By PAUL BAKER

The telegram received last week by Fort Stanton officials...

What persons or agency actually ordered the hospital closed...

In a newsletter to the Lincoln County News this week...

"In a letter to Secretary Hobby I protested the action and pointed out that there is no economy in closing a hospital where the per diem cost of operations is reported to be $4 for each patient less than in other FHS hospitals.

"Despite the fact that all of the patients at Fort Stanton are suffering from tuberculosis and New Mexico climate is regarded by the medical profession as ideally suited to the treatment and cure of this plague...

"We have been able for several years to prevent previous moves by PHS to close Fort Stanton from being successful. This is the first time an actual order to close it has been issued but every effort will be made to keep it in operation, if at all possible."

This newspaper does not see eye-to-eye with Congressman Dempsey on many matters, but we heartily commend his statement that the closing of Fort Stanton is "false economy."

For one thing, there is more to Fort Stanton's closing than a matter of dollars and cents. The patients, who should be the first to be considered, are opposed to transfer 100%. Their lives were at stake when they served their country and they are again at stake in the long uphill pull toward regaining their health.

Where does "economy" fit into the picture? The money spent by the Public Health Service in maintaining Fort Stanton, will be spent elsewhere, perhaps in a large city, where the addition or loss of a hospital is no serious matter. In Lincoln County, Fort Stanton is a vital part of our welfare. Over a hundred families whose heads are employed at the hospital make their homes in surrounding communities. If the hospital is closed, many families will be forced to move away.

Fort Stanton has been an institution in Lincoln County for half a century. To order its closing is a grave responsibility for any public officials to assume. It is to be hoped they will reconsider. It is still not too late to rectify an error and to right a wrong.

Vernon Petty, County civilian defense director, remarked this week that the Ruidoso fire was civilian defense put to a practical test. He said the response from all communities in sending equipment and men to fight the fire was magnificent and that it showed what could be expected should disaster of any nature strike again.

Capitan will lose the services of its popular postmaster, James A. Kent, when he leaves June 9 for two years' duty with the United States Air Force. A reservist officer in the air force, Lt. Col. Kent has been postmaster in Capitan since 1947. He will report to the 355th Fighter Pilot Wing at Sherman, Texas.

To review a little, Lt. Col. Kent completed ROTC training in 1933 at Fort Meade, Md., and received his commission in 1935. Following that the young officer spent several years in command of Civilian Conservation Units in Carlsbad and at Fort Stanton. In 1940 he was detailed to duty with the Air Force. In December of the following year, while his unit was en route to the Philippines, the Japs struck Pearl Harbor. "They no doubt knew of our presence," officer Kent recalls, "and if they hadn't been headed toward a more important target I probably wouldn't be here today."

When the convoy learned the enemy had struck Pearl Harbor, the course was changed at once to Australia. There the air wing aided the Allies in fighting a delaying action in Java.

The following Christmas saw them back in the States for a rest. Lt. Col. Kent spent several months attending tactical air schools and was assigned to the European theater the latter part of 1944. He served there for 18 months before returning to the

FORT STANTON ORDERED CLOSED

Fort Stanton is to be closed within thirty days.

That information was contained in a telegram to the hospital authorities last Thursday from the Division of Hospitals, U. S. Public Health Service.

The message stated that all patients are to be transferred to hospitals in San Francisco, Seattle, Manhattan Beach and New Orleans in order that the hospital may be closed by July 1.

All employees were also to be given notices of termination of employment.

The livestock on Fort Stanton is to be disposed of transferred within that period. It is understood that the dairy herd, pigs and 40 quarter horses will be disposed of by public auction not later than June 25.

Included in this livestock are purebred Holsteins and Poland Chins and Hampshire pigs.

Tom Elliot, personnel officer from El Paso, has arrived at the hospital to arrange for the transfer of employees to similar positions elsewhere.

John Turner has arrived to take charge of the hospital property. It is understood that the hospital is to be turned over to the General Services Administration in Denver within approximately six months.

COUNTY LOOKS INTO PURCHASE OF BONITO WATER

A new inquiry into the disposition of the Bonito and Nogal Lake water system, owned by Southern Pacific, has been inaugurated by the Lincoln County Board of County Commissioners.

Members of the board conferred recently with F. B. Harris, counsel for the S. P. in this area, and after considerable discussion, decided to explore further the possibility of the water system's purchase by Lincoln County communities.

A copy of the letter sent by George Fuchs, chairman of the Board, to Mr. Harris, was read at Tuesday night's meeting of the Carrizozo Town Trustees. It follows:

"We propose to request the villages of Carrizozo, Ruidoso and Capitan to each appoint a representative to meet with the Commissioners to investigate the practicability of making a joint offer to you for the Bonito water system.

