Democrats Select Delegates to Meet

County Democratic Chairman Resigns To Become Candidate Himself; 12 Delegates Chosen

Twelve delegates representing Lincoln county in the Democratic state convention to be held in Santa Fe March 3 and 4 were selected at a democratic county convention at the courthouse in Carrizozo Saturday evening. The delegates and their alternates were selected at the opening of the convention which attracted party members from throughout the county. The delegates and their local precincts are:

Carrizozo: Truman A. Spencer, Jr. Mrs. Truman A. Spencer, Jr. Mrs. Geo. L. Zimmerman. Geo. L. Zimmerman.

Ruidoso: William A. Hart Dan Swearingen Lloyd Bloodworth Arvel Rannels

Hondo: Ramon Nunez Mrs. Ramon Nunez

Glencoe: Dan Storm

Lincoln: Edward Penfield.

Chairman Resigns
Carl E. Ness, Lincoln county democratic chairman and a candidate for the short term of the Corporation Commission, submitted his resignation as county chairman to become effective on March 8 and called a meeting of the county central committee to appoint his successor. Mr. Ness resigned in order to devote his entire attention to his present race.

Delegates Instructed

The twelve delegates were instructed to cast their entire votes for U. S. Senator Dennis Chavez, U. S. Representative John Dempsey and A. N. Fernandez, and for Carl E. Ness in his short term corporation commission race. The convention ordered the delegates to go uninstruced for the balance of the state offices. No poll was taken to ascertain the delegates' choices for the governor's race.

The convention also directed the delegates to vote the entire allotment of Lincoln county votes and to distribute the votes of the absentee delegates or alternates among the party members in attendance as party delegates in Santa Fe.

Ruidoso alternates include: Mrs. Lloyd Bloodworth, Mrs. Dan Swearingen, Mrs. Arvel Rannels, Mrs. Edith Sheehan and Mrs. Marie Rooney. Carrizozo alternates are: Ramon Luna, Bracell Fresquez, T. E. Kelly Johnson Stearns and R. C. Withers, Hondo Valley alternates are Fred McTelgue and Albert Kimbrell.

Announced Candidates—

Local candidates announcing for the democratic primary during the convention include Truman A. Spencer, Jr., Carrizozo and Lloyd P. Bloodworth, Ruidoso, both for the Senate. This will be the first time that Lincoln County will elect a Senator of its own. Prior to the 1931 legislature Lincoln County was in a shoestring senatorial district with two other counties.

George L. Zimmerman, Carrizozo lawyer, announced his candidacy as the Democratic representative in the state legislature from the Lincoln County district. There were no announced candidates for the thirteenth legislative district, comprising Socorro, Lincoln and Otero counties.

Albert Kimbrell, Picocho, declared for Sheriff; Manuel Ortiz, Carrizozo and Bracell Fresquez, Picocho, announced for Assessor; Arvel Rannels, Bonito, spoke on his candidacy for County Clerk; Ite Wingfield, Ruidoso, was declared a candidate for the office of County Commissioner as was Harry Straley, Ancho.

Burton Roach, Truth or Consequences candidate for State Land Commissioner, and James Lamb, State Corporation Commission candidate for the six-year term were present and delivered short addresses.

garet Howard of Houston, Mo., Mrs. Theresa Schofield of Otago, Michigan and Letha, who brought her husband, Alfer Pennwright, Mich. The men say they couldn't get a word in edgewise, and the girls are suffering sore throats.

Peg Pflingsten says he's been standing around watching the wind blow this week, but I don't believe him. Leota is helping out at Murphys.

Ben Pflingsten has learned that Sunday should be a day of rest, a mighty hard thing to do when you are alone. He was fixing his windmill when a hoist handle slipped and cut his head badly enough to require a trip to the doctor in Carrizozo and a few stitches.

LaMoyné Peters confided that even if I wanted to write something about his cow, the neighbors are all cooperating to keep her activities a secret. That's why Mr. Jones threw up that smoke screen.

