From City of Tucumcari
TUCUMCARI—A district court jury here has awarded $20,832
damages to the estate of three persons killed when a city water
tank collapsed last December.
Tucumcari city attorney J. V.
Gallegos says he will appeal the decision to the State Supreme Court.
The jury awarded $10,541 for the death of D. T. Elliot, $6,458
for the death of Elliot's wife, Eva, and $3,833 for the death of their son, Tommy.

1 of Every 33 motorists
Will Be Traffic Fatality
(This, the first of a group of discussions on motor vehicle accident prevention, is presented in an effort to reduce the accident rate and the accompanying loss of "life, limb and property" in this community.)
By DICK COLEMAN
If someone walked up to you
with 33 straws in his hand, one of them shorter than the rest,
would you be willing to draw
one straw from the bundle, knowing that if you drew the short one you would be sentenced to death?
You wouldn't, because even though the odds are in your favor, the penalty for drawing
the short straw is too severe.
If you are an average American driver, the odds that you will be killed in a motor vehicle accident are the same—1 in 33.
Here's why:
The National Safety Council
reports that one traffic fatality occurs for every 13,300,000 miles traveled. It would take only 33 people, driving 10,000 miles per year for 40 years, to accumulate that mileage. And on the average, one of those 33 drivers
would be the victim in a fatal accident.
The Council also reports that there are 35 injuries for every fatality. Therefore, of every 33
drivers, besides the one fatality,
there will be an average of 35
injuries.
Does that mean that we're all doomed to death or injury in an automobile accident? Not quite!
Take any group of 33 drivers.
The 1 in 33 fatality could happen to any one of the group; but it's most likely to happen to the

MRS. MARY E. NELSON, Chaves

ceive a distinguished service award at the annual meeting of the National Home Demonstration Agents' Association in Chicago November 8.
To receive national recogni-

ten years or more in home eco-

Mrs. Nelson has served as

State To Investigate Underground Pumping
SANTA FE — A formula used nationally to determine how pumping affects underground
water levels may get its first large scale test in New Mexico.
State Engineer John Bliss has asked the State Finance Board for $2500 to finance a study by the U. S. Geological Survey.
Lea County has been selected for the study, largely because its underground water is involved in current court actions and in water talks with Texas.
Much of the information obtained will be applicable elsewhere, Bliss said. Many New Mexico communities forced to keep an alert eye cocked on their water supplies will be directly affected.

Up for its first test over a large area, Bliss said, is a theory developed by Dr. C. V. Bliss, former geologist in charge of New Mexico's underground water division.
The formula developed records
what happens to underground
water supplies as they are tapped by heavy pumping and irrigation usage. It has been checked against actual drawdown in local regions but never
over a large underground basin,
Bliss said.

CONSERVATION OF WILDLIFE
(School children are interested in conservation as well as adults.
Some time ago, Glenda Sue King wrote an article on conservation
for a special edition of the Lincoln County News. Lack of space prevented publication at that time.)
The conservation of soil, wildlife, forests and range forage are very important to our people because unwise use of any would jeopardize the economic and social wealth of this country.
I would like to bring up the problem of wildlife conservation
because many people do not understand the important principles governing our wildlife management.
Wildlife management must consider laws, regulations and their enforcement. It must also consider control measures that will preserve a species and at the same time hold its population
in bounds.
We know from past history
that many species of wildlife have been destroyed because of the unwise destruction of them by man. We also know that if some species were not hunted at certain times of the year that they would damage the land.
So, if we are to have improved wildlife management, we must look for balance between preserving and harvesting our wildlife. It is especially important that the public be kept informed of the problem and of its proper solution.
To my way of thinking, one of the biggest problems is the hunters themselves. A hunter should respect other people's properties.
By this, I mean stay on the road with your car. Camp at places agreeable to the landowner.
Close all gates after you. Know it's a buck before pulling the trigger. Cows and persons have been killed by trigger-happy people. If hunters would obey these laws, landowners wouldn't have to post their land.

