

U. S. A. Keeps Ahead in Steel Capacity

The largest gain in steel capacity ever made in a year — an increase of nearly 20 million net tons during 1952 — has raised the annual capacity in the United States to a record high level, exceeding 117.5 million tons of ingots and steel for castings, as of Jan. 1, 1953, according to steel facts, published by American Iron and Steel Institute.

THANKS FOR THE MEMORIES

By WM. FELTER
We can't erase the things we do,
The record is writ clear;
'Tis woven in the web and woof
That goes to make the year.
Just little things are left to tell—
A flower pressed in a book,
Memory of June, a haunting tune,
A smile, a backward look,
Yet thanks for the memories!
We cannot change the words we speak,
They're gone beyond recall
To cheer a heart or break a heart,
Or lie where they may fall.
They come as ghosts to haunt our dreams,
For words are things that live
Throughout our days, and this
With tears remembering... forgive,
And thanks for the memories!

Game Commission Sets Hunting, Fishing Dates For License Year 1953

The State Game Commission, at its annual spring meeting, prescribed the dates of the hunting and fishing seasons for the 1953 license year beginning Apr. 1, 1953.

As approved, the seasons and bag limits are as follows:
The deer season shall be noon, Nov. 7 to Nov. 18, inclusive. Bag limit shall be one buck deer with at least one forked horn, each fork to be one inch long. The turkey season is the same, noon, Nov. 7 to Nov. 18. One bird limit.

This year, the season is open for the taking of all species of squirrels. Season limit, two squirrels. Firearms required for taking squirrels will be the same as required for turkey. Season dates: Noon, Nov. 7 to 18, inclusive. The taking of squirrels, however, will be prohibited in the Sandia Mountains and the Manzano Division of the Cibola National Forest, as well as the adjacent foothills.

The bear season is divided into three periods as follows: First, noon, Oct. 1 to Nov. 2, inclusive, with or without dogs. Second season, noon Nov. 7 through Nov. 18, inc., without dogs; and, 3rd, Nov. 19 to Nov. 30, inclusive, with or without dogs. The first bear season is not open in Lincoln, Otero, Chavez, and Eddy Counties. Bag limit for the season is one bear.

The Perce elk season for 1953 will be noon Nov. 21 to Nov. 29. Permits will be issued for bulls only having horns longer than the ears. No person who held a permit to hunt elk in New Mexico in 1952 on any area where the hunting grounds were 50 per cent or more public land shall be eligible to receive a permit this year.

All other elk seasons, antelope special deer, and game bird seasons will be set at the August meeting of the Game Commission.

GAME FISH

For trout, the 1953 season will open on May 1 south of Highway 66, May 25 north of Highway 66. The general trout season for both areas closes Oct. 31.

For warm water, or spiny rayed fishes, the season runs from Apr. 1, 1953 to March 1, 1954. Bag limits are as follows: Trout, 12 fish, minimum length 6 inches, no weight limit. Black bass, 3 fish, minimum length 9 inches, no weight limit. Pike perch, 3 fish, minimum length 12 inches. Crappie, 20 fish, no minimum size limit.

White bass, yellow perch, bluegill, green sunfish, bullheads, and other sunfishes, no bag or size limit.

Catfish (all species except bullheads) 10 fish, minimum length 10 inches, weight limit shall be 25 pounds and one fish.

The aggregate bag limit for warm water species which prevailed last year, has been removed by action of the Commission.

Storrie Lake, Bear Canyon Reservoir and the Jicarilla Apache Reservation Lakes (except Burford and Hidden lakes) have been placed on the year-round fishing list after Apr. 1, 1953.

After setting up seasons and bag limits for the coming season, the State Game Commission removed the size and bag limit from trout taken in the South Fork of Bonita Creek in Lincoln County. Commissioners explained the brook trout found in the stream are so numerous that they are undersized and thin. By removing restrictions on size and number, it is hoped the stream will be fished out to a point where the remaining fish will not have to struggle for food and

U. S. Approaching Crisis in Agriculture?

One out of every six Americans are engaged in the production of food. In 1916 one out of every three were doing the same job. And a century ago, 75 per cent of the U. S. labor force was engaged in agricultural pursuits, compared with only 16 per cent today, USDA statistics show.

During recent years, America has become increasingly dependent upon fewer farmers for its food. Because of the many technical advances, America's farmers—likewise—are hopelessly dependent on steel, chemicals, oil, rubber and power.

U. S. farms in 1952 used 7,000,000 tons of finished steel, more than is used in a year's output of automobiles; 50,000,000 tons of chemical materials—five times the amount used in 1935; 16 1/2 billion gallons of crude petroleum—more oil for power than is used by any other industry; and 15 billion kilowatt hours of electrical power—enough to supply Chicago, Detroit, Baltimore and Houston for a year.

U. S. population also increased last year by 7892 per day, thus requiring 112 more tons of food every week—enough additional food to fill an 83-car freight train every year. Food consumption per person is estimated at more than 4 1/2 tons annually. The average adult eats his weight in food every six to eight weeks.

Once a nation of full garbage cans, the U. S. can no longer afford this luxury. Gambling against weather, price, and taxes, the farmer and rancher are in a perpetual quandary. Still, in order to produce to capacity, they must make large annual expenditures.

Intensified research is being carried on to develop agricultural crops which will produce more and better food to meet the increasing demand. With a limited number of uncultivated acres remaining, the U. S. is rapidly approaching a crisis in agriculture.

Lower Prices Reflect Losses to Stockmen

Sale of livestock and livestock products totaled $144 million in New Mexico in 1952 as compared to $194 million in 1951, according to a report issued in the February issue of the New Mexico Cattle Growers' and New Mexico Wool Growers' Associations.

"New Mexico shipped 110 thousand fewer cattle in 1952 than during the 12 months of 1951—505,258 for '52 as compared with 615,687 in '51. This sharp decrease in sales, plus the drop in prices for both cattle and sheep that began in June of last year resulted in a decrease of approximately $50 million dollars in 1952 from the total value of cattle, sheep, dairy and poultry products, etc., which in 1951 totaled $194,719,728. The total of 1952's livestock production was $144,476,288," the New Mexico Stockman said.

"The drop in the total sales of cattle and calves in 1952 occurred largely in the last 3 months of the year, the normally heavy shipping season. Many cattle growers, their eyes on the glutted central markets, held their cattle in the hope of adjustment in the market. Many are still holding them, with large numbers on expensive feed. Thus the total cash return of the industry last year fell to about the 10-year average, 1942-1951," according to the annual survey of the publication.

