By PAUL BAKER
CITIZENS PRAISED FOR AID IN CRASH OF B-26

I am writing you this open letter in an effort to convey to the citizens of the Carrizozo area my appreciation for the assistance they gave when a B-26 airplane from Holloman Air Development Center crashed late on the night of Jan. 3, 1954.

Every person who joined the search for the aircraft and the two-crewmembers who had parachuted to safety are to be commended for their fast, effective action in locating the crash scene and rescuing the two men.

I regret that I cannot meet in person and thank each of the people who were so generous with their time and efforts during the search.

I hope that you will use the columns of your fine newspaper to convey my appreciation to the many people who helped so much.

Sincerely, DON R. OSTRANDER, Colonel, USAF, Commander.

THE TORREON

In an article "Milestones Along the Course of Empire," the December issue of Ford Times describes five early-day forts that have been rescued from oblivion and restored for present and future generations to enjoy.

"The Torreón is about three stories high and its walls are four feet thick at the base. Gun ports open in all directions from a firing platform about half way up the tower, and gun embrasures on the roof provided additional firing points for defense.

"Long after the Apaches were subdued the Torreón saw service again. In the 1870's during the Lincoln County War—a local feud between rival cattlemen and political factions—Billy the Kid carried on his career in this territory.

The tragedies in the Alps reported in the news this week as a result of a series of avalanches are understandable to Leandro Vega Jr., who recently returned to Carrizozo from 14 months spent at Salzburg, Austria.

Alex Semrau of Ortonville, Minn., created quite a stir in Carrizozo Monday when he arrived in town with his 1908 Buick and a supply of postal cards.

Otero County Turns Down Dry Proposal

Voters of Otero County, according to late reports, decided 2,960 to 994 against going dry, Alamogordo, the largest community in the county, registered a vote of more than three to one in favor of continuing the status quo.

The vote at Tularosa, with two boxes complete, was 556 for the wets and 162 for the dries.

At Bent, where the Mesquero Apache Indians voted, the total was 222 for the wets and 44 for the dries.

Clear weather favored voting in Alamogordo where the bulk of Otero County's 7,667 persons registered for the local option election live.

Liquor sales already are restricted in Alamogordo. The town's founder, Charles E. Eddy, was a prohibitionist. He set aside one place in town where liquor could be sold to avoid the evils of bootlegging.

IFYE Delegate to Address Lions Club

Robert Bagwell, of Alamogordo, N. M., will give an illustrated talk at the January 20 dinner meeting of the Carrizozo Lions Club. He will tell about his experiences in India under the International Farm Youth Exchange program.

Young Bagwell has just returned from a four-month visit to various homes in India. At a Lions Club meeting last spring, Chikko Gowda from India spoke. Robert Bagwell will help to give a different view on some of the points brought out by the visitor from India at that time.

Commissioner Charges County Labor Slighted In New Highway Work

A charge that Lincoln County labor was not being given fair treatment in highway construction work within the county, was made this week by Charles A. Jones, County Commissioner of District 2.

"It has been brought to my attention that on the construction of Highway 54 and the Tinnie-Arabela road that the contractors who are building these roads are not being quite fair to local labor.

"I was told that several men had bought dump trucks, with the understanding that they would be able to work on these projects, but they haven't been hired and many of them are about to lose their trucks."

"Many of the local men have been laid off and outside labor has been brought in. As you know, our county has been pretty badly hurt economically this year because of the drought and no fruit crop on the river.

Ruidoso Water Service Restored to Normal
Municipal water service in Ruidoso was reported to be restored to normal last week and after service had been disrupted following the recent severe cold snap.

Holloman Air Base and the Mesquero Agency, through John Fairbanks, sent equipment to assist in digging up frozen pipes. Working around the clock over a period of three days, city employees and volunteers restored the major part of the service by Friday.

An entirely new gravity flow water system for Ruidoso is provided for in a $187,500 revenue bond issue now being floated.

Stockholders of the new Ruidoso State Bank held their first annual meeting Wednesday afternoon. Business included the organization of permanent directors for the bank.

Services Held for Pioneer New Mexican

Funeral services were held at the Mullins O'Dell Funeral Home in Alamogordo, Saturday, Jan. 9, for Wm. W. Brazel, 83, pioneer New Mexican, who died last Wednesday in Tularosa. Rev. Born in Emporia, Kans., July 27, 1871, the son of Marion and Sarah Brazel, Wm. Brazel, when a youth moved with the family to Texas where they lived for a short time.

In 1882 the family moved to New Mexico and engaged in ranching in Tularosa and on Eagle Creek.

Capitan's 1953 Rainfall Was Below Normal

The annual rainfall at Capitan for 1953 was 10.60 inches or 5.40 inches below the annual average. During the past four years there has been a deficiency of 18.10 inches of moisture in that area.

The New Mexico Forest Service reported that this week by Paul D. Wild, forest ranger of Lincoln National Forest.

Summer rains have been nearly normal, but winter precipitation has been far below normal and has affected the ground water supply.

Rains, as usual, have been very spotty. It is noted that ranges in good condition, such as Fort Stanton, have produced an abundant amount of forage during the sub-normal years, as the plants have good vigor, density, and plants are not cropped close to the ground.

Other ranges in the vicinity of the mountain area have also produced good forage growth.

So far this winter, 30 inches of snow has fallen at Pine Lodge, and only 5 inches at Capitan.