Bobbie Peebles wrote that people even catch cold in Kansas. He had to spend a couple of days in the infirmary. Guy Dabney suffered an injury to one of his fingers from a saw.

NOGAL MESA

By MRS. A. E. MULKEY

Cumbres Pass has had a monopoly on that moist white stuff we like so well but last week a few inches of it drifted our way. It didn't seem to slow down the activities of the Mesa folks, though the road to Ruidoso was clogged here and there in the muddiest places with cars from Texas and other foreign countries.

Arlene and Paul Jones journeyed back to the good country from Clovis where they spent the winter. Paul and Ike Kennedy started work for the forestry a couple of weeks, then start opening the trails into the high country in preparation for fire season.

Martha Withams was seen at the Capitan basketball game Saturday night. She has another name and a husband and even a new address, but I haven't learned the details.

Mr. G. Lee Wang, former deputy supervisor of the Lincoln, and Earl Moore, supervisor, made routine inspections of the Capitan and White Mountain districts.

The five daughters of the late Ora Hicks were together for a much enjoyed reunion most of the week. The girls are: Mrs. Lyda Peebles of the Mesa, Lois Gould of Fort Stanton, Mrs. Mar-

News & Views From Your Nation's Capitol

By JOHN J. DEMPSEY, Congressman from New Mexico WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—New Mexico is not going to be discriminated against in distribution of funds for improving safety conditions on interstate highways proposed under terms of the Federal Aid Road Act for the biennium ending June 30, 1955.

legislation by the House Public Works Committee, which is considering three bills, one of which I introduced as a companion measure to the bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Chavez. The interstate highway improvement authorization of $100,000,000 for each of the two years, if it is finally approved, will be included in whichever bill comes out of committee for action by the House. It is in addition to the other established federal-aid programs.

Recommendations to the committee by the National Association of Highway Commissioners were that the interstate highway funds should be used to match state funds on a population basis solely. That proposal, I told the committee, would favor large population states and be unfair to states with small populations and large highway mileage.

New Mexico's principal highways such as 85, 66, 70 and 80—are all interstate highways as designated by the Bureau of Public Roads and carry a great percentage of out-of-state traffic. With ever-increasing volume of truck transport much of it of defense materials—the roads must be constructed and maintained to eliminate all hazards possible. Improved safety conditions, such as the elimination of bad curves and construction of better bridges, the committee agreed, should be financed on the same federal-state basis as the primary highway system under the regular federal aid program.

Recently I brought to the attention of the House Armed Services Committee facts developed in an investigation I had been making of charges made in a broadcast by Drew Pearson that procurement blunders made by the Department of Defense in buying just one item—a special type of vertical turret lathe would mean the loss of millions of dollars to the taxpayers.

As a result, the Hebert subcommittee is holding special hearings, in which I have been invited to sit with the committee. The hearings started on February 8 and probably will continue for several days.

Briefly, my investigation showed that a contract was made with the Fisher Body Company of Detroit, to buy 757 of these lathes at $45,000 per unit more than the regular prevailing price of $38,000. That meant an excess payment of about $34,000,000 for which there was no justification except that the Fisher company would have to tool up for production in which it never had engaged an dhad no experience.

Before the Fisher company could tool up and start to produce lathes, my investigation revealed, an unidentified machinist found that the ordinary T type of lathe would do the job just as well or better than the special lathe for which the added millions were to be spent. So the contract has been cancelled at a cost which it is hoped will be as little as $3,000,000."

The incredible fact eventually was brought to light that no one in the air force, army, navy, national production authority, munitions board, aircraft board of the Defense Production Administration, or General Service Administration knew what the "unidentified machinist" knew. All of those agencies had a hand in the transaction.

The cumbersome and confused procurement policy of the government, in this case, is the startling fact. It bears out the contention I have been making for a long time that procurement for the Armed Services particularly—and many other government departments as well—should be handled by one central authority, manned by trained purchasing experts.