most reckless driver of the bunch. The 35 injuries might be divided evenly among the remaining 32 drivers, except that several would receive injuries in more than one mishap. But it's more than likely that 10 or 15
of the group, the responsible safety conscious drivers, will escape injury, and a few reckless drivers, will be injured as many as five times. The records back up those suppositions!
Does it not make sense that we all should practice every safety rule at our command ing habit known, and show with actual instances in the past to

Not Long Ago...
There were only 600 telephone
men and women in New Mexico
Today there are 2,000

Ten years ago, it took the work of 600 employees to provide telephone service to our New Mexico subscribers. Since then the number has increased more than three times.
These telephone men and women take pride in doing a job for you. They are good citizens of your community, off the job as well as on. They work with and for you in church, school and community groups.
Many of them are stockholders in the Bell System—directing their savings as well as their on-the-job efforts to the task of providing ever better telephone service for this growing state.

7,800 PEOPLE IN NEW MEXICO TELEPHONE FAMILIES
One person out of every 90 you meet is a member of a telephone family. The money earned by telephone men and women is spent largely in the communities in which these families live.
It's important to you that telephone men and women be paid wages that compare favorably with those paid in other businesses—
for only then can we find and keep the capable employees we need to serve you well.
Wage costs, which account for over half of our total expenses, have risen rapidly in the past few years. We must receive enough for our service to pay these expenses, with enough left over for a fair return to the investors who have made the expansion of the service possible.

Men To Hunt on Three Rivers Ranch

ALAMOGORDO—Through the courtesy of Thomas F. Ryan, owner of Three Rivers Ranch, the New Mexico veterans of the Bataan Campaign will be exclusive guests at the ranch during the big game hunting season this year, according to Teofilo Sanchez, president of the Otero Bataan Gun and Rod Club.

There will be three camps established; two located in Lincoln canyon, to serve as patrol stations, and one at the Bataan ranch, according to Sanchez. Mr. Ryan has asked the Otero County Bataan group to supervise the hunting and to place their own wardens and patrols in the area for the protection of the land and the game in the area which has been dedicated to the New Mexico Bataan boys.

Ryan, as a pilot in World War II, assisted in evacuating the Bataan veterans from Japan after their four years of imprisonment there, later to build a hunting lodge in his "North Well" country, in the heart of the big game area, and each year the men of

Not Every Tree "Makes Grade" To Become A Telephone Pole

A tree that hopes to become a telephone pole must be a good solid specimen and exemplary in such matters as girth, straightness and height. It must belong to the proper family and must be able to "take it" during the years it serves telephone subscribers.

L. G. Eubanks, Carrizozo manager of the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company, said only the best trees will make the grade this year. They'll lose their branches and bark, get "machine-shaved," submit to boring for bolt holes and planing for crossarms, and get a preservative treatment that makes them unpalatable to carpenter ants, termites and woodpeckers and resistant to the ravages of fungi and wood diseases.

The transformation will take place under the watchful eyes of inspectors for the Western Electric Company, suppliers to the Mountain States Company and the Bell System.

Then they'll join nearly one and a half million telephone poles marching across the seven states and part of Texas served by the Mountain States Company in pole lines which measure more than 45,000 miles in length.

Bataan are hunting season guests. This year no other hunters will be permitted on the Ryan Ranch, and thirty or more New Mexico veterans are expected there for the season November 8 through November 15.

NO "HATCHET GANG" HERE, KINNARDS SAY

(Before Mr. and Mrs. Les Kinnard, former publishers of The Lincoln County News; left El Paso, they were interviewed by the Herald-Post regarding charges that a "gang" of youngsters had been organized here and were committing depredations. These charges had previously been considered by the City Council and peace officers and declared them unfounded. Since then the resident has continued to make the charges. The interview follows.—Ed.)

