

RAMBLIN' AROUND

By PAUL BAKER

This newspaper takes exception to some of the remarks by Congressman Dempsey in his "News and Views From the Nation's Capitol," printed on page 2 of this issue.

For one, quickly, eliminate myself as having the necessary qualifications for the job and I also would delete from the eligibility list those congressmen and senators who find fault with everyone except themselves.

Proving he is just a good man as ever, D. L. Jackson, 83, walked to Carrizozo from White Oaks Saturday.

Just as he did on his birthday a year ago, Mr. Jackson refused several offers of a ride, saying: "No, I'll walk. Any man can come down hill, but it takes a good one to walk back."

Besides visiting friends and transacting some business in town, the veteran hiker did a good turn. Walking past the Lincoln Hotel, he noticed smoke coming from a housekeeping cabin near the hotel.

Summer brings flies and the resulting menace to the health of all. The Town Trustees are taking commendable action in improving garbage and refuse collection and should have the cooperation of all citizens to keep our streets and alleys clean.

It occurred to me that chicken-raising should be a profitable industry in Lincoln County, as it has been elsewhere, and now I know that it can be done.

It was a real pleasure this week to meet John (Henry) Hoffman of El Paso, who stopped in for a few minutes while on his way to the Hoffman ranch, three miles east of Carrizozo.

April 1 was just another day in Carrizozo, but elsewhere some old jokes were dusted off. In San Francisco, the weseinheimers were having a day for themselves, pulling some old ones.

See next week's issue for Will Harrison's article on the recent flap-up at the State penitentiary.

STATE ENGINEER TO INSPECT HIWAY 37

Jim Bird, State Highway Engineer, of Roswell, has made a date with Guy Dabney of Mesquite Mesa, to make a personal inspection of portions of Highway 37, which, Mr. Dabney told him, comes near to being impassable after rains such as fell last winter.

The two men met at Monday's session of the County Commissioners in Carrizozo.

Mr. Bird was interested in Mr. Dabney's description of the road and its mud puddles, where school children riding the bus had to get out and push.

The highway engineer said it would be much easier to determine what the Highway Department could do for the road after a personal inspection.

Mr. Dabney extended an invitation to Mr. Bird to visit Mesquite Mesa and look the road over—having lunch at the Dabney home before they start out—which the engineer promptly accepted.

County Commissioners Consider Road Matters

A proposal of Lonnie R. Hardin, superintendent of the Mesquite Indian Reservation that Lincoln County take over maintenance of a 1 1/2 mile stretch of road near the reservation was given favorable consideration by the County Commissioners at their meeting Monday.

The segment, partly on former land, is part of a road used to transport school students. Mr. Hardin said he would attempt to secure Federal funds to bring the road up to standard before turning it over to the County.

In another road matter, the Commissioners deferred action until later on the status of old Highway 53, paralleling the new highway under construction. A request has been made by property owners that the old highway be removed from the County road system.

Appearing on behalf of the Southern Pacific, Paul Heavels, tax counsel for the company, requested that the old road be kept open for company maintenance of a water pipeline serving Corona, Duran and Vaughn.

"It would be extremely difficult, if not impossible," Mr. Hardin said, "to maintain the pipeline without an access road."

He stated that the Southern Pacific would not ask the County for expensive maintenance work on the road.

"The State of New Mexico is unable to maintain all highways in its system," Jim Bird, highway engineer, told the Commissioners. "They are required to do so only as far as the money is available. He added that all State roads are not on the maintenance schedule.

His words grew out of a discussion as to whose responsibility it was—State or County—to maintain the seven-mile stretch of road from Highway 34 into White Oaks—a route traveled by a school bus.

Mr. Bird promised full cooperation of the Highway Department in furnishing the County needed road equipment, when it was available.

Tuesday the Commissioners sat as a Board of Equalization.

H. S. Spanish Festival Was Well Received

The Spanish Festival presented Tuesday night by the Junior Class of Carrizozo High School was well attended.

Mrs. R. C. Wedell, class sponsor, opened the program, singing "South of the Border."

Among the numbers well received was a folk dance by Tino Lopez, Helen Vega, Benny Herrera, Feliz Luera, Sammy Hicks, Tana Sandoval, Fredda Vega. In this number, Tino and Helen were "married." The others represented a flea, a rat, a cat, and a little worm.

Several duets were sung, one by Antonia and Lucy Pacheco being outstanding. Later, Arsenia Luera and the Pacheco girls in singing "Paloma Querida."

The dances presented by members of the class were excellent, especially the Mexican Hat Dance by Tino Lopez and Sally Monreal.

At the close of the program, Clyde Shultz, co-sponsor of the class, was presented with a billfold and Miss Marie Casanova, accompanist, a Coty set.

Several guest artists assisted the Junior Class in presenting the festival.

Land Use Committee Meets in Carrizozo

Lincoln County's Land Use Committee members met in Carrizozo Monday afternoon to review the system of road priorities set up a year ago under the Federal Aid Secondary Road program.

After listening to B. L. Smith of the State Highway Department and a number of County residents, including a delegation from Buidoso, the Committee met in executive session.

