefferson's government did in a year.

Added on to the $40 billion of federal expenditures is another $20 billion levied by state and local governments. Altogether, these governments require 25 percent of the total production—and consequently, of the total energies—of all Americans. In other words, if you work eight hours a day, you can figure that two hours of it is being done for government.

With all other considerations put aside, a large scale tax increase is impractical because of the difficulty in collecting it. When people are taxed above their ability to pay, tax evasion cases increase with the consequent expense of enforcing the laws and bringing the offenders into court.

Recognizing this, the government has sought to make employers and businesses unpaid agents for the Internal Revenue Department. They are forced to withhold income tax from employees with its consequent involved bookkeeping. Now it is proposed to withhold taxes on dividends and interest paid. This trend results in industry becoming the servant of the government to an extent where much of the time of paid accountants must be utilized to do the government's tax collecting work.

Another effect of the strident financial load of federal spending is the tendency to overload certain groups with taxation. I wrote recently about what I considered the current unfair heaping of taxes on the automobile industry and users. This is tax discrimination at its worst and certainly cannot be justified.

Holding down any large tax increases is not just a matter of something we would like to do. It is imperative. The only sane way out of our financial dilemma is through a sharp reduction in federal spending. Apparently, it is a way which Congress must force on the agencies involved.

ROUGH TIMES AHEAD. The Defense Production Act, due to expire June 30 unless it is extended by Congress, appears in for some rough going. Administration of the act has brought forth severe criticism from a number of quarters. Price controls and credit restrictions have been two features that have come in for unusually heavy fire.

The meat price roll back order, which has met the wrath of cattlemen, is now being studied by the House Committee on Agriculture. The Defense Production Act in general is under consideration by the House and Senate Committees on Banking and Currency.

Likeliest prospect is that the Congress might extend the DPA "as is" for a short period to allow more time for careful study and revision to eliminate weaknesses of the legislation.

LAST OF LUSTRON. A large portion of the capital assets of the former Lustron Corporation, Columbus, Ohio, have been acquired by the Navy, that depart-

Korean Veterans May Apply For Insurance

Eligible veterans who served in the armed forces since the start of the Korean campaign may apply after discharge for the new post-service term insurance provided by the Insurance Act of 1951.

No medical examination is required for this insurance.

To be eligible, veterans must have been entitled to indemnity protection under the Indemnity Act of 1951 and must have been ordered into active service for a period in excess of 30 days. This would include veterans ordered into such service who were in service on June 27, 1950, and those entering service on and after that date.

VA said these veterans need not have served in the Korean campaign itself; the required service anywhere in the world will meet this eligibility requirement of the law.

The other requirement is that they must apply in writing to VA for this insurance within 120 days after their separation from service. The application must be accompanied by the correct premium.

The new insurance may be applied for in any amount from $1,000 to $10,000 in multiples of $500. A veteran may not carry at any one time an amount of government life insurance in excess of $10,000. This includes the new insurance, the National Service Life Insurance (World War II) and the U. S. Government Life Insurance (World War I), or any combination of the three.

Applications for the new insurance, properly filled out and accompanied by the required premiums, are to be forwarded to: Central Office, Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C. All premiums thereafter are to be mailed to the same office.

ment has announced. Lustron received nationwide attention through its somewhat questionable connections with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The pre-fabricated housing firm later declared bankruptcy. The Navy has announced it will sell that portion of the Lustron equipment which it does not need. Those interested in purchasing any part of it should write the Property Disposal Division, Navy Department, 1375 Euclid Avenue, Fifth Floor, WJW Building, Cleveland 15, Ohio, for catalogs and information.

CURE FOR COMMUNISM. June 14, Americans observed Flag Day, by paying tribute to the red, white and blue that has served through the years as a symbol of freedom to true Americans everywhere.

Sometimes Americans lose sight of just what "Old Glory" stands for, and some feel slightly embarrassed at the pledge of allegiance or the playing of the National Anthem. Some have even gone so far as to term such manifestations as "old-fashioned."