PMA COMMITTEE RENAMED ASC

"Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committees" is the new name for the former state, county and community committees of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

This change in title is part of the recent reorganization of the Department. From now on, it'll be the "ASC committee" instead of the "PMA committee."

R. Archie Perkins, of Corona, chairman of the Lincoln County ASC committee, explains that responsibilities and functions will be essentially the same as before the reorganization.

These functions include responsibility for adjustment activities of the Commodity Stabilization Service such as acreage allotments and marketing quotas, price support and ACP—the Agricultural Conservation Program.

Salvation Army Helps Needy in County

In connection with the annual fund raising campaign of the Salvation Army, Mayor Marvin H. Roberts this week pointed out the good work this organization has done as an independent welfare agency in Lincoln County.

One lady, whose child was in the Carrizozo Hospital, was without funds to pay for lodging. The Salvation Army committee paid for the lady's board at the hospital.

A contribution was made toward food for a family in a neighboring town, where the head of the family has deserted his wife and children.

An indigent nearly blind person was given assistance to buy food and eye glasses. Aid was given a family in Carrizozo who lost all their possessions in a fire.

Another community service of the Salvation Army, Mr. Roberts pointed out, is assisting transients who arrive in Carrizozo without funds. Groceries and gasoline have been purchased in a number of such cases.

Mr. Roberts is chairman of the Salvation Army's committee in this county; R. E. Lemon is treasurer and Al Sifton and Vernon Petty are committee members.

WILL HARRISON'S Inside the Capital

SANTA FE, Jan. 12—Spouting of all the candidates about what they're going to do when they get to be governor, recalls that last time both parties wrote in their platforms the solemn pledge to repeal the pre-primary convention law and give Los Alamos county a senator.

Both proposals were brazenly killed in the senate. Perhaps we should require these campaign promisers to post a surety bond to guarantee compliance.

STATEHOUSE DREAMS FEB. 1 CRACK-DOWN
Statehouse people are quaking in anticipation of the Feb. 1 crack-down on the new brake and light stickers.

The inspections have been going along fairly smooth so far, but the vast majority of old cars are yet to be handled. Owners are naturally waiting as long as possible before submitting the jalopies to the tough new test.

The Capitol has been hearing about the near uprisings that accompanied similar examinations in other states, Nebraska, South and North Carolina were forced to repeal their laws.

Texas was forced into a modified operation, and other states have abandoned enforcement of the law. Altogether, 14 states have an inspection law. It is extremely unpopular because it tends to penalize people who cannot afford new cars or afford to keep their old cars in good shape.

Opponents of the inspection law say it's not worth it because less than five per cent of the accidents in New Mexico during the past two years were attributable to mechanical failure.

LADIES GETTING TALK TREATMENT
Expressions have been heard from both sides of the political arena about giving women a larger place in public affairs.

The talk doesn't match up to the facts. Outside of 20 or 40 gals wanting to run for secretary of state, the only woman in the political picture is Georgia Luak, candidate for state school superintendent. And she is encountering a mountain of opposition from the political and educational crowd who want a man on the job.

The secretary of state's job, which has been going to women ever since they were granted the voting franchise in New Mexico more than thirty years ago, has a serious male contender for the Democratic nomination for the first time in decades.

J. Chris Sanchez of Torrance, the present deputy secretary. The two lady members of the legislature are the fewest the state has had since the gals started running for the place. After a pretty good record of recognizing the ladies in such jobs as U. S. representative and game warden, New Mexico is now moving toward their complete exclusion.

INGRAM PICKETT IS DESPERATE
Corporation Commissioner Ingram Pickett is desperately fighting off an effort in the Democratic party to throw him out of office. He has launched a state-wide program for signatures on nominating petitions which would enable him to run in the primary without convention approval, and has laid down an ultimatum to commission employees to get him 500 signatures each or take the consequences if he is re-elected.

