Bert J. Bonnell, Prominent Rancher, Dies

By DAN STORM

Funeral services for Bert J. Bonnell, 75, prominent Lincoln County rancher who succumbed at his home near Glencoe on Nov. 23, were held Sunday afternoon at the Bonnell home with Rev. O. J. Rainey, Fort Stanton chaplain, officiating. Interment was in Coe Cemetery, located on a mesa overlooking the well-known Bonnell ranch.

Flowers from all corners of the Southwest formed a background that covered the north wall of the living room which overflowed with one of the largest gatherings of friends and relatives ever to assemble in Ruidoso Valley.

Mrs. Fred Pflingsten, Nogal Mesa, sang two of Mr. Bonnell's favorite hymns — "Lead Kindly Light" and "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" — accompanied by the piano by Mrs. Edgar Phillips of Lincoln.

Pallbearers were Jack Smith, Hondo; George Perry, Glencoe; Harry Townner, Mountain Park; Roy Morgan, Captain; Fred Pflingsten, Nogal Mesa, and Elzy Perry Jr., Glencoe. Honorary pallbearers included Lon Merchant, Captain; Austin Reeves, Curtis Hill, Floyd Childress, Joe Lane and E. J. Bates of Roswell; Elzy Perry Sr., Glencoe; Lee Beall and Lon Hunter of Alamogordo; A. T. (Bert) Pflingsten, Hondo; Fount Miller, Green Tree, and Jack Land, Glencoe.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Sidney Coe Bonnell; two sons, Ralph Bonnell of Glencoe and Frank Bonnell of Phoenix; a daughter, Mrs. Marshall Sellman, Watrous, N. M.; eight grandchildren, Mrs. Eleanor McClendon, Alamogordo; Mrs. Irene Noaker, San Patricio; Bert David Bonnell, Glencoe; Harvey Bonnell, Glencoe; Johnny Bonnell, Phoenix; Louise Sellman, Bert Tom Sellman and Mary Anne Sellman, all of Watrous; and three great-grandchildren, Linda Carol McClendon, Alamogordo, and Dennis and Susie Noaker, San Patricio.

Other relatives attending the services included Albert Bonnell, Dallas; Mrs. Iko Brook, Carlsbad; Mrs. T. Mills, Kermit, Texas; Edwin Bonnell, San Patricio; Lee Bonnell, Santa Rita, Ariz.; Mrs. J. V. Tully and sons, Gerald and James Tully of Glencoe, and daughter, Mrs. Geraldine Morgan, Alamogordo; Ross Coe, Mesilla Park; Wilbur F. Coe, Glencoe; Mrs. Annie Titworth, Glencoe.

Local Woman's Club To Join Federation

An important question for members of the Carrizozo Woman's Club was decided at their Nov. 16 meeting when they voted to join the State Federation of Women's Clubs. President Mrs. Lewis Farris opened the meeting with the club's ritual, as Mrs. J. D. Richardson led the singing accompanied by the piano by Mrs. T. A. E. Kelley.

Mrs. Virginia Anderson, program chairman, introduced her 11 first grade students who portrayed some of the well known and well beloved characters of childhood stories and presented an exhibit of rhythm as developed through music and dancing.

Refreshment hostesses Mesdames Belcher, R. E. Lemon, Geo. L. Zimmerman and T. O. Hayes served coffee and pumpkin pie with whipped cream.

A Christmas party is planned for Dec. 21 at which there will be an exchange of gifts.

To Hold Silver Tea

The Carrizozo branch of the Future Homemakers of America have scheduled a silver tea for Sunday afternoon, Dec. 2, from 2:30 to 4:30. The setting for junior homemakers' social event is the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Roberts.

Miss Bettie Lou Grogan, local high school teacher, is in charge of the program which will feature Miss Roberta Key in a piano solo. Several vocal selections will be presented by members of the junior homemakers' organization.

Grizzlies Win From Hondo

By FRED RENFRO

The Carrizozo High School basketball teams won two out of three games with Hondo Friday night when "A" and junior high teams emerged victorious. The local B squad lost to Hondo in a narrow margin tally.

Hardly had the turkey dinners of Thanksgiving been assimilated and the football suits checked in when the sounds of bouncing basketballs and deafening crowds heralded the formal initiation of the hardwood season.

The Grizzly A's won their game 43-33 over an ever threatening, fighting Hondo five. Zozo started with a swish and had rung up 10 points to Hondo's one by the end of the first quarter with baskets made by Baroz, Tino Lopez, King, Lovelace and Wilson. The team continued the pace to score 10 more points in the second quarter, but Hondo scored 14 in the second quarter to make the halftime count 20-15. L. Torrez, E. George and Salcido made two baskets each toward the 14.

Hitting their top stride for the evening the Grizzlies pulled away during the third quarter to make the tally 34-24. Coach Mirimanian's combination at this time was Wilson center, Vega and T. Lopez forwards, and Holguin and Baroz, guards. The fourth quarter saw the team playing evenly to make the final score 43-33.

High scoring honors were divided among Andy Baroz, Tino Lopez and Claude Wilson with 10 each. H. Torrez and E. George of Hondo tallied eight points with H. Polindexter making 7.

Zozo made 11 free throws of 27 attempted; Hondo five out of 11. Twenty-three fouls were called on Hondo and 11 on Zozo. Officials were Legkhardt and Rominger of Tularosa. The Grizzlies play next Saturday against the Stears at Magdalena.

Hondo's B squad won a thriller by a 17-15 score. Jim Luce and Tony Luperas both came through for four and P. Salcido of Hondo eight of their 17 points.

The junior high group emerged from a third quarter tie to forge ahead and clinch their game, 22-17. Barnett scored 10 points; Melvin of the mountain team made six.

Hondo Band Boosters Club Organized

By F. S. MONTES

A group of parents of Hondo High School band members and friends of the band met Monday night to organize the Band Boosters Club. Mrs. Frank Titworth was elected president of the organization; Mrs. John Thomas, secretary, and Shelton Taylor, treasurer. Mrs. Titworth appointed Mrs. Wilbur McKnight, Mrs. Mike Mace, Mrs. Shelton Taylor and Mrs. Albert Kimbrell on a committee for membership.

Plans were made for the year, and the band boosters club has taken on the large project of supplying uniforms for the band. It is hoped the band members can be in uniforms before the end of school this year.

As a major project toward the uniform fund, the club members are now making plans for a bazaar and chicken dinner to be held in Hondo on Dec. 15. All parents and friends of the band are urged to contribute articles to be sold. Remember, this affair and this date, for it will be an excellent opportunity to get some of those "hard to find" Christmas presents.

The Band Boosters Club will meet on the third Monday of each month. All friends, whether they live in the Hondo Valley or not, are urged and welcome to join the organization and attend the meetings.

Services Announced

Rev. Harris T. Ray, pastor of the Carrizozo Baptist Church, announces the following schedule of services locally: Sunday school, 9:45 A. M.; morning worship, 11 A. M.; training union, 6 P. M., and evening worship, 7 P. M.

Jerry Graves is the Sunday school superintendent, with Miss Dolores Gardner serving as training union leader. The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

Skipper Gould 1st Eagle Scout

By GRACE BURLISON

Troop 58 of the Boy Scouts of America held its Court of Honor on Nov. 17 at Bonito Club in Fort Stanton, during which presentation of the Eagle Scout badge, its highest award, was made to Thomas W. (Skipper) Gould, Skipper, 17-year-old Captain HI School senior, is a native of Lincoln County, and his main interest is aviation in which he plans to make his career.

Scoutmaster Ray Baker opened the meeting with an introduction of Field Scout Executive Henry McGinty, Roswell, who conducted the presentation ceremonies which included the pledge of allegiance to the United States Flag, Dr. C. J. Mankinen, commanding officer of Fort Stanton, made the following awards:

Second Class Scout — Bryan Fijder, Carl Mankinen Jr. and Ernest Sanchez.

Star Scout — Eddie Womack.

Life Scout — Joe Wilson, Joe Ferguson and Jimmy Minter.

Jimmy Armour was accorded recognition for having the necessary merit badges for an Eagle Scout, which means he will receive this rank as soon as he has completed the required service for a Life Scout. He will be the second youth from Lincoln County to earn the badge.

Young Gould accepted the Eagle award—the highest one in scouting—from his mother, Mrs. William H. Gould. Field Scout Executive McGinty told the assembly the youth is the first Eagle Scout from Lincoln County, and that the honor is a mark of achievement for himself as well as Scoutmasters Ray Baker and Bert Minter and the troop as a whole for their interest and efforts in scouting.

Ray F. (Butch) Baker Jr., small son of the troops' scoutmaster, was adopted as troop mascot at the Court of Honor ceremonies.

The ceremonial was followed by an antelope barbecue with Rev. O. J. Rainey, Fort Stanton chaplain, giving a prayer of thanks at the request of Senior Patrol Leader Eddie Womack. The meat course was furnished by Scoutmasters Baker and Minter, and the other courses were brought in by parents and friends of the Scouts.

More than 100 guests attended the Court of Honor including L. W. Clark, district Boy Scout representative, and Mrs. Clark, of Captain; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Pflingsten, Hondo; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor, Captain, and four Eagle Scouts from Roswell, who accompanied Mr. McGinty.

Samples of Scout work and handicraft were on display in the decorated hall.

The Boy Scout leaders, and residents of the community are to be commended for the interest and efforts expended in making Troop 58 an outstanding Scout organization in Lincoln County.

Brother Of Carrizozoan Injured In Korea

Wayland Hill of Carrizozo learned from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill, Grand Sahne, Texas, last week of the serious injury suffered Nov. 8 by his brother, Lieut. Dennis Hill, a jet pilot in the Korea theater. It was reported there is a possibility Lieut. Hill's left leg may have to be amputated.

The young pilot, who went overseas last June, spent his furlough in Carrizozo. At one time he was stationed near Las Vegas.

Lieut. Hill's parents have been in communication with the physician at the hospital in Japan where their son is confined, and have also received a letter from the doctor giving them complete details regarding the case.

The airman's wife and small son, Keith, also reside at Grand Sahne.

Safety Meeting

The annual safety meeting of Southern Pacific Company employees is scheduled for Dec. 7 at the Odd Fellows Hall, Carrizozo.

A special program is planned for the night, details of which will be announced at a later date. The public is cordially invited.

First Eagle Scout

Thomas W. (Skipper) Gould, shown above, is the first Boy Scout in Lincoln County to receive the Eagle Scout badge. A member of the Fort Stanton troop, he was given the award at recent Court of Honor ceremonies.

Carrizozo High Juniors Present 'Quiet Summer'

By High School Journalism Class

On Dec. 7, the members of the junior class at Carrizozo High School will present their play, "Quiet Summer," a fast moving, rollicking comedy with an interesting and amusing theme.

James Clark, lawyer (played by Dillon Lovelace), has hopes of spending the summer in peace and serenity, concentrating on being elected president of his country club. He believes that office is the first step toward winning his race for district attorney in the fall.

His sister, Lillian, and her husband, however, want a summer away from their children, Pamela, 17, and Sonny, 15, and the youngsters arrive from New York for a visit with Uncle Jimmie. During the course of three uproarious acts, Uncle Jimmie, the younger generation from Pamela and Sonny, who, working at breakneck speed, get involved in romantic adventures.

All this and much more is presented in "Quiet Summer," whose cast of characters includes:

James Clark, Dillon Lovelace; Helen Russell, Betty Moore; Pamela Young, Alma Eaker; Sonny Young, Gerald King; Carrie, Janie Wedell; Bill Henly, Leo Straley; Leslie Gardner, Roley Ward; Harriet Morgan, Dorothy Moore; Mrs. Lillian Young, Emily Johnson; Tony, Preston Lindsay; Clifford Young, Glenn Thornton; Tubby Pitta, Crawford Garrison; Henry Morgan, Claude Wilson; Frances Shaugnessy, Arentia Lueras; Frederica Collins, Jo Ann Straley; Esther Hamilton, Susie Vega; Betty Harrison, Petra Vega; Jeanie Day, Peggy Cathy.

The teachers at the local elementary school are planning a dinner the same night as the play, and will start serving at 6 P. M. Support of the local schools is urged for the supper, proceeds from which are earmarked for grade school supplies and materials.

Hondo Band Bazaar To Be Held December 15

Plans are being made for a bazaar and chicken dinner to be held at the Hondo High School Saturday, Dec. 15. The affair is sponsored by the recently organized Hondo Band Boosters Club, headed by Mrs. Frank Titworth, president.