Declaring records show that a total of 253,729 head of cattle during 1952, an increase of 150, were shipped into New Mexico 400 head over incoming shipments during any recent year, the New Mexico Stockman said: "The large increase in shipments into New Mexico was credited to fair to good range conditions in western and northern New Mexico with cattle moving into ranges in those areas from hard hit drought ranges in Texas and Oklahoma."

"Sheep shipments from the state last year totaled 625,312, an increase of 109,000 head over the 542,681 shipped out in 1951. This increase in shipments resulted in an increase of approximately one million dollars over the gross return for 1951. The wool clip for 1952 and its value are roughly the same as for 1951, an estimated seven million dollars.

Agent Advises Early Ordering of Pesticides

Adequacy of the supply of pesticides for the 1953 crop year may depend on how good a job farmers do in ordering their minimum needs in advance.

Raw materials and production facilities appear to be adequate to meet normal needs this year, according to Ralph R. Dunlap, County Agent. But problems could arise, he says, if there is a sudden rush to buy any particular item. An unexpectedly severe infestation could cause a run on the available stock.

Dunlap urges farmers of Lincoln County to estimate their minimum 1953 pesticide needs and order these amounts as well ahead of the growing season. The producers will be better prepared to supply additional materials if an emergency should arise. Supplies of DDT, benzene hexachloride, lead arsenate, and calcium arsenate are expected to be adequate for normal needs. The same is generally true for such organic phosphorous insecticides as parathion and TEPP and various "trade name" products now used for purposes for which sulphur was formerly the only control. It also appears that the supply of sulphur for use both as a fungicide and as an insecticide, will be equal to expected demand.

Appliance-Dealers Learn of Coop Plan

Cloudercrot-kickoff of the power use and load-building program was Saturday night, Feb. 7, at the Cloudercrot High School. Appliance dealers from Roswell, Greentree, Ruidoso, Tularosa, Alamogordo, Artesia and Cloudercrot were entertained at a banquet given by the cooperative.

The Cooperative's Board of Trustees were represented as well as other personnel and principal speaker was Jay D. Lasater, Manager. Mr. Lasater explained to the dealers the Cooperatives proposed program, outlining the Cooperatives financing plan to its members for purchasing electrical appliances, plumbing fixtures, house wiring and irrigation pumps and motors.