It was voted to recommend continuance of construction on the Tinnie-Arabela road as far as Arabela; then to expend the following two-year allotment of funds on improvement of the road (Project No. 3) from Buidoso to Angus.

At the open forum discussion preceding the committee meeting, Mr. Smith pointed out that, at the present cost of construction in excess of $40,000 per mile, it would probably be twelve years before the Tinnie to Spindle project (No. 2 on the priority list) could be entirely completed.

Though the Lincoln County planning group originally decided against transferring work from one priority to another, until the higher priorities had been entirely finished, Mr. Smith said other counties in the State had given this up as impractical.

where long and costly construction was involved. Instead, he said, counties were in some cases staggering the appropriations in order to give all parts of the county the benefit of road improvement, as far as funds were available.

There was some discussion in the open forum meeting about the basis on which the priorities were first set up. Speaking on behalf of Buidoso, several of its citizens stressed that community's importance as a tourist center in the economy of Lincoln County.

"They raised the question of tonnage loads were the primary consideration in deciding road priorities.

In reply, Mr. Smith stated the thinking of the 5-man Highway Commission has been "Let's go to the people. No plan is more permanent than the people of a county want to make it."

(Due to lack of space in this issue, the complete minutes of the Land Use Planning Committee will be printed next week.)

New Farm Bureau Unit Organized at Capitan

Kenneth Noaker, president of the Lincoln County Farm and Livestock Bureau, called a meeting in Capitan Wednesday night to form a second unit of the County ranchers and farmers organization.

A president, vice president and secretary were to be elected. The present board of directors of the Lincoln County Farm and Livestock Bureau, with headquarters at Hondo, will represent both the Hondo and Capitan units, until a director from Capitan is named, Mr. Noaker stated.

Fruit Growers Ass'n Re-elects All Officers

The White Mountain Fruit Growers Association met Monday night at the Bonnell Ranch for their annual election of officers. The following were re-elected to serve for another year:

Bert Pfingsten, chairman. Ralph Bonnell, vice chairman. Tom Babers, secretary. Fred McTeague and Ely Perry Sr., members, board of directors.

Apple packing for the coming year was discussed and final arrangements will be made at the next meeting May 11 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shreengost.

SOIL CONSERVATION MEETING

Soil conservation was the main topic, at the April 1 meeting of the county Farm Bureau. Archie Fox and Dan Giles from the Upper Hondo district office in Capitan, spoke.

A local P. M. A. official will speak on production and marketing activities in Lincoln County at the May meeting at Hondo High School.

Members of the Soil Conservation District board of directors are: Bert Pfingsten, chairman; Peter Hurd, vice chairman; Dan Erenton, secretary, and Charles Fuller and Wilbur McKnight, members.

Highway Dept. to Assist in Street Maintenance

The State Highway Department will be responsible for the maintenance of all of U. S. 260 through Carrizozo's city limits, and portions of Highway 54, the Town Council has been advised in a letter from James A. Bird, State engineer.

The letter states that, effective April 1, 1953, Carrizozo is to maintain Highway 54 from 3 Avenue northeast to the junction of Central Avenue and U. S. 260.

CITY TO CONTINUE STREET REPAIR WORK

The town has repaired most of the streets damaged by winter rains and the Council Monday night authorized Utilities Manager Lloyd Toplift to buy additional material for completing the job. A seal coat is to be applied later when the State's paving equipment is in the vicinity.

Other Council business: Request granted St. Rita Church to close the alley in Blk. 36, where the new church is to be built.

A letter was read from a local attorney advising that the statutes of the State of New Mexico do not require the town marshal to wear a uniform in the performance of his duties.

City Marshal Atwood was authorized to select the location for a police telephone, which the Mountain States Telephone Company has offered to install free of charge. The phone will be in a locked box in a convenient outdoor location.

Another Open House There will be Open House at the Carrizozo Light and Power Plant in about two weeks when the new installations are officially turned over to the town.

Work on installing the second generating unit is well under way. Utilities Manager Lloyd Toplift reports.

When this work is completed and the city formally takes over its new power generating facilities, there will be flowers, free doughnuts and coffee for everyone. And the Ferris Wheel-Merry Company tells the Mayor they will feel the Mill.

Mayor Roberts reported a conversation he had this week with Paul Harris, tax consultant of the Southern Pacific, in which Mr. Harris said Carrizozo will be taken care of first, in the event the railroad company disposes of its interest in supplying water to several communities, including Carrizozo, Corona, Vaughn and Duran. A report on water resources of the latter three communities is now being studied by Southern Pacific Company engineers, Mr. Harris said.

"You in Carrizozo have nothing to worry about regarding your present source of water," Mr. Toplift reported to the Council that inquiries were being made regarding purchase of one or two water pumps to increase water pressure all over town. He said the goal is to build up water pressure from the present low of 18 pounds to 35 pounds and later increase the pressure to 50 pounds. The pump and its standby would run around the clock, automatically keeping up the pressure.