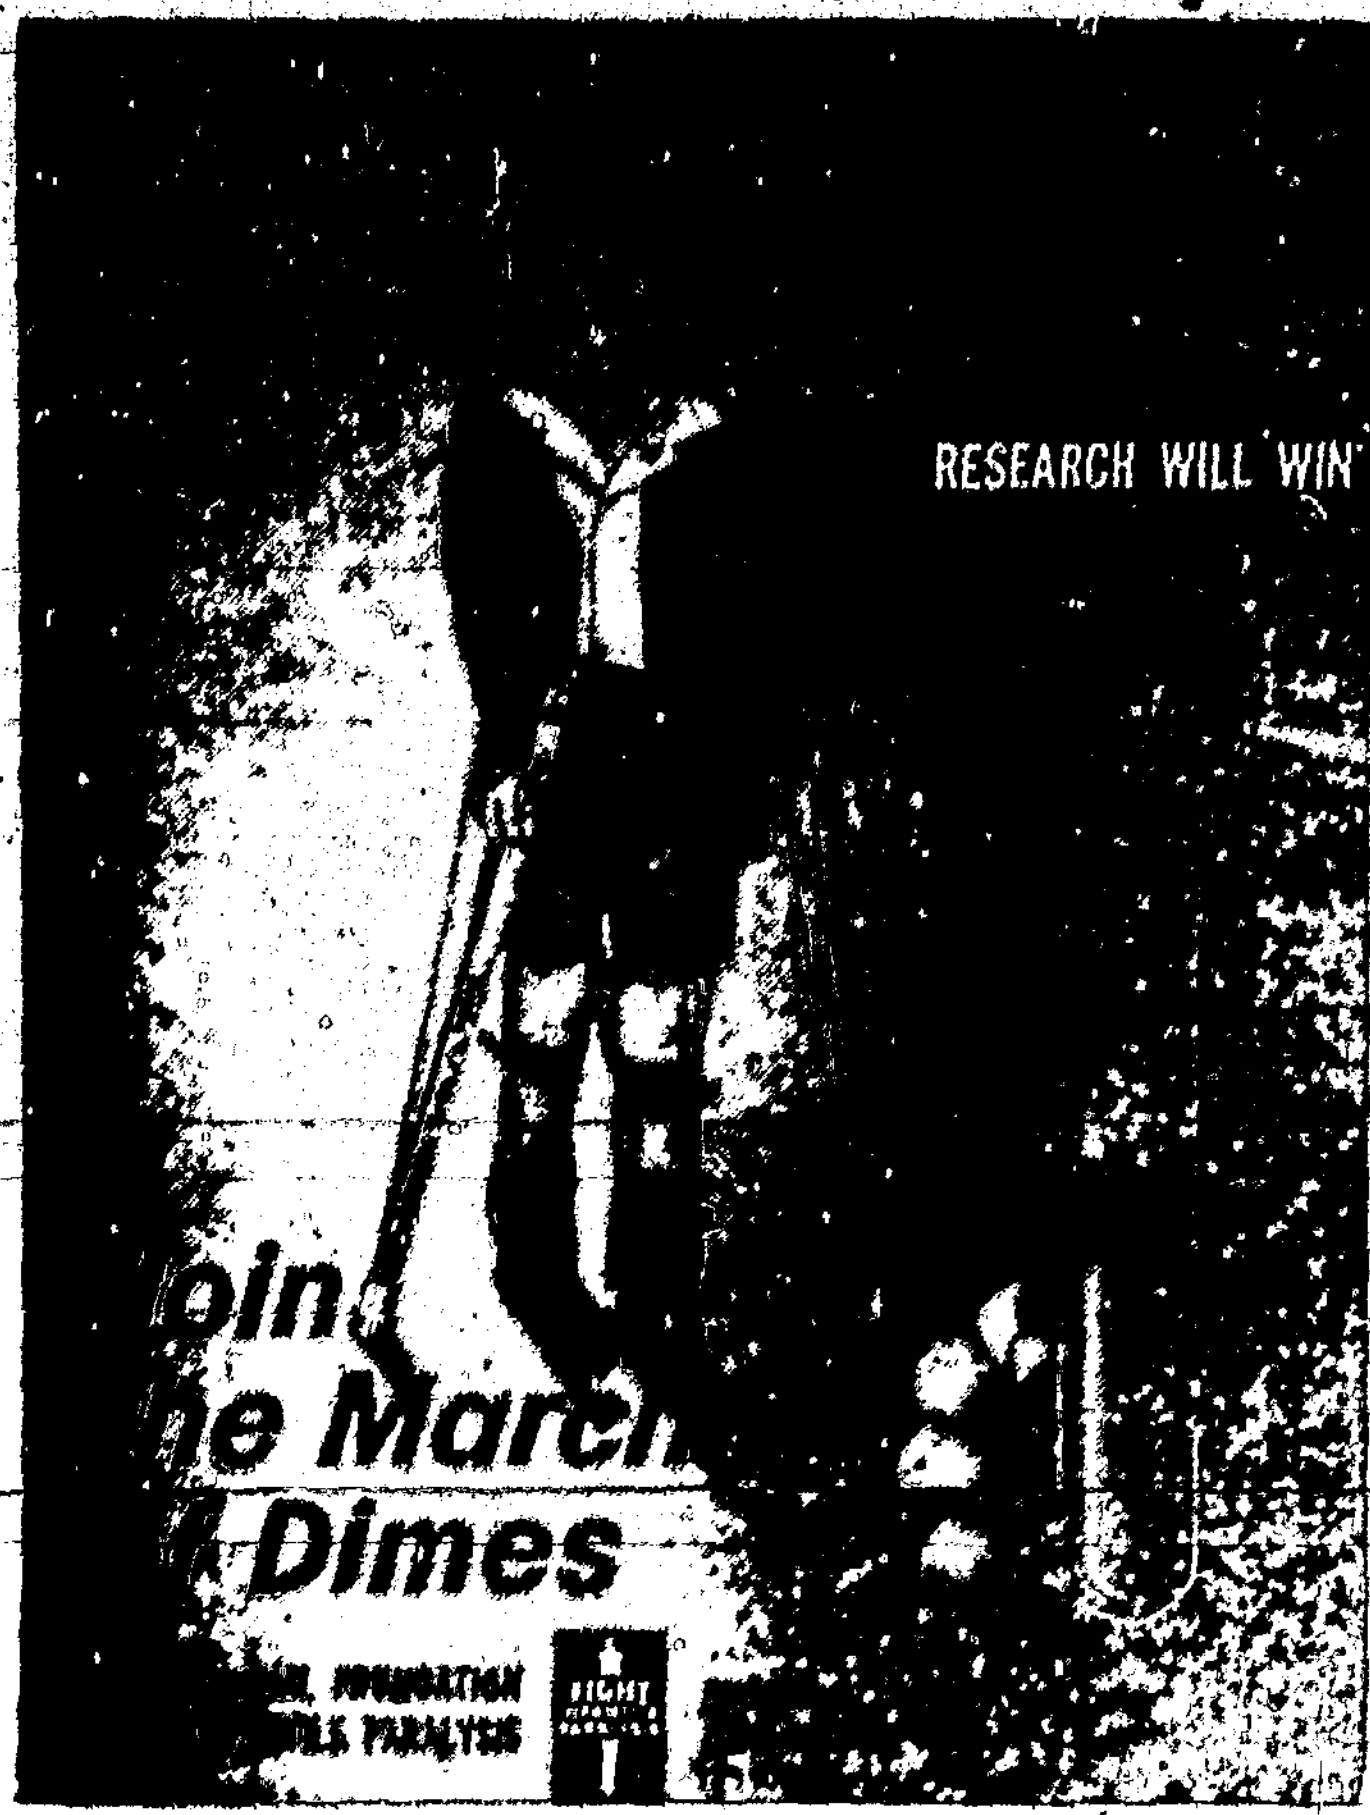

The fall commutation is confronted with the spectre of former land commissioner and treasurer, Guy Shepard, as an opponent.

Former governor John Miles, who still has a lot of sway in the Democratic primary, has been egging Shepard to make the run. With Shepard and Miles both working for his defeat, Ingram has cause to be desperate.

Pickett got crosswords with Miles when he ran against him for governor in 1950 after Miles had kept him on the payroll for the best part of ten years. He got crossed with Democratic politicians in general when he threw in with Republican Commissioner Kellahin and fired a bunch of malingering Democratic payrollers after the death of Commissioner Gene Allison, and got himself further branded as a rebel when he gave aid and comfort to Republican Governor Ed Mechem when he was running for re-election.

Democratic leaders are not underestimating the commissioner who refers to himself as "7 feet of honesty," even though he is only 6 feet 10. They know that he has a popular appeal as a picturesque figure and as a stubborn foe of telephone rate increases. For this reason, they are trying to find a top flight opponent. So far, Charley Bassett, the father of the secretary of state, is the most prominent of

 (From the files of the Carrizozo News, January 16, 1914.)

Cold and colder is the range of weather in the Carrizosas this week, the mercury lingering around zero all day.

Miss Florence Nabors, of White Mountain, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Drace, of "Nabors' Tank," west of Malpais.

An unusual scene it was Tuesday morning when about 800 head of cattle were driven through the streets of Carrizozo—a reminder of old times when this flat was a vast cattle range. The cattle belonged to Messrs. Rentrow, Hobbs and Mrs. Boone, of Capitan, and were being driven to pastures new, west of the Malpais.

Dr. J. H. Cody, who has been associated with Dr. M. G. Paden, has left for Capitan, where he will practice his profession.

George Hages, recently removed to El Centro, writes that it is a land of promise. Everything is as green as summer, peas are in bloom, tomatoes eight or ten inches high, corn in the tassels, flowers, and everything is lovely, except that land sells for $200 to $300 an acre.

A gloom was cast over the community by the passing of Albert T. Roberts, one of the town's best known and beloved citizens.

Awards to Be Made to Soil Conservationists

