

RAMBLIN' AROUND

By PAUL BAKER

Many places of business in Carrizozo will be closed the Fourth, so the advice to "shop early" is timely if we want to have groceries for Sunday morning breakfast.

Our boys in Korea will be shooting off the fireworks for the fourth year in a row, while their folks and friends at home somberly reflect on the sacrifices they are making for us.

Through no fault of our own, the war we have been fighting in Korea may prove to be the most futile in our history. With the half-hearted support of most of the United Nations signatories, we have stalled aggression, and at the same time containing the war in Korea.

For several years our "Voice of America" has been trying to match the Russian-Communists in a war of words. Maybe the master minds of Moscow did invent canoes, bubble gum and rubber boots.

John Brown, back from a trip to Texas, was asked if it was hot there. "Hot!" he repeated. "Man, you don't know what hot is. All I did was sit in an air-conditioned home watching TV."

Sixty-two cowboys and ranchmen came in to Big Jo's Saturday to be given a free lasat. I didn't get mine, mainly because I don't own a ranch.

Uncle Sam has finally decided to take the Post Office Department out of the red and put it on a break-even basis. Hence there has been a 100% across-the-board increase in box rentals.

Our friend Doughbelly Price in Taos is on the air again. Seems he met a man the other day who said: "Doughbelly, you are just plain ignorant. I don't like the way you write. You will never get no whies?"

She got her by the sword, O Freedom. Now let them fly like a banner. For this enemy never sleeps. And you must watch and combat.

As Benjamin Franklin left Independence Hall, a woman asked Mrs. Franklin, "What kind of a government have you given us?" He answered gravely, "A Republic, madam, if you can keep it."

Ceremony Wednesday Marked Transfer of Ft. Stanton to State

Fort Stanton Hospital, its equipment and supplies, passed from Federal to State control in a historic ceremony shortly before noon Wednesday. The transfer, which broke all precedents for putting governmental red tape, took place on the hospital entrance steps overlooking the plaza.

Gov. Edwin L. Mechem was unable to be present, having scheduled an important conference in Washington on drought relief for New Mexico. Both the governor and Mr. Simpson were highly praised by speakers who followed on the program for the speed with which they acted to keep Fort Stanton from being closed.

PATIENTS MOVED IN

The State lost no time in starting to use its new property. Before the transfer ceremonies were over, the first patients arrived at the hospital—eight women and three men from the State hospital in Socorro.

"GREAT THING FOR N. M."

Dr. Barfield, medical director, in a short talk said he had "Prayed for such a thing as this to happen." He said the facilities at Fort Stanton would add immeasurably to those at Socorro, which were inadequate.

"LONG STEP FORWARD"

In presenting the hospital to the State, Col. Mankinen said that a month ago he looked forward to this day with no sense of happiness. However, he continued, much has happened since. "This is a long step forward for New Mexico in providing medical service for its citizens."

No. 71 Had Mishap; Forced Out of Race

Harold Wardrip, driving the Carrizozo entry, No. 71, was leading in the third race at the Alamo track Sunday, until a mishap forced him out of the race. A 4-car collision knocked No. 71 clear off the track.

Traffic Survey Being Made in Ruidoso Area

At the request of the State Highway Commission, a survey is being conducted of traffic on portions of Highways 37 and 70 near Ruidoso, during the months of June, July and August. Repr. L. S. BALLOTS CHALLENGED

The recount that's going on is something like no New Mexico election official ever dreamed of. First off, all the people who voted are given a super-check on their right to vote. That's the registration investigation. In every precinct some unqualified ones are found and that means the secret numbers on the ballots must be opened to find the ballots that are to be thrown out.

AMENDMENT GIVES GOVERNOR MORE TIME TO ACT ON BILLS

(Voters of New Mexico will vote on 11 constitutional amendments next September 15. In this and subsequent issues the News will print the amendments and an explanation preceding the text of each. The material was prepared by Joe Wood at the request of Rep. Alvin Stockton.)

COMMENTS ON PROPOSED AMENDMENT No. 3

Extension of Time Limit on Governor's Approval of Bills— Senate Joint Resolution No. 13 proposes to amend Article 4, Section 22 of our Constitution. This section relates to veto of bills by the governor. At present the governor must approve or disapprove all bills presented to him DURING the legislative session within three days after the bill is presented to him. If he does not act on them within that three days, they become law without his signature. This proposal would not change this provision. The Resolution recognizes the fact, however, that most of the bills are passed during the closing days of the session. The Constitution provides that all bills presented to the governor during the last three days of the session must be approved or disapproved by him within six days after adjournment.