That may be true, but I think this Flag Day is a fitting time to observe that "old-fashioned" Americanism is the only sure cure for the Communist disease which has been worming its way into our system of government.

Every State Accepts National 4-H Programs

For the first time in 4-H club history, the national 4-H dairy achievement, leadership and meat animal awards programs are in effect in every state in the Union in 1951.

In all three programs, medals of honor are awarded to county winners, and 17-jewel wrist watches to state champions. Sectional winners picked from the latter will be given all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November. National winners receive $300 college scholarships. The leadership and meat animal awards are being provided respectively by Edward Foss Wilson and Thomas E. Wilson, Chicago meat packer executives. Dairy awards will be furnished by Lederle Laboratories.

The first place boy and girl in 4-H leadership each will also receive a silver trophy, and the second place boy and girl each will be awarded a $150 college scholarship.

All of these programs are conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service. County extension agents will furnish full information about the program.

Wage-Hour Law Covers Feed, Grain Dealers

New Mexico grain and feed dealers who manufacture, sell, or distribute livestock and poultry feeds are covered by the minimum wage and overtime pay provisions of the amended Federal Fair Labor Standards Act, just as they were by the old law enacted in 1938, according to John R. Cartwright, supervisor of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division of the U. S. Department of Labor in New Mexico.

Even though such grain and feed dealers may not sell any of their feed products outside the state, they are not exempt from the law, he said.

Such grain and feed products, even if sold on a strictly intrastate basis, go into livestock and poultry which are sold and shipped outside the state, he said. Whether the product sold outside the state is in the original or a processed form, whether it is all or a part, and whether the sale is direct or indirect makes no difference. The law applies to the original dealer who manufactures, sells or distributes such livestock and poultry feeds from which the interstate product is derived.

Because of possible misunderstanding or confusion on the matter of such coverage by the law, Cartwright said he was anxious that all such dealers should realize that coverage under the amended act was in no way different for them than under the old one. Congress amended the law last year.

He stated a brief digest of the law as it applied to such grain and feed dealers would require them to pay their employees the minimum wage of at least 75 cents an hour and at least time and a half for overtime after 40 hours each week. As to child labor, he said the law would require a minimum age of 10 years for most work in such plants, and 18 years for hazardous jobs.

A&M College Ranch Is Subject Of New Bulletin

To provide New Mexico cattlemen with a handy reference on research in range management and cattle production, the New Mexico Agricultural Experiment Station has published Bulletin 359, "Research on the College Ranch."

The new bulletin is a round-up of the major findings from 24 years of research on the college ranch, most of which was granted to New Mexico by the federal government in 1927 for New Mexico A&M College to use in research, education and demonstration. The bulletin was written by J. H. Knox, head of the college's animal husbandry department, and W. E. Watkins, Marvin Koger and K. A. Valentine, all of the department.

The new publication is divided into three main sections—range management, range nutrition and cattle studies. Each section contains brief discussions of the findings in that field. In the introduction, the authors explain, "Much of this research has already been reported in New Mexico Agricultural Experiment Station bulletins, technical journals and at Ranch Day, but it is brought together here to serve as a ready reference for the ranchers of New Mexico."

Lincoln County Lags In Cancer Fund Drive

Funds collected in Carrizozo in the recent drive of the American Cancer Society amount to approximately $45, reported Elmer Eaker, local druggist, chairman of the drive for this community. Eaker said a check for this amount has been forwarded to state headquarters.

According to statistics released by the Albuquerque office, Lincoln County's quota is $248.05, and is short of that amount by $193.05. The Carrizozo collection will reduce that shortage by about $45. County quotas are set on a population-percentage basis, state division officials said.

Mrs. Jean Mitchell, state ACS commander, after a recheck of the campaign progress with the drive chairman, Ralph Jones, Albuquerque, said the society's state division faces the possibility of limited activities for the current year with only $14,000.67 of their 1951 funds campaign goal of $25,311 reported to date.

