News & Views From Your Nation's Capitol

By JOHN J. DEMPSEY,

Congressman from New Mexico

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Although the bitterly contested House battle over Universal Military Training held the spotlight in the Congress the past week to the exclusion of most everything else in public interest, there were other developments which are of direct effect on New Mexico and its people.

The House of Representatives passed by a vote of 162 to 10 the so-called "wetback" bill, placing tighter restrictions on illegal entry of alien braceros from Old Mexico. This was done largely as a stopgap measure until the regular immigration bill comes up later for consideration. The "wetback" bill which now goes to conference to adjust the differences between the Senate and House versions, paves the way immediately for a new treaty between the United States and Mexico on importation of seasonal Mexican labor for farms and ranches in this country. Had action been delayed further it would have been too late to have any beneficial effects on the labor supply this year.

The Senate version of the bill was amended in the House to remove the objectionable provision for "administrative search warrants" in the hunt for aliens who enter illegally. The House believed such warrants would violate the constitutional rights of American employers and amended the bill so that such search warrants must be issued by the courts as they always have been.

Efforts of the executive branch of the government to cut back sharply federal aid to the states for highway construction are finding strong opposition in hearings before the House Public Works Committee on highway bills, one of which I introduced as a companion measure to one introduced in the Senate by Senator Chavez. In fighting this move I have pointed out to the committee that of $1,750,000,000 paid in gasoline and other special excise taxes that are supposed to be earmarked for the highway program, only $500,000,000 was returned to the states last year. Yet the death toll on our highways is growing to the point where the more than 30,000 deaths in 1951 exceeded fatalities in the Korean war.

The gasoline excise tax has been increased one-half cent this year by the federal government and the total yield of special taxes supposedly for road building and maintenance to make our highways safer will be in excess of two billions of dollars. Yet the executive branch seeks to divert even more of those funds from a program that would make our roads safer and more efficient in their contribution to the defense production program. At the same time conferences are being held in Washington and in most of the states seeking to find ways for improved highway safety.

Out of those conferences has come the decision that one vital factor in bringing about greater highway safety will be elimination of dangerous curves and narrow bridges on primary interstate highways. The pending legislation makes provision for that, but a cut in the funds authorized would kill that safety move—and undoubtedly many American motorists as well. There are scores of places in government where real economy can be effected without crippling our emergency defense effort, but the federal aid highway program is not one of them. We must keep our highways in such shape that they can withstand the terrific impact of the vastly increased traffic load imposed upon them. Diversion of funds from them is not good business or economy.

The Boy Scouts of America have $32,650,000 invested in its camps for the boys of the nation.

Dan Storm Announces For State Senator

Dan Storm, Glencoe, has announced his candidacy for the office of state senator from Lincoln County on the Democratic ticket. Born in Valdez, Alaska, Oct. 27, 1909, he was christened Daniel Agnew Storm. He has, subsequently, resided in Oregon, California, Texas, New Mexico and Old Mexico. At intervals over the past 28 years, Storm has lived in this county at the Five-S ranch which is named for the five Storm brothers, John, Dan, Mark, Lynn and the late Joe Storm who was killed in Germany during World War II.

The candidate attended the University of Texas where he received a degree in journalism. While a student at the university, he took up the study of the Spanish language which he can read, write and speak.

During World War II, Storm served 33 months overseas with the U. S. Army in Australia, New Guinea and the Philippine Islands. The candidate, who is widely known in Lincoln County, states he has at heart the welfare of every man, woman and child in the county.

Storm is a lay reader and warden at Saint Anne's Episcopal Chapel, Glencoe. For the past three years he has appeared in the annual historical pageant, "A Day in Old Lincoln," which is held in Lincoln.

Agricultural, Industrial Development Major Issue in Frazier Platform

A workable plan to place the industrial and agricultural development of the state on par with the efforts to develop the tourist business will be a major phase of Lake Frazier's bid for the Democratic nomination for governor.

