

RAMBLIN' AROUND

BY PAUL BAKER

A number of New Mexicans are really burned up about an article on White Sands that appeared in the March 20 issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

A writer for the Post came to the White Sands Proving Grounds to get a story about rockets. He did a pretty good job of that part of it, but some of his remarks about New Mexico were not only offensive, but grossly misleading.

One of the opening statements is a strange mixture of fact and fancy: "White Sands is a vast firing range nearly the size of Connecticut staked out in the New Mexico desert—a 100-by-40 mile tract of cactus and mesquite, coyotes, rattlesnakes and tarantulas."

Just how sixty or more cattle-men were able to make a comfortable living for many years on such terrain as he describes would also have made interesting reading for the folks back east. In this "vast desert of mesquite and rattlesnakes" upward of 40,000 head of cattle formerly ranged. Would that be possible on a desert?

Stating that his purpose is to inform the American public about rockets, the reporter writes: "I set out to find where the fiction leaves off and the fact begins." Then in the next paragraph he gives the impression that the White Sands ("a dismaying place") extends over the vast Tularosa basin. As we know, the White Sands comprise only a small part of the bombing range. The A bomb was dropped on the George McDonald ranch, roughly 90 miles from the White Sands.

The writer takes a final fling at New Mexico by quoting a recruit from Brooklyn: "So they call this the Land of Enchantment... It's more like a place to throw old razor blades."

That quotation, considering the source, doesn't surprise us. The Brooklyn lad would probably have grines were he in Paradise. New Mexico doesn't claim to be out of this world, but it's a land where most of its people spend their lifetimes by choice and not by necessity. And it's a place that newcomers like ourselves soon become attached to.

We suggest that the Post writer make another trip to New Mexico—a more leisurely one—and spend some time visiting the ranch folks around the bombing range. His story wouldn't be as sensational as one about rockets, but it would give the Post readers a more accurate picture of the Land of Enchantment.

Elizabeth Ellen Evans, 16-year-old high school pupil of Akron, Ohio, is the winner of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.'s national essay contest on "I Speak for Democracy. Speaking to the fascists and communists, Ellen writes: "Show me a country greater than our country, show me a people more energetic, creative, progressive—bigger-hearted and happier than our people. Not until then will I consider your way of life. For I am an American, and I speak for democracy."

"The Campbells Are Coming" to Carrizozo. The hill-billy hit show, which has been presented in Hondo, Ruidoso and Capitan is to be staged here under the auspices of the Carrizozo Woman's Club. The night is April 3 and the place is the High School Auditorium. It's an all-night show, half the proceeds going to the Hondo Band, and the other half to the Woman's Club.

George Simons of Tinnie has been taking some good natured kidding since he sprained his right hand a week ago while loading feed at his ranch. George is a candidate for County Commissioner and he is being reminded that it is a tough break to have his hand-shaking apparatus out of order during the campaign. George says he isn't worried, however, as the M. D. has the hand in a splint and it will soon heal.

With deaths from auto accidents ahead of last year's record total, New Mexico residents are going to hear more and more about the hazards of speeding and reckless driving. Two more deaths were reported Wednesday in the northern part of the State. In this connection, the Sheriff's Department asks all people in Lincoln County to observe the traffic laws.

White Sands Play Day To Be Held April 10

ALAMOGORDO, N. M., March 24.—Two decades have passed since Play Day was inaugurated in the great white dunes southwest of Alamogordo. Again this year the big annual get-together will occur the second Saturday of April. Begun locally to honor the old timers and children of Otter County, Play Day in the warm sunny sands has grown to national proportions.

Cars from as many as forty states, Alaska and Canada have gathered in the recreational area of the White Sands National Monument to spend a memorable day of entertainment in what has been termed a unique bit of America.

Featured among the day's activities are the White Sands Relay Races. This offers spirited competition among representatives of schools from all over the State. There are valuable trophies for winners. Games for all ages are featured throughout the area. There are thrilling jeep rides down gypsum slopes and speeches by old timers.

The military displays by Holoman Air Base and White Sands Proving Ground attract hundreds to the stands area. Viewed by occasional flights from the air, the vast White Sands are centered by a great patch-work of colorful flowers, bushes, cacti, peepsters, prairie schooners and wagons.

Here in little Albino Desert, bounded by the San Andres, the Organos and the Sacramento Mountains, and covering 376,000 acres of the giant Tularosa Basin, is held what has been called the world's biggest picnic—free coffee, bring your own lunch and spend a day in getting away from it all with ten thousand other folks.

White Sands National Monument has a museum at the entrance gate showing interesting artifacts, photographs and models of the area—Picnic grounds, fern year-round facilities offered to the public.

Fort Union Bill Is Before Senate

Congressman John J. Dempsey informs the News that the bill he introduced to make old Fort Union, near Watrous, a national monument has been passed by the House. It is now before the Senate where New Mexico senators are urging early action.

The legislation paves the way for Fort Union, Inc., a group of public spirited Las Vegas citizens to carry out their plan to reimburse the landowners for transferring the site of the famous old fort to the National Park Service.