That would result in saving billions of dollars and obviate any need for further tax increases.

JUST A RAMBLIN'

By Wayne Winters

Well, managed to get out one edition of the News-Outlook without too much trouble... Expect that this one will go along the same way, then I can head for Grants or someplace else... Talked to Les Kinnard on the phone and he says they are having a swell trip... Know that we're way short on personal items, but they are something you don't start to get until you've been around a place awhile. Anyway, there'll be plenty of them when the Kinnards get back.

One thing which I've noticed around here is the fine way in which the country correspondents send in their regular contributions... Such columns or regional news are the lifeblood of any county seat weekly, and those who contribute to the News Outlook not only write well, spell well and write promptly, but they write in an interesting manner, too... Of course last week and this I'll undoubtedly get some names misspelled in one or two cases, but that's to be expected when copy comes in written in longhand and the editor is not acquainted with the names... Nevertheless, everyone who is sending in correspondence for the News-Outlook can take it from one who has seen a lot of it in various places, that their copy is above average.

Some of the most delicious pastries I've ever been lucky enough to set teeth into are to be found right here in Carrizozo... Been making it a habit to stop in Gustles for coffee each afternoon and most of the time I also find some such delicacy as blue berry tarts with whipped cream, or apple pie with cheese melted over the top... Good thing I won't be around here much longer, for my weight is already pushing 200 pounds and I'm afraid that it wouldn't be long before I'd exceed that amount, and dieting is something that this writer can't imagine ever doing.

See by the Albuquerque papers that the Acoma tribe has finally agreed to lease the reservation to Frank Sifton of Dove Creek, Colo., for prospecting for uranium... It's about time... Much as I like the pueblo Indians over around Grants I still can't find any excuse for some of their actions... The Laguna tribe had a uranium discovery upon their property and they dilly-dallied around for months before they finally signed up with Anaconda Copper to prospect the place (There are large fines for any person who goes prospecting on an Indian reservation without the "almost impossible to obtain" permits)... The same goes for the Acomas. This writer has known for months that the vital ore had been located on the property of the Acomas and has watched silently from the sidelines as negotiations were made for its prospecting... These Indians are as loyal Americans as are to be found arly.

where. They have given many of their young men in battle, supporting the ideals of the United States. They are fine people, good and generous, but when it comes to doing business with one of these tribes, there is so much red tape connected that it's darned near impossible to get anything done... Where the production of uranium is concerned, there can be absolutely no excuse for any stalling. Our country needs this material, and it needs it right now. We can't be kept waiting for it one day more than is absolutely necessary. Red tape of negotiations between any tribe, uranium miners and the Federal government should not be tolerated one minute. It's little short of criminal to have the atomic production of this country held up in any way by any person or group of persons.

This is a small world, after all... Was setting type here in the News-Outlook office one day last week and a gentleman dropped in to see about his subscription at Ruidoso... Somehow we got talking and I introduced myself, whereupon he explained that he was Steve Bostian of Carrizozo and Ruidoso and that the Bostians and the Potters (my mother's folks) were relatives, both families coming from Southern Illinois... Turns out that he and Mom are cousins of some sort or other and that my mother and her brothers and sisters all knew Mr. and Mrs. Bostian back in Illinois along about the turn of the century. Of course I knew that Mom had folks at Ruidoso but I had never met them before... It was certainly a treat to make the acquaintance of Steve and Pearl Bostian.

Have to set some type, so will say goodby to Carrizozo, and wish to take this means of thanking all who have helped to make my stay so pleasant.

Tangerines Make A Picture-Pretty Salad

Tangerines make your salad platter as pretty as your centerpiece. Florida's little slipper-skin fruit is here this month in abundance. Easy to section and prepare, it's a natural for salads and fruit cups. And like the other Florida citrus fruits, it's one of the best natural sources of vitamin C.