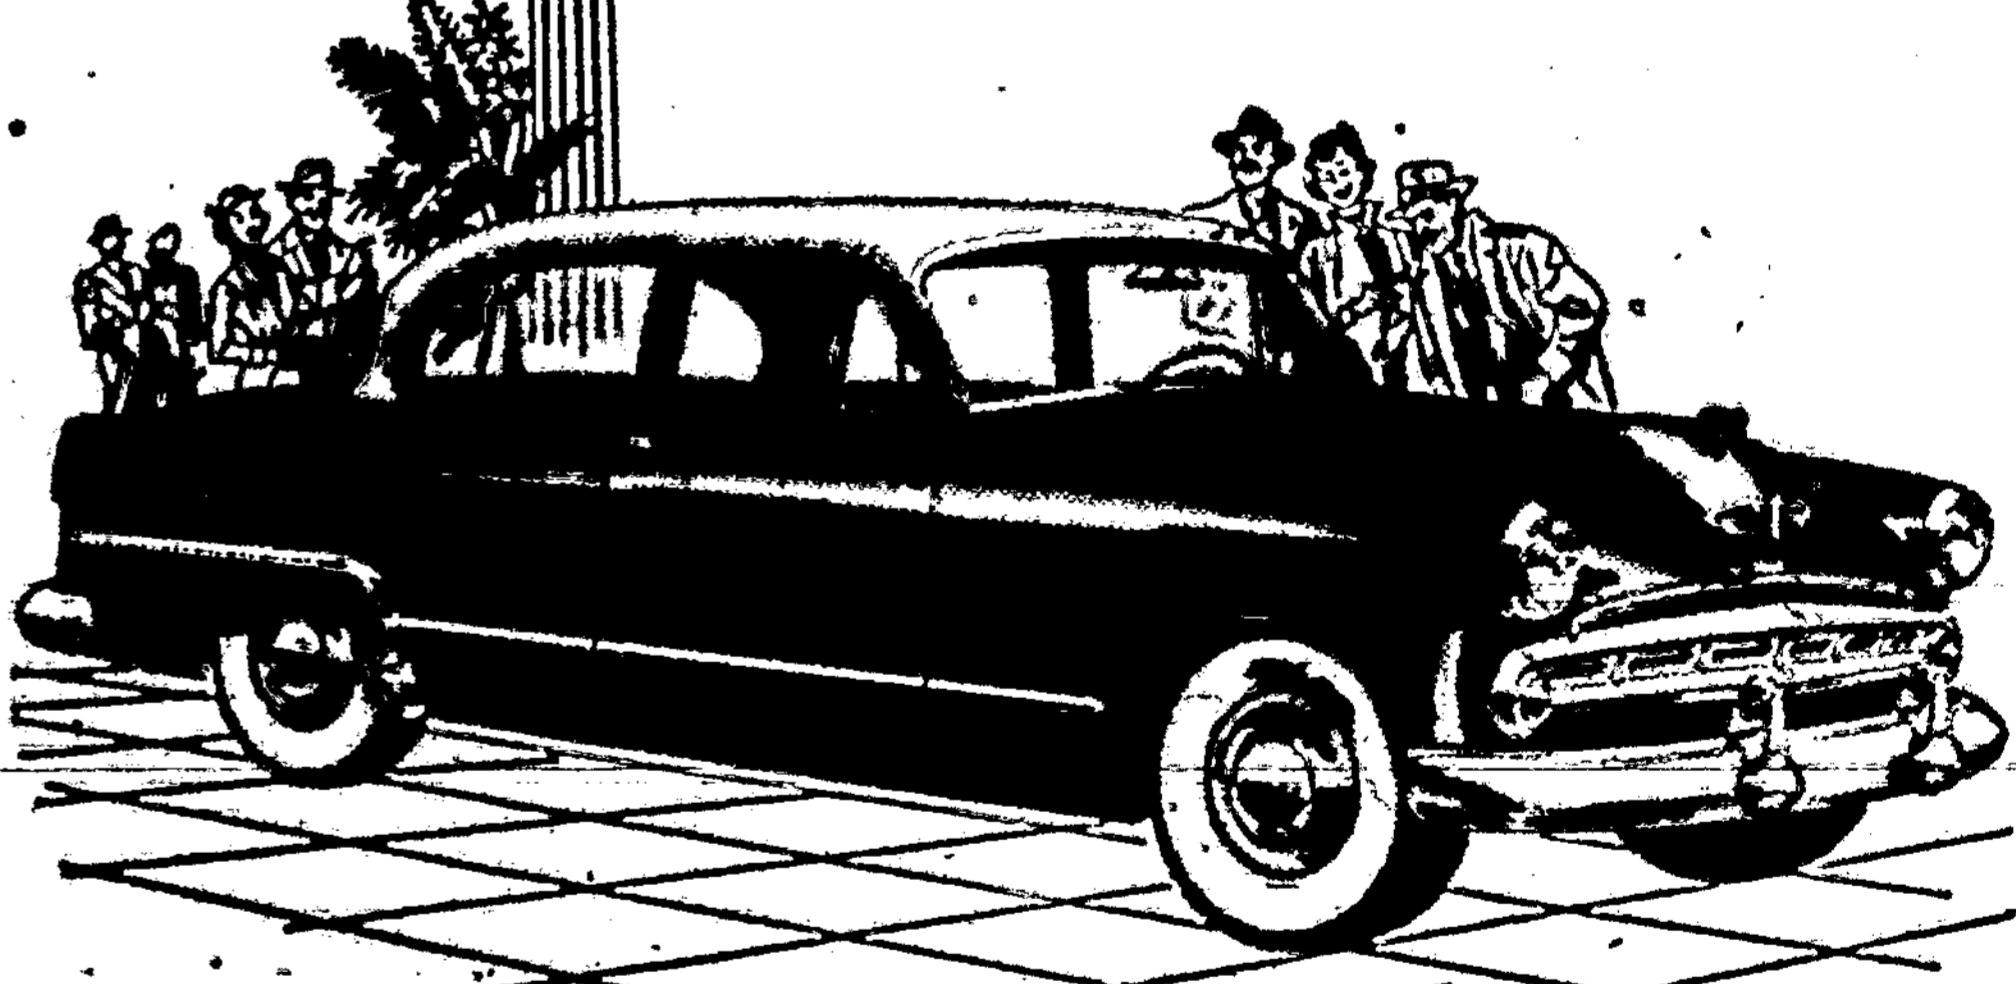

Lasater stated that the Cooperatives power use advisor, Allen E. Moore, was available to all members for advice on their particular problem on the economical use of electric energy, and that plans were under way to conduct several electrical demonstrations over the entire system, which will include electric cooking, laundry demonstrations, and home freezing.

CATTLE ON FEED

The number of cattle and calves on feed in New Mexico was 14 per cent more than a year earlier, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. More than 32,000 head of cattle were on feed in the state at the first of the year. This number approaches the all-time high in 1949, when 33,000 head were on feed in New Mexico.

The total number of cattle and calves on feed in the U.S. on Jan. 1 was 5,828,000, or 16 per cent more than on Jan. 1 last year.

The number of sheep and lambs on feed in New Mexico at the first of the year was three per cent less than last year. The total was 30,000 sheep, compared to 31,000 last year. The state's largest sheep-on-feed population was in 1950 when 36,000 were on feed. The total number of sheep and lambs on feed in the U. S. on Jan. 1 was 3,754,000 head, or seven per cent below the Jan. 1 figure a year ago.

Gila Wilderness Area Established

A new Gila Wilderness Area in the Gila National Forest of Southwestern New Mexico has been established by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. National forest wilderness areas are tracts set aside to preserve natural primitive conditions of habitation and transportation. The new wilderness area embraces 410,000 acres, or about 74 per cent, of the former Gila Wilderness Area, established in 1933. The remaining portions of the old area will be managed as a part of the new area pending further study. The new wilderness area is almost entirely in public ownership and is real wilderness country. The 148,000 acres which will be studied further include lands which have been invaded by automobile roads and some 4,500 acres of privately owned land over which the Department of Agriculture has no jurisdiction. The Forest Service, together with local groups, will continue to study this area to determine whether it should remain wilderness or whether it should be opened up for other uses. Final decision will be made after another public hearing, if there is a demand for such a hearing. At present there are 78 areas, totaling 14,000,000 acres of national forest land in 13 states (mostly in the West) set aside for preservation of the wilderness.

Erosion is the greatest known waster of plant food. In a normal year, erosion removes twenty-one times as much plant food from the soil as plants do. In flight testing a new jet plane, temperature records had to be taken from 96 points on the plane—once every second.

Grizzlies Win and Lose in Weekend Contests

Last Friday night at the Carrizozo High School gym the Grizzlies proved themselves stronger than the Bears. Carrizozo downed Cloudcroft 53-45 after getting off to a quick 15-3 lead in the first stanza. After that, the Bears held their own with the fast-breaking Grizzlies, but they could not overcome the Zozoans.

Gerald King was very much "on" for the locals and swished the net for 16 counters. Aside from King, Coach Hamilton started Candalaria, Wedell, Claude Wilson and Robert Vega. Dillon Lovelace was back in the line-up and took over for the smooth-working Vega when the latter fouled out in the last quarter.

Davis netted 12 for Cloudcroft. In the B game, Zozo edged out a 34-31 win. Barnett scored 11 for the Grizzlies and Parib tallied 9 for Cloudcroft.

The Captain-Carrizozo game played Saturday night in the local gym was in a way a repetition of the previous night's encounter. This time Captain came up with a 16-7 lead in the first quarter and held on for a 53-46 victory. Captain had a little trouble hitting the basket the first few minutes of the game, and Carrizozo enjoyed a temporary lead.

With only a few minutes remaining to play, Candalaria became eagle-eyed from way out and poured in three long set shots for Zozo. A few seconds later Lloyd was fouled and received two shots—one on a personal and one on a technical foul. He made both of them and the score narrowed down to a heart-thumping margin. The rest is history.

In the B game Captain won 49-32. Skipper Harkey sank 8 for Zozo, and Hyde 12 for Captain. Box score of the A game:

LETTERS TO EDITOR

More About Eagles

William Farris of Carrizozo, past president of the White Mountain Game Protective Association, in answer to the controversy the past two weeks on bald eagles, makes the following statements:

"In my 35 years spent as a predatory animal hunter all over the Big Bend Country and part of New Mexico, it has been my experience that bald eagles are not fishermen. They may grab at a fish somewhere, but they do not actually dive into water for them. When an eagle gets into water and becomes wet, it is unable to rise from water.

"The osprey is the fisherman of the family and is often mistaken by many for an eagle.

