Well Known Couple Wed In Ruidoso

A wedding of wide interest in Lincoln County and nearby area was the ceremony of quiet detail on July 19 which united Miss Nettie R. McInnes, Roswell, and Earl Harcrow, Captain and Carrizozo. The couple repeated their vows before Rev. William Holmes at the Presbyterian parsonage in Ruidoso at the 4 o'clock nuptial service on Saturday afternoon. Only members of the immediate families attended the double ring ceremony.

The bride selected a light gray wool suit with fitted jacket and pencil slim skirt. The broad revers were edged in gunmetal gray with inset designs of the same shade. Small covered buttons of the dark gray shade outlined in light gray which fastened the jacket formed an accent note. With the suit, Mrs. Harcrow wore a white blouse with rounded neckline and yoke insert of lace. A tiny white hat and other white accessories completed her ensemble. Her orchid corsage with satin ribbon decor was fastened to the lapel of her jacket.

Mrs. Win McInnes, Roswell, mother of the bride and her mother-in-law, wore a tailored blue and white print silk dress with white accessories. Her corsage was white carnations. Best man was Alvin Harcrow, Roswell, father of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Harcrow attended Captain Union High School and Roswell High School and is a graduate of the latter school.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Captain Union High School and attended Highlands University, Las Vegas, where he was pledged to Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity. He is presently serving as deputy clerk of Lincoln County and is the Republican candidate for election to office of county clerk in November.

He holds the office of noble grand in the Carrizozo Odd Fellows Lodge in which he takes an active interest. Harcrow is also secretary of the Captain Chamber of Commerce. Formerly employed in the office at the Fort Stanton hospital, he has also served as Captain police judge and justice of the peace. He is the grandson of Mrs. H. O. Harcrow, Captain, with whom he has made his home for a number of years.

The couple, who are making their home in Carrizozo, will take a brief motor trip to Pagosa Springs, Colo., will take a delayed honeymoon tour in November. Harcrow and his bride were honored at a reception Saturday night at the Captain VFW hall held by the Norton Pepper Post auxiliary, assisted by members of the post.

Socorro College Roads To Be Surfaced

Oil surfacing of approximately two and a half miles of roads at New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology, Socorro, is scheduled by the State Highway Department to start in October. Workmen at the college have prepared the gravel base and are completing curbing and walks to tie in with the new paving. About 33,000 square yards of roads will be surfaced.

The project is part of a campus improvement program started at NMIMT two years ago and will promote traffic safety and convenience. The principal streets serving the college instructional and research buildings are to be paved as well as roads giving access to the campus housing area. The present program covers the lanes of greatest traffic, but future surfacing of other areas is pending approval.

CORRECTION

The Lincoln County News regrets the typographical error made in last week's issue in a story on the rate increase requested by the Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Company. The article stated the proposed new rates would mean an increase of 51 cents per day for users in 45 New Mexico communities. The item should have stated the increase as 51 cents per month instead of per day.

Injured Soldier Moved To Sandia Base Hospital

Manuel Ayala, about 21, Carrizozo, at first believed to have suffered only minor injuries in a motor vehicle accident early Saturday afternoon five miles east of this village on Highway 380, was transferred to Sandia Base Hospital, Albuquerque, Sunday after subsequent examination had disclosed a possible neck fracture. His condition is reported as critical. Fernando Medina, 26, Carrizozo, who sustained a broken arm in the mishap, was transferred to Veterans Hospital, Albuquerque, on Sunday also. Two other men, both from Carrizozo, riding in the pickup when it overturned suffered less serious injuries. They are Aurelio Lujan, about 35, who sustained cuts and bruises, and Romulo Gomez, 25, who suffered a head injury.

Ayala is alleged to have been the driver of the pickup, reportedly owned by Gomez, which was completely demolished when it went out of control and overturned several times. The critically injured man is home on furlough from his station near Tucson.

Sheriff S. M. Ortiz said Monday he is delaying the filing of charges for the time being.

Captain VFW Fetes Mr. & Mrs. Earl Harcrow

The auxiliary of the Captain Norton Pepper Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held a reception at the VFW hall there Saturday night in honor of Earl Harcrow, Captain and Carrizozo, and his bride, the former Miss Nettie McInnes of Roswell. The Harcrows were married Saturday afternoon at Ruidoso with Rev. William Holmes officiating.

A large group of friends and relatives, representing every section of Lincoln County and the nearby area, were on hand to wish the happy couple happiness and prosperity. During the evening the Demacio Peralta family of Carrizozo assisted by Eimer Hust, Carrizozo, played for dancing. The hall was filled to overflowing, and many of the guests gathered in small groups outside during the course of the evening.

Guests from over the state included Manuel C. Chavez, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor; Mrs. Virginia Gray, Albuquerque, Republican candidate for secretary of state, and Charles E. Brown, Jal, Republican candidate for superintendent of public instruction.

