And Carrizozo Outlook

(Volume 45, Number 3, Carrizozo News, Vol. 45)

CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1954.

(Outlook Volume 45, No. 18)

(Joe M. Clark pinch-hitting)

SANTA FE, Sept. 2.—The Democratic choice for governor, John Simms, was right and wrong when he charged a few days ago there was no complete inventory of New Mexico's water resources.

UNDERGROUND DATA

MEANTIME, the underground water situation—as shown by the available figures in the same state office—is somewhat less discouraging. But not much.

NEW MEXICO GETS LARGE SLICE BACK

Uncle Sam is an old meany in collecting federal income and excise levies, but he is far from a complete miser as regards his 47th child, New Mexico.

(In the past fiscal year, the state welfare department received a whopping $9.6 million from Washington, the highway commission got $7.7, the health department about $732,000 and the game department $326,000.)

GOP CANDIDATES NOW ENCOURAGED

Heartening is the word for the reaction of New Mexico Republicans to the runoff renomination of Texas' leading Democrat for Eisenhower, Governor Allan Shivers.

CONGRESS HOPEFUL

"The Republicans here now see added reason to believe the "Little Texas" area of New Mexico will favor the GOP candidates, particularly the nominee for Congress—in continued support of the Eisenhower program.

Already campaigning actively, the two GOP candidates for the U. S. House of Representatives—Santa Fean Tom Childers and Roswellite Warren Cobean—threaten the state's two veteran Democratic Congressmen, John J. Dempsey and A. M. Fernandez, both of Santa Fe. Certainly this is a race to watch.

On the Republican east side foray, Gov. Edwin L. Machem, the party's nominee for U. S. Senator, was, as anticipated, popular co-star with smiling Alvin Stockton, for governor. They teamed well.

LIONS CARNIVAL TAKES SPOTLIGHT SATURDAY NIGHT

A sum of $100 or more has been pledged to the Carrizozo swimming pool.

A substantial contribution is to be made to the Emergency March of Dimes fund.

Other community projects during the coming year will call for money.

That's why the Carrizozo Lions Club is hoping that this year's Chuck Wagon Supper and Carnival will be the biggest and most successful one to date.

The party is to be held in Carrizozo this Saturday evening, starting with an outdoor banquet, chuck wagon style, at 6 o'clock.

The food committee, headed by L. Z. Manie and Lewis Farris, say that the supper will be "the best one served in Lincoln County that night for the price of $1."

Tickets are on sale from any Lions Club member or may be bought at supper time.

Serving will continue until 8 o'clock, after which there will be entertainment and games.

Dick Billis has given the Lions Club annual party advertising over his program on radio station KOB.

Because new grass has been planted in the city park, the carnival will be held in a roped-off area in the street in front of the Lyric theatre.

E. M. CALENTINE NEW LIONS CLUB MEMBER

E. M. Calentine was welcomed as a new member of the Carrizozo Lions Club at last Monday night's meeting.

Bávo Price was introduced as a guest.

Truman Spencer Jr., presided at a business meeting. He presented his ideas to the club members on a worthwhile community project: securing bleachers for the football field.

The suggestion met with the approval of those present.

Carrizozo Band Gives Concert at Ft. Stanton

The Carrizozo 42-piece public school band presented a concert for patients at the Fort Stanton Hospital on Thursday afternoon. The program follows:

Band—Berceuse from Jocelyn (Goldard) and Minuet in G by Beethoven.

Four concert numbers by the band concluded the program.

The band hopes to provide music for all home football games; also the games at Capitan, Ruidoso and Corona.

Sheriff Bradley Arrests Man Wanted Since June on Assault Charge

Wanted since early June on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, Iamar Bailey was picked up Sunday by Sheriff Glen Bradley.

The Sheriff was returning late in the evening from Ruidoso, via Nogal: Near there he came across a parked car and with his spotlight picked out two men nearby. One he identified as Bailey.

The men said they were hunting a half-grown porcupine. Sheriff Bradley brought Bailey into Carrizozo and booked him on the assault charge. He was arraigned before Judge Shaw and released on $1000 bond.

The charge of assault with a deadly weapon grew out of two incidents in Capitan bars, when it is charged, Bailey ordered patrons to remove their hats, saying he was not used to drinking with people who kept their hats on. One patron did not comply, and a shot was directed at his hat, causing a facial burn.

Supt. J. G. Fittman said that it was believed the figures would be revised upward to a considerable extent by the end of the week.

Registration at Ancho was down to a total of 14 children, but an enrollment of around 18 is likely.

Registration on the first day was as follows:

Mrs. Ryan states that preliminary work on the 1954 Census of Agriculture, to be taken this fall, will begin immediately. This includes organization of the field office, interviewing applicants for jobs, selecting and training of office clerks, field crew-leaders and enumerators.