"While we appreciate the fact that Lincoln County has no statutory power to enable us to enter into negotiations with you, it is our thought that the Board of Commissioners would assist the three villages in any possible way in the formation of a water supply association, as provided by the New Mexico Statutes."

With the approval of the Council members, Mayor Marvin H. Roberts appointed three members of a committee to meet with the County Commissioners. They are Vernon Petty, Fred English and L. Z. Manley.

The Commissioners will hold a hearing on the matter Monday, June 8, at 1 p.m.

Border Hill Accident Claims Five Lives

Funeral services were held in Picacho this week for Geneva Kimbrell, 40, of Roswell, who lost her life last Saturday in a head-on collision of two cars that claimed the lives of five.

The accident was east of Border Hill on Highways 70 and 360, 24 miles west of Roswell. State police who investigated the accident, along with Glen Painter, Lincoln County patrolman, reported that the car driven by Henry Sanchez, was on the wrong side of the highway when it met the car in which Mr. and Mrs. James E. Douglas and their son, Jimmie, were riding. The Douglas family were from out-of-state. Jimmie was hospitalized, but both his parents died soon after the crash.

Sanchez was killed instantly, as were two passengers in his car, Mrs. Kimbrell and Santo E. Ogas. Two other passengers in the Sanchez car were injured, Dorothy Gomez and Wm. Seidman.

Sheriff Bradley conducted an inquest Monday afternoon at Tinnie as an aftermath of the accident.

Services for Mrs. Kimbrell were conducted at the Catholic Church in Picacho. She was born in that community September 2, 1912, the daughter of a pioneer Lincoln County family.

Survivors are her father, Geo. Kimbrell of Picacho; a son, Eddie, of Roswell, and two brothers, Wm. G. U. S. A. in Germany, and John R. U. S. A., stationed in San Francisco.

It is reported that Miss Darnell plans to make the ranch her occasional residence during the summer.

Tunstall-McSweeney Store At Lincoln Opened for Summer Months

The Old Lincoln County Memorial Commission takes pleasure in announcing that it has leased the old Tunstall-McSweeney store in Lincoln for the summer months and will have the old store open to visitors every day from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

This landmark in the history of Territorial Lincoln County was established as the general store of J. H. Tunstall & Co. in 1877, and was the headquarters of the Tunstall-McSweeney contingent during the Lincoln County War.

Although it was looted by the Seven Rivers gang in the early 1880's and has since undergone nine successive changes in ownership, much of the original stock and fixtures of the Tunstall-McSweeney days still remain.

Much of the credit for the remarkable preservation of the items on display goes to the Penfield family of Lincoln, who took over the store shortly after the turn of the century, and still maintain a general merchandising business in a part of the original store.

The main part of the old store, which is now open to the public, originally contained a cantina, the Lincoln County Bank, and the law office of Alexander McSweeney, as well as a merchant.

The long and colorful history of the store is recalled in the collection of account books of the previous owners: La Rue, Dolan, Rosenthal, Bel Jean, Jaffa, Prager Company, J. J. Jaffa, Lincoln Trading Company, and Lutz.

Ruidoso Business Block Struck by Sunday Fire

Damage from a fire that struck the heart of Ruidoso last Sunday was estimated this week to be in the neighborhood of a half million dollars.

Principal loss was that of the newly remodeled Central Bar and Grill and the adjoining Mint Bar. Also completely destroyed were a barber shop, the Star Liquor Store, a shoeing parlor, a hot dog stand and two cabins of Pat Fazzara's. Two other cabins were partly burned.

Chinese cooks in the kitchen of the Central Bar reported the belief that defective wiring in the kitchen caused the blaze.

The Ruidoso forest lookout picked up the smoke and though the three fire engines of the Ruidoso Fire Department and the Forest Service fire truck were dispatched to the scene, the flames soon engulfed the Central Bar and adjoining buildings.

Flames shot 40 feet high and scattering embers started spot fires in the timber and on the roofs of other buildings. Telephone and electric service were cut off. Through Forest Service radios, messages were sent to all surrounding communities.

FIRE FIGHTERS ARRIVE

First to arrive was fire fighting equipment from Holloman Air Base, Alamogordo and Tularosa. They were soon joined by fire trucks from Carrizozo, Capitan, Fort Stanton, Roswell, Walker Air Base, Green Tree, and Mesquero.

Their prompt assistance was credited by many to have prevented spread of the fire to adjoining buildings and across the street, where paint was blistered and windows cracked in one building.

A taxi stand in front of the buildings was dragged to safety. The assisting fire trucks began pumping water from the Ruidoso River on the blazing buildings.

Absence of a strong wind was another favorable factor in containing the fire.