Future plans include building of a proper access road by the State. Restoration by the Federal government of some of the old buildings which now lie in ruins is also contemplated. It should result in attracting thousands of visitors, the Congressman states, to the historic spot where many famous Americans served their country during the westward march of civilization.

NEWS IN BRIEF

New Mexico's population is increasing almost twice as rapidly as the average for the United States.

New Mexico is one of the three leading states in production of copper ore.

Eight per cent of the traffic accidents in New Mexico are caused by vision obstructions of one sort or another.

JUAN BACA JR.

Juan Baca Jr., 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Baca Sr. of Carrizozo, has completed his Air Force basic military training course at Lackland Air Force Base, the "Gateway to the Air Force."

Lackland, situated near San Antonio, is the site of Air Force basic military training for men and women, headquarters of the Human Resource Research Center, and home of the USAF Officer Military School.

Juan's basic military training has prepared him for entrance into Air Force technical training and for assignment in specialized work. The course included a scientific evaluation of his aptitude and inclination for following a particular vocation and career.

Orchard Prospects Favorable in Valley

Prospects for an apple crop are good now although later developments may change the outlook, according to County Agent Ralph Dunlap.

The cool weather has helped retard the bud growth of the apples, so there has been less chance of frost damage.

Around Picacho, the peaches, plums and some cherries are blooming and have been damaged by the recent cold spell.

With the approaching warm weather the growers are urged to apply a dormant oil or other miticide to their trees before they leaf out. Last year several orchards were hard hit by mite infestations. Some miticides that can be applied are DN-111 or DN-253.

Mounted Patrol Asked To Aid Traffic Officers

Sheriff Glen Bradley announced this week that he has asked the cooperation of the 35 members of Troop 5 of the New Mexico Mounted Patrol to help enforce traffic laws. The members are empowered to issue traffic citations.

At Sunday's meeting of the Patrol in Ruidoso, the seriousness of the traffic situation was thoroughly discussed. Lincoln County has had three deaths to date, one in January below Pine Lodge, and one in February and March, both on Highway 70. All victims were residents of the county. It was brought out that the greatest number of auto accidents in the State happen within 25 miles of the driver's home.

Attendance Urged at Hiway 54 Convention

Grizzlet Hoop Team Wins Championship

The Carrizozo Grizzlets, grade school team, displayed an undefeated season Saturday, by capturing the Capitan tournament final in a close win over Corona's Little Cardinals, 29 to 26. The championship game was exciting and closely played. The greatest point spread between the two teams was five points, and the half ended 15-10 in favor of the Grizzlets.

Corona came back strong after the half and midway in the fourth quarter grabbed a 1-point lead. At this time Lewis Greer led the game for Carrizozo with a charity toss and a field goal.

Greer accounted for 18 points on 7 field goals and 4 free throw tosses. Corona's well-balanced team had three 6-point men and one 5-pointer. (See News Sports for more on the tournament.)

Arabela Rancher Is In Commissioner Race

Alfonso Soto of Arabela, candidate for County Commissioner of District 1, was born at Carlsbad, N. M., in the year 1914. His family moved to Lincoln County four years later and made their home at San Patricio until 1920, when they moved to Arabela. Mr. Soto has made his home there since that time.

He is married and the couple have one daughter, Mary Lee, 14. She attends high school. Mr. Soto is owner and operator of a small ranch near Arabela. He takes an active part in church and civic affairs, has served on the school board and has been Republican chairman of the Arabela precinct since 1942.

He has never before been a candidate for public office. He solicits the support of his friends in the forthcoming primary election.

This is the second time the championship has been won by a team west of the Mississippi. The NMMI won the title the first time in 1952.

This year's championship came after victories over the polo teams of Yale and Cornell.

SANTA FE, March 24 — Primary candidates holding state-house jobs are not permitting the campaign to interfere very seriously with their pay checks.

Assistant Attorney General Clyde McColloch who is running for nomination for the supreme court was the first to break off the payroll. He's going to take two weeks' vacation with pay and two weeks leave without pay, according to his boss Dick Robinson. The campaign runs for nine weeks.

J. D. Hannah, $500-a-month employe of the state land office, is running for nomination for auditor under the arrangement by which he loses pay for the time off the job campaigning. In the first three weeks following the convention he was docked one half day's pay. His opponent, Louis Lopez of the auditor's office, has lost none of his $515 a month pay so far.

Also undisturbed is the $500 a month drawn by Tony Mignardot from the bureau of revenue. He, however, is not opposed for Republican nomination for corporation commissioner.

Candidates for minor offices are having a rough time doing any campaigning at all. That's because of the absence of contests for any of the top Democratic places. In the past the little candidates would latch on to the big moneyed candidates, frequently travel at their expense, appear before the crowds they attracted and pick up pocket money for doing a little side-campaigning for the big ones.

This year they're on their own and people ordinarily just don't make contributions to primary candidates for auditor, secretary of state, treasurer, and such. And even those who have the money to travel around the state can't get a crowd together.