CLAYTON, N. M. — Awards in recognition of outstanding soil conservation achievements in New Mexico during 1953 will be made as a special feature of the seventh annual convention of the New Mexico Association of Soil Conservation Districts to be held at Clayton on Jan. 22-23, according to E. O. Moore of Dexter, president of the association. The most outstanding of the state's 60 soil conservation districts will receive a $500 cash award. The outstanding farmer and rancher will be awarded $100 each. Plaques will be awarded to the outstanding non-farmer conservationist, and to the daily and weekly newspapers that issued the best soil conservation editions during the year.

A widow loses her entitlement if she remarries. Unmarried children normally lose their entitlement upon reaching age 18, but if they are attending a school approved by VA, they may continue to receive death compensation while attending this school, but not after they are 21 or married.

Richard M. Lawson, Veterans Contact Representative, will be in Roswell on January 19. He will be located at the City Hall, 2nd floor, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. He will assist veterans, their dependents and representatives, in all matters pertaining to veterans benefits.

1954 Oldsmobile on Display Next Week

Oldsmobile for 1954 goes on display Wednesday, Jan. 20, one full year ahead of schedule. "The new 1954 Oldsmobile models originally were planned for release in 1953," according to J. F. Wolfram, general manager of Oldsmobile and vice president of General Motors. "But original plans were scrapped early in 1953 when it was found possible to move the 1955 models up to 1954. The result of this skip-a-year program is the most completely new, completely changed, completely advanced Oldsmobile in many years."

The new models "88" Super and "98" are a full three inches lower than their predecessors without sacrificing ground clearance. They feature such sweeping changes as an all new body by Fisher, a new wide, wrap-around panoramic windshield, new sweep-cut fender and door design and many other styling innovations.

The new "Rocket" engine is bigger—up in horsepower from 165 to 185 in the Super '88' and '98' models, (170 in the '88' models) and up in compression ratio from 8 to 1 to 8:25 to 1. Engine displacement is increased from 303 to 324 cu. in., and the entire car is engineered so that the increased power is usable power—power that the driver can put to use in the medium and low speed ranges—in ordinary every day driving situations.

