Carrizozo Wins From Weed, Clouderoft

The Carrizozo Grizzlies, displaying real teamwork over the weekend, took two straight basketball victories over their opponents, winning 52-43 over Weed in a game played here Friday night, and 52-34 over Clouderoft on the local court Saturday night. The victorious group includes Andy Baroz and Gerold King on the front line and Henry Vega, Sam Wedell and Claude Wilson on the back line. Coach M. S. Mirmanian expressed the opinion that at last he has the combination, after much experimentation, that can put the ball through the hoop.

In Friday night's game, the local lads broke away at half-time with a tied score of 26-26 to take a lead which they never relinquished. During the final period of play, the Zozoltes were in no danger from the opposition. High point men for the Carrizozo team were Andy Baroz, Gerald King and Claude Wilson with 12 points each. Stanley Buckner and Joe Massey tallied 19 and 12, respectively, for the Weed aggregation. The Zozoltes were called for 12 fouls with Weed drawing 18. The Grizzlies made 12 out of 22 charity tosses while their opposition caged 9 out of 27.

The visiting team from Clouderoft on Saturday night was no competition for the local quintet as it started off with a bang for a nine-point lead at the end of the first quarter. From then on it was a steadily increasing margin of safety for the Grizzlies until the final gun. The second string team substituted during most of the second period and final half.

The visitors committed 12 fouls and caged 10 out of 24 charity tosses as the local lads put the ball through the hoop for 6 of 14 free throws and were tagged for 24 fouls. Henry Vega was top scorer for the Zozoltes with 16 points, followed by Sam Wedell and Gerald King with 10 each. Davis of Clouderoft was high with 14 markers.

The Grizzlies travel to Capitan tonight (Friday) and then back here for their game with Corona Cardinals on Saturday night. Tuesday night, Feb. 12, the Zozoltes again meet the Capitan Tigers at the local high school gymnasium for an important District 14 conference game. The Corona Cardinals won their first game with Carrizozo.

Encinoso March Of Dimes Donors Listed

Donors to the Encinoso school's March of Dimes drive were named at last week's program presented by the students. Parents of the children were entertained with a short play, stories and games, at the conclusion of which cake, coffee and punch were served.

Donors to the school's polo fund are: John Lacy, L. D. Merchant, Tobe Foster, Mrs. Grady Eldridge, William J. Edgar, Ed Downing, Kenneth Lacy, Mrs. Jack Cain, Mrs. L. R. Morgan, Mrs. Claudio Montoya, Mrs. Romero, Mr. Francis, Mrs. Hattie Lacy, Mrs. Dolly Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Trujillo, Mr. and Mrs. Sanchez, Mr. and Mrs. Sedillo, Mr. and Mrs. Booher, Mr. and Mrs. Purcella and Mr. and Mrs. Montoya.

Mrs. Hattie Lacy, teacher at Encinoso school, expressed the appreciation of the students and herself for the splendid cooperation of the entire community to the worthy cause.

Stork Shower Held For WSCS Member

A surprise pink and blue stork shower was held for Mrs. Spence Devitt by members of the Carrizozo Women's Society of Christian Service at the home of Mrs. C. E. Degner on Jan. 29. Mrs. Devitt was presented with a wide array of attractive gifts.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served to a large group of friends of the honoree.

Co-hostesses for the event were Mesdames Clyde Shults, C. A. Snow, Calvin Carl, Dee McDaniel, C. E. Degner and Miss Frances Degner.

News Feature Section Wartime Casualty

The Western Newspaper Union has informed the News-Outlook the syndicated magazine section carried by this paper and printed by that company is being discontinued. The editors regret to inform its readers this section must necessarily be discontinued soon.

The company gives as its reasons for the suspension "costs of its essential elements, newsprint, labor and distribution," and states that to continue the service would necessitate a drastic price increase too burdensome for the customer.

If at a future date the WNU sees its way clear to resume this printed service, the News-Outlook will be glad to again include it with this paper. In the meantime, the editors will attempt to find other features to take its place.

Frazier Discusses Water Problems Of State In Two Capitan Speeches

Mayor Lake Frazier of Roswell discussed New Mexico's pressing water problem in two addresses in Capitan last Saturday.

The candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor spoke at a luncheon at noon and addressed an open meeting that night. Both functions were held at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall.

Frazier told some 50 persons at the noon meeting that New Mexico is lagging behind Arizona in the development of its industries. The lack of water is a prime reason for the lag, he said, and pointed out that other states have solved much of the same problems by transporting water into their areas from other states.

Frazier cited California as an example, saying that the southern part of that state had remedied its water problem with water from Lake Meade. New Mexico would do well to investigate such a plan for bringing water into the state from rivers and lakes outside its boundaries, Frazier declared.

"Northern New Mexico would benefit if it could decide on how the water allotted to it from the San Juan River could be used," he said, adding that the state allocates much of its water from that stream to other states because of the intra-state deadlock over the use of its waters.

The Roswell mayor pointed out that a plan for bringing water into New Mexico from outside the state would affect all the people of the state.

"And anything that is good for any one part of the state is good for the state as a whole," Frazier declared.

Brother Of Elfred Jones Dies In Missouri Mishap

H. Elfred Jones, Carrizozo attorney, was called to Springfield, Mo., last week by the death of his brother, Fred Jones, of that city. Complete details are not available but the News-Outlook learned the Missouri man died Jan. 31 as a result of injuries suffered in an automobile accident near Springfield the preceding day.

The Carrizozo man was accompanied on the sad mission by his sister, Mrs. Audrey Langfitt, Albuquerque. It was not immediately known whether another brother, Preston Jones, Denver attorney, who recently suffered a broken leg would be able to attend the funeral services scheduled to be held in Springfield.

The deceased is also survived by his father, C. W. Jones, Batesville, Ark.

Orosco-Torres Vows Repeated In Tularosa

St. Francis Church in Tularosa was the setting for the Jan. 19 marriage of Miss Cirilia Orosco, Carrizozo, and Samuel Torres, GM 3, San Diego. Their wedding vows were repeated before Father Lyons at a morning ceremony.

The bride wore a pink and white gown and carried a corsage of white carnations. The traditional accessories included pearls for something old, a coin in her slipper for good luck, her wedding ensemble for something new, and for borrowed and blue she had the rosary of her sister, Miss Alice Orosco.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Albert Garcia, Tularosa, selected a navy blue suit with which she wore pink accessories and carried a corsage of pink carnations. Mr. Garcia served as best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Orosco, Tularosa, immediately following the ceremony. A three-tiered bride's cake topped with a miniature bridal pair centered the buffet table, as the guests gathered to toast the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Torres spent their honeymoon in Albuquerque after which the bridegroom returned to his station in San Diego. He expects to receive his discharge in July.

Torres, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Torres, Alamogordo, attended schools in that city before enlisting in the Navy. His bride is a graduate of the Tularosa schools and is presently employed as a bookkeeper at the Carrizozo Hardware Company here.

Clayton Man Addresses Local Parent-Teachers

D. D. Monroe, Clayton businessman, was scheduled to address the Carrizozo PTA last night (Thursday) in the grade school auditorium. The program was slated to start at 7:30. "Our Reasonable Obligation" was the subject selected by Monroe for his talk.

The Clayton man, who has devoted a large portion of his time during the past few years to the interest of public service, has been active in his home town civic groups as well as state organizations. Active in several trade associations, he is also a member of the Speakers' Bureau of the American Association for United Nations, the Foreign Policy Association, and the American Academy of Political Science.

Monroe, a student of international affairs, was formerly the leader of one of the largest international fraternal societies, and a past director of a leading international service club. Other offices include vice president of Northern New Mexico Council Boy Scouts of America, director of New Mexico Resort Hotel Association, and associate tax commissioner for New Mexico.

He has traveled widely throughout the North American continent and is familiar with conditions and trends at home. Rated in the top bracket among American public speakers, he has attained unusual recognition as author, speaker and entertainer.

REA Building Lines To Hondo Valley Ranches

A new REA line is being constructed up Alamo Canyon from Tinnie to the Salcido brothers' ranches, and to the ranch of Leroy McKnight at the head of the canyon.

The line to Arabela is being surveyed and staked in preparation for the construction of an REA line. Ranchers north of the Capitan Mountains will be reached by extension from the Arabela line.

Other REA developments include the construction of a transmission line from Tularosa up the Tularosa Basin toward Carrizozo.

Tip On Winnie Ruth Judd Proves False

A tip which later proved to be without foundation sent S. M. Ortiz, Carrizozo, Lincoln County sheriff, into the Ruidoso area Wednesday afternoon in search of Winnie Ruth Judd, escapee from the state mental institution in Arizona.

Ortiz reported he could find no evidence that Mrs. Judd is in this area.

Lincoln Co. Ranches Win In Denver Show

Lincoln County ranches were again in the limelight during the recent National Western Livestock Show in Denver when all but two of the 30 New Mexico entries of fleeces placed "in the money."

Exhibitors from this county and their placings are:

Territory division:

Three-eighths blood (statewide)—No. 2, Lewis Merritt, Corona; No. 3, Fuller Ranch, Picacho.

Texas-Southeastern New Mexico division:

Fine and 1/2 blood classes—04's, No. 6, Slaughter Ranch, Picacho. One-half blood—No. 2, Mrs. E. W. Nelson, Tinnie; No. 3, Fred McTelgue, Hondo; No. 5, John Henry Nunez, Picacho.

Ortiz Announces For County Tax Assessor

An announcement made this week by Manuel M. Ortiz, Carrizozo, discloses he is a candidate for the office of tax assessor in Lincoln County subject to the May Democratic primary. He previously served in that capacity from 1945-48, and as deputy tax assessor from 1941 to 1945.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ortiz Sr. of this village, the candidate was born here Oct. 17, 1912, and has resided in this community continuously except for a brief period of residence in Miami, Ariz., with his family as a small boy. He attended schools in Carrizozo and Miami, graduating from high school in the latter town. Ortiz is married and the father of three children.

