

RAMBLIN' AROUND

BY PAUL BAKER

The concern of Carrizozo's public officials over the condition of traffic signs on our streets is well taken. If corrected soon enough, one or more serious accidents can be prevented. It is hoped that the State Highway Department will make a prompt survey and follow that by quick action in assisting Carrizozo to install the necessary signs.

On the subject of traffic, New Mexico finds itself in a strange position. It ranks near the top of all states in number of highway police patrol cars for the total number of passenger car miles driven, and yet this State is at or near the top in traffic deaths per capita. Fatal accidents on New Mexico's highways this year are occurring at the rate of nearly one a day. The answer, apparently, is not more highway patrolmen, but safer roads, and keep pounding away on the old, old theme that the driver who habitually speeds will be handing his credentials to St. Peter sooner than he thinks.

Not an unfavorable sign of Ft. Stanton's permanent status, is the news, published elsewhere in this issue, that applications are being accepted for laborer and kitchen helper positions at the hospital. This is good news to Lincoln County and will help to restore confidence that top government officials mean what they say in making repeated statements that the hospital will remain open.

The News was pleased to receive a note recently from Frances A. (Mrs. L. E.) Hunt of Roswell. "We have been taking the News or Outlook for so many years," she writes. "I suppose my Dad—Samuel Wells of White Oaks—now deceased, subscribed for the first News. I thought it was published in White Oaks years ago, but according to the last paper, it must have been Captain. I thought John A. Haley published it in White Oaks."

Lincoln County not only has a lot of fine people, but it has made an important contribution to the history of the State, according to Wm. V. Morrison of 1312 Arizona St.—El Paso. Mr. Morrison writes the News: "During my research activities in the State of New Mexico, I found some of the best people in the world in Lincoln County. Furthermore, I found that some of the most important history of your State emanates in Lincoln County, but it has not been generally known. It seems that writers and historians failed to realize that it is so important to many of us, who have to dig for it."

I had strongly suspected for several days that Spring has arrived. Now I'm sure. I washed the windows at the News office Friday. This unaccountable urge overtook me after attending Open House at the new Ortiz Motel. After two hours of suffering the job was finished and the world looked much brighter as viewed from the clean windows. For the first time in months the staff could identify people walking on the sidewalk. "Look," Clara exclaimed, "I can see Carrizo Mountain now!" There's only one disadvantage to having such clean windows. People can now look in on us and see the usual print shop display on press day.

Better late than never, is this account of an athletic event that took place during the March of Dimes campaign in January. It concerns a boxing match between A. E. Huntzinger, mayor of Vaughn, and Ira Smith, mayor of Santa Rosa. In the name of charity they met each other in the squared ring in an unlimited, no decision contest. Mayor Huntzinger scored two "knock-downs" but his glory was dimmed somewhat when his gloves were removed at the end of the round and a large rock fell to the canvas. Of course the Mayor of Vaughn showed great dismay. Part II of the contest was different. Each mayor was required to nail the sides to a wooden box. That is no easy feat with boxing gloves on, even with the help of an assistant. The event was a great success and a large sum was raised for the March of Dimes.

One man who can keep an even disposition under trying circumstances is Welton Armstrong, owner of the new Yucca Grill. Visitors were coming in constantly during the first two days of this week to see the new restaurant—and Mr. Armstrong took the time to be courteous and friendly, though he must have had plenty to do getting the new eating house ready to start serving the public today.

Statewide Test Made By Civilian Defense

Carrizozo took part in a State-wide test of civilian air defenses Thursday of last week. It had previously been announced that the test would be made "some time in March on an undisclosed date."

Carrizozo's response to the alert was very prompt, according to Verne Petty, director of civilian defense for the County. The Sheriff's office was notified at 10:12 a.m. Mr. Petty received the word at 10:13 and the sirens were sounded at 10:13. It was blown continuously for three minutes.

Several of the volunteer firemen had reported at the fire house 11 seconds after the siren sounded and six firemen had arrived before 30 seconds had elapsed.

Carrizozo's schools took part in the alert. All students marched into the halls and doors and windows of the buildings were closed.

The local telephone exchange was swamped by calls from subscribers asking for information. State Civilian Defense authorities ask that telephone calls be held to a minimum during the emergency of fire or other disaster so that the lines can be kept open for outside communication.

Life-size Wood Carving of Last Supper

Carving Christian Jesus' Minister

BOSTON, MASS.—All the specialized skills of some of the finest craftsmen of New England have been combined to create this life-size copy in wood of the famous painting "The Last Supper" by Leonardo da Vinci.