In addition, the Roswell mayor will advocate establishment of an industrial development agency to oversee efforts to increase industrial activities in New Mexico.

The activities of this agency would become a major function under the Economic Development Commission, Frazier said, and will assist the commission by placing the entire matter of state industrial development on an active, continuing and effective basis. He will ask for adequate funds to support this effort.

"The tourist bureau has done a highly significant job in the development of New Mexico," Frazier said. "And now we need to do equally as good a job in the development of our industrial activity."

He explained that the industrial development agency would work in closest harmony with business, commercial and civic groups in the various communities of the state and primarily would attempt to bring industry of the type New Mexico can support into the state.

Frazier's platform will also include a merit system equitable for both employer and employee, construction of needed facilities at state institutions, and expansion of the present highway system to meet rapidly expanding needs and combat the mounting death toll created by the great increase in truck and passenger car travel.

James P. Morris Returns From Far East Duty

James P. Morris, commissaryman, third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morris of Carrizozo and husband of Mrs. James P. Morris of El Paso, is "home" from the Far East.

After serving eight months in the combat area, crew members of the destroyer USS De Haven arrived in San Diego Feb. 17.

Operating with Destroyer Division 91, the De Haven was assigned to "decoy" duty during the Inchon invasion of September, 1950, and for her actions, has been awarded the Navy Unit Citation.

As a "decoy" the destroyer was sent alone inshore to draw fire from Communist shore batteries. Once the shore guns were located, heavier ships laying outside the harbor proceeded to silence them.

Cube Feeding Topic Of Feeder's Day Meet

By AUSTIN ALBERT

Cube feeding took the spotlight during the 13th annual Feeder's Day at New Mexico A. & M. College Feb. 25. The program included a report on research in cube feeding, a demonstration on how the self-fed cubes affect lamb carcasses, and a discussion of cubing feed from the manufacturer's viewpoint.

The demonstration of lamb carcasses was given in the meat cutting laboratory of the college's new Agricultural Science Building by J. D. Mankin, assistant professor of animal husbandry, and A. K. Mackey, vice president of the National Stockyard Company of Oklahoma City.

P. E. Neale, animal husbandman with the experiment station, reported results from his tests with the feeding cubes to lambs and wethers.

A panel made up of members of the New Mexico Feed Dealers Association discussed some of the aspects of cubing feed for cattle and lambs from the manufacturer's viewpoint. On the panel were Charles Boering, Roswell; M. D. Bostick, Las Cruces; Austin Brooks, Clovis; E. W. Mitchell, Roswell; W. J. Ochterbeck, Albuquerque, and Clarence Worley of Portales.

Other items on the program were a report on current cattle feeding tests at the station by J. H. Knox; a discussion of efficiency of gain in cattle by Ralph Durham, assistant animal husbandman; and a report on tests with fertilizers and cultural practices in irrigated pastures by M. L. Wilson, assistant agronomist.

Fred W. Heep, of the National Livestock Commission Company, Oklahoma City, previewed the market outlook for cattle and lambs.

Visitors inspected the experimentally fed animals in the college corral, and a chuck wagon lunch was served on the campus.

Bake Sale Successful

The bake sale held by the Carrizozo Boy Scout Troop No. 53 was a most successful one, according to its leader, Spence Devitt, who stated the troop netted about $75. The proceeds will be applied toward the purchase of uniforms and equipment.

All baked goods in the sale were made and donated by the Scouts' mothers who also assisted as salesladies. Troop 53 expressed its appreciation for the cooperation of residents of the community in making the project a successful one.

The coveted Eagle Scout rank in the Boy Scouts of America is earned by nearly 10,000 boys each year.