The candidate, employed at his brothers' service station in this village, is treasurer for the Lincoln County Central Committee.

Phone Cooperative To Hold Meeting Feb. 14

The annual meeting of the Penasco Valley Telephone Cooperative will be held Feb. 14 at 2 P. M. in the school building at Hope in the school building at 2 P. M.

The organization was formed to bring modern telephone service to southwestern New Mexico. Telephone networks are planned for Lincoln County and the Artesia-Penasco Valley region in immediate future.

Paul Frost, Artesia official of the cooperative, will go to Washington, D. C., about Feb. 16 to present applications to the Rural Telephone Administration. He expects to take approximately 400 applications with him.

All persons interested in obtaining telephone service are urged to attend the Hope meeting, if possible. If unable to do so, they are urged to sign and leave an application with Wilbur F. Coe, Glencoe, immediately. The rural telephone project in Lincoln County is just beginning, and applicants for the service will be welcomed at any time.

Bronze Star Awarded Ex-Coyote Resident

Mrs. George Brock, Tucuman, sister of Corporal Jack W. Hobbs, 23, former resident of Coyote, writes that her brother has been awarded the Bronze Star for gallantry in action last October while serving with the U. S. Army Infantry near Chungse-ri in Korea.

An assault platoon, attacking a heavily entrenched hostile force on Hill 281, was pinned down by devastating fire from an enemy machinegun emplacement. Corporal Hobbs (then a private), a mortar gunner, in order to destroy the enemy machinegun nest, exposed himself fearlessly to heavy fire from the enemy in order to direct flanking fire upon the hostile emplacement.

Hobbs, whose heroic action reflects great credit upon himself and the military, entered the service from New Mexico.

The former Lincoln County resident is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray G. Hobbs, Stillwater, Okla., who left Coyote in 1931. Hobbs, who attended Carrizozo schools, is married to an Albuquerque girl.

LAKE FRAZIER

Town Cagers Top Hi School

The oldsters triumphed over the youngsters Tuesday night when the town basketball team sponsored by the Carrizozo Lions Club trimmed the local high school quintet 30-30 in a hard-fought game.

Coming as an upset, the oldsters' victory was earned the hard way during the first half as the high school team made it tough for the Lions to score, but the student quintet was short on production of points and the score at halftime stood only 13-10 in its favor. With the close of the third period, the Lions team broke loose to gain a 32-20 lead in short time. The Grizzlies fought desperately to cut the lead but time was running out and the point spread too great to overcome as the final whistle blew.

High point men for the town team were Bob Shafer and Nick Vega Jr. with 10 and 8 markers, respectively, to Henry Vega's 7 and Andy Baroz's 6 tallies for the school quintet. The Grizzlies committed 21 fouls to the oldsters' 12 with the Lions making 8 of their 24 charity tosses, and the school quintet 2 out of 12.

The town team's skill with the free throws helped add to the winning score.

Corona's high school quintet, winner of the Bean Valley tournament last week when they defeated Mountainair 33-30 in the finals, plays the local lads here Saturday night.

Santa Rita School Club Receives Charter

The St. Aloysius Civics Club of Santa Rita School, Carrizozo, has received its official charter from the Commission on American Citizenship, Washington, D. C.

Members of the seventh and eighth grades in that school voted recently to organize their own unit of that group.

Local officers are: Richard Ortiz, president; John Saucedo, vice president; Ernest Sanchez, recording secretary; Gilbert Ortiz, corresponding secretary, and Augusting Gallegos, sergeant-at-arms.

The St. Aloysius group is one of more than 1,400 Catholic civics clubs chartered in the United States last year to foster training for good citizenship in parochial junior high schools throughout the nation. Through monthly projects on a community level, the young citizens learn the meaning of Christian social living based on principals of justice and charity.

This year's program of study is entitled "Your Community," and includes such topics as local government, industry, transportation, religion, communications, education and recreation. The year's activities will conclude with observance of "I Am An American Day" in May.

Presbyterian Missionary To Visit Lincoln Co.

Dr. Douglas, a Presbyterian missionary from South America, is scheduled to visit this territory the week of February 11. His speaking itinerary is as follows:

Monday, Feb. 11, 7 P. M., Nogal schoolhouse.

Tuesday, Feb. 12, 3 P. M., Ancho schoolhouse.

Tuesday, Feb. 12, 7 P. M., Claunch Presbyterian Church.

Wednesday, Feb. 13, 7 P. M., Corona Presbyterian Church.

Thursday, Feb. 14, 7:30 P. M., Willard Presbyterian Church.

Everyone is welcome to attend these meetings. This is a rare opportunity to receive a first hand report of the missionary work being carried on in South America, according to Rev. Merle Rice, Corona, who added that Dr. Douglas is highly recommended.

Granham Says Law Enforcement Necessary For Good Government

Everett Grantham, Albuquerque, New Mexico gubernatorial candidate, stopped briefly in Carrizozo Wednesday en route home from a get-acquainted trip through the southwestern part of the state. He also made several other stops in Lincoln County that day. The candidate emphasized Wednesday's trip was just a preliminary one prior to his campaign tour after the preliminary convention when he plans to make an extensive tour through this county. He will campaign on the Democratic ticket.

In a statement to the News-Outlook, Grantham stated:

"Enforcement of our laws to insure a high moral atmosphere in our government and in our social structure are prerequisites to good government. Most of my adult life has been spent in law enforcement work. I know that without constant alertness on the part of responsible officials undesirable elements will seek to practice their nefarious activities. If I have the privilege of serving as governor, I shall see that professional gamblers and other undesirables do not get a foothold in any community in the state. I shall not hesitate to use the state police whenever and wherever necessary to see that our anti-gambling laws are enforced."

Capitan Ranch Fleeca Judged Grand Champ

To the Hendricks Arroyo Ranch at Capitan went the distinction of grand championship fleece in Sunday's judging of 178 fleeces at the 13th annual wool show, a feature of the New Mexico Wool Growers Association 49th annual convention held in Albuquerque this week.

The Hendricks fleeces had been judged first in the fine wool 70's classification, but had to vacate that title when it became grand champion. Contest rules allow only one award to a fleece.

Lincoln County prize winning fleeces in the 20 classes of the show are: Class 2, southern area, 70's fine wool, Hendricks Arroyo Ranch.

Class 5, southern area, fine wool lamb—Hendricks, No. 1; T. J. Sutherland, Ruidoso, No. 3.

Class 11, statewide, 1/2 blood—Fuller Ranch, Picacho, 1; Louis Merritt, Corona, 2.

Class 12, statewide, 3/4 blood, lamb or yearling—E. W. Nelson, Tinnie, 2; Fuller Ranch, 3.

Class 14, range ram, 1/2 blood and coarser—Fuller Ranch, 1.

Class 20, junior show, grade fleeces—Jimmy McTelgue, Hondo, 2.

Frank B. Zinn Candidate For Attorney General

Frank B. Zinn, Santa Fe attorney and assistant attorney general for New Mexico, has announced his candidacy for the state office of attorney general on the Democratic ticket.

Zinn is the son of A. L. Zinn, former state senator from Quay County and later a state supreme court justice. His mother, the former Mabel Sargy, is a member of a pioneer family of Quay County.

The candidate received his early education in public schools at Gallup and Santa Fe, later graduating from New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell. A veteran of World War II and holder of a Purple Heart, he interrupted his law training to serve as a tank unit commander in General Patton's campaign across Europe. At the close of the war, Zinn was retained as administrative assistant by Congresswoman Georgia L. Lusk and, subsequently, served her successor, former Gov. John E. Miles, in the same capacity.

During this time, he attended evening classes at Washington College of Law, from which he graduated, prior to returning to New Mexico to pursue that profession. Zinn was in private practice of law in Santa Fe, joining the attorney general's staff there.

Atty. Gen. Says Village Must Keep Gas Plant

According to an opinion from Attorney General Joe Martinez, Carrizozo cannot discontinue the services of its gas plant to the community unless it can be sold at a suitable price. It was reported at Tuesday night's regular meeting of the bondholders do not consider the bid made recently by Joseph Hawkins, Ruidoso, acceptable and the village had notified him by letter that his bid cannot be accepted.

It was also revealed that several other bondholders in addition to the one now holding Carrizozo utilities bonds are interested in any bond issue of the village on its utilities plant. It was intimated a lower rate of interest might be secured. The state comptroller has indicated his approval for a $15,000 bond issue to put the town's gas system in good condition, pay off current bonds, and expand the business. The state official is also of the opinion present gas rates will take care of the bond issue. The council approved a motion to have the village's attorney proceed with the necessary papers for the bond issue. It is contemplated a special meeting will be called at a later date when representatives of bond houses can be in Carrizozo to discuss the situation with the trustee. Mayor Vernon Petty expressed his confidence that the Carrizozo gas system can be made to operate on a competitive basis.

The recent consumer analysis presented by Ashley Clasen, El Paso engineer, at a special meeting of the council on Jan. 23 was discussed briefly. The report referred to light and power rates here and recommended three sets of rates instead of the 10 to 12 now in effect. The new rates which will be effective with the next billing include a minimum monthly charge of $3 for 20 kilowatt hours for all residential and commercial users except cooking and/or water heating and power units of two horsepower and over. A decreasing scale for these users ends with a charge of 5 cents per kWh for all over 300 kWh. For residential consumers using electric ranges, water heaters, or both ranges and water heaters, the minimum monthly charge is $5 for 50 kWh, with the decreasing scale ending at 15 cents per kWh for all over 300 kWh. The $5 minimum monthly charge for 50 kWh is also listed for all power and/or commercial

According to an opinion from Attorney General Joe Martinez, Carrizozo cannot discontinue the services of its gas plant to the community unless it can be sold at a suitable price. It was reported at Tuesday night's regular meeting of the bondholders do not consider the bid made recently by Joseph Hawkins, Ruidoso, acceptable and the village had notified him by letter that his bid cannot be accepted.