The chief project of the club is to purchase uniforms for the band members. Proceeds from the bazaar and chicken dinner will be used for that purpose.

Many articles to be sold have been donated. Anyone wishing to help by contributing articles to be sold may contact a member of the committee: Mrs. Frank Titworth, Mrs. Albert Kimbrell, Mrs. Fernin Montes, Mrs. Ben Sanchez and Mrs. Wilbur McKnight.

Don't forget the date of the bazaar and dinner — Saturday, Dec. 15. Everyone invited.

Last Rites Held For Jesse Petty

Military services were conducted Sunday afternoon at White Oaks Cemetery for Private Jesse W. Petty, 23, Carrizozo, who died Oct. 23 at a hospital in Japan. Relatives were notified that death was due to natural causes. Private Petty, who spent his last furlough here before going overseas in September of this year, had seen action in Korea. The local Masonic Lodge and Order of Eastern Star assisted with the services.

Rev. Ray Miller, Roswell, former pastor of the Carrizozo Methodist Church, officiated at the graveside services, assisted by Wesley Young of Fort Stanton and "Red" Burnett, Captain, of the VFW post at Captain. An honor guard stood at attention as a volley of shots was fired and taps sounded for the young soldier.

Pallbearers included Messrs. Bill Hobbs and Otto Lowe of Captain; Lewis Huffman, Clyde Shultz, Jess Garrison, Bobby Shafer and L. Z. Manire, all of Carrizozo. Members of the Carrizozo Comet Chapter of Eastern Star served as flower bearers.

Surviving are Private Petty's mother, Mrs. Beatrice Petty of Truth or Consequences; two brothers, Vernon and Ralph Petty, Carrizozo; one sister, Mrs. R. M. Grantham, Mata Hambré, Cuba; an uncle, Ernest Crow of Nogal; six nephews and two nieces, as well as a number of distant relatives. The deceased's father, the late J. F. Petty, died early in 1950.

Born Oct. 5, 1923, at Alamogordo, young Petty moved to Carrizozo with his parents when he was 3 years old. He attended schools here but completed high school at Las Vegas, N. M. He was also a graduate of the Spartan School of Aircraft at Tulsa, Okla., where he trained in aircraft mechanics. The late Private Petty entered the U. S. Army in September, 1950, receiving his basic training at Fort Riley, Kan. He was subsequently transferred to Fort Bliss, El Paso, and remained there until sent overseas in September, 1951.

The deceased was a member of the local Masonic Lodge and Order of Eastern Star, and attended the Carrizozo Baptist Church. Prior to entering the service, he had managed the Motel Petty in this village.

Private Petty had a deep and enduring attachment for his home county and looked forward to returning to his home in Carrizozo upon completion of his tour of duty. He had complete faith in the future progress and development of this area, and upon several occasions had told this writer his ideas regarding the roles members of his generation could play in coming years, and what they could do to make the community a better place in which to live.

The host of friends who mourn the young soldier's passing have suffered a great loss.

School Serves 232 Thanksgiving Dinners

Pre-Thanksgiving Day dinners were served to 232, including students and teachers, at the Carrizozo Grade School Cafeteria Wednesday, Nov. 21. Ordinarily, said L. Z. Manire, superintendent, the cafeteria serves from 160 to 175 persons in conjunction with the hot lunch program. He added 15 extra students from the first and second grades alone were served on the Nov. 21 date.

The menu included baked chicken and dressing, cranberry sauce, pickles, olives, celery, mashed potatoes, peas, orange juice and plums.

A special Christmas menu is planned for the school children on Dec. 21.

Accept Membership

Lincoln County students at Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, who have accepted bids for membership in Greek social organizations on the campus are: Miss Margie Titworth of Alpha, and Miss Mary Ann Cox of Phi Kappa Phi. The Beta Tau Chi pledge.

Federal Bureau Rejects Two Road Projects

Contract Let For 10.6 Miles Of Highway 54

A contract for construction of the unpaved section of Highway 54 between Vaughn and Corona at a cost of $307,599 went to G. I. Martin, Albuquerque, low bidder, on Nov. 16. The additional mileage to be paved totals 10.6 miles.

L. S. (Heavy) Drake, state representative from this district, said this week that prospects for construction of 15 or 20 miles of the remaining unpaved stretch of Highway 54 sometime next spring look very good, and that possibly all of the approximately 32 miles not yet let for contract may be paved before the end of 1952.

At present, paving on Highway 54 extends about six miles south of Corona and approximately the same distance north of Carrizozo. The interim gap of about 32 miles represents the only unpaved stretch on Highway 54 between Chicago and El Paso.

Drake also told the New Outlook the State Highway Department has approved the following projects on State Highway 37 through Ruidoso subject to the accrual of right-of-way by the department: Old Mill, Montoya's Curve, Carrizo Hill, George McCarty's curve and the hairpin curve at Navajo Lodge known as Travis Canyon. The work involved at the foregoing points constitutes widening of the highway and elimination of dangerous curves which have been the scenes of many disastrous accidents during the past few months. The total cost of the projects is estimated at $49,000, not including the cost of right-of-way.

Picacho Man Weds Albuquerque Girl

At a recent ceremony in the First Methodist Church at Albuquerque, Miss Yolene M. Milyard of the Duke City became the bride of James H. Goodrum, Picacho. The double ring ceremony rites were performed by Rev. James G. Brown.

Lavender and white gladioli with chrysanthemums in tall white baskets and lighted by white tapers in branched candelabra decorated the church. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle over white satin with long white lace mitts. Her finger-tip veil of illusion hung from a small cap of white lace edged in pearls. She carried a white Bible with decor of lavender orchid with stephanotis and white satin ribbon.

Mrs. T. R. Penderson, as matron of honor, chose a gown of orchid net over satin and carried a colonial bouquet of orchids and pink roses.

Edward Goodrum was his brother's best man with little Bill Milyard, brother of the bride, as ring bearer. Ushers included Jerry Smith and Earl Waugh of Roswell and Tom V. Slaughter, Picacho.

A reception was held at the Kappa Kappa Gamma House on the University of New Mexico campus with Misses Frances Reid, Ruth Hughes, Mesdames C. A. Omer Jr., and Edward Goodrum of Dexter and Mrs. Tom V. Slaughter, Picacho, assisting.

The bride attended the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma and Gamma Nu, business sorority.

The bridegroom is a graduate of New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell and attended the University of New Mexico. He is associated with his brothers in the ranching business at Picacho where the couple plan to make their home.

Wounded In Korea

Corporal Wilfred L. Waltrip, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett B. Waltrip, Ruidoso, has been reported by the Defense Department as being wounded in the Korean theater of action.

The status of proposed secondary road construction in Lincoln County is, apparently, no better than on Jan. 1, 1951, when the present board of Lincoln County Commissioners took office despite the fact the county has approximately $300,000 available as its share for road work.

A letter dated Oct. 5, addressed to the commissioners from the State Highway Department discloses disapproval by the Federal Bureau of Roads of the commissioners' two top priority road construction projects.

During the past 11 months, charges and counter charges have been tossed around regarding the reasons for lack of secondary road construction in Lincoln County, but the net result is the same—no road work. The situation was further confused last spring when White Oaks residents charged "politics" was the reason for the removal of their road from top priority. In April, 1951, a group of residents from that village met with state highway representatives who outlined the situation and related some background details.

However, less than two months later at a meeting attended by representatives of the State Highway Commission, Highway Department and Lincoln County commissioners, and residents of the county, one of the highway department representatives who had attended the April meeting denied his previous statements.

As it stands now, there is no assurance the commissioners' present top priority requests will be approved, nor is there any indication the commissioners are planning alternative recommendations. At their regular meeting on June 4, Chairman Hester, in reply to a question concerning whether or not the White Oaks road would be resubmitted in case of disapproval of other projects, indicated a general survey of the county's roads would be necessary to determine

Girl Scout Toy Drive Starts Saturday, Dec. 8

A collection of used toys will get underway Saturday, Dec. 8, when members of the Carrizozo Brownie and Intermediate Girl Scout troops start a house to house canvass.

The toys are being gathered in conjunction with the Christmas party held annually by the local Lions Club for children in this area. The Carrizozo Boy Scouts have offered to repair all broken toys, and residents are urged to donate as many used toys as possible even though they are in need of repair.

It was pointed out a great many toys will be needed and it is hoped the community will respond with a generous supply.

John A. Kimbrell Dies In Picacho At 85

A lifelong resident of Picacho, John A. Kimbrell, 85, succumbed at his home there Nov. 15.

Funeral services were held at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Picacho with Rev. Vito C. de Baca officiating. Interment was in the cemetery at Picacho.

The aged man is survived by three sons, John Kimbrell Jr. and Manuel Kimbrell of Roswell, and George Kimbrell of Picacho; five daughters, Mrs. Pauline Pearce of Captain, Mrs. Mela Kimbrell of Hagerman, Mrs. Dora Kimbrell of Garfield, Mrs. Rosa Sandoval and Mrs. Fred Romero of Picacho. The deceased is also survived by 31 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

New Mex. Recreation Association To Meet

The New Mexico Recreation Association will meet in Roswell Dec. 1 as a part of the statewide conference of recreation workers, at which time the subject of using wisely and well the state's potentialities for recreation will come up for discussion. The theme of the conference is "Recreation in New Mexico—A Challenge to Better Citizenship."

Sometime ago a study "Recreation Administration in New Mexico," by Dorothy I. Cline and K. Peterson Rose was published by the University of New Mexico's government research division. In it, the authors called recreation a necessity for reasons which include: Complexities of modern day living intensify the desire of many to seek release from "anxieties, frustrations, dissatisfaction and high tension pressures." They also found that this state is "an unsurpassed recreation frontier," but has seen only a scatter shot start in recreation and the road to a broad and well integrated recreation program promises to be a bumpy one. However, they say, the state "has all the potentialities which, if intelligently utilized, could make it an outstanding example of recreation planning, development and management." According to the writers, a state with New Mexico's scenery and wildlife, its Indians and Hispanics, its pueblos, fiestas, rodeos, ceremonies and arts and crafts is not only a nice place to live—it's a big attraction for tourists.

In 1947, the tourist business in this state was $126 million. Today it is the state's biggest or near-biggest industry. According to the study, some of the obstacles for the success of recreation in New Mexico are: no agreement on which lands have primary and secondary importance as recreation sites; fishermen, ranchers, resort owners, trading post operators, oil companies, civic organizations, and other advance conflicting claims for the use of public lands; federal agencies hold a commanding lead in the state's recreational development and management, and the state runs a poor and disorganized second; many officials and residents approve of the state's minor role in the field; the state is poor and has few funds; a relatively fast turnover in the state administration makes needed long time planning difficult and hazardous. The authors state that New Mexico must ultimately place recreation on an equal basis with other state functions, and that when the time comes it would be unwise to accept a "ready-made pattern." Any satisfactory plan, they say, must be predicated upon New Mexico's customs and traditions, natural and human resources, legal background, financial status, administrative practices, and situations peculiar to the state.

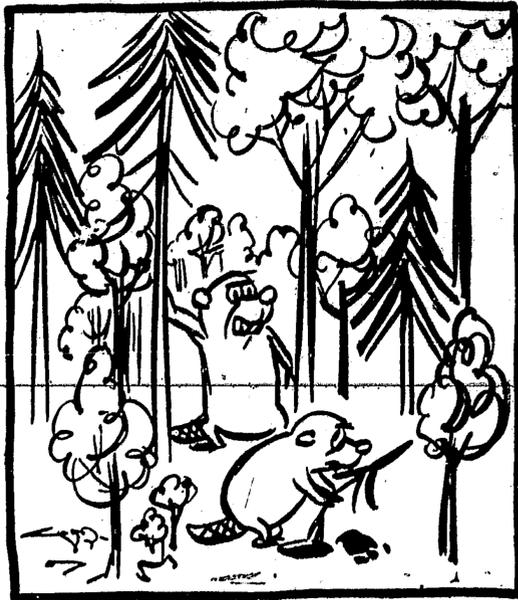

Authors Cline and Rose make three suggestions: The governor should call together all state officials with major recreation duties to form a central clearing house to coordinate recreation policies and practices; the state's financial status must be analyzed to see what can be done and which are the most constructive and urgent public enterprises to receive top priority; the Legislature should create a survey commission to gather information about recreation and its problems, as a guide to the Legislature in working out a sound and sane recreation program.