A bill presented to the governor during the last three days, which is not approved by him does not become law. This proposed amendment would extend this six days to 20 days—thus the governor would have 20 days in which to act on bills presented to him during the last three days of the session.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

SEAMAN, NOT FIREMAN

Editor, News: In this week's issue I noticed a picture and article about my husband, Clarence Hust, who is now serving aboard the USS Cimarron. Just for the record, he was a seaman and not a fireman.

MRS. CLARENCE HUST.

SEN. CLINTON F. ANDERSON REPLIES TO QUESTION

Editor, News: A recent issue of your paper contains comments by State Senator J. G. Moore on the position which I have taken with reference to the Fort Stanton Hospital. You have printed his charge that I am more interested in selling the Fort Stanton Ranch to a few of my friends at a give-away price than in allowing the State to benefit from the use of the land.

Nothing could be farther from the truth. In the first place, I have never had an application from a friend to help him acquire this ranch. I have made no effort to help any person—whether friend or not—to acquire it. Anyone who has access to the truth will know that I have not.

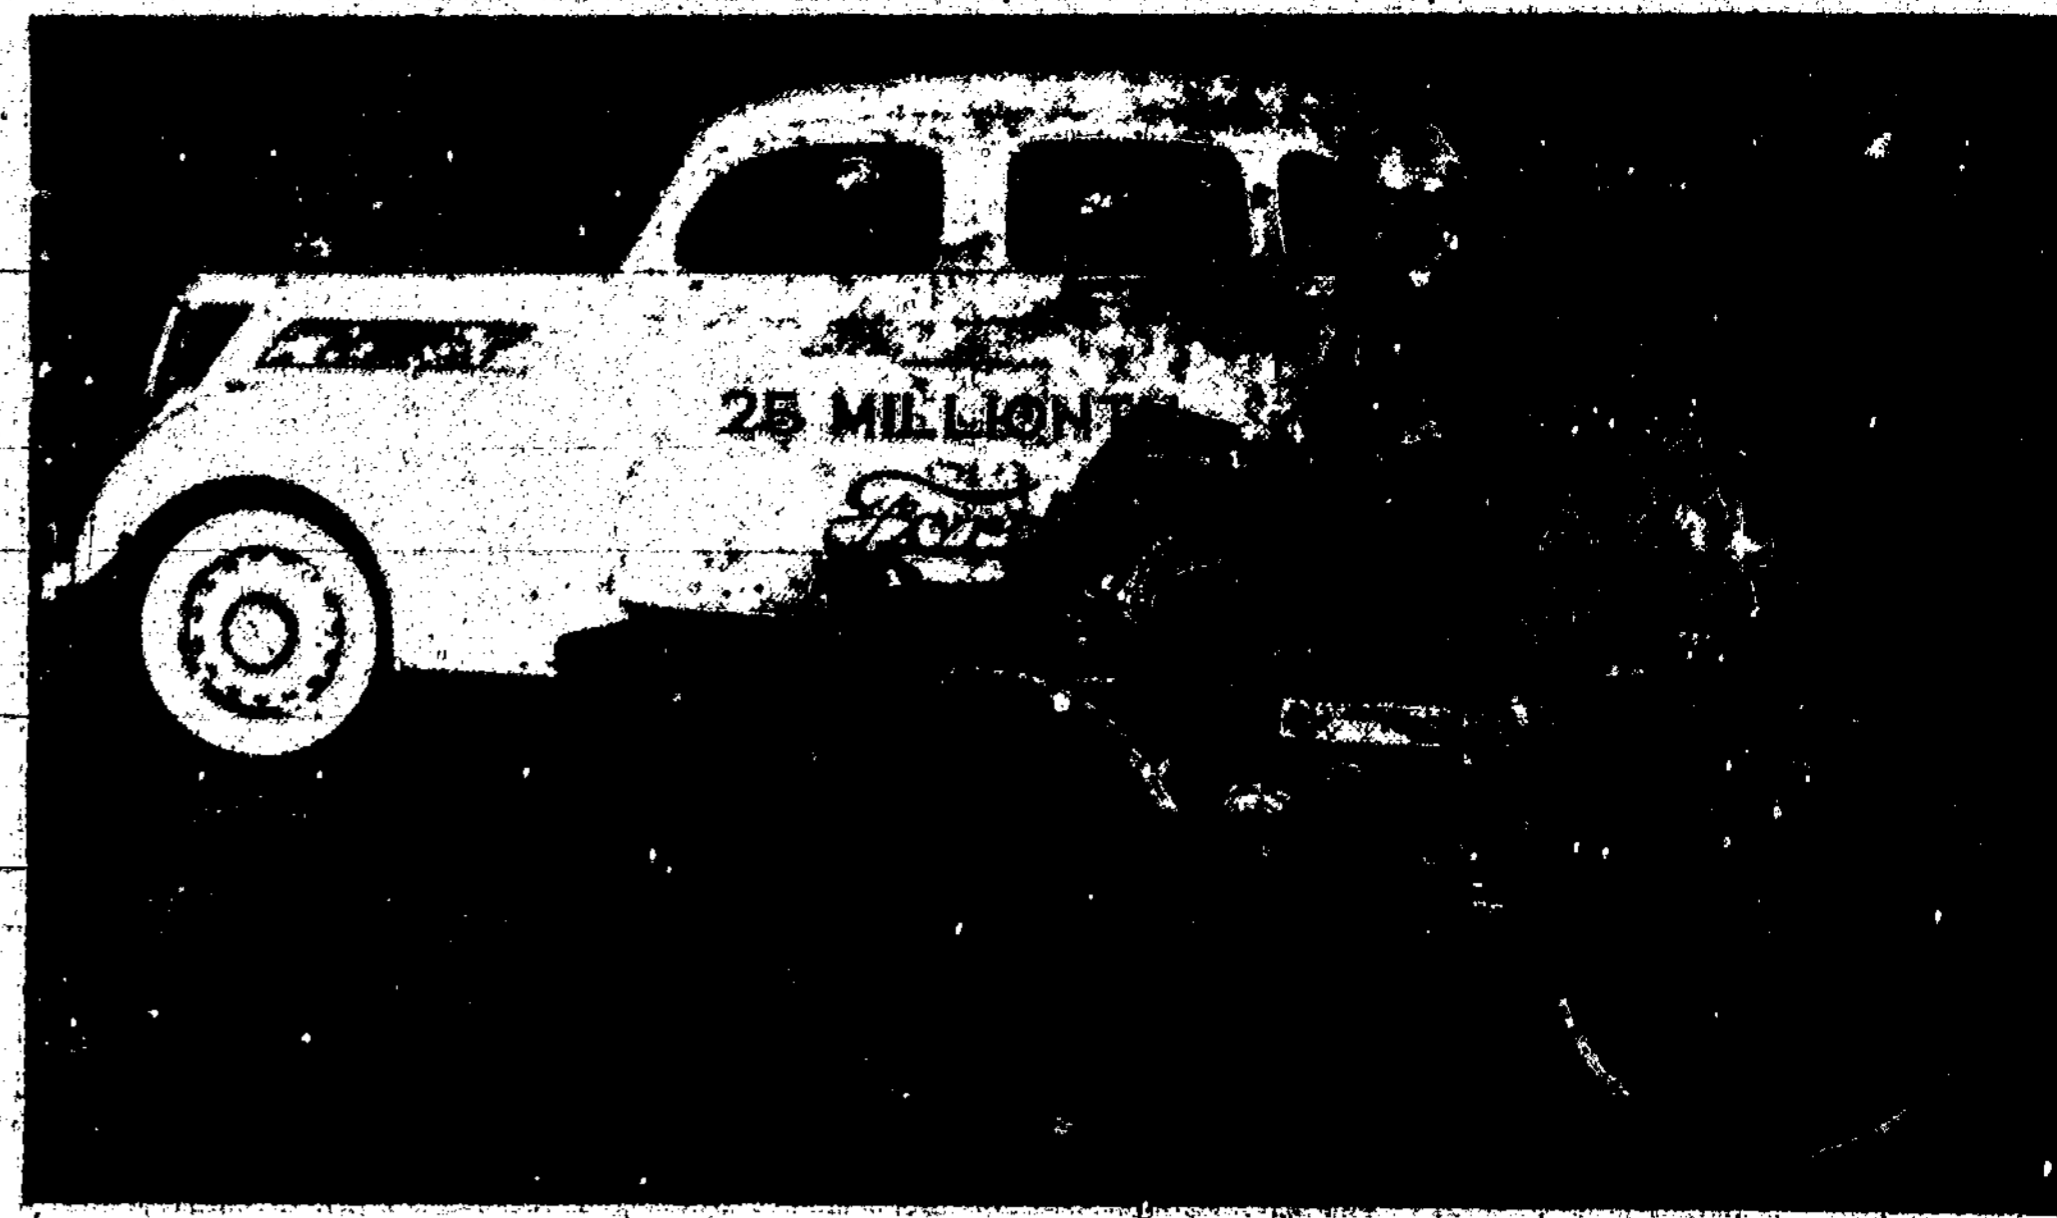

There were rumors repeated to me by sincere friends of Fort Stanton who tried as I did to keep it as a government hospital that they felt certain political people wanted the hospital closed so that they might get the ranch. I joined Mrs. Coe in her valiant effort to try to keep the hospital open as a government operation. We were both disappointed when it was ordered closed. In my opinion, it should have been retained and used by the Government.