Uncover Uranium Deposit on Lone Mt.

What is said to look like a worthwhile deposit of uranium has been uncovered on the north side of Lone Mountain. The discovery was made by the Brown Bros. Construction Co., while doing the annual assessment work on the House's day property. The ore comes in a deposit carrying beryl, tungsten, fluorospar and iron.

The vein is described as being in a true fissure formation. Mr. House, who has been under the care of a physician in Los Angeles, intends to do some intensive development work on the property as soon as he is able to.

Samples of the uranium-bearing ore are at the Roselle Jewelry Store and at the Harkey Real Estate office, which is handling the property during the absence of Mr. House.

MORE HELP FOR SWIMMING POOL

Work on the Carrizozo municipal swimming pool got under way again Thursday morning, with a full-time superintendent in charge of construction. He is C. D. Crouch of the Crouch Construction Company of Alamogordo.

"We hired Mr. Crouch to supervise the work because we want to get the pool built without further delay and he is fully qualified to see that it will be a first-class job," John Harkey told the News this week.

Mr. Harkey is chairman of the committee appointed by Mayor Roberts to build the swimming pool.

Mr. Crouch conferred with the building committee Tuesday and Wednesday. In order to hold down construction cost on the pool, donations of labor will be depended upon as in the past.

"We will welcome anyone who can put in an hour, a day, or more of work," Mr. Crouch says. High school boys will find some jobs waiting for them after school hours.

Most of the work from now on will be at the site of the pool, and Mr. Crouch will be there to supervise on all week days, starting at 8 o'clock morning.

"We have enough money on hand to build the pool itself," Mr. Harkey said, but that he doubted if present funds could be stretched out enough for everything that will be required to equip the pool.

35 GRIZZLIES OUT TO MAKE THE TEAM

Coach Ken Willis reported this week that 35 boys are turning out for football practice, the majority of them lettermen.

"However," he said, "some have been switched to new positions, which means they are actually green in those spots. As a whole, team spirit has been good."

Coach Willis said his squad will practice under the lights Thursday and he invites all fans who would like to see the boys in action to come out. Practice will begin at 7:30.

The blocking and tackling of the players is improving daily, he says, "as is attested by the number of 'Charley Horses' received by the players."

Coach Willis listed the following returning lettermen: Leroy Nowell, quarterback; Natie Palomarez, fullback; Leroy Sidwell, fullback; Tingo Gallegos, halfback; Tom Barnett, halfback; Louis Montano, guard; Victor Chavez, guard; John Saucedo, guard; Wesley Lindsay, guard; Richard Means, guard; Glenn Barnum, center.

Fair Time Is Nearing. County Agent Reminds

Fair time is just around the corner, is a reminder by County Agent Ralph Dunlap. "If you plan to make an exhibit," he says, "you should be getting it ready now to show."

The Lincoln County Achievement Day will be the first place for many of the exhibits to be shown. This event is especially planned for the junior exhibitors and is open to any organized youth group.

The State Fair at Albuquerque starts September 25 and the Eastern New Mexico Fair October 5.

"Although the showing will be the place you exhibit the final accomplishments of your work," Mr. Dunlap says, "you should do a good job of preparing the exhibit. A beef animal should be washed several times before showing, and its feet trimmed as well, at least two weeks before the show. The fat lamb should be blocked three weeks before showing in order for it to have the best appearance."

Parents Must Teach Children Observance Of Safe Traffic Rules

The dangers of traffic involving school children on foot and riding bicycles is with us once again, and parents have the renewed responsibility of making certain that they will not receive a disaster call from the hospital, informing them that their child has been injured or killed as a result of someone's carelessness.

In commenting on Child Safety Week, August 30 to September 3, Chief Roach of the Governor's Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee said that most often the fault lies with "those responsible for making the child conscious of the dangers involved in today's heavy traffic."

"This responsibility is too often shirked by parents in the faith that the teacher can accomplish miracles in the few hours she is with her children each day, said Roach.

Child Safety Week was set aside by Governor Mechem as a period designed to impress all parents and all drivers of the dangers which will confront their children throughout the school year.

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY AGENT

By RALPH DUNLAP

Saving Garden Seed Can Cause Trouble

When gardeners see an especially healthy and heavy bearing plant in their plot they often get the idea, "I'll let this plant mature and save the seed for planting next year." In some cases this will work, but in other cases it won't.

Different crops must be handled differently. For example, certain crops will cross readily in the field, and the seed saved will come true to variety.

The home gardener is cautioned against saving snap bean and lima bean seed, because serious diseases can be carried over in these seeds.

It's easy to get confused on crossing. Many people believe cucumbers, muskmelons, watermelons and squash will cross with each other. These different crops do not cross with each other, but different varieties of the same crop will cross.