The writers state New Mexicans "possess the qualities required for conquering this recreation frontier—adventure, imagination, love of the country and a deep concern for the preservation of natural and human resources," and that these and a proper approach to the problem could make New Mexico tops in recreation.

Although the 1951 growing season was far from satisfactory in many areas, livestock production in the United States is now at an all-time record level.

By ALLIE SNODGRASS
Mrs. Reba Bingham, with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Deane and David Dickenson, all of El Paso, spent a weekend with Reba's family here. The men were busy hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. Benny Dimas spent the Armistice holiday in Jaughn.

L. J. Mitchell of Alamogordo was up for several days hunting and was fortunate enough to take home a buck. Mr. Mitchell was the guest of his cousin, Sam Richardson, while here.

The Presbyterian Women's Auxiliary held a meeting at the school house recently. Played hostess myself and June Straley presented a very good praise service program. Officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Elva Wilson, president; Mrs. June Straley, first vice president; Mrs. Leota Elliott, second vice president, and Mrs. Maud Risinger, secretary and treasurer. With these good officers and willing members, I am sure we will have another very successful year. Mrs. Markham was over for this meeting and was looking and feeling much better. We have been missing her.

W. J. Hollyfield Jr. of Seagraves, Texas, grandson of Mrs. Charles Stoneman, was hunting here several days.

Wayman Lightfoot, last I heard, had topped the weights on all bucks brought in so far. His weighed 199. And a pretty thing.

PERSONALS

Odell Baker, Southern Pacific Company employe at Vaughn, joined his family in Carrizozo for Thanksgiving Day festivities.

Miss Felipa Chavez is now residing in San Pedro, Calif., where she is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Grameroz, former residents of Carrizozo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryson Corbett and family of Albuquerque spent Thanksgiving Day with Mrs. Corbett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Kelley. The Corbett children remained for an indefinite visit with their grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hubbard of Tucumcari were here last week with their daughter, Mrs. Marylin Peacock Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Agüayo attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Miss June Aguayo, in Carrizozo Nov. 18.

George Wandell has gone to San Antonio, Texas, for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McDaniel are preparing to go to Phoenix, Ariz., for the winter.

We had a few Thanksgiving visitors in Nogal, including Mrs. Pearl Stearns' sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Adams of El Paso, accompanied by Mrs. Adams' granddaughter, Dianne.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sweet are here with the H. L. McDaniels. Mrs. Sweet is Mrs. McDaniel's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Peacock Sr. were in Roswell over the weekend.

Mrs. Ollie Porter of Roswell is here with her sister, Mrs. Albert May. Mrs. Porter's husband passed away last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bivens and three daughters of Lordsburg were here with Mrs. Bivens' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert May.

Attend Services

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Brown attended the Thanksgiving Day services held at the Mesalero Reformed Mission Church. Services were followed by a noon dinner with the Mesalero Reservation Indians providing wild turkey and venison, and guests supplying the vegetables and dessert. Approximately 600 persons heard Rev. Chino, the first Apache from the Mesalero Reservation to enter the ministry, deliver a message of inspiration and hope.

GUESTS FROM LAS CRUCES

Guests of Mrs. Maggie Espey during the recent hunting season and for Thanksgiving Day included her son, J. M. Rowland, and his wife of Rodeo, and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Perkins of Las Cruces.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Era Smith, former publisher of the News-Outlook, reports the members of her daughter's family (Catherine Hemphill) have been ill. The Hemphills are making their home at Duncan, Ariz.

Miss Veda Lou Branum flew from San Antonio to El Paso last week where she was met by her mother, Mrs. Claud Branum, and the two drove to Carrizozo and then on to Roswell where they attended the homecoming celebration of New Mexico Military Institute last Friday. Mrs. Branum's son, C. A., is a student there.

A card from Mrs. H. H. Shrum states she and daughter Susie arrived safely in Washington, D. C., where they are visiting Miss Mary Alice Shrum, another daughter of Mrs. Shrum. The Carrizozo said Washington is nice, but that she has seen lots of snow along the way. She also sent greetings to the folks back here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed F. Luvaul of Monahans, Texas, are visiting the Lewis Farris. Mr. Farris is Luvaul's uncle, Buddy Garrett, grandson of the Farris, who has been here on leave, left Friday for his naval station at San Diego. While here, he bagged a deer as did his grandmother. The latter's buck had eight points and weighed about 190 pounds.

We had that super sort of a Thanksgiving dinner only a grandmother can cook when we drove to Glencoe for the day.

Leota and Peg Pfingsten had family dinner at their ranch for the Bradfords and Mrs. Maggie Pfingsten of Lincoln. Friday and Saturday the George Perry family visited them and Archie and Harold Vance drove in Saturday night. Leota had been in Albuquerque the previous weekend attending the college homecoming activities and a meeting of the Civil Defense Committee of the Federated Women's Clubs at which Mrs. John Whitehurst, federated civil defense administrator of Baltimore, Md., stressed the necessity of preparing the nation for a possible wartime emergency. She urged the education of civilian groups in steps to be taken, participation in Red Cross and other first aid groups, and thorough plans for meeting any wartime disaster.

I had lunch at Gussie's Wander Inn in Carrizozo the other day and must say eating there is almost like being at home. You can see just what goes into the soup and Gussie serves that homemade bread that is cut with a big knife in thick slices with an air of friendliness that certainly hits the spot. This isn't a commercial, just thought you should know.

My Mary received a phonograph for her birthday Saturday. The four records that came with it have been played so often, we've all memorized them.

Nogal Lake has shrunk lately. Those white peaks above us could use several feet more snow to replenish all the waters come spring.

Assignment
New Mexico

By G. WARD FENLEY

In the quiet of the night, after all lights are out except mine, I've been reading G. W. (Dub) Evans' "Slash Ranch Hounds."

It's a book to calm down taut nerves. And by imagining myself on a chase with Dub and his hounds in the rugged Mogollons, the Black Range and the Gila Wilderness, I find I can forget the worries of the day just passed.

Dub, a former state senator and president of the New Mexico Cattlegrowers Association, is a master hunter and makes out a good case for this business of communing with nature.

The fleet deer, the wily catamount, the ponderous bear—all are calm and peaceful animals in the Evans book and have relatively few troubles compared with the problems that we poor human beings experience almost daily.

Let me cite an example. The Cruces Sun News said last week: "The Friendship Club of Miriam Rebekah Lodge met at the home of Lillian Southerling."

See what we mean? Fritz Harburg (Portales Daily News) says we simply can't win. He copied $1.50 by writing the best letter on the News' Christmas shopping Guide contest. But while getting the information about what to write, he not only got a parking ticket but his dog devoured two chickens left among other groceries in his car.

Engineers are having trouble with some eager beavers above Elephant Butte Lake. Every time the engineers start draining some marshes, the beavers rebuild their levees.

Earl Stratton Jr. (Portales Tribune) summed up the situation: "Engineers in the state are (having) dam trouble on the Rio Grande."

Last week the society editor of the Roswell Record had a red face. She is quite active as a Gray Lady and her pass last week to Walker Air Force Base read: "Gay Lady."

The Silver City Enterprise identified the groom in the Cureton marriage last week as Mrs. George Jackson's bother.

Ed Guthmann of the Springer Tribune described the troubles railroad men were having when a swarm of bees settled on the switch stand and refused to budge—letting freight cars pile up on the siding.

The Portales Trib tried to put a peaceful note into the news items by stating: "We saw some Dora men trying to remain calm while 'fat stock' judges were feeling their ribs to determine the condition of the subjects to be judged."

And Wayne Winters of the Grants Beacon told of setting the type on a story about a preacher who had been away from his congregation.

The story read: "Rev. So and So returned to face local charge." I liked that type in the Tucuman American by Moon Mullens: "My favorite burnette, a great Clovis rooster, was disappointed in the showing of the Wildcats."

Miscellaneous typos this week: "And the strangest think about the matter" — Alb. Journal; "We've bee in debt before and got out" — Hobbs News Sun; and "He rode into town astride a burrow" — El Paso Herald Post.

And that's all this week except the howler reported in the Tyn-dall (South Dakota) Tribune and Register: "Wanted—second hand typewriter by a young lady student with a wide carriage."

Beavers Defy Engineers In Marsh Draining

About 100 beavers along the Rio Grande drainage operation north of Elephant Butte Lake are giving state engineers a bad time. The engineers, who are engaged in draining some marshes which parallel the Rio Grande between the Bosque del Apache Federal Refuge and Elephant Butte Lake, are defied nightly by the industrious beavers.

Each day, Department of Game and Fish Patrolman Jim Hall of Truth or Consequences dynamites the dams the beavers have built and each night the animals rebuild. One dam in particular has been rebuilt each night for 10 consecutive nights. Department fieldmen plan to remove the beavers as soon as a crew of trappers can be recruited from other assignments in the north, but in the meantime it is hoped the animals will surrender the field before the timber supply in the area is exhausted.

Ask your county agent for a copy of Extension Circular 233, "More $2500 for Your Cotton," a leaflet which tells how better quality—and therefore higher priced—cotton can be produced and marketed.

To Appear In Concert

GYORGY SANDOR

The second concert in the 1951-1952 series sponsored by the Otero County Community Concert Association will present Gyorgy Sandor, one of the world's greatest pianists, in a program Monday, Dec. 3, at 8 P. M. in the Alamogordo High School Auditorium.

Sandor (pronounced Shandor), a World War II veteran, has performed with leading symphony orchestras from coast to coast and appeared on radio and television. He is termed "one of the most impressive pianists of this generation."

The artist, acclaimed in South America, Europe, Australia and North America, has a repertoire which includes compositions ranging in period from Bach to Bartok as well as the usual solo compositions.

From one-third to one-half of the youngsters born on farms move into the big cities. Sociologists say this is nothing to worry about; in fact, it's a healthy situation that exists in every technically advanced country.

PERSONALS

Charles W. Boone, EMFN, called his parents from San Francisco to tell them he expects to arrive today (Friday) to spend his leave. He has been stationed in Japan. Young Boone's brother, Pfc. James Boone, who has been serving in Korea, is now in Japan, but expects to be granted a leave in the near future. He has been overseas for almost a year. Charles Boone has been overseas since last June. The Army man, wounded three times, has had some narrow escapes. In one instance, he reported his wrist watch was shot off his arm.

Thanksgiving weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Powelson were Powelson's brother, Lynn Powelson, and family of Truth or Consequences, and his aunt, Mrs. Winnie Chambers of El Paso. Mrs. Chambers' nurse, Mrs. Ruby Carter, accompanied the former to Carrizozo. The Carrizozoans were pleasantly surprised on Thanksgiving Day with a telephone call from their son, Bob, a student at Cisco Junior College in Cisco, Texas. Young Powelson, who expects to be home for the Christmas holidays, reported the college football team of which he is a member won their homecoming game with Southwestern Junior College which was played at Cisco.

Dairy Course Scheduled

A two-day dairy course is scheduled for Dec. 3-4 at the high school auditorium in Clovis. Economical feeding of dairy cattle is the main topic for discussion, but several other phases of dairy management will also be up for consideration. All interested dairymen are invited.

The normal gestation period for rabbits is from 30 to 32 days. A doe rabbit can raise four litters a year without overworking her.

Maybe it's Cold
Outside!

It used to be that everyone talked about the weather, but nobody did anything about it. That's all changed, now. Passengers on today's modern trains have weather tailor-made for them—at least while they're aboard. It's always "fair" on today's streamliners, thanks to the miracle of air-conditioning.

Chair Cars on Southern Pacific's great streamliners have been built with your comfort the first consideration. Dust-free, draft-free air-conditioning. No-glare fluorescent lighting. Soft-as-a-cloud foam-rubber seats. Lots of leg room and move-around room. Circulating ice water. Feather-touch doors. Spacious washrooms.

That's why Chair Cars on Southern Pacific streamliners are the most luxurious form of all low-cost transportation.

New Mexico Boy Designers Win

STATE WINNERS in the annual model car competition of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild are Don Alberts (left), of Albuquerque, who took first place honors in the Junior Division (ages 12 through 15), and Donald L. Hernandez of Carlsbad, whose beautiful model car won first in the Senior Division (ages 16 through 19). Each received a cash award of $150. The winning models are shown beneath the pictures.

CAPITAN

By ANN EARLING

A silver tea and bazaar sponsored by the Capitan Woman's Club will be held Saturday, Dec. 1, at the City Hall from 2 to 5 P. M. Everyone is welcome. The proceeds will be used for the community Christmas tree.