EL PASO—Mr. and Mrs. Les Kinnard of Carrizozo are indignant.

"We have a clean town, and it has never been less than that in the three years we've lived here," they said.

Cause of their wrath was a letter sent to The Herald-Post by a Carrizozo resident. The letter said:

"Since a new bunch have come into Carrizozo, the youngsters here are organizing a gang to destroy and loot and commit other acts of atrocity."

"For instance, they take a small hatchet and go in and break into a person's house while the owner is away."

"One lady reports that she needed a gang of boys about 8 to 16 years of age all ganged up, holding different boys and letting others go out and while they hold this one they would take a long run and hit the boy in the stomach with their heads just as hard as they could. After a few times he would be completely knocked out. The boys said that was one way of initiating them."

"Other times it has been noted that one of their initiations is to attempt some undecent act."

The writer concluded:

"LITTLE HATCHET GANG"

"Why not put it this way, that the Little Hatchet Gang is just about to take over."

This charge, say the Kinnards, is "bunk."

Mr. Kinnard was specific.

"The letter talks about a 'new bunch' moving into Carrizozo," he said. "The writer must have been talking about the boys at the radar stations."

"If that is the case, let me say this: They are a fine group of fellows. They have caused no one any trouble."

"Mrs. Kinnard came to the defense of the youngsters.

"The boys and girls of our town are no more mischievous than those anywhere else," she said. "As a matter of fact, they probably are better bred and better behaved than the average teenagers."

The Kinnards took exception to the report of indifference on the part of the townspeople and officials.

"The Lions Club established a reception center for the soldiers," said Mr. Kinnard. "It consists of billiard tables, a writing room, card tables and what not. The room is for the exclusive use of the military personnel.

The recreation room serves as a memorial to a brother of Vernon Petty, our former mayor. Mr. Petty's brother, Jesse, was killed in Korea.

"Mr. Petty is vitally interested in the service personnel who have come to Carrizozo, just as other businessmen are.

"Like the Lions Club, our churches and women's organizations are most concerned about the welfare of the servicemen. The churches and women's groups have expanded their programs to include dances and dinners and other activities for the boys."

The Kinnards concluded:

"As we said at the outset, we have a clean town. It is going to stay that way. But a letter of the sort which claims that we have a 'hatchet gang' and accuses our young people of all kinds of physical and moral atrocities, isn't going to make our job any easier. Our young folk have a right to be angry at such charges."

Clyde Atwood Asks Voters' Support

Clyde Atwood, the Democratic candidate for Sheriff of Lincoln County, told the News this week his qualifications for this responsible office.

He has lived in Lincoln County since 1941; served his country in the Air Force overseas during World War II and has served as undersheriff in Lincoln County three years.

He has a Federal Communications Commission license to operate police radio equipment.

Mr. Atwood said he would like to continue to serve his county as sheriff and that he will conduct his office independent of any faction. "If elected, he said, 'I will treat everyone alike. Your vote and influence will be appreciated.'"

Bracell Fresquez Tells Qualifications

Mr. Bracell Fresquez, Democratic candidate for Lincoln County Tax Assessor, this week gave the News a statement of his life and record and qualifications for the office he seeks.

Bracell Fresquez was born at Pico, N. M., in the Hondo Valley and graduated from the Hondo High School. He continued his education by studying three years at City Commercial College in Santa Fe, where he took up business administration and was an outstanding student.

After his studies, Mr. Fresquez was employed for two years in the Fish and Game department of New Mexico. In 1942 he was called to the Armed Forces and served from that year until 1945 in the Air Corps in the European theatre.

NOW YOUR MATURING SERIES E BONDS CAN EARN INTEREST TEN YEARS LONGER—AT 3%!

Have you given any thought to what you'll do with those maturing Series E Defense Bonds you patriotically bought ten years ago? Well, here's real good news for you. You won't have to do a thing with them and they'll continue to earn interest for ten years longer at 3% interest, compounded semiannually. Just hold on to your bonds and allow them to go on earning!