Only four counties, Los Alamos, San Miguel, Taos and Torrance, have reached or surpassed their quotas, said Jones. Eaker requests that anyone wishing to give to the cancer campaign send their contributions direct to the American Cancer Society, Albuquerque.

Assignment New Mexico

By G. WARD FENLEY
With all the fussing and fuming that accompanies hot weather, we wonder if lawyers, with more law suits on their hands, aren't the ones who like summer best. One of my best friends dropped by the other day on his way from Oklahoma City to the West Coast. He told me about a fine old colored lady who had a recipe for living—even when the weather waxes hot. Said the good old lady: "When I wuks, I wuks hard; when I sets, I sets loose; and when I wurries, I goes to sleep." Carter Wald in the Belen News Bulletin had last week a recipe for a modern incident: Take one ignorant, natural-born fool. Fill him with one quart of liquor. Place in a modern car. Set it at full speed. Allow to stay for a short time. Remove rufus in rectangular box. Garnish with flowers. That's the kind of recipe that won't help either in hot or cold weather. Some guy downstate, maybe it were around Las Cruces, said gardening was a cure-all for what ails us nowadays. Then he paraphrased: "Old gardeners never die, they just spade away." Wallace Barnes of the Gallup Independent spends his time picking up discrepancies in other people's statements. The other day he got hold of an informative letter from a Texas cattleman: "It takes 273 days for a cow to produce one calf; it takes a sheep 153 days." Wallace says that evidently Texas is further advanced in biological science than New Mexico because he has never heard of an incident where a sheep could produce a calf in any length of time. Gordon Greaves whistles away the hot weather in New Mexico's peanut capital conducting research for the oldest rolling pin in Roosevelt County. Like another state news man, we wonder if Gordon is counting the notches indicating how many heads have been craved by name. As for this old bald-headed professor, he spends his spare moments collecting typo errors. They run as follows: "A prolonged worm spell"—Cruces Sun News; "In the letter part of this year"—Lovington Leader; "The wedding is later"—Alamogordo News; "The city council will adopt a low prohibiting smoking in the balconies"—Santa Fe New Mexican; "There's been a little switching two (or too) on the part of some employes"—Clovis News Journal; "Her only attendance was Miss Kitty Lanlier"—Santa Fe New Mexican. Jack Sliton of the Current Argus picked up a good want ad from the Roswell Record: "Wanted: any kind horses $2 per hundred and up." Jack wondered what the buyer would pay for selfish, stingy, and sarcastic nags. The El Paso Times picked up a wire story about a perfumed pony that would chase away months. "The fragrance is supposed to last six months, repel months, and snore-sultors." And that's all this week while we try to find something that will repel months.

Requirements Listed For Navy Women Recruits

The U. S. Navy recruiting station, located in Roswell, has just announced the new age and physical requirements for woman enlistments. The age requirement has been lowered to 18 years, the eye requirements have been changed to 2-20 in each eye corrective to 20-20. A high school diploma is still required for women enlistments and the Navy will not accept women from 18 to 21 years of age unless they have their parents' consent. Great numbers of women applicants are needed for shore jobs in the United States to replace the men of the Navy who are being assigned to jobs aboard ships. For further information write the Navy Recruiting Office in Roswell or contact the recruiting officer at the Elks Club. The Navy recruiter is at the Elks Club each Monday from 10 to 4.

SICKLY PIGS SHOULD NOT BE VACCINATED

A strong warning has been sounded on the dangers of vaccinating pigs that are not in good health. The Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association warned this week that the double treatment method of vaccination can cause severe trouble if the herd is not in proper condition. It takes a herd examination to decide, because pigs may look healthy, yet be heavily infected with parasites or suffering from digestive disorders. In such cases, they should be treated back to health before an attempt is made to immunize them.