The Capitan Woman's Club held their regular monthly meeting Nov. 16 with President Mrs. D. O. Murphy presiding. It was reported that Mrs. Fred Pfingsten, club defense chairman, was attending a defense meeting in Albuquerque. At this meeting the club voted to contribute $25 towards Korean relief. After the meeting refreshments were served by the club hostesses.

Pfc. John Kevon, brother of Mrs. Ray Province, visited at his home. John is stationed at Fort Bliss.

At home from college for the Thanksgiving holiday weekend were Sammy Romero from Las Cruces and Teddy Cummins and Doyle Cozzens from Pasadena, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Murphy enjoyed their Thanksgiving in Kansas City, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bancroft in Tucson, Ariz. Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Clark in Lubbock, Texas, and Jimmie McEuen in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Cozzens and family visited with their daughter, Ellene, at Fort Sumner on Thanksgiving Day. The Cozzens are proud to announce the birth of a new granddaughter, Peggy Jean, born to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cozzens of Fort Sumner.

Captain L. C. Cozzens of the Marine Corps was home on a visit with his family last week. He is stationed at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Odell Payne entertained a number of guests at their ranch home on Saturday, Nov. 17. The party was in honor of Bob Leslie, and his return from the service.

Dr. C. C. Crawford of Socorro was guest speaker at the high school assembly on Tuesday, Nov. 27. His topic was "American Creed." Dr. Crawford is head of department of humanities at the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology, Socorro. He was accompanied by his wife.

Bill Edgar is the lucky fellow that received the gun at the Phillips station for bringing in the heaviest deer. It tipped the scales at 217 1/2 pounds.

Roy Purcell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Purcell, was home on furlough over Thanksgiving. Roy is attached to the transport U. S. S. Bronkenbridge.

Johnny Soderback was one of the last to get his deer, but he got it, and what a story he does tell.

The boys on the Capitan football squad were entertained at a banquet held in Capitan Saturday, Nov. 24. Twenty-two boys were present to enjoy roast turkey and all the trimmings. The centerpiece was a large cake decorated as a miniature football field. Hostesses at the banquet were Mrs. Champ Ferguson and Mrs. Cecil Harlan.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Evans of Roswell stopped in Capitan last week for a short visit with relatives and friends while en route on a business trip to Alamogordo.

Eugene Petree, high school student, was operated on for a gunshot wound in the leg, suffered when the door slammed as he was getting out of a car and the gun was discharged accidentally.

CORONA

By MRS. A. E. MULKEY

Mrs. J. D. Donaldson and son, Walter, of Deming, were visiting friends at Corona and Cedarvale last week. The Donaldsons recently sold their ranch which is located about 15 miles northwest of Corona and moved to Deming where they own a lovely home. The Donaldsons had lived in this section of the country for about 40 years.

Miss Sally Mae Pfeiffer entertained a group of high school juniors and seniors at her home Saturday evening.

The Corona Cardinals, and a number of other people from Corona journeyed to Vaughn Friday, Nov. 23, for the first game in Vaughn's new gymnasium. It was a close game with Corona scoring three points in the last 30 seconds to win the game, 29 to 28.

The Corona senior class wishes to thank all who contributed to the success of the Big Deer Club, which they sponsored. Pat Gallegos of Vaughn weighed in the largest buck—220 pounds. Ernest Vandell weighed in the first deer at 109 pounds. Norwood Vickrey had the smallest deer, 78 pounds. The deer were very fat this year. Corona territory had many hunters and a high percentage of them got their game.

W. W. Helm made a business trip to Albuquerque this week.

The General Chemical Company of Deming is preparing to resume mining operations in the Gallina Mountains. Eagle Nest Mine and G. G. Furman is helping to survey a new road to the mines. A new shaft has been put down about 127 feet and new tunnels will be built beginning next week.

The Helm and French mines will resume operations about the first of the year.

A bazaar and rummage sale will be held in Corona Village Hall each Friday and Saturday afternoons until after Christmas. Proceeds will go to the benefit of the Presbyterian building fund.

Miss Wanna Beth Fox was thrown from a horse at the B. C. Berryman ranch last week, suffering a slight head and face injury. She was taken to the hospital but is back home and expects to return to school sometime this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Roberts and son Jimmie and daughter Patsy of Belen and Mr. and Mrs. Don Goodrich and son Donnie and daughter Linda of Albuquerque were visiting relatives and friends in Corona over the Thanksgiving holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jones have returned this week from a trip to Deming and old Mexico.

Word was received here the first of this week that Mr. and Mrs. Willis Cato of Denver have a new baby girl. The Catos are former residents of Corona.

R. L. Sheffield is visiting his children in California.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Strickland went to Colorado last week to bring home their son Jimmie who is attending college in Colorado.

A movie, "Like A Mighty Army," was shown at the Corona Baptist Church Sunday evening, Nov. 25, to a large audience. Visitors from Progresso were Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Piggott and daughter, Joannette; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hobbs and children and Mr. and Mrs. Clay McGonagill Jr.

Your Community Chest is still short of its pressing needs. Your contribution will be appreciated. Give it to any member on the committee or mail it to Corona Community Chest.

Tom Bingham's Hosts At Birthday Dinner

The home of the Tom Bingham on the I-Bar-X Ranch near Carrizozo was the setting for the birthday dinner on Thanksgiving Day which honored Mr. Bingham's mother, Mrs. C. L. Robinson, and his sister, Mrs. Margaret Peebles, both of Captan. The honorees were the recipients of many very lovely gifts.

Guests at the Bingham home included Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Robinson, John Robinson, Mrs. Margaret Peebles and her two children, Gail and David, and Mrs. Frances Rhodes and son Jimmy, all of Captan; Mrs. Leo Powell and son Bobby of Truth or Consequences; Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bingham and son Bill of Fort Stanton; Mrs. E. I. Harkey and children Richard, Sport and Marilyn of Ancho; Mr. and Mrs. Dee Simpson and children, Sandra and Riekle, and Miss Iris Staples of Green Tree; Mr. and Mrs. John Rowland of Rodeo; Mrs. Maggie Espey of Carrizozo and Mr. and Mrs. John Alderson of the I-Bar-X Ranch.

PERSONALS

Navy man Charles Hodgkin is spending Thanksgiving leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hodgkin Sr. The young sailor is presently stationed at San Diego.

Miss Minnie Lee Nell entertained a number of guests at her home for dinner during the recent holiday. A menu of delicious Thanksgiving dishes was served to Mr. and Mrs. C. B. May, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Sifton Jr. and Mr. Albert Schart.

Dick Roberts writes his parents he recently enjoyed a surprise visit with Hugh Roberts (no relative but a close friend) at Pearl Harbor. The latter will shortly receive an honorable discharge after serving in the Korean theater of action.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dillard of Tularosa, parents of Mrs. J. J. Boone, spent Thanksgiving Day with the Boone family. Mrs. Boone and a friend, Mrs. Mae Brown of this village, were recent visitors at the homes of relatives in Tularosa and Alamogordo.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Boone have returned Saturday from Portales where they went last Friday to drive Mr. Boone's mother, Mrs. May Guhl, to her home at Nogal. Mrs. Guhl is convalescing satisfactorily from a sprained back and other injuries suffered Oct. 19 in an automobile accident near Wellington, Texas.

Mrs. E. W. Roberts and infant son, Michael, Glenwood Springs, Colo., are the guests of Michael's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Roberts, for an indefinite period. The senior Mrs. Roberts reports her sailor son, Donald, ate his Thanksgiving Day dinner at San Diego on the same ship on which another Carrizozoan, Charles Hodgkin, has been serving a tour of duty. Her other Navy son, Dick, who is at Pearl Harbor, reports a Thanksgiving Day temperature of 96 degrees.

ANCHO

By ALLIE SNODGRASS

Weyman Lightfoot was a lucky winner with a buck weighing 199 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Mill Jones and children returned Monday from Rotan, Texas, where they spent the Thanksgiving holiday with Bessie's mother and sisters. One sister, Mrs. Dodson, was quite ill but had been released from the hospital and was feeling much better when Bessie left.

Mrs. P. A. Stidham is confined to the hospital in Carrizozo this week.

Surely it is good to have Reba Bingham around again. She was hospitalized in Carrizozo several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wedell, Sam and Wanda and her two children motored to Santa Rita to spend the holiday with Roy's mother, sisters, nieces and nephews, and two sisters of Mrs. Wedell.

Some attacks of flu are making the rounds here.

The Palomarez family left Tuesday night for an extended visit in San Francisco. Surely will miss them and especially the children from school.

Mrs. Elva Wilson and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ruth Wilson, were in Carrizozo Wednesday. The senior Mrs. Wilson is recovering from an attack of flu during which she celebrated her birthday anniversary. One beautiful gift which she received from a sister-in-law is a calfskin purse of striking design.

Miss Patricia Ann Champlain of Berkeley, Calif., daughter of the former Gladys Wilson of Ancho, writes from Paris where she is enrolled in a university under a Fulbright scholarship. Miss Champlain, who was accompanied to France by her mother, is interested in public relations work, and it is that field for which she is studying to prepare herself.

Bags First Deer

Miss Barbara Jean Branum bagged her first deer last week while hunting with Bill Gallacher Jr. near Church Peak at Nogal. A guest of the Gallacher family at their cabin near Nogal, Miss Branum's hunting expedition yielded a three-point deer weighing approximately 110 pounds. Her father, Clint Branum of Santa Fe, was in this area on a business trip at the time she caught the deer.

New Winter Clothing

United States Marines in Korea have been issued new and improved winter clothing and equipment. The items include an improved warming tent, a new type of stove and a new kind of insulated rubber boot that has been tested to ward off frostbite at 45 degrees below zero.

The Bonita Club had a party Saturday night, Nov. 24. Hostesses were the Louis Merrells and Dr. and Mrs. Darlington. Home for the Thanksgiving holiday were Miss Danna Kusanovich and a classmate, Miss Wanda Rossen, of Oakland, Calif. Both of these girls are anthropology majors at the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque. Billy Dale Brown spent the holidays with his folks. He also attends the University of New Mexico.

Edward P. Keeney was admitted to the hospital for a checkup. He has been making his home in Albuquerque. Dr. and Mrs. Carl Mankinen were in El Paso Friday, Nov. 23. Guests entertained by the Kusanovichs during the hunting season were Colonel Franco and Missor, Major Hackford, Furrle, Harris, Laine and Anshe. The officers are all stationed at Walker Air Force Base, Roswell. The hospital expects a large group of patients from the San Francisco hospital in the near future. Arrangements are being made to take care of the 50 or more men from the California city.

The dietetic department of the hospital is to be congratulated on its wonderful Thanksgiving dinner, which was done in grand style, white tablecloths and all. It was really a treat to see the decorated dining room and the meal was complete with all the trimmings.

Cards of Thanks

The entire families of Emmett and John J. Gregg of Alamogordo desire to express their deep appreciation to all who participated in the recent search for Jerry Emmett Gregg. The prompt, efficient and timely actions of J. F. Frampton, special investigator, OSI; personnel of the National Guard under Captain Bill Marr and their instantaneous response to the call of Gov. Edwin L. McChern; the state police represented by Patrolmen Cook of Alamogordo and Salas of Carrizozo; U. S. Air Force personnel under Majors Haynor and Kimrey acting for the commanding officer of Holloman Air Force Base; Sheriff "Sally" Ortiz of Carrizozo; local police officials; and residents throughout Otero and Lincoln Counties; will long be remembered by the Gregg families as A JOB WELL DONE.

We regret that in the rush of organization and search, we were unable to recognize each valuable deed and to identify all those who did them, for they numbered in the hundreds. Radio station KALG's running call for help and its frequent progress reports were invaluable in bringing the concerted action necessary for the search, and the response of friends, acquaintances and unidentified neighbors alike was deeply gratifying and has made us more cognizant than ever of the great neighborliness of the people of this area.

We shall be forever grateful. John and Dorris Gregg, parents; Emmett and Flora Gregg, grandparents; Mrs. Susie McKenzie, grandmother; Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Evans, Las Cruces; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hogan, El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wilcox; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McKenzie; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wilson; near relatives.

We thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy which was deeply appreciated. THE JOHN KIMBRELL FAMILY.

How's THIS for a kettle of fish?

NO doubt about it—a road failure can cost you plenty of "fish." Not only in time lost to what could have been profitable hauling, but in expensive repairs as well—repairs that could have been avoided.

That's where we come in.