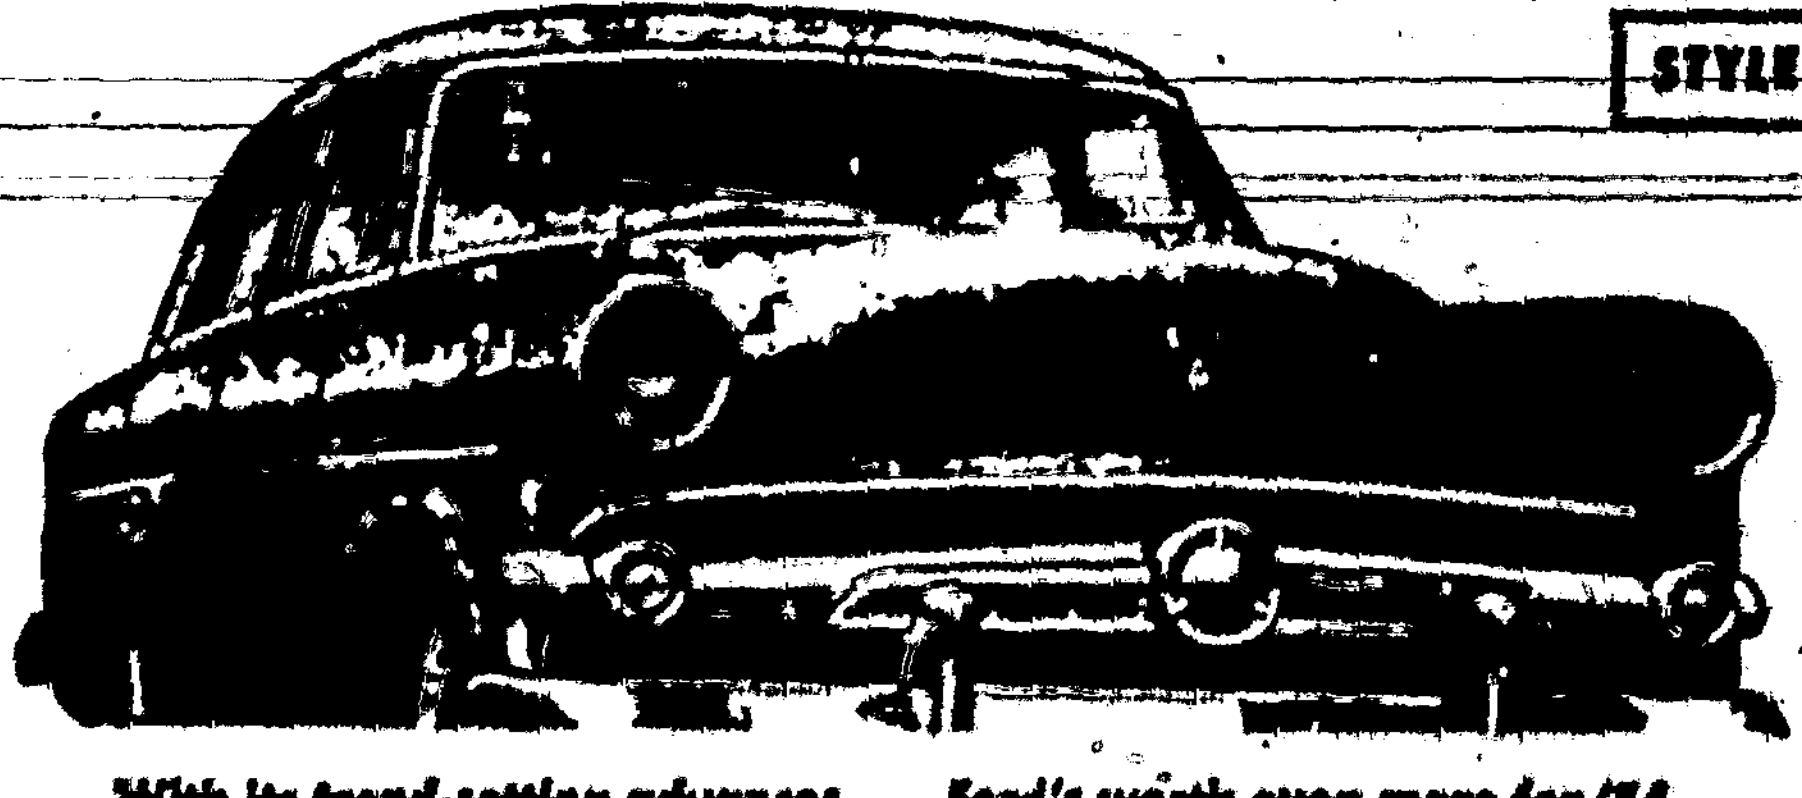

All Aliens Required to Register in January

M. R. Toole, acting director of the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, El Paso, announces that under the provisions of Sec. 265 of the new Immigration and Naturalization Act all aliens residing in the U. S. and all aliens residing in the U. S. temporarily for a period in excess of 29 days must file an address report during the period from Jan. 1 through Jan. 31, 1954, and each succeeding year thereafter.

This report is in addition to the change of address report which must be submitted on Form AR-11 by all aliens residing permanently in the U. S. within ten days of such change of address. All aliens temporarily in the U. S. must submit in addition to the report submitted in January of each year, Form AR-11 showing their current address, at the expiration of each three months period, regardless if there has been a change of home.

The fact that an alien registered in 1940 and filed an address report in 1953 does not relieve him of the responsibility of filing a report in 1954 and in each succeeding year. The address report must be filed even though during the year a change of address (Form AR-11) was reported to this service. Any alien required to submit an address report who may be temporarily absent from the U. S. during the period Jan. 1 through Jan. 31, shall furnish his address as required by law within ten days after his return.