"Eagles live on small game of all kinds. The eagle can kill a grown sheep or a half-grown deer, but it cannot carry its victim away.

"Eagles roost in the rimrocks and mountains. They hunt in the daytime in the lower hills and flat country. They seldom roost in flat country when mountains are nearby.

"I definitely believe in a bounty for predatory animals. A statewide bounty for eagles will do a lot of good and help everybody, not just a few.

"Once when I was trapping and hunting predatory animals on the I-X Ranch, coyotes and eagles were especially bad. I caught 300 coyotes, besides the bobcats and eagles. Guy Dabney, who was helping me, caught 30 eagles. They had killed many lambs."

Editor, News:

About the time I was ready to sit down and write a letter thanking Mr. Shaul for straightening me out on the turkey and eagle situation, I ran across a fellow with an interesting story. It just happened the man was also with the Game Department and hadn't read Mr. Shaul's letter in last week's paper. He had been in the particular area under discussion, where turkeys were becoming extinct.

This flock was feeding out in a field and the man and his son stopped to watch them. Suddenly the turkeys took to the air and it was hard for him to understand why the sudden excitement. Just then a large golden eagle appeared, hitting one of the turkeys and knocking it down into a fence. In the confusion of eagle, fence, turkey, etc., the turkey got away, but would not have under other circumstances.

That would have been one less turkey for a hunter next Fall, or possibly, if it had been a hen, several less for next season. This eye-witness account by a member of the Department is only one instance of many that could not be seen unless one was on the spot when they happen.

Willis Lovelace informs me that the showing of eagles in the area is spasmodic and in about two weeks there will be another batch in the area. He flies, flots and should know the conditions over the amount of country he has to operate and look after.

The next GPA meeting should be a good one, and if man is not placed on the predatory animal list, maybe we can get a small bounty or expense account, anyway, for some of these boys who want to fly after the eagles. I see nothing wrong with placing a small bounty, if it is made Statewide or covers enough area. I don't think Lincoln County should finance eagle killing outside a specified area. If a man did kill one in Otero, Chaves or Socorro county, that eagle might be sitting on the Courthouse in Lincoln County the same day at noon, if it wasn't killed beforehand. It's the cooperation in an overall program that we're driving for and hope to get.

Sincerely yours,
 S. C. SNOW.

Tournament Dope

Assuming that Carrizozo defeated Weed in the game that was played last night, while the paper was coming off the press, they will face Alamogordo in the District 14 Tourney, at 7 p. m. tonight (Friday) at Alamogordo—provided, that is, that Alamogordo defeated Cloudcroft. But why should I stick my neck out—here is the info from the bracket—you figure it out:

Championship semi-finals:
 Game 5, Friday, 7 p. m.—Winner of Alamogordo-Cloudcroft game vs. winner of Weed-Carrizozo game.

Game 6, Friday, 8:30 p. m.—Winner of Tularosa-Hondo game vs. winner of Captain, Ruidoso game.

Consolation semi-finals:
 Game 7, Saturday, 1 p. m.—Loser of Alamogordo-Cloudcroft game vs. loser of Weed-Carrizozo game.

Game 8, Saturday, 2:30 p. m.—Loser of Tularosa-Hondo game vs. loser of Captain-Ruidoso game.

Consolation finals:
 Game 9, Saturday, 6:30 p. m.—Winners of games 7 and 8.

Championship finals:
 Game 10, Saturday, 7:45 p. m.—Losers of games 5 and 6.

Game 11, Saturday, 9 p. m.—Winners of games 5 and 6.

That's it. All you have to do is to study it a while, and it will be real clear. If it isn't just make camp in the Alamogordo, and you won't miss anything.

FLYING RADAR STATIONS

The flying radar station in one late-model all-weather jet fighter has 405 tubes and 6,000 coils, condensers and resistors. It enables the pilot to locate enemy aircraft in the dead of night, following which an electronic finger pulls the trigger and then a rocket automatically when the enemy plane is in range.

One jet engine generates enough heat to warm 1,372 five-room houses.

Temperatures up to 2,000 deg. are needed to obtain fusion in welding stainless steel for aircraft.

News and Views From Your Nation's Capitol

By JOHN J. DEMPSEY
Congressman from New Mexico

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25—This matter of tax reduction, which was such an easy promise in campaign days, begins to take on the sinister aspect of a "Maybe" with the majority leadership in Congress. There were many promises made to reduce taxes as the campaigners were wooing the public for votes. Some of those promises reached the ultimate of near absurdity, but it was a definite understanding by the public that taxes were to be reduced without delay. Now we are told that tax cuts are secondary to and contingent on reductions in expenditures—upon cuts in the budget; that the tax-reductions cannot be made until the budget cuts are assured. Somewhere in the interim the fervor and the ardor of the campaign wooing seem to have been lost.

We know beyond any question that the budget can be cut. We know that the cutting can be done in the next two months. We know, too, that the majority leadership in the House has said that all appropriations bills should be ready for final consideration by May 15.

Just why, then, should we defer the tax reduction until next year, as some of the leadership is now suggesting should be done? The signals have been confused somehow.

No less an authority than Rep. Daniel Reed, chairman of the Lincoln County Has Wealth of Minerals

(Lincoln County's wealth is not all above the ground. Below the surface of large areas of the county's expanse is untold wealth in minerals—coal, iron ore, lead, copper and silver. In this and subsequent articles, iron ore deposits are described from the information gathered by the University of New Mexico publication on geology, in cooperation with the Geological Survey, Department of the Interior.—Ed.)

JICARILLA DISTRICT

The Jicarilla district comprises scattered gold and iron prospects and mines in the Jicarilla Mountains. The mountains include an irregular circular area about ten miles in diameter southeast of Ancho on the Southern Pacific Railroad. The town of Jicarilla which is six miles from Ancho by road is about the center of the mountains. The highest peaks in the mountains are slightly above 8,000 feet and the general altitude of the surrounding land is 6,000 to 6,500 feet.

The Jicarilla Mountains consist of a large central intrusive bordered by sediments ranging from Triassic to Upper Cretaceous in age. The general effect of the intrusion has been to dome the sediments and expose Permian rocks in considerable areas both west and east of the intrusive. This dome is superimposed on the north end of the large structural basin of Lincoln County. Gold, iron, gypsum, and fire clay have been mined in the Jicarilla Mountains.

formation on the highly controversial subject of whether turning these lands over to the states or to private ownership would be in the public interest.