If you bring your equipment to us at regular intervals, our mechanics will catch the little things that go wrong with trucks before they become a major breakdown.

In so doing, you're being thrifty three ways. You (1) cut down the possibility of costly repairs, (2) get better performance with less "down time" and (3) get more years of service from the trucks you now own.

Make sense to you? Come on in—the service is fine!

Get more 'run' for your money!

tricio; Mrs. Fred LaMay, San Patricio, and her daughter, Mrs.
Elzy Perry Jr., Glencoe; Mrs. O.
A. Hunt and daughter, Mrs. Doss Pulliam, Oklahoma City, and Mrs. Mayme Perry, Glencoe.
The deceased, who was born March 24, 1876, at Larned, Kan., came to White Oaks with his parents in 1884. Educated in Kansas, he spent a few years farming in the Ozarks and for a short time was superintendent of the Crow Indian reservation in Montana. The colorful pioneer ranchman at one time worked on the old V ranch in the White Mountains before moving to the Ruldoso VCalley in 1889 where he was employed by the late Frank Coe. Shortly thereafter he met Miss Sidney Coe, daughter of his employer, and on Dec. 18, 1900, the young couple repeated their wedding vows. They celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last year. In 1915, they purchased the now familiar Bonnell ranch which they ran as a dude ranch for many years until forced to discontinue during World War II. However, residents from all over the United States have returned from time to time to spend their vacations there following the close of World War II.
The late Mr. Bonnell delighted in telling the story of the day when gold was first discovered in White Oaks, and men came running into town carrying in their hands rocks containing the gold ore.
The deceased, who had been active throughout his life, had gone to the corral with his son, Ralph, just a few hours prior to his death to inspect his herd of registered Hereford cattle which he started a number of years ago. A natural horseman, he enjoyed riding and during hunting season rode "Navajo," his favorite horse.
His many hardships encountered during the frontier days were always related as funny experiences. It was he who carried the first mail into the Ruldoso Valley by horseback from Fort Stanton and delivered it to the post office on the late Frank Coe's ranch.
Mr. Bonnell, a favorite with the young people, had a host of friends for whom his death is a great loss.

Fort Stanton Christmas Party Plans Underway

Members of a Carrizozo committee to help Mrs. Edna Laramie, chairman, in conjunction with the proposed Christmas party for patients at Fort Stanton include Mesdames Clyde Brewster, Will Ed Harris and Manuel Ortiz.
Arrangements are also underway to send every Lincoln County serviceman a package of homemade cookies and candy, and committees are being formed throughout the county to assist in the project. It is planned to have all workers assemble at the Fort Stanton dining room on Dec. 21 at 2 P. M. to pack the servicemen's boxes of cookies and candy.
Mrs. Laramie announced this week Carrizozo's share in the undertaking is approximately 1,500 cookies and about 30 pounds of candy. Committee members are already contacting residents of the community for their offerings.
It is requested that the names and addresses of all servicemen from Lincoln County be left at the various post offices throughout the county by relatives. Postmasters are personally defraying the postage for mailing the servicemen's packages.
The chairman stated she has already received the promise of approximately 200 cookies and five pounds of candy, but that it is imperative Carrizozo's quota be met if the project is to be a success locally. Mrs. Laramie added that contributions may be sent to her in care of the Selective Service office in the courthouse here, or to the committee members.

Roads—

Further recommendations for construction.
A letter from the State Highway Department, dated Oct. 5, 1951, to Lincoln County's commissioners, which has been incorporated into the minutes of their November meeting, reveals the Federal Bureau of Roads has disapproved the first two projects for secondary road construction given top priority by the commissioners in their letter to the Highway Department under date of Feb. 9, 1951.
According to the Oct. 5 letter from the State Highway Department, it appears the Federal Bureau is of the opinion there are other routes in Lincoln County of greater merit for early improvement than those recommended by the Lincoln County commissioners.
The projects recommended by the commissioners under date of Feb. 9, 1951, include construction of a bridge across the Rio Hondo on a road approximately one and one half miles west of Tinnie on U. S. 70-80 and running southwesterly approximately one mile.
All correspondence on this project, which has been disapproved, has been returned to the State Highway Department by the Federal Bureau of Roads pending receipt of additional information to attempt justification of the addition of the road to the secondary system. In connection with the Federal Bureau's rejection, it states: "It is noted that the route terminates at no logical point on the southern end. It will be necessary under the regulations for the secondary system to terminate at a definite point of traffic service. Further action on the recommendation of the route will be deferred pending justification and revision of the route length." The Highway Department stated that if the commissioners believe an extension of the proposed addition southwesterly to the end of the existing road will provide more justification for the addition of the road to the secondary system, it will appreciate the board's comments.
The second priority requested was an addition to the federal aid secondary system of approximately five miles of road one and one quarter miles west of Picacho on U. S. 70-80 running southerly across the Rio Hondo via the Fuller ranch. This request was also disapproved by the Federal Bureau because the addition does not terminate at a logical point such as an intersecting road or other traffic generating centers. For resubmission to the Federal Bureau, it will be necessary to support the request with all available data justifying the addition.
The report of the Federal Bureau that it has disapproved the two projects for insufficient justification appears ironical in view of the fact that at times school children are stranded and forced to seek shelter in neighbors' homes when the road becomes impassable, mail cannot be delivered, and ranchers are forced to go to desperate lengths to carry on their business, not to mention the loss of cars and trucks which has occurred from time to time during flash floods.
The November minutes indicate a motion regarding the Hondo bridge project has been forwarded to the highway department, but do not give the wording of the motion. On the request concerning the Picacho-Fuller ranch road project it is indicated the county commissioners from that district will shortly furnish additional information.

"Womanless Wedding" To Be Presented Nov. 30

By High School Journalism Class
Mr. and Mrs. Delicatassed (Claude Wilson and David Pacheco) are announcing the coming wedding of their daughter, Rosebud (Don Queen) to Archibald Hercules Headlights (Joe Lueras), son of Mr. and Mrs. A.
H. Headlights (Lee Straley and Ernie Gallegos) in the grade school auditorium Nov. 30 at 7:30 P. M.
The bride's attendants are beautiful maid of honor (Glenn Barnum) and four gorgeous bridesmaids (Henry Vega, Sam Wedell, Preston Lindsey and Jerry Kennedy).
The "Little Darlings" that will really catch your attention are the two flower girls (Robert Vega and Jimmy Lucero) and the ring bearer (Lloyd Candelaro). Officiating at the blissful event will be Gerald King in the role of the minister. The soloist (Eddie Holguin) will sing the traditional wedding music, "I Love You Truly" and "Always."
Other members of the bridal party include:
Ushers: Archie Robinson, Sammy Stidham, Leroy Sidwell, Leroy Nowell; best man: Dillon
Lovelace; bride's Aunt Matilda;
Roy Crumbly; groom's old bachelor uncle; Orville Wilson.
The Carrizozo High School senior class and the "C" Club are in charge of the foregoing
"event," and members of the "bridal party" are well known in local high school football circles.
Girl members of the senior class have planned a program in conjunction with the "wedding festivities."

Christmas Seal Sales $200 in First Five Days

Sales of Christmas Seals in Lincoln County totaled $200 during the first five days after the opening date on Nov. 19, said Mrs. Clyde Brewster, Carrizozo, who is in charge of this county's sale of seals. She added that 2,025 envelopes containing the Christmas Seals have been mailed throughout Lincoln County.
A request is on file with the State Health Department to bring the mobile X-ray unit to Lincoln County again this year, and fulfillment of the request depends to a large extent upon the success of the sale of Christmas Seals in this county.
Mrs. Brewster warned that the Lincoln County Tuberculosis Association is the only agency authorized to sell the seals, and that all money and unused seals should be sent to her direct. Under no consideration, she added, should the sale of unused seals be attempted by any individual in the county, and urged school authorities to stress that fact.

Arizona Residents In Auto Accident Here

Three residents of Phoenix, Ariz., were injured Nov. 19 about 7 P. M. when their car hit a soft shoulder on Highway 380 about nine miles west of Carrizozo and returned. Stuart Lyon, driver of the car, suffered a vertebra injury while his wife, Mrs. Mildred Lyon, sustained a back injury.
The couple's son, Jimmie, who suffered a ruptured spleen, was operated on by Dr. R. C. Derbyshire, Santa Fe, in the hospital in Carrizozo, shortly after the accident. Two other passengers in the automobile, Misses Lennis Lyon and Alice Daly, daughter and niece, respectively, of Mr.
and Mrs. Lyon, escaped injury.
The Arizonans were reported en route to New York to visit relatives when the accident occurred. Their car was badly damaged.
Mr. and Mrs. Lyon and their son, Jimmie, who were released from the local hospital Wednesday, left immediately for their home in Phoenix, accompanied by their daughter Lennis Lyon, and niece, Alice Daly.

Ex-Carrizozo Resident Dies in Albuquerque

Hilino M. Warner, 43, former resident of Carrizozo, passed away at his home in Albuquerque Nov. 14 after a long illness.
Mass for the deceased was celebrated at the Sacred Heart Church in Albuquerque on Nov.
16 with interment at Mount Calvary Cemetery in the Duke
City.
Pallbearers were Ernesto Gu-rule, Reyes Gurule, Telesfor Apodaca, Joe J. Chavez, Matt Jara-millo and Max Ramirez.
Surviving are his widow, Mrs.
Prayer Warner; one son, Dick Warner; three brothers, Sam
Warner of Albuquerque; Reyes and Ignacio Warner of Carrizozo, and two sisters, Mrs. Rosa Chavez and Mrs. Paula Warner of Carrizozo.
The deceased was born in White Oaks, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Olojio Warner. The family moved to Carrizozo about 1912 and Mr. Warner attended the local schools before moving to Albuquerque in 1926.

Capitan PTA To Meet

By DOROTHY GUCK
A regular meeting of the Capitan PTA will be held in the high school library at 7:30 P. M. on Monday, Dec. 3. The business meeting will be very short to make time for a movie and an old-fashioned Christmas party.
The party is being planned
by Mrs. Roy Morgan and Mrs.
Travis Werner. Hosts for the evening are Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kusanovich, Adolph Wilson, J. P.
Herrera and Mrs. Jack Young.
If you can't find a baby sitter, bring the children. If you have guests, or your neighbor would enjoy an entertaining evening, take them along.
Keeping farm records, like brushing one's teeth, should become a daily habit.

Hondo Eagles Winner Over Carver, 33-29

By F. S. MONTES
On November 7 the Hondo team played the Roswell Carver boys in a thrilling game before a cheering crowd which saw the lead change hands several times during the contest. At the half, the Eagles led 21-16; but, relinquished their advantage early in the third quarter. With less than a minute left to play, the Hondo squad stalled to keep their four-point lead. As the final whistle sounded, the Eagles were on the long end of a 33-29 score.
After downing Lake Arthur, 21-20, in the opening game of the season on Nov. 2, the Eagles dropped one to Corona on Nov. 9.

The nation's total farm production is estimated to be at an all-time high in 1951. Total crop volume is up 45 per cent from the 1935-39 average, livestock up 43 per cent, and total food production up 41 per cent from pre-war. Population during the same period has gone up 17 per cent.
Turkey production in the U. S. in 1951 is estimated at 53,000,000 birds, 16 per cent more birds than the previous all-time high in 1950.

Pi Gamma Mu Initiates Edward B. Choate

The installation dinner of the New Mexico Alpha Chapter held recently at Highlands University was the setting for the initiation of Edward B. Choate of Capitan into Pi Gamma Mu, social science honor society.
Dr. Lynn Ferrigo, provincial governor of the fraternity and head of the history and social science department at Highlands University, was installing officer. Gerhard Kraemer, young German educator now traveling in this country under the auspices of the State Department, was guest speaker.
The objectives of the society include improvement of scholarship in the social studies, the inspiration of social service to humanity by intelligent approach to the solution of social problems, and the fostering of sympathy and understanding towards those with different opin-

Methodists Contribute $500 in Free Work

Members of the Carrizozo Trinity Methodist Church have contributed at least $500 in free work on the new church building since completion of the contractor's share. Rev. R. E. Dickenson termed that figure a "conservative" one.
Worship services are now being held in the assembly room of the new educational building, the floor of which has been covered with small rugs contributed by the women of the church.
Stoves have been installed by the male members of Trinity

Babe in the Woods

REPUBLICANS - for - Eisenhower heard a big sigh of relief when their proposed candidate finally climbed on his plane and flew back to Paris.