If you have applied for your naturalization papers, but have not yet been naturalized, you still must comply with the law and submit an address report card. The address report card (Form I-53) is available at all post-offices as well as the offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. It must be properly filled out and returned to one of the aforementioned agencies. Unless the report is filed, the alien is subject to fine or imprisonment or both and in some cases deportable from the U. S.

Two Lincoln County coeds have recently been honored by Delta Zeta sorority of New Mexico A & M College. They are: Miss Joy Miller, a sophomore business education major, who was elected to the office of rush chairman of Delta Zeta, and Miss Zelfa Loudell Mays, sophomore home economics major, who has been initiated into Gamma Xi Chapter of the Delta Zeta sorority.

Miss Miller also holds the position of scholarship chairman in the sorority. In college she has been an active member of the Girls' Rifle team, and of Alpha Psi Omega, honorary drama fraternity.

Miss Miller is a 1952 graduate of Capitán High School, where she was cheerleader, president of FHA, secretary of her class for four years, and active in both the Junior and Senior plays. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lee Miller of Capitán.

While in college, Miss Mays has been active in the Westminster Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church, where she holds the office of worship chairman. She is secretary of the Inter-Religious Council on the campus. She was president of the Delta Zeta pledge class until her initiation. She has been on the Dean's List of students with superior scholastic grades since she entered college.

Junior FHA Chapter Formed in Carrizozo

The Future Homemakers of America met in Carrizozo last week and decided to have two chapters instead of one. The Freshmen girls will comprise the Junior chapter and the Sophomore and Junior girls the other.

There will be 24 girls in one and 20 in the other. The girls think this will enable them to work on more projects toward a degree.

The first Degree of Achievement is the Junior Degree, which a majority of girls are now working on. To earn this the girls must know the creed and purposes of FHA; have an understanding of the national organization's constitution and by-laws; must make a contribution to more satisfying family life, and must present evidence of interest in acquiring those personal qualities which enable an individual to work more effectively with others.

Upon completion of the individual and group projects a Degree Committee will determine which girls have earned a degree. The following are on the Degree Committee:

Anne Gallacher, Frances Warner, Margo Duncan, Jan Hurley and Rita Vega.

Verna Ruth Petty was elected to run for State Chairman of Projects. She will run against girls from other chapters in District VI.

Lincoln and the surrounding area is getting some much needed moisture in the form of snow. It all helps.

The latest report from Mrs. Filomena Salas is that she is much better.

Sgt. Nasario Garcia, who has been in Japan and Korea for the past year, is here on furlough. He is now stationed at Ft. Bliss. Mrs. Jewell Bonnell of Glencoe was a Lincoln visitor last Friday. She is very happy that her son David is home from Scotland, where he has been stationed while serving in the Air Force.

Mrs. Annie Ramey received word Sunday that her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Roy Ramey, was being operated on at Carrizozo Hospital. Later word was that she was getting along all right.

Martin Garcia has been visiting his mother, Mrs. J. G. Garcia. The Loss Morris family has moved to Capitán. Wayne and Roy Purcella are both here visiting their mother, Mrs. Minnie Morris, and the rest of the family. They arrived just in time to help with the moving. Wayne has received his discharge but Roy still has some more time to serve in the Navy.

Vernon Hunter, curator of the Roswell Museum, was a Lincoln visitor last Sunday. While here he visited Mr. Pond — to talk gardening.

Frosted Sanseverias

By LAURA DEAN COLE

If blizzards have taken toll of your Sanseverias, as they once did of mine, do not be in too big a hurry to put on mourning or throw away the injured plants. Some of them can be saved.

I found that when only part of the leaves had been frozen, cut off the damaged part. While the plant did not look so well, its health was not injured. Most of mine were frozen to the level of the soil. Some of them showed young growth started from the mother root.

I cut and cleaned out all the frozen parts, replanted the remainder and they lived and grew normally. The entire roots of some, especially young plants, were mushy. These had to be thrown away. No hope for them. But I feel sure that frosted plants should not be thrown away without thorough examination.

Income Tax Data For Nation's Farmers

It's income tax time for most farmers in the country—at least those who operate on a Jan. to Dec. business-year basis. If at least two-thirds of your gross income in 1953 was from farming, and the gross amounted to $600 or more, you must file an income tax return, says J. Z. Rowe, extension economist at New Mexico A&M College. You may choose one of two methods to pay your tax, the economist explains (1) file your return and pay on or before Jan. 31, 1954 or (2) file an estimate of your tax and pay this amount by Jan. 15, 1954, then file your return and pay any balance due by March 15, 1954.

If your business year does not start Jan. 1, you may file your return and pay the tax on or before the last day of the first month of the succeeding taxable year, or you may file an estimate within 15 days and return within 2½ months after the end of your business year.

Farm workers who earned $600 or more during the previous year, should file a declaration of estimated tax by March 15, 1954. If the worker received board and lodging he should calculate the fair market value of such board and lodging and include this in his income. He will not report this as income if he were required to be available at the farm at all time of emergencies.

In filing returns, practically all farmers will need forms 1040-F to summarize income and expenses and to compute net farm profit or loss, Rowe states. They will also need form 1040 to list all income, both farm and non farm, and to figure the tax due, and schedule D of form 1040 to show gains and losses from sales of farm equipment, dairy cows, etc.