The blaze broke out shortly after noon Sunday and it was not until three hours later that it was under control.

White Oaks Cemetery Is Well Kept Up

Memorial Day services were conducted Saturday at the White Oaks Cemetery under the auspices of Norton-Pepper Post 7698 of Capitan.

The cemetery was described as being in the "best condition ever" due in great measure to the untiring efforts of D. L. Jackson.

Ladies of the Legion Auxiliary had placed poppies and American flags on the graves of all veterans.

Beef Will Be Needed at Ranchers' Camp Meet

Any persons wishing to donate beef for the Ranchmen's Camp Meeting, which begins on Nogal Mesa July 15, please contact Floy Skinner at Nogal.

Mr. Skinner is taking the duties of Lon Merchant as chairman of the beef committee, as the latter will be away.

Other members of the committee who may be reached for donations are Mark Sloan, Bryan Hightower, Bill Gallacher and Walter Jones.

As has been the custom in former years, a whole or quarter of beef is equally acceptable. If the donor wishes, the committee will handle the butchering of the animal.

New Building for Jonnie's Pkg. Store

Johnson Stearns, proprietor of Jonnie's Package Store in Carrizozo, said this week he plans to start building a new store next week.

At their meeting Tuesday night the Town Council approved Mr. Stearns' application to move his store from its present location.

The new store, a 20 x 20 concrete block structure, will be located on Highway 54 across from the City Hall.

TOWN TO AMEND WATER ORDINANCE

The Carrizozo town trustees at Tuesday night's meeting voted to amend the existing ordinance governing the cost of extending water mains to new building sites.

The old ordinance requires the town to lay 100 feet of pipe for a fixed fee of $25. It was brought out that the cost of this work today far exceeds this figure and the water department goes in the hole with every new installation.

The amended ordinance will require the property owner to pay for bringing water to his property line on an actual cost basis, the meter and connection being furnished as in the past by the town.

Other council business: Granted permission to Esperdion Jauregui to open a pool hall to operate seven days a week, closing nightly at 10 p.m. The trustees reserved the right to close the establishment any time that it might become a nuisance.

Granted a permit to Paul Wilson to erect a residence on lots 17 and 18 in block 30.

Approved the application of J. Fay Harkey for a business license as general contractor.

Agreed that State and city laws would be enforced regarding the sale and use of firecrackers.

Discussed dog licenses. City Clerk Johnson reported only 24 sold to date. City Marshal Atwood said he would give more time to the problem and inferred that from now on unlicensed dogs in town are living on borrowed time.

Marshal Atwood reported that the telephone company has installed a night phone on Twelfth st. for the use of law enforcement officers.

Present at the meeting were Mayor Roberts, Trustees Clifford B. Zumwalt, Roy Shafer, C. A. Snow and Juan Martinez; City Clerk Johnson; Utilities Manager Lloyd Topitt; former mayor Vernon Petty; Marshal Atwood and William Gies Bradley, absent.

Mounted Patrol Had Novel Riding Contests

The New Mexico Mounted Patrol, Troop 5, met Sunday at the ranch home of Peter Hurd in San Patricio. Co-hosts were Tom Babers, A. T. Pflingsten and Billy Babers. Immediately after the general meeting, a delicious "chuck wagon" dinner was served in the orchard.

Beautiful hand-painted plates and cups, painted by Trooper Hurd, were awarded to first, second and third place winners in the several contests in horsemanship, including a backing race, walking race, cigar race, needle race and polo ball race.

Geo. Zimmerman, Carrizozo attorney, and John Miggs, artist from San Patricio, were judges. N. Chikke Gowda, IPYE delegate from India, one of the several welcome visitors, found the Troop's Western hospitality and horsemanship unusual and expressed his appreciation at being able to meet and exchange ideas with so many people.

The following troopers were present: Charles Fuller, Fred Pflingsten, Grady Eldridge, Kenneth Noaker, Billy Babers, A. B. Guest, Morris McClendon, Will Ed Harris, Truman Spencer Jr., Bill Shreengost, Wilbur McKnight, Ralph Bonnell, L. M. Huffman, Tom Babers, A. T. Pflingsten and Peter Hurd.

W. H. Nickels and Vernon Petty were voted in as troopers.

The Troop was called out to aid in traffic control at the Ruidoso fire at 2 p.m., and upon arrival found that the fire was under control.

WILL HARRISON'S Inside the Capital

MECHEM PLAYING COY ON SENATORIAL RACE

SANTA FE, June 2.—Gov. Ed Mechem told the Young Republican convention at Albuquerque that next year's important race is for the governor's office, not the Senate. That didn't sound very important but it was enough to start another round of speculation about the governor being a candidate for the office he played down.

Mechem says just enough about the Senate to keep the politicians talking but unsure about his intentions.