"He may be a great general," murmured one Republican active in the Eisenhower-for-President organization, "but he certainly is a babe-in-the-woods when it comes to politics."

What caused Eisenhower supporters to tear their hair was the way their man cut the ground out from under his chief backer with the statement that he hadn't heard from Sen. James Duff of Pennsylvania "directly or indirectly for a long, long time."

In the first place this was not true. For, earlier in the day, Ike's own aide, Lt. Col. Robert L. Schulz, had phoned Senator Duff from Louisville. He phoned around Sunday noon, and Eisenhower's disclaimer to the press was Sunday afternoon.

Second, word was sent to Senator Duff two weeks before Eisenhower arrived that he was coming and to keep November 4, 5 and 6 open.

Third and more important, Duff had been waging a steady though quiet campaign to organize district leaders throughout the country and take delegates away from Taft. Last month, for instance, he made two speeches in North Carolina urging Eisenhower for President. Immediately following the two speeches, John Gordon Bennett, son of the famed New York Herald editor, went to North Carolina, began the actual work of pledging delegates.

Anguished Phone Calls

Most essential part of the Bennett-Duff sales talk, naturally, had to be that Eisenhower was a Republican, had given definite assurances that he would be a candidate, and would not leave his followers out on a limb.

Imagine their horrified surprise, therefore, when local leaders read in the press that Eisenhower hadn't heard from Senator Duff "directly or indirectly for a long, long time."

Immediately long-distance phone calls began coming in to Eisenhower lieutenants from various parts of the country.

"You said Jim Duff was masterminding the general's campaign," protested one North Carolina Republican. "How can he mastermind the campaign when he hasn't even been in touch with him? You said Duff had assured us he would run. But he says he hasn't heard from him."

"In view of that," continued the irate North Carolinian, "we're getting in touch with Dave Ingalls (Taft's campaign manager) as fast as we can. We've got to protect ourselves."

What the North Carolinian had in mind was the way Eisenhower rebuffed various Democrats who wanted to draft him in 1948, making them too late to catch the Truman bandwagon. Truman has never forgiven Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, Jimmy Roosevelt, Sen. Olin Johnson of South Carolina and others who plumped for Ike. Republicans know this, and figure Taft might be just as vindictive as Truman.

Those are some of the scordid but essential ABC's of politics which Eisenhower doesn't understand, but will have to learn.

Behind the Peace

Besides the genuine desire for peace, two key factors are behind the American disarmament proposals in Paris:

1. A report from U.S. Ambassador Allan Kirk, just returned from Moscow, that both Stalin and the politburo are suffering a case of war jitters, think the U.S.A. is ready for war, and that Russia should get the drop on us. Kirk warned that there is grave danger Russia may start war for this reason; therefore urged the President to be extremely careful about all public statements on Russia—at least until the war hysteria dies down.

2. The effective manner in which Russia has put across the idea that it is the real advocate of peace and that the United States is warmongering.

War on Piggy Bank

The Bureau of the Mint has privately declared war on that trusty receptacle of America's loose change, the piggy bank. It's all because of the shortage of pennies.

The government has something like 19,187,884,000 pennies outstanding and another 178,000,000 were minted during the month of October. However, there's still a big shortage, forcing many banks to ration their outlay of pennies.

SCANNING THE WEEK'S NEWS of Main Street and the World

Reds Reject President Truman's 'Foolproof' Disarmament Program

DISARMAMENT—No one who heard President Truman's "foolproof" disarmament plan and his blunt statement that "if we can't get security and peace one way, we must get it the other way", really expected the Russians to accept it. The Soviet's immediate "no", therefore, had no element of surprise.

What, then, it might well be asked, does the U.S. expect to gain by continually seeking disarmament when everyone knows the Soviet has no intention of participating?

There are several reasons, but two stand out. In the first place, there is always an outside chance that the Russians might change their minds and some method of disarmament worked out. But more immediate is the "propaganda" benefits the U.S. realizes by putting forth a definite plan, while the Russians have nothing to offer but their continued talk of wanting peace. By turning the plan down Russia has become branded in the eyes of the world.

The President's speech was broadcast to the world, and especially to those nations behind the iron curtain by the Voice of America. The main points of the plan:

- 1. An inventory of armies and armament all over the world, including eventual disclosure of information about atomic weapons—the number of which is presently top secret in both America and Russia. This inventory would develop into a permanent international inspection system.
2. The negotiation of specific arrangements for reducing armed strength and determining the size and composition of forces which each nation should have. Ultimately atomic weapons would be prohibited.
3. Actually putting the reductions in effect "as soon as that can be done with full knowledge and fairness to all."

KOREA PEACE—Reports from Korea indicate U.N. and Communist negotiators are in almost complete agreement on a buffer zone. But the question of when to time the cease fire still separates the two on final agreement.

The Communists want the cease-fire line indicated and effective immediately. The U.N., however, insists that it become effective only after other matters are settled—such as exchange of prisoners—and an armistice is ready for signing. The Allies contend that a cease-fire now would prevent an armistice ever being reached because it would halt the shooting and thus relieve the Reds of any necessity of negotiating the other questions.

It would seem that the chasm of distrust that exists between the Communists and Allies is more likely to delay an armistice than the establishment of a cease fire line. The Allies continue to charge the Communists with stalling.

CHURCHILL—Prime Minister Winston Churchill was again in the news. In a London speech he expressed the opinion that neither Russia or the United States really wanted to fight and pointed out "it must not be forgotten that . . . we took peculiar risks in providing the principal atomic base for the U.S. in Eastern England . . . We have every need and every right to seek and receive the fullest consideration from Americans for our point of view."

A short time later it was announced that Churchill will visit Washington for talks with President Truman.

Some observers believe that the London speech was an indication of Churchill's mood and determination to have a greater say in the battle against Communism. He may even succeed in getting the President to agree to a meeting with Premier Stalin which Truman has not wanted. Churchill will also discuss the possibilities of a U.S. loan to relieve Britain's critical economic situation.

DEFENSE—There is a slight possibility the home town taxpayer may get some relief from high taxes next year. The possibility was brought about by an announcement by Defense department officials of a cut in the next military budget as much as $11,500,000,000 below this year's.

Officials said the leveling off in armament outlays earlier than expected is due to two reasons. One is that because of long "lead times" in the production of aircraft, tanks, ammunition and other "hardware" for the armed forces, funds already authorized cover much of the scheduled expansion. The other is a growing awareness among military men that unless military demands are regulated and spaced, a "breaking point" in the civilian economy might result in the loss of public support for the long-term preparedness program.

Since the start of the Korean conflict the Defense department has been given total spending authority totaling approximately $110,000,000,000.

RUSSIA—Most people in the home towns of the United States have no idea of real size of the Soviet Union. Last week Soviet population figures were released that will startle the average American.

The Russians report a total population of 207,000,000 and an annual rate of increase of 1 1/2 per cent. In 1940, the Soviet population, including inhabitants of areas annexed during 1939 and 1940, was roughly 183,000,000 persons. The gain to 207,000,000 at present, despite the losses of World War II, implies an average annual population growth over the eleven years since 1940 of about 1,300,000.

If these figures are accurate, then the Soviet Union has roughly 30,000,000 more people than the United States.

LEGION—The American Legion will ask congress next year for an increase of at least 10 per cent in compensation rates for disabled veterans and the widows and orphans of veterans, Donald R. Wilson, new national commander, has announced.

Wilson said that the Legion recognized the fact that the national economy was undergoing severe strain and "we are aware of an unalterable obligation not to make any undue demands upon that economy". But there still exists, he said, inequalities that must be leveled.

He pointed to the recently 10 per cent pay increase congress voted to most Civil Service employees and said veterans' compensations should be increased likewise.

The academy's prime purpose is not to teach baseball, but, through association of the boys with their idols, teach them fair play and sportsmanlike.

Crime in America

By ESTES KEFAUVER United States Senator

Detroit: Where Underworld And Business World Merge

Twelve of a Series

An alarming aspect in the pattern of crime in America is that certain manufacturers have deliberately allied themselves with racketeers as a means of controlling labor relationships.

In Detroit, the Senate Crime Committee turned up four instances in which large industrial concerns awarded lucrative contracts to gangsters or men who had underworld connections.

Typical was the link between Santo (Sam) Perrone and the Detroit-Michigan Stove Co. The bespectacled, balding Perrone once served a six-year sentence for violating the prohibition laws, and both he and his brother, Gaspar, had been arrested for questioning or murder charges, though later released. Ironically, Santo had a license to carry a revolver at the time we questioned him. It was promptly revoked by Detroit authorities.

Perrone barely can read and write English. He went to work more than 40 years ago as a core-maker for the stove works, perhaps the largest non-union plant in the area. Perrone insisted he never even had discussed labor problems with John A. Fry, company president, and Mr. Fry testified he never had heard of any labor difficulty or any physical violence at the plant.

Around 1934, however, there was a serious strike when a union made a strenuous effort to organize the stove works. Twelve years later, Fry told a grand jury investigating labor rackets that during the dispute "I talked with some of the fellows in the plant, including the Perrones, and I wanted to know whether or not we could get some help to come in, and they said they thought they could."

There was some fight outside the gates on the part of the pickets attacking the men when they came in to lunch. I think after the first day we had 75 or 80 policemen around the plant."

Shortly after this violent strike, Santo Perrone, the core-maker, was given a contract to purchase and haul away the scrap from the stove works. Thus, the illiterate manual laborer acquired an income which in recent years has netted him between $40,000 and $50,000 a year. He lives in a luxurious mansion, drives a costly car, and has been able to lend large sums of money.

The company also took care of Santo's brother, Gaspar, changing its core-making department to a subcontractorship using company materials and the same company owned equipment with which he had worked as an employee. Gaspar became the contractor who supplied the factory with sand cores.

Later, Santo and Gaspar were sent to the penitentiary for illegal manufacturing which they company kept Santo's scrap contract in effect for him when he was in prison. Also, while the Perrones were imprisoned, the United Auto Workers, CIO, which previously had been kept out of Detroit-Michigan Stove, was able to organize one of the plants. A UAW organizer said, though, that when Mr. Perrone got out of jail, "the organization disappeared."

An Immigration and Naturalization Service inspector told us that, while investigating aliens illegally in the United States, he learned that 20 such violators were working at the Detroit-Michigan Stove Co. Gaspar was questioned by the committee about a speed boat which he owns and operates on the Great Lakes between Michigan and Canada, but he denied that he ever smuggled in any aliens.

The Perrone-Stove Works story fits neatly with that of a larger plant, Briggs Manufacturing Co., makers of auto bodies, President Fry of the Stove Works and President Dean Robinson of Briggs are close friends.

For approximately 20 years, Briggs had contracted with an established firm, Woodmere Scrap Iron, for removal of ferrous scrap from the Briggs plant. In 1945, Santo Perrone's son-in-law, Carl Renda, suddenly applied for the contract.

The contract was taken away from Woodmere and awarded to Renda, despite the facts that he had no knowledge of the business, no equipment and not even a telephone or office where he could be called.

Then, Perrone's son-in-law turned around and made a subcontract with Woodmere, the old contractor, whereby Woodmere kept right on doing the work. But Woodmere paid Renda $2.50 a ton more than he had paid Briggs for the scrap, giving him an income which has reached $101,000 a year. As our report commented: "The inference is inescapable that what Renda was being paid for was the service ('muscle') of his father-in-law, Perrone."

Six prominent officials of the Briggs union were badly beaten by unknown persons in the year that followed granting of the Renda contract.

Before going to Detroit, the committee explored in the New York-New Jersey area the tie-up between the Ford Motor Co. and the notorious gangster, Joseph Dots, alias Joe Adonis. Adonis is a principal stockholder of the Automotive Conveying Co. of New Jersey, which transports automobiles away from the Ford plant at Edgewater, N. J.

Because of this, the committee looked into possible relationships between Ford's plants in the Detroit area and other racketeers. We found that the principal haul-away operator was the E&L Transport Co., in which one Anthony D'Anna, ex-convict and former sugar supplier to bootleggers, was a 50 per cent stockholder. D'Anna drew a $27,000 salary from E&L but apparently he did nothing to earn it.

Before acquiring his E&L stock, D'Anna, through negotiations with Harry Bennett, labor boss for the late Henry Ford Sr., had obtained a 60 per cent share of a profitable Ford agency in Wyandotte, Mich.