RACING BOARD TROUBLED AGAIN

Steve Gasparich, the certified public accountant who has been auditing the race meet at Raton, has informed the state racing commission that he wants no more of it, to get somebody else. Gasparich in resigning the job of auditing the handle of almost $3,000,000 a season in betting said that he was obliged to work under "unfavorable conditions," was permitted to make only a "so called" field check, and was obliged to rely on betting machine tabulations as read by association employes.

The CPA in reporting that he found "no intentional" irregularities noted that the finding "was limited, of course, by the extent of our examinations." Gasparich's huffy resignation came at the same time that the race board was confronted with an assault from Dona Ana county about the licensing of a parasite track in Dona Ana at the edge of El Paso. The southerners were threatening to go to bat for the repeal of the racing law if the new track were not canceled out. Worried board members would like to cancel the parasite license but apparently can not after having issued the permit and accepted the money for racing dates at $50 a day.

STOCKTON ADVANCE FEATURES PRIMARY

The advance of Alvin Stockton to a seriously challenging position for Republican nomination for governor is the outstanding development in the dull primary campaign that got under way the first of the month. The soft-spoken 41-year-old Stockton was given hardly any chance at all against the organization-backed Holm Bursum of Socorro before the convention but has been gaining ever since until now observers credit him with a 50-50 chance to gain the nomination.

It is an odd set of circumstances that is aiding the Colfax county farmer and rancher. A small group of Republican legislators who served with him in the last session are tearing their shirts for Stockton, perhaps the most active group in either party in behalf of any candidate. With the enthusiastic legislators is a segment of the Republican Old Guard (an outfit that is commonly believed to be with Bursum) headed by rich Ed Springer of Cimarron and perhaps, including National Committeeman Albert Mitchell. And incongruously the super-clean and correct Stockton is getting the backing of a lot of money-mad Republican politicians in Rio Arriba, San Miguel and other northern areas who feel they were slighted by the Mechem administration which is supposed to be backing Bursum.

Molasses Cookies Are Spring Tonic

Instead of sulphur and molasses, make gingerbread cookies as a spring tonic. The sulphur portion went out when a year-long supply of fruits and vegetables was assured. Nor is it necessary to have sulphur in molasses... it gets there only when molasses is a by-product of sugar making. "Unsulphured" molasses is sugar cane juice which has been clarified, concentrated and aged. Its rich aromatic flavor comes from sun-ripened cane.

Unsulphured molasses is an energy food and a very good source of iron. However, credit its taffy flavor for the fact that gingerbread men have been, and continue to be, cookie classics popular with all who eat them.

Gingerbread Men

1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup unsulphured molasses
1 egg
2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cloves
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Editor, News:
The Capitán Band Boosters wish to thank the Lincoln County News for publicity, and all who so generously donated to our cause.

Our first project was to purchase a set of bells for the band. Our sales and generous donations at the Grade School tournament netted not only enough for the bells, but also a set of cymbals.

We are very grateful to the public for their whole-hearted support.

MRS. LEROY MCKNIGHT, Publicity Chairman.

Editor, News:
I wish to thank the wonderful people of Corona, including the El Paso Natural Gas Co. and Delta Engineers who patronized Gussie's Cafe up to the time I was ready to leave; also those wonderful people who gave me their heartfelt sympathy during my trying times. My undying gratitude goes out to them. To those who were responsible for those trying times, I have this to say: It would be much easier to state the Golden Rule: "Do unto others as you would have done unto you."

(In another part of the News appears the new location of Gussie's Cafe.)

Frances A. Hunt, of Roswell, in renewing her subscription to the News, has a few kind words to say: "We enjoy your paper very much." She postscripted "I am from the little town of White Oaks, 'Land of Heart's Desire,' by Emerson Hough."

"I GREW UP WITH IKE" . . . Now you can read the exciting story of President Eisenhower's boyhood. USDA Announces 1954 Support Plan For Dry Edible Beans

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announces that 1954 crop dry edible beans will be supported at a national average price of $7.24 per hundred pounds.

The support program provides a level of support at 80 per cent of the February 15, 1954 parity price for all dry edible beans—contingent upon sufficient commodity credit corporation funds being available. The level for the 1954 crop is designed to help keep this year's acreage in approximate balance with needed production without resort to acreage allotments.

Price support for U. S. No. 1, 1953-crop beans ranged by classes from $9.45 to $11.80 per hundred pounds, based on a national average support price of $7.79 per hundred pounds which was equal to approximately 87 per cent of the Dec. 15, 1952 parity price for dry edible beans.

The supported classes of dry beans produced in 1954 will be pea and medium white, Great Northern, small white, flat small white, pink, small red, pinto, red kidney, large lima, and baby lima. Support rates by class, and by area where necessary, together with appropriate premiums and discounts, will be announced later by the Department. USDA officials cautioned that differentials between classes may be modified from those used in the 1953 support operation and as a result the difference between the national average rates for the two programs.