THE SUBSTANCE OF SECURITY

The problem of security has become more and more dominant in all discussions of human affairs. The term "social security" is today almost as much a part of our political-economic language as are the words "profits" and "wages" and "taxes." People have had dinner in their ears by numerous office seekers, office holders and Socialists—the theory that government "social security" covering all citizens would be the final answer to the problem of security.

peace-of-mind which money cannot buy. A Valuable Book Dr. Henry C. Link, one of America's foremost psychologists, has written a book entitled "The Way to Security" (Doubleday). It ought to be read by everybody. With the sureness of a master technician in human behavior, he explores the area of scrambled understanding on the subject of security and sets forth his factual findings in clear language. It is a book such as we desperately need today—since it focuses attention on the spiritual values in the midst of a world-wide movement toward materialism.

family. "The common practice of giving children an automatic allowance," he writes, "prevents them from finding out what life really is. Instead of learning the truth about money, they learn that it is something to be had for nothing. They get the impression that a regular allowance is something they are entitled to by right." This, he says, is an unwholesome attitude and later may hinder the individual's effort to attain economic security.

users along the line, inasmuch as the railroad had given no previous intimation it is interested in selling. Mayor Petty, on behalf of the village of Carrizozo, immediately sent the following telegram to Bray with a copy to A. T. Mercier, president of the company:

"Carrizozo citizens are vitally interested in reports of sale of the Bonito water system. The village of Carrizozo has not been officially notified or offered an opportunity to bid on this water system. In order to protect the interests of the village, Carrizozo City Council unanimously requests an opportunity to bid on the Bonito water system, and desires the following information:

"1. Will it be a sealed bid at a public opening?
"2. When is the closing date for submission of bids?
"3. Will the village be permitted to bid?"

The following is a copy of a wire sent to Petty on June 15 by P. B. Harris, El Paso, land and tax agent for the Southern Pacific:

"Acknowledge your wire June 14 re Bonito Water System. Mr. Bray has left town but am forwarding your message. Possible sale Bonito Water System only in preliminary discussion stage. No decision reached whether sale to be bid basis or otherwise. Conferences to be held with all municipal officials involved within next two weeks."

The water situation this year is following the same ironic pattern employed by the Southern Pacific Company last year. A number of contradictory statements were issued by railroad officials then, and a new crop has sprung up now.

Last year the company urged drastic restriction of water use on the contention the supply was low. Talk of a good snowfall the previous winter, and continued lack of rain. All this time, pipes maintained by the Southern Pacific were leaking water and a final development occurred when the company suddenly announced the reservoir on the edge of Carrizozo had sprung a number of leaks and was the cause of the village's water shortage.

A crew of men worked for approximately six weeks to repair the reservoir which had been wanting a large quantity of water. The repair of the reservoir which was supposed to adjust the situation apparently had little effect, and the village continued to be badgered by the shortage of water. Tourists were even stopping at places of business in town to inquire if the village were really without water. Eventually the rains came, and by late fall the water problem had almost been forgotten by many of the villagers.

Just recently warnings were again received that residents of Carrizozo must once more restrict their use of water with dismal predictions as to the future. The announcement had hardly been received when newspapers appeared with the AP article containing the interesting information that Southern Pacific dieselizing of locomotives had rendered Bonito Dam unnecessary to the railroad's operations. Rumor has it certain interests hope to convert the property into a resort area. Will Robinson, well known New Mexico newspaperman, in his column, "Home on the Range," wonders openly if national gambling interests have their eyes on that section of Lincoln County.

Nevertheless, no matter what the motive of any of the groups may be in seeking to acquire the railroad property, Carrizozo is still exploring the possibility of obtaining its own water system in which they have the cooperation of Dr. E. J. Workman, noted scientist and president of the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology at Socorro. A recent and most important discovery made by Dr. Workman was the finding near Socorro of underground water, in ample supply for the ordinary New Mexico community, below the type of formation where drillers have heretofore stopped. His discovery may have a profound effect upon the future of the state since the water was found in a desert area typical of New Mexico.