More than a year was used in preparing the great carving—18 1/2 feet long and 8 1/2 feet wide. The figures, of lime wood, are delicately tinted to give a feeling of lifelike reality, and a giant frame of contrasting walnut gives it depth. The carving will be the point of central interest in The Upper Room chapel, now nearing completion in Nashville. It is expected that visitors who view the carving will be moved to spend a few moments in prayer and meditation in keeping with the purpose of The Upper Room—a devotional guide issued in 17 languages and used round the world. The chapel itself is part of the new headquarters building for The Upper Room, the world's most widely used devotional guide. It is believed that it will become a devotional shrine and point of interest for visitors of the Midwest.

The picture shows W. D. Irving, of Irving and Casson, New York and Boston, who have produced wood carvings for some of America's greatest churches and cathedrals. The wood carving was done from a model prepared by Bernard Peltier.

HIGHWAY DEPT. TO MAKE SURVEY OF CARRIZOZO TRAFFIC

Looking ahead to the prospect of increased travel over Highway 54 through Carrizozo, town officials are planning an improved system of traffic signs on the main cross streets. On a recent trip to Santa Fe, Marshal Clyde Atwood conferred with State highway officials on the need for more adequate traffic control signs.

As a result the highway department will make a survey of Carrizozo's traffic and report their findings back to the highway department. According to Marshal Atwood, there are a number of dangerous intersections on both Highways 54 and 390, and the placing of proper signs now may eliminate serious accidents later.

STUDENTS DISCOVER MANY JAY WALKERS

Carrizozo citizens like to jaywalk, according to a traffic survey made last week by the Civics Class of the local High School. Following the survey, four students of the class—Ernest Sanchez, Willie Vega, Billy Lopez and Louis Montano submitted the following summary to the News: "Out of 318 eyes, there were 223 traffic violations; 130 did not use hand signals, 21 were speeding, 18 illegally parked, 17 did not stop at stop signs, 4 were careless drivers and 3 drunken drivers."

"Out of 300 people who crossed the streets, 213 were jaywalkers. More accidents could be avoided by obeying the law. If you do not use the hand signals, how can the person behind you know where you are going to turn?" "Obey all traffic rules wherever you go."

(When shown the report City Marshal Clyde Atwood smiled and said he was not displeased at the interest shown by young people in traffic problems. "Joy-walking, however," he said "is not a traffic violation.")

MINING CONCERN MAKING PLANS TO BUILD MILL

Jack Payne, superintendent of the Conqueror Mine near Corona this week revealed that the molybdenum strike at the mine has been proven a positive discovery. The Conqueror is owned by the New Mexico Copper Corporation.

According to Mr. Payne the mineral Wulfenite (PbMoO4) has been classified and assayed by three different assaying companies and by an independent metallurgist.

A recent assay from Hawley & Hawley of Douglas, Ariz., gives 34.76% Wulfenite, plus 33% additional lead combined with a mineral not yet classified. It is believed the ore carries Tantallite (a mineral sub-metallic, iron black.) This mineral in 60% concentrates is worth $2 a pound.

The Wulfenite was discovered on the 40-foot level at the Conqueror mine. The width of the deposit is proven 32 feet.

OVER $2000 VALUES PER CAR

Mr. Payne stated that the car of fluorspar shipped to General Chemical Company's mill at Deming carried, in addition to the fluorspar, over $2000 in values combined in copper, lead, and molybdenum.

"This definitely proves the company must build a mill," he said. "Plans are in progress and a decision is expected within 10 days."

"What is giving us a headache is that the copper lead ore is carrying too much fluorspar for the El Paso smelter to buy, and now the fluorspar is carrying too much lead for the fluorspar processors."

"A mill will answer all our problems and now that we have the ore to justify building a mill, we expect to have part of the units operating in eight weeks," Mr. Payne concluded.

Nine men are now employed at the Conqueror Mine. The corporation's main office is in Washington, D. C. C. E. Degner of Carrizozo is president. Mr. Degner and Mr. Payne plan to leave next week for Washington, D. C., where they will present their plans for expansion to the head office of the New Mexico Copper Corporation.

WILL HARRISON'S

Inside the Capital

BY WILL HARRISON

SANTA FE, April 2—All over the state Republicans are digging for skeletons which they hope will suffice to remove Democrats holding first class postmaster jobs. The hunt is at its highest pitch in Albuquerque where J. A. Werner has the job, and in Santa Fe where A. M. Martinez is postmaster. Both are Chavez brand Democrats.

The first class postmasters have civil service status but are subject to removal on lesser charges than those of the second class and lower.

In both Santa Fe and Albuquerque members of the postoffice staff have joined in gathering evidence against their bosses. The scrap all around the state is being pushed by local groups without help from the state Republican organization.

REPUBLICANS ARE ITCHING FOR CHANGE

Lack of activity by the state organization in the postmaster hassle and in most everything else has set up a growing clamor for changes in the party management. Disatisfaction with the leaders during the recent legislature was the cause of that outland meeting of Republican state representatives in Albuquerque this week. The legislators who have no status in the party organization beyond being members of the Republican party, got together to try to draw up a party program and get something done.