One of the difficulties in keeping it open was its tremendous operating cost to the Government. The figures are easily available and have been supplied to me officially. The hospital cost $614,418 in fiscal year 1953, as near as the Government could estimate. In addition, the ranch, which could operate at a profit, lost over $15,000. My point has been that the State should Teachers Better Paid Now — SANTA FE, June 30 — New Mexico public school teachers will be paid an average of more than $3800 for the year beginning in September. This will represent well over four times the $889 average pay for teachers in this state in 1933-34, as shown by a table released today by the Taxpayers Association of New Mexico.

a stand, but much of it is 10 days to 3 weeks late because of the cold, windy weather which retarded growth during the early part of May.

Approximately 1,800 acres of carrots have been planted in the Grants-Bluewater area. Harvesting of 135 acres of peas in this same area should get underway during the second week of July.

If all vehicles built by Ford Motor Company were placed end to end, they would stretch 110,953 miles—approximately half-way to the moon. A good bit of that distance had been covered by Jan. 18, 1937, when Edsel Ford, then president of the company, posed with the 25,000,000th Ford passenger car—a V-8. Henry Ford is seated in his first car, built in 1899.

be careful not to be so anxious to get a nice piece of ranch land which the Public Welfare Board could lease to some cattleman that the State of New Mexico would involve itself in an annual outlay running a half million dollars.

I agree completely with Senator Moore that this land is worth more than $2.50 per acre but I would remind both him and your paper that the Associated Press quoted Mr. Alvin Simpson and not me as saying that the land was appraised at only $2.50 an acre and quoted Mr. Simpson as saying that most of it is mountains. The Associated Press on June 12 carried that statement. I have contended that the land is probably worth $20 an acre and that it sold would possibly reach that figure or more, but surely would not be less than $15 per acre.