Word was received this week of the wedding June 18 at Fort Smith, Ark., of Ernest Vernon Abeyta, former Captain resident now stationed with the U. S. Army at Camp Chaffee, Ark., and Miss Martha Gilman of Belen. Details of the wedding, which was learned when the bridegroom called his sister, Miss Ottila Vega, Carrizozo, by long distance telephone, will be published in next week's issue of the News-Outlook.

Young Abeyta is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Abeyta, former Captain residents who recently moved to Albuquerque. Miss Vega, his sister, is deputy county clerk for Lincoln County.

The young soldier attended the Captain schools where he graduated from Captain Union High School and later graduated from New Mexico Business School at Albuquerque.

Warning
Mayor Vernon Petty announced this week traffic regulations within the village limits are being violated, and officers have been requested to prosecute flagrant violators. Citizens are urged to obey traffic rules.

force. Just after Martin returned to the United States from this last trip, he saw a newspaper article telling of the death of this man while engaged in fighting the Communists.

The newspaper man told New Mexico press members the Communists did not have clear sailing in those countries and that the food and clothing sent by the U. S. had had a lot to do with helping towards its suppression.

Several panel discussions were held concerning the various departments of both daily and weekly newspapers.

A meeting of the New Mexico Press Women was held in the Coronado Room on Friday afternoon with Mrs. Ann D. Clark, president, in charge.

The United States Forest Service, in cooperation with the press, arranged the barbecue held at the Santa Fe Basin Friday night. The visitors left by caravan for the basin.

Santa Fe railroad officials, headed by Ralph Ater, public relations director, hosted a cocktail party at La Placita Saturday night which was followed by a grillon banquet and formal dance at the La Ponda and attended by Governor and Mrs. Edwin L. Mechem and Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Tibo Chavez. Governor Mechem was also a guest at the noon luncheon on Friday.

Phil Higgins of the Santa Fe New Mexican and Charles du Tant, executive secretary to Governor Mechem and a former newspaper publisher, arranged the banquet program which included a number of New Mexico publishers as well as Governor Mechem and Lt. Gov. Chavez. The two state officials added to the fun by impersonating each other.

Albuquerque was voted convention city for the winter meet of New Mexico newspapermen to be held sometime next January.

Many Inquiries Received By '54' Association

Joe Ross, Meade, Kan., president of the National Highway 54 association, reports from 10 to 85 inquiries per day are being received by their information bureau. In addition requests for information from tourist bureaus in the Los Angeles and Arizona areas as well as from the northeast sections of the country have been sent to the national association.

Ross stated the Wichita Beacon gets out a special progress edition each year which goes to 500,000 readers and usually carries a full page advertisement on Highway 54 which is sponsored by individuals, business firms, associations. The association's president expressed the opinion this is very good advertising for Highway 54.

He added that since road improvement on Highway 54 will be underway in practically all the states through which it runs, detours will be in order and suggested it would be extremely helpful for the various highway departments to oil such detours.

Although part of the unpaved portion of this highway in New Mexico will be under construction, approximately 50 miles of it has not been let for contract yet and comes under the type of road avoided by tourists whenever possible.

Ross said the national 54 highway is carrying more traffic than at any time in history and that tourists should be offered every courtesy to keep them traveling it.

Forgotten Man

MOST HOUSEWIVES don't realize it, but the honest meat dealers are the forgotten men in the big squabble over the price of beef. These wholesale and retail meat men are caught between two of the most powerful and vocal groups in the nation—the organized meat packers and the angry, unorganized housewife.

Hundreds of these wholesalers and retailers have been taking their beating in silence because, if they protest, they fear they'll be blackballed by the big packers. And they have good reason to fear the packers' wrath.

Said one meat wholesaler: "If I complain to the OPS, and the packers find out about it, I'll never be able to buy another pound of meat. I'd have to leave the meat business and become a wholesaler for vegetarians."