"It isn't likely there will be any change before the regular meeting of the state central committee in July when Chairman Harry Robbins' term expires. He hasn't shown any indication of calling a meeting earlier. There aren't many lively prospects for the place. At the top are House Speaker Alvin Stockton of Colfax and Robert Anderson of Buswell.

POLITICAL FIGURES WIN PAY FOR LIFE

Changes in the state retirement law worked out good for several well-known public figures in the state. Burton Dwyre, the former highway engineer at the age of 52 has gone on retirement pay for life at $250 a month. Also drawing increased pensions are former Supreme Court Justice Abe Zinn and former Governor John E. Miles. The legislature raised the maximum amount of the retirement payments and made it possible to retire at any age after 30 years' service—thus Dwyre's $250 a month at 52.

Also upped was the pay for retired judges—$500 a month for life. That goes for district and supreme court judges. Those guys can quit upon reaching 64 and get the full $500 for life if they have had ten years on the bench; they can quit at 60 if they've had 18 years. All of the supreme court judges are qualified now and one district court judge—Luis Armijo, of Las Vegas.

Unchanged was the amount retired teachers may draw—$150 a month. But there's no cause for resentment about that. The teachers, alone among all those who participate in state retirement plans, make no direct contribution to the retirement fund.

MECHAM EYEING OUR CLINT'S JOB

Senator Clint Anderson has suggested that he may not seek reelection next year and Gov. Mecham has never let a word slip to indicate that he is going to run for the Senate, but just the same the capitol and the politics of both sides are getting ready for the contest in 1954. Anderson's hints about retirement are nothing new. He's been doing it ever since he first went to Congress 13 years ago. In 1941 Our Clint reluctantly went for another term explaining that he was submitting to the sacrifice because his name on the ticket would help Franklin D. Roosevelt carry the state.

Mecham is another coy one. He was practically dragged into his first run for governor, and last year only a few weeks before the nominating convention he was still expressing doubt about going for a second term. Mecham has not said that he will not run for the Senate and at the same time he has been showing considerable concern about keeping himself in good politically. That went on through the legislature and later in his approval and vetoing of bills after the session closed. Mecham is also showing a lively interest in strengthening the Republican party organization which would seem unusual in a person retiring from politics. About the only thing that would keep either Anderson or Mecham from running, political observers think, would be the fear that they could not win.

Easter Bunny Comes In Style Pulling An Ice Cream Cart

What fun for the family to make an Easter egg cart out of ice cream, drawn by a team of bright-eyed bunny cookies! A perfect cart is the block-shaped carton of pre-packaged ice cream so conveniently available in your grocery or drug store. Buy either a pint or half-gallon of your favorite flavor, depending on your family's size and appetite.

To make the Easter bunny cookies, follow directions for your favorite sugar cookie recipe. Cut half the dough with a bunny cookie cutter, and remaining half with a round cutter. After baking, place bunnies upright on base in small mound of confectioners' sugar frosting. Place block-shaped ice cream on serving platter. Mound shredded coconut on top of ice cream to resemble Easter nest; fill nest with jelly beans. Place chocolate mint patties on sides for wheels, and put bunnies in front. For individual carts, cut each pint of ice cream into 3 or 4 blocks; use two mint patties for wheels.

Residents of Lincoln County, E. Grelson, Chairman of this invested $2,643.75 in U. S. Savings Bonds during February. Committee has announced.

CATTLE NUMBERS HAVE INCREASED IN NEW MEXICO

The number of all cattle in New Mexico on Jan. 1 was estimated at 1,250,000 head, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. This is two per cent over last year's cattle population on Jan. 1; and about the same as the 10-year average from 1942-51. The average value per head of all cattle was placed at $104 or $84 a head less than Jan. 1, 1952. The present number of cattle in New Mexico is the largest since 1946.

The number of all cattle on farms in the U. S. was estimated at 93,696,000 head. The value for the U. S. averaged $123, a drop of $51 from 1952. Milk cow numbers in New Mexico remained at 55,000, but the U. S. numbers increased 627,000. The value per head in New Mexico was $200, compared to $255 last year.

The number of stock sheep in New Mexico was estimated at 1,389,000, a decrease of 3,000. The value per head was $12.50, or about half of their value on Jan. 1, 1952.

The number of hogs on farms in New Mexico was 60,000, a 20,000 drop from 1952. The number of hogs in the U. S. was 54,632,000. This is compared to 63,582,000 last year. The value per head in New Mexico was estimated at $23.40; a $5.20 drop from 1952.

The number of horses in New Mexico was 71,000, or 6,000 less than last year. The value per head increased from $30 to $33 per head.

The number of mules on the farms was estimated at 3,000, no change from 1951. The value per head was $45, an increase of $5.