High spot of the evening came with the placing of the wedding cake on a small lace covered table as the bride and groom acknowledged the congratulatory speech made by Joe Escobedo, commander of the Captain post. The three-tiered cake featured an intricate design of scrollwork in white icing with each layer outlined in pink rosebuds and green leaves of pastel shades which glistened with the added decor of silver candles. A miniature bridal couple, posed under an archway of white daisies and wedding bell fastened with satin ribbon, topped the elaborate confection. Sandwiches and soft drinks were also passed among the guests.

Special Districts

The New Mexico Taxpayers' Association calls attention to the necessity for rewriting laws relating to special improvement districts for paving and other purposes in incorporated cities, towns and villages in this state. The association indicates the problem is one of full collection of assessments made upon abutting property benefited by the improvement. There are several cities whose special improvement bonds are reported in default in large amounts. Except for this type of bond, the association reports, New Mexico obligations have a high rating.

Inductees

Lincoln County men who left for the induction center at Albuquerque during July include: Willie A. Stewart and Gilbert A. Stewart, Corona (the two men are brothers), and Billy Joe Brady of Rondo.

Leaving for induction on Aug. 19 is James W. Peterson of Ruidoso.

Man Charged With Assault On City Marshal Freed On $500 Bond

Juan Beltran, approximately 63, Carrizozo, was freed Saturday afternoon after making property bond for $500 on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon against John Littleton, local night marshal, about 9 o'clock Friday night. Littleton was taken to the Carrizozo hospital with gashes in his right shoulder and left side, and several stitches were required to close the one in his side. At press time the knife had not been recovered.

The altercation occurred in front of a local bar shortly after the marshal reportedly had been drinking heavily, to go home. Although in pain, Littleton did not realize he had been stabbed until a brief time later when he felt blood oozing from his side, and had permitted a friend of Beltran, who happened on the scene, to take him home. Sheriff S. M. Ortiz picked Beltran up shortly afterwards.

The alleged assailant waived preliminary hearing when he was taken before Captain Justice of the Peace John Mackey for arraignment here Saturday morning, and bound over to district court.

Littleton, whose condition was reported as not serious, was still in the hospital at press time.

James Harrold Funeral Services Held In Texas

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Stephenson of the I Bar X ranch near Carrizozo recently returned from Fort Worth, Texas, where they attended the private funeral services for James Harrold, who, together with his brother, Charles, of Carrizozo and Fort Worth, was an owner of the ranch. Mr. Harrold succumbed suddenly July 5 while traveling by chartered plane from Fort Worth to Colorado Springs.

Services were conducted July 7 at a Fort Worth mortuary with Rev. John Leatherbury officiating. Interment was at Greenwood in the Texas city, with Mr. Stephenson serving as one of the pallbearers. Charles Harrold, a brother, is the only surviving relative.

It is reported Mr. Harrold was stricken while the plane was over Memphis, Texas, and succumbed in approximately five minutes. Said to have been suffering from high blood pressure and a kidney malfunction, he was en route to a specialist in the Colorado city accompanied by his brother and a physician. Artificial respiration was applied for 40 minutes without result as the plane headed back toward Fort Worth, landing there about two and a half hours after its original takeoff.

The deceased, who was 51 and president of the Harrold Ice Company in Fort Worth, had resided in the same house there since birth. He had been associated with the ice company for 35 years. Charles Harrold, the surviving brother, resides at the I Bar X ranch the major portion of each year.

Camp Meeting Sets Attendance Record

By DOROTHY GUCK—'Twas the end of a perfect day as the sun slipped behind the thin bank of clouds when the tired, but happy group of friends gathered in the pine tabernacle atop Nogal Mesa Sunday evening for the last service of the largest Camp Meeting held there. One large sector of seats had been roped off so that the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs from Carrizozo, Ruidoso and Alamogordo could sit together.

Dr. Hugh Evans of Dayton, O., and his wife had given unstintingly of their time with a cheerfulness that made the message he brought to the crowd at the last service a most perfect definition of prayer. Dr. Hugh had been at the Camp Meeting out of Prescott, Ariz., two years before when Ralph Hall, Joe Evans and Roger Sherman decided that the lower branches of the juniper prayer tree would have to be trimmed. Unknown to them, Dr. Hugh took enough wood from those branches to have gavels made for the three men. Sunday evening he presented the gavels saying, "When you fellows become so old and feeble that you can't climb to the prayer tree anymore, you can sit and hold a piece of it in your hand."

Dr. Dick O'Brien of Big Spring, Texas, preached the Sunday afternoon service. Though he had alternated with Dr. Hugh in four and a half days of services, he delivered a stirring message close to the hearts of the cowboys by painting a picture in unpolished language of the last round-up when they'd be cut to separate the righteous from the sinners.