Here is what the meat middlemen are up against:

When the government freeze was imposed last January, choice beef in carload lots was selling for a top price of 53 cents a pound. Despite the freeze, and in direct violation of the government's order, the price of exactly the same carload of beef continued to mount. By April the price had moved up to 67 cents, was even quoted openly at this figure in the trade journals.

Greener Gets Squeezed

This four-cent rise at the wholesale level meant about a 10-cent rise per pound to the housewife—the local grocer passed on the illegal increase. But if he didn't pass it on, he had to pocket the loss and thereby risked going bankrupt.

More recently OPS has adopted a new pricing formula, whereby each cut of beef is given a specific price, and the price must be posted for the housewife's inspection.

This new scheme is aimed at showing up the price gouger and bringing an end to the black market. But, to get around the law, some packers—including some of the biggest names in the industry—have now come up with a new wrinkle. They're forcing their customers to accept tie-in sales, to buy unwanted cuts of meat in order to get the most salable cuts. One wholesaler, for example, was recently forced to buy 4,000 pounds of highly perishable sausage he couldn't possibly sell. Nevertheless the packer required him to buy the sausage before he could purchase a single carload of beef.

Net result of this price gouging by the meat packers is an intolerable squeeze on the wholesaler and retailer.

Friend of Big Business

GOP Congressman Kenneth Keating of New York has emerged as the newest congressional champion of big business.

Keating's district, Rochester, N.Y., is a long way from California; yet it was he who pulled chestnuts out of the fire for Pacific Gas and Electric in California and sponsored the amendment killing urgently needed government power lines.

Colleagues who wondered what the Rochester, N.Y., Republican was doing meddling in California affairs also were astonished when he popped up as sponsor of another project of the big-business lobbies—aimed at crippling the antitrust laws.

His amendment would undercut a plan proposed by another Republican, Herbert Hoover, who, when President, urged that the Clayton anti-trust act be strengthened in order to prevent the acquisition of "assets" such as factories and equipment in mergers that created unfair trade competition.

Presidents Roosevelt and Truman both followed up Hoover's recommendation and finally this important addition to the Clayton anti-trust law was passed by congress last December. One of those who voted for it was Rep. Keating of New York.

However, when it came time to appropriate funds by which the federal trade commission could put the new law into operation, Keating had a mysterious change of heart.

He calmly rose on the house floor and sabotaged the measure he had once championed by offering an amendment cancelling $245,000 of enforcement funds needed by the trade commission. The amendment carried by a vote of 73 to 49. And since a law is no good without funds to enforce it, the law Keating originally voted for now becomes just so much printed paper.

Small Airlines

Mild-mannered Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, the conscientious chairman of the small business committee, is burned up over pressure from the civil aeronautics board to suppress a report lambasting the major airlines.

Mysteriously, a copy of this report disappeared from the committee offices and was seen, by airlines, though marked "confidential."

The report criticized the CAB's order closing down the independent, non-scheduled airlines on June 8.

Johnston Urges Strong Price Laws; Price War Confined to Large Cities

BUSINESS AS USUAL—For some time the home towners have been uneasy over the nation's economic outlook. Headlines in the last few days haven't helped his uneasiness any.

Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston's charge that the nation is sitting on an "economic time bomb" that may explode into runaway inflation next fall, unless congress keeps a strong program on the law books, caused considerable comment and worry. On top this the beef industry—all the way from farmer to grocer—was in an uproar over his charge that the beef industry is trying to ride roughshod over the American housewife with a cry of "damn the consumer and full pockets ahead."

Economic Stabilizer Johnston
"damn the consumer and full pockets ahead."

Noted for speaking his mind, Johnston said that "business as usual" has an ominous ring to me at a time when men are dying in battle in Korea for a free way of life. He added that the consumer, the housewife, is not going to be the forgotten American if I can help it.

Shortly before making these statements Johnston proposed a new wage formula pegging pay ceiling to living costs and permitting for millions of workers an immediate boost ranging up to 12 1/2 per cent above the levels of January, 1950.