It has been my observation as governor and as congressman that the subject has been so clouded by misinformation and misunderstanding that the average citizen does not know whether he should favor the plan or not. As far as the State of New Mexico is concerned, I have never been convinced that it would be good business because it has not been shown that the financial benefits the State derives from the lands under federal ownership would be equalled by income the State could derive from them under State or private ownership. The facts an inquiry would bring out might be valuable as well as interesting.

Lincoln County IN BYGONE YEARS

20 Years Ago

Francisco Chavez, 75, one of three surviving natives who fought in the Lincoln County War, died at his home in Lincoln. The living survivors are Francisco Gutierrez of Roswell and I. Salazar of near Lincoln.

W. R. Lovelace of Corona was a Carrizozo visitor Saturday.

Mrs. S. D. Garner visited her husband, who is postmaster at Pecos, on Monday until Wednesday.

Wayne Richard purchased the Harry Miller service station this week.

An address of exceptional interest was given at the high school last week by L. A. Burke, editor of the Carrizozo Outlook. Mr. Burke spoke on the "High Lights in the Life of Lincoln."

Forty Years Ago

(From the files of the Carrizozo News, February 28, 1913)

Henry M. Corn, County Assessor, and Mrs. Mathis were married in Lincoln last week. We were a little late in making the announcement, but as a matter of fact, the contracting parties rather stole a march on us.

Another enterprise for White Oaks which means business prosperity to the camp, is the installation of an extensive cyanide plant with all latest improved appliances and materials. L. C. Barlow is financing the enterprise. The capacity will be 50 tons daily.

It is not probably not generally known that White Oaks has a printing office which does job work and issues a monthly periodical which has a larger circulation than any other paper in Lincoln County, but such is the fact. "Domestic Pets" is the name of the little journal which Wm. F. James publishes and mails to subscribers throughout Lincoln county.

A little daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor of White Oaks. The happy parents gave a hearty welcome to this, the 13th member of their family.

W. R. White and George Killin were down from the Mesa Tuesday. Though a man of peace, "Sailie" believes war with Mexico imminent.

Alamogordo Takes Tournament Finals

Last weekend marked the closing of the basketball season for most of the county teams with the completion of the district tourney. Save for the upsets on the consolation side of the bracket, the District 14 Tourney played at Alamogordo's new gym, came out as expected. Here are the complete scores:

Preliminary:
Alamogordo 66, Cloudcroft 30.
Carrizozo 79, Weed 45.
Tularosa 55, Hondo 22.
Capitán 54, Ruidoso 37.

Consolation Semi-finals:
Weed 45, Cloudcroft 44.
Hondo 38, Ruidoso 23.

Consolation Final:
Hondo 34, Weed 31.

Championship Semi-finals:
Alamogordo 64, Carrizozo 30.
Tularosa 46, Capitán 40.

Championship Finals:
Alamogordo 45, Tularosa 45.
Capitán 45, Carrizozo 31.

First place, Alamogordo.
Second place, Tularosa.
Third place, Capitán.
Consolation, Hondo.

Following the tourney, judges announced the All-Tourney team as follows:

First Team:
Dick Alpine, Alamogordo; Larry Marrujo, Tularosa; Dale Ca-ton, Alamogordo; John Marrujo, Tularosa; Elias Benitez, Alamogordo.

Second Team:
Alfonso Cameroz, Capitán; Kenneth Morris, Capitán; Terry Worley, Alamogordo; Alan Skillet, Ruidoso; Claude Wilson, Carrizozo; Dan Tidwell, Weed.

Undoubtedly the contest of most interest to Lincoln County fans was the Carrizozo-Capitán play-off for third place. Very noticeable in the encounter was the tight defense put up by the Grizzlies. Ken Morris came up with some beautiful hook shots that are hard to stop. Add to that the long set shots thrown in by Eddie Womack, and you just about have the story.

Dillon Lovelace was pretty well hexed in the event, if you want to be superstitious. He forgot his uniform, did a bit of fast borrowing and got on the floor too late for the warm-up wearing gold and black trunks and a blue and red jersey—No. 13!

The box score:

Capitán—	fg	ft	r	pts
Lovelace	0	5	1	5
C. Wilson	3	3	4	9
King	2	5	1	9
Candalaria	2	0	2	4
Wedell	1	0	4	2
Vega	0	0	1	0
Lopez	1	0	0	2
Total				31

Capitán—	fg	ft	r	pts
Werner	3	1	4	7
Ferguson	2	3	5	7
Morris	4	2	2	10
Romero	2	2	0	6
Womack	3	2	0	8
Otero	0	0	2	0
Cameroz	2	3	0	7
Total				45

Tularosa certainly gave Alamogordo a scare in the last quarter when the Wildcats pulled ahead for a few minutes in the first place duel. But the Tigers managed to put out the fire, and won the chance to play in the Regional Tourney as representatives of Dist. 14. Sure hope they win that one.

Hondo gave Ruidoso a surprise, defeating them by 13 points in the consolation semi-final, thus paving the way for the consolation trophy. Weed likewise pulled the unexpected by edging out Cloudcroft.

The Carrizozo Town Team will participate in the Gold Medal Tourney at Ruidoso March 12, 13, and 14. Many, many other outfits from this neck of the woods are signed up for the event, which from all appearances is going to be a mighty fine tournament.

All good things must come to an end. Don't know who said that, and I don't know if anybody considers this column good, unless my wife does, but at any rate it's coming to an end in about two more paragraphs. The sportshead is retiring from the wilderness to Occurra Range Camp to finish another two months Army service at White Sands Frying Grounds, so these sport in Carrizozo will be brief and well taken up with duties around the house.

Any material which coaches or managers wish to send to the News will be welcomed by Mr. Baker, and I know he'll use it if at all possible. News for the Friday paper should be in no later than Monday for best results.

National forest receipts exceeded expenditures by $1,388,871 for the fiscal year 1952.

10 RULES OF SAFETY IN USING FIREARMS

By JOHN SBAUL
Capitán Dist. Game Warden

Our forefathers placed such high value on firearms that they wrote into our Constitution a provision that the right of the people to bear firearms shall not be infringed.

The nation has gone through the stage of being dependent on firearms, and while our food supply does not normally require firearms, millions of Americans supplement their food supply by annually taking about 40 million pounds of wild game during the hunting season.

"The tradition to hunt and the many stories re-lived daily by the younger generation, all requiring the traditional gun, develops a desire in our boys and girls to learn more about firearms.

Many parents ask how old a boy or girl should be to handle firearms. Usually they are old enough when they have shown a sense of responsibility in other fields.

