Forest Fires Can Be Prevented

This is the season when fire danger is greatest because of the activities of large numbers of campers, picnickers, fishermen and others bent on enjoying the outdoors. Many of these find their way onto the secondary roads, off beaten trails and into the more remote areas.

A smoldering campfire, left unattended, may result in a forest fire when a rising wind fans the embers. Smokers who are careless with matches and cigarettes, cigars or pipe ashes along forest roads, in dry brush are responsible for a high share of the fire problem.

Every year in the U. S., more than 40,000 forest fires result from carelessness with matches and smoking. Break matches in half before throwing them aside and be sure campfires, cigarettes, cigars and pipe tobacco are "dead out" before leaving them.

Ninety-seven per cent of all fires are the result of carelessness and can be prevented.

Annual Ram Sale To Feature New Project

A special feature of the 1952 ram sale at the fairgrounds, Albuquerque, August 13-15, will be an exhibition of 100-odd rams from top flight herds in New Mexico, Colorado and Utah, according to Bill Snyder, extension wool and ram-marketing specialist at New Mexico A. & M. College. The rams are now under the New Mexico Extension Service's ram-marketing project, which compares equally selected rams under feedlot and range conditions. The rams were all shorn on Oct. 1, 1951, and since then half of them have been under full feed at New Mexico A. & M. College, and the other half have been maintained on dry-grass range conditions at ranches in central New Mexico. Rams of Rambouillet, Corriedale, Columbia, Debouillet, Merino X-bred, and Rambouillet "Comback" breed lines were originally selected in groups of 10 each.

About 600 head of registered and purebred rams will be sold at the sale, 100 more than the number sold at each of the 1950 and 1951 sales.

Consignment for the general sale so far include Rambouillets, Debouillets, Columbias, Corriedales, Suffolks and fine-wool cross breeds.

In 1951, the value of meat consumed per person averaged $70.25—about 5.6 per cent of the disposable income. In the depression years—1932 and 1933—about 5.8 per cent of the average disposable income was spent for meat.

LETTER TO MY CONGRESSMAN

Dear Congressman:

An Associated Press dispatch in my newspaper reports that the House of Representatives has "voted tax relief to all members of Congress." As one of your constituents, I am perfectly willing to approve your action if you will vote exactly the same tax relief to all of us backhome. Otherwise you and your colleagues in Congress are being unfair; you are getting yourselves up as a "vested interest," voting yourselves special tax exemptions not applicable to other citizens.

Such action is not only unfair; it is dangerous. It sets you apart from the people you represent. By escaping taxes that you have voted to levy on "the people," you escape the financial problems that are a constantly expanding part of our lives as government grows bigger and bigger. You lose the common touch. You cease to be a true representative of the people. You shrink, carrying your part, a citizens' part of the tax load. Thus, to you, taxes lose their true nature, their paralyzing effect, their inherent danger.

"Unrecorded" Vote
The AP dispatch says that by an "unrecorded" vote the House has voted its members and the members of the Senate permission to deduct all "living expenses" incurred in Washington when you make out your income tax return. "Unrecorded" means that no congressman stood up to be counted publicly for or against the "Tax-Relief-for-Congressmen-Only" measure—doesn't it?

Nearly all representatives and senators live in Washington year-round, only periodically visiting the district which they represent. Therefore this special exemption you're voting yourselves means in effect that most of the expenditures in the congressman's family budget can be deducted. In fact, the AP dispatch says that the income tax people in Washington interpret the term "living expenses" in the "Tax-Relief-for-Congressmen-Only" measure to mean food, housing, transportation and come of all the people and companies west of the Mississippi River. If you think this isn't hurting us, in spite of the allegedly painless tax extraction methods of payroll deduction and indirect taxation on consumer goods, you need to come home and look the taxpayers squarely in the pocketbook and bank account.

What About Us?
Yes, Mr. Congressman, it is high time to do something about tax relief. But with your "Tax-Relief-for-Congressmen-Only" measure, you're not shooting square. Nor are you facing up honorably to a bad situation. Your trouble is that federal taxes are too heavy. You're admitting that. You're fixing things so these crippling taxes won't cripple you. But we citizens are in trouble too. What about us?