Steadily through the years the cattleman of New Mexico and other taxpayers have opposed adding to the Federally-owned lands in New Mexico. These groups have contended that the Government should not have taken as much land as it did near the Alamogordo Bombing Range. I tried to help them keep down the amount of Federal land taken in our State. When the Government is through with the use of Federally-owned land, I don't see what is wrong in trying to get it back on the tax rolls. If this ranch were to be sold for $300,000 to a private party, it would surely be assessed for $150,000 and turn several thousand dollars of tax money to the State and the County each year. I imagine that the finances of Lincoln County are such that the additional revenue from taxes could be usefully employed.

At least you should keep the record straight. I think the hospital should have been kept open by the Government. I think that people with tuberculosis get well faster in the dry, sunny Southwest. I'm glad the State of New Mexico has the money to keep the hospital open. I am opposed to selling the 27,000 acre ranch to some private party at a low price. I am opposed to the State leasing it to some cattleman for 3 cents an acre which is the rate at which much of our State land is now leased. The rental at 3 cents an acre is barely the interest on a valuation of $1 an acre and means nothing as taxes to Lincoln County. If the land should be sold at its true value of around $20 per acre, some good cattleman would move onto it and he would be a taxpayer and a good citizen.

I hope that answers the question raised in Senator Moore's interview in which he wants to know at what price I would like for the Public Health Service to sell the land. I would want to see the Government sell it at public auction to the highest bidder.