It was also revealed that several other bondholders in addition to the one now holding Carrizozo utilities bonds are interested in any bond issue of the village on its utilities plant. It was intimated a lower rate of interest might be secured. The state comptroller has indicated his approval for a $15,000 bond issue to put the town's gas system in good condition, pay off current bonds, and expand the business. The state official is also of the opinion present gas rates will take care of the bond issue. The council approved a motion to have the village's attorney proceed with the necessary papers for the bond issue. It is contemplated a special meeting will be called at a later date when representatives of bond houses can be in Carrizozo to discuss the situation with the trustee. Mayor Vernon Petty expressed his confidence that the Carrizozo gas system can be made to operate on a competitive basis.

The recent consumer analysis presented by Ashley Clasen, El Paso engineer, at a special meeting of the council on Jan. 23 was discussed briefly. The report referred to light and power rates here and recommended three sets of rates instead of the 10 to 12 now in effect. The new rates which will be effective with the next billing include a minimum monthly charge of $3 for 20 kilowatt hours for all residential and commercial users except cooking and/or water heating and power units of two horsepower and over. A decreasing scale for these users ends with a charge of 5 cents per kWh for all over 300 kWh. For residential consumers using electric ranges, water heaters, or both ranges and water heaters, the minimum monthly charge is $5 for 50 kWh, with the decreasing scale ending at 15 cents per kWh for all over 300 kWh. The $5 minimum monthly charge for 50 kWh is also listed for all power and/or commercial

Frank B. Zinn, Santa Fe attorney and assistant attorney general for New Mexico, has announced his candidacy for the state office of attorney general on the Democratic ticket.

Zinn is the son of A. L. Zinn, former state senator from Quay County and later a state supreme court justice. His mother, the former Mabel Sargy, is a member of a pioneer family of Quay County.

The candidate received his early education in public schools at Gallup and Santa Fe, later graduating from New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell. A veteran of World War II and holder of a Purple Heart, he interrupted his law training to serve as a tank unit commander in General Patton's campaign across Europe. At the close of the war, Zinn was retained as administrative assistant by Congresswoman Georgia L. Lusk and, subsequently, served her successor, former Gov. John E. Miles, in the same capacity.

During this time, he attended evening classes at Washington College of Law, from which he graduated, prior to returning to New Mexico to pursue that profession. Zinn was in private practice of law in Santa Fe, joining the attorney general's staff there.

By JOHN J. DEMPSEY, M. C.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. — The second session of the 82nd Congress has been on the job nearly a month; long enough for the legislative trend to crystallize sufficiently so that two questions uppermost in the public mind can now be answered.

Answer No. 1—No, there will not be any increase in federal taxes.

Answer No. 2—Yes, there will be cuts made in the proposed $5.4 billion dollar budget.

Both answers are based on the firm conviction reached by a majority of the national legislators—regardless of party affiliation—that the nation's economy can not carry the additional load that government spending, including that for defense, can be cut enough, without endangering our national security or welfare so that from five to seven billion dollars can be pared from the budget estimate offered to Congress by the President. There is not the slightest doubt in my mind that this amount can be saved the taxpayers by the Congress merely by adopting an unrelenting "watchdog" policy and requiring elimination of waste coupled with sound business like procurement methods.

That was my opinion in the last session—the reason why I voted against every proposal for tax increases. My vote will be the same this session. In my opinion the people and Congress are fed up on tax increases. Five billions cut from budget estimates will remove all justification for five billions of added taxes. That is just plain arithmetic.

Defense production heads have told the Congress they have added another year to the time required to carry out the program—to obtain the guns, the planes, the tanks and other equipment needed to put our armed forces at the peak of their necessary strength. We can't produce the equipment in the time originally allotted. We can't spend the money as fast as the Defense Production officials thought we would have to spend it. Naturally we would expect the budget requirement to be decreased accordingly for the next fiscal year. On the contrary the Congress is asked to approve $2 billion for the military services—11.4 billion over this year's expenditures, and provide 10.5 billion for foreign military and economic assistance, an increase of 3.7 billion over our current spending. These requested budget items total the difference between the last budget and this one. Proper adjustment of these two major budget items alone will make further tax increases unnecessary. That is more plain arithmetic.

Despite the "peacetime" record budget proposal two vital projects in New Mexico—Vermejo and the Middle Rio Grande channeling—were left out. In addition, funds already appropriated for Vermejo were ordered withheld and work stopped on the project. The state's congressional delegation is working to have these funds restored and necessary additional money appropriated. I believe when the misunderstanding is cleared up, which now exists about both projects, we shall be successful.

I have been trying to require by legislation that former enemy countries live up to their obligations under the Geneva convention and pay 132,000 of our former fighting men who were prisoners of war—or their surviving dependents—the amount due for enforced labor and inhuman treatment. These prisoners, particularly those held by the Japanese, suffered the tortures of the damned. My bill, HR 3719, has been held in committee nine months by State Department objections. Now I am asking the members of the House to sign a discharge petition to bring this bill out of committee and pass it. We have enough money and property belonging to those nations held by our Allen Property Office to settle this just claim. Our War Claims Commission has all the records and can handle the job immediately. We have paid the prisoners we held the sum of $169,000,000. Our men haven't received a red cent—although they are entitled to $82,000,000. The State Department has insisted that all legislation introduced for the aid of our boys be held up, but is trying to rush through ratification of the treaty with Japan. It is my contention that treaty will return Japanese funds and property we are holding and defraud our boys of what is rightfully theirs. The treaty, the State Department con-cesses, makes no adequate provision for paying them for their labor, not to speak of their suffering, their humiliation. Why didn't our State Department insist on settlement of the claims of our boys at the same time they were rushing money abroad to pay identical claims of the prisoners of war held by the United States?

There are now about 2,400 organized soil conservation districts in the United States.

CORONA

By MRS. A. E. MULKEY
Corona was well represented at the Bean Valley Tournament in Vaughn Saturday, Feb. 2, when Corona Cardinals played the Mountainair Mustangs for the Bean Valley championship. During most of the game the score was either tied or Corona held a two point lead, and the final score was 38-36 in favor of Corona. The pep squad worked as hard as the team, and the games were punctuated by loud cheering from the crowd leading up to the finals. Corona defeated Mountainair by 11 points. A week earlier Corona Cardinals defeated Mountainair by a two-point margin on the Mountainair court. This gave the Corona Cardinals possession of the Bean Valley traveling cowbell which had been held by Mountainair all season. Each of the ten-suited cardinals received a gold basketball and the team received a permanent 1952 basketball trophy. Corona lads were awarded one-year possession of the new Bean Valley traveling trophy, as well as the Bean Valley football championship. The Cardinals meet Mountainair in the third contest of the season Feb. 15 on the Corona Court.

G. T. Tom, who is representing the Lindsey Light and Chemical Company of Chicago, is here this week in the interest of the Corona corporation or the Helm and French mines.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Owen are the proud parents of a baby girl, born last week in Carrizozo Hospital. They named her Peggy Gall.

Miss Leota Agee has been confined to her home with a severe case of flu. Miss Agee is music and art teacher in the Corona school. She is the only teacher to miss school on account of flu, but many of the children, mostly grade school students, have been absent the past two weeks.

Roy Yancey is opening up a new cafe in town this week. It is located in the rock building on main street where the Coffee Pot Cafe used to be. The opening was Wednesday of this week. Claud Kuykendoll is chief cook.

L. K. Merritt has purchased and is driving the school bus formerly owned and driven by Wesley King.

Hens on U. S. farms made a good record in 1951. They averaged 170 eggs each during the year. The rate in 1950 was 167, and the average rate is 150.

By ALLIE SNODGRASS

Mr. and Mrs. Milt Jones, Chris and Betty Lou spent the weekend in Clovis with Bessie's brother, J. A. Morrow and family, and her mother and sister, Mrs. Stella Morrow and Mrs. Aurella Dodson, from Raton.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry Miller, uncle and aunt of Levene's, his mother, Mrs. Deme Blaslingame, and cousin Billy Norman drove over from Roswell Tuesday and Levene's mother remained to help out while I recuperate from a tough bout with flu. Came home from hospital on Friday but it is a slow job gaining strength.

A good many hereabouts are still having flu. Mrs. Cap Straley and several of her children have had a time with it. Mrs. W. J. Balow is down now, and Bill only able to be up.

Milt Jones had a letter from his brother, Bill, a recent inductee into Army. He was in Fort Sill then, but expected to be transferred to Kentucky soon.

Mrs. Reba Bingham is still confined to the hospital in Carrizozo. Her sister, Mrs. Allen Kille and niece Mrs. L. Y. Jackson returned to their respective homes in El Paso. Her brother, Tom Straley, is a patient at William Beaumont in El Paso. When it rains it pours.

Barney Wilson had the cast removed from his shoulder and body at the Veterans Hospital in Albuquerque last week. The injuries had healed satisfactorily in that respect, but he was held in the hospital due to some internal disorders.

A large crowd attended Sunday school on Sunday.

The square dancers met last Saturday night with a lively crowd.

The PTA met Wednesday for a regular meeting. Plans were discussed for an enchilada supper to be held at a later date. Tentative plans for awarding an electric coffee maker were also under discussion. Watch for further notice on both items sometime within the next two or three weeks.