This letter is being mailed to my senators too. They are hereby asked to reject the "Tax-Relief-for-Congressmen-Only" proposition. Together the House and the Senate can cut your taxes and our too by drastically cutting down the size of the federal government and by exposing and kicking out the grafters and the big spenders. All the people I know will back you to the hilt in this.

P.S. The time has come for sincere, honest Americans to stand up and be counted on all votes. I am writing out of deep concern for my country's future.

Some other county is trying to leave us in the dust this afternoon (Monday) and doing a pretty thorough job of it. Can't decide whether to blame it on the rainmakers or the Democrats.

A farewell party including a picnic supper was given for Rev. and Mrs. McClain at Angus last week. Rev. McClain has been pastor of the Capitán Nazarene Church and is moving to another parish. A lovely bedspread was presented the couple and a box of candy given their children.

Mrs. Mag Plingsten returned to the Mesa from El Paso to visit awhile with Ben and Texas Bob. She will return to her home in Tucumcari this week.

Dan Jones moved the rest of his cattle onto the forest.

Floy Skinner and Sam Cox branded cattle Saturday and sprayed for flies.

The Howards drove by Sunday on their way to visit the Bill Holmes.

Arlis Richardson was the guest of his daughter and son, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones, celebrating his birthday and Father's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. George Perry of Glentoe visited the Peg Plingstons.

Roy Moigan and his crew, D. Polindexter and Dub Cooper, were camped on the Mesa last week completing the maintenance work on forest roads on the White Mountain District. They are leaving our roads in fine condition until the rains spoil the job. Two bridges were built by the crew this spring, one in Carrizozo and one at Baca. The blade, the trailer and the men are headed for maintenance work on the roads of the Capitán district.

Roy LaMay and Earnest Purcell are working with crew on S. P. lands above Bonito Dam.

Ninety-seven per cent of all fires are the result of carelessness and can be prevented.

A special feature of the 1952 ram sale at the fairgrounds, Albuquerque, August 13-15, will be an exhibition of 100-odd rams from top flight herds in New Mexico, Colorado and Utah, according to Bill Snyder, extension wool and ram marketing specialist at New Mexico A. & M. Rams of Ram bouillet, Corriedale, Columbia, De bouillet, Merino X-bred, and Ram bouillet "Comeback" breed lines were originally selected in groups of 10 each.

About 600 head of registered and purebred rams will be sold at the sale, 100 more than the number sold at each of the 1950 and 1951 sales.

HONDO VALLEY

By ELMA F. ROGERS
We had five carloads of girls from Girls Town at White Face, Texas, stop at the store last week on their way to Ruidoso to spend their vacation. They were from 15 months to 17 years old. The school, founded by Mrs. Amelia Anthony three years ago, is just for girls from broken homes. They are a nice group of youngsters. There are 50 girls at the home which is self supporting and we think it is wonderful.

George Butts and Bill Rogers were El Paso visitors last week on business and pleasure. Came very near losing George down across the line when he saw all the pretty señoritas. Opal said she wished he had stayed but if he had she would have been down there too.

Juan and Ruby Pacheco left for their home in Wilmington, Calif. recently after a week's visit with Ruby's parents, the Frank Trujillos, and their many friends here in the valley.

Leo Joiner is up at the county seat working with the state highway survey gang.

Frank Titworth took his brother's two children to El Paso to board a plane for home (North Carolina). Marge went with them. Freddie said he couldn't get away as he had to run the garage.

We see they are hauling material in for the new apple shed at Hondo and they expect to get started on it this week so they can finish before the apple machinery starts arriving.

The valley had a good turnout for the Old Timers Day at Lincoln and everyone reported a good time if they did get a little wet as they had a real nice shower just before noon. The floor of the day, Wilbur Coe, did a good job as head speaker. He allowed no speeches by anyone but gave everyone a chance to say howdy. Well done, Wilbur. We might hire you again next year.

Albert Kimbrell is still up at Carrizozo in the sheriff's office. Guess he will be there for the summer. James is working at a filling station there during the vacation season.