The number of chickens on the farms was estimated at 951,000, a decrease of 64,000 from last year. The value per head was $1.30, a 20-cent drop from last year.

N. M. 4-H Clubbers Vie for National Awards

New Mexico 4-H club boys and girls will again participate in three National Awards Programs relating to conservation, beautification, and insect control this year. According to L. S. Kurtz, state 4-H club leader with the Extension Service of New Mexico A&M College, club programs in soil and water conservation, beautification of home grounds, and entomology will be continued in this State. Donors in these programs are the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., Mrs. Charles R. Waigren, and the Hercules Powder Co., respectively.

Incentives for outstanding achievement comprise medals of honor for county winners and 17-jewel watches to the state winners in all three programs. In entomology and soil-and-water conservation programs, sectional winners are given all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November, and national winners receive $300 college scholarships. In beautification of home grounds programs, there are no sectional awards, but national winners receive trips to the 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Additional awards in soil-and-water conservation are a $25 defense bond to the state winner in the junior division, and in the demonstration phase of the program, the state winning individual demonstrator and the two members of the state winning team will each receive a fountain pen and pencil set.

Achievement figures for 1952 show that 140,000 4-H club boys and girls in the United States beautified their farmsteads, and 192,000 club members received training in soil-and-water conservation practices. About 60,000 members participated in wildlife and nature study activities, including entomology.

Pageantry Marks Easter in Jerusalem

Jerusalem's Easter pageantry goes almost unnoticed in America compared to the Holy Land's Christmas reenactments. Easter, nevertheless, rivals Christmas in the attention it commands at the scene of Christ's Passion and death, says the National Geographic Society. Jerusalem's celebration of the Resurrection is a truly international affair.

The Easter tide visitor, if so inclined, may attend church services all day long for nearly two weeks. After the Jewish Passover and Roman Catholic Easter rites are finished, celebrations of the Greek Orthodox Syrians, Copts, Armenians, and Abyssinians begin.

The Palm Sunday procession from Bethpage to Jerusalem has long been the first big event of Holy Week. It follows the route that Jesus rode over the Mount of Olives, past Gethsemane, and through St. Stephen's Gate to the courtyard of St. Anne's convent.

On Maundy Thursday, Greek and Armenian clergymen have traditionally donned ornate vestments for separate Washing-of-the-Feet ceremonies, to commemorate the Last Supper. The colorful Greek service, in the morning, is held in the courtyard of the Church of the Holy Sepulcher.

The Armenian ritual follows in the Cathedral of St. James in the afternoon. Amid the glitter of silver, silk, and brocade—the priests—representing the disciples—go before the kneeling Patriarch, each to have his feet washed, wiped and anointed with oil.

Consular flags at half-mast quietly announce Good Friday, when Pilgrims retrace the Way of the Cross from Pilate's judgment seat to Calvary.

Saturday offers the spectacular ceremony of the Holy Fire. Within the little chapel of the Holy Sepulcher a cracked marble slab hides the legendary rough-hewn tomb of Christ. On two sides symbolic fire bursts forth from small chapel windows, sending the crowds into wild ecstasy. Thousands reach forth to touch the flames with the candles they carry.

On Easter eve, under a gay tent on the roof of St. Helena's Chapel, the Abyssinians parade to the beat of tom-toms in a traditional search for the body of Christ. Then the quiet of the night descends.

Easter Sunday religious services climax the succession of Holy Week ceremonies, with the joyous observance of the resurrection feast.

WITH THE CHURCHES

CHAPEL OF OUR REDEEMER (Episcopal)
Ft. Stanton, N. M.
The Ven. Robert V. Davis, M. A.
Archdeacon
Services 1st, 3rd and 5th Sundays at 10:30 a.m. All are welcome.

Easter Services:
Sunday, April 5, 10:30 a. m.
In a pastoral letter, a part of which follows, Archdeacon Davis urges attendance and worship at Easter Church services.

"On April 5, we celebrate the glorious Easter Victory, the greatest victory in the history of mankind, the victory of Christ over sin and death. But there should not be an Easter without Calvary. 'Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?' How will you celebrate Easter? Will it be just another day, or will you be at the Altar of God to receive the Bread of Life, to show forth your thankfulness and praise and to go forth strengthened anew to be a faithful servant of the Lord Jesus Christ.

"Lincoln County is a big one and our Church people are widely scattered. But to offset this disadvantage, there are three churches in the County—Our Redeemer, Fort Stanton; Saint Anne's Glencoe, and Holy Mount, Ruidoso. It does mean considerable driving for SOME of our communicants to reach any of these three Churches, but we of the West are accustomed to wide open spaces. In this day of modern highways, a few miles should not deter anyone from the worship of Almighty God."

State Experiment Station Reports Research Progress

New crop varieties and better ways to produce livestock—these and other results from agricultural research in 1952 are reported in the 63rd Annual Report of the Agricultural Experiment Station of New Mexico A&M College.