Clyde Atwood Enters Race For Sheriff

Clyde Atwood, Carrizozo, deputy sheriff of Lincoln County, said this week he will be a candidate for the office of sheriff on the Democratic ticket. S. M. Ortiz, Carrizozo, the present sheriff, is serving his second consecutive term and cannot run again until a two-year period has elapsed.
Atwood, a World War II veteran, was born June 10, 1920, at Dighton, Mass., where he graduated from high school and studied one year at vocational school.
Following his graduation, he worked for several firms in Dighton and Taunton, Mass., prior to enlistment in the Army Air Force in January, 1942.

Pre-Historic Sandals Found Near Capitan

Fashion stylists, who have copied every conceivable design of footwear going back to the dark ages, have overlooked an unusual style developed right here in New Mexico, according to an article in the March issue of New Mexico Magazine.
While stylists have copied the sandals of the early Greeks and Egyptians, there is a New Mexico style where the sandals fitted only the front half of the foot. This unusual style of footwear has been discovered by student anthropologists of Dr. Paul Reiter's class at the University of New Mexico.
Writing under the title, "The Tip-Toe Indians," Reeve Spencer Kelley of Albuquerque tells about the discovery of the prehistoric sandals in a cave six miles east of Capitan in Lincoln County. The sandals were dated as having been used at least 1,200 years ago.
The Indians were Basket Makers, and in excavating the cave looking for fossils, the class came upon the remains of the Basket Maker period. In all 38 complete sandals and 25 fragments were found. They were woven of yucca.
The anthropologists believe the "Tip-Toe" Indians did not weave heels in the sandals because they walked high on the balls of their feet and the sandals were "running sandals" and were worn while on hunts and "urgent Indian business."

NOGAL MESA
By DOROTHY GUCK

March marched right in with a furious blast of cold wind and snow to prove once again she is the unpredictable month. She may bring us sleet, hurricanes freezing, slush, sunburn and flu but I don't believe that proves her any different than other winter months.

The Western Farm Life issue for Feb. 15 had a lead article "Mesquite," by J. J. Norris. In two of the pictures that accompanied the article there was a group of men with no identification tags. A person might mistake some of the men, but there was no doubting the altitude of one fellow. It had to belong to Peg Pfingsten. The Sunday March 2, El Paso Times carried one of the same pictures, this time with names.

Forest Service movies are being shown to schools and clubs this week in several Lincoln County communities, under the direction of Rangers Wild and Guck.

Gill Peters was kept down a few days with the flu, but is again seeing to the affairs of Nogal Lake and feeding his cattle.

We have rumors of losing one of our Mesa neighbors, and heavens knows we can't afford to lose any even though they be temporary. For several years students of Texas Tech in Lubbock summured in the dark green cabin hidden in the junipers just outside our pasture. The fellows traveled over the Mesa and other parts of the county studying geological strata. They were always friendly and courteous. We hope the rumor isn't true.

It may seem a queer time of year to be mentioning such a matter, but we've been wondering if it would be possible for Lincoln County to have its own fair next fall.

GUESTS FROM SILVER CITY

Mrs. Hope Snow Evans and daughter, Candy, of Silver City were the guests of Mrs. Snow's parents over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Evans are students at New Mexico Western College.

Junior Class To Present Unique Hollywood Show

If you're a very tall man or a very short woman, just married or been married 50 or 60 years, you have a good opportunity to win one of those classifications and receive a prize at the Hollywood Radio Party which the Carrizozo Junior high school class is presenting Thursday, March 20 at the school auditorium.

Master of ceremonies for the unique show is Carl W. Pierce, formerly associated with the late Tom Breneman on the Breakfast in Hollywood program. Pierce wanders through the audience with his microphone, chatting with people at random and conversations filled with human interest and fun are heard over the loud speaker. Before they realize it, many audience members will find themselves involved in spectacular and amusing stunts and contests which promise big laughs for both audience and victim.

