

RAMBLIN' AROUND

By PAUL BAKER

Wilbur McKnight told me the other night at the Farm Bureau get-together at the Bonnell ranch that the killer coyote has finally been liquidated by one of several poisoned baits set out. Before its raiding days were ended, the gray ghost destroyed 191 sheep from the McKnight band. The above-named rancher has acquired a variation to his name. Mill Mable referred to him at the Farm Bureau dinner as "Wilbur McNoches."

A press release from New York City this week brought news to Lincoln County of a success story that had its beginning here in 1919—the year that Earl R. Stadman was born in Carrizozo. He is Dr. Earl R. Stadman now, biochemist in the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md. For his outstanding research contributing to the understanding of how man and animals build up fat materials in their bodies, Dr. Stadman this week received in Los Angeles the $1000 Paul-Lewis Laboratories Award in Enzyme Chemistry at Los Angeles.

Dr. Stadman received the Associate of Arts degree in 1939 from San Bernardino Valley Junior College, the Bachelor of Science degree in 1942 and the Ph.D. in 1949 from the University of California. During World War II, Dr. Stadman worked on the problem of preventing deterioration of dried fruits, which were used extensively in rations for the Armed Forces. In 1949 he became an Atomic Energy Commission Fellow at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, leaving in 1950 to assume his present post with the National Institutes of Health.

Had a letter recently from our son, Don Baker, at Oregon State College, taking exception to my remarks about restoring the center jump in basketball. Don is a better basketball player than I ever was. He writes: "Here in the Northwest the fans enjoy basketball most when the scoring is high. Watching a fast-scoring game certainly offers more thrills, more spectacular shots and more speed than a slow-moving, slow-scoring game, such as would be necessitated by a center jump."

Mebbe so, Don, mebbe so. Times have changed since we used to talk things over in the woodshed. Everything moves at a faster clip nowadays. One thing is certain. My days as a basketball player are definitely over and advocating restoring the center jump will probably be my last reflection on basketball as played in the "Good Old Days."

Speaking of the "good" old days, there is quite a difference between the Model T Ford (which people were driving about the time I was playing basketball) and the modern cars also quite a gulf separates the wood and coal stove from today's electric range. The new Westinghouse range, I hear, will be equipped with a burner so sensitive that it is next to impossible to burn food. As the water content lowers in pot or pan, the metal's temperature rises, causing a gradual shut-down of current flowing into the heating element. Servel is coming out with a refrigerator, we are told, that automatically freezes ice cubes, dumps them in a basket, refills the trays with water, freezes them, empties them, on and on, until the basket is filled, when the miniature manufacturing plant shuts down until some of the cubes are used when it starts in operation again.

Anyone interested in newspapers printed in Lincoln County in the early days can see quite a collection of them at the Old Courthouse. John Boylan has spent a great deal of time gathering and binding copies of five weeklies, published before and a short time after the year 1900. The names of the papers and their publishers have been given the News by Mr. Boylan. They are:

New Mexico Interpreter, published in White Oaks from Oct. 1898 to March 1891, by J. A. Allen.

Old Abe Eagle (White Oaks—1893-1895) by Raible & Hopping (1893); Frank G. Raible (1894); Hewitt & Watson (1895).

White Oaks Eagle (1895-1897) by Hewitt & Watson (1895-1897); Johnny Hewitt (1896); Hewitt & Wharton (1897).

The Outlook (White Oaks) 1908, by Lee H. Rudisille. Captain News (1904-1907), by John A. Haley and Silas May (1904-1905); John A. Haley (1905-1907).

Mr. Boylan wants to complete his files of Lincoln County newspapers and would appreciate receiving copies of any former issues.

Legislators Return Home as Session Ends

A total of only slightly over one-third of the bills introduced in this legislative session passed both houses, Senator J. G. Moore reported this week upon his return to Carrizozo from Santa Fe. Approximately 600 bills were introduced, the majority of which died in committee. About 220 bills were passed, to be acted upon by Governor Mechem.

Awaiting Governor Mechem's signature is S. B. 16, introduced by Senator Moore, and a companion bill, H. B. 13, introduced by Representative Melvin Johns. They set up procedure for absentee balloting. A complimentary measure, SJR 3, introduced by Senator Murray Morgan, would change the State constitution to permit absentee balloting and will be presented the voters this fall. A similar amendment has failed of ratification three times previously, though given a majority vote. Every county must ratify constitutional amendments by two-thirds majority. It is hoped that, should the constitutional amendment pass again, the enabling legislation will then provide for absentee balloting and survive a test in the courts should that be necessary.