Tangerine Salad 6 tangerines 1 2-ounce package cream cheese 2 tablespoons top milk or cream 1/2 cup cranberry jelly or orange marmalade Crisp lettuce cups Cut peel of tangerines part way down to form 4 sections, and tuck them under like flat petals; separate tangerine sections but do not loosen from the peel. Place each tangerine in a crisp lettuce cup. Soften cream cheese and blend in top milk. Add jelly or marmalade and whip until smooth. Serve over tangerine salads. Makes 6 salads.

4-H Club Leader Goes To Brazil

Santiago D. "Jimmy" Apodaca, associate state 4-H club leader at New Mexico A&M College, has resigned to accept a position with the Rockefeller Foundation as agricultural specialist in Brazil.

Apodaca, a graduate of New Mexico A&M College, has been associate state 4-H club leader since 1948. Prior to that, he was Mora County extension agent and assistant agent in Valencia County.

In Brazil, Apodaca will advise Brazilian agricultural supervisors about extension methods and farm credit. His wife and family will join him at a later date.

ship and vision and where improvement in the standard of living for the whole population drags very slowly. Nobody has been starving, of course, but here has been a noticeable lag in progress and general betterment in some areas.

In my journeys through our country I've seen some of these slow-to-progress areas. This column today is a report on what has happened to one of them. The report reflects great credit on 1,000 Arkansas business and professional men who have provided leadership and vision and a willingness to spend their energies and resources for the common good.

A Community Awakens
A few years ago I visited a small city in Arkansas and found its commerce, its economic and social life to be standing still, making no visible progress. The leading hotel had frayed carpets on the lobby floor, the Main Street buildings were droopy-looking and in need of paint, many dwellings and yards were untended and it seemed to me that even people themselves moved about the streets listlessly. There appeared to be no pride, no ambition present.

Today this little Arkansas city which was fast asleep a few years ago is wide awake and soundly prosperous; living standards throughout the population are high, opportunities are open for everybody. It is probably the fastest growing community in the south. You immediately ask what has happened? The answer is that its business and professional men were awakened and prodded into civic action by an organization called "The Arkansas Economic Council." In its ten years of existence the council has proved to the whole state that people can "pull themselves up by their own bootstraps."

New Wealth Wanted
The council was founded by a handful of public-spirited business men. The primary purpose was to get new manufacturing plants started to boost the production of wealth in Arkansas—locally financed home industries to process local raw materials, and large out-of-state factories with big payrolls. The handful of leaders went over the state buttonholing business men in the 75 counties. Soon they had enlisted 1,000 men. A technical staff was employed and a resources inventory was made in every county.

The business men in each community then held "Build Your Own Home Town" clinics. All kinds of people attended—from women's clubs, the schools, the churches, from all phases of the community's life. Local projects were scheduled on a priority basis and the citizens literally rolled up their sleeves and went to work. New industries began to pop up all over the state; new parks and playgrounds appeared, school and health facilities were expanded and improved; downtown areas were modernized; new job opportunities opened up in more than 100 Arkansas communities.

A Great Achievement
The council has just held its annual statewide meeting in Little Rock. More than 700 of the original 1,000 business and industrial executives and professional men interrupted busy schedules to attend. They all have been giving as much as several weeks each year to the "community development" clinic and to providing leadership in pushing to completion the projects selected in these clinics.

The progress report made at the statewide meeting shows what people can do with this kind of leadership and inspiration. In ten years Arkansas has made its greatest economic growth in the nation, has led all states in per capita income increase. Hundreds of new industries—big and little—have been established, thousands of new jobs created, millions of dollars in new payrolls created. In the past three years, 133 Arkansas communities have held the clinics and have begun to improve themselves—modernize, pave streets, build playgrounds, improve their schools, and to do the other things that go along with wholesome progress.

The Socialists and their followers are always hammering away at the American business man. Yet, when all the facts are known he is revealed as the truly great progressive force, providing vision, leadership, know-how and willing service in America's march toward a still better life for all.

Egg production is steady throughout the nation. In 1951, hens produced about the same as the year before, but topped the 10-year average by about 14 per cent.