We have had two bad wrecks lately. A truck load of meat turned over and burned last week on Border Hill and this week another big truck turned over on Picocho Hill and the driver was killed when the truck ran over him after he jumped off.

Statewide Crafts Show To Be Held In Las Vegas
The Statewide Crafts Show is scheduled to start July 13 in Las Vegas. Sponsored by the Las Vegas Fine Arts Committee, exhibitors will include craftsmen from all parts of the state who work in the field of metalcraft, jewelry, ceramics, lapidary, leathercraft, weaving and wood carving. Any New Mexico craftsman may enter the show and entry blanks are available at all Chambers of Commerce offices throughout New Mexico.

The third annual crafts show will be held in the gallery of arts and crafts, Highlands University, Las Vegas, continues through August 3, to permit visitors at the cowboys' reunion an opportunity to view the exhibits.

Additional information may be secured from the Fine Arts Committee, 235 Moreno, Las Vegas.

FISH AND GAME NOTES

State Game Warden Elliott S. Barker lashed out today at the opposition to House Resolution 565, now before Congress, and termed some of the arguments against the measure "pure, unadulterated poppycock."

The bill, now being aired before the House Agriculture Committee, calls for 10 per cent of the national forest incomes to be earmarked for "development, maintenance and operation of national forest recreational facilities and areas, including wildlife habitat."

One of the chief opponents to the bill during the committee's hearings was Forrest E. Cooper, counsel for the Public Lands Committee of the Association of Oregon Counties and, sometimes counsel for the National Livestock Associations. Cooper contended his clients were "scared to death" that the bill, should it become law, would lead to greater acquisition of lands by the federal government.

"Cooper knows very well that no land acquisition could be made under the specific provisions of the bill," Barker said. "This measure would merely provide funds, and badly needed funds, for the maintenance of existing and development of additional recreational facilities within the boundaries of the national forests. These forests are the public's greatest playgrounds and the public is entitled to have the areas and facilities properly maintained for its use."

"Most of these recreational facilities," Barker added, "were built during the CCC days in the thirties and are in a sad state of disrepair due to the lack of necessary funds. This bill which has received the support of public and professional groups everywhere, provides a fair, equitable and sound method of raising the funds necessary to do the job."

"From where I stand, it seems that opposition to H. R. 565 means opposition to any public recreational rights to the national forests. The millions of annual visitors to our national forests deserve the benefits this measure would provide. I hope they make themselves heard above the rantings of Forrest Cooper and any others who would subscribe to this public-damned policy."

Through the cooperation of the Sporting Arms and Ammunition Manufacturer's Institute, the Department of Game and Fish is pleased to announce the addition of a new film to its library.

Entitled, "Shooting Safely," the sound color picture promotes safe and sane handling of firearms and is especially directed at younger people. It depicts the organization of a youth shooting club in a small town and graphically illustrates the do's and don'ts of proper gunmanship.

In keeping with department policy, the film is available free of charge to civic, church and educational groups throughout the state. Borrowers are requested to reserve the film at least two weeks in advance of screening date in order that they will get the film they ask for.

I Saw The First Flying Saucer

By MRS. A. E. MULKEY
It was this summer of 1926, just 23 years ago. I was a girl of 16 chopping Johnson grass out of cotton 1 1/2 miles north of Blackwell, Texas. It was about four or five o'clock in the afternoon, as I rested leaning on my hoe handle, I saw toward the southeast a silver, round airship come sailing without a sound out of the sky. Nearer and nearer it came, and landed silently in the field near me. It was like a saucer on the bottom, and about 30 or 40 feet across in diameter.

The outer edge was narrow and reached about as high as my waist. I walked over looking at it, and easily climbed up on it. In the center was a low, round, glass enclosed room. I could see no one. Suddenly I felt the ship moving.

Before I had time to turn around and get off it was high in the air, and going higher in a northwesterly direction. I was riding on a flying saucer!

I was not in the least afraid. Why, I don't know, I awoke suddenly and realized I had been dreaming.