Present at the Council meeting were Councilmen C. A. Snow, Roy Shafer, Juan Martinez, Clifford Umwalt; Mayor Marvin H. Robert and Town Clerk Gusale Johnson.

TOWN TO IMPROVE ITS COLLECTION OF GARBAGE With the approach of the fly season, the Carrizozo Town Trustees at their meeting Monday night took steps to improve the garbage collection system and to enforce existing ordinances regarding sanitation.

An ordinance is being planned regarding disposition of garbage and its collection.

A letter from Lee L. Peek, district sanitarian, regarding the keeping of livestock within the town limits, was read. It follows:

"Mayor Roberts Carrizozo, New Mexico: "All housefly season is here again. I would like to make a recommendation concerning fly control, to be acted on at the next town meeting if possible. This matter is especially important, since it is still thought by medical authorities that flies may be connected with the spread of polio.

"I recommend that an ordinance excluding livestock (cows, horses, swine, sheep and goats) from the town, be passed. Fly control should begin at the source. Livestock pens and improperly handled garbage are usually the two most productive sources. Fly spray is only a supplement to good fly control.

"I do not know the exact location of the city limits, but probably there are a few people within this boundary that keep a milk cow, or possibly other livestock. I do not feel that such an ordinance would be burdensome to them, as the cost of feed and the time spent caring for a cow makes the price of the milk almost equal to the price paid at a grocery store. Needless to say, the loss of one child's life would overshadow all that could be gained by keeping livestock inside the town."

BUYING NEW WELL DRILL LINCOLN — Ray Taylor left here Wednesday, April 8, for Milwaukee, Wis., where he will buy a new Bucyrus-Erie well drill which he will use in well-drilling operations in this County.

BAKE SALE The Methodist WBSU will have a bake sale this Saturday morning at Lane's Department Store.

MARVIN WEIBORN of White Oaks was a business visitor in Carrizozo Wednesday.

POTLUCK SUPPER The Trinity Methodist Church of Carrizozo will have another pot-luck supper Tuesday, April 14. Everyone welcome.

CORRECTION The Carrizozo PTA meeting and installation of new officers will be held on Monday, April 13, instead of April 8, as stated last week.

ESSAY CONTEST WINNER

CLAIRE BOYD, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boyd of Fort Stanton, will be among the six New Mexico high school students attending the United Nations Youth Pilgrimage next July.

Claire's essay, "What the United Nations Means to Me," won third place in the Statewide contest sponsored by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Miss Boyd, a sophomore, is the second Capitan High School student to win this award. Last year Joe Don Womack attended the Pilgrimage. Miss Boyd is a member of Los Tigres Espanola, the National Honor Society, and Sigma Sigma Lambda, the New Mexico Librarian Club. Other activities in which she is active are glee club, the school band, and the Rainbow organization.

Joe Ferguson, a sophomore at Capitan, won sixth place on his essay in the same contest.

BAND PREPS FOR SPRING FESTIVAL The Carrizozo High School Band, under the leadership of Jerome Barikus, will present its music festival Friday, April 17, at 8 p.m., in the Grade School Auditorium. At that time the calf donated by Pat Withers will be given away.

Tickets for the calf are now on sale and festival tickets will be on sale Monday from any member of the school board or band. There are 34 band members. They have been practicing hard for the festival and it will be their best performance to date. The program will be full and varied, with such novelties as an old-time German band and the nationally popular "Rag-Time Wedding."

Many business houses and individuals are supporting the band by taking space in the festival program booklet. Individual sponsorships at $2.50 each will be accepted until noon Saturday, April 11. The band is growing both in numbers and playing performance. Its members are enthusiastic and deserve full community cooperation.

MAGICIAN AND HIS BUNNY IN SHOW AT CAPITAN Arnold Furst and his rabbit, "Oscar," will present their two-hour magic and illusion show "Mysteries Around the World," at the Capitan High School on Tuesday, April 14.

The show, which is sponsored by the Capitan Chamber of Commerce, will open at 7:30 p.m.

Oscar, the Rabbit, who stars in the magic and illusion mystery show, is probably the most honored bunny in the world. For three and a half years Oscar traveled completely around the world with his magician friend, Arnold Furst. They entertained over a million service men during their three trips around the world which took them into every theatre of war.

Assisting Furst, the magician, will be a young lady from Capitan. The girl from the audience will go up on the stage to amaze the spectators when they see her remain suspended in mid-air.

Furst will attempt to escape in thirty seconds from a box that the Capitan Chamber of Commerce will have constructed so strongly that an escape from the inside of the box will be seemingly impossible.

Mrs. Ann Earling Moves Up in News Contest Mrs. Lewis Farris maintained her lead in the News subscription contest, as it draws to a close, with only one more week to go. Final tabulation of votes will be made Saturday noon, April 17, and the top three contestants awarded prizes of $100, $50 and $25, respectively.

Mrs. A. E. Mulkey, Ann Earling and Elsie Lopez added considerably to their vote total since the contest standings were published last week.

The standings Monday of this week were as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Amount.