Vet. Rep. in Roswell

An announcement from Richard M. Lawson, Clovis, contact representative for Veterans Administration, discloses he will be at City Hall in Roswell on Feb. 19, from 10 A. M. until 5 P. M. Lawson states he will be glad to give veterans or their dependents information or assistance in conjunction with veterans benefits.

NOGAL MESA

Mrs. Henry Peebles and Mrs. Gil Peters are the contributors of the Nogal Mesa news this week in the absence of Mrs. Dorothy Guck, who was scheduled to return from St. Mary's Hospital, Roswell, Wednesday. Mrs. Guck underwent surgery at the Roswell hospital last week. Her speedy recovery is wished by her numerous friends.

Gil Peters unloaded trout in Nogal Lake this week. He also reports seeing a couple of fishermen at the lake last Sunday.

A missionary from Bolivia spoke at the Nazarene Church at Capitán Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Zumwalt Sr., Artesia, former Lincoln County residents, will observe their 54th wedding anniversary on Feb. 13. Several of their children are planning to be with them on that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Reed, Fairbanks, Alaska, were luncheon guests of the Gil Peters one day last week en route to Arkansas to visit Mr. Reed's father.

A repaint job was done Wednesday on the Gil Peters automobile. The repainting was necessitated after the Peters' recent accident in which the hood of the car broke away and smashed through the windshield. Although showered with glass, the couple escaped injury.

The greatest low-priced car ever built!

The car that's made greater strides forward for '52 than any other in its class!

The most powerful low-priced car ever built!

Guess again... it's the '52 FORD!

You won't believe your eyes when you see the big, new '52 Ford! For never before has a low priced car offered such power, such fine-car styling, such big car comfort! You'll see such built-for-keeps advances as Ford's new longer, stronger Coachcraft Bodies... its more powerful, high-compression V-8 and Six engines... and the many other features described at right.

Ford's 110-h.p. Strato-Star V-8 is the most powerful engine—the only V-8 offered in a low priced car. Ford's 101-h.p. Mileage Maker Six is an all new low friction Powerhouse with new free turning overhead valves and shorter piston stroke. Both engines feature the Automatic Power Pilot which gives you high-compression "go" with regular gas.

While standard drive is available, and Fordomatic Drive optional at extra cost. Fordomatic, Coachcraft and this subject to change without notice.

Full-Circle Visibility New curved one-piece windshield... new car-wide rear window... picture windows all around give you visibility "unlimited." A Ford exclusive in the low-price field.

Automatic Ride Control New wider front tread, lower center of gravity, longer rear springs, new tailored-to-model front springs and diagonally mounted rear shock absorbers help take the bounce out of bumps, the lift out of turns.

Coachcraft Bodies The newest, most advanced bodies in the low-price field... styled to stay beautiful and designed to stay young.

Fordomatic Drive Finest of all "automatics," Fordomatic gives you two drives in one! Torque-converter smoothness plus the get-up-and-go of automatic gears.

ANCHO

By ALLIE SNOGRASS
Mr. and Mrs. Milt Jones, Chris and Betty Lou spent the weekend in Clovis with Beale's brother, J. A. Morrow and family, and her mother and sister, Mrs. Stella Morrow and Mrs. Aurelia Dodson, from Raton.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry Miller, uncle and aunt of Levene's, his mother, Mrs. Dena Blasingame, and cousin Billy Norman drove over from Roswell Tuesday and Levene's mother remained to help out while I recuperate from a tough bout with flu. Came home from hospital on Friday but it is a slow job gaining strength.

A good many hereabouts are still having flu. Mrs. Cap Straley and several of her children have had a time with it. Mrs. W. J. Balow is down now, and Bill only able to be up.

Milt Jones had a letter from his brother, Bill, a recent inductee into Army. He was in Fort Sill then, but expected to be transferred to Kentucky soon.

Mrs. Reba Bingham is still confined to the hospital in Carrizozo. Her sister, Mrs. Allen Kile and niece Mrs. L. Y. Jackson returned to their respective homes in El Paso. Her brother, Tom Straley, is a patient at William Beaumont in El Paso. When it rains it pours.

Barney Wilson had the cast removed from his shoulder and body at the Veterans Hospital in Albuquerque last week. The injuries had healed satisfactorily in that respect, but he was held in the hospital due to some internal disorders.

A large crowd attended Sunday school on Sunday.

The square dancers met last Saturday night with a lively crowd.

The PTA met Wednesday for a regular meeting. Plans were discussed for an enchilada supper to be held at a later date. Tentative plans for awarding an electric coffee maker were also under discussion. Watch for further notice on both items sometime within the next two or three weeks.

Vet Rep In Roswell

An announcement from Richard M. Lawson, Clovis, contact representative for Veterans Administration, discloses he will be at City Hall in Roswell on Feb. 19, from 10 A. M. until 5 P. M. Lawson states he will be glad to give veterans or their dependents information or assistance in conjunction with veterans benefits.

NOGAL MESA

Mrs. Henry Peebles and Mrs. Gil Peters are the contributors of the Nogal Mesa news this week in the absence of Mrs. Dorothy Guck, who was scheduled to return from St. Mary's Hospital, Roswell, Wednesday. Mrs. Guck underwent surgery at the Roswell hospital last week. Her speedy recovery is wished by her numerous friends.

Gil Peters unloaded trout in Nogal Lake this week. He also reports seeing a couple of fishermen at the lake last Sunday.

A missionary from Bolivia spoke at the Nazarene Church at Capitán Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Zumwalt Sr., Artesia, former Lincoln County residents, will observe their 54th wedding anniversary on Feb. 13. Several of their children are planning to be with them on that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Reed, Fairbanks, Alaska, were luncheon guests of the Gil Peters one day last week en route to Arkansas to visit Mr. Reed's father.

A repaint job was done Wednesday on the Gil Peters automobile. The repainting was necessitated after the Peters' recent accident in which the hood of the car broke away and smashed through the windshield. Although showered with glass, the couple escaped injury.

LOOKING AHEAD
GEORGE S. BENSON
 President—Citizens' Party
 Sunny, Arkansas

CITIZENS ARE WAKING UP
 The population of the United States may be on the verge of becoming politically active in a big way. Such a development is forecast in the flood of mail that has come in as a result of my suggestion in a recent column that on all election days in 1952—local, state and national—each eligible voter who actually votes be given a little red-white-and-blue tag to wear in his lapel. This idea received nationwide publicity, and people in every section of the country are writing me.

The League of Women Voters of Yardley-Morrisville, Pa., report that they have tried out the "Tag Day" idea and have found it to be excellent stimulation to potential voters. The tags were used three weeks ago in a local election in Mountain Home, Ark. and in two parishes when Louisiana Democrats held a primary a few days later; and letters of my desk report that in both instances the tags, and attendant publicity, helped boost the percentage of eligible voters who went to the polls. The little tag bears the challenge: "I Have Voted! Have You?"

All Joining Hands
 The mail expressing interest in the tag-for-voters idea comes from all kinds of organizations, groups and individuals—and they all express a determination to work for anything that will stir up the population to the importance of each individual citizen becoming an intelligent and regular voter. Already, a great many people in states from coast to coast are using the Harding College Manual board presentation "The Power of Your Vote" in which the "Tag Day" project is proposed.

An official of Labor's League for Political Education (American Federation of Labor) writes that "This is a valuable work in which Labor's League for Political Education is also greatly interested." An official of the Boy Scouts of America writes: "For the presidential elections this fall, we will organize a Get-Out-the-Vote campaign. Every Boy Scout in America will work to get all voters out. The plans for this great drive are now under way."

The Press Enlists
 Paul Harvey, one of the nation's top radio and television commentators, is giving the "Tag Day" idea wide publicity on his American Broadcasting System coast-to-coast broadcasts. "Normally, I detest tag days," he says on his broadcasts. "But Harding College has come up with a tag day idea which I wholeheartedly approve. They would hand out a small red, white and blue shield at the voting place on election day. I hope the idea spreads fast. I hope there is never another election in the United States in which half of all those eligible to vote, fail to do so."

The Americanism Committee of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce has adopted "The Power of Your Vote" presentation as part of the nationwide "Freedom Flame" project in which 1,800 local Jaycee groups are eligible to participate. The general manager of Everybody's Daily, largest Polish newspaper in America, published in Buffalo, writes: "As a publisher interested in seeing that 100 per cent of our readers vote in all political campaigns, would be interested in material for promoting this program in newspapers."

In Our Hands
 T. E. Johnson, managing editor of the Amarillo Globe Times, reports: "I wore the tag Tuesday during a local election and it drew much comment. It would be our idea to sponsor 'Tag Day' on the various election days coming up this year." Orville Rovelle, editor, Fort Lauderdale Daily News, writes: "We plan to sponsor your plan in this area." Altogether the mail indicates an awakening. With corruption weakening the character of our government (and our nation), with the United States armies at war in Korea and girding for even a bigger conflict, with a soaring national debt, and with inflation and high taxes sapping the earning power of all citizens, perhaps the American people are ready to accept the old adage: "We get the kind of government we deserve." Alert citizenship, an informed voting citizenry deserves—and gets—good government. A do-nothing citizenry does not. The problem is in our hands—as individual Americans. "I Have Voted! Have You?"

 BIRMINGHAM—Charles Brooks of the Birmingham News is winner of the 1951 Disabled American Veterans cartoon award for his "Are You Forgetting Anything?" which dramatically urges remembrance of the nation's wartime disabled veterans.

PERSONALS
 Mrs. Clyde Brewster, district president of the American Legion Auxiliary for Otero and Lincoln county units, attended the department conference in Albuquerque last weekend.

Grade and high school students are staging a contest to get out the most attendance at local PTA meetings. Winners in the two schools are presented with tickets to the local theater by A. P. Sifton Jr.