A number of prizes, some beautiful and useful and some strictly for laughs, will be given. Art Linkletter of "People Are Funny," together with other Hollywood radio stars with whom Pierce has been associated, have sent personal gifts to be awarded the lucky recipients. The sterling silver Breakfast in Hollywood Washing Ring and the orchid for the oldest woman are listed among the presentation awards. Feats of magic with members of the audience participating as assistant magicians are included on the program. The astounding East Indian Needle Mystery, originated by the late Houdini, is another part of the events.

DINNER GUESTS

Mrs. Van Swearingen was hostess at a dinner Friday night for Mrs. Ailje Bumgardner, former county nurse who plans to make her future home in El Paso. Other guests included Mrs. Mae Jordan and Mrs. Carl McNeill of El Paso. The latter is Mrs. Bumgardner's twin sister.

A home garden provides much low priced food, improves the family diet, and provides recreation for the gardener.

CORONA

Walter Bryan and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bryan made a trip to Los Alamos during the weekend to see her brother, Billy Bryan, who is in the government hospital with a serious leg-bone infection. Mrs. Billy Bryan (Dores) is with her husband at Los Alamos, and their three daughters are at the H. J. Fuller ranch.

L. L. Argenbright and Jim Rogers made a business trip to Estancia Thursday of last week.

Walter Bryan accompanied Albert Mulkey to Roswell Friday to bring back a new 1932 Henry J.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Tapley of Willard were business visitors in Corona one day last week.

The Corona Woman's Club will meet Thursday, March 13, for their regular meeting. The subject of the program will be about music by Miss Leota Agee, music teacher in Corona school. Hostesses will be Mrs. W. S. May and Mrs. Pallie Dishman.

Mrs. Bill Bagley has spent the past month at Vernon, Texas, with relatives, and has been under a doctor's care at Wichita Falls. She is expected home this weekend.

The Presbyterian Women's Auxiliary met at the ranch home of Mrs. L. L. Argenbright Thursday, Feb. 28. There were 16 women present.

W. S. Dishman returned home from the Carrizozo hospital Sunday, and is improving.

A large number of Corona people were in Roswell last Friday for the regional basketball tournament. Corona Cardinals lost by six points, the score being 42-36 in favor of Portales.

John Minor and son, Dean, made a business trip to Roswell Monday.

Mrs. Cliff Henderson of Logan, N. Mex., spent last week with her aunt, Mrs. A. C. Hester, at the Hester ranch. Mr. and Mrs. Hester made a trip to Logan Sunday to take Mrs. Henderson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Proctor are the proud parents of a baby boy, born Tuesday, Feb. 26, at the Carrizozo hospital. They named the baby John Sanders. Both mother and baby are back home and doing fine.

Mrs. Don Catt, the former Miss Pauline Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Porter, is home from Alamogordo. Her husband, stationed at the air base at Alamogordo, has been sent overseas.

Members of the Corona Rifle Club are selling tickets for the ham shoot at the rifle range southwest of town. The person selling the most tickets will be awarded a .22 rifle. A 30-06 Remington will be given away also. The club has a membership of about 55 or 60, and some of the members meet every Sunday for shooting practice. Members of this club are also members of the National Rifle Association.

J. M. Cloud and G. Elliott made a business trip to Mountairn Monday of this week.

Mrs. Fannie Hodge is still in the Carrizozo hospital and is improving very slowly.

I felt flattered to see my name at the head of Nogal Mesa news a couple of weeks ago, even if it was a mistake. Dorothy Guck is a good writer, and popular, and I read everything she writes. Lewis Cain, one of our ranchers here, used to live on Nogal Mesa and knows most all the folks down there.

I hear Dorothy Guck has another story in New Mexico Magazine. It's on Bonita Dam. I'm going right down to the drug store and get a copy of the magazine.

Alamogordo Captures Basketball Title

The Alamogordo High School basketball quintet captured the basketball championship for Region Three at Silver City last weekend when they held off the final period rally of the Western High School team there to nudge it for a 40-39 victory. Captain bowed to the Silver City team Friday night in a 46-41 defeat.