Mrs. Lewis Farris $6,000 Mrs. A. E. Mulkey $4,400 Mrs. Ann Earling $1,700 Miss Elsie Lopez $1,300 Miss Elsie Lopez $1,400

News and Views From Your Nation's Capitol

By JOHN J. DEWPEY
Congressman from New Mexico

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—Congress starting its Easter recess April 2, left behind it a mounting friction between the majority leadership and the Eisenhower administration. During the nearly three months of the new administration the members of Congress on both sides of the aisle have been forced to the conclusion that the change for which the people voted last November is not taking place.

The principal weak spot thus far developed is the Department of State. At least that department under guidance of Secretary Dulles has engendered the bulk of the friction that is now growing to considerable proportions between the President and the Legislative branch of the government, more particularly with members of the President's own party in Congress.

The spirited and unreconcilable opposition that was spearheaded by members of the Senate majority to confirmation of Charles E. Bohlen as Ambassador to Russia was the principal incident that has built up in the minds of the Congress and of the people a serious doubt whether the pledge of the new Secretary of State to "clean up the department from top to bottom" is to be carried out.

The confirmation of Bohlen—with 11 Republicans and two Democrats opposing—was not an expression of confidence in Bohlen or in Secretary Dulles. Statements made by members of the Senate indicate clearly that while they did not agree with the position taken by the President and the Secretary of State in insisting that Bohlen be made Ambassador to Russia, they deferred to the President's expressed desire.

In view of Bohlen's close relationship with the Acheson regime, it was difficult for the senators to understand why the President and Secretary Dulles were so insistent that he be confirmed. In the Senate debate, Bohlen's part as a top-notch aide in working out the dubious Yalta, Tehran and Potsdam agreements, was stressed and particular reference was made to the campaign repudiation of those agreements by the President. The action of Secretary Dulles in so strongly espousing Bohlen was not reassuring to Congress and

News Subscription Contest Brings Two Old Friends Together

When Mrs. Ena Mosteller, who lives near Tinnie, read the list of new and renewal subscribers in the News last week, she saw the name of Mrs. Dona Hobbs, who lives in Carlizozo—a friend of 41 years ago. The two ladies spent a pleasant week-end together shortly afterwards. Mrs. Hobbs had renewed her subscription through her friend, Mrs. Lewis Harris.

In renewing his subscription to the News, W. C. Hendren of Cleveland, Ohio, asks that the votes be credited to Ethelyn Phillips, who is entered in the News subscription contest. Mr. Hendren writes: "Mrs. Hendren and I are very interested in Ethelyn, who was a music pupil of Mrs. Hendren's for several years. The News always contains much of interest to us and each issue is looked forward to. While many new names make their appearance, we still find many of our old friends and news of familiar places. . . Mrs. T. E. Kelley is the aunt of Mrs. Hendren."

Following is an additional list of names of new and renewal subscribers to the News:

- Plecho—Juddy McKnight
- Ruddose — Paul H. Douglass, Montie Gardenhire, Carmen Phillips, Robert H. Smith and L. R. Spiros.
- San Patricio—Manuel Corona, Ben Sanchez.
- T. A. Spencer of Three Rivers; Sam Dillard, Tularosa; A. E. Ironsinger, Vaughn; Mrs. Bud Cronshaw and D. L. Jackson of White Oaks.
- Alamogordo—Mrs. M. G. Catalajal, Gertrude Hale, E. V. McKim, Buster Stephens.
- Albuquerque—A. J. Beauvais, Mrs. Howard Gustin, F. H. Hall, Herbert Meeks.
- Roswell—Frances A. Hunt, Joe E. Phillips, Mrs. Olive Porter.
- Gorganlo McKinley of Las Cruces; Omer Sparrow, Logan; A. J. McBrayer, Tatum; A. E. Bradley, Imperial, Calif.; Donald Wayne Calentine, USS; Chevaller, Fleet P. O., San Francisco; Willie J. Sutherland, 2nd Inf., care Postmaster, San Francisco; L. A. Whitaker, Temple City, Calif.

most certainly did not inspire confidence among the people of this country. This, coupled with his sponsoring of Alger Hiss for head of the Carnegie Foundation, and his recent action in clearing the loyalty record of John Carter Vincent, then retiring him on a more than ample pension, has cast a shadow of doubt over the State Department and considerably weakens the position of the administration. That certainly cannot be construed as a victory for the President despite the final Senate vote on Bohlen.

I had shared the hope of many others that the new State Department would get away from the ideas and policies of the thoroughly repudiated Acheson regime. It is hard to understand why the President and the Secretary of State took the position that Bohlen was the only man fitted for this important job. If Bohlen is the only one of 158 million Americans who can serve as Ambassador to Russia, this nation is in a sad plight.

The vote in the Senate cannot be construed as a vote of confidence in either Bohlen or the State Department. Statements by members of the Senate, particularly on the majority side, bear that out. It was purely a vote in support of President Eisenhower, or, right or wrong.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) said: "I shall vote to allow the President, in this particular case, to name Bohlen as his personal representative. But my vote does not approve or condone his action, or the actions of our government at Yalta". He asserted Bohlen was connected with agreements which have cost thousands of American lives and piled up a huge tax burden.