Some farmers will need forms 1099 and 1096 to report the payment of $600 or more in wages to individual farm workers. These forms should be filled out and sent to Kansas City, Mo., by

Feb. 28, 1954. Other forms which might be needed in making the return are form 1040ES, which is for the purpose of making a declaration of expected tax; form 1065 required for partnership reports; and form 843 used in filing claim or claiming a refund. All forms are available from the district director of the Internal Revenue Service or the local postoffice or banks, Rowe adds.

Now Is Time to Order Fruit Trees

Fruit trees for the home or commercial orchard should be ordered within the next month. The home-owner who has a limited space available for the planting of fruit trees would do well to consider the use of some of the new dwarf varieties in the home plantings. Dwarf trees have an advantage in that they can be used in small places and planted as close as 10 to 15 feet apart. They also bear earlier and are easier to spray for the control of insects and diseases, which is a must in New Mexico.

Early orders for nursery stock are filled in the order in which they are received. If you place your order early, you will get the pick of the best trees and varieties. Nursery stock should be purchased from reliable nurseries which are noted for the sale of varieties which are true to name and free from disease.

Orchardists should plant only varieties adapted to their locality. It is best to buy one-year-old trees, four to seven feet high, which have a well-developed root system. Trees of this type become established quicker and grow out faster. Small or older trees seldom give the desirable response and frequently result in a waste of time and money.

Also include some berry bushes and grape vines in the home planting. Berries are excellent to eat fresh, for preserving and for freezing. Grapes are excellent for jams and jellies.

So, place your orders for trees now, and ask that they be delivered in February or March for this area.

CAPITAN DEFEATS CORONA TWICE

The Capitan Tigers led all the way in slugging Corona 29-28 at Corona Friday night, the Tigers posting their 5th victory against a single defeat for the season. Corona staged a second quarter rally to close up to within 2 points of the winners, 17-15, at the half, but that was the closest they came.

The Tigers recovered their balance early in the second half and had little trouble in holding a comfortable margin the rest of the way.

Kenny Morris, high point man for the game, paced the Tiger attack with a 16 point showing. Shaw was high for the losers, with 8.

The Capitan Bees grabbed a 45-32 win over the Corona Bees. Joe Gallegos and Pat Huey registered 15 and 14 points, respectively, for the Tigers.

TIGERS DOWN TIGERS

A last quarter drive for 19 points cracked open a tough, tight ball game at Capitan last Saturday night, giving the Alamogordo Tigers a 62-54 win over the host Capitan Tigers.

With the score knotted 43-43 at the end of the third quarter, Alamo moved cautiously out in front, 50-54, and Ferguson for Capitan left the ball game via fouls. Then the visitors wrapped

WINTER FISHING OFFERS PLENTY OF OPPORTUNITY

The weather might be a little cold and forbidding, but for the outdoorsman it presents a challenge to his mettle, for fishing continues to offer plenty of opportunity.

If you can take chills and frost-bite, there's still lots to do—you just have to dress warmly for the occasion. Otherwise, go into hibernation like the woodchuck, and mend some of that equipment that got such hard use last summer. Spring can't be too far away.

The Rio Grande is open now to March 31; also all ditches drain canals, ponds and lakes in the Rio Grande valley, except Bosque del Apache Refuge. Likewise Jicarilla Apache Reservation Lakes, except Burford and Hidden Lake; and Antmas River, and Nogal, McAllister and Storrie Lakes. Trot lines are permitted on Maxwell Lakes. Bear Canyon Reservoir is open but trot lines and night fishing is prohibited.

YOU CAN'T PLEASE EVERYONE

New Mexico's famous winter sunshine proved unfavorable for duck hunters during the 1953 migratory waterfowl season, which closed Dec. 23. Although there were plenty of ducks and geese, only a few days of the sixty-day season were cloudy enough for good duck shooting. Goose shooting at Elephant Butte Reservoir was only fair. Patrolman Jim Hall of the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish says "There were more than the usual number of geese on the reservoir, but they fed at night this season."

Success in the northern part of the state was fairly good, especially during the cloudy weather, brought about by heavy snowfall in the area. Weather that lends itself to the state slogan, "Land of Enchantment," makes it rough on waterfowl hunters.

DEER HUNTERS, FARMERS CONGRATULATED

Congratulations have been given to the deer hunters and farmers who had a part in New Mexico's successful deer season. The State Game Commission reported that there were only a few hunting accidents

THE STORY OF JACOB

The place where the correction of lack of discipline should begin is in the home. Dr. Carl Yoder says:

"In a study of dominating and submissive parents, effect upon their children, it is interesting to tabulate the results as reported in first hand case studies. The children of dominating parents are reported as being—courteous, obedient, interested in school, not boastful, generous, polite, self-conscious, do not talk back, have table manners, regular in school attendance, reliable, responsible and sensitive.

"The children of submissive parents are disobedient, irresponsible, have food fads, cannot express themselves effectively, have poor table manners, lack interest in school, are class room nuisances, frequently late, and a minimum of farmer-sportsman friction. No livestock or property damage was reported.

Almost without exception the hunters were considerate of the farmers and ranchers, who in turn were cooperative and even joined the hunters in many cases.

The Commission also expressed its thanks to hunters who brought deer into the checking stations, and to all other persons who helped make these stations possible. It is believed that such checking, which in some areas was not compulsory, will be the source of much valuable information.

A complete picture of New Mexico's hunting season and deer kill is now available. It indicates the most successful year in the history of the department.