Aid for county hospitals is provided in S. B. 121, which permits county commissioners to call a special election for the purpose of levying a tax not to exceed 4 mill over the constitutional 20 mill limitation for the purpose of operating county hospitals. According to Senator Moore, such a tax in Lincoln County would raise approximately $9,000. This bill is yet to be signed by the Governor.

COUNTY SALARY INCREASES

Salary raises for certain county officers in second class counties are provided for in an amendment sponsored by Senator Moore and passed by the legislature. The amendment was offered to a bill enabling salary increases in Bernalillo county. It provides salary increases up to $300 yearly for county clerks, assessors and treasurers and their chief deputies. The county commissioners determine salary raises on the basis of funds available at budget time. The effective date of the raise is July 1.

Another bill raises the amount allowed for feeding prisoners from $1 to $1.50 per day; also the salaries of board of registration clerks and members of registration boards from $3 to $10 per day. This is in line with present pay to election holders, Mr. Moore states.

The legislature increased marriage license fees from $2.50 to $5.00 and made small increases in a number of other fees charged by county clerks. A bill was passed allowing county officials to destroy miscellaneous outdated records, such as old receipt books and obsolete chattel mortgages.

Mr. Moore says the final days of the session were trying ones, which saw the legislators working overtime preparing for adjournment.

Two A&M Students Will Visit Abroad

Gabriel Chavez

Two New Mexico A&M College students have been selected as the Sunshine State "Grass Roots Ambassadors" to foreign lands in 1953 under the auspices of the International Farm Youth Exchange program. They are Gabriel Chavez of Taos, sophomore animal husbandry major, and Robert Bagwell, Amistad, senior in animal husbandry. Chavez will visit Bolivia, where he will live and work with farm families. Bagwell will travel to India to study farm conditions there. Both young men will be abroad about 5 months.

The IFYE program seeks to further international understanding among rural people. Under this project, young men and women, age 20 to 30, from farms in this country live and work with farm families in other countries throughout the world for four to six months. At the same time, rural youths from cooperating countries come here for a similar experience.

Under the IFYE program last year, Barbara Funkhouser, Las Cruces, visited Belgium, and David Kidd, May, went to Iran. Four IFYE delegates from Sweden, Argentina, South Africa and Israel visited New Mexico.

"Who Killed Aunt Caroline Takes Stage

Tonight's the night—"Who Killed Aunt Caroline?" takes the stage at the Carrizozo Auditorium, and according to Miss Gardner, who is directing the play, it promises to be the most exciting mystery play ever presented in Carrizozo. Aunt Caroline is one of the meanest characters ever created, she believes, and when she dies—oh, so strangely!—at the end of Act I, the whole audience breathes a sigh of relief. But not for long. The terrible knowledge dawns on them that one of the nice characters in the play has committed the murder and will have to pay the penalty for his crime. How the author mostly circumvents this and still allows justice to prevail makes this one of the most unusual "whodunits" ever written.

Tickets are on sale now by the High School students. Those planning to attend are advised to buy them at once.

Veterans Advisor to Be In Roswell March 26

Richard M. Lawson, contact representative for the Veterans Administration will visit Roswell Thursday, March 26. Veterans and dependents of veterans are invited to call on him at the second floor, city hall, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 5 p. m., on that date for information or assistance in connection with veterans benefits.

Mrs. Lewis Farris Leads In Subscription Contest

Mrs. Lewis Farris maintained her lead in the Lincoln County News Subscription contest, having a vote total of 10,000 at the end of last week. Miss Elsie Lopez of Carrizozo was in second place with 8,800 votes and Mrs. Ann Earling of Capitan was third with 4,800. Next in order were Mrs. E. A. Mulkey, 2,200; Miss Ethelyn Phillips, 2,200; Mrs. Elma F. Rogers, 1,600; and Miss Della Joiner and Mrs. Percy Parker, 1,000 each.

The News is offering cash prizes totaling $175, to the three highest contestants. Closing date of the contest is noon, April 18. Help your favorite candidate earn votes with a new, renewal or gift subscription to the Lincoln County News.

Plan New Farm Bureau Unit for Capitan

A new unit of the Lincoln County Farm and Livestock Bureau may be formed at Capitan. Plans toward this end were announced at Saturday's potluck supper and dance held at the Bonnell Ranch in Glencoe, celebrating conclusion of a successful membership drive. Plans are being made for an organization meeting to be held soon in Capitan.

Following an excellent supper, a short business meeting was held in the Bonnell home. New members were introduced by the team captains present. Sixty new members were added to the County unit, which now totals 123 members.