Bennett, now retired, had, as the committee noted, "employed virtually a private army recruited from ex-convicts and criminals to engage in battles against labor and in other anti-social activities." Subpoenaed from his California ranch to testify, he was a hostile and difficult witness. When we asked him about the gang factions in Detroit, he snapped: "Do you want me to get my head blown off?" Bennett admitted that, although he was a key man in one of the largest plants in the world, he kept no files, records or memoranda of any kind.

"In fairness to Ford," our report observed that the company "is taking vigorous steps to disassociate itself from these racketeer-held contracts." It now is attempting to terminate by some legal means its deal with Adonis. Also in Detroit, the committee cleared up the mystery of how Cleveland gamblers acquired an important block of stock in a vital industry, the Detroit Steel Corp. Max J. Zivian, president of Detroit Steel, told us that in 1944 Detroit Steel merged with Reliance Steel Corp. of Cleveland. Zivian undertook to purchase the Reliance president's stock for approximately $350,000. He said he was in Cleveland when gambler-businessman Morris Dallas, whom he had known slightly, "bumped into me in the street." Zivian said he told him that he was attempting to close a big deal but was short $100,000 Dallas, without even looking at a balance sheet, arranged a bank loan for the necessary money. So the Cleveland syndicate acquired 10,000 shares of Detroit Steel stock. Zivian subsequently became friendly with the Cleveland gambler and once took a trip on Dallas' yacht. NATIONAL AQUARIUM 1,500 Species of Marine Life Housed by National Aquarium

WNU Washington Bureau The National Aquarium in Washington, although housed in the Department of Commerce building, has been operated by the Fish and Wildlife Service under the Department of Interior since 1940. In that year, the service was created by the consolidation of the Bureau of Fisheries of Commerce and the Bureau of Biological Survey of the Department of Agriculture. The original aquarium, established in 1883 by the former U.S. Fish Commission, occupied an old pre-Civil War building in another part of the city. When the present Commerce building was built in 1932, the fish were moved to the new and larger aquarium under the main lobby, but operation continues by the Fish and Wildlife Service.

By INEZ GERHARD DOROTHY LAMOUR, Paramount's "Road" girl, who landed in a circus when Cecil B. DeMille picked her to play the worldly wise "Iron Jaw Girl" in "The Greatest Show on Earth" will always be associated with the song that she made famous. Yet she has worn it in only 12 of her many films. But it made her famous a year and a half after she broke into films, following three years as vocalist with Herbie Kay's band and a short career as a radio singer. She probably has more friends among the studio "little people" than any other star, she says they're the ones who have made it possible for her to get ahead.

Gene Tierney, one of Hollywood's best dressed women, says she always gets caught in the rain and a sweet on Beverly Drive, in Beverly Hills, where she does most of her shopping. Just as sure as the daisies cut in a hurry to make some purchases "There I am in my slacks, and I meet somebody like Joan Crawford looking like a movie queen."

Jean Simmons, the little English actress under contract to RKO, who will have the starring role in "Pilot's Wife", has had a spectacular career. Her "Opelia" in Olivier's "Hamlet" made her famous, and she ranks fourth in Parade's poll of international film favorites. She is currently before the cameras in "Andros and the Lion."

GRASSROOTS Officials Should Be Legally and Morally Honest

By Wright A. Patterson IT MAY BE within the letter of the law, but it is not within the spirit of the law for those holding government positions or having government influence to use their influence on behalf of people or corporations seeking government loans from R.F.C. It is very possible that the man holding the position of head of the Democratic party could not be convicted for indicating to officials of the R.F.C. that he might have a hand in keeping them on the job, or naming someone for the job of director of R.F.C. What he did was undoubtedly legal, but it represented a lack of morality the people expect from those holding positions of public trust. Had the same thing happened during the administration of Theodore Roosevelt, he would have been convicted on the job he held for just the few minutes he took the President to fire him. But we have degenerated morally since the days of Theodore Roosevelt and are doing now what was done during the days of Harding. But the Harding crew was not wise enough to violate only the spirit of the law. They violated the letter of the law, and were caught in the fall of Justice. Abraham Lincoln said "the republic cannot live half free and half slave." Today he would say, as others are saying, "the nation cannot live half legally honest, but half morally dishonest," and moral

The present aquarium occupies a floor space of about 14,000 square feet, and has 60 tanks which hold about 20,000 gallons of water. The water is changed on an average of three times a day. Since the aquarium is situated below the sewer level, the water is drained into underground reservoirs which must, in turn be pumped out, an expensive operation. The heavily chlorinated city water supply, which the aquarium uses, is a constant problem because chlorine would mean overnight death to the fish. All the water used must therefore pass through carbon filters. Temperature control must also be watched carefully. The hot Washington summers require complete refrigeration of the tanks of northern fishes, and the warm water of the tropics must be duplicated in those tanks which have fish accustomed to that climate. The aquarium now houses 1500 individual kinds of fish of which the rarest is a collection of albino catfish—the only such collection now in this country. Another great attraction to the 250,000 visitors each year is Siamese Sue, a tiny turtle with one body but two heads. Sue is a perfect example of turtle frustration. Each brain controls the set of legs on its side so that indecision as to whether she's going to move or stay still is a major factor in Sue's life. Each head must be fed simultaneously or the other one will try to grab the food. Sue has grown from the size of a quarter to about the size of a silver dollar in the two years that she's been at the aquarium. A two-headed turtle usually lives only a few months. THE NATIONAL Aquarium seeks primarily to maintain an attractive display of the principal fresh-water game fishes which are propagated and distributed throughout interior waters of the country. John C. Pearson, director of the aquarium, says. Recollections of aquarium spectators are watched as carefully as the behavior of the fishes themselves. It has been noticed that women like the fancy Oriental goldfish, the black Chinese Moors, and the multi-colored Shubunkins. Men seem to prefer the rainbow and brook trout while Siamese Sue remains the favorite of most children. The most generally liked attraction, however, is the shallow pool filled with turtles of all varieties. Future improvements to the aquarium call for better lighting effects in the display tanks. They are all electrically lighted now with the surrounding area kept just a bit darker so as to better show off the displays. More naturalistic backgrounds for the exhibits is another aim. Real moss grows in the tanks, but most of the greenery used is bamboo because it retains its color under water for a longer period than most other types of greens. Aquarium officials also hope for a more complete display of native fish and game fish so well appreciated by many millions of American fishermen. The attendants are occasionally offered bribes by thoughtful visitors who want to take a fancy goldfish home to the children. A "gam collector" once offered $3 for a coast-guarding water from Hawaii. As Mr. Pearson says, a good motto for any aquarium management is: "If it fits into a pocket, keep it locked up."

THE FICTION CORNER

ABOVE the brow of grim El Huertano a pale pink cloud was drifting out her rose-edged ruffles. Deshab lifted her dark eyes from the blanket she was weaving. For a moment the brown hands were still, then they took up the wool again and the design continued to grow. She must work while there was still light upon the milo high mesa about her, for inside the Hogan it was difficult to blend the grays and browns of the sheep's fleece. A breeze stirred her hair and again her glance sought the cloud. Ah! Just as she had expected, the wind from the north had brought another cloud and although at first the pretty pink cloud slipped behind El Huertano and pretended to hide, soon the two would touch and merge. Deshab had watched them often. "For quieted clouds are mating, high above the plains in the summer sky— she and Yaxza— Yaxza the Long was a silvermouth. Like many Navajo men he fashioned sturdy enduring jewelry from coin silver and engraved it with simple lines signifying good fortune and long life. Deshab looked down proudly at her wrist. Yaxza was different from the others. It was he who had made the bracelet she wore. He had decorated it with the thunderbird. A square turquoise was set on either side and beside them flowering cacti, symbolizing courtship. It meant that Yaxza and she would like to marry and build a squat

BRIGHT SUNSET By Frances Rider

round Hogan of their own. If only they had the money for a license. The winter had been long and cold; and the summer rains scanty. Her father's sheep had died off. The few left were weak because they hadn't enough gamma grass. Deshab looked at them now, grazing at a distance among the sun-baked stones. Among them several children played a game with pebbles. The blanket was nearly finished but she could not try to sell it. She would have to trade it for overalls and calico and flour. The few remaining sheep needed milk. El Huertano's fat tummy peak was as firm with the sunset as Deshab rose and went to the door. Yaxza had gone to the miller that afternoon and seen he would pass on his way back. When Deshab was twelve she had spent a few weeks at the mission school. Only orphans could stay longer. There was too little money. Remembering the services she had attended there she moved her lips in unaccustomed prayer. When she lifted her head she saw a tall figure black against the flaming sky. It was Yaxza. Coming toward her he held out his hands showing her many bills and much silver. Deshab had never seen that much money all at once. "Oh, Yaxza! Tell me." Yaxza spoke with no excitement in his voice. "At the mission was a letter. The lady read it to me. A sister in California wants all my rings, all my pins, all my bracelets. When I make these we will get more money." Deshab's beaded hand his eyes sparkled with the glory of the sunset and his own pride. "Yaxza, Yaxza, it is good. Now we can get the license." "Not yet, my patient one. My parents have debts. I must help them." "But you said there would be more money when you make more bracelets and pins?" "Yes, my patient one, but first— Yaxza drew from his pocket a jeweled piece of polished stone. "Why do you think I polished and polished this tiny stone?" Shyly Deshab looked into Yaxza's eyes. "For our wedding ring?" "For our wedding ring. Tonight I will burn the candle low while I make the ring for you." "Then tomorrow you will make the things to sell?" "Tomorrow, my patient one, I will make the things to sell." Shadows slipped along the sides of El Huertano and filled the arroyo. From behind the tall lonely peak slipped into view one cloud with just a fringe of pink ruffles at one edge.

Medical Care Said Relatively Cheaper Than in 1935-39

CHICAGO—The American Medical Association has reported that the price of medical care, including drugs, hospital room rates and physician and dental services, was relatively 14 per cent cheaper in 1950 than during 1935-39. This was revealed in the Consumers' Price Index, compiled by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. The Bureau's Index indicated a 72 per cent rise in the cost of living since the 1935-39 base period while, at the same time, showing that medical care prices rose only 48 per cent. The increase for food—the Index showed, was 104 per cent; apparel 82 per cent; rent—31 per cent; fuel, electricity and refrigeration 41 per cent; house furnishings 60 per cent, and 57 per cent for the items which the Bureau of Labor Statistics classified as miscellaneous. Only two of these items—rents, and fuel, electricity and refrigeration—rose less rapidly than medical care prices. The 72 per cent rise in the cost of living as compared with only a 48 per cent rise in medical care prices indicates that for every $1 paid for goods and services generally in 1935-39, the 1950 consumer had to pay $1.72. On the other hand, the medical care purchased for $1 in 1935-39 cost only $1.48 in 1950. An analysis of the Index discloses further that a dollar in 1950 could buy 68 cents worth of medical care but only 58 cents worth of all goods and services, or 66 per cent as much. The 1950 purchasing power of the dollar was 86 per cent as high in terms of goods and services, generally, as it was in terms of medical care prices only. Thus, in terms of the purchasing power of the 1950 dollar, medical care was relatively 14 per cent cheaper than in 1935-39. Physicians' fees, according to the Index, rose 40 per cent or only a little more than half as rapidly as the entire cost of living, which rose 72 per cent. Only hospital room rates, which increased 123 per cent, have risen faster than the entire Consumers' Price Index. "The high hospital rates," an A.M.A. study of the Consumers' Price Index said, "reflects the fact that hospitals are singularly exposed to the forces of inflation." Commenting on the relatively cheaper medical care prices today, Dr. John W. Cline, San Francisco, president of the A.M.A., said that "physicians recognize that the cost of medical care, especially hospital care, is a serious budget item for many persons. Therefore, the doctors are strongly supporting various plans to help meet these costs." "The fact is, however," Dr. Cline continued, "that, as shown by official government statistics, medical care prices today, as compared with the prices of all goods and services, are relatively less than they were 15 years ago."