You may ask yourself several questions that may decide whether your child is ready or not. Would you trust him with a confidential message, a large sum of money, or perhaps drive the car himself? In your own mind you can best judge if your child is ready for this responsibility.

If you are not familiar with firearms, talk it over with someone who knows guns and shooting and whose judgment you respect, preferably a member of a shooting club or association. Get acquainted with your local club. The ten commandments for safety are:

1. Treat every gun with respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule of gun safety.
2. Carry only empty guns, taken down or with action open, into your automobile, camp and home.
3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.
4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble. Keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot.
5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.
6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.
7. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload first.
8. Never climb a tree or fence with a loaded gun.
9. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.
10. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

I might add Mr. Barker's slogan: "Be sure it's legal before you shoot."

It takes 0.77 quarts of milk to make one pound of butter.

IN THE SHADOW OF OLD BALDY

By WM. FELTER

The highway winds around a hill. The top wind-swept, of verdure bare; Beneath a canyon, narrow, deep, With water flanked by verdure fair.

Far off the distant mountain tops With purple twilight shadows blend; White splashes, dotted o'er the plain; Sheep grazing, pastoral setting lend.

A mile, no more, it seems to where A mesa juts athwart the way. I make a note; 'tis more than five, Yet who could cut the corners pray?

With air so balmy one could wish Each hour would multiply by five. Here in New Mexico, I find New joys that throng, old hopes alive.

For skies are bluer here, I ween, Than any place I've ever known; A bit of paradise on earth... Some rince here I'd rather own Than all New England's rocky soil.

Here I could be content the while, Somewhere, some place, all worries gone, To dream, to lounge about to smile.

Pies and pastry often fall because of over-mixing flour and fat.

On the losing team, Carl P. Radcliff was high point man, with five points, followed by Dan Salas, with three. Wilbur McKnight and Augustine Silva each scored one point.

During the games, the cheering was so wild and the interest was so high that at times it was difficult to hear the referee's whistle. The cheering sections for the two teams put on some spectacular organized cheering.

On behalf of the P.T.A., thanks to the referees, Al Booky and Albert Montes; the score keepers, headed by McKinley McTelgué; the High School band, directed by Jess R. Lara; the team captains, R. C. Two Mayors Praise Work of Farm Bureau

Two Lincoln County mayors this week endorsed the membership drive of the New Mexico Farm and Livestock Bureau — Mayor Marvin H. Roberts of Carrizozo, and Mayor S. E. Grelsen of Capitan.

Said Mayor Roberts: "When the American Farm Bureau was organized in 1919 its purpose was stated . . . to promote, protect and represent the business, economic, social and educational interests of the farmers of the Nation, and to develop agriculture."

"The Federation, having to learn its job from scratch, made some errors. But it did arouse national attention and widespread comment. It put agriculture on the map as never before."

Mayor Grelsen commented: "Today we find the Nation putting more and more responsibility on the shoulders of the sound and independent thinking rural people. It wants to know what programs are good for agriculture, what we think of inflation controls, taxes, price and wage controls, price ceilings, foreign spending, universal military training, decentralization, and freedom for the individual."

"If the Farm Bureau accepts these increased responsibilities, it must, first have an organization to work through; but one with participating and loyal members. Secondly, the organization must be run by the membership. Therefore, they must also finance it by yearly dues. A third necessity is to have an organization that has size and courage to carry out the convictions of the majority of its membership."

H. J. R. Would Earmark Motor Vehicle Fees

Before the legislature is a proposed amendment to the Constitution providing that money derived from motor vehicle fees, licenses and gasoline taxes, etc., can be used only for public roads, highways and streets, and related purposes. Including motor vehicle license fees in this amendment earmarks money for road purposes which do not rightly belong in that category, according to the Taxpayers Association of New Mexico.

Prior to 1929, motor vehicles were placed on the property tax rolls and were subject to general property tax levies. Motor vehicle registration fees were a minimum and the proceeds were divided, two-thirds to the State Road Fund and one-third to the County road fund. The 1929 legislature provided cars should no longer be placed on the tax roll. At the same time, it substantially increased the rates and provided for a new distribution of the proceeds which would reimburse the various state, county, city and school funds, which lost property tax revenue as a result of the change.

The 1929 Act provided that 37% be put in the State Road Fund, 21% in the State General Fund and 25% was sent to the County Treasurers to be distributed among the county, city, and school funds in the same proportion as property taxes levied. This distribution was intended to approximate the losses from property taxes. These percentages have been changed several times since 1929. In 1947 the percentages were set at 45% to the State Road Fund, 30% to the County Treasurer for the County Roads, 10% to the State General Fund and 15% for distribution among the county, city and school funds in proportion that property taxes are levied.

Caution Urged in Use of Insecticides

By RALPH DUNLAP

Spraying for 1933 insect pests will soon start and I would like to warn the insecticide users to follow the directions on the package when using any insecticide especially the organic phosphates such as parathion, metacide TEPP and HEPT.

While extremely effective as insecticides the organic phosphates are also highly poisonous to human beings if inhaled, absorbed through the skin or swallowed.

Repeated breathing or skin contacts, even in small amounts of the insecticide may cause poisoning without definite symptoms arising. The residues of the organic phosphates build up in the body when used over a spraying season and thereby makes a person susceptible to phosphate poisoning for a considerable time afterwards. The symptoms are blurred vision, cramps and chest tightness.

Here are the precautions:

1. Get an emergency supply of 1/100-grain Atropine tablets from your physician, or call him at once in cases of suspected poisoning, take two tablets immediately.

2. Do not breathe dust or vapor or get organic phosphate on the skin, in the eyes or on clothes.

3. Wear a respirator and rubber gloves. Change clothing often.

4. Wash hands and face immediately after leaving the sprayed area.

5. Do not use inside buildings or near warm-blooded animals.

State Cattle Growers Prepare for Convention

All major New Mexico livestock groups are planning meetings in Albuquerque the week of March 29 in conjunction with the 39th Annual Convention of the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association, according to Ed Heringa, Clayton, president.

The cattlemen will meet the evening of March 29 and all day March 30 and 31 with an expected attendance of 3,000 livestock producers. "We welcome the cooperation of these other livestock organizations in calling their meetings at time of our convention," Heringa said.

E. N. Jeffers, Springer, president of the New Mexico Hereford Association, has announced the annual convention of his organization for Sunday afternoon, March 29, in the Hilton Hotel.

Other groups planning sessions during the cowmen's convention, include: Directors of New Mexico Aberdeen Angus Association, Wayne Burford, Texico, president.