Senator Dirksen (R-Ill.) said that he could not go along with the President and voted against the confirmation. He warned the administration against sending any more such appointments up for Senate approval. Senator Capelhart (R-Ind.) expressed grave doubt concerning the appointment and stated that he was voting for confirmation only because of the strong stand taken by the President.

ANOTHER SUPER PROJECT

Members of the Congress who are making a determined battle to cut down government expenditures and reduce income taxes this year were handed another good argument for their cause by a startling revelation made before a House committee. The Director of Foreign Buildings for the State Department informed the committee that plans were underway to build or purchase a $20,000,000 home for Henry Cabot Lodge, 20th U. S. Delegate to the United Nations and that the expenditure of an additional $1,000,000 was contemplated to furnish it.

Selective Service Grants New Type of Deferment to Students

Colonel John F. McFarland, State Director of Selective Service, today said that many college students heretofore denied the statutory deferment in Class 1-S, notably those enrolled in so-called "terminal" courses in junior colleges, will become eligible for this type of deferment under a new order issued in the form of a local board memorandum by Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service.

It was explained that the deferment is granted by law to the student who, when reached for induction is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction in a college, university, or similar institution of learning. Heretofore, it has been the responsibility of local boards and State Selective Service Headquarters to determine whether the school in question qualified as "a similar institution of learning" and whether the student qualified as a college student satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course.

The new ruling provides that requests for deferment in Class 1-S submitted by the registrant to his local board shall be accompanied by a statement from the educational institution containing, in addition to the above items already required, information that the institution is a college, university, or similar institution of learning.

Federal Rehabilitation Program Proves Worth

A Federal law that has enabled 600,000 disabled veterans to train for useful, productive lives has just passed its tenth birthday.

The law, signed by the President during the height of World War II, on March 24, 1943, is Public Law 16, the Vocational Rehabilitation Act. Because of its disabled veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict have been enabled to train at government expense for jobs they can hold despite their handicaps.

Of all the veterans who have trained under Public Law 16, more than half, or 350,000, already have been rehabilitated to the point where they are now able to earn a living as trained workers, the Veterans Administration reported.

Of these rehabilitated veterans, 40 per cent trained for the professions and for top-level managerial jobs. Another 36 per cent took trade and industrial training preparing themselves for jobs such as machinists, mechanics, electronics specialists. Many are now employed in defense plants.

Ten per cent trained in agriculture, six per cent for sales jobs, another six per cent for clerical positions and the remaining two per cent for service occupations.

Rehabilitated veterans already are making their mark. A paralyzed Massachusetts veteran who sold grocery items from door to door before the war is now operating a quarter-million-dollar insurance business from his bed in a VA hospital, as a result of Public Law 16 training given in the hospital ward.

In New York City, a veteran who had high hopes of becoming a sculptor before the war sud-

Mrs. C. C. Ferguson Heads Cancer Crusade

The appointment of Mrs. C. C. Ferguson of Capitan as county chairman for the 1953 Cancer Crusade was announced by J. C. Hester, of Santa Fe, state campaign chairman.

April is cancer crusade month in New Mexico, and an active fund-raising campaign will be undertaken immediately after the Easter holidays.

"Surveys indicate that cancer is the most feared of all diseases," Chairman Hester said, "yet it can be cured by early diagnosis and treatment. The big job of the Cancer Society is to further the program of education and research to bring about control of cancer. Hundreds of men and women throughout New Mexico are giving their time and efforts to further this worthy program to save lives. We hope to raise more than $30,000 this year as New Mexico's share in the great crusade against cancer."

denly found his dreams shattered when he lost both arms in a wartime airplane crash. But through Public Law 16, he has made a come-back as one of America's promising young singers of popular songs.

On the other hand, the program for veterans disabled since Korea currently is gaining headway. At the present time some 3,000 disabled Korean veterans are taking training under the law.

So far, Public Law 16 has cost the government $1.5 billion. Veteran-trainees themselves received 80 per cent of the amount in subsistence allowance payments. The remainder, represented tuition, supplies and other costs in connection with training.

Worth more... and why

There's an old saying that a thing is worth what someone is willing to pay for it. Well, if you could tour the wholesale and retail used car auctions around the country, if you could survey hundreds of used car lots you would discover that used Fords bring higher prices than any competitive make—and by substantial amounts.

THAT'S WHY we feel our '53 cars should not be compared with cars in the same price range. Not because our competitors don't do a good job—obviously they do—but because we feel Ford Cars have more in common with the highest priced automobiles. The similarities are far greater than the differences.

For example, Today, the most expensive cars in this country have V-type, 8-cylinder engines. Ford Cars have had this exact same type of engine for over 25 years.

What's more astounding, the current Strato-Star V-8 sells for hundreds of dollars less than several other makes charge for a six-cylinder car. Now there's nothing wrong with a Six but they do cost less to make. Ford makes a Six—the most modern overhead valve Six in the industry. And if it's a six-cylinder car you want, Ford has it and for less money than the V-8, which is as it should be.