Bill Lytle of Reserve, N. M., led the choir and congregation through hours and hours of singing. Saturday evening he sang the story of the little black sheep so effectively, Ralph Hall came to him Sunday night and said, "Bill, I've had at least 50 people ask me to have you sing that story again." Bill looked as tired as any man there, but he stepped to the rostrum and gave the song in such a way it hushed the fretting of sleepy babies and produced a silence profound. People held their breath not to miss a word or a note.

The cook, Jimmy Valdez, did a wonderful job of feeding over 500 people the first night and catering to an increasing crowd each day until about 1,500 were served Sunday noon. The new kitchen equipment gave that delicious smoky flavor to the barbecued beef, but didn't make the kitchen much cooler for the cook. Thinking it a chore to prepare a meal picnic-style for my family of five, I was especially pleased when I saw Joe Evans stop to discuss the cook's wages just as Jimmy was peeling a tub of onions. The tears that rolled down his cheeks helped push Joe's hand deeper into the camp funds.

Jimmy was aided in the kitchen by Ricardo Calderon, Renaldo Vallejo, Ernesto Calderon, Dora Peralta, her father Demecio, and little brother, Mike, and Salvador Pena. Claude Branum hardly left the hot kitchen during the meeting, supervising all. The ranchers ladled the chow and in several pinches, their wives and daughters fell to and wiped dishes when they were running short.

Sunday afternoon as the young people were gathered in one end of the grounds, the men under the prayer tree, and the women in the tabernacle an explosion occurred in the kitchen that could have been tragic, but fortunately was only humorous. The big pressure cooker filled with hot Pinto beans, blew its lid. The cover sailed into the sky resembling a flying saucer for sure. Some said they were cooking Texas beans in a New Mexico pot. A beautiful green Cadillac was smeared, leaks in the roof were plugged, several by-standers wore beans in their buttonholes. The noise was terrific, and supper was late. Me—all I said was—"If there had to be an explosion, thank heavens it was the beans."

Dr. Hawk, one of the earliest preachers at the camp, visited one night. He preached with Everett King one year and his tent was referred to as "Hawk's Nest" while Everett's was called "King's Rest." During one of those early services, a thunder storm drowned out any possibility of the congregation hearing the preacher's words in the tabernacle tent, so the group sang. The last two rows of seats were filled with bearded young students from Texas Tech. By taunting, then bolstering remarks, Dr. Hawk finally succeeded in getting the boys to sing hymns louder than the thunder. Dr. Hawk could not help but remark about the outstanding growth of the Camp Meeting since that early day.

Mrs. Ralph Hall was in camp for a day and a night, and her son Jim who met his wife, Ruth, at the first Nogal Camp 13 years ago, came with their three children.

Sunday, Dr. O'Brien carried a red rose in his Bible. He has received a rose each Sunday for nine and a half years from an unknown friend.

I saw two friends meet on the Mesa for the first time in 40 years. Three old cowboys, Felix Miller, a Mr. Sidwell and Bowen Zumwalt met on the grounds for the first time since the three punched cattle for the V's and the Block. One cowboy is 91, the other two are in their 70's.

If I don't quit, they'll have to put another page in the paper. The biggest annual event on Nogal Mesa has ended for another year. Some of us are returning home with better thoughts and more friends. Others are bringing back a whole new life. All the memories will be treasured, even the splattering of beans.

Church Zone Meeting Honors Mrs. Dickenson

Mrs. R. E. Dickenson, Alamogordo, wife of a former pastor of the local Methodist church, was presented a life membership in the Women's Societies of Christian Service at the White Mountain zone meeting held at the Grace Methodist Church in Alamogordo recently.

Mrs. Irvin Mengler, Alamogordo, daughter of Mrs. Dickenson, pinned the award on her mother, and Mrs. Ruth Rolland made the presentation for Alamogordo Joanna Circle. Mrs. Rolland recalled the years devoted by Mrs. Dickenson to her church work which dated back to her college days at Ward Belmont, Nashville, Tenn., when she volunteered for missionary work. Following her marriage to Dr. Dickenson, now retired, the couple did missionary work in Mexico, but returned to the states after two years there because of Mrs. Dickenson's health.

The honoree has spent 50 years in active church work, according to Mrs. Rolland who said the "Ann Dickenson Circle, Phoenix, Ariz., is named in her honor. The tour of duty with her husband included nine different churches and 10 years at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, where Rev. Dickenson served as Bible instructor and chaplain.

Fifty-seven members of the society from churches in Ruidoso, Carrizozo, Tularosa and Alamogordo attended the meeting at which the local group presided over the morning devotional. The Carrizozo branch won the zone banner on the point system.

The next conference is slated for October in Ruidoso.