The 60-page illustrated booklet, with an introductory letter by Dr. R. A. Nichols, station director, and A. S. Curry, associate director, points up the highlights of the year's research findings at the main station, State College, the four substations, and at numerous other locations.

Progress on 63 research projects conducted by the State College staff is reported under nine different headings—livestock and range management, sheep and wool, dairying, poultry, field crops and soils, vegetables, fruits, farm profits, and human nutrition. Reports from each substation are presented in separate sections. The substations are located at Albuquerque, Acapulco, Tucumanari and Clovis.

The reports list nine bulletins, 16 mimeographed progress reports, and six scientific journal articles which were published during the year. According to the report, 17 new research projects were begun and nine projects were completed.

Government to Promote Consumption of Beef

In cooperation with livestock producers, slaughterers, meat packers, and others in the distributive food trade, the U. S. Department of Agriculture is immediately undertaking a merchandising campaign, which will continue during the next several weeks, in an effort to increase the consumption of beef. In New Mexico, county agents and specialists of the Extension Service staff of New Mexico A&M College will join in the campaign.

The Livestock Committee, which met in Washington in March, recommended to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson "that the Department of Agriculture increase its informational and promotional program by way of press, newspapers, radio, television, and all other means at its disposal in order to bring the facts about the sup-

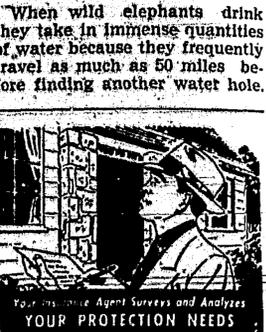

Wool Production in U.S. Near All-Time Peak

Total wool production in the United States in 1952, shorn and pulled, amounted to 285,973,000 pounds, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. This is six per cent above the 1951 production and is the largest production of all wool since 1948. Of this total, 232,373,000 pounds were shorn wool and 53,600,000 pounds were pulled wool. In 1951, total production was 251,445,000 pounds consisting of 225,545,000 pounds of shorn wool and 25,900,000 pounds of pulled wool. The 1941-51 average production of all wool was 256,420,000 lbs. of which 239,338,000 pounds was shorn wool and 17,082,000 pounds pulled wool.

The number of sheep and lambs shorn in 1952 was estimated at 28,172,000 head, 815,000 head more than were shorn in 1951. The average weight per fleece was 8.25 pounds, the highest on record, compared with the 1951 weight of 8.24 pounds. Pulled wool production in 1952 totaled 33,600,000 pounds, an increase of 7,700,000 pounds from 1951. This was the first year of increase in pulled wool production since 1944. Commercial slaughtering of sheep and lambs in 1952 showed an increase of 26 per cent from 1951.

Supplies of beef continue plentiful throughout the country as livestock slaughter continues large. U. S. slaughter of cattle under federal inspection (approximately 75 per cent of the total slaughter) during February, 1953, was 1,170,234 head, compared with 985,433 in February, 1952, and with the 5-year (1948-52) average slaughter of 956,562 head. This heavy movement of beef cattle to market is the result of the rapid build-up in numbers during the last three years to the recently all-time record of 50,800,000 head of beef cattle.

How much would you lose if fire should destroy your home or place of business? Or if you should become involved in a costly law suit resulting from your ownership of property? Or from some unfortunate action of yourself, members of your family or your employees? Can you distinguish between the most important perils to your financial security and those which are not serious threats to your pocketbook or peace of mind?

Through careful surveys of the risks to which property ownership exposes you, your property insurance agent enables you to discover at a glance just where you stand. You can learn whether certain coverages are essential or merely desirable in your particular case. Your agent's expert, on-the-spot surveys provide the key to a sound protection program which can be obtained in no other way.

Baby Showers Honor

Two Carrizozo Matrons

Mrs. Lee Carl was honored with a baby shower last week at the I.O.O.F. hall. The honoree received a great variety of lovely gifts from the many people attending.

The traditional stork presided over all. Two tables were placed in the center of the hall covered with beautiful lace tablecloths. On one table were the gifts, behind which Mrs. Carl sat. The other was decorated with a bouquet of daffodils and a lovely bouquet of pink carnations and small white flowers in a pink baby pot. Placed on the same table were several cakes and a bowl of pink punch. The refreshments were served after the gifts had been opened.

Mr. Carl presented his wife with a corsage of white carnations surrounded by small pink rosebuds, in the middle of which were three tiny dolls tied with blue ribbon.

Mrs. J. E. Robinson was the recipient of many lovely gifts at a baby shower last week, held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Roberts.

The presents were placed on a low coffee table, with an umbrella hanging from above. On another table were placed the punch bowl with pink and blue ice cubes and an unusual cake. The cake was in the form of a baby bed, with taffeta-covered head and foot boards. The cake was decorated to look like a chenille baby spread. Coffee was served with the cake. Each guest received tiny umbrellas as favors.