What about ride? Here's another Ford similarity with high priced cars... Riding Comfort. One of the misconceptions for many years has been that weight—sheer weight—is what it takes to make a car ride well. Ford has found that you can make a 3000-pound car ride better and hold the road better by far than many cars that weigh a full 1000 pounds more. In the '53 Ford, for example, front end road shock has been reduced up to 80%. We say it compares most favorably with the heaviest cars sold today.

What about automatic transmissions? It would take the fingers of both hands to count the various kinds of automatic and semi-automatic transmissions on the market today. The one we offer is called Fordomatic. It is the most versatile on the market, it represents the most profound consideration of engine-to-wheel power transfer—and that it does the best job for our engines isn't even open to question. It "shifts" better than you could shift by hand.

What you can see is also important. Here again Ford Cars lead not only in their price field but in the medium and upper brackets as well. Ford visibility is Full-Circle Visibility. This means huge, curved unobstructed glass area, front and rear, plus side windows that allow all passengers what the hotels call "room with a view."

Appearance? A higher price, of course, does not make a car more beautiful. Conversely, beauty in a Ford comes "for free." Ford has found that it costs no more to develop a beautiful car than one that is less pleasing in appearance. You can drive up to the most exclusive doorways in the world and feel perfectly at home in your Ford. Fords "belong" . . . in exactly the same social category as the finest, one-of-a-kind creations. After all, a Ford is a custom creation multiplied.

What about running costs? Here's one place that Ford's advantages are obvious. For oil and gas economy Ford has the big cars whipped. Ford parts cost less. Ford service charges are less. Ford tire mileage is thousands of miles greater. And, Ford depreciation is the lowest of any car on the market—bar none.

What are Fords made of? Some people have the idea that the costliest cars are made of "better stuff." It's true that some high-priced cars have costlier upholstery and fittings. What Ford has is so good, both in durability and appearance, that you probably could not tell the difference. You might even prefer it, because of its better design and more pleasing appearance.

Then there's the question of sheet metal. If you were to measure and analyze the sheet metal structure in the most expensive car, you most likely would find it identical in thickness to the corresponding panels in Ford.

After all, then, what is the difference between a Ford and the costliest cars?

In our opinion, the difference is largely a matter of dimensions, weight (and the power required to move it) plus the distinction of owning a car that not so many other people own. The desire for these things is understandable . . . and probably justified for people who are willing to pay the price to satisfy it.

As to comparing Ford with other cars in its price range, by all means do so if you wish. But, as we said before, you'll get a better picture of Ford value by comparing with cars that are most like Fords—those that are priced up to twice as much. In fact, we think you'll quickly begin comparing the other cars with Ford—because the 1953 Ford has really established the New Standard of the American Road.

'53 FORD

AROUND TOWN

FAMILY REUNION

On Sunday, April 5, a family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman E. Kelt, Sr. of Carrizozo. This was the first time the family had been together since June, 1939. Included in the family group were:

Mrs. and Mrs. Jack Sargent and son, Jackie, of Santa Fe; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kelt, and two children, Billy and Jean, Albuquerque; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hennrich and daughter, Becky, Carrizozo; Mrs. Clara K. Bell, sister of Mr. Kelt, and Mrs. Thelma Scribner, mother of Mrs. Herman E. Kelt Jr.

Both sons and sons-in-law served in World War II. Miss Joy Dawn Reil was home from Texas Tech visiting her parents during the Easter vacation. She drove Jimmy Barnett as far as Lubbock, and he then went on to San Francisco. Miss Adeline Stokes was also a passenger on the Carrizozo, proceeding on to Truth or Consequences.

Returning out of town during Easter vacation were Miss Bettie Lou Grogan, who journeyed to Albuquerque; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Spangman, and Peggy, who went to El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morris, son Jeff, and son-in-law John Stevens, spent the holidays in El Paso, with their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Morris. Mrs. John Stevens, daughter of the Morris, had been visiting the younger Morris family in El Paso, and returned to Carrizozo Sunday with her husband and her parents.

The Carrizozo Country Club will serve another of its popular "entree" dinners this Saturday, starting at 6:30.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Casey attended church at Claunch last Sunday. After the service a covered dish luncheon was served in the basement of the church.

Thursday, Bill Nickels went to El Paso to take service instruction on the Westinghouse 1953 line. On Friday he visited the Nechri-Elna distributors and received instruction in the new supermatic sewing machine.

Girl Scout Leaders Attend Convention

Mrs. Truman Spencer, Jr., and Mrs. Ace Baty of Carrizozo attended the annual planning meeting of the Southwestern New Mexico area of Girl Scouts in Lovington, N. M., March 17. This is the first time the Mountain area has been represented. There has been a 65 per cent increase in Scouting within a year for New Mexico.

RUMMAGE SALE
The Girl Scouts will have a rummage sale April 25. The place will be announced later.