I am happy that the State is going to take over the Fort Stanton Hospital because I assume it has made a study of the costs and has decided that it can afford the half million dollars which may be the annual expense. The Finance Board can answer that better than I can.

Finally, I think your paper should point out that part of our responsibility as public officials is to use our best efforts to see that the State and the Government do not constantly go into business ventures in competition with private business. Surely the cattleman of our State can produce the beef necessary to be eaten in our institutions. They have surplus cattle now. I don't mind convicts making bricks, but I don't believe the State should go into ranching in competition with its livestock people. Most taxpayers will agree with that viewpoint.

Sincerely yours,
CLINTON F. ANDERSON.

Pacific Fruit Express Puts New Refrigeration Cars into Service

The first 14 cars in a fleet of mechanically refrigerated railroad cars, built by the Pacific Fruit Express Co. shops at Roseville, Calif., are now rolling frozen foods to markets.

First of these 14 cars was loaded in Oregon early in May. Another 11 such cars, to make a total of 25, are scheduled for completion early in July, with 100 more to be ready early next year.

Pacific Fruit Express Co., which is owned jointly by B. P. and Union Pacific railroads, describes the cars as "super-giants," longer than conventional ice refrigerated cars and with insulation 30% thicker. They are designed especially for frozen foods, and are capable of maintaining zero temperatures with mechanical refrigerators powered by individual diesel engines mounted in a compartment at one end of the cars.

C. O. Brewster, local agent for the Southern Pacific, reports that cantaloupe shipments from California have been going through Carizozo for the past week, at the rate of several trainloads a day. Early shipments of grapes are also on their way to eastern markets.

Ruthenium, one of the precious platinum group metals, must be heated to a temperature of 4530 degrees Fahrenheit before it will melt.

SANTA FE CROP REPORT DESCRIBES SOUTHWEST DROUGHT

The Santa Fe Crop report for July states that the main topic of discussion wherever agricultural people gather in Santa Fe territory is the continued hot, dry weather in the Southwest. Following the lowest temperatures on record for May 14 in many areas, a heat wave beginning on May 21 has broken practically all records for intensity and duration, and is now going into its fifth week in many areas with no relief in sight. This has forced the 1953 wheat crop to maturity ahead of schedule and resulted in almost near perfect conditions for harvest.

Harvesting of the New Mexico wheat crop is near completion with a total production of less than 1,000,000 bushels. Some areas have been able to secure stands of sorghums where adequate moisture has been received, but many fields are still too dry. Cotton in the irrigated areas of New Mexico is up to

How To Photograph Children

Points add interest to pictures of children.

Have looked in the parent folder who doesn't carry a camera, of his offspring in his wallet. But unfortunately, few of the parents do better in the field, according to Weegee, famed news and first class photographer and author.

Weegee, whose name has become synonymous with the unusual in photography, has just written a new 64-page booklet called "How to Photograph Children." It is a practical guide to taking the best possible pictures of children in their own homes.

When a camera is photographing their children, Weegee says, the parent should be at the controls of the camera and not the child. The best way to photograph children is to take them to a place where they can be photographed in their own homes.

What are the things that make your child individual—different from other children? He may have an unusual way of acting, walking, laughing. These are the things which give a photograph its desirable quality of life. Weegee advises, "Every child is a natural actor. If you have a family pet, the result will be a true, fascinating record of your child's life against the background of natural surroundings—his home."

For details on how to get this booklet, see your local photographic dealer or write Weegee, c/o The Associated Press, Dept. 100, New York, N. Y.

Here are color schemes suggested by Beatrice West, color consultant, for two popular styles of modern design. The numbers indicate where colors are used. For an expansion-style house, left, she suggests: 1—Dark green blend asphalt roof shingles. This color is only moderately dark and creates an illusion to make the house seem lower than it actually is. 2—Dark green siding. This matches the dominant green in the roof. 3—Off-white for trim, garage door and the fence. 4—Coral accent color for the door. For a Colonial style dwelling, right, her recommendations are: 1—Pastel blue roof. 2—Gray-blue siding. 3—White shutters and trim. 4—Blue accent for the door. Note that the usual color plan has been reversed. Siding is dark and shutters are light, instead of the reverse. This gives a color plan that is modern without sacrifice of traditional feeling.