The belief is becoming more universal that the government must take a firmer stand and congress must enact stricter laws governing prices and wages. The threat to the nation today is as great from the inside as from the outside.

SWEET MUSIC—And while home towners tried to understand statements from Washington on the economic situation, the average small town resident read of reports from New York, Oklahoma City, and Atlanta of red-hot price cutting wars following the supreme court fair trade decision with a feeling of awe and incredulity. To many it was like sweet music of yesterday.

Tens of thousands of gleeful shoppers—men and women—rushed widely through New York bargain basements in search for nationally advertised goods that had been marked down, some of it as much as 40 per cent. Small electrical appliances, summer-weight suits, cosmetic items, best-selling novels, sheets, pillow cases, nylon hose and girdles were marked down again and again. It was a consumer's paradise.

Home towners then took a quick look at their local newspapers in the hope that Main Street merchants had some new bargains. Most of them, however, were disappointed. The big city price-war had not yet reached the home town level. And economists reported it was not likely to.

Most retail organizations predicted the New York price-war would level off quickly, with prices from 8 to 15 per cent below the former fixed-price levels.

Trade sources, also, pointed out that the price-war was not likely to spread because most home town merchants signed fair trade contracts. On top of this, consumer goods may become tighter as the summer progresses and defense needs begin to eat into present backlogs.

HOW CLOSE TO WAR?—The man on Main Street, who never knows all the facts, received a shock that sent a shiver of fear down his back as the MacArthur hearing continued in Washington. The shock was delivered by Adm. Forrest Sherman who told senators that the U.S. government so feared a world war last December that its field commanders were ordered by the high command to "increase their readiness" and the Mediterranean fleet went to sea.

Sherman said the orders were issued after MacArthur told the joint chiefs of staff that the U.N. should accept an armistice in Korea "on the best terms available" and the army would have to quit Korea unless the war could be carried against Red China.

Sherman's testimony before the armed services and foreign relations committees again impressed the average American with the fact this nation barely escaped World War III in recent months. Many are wondering how close to war we are today?

RURAL BANK DEPOSITS UP—Rural banks, largely former co-ops and reflecting farmer finances, have shown amazing increases in deposits during the past 10 years, a recent survey of seven states revealed.

One bank, in an Illinois town of less than 400 population, increased its bank deposits from $100,000 in 1940 to $3,400,000, more than 23 times as much. In the same 10 years, its population dropped from 600 to 350. Country banks, generally, in the seven-state midwest survey area, showed deposits rose from three to 29 times, many of them 10 times, in the 10-year period.

The survey was conducted in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Missouri. All of the towns had less than 600 population.

PEACE RUMORS CONTINUE—Rumors of peace in Korea continued to circulate in many world capitals although they were denied by high government officials. The move, if any is made, apparently will come from the United Nations side.

Some reports indicate the United States might be willing to halt the fighting at the 38th parallel provided it was a "real" settlement with assurances of no further Red aggression.

Observers in the far east, however, were skeptical that any peace feelers will come from Peiping. They might come from Moscow. Communist China might be thoroughly licked, but they could simply call its "volunteers" back behind the Yalu river boundary and sit and lose little face.

SAME AS REFUSAL—The Russians now say they are willing to hold a foreign-ministers' meeting if the ministers would discuss the North Atlantic pact and U. S. bases in Europe. The Soviet note with the big "if" was sent to the U.S. after 3 weeks of meetings in Paris by deputy foreign ministers of U. S., France, Britain and Russia.

According to western diplomats the Russian note amounts to the same thing as refusal to attend a foreign ministers' meeting. The U.S. has told the Russians many times they would not discuss the North Atlantic pact. The new Soviet line is that U.S. bases in Europe are "the essential cause of the worsening of relations between the U.S.S.R. and the three powers."