Hostesses were Maxine Roberts and Joyce May. Guests in-

Mrs. R. J. Jones and daughters, Joanne, Charlene and Jackie Lynn of Tucumcari were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Barnes and family from Friday until Sunday evening. During their stay they enjoyed shopping and the girls attended the Baptist Sunday School on Sunday morning.

Mrs. Jones is the wife of R. J. Jones, a brakeman for the S. P. He is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Barnes and Mr. and Mrs. Colonel Jones of Jal, N. M., who are close friends of the Barnes family. The Colonel Jones' also visited in the Barnes home while enroute home from Hachita, New Mexico.

Mrs. Elaine Leonard is now employed as secretary for Geo. L. Zimmerman. Miss Minnie Neill and Miss Bettie Lou Grogan spent Saturday in Socorro. Larry Stockton has recovered from pneumonia and is back at work.

There are fifty years of experience back of our service of repairing watches, clocks and jewelry. Service guaranteed. A. F. Roselle, Carrizozo, N. M. 4-3-11 visited were Mesdames Spencer, Zimmerman, Harris, Riley, Stockton, Jane Shafer, Roy Shafer Galacher, Dugger, Barbara Turner, Nickelson, Jane Turner, Jones, MacViegh, Shaw, Withers, Hill, Smoot, Robbins, Bancroft, Zumwalt, Bentfro, and English. Mrs. Robinson's mother-in-law of Artesia sent a gift but was unable to attend.

Dr. Robinson presented his wife with a baby corsage of pink carnations tied with pale blue ribbon.

WHITE OAKS HOSPITALITY

A word of praise to a most hospitable couple—Mr. and Mrs. Bud Crenshaw at White Oaks. Last Sunday was a most enjoyable day with them, seeing all the points of interest with historical background, including a trek through the "Little Mead" mine, which was man-made all the way.

At the outlet of the mine was a wonderful view of the surrounding country, including the Mal Pais. A very interesting visit. Mr. and Mrs. Crenshaw, and we hope more folks will visit White Oaks. So we, the visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Roy LeMay, Mr. and Mrs. James Kent, Ben Leslie Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Earling, thank you for your hospitality.

School Superintendent L. W. Clark attended a pre-budget hearing held in Santa Fe this week.

A good-size bass was the center of attraction on the dinner table at the Johnny Loderback home last Sunday. Johnny made the catch at Elephant Butte, but is having a time to convince his friends as to weight and size. Eddie Zamora accompanied him on the fishing trip last Friday.

Mrs. Kay Flinsten is at home this week after receiving medical attention for a few days last week in the Carrizozo hospital.

A. J. Bivens and fourteen of his FFA boys attended the State FFA convention held last week and at the A&M College in Las Cruces.

Successful Dance

The dance at the Country Club Saturday night was very successful. Dick Bills was definitely up to par and kept the large crowd attending happy with his great variety of music. A waltz contest was held during the evening and was won by Mr. and Mrs. Cooper of Carrizozo. Quite a few people from out of town were there, some from as far as Albuquerque and Santa Fe. Dick plans to come back to Carrizozo in the future, although probably not before the end of June.

The Country Club will serve another of its popular enchilada dinners this Saturday night, starting at 6:30.

Roofing for a Ranch House

from 'SMALL HOMES GUIDE'

... Suggested for our Southwestern Climate

MATERIALS & INSTALLATION INFORMATION

— Furnished by —

BIG JO LUMBER CO.

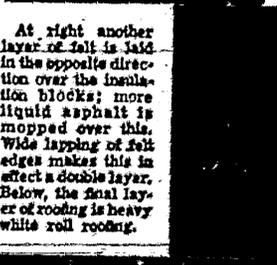

CARRIZOSO, N. M.

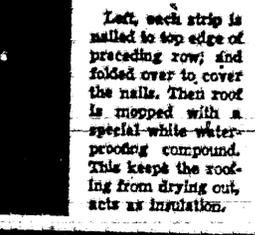

Low-Pitched Roof

An ordinary shingle roof will not offer enough protection for a low-roofed ranch house. The installation of a suitable roof, a built-up one, is shown here.

First, a layer of asphalt felt is applied, then block insulation is laid in mopped asphalt over the felt, and more asphalt is mopped over the insulation.

At right another layer of felt is laid in the opposite direction over the insulation blocks; more liquid asphalt is mopped over this. Wide lapping of felt edges makes this in effect a double layer. Below, the final layer of roofing is heavy white roll roofing.

Left, each strip is nailed to top edge of preceding row; and folded over to cover the nails. Then roof is mopped with a special white water-proofing compound. This keeps the roofing from drying out, acts as insulation.