Architect's Suggestions On Face-Lifting a Bungalow

Modernizing the exterior of a bungalow like the one pictured below is a problem, as the hundreds of thousands of persons who own similar ones know. But some changes can help—such as those suggested in the drawings by Architect Erwin James of Chicago for Home Modernizing magazine.

The bungalow (left) has been made more handsome by cleaning up the roof lines and adding more modern windows.

The door is moved to the front, entrance brick work replaced.

More glamorous window treatment added—the popular window wall.

JUNIPER CONTROL TEST PLOT NEAR ANCHO

A juniper control test plot under the supervision of Dr. J. J. Norris and K. A. Valentine of the New Mexico Experiment Station, has been established on the B. W. Wilson ranch near Ancho. Purpose of the test is to determine the effectiveness of certain chemicals in controlling juniper plants, especially those of the one-seed and Rocky Mountain varieties.

GI Insurance Proving Popular With Vets

Nearly nine times as many veterans now have the special post-Korea GI term life insurance policy as had it a year ago, Veterans Administration has announced.

These policies are the 5-year nonconvertible, nonparticipating term life insurance for which eligible post-Korea veterans must apply to VA within 120 days of their discharge or separation from service.

Eligible for this insurance are those post-Korea veterans with service in the U. S. Armed Forces anywhere in the world since June 27, 1950, the start of the Korean hostilities, who were ordered to active service for a period in excess of 30 days and who were entitled to the free indemnity protection of the law.

These policies may be renewed every five years at the premium rate for the then-attained age. They may not be converted to any other type of GI life insurance, nor are they entitled to dividends under the law. But the premium cost for most ages is the lowest of all other types of GI life insurance administered by VA.

One part of the legislative process is to "enroll and engross." This is the process by which bills which have been passed by both houses are typed in final form and proof read for accuracy. Because of the large number of bills which were passed during the closing days of the last session, a large number of bills were not enrolled and engrossed and presented to the governor for his action until close to the expiration of the six days period. The amendment is designed to prevent this extremely tight time schedule for winding up legislative activities.

TEXT OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT No. 3
(Joint Resolution No. 13)

A JOINT RESOLUTION
Proposing to amend Article 4, Section 22 of the Constitution of the State of New Mexico, by increasing the number of days in which the governor may approve bills after the adjournment of the legislature.

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of New Mexico: Section 1. It is hereby proposed to amend Article 4, Section 22 of the New Mexico Constitution to read as follows:

Every bill passed by the legislature shall, before it becomes law, be presented to the governor for approval. If he approves, he shall sign it, and deposit it with the secretary of state; otherwise, he shall return it to the house in which it originated, with his objections, which shall be entered at large upon the journal; and such bill shall not become a law unless thereafter approved by two-thirds of the members present and voting in each house by yeas and nays vote entered upon its journal. Any bill not returned by the governor within three days, Sundays excepted, after being presented to him, shall become a law, whether signed by him or not, unless the legislature by adjournment prevent such return. Every bill presented to the governor during the last three days of the session shall be approved by him within twenty days after the adjournment and shall be by him immediately deposited with the secretary of state. Unless so approved and signed by him such bill shall not become a law. The governor may in like manner approve or disapprove any part or parts, item or items of any bill appropriating money, and such parts or items approved shall become a law, and such as are disapproved shall be void unless passed over his veto, as herein provided.

Section 2. The amendment proposed by this resolution shall be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection at the General Election in November, 1954 or at any Special Election prior to that date which may be called for such purpose.

LINCOLN COUNTY IN BYGONE YEARS

20 Years Ago
(From the files of the Lincoln County News, June 30, 1933.)

A quaint old-fashioned charn, marked the simple home ceremony when Miss Juandell Shook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Shook of Alto, became the bride of George L. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Phelps White, of Roswell.

Honoring their son, Maurice, who has left to enter West Point, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lemon entertained the following young men at a stag party: Walter LaFleur, Mack Shaver, Poe Corn, George Young, Truman Spencer, Lesnet Anderson, Tennis Bigelow, Clinton Branum, Don English, Don and Lawrence Queen, and the honor guest.

Manuel Padilla is building a new house on the East side for Mrs. Victoria Lopez. It is near the Juan Martinez home.

Mary Catherine Penix will spend another week with her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Frame in Ancho, before returning to her home in Corona.

Mrs. Joe Finley is vacationing in the mountains at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bilbo. Mrs. Finley will be remembered as Florence Spence.