Richard McAlpine of the Otero County team snagged a field goal in the last minute to clinch the game after Western had tied twice in the last quarter. McAlpine and Byron Caton shared scoring honors with 12 points each.

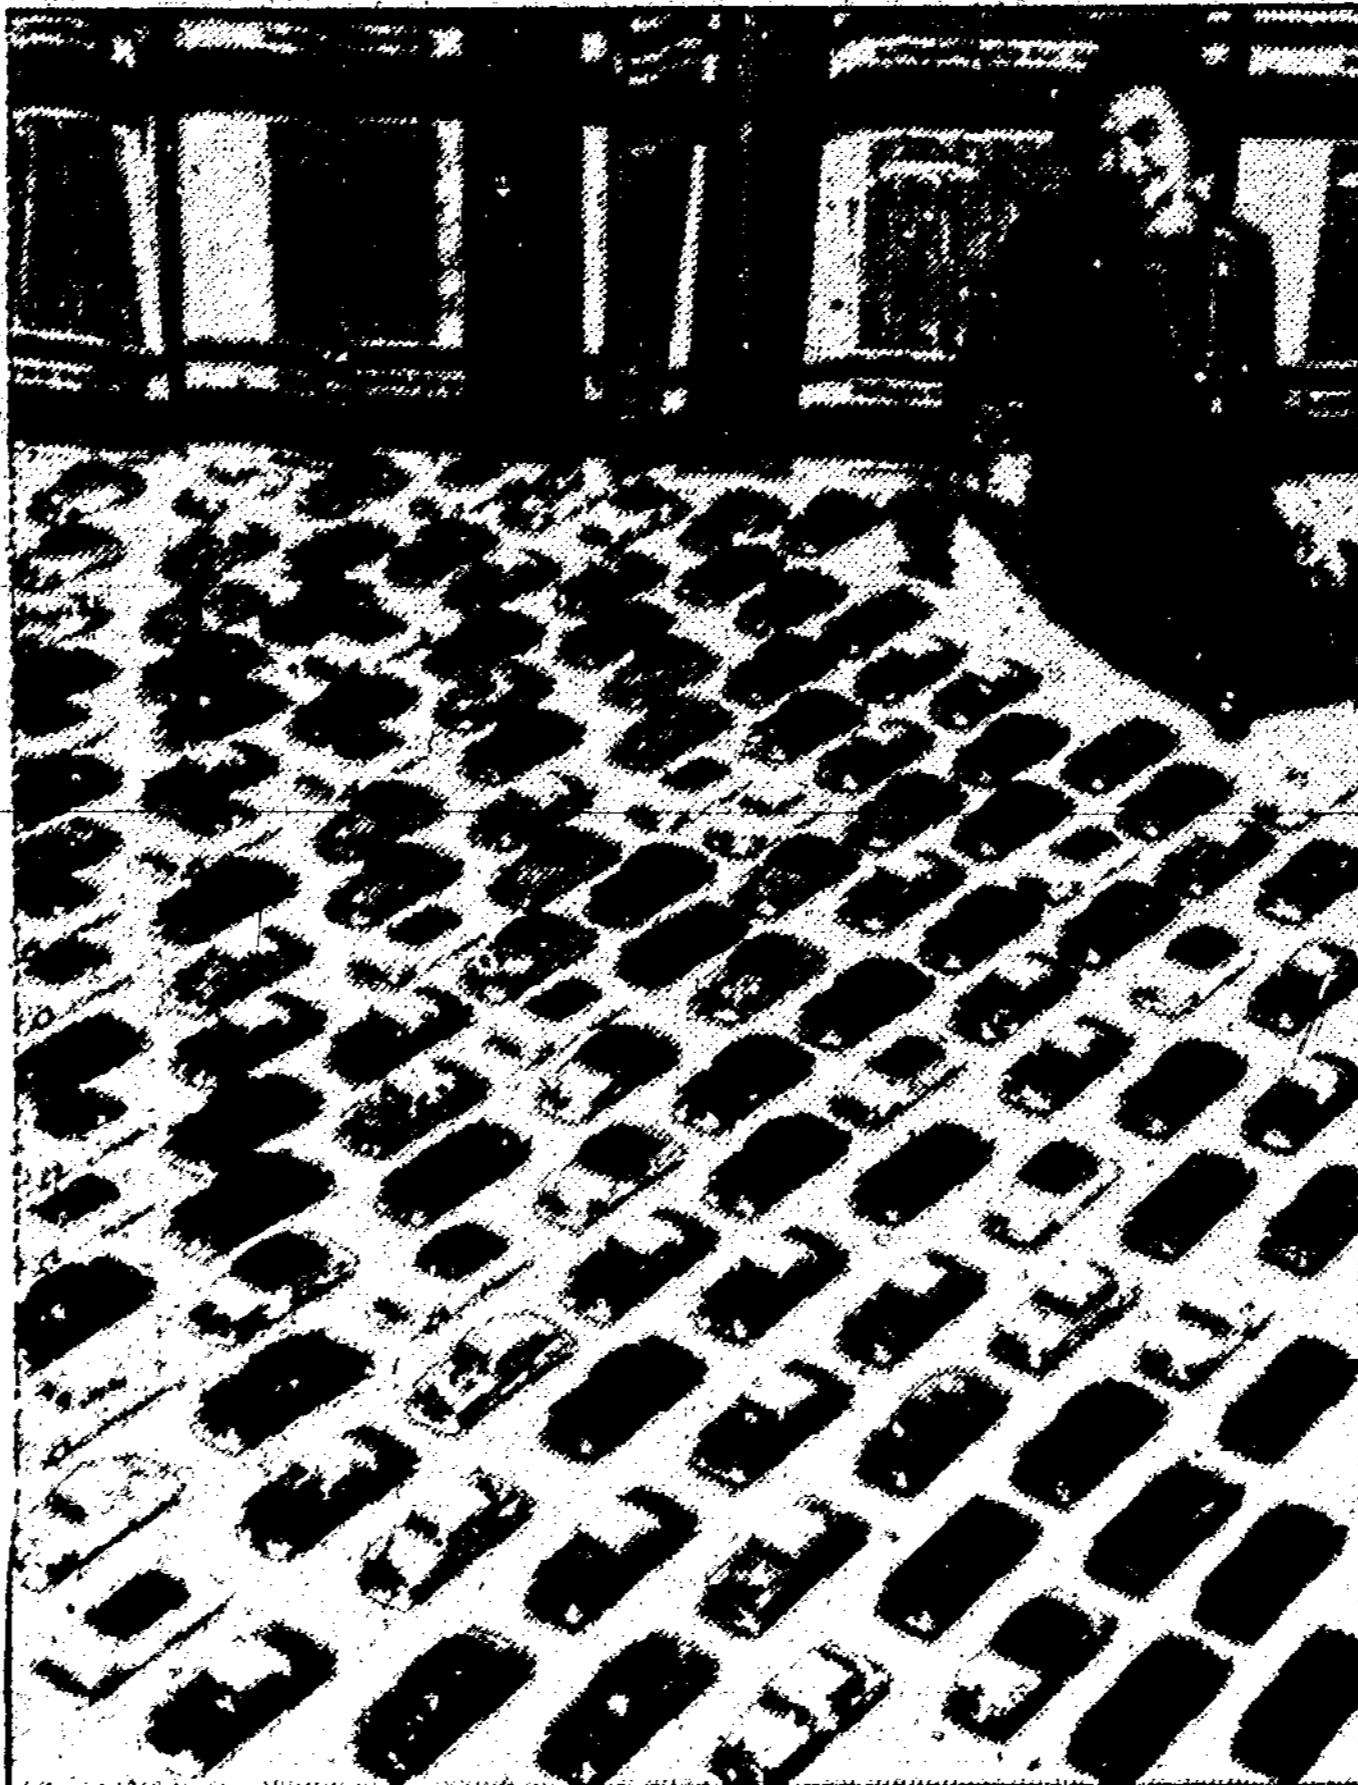

Third place in Region Three went to Las Cruces for a 46-33 win over Mountairn.