This old bald-headed professor is inclined to agree with a Tucumcari editorial last week.

The editor wrote: "The professors and instructors who got the United States in their grip in the thirties are ruining the country."

You have only to read Father Stanley's new book, "The Las Vegas Story," to see how far we have strayed from the straight and narrow.

A quote from F. Stanley (who lives up Raton way):

"The Hot Springs hotel in Las Vegas (N. M.) was opened February 13, 1880, by a grand ball. The list of killed and wounded has not yet been published."

The big trouble with modern-day life is that we travel too fast a gait. We simply can't keep up with ourselves.

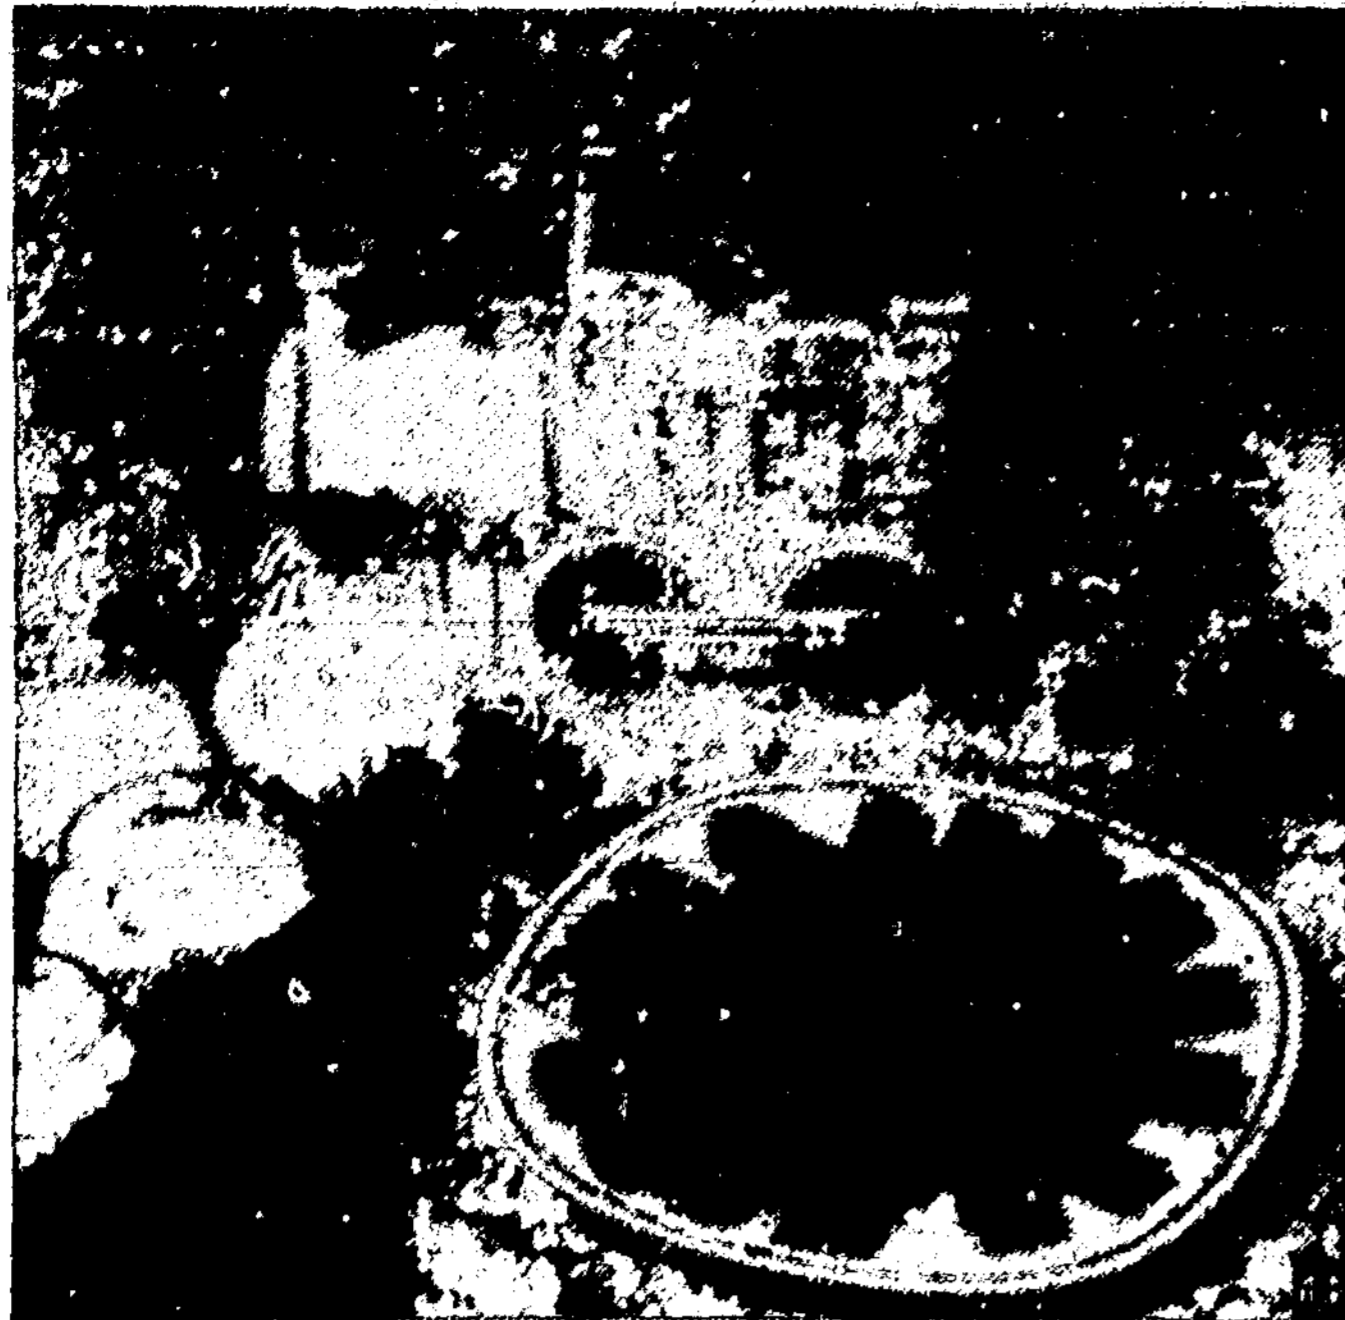

The Albuquerque Tribune, in speaking of Brittan's new queen, said that a certain Lady Jane Grey was queen for nine days back in 1553.

See what we mean? We get ahead of ourselves.

They are even doing away with tomorrow. We read in the Silver City Press: "A flu outbreak in the Cliff high school caused officials of that school to cancel a tomorrow night with Western high."

We have grandpas at much earlier ages now. The Tucumcari American said last week that a surprise birthday party was held for W. (Grandpa) Bryant on his 7th birthday. Too fast a

Unsulphured Molasses Sweetens Chewy, Bar-Type Cookies

A track will be made to the cookie jar that contains bar cookies plumped with the goodness of unsulphured molasses and shredded coconut. Unsulphured molasses in the sweet, old-fashioned kind with the flavor that children have liked for generations.

Cookies enriched with unsulphured molasses are nutritious. This molasses is a natural sweet, being derived from the concentrated and mellowed juice of sugar cane. It contains valuable iron needed to build red blood, also calcium and vitamin B.

Many pediatricians are recommending the use of high quality molasses in milk drinks as a good way to obtain some of the daily iron requirements. A tablespoon of molasses stirred into a glass of milk is a delicious flavor addition to this beverage.

Here is the recipe for the easy-to-make chewy molasses cookies.