Ben S. Burns, who has been ill and away from his work the past week, has sufficiently improved to be out again.

Mrs. Paul Mayer left today to visit her mother, Mrs. Gilmore, in Tularosa.

Louis Nalda of the Red Canyon Sheep Company, was in Carrizozo on business Saturday.

Mrs. Nellie Branum entertained friends in honor of the wooden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Devino and Mr. and Mrs. Clint Branum. The dining table was appropriately and artistically decorated, having a coral of small sticks of wood built around the edge of the entire table to provide an enclosure for the numerous and lovely wooden gifts.

A novel feature of the evening was the serving of the bride's cake by Misses Devine and Branum, cutting of which proved a difficult task since the ingredient, other than the beautiful white icing, revealed only split chips of wood.

(From the files of the Carrizozo News, July 4, 1913.)

Carrizozo is all but deserted today; the stores are all closed, business is at a standstill and the population has gone to the mountains—most of it to White Oaks—there to mix and commingle with people from the four corners of the county.

Frank English is building a porch on the Temple Hotel. This addition, slight as it is, will add much to the appearance and comfort of the building.

R. E. P. Warden was here Monday from his sheep ranch. His auto stuck in the mud near Duck Lake, but he succeeded in extricating it.

News and Views From Your Nation's Capitol

By JOHN J. DEMPSEY
Congressman from New Mexico

WASHINGTON, June 25—Breakdown of trade negotiations in Korea as a result of the action of the South Korean government in freeing 26,000 prisoners which United Nations negotiators had agreed would be turned over to a five-nation control for final disposition, should be further proof that the position of the United States in world affairs is becoming increasingly difficult and uncertain.

President Syngman Rhee's defiance of United Nations authority, the principal responsibility for which the United States has been forced to assume, once lays bare the serious question of what price we are going to have to pay eventually for years of vacillation in our foreign policy. The South Korean fiasco emphasizes the fact that we are indeed upon exceedingly thin ice internationally. We have been placed in the position of having to assume responsibility, while our allies in the United Nations organization refuse to accept their proportionate share of that responsibility and the financial and military burdens imposed, still insisting on diluting our authority to the point of ineffectiveness.

In the case of South Korea, the American people are given revealing evidence of the situation we are encountering in many other nations whom we regard as allies. They expect us to carry the load but deny us the cooperation which they have pledged to give. We went into South Korea to help preserve that nation. The South Koreans would have been conquered and driven into the sea if we had not taken the action we did. We have carried 90 percent of the burden in men and money in defense of the very people who now are defeating our purpose.

Reservations Necessary For 4-H Camp in July

Lincoln County 4-H camp, combined with Chaves, Otero and DeSaca counties, will be held July 8 through 11 at the Scott Able Camp in the Sacramento Mountains.

During camp, C. E. Burns will conduct a photography tour; a forest ranger will conduct a nature hike and Mrs. Echo K. Johnson will hold coppercraft classes.

Those 4-H members planning to attend should mail their reservations to the office of Ralph Dunlap, county agent, in Carrizozo before July 1.

sown on the experiment farm are up and growing in fine shape. The committee feels certain it will be able to furnish Pete Johnson with that "mess" of roasting ears before the frost flies.

About noon last Friday the floodgates of Heaven opened, the bottom fell out, the sides burst and a genuine flood came down. It fell in sheets, in torrents and spouts, and in less than an hour after the first gust everything loose was floating. The rush of water from the south side swept over the railroad tracks, through the culvert, and deluged the west and north sides. It was a gully-washer, as is attested by the appearance of our streets. Sunday night a replica of Friday's deluge came and we have had abundant moisture, thank you.

dom loving democracy. However, the hopelessness of attaining that through the present war is also apparent. But our assurance that we will take such future steps as are necessary to insure the integrity of Korea as a nation should deter the South Korean government from taking such precipitate and unrealistic action as it has taken.

In view of the adamant position maintained by President Rhee, despite the representations made directly by President Eisenhower and through General Clark, the Far Eastern commander, there is a growing conviction among members of the Congress that the time has come for a more positive and clearly defined foreign policy and administration of that policy.