Republican leaders are insistent on Mechem running for the Washington job. He's the only one they think who can keep the party on the winning side. Mechem hasn't given them any real encouragement because he doesn't have any money to speak of and couldn't afford the Washington spot with his growing up family. If the congressional pay is boosted to $25,000 a year as now being talked it might make a difference in his thinking.

STATE REPUBLICANS A ONE MAN PARTY

Republicans have enjoyed remarkable success in New Mexico in the last two elections, but it boils down to the personal success of Mechem and Dwight David. There isn't anybody in the Republican picture who stands to pick up where Mechem leaves off at the end of this term. If he stays on the ballot as a candidate for senator it's reasonable to believe that he will still have his vote-getting appeal and help the whole ticket. But without him it will be mighty difficult for the party to organize a winning ticket.

Our Clint, who is also playing coy about whether he will run for another term, appears at this point to be strong enough to swamp any republican opposition except Mechem. Anderson said a while back that he did not intend to run again, but he's been saying that for ten years.

While Republicans haven't developed any strong prospective candidates the Demos have plenty of first styling material. Perhaps the strongest man in the Demo list of prospects for governor is one who hasn't been talked about much—yet. He's Ross L. Malone, Jr., of Roswell, who served a brief period as one of the reform crew that went into the justice department at the close of the Truman term. The former U. S. assistant attorney general would be a formidable candidate for either governor or senator.

BUSY LEGISLATOR AND QUAKER CREW

Heavy Drake of Lincoln county has turned out to be a year-round legislator for his district. The Ruidoso representative spends perhaps a quarter of his time at the statehouse nagging the office-holders. He has succeeded in getting considerable publicity for Lincoln County from the tourist bureau and has attended so many highway commission meetings that the commissioners have provided him a special seat. . . . A crew of 14 Quaker college students will move into the state mental hospital at Las Vegas, June 14, to spend 10 weeks as hospital aides. The group, from all over the country, will work at beginner's salary and serve as vacation relief for regular employees. It is the second year of the American Friends Service Committee project at the hospital. . . . The proposal to close the Merchant Marine hospital at Fort Stanton may throw idle one of the best ranches in southern New Mexico. The hospital operates a well-improved 28,000 acre spread, furnishes beef and other products for the other two merchant marine hospitals at San Francisco and Detroit. Friends of the hospital contend that the institution operates at a profit. . . . A proposal to spend $300,000 for improvement of the busy road between Los Lunas and Belen has been put back another year. . . . Still on the list for construction in the next 12 months is a $720,000 job from Carrizozo north, $210,000 for Mayhill to Weed, $170,000 on State Road 52 in Sierra county, $145,000 from Estancia west.

HURLEY FORCES FEAR EARLY END OF PROBE

Backers of the Pat Hurley contest of the election of Sen. Dennis Chavez are straining to keep the contest alive after the completion of the investigation and recount in Bernalillo county. Senate Democrats have served notice that they will put on a fight to block further money for the investigation. If Bernalillo falls to show substantial evidence of Hurley's charges.

HOMER C. PICKENS

Has been chosen by the State Game Department Commissioners to succeed Elliott S. Barker when he retires July 1. The new No. 1 man of the Game Department was born in Cumby, Texas, July 5, 1903. He came to New Mexico in 1920 to work with the old Biological Survey (now incorporated into the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service), as a predator and rodent control man in the Tres Piedras area.

During his early years in the State, Mr. Pickens frequently worked with Mr. Barker, then game manager and lion hunter for the Vermejo Park Club. When Barker was appointed State Game Warden in 1931, he asked Pickens to serve under him. At that time, the State Game Department was still in its infancy as a conservation agency and consisted of five wardens, two trappers and the limited staff of five small fish hatcheries. Serving as a patrolman-trapper, Pickens was assigned to the Las Vegas country.

In 1932, he was transferred to Santa Fe and placed in charge of the lion hunting program for the entire State and later headquartered at Silver City. During the following four years, he set a number of records for lion hunters which have never been exceeded. In one year, he took 33 of the big cats; killed ten in one month's time and eight in a single week. His grand total lion kill now stands at more than 163.

He has held the post of assistant game warden since 1941 and completed 22 years' service with the Game Department this month.

Homer Pickens possesses a thorough knowledge of every corner of New Mexico and is well acquainted with sportsmen, landowners and conservationists. He is rated among the best of the lion and game men in the Western States and is well-versed in game management and administration.

The Pickens' live in Tesuque, N. M., a suburb of Santa Fe, with their four children.