Semi-final games saw Alamogordo defeat Las Cruces 54-48, as Western High School, Silver City, led 43-36 over Mountairn.

First round matches in the championship battle ended as follows: Alamogordo 43, Belen 33; Las Cruces 54, Virden 38; Western of Silver City 46, Captain 41, and Mountairn 31, Hatch 20.

Alamogordo's winning basketball team will travel to Portales this weekend for the state tournament.

A striking array of miniature Chevrolets illustrates the 129 model-color choices available to the 1932 buyer. Brilliant new colors in solid or two-tone combinations with smartly styled interiors in harmonizing shades are features of the recently introduced line. Cattlemen To Meet In Albuquerque March 23

The 38th annual convention of the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association is expected to attract more than 3,000 livestock producers on March 23-25 in Albuquerque, according to Roy Forehand, Carlsbad, president of the organization. Presidents of six state cattlemen's associations as well as the president of the American National Cattlemen's Association are slated to take part in the program.

Forehand added the close cooperation of the state group with neighboring livestock groups, as well as the national organization, has greatly assisted in carrying out an effective program for the livestock industry of New Mexico and the Southwest. The state organization has 6,731 members which makes it the largest statewide association in the country.

The family came originally from Comanche County, Okla., but had resided in Grayson County, Texas, for a brief period prior to making the move to New Mexico. He attended schools in Lea County where his family first settled.

The Hondoite first came to Lincoln County Jan. 1, 1937, when he accepted a position as foreman of the Titworth orchards at Tinnie. He resigned shortly after the death of the late George Titworth to take a position with Count's Store at Tinnie. He left there in July, 1951, to take an active part in the Bradley Garage at Hondo owned jointly by him and his brother, Melvin.

The candidate is married and the father of three sons, Glen Jr., stationed with the U. S. Army Engineer Corps in Alaska; Douglas, Albuquerque, and Quill of Hondo.

Hondo Jr. High Team Ends Successful Season

By F. S. MONTES
The Hondo "C" team trounced the Ruidoso "C" boys 34 to 8 recently to end the regular schedule of games for the year.

Israel Chaves, Hondo forward, who scored 12 points, was the high scoring player of the evening.

During the regular season, the Hondo team defeated Carrizozo, Luke Arthur, Tularosa (twice), Ruidoso, (twice), La Luz, St. Peter's Junior High and Mesquero.

At the Alamogordo invitation tournament, Feb. 2, Hondo defeated Tularosa 15-5 in the opening game of the tournament. In the afternoon, Captain was edged 27-26 after Eskey Benavidez, Hondo guard, sank the winning free throw five seconds before the end of the game. Breathlessly, the Hondo rosters saw their team down Captain after a hard fought game. Joe Hernandez, all-tourney forward, was awarded a gold basketball as a member of the 10-boy team selected by tournament officials. Joe averaged slightly over 12 points per game during the matches. Joe and Caesar Salas were the captains of the team for the tournament.

In the championship game Hondo lost to Alamogordo, 23-17, and was awarded a beautiful runner-up trophy.

Another member of the Hondo team, Melvin Chavez, was always a great threat to opposing teams as he sank goals with apparent ease. In one game of the season, he scored 16 points, which represented all but one point of the total made by the entire Hondo team.

Paul Chavez, playing the center position, turned in a good defense record for himself. Caesar was the little guard who consistently made long shots to help build up the score for his team.

Other members of the Hondo "C" team were Roman Pacheco, Andy Rue, Lolie Montoya and Rudy Polaco. At present, the team is working in preparation for the Lincoln County tournament to be held some time in March.