New Mexico Quarter Horse Association, W. R. Thompson, Santa Rosa, president.

New Mexico Palomino Horse Breeders Association, Mrs. Leon H. Harms, Albuquerque, secretary.

New Mexico Cattle Sanitary Board, George A. Godfrey, Antmas, chairman.

New Mexico Sheep Sanitary Board, A. S. MacArthur, Wagon Mound, chairman.

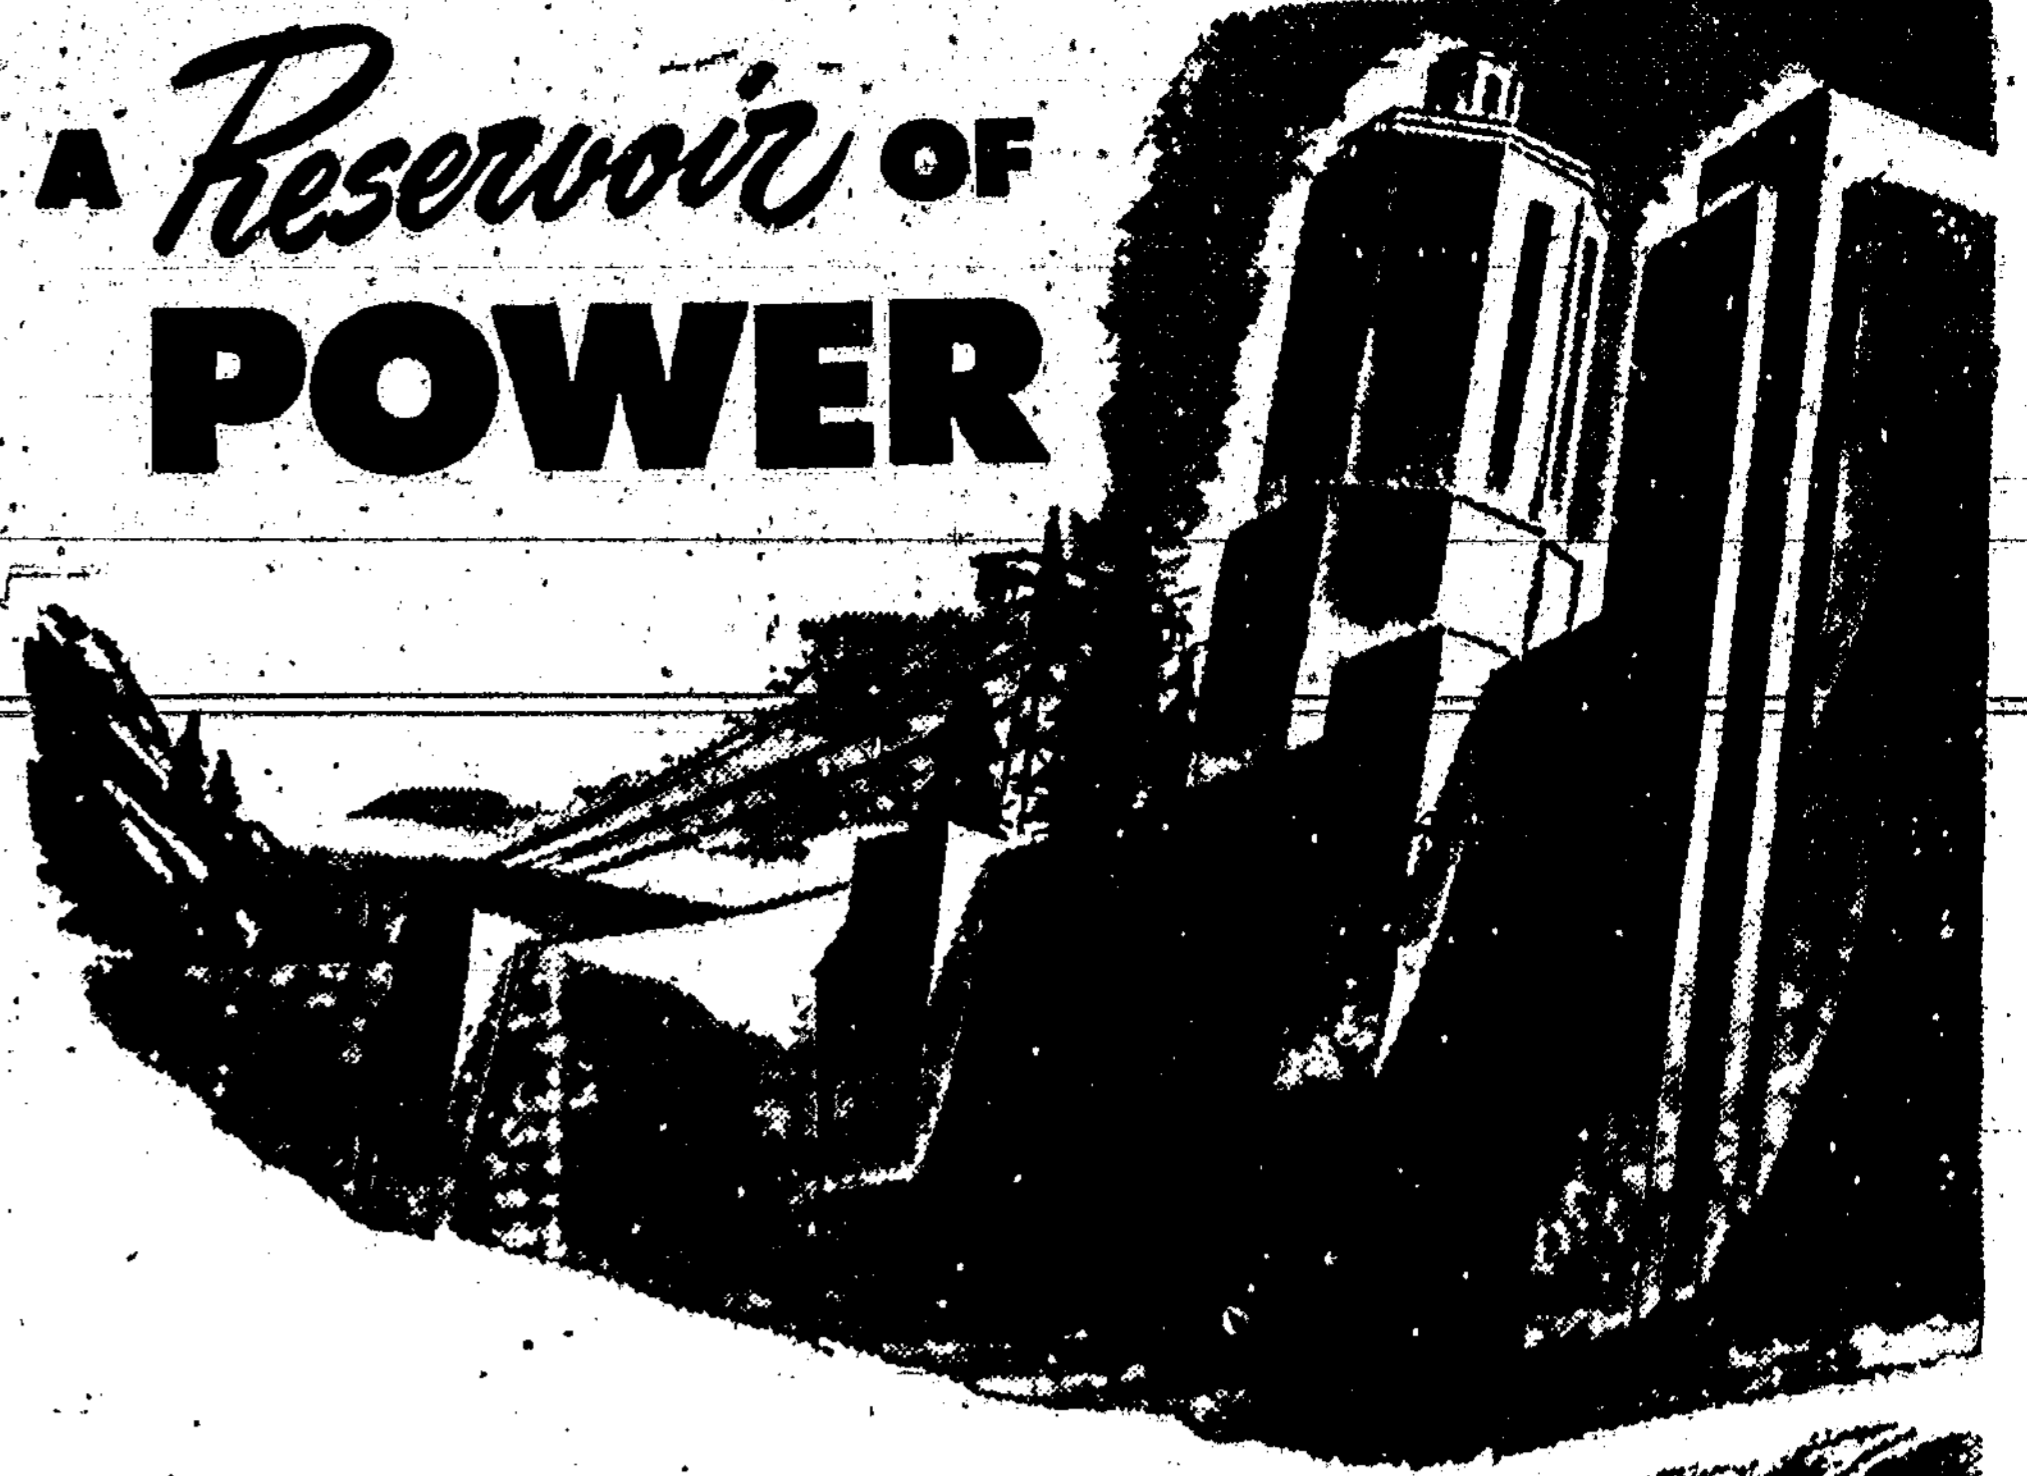

Albuquerque Production Credit Association, Floyd W. Lee, San Mateo, president.

According to the Association, the amendment will mean a loss of about $175,000 a year to the State General Fund, $318,000 loss to school funds, $180,000 to County funds other than roads, and $125,000 loss to city funds other than street funds. If this amendment is allowed to pass as it now stands, it is possible that it will be necessary to put automobiles back on the tax rolls in order to replace the funds that are lost to the cities and counties and schools, and the general funds of the state, the Taxpayers Association points out.

THE STRONGER THE DAM
THE MORE USEFUL ITS RESERVOIR

Just as New Mexico river dams safeguard New Mexico's water supply — usually to hold it in reserve until it is needed for irrigation, sometimes to generate power — so the NEW MEXICO FARM AND LIVESTOCK BUREAU protects the rights of New Mexico farmers and ranchers . . . serves continuously as a force to win new economic gains for them and their products and families. Already strong, dependable, it forms a stop-gap against discriminations that once existed and could be revived if the Farm Bureau should falter or fail.

CASH PRIZES UP IN MEMBER RACE

Three cash prizes of $30 each are offered by the State Farm Bureau—one to the county getting the highest per cent of its quota; one to the county signing most members; one to the county signing most NEW MEMBERS—prize money to pay for sending delegates to the Western Region Conference in Oregon or AFDF Institute in Illinois.