Health Dept. Officials Visit Carrizozo

Miss Billy Tober, Santa Fe, director of the budget and finance division of the State Health Department; Dr. M. A. Elstein, Las Cruces, district health officer, and Lee Peck, district sanitarian, were in Carrizozo Tuesday for the county budget hearing, as well as the regular routine visit of the health officers. Dr. Elstein reported that sufficient funds have been allocated and approved in the county budget to provide for the operation of the Lincoln County health office here.

The health officer stated there are no cases of polio or rabid dogs in Lincoln County at this time, nor are there any other contagious or infectious disease cases in the county. Dr. Elstein listed the following precautions to be taken by residents of Lincoln County for prevention of communicable diseases: Keep all garbage in tightly covered cans; avoid exposing children to the company of other children who are ill; report to the State Health Department if water or milk should appear to be contaminated in order that an immediate check may be made. According to the district officer, Peck will carefully check the water and milk supplies of the various communities on each inspection trip.

Odd Fellows, Rebekahs To Hold Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of the Carrizozo Odd Fellows and Rebekahs is planned for Aug. 5, when Gene Lindberg, Farmington, grand master for New Mexico jurisdiction, and Mrs. Bertha Wind, Farmington, president of Rebekah Assembly of New Mexico, will make their official visits.

Special entertainment at the local Odd Fellows hall is planned for that night.

Joe Don Womack, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Womack of Fort Stanton, one of four New Mexico delegates sponsored by the state's Odd Fellows organization for the Youth Pilgrimage to New York and other points, wrote this week he had attended his first session of United Nations, Womack, who left here July 12, and his companions were the guests of the Indianapolis Odd Fellows Lodge en route east. The 33 delegates in his group from Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arkansas, have viewed Niagara Falls and inspected the Ford plant at Detroit. The Fort Stantonite, who won the coveted place in the state delegation for his essay on "What the United Nations Means to Me," again expressed his appreciation to the local group for his trip.

Registration Ends Oct. 6

The county clerk's office announced this week that Oct. 6 is the final date for registration of voters in the November election. It is also the final date for changing party affiliation before the general election.

Council OK's Purchase Of New Motors

At a special meeting of Carrizozo City Dads Monday night, the council voted unanimously to adopt the resolution to accept the lowest bid for two new motors for the local municipal power plant. The motors are reported as meeting all specifications required by the village.

The meeting, held to complete formal procedure for the purchase of the motors, was attended by Marshall Barlow, Omaha, vice president of the Robert Schweser Bonding Company, and Max Walters and Mr. Parker of the Fairbanks-Morse Company, the successful bidder. The present outstanding bonds of approximately $104,000 will be recalled and canceled out at short rate interest wherever possible. The new bond issue of $250,000 should be sufficient to cover the outstanding indebtedness and the purchase and installation of the new motors, Mayor Marvin H. Roberts said this week. He added that a state of emergency at the local power plant had been declared on July 7 by the council in view of the worn out motors and imminent possibility of a complete breakdown in the village's power supply. This declaration enabled the trustees to request three bids without the formality of publication, which would have delayed for a month or so the procedure to acquire the necessary motors.

Roberts said the signing of all necessary papers for the purchase of the two motors had been completed at Monday night's meeting, and shipment on one of them will be made immediately. The second motor is expected to be received in Carrizozo sometime in November. One drawback in the other bids submitted, said Roberts, was the possible lengthy period of time before delivery of the motors could be made. Installation of the new equipment is scheduled to be done under the supervision of representatives of the engineering firm Ashley G. Classen and Associates, El Paso, and the Fairbanks-Morse Company.

C. A. Snow is chairman of the power board set up to represent the interests of the residents of the village in the motor transaction. John Wright and L. Z. Manire are the other members of this body. All three were present at Monday night's meeting. It was announced this week that several men are under consideration for the vacancy of utilities manager created by the recent resignation of Lawrence Queen who accepted a position with Consolidated Vultee at San Diego, Calif. It is possible that an announcement will be forthcoming at the next regular meeting of council in August relative to the selection of a replacement. At present, no one has been designated to serve as acting manager until the appointment is made.

The ice plant is undergoing some repair work which is expected to materially increase its present output, and thereby add a substantial amount to the village's income.

Oil, ordered from the State Highway Department sometime ago to be used in repairing the town's streets, should be delivered soon, but Mayor Roberts planned to check with the Santa Fe office if it was not received within the next few days. Sand and gravel is already on hand and only the oil is needed to give the green light on patching the numerous holes in Carrizozo's streets.

UNDERGOES SURGERY

By G. WARD FENLEY

It's just one-durn convention after the other.

By the time this kolm is read we will know whether the fighting at the Democratic convention is as terrific as what the Republicans went through.