The Game Department at their most recent meeting approved State Game Warden Barker's reply to criticism from the Elephant Butte Irrigation District officials who wrote Governor Mechem requesting that game department spokesmen refrain from commenting on the draining of irrigation reservoirs with the resultant loss of fish and fish habitat. In his reply, Barker quoted the law setting forth the policy of the State of New Mexico which requires the protection of fish and game habitat and production of an adequate supply of game and fish for recreation and food.

Los Alamos, 24 miles northwest of Santa Fe, is at an elevation of 7,300 feet, giving it the coolest climate of any large city in the State.

Girl Scouts Registering for Camp Mary White

Carrizozo Girl Scouts who are looking forward to camping at Camp Mary White this summer are urged to hurry with their registrations as two sessions are already full and the others are rapidly filling up, according to Miss Marvel-Millam, area director, who will also be camp director this summer.

Dates of the sessions are as follows: June 14 to 21, one week session, closed to any more registration; June 21 to July 4, two week session which has a few more places open; July 5 to 18, with several places left; and July 19 to 26 which is also closed.

Registrations have come in from all over New Mexico and Texas, and from Kansas, Oklahoma and Colorado.

Plans are progressing for a complete and interesting camping program. There will be craft work in metal, natural crafts, such as whittling, painting, and camp crafts. The girls will make their own ties to wear with the camp uniform, which will include a blue Jean's shirt. Emphasis will be placed on noon cookouts prepared by the girls.

"I am hoping that each girl will be able to leave some permanent improvement at camp," says Miss Millam, "such as making a rock garden in front of Great Hall to fill up the depression made by fire and erosion, a camp fire ring, and altar fire place."

In addition to these things, the camping program will include dramatics, folk dancing, singing, horseback riding, and special emphasis on the proper use of tools such as knives, axes, hatchets, etc. All girls will have an opportunity for an overnight camp-out.

Auto Travel at New Peak

More than 40,000,000 people visited national parks last year and the figure is expected to go higher in 1963 as America prepares to spend a whopping nine billion dollars on motoring vacations. As another indication of the tremendous popularity of mobile vacations, 28 states now rank tourist receipts among their three top industries. New Mexico and New Jersey place it first.

New Fair Building for Women's Exhibits

ALBUQUERQUE (Special)—Women's exhibits in home arts and home science at the State Fair, at long last, will have a home of their own. Leon H. Harms, secretary-manager of the New Mexico State Fair, announces that construction is well underway on a permanent building to house exhibits in the women's departments of the fair.

The new building will be completed in ample time for the 1963 State Fair, September 26 to October 4, Mr. Harms said.

Other construction underway includes erection of 350 additional race horse stalls; also a series of betting and paying parimutuel windows are being installed on the second floor of the grandstand.

Another new building rising on the fairgrounds will be used to house the school department. Three new permanent cafes, modern and completely equipped, are being built.

Spiritual and Armed Strength Go Hand in Hand, Speaker Asserts

ALBUQUERQUE (Special)—Survival of the United States depends on production of more planes and ships, and on "realistic action" toward objectives of world brotherhood, Floyd Odium, noted financier said last week at a dinner to raise funds for the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Mr. Odium, who was special adviser during World War II to the War Production Board, called for "more rather than less, hardware in the form of planes, ships and other instruments of defense and retaliation."

He also stressed belief that brotherhood today is essential to survival, saying "it is as much a part of our spiritual strength, as the long-range bomber and the atomic bomb are of our military defenses."

He said he believed the objective of the Communists has not changed. "All we are witnessing is a temporary shift in tactics and strategy."

Odium described the aims of the National Conference of Christians and Jews to be "essentially the elimination of prejudice between racial and religious groups so as to promote justice, understanding and cooperation, and a better social order founded on the ideals of brotherhood."

The financier, who is chairman of the Lovelace Foundation for medical education and research, and Lovelace Clinic, in Albuquerque, paid tribute to two men who started the institutions, Dr. W. R. Lovelace I and his nephew, Dr. Randolph Lovelace II.

Mr. Odium spoke also of their expanding group of doctors and scientists, who, he said, "with-out regard to hours, and working only on modest salaries, have dedicated their lives to the health and progress of their fellow men." He added: "I take off my hat to this group of people who are giving a living, affirmative answer to the question, 'Am I my brother's keeper?'"

These medical institutions will "make Albuquerque one of the most famous cities in the United States," Mr. Odium said.

Cattle Growers Meet June 26 in Tucumcari

More than 600 "east side" cattlemen in addition to the 100-man Executive Committee are expected to attend the second quarterly meeting of the New Mexico Cattle Growers' Association in Tucumcari, June 26 and 27, according to Ed Heringa of Clayton, president.

"Cattlemen from all parts of New Mexico are invited to attend this session and take part in discussions," Mr. Heringa said, "and we expect a wide representative group in view of the many serious economic problems now confronting the industry."