Mrs. Florice Barnum and Mrs. Helen Nowell drove to Alamogordo for a day's visit last week. They were accompanied by Mrs. Barnum's brother, Bill Taylor, who had just returned from taking his Army physical at Albuquerque.

The eighth grade students are selling homemade candy during their noon lunch periods to raise funds for their page in the school annual. A portion of the fund is being donated to the March of Dimes campaign. "Undo for a picnic in the spring" are to be earmarked also.

Pfc. Richard Brewster, U. S. Marine Corps, called his parents, the Clyde O. Brewsters, from Seattle, Wash., where he had just arrived by plane from 22 months service in the northwest Pacific. Brewster expects to be there about a month before reassignment and is hoping to be furloughed home before he receives a new tour of duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Ortiz will visit Mrs. Ortiz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kimbrell, Picocho, this weekend for a family reunion in honor of her brother, George Kimbrell, who is back in the states after a tour of duty in Korea. Sergeant Kimbrell leaves next week for his new station near Fort Worth, Texas, after a 20-day furlough.

Young Pat White, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob White of the Bonita Ranch at Corona, had his picture taken with his mother for the Albuquerque Journal this week while attending the New Mexico Wool Growers Convention in the Duke City. It is the third convention trip for the youngster whose parents took him to his first in 1950 when he was only a few months old.

The baked goods sale sponsored by the room mothers of Carrizozo first grade students last Saturday netted $12, according to a report from those in charge. Mrs. Annie Withers was in charge of the sales table at Petty's, and the food was contributed by the mothers of the children. Room mothers are Mesdames Rex Werner, Marvin Roberts, Fay Harkey and William H. Nickels.

Attending the reading clinic held by the Alamogordo teachers Friday and Saturday were Marshall Powell, Mrs. Janie Key, Miss Minnie Neill, Mrs. Pauline Pherrigo and Miss Bettie Lou Grogan. The clinic is an in-

NSLI Dividend Payment To Start In March
 World War II veterans holding National Service Life Insurance policies are scheduled to begin receiving 1952 dividends in March. The payment will cover the 12-month period from the policy's anniversary date in 1951 to the 1952 anniversary date. Policyholders must notify Veterans Administration on the special form sent them—or, otherwise by writing—if they want the dividend in cash. The maximum 1952 dividend a veteran can expect is $70.00. The least amount any veteran may receive is 6 cents. The average for each eligible veteran will be close to $40, according to administration officials.

Lincoln County Included In Air Force Survey
 Roswell is one of 14 Texas and New Mexico cities selected as sites in the Air Force expansion program to complete personnel surveys on Air Force reservists in the two-state area. The Roswell area embraces Guadalupe, De Baca, Roosevelt, Chaves, Lincoln, Lea and Eddy counties. The survey for this area is slated to start June 2.

The program is designed to bring reservists' records up to date and provide the Air Force with accurate information on the state and location of its reserves, according to Colonel Edgar E. Glenn, commanding officer of the Third Air Reserve District headquarters in Austin, Texas. He emphasized the surveys are no part of any present Air Force plan to recall Air Force reservists to active military duty.

McGrath Deal

ONLY cabinet member who has outsmarted the President in his accustomed technique for, using an unwanted member of the official family is Attorney General Howard McGrath. Howard was out of the ring, hanging on the ropes, and given the count of nine. But by some of the cleverest footwork ever displayed in Washington, he managed to scramble back into the cabinet.

Here is the inside story of how he did it.

By now, official Washington had become quite familiar with the way Harry Truman cases out a cabinet member he doesn't want. Secretary of the Interior Julius Krug, for instance, was axed by a planted story that he was resigning, following which the President said "no comment" at his next press conference, and Krug knew the jig was up.

Similar procedure was followed with Defense Secretary Louis Johnson.

Therefore, when word came out of the White House that the Lamar Candler hearing had embarrassed the President, shrewd politician McGrath beat the President to the punch, offered his resignation—if he embarrassed the administration.

But Harry Truman, who shies from clashes with people he likes personally, hemmed, hawed, said he had no intention of pulling the rug out from under his friend, did not accept the suggested resignation.

Ambassador to Spain

Nevertheless, he did have Donald Dawson look round for another job with sufficient prestige so McGrath could be eased out of the Justice department without loss of face.

And Dawson soon came up with the ambassadorship to Spain. This seemed a natural. McGrath is one of the top-ranking lay Catholics in the United States.

Shortly thereafter, a carefully planted White House story appeared in the local press that McGrath would go to Spain and that ex-Judge Justice Miller would become the new attorney general.

Naturally McGrath knew exactly what was up. This was the same treatment given Krug and Louey Johnson. Furthermore the McGrath resignation story was followed by a press conference at which the President blantly refused to comment on the report that McGrath was to go.

All that day, newsmen tried to phone McGrath. Ordinarily easy to reach, he kept ominous silence. However, he was not idle.

Overnight he hauled up two of his biggest guns. One was Cardinal Spellman, who sent a message from Tokyo.

The other was his 84-year-old law partner, Senator Francis Green of Rhode Island.

Truman in Reverse

Meanwhile, Matt Connelly, though ordinarily lukewarm toward AG and in favor of appointing Judge Tom Murphy of New York to head a corruption commission, went to McGrath's defense.

That was why the President at the next cabinet meeting suddenly reversed himself, told the surprised cabinet and the surprised McGrath that with the beginning of the new year he wanted them to know that despite the press attack on his attorney general, he was keeping them all on.

Churchill's WH

Prime Minister Churchill was getting a progress report on the Anglo-American military discussions from his friend and military observer, Field Marshal Sir William Slim.

Referring to the dispute as to whether NATO should adopt Britain's new automatic rifle or the new American Garand rifle, Field Marshal Slim reported:

"So far we haven't made much progress. Both guns are good and it's difficult to decide which one to adopt."

Churchill listened patiently, nodding his head in agreement.

"It's my guess," Field Marshal Slim continued, "that we'll finally adopt a rifle that contains the best features of both models. It'll be a bastard rifle—half American, half British."

Churchill's eyebrows shot up. With an air of solemn gravity he said: "My dear Marshal, aren't you being a trifle careless with your words? Have you forgotten that I, too, am half American, half British?"

Merry-Go-Round

Latest Washington gag: "The only thing the Democrats have to fear is—themselves." . . . Orville Morrison, president of the Sunroc Company of Glen Riddle, Pa., has a remedy for Washington's influence racket. He suggests that all holders of government contracts be required to file an affidavit that they haven't done any favors for, or spent any money to influence federal procurement officers (who award contracts) or their relatives.

SCANNING THE WEEK'S NEWS of Main Street and the World

Truman Submits Record 'Peacetime' Budget of $85 Billion to Congress

THE BUDGET—"A heavy burden . . . the price of peace." With these words President Truman attempted to describe his proposed budget of $85,444,000,000 for the fiscal year which begins July 1. This amount does not include a five to six billion dollar atomic energy expansion program which the President said would be sent to congress in the near future.

This proposed budget is an increase of almost $15,000,000,000 over the current fiscal year which ends June 30. And it is not far from the record World War II spending of $100 billion in the 1945 fiscal year.

As outlined by the President, more than three-fourths of the total would go for national security programs, including $51,100,000,000 for the armed forces, $10,800,000,000 for foreign aid, $1,700,000,000 for atomic weapons, $311,000,000 for defense production and economic stabilization, and $339,000,000 for civil defense.

The military expansion program, as outlined by the President, would include increasing the armed forces from 3,600,000 to 3,700,000 men, the Air Forces from 90 wings to 143, increase the Army's 19 divisions to 21, add another 16 major combatant vessels to the Navy's 392, build up to 16 large carrier air groups, and increase the Marine Corps from two to three divisions.

All of this, of course, is the proposed plan, depending upon approval of congress. At this point that approval is unlikely, because it would mean another increase in taxation.

Adoption of this budget would mean a deficit of $14,448,000,000 for the next fiscal year unless congress approved the $5,000,000,000 tax increase already requested by the President. But this is an election year and congress will be even more economically minded than in the past.

Congressional debate over this proposed budget during the next few weeks is likely to be bitter. And it will end with congress slashing it as much as possible. At the present moment there is no indication of how much they will cut it. The defense items may be cut some, but the greatest slashes will be foreign aid and less necessary domestic items.

MISSION ACCOMPLISHED—Aging but still dynamic Winston Churchill accomplished his mission to the United States. That mission can be best summed up in his own words as he concluded his speech before a joint session of congress.

He said: "Bismarck once said that 'the supreme fact of the 19th century was that Britain and the United States spoke the same language. Let us make sure that the supreme fact of the 20th century is that they read the same path.'"

It was the third time in a decade that Churchill had addressed a joint session of congress. His speech was well received and it was evident he had accomplished much in bringing about greater cooperation between his country and the United States. Announcements of policy agreements, the transfer of vital materials from one nation to the other, and accord on military matters in Europe after a series of meetings with President Truman and other high officials, also indicated the successfulness of his mission.

The British leader also promised that Britain would help defend Western Europe against Soviet aggression. And he cautioned the United States

"above all things" not to give up its atomic weapons without an iron-clad guarantee of peace.

FARM PROGRAM—The federal farm programs, of vital interest to home towns across the nation will cost approximately 7 per cent more next year because of a government need to encourage greater crop and livestock production, President Truman said in his budget message to congress.

According to best estimates the greatest part of the cost would be for price supports, soil-conservation payments, and wheat-export subsidies. The President reported the price-support program is being used to encourage farm production by keeping support prices of cotton, corn, wheat, soybeans, milk, wool, and several other commodities at 80 per cent of parity.