To the team captain whose workers sign most members goes a pair of Tony Lama cowboy boots; to the team of two workers who sign most members, a Stetson hat each.

Statewide Membership Campaign Set for Week of Mar. 8-14

State President Delmar Roberts says:

"If agriculture organizations were to disappear tomorrow, within a very short time their praises would be sung by even those who have never supported them.

"Acting as individuals, farmers and ranchers have comparatively little influence. Acting together in the best interests of the nation, they are a powerful force. . .

"Farmers and ranchers can only be served by organizations that are made up of agricultural people, led by our own leaders, financed entirely by us and run in the interests of the men and women on the farms and ranches. . ."

Should Agriculture be Organized? Why?

1. Only the voice of the organized is heard.
2. Groups from which you buy are organized.
3. Groups to which you sell are organized.
4. Legislation is swayed by the organized.
5. The U. S. is ruled by the organized.
6. Who shall speak for the farmers and the ranchers. . .

Cooperative and commodity interests?
City business men?
Labor leaders?
Governmental agencies?
OR

Farmers and Ranchers — through their own farm-ranch organization?

Pipe Line Surveyors Working Near Corona

There have been several surveyors staying in Corona the past two weeks. They are surveying for the new pipeline that will cross New Mexico taking gas from Texas to California. Five of the men are staying at the Wade apartments.

Head surveyor is Tom Shockman, La Moure, N. D., and his assistants are Bud Lockley of Tucason and George Joseph of El Paso. Other assistants are Lewis Smith from near Lincoln, Dale Parrott from Oklahoma and W. Ferrier from St. Louis.

The new line will pass south of Gallinas Station, probably 15 miles north of Corona. It is estimated about 400 men will be used in putting in the line.