The Albuquerque Journal, mixing the Korean police action with the Republican scrap, wrote last week in a release:

"Fighting flared up in the central and eastern sectors. Allied infantrymen hurled back the communists. Neither Eisenhower nor Taft was there. They were in their downtown hotels five miles away."

Nevertheless, there was lots of blood-letting at Chicago.

And the Democrats may have a hard time whipping their platform into a getting condition.

The Duke City Journal reported last week: "The Republican resolution committee spent eight days hammering into shape their 6,000-word document."

Aside from conventions, the Journal gave a play to the David Mance Tom Farmer trial in Rio. Mance said Farmer struck him in the face after a fuss over trespassing. Bad an getting shot in the pantry.

The Same Duke City publication reported last week that round movie comic Lou Costello pleaded guilty to drunken driving charges.

The Albuquerque Tribune, in Will Harrison's kolm, wrote that Burton Dwyer, not feeling secure enough in Santa Fe to buy a home, had rented during his stay a house, stable. Next to the dog house?

Just so you won't think that we read only Albuquerque papers, here are a few state-iders:

The Tucuman American says that the common housefly has made a slow start in arriving. New role, no doubt.

Pete Giannettino, Deming Graphic, kidded Jack Sitton about his headline: "Girls take over in local births."

"Come, come, wrote Pete. That's only normal."

That's all this week except to remind you to beware of political reporters such as the one who wrote last week: "Eisenhower composed the speech himself and spent some time in memorizing it."

And remember that no woman is ever fat. She is simply a little short for her height.

TOPS IN PAY LOAD!

If you use gasoline-powered tractors in the 45,000 GCW class, here's big news. This new GMC Series 470 will haul more pay load than any other vehicle of its rating with comparable standard equipment—up to more than a half-ton than some!

Come in. Compare them—in power, in pay load, in rugged long-life construction—against all the rest!

Then check the price and you'll agree: nowhere else will so little buy so much in a 3- to 4 1/2-ton truck.

That's because GMC has found new ways to take dead weight out of truck design by advanced engineering.

One example is GMC's sensational new "302" valve-in-head engine that delivers 145 h.p. at 3200 r.p.m. It weighs less than other engines of equal power by as much as 500 lbs. Yet it's the highest-compression gasoline truck engine ever built—gives you extra mileage from regular fuel!

By ALLIE SNODGRASS

If this unworthy person is going to act as reporter from Ancho neighborhood it's about time she was on the job, so will try to do better hereafter.

Several families from Ancho attended the Camp Meeting on Nogal Mesa last week. We are so fortunate to be privileged with such fine meetings.

Mrs. Jimmy Kille is spending some time with her family in Ancho. The entire community extends heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Kille, who lost her husband a short time ago.

The women and some of the men in Ancho, have been very busy cleaning, decorating and repairing the teacherage in preparation for Mrs. Tiser, who will teach here this year.

Mrs. Guy Payne and children of Carlsbad have been with Mrs. Payne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Hightower, for an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Russell of Roswell spent the weekend with us, and on Sunday we attended Camp Meeting.

Levene Snodgrass was in Roswell the first of week on business and also visiting with his aunt Mrs. Hendricks, who has not been well for some time.

Mrs. Risinger went to Tucson on Thursday of last week to see her husband, who is in the S. P. hospital in that city. Mr. Risinger was injured in a car wreck in May. He is very weak but making a satisfactory recovery, and will be home before too many more moons.

Our countryside is green and most of the cattlemen have tank water. Has been much cooler, too. Makes wonderful weather for sleeping.

Work is going steadily on the new highway going through our country. And, when I say going through, I mean that. The new road will miss Ancho and neighbor area from one quarter to three miles. That, to me, does not make sense. Why shouldn't a road benefit local people, whose taxes, etc., pay for roads? Oh well, guess we are supposed to like mud, rough roads and all that.

Neighbors, come by and give me your bits of news so as to have all our happenings in this column.

Donald and Dick Roberts met "Hap" Hadley in Tokyo recently while on a two weeks' leave, and the three sailors had a pleasant reunion.

Birtha Shrum reports a girl in her office fainted one day as a result of the heat wave in Washington, D. C., but that the rest of them weren't that lucky and had to keep on working.

Guests at the Ernest Roberts recently were their son, Bill, and his family from Glenwood Springs, Colo. Mrs. Roberts reports her grandson, Mike, is growing by leaps and bounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davis of Lubbock, Texas, visited briefly with the Harry Morrisses this week en route to Ruidoso where they will vacation for a few days. Pressure of work prevented the Carrizozoans from accepting the invitation of the Davises to spend the weekend with them.

Mrs. M. U. Finley motored to Carrizozo Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Muriel Filant, from their home in Clovis. Mrs. Finley is the guest of the Ben Burns for an indefinite stay, but Mrs. Filant returned to Clovis Monday after an overnight visit.