The budget calls for $258,500,000 for payments to farmers who carry out approved soil and water conservation practices, $70,000,000 for subsidies to farmers who co-operate with the government's sugar-control program, $122,000,000 for wheat export subsidies, and $75,000,000 for rural telephone and electrification loans.

EGYPT—The killing of an American man in the Suez canal zone brought the conflict between Great Britain and Egypt for control of that vital waterway into sharp focus for most of this country. She was identified as Brigitte Ann Timbers, 24, of New York. She had served in Egypt since 1947.

The British charge Sister Anthony was slain by Egyptian terrorists. Cairo newspapers, however, said she was killed by British bullets. She was slain during a four hour battle between British soldiers and terrorists.

KOREA—Another week dragged by and still no important progress was reported in the Korea peace talks. The United Nations command did offer to reconsider an important phase of its armistice prisoner-exchange demands if the Communists would say how many civilians they intend to return to South Korea. In effect, the U.N. dropped its demand for an equal one-for-one exchange of Red prisoners.

There was no progress on the airfield question that has been holding up negotiations. The Reds insist on rehabilitation of airfields during an armistice. The U.N. command has opposed it.

Meanwhile, at home, Senator Taft called the Korean War unnecessary and useless and said it could have been prevented if the United States had stayed in Korea and rearmed the South Koreans after World War II.

He also said he would make a truce in Korea if he were President because "even a stalemate truce is better than a stalemate war."

Gov. Earl Warren of California, a "native son" candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, may be the key to the coming national convention. Should he throw his influence to either Taft or Eisenhower it could be decisive for that candidate. 1) the two top men should become deadlocked, he could be the compromise candidate. FIRST BIRTHDAY . . . Roschush quade, Oxford, Mich., have reached the revered old age of one year.

BAILER IN TROUBLE . . . Somewhere in the North Sea off England, according to S.O.S. messages this sailing ship, the Pamir, a West German craft was in serious trouble in heavy waters. The straggling vessel carries 79 men and passengers, including 49 who are merchant marine cadets. They are receiving their naval training, part of which must be the handling of this old type of ship. Tugboats were dispatched to the aid of the vessel which sent word it was at the mercy of the wind and the waves and near foundering. There was no word whether or not any of the men aboard had taken to the lifeboats.

WRECKAGE RAISED . . . The shattered remains of the airliner which crashed into the East river in New York City is shown on the deck of a salvage barge as one wing and engine are raised from the water to the deck. Heavy fog hampered salvage crews to get the twin-engine Convair up from the bottom where it was stuck in mud after falling into nine feet of water. A diver attached a cable to the fuselage and a 130-foot barge crane hoisted the wreckage back by lark. The wreckage was to be investigated at La Guardia airport when experts sought to pin down the cause of the crash in which all 38 aboard were saved.

THE BIG SHOW Chicago's 'Cow Barn' Will Be Site of Political Conventions

By Walter A. Shead WNU Washington Correspondent

To some from the rural areas, Chicago's "Cow Barn" will be a familiar sight, but to thousands of others, both delegates and visitors to the national political conventions next July, the 1932 setting for the presidential nominations may seem unrealistic.

For the site of the two national conventions has been switched from the traditional Chicago stadium on the Windy City's west side, to the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards, home of the famous International Live Stock Exposition and other big agricultural shows.

Republicans will convene on Monday, July 7, with the Democrats following them into the amphitheatre two weeks later on Monday, July 21. There will be 1199 Republican delegates, 105 more than were recognized at the 1948 convention in Philadelphia...

Despite the fact that the stock yards amphitheatre seats 8,060 less than the stadium, there are several compensatory factors which led to selection of the new site.

International Amphitheatre, Chicago's great convention, exposition and sports building is the site for the Republican and Democratic national conventions in July, 1952. The arena of the huge structure is now air-conditioned for greater comfort of those who occupy its 12,990 seats.

GRASSROOTS Last Six Years Cost US More Than 160 Previous

By Wright A. Patterson

FROM THE FOUNDING of this republic as a government, with George Washington as its first President, down through all the years—more than 160 to the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt, this government spent $158 billions.

That covered all the cost of all our wars since the Revolution. It included the cost of our second war with England, the Mexican war, the Civil war, the war with Spain, the first world war, and practically all of the Second World War, as well as all the lesser wars.

It included the cost of conquering the West, the building and rebuilding of the national Capitol. It included all the costs of our vast internal improvements, and the construction of the Panama canal, the purchase of the Panama railroad, the building and rebuilding of our navy, and the vast fleet of merchant ships built during World War I.

International Amphitheatre, Chicago's great convention, exposition and sports building is the site for the Republican and Democratic national conventions in July, 1952.

Other factors included the fact that adjacent to the convention hall itself are four large rooms for housing committees and other essential activities of the convention, also air conditioned, plus large adjacent rooms to serve as workrooms for the press and radio, the necessary equipment for telegraph, telephone and teletype machines, dark rooms for photographers and other work incidental to such a big show as a national political convention.

While television received its first big work-out at the Philadelphia convention four years ago, television this year will play a larger part and will have a coast to coast audience, whereas four years ago the audience was confined to the east coast. Another factor taken into consideration is that there is lighted space adjacent to the amphitheatre big enough to park 4,000 automobiles. A first class hotel, good restaurants also are immediately adjacent.

HAROLD BECKLEY and William Donaldson, superintendents of the senate and house press galleries, respectively, and other members of a press committee, with representatives of the Republican and Democratic national committees, already have worked out seating arrangements to handle approximately 1800 reporters for newspapers, periodicals, magazines, radio and television. These temporary stands must be built from scratch, using and entirely new arrangement than heretofore used either at Chicago or Philadelphia.

Members of a joint committee from the two national committees also have worked out the delegations, seating and temporary stands. The two committees to share the expense jointly. About the only difference will be that when the Republican convention adjourns, pictures of Republican leaders will be taken down and Democratic pictures will be hung in their places.

Even though the seating capacity does not measure up to the 20,000 which have been crammed into the old stadium, those in charge of the convention are delighted with the better facilities.

know now that as a spender he was but a "piker" compared to President Truman.

The record of the six years of Truman is so unbelievable that when radio commentator Fulton Lewis, Jr., saw the figures he would not believe them. He took them to the treasury department for verification. From its records, the treasury department verified the figures. It was all true. In approximately six years Harry S. Truman had spent more than all the presidents who had preceded him through a period of 160 years of our national history.

The President was not responsible for spending that vast sum of $160 billion. He did not ask for all of the appropriations made by congress. Members of Congress, imbued with the idea of spending, provided some considerable sums on their own account in addition to meeting the requests of the President. Among the items of expense for which the President is responsible is the cost to the nation, year after year, of that army of bureaucrats he has built.

THE FICTION CORNER NOT A GOOD RISK By Maud McCurdy. JANET had said, "I'm not going to marry you, George!" He had bought a run-down mansion at the edge of town, which he'd had converted into apartments.

THE FICTION CORNER

George looked startled. "We can't take children, Janet," he said. She was astonished. "But this is such an ideal place for them!" George shook his head and Janet flushed angrily. "I don't believe you even like children. What else would you do with all this ground?"

George looked startled. "We can't take children, Janet," he said.

WITHIN an hour after the paper came out people began coming, prosperous-looking young couples, every one with children. They were excited over the place, anxious to sign leases at once.

Shell Collectors Dredge Mollusks On Ocean Floor

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Since prehistoric times adults and children have collected sea shells, picking up pretty and unusual specimens found along the shores.

Scientists have used shells to explain marine life, the nature of coasts and waters and the geologic past. Fossil shells remain the guided geologists almost since the study of geology began.

From this stage the really earnest conchologists move to boats. They find that the shells have greater beauty and brilliance if taken when the mollusks are still living inside.

The Florida enthusiasts, particularly those working in the Gulf of Mexico, also use their boats to reach outlying reefs where, in very calm water and at low tide, they collect shells found nowhere else.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Give Fresh Color to Faded Clothes Easily, Speedily

By Erita Haley

FRONTIER wives had to have a smattering of chemistry and botany as well as time and energy to spend long hours over steaming kettles with muscle straining periods of dipping, and wringing when they wanted to dye fabrics.

Today's homemaker needs only to select appropriate colors, then easily and speedily finish the work of dyeing, be it clothing or drapes, spreads, rugs or blankets.

Once the nature of the material was a problem in dyeing, but there are now dyes available for all types of fabrics, with the exception of those made from glass or metal. Synthetic as well as natural materials can be dyed quickly and without worry over results if the simplest directions are followed.

Color is lovely, and it can make your life brighter if used with discretion. Why not check over wardrobe items some day soon, and at the same time take a look at some of the fabric furnishings in the home? Are they faded? Have you added something to the clothing or furnishings line which now makes the old color less attractive?

These are some of the reasons for dyeing, but economy is also an important factor. Some material which has been rendered useless can be put to good use if dyed.

Select the dye designed for the type of fabric to be dyed. If you are in doubt as to what the material contains, or if it is a mixture, play safe by using the all-purpose type.

Small articles can be dyed in something as simple as a wash basin or an enameled vessel, while larger articles can be placed, in tub or washing machine.

Refresh an old wardrobe.

New Dye-Color Depends Upon Old Color

It isn't always necessary to remove the old color from materials before dyeing. Let's say that you have a faded yellow dress and want to have one that's green. If blue dye is used, then green will be the result, as yellow and blue give green. Blue and red will make violet, while red and yellow will make orange.

If dresses or items of apparel are simply faded several shades and you want to keep the same color, or restore the color to something like it was when new, simply use the shade closest to the one you already have in the material.