Prices of beans under the 1954 program as in 1953 will be supported by non-recourse loans to producers for beans stored on farms and in warehouses, and through purchase agreements with producers. Loans and purchase agreements will be available from time of harvest through January 1955.

Recreational Lab To Be Held May 2-8

The fourth annual session of the Southwestern Recreational Leaders' Laboratory will open at Mountain View Ranch, Cowles, (near Santa Fe) May 2. The laboratory is a week's training for adults interested in recreation.

The Laboratory, which commenced in 1949, after a group of extension workers from New Mexico visited the Black Hills Laboratory in South Dakota, offers opportunity for learning and sharing recreation skills, abilities and interests. It also provides an excellent chance for people who assist in community activities for schools, churches, camps and clubs to learn more about recreation.

The Laboratory has been planned around the theme "Para Compañia-La Buena Vida," (To Share—the Good Life.) Each day's program, meals and activities will feature a special phase of the theme as the group develops ideas.

Special training in many phases of recreation will be given by specialists who are called "resource people." Featured on the program are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bunning, Colorado metal and leather crafts; Don Clayton, South Dakota, singing; Kenny Anderson, Nebraska, photography; Jane Farwell, Wisconsin, folk and square dancing; Mrs. Bertha Holck, Texas, square dancing; Vera Magnum, Texas, outdoor cooking; Henry Chavez and son, New Mexico, small crafts, and other specialists in the recreation field.

Further information about the Laboratory, which ends Saturday morning, May 8, can be obtained from the Lincoln County Extension office.

Registration for the laboratory may be sent to Geronimo Chavez, associate state Four-H club leader, Extension Service, State College, New Mexico.

Old Weather Man continues to throw out everything in his weather line except that which we need most—moisture.

R. L. Morgan's parents returned to their home at Big Spring, Tex. last week. His mother who has been seriously ill was taken to the hospital immediately.

Thursday of last week Mrs. L. D. Merchant, Mrs. Bill Edgar and Willa attended the Round Table Club at the home of Mrs. L. W. Clark in Capitan.

Loyd Taylor is in Carrizozo Hospital for surgery. His many friends here wish him a speedy recovery.

Last week Tobe Foster had delivered to his hunting lodge on the Black Ranch a gang of elk (before reading the state game department's news letter in last week's News I'd call it a herd of elk.) Thanks for the information.

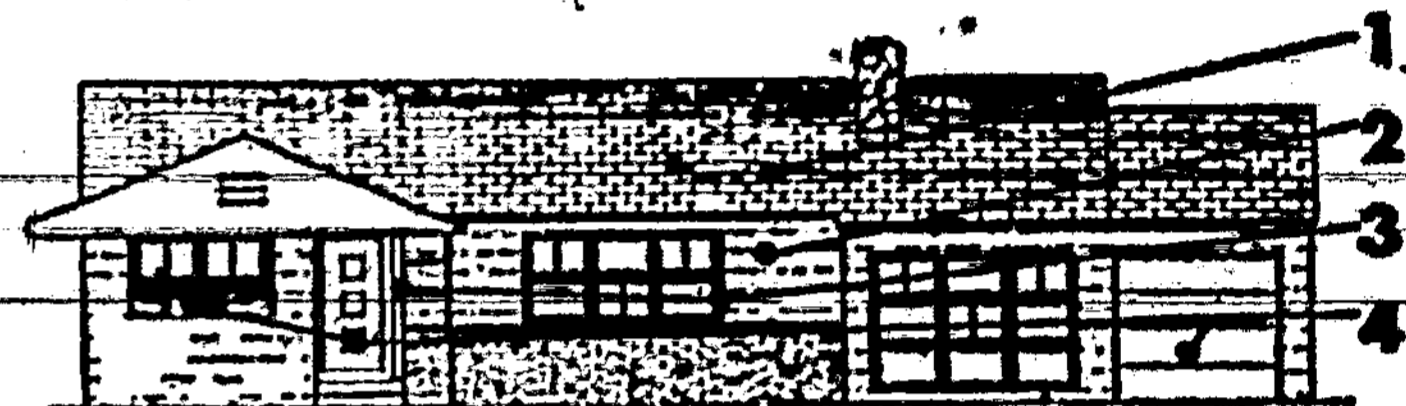

Mr. and Mrs. Hilario Trujillo spent the weekend in Roswell where Mr. Trujillo is having dental work done.

Mrs. L. R. Morgan returned home Sunday from Big Spring, and other places in West Texas. Her sister, Miss Jackson, returned with her.

Mrs. Flora Chavez and children spent the weekend with home folks, the Hilario Trujillos.

Anchorage, Alaska, is one of the fastest growing cities under the American flag, the National Geographic Society points out. Its metropolitan population has jumped from a scant 4,000 in 1940 to over 50,000.

Color Makes House Taller

To make this ranch-style home look larger than it really is, the color designer relied on pastel roofing and siding in a blending color. Exterior colors, as indicated by numbers, are: The roof (1) is pastel russet asphalt shingles. Siding (2) is coral. Trim (3) is light gray, and the accent color on the door (4) is peacock.