'Truck Driver of 1949' Charged Drunk Driving

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — The "Truck Driver of the Year 1949" has been convicted of drunken driving. Lloyd Reimer, picked for the national title in a contest based on driving skill and safety, was charged with drunken driving by officers who said he drove his automobile through a traffic signal. He was fined $10.25 and his drivers license suspended for 90 days. Reimer was also cited once by the Indiana Motor Truck Association for saving the life of a girl who appeared to be bleeding to death after an accident at Louisville. Marine Engineering Officer Braves Danger for Paris WITH THE FIRST MARINE AIRCRAFT WING IN KOREA—The last time WJONGGUA AIRFIELD was abandoned to the Reds, a damaged Marine Corsair fighter was left on the airstrip. First Lieutenant Harry Wilson, of Andrews, Texas, a first Marine Aircraft Wing engineering officer, needed spare parts for two Corsairs grounded for repairs. He took six Marine enlisted mechanics with him in a truck, and despite warnings of military police along the way, passed through the front lines and drove to WJonggwa. As artillery shells hissed into Communist ranks only a few hundred yards away, they hastily "camouflaged" the Corsair and hauled away every useable part except the fuselage and wings. Marine Fliers Have Dropped 22 Gondolas of Explosives WITH THE FIRST MARINE AIRCRAFT WING IN KOREA—A single squadron of fighter-bomber aircraft, flying with the First Marine Aircraft Wing, have dropped 1132 explosive bombs of all types, and 707 napalm fire bombs on the Communist during a single 30 day period. In addition, the Leatherneck pilots fired 480,050 rounds of 20mm. cannon ammunition, and 7,418 high velocity aircraft rockets, each the equivalent of a 5" shell, into enemy positions during the period. This is the equivalent of 22 American-sized gondola-type read cars full of high explosives.

Small Bathroom Deserves Good Planning for Service

By Erita Haley

THE SMALLEST room in your home, the bathroom, is also one which needs to be used most frequently by all members of the family. It deserves careful planning because the fixtures are permanently placed and mistakes and oversights in construction can be remedied only by considerable expense.

Is your bathroom congested? If small, it's likely to be. Does it have room for the essentials like extra towels, washcloths, medicines, cosmetics and cleaning agents? No? Then it's not as useful as it could probably be.

Those who are planning a home might well take all these things into consideration for usefulness should be part and parcel of the design to be followed. More space might be allotted right at the beginning and built-in units can be incorporated much less expensively when the bathroom is planned.

Others who have remodeling in mind can perhaps correct some errors in the original plan of the room and thus give themselves a more practical and satisfactory bathroom.

When the building budget permits it is a good idea to install a bath on the second floor and a powder room which contains a lavatory and water closet on the first floor. This relieves congestion in the mornings when bathing is essential and time-consuming, as well as before mealtimes when hands have to be washed.

Modern Bathroom

A sliding glass door and water-proof clay tile wainscots make this bathtub-shower an ideal combination for the small bathroom. Initials on the door add a personal touch and the tiled niche over the washbasin provides a convenient storage place for toiletries. It's an easy bathroom to keep sanitary and neat, in spite of the small size.

Tile, for example, is a good choice and it will never need future decorating or refinishing.

Single doors to bathrooms work better than two, as one is always bound to be locked and cause inconvenience. With youngsters, it's a wise precaution to have a lock on the door which can be opened from the outside, in case of emergency.

Have all fixtures on one wall when possible as this will save on plumbing costs. If you can, locate the bath tub so it adjoins the waste pipe from the kitchen, as this too will be a money-saver.

Shower stalls, separate from the tub, are good, but a shower over the tub works out nicely indeed. In this case the walls should be finished in a waterproof material like clay tile, for example, to prevent damage to walls.

Have the lights controlled by wall fixtures rather than pull cords. They're much safer.

Save on Cleaning With Proper Storage

In your bathroom frequently littered with towels on the floor, left by the youngsters? Do you have and decorative table to bathroom.

Even small bathrooms have considerable wall space which can be used for storage units to take care of towels, bath mats, shower curtains, soaps and cleaners. Look over the situation with an eye as to which wall would be most satisfactory for a storage chest. Usually it is a simple problem in carpentry to install a chest.

Shallow open shelves at the end of the bath tub can be very practical for wash cloths and soap, and even towels. This will give essential supplies within easy reach.

If you have already used the above spaces, and need more, consider the possibility of hanging shelves from the ceiling, over the tub.

Dressing Table Proves Practical

Bathrooms which are large enough to hold a dressing table will prove very useful in many ways. They are excellent when you have guests, as they offer powder room facilities in a small space.

When two people are getting ready to go out at the same time, both dressing table in bathroom and the vanity or chest in a bedroom can be put into use to alleviate the need for mirror, table top and cosmetics.

Furthermore, a dressing table in the bathroom lends an attractive decorative note to the room.

Here are possibilities for sparkling color and that little luxurious touch which is so effective even in the simplest of rooms.

Crates and a board are all that are necessary for a dressing table if one wants to keep the cost low.

In other cases, odd shaped tables, chests or unfinished pieces can be used.

beaps of clothes on the floor after someone bathes? These, and many other untidy habits are readily discouraged by proper storage facilities. In any home with younger children, for example plan to install several low towel bars which the youngsters can reach and you will encourage their being put in place.

Built-in hampers in the bathroom are not only convenient but also a big help to better housekeeping. Instead of heaping the soiled clothes on the floor, they can be placed directly in the hamper. Even if the bathroom is small, it's possible to install a hamper on the back of the door. It takes no floor space and gives a place for soiled clothing easily within reach.

Much valuable space is wasted if the area around the sink is not fully utilized. Even a small bathroom permits counter top on either side of the basin, and cabinets underneath, just like an adequate kitchen sink. The counter top is excellent for holding shampoo, shaving and make-up preparations.

Underneath the basin storage space is good for extra soap, towels, wash cloths, tissue and cleaning supplies. You might even use it for the bath brush, mats, a small waste basket and hair dryer.

Remember that when supplies and equipment are kept in a cupboard, they do not clutter a room. This makes for general neatness as well as easy cleaning.

KATHLEEN NORRIS

This Wife Plays Degrading Role

IT IS a thoroughly unhappy wife who is writing you," says the letter of Harriet Evans of Chicago. "And if you think I ever dreamed I could write those words you are entirely mistaken! Two years ago when I was married at 19, I thought Justin was the most attractive, impressive, handsome, adorable man I ever had known—and I think so still.

"But two things make me desperately sad, and I get sadder and sadder, and I can't bear to look ahead to months—years—to my whole life going this way.

"This is the situation. When we married Justin was 29, and I was 19. It was terribly exciting, especially so Mother and all my relatives were pleased, and we have a lovely apartment, and we have a little lake house where we go in summer.

"Justin told me all about his financial affairs and what he planned, and I felt very proud to be trusted by him. He said he did not want children for at least five years, at which time he should be assistant superintendent of sales, and perhaps one of the vice-presidents, and said of course he did not want his wife to go on working.

Had Good Job

"For a year I had had a good job with my aunt who employs about 12 girls in her millinery store—or rather rooms, for she is on the second floor of a big building. She makes hats for some of the smartest women in the city. I was one of her salesgirls, and was paid $50 a week.

"I loved this work, I had friends, and it was fun. My aunt is very ing to their self-esteem. She must look pretty, she must be obedient, she must be out of the way when more interesting things absorb him, and ready to amuse him in leisure hours. This is an unsatisfactory and even degrading role for a woman to play, but since you are his wife, and he is generous and kind and steady and devoted you'll probably have to play it, for a while at least.

Right to Motherhood

But the other thing, the calm decision to cheat you of your right to motherhood, is much more serious, and you should not tolerate it for a moment. Whatever silly promise you made in your childhood, about a situation and conditions of which you were entirely ignorant, no decent man would hold you to these early years of your wifehood.

It isn't only the moral consideration and that delaying the coming of children works physical misery, and often lessens the devotion between husband and wife, but it has a bad effect upon a woman's nerves. She feels herself belittled, unappreciated and dressed and taken about as an exhibition of beauty and charm and wifely devotion, but not considered worthy of the deeper and more basic responsibilities and joys of her position.

Cosmos Affects Mental States

A new electronic theory of psychiatry linked with the solar system was announced recently by a Duke University physician. The theory may put the behavior of insane—and normal—persons on a mathematically predictable basis.

Dr. Leonard J. Ravitz, psychiatrist at the Duke medical school, told doctors at the southern medical association meeting at Dallas that emotional disturbances can be measured electrically and that they definitely coincide with "cosmic events."

Scientists have long known that each of us, like a battery, gives off electrical waves. At Duke, Dr. Ravitz has been measuring these "electrical potentials" in insane and normal persons for two years. By plotting the day-by-day results, he said, marked changes were shown coinciding not only with sun-moon phases but with seasons.

Citing the cases of psychotics (the most severely disturbed mental cases), he said they were much more emotionally disturbed during the phases of the new or full moons and in the spring or winter. Dr. Ravitz measured one patient for five months and on the basis of the results made a mathematical prediction of his behavior for the rest of the year. The prediction, he said, stood up in the patient's later actions.

As further evidence of the link between emotional and cosmic change, Dr. Ravitz said that there invariably is more unrest on the psychiatric wards at Duke Hospital and the Veterans Hospital, Roanoke, Va., during periods of the new or full moons than at other periods.

According to the theory, a universal electrical field imposes its design on both living and non-living matter. In turn, all living matter, responds to the universal field.

Add essential storage space

Homemakers appreciate the advantages of a powder room on the first floor because it saves many a step, especially when they're working in the kitchen and living and dining room areas. It's fine, too, for quick make-up during the day.

Consider All Features in Planning Bathroom

The minimum size for a bathroom should be five and a half by seven feet, if the room is to be comfortable, and at the same time, have the essential storage space. A larger size is better, if you have the space, because then the room can be used as a dressing room, and hold even more necessary equipment.

Since the room is small, it's best to keep it in one color. Two or more in a small room are confusing. A smart way which is being used extensively is to have two or three hues of the same color.

Whatever material is used in floor and walls should be easy to keep clean. This is an essential to keeping the room as sanitary as possible.

An apartment hunter said to a superintendent: "Yes, I think this will suit me very well. But what are all those small stains on the ceiling?"

Net So Good A cook decided to quit her job. Mistress (upset): "I can't understand why you are leaving. Haven't we treated you like one of the family?"

Contestant: I do a nice business selling lemon extract. Bob Hawk: Do any of your customers give it to their cats? Contestant: Of course not! Bob Hawk: I don't think so. No body wants a sour puss.

She Can Tell Cashier: "I'm not as pretty as I used to be." Boss: "Oh, come, why do you say that?" Cashier: "The men have started counting their change."

Try Again Mr. Newlywed: "Is the steak ready now, dear?" Mrs. Newlywed: "I'm sorry I'm so long, George, but it looked hopeless grilled, and it doesn't look much better fried, but if you'll be patient a little longer, I'll see what boiling does to it."

SO, THAT'S IT! A colored agent was summoned before the Insurance Commissioner. "Don't you know," said the commissioner, "that you can't sell life insurance without a state license?"

QUESTIONS He (at the movies): "Can you see all right?" She: "Yes." He: "Is there a draft on you?" She: "No." He: "Is your seat comfortable?" She: "Yes." He: "Will you change places with me?"

Broken English Warm: Cold that has melted. Cynic: One who knows the price of everything; the value of nothing. Burglar: Heals of mazzuma. Small town: Where everybody knows whose check is good. Automatic Dishwasher: A well-trained husband.

Short Supply India-Rubber Man: "Couldn't you borrow some money from the midge?" Patagonian Giant: "No, they were a little short themselves."

THE BIBLE SPEAKS BY DR. KENNETH A. FOREMAN. SCRIPTURE: Exodus 25; Numbers 11-14. DEVOTIONAL READING: Deuteronomy 11:1-31.

'There Is a Tide' Lesson for December 2, 1951. "There is a tide in the affairs of men, which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune; Omitted, all the voyage of their life is bound in shallows and in miseries."

SO Shakespeare said, and he was at least half right. Opportunity sometimes knocks twice; but don't count on it. The Bible lesson for the week is a failure-story, not a success-story.

Investigating Committee SO a committee of investigation was formed, of one man from each of the twelve tribes, grown men, trusted leaders, by no means "boy scouts."

In late summer they went back to the encampment on the edge of the desert, carrying with them some of the fruits of the land. (Incidentally, these pictures showing bunches of grapes six feet long are a funny misunderstanding.

At the big mass-meeting at the desert camp, the twelve made their report. On the facts, they were all unanimous. It was a wonderful country, "flowing with milk and honey," a great country for cattle and bees.

Grasshopper Complex THE majority put their reasons in a single revealing sentence: We were as grasshoppers in their sight, they said, and so we were in our sight.

Nowadays we call this state of mind the "inferiority complex"; our name is a new one for an old trouble. Think of yourself as a grasshopper, and grasshopper is what you shall be.

Well, what did God do about it? That is perhaps the saddest part of the story. He did nothing about it. He let the people impose their own sentence.