ON THE JOB

By WALTER E. TAYLOR
N. M. State Employment Service

HOW TO APPLY: Employment offices in New Mexico and throughout the United States are reaping the annual spring and summer harvest of graduates as new job-seekers pour forth from high schools and colleges. To help some of these youngsters orient themselves to the labor market, employment service counselors have received the following tips from Marie W. Brennan, director of placement and training for the Dictaphone Corporation, who has interviewed thousands of applicants and places over 1,800 girls and women each year with her company. From her wealth of experience, first-job seekers may find some helpful hints to assist girls just entering the job world to make that right start.

"Good grooming and a positive but modest attitude go together in creating a favorable impression," Miss Brennan insists. "The positive attitude reflects self-confidence, poise, respect for oneself and other human beings, and assurance that if given the job the applicant can fill the role successfully," she adds. And, that is certainly not confined to the female job seeker.

She lists bad grooming as the greatest pitfall to the young job hunter. As an aid she suggests this 10-point "grooming guide" for the girl going after a job:

1. Make-up: Use it, but don't over-use it. Try to achieve a natural effect.

2. Hair: If too curly, tame it. If too straight, put a wave in it.

3. Hat: A trim, but smart, hat is a "must." Save the kerchief for another day.

4. Dress or suit: Either, but be conservative. Choose simple, uncluttered lines.

5. Heels: High, medium or low, but be sure they are straight.

6. Nail polish: Be sure it is unchipped, or don't wear it.

7. Gloves: Fine, but be sure they are spotlessly clean.

8. Stockings: Wear them, no matter how hot it is, and be sure the seams are straight.

9. Jewelry: Leave it at home.

10. Perfume: Go easy with it, very easy. Light colognes and toilet waters are best.

Basically, says Miss Brennan, the proper approach to a job, whether it be the first job or the 100th, is "good manners and plain common sense."

OSS Announces Change In Petition Forms

The Denver regional Office of Salary Stabilization announced that after June 15, 1952, all petitions submitted to the office must be filed on Form OSS No. 300.

Robert M. Dergance, regional director, said "although this is a requirement under Procedural Regulation No. 1, issued on March 6, a substantial number of employers have not used this form in filing their applications."

"It is time consuming and costly," he added, "both to the employer and the government when an application is filed without regard to the information required under Form OSS No. 300. Many times facts are lacking. Supplemental correspondence is necessary to obtain information that should have been set forth originally in the application."

This delays the completion of cases.

Form OSS No. 300 consists of two parts. Part I is a transmittal form which provides general information regarding the name and address of the employer, the number of employees on his payroll under the jurisdiction of the Salary Stabilization Board, etc. It also carries an identification sheet upon which the employer must check the type of salary adjustment for which approval is requested.

Part II is the narrative part of the application. Complete instructions regarding the type of information required are set forth in instruction sheets of Part I.

News & Views From Your Nation's Capitol

By JOHN J. DEMPSEY, Congressman from New Mexico. WASHINGTON—Congressmen stuck one large-sized pin in the inflationary balloon when the House of Representatives accepted the conference report on the Mutual Security bill. By a two-to-one vote the House agreed to a compromise measure which trims $1,452,000,000 from the 7.9 billion requested for foreign aid programs. This reduction of about 20 per cent is almost $275,000,000 less than the amount the House originally cut from the bill.

The American people can accept this action as a heartening sign that the so-called economy bloc in Congress has grown to such proportions that the continuing spiral of expenditures and taxation finally is near an end. In fact, any further tax increases are definitely out. We have become, as my prediction of last January stated, a "get tough" Congress and all indications are that this attitude will continue.

This appears to be a sincere effort by many members of the Congress to put the nation's economy on an even keel as rapidly as possible. This cut in foreign aid funds proves that we have reached the conclusion that we have been spending too much on others in an effort to preserve their economic balance, while permitting our own economy to decline to a dangerous point of unbalance.

It is the carefully considered judgment of many of us in the Congress that the cut made in the mutual security program will in no way be a threat to the defense effort of our nation. Ample money has been authorized for the program if it is administered efficiently and economically.