For this small contemporary dwelling, the illusion-creating colors are: The roof (1) is brown asphalt roofing. Siding (2) is a blending light brown. Trim (3) is off-white. The accent color (4) is willow.

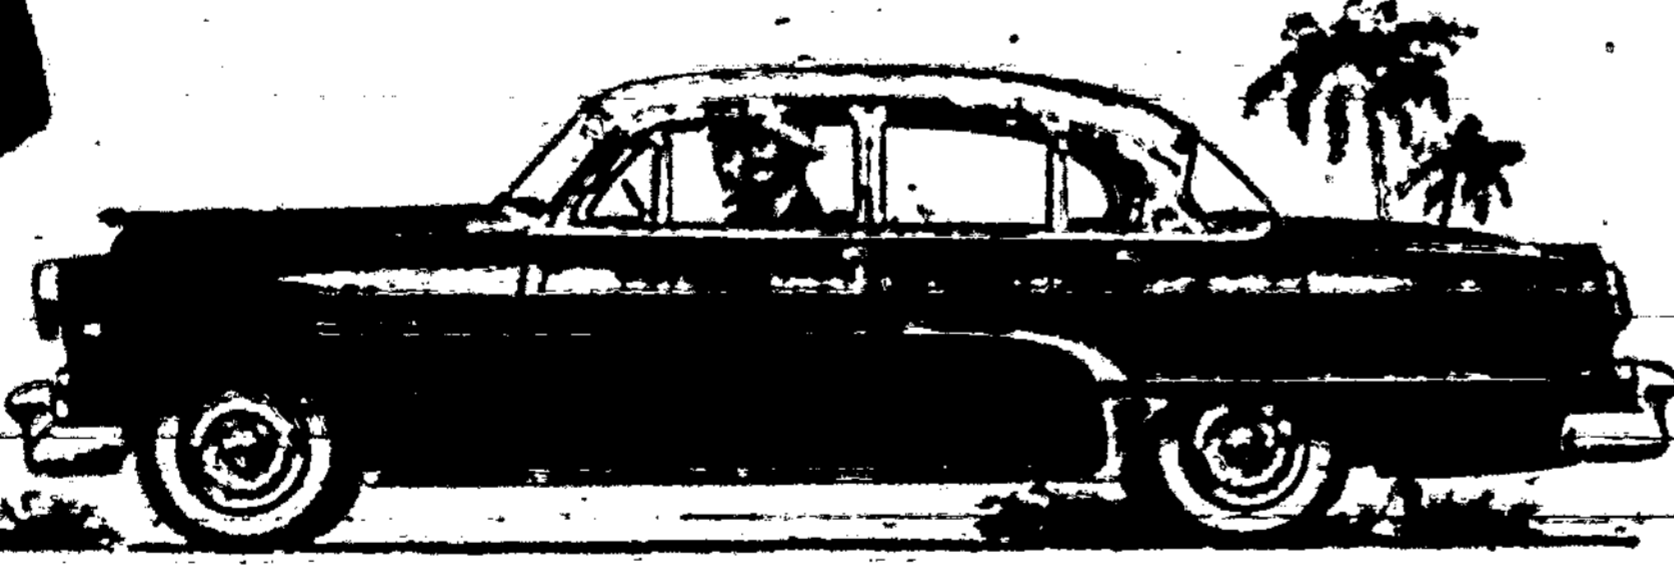

Your house will appear taller and wider than it actually is if you take advantage of the extra dimension of color.

Light-color asphalt shingles are well suited to modern one-story houses because they draw the eye upward, emphasizing height and creating an impression of importance. Because the roof usually is the largest unbroken area of a house, it is the key to the whole color plan. The roof color should be chosen first. The next step is to choose harmonizing siding, also in a light color. To emphasize the bright roofing and siding, doors should be in a contrasting hue. This gives much the same effect as wearing a dark tie with a light-colored suit. The illusion of greater size will be increased if trim paint matches siding.

No review of the agricultural interests of this section would be complete without mention of Otero County Electric Co-Operative whose offices are in Cloudcroft and which serves Otero, Lincoln and Chaves Counties. We know of no concern in the area who have made a better record for quality and service than Sacra Bros. Co. and it is for this reason that they have become leaders in their field.

Offering further economy to the home-owner who must keep kitchen remodeling within a limited budget, cabinets of ponderosa pine are available as kits, with all wood accurately cut to size but not assembled, or with the wood unfinished. They are also supplied prime-coat painted, fully painted, or with a natural wood finish. A home-owner can do his own installation if he wishes. Among the advantages of wood cabinets is that they take a virtually unlimited range of finishes, paint or enamel of any color, or varnish or shellac for natural appearance. Resinizing is always possible when a change in kitchen decoration is desired. Wood cabinet doors do not traffic. Doors are dust-proof and cracks are tightly closed to keep cabinet interiors clean.

CONSERVATION BILL PASSED

(By Congressman Dempsey)
Legislation which is expected to strengthen the water and soil conservation programs in New Mexico and other western states has been passed by the House. It provides that the Secretary of Agriculture shall cooperate with states and local agencies in attacking the problems of upstream soil and water and flood prevention and authorizes appropriation of such funds as may be necessary.