ILL TAKE THE PECOS

"The laziest fisherman in the country can fish the Pecos and take home a mess of scrappy table-size trout." In the December issue of "The Fisherman" magazine Shep Shepard gives ample reason for his claim. His article is entitled "I'll Take the Pecos." Shepard tells of his friend, Tom Old, having a special way of fishing the Pecos. "At the first gravel bar Tom made his cast and bottomed a brown trout within ten feet. Out in the stream he had a fair-sized tussle before putting the fish, a 15-incher, into the creel. His second cast took a longer float but he connected again midway through the channel and again quickly led the brown over the bar to fight it out in the stream. He took two more frisky trout out of that channel."

lazy, selfish, stubborn, sulky, and defy authority.

"Here is a revelation and a clear call for parents to accept the responsibility and exercise authority for the proper training of the child."

All this points to a single solution—the victory over self. Then we are told to suppress self. If self is essentially evil, the thing to do is to keep it under. This is sort of sit on the lid philosophy. If there is something evil inside, sit on the lid and keep it from getting outside.

Jesus said something about what was wrong with self: "For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts—murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies—these are the things which defile a man." (Matt. 15: 19, 20.)

Paul said something about what was wrong with self: "Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these: Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings and such like." (Galatians 5: 19-21.)

It is just as ineffectual to suppress self as it is to express it. If you try to suppress steam in a boiler you will have a destructive explosion. In the same way, people have tried to suppress their emotions and feelings; they have carried their grief and troubles within; they have brooded over wrongs with the result that there was a nervous collapse and a spiritual explosion and they went to pieces. Following this there was a deep spiritual despondency and discouragement. They were no longer tempted to believe in Christianity—the Bible's way of life. The secret of victory over self is two-fold. First, we must realize that there is an old self and a new self. The old self is what we were according to our first birth. It is evil and tends to wrong. The new self is what we are according to our second birth. It is righteous and holy and tends to good. The secret of conquering self is neither expressing nor suppressing self. It is supplementing it. It is by planting the old with the new. (To Be Continued)

those after Pick's job, but some of the party people doubt if he is heavy enough to make it. Auditor Bob Castner also wants to run against him but is handicapped by that legal doubt of his eligibility after serving two terms as auditor.

Pickett apparently plans to go before the state Democratic nominating convention March 1, and if he fails to make it there, will be prepared to file as a candidate without party endorsement.

The fight on Pickett is perhaps not all political. There are some public utility people (telephone) who would no doubt be glad to see the tall commissioner replaced by someone more sympathetic to their cause. They already have one commissioner friend, Johnny Block, of Espinola, who has consistently voted with the phone companies, and with one more on the commission of three, they would not have nearly so much trouble as they have been encountering lately.

Public Welfare Services Includes Children's Aid

Besides the aid to dependent children program, the State Department of Public Welfare administers two closely allied programs—Child Welfare Services and Crippled Children's Services. Eligible for assistance under these two programs are minor children who are neglected, deserted, orphaned, delinquent, or afflicted with physical or mental handicaps. Also a responsibility of this program is the welfare and care of unmarried mothers. The Child Welfare Service administers and supervises all forms of child welfare activities, services to children placed for adoption, services and care for children in foster homes or institutions because of dependency or delinquency, and services and care for children with physical or mental defect. Responsibility for enforcement of the Child Labor law also falls under the duties of this division of the Department of Public Welfare.

Because of the broad working of the Public Welfare Act, the scope of the Child Welfare Service Division is a wide one and prevents many difficulties in the

A motion picture starring Helen Hayes, entitled "Mother's March," will be shown by Mrs. Rex Werner. This should be of particular interest to those who are to take part in the "Mothers March for Dimes" campaign.

Mrs. C. A. Snow, president, urges each member to attend and bring a guest.

RANGE GRASSES

(Continuing a Series on range grasses common to Lincoln Co.)

By S. H. FUCHS

BUFFALO GRASS

Buffalo grass skirts our foothills to possibly 6,000 feet. It is closely associated with Blue Grama. Although more restricted in coverage, being unable to withstand the elevations and drier conditions common to Blue Grama.

Buffalo Grass affords excellent ground cover and is very palatable to all livestock. It is of grayish green aspect during growth, turning to a bright straw color upon cessation of growth.

Unusual to grasses is the occurrence of both sexes in different plants. This species produces male plants with flag-like heads, which sometimes attain a stature of as much as eight inches. On the other hand, the female plants are low and ground-hugging, producing burrs which enclose small seeds.

Where adapted, Buffalo Grass has been used successfully in resurrection of seemingly ruined lands. This aggressive, mat-forming plant, plus the stimulus of lifeless appearing soil, has transformed unproductive waste land into havens for livestock.

outlining of eligibility requirements. Broadly stated, nearly any child in genuine need of assistance which cannot be furnished by parents or close relatives, falls within the eligibility classification. Each case reported to the Division is carefully evaluated on its merits.

Unmarried mothers referred to the Division are given complete medical and maternity care, and living conditions are contrived which will relieve the prospective mother of undue strain.

Also resting with this division is responsibility for adoptions and the investigation of proposed foster homes.

The third program for children is the Crippled Children's Services Division which administers medical care for individuals up to the age of 21 years. The division accepts, for care children whose families are unable to bear total cost of treatment. Application for such medical assistance should be made to the county office of the Department of Public Welfare in the county in which the child lives. Arrangements for care will be made for individual children according to their medical needs.

Application for this medical care may be made by families, or such cases may be referred to the Division by doctors, schools, health personnel, or any interested individuals. County Welfare staffs follow up every referral and make plans for necessary care.