 Advocates of income tax reduction in 1953 who had apparently lost the preliminary skirmish in their drive for prompt action to lighten the tax burden of millions of American taxpayers, have not lost the battle. In fact their chance for victory appears to have been improved by the most recent developments. Chairman Daniel
 Reed (R. N. Y.) of the House Ways and Means Committee, who introduced HR 1, which would cut personal income taxes
 by 5 1/2 per cent this year, has decided not to attempt to bring the bill before the house for action without clearance by the House Rules Committee. He will, however, still seek action by the Rules Committee. Chairman Allen (R. Ill.), who has been steadfastly standing out against prompt action on the bill now indicates that the committee may change its position and bring the bill to the House floor. This reversal of position can be attributed largely to the fact that public opinion is backing up Chairman Reed's charges that the majority in Congress will be guilty of violating its campaign pledges if prompt tax reduction action is not taken.

Chairman Reed's decision not to by-pass the Rules Committee was prompted by two considerations. One was the definite announcement by the President he wanted to see the budget balanced by cutting appropriations, if possible, before any move is made to reduce taxes.
 The other is that the bill could be amended to death by opponents of the tax reduction plan
 if it were to be brought before the House without a rule restricting offering of amendments to the membership of the Ways and Means Committee, which reported
 the bill out favorably.
 "In the interest of the taxpayers we cannot afford to destroy HR 1 by amendment without a rule," said Chairman Reed, and added, "The failure to carry out such a pledge as this when the people are so overburdened with taxes is unfair, dishonest and getting office under false pretenses. I am opposed to having the people betrayed by individuals or by either of the major political parties."

Chairman Reed's position is sound and right and I agree fully with it. I told the people of New Mexico that I proposed to vote and work for reduction of both taxes and expenditures. I shall keep that promise to the letter.
 The budget can be cut, as I have stated before, by about 10 billions. Much of that can be saved by eliminating waste and overspending, particularly in foreign aid. Every Congressional investigation made in the past two or three years has revealed waste and expensive overlapping of departmental functions, both in and out of the defense program. When the heads of most of those departments say they cannot find a way to reduce their budgets, it is evident they are disregarding the findings of the Congressional committees. The one belated exception is Secretary of Defense Wilson who now says he can cut two billions
 from the defense budget and reduce the armed forces without endangering the nation's security.

The people have a right to ask why that has not been done before if it can be done now. Many of us in Congress have been contending for many months that it could be done. It is hard to understand why the Defense Department has insisted on taking thousands of boys from their homes and schools and dislocat-

Oldest Known Cargo Ship Being Raised From Mediterranean Grave

A National Geographic Society expedition in the Mediterranean Sea off the southern coast of France has discovered and is now raising the oldest known cargo ship in the world,
 a Greco-Roman vessel sunk in the third century before Christ.
 Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the society has announced.

Already, Aqualung-equipped divers of the National Geographic-Calypto Marine Archeological Expedition headed by Capt. Jacques-Yves Cousteau
 have brought to the surface one of the rarest finds of archeological treasure in recent years.

Almost 1,000 large amphorapottery vessels used to carry the liquid cargoes of the ancients—have been recovered.
 Some, still corked, contained wine more than 2,100 years old.
 Captain Cousteau tasted the wine
 and pronounced it "awful."

ANCIENT OWNER KNOWN
 From the sea the expedition has also taken 1,400 pieces of fine export dinnerware, probably from the Greek province of Latium,
 now Campania, Italy.

Professor Ferdinand Benoit and archeologists assigned to the undersea explorers by the French Ministry of Education have dated the sinking of the 110-foot, 600-ton ship as around 230 B. C. Code letters on the amphoras told them that boat and cargo were owned by one Marcus Sestius.

ing their lives when, as Secretary Wilson now admits, there were not enough guns and other arms to equip them.

Manifestly it is up to Congress, itself, to take the initiative.
 The best way it can be done is to cut income (taxes) and keep expenditures within the income.
 Taxes that are too high, as they are now, do not increase government income. To the contrary, they tend to reduce it because they decrease business
 volume and the people's income.

PIONEER AIRLINES CASE
 Application for a rehearing by the Civil Aeronautics Board of the petition by Pioneer Airlines
 for an increase in mail subsidy payment which CAB says approximately $3,400,000 during the next five years is to be made.
 It was announced by Gen. Robert J. Smith, Pioneer Airlines
 president at a meeting with members of the New Mexico and Texas Congressional delegations.
 Pioneer claims the subsidy will be much less than the CAB estimate.