The action of the House is particularly gratifying to me as sponsor of the original soil conservation act almost 20 years ago. It means that the first step has been taken toward conservation of our small but most vital water supply at its source—where the precipitation occurs.

Unique Room Divider Features Two-Way Storage

Here's a novel idea for storage and display space dividing dining room and kitchen. It is one of many unique space-saving features presented by Small Homes Guide in a special "space saver" design. Two-way cabinets at the base of the unit make linens and dishes accessible from either dining room or kitchen. In addition, shelves provide display space for dinnerware on the dining room side and for knickknacks on the kitchen side, as well as work space.

WATER SUPPLY POSES PROBLEM OF PUBLIC HEALTH

Carrizozo needs a new water system for a number of reasons. Already mentioned are the savings that will be possible by installing a system that meets the specifications of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. This will be accomplished by installing larger mains, a storage reservoir, booster pump station and fireplugs with overlapping coverage.

An adequate supply of water under pressure will be supplied to areas where service is poor at the present time.

Another important point in favor of voting for the water bonds is from a health standpoint. Last summer the town's water supply became contaminated and residents were cautioned to boil the drinking water. The source of contamination was not discovered, but it was suspected that cracks and leaks in the old mains were allowing impurities to get into the mains.

Another hazard in the present system is a number of dead end mains which prevents the free circulation of water. Under the proposed new system, dead end mains would largely be eliminated.

J. P. Turner, M. D., states that in his opinion "the health of the community would be better with a new distribution system of water under good pressure." The chlorination program has been helpful, he says.

The day is approaching when Carrizozo will have a more plentiful supply of water and at lower cost. When that time comes, will the town be ready to take care of it? That's a question the voters are called upon to decide April 6.

FURTHER EXTENSIONS OF WATER SYSTEM

Several home owners live in an area not shown on the accompanying map — south and west of the proposed standpipe, or "elevated reservoir" as it is sketched. Actually, the structure will be a standpipe, holding approximately 50,000 gallons of water. Mayor Roberts said this week that there will no doubt be sufficient funds in the bond issue to serve the area above mentioned.

Alva P. Sifton Jr. last week took a number of elevation readings around town. The elevation at the standpipe site he found to be 5490 feet, which is within ten feet of being the highest point in the townsite. Elevation at the City Hall is 5426 feet—a drop of 54 feet from the standpipe site.

"Means of Transport" All That Is Lacking For Trip to the Moon

Interplanetary flight is no mere dream at New Mexico's White Sands Proving Grounds, it is reported in the current (March 20th) issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

An article entitled "The Secrets of White Sands" tells that the Army has sent a missile 250 miles in the air and the Air Force has dispatched two anthrized monkeys and two white mice thirty-eight miles above the desert floor and brought them down alive.

When Milton Lehman visited White Sands to get this story, he told Clyde W. Tombaugh, optical laboratory director, that he wanted a "down-to-earth account of guided missiles, with none of that talk about sky platforms and trips to the moon tomorrow morning."

Tombaugh, who is the only living man who has discovered a planet, having located "Pluto" in January, 1930, replied: "Of course not, it'll take more time than that."

Lehman explains that he thought Tombaugh was displaying a broad sense of humor. So he tried again. "Now," he said, "let's get down to fundamentals. You are spending your days on missiles and rockets. Seriously, what are you looking for?"

It is related that the noted astronomer sighed and then spoke quietly. "I would say," Tombaugh stated deliberately, "that I am looking for a means of transport."

Home Suits Modern Way of Living

Boasting three bedrooms, two baths, and a center hall for good circulation, this design for a modern one-story house is the work of Stephen Kornreich, A.I.A., R.D. 3, Newark, Del. It is his Plan No. 101.

The extra-large living room is combined with a dining area. The long unbroken wall would contribute to attractive furniture arrangement. A wall of windows at the rear opens onto a flagstone terrace. The living room's "cathedral" ceiling is higher in the center than at the sides, adding to the general feeling of spaciousness.

In keeping with the modern trend, all windows are of ponderosa pine. The architect says wood windows were chosen because they look better and fit so snugly that they prevent seepage of moisture from the outside to the inside. The high insulating value of wood eliminates the problem of moisture condensation on the inside of window sash.

Windows are awning type, opening out and up. This prevents rain from entering when windows are open.

The exterior color scheme was chosen by Beatrice West, color consultant. She specifies white apricot trim for the roof, blue-gray sidewalk, white trim, and gold as an accent color on the doors and front window.

Mrs. West chooses the roof color the most important one. The roof is the largest unbroken area of the house and the roof line is low, almost on a line with the eye. The white roof attracts attention, making the house seem taller.

The house has ample closet space, including a walk-in closet for the master bedroom. A closet for outer garments is located conveniently in the living room. An enclosed storage room forms one end of the carport. All rooms have ocean ventilation. The house could be built either with or without a basement. The housekeeper's storage and

Constructed near Wilmington, Del., where its price was $24,900. In other communities, cost would depend upon local conditions.