MUTUAL SECURITY SPENDING
Passage by the House of the bill authorizing almost 5 billions for mutual security and foreign aid does not mean that amount will be appropriated for those programs. Several amendments proposing reductions, which I supported, were rejected. I voted for the measure only after assurance was given by Speaker Joseph Martin that the House Appropriations Committee, headed by Rep. John Taber, (R-N.Y.) will review the bill carefully and cut wherever it is possible. Chairman Taber previously has made the statement, in which I fully concur, that he felt our foreign-aid spending in 1954 could be cut to 4 billions at the most, particularly in view of the 11 billions in holdover funds for that purpose.

One provision of the bill was inserted to make certain that the NATO nations in Europe comply with their agreement for the establishment of unified defense forces. Not more than 50 percent of the $2,070,000,000 authorized in the bill is to be made available until all have complied. That brings the actual authorization in the measure down to the 4 billion dollar mark.

Majority Leader Rayburn, in supporting the measure, pointed out the original so-called Truman budget called for 7.0 billions, the first Eisenhower budget for 5.8 billions; the revised Eisenhower budget for nearly 5.5 billions and the bill as presented by the committee just under 5 billions. But many of us feel this 2.6 billion cut is not enough in view of the fact that the billions already spent have not brought convincing evidence that our desired goal is being attained. Wins Top Prize in GM Contest

Harlow H. Curtice, left, president of General Motors, presents the $25,000 first national award to Robert Moser, New York City Commissioner of Parks, in the General Motors Better Highways Awards essay contest. The presentation was made recently at a banquet in Detroit. Mr. Moser proposed that federal, state, and local governments spend a total of five billion dollars a year on highways for the next 10 years—almost double the present rate. He presented a tax program which he said would raise the necessary fund.

SANTA FE, N. M., June 30.—Howell Roberts Spear, 26-year-old lawyer from Lovington, tonight was named winner of the $1500 New Mexico state award in the General Motors Better Highways Awards contest.

Mr. Spear, who moved to Lovington from Santa Rosa last January, received his prize check and the congratulations of General Motors officials at a dinner in the LaFonda here tonight in honor of the three New Mexico state winners.

Honored with Mr. Spear were Raymond McCoy of Santa Fe and Hugh Kenneth Jennings of Los Alamos, both winners of $500 state honorable mention awards.

"This is like a bolt from the blue," Mr. Spear said, when notified confidentially a few days ago that he was one of the three New Mexico winners. "I had forgotten that I even entered the contest."

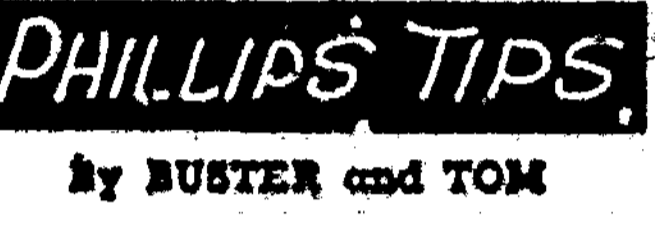

He says that he did no special research on his essay. "I just sat down and put my concrete evidence of actual accomplishment will be time enough to provide the necessary money to carry on the program. Pointing out the present instability of the mutual security program, Rep. Paul Shafer (R-Mich.) said:

"Billions for defense, yes; billions even for mutual defense, if and when our so-called allies give proof of their wholehearted and effective commitment to mutual defense. But not one more cent to justify the now baseless and repeatedly deferred hopes we will have allies who can be depended upon in time of need."
I wholeheartedly subscribe to the statement made by Rep. Shafer.

thoughts down on paper," he explained, "and most of what I really intended to say dawned on me as I was writing."

Most of his thinking on the highway problem was the result of watching—a "panorama of America pass by my door along Highway 66 in Santa Rosa."

"When you watch cars from all over the nation stream by your front door," Mr. Spear points out, "you realize that every road everywhere in the country is an important part of an important network which must have the attention of all people everywhere."

"Father" at Work!

Bob Young, who is the hero of NBC's comedy-drama, "Father Knows Best," is a busy Dad both on and off the set. The little girl sharing the comic strip with him, right in his radio daughter, "Kathy," played by nine-year-old Helen Strahan — and the four young ladies below are Bob's own pretty collection of real life daughters, Kathleen, Barbara, Carol Anne, and Elizabeth Lewis. Sort of looks as if it's always Father's Day for Bob — who is the perfect man to find himself in such a state. His interest in youngsters is very widespread, and expressed particularly in his volunteer work in cooperation with the National Highway Safety Council, toward the cause of safer driving habits among teenagers.