And in the meantime join the millions of thrifty Americans who are investing in a secure future with Defense Bonds bought regularly through the Payroll Savings Plan. Thousands say it's the one sure way to save.

The sum you set aside each week may be as little as 10c—or as much as $275. If you can save just $3.75 a week regularly through the Plan, in five years you will have $1,025.95! In 9 years and 8 months you'll have $2,137.30... In 19 years and 8 months, $5,153.72! For now the Series E Bonds you buy and hold to maturity can earn 3% interest compounded semiannually.

No matter how small your income, you can't afford not to put something aside for yourself. So join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work today.

Hurley Advances Water Development Program For Highland States

Reprint from an editorial in The New Mexican Pat Hurley has again advanced a water development program for the West that he himself describes as "stupendous" and "costly."—Just how costly is a bit indefinite right now, but in 1946 the estimate was roughly 18 billions of dollars. It would be higher now, but it is designed to be self-liquidating.
 The essence of the Hurley plan is to impound the waters of the upper Missouri and upper Mississippi rivers—the same waters that almost annually ravage the lower reaches by flooding—and divert it to the thirsty areas of the southwest. Presumably this

Rainmaking May Cause Drought Conditions, N. M. IM&T Prexy, Hints

TUCUMCARI — Average rainfall figures can't be trusted as a basis for cattle production in the Southwest. That was the theme of talks delivered at annual Ranch Day last week at the Jornada Experimental Range and the New Mexico A&M College Ranch near Las Cruces. More than 300 ranchers attended.
 "If ranchers base the size of their herds on expected average rainfall, they may be sadly disappointed," Dr. E. J. Workman would mean tunnels, ditches pumping on a grandiose scale, unrivaled in history. He also would return the silt and topsoil from the lowlands to the highlands.

Whether General Hurley's specific program is the best solution to the problem of reclaiming the wastelands is not known to laymen such as we. However, we emphatically agree with the general that what is needed is a long-range, broad-visions program "if we are to escape the disasters that have befallen the Old World."

Of necessity we are dribbling away millions of dollars in small-scale irrigation and flood control projects. But it is time that those with vision, knowledge and daring conceive a master project which eventually will provide a permanent solution to the waste of water and soil resources without which this nation cannot survive.

president of New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology, told the Ranch Day visitors. He pointed out that average rainfall does not come in 50 per cent of the years.

He also hinted that commercial rainmakers may be partly responsible for the drought which the Southwest has experienced in the last two years. Increase in commercial rainmaking in the past two years, he said, has been accompanied by the most severe drought in the history of the Southwest.

Kenneth Pearse, chief of the division of ranch research, of the Southwestern Forest and Range Experiment Station, Tucson, said that the past seven years of drought have been bad or ranching, but have furnished research records which will help in developing sound systems of practical grazing management.

In discussing climatic variations in the Southwest, Fred Vres, superintendent of the Jornada Range, reported that since the 1850's when records were first kept in Dona Ana County, three or four years of every eight or ten have been drought years. According to the flexible herd management system followed on the Jornada Range, the size of the herd is adjusted annually to fit the amount of grass on the range. About 40 per cent of the forage is the most that should be consumed and the remaining 30 per cent is needed for maintenance of grass cover.

1953 Ice Show Coming To Albuquerque

The first big ice show to appear in New Mexico since 1949 is booked November 4 to 9 at the Ice Arena in Albuquerque.

Rated as one of the "Big Four" among the nation's twenty-odd ice shows, the ICE CYCLES OF 1953 has a cast of more than 100 skaters and travels on its own nine-car train.

The show comes to New Mexico from the Texas State Fair, at Dallas, where 144,000 persons witnessed the ice spectacle during its 16-day run.