Charles Jones secured the greatest number of new members and he will be presented with an engraved tie clasp and Mrs. Joyce with an engraved fountain pen. Kenneth Noaker, president, spoke briefly on the accomplishments of Farm Bureau. The April meeting of the Farm Bureau will feature a discussion on soil conservation. In May the topic will be price and marketing.

The membership drive gave the Lincoln County Farm and Livestock Bureau almost 100% over its quota for 1953 and as a result the county stands a good chance of winning some of the prizes awarded by the State F & L B. The evening was concluded by an enjoyable evening of dancing to the music of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Coe's orchestra. The roster of new members of the Lincoln County FLB will be printed in an early issue of the News.

Building Plans OK'd For Catholic Church

Work is expected to start in the near future on the new Catholic Church in Carrizozo. Architect Chris Gallegos of Alamosa is now at work on drawings for the new church, which will be built near the new Catholic school. A rectory will also be built. The present church and rectory will be used as a Catholic center after completion of the new buildings.

A committee from Carrizozo presented the building plans last Thursday to The Most Reverend Edwin V. Byrne, Archbishop of Santa Fe. The original plans were modified and approved by the Archbishop. Upon completion of the architect's drawings, bids will be called for and a contract let. Completion is expected by Christmas.

ACM Building Mill In N. M. Uranium Field

The Anaconda Copper Mining Company is putting in a large flotation process mill at Bluewater in the center of the uranium fields in Valencia County, J. B. Close of Carrizozo reports. Mr. Close recently visited the uranium deposits—located in an area 50 miles long and 10 miles wide on the Santa Fe main line west of Grants. The uranium is being mined from veins of sandstone and lime formation. The rare metal is found in an ore canary yellow in color, which lays in seams principally in the limestone. Mr. Close says.

The field was discovered less than a year ago. At the present time the ore is being stockpiled.

Kin Weeds, Have Fun, With Water Pistol

You may regard the water pistol as a mere toy—but extension weed specialists at Washington State College consider it a first-rate way to kill weeds in your lawn. They suggest that come April or May you mix a stock solution of one table spoon of amine 2,4-D to one gallon of water. Then get yourself a water pistol, or swipe Junior's, and load it with the solution. The 250-shot super model water pistol is best.

After a few practice shots, let the weeds have a good long burst. Marksmanship is important, since the idea is to keep the weed killer on the weeds and off the flowers and shrubs—and, of course, to have a good time.

Work Will Begin Monday In Hauling Furniture In New Yucca Grill In Carrizozo

A large crowd attended and enjoyed the baked ham, sweet potatoes, beans, dessert and coffee. Proceeds of the dinner went to the Carrizozo School Band Fund.

State School for Blind Hosts NMEA March 21

The spring meeting of the NMEA Section for Exceptional Children will be held Saturday, March 21, at the New Mexico State School for the Blind, located at Alamogordo. Registration starts at 9:30. Beginning at 10 o'clock, visitors will be taken on a tour of the buildings and the various departments of the school which will feature exhibits or demonstrations.

At 12 o'clock the visitors will be the guests of the school at a buffet luncheon. Anyone interested in the welfare of the visually handicapped child, who plans to attend the meeting, should make a reservation for the luncheon directly to the school.

The highlight of the afternoon session will be a panel discussion on "Problems of Visually Handicapped Children in Public Schools." An eye doctor, a school nurse, a teacher, and a member of the State Department of Education will serve on the panel. The meeting ends at 3 o'clock.

Operation Starts at Buck Bryan Copper Mine in Gallinas Mts.

BY MRS. A. E. MULKEY

The Custom Mining Co. of Vaughn began mining operations at the Buck Bryan copper mine on the south side of the Gallinas Mountains last week. George Hall of Vaughn is manager and his sons, Frank and Stanley, are his assistants. The mine is 8 miles from the Southern Pacific Railway or Gallina Station.

Mr. Hall says the high-grade copper will probably be brought to Corona for shipment. The Custom Mining Co. recently shipped 1700 tons of iron ore from the Strickland ranch 25 miles southeast of Corona to the Colorado Iron and Fuel Co., of Pueblo, Colo. This iron ore mine is now under lease to the Western American Chemical Company of Nevada.

It is estimated that there are 7,000,000 tons of commercial ore in this mine which is one mile and a quarter long and about six feet wide. Mining operations are expected to be under way again in the near future.

Three 4-H Programs Continued in 1953

New Mexico 4-H club members who have the highest rating record of achievement in either of three national programs relating to food production, utilization and conservation, will each receive a gold-filled 17-jewel watch signifying that they are 1953 state winners. The National 4-H Committee has announced.