Church Under Fire

Lesson for June 24, 1951

ABOUT two thousand Christian missionaries have been forced to leave China during 1950 and 1951. In more than one country "freedom of religion" has meant, in practice, freedom to ridicule and hinder religion.

When Christian Meant Criminal AT the time the Christian religion began, it came under fire from the authorities of Jerusalem. It was to be expected that the same men who had condemned, cast out and crucified Jesus would try to stamp out his followers as well.

As the new Christian religion then moved out into all parts of the Roman Empire, at first the imperial and local authorities paid it no attention; and in fact for some years it enjoyed the protection of the government.

But when it came out that Christianity was a new religion, and especially when it became clear that the Christians acknowledged only one Lord, and would not worship the Emperor, the Roman government began a long series of persecutions, which lasted for close to three hundred years.

Inspiration Behind Bars FIVE letters of Paul, including II Timothy, were written from Roman jails, and reliable tradition tells us that Paul was finally beheaded just because he was a Christian.

If you will look on a map of the Roman Empire for the places mentioned at the beginning of I Peter, you can see how widespread was the "fiery trial" which the readers of that letter were then suffering.

Patmos Island was no rest-haven for tired missionaries; it was not a missionary field either. It was a barren island, a convict camp, where many Christian missionaries, on being arrested, were sent after their trial and sentence, to work at forced labor in the mines there.

If the scapes of that book often flow with blood and blaze with fire, it is not because the writer had a too vivid imagination. He might have seen with his own eyes Christians, men, women and even children, with their heads chopped off by the public executioner, or dying amid the flames at the stake. Those were terrible times, and it took courage to be a Christian at all.

The Victory THE message of the New Testament is never optimism, but always hope. That is to say, no one in the New Testament, from Jesus in Galilee to John on Patmos, holds out any promise or picture of smooth and easy going for the Christian church.

It will have trouble, and the more faithful it is to Christ the more trouble it is likely to meet. But in the long run, Christ's true church—which means simply all those who are true to Christ—will conquer all her enemies, for the reason that it is Christ's church and not ours alone.

It has recently been reported that the Russian government has thought up a smart idea. They find that the more religion is persecuted, the more stubbornly vigorous it grows. So the government has given up persecuting religion, and proposes to let it "die on the vine."

That may work; if Christians have too easy a time, the church will attract only the lazy and the comfort-loving—which will kill off the church. But the vine will not die, if only every branch is close-joined in Christ, the ever-living Vine of God.

Household Hints RESET LOOSE HANDLES PLASTIC WOOD

When cotton is scorched, wet the spot with water and cover it with a thick paste of laundry starch. After it dries, sponge it off, with peroxide; iron the article and put it in the sun for a few hours.

If you scorch linen, cut a raw onion in half and rub the flat side of it on the discolored area; then soak the linen in cold water for several hours.

Rust on tools can be prevented in the first place. Heat two ounces of powdered resin with twelve ounces of lard until the resin melts completely. Then add one pint of benzine, and apply the mixture sparingly to the metal parts of the tools. It will protect them against rust for quite a while in the dampest kind of climate.

An attractive, durable and efficient bath mat can be made by lashing a number of jar rubbers together with strong thread. Let them overlap to make the mat strong, and tie them together until you end up with a rectangular mat.

If you have no regular bath mat, use a turkish towel as a makeshift. Just lay the towel on the bottom of the tub. Or fashion slippers out of a discarded turkish towel and wear them in the tub to prevent slipping.

JUST WHAT IS INFLATION? When there's a greater supply of money than of goods—that's inflation. It happens when goods get scarce, and you and your neighbors compete unfairly for these few goods. Then prices grow and grow—until the prices of more and more things are bigger than you can afford to pay.

HOW TO CUT DOWN THIS DANGER. Help hold the line on prices and wages. Buy only for current needs. Save in every way. Buy U. S. Defense Bonds. Strive for still more efficient production. Support moves to cut non-essential government spending. It will take all 150 million of us to lick inflation.