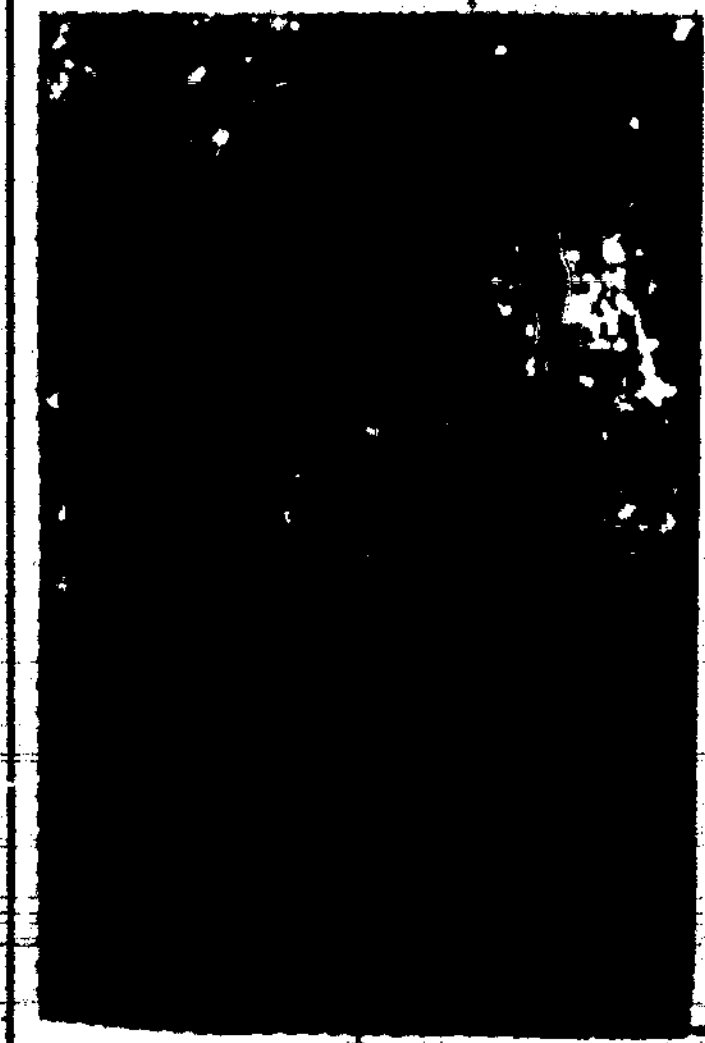

Featured production of this year's Cycles is a continuous 40-minute dramatization of "Cinderella." Based on Walt Disney's cartoon version of the famous fairy tale, the Cinderella number includes such elaborate props as a full-sized pumpkin carriage and four mechanical horses that appear to be real horses.

In all, the show consists of nine production numbers with 20 acts. Co-starring in the Cycles are Margaret Field and Jimmy Lawrence.

Also in the cast is Donald Logsdon, an Albuquerque-reared youth.

The six-day Albuquerque engagement opens November 4 with evening performances at 8:30 p.m. and 2 p.m. matinees on Saturday and Sunday, November 8 and 9.

For tickets write Ice Arena, 125 Truman St. N.E., Albuquerque. All seats are reserved at $1.50, $2, $2.50 and $3.

Evans Takes Stand on Public Land Sales

G. W. "Dub" Evans, Republican candidate for Commissioner of Public Lands today declared his opposition to the sale of State owned lands to private individuals. "The 11 million acres of State owned lands were set aside for the benefit of our public schools and institutions, and I vigorously oppose the sale of any large tracts of these lands to present permittees or others," Evans said.

Explaining his position on this question, Evans continued: "The best insurance our schools have against hard times is in ownership of these valuable lands."

Outlining Federal ownership of public lands in New Mexico, Evans declared he would favor transfer of ownership of some 15 million acres of public domain or Taylor Grazing lands (not forest) into State ownership. "Before this is done, however, I believe the State Land Office must put its own house in order and through careful and conservative management of its own lands become recognized as an outstanding public land management authority."