E. J. Dignan, vice-president of the U. S. National Bank of Denver, will head an imposing group of speakers scheduled to appear on the program. Mr. Dignan heads up the livestock loan division of the Denver bank and has had wide experience in ranch credit matters over the past 30 years.

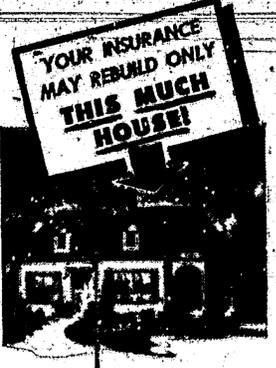

Others included on the program are Governor Edwin L. Mechem; O. W. Lynam, Burdette, Kansas, chairman of the public relations committee, American National Cattlemen's Ass'n; Jack Roach, president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Ass'n; and Joe Roach, chief of the New Mexico State Police.

"Re-occurrence of the foot and mouth disease in the Republic of Mexico will receive careful attention at the Tucumcari meeting," president Heringa said.

CONCERT PIANIST-DIRECTOR

In a recent concert given by the Eastern New Mexico University Band and Choir, Mary Ann Cox of Fort Stanton, directed the choir in "Little Bird, Little Bird," by Kubik. She was also the accompanist for Joe Beaty, of Artesia, who played two alto saxophone numbers, "Concerto da Camera" by Ibert and "Scarab-mouche," by Milhaud.

YOUR HIGHWAYS by JAY SCOTT

(No. 8 of a series)

Eternal Vigilance, every school-boy knows, is the price of Liberty. Eternal vigilance is also the price of good highways. Proper and regular maintenance is the most important factor in road life.

There's No Such thing as a permanent road. A highway is a piece of construction, like a house or any other building; if you fail to watch it constantly, if you fail to make those repairs necessitated by weather and wear, you're in trouble!

The Surface of a road serves as an umbrella. That is to say, it protects the foundation and sub-grade; it screens off the water, which strikes in the form of rain, sleet and snow. Thus, the foundation cannot be attacked directly.

The Cost of maintaining each mile of a 20-foot wide, cement concrete highway may run from $275 to $550 per mile per year. If the road is a bituminous mix, it will average $675 a mile per year, and if un-brocted gravel, the price may average $875 per mile per year.

This Sounds High to the average citizen, of course. But consider this: the original cost of a cement road is estimated at $26,000 per mile. If you owned a house worth $36,000 would you consider an annual maintenance cost of $275 to $550 as high?

Keeping Roads in good condition, apparently, is an excellent investment.

No other truck matches this value!

June Is Dairy Month

Chicago TV actress Adrienne Falcon celebrates the advent of June Dairy Month and raises a toast to the U. S. Dairy Industry with a refreshing glass of milk during a "break" in recent rehearsals. Dairy Month, June 1-30, a star in its own right on the American scene, is being staged for the 17th consecutive year by over 10 million Americans who gain livelihood from the production, processing and distribution of dairy foods such as ice cream, milk, butter, cheese, evaporated milk and dry milk. The dairy industry contributes annually at least 10 billion dollars to national commerce. Adrienne keeps trim by following the newly developed scientific diet for weight reducing or ideal weight maintenance, which includes liberal portions of dairy and other basic foods in the menus.

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY AGENT

By RALPH DUNLAP
County Extension Agent

Use Toxaphene Dust or Spray on Cutworms

A toxaphene dust or spray is the gardener's best weapon against cutworms, says County Agent Ralph Dunlap. DDT will kill some but not all kinds of cutworms. Poisoned baits containing toxaphene, sodium fluosulfate, or Paris green are effective, but the average gardener may not find them as satisfactory as toxaphene dusts or sprays.

Use of all these insecticides—as well as a description of cutworms, their habits, and the damage they do—are discussed in a new publication, Home and Garden Bulletin 29. A single copy of "Cutworms in the Garden" may be obtained from the office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Scientists of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine who prepared this publication say that it takes an alert gardener to prevent damage by these pests. There are many kinds of cutworms, but most of them remain under the soil during the day, coming out only at night to feed. Most cutworms sever young plants near ground level during feeding, thus a heavy or uncontrolled infestation can ruin a garden in a short time.

County Agent Dunlap recommends protection of the early garden from cutworms by dusting the soil surface with 10 per cent toxaphene at the rate of 1/2 pound of dust to 1000 square feet of garden area. If the gardener prefers to use a spray, he can apply one containing 2 ozs. of 40% toxaphene wettable powder mixed in 2 1/2 gals. of water over the soil surface.