In the 4-H frozen foods and meat animal programs, eight sectional winners will be given an all-expense trip to the 1953 National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November. In the dairy foods demonstration program, which has no sectional awards, eight national winners will receive a trip to the Club Congress. Gold-filled medals will be awarded to county winners in each of the programs. The program and awards donors are dairy foods demonstration, Carnation Co.; frozen foods, International Harvester; and meat animal, Theo. E. Wilson.

Some idea of the 4-H club members' achievements in the three programs may be gained from 1952 figures of participants. In the 4-H meat animal program, members throughout the nation raised more than 800,000 beef cattle, sheep and swine; 8,500 individual and team members demonstrated how to prepare dairy products for nutritious dishes before 85,000 people, and 115,000 4-H boys and girls froze 1,500,000 quarts and 2,000,000 pounds of food.

Full information regarding these programs may be obtained from local extension agents. All three programs are conducted under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Selective Service Official to Visit

Miss Isabel Martinez, Personnel Officer for Selective Service, plans to visit Lincoln County on March 26.

The St. Patrick's Day dinner held Tuesday night, sponsored by the PTA, proved successful. A large crowd attended and enjoyed the baked ham, sweet potatoes, beans, dessert and coffee. Proceeds of the dinner went to the Carrizozo School Band Fund.

WILL HARRISON'S
Inside
The Capital

SANTA FE, March 18—The Pat Hurley contest of the Senate election last November, which is assuming huge proportions has the possibility of an ironic ending that would see Hurley succeeding in unseating Dennis Chavez but losing the place himself.

Senate investigators who have been prying into the New Mexico election for six weeks see the possibility of a Senate decision of "no election" which would declare the New Mexico seat vacant and subject to appointment by Gov. Ed Mechem. Most observers think Mechem, if given such an opportunity, would name Albert Mitchell or some other Republican rather than Hurley.

The "no election" decision would come if the Senate were unable to determine which of the candidates won. The burned ballots of Otero, Lincoln and Dona Ana counties, the improper keeping of election records in scores of precincts, and the wholesale confusion caused by technical violations such as conducting the election in many places without voting booths and the failure of perhaps half of all the election officials in the state to take official oath, all contribute to the possibility of a "no election" decision.

THREE PROBES GOING AT ONCE

The final combing of the election which went to Democrat Dennis Chavez by 5,400 votes is being probed by three independent groups—the big Senate investigative force, the FBI, and Hurley's own force.

The Hurley part of it is estimated to have cost $50,000 so far with about $30,000 put up by the Republican National Committee. The activity, so far, is pointing toward a recount of all the ballots that haven't been burned.

Hurley had about 200 of the 300 precincts recounted early in the contest and came up with a ret loss of a couple of hundred votes. It was the plan for such a recount that prompted the Senate to order all ballots impounded last January.

After the recount the Senate would then take up the question of throwing out unqualified votes and thus arrive at which of the candidates got the most—or at the conclusion that the election records are so muddled that it is impossible to tell who won and therefore "no election."

The Hurley contest which has been suppressed in the silence of the investigators hasn't aroused much interest in New Mexico but it is a lively topic in Washington where the opinion prevails that the New Mexico Republican has a fair chance to win.

That may be because the subcommittee handling the contest is two to one Republican and the Senate itself has a Republican majority.

THE GREAT AGAINSTER SESSION OF 1953

"You can't say the 21st legislature didn't do anything. These guys wrecked the Democratic program, the Republican program, the Governor's program and they chopped up especially good the Little Hoover program. It was the killingest session that anybody around could remember. The top axes were Killer Murray Morgan and Killer Henry Eager of the Senate.

The session's major accomplishment was the setting up of a process to borrow $10,000,000. It was freakish that the record was made by a bunch of individuals who were commonly described as far above the ordinary New Mexico legislative talent.

The negative record of the meeting was attributable mostly to the political divisions of the two chambers—the house Republican and the Senate Democratic. And the membership, composed of 70 per cent first-timers, apparently worked on the slogan of "when in doubt vote so."

The whiskey war that dominated everything else in the session came out like everything else with not much change. The setbacks suffered by the whiskey side were minor.

Every major proposal submitted except the borrowing plan was killed. Casualties: The proposal to repeal the primary convention law, a merit system for state workers, repeal of the liquor price-fixing law, districts for the Congressmen, remodeling of the ballot so that votes can be counted, stronger regulatory authority over public utilities, a new oil commission, and the whole shooting works proposed by the $25,000 Little Hoover Commission, the premise by both parties to give Los Alamos County.