Fewer Controls Ahead. Elimination or limitation of many controls set up under the Defense Production Act now appears to be virtually assured. There does not seem to be any likelihood, however, of the termination of all controls for at least another year. The Senate has approved end of rent controls on Feb. 23, 1953. What further action will be taken before the legislation is passed is still undecided.

It is the generally accepted belief that controls should be eliminated wherever possible and that total decontrol should be achieved without due delay. For one, look forward eagerly to that

CALL FOR THE 1953 DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION TO ALL DEMOCRATIC PRECINCT CHAIRMEN OF LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO:

In compliance with the rules and regulations for the organization and government of the Democratic Party of Lincoln County and the State of New Mexico, a call is hereby issued for the Democratic County Convention to be held at the American Legion Hall, in Captain, New Mexico, on the 21st day of June, 1953, at the hour of 8 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of selecting delegates from Lincoln County to attend the Democratic State Convention to be held in Albuquerque on the 26th of June, 1953; said Albuquerque convention is for the purpose of selecting delegates to the National Convention to be held in Chicago on the 21st of July, 1953, to promulgate and adopt a platform, and to elect a National Committeeman and a National Committeewoman.

The basis for the distribution of delegates from each precinct shall be on the basis of one (1) delegate for each ten (10) votes or major fraction thereof cast for the Democratic candidate for governor in said precinct at the last general election. Said distribution shall be as follows:

No. 1, Lincoln, 9; No. 2, Honda, 5; No. 3, Arabela, 2; No. 4, Pico, 4; No. 5, Encinosa, 1; No. 6, White Oaks, 1; No. 7, Capitán, 12; No. 10, Ruidoso, 9; No. 11, Nogal, 3; No. 12, Bonito, 2; No. 13, Corona, 10; No. 14, Carrizozo, 27; No. 16, Ancho, 4; No. 18, Lon, 1; No. 19, White Mountain, 30; No. 21, San Patricio, 4.

Each precinct chairman shall, as provided by the rules, issue a call for a precinct meeting which shall be held for the purpose of electing delegates to said county convention and for the further purpose of electing a precinct chairman and vice chairman in each precinct throughout the county. Each chairman and vice chairman in the precincts to be ex-officio members of the County Central Committee, as provided in the rules.

Dated at Pico, New Mexico, this 20th day of May, 1952. ROMAN C. NUÑEZ, Chairman, Democratic County Central Committee.

Attest: Edith Sheehan, Secretary. M 30 J 16-13-20

day because there is no doubt in my mind but what far too many of the controls exercised in the past have had a serious impact on our economy and have not been effective in checking the inflationary trend. The more we tamper with the normal economic processes, the greater the dislocation, except in times of such an emergency as all-out war.

Aid For Korean Veterans. Veterans of the so-called police action in Korea—which looks like real war to many of us—are extended the same rehabilitation and educational benefits as other veterans under the terms of the Bill of Rights legislation just passed by the Congress. This will permit those men and women who complete their service to make immediate plans for the future. For the many thousands who already have been discharged, it means an end to the months of waiting for proper recognition of their service to their country. For those who are being discharged each month from now on, it provides immediate benefits.

The new legislation eliminates much of the red tape for veterans that has been experienced under the original GI Bill of Rights law. It also provides for direct payment to the veterans of educational aid funds, which will serve, it is believed, to eliminate the activities of promoters of fly-by-night schools and protect legitimate educational institutions as well as the veterans themselves.

Flood Flood Protection. Albuquerque's recent experience with disastrous flash floods due to heavy rains in the adjacent mountain areas has again emphasized the need for completion of the flood control in the Rio Grande Basin, including proper check dams to hold back the heavy flow down the arroyos into the city.

Your County Business

The Lincoln County Board of Commissioners, at a meeting on June 16, approved a proposed purchase of steel corrugated pipe for $2,062.60 from the Armo Drainage and Metals Products Co., El Paso, to be used on county road work throughout the area. The clerk said he would call the state comptroller for authority to act in the matter and later reported to the commissioners that it was subject to confirmation but that such confirmation was expected shortly after the first of July. The price quoted by the El Paso firm included $55 freight. The order calls for 20 16-gauge 24-inch 14-foot steel corrugated pipe at $303.60, and 20 since the passage of the Flood Control Act of 1941, which authorized the Army Corps of Engineers to make surveys of the flood control requirements on the Rio Grande and its tributaries, I have urged that this system of check dams be made a part of any over-all plan. Control of the water at its source is the first essential step in any sound flood prevention program.