DDT dusts and wettable powders can be used in the same way. Ready-mixed or self mixed cutworm baits can be spread by hand over the garden at the rate of 1/4 pound for each 1000 sq. ft. Dunlap cautions that all of these chemicals recommended for the control of cutworms are toxic to man and should be used with care. Persons using them should follow the precautions listed on the label of the insecticide container. Neither toxaphene nor DDT should be applied to the foliage of cucumbers, melons or squash, as they may cause injury to these plants.

IFYE Delegate to Open 4-H Short Course

Eleven International Farm Youth Exchange delegates—six from New Mexico and five from India—will participate in opening ceremonies of the eighth annual 4-H Leaders Short Course at New Mexico A&M College. The course will officially open in Milton Hall on A&M's campus Tuesday evening, June 9, according to Jerry Chavez, assistant 4-H club leader.

The six New Mexico IFYE delegates—Robert Bagwell, Lawrence Sarracino, Gabriel Chavez, George Baca, Barbara Funkhouser, and David Kidd will join five Indian exchanges in presenting a special program on the International Farm Youth Exchange program.

Registration begins at 1 p.m., June 9 in the Extension building. During their stay on the campus, senior and junior leaders will take part in conferences on clothing, dairy, foods, food marketing, home gardening, home economics judging, safety and sheep. Conferences will be led by agriculture extension specialists assisted by various local 4-H leaders.

A highlight of the short course will be training in recreation, led by Charles Renfro, recreation director of Albuquerque public schools.

Leaders will also receive training in photography in a session directed by C. E. Burns, 4-H leader from Alamogordo. Claude Haynes of Las Cruces will introduce the new 4-H Electrical Project and give several demonstrations.

FARM BRIEFS

Net income of U. S. Farmers this year will probably be down about $1,000,000,000 from the $14,300,000,000 of 1952.

Farm production—with 100 as the 1935-36 base figures—is 141 now and will be about 160 in 1960, the economists forecast.

Fewer farmers will earn more in 1960, producing more for more people, predict Michigan State College farm economists. They expect the farm population to drop from 28 to 21 million while the national population goes up from 137 to 175 million.

Farm Costs Drop, But Not Enough to Strike Even Balance

While the prices farmers receive for their products have been registering some declines, the prices they pay for the things they need to produce and for living have decreased only slightly in comparison. This is borne out by figures recently published by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics:

Electric brooders dropped ten cents from an average of $45.50 to $45.40 between March 15 of last year and March 15 of this year. One-bottom tractor plows dropped from an average price of $143 to $136, during the same period. But manure spreaders went up an average of $3 from $420 to $423, and gasoline went up from an average of 26.4 cents to 26.8 cents.

Men's overalls dropped on an average of one cent in price and boy's shoes dropped three cents, from an average of $5.00 to $4.97. Men's work shoes cost 29 cents less, dropping from an average of $7.16 to $6.87 per pair. Women's percale house dresses went up 5 cents from $3.07 to an average of $3.12.

The parity ratio between prices received for farm products and prices paid now stands at 93, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Parity is a statistical means of expressing the relationship between prices paid by consumers and prices received by them. The years 1910-14 are used as a base period. A 100 per cent parity ratio means that prices paid and prices received stand at about the same balance as they did in the base period.

New Mexico Second in Mohair Production

New Mexico and Arizona were the only states that showed an increased production of mohair in 1952 according to the Bureau of Agriculture Economics. This increase resulted from clipping more goats, since the average weight per clip in these states was about the same as in 1952.

In New Mexico, 38,000 goats produced 163,000 pounds of mohair last year, or an average of 4.3 pounds per clip. Cash receipts totaled $110,000, an average of 71 cents per pound.

Total mohair production in the United States totaled 12,110,000 pounds, of which Texas produced 11,561,000 pounds. New Mexico ranked second among the mohair producing states in 1952.

Beef and Dairy Foods In Plentiful Supply

Plenty of nice tender beef, frozen fish and dairy foods appear on the plentiful foods list of the U. S. Department of Agriculture for June. In addition, an assortment of delicious fresh vegetables will be in good supply across the country—and the general forecast is for plenty of budget foods for picnics or Sunday suppers.

Green early-summer pastures mean an abundance of milk and other dairy foods, and these are a feature of the June plentiful list, says Miss Doris Urquhart, assistant in marketing at the New Mexico Extension Service. Hamburgers for the barbecue or the kitchen stove can be king-sized during June, as beef appears—for the fourth month in a row—on the list of plentiful.

Feed is more palatable to all livestock if it is ground coarsely rather than to powder fineness.

Does your dog scratch? Chances are it's fleas. Dust with 5 or 10 per cent DDT and clean the dog's bed to get rid of flea larvae.