Molasses Chew-Chevs
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 cup unsulphured molasses
1/2 cup unbeaten egg whites (about 4)

Cream together shortening, sugar and unsulphured molasses. Beat in egg whites. Add flour, soda, salt and coconut; mix until blended.

Spread batter on a greased, waxed paper lined, jelly-roll pan, 16 x 10 x 1-inch. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 30 to 35 minutes.

Remember that 10-year-old American girl who went down below the border to fight bulls.

There's lots wrong with us today. Children must be pretty bad town at Hobbs.

Almost as bad as the New Mexican's list of new arrivals at the Santa Fe hospitals on February 8.

Among the parents' names were: John M. Stuppy, who gave birth to a boy, and James T. Warner, who bore a baby girl.

For a serious moment, we'd like publicly to admit that we are (editorial we is singular) an incurable optimist.

The world is not going to the dogs and we can prove it. For the story of the week, look up your Clovis News Journal for February 10.

Yes sir, we're just Pollyannish enough to believe that God's in His heaven and all's right—well for the most part—with the world.

Dear Sirs: I am taking this opportunity of writing to you and your city because of my young brother who saw a Western film in which your city was depicted.

I would also like to exchange scenes of my town for scenes of yours and would like to exchange correspondence with a pen friend—boy or girl, from your city.

Near my home there is the American air base of Burtonwood and we see quite a lot of your boys, and if they are the type of people who are back home, then the world has nothing to fear in the future.

I will close now sir, and hope you will answer my letter: Your truly, JOHN CHRISTY

LINCOLN

By MRS. J. E. PHILLIPS
Dan Storm was visiting friends in Lincoln Tuesday. Saw him passing the time of day with Mrs. Hulbert, who was on her way to Capitán with her daughter, Mrs. Fronie Ramey.
Mrs. Don Gilles is suffering from a very bad cold. We wish her a speedy recovery.
Mrs. Maurilda McGrew and Mrs. Jeff Dockray made a flying trip to Roswell, Monday to take Maurilda's cat to the animal hospital. He (the cat) comes to be well enough to hope home Saturday.
We are quite pleased to have some new neighbors and incidentally some new pupils in our school, now that the Mareans Alday family has moved here from Texas. They are living in Lupe Baca's house here in Lincoln.

A house warming party was given Mrs. Annie Ramey in her lovely new home Sunday afternoon. I wish I had a list of the guests. I do know that the Roy Rameys came over from Socorro and Mrs. Mildred Ramey and Mrs. Maddux from Ruidoso. Sorry I had to miss it as everyone reports a lovely party. Mrs. Ramey received many lovely gifts for her new home.

Mrs. Ruth Martin drove to Alamogordo Monday.
Mrs. Helen Meeks finally got up enough courage to leave her new grand daughter in Alamogordo and came home. Robert Hinchey was in from the ranch today and said Mrs. Meeks had the flu but was feeling better.

Mrs. Baumgartner and Mrs. Brewster were in Lincoln Tuesday giving children shots and looking over the ones who were sick.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Taylor went to Roswell yesterday—Now I hear that they have a new baby boy. Congratulations to the Taylor.

Mrs. Muggie Pfingerer is now visiting in her daughter's home in Sheridan, Oregon.

Willie Zamora and Tassie Ruth Morris are ill with flu.

Mrs. Roona Maes and mother, Mrs. Roberta Roonaer spent last week in Roswell. Jennie Lee and Mr. Maes went after them Saturday. Jennie Lee and Priscilla went back for the day, (Monday.)

Mrs. Rafaelito Fryer, our primary teacher was ill last Friday and Mrs. Fronie Ramey substituted for her.

The Lincoln Girl Scout troop, leaders and troop committee members were guests of the Fort Stanton Boy Scout troop at a Court of Honor, Saturday evening. A delicious dinner of barbecued venison, potato salad, beans, pickles, ice cream, cake and cokes was served.

The Lincoln school is very proud of a new piece of equipment, namely a reading accelerator. The students should show considerable progress in reading before the close of the year.