Cattlemen to Discuss Market Drop in Prices at Annual Convention

Cattle prices, market conditions and "what can be done about it" will highlight discussions at the forthcoming 39th Annual Convention of the New Mexico Cattle Grower's Association in Albuquerque, March 29, 30 and 31, according to reports from association officers. "The serious drop in cattle prices which has occurred during the past eight months has effected every livestock producer in New Mexico," said Ed Heringa, Clayton, President, "and we believe this problem must be met with unity in foresight by the entire industry."

According to U. S. Department of Agriculture reports, the number of cattle and calves in New Mexico has increased from 1,225,000 to 1,250,000 during the past year and in the same period, the overall value of these animals has dropped from $205,800,000 to $130,000,000. The drop in average value per head from $179 last year to $123 this year, more than offset the increase in numbers recorded on Jan. 1.

"Our association and industry has continuously opposed a government support price for cattle, and in fact on other farm commodities as well, on grounds that government control means government domination of our business. We have long advocated free enterprise, allowing the law of supply and demand to operate in the true American way," Heringa said.

U. S. Senator Frank Barrett, former governor and congressman of Wyoming will discuss public land problems and western natural resources. Barrett, who conducted a Congressional investigation of public land administration policies in the West a few years ago, is recognized as one of the foremost authorities on the subject.

Both United States Senators from New Mexico, Dennis Chavez and Clinton P. Anderson, a former secretary of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will review the government price control and price support program on agricultural commodities. Chavez is expected to cover matters confronting the Senate Appropriations Committee of which he is the ranking minority member.

Lawrence W. Lee of Jacksonville, Florida, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, is another speaker who will attract wide attention throughout the West. Lee was born in Colfax County in 1888 and serves as vice president of the Fernandez Ranch Co., of San Mateo. The prominent New Mexican is also president of the Peninsular Insurance Co., of Raleigh, N. C.

Sam Hyatt, of Hyattsville, Wyoming, President of the American National Cattlemen's Association will attend the convention direct from Washington, D. C., where he is now busy representing the livestock industry before Congressional Committees and top government officials.

Among others who will highlight the program are Gov. Edwin L. McChesney, Santa Fe; L. M. Pexton, President of the Denver Union Stockyards Co.; State Tax Commissioner D. D. Monroe of Clayton and Les Davis, manager of the CS Ranch, Cimarron, New Mexico.

Telephone Usage Jumps in Mountain States

In the Mountain States area, where the population increase is well above the national average, there were 545,000 telephones in service in 1940, 683,000 by the end of World War II, and over 1,395,000 as of this date, or an increase of 711,000 in the post-war period alone.

In the Carrizozo area where telephone development has been equally as great if not higher than the average for the Mountain States area, the increase during the same period was 118 telephones in 1940 to 152 at the end of World War II and 319 telephones in service as of this date.

A new type telephone cable is now being used by the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Co. in New Mexico for the first time, according to Ivo Cook, Manager of the company office in Carrizozo.

Known as an Alpech covered aluminum conductor, cable installation crews are now busy placing it along the highways of New Mexico.

Production of the new cable using aluminum wire instead of copper, as used for many years, was started in April, 1952. The limited supply of copper to make telephone cable made it necessary that the slightly less desirable alloy, aluminum, be used to supplement supplies required to make the standard lead-covered copper wire cables.

For the last several years the unprecedented demand for telephone service has required an increased supply of metal for cable and telephone equipment, however, these metals have been justifiably allocated for defense purposes. Now that the use of aluminum and synthetics substituting for copper and lead the telephone company's process of extending service into new areas will be greatly speeded up.

With the use of aluminum, several problems were encountered. As copper is a better conductor of electricity, it was necessary to use aluminum wire two gauges larger than the copper ones to get comparable operation results. Therefore, cable of the largest possible diameter would contain fewer conductor wires than a copper conductor cable. Use of the aluminum wire poses a problem when joining ends of the wire together in splices, a relatively simple operation when copper is used, requires a new and more costly splicing technique.

The production of lead-covered cable is continuing at a record pace and we will continue to use all of it that is available. Covered aluminum wire cable will help to increase still further the total output of this much-needed supply item required to extend telephone service to those who desire it.

Attention Called to Selective Service Act

Calling attention to the fact that failure to register is a violation of law and makes the delinquent liable to penalty, Col. John P. McFarland, New Mexico State Director of Selective Service, today outlined registration requirements under the universal Military Training and Service Act, as amended, which he said he believed were not thoroughly understood by all of the general public.

"The obligation to register," Col. McFarland said, "is a continuing obligation and must be fulfilled. The obligation to register is imposed by the Act on every male citizen and every other male person in the United States between the ages of 18 and 26, with the general exception of members of the armed forces on active duty and certain aliens."