If material is not unevenly faded or spotted, the color in a material can be dyed a deeper shade. Can the dark colors be removed? It's not advisable to try to remove

Softness in Tweed

Tweed can look crisp, but it can also look soft as seen in this new fashion for the season. Gray and black bird's-eye weave fashioned by Jane Derby makes a slim skirt with a soft peckline jacket. White silk is used for the jacket lining and a slender belt of black patent harmonizes with fairly large buttons used for the clothing.

the color from a navy blue dress or coat, for example, and try to make it a pastel. Color can be removed and a lighter shade used successfully, but to have a pastel requires that the original material be almost white, or streaking may result.

Dark colors which you no longer like can be safely dyed black, and the material put to other use.

Two kinds of dyes can be mixed together in the solution before dyeing for interesting effect. Try this on a sample of the material to be dyed before dyeing the whole piece of material.

by dyeing with lovely colors.

The prints on printed materials cannot be removed by color remover, but a dye-solution slightly darker than that used on the print will produce attractive and novel effects.

Decide whether you're going to tint or dye your garments. True dyeing produces a fast color, and is recommended for dark or deep colors. Tinting takes less time and is suggested for light colors where the desired color range is temporary; this will usually survive several launderings, but with each laundering the color may lighten.

Prepare Materials For Dyeing

If you've picked out a dress from the closet and have decided to dye it, make certain it's clean and well rinsed before doing the actual dyeing. This is especially true of either clothing or furnishings which have not been used for sometime, as dirt or soap left in clothes may cause uneven dyeing.

All buttons, buckles and trimmings should be removed before dyeing, as you don't know how they're going to behave in the hot water used for a dye-bath. Hems, pleats and linings should also be removed so that the dye can penetrate the material more thoroughly and evenly.

Any materials which are unevenly faded or spotted should have their color removed thoroughly before dyeing is attempted. This is an extra step but it's very simple with a color remover.

Select, agate ware, enameled pans or stainless steel ware for the dye-bath, as other metals may have a dulling effect on the color which you're using. The vessel used should be large enough to enable you to move the article to be dyed without crowding. This freedom of movement insures even color, too. Arm yourself with a wooden spoon or stick so that you can stir the material around easily. This avoids hot water on the hands, and also stain which may be a little difficult to remove.

Dissolve Dye In Hot Water

Boiling water is not essential for dyeing at any time with current dyes available, but very hot water is desirable to give the deep colors desired.

It's best to use hot tap water in a quart jar for dissolving the dye thoroughly. In this way you can prevent much streaking. In the meantime, warm the vessel which you're going to use for the dye-bath, with more hot water.

The next step is to fill the vessel with cold water enough to cover the garment to be dyed as completely as possible. Four the dye solution from the quart jar into the water in the large vessel. Now place the garment in the bath, unfolded, and the article will, of course, have been wet since it is washed and rinsed just before the dyeing.

Use Washing Machine For Bulky Articles

Whenever you dye such items as spreads, drapes, slipcovers or blankets, it's a good idea to put the washing machines to use to avoid handling bulky pieces by hand.

The amount of dye is usually determined by the weight of the article.

KATHLEEN NORRIS Unwilling Bachelor Girl Asks:

"I AM a successful business woman who wants to get married," writes Kathleen Rich, of Portland, Oregon. "I'm 33, good-looking in a lifeless sort of way, and independent. My mother, at 54, married again last year; I live with a cousin, her four little girls, her mother, her sister and the sister's little girl. And in the kitchen we have Lulu and Lulu's Emmy. A household of women, and I get so tired of it!

"I don't want to live alone; no smart bachelor girl stuff for me. I've tried that—my hope was to meet interesting men and make men friends, but it worked down in a few months to one man, dull, with money enough to bring ducks, caviar, wine and mushrooms up to my flat, and to smoke there in great comfort while I cooked dinner. Once when I protested that I'd like to go out now and then, he amiably asked me how often? I said, angrily, once a week, to see what he would say. He asked, what night? In a fury I said Friday, and after that he came dressed and ready on Friday, with flowers. We never went out on any other time, and I never had garçons except on Fridays.

Angry Experience

Finally, I was the one who suggested marriage. I said that we might as well be married as dine together five times a week, and feel obliged to account to each other for any nights we missed. And to my lasting humiliation he was

How have I missed the bus? At what point along the road have I put myself into the category of the superfluous smart business woman? Help me. In 10 years I will have reached an age when this sort of happiness is often out of reach. I've a lot to give; no woman could have had the office discipline I've survived, or have reached the position I have without developing a good deal of common sense. My relations to our mixed family have always been harmonious; I'm nice looking. Here's my picture, wedding in the back yard, with a seven-year-old niece. What's the matter with me that I can't seem to find, much less interest, the right man?"

And Kate includes a snapshot of a really attractive, intelligent-looking woman in a sweater and slacks, laughing, in a garden, with a laughing small girl. Her problem is an old one, and an eternally unanswered one. What is it, in certain completely worthless young females, girls who are selfish and cold and comestically incompetent, girls who never heard of a budget, never liked a baby, girls who have made marital failures before, who have shown no affection for their families—what is it that they have that Kate hasn't?

Non-Voters Give Untrue Reasons

Lack of Knowledge Of Issues Is Cause

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—A Yale University psychologist said recently that habitual non-voters "rationalize" their failure to go to the polls. "The same people failed to vote in one election after another," said Harold H. Kelley, assistant professor of psychology. "Therefore, it seems unlikely that the excuses people give for not voting are actually true."

Included in the reasons eligible voters give for not voting, Mr. Kelley said, are "inconvenience," and lack of interest in the issues involved.

"I doubt that the same people, year after year, find it inconvenient to reach the polls," Mr. Kelley said. "It is often thought that non-voters also feel there is little choice between candidates but evidence indicates rather a lack of knowledge of the issues involved."

"The non-voter is probably preoccupied with his own life and with the problem of making a living. Consequently, he or she feels little interest in the election and little concern over its outcome," the psychologist stated.

Mr. Kelley, in discussing the psychology of voting, said that a voter is faced with two pressing questions at the start of any election: one, whether or not to vote at all, and two, if he decides to vote, which candidate to support.

The question of whether to vote or not is important, Mr. Kelley pointed out, when considering that in recent presidential elections, 40 per cent of the eligible voters failed to vote. He said that a typical member of this percentage is a woman, under 40, living in a rural area, and of a lower income bracket having less education than a typical voter.

"The main factor in non-voting," Mr. Kelley emphasized, "is really lack of interest. Also, some people feel that their individual vote is unimportant."

ONCE OVER True Metal of Love is Proved

By H. I. Phillips

SERGEANT R. E. REESE, an American prisoner of the Chinese, in a letter to his mother asked for a photo of his auto. "I kind of want a picture of that old car. If you still have it around," he wrote. He will get it. And if the car could write a letter to accompany the picture, it would say:

Well, it sure was great to hear from you and to know you feel that way about me. My picture... gee... what a kick I got! I ain't had any thrill like it since I came off the assembly line. It's the first time I was asked for my photo and I guess it has happened to few jalopies in history. I feel pretty distinctive and almost like I had also been asked for my autograph.

I hope you like this photo of me which your man took right away. She scared hell out of me on account of it was a new experience and at first I figured she was carrying on some correspondence with a second-hand car dealer. Well, I am so beastly I have been around a lot and taken quite a beating. All my wrinkles show up and while your folks did a lot of polishing on me the hicks, borachas and patches still show. I have not grown fat. It is just that the new cars are more streamlined, I guess.

My morale shot away up at the news you really cared so much, and that away over in a Chinese prison camp you wanted my picture. Like the girls always say, "This is so sudden." You used to drive sometimes like you wasn't too fond of me. There were moments when you handled me in a way to make me think that if anybody wanted a photo of me it would be the police department or the junkyard man. But you shouldn't see what your request has done to me. I am like a new car. My radiator ornament which looked pretty sour has perked up and the windshield wiper which was extra sluggish is like a new man. My battery fizzes like wine, my headlights blaze, there is a sweeter note in my horn and even my clock has started keeping correct time, which is something that happens to very few auto clocks.

My body squeaks are fewer and I have snapped out of a thousand rattles. You should see how your request for my photo has affected the tires. (They are retreads but they look like new and one of 'em has managed to develop a white wall.) A rear bumper had come loose and was hanging on the starboard side, but it got tight and, so help me, not a human hand touched it. Even the door handles work and my cigar lighter gets hot, although it has not worked in years.

shocked beyond words. No, that would spoil everything, he said, he had been married years before, as I knew. He said he wouldn't ever marry again; simple, comfortable friendship for him. Well, I was raging, and what I really raged at, I suppose, was that I wasn't in love with him in the least, and had felt that my suggestion was extremely generous. This experience influenced me in breaking up my apartment and joining the family.

"My cousin has been married twice, once widowed, once divorced. My other cousin is divorced, and has a heavy beau. Even Tam, the oldest girl, has serious beaux at 15. They don't know. I don't let them know, that I'd almost rather have an unsuccessful marriage than be the way I am!

EVERYBODY knows that Jesus took an interest in the poor. But there is another side of the picture: Jesus took just as keen an interest in the rich. Some of his most famous and penetrating sayings were spoken in conversations with wealthy men.

Dr. Foreman

Two Rich Men JESUS met two men of means who were quite different from each other.

One, who remains nameless, had much to recommend him. He was rich, but perhaps that was the last thing people thought about when they saw him.

Furthermore, he was eager in the right direction. His principal ambition was not to have more money but to have eternal life.

Money the Master THIS last thing we see of the good rich man is his turning his back on Goodness. He had a chance to follow Christ—the same chance that Peter and Matthew had, the same command, Follow Me!

Money the Servant JESUS did not ask all his followers to get rid of every penny they possessed.