Members of the New Mexico congressional delegation have been unanimous in their action in urging protection for Albuquerque and all other cities and communities in the Rio Grande watershed against these damaging flash floods. The recent request by the President for inclusion of $1,000,000 in supplemental appropriations for the Rio Grande Flood Control program of the Army Corps of Engineers indicates that the urgency of the need for this protection is already recognized.

My colleague, Mr. Fernandez, and I have an appointment to meet the President and will present him with photographs and other evidence of the disastrous results of the Albuquerque flood.

14-gauge 30-inch, 14-foot steel corrugated pipe at $1204.

The commissioners are also considering acquiring a concrete mixer on a lease purchase agreement at a cost of $566 I.O.B. Albuquerque. In conjunction with that purchase, they are also considering one for a bulldozer attachment at a cost of between $250 and $300. The clerk, in answer to a question, said that no bids had been asked since they were not necessary under a lease-purchase agreement. When asked if there was any other company in the area from which to seek a similar agreement, he replied that he didn't know because he had not checked. Further discussion revealed there may be a used concrete mixer available in Roswell, but no information was available on the price or condition. It was indicated that if the mixer was available and a good buy at $200 to $300 it would be satisfactory to make the purchase, but in that case it would be necessary to seek informal prices from at least two other sources. The clerk expressed the opinion three might be about $15,000 available for the fund out of which the proposed machinery and pipe would be purchased.

Lincoln County has $11,838.65 for maintenance of county roads, according to the records, and the county commissioners will operate one road maintenance crew consisting of three men using two auto-patrol graders for a period of approximately 12 months, beginning July 1, 1952. All maintenance and administrative costs of that road work will be taken out of this fund. Approximately 600 miles of roads are included, with the monthly cost set at about $1,000.

Tom Babers, San Patricio, has been appointed as a deputy sheriff from May 15 to July 1 at a salary of $75 per month. Frank Barjas, Ruidoso constable, resigned, effective June 6, because of pressure of personal business and asked that his name be withdrawn from the ballot in the coming election.

Albert Kimbrell is on full-time duty as deputy at $225 per month. Lupe Castillo, upon the recommendation of Granville Richardson, one of the commissioners, was appointed assistant road patrolman effective May 9 at a salary of $135 per month.

One voucher approved by the commissioners on June 16 covered a purchase charged to Sheriff S. M. Ortiz from an Albuquerque firm for $14.20 plus 27 cents postage. The same item could have been purchased in Lincoln County for $8.90.

Pest Reporting Service Established in N. M.

An insect pest reporting service has been recently established in New Mexico by the U. S. Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, according to Mike Swoboda, extension entomologist at New Mexico A&M College. Forty states are already participating in the service, which is designed to inform farmers, ranchers and representatives of agricultural industries about insect infestations and possible outbreaks, Swoboda says. County extension agents report local insect conditions to the state entomologist, who analyzes the information and forwards it to Washington, D. C., where it is incorporated in a nationwide report.

"Insect outbreaks that are promptly discovered and reported may often be controlled before damage becomes widespread," the extension entomologist explains. In the same way, newly introduced insects that are noted and reported before they become well established usually can be localized and, in many cases, wiped out entirely.

"Farmers can play their part in this important program by promptly reporting insect conditions to their county agents." Swoboda also points out that in case of war, the insect pest reporting service would prove valuable in protection against germ warfare, as many plant and animal diseases are spread only by insects.

News From The Old Court House

The interior of the Museum is sparkling with a fresh coat of white paint and really presents a very interesting aspect. The walls and woodwork have been mended and patched, the paint applied and three new show cases in the main entrance hall display the carvings of Don Burch of Tulsa, Okla.

Never before exhibited anywhere, these unique carvings have brought a great deal of praise and favorable comment from visitors to the Museum since June 8. One group of three Osage Indian dancers in full regalia, including floor length feathered war bonnets is observed by an Indian figure in modern dress and two blanketed women.