Lee (Skeeter) Carl reports hearing Mrs. Marlene Longley Mashburn, former resident of this village, on Art Linkletter's radio broadcast of "House Party" at Los Angeles Monday. Mrs. Mashburn was announced as the youngest bride at that day's program for which she was awarded a new suit. If a younger bride does not appear before the end of the week, she will win a new range.

NOGAL

By MRS. A. B. ZUMWALT, JR.

All of Nogal enjoyed the Camp Meeting this last week. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Zumwalt of Artesia were here.

Jack Robinson's mother and sister were here for the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Peacock Jr. and family are in Tucuman.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. LaMay have their granddaughter, Sandra, here with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Young of Denver were here with the Johnson Stearns. Mrs. Young and Mrs. Stearns are sisters.

Fire takes 3,500 lives on U. S. farms and damages $100,000,000 worth of property annually. Accidents cause about 18,000 deaths each year and 1,500,000 injuries.

NOGAL MESA

By DOROTHY GUCK

I know that Camp Meeting should be the first item mentioned here, but I have another that deserves headlines. My husband was riding horseback up Monjeau Mountain last week.

His horse strained to reach the top knoll, who should he meet but Mrs. Rannels, mother of Bonnie Arvey, Rayford and Robert. She and one of her grandchildren stepped out for a little stroll from the bottom of Bonito Canyon to the top of Monjeau. Don't tell me these modern women are getting soft! 'Course I don't know another one as young for her years.

Ben Pfingsten and Aunt Mag jumped over at the Camp Meeting, and the rains came just often enough so Ben didn't have to fret about his garden.

Sears Crockett, who used to live up here before he moved to the other side of the Malpais, came up to camp with his sister, Mrs. Stella Griffith of Sacramento, Calif., and sister-in-law, Mrs. Al Smith of Long Beach.

The Pasadena College trio of girls who sang at services on Friday night and at the bonfire after, took time out to see some of the county and be rescued from the thick layers of mud that sometimes coat our roads.

Looks like everyone on the Mesa was so busy being at Camp Meeting they didn't have time to do anything new. Dooge and Mrs. LaMay never missed a day, and were joined there by several of their children. The Dan Jones family, the Fergusons, Zumwalts, Pfingstens, all were there.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crockett, who live in Roswell and have a ranch of registered Herefords on the Penasco, were guests of the Henry Peebles.

Walter Wilson of Roswell, whose parents live at Ancho, was the guest of the Gills/Peters.

Walter Robinson, son of Aunt Mag's brother Jim, volunteered to help with the singing.

Bob Peebles left to attend the Camp Meeting at Montosa which started July 23.

State Employment In Seasonal Upswing

Seasonal influences are responsible for the moderate overall increase in the state's employment during the past 30 days. Although reports indicate the steel strike has shortened the coal mine work week, no layoffs in New Mexico have been attributed to lack of material. Expansion of food and lumber manufacturing this month has offset completion of a transportation equipment with a resulting reduction in force.

Workers from coal producing states continue the trek into the Artesia-Carlsbad area for employment at the potash mines. Construction around Santa Fe and Albuquerque is not up to the level of employment the past few years, although contracts planned for later this year are expected to increase employment.

Wage Reports

New Mexico employers are reminded that their second quarterly wage reports for 1952 should be filed by July 31. Tax not paid by that date will not be credited in computing tax rates for 1953. An employer may get a higher 1953 tax rate if all tax due is not paid by the end of July, according to M. F. Miera, chairman-executive director of the Employment Security Commission.

Rejected milk is expensive cat food. Check your milk cooling system, sanitation and clean-up to keep milk quality high.

State Fair Increases In Premiums Offered

Substantial increases in premiums are offered to Hereford breeders and dairymen exhibiting at the 1952 New Mexico State Fair Sept. 27 through Oct. 5. The premiums offered for this year's cattle classes places the state list on a par with larger state fairs in the nation. The main increase comes in the dairy cattle division with the breeds including Ayrshires, Brown Swiss, Guernseys, Holstein-Friesians, Jerseys and milking Shorthorns.

Exhibitors of livestock including cattle, horses, sheep, swine, goats and small stock, will compete for a pot of nearly $500,000 this year, the largest ever offered in New Mexico. Facilities for the expected increase in livestock entries are being improved and enlarged as rapidly as possible. Livestock exhibitors at the fair have until Sept. 15 to make entries, and the complete premium book and entry forms will be available about July 15. Entry forms and premium book may be obtained by writing Leon E. Harms, secretary-manager, New Mexico State Fair, Box 1693, Albuquerque.

The Coconut Pie Mystery

Here's a mystery that will have you asking "what dunnit?" instead of "who dunnit?" What makes this Coconut Macaroon Pie so mysteriously different? In the making process, it doesn't seem at all out of the ordinary—a mixture of good ingredients; a pie shell. But during the baking process, something quite amazing happens. The ingredients separate—some of them rise to the top and form a wonderful crunchy macaroon-like layer; the rest stay "downstairs" and bake into a velvety custard. What dunnit? Who cares! Just make it and serve it. It's terrific!