SOCORRO PREPARES FOR BOYS' STATE

SOCORRO, N. M., June 2. — Campus facilities at New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology this week are being made ready to accommodate some 225 students from 125 New Mexico high schools who will attend New Mexico Boys' State at NM I-MT June 7 to 14.

The student citizens will begin arriving in Socorro early on Sunday morning. Registration and assignment to quarters will be from 9 a.m. until noon. Sunday afternoon and Sunday evening will be given to assemblies, "get acquainted" hours, and general shakedown activities.

From Monday through Saturday, the daily routine will begin with "flag raising" at 6:45 a.m., ending with "lights out" at 10 p.m. During the early part of the week, much time will be given to instruction in various aspects of government on the State level. All Boys' State citizens must take classes in law enforcement, and all candidates must pass these courses in order to qualify for holding public office.

On Monday, the States will be subdivided into "cities" for housing and subsistence, and general administrative convenience. City officers will be elected, and county caucuses will be held. On Tuesday there will be state political conventions, and state and county primary elections will be held. General elections will be held on Wednesday, and the remainder of the week will be given to legislative sessions, court proceedings, and other functions of a democratic government in action.

High point of the week-long program will be the Girls' State-Boys' State joint Inaugural in the University of New Mexico Student Union Building in Albuquerque on Wednesday evening. Gov. Edwin L. Mechem will address the assembled States, and Chief Justice Daniel K. Sadler of the New Mexico Supreme Court will administer oaths of office to the elected officials of both "states." All elective officials of the State of New Mexico have been invited to attend the Inaugural, and immediately following the Inaugural addresses

The station's fire truck was called into action Sunday to help fight the fire in Ruidoso, and several men answered the call for assistance.

Mrs. Matlines and Mrs. Shaw entertained the ladies bridge club with a luncheon at the Bonita Club Thursday, with Mrs. Gould the guest of honor. Mrs. Salar was high scorer. Mrs. Gould was presented a lovely gift from the club.

No word can picture all the loveliness That Nature here has fashioned for the eye.

It may be Pluto here with Persephone Held regal court while Vulcan forged

The draperies of their couch, and Psyche bathed Within the Wishing Pool.

So much of beauty should have audience! This is a palace grander than those reared by kings;

Gigantic, and with spires so marvelous; A structure never reared by hands

But those of gods... the Rock of Ages stands Older than Parthenon or Pyramids.

This pile was laid ere Moses gave the law, Was old when Nineveh ruled o'er the land

Or lost Atlantis sank beneath the sea. Here pompous man sinks into nothingness—

His deeds must pall before the infinite. This was the realm of gods ere Time began

And while man built his puny walls of stone This realm of beauty was the home of bats!

Standard or C grade of canned tomatoes are in good supply.

These tomatoes are high in food value and have many uses.

Use them in soups, stews, barbecue and other sauces, and in molded gelatin salads.

Two Burned When Cook Stove Explodes

Mr. and Mrs. Hiface Dearing and Horace's brother, Bill, who recently came home from Korea, were the victims of a freak accident last Friday, May 29, when the propane cook stove in their trailer house exploded at the trailer camp of the Brown Contracting Company, 12 miles south of Corona.

Both men are employed by the company. The accident happened when Bill lit the stove to heat some water. He received second degree burns on his face and arms. Horace also received minor burns on the face and one arm. Mrs. Dearing was uninjured. She took the men to Vaughn for treatment. Their trailer house was only slightly damaged.

The Dearing's have temporarily moved into one of the Wade Apartments until the insurance company inspects the damage to their trailer home.

One way to get prize-winning fire shots is to follow all local emergency calls. That's how Ben M. Manovic took this Graflex Photo Contest award winner.

HOW TO SHOOT A FIRE

Most photographers respond to a fire bell in the same manner that a fireman does. It's only natural that photographers get a thrill out of making fire shots. The blazing sheets of flame slashing through the night sky or writhing through a column of heavy smoke make for pictures of unequalled drama.

But taking pictures of fires calls for a modest skill and an understanding of what to look for. Any fire picture, if it is to be useful, must tell a story. Pictures that tell a complete story are those that show the type of fire burning, the smoke and flames, the fire hydrants and hoses, and how the fire was fought—have the greatest use and sales potential. To get such photos, shoot from a vantage point that gives a full panorama of the fire.

After making long shots move in closer and shoot. Just remember that your activities and pictures are not as important to the firemen as the fire itself. Work for those dramatic closeups but stay out of the way.

Follow your closeups with more long shots. Move off to a distance and study how the fire is developing. Chances are arrival of additional fire trucks and clouds of steam generated by the water being thrown on the fire will have created better panorama shots for your camera than the ones you made first.

Remember that there are more than 600,000 fires in the United States each and every day and that any one of them may provide you with the most thrilling and dramatic picture of your career.