Most popular with youngsters is the rodeo group which features two horses with trick riders, a cowboy spinning a rope and several cowboys and a seated Indian looking on.

The most elaborate group is the stagecoach scene. Entirely made to scale, the coach is drawn by four horses, with complete wagon harness. Seated on the top are a driver and a guard with a rifle across his knees. Four passengers may be seen through the windows, and piled on the top and at the back are trunks, suitcases and a saddle and bridle.

Six Indian figures in tribal regalia dance across another show case. They are accompanied by three Indian drummers seated about a large drum and three Indian women in festive buckskin dress look on.

The infinity of colorful detail in these carvings must be seen to be appreciated. The detail that has intrigued most guests is that one of the spectators in the rodeo group is rolling a cigaret. Hanging from his teeth by a string is a tiny tobacco sack. Another of the rodeo spectators is an Indian, seated on a box. Carved to scale, this box is only three inches by two inches, but the corners are dovetailed and the construction is accurate to the last small detail.

Mr. Burch is a retired oil man whose hobby, for many years, was collecting Indian artifacts. His remarkable collection is now owned by the Gilcrease Foundation, in Tulsa, Okla., but his knowledge of ceremonial dress and Indian characteristics is unequalled by any other artist, and he has used that extensive knowledge in these amazingly accurate and colorful figures.

Residents of Lincoln County are particularly urged to stop at the Old Court House where the carvings will be displayed for a very limited time.

Mrs. Horton

According to the testimony regarding that investigation, the Hortons had gone to a dance at a nearby community the night before and that the deceased had started drinking heavily. His wife was reported as having gone outside to their pickup truck, where she slept as she waited for him to leave the dance. Eventually, she drove to their home, where she finally succeeded in getting him into the house. She made some coffee but he refused to drink any and ordered her to feed his chickens and rabbits. She told him they had enough feed and asked him to sleep awhile.

Testimony indicated Horton again commenced to argue and called his wife some bad names and attempted to choke her. She said she pushed him away with her feet and ran to a closet to get her gun. Tafuya's investigation indicated she had shot at her husband to miss him as he started toward her and then shot again to scare him as he came on. She retreated to the kitchen, but he followed her and she fired a total of seven shots at him. The deceased's blood-drenched clothing was introduced in evidence. Kimbrell testified that Mrs. Horton was sober when he talked with her following the slaying.

Dr. J. E. Robinson testified concerning medical technicalities and his belief concerning which bullet had caused death.

Other witnesses included Sheriff S. M. Ortiz, State Patrolman Carlos Salas, Byron Breton and J. C. Jones, a deputy sheriff at Roswell, related two incidents in that city where Horton had been arrested on a disturbance charge. Jones stated that in one incident which occurred on a Roswell street he had heard a woman screaming and observed Horton pulling his wife by the hair of her head. The testimony of practically all of the witnesses hinged upon the alleged drinking of the deceased and the physical abuse to which he was reported to have subjected his wife.

Mrs. Frank Trujillo, Mrs. Mabel Gonzales and Mrs. Virginia Guest also testified. During Ortiz' testimony, it was revealed that he had asked her to take a lie detector test. G. T. Watts, defense attorney, asked for a demonstration using the sheriff as the subject, but Ortiz told him a satisfactory test could not be made with more than three people in the room. He added that he and Salas had been present when Mrs. Horton took the test, but did not indicate what it had revealed. The general working of the machine which was put on display, was explained to the jury. Exhibits in connection with the case included a radio and vanity bench, in which bullets were reported found, but the pistol alleged to have been used by Mrs. Horton, several bullets, drawings and pictures taken at the scene.

The state's prosecution claimed Mrs. Horton had bought the gun for the purpose of killing her husband, but the defendant's attorney pointed out that Mrs. Gonzales had testified the couple had tried to sell it to her last February, prior to the slaying.

Mrs. Guest and Breton both testified to the argument that had taken place between the couple on Oct. 16 and witnessing the physical abuse to which Mrs. Horton had been subjected.