Coconut Macaroon Pie

1/2 recipe pie crust
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 egg yolks
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter, melted
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon almond extract (optional)
1 1/2 cups shredded coconut, cut
8 egg whites, stiffly beaten
Line a 9-inch pie pan with pastry, rolled 1/8-inch thick. Flute edges. Chill. Add salt to egg yolks and beat until thick and light. Add sugar, 1/2 cup at a time, beating well after each addition. Add milk, butter, lemon juice, and almond extract. Blend well. Fold in coconut and egg whites. Turn into pie shell. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 60 minutes, or until knife inserted comes out clean.

RANCH AND BUSINESS REVIEW

Purdy Electric Co. Does Quality Work

Recognized as one of the outstanding firms in this territory, Purdy Electric Co., 215 N. Main in Roswell, performs a complete electrical contracting service for commercial, industrial and residential installations as well as electrical repairs.

All members of this aggressive concern have had wide experience in electrical contracting and meet all of the strict ethical requirements and qualifications that are requisite to the pursuit of their business. They have been responsible for many of the larger electrical installations in this territory and their policy of furnishing only skilled, experienced electricians, using highest quality material and meeting all local building code and R. E. A. requirements has made their services indispensable to many of the general contractors who know that by sub-contracting the electrical work to Purdy Electric Co. it will be satisfactory in every detail.

Purdy Electric Co. also carries an extensive line of lighting fixtures and small appliances. They will gladly make a survey of your home, store or office and make recommendations as to the proper facilities that will distribute the light evenly and save eye-strain. They also make, without obligation, cost estimates on any other proposed electrical work and gladly consult with prospective customers and give the benefit of their experience in the electrical contracting field that often times makes for a more efficient job and may actually save you money. We compliment Purdy Electric Co. and their organization on the splendid record they have made and recommend them to our many readers.

Malco Refineries, Inc., Boon To Area

The petroleum industry has always been of major importance but it is more so now than ever before because of our national needs.

One of the leading industries in this area which has played an important part in the growth and development of this territory is Malco Refineries, Inc., Roswell, New Mexico, who are producers, refiners and marketers of exceptionally high quality petroleum products.

Under the direction of R. O. Anderson, Malco's young president, this company has assumed a civic responsibility in this part of the state which is very understandable at all times. Malco tries to cooperate on all programs which help to benefit the community.

We would be blind indeed were we not to recognize and give full credit to this progressive concern and the part it plays in the development of this trade area—employing local people, paying taxes and purchasing New Mexico's raw materials—all of which adds to our prosperity.

Since 1936 production has increased 45 per cent, compared with an increase of 123 per cent in industrial production.

Allison & Hutchinson Co. Rate High

Substantial contributors to the progress of this area, the general contracting firm, Allison & Hutchinson Co., 410 S. Main in Roswell, has established a well deserved reputation for its outstanding record in the construction field. They are well known throughout the entire trade area because of their various construction jobs.

R. H. Hutchinson, president; Eugene M. Allison, vice-president and Charles L. Allison, Jr., secretary-treasurer, are men who have given much toward the development of this section of the state and have turned their personal success in the construction business to the advantage of the people as a whole. They have contributed much toward making the area a better place in which to live and they hold a commanding position among their neighbors, friends and business associates.

In the pursuit of the construction business this outstanding concern has always been known to use only the very highest quality materials and their construction crews are staffed only by experienced and highly skilled craftsmen. Their services are sought throughout the state because they have the reputation for rendering the same sound construction services whether the contract is established on a cost plus or a fixed-fee basis.

We are fortunate in having citizens of the calibre of those who control the policies of Allison & Hutchinson Co. and we take this opportunity to wish them continued success in the construction field.

Armstrong & Armstrong Leaders In Their Field

Rendering a complete paving, earth moving and excavation service such as paving roads, streets, parking areas, airport runways and all kinds of excavation, Armstrong & Armstrong, contractors located at 133 W. Walnut in Roswell, have the necessary experience, shovels, motor graders, scrapers and tractors. Many of the general contractors have found that it is to their advantage to subcontract the excavation and earth work of a construction job to Armstrong & Armstrong than to do it themselves, not only because they are specialists in their line but it saves the cost of expensive equipment and supervision and the work is actually accomplished in less time.

Armstrong & Armstrong's successful record enables them to give the very best of service—they have been awarded important paving and excavating jobs all over the state for industries, towns, cities and the state itself to the entire satisfaction of the interests retaining them.