TRES VALLEY'S GARDEN CLUB

A meeting of the Tres Valley's Garden Club was held March 31 in the home of Mrs. William Shreengost of Hondo. Mrs. Shreengost was graciously assisted by her mother, Mrs. Bert Pfingsten, who looked very charming in a dress of blue and white silk print. Mrs. Pfingsten for many years has been one of the valley's most talented gardeners, sharing her flowers with all.

The day was warm and sunny, with lovely blossoms on the fruit trees showing through every window, with artistic flower arrangements indoors of lavender lilac and many spring flowers, brought by the members.

All enjoyed a delightful covered dish luncheon. The business of the meeting was the installation of the officers for the new year. Mrs. Luther Dudley of Roswell honored the Club by officially installing the officers, presenting each with a colorful corsage. Each corsage color represented the virtues expected of her special duty to the Club. Mrs. Dudley has just resigned her position as State committee chairman. Committee chairmen:

Horticulture—Mrs. Ed Nelson
Junior Guidance—Mrs. Wilbur McKnight

Publication—Mrs. Victoria Watson Linnacher.

Flower Show—Mrs. Wilbur Coe
Year Book—Mrs. Charles Read
Scrapbook—Mrs. L. B. Hodges
The Club also took up the discussion of the coming flower show. Louise Coe was appointed chairman, and much enthusiasm was shown by the members to surpass last year's show in both display of flowers and flower arrangements.

Under the guidance of the new Club president, Mrs. Fuller, the meeting closed with definite plans for the coming year and to carry out constructive community assistance as of 1952.

Another matter to be voted on by all schools is to change the name of the Athletic Association to the "New Mexico High School Activities Association," which would include all high school activities, including athletics.

Hold Show Fleeces

As the county will be designated on all show fleeces entries in the 1954 wool show, I would like to see Lincoln County have a large group of entries. Lincoln County having the largest number of sheep in the state will have a good chance to show what is being raised in the county.

If you are planning on entering some fleeces in the state wool show here are a few points to keep in mind in selecting those fleeces.

Show fleeces can be selected "on the sheep's back" or from the shearing floor. But you can usually make a better choice if you save several shorn fleeces, then weigh, test, and compare them before selecting possible show entries.

Show fleeces should have super length-for-grade, good, clean fleeces weight, considerable fiber strength, desirable processing qualities, and be free from defects. Fine, one-half blood and three eighths blood fleeces should be over 3 3/4 and 4 inches, respectively, in stretched lengths.

Fleeces from range-run 12-month growth ewe lambs, mature ewes and aged rams should scour out over 4 1/2 and 7 lbs. clean wool, respectively.

A "tender" fleece is usually down graded by the wool judging committee. Hand testing of small locks from various parts of the fleece will help to determine fiber strength.

Desirable processing qualities include boldness and evenness of crimp; "super" near equal length of fleece, uniform fineness of wool grade throughout the fleece, freedom from numerous "second cuts" and general attractiveness of the fleece. Defects which usually result in down-grading of fleeces are excessive hairiness, burrs, etc.
 Ewes and ram fleeces should have close to 12 months wool growth. Lamb fleeces may run as much as 14 months.
 Show fleeces should be gathered up and loosely rolled in a careful manner. If they are put together in a haphazard fashion on the shearing floor, later reworking is more difficult and time-consuming. Each fleece should be carefully boxed or wrapped and labeled. The label should show the sex and maturity, months of fleece growth, name and address of grower.
 Growers can make a better showing and contribute more to the state wool show by following a comprehensive program of selecting their top fleeces.

Control of Sheep Ticks

Shearing time is the best time to control sheep ticks, according to County Agent Ralph R. Dunlap, Carrizozo.

Ticks multiply rapidly during the winter and early spring, when the wool is long, the county agent points out. "Shearing usually removes a large number of ticks but many remain on the shorn ewes and soon spread to the lambs. The unthrifty condition of the ewes and lambs probably costs about 25 cents per head a month. In other words, it costs 25 cents a month to feed the ticks on each sheep."
 "Spraying before lambing helps to keep the tick population down as lambs must be several weeks old before they can be sprayed safely. Also lambs can acquire a large tick infestation soon after birth."
 "Rotenone, DDT, BHC, toxaphene and lindane are effective insecticides against sheep ticks. Dipping gives the best control because it affords the best coverage. Spraying is, however, more widely used because it is

Death Toll on Highways
 Attributed by IACP to Undermanned Patrol

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 7.—The need for additional State highway police personnel and equipment is emphasized by the fact that arrests and warnings of drivers breaking traffic laws are averaging only one for every 118 miles traveled by patrol cars in rural areas, the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies disclosed today.

The International Association of Chiefs of Police, it was pointed out, estimates that if the rural highways were adequately patrolled, "traffic contacts" would average one for at least every 40 miles patrolled. A "traffic contact" means either an arrest or a warning for traffic law violations. Only ten states have met this standard.

"This is a pitiful performance," declared Thomas N. Boate, accident prevention department manager of the ACSC, "when it is remembered that highway an easier method of application. "All of these pesticides have their advantages and disadvantages," the county agent added. "But all of them will do a good job if applied according to the manufacturer's directions. None of them except rotenone, should be used on sheep within 30 days prior to their slaughter for food. Only wettable powders should be used."