The young man who, because 18 is required to register at a local board office within five days after the date of his 18th birthday, Col. McFarland explained, but if he happens to be away from home he need not return; he may register at the nearest local board convenient to him and the record will be sent to the local board having jurisdiction, even though it is in another state. If he is in a foreign country when he becomes 18 he registers with any U. S. diplomatic or consular office. After he registers, it is mandatory that a registrant keep his local board informed of any change in his address or change in status, the director pointed out. This applies after he becomes 26 as well as before. Registrants, generally speaking, who are deferred subsequent to June 18, 1951, are liable until they are 35.

"Any person who changes from a status which did not require his registration to a status which does require it, must register promptly to be within the law," Col. McFarland said.

Col. McFarland said that in general aliens entering the United States for the first time are required to register at a local board within six months following the date of entry.

A/3c Don E. Shults Writes From Alaska

A/3c Don Shults, in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Shults of Carrizozo, describes his trip by boat to Elmendorf HFB, Alaska. His letter follows:

We made it o. k. I'm now in Elmendorf H. F. B., Alaska. It's two or three miles out of Anchorage. Spanish is about six miles from here. So, if I ever get a chance, I'll see the Garretts.

I enjoyed my trip tremendously. The boat ride was completely new to me. We left Stoneman in buses to Pittsburg about two miles, then we took a ferry from there to San Francisco. That took four hours. You couldn't even tell you were moving, if you didn't look at the shore. A bunch of seagulls followed us all the way. We would throw bread and stuff up in the air and they would catch them, so we had fun all the way down.

We got on the U. S. S. Jefferson at San Francisco, a troop ship. Sure was big. We left our port at 4:30 p. m. and went under the Golden Gate Bridge, a monstrous thing. It's colored orange. We anchored the boat right after we got past the bridge. They gave us "fire drill" and "abandon ship" drill. That took some time. It was dark when we started again. We then went on the open sea. You could see the lights of San Francisco for miles and miles.

The boat didn't rock much while I was awake. The lights went out at 9 p. m., so I had to go to bed. I woke up many times, when the boat would rock. We got up at 8 a. m. All-day the boat rocked pretty much, but I didn't get sick. Had trouble standing up.

We had free shows every night in the mess hall. We stood up to eat and slept in canvas bunks—millions of us packed into little compartments. It was fun, tho, with nothing to do but lie

Sheep Branding Fluid Successful in Tests

A new scorable sheep-branding fluid, LBE, has been successfully demonstrated recently by the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organization of Australia, according to Bill Snyder, extension wool marketing specialist with New Mexico A&M College.

LBE, which gets its initials from "lanoline-base emulsion," was used on one-third of all Australian sheep in the past season and is now being manufactured in England, New Zealand, and South Africa, Snyder says. As about two per cent of Australia's wool clip has been spotted in the past because of unscorable brands, it is estimated the LBE will save millions of dollars of wool each year.

Several American manufacturers are now selling sheep-branding paints that are advertised as having proved scorable in recent tests, Snyder points out. These fluids, it is claimed, follow the experimental formula of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The USDA is completing its experiments with scorable paints that will remain long on sheep and still prove completely scorable in the washing vats.

"No other method of sheep identification is as universally accepted as paint branding," the wool marketing specialist explained. "But the removal of non-scoring branding fluids at the mills is always costly for the grower and consumer alike. So, the development of a scorable sheep-branding fluid will be a boon to the wool industry, particularly nowadays when there is an increasing trend toward the use of synthetic fibers."

Carrizozo Town Team Shows Well in Tourney

The Carrizozo Town Team, though defeated in its second game at the Ruidoso Tournament, gave a good account of itself, losing to the runner-up, 812 Air Patrol, 49 to 45, Friday night.

The Walker Air Patrol team defeated the Reeves Mixers in a semi-final game, 53 to 37, and were in turn defeated in the championship final Saturday evening, by Lapd Air, 55-53.

The Carrizozoans played fine ball in their two games, according to Manager Lee Carl, and with a few breaks might well have come down the home stretch the winning team.

Two Zozo players — Hamilton and Cummins — were placed on the all-tournament second team, and Cummins was named "All-sportsmanship" guard for his outstanding deportment in the games.

Carrizozo lost to AP 812 in the

Free Seedling Trees For Farm Planting

Seedling trees for protection plantings will again be available free of charge for Lincoln County farmers. The 1953 application blanks for seedling trees under the Federal Forestry Act are now at the County Agent's office in Carrizozo.