We are glad in this review edition of our paper to single out B. R. Armstrong, president of this well known contracting concern, for public mention. He and his company have done a lot toward the advancement and development of our area, and we wish for them continued success in the future.

Will a Certain Blood Donor Please Get in Touch With Sgt. #12 754 680

They don't tell us whose blood it is—and you don't know who got it. So you don't know me and I don't know you.

But I've had lots of time to think here at the hospital (it's almost a year since I got mine in Korea) and I keep wondering who you are and where you live and what you do and all that. Sometimes I have you figured for a wheat farmer in South Dakota, like my Uncle Herman. Or sometimes you're a big-league outfielder—the position I dreamed of playing. But mostly, I guess, you're just someone I'd like to meet and chew the fat with.

Once I kicked this thing around with a guy in the ward here and he said, yeah, but suppose this certain person turns out to be a beautiful blonde, then what?

But all kidding aside, it's a funny feeling to owe your life to someone you don't know. In some ways though it makes it easier to say thanks, because it's not just me thanking you. It's every wounded guy thanking every American who gave blood.

The toughest part of being out in Korea isn't the fighting. It's the feeling you're a million miles from nowhere. So a thing like giving blood means a lot, because it gives the guys a feeling you're in there picking with them.

I know one thing. When I get out of here I'm going to give some blood myself.

What happened to that pint of blood you were going to give?

New Amendment On Child Labor Announced

Amendment of the Fair Labor Standards Act's, record keeping regulations, as applied to children employed on farms, requires a farmer-employer to record the child's name, date of birth, permanent home address and where he lives while working, if not living at home, for all employees under 18 years of age working on days school is in session. The amendment is effective Aug. 11.

The action was taken under the act's provisions which prohibit employment of children under 16 in agriculture during school hours for the school district where the child lives while so employed. The act as now written does not prohibit employment of children outside school hours and does not apply to the farmer's own children working on the parent's farm.

Copies of the complete text of the amendments may be obtained from the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division, 413 Federal Building, Albuquerque.

Food Sense -- Not Nonsense

Worried about vitamins? Afraid of carbohydrates? Puzzled as to whether or not you and your family get enough protein each day? Avoiding fats and sugars? In spite of the fact that an increasing knowledge of nutrition has been one of the offerings of this scientific age, food crazes have been sweeping this country over the past few years like a plague of locusts. The public is both puzzled and concerned. It is reassuring to know there is no substitute for a well balanced diet, patterned on the basic seven food groups.

By an every day selection of foods from these groups you can be assured of meeting individual needs for vitamins, minerals, protein, fats and carbohydrates. All of these are essential to your physical well-being. To have a well balanced diet with all needed health giving factors, select foods from these following groups. (Servings are given as eating guides.)

Green and yellow vegetables, such as broccoli, green beans and carrots -- one large serving daily. These are rich in vitamin A essential to good vision, and iron to build red blood cells.

Oranges, tomatoes, grapefruit -- one serving daily. This group also includes raw cabbage and salad greens. These furnish vitamin C, also known as ascorbic acid, necessary for healthy gums and body tissues.

Potatoes and other vegetables -- two or more servings of the others. These are thrifty sources of needed vitamins and minerals.

Milk, and milk products, such as cheeses and ice cream. One pint of milk for adults and more for children, daily. These are especially important for protein and calcium. They build strong bones and teeth.

Meat, poultry, fish and eggs -- one serving meat, fish, or poultry daily, at least 4 eggs per week. These are the high protein, muscle building foods, carrying essential minerals.

Bread, flour and cereals. Six slices of enriched, or whole wheat bread, daily, with other grain foods, such as breakfast cereal. Enriched bread furnishes carbohydrates for energy; protein for building muscles; calcium for strong teeth and bones; iron for red blood cells; and the three B vitamins, niacin, thiamine and riboflavin for general good health.

Butter and fortified margarine -- two or three tablespoons daily. These are high in vitamin A, essential to good vision, and are good "fuel" foods. The important point is to include foods from each of these groups every day. Your diet will be balanced -- your hunger satisfied -- your food fears banished.

$1/2 Million a Month for New Mexico's Telephone Expansion

- New Mexico has had the highest percentage of telephone growth of any state in the last decade. We're spending over $1/2 million a month to meet service demands. This is the money we obtain from people who invest their savings with us -- the money that makes growth possible.
- Like any other business we must receive enough for the service we sell to pay the cost of furnishing it, including a fair return to those whose savings are invested in the business.
- Inflation has put a squeeze on the telephone business as it has on every business and every household. We have to pay higher prices for everything we buy. We want to continue to pay wages that are comparable to others in the community for similar skills. Taxes now amount to $2.70 a month on each New Mexico telephone, including excise taxes.
- But despite higher costs of providing your service, the cost of your calls can be counted in pennies. Telephone service has gone up less in price than many commodities you buy. Its value is often beyond measure.