Detailed building plans are available from Stephen Kornreich, A.I.A., Newark, Del. Refer to Plan No. 101.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—Is there any way to make screws "bite" in wood or plaster holes which have become too large?

A—Yes. Roll steel wool into a long narrow wad and force it into the hole with a pencil. The screw will turn into the steel wool, taking a firm grip.

Q—My roof has been repaired several times recently, but new leaks continue to appear. How can this be corrected so that I can rely on the roof to keep out rain?

A—Your trouble is that your roof is so old and weathered that patching is futile and you need a complete re-roofing job. H. R. Snook of the National Bureau of Standards says that "a single apparent leak in a badly weathered roof is probable evidence of other similar leaks that have not been noticed and is usually the forerunner of other, larger leaks that will appear in a relatively short time."

Q—What steps should be taken to preserve a piano?

A—The piano should be placed so both its ends are equally distant from a radiator, a register, or a stove. It should not be placed near a window frequently left open for long periods.

Don't fool yourself about fire insurance

If you're going to carry fire insurance, carry ENOUGH.

Many people merely carry "some" fire insurance, to ease their minds a little.

You should face the facts. What if a fire burned your home or business TO THE GROUND tonight?

Your insurance should be big enough to cover a major portion of replacement cost now. THAT is the way to decide how much fire insurance to carry. See us today.

THE STORY OF JACOB

In Joseph's case, he had nothing to deserve this kind of justice. But was it justice? It was not even cause and effect. It was, in fact, the working of Divine providence, for God was working to bring Joseph into a place of destiny, the place of his greatest usefulness.

Of course, Joseph did not know this. How could he have known that at that moment he was the child of destiny being moved by the hand of God? All he could see was his captors and the evil deed of his brothers. He did not fall, however. He was true to God. His faith did not waver.

It would have been very easy for Joseph to have endured this ill treatment and this foul fate had he known it would end in the chair of the prime minister. But he did not know.

In Joseph's case we find faith. He yielded and surrendered to the moulding influence of God. When he dreamed the prophetic dreams of family supremacy it was fulfillment of what had already happened in Joseph's character as well as what would happen in family history. God was at work in the young man. That is the most glorious thing that happens or can be said of any person. Think of what might have happened in Nazareth if the people knew that God was working in the carpenter Joseph's shop! Well, he works today in human lives. The happiest discovery you can make is God working in your life. What an honor! What a thrill! What a prospect!

Joseph had a dream and he had the courage to tell it to his brothers—"For behold we were binding sheaves in the field, and lo, my sheaf arose and also stood upright; and behold your sheaves stood round about and made obeisance to my sheaf." This could mean but one thing: Joseph's place among his brothers. They hated him for it.

Joseph had yet another dream: "Behold I have yet another dream more; and behold the sun and the moon and the eleven stars made obeisance to me." The meaning was plain. It meant Joseph's place even above his father and mother. It was too much for his jealous brethren. They hated him the more and no doubt they resolved then to do away with him.

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

PRIDE in the HOME TOWN

WHAT WITH THE ADVANCES IN TRANSPORTATION, WE HAVE FAR GREATER OPPORTUNITY THAN OUR FATHERS EVER HAD TO KNOW THE SCOPE AND VARIETY OF OUR COUNTRY. BUT WITH ALL OUR BROADENING PERSPECTIVE, CARRIERS ANY GROUP OF CITIZENS AND YOU'LL FIND THAT LOYALTY TO THE HOME TOWN RUNS AS STRONG AS EVER.

PRIDE IN MAKING THE HOME TOWN A BETTER PLACE TO LIVE IN IS AN ESSENTIAL ATTRIBUTE OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP. THE WAY TO IMPLEMENT IT IS TO TAKE AN INTEREST IN LOCAL GOVERNMENT AND TO SUPPORT SUCH LOCAL ENTERPRISES AS THE COMMUNITY CHURCH, THE HOSPITAL, THE SCHOOLS, THE CHURCHES. THE STRENGTH OF ITS COMMUNITIES IS THE STRENGTH OF OUR DEMOCRACY.

STATE GAME DEPARTMENT NEWSLETTER

NEW ELK RELEASES:
The New Mexico Department of Game and Fish planted 16 majestic elk to supplement the present herd on the Heart Bar Ranch in the Mogollon Mountains of southwestern New Mexico. From Yellowstone Park, 12 cows, two mature bulls and two spike bulls were obtained.

BOAT SAFETY STRESSED
Homer C. Pickens, State Game Warden, reminds fishermen that the annual spring rush to the State's lakes and streams calls for adherence to boat safety rules. High winds are an ever-present danger. A comparative new cause of boating tragedies, according to Pickens, is the over-powering of small craft. Too large a motor, or two small motors, will throw the craft out of balance. He particularly sought the indulgence of "folk just out for the ride" on Elephant Butte, Caballo and Concha Lakes, to remember that others on the water are in the serious business of trying to catch a fish and therefore need privacy and quiet. "They are not only disturbed," he added, "but their lives are endangered by swift craft cutting too close to their anchored boat." Always carry life jackets or preservers.