These trees are supplied through the cooperation of the state and federal governments for plantings on farms for protection plantings and must not be sold as living trees. The trees which are listed are the ash green, the caranga, cottonwood, American elm, Chinese elm, hackberry, honey locust, Russian apricot, Russian mulberry, Russian olive and native plum.

A nominal fee varying from $1.25 to $2 for 25 trees will be charged to cover cost of postage and handling charges.

Anyone interested in ordering these trees should do so now, as they are to be shipped in March. County Agent Ralph Dunlap says. Application blanks may be obtained from the County Agent by either writing a card or coming to the office.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

The magazine "Traffic World" recently had an illustrated ar- ticle featuring the work one rail- road is doing to preserve the timber resources of its territory. The railroad has launched a forest conservation and reforesta- tion program aimed at replant- ing approximately 13,000,000 acres of land and calling for the close cooperation of other in- dustry, agriculture and the com- munity.

Basic industries today realize that a continuous supply of raw materials is the key to their own future success, as well as na- tional security.

News and Views From Your Nation's Capital

By JOHN J. DEMFSEY, Congressman from New Mexico

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 18.—The death of Prime Minister Josef Stalin of Russia, and spec- ulation in Washington official circles concerning what effect it may have upon the interna- tional situation, overshadowed in a great degree most other events of consequence in the nation's capital during the past week. The principal concern, nat- urally, was about what turn of trend it might cause in the cold war in Europe and in the Korean conflict.

The census from informed sources is that the passing of Stalin will have little or no effect on the present status in Europe and in Korea. I share the belief of those who feel that the Communist program of aggres- sion has been definitely formu- lated for some time to come and that a man with the cunning and astuteness of Stalin made certain his successor would carry out the program. That is borne out by the naming of Georgi Malenkov to fill Stalin's shoes. So long as the power is centered in the small group of leaders in the Kremlin—the chosen heirs of Stalin—fear of the purge will be the greatest deterrent to in- ternal upheaval. Hope for that eventually, at least under exist- ing conditions, would appear to be very dim.

VAN FLEET SPEAKS UP

General James Van Fleet, former commander of the U. N. forces in Korea, now retired and relieved of the restraint imposed by active duty, told a startling story of serious shortages of am- munition for the fighting men in Korea in his testimony before the Senate Armed Services com- mittee. There has been a short- age of ammunition and hand grenades in Korea for at least 22 months, he said, despite his fre- quent reports of desperate need for these supplies.

"In my 20 years in the Senate I have never been more shocked," said Senator Byrd (D. Va.) in writing to Defense Secretary Wilson, demanding a full report from the Pentagon. Senator Byrd demanded that those responsible for the tragic bungling be prop- erly punished.

What is difficult to compare is why there should be shortages of any materials required by the armed forces of this country when we have been spending 50 billions a year or more on our de- fense program. Coupled with the waste and inefficiency in pro- curement for the armed services that was revealed in hearings by the House committee last year, it is clearly evident that the Sec- retary of Defense, the President and the Congress have a man-ifest duty imposed upon them to

Sutherland in Korea

Willie J. Sutherland, brother of Mrs. Emma S. Torres, Hondo, recently joined the 2nd Infantry Division in Korea.

The Second Division captured "Heartbreak Ridge" in October and took "Old Baldy Ridge" last July.

Private Sutherland was form- erly stationed at Camp Chaffee, Ark., where he received basic training.

Before entering the Army in May of last year, Sutherland at- tended the Hondo High School and was engaged in farming.

see that a more efficient and economical job is done. It is note- worthy also that, up to this time, none of the glaring mistakes that caused the waste of billions of dollars has been corrected, so far as the Congress has been in- formed.

SUPPORTING THE PRESIDENT

One more instance where the Democrats in Congress are sup- porting President Eisenhower, while the Republicans are stray- ing slightly off the reservation, is shown in the struggle that has developed in the Senate over ad- option of the resolution that President sent to Congress con- demning Russian perversion of wartime agreements, such as those made at Yalta and Tehran. The Senate Foreign Relations committee amended the resolu- tion to emphasize that it would neither validate nor invalidate provisions of such pacts.

The Democratic Policy Com- mittee of the Senate agreed to support the resolution just as the President had submitted it.

The result is that the resolu- tion sought by the President may become, as Secretary of State Dulles said, "worse than use- less", if both sides stand by their guns and a close vote is cast. Secretary Dulles based his state- ment on his opinion that a close vote would indicate a lack of unity that would be valuable Communist propaganda.

ALL-IN-A DAY

(By WM. FELTER)

We watch them come . . . we watch them go . . . The things we love and dream we know.