President Smith had previously announced that it would be necessary for Pioneer to curtail service drastically in the two states unless the increased subsidy is granted. Justification for the increase was based on the fact that Pioneer is now using Martin 202 Pacemaster planes instead of the DC-3 craft formerly used. The CAB denied the increase on the grounds that the larger Martin planes were not necessary to operations of feeder lines like Pioneer and pointed out that no other feeder line is using them. The CAB characterized the Martin 202 as "not suitable for local service carriers" and cited the fact that the plane is no longer being produced. It agreed to continue the present subsidy for Pioneer
 which is approximately $1,000,- 000 a year. Pioneer asked for the additional subsidy over the five-year period.

The case resolves itself into
 the question of who is right, Pioneer Airlines or the technical staff of members of the CAB. It is not before the Congress and President Smith asked that the members of Congress who met with him do nothing about it at this time in view of the pending
 application for rehearing.

Written In The Dust
 By WM. FELTZER

Somewhere for us the path winds round
 Through a dim aisle among the trees,
 And on and on across a leaf
 Where buttercups nod in the breeze,
 And hid in bowers of happiness
 The birds are singing all the
 day . . .
 Sweet, I will find this blithesome
 path,
 For I have missed you on the
 way.

I know that in the seasons past
 We traveled down this selfsame
 road;
 With little then we were content,
 The forests green were our abode.
 Beneath the sky's blue canopy
 When life was young, we used to play . . .
 The flowers were ours, the birds,
 That time I met you on the way.

And once again our souls have met
 On this star in the void of space,
 Shall we go wandering, groping still
 When I have met you face to face?
 My cup of happiness were full
 My heart were singing all the
 day
 If I should meet you on the path
 Walk hand in hand along the
 way.

High School Seniors Enjoy Annual Trip

Corona High School Seniors left Wednesday, April 1, at 5 a. m., for their annual trip, first going to Hot Springs then Las Cruces; El Paso and perhaps Juarez and then to Carlsbad. They are expected back home Saturday, April 4.

Wilson Martin, bus driver from Claunch, used his bus for the trip. Miss Dorothy Kerr went along as sponsor of the girls.

There are 14 Seniors—four girls and ten boys. Corona's annual High School picnic was held in Red Cloud Canyon Wednesday, April 1. School buses took the boys and girls to and from the picnic grounds. Several of the parents and the High School teachers attended the picnic.

H. G. Baird, depot agent for the Southern Pacific, has bought the Wesley King place just north of the Roberts Mercantile Store, and has been remodeling the building. Last week, while at work, Baird injured his hip and he is at present in the Veterans' Hospital in Albuquerque.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vandell have bought a lot, just south of their present location, from J. M. Shelton. They are planning to build a new house on the lot and have already had some lumber delivered.

Mrs. G. C. Brown was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Roswell the first of the week for medical treatment.

W. F. (Billy) Bryan is again in Los Alamos Hospital for treatment of a leg and foot infection which continue to give him trouble.

Tractors in Texas Run By Remote Control

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Shelton made a trip to Hale Center, Tex., last weekend. Mrs. Shelton says they watched huge farms being irrigated and plowed with tractors by remote control—tractors plowing with no one to guide them. At the end of the row the tractors turn around and start on another row. The owners of the tractors may go away and leave them for hours at a time.

David Wade of Claunch, Corona High School student, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Wade, of Claunch, reports that their car caught fire the first of this week, burning out the inside of the car.

HONDO VALLEY

The Ladies Extension Club had a very enjoyable evening at their last meeting at the Bonnell Ranch. It was guest night and all the members invited one or more guests. Everyone seemed to have had a wonderful time and enjoyed the good food. Hiram Dow of Roswell was guest speaker.

Mrs. L. G. Frazier was an El Paso visitor the past week to see her doctor for a check-up. She says she is feeling fine now.

Everyone is busy shearing these days and all are reporting a good clip. Most everyone has contracted their wool at a pretty good price. Now if we can manage a little rain, everyone will be happy.

We have a new State Patrolman, to be stationed at Tinnie. We all hope he will stop some of the trucks speeding through our village. They seem to have no regard at all for speed laws.

PRICES REDUCED ON ALL DODGE CARS

Roy E. Shafer, owner of Shafer Motor Co., today revealed the details of price reductions ranging up to $202 on all 1953 Dodge passenger cars and trucks.

Mr. Shafer said the Dodge price reductions were made possible by increased availability of scarce materials.

"Currently, Dodge retail sales are 50 per cent greater than during the corresponding period last year under government controls," Mr. Shafer said. "We are very pleased that the factory has been able to take advantage of increased production and sales, and to pass on the savings to our customers."

Here are some of the typical savings:

On the popular-selling Coronet V-eight four-door sedan the prices have been reduced $135.80, while on both the luxury Coronet V-eight Diplomat hard-top and convertible the prices have been lowered $201.80.

On the Meadowbrook Special four-door the price has been lowered $90.50 and on the Meadowbrook club coupe and four-door the price has been reduced as much as $67.50.

Additional savings will be effected by lowered Federal excise and local taxes on the factory retail price, Mr. Shafer pointed out.