Nat'l Council Churches To Meet in Denver

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. — The most representative gathering in U. S. Christianity—both from the geographical and the denominational standpoint—will take place the week of December 7 in Denver, Colo., when national church leaders meet for the second General Assembly of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.

The nation's largest religious organization, the National Council of Churches, was established in 1950 by the official representatives of 29 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox communions. The council's constituent communions now have a membership totaling over 33,000,000.

This is the first meeting of the whole National Council since it was constituted in Cleveland, O., in 1950. It is also the first such meeting of the forces of cooperative Christianity to be held in the Rocky Mountain area.

Among its major activities during the past two years have been the completion of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible, whose publication was marked by nationwide community services September 30. The Denver and Colorado Councils of Churches will be host to the National Council's General Assembly.

Students Censure Adult Drivers

Charleston checked 1,000 high school students on their opinions of adult auto drivers and found Disregard of Traffic Signs (enacted above) a prime target for criticism. Recklessness was worst fault in poll.

DETROIT—If an adult driver could look at himself through the eyes of the younger generation he'd see a person who is inconsiderate of others, who cheats a bit on speed laws, and who believes he can solve traffic jams by getting mad.

At least this is the picture given by a Chevrolet Motor Division survey which asked 1,000 high school driving students what they thought of their elders. Here's the way the juveniles ranked adult driving faults:

No. 1—Recklessness. ("Lots of times we ride the bumper of the car ahead.") No. 2—Poor Sportsmanship. ("He thinks the road belongs to him.") No. 3—Speeding. ("Dad goes just as fast when there's traffic as when there isn't.") No. 4—Failure to Signal Properly. ("He just sits there when you stopped too quick for a hamburger.") No. 5—Impatience. ("My father thinks he can solve traffic by just swearing.") No. 6—Disregard of Signs. ("Some speed up when they see 'New School Crossing.'") No. 7—Inattention. ("Mom talks too much when she's driving.") No. 8—Neglect of Car's Safety Features. ("All of us press the ac-

No hydrant monster but a cameraman's trick to illustrate Failure to Signal Properly by grownups.

gors when dad steps on the brakes.") No. 9—Ignorance of Laws. ("When two drivers meet at a corner they eye each other like in a duel. Neither of them knows who's supposed to stop.") No. 10—Lack of Skill. ("She can't get out of a rick.")

The Chevrolet survey gave a cross-section of national opinion. Cities covered included Baltimore, Los Angeles, Miami, St. Paul, Atlanta, Dallas, Denver and Pittsburgh among others.

I PLEDGE TO Build New Mexico

I pledge to work unceasingly for the improvement of the health, prosperity, and welfare of all the citizens of New Mexico; to develop and protect our valuable resources, especially to conserve our precious water, both surface and underground.

I pledge to bring more industry and commerce to our State and to help obtain for New Mexico better roads, better schools, and additional defense installations.

Nationally, I pledge to give unstintingly of my time to rid our government of Communist infiltration and corruption; to evolve a positive foreign policy worthy of the men who have died in our wars; to return our nation to a support of the principles which have made it the greatest unit on the face of the earth — the principles of individual liberty, regulated free enterprise, self-government, and justice.

I pledge to work tirelessly for that goal which should be our permanent objective internationally — a permanent world peace.

Dr. and Mrs. Woodbridge of Springfield, Mo., were visitors at the station last week. The Church Guild met at Mrs. Howard's home Friday night, with Mrs. Baker as co-hostess. Delicious pumpkin pie and coffee were served. Diane Shaw celebrated her eighth birthday last week with a party. Her new piano was oh'd and ah'd by all the small fry. Mrs. Baker entertained the ladies bridge club Thursday. Miss Tillotson, Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Ferguson were the lucky winners. Mrs. Bancroft was a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Crevitt of El Paso were weekend guests of the DeFarrs.