And though our heart with grief be numb, Our eyes be dry, and lips be dumb, And yet, I ween, 'twas always so— Things we love best are first to go.

We quaff life's cup . . . the bitter lees Are everyday grim tragedies. . . Life's wine is spilled upon the ground

The less we drink and make no sound . . . When dawn brings 'round an- other day, We find it in our heart to play.

'Tis said a smile is the reply Hope makes when all in ruins lie;

So we dissemble, hide our tears When we're alone and shed our veils.

E'en though your anxious heart should break, No other one will share its ache.

Be still, O heart, do not repine . . . For a wee moment joy were thine!

Though playthings last but for a day, And cherished love has flown away, We yet can smile, dissemble fears.

It is a man's part to hide his tears.

Legion Auxiliary President Visits Here

Mrs. Chalk, Department President of the American Legion Auxiliary, was a guest of Corona American Legion Auxiliary Monday, March 16. After a 6 p.m. luncheon in the Community Room, Mrs. Chalk gave an inspiring talk on "Americanism", with emphasis on spiritual values as a force in combating Communism.

Mrs. Chalk is especially interested in the educational and service activities of the Auxiliary and her special project seems to be Girls' State, where she has served two years as a director and one year as department chairman. She will be in charge of Americanism when Girls' State convenes on the campus of the State University in June of this year.

The Corona unit of the American Legion Auxiliary is collecting comic books for the children's ward of the State Sanitarium in Socorro. Please leave used comic books with Mrs. Ruth Knight at the Roberts Mercantile Store before April 15.

Corona American Legion Auxiliary is selling stationery, greeting cards, and novelties.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Carmichael of Alamogordo and daughter have moved to Corona. Mr. Carmichael is an engineer on Highway 42 road project, under way between Willard and Corona.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wade were in Albuquerque recently and brought home a new Olds 88.

Mrs. J. A. Simpson has been on the sick list lately. Her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Yates, of Tucumcari, are here visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Davidson took their daughter, Patsy, to Carrizozo hospital for treatment the first of the week.

Mrs. I. H. Carnell made a business trip to Albuquerque Tuesday of this week.

Carrizozo Grade Team Places 3rd at Hondo

Carrizozo Grade School won third place in the Hondo basketball tournament which was held last weekend.

Carrizozo defeated Corona 25-21 in a first round game. At the end of the third quarter Corona held a 21-10 lead, but the young Grizzlies got shooting mad and overcame this lead.

In a second round game Hondo defeated the little Zozoans 28-21 due to the excellent shooting of R. Montes.

In the game for third place Carrizozo defeated an outclassed Pecos team 49-10. As a result the boys won a trophy for the Grade School, the first it has ever won.

High scorer for Zozo in the three games was Benny Herrera with 27 counters. Herrera was elected to the 5-man Grade School basketball tournament team. He was followed in point production by Fred Vega with 15, Richard Riggs with 16, Sonny Shrum with 15, Joe Petty with 8, Lewis Greer with 6 and Manuel Chavez with 4. Other team members who participated were Sammy Hicks, Pat Vigil, Harry Rickerston and Manager Bobby Jones. The boys hope to return to Hondo or elsewhere and win a first place trophy.

Grade School Team Wins Consolation Prize

Corona grade school boys played in the Hondo tournament Saturday. The 7th and 8th grade won over Carrizozo, lost to Capitán and defeated San Patricio for 3rd place. The 5th and 6th grade team lost their first game to Carrizozo, but defeated Capitán and Mesacalero to win consolation. A large number of grade school fans followed the teams for the tournament games.

Corona's 14 basketball lettermen, accompanied by Coach Knight, attended the State Tournament in Las Vegas Saturday. Corona Juniors High team will play in a tournament at Encino this Friday and Saturday, Mar. 20-21.

W. A. Mays, village clerk, has been ill the past week. Mrs. Caille Franks and Miss Donnie Franks made a trip to Las Cruces and El Paso last weekend.

FHA Girls Hear Talk on Flower Arrangement

By ANNE GALLAGHER

The FHA girls of Carrizozo had their monthly meeting March 11 at 1 p.m. Mrs. Elsie Carl from Tularosa came up and gave a talk on flower arrangement. She gave the girls four flower bouquets consisting of red carnations, white cannas-lilies and pink stock with different kinds of greenery. She also gave us a white Easter lily for Easter.

We appreciated having her here and hope she will be able to come back April 9 for the Sophomore assembly to show the different kinds of bouquets.

Cake, ice cream and punch were served as refreshments. Our next meeting will be April 14.