C. A. (BUDD) COPPLE

C. A. Copple Named To Petroleum Industry's Public Relations Group

For the first time since its inception in 1947, the petroleum industry's public relations program in New Mexico has a vice chairman. He is C. A. (Bud) Copple, sales manager Malco Refinery Corporation, Roswell.

Operating under sponsorship of the American Petroleum Institute as the Oil Industry Information Committee, the industry-wide public relations project this year is aiming at broadening participation by enlisting volunteer workers from all segments of petroleum, according to F. E. Chapman, New Mexico OIIC chairman and assistant sales manager for Standard Oil Company of Texas, El Paso.

In making the announcement of Copple's appointment, Chapman said that one of the first projects to be undertaken is division of the state into operating regions.

Copple's rise in the oil business has been rapid. He went to work for a Skelly service station in Kansas City 18 years ago and had gone up the ladder to assistant division manager at Denver by 1944, when he joined Malco. Copple has been sales manager since August, 1949. He is married to the former Becky Dee Swancy of Kansas City. They have three sons.

At practically no expense a Valentine party table can be made most attractive. A few flowers and those paper cut-outs of hearts and cupid's which are available in the stores are all you need to make a charming centerpiece. Refreshments can be simple, small cakes and a real party drink, for instance, are quite enough to serve if you have an eye on the budget. A good drink to serve at any time is pale dry ginger ale, and

Assignment New Mexico

By G. WARD FENLEY

They're durable folks — these New Mexicans.

The first edition of the Albuquerque Tribune one day last week reported that 7-year-old Albert Magee, while bouncing on his bed, bounced right out a nearby fifty-story window. On hitting the ground he bounced right up, unhurt, and walked away. The next edition made it a five-story window but that's still quite a lot of bouncing.

Apparently nobody suffered any body injury in the Albuquerque Journal yarn which noted that "Guests up to 60 miles an hour blew across the northeastern part of the state."

A Journal heading revealed clearly the immortality of New Mexicans: "WOMAN, 30, DIES: MAY LIVE HERE."

You know you've heard how certain New Mexican Chambers of Commerce boast that they had to shoot some guy so they could start a cemetery in the state way back yonder.

We invent diseases and still we can't kill 'em off.

In listing diseases in Colfax County, Jimmy Barber noted one case of men's gonococcal meningitis. Stop me if I'm wrong but I never heard of such a man-killer. Maybe it's native to the northern part of the state.

Jimmy made me peeved last week when he mixed up those nice looking garments the girls wear with foul smelling sewers. Wrote Jim: "City officials, on the trail of inflammable sewaters, planned a visit today to a New York plant."

Pardon me for jumping on the Raton Range but I've gotta get even. Frank Pfeiffer wrote me a nasty letter.

So here's another from the Range: "Business is plainly lousy said a man at the Association of Adjustable Strap Manufacturers."

The Gallup Independent joined the Range in typo errors last week. A woman "sustained a broken hip and numerous lacerations on the right side of the face." We've been trying to identify the right side.

And the Penasco Valley News says that a resident of Truth or Consequences is running for commissioner of public lands on his popat record. We don't know the gentleman but could the editor have had Pabst Blue Ribbon in mind?

Yes, things have got to a pretty bad state of affairs. According to the Portales Daily News the Farm Bureau people at Dora got together last week and made up enough money to buy a boss horn.

New Mexican entertainment is in bad shape also. The Duke City Journal said that a UNM student will concede the program with a talk. We simply have to grin and bear some things.

We agree with Mrs. Ruth Widener, Portales News reporter from Central: "When your copy comes out in the paper reading 'wanted' for 'wonted,' it is embarrassing—but it's still great sport."

You can't do a thing with Gordon Greaves, Mrs. Widener. We talked to him to no avail at the recent N. M. press meeting.

The same goes for the Lovington Leader. Last week the paper had the perfectly respectable

VISITORS FROM WYOMING

Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Stuart of Storey, Wyo., arrived last week for an indefinite visit at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dunning near Carrizozo. Other guests expected by the Dunnings this week are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Myers, St. Louis, Mich. The Dunnings have just returned from Fort Worth and report that although they had no entries in the show, the offspring of several of their horses took top honors.

Lovington police force officer, Doyle Henderson, arrested and paying a fine for disturbing the peace. Wrote the editor by way of apology, "Any newspaper should know better than to make such stupid mistakes." Amen, Sister.

I'm still going in circles about a masseur who wants to locate in Lovington. The Leader said his name was Mr. Payne Goes Away.

The Otero County News has got some wonderful geographic locations all staked out in Alamogordo. There's a subdivision in the offing for residents who live in an area bounded by Hawaii, Florida, Catalina and Lovers Lane.

That's all except the little pome: "Hush little minklet, don't you cry; you'll be a scandal by and by."

WHEN YOUR "E" BONDS MATURE

The Treasury Department offers three choices to holders of Series E, United States Defense Bonds, when their bonds mature: Choice: You may: One, accept cash, if you so desire; Two, continue to hold the present bond with an automatic interest-bearing extension; Three, exchange your bonds in amounts of $500 or multiples for a Defense Bond of Series G, which earns current income at the rate of 2 1/2 percent payable semi-annually.

Action: If you want to obtain cash, you simply present your bond, with proper identification, to any paying agent. If you want to extend the matured bond you have ABSOLUTELY NOTHING TO DO—just continue to hold it. Extended bonds may be cashed at any time you wish. If you want a G Bond, see your bank for details.

Interest: The extended bond will earn simple interest on the face amount at the rate of 2 1/2 percent for the first seven and one-half years. Thereafter it will be at a higher rate, sufficient to provide a total return for the 10-year extension period of 2.9 percent compounded.

Taxes: You have the choice of (1) reporting E Bond interest for Federal income taxes on an annual basis or (2) paying the taxes on the interest in the year when the bonds finally mature or are redeemed. The privilege of deferring taxes does not apply if the E Bond is exchanged for a G Bond.

Truck Driver Fined In Green Tree Accident

James C. Edwards, El Paso, truck driver for a dairy company, was fined $25 and court costs of $4.50 by Justice of the Peace Campbell, Green Tree, Monday for leaving his truck unattended and without the brakes set.

The truck, parked in front of a Green Tree cafe, broke loose Monday morning and backed into an automobile parked across the street, overturning it. The truck came to a final stop astride the overturned vehicle. No one was injured.

Officers said the automobile, an old model owned by a Green Tree resident, had been parked in the same spot for several months.

Conference Scheduled

On Old Folks Problems
Gov. Edwin L. Mechem will soon send out invitations to the statewide conference on problems of older citizens which he has called for Feb. 23, at the Albuquerque High School, Albuquerque. Leisure time activities, employment, health and other problems relating to older workers will be discussed.

Several of the more populous states have already begun to study the problems of older citizens, but New Mexico is the first of the Rocky Mountain states to call such a conference. It is estimated there are 50,000 New Mexicans now over 60, and the number of persons who live into the seventh and eighth decades of life is rapidly rising.

The governor will invite civic leaders, health authorities, actuarial experts and the oldesters themselves to the all-day conference.

FLYING SHERIFF

Lincoln County's flying sheriff S. M. (Sally) Ortiz, was featured in a recent issue of the Roswell Record. A picture in that paper shows Ortiz standing beside the plane of his deputy, T. A. Spencer where they had gone on official business. The sheriff told the Roswell reporter he had recently deputized Truman who had volunteered the use of his private plane. He added the plane was used successfully a short time ago in spotting a stolen car. It was also used in the search of a small boy lost in the mountains of this county during the past deer hunting season. Truman was a senior command pilot in the Pacific theater during World War II.

State School Fund

An increasing amount is derived from common school lands, as indicated in the report of the Taxpayers' Association. Because of the increase in this source, the current school fund distributed to the counties for the present school year was $4,872,655, as compared with $4,024,747 for the fiscal year 1950-51 and $3,735,951 for the year 1949-50.

These figures include income from lands as follows: Present year (1951-52), $3,744,433; (1950-51), $3,000,653; (1949-50), $2,832,750. In 1941-42 the income from school lands was only $993,059.—New Mexico Tax Bulletin.

Since 1940, food prices in general have risen 128 per cent, but the price of milk is only 62 per cent higher.

Each person in the U. S. now eats 13 per cent more food than he did 15 years ago. We now have 23,000,000 more people than in 1940. Exports are 50 per cent greater than the 1935-39 average. These facts, plus our expanding military demands, call for greater agricultural production wherever possible.

Mid-Afternoon Refreshment

Tall glasses, tinkling with ice and filled with a delicious, bubbling beverage—what better way to revive the drooping spirits of guests or the family on warm summer days? A mid-afternoon drink, served on the porch, or any cool, shady spot, is a delightful interlude in the day's activities. A cooling drink is a welcome offering to unexpected callers and affords such a quick and easy way to bring on the refreshments.

A few cans of fruit juices and bottles of pale dry ginger ale and sparkling water in your refrigerator and you are ready for any time that a quick drink may be called for. Fresh fruits, too, peaches, cherries, berries and the citrus fruits, all come in handy for invigorating drinks. Here is a good afternoon refresher, the cherry syrup to be made ahead of time and set in the refrigerator to chill until ready to use.

Cherry Glow
1 cup chopped, ripe cherries
1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon grated lime rind
Sparkling Water

Combine cherries, water, grated lime and orange rind. Mince small cherries are soft. Chill. Divide in 4 tall glasses; add orange and lime juice. Fill glasses with ice cold sparkling water. Serves 4.

Hawaiian Nectar

1 No. 2 can pineapple juice
6 limes, juice
1/4 cup powdered sugar
1/4 cup pale dry ginger ale

Combine ingredients, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Pour over ice into 6 glasses. Fill glasses with pale dry ginger ale. Garnish with maraschino cherries in thin slices of orange. Serves 6.