For further information, ask the county agent for a copy of Extension Circular No. 228, "Let's Control Livestock Pests."

Ancho Juniper Control

A juniper control test plot was established on the B. W. Wilson ranch near Ancho this week.

Under the supervision of Dr. J. J. Norris and K. A. Valentine of the New Mexico Experiment Station, various chemicals were applied to determine their effectiveness in juniper control.

The chemicals are 2,4-D, 2,4,5-T and ammate. They will be used at various concentrations and volumes to determine the most effective rate of application.

Charles Gould of the DuPont Company was present to assist in the tests. The principal juniper species being controlled are one-seed juniper and the Rocky Mountain juniper.

Although the cost is not expected to be lower than mechanical control, County Agent Ralph Dunlap states that it is hoped to get a more complete eradication and leave the area more open to grazing, as the brush will not be disturbed. A large test is anticipated next year, with the more promising chemicals.

As many grazing areas are being invaded, it is felt that the rancher can increase his grazing capacity by eradicating the juniper. The rancher himself can apply the spray and larger areas can be covered than by mechanical methods.

 THE ESTATE OF) No. 781
 LARRY MOORE,) Deceased)

NOTICE OF DATE FIXED FOR HEARING ON FINAL ACCOUNT
 TO: Thelma T. Moore, Mary Victoria Moore, and all unknown persons claiming any lien upon or right, title, or interest in or to the estate of said deceased, GREETING:

Notice is hereby given that the administrator of the estate of Larry Moore, deceased, has filed his final account and report, and that the Court has appointed the 9th day of May, 1953, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon at the courthouse in Carrizozo, New Mexico, as the time and place for hearing objections, if any, to said final account and report, for determining heirship of decedent and ownership of his estate, and for the distribution thereof.

WITNESS my hand and the seal of said Court, on this, the 19th day of March, 1953.

safety is dependent first on sound law enforcement. It means that nearly three out of every four traffic-law violators-escape detection on rural highways because there are insufficient police to do an adequate job.

The IACP standard does not mean that a motorist must be arrested or warned every 40 miles. The 40-mile average for patrol cars was drawn up by accident prevention statisticians to show what would be the norm if enough patrol cars and police were available for proper rural law enforcement. That the nation lacks enough personnel and equipment to do the rural enforcement job is amply demonstrated by the 118 mile average.

"Traffic law violators on rural roads are the worst breeders of traffic accidents. Two-thirds of the nation's traffic fatalities and almost half of the injuries resulting from traffic accidents are occurring in rural areas every year largely because speeders and other law violators seldom see a patrol car in most states."

States that have met 40 mile standard follow: Rhode Island, 21 miles patrolled for each acre or warning; Oklahoma, 23; Massachusetts 26; Nebraska 32; New Mexico and Tennessee, 35; and Delaware, Florida, Georgia and Ohio, each 39. Three more states that have come close to meeting the 40 mile minimum standard for effective patrol are California and Connecticut, where patrols average 42 miles of travel for each "traffic contact," and Montana, where it is 45.

In the remainder of the 48 states that were surveyed on this phase of activity by the IACP, police cars are patrolling extremely "long distances" before handing out a ticket warning. In 18 states they patrolled between 50 and 100 miles for each "traffic contact," in eight states between 100 and 200 miles, in two states up to 273 miles, in another state 328 miles, and still in another more than 500 miles.

"Last year traffic fatalities in urban areas declined about eight per cent," said Mr. Boate, "but in rural areas the toll was increased by well over 1,000 deaths because so many speeders and other law violators ride the highways undetected. These rural traffic deaths more than offset the lower fatality toll of the cities, with the result that the nation's fatalities increased two per cent. Had these law violators in rural areas been detected often, the 1952 accident toll might have been reduced."

"The nation can make a real start toward dealing more effectively with the life-and-death problem of reducing its traffic toll when many states at least double or triple their pitifully low average rates for apprehending law violators on the rural highways. It is in the open country that the speeders and other habitual law offenders who eventually wind up in serious accidents are causing up to 25,000 traffic deaths and injuring from 500,000 to 600,000 persons every year.

"As soon as rural highway police forces in most states are able to warn more motorists and make more arrests for traffic violations, there is better hope for a real reduction in the accident toll in rural areas."

INSURANCE provides indemnity. It cannot replace property lost by fire or lives lost through accidents. That is why your property insurance agent, who too frequently sees the disastrous effect of losses which could have been prevented, has for many years been active in community accident and fire prevention campaigns. He works to improve the fire prevention ordinances in his town, for example, and he supports measures designed to improve the efficiency of local fire departments.

A part of each premium dollar he collects is used by the companies he represents to maintain high fire and accident prevention standards through national engineering and educational organizations which wage unending war on the causes of accidents and fire waste.
 In the individual home, store or factory for which he provides insurance protection, the agent's experience and knowledge frequently help reduce or eliminate major hazards. When these safety recommendations are followed, the property often becomes eligible for corresponding reductions in insurance rates.
 It's good business to consult your agent about your safety problems.