STUDY FORAGE COMPETITION
Range utilization and forage competition studies will shortly commence in the Magdalena area. Stockmen, sheep growers and farmers will cooperate in this study. Denis J. Illige of the N. M. Dept. of Game and Fish, will be in charge.

NEW LAND PURCHASED
The State has bought 2839 acres on the lower southeast slopes of Mount Taylor in Valencia County. The area, which is reached through Cubero, will be known as Water Canyon Turkey Area.

MRS. C. E. DEGNER ELECTED PRESIDENT OF WOMAN'S CLUB

By CLARA BAKER
Mrs. Carl E. Degner was elected president of the Carrizozo Woman's Club at their meeting last Friday, March 19. Other officers elected were Mmes. Sam Nichols, vice-president; R. E. Lemon, second vice-president; R. G. Firman, secretary, and B. M. Hodges, treasurer.

Election was held following the report of Mrs. Marbury Burns, chairman of the nominating committee. Installation of officers will be at the regular meeting May 21, 1954.

Mrs. Kelley Stephenson was nominated as a delegate to accompany Mrs. C. A. Snow, president, to the New Mexico Federation of Women's Clubs forty-second annual convention to be held in Carlsbad in April. Mrs. Lewis Farris was nominated as alternate.

Upon completion of the Club's business, members and their guests enjoyed the remainder of the afternoon watching Mrs. Louise Coe demonstrate various flower arrangements. Mrs. Coe provided the beautiful daffodils, jonquils, iris and pussywillow from her own garden. Mrs. Thelma Murphy assisted Mrs. Coe. Members of the Club and their guests were indeed privileged to have viewed the demonstration.

Carrying out a St. Patrick's Day motif, delicious refreshments of home made cup cakes, green mint ice cream and coffee were served by the hostesses, Mmes. Jane Turner, Sam Nichols and Mary Lou Salas. Favors were lapel devices of shamrock and miniature white hats.

Mrs. C. A. Snow, president, called the meeting to order and was followed by Mrs. F. E. Richardson reading a devotional at the complex of which the Lord's Prayer was recited in unison by members and their guests. In the absence of Mrs. J. N. McDaniel and Mrs. Rex Werner, Mrs. R. E. Lemon acted as secretary and Mrs. Betty Nichols read the treasurer's report. Mrs. C. E. Degner was program chairman.

Something new in railroad research, an intensive study to end mysterious fires in cotton shipments during transit, was announced by President D. J. Russell of Southern Pacific.

Stanford Research Institute has been engaged to join with railroad personnel in a fresh scientific attack on this perplexing problem which has become of greater importance to the railroads and the cotton industry as volume of cotton shipments has increased from California and Arizona, Russell said.

Although the fires are infrequent, they are so destructive that evidence of the cause is usually destroyed within the locked and sealed cars, Russell pointed out.

In the program planned by the railroad and the Stanford Research Institute, field studies will be combined with laboratory tests and investigations.

Hondo Band Boosters Entertain Members

Wednesday evening, March 17, the Hondo Band Boosters Club entertained the club members and guests with their annual St. Patrick's Day banquet.

The tables were spread in the corridor of the High School. A delicious menu of ham, salad, peas, green beans, potato salad, hot rolls, tea, coffee and cherry cobbler was served buffet style to approximately seventy-five persons. F. Montes was master of ceremonies and a most enjoyable impromptu program was presented.

During the course of the evening much hidden talent was uncovered. We not only have some excellent singers, but we also have a number of persuasive speakers. At the conclusion of the group singing which was participated in by all the ladies on one side trying to out-do the men on the other. A most delightful evening ended with a prayer by Mr. Oldham.

Everyone expressed themselves as having had a wonderful time and are already looking forward to the banquet next year.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held in the High School study hall on April 19, at 7:30 p. m.

CAPITAL NEWS

Bursum. In the past week or ten days there has been an increasing number of employees coming out in the open in behalf of the house speaker with apparently no fear of losing their jobs. The governor, reportedly, has assured the capitol workers that there would be no retaliation against those backing Stockton. This is a change over what was assumed to be the administration position of a fortnight back.

Bursum remains the favorite of many because of his important support in Albuquerque and the heavy voting counties down the Rio Grande. But he has a race on his hands.

Dorothy Guck Writes of Spring in Capitan

"Promise of Spring" is the title of an article by Dorothy Guck of Capitan. In the April issue of New Mexico Magazine.

In the article Mrs. Guck describes the coming of Spring in the Capitan area.

"Spring in New Mexico is the most exciting free show on earth," Mrs. Guck writes, "a world vibrating with a beautiful glory. The largest porcelain sky is all yours with a lift of the eyes. Spring in New Mexico is as untamed as the mountain stream, as immense as the wide expanse of mah-free land stretching into the forever of purple mountains, as intimate as the nuzzling of a suckling heifer."