Therefore, if there is more than one variety of watermelons in the garden, the seed probably would not be true to variety.

Corn is pollinated by the wind and different varieties of this crop will also mix. Some closely related crops will cross with each other if they bloom at the same time.

Cabbage, collards, kale and broccoli are examples. Mustards and turnips are also relatives that cross. Hot peppers will cross with sweet peppers and the resulting progeny will all be hot.

Beans and tomatoes usually are self-pollinated, so there is no danger of crossing even if different varieties are planted next to one another.

Seed should not be saved from hybrid tomatoes, cucumbers, squash or corn, because these are first generation crosses and will not come true from the seed that is saved.

If a home gardener decided to save seed from his own garden it is important that selection be made on the basis of the performance of the entire plant, not an individual pod or fruit. There is always a temptation to save seed from the largest watermelon in the patch. But if that melon were the only one on the vine, it would be better to select a vine with three or four good-sized melons and save the seed from one of those.

A goldfish put alone in a bowl can become so lonely and frustrated as to actually wind up a "mental case."

September Is Soil Conservation Month

The third annual Soil Conservation Month in New Mexico will be observed from Sept. 1-30. Gov. Mechem has proclaimed.

The Governor's proclamation reads as follows: Whereas, the preservation of New Mexico's soil and water resources is indispensable to the health and prosperity of the commonwealth and its people, and

Whereas, the welfare of all commercial, professional and industrial enterprises, as well as labor, is directly dependent upon what can be produced from the land, and

Whereas, New Mexico's land and water resources annually produce a substantial portion of the state's income, and

Whereas, work being carried on by farmers and ranchers through 61 soil conservation districts has proved that the soil can be stabilized and water conserved for beneficial use by known conservation techniques and practices, and

Whereas, soil and water conservation is bringing increased economic benefits to the people of the state, it is fitting that all groups and individuals, whether government or private, should assist in the program for the mutual benefit of both rural and urban people of the state.

Now, therefore, I Edwin L. Mechem, governor of the State of New Mexico, by virtue of the authority vested in me, do proclaim the month of September as the fourth annual Soil Conservation Month in New Mexico, and urge the press and radio, public officials, agencies, public institutions, schools, farm organizations, and all other groups and individuals to join in the observance of this month.

30 Guernseys Average $484 at Duke City Sale

Dairymen who attended the annual Guernsey and Holstein Purobred Breeders' Sales in Albuquerque recently demonstrated their willingness to pay top prices for good-quality cows, E. Anderson, extension dairyman at New Mexico A&M College reports.

Bidding was brisk on the better animals, while ordinary females moved slowly at lower prices. In the New Mexico Holstein Breeders' Sale, 45 head of cows and bulls sold for an average of $399 a head.

The Los Poblanos Ranch in Albuquerque paid the top price of $850 for one Holstein cow.

Four Holstein bulls sold for $300, $275, $250 and $210.

John Huffmeyer to Be On Aggie Grid Squad

STATE COLLEGE, N. M., Aug. 31—Coach James Patton of the New Mexico A&M College football team is optimistic of bettering last season's record of 2 won and 7 lost. A number of junior college transfers and high school stars will give the Aggies the depth that they have so woefully lacked for many years.

The line will be bolstered by Garner Clark of Alamogordo, 6 ft., 2 inches, 205 pounds, and Fred Hernandez, Artesia, 6 ft., 3 inches, 280 pounds.

Included in backfield men who will try for positions are Dale Widner, Melrose, 6 ft., 170 lbs., halfback; Norman Cacy of Estancia, 5 ft., 11 in., 175 lbs., halfback and John Huffmeyer, the Aggie basketball ace.

Huffmeyer, 5 ft., 11 in., 175 lbs., played two years of college football at Cisco Junior College, before coming to New Mexico A&M. This will be his first try at the pigskin game here.

IN SELECT CIRCLE

Six National League pitchers, through August 25, had completed the winning cycle. That is, they had won at least one game against every other club in the league. As listed in the Sporting News, they were Harvey Haddix and Brooks Lawrence of the Cardinals, Carl Erskine of the Dodgers, Robin Roberts of the Phillies, Johnny Antonelli of the Giants and Lew Burdette of the Braves.

Flocks of the cattle egret have spread from British Guiana to the East Coast of the U. S.

Vaughn Takes First In Tri-County League

In other games, Carrizozo took the measure of Corona 4 to 1. Willard also defeated Corona and then lost to Vaughn.

Carrizozo won a second place trophy, which has been placed on display in the Saint Rita School. All teams indicated they would again take part in tri-county competition next year.

National Grange Joins Anti-Litter Campaign

Herchel D. Newsom, master of the National Grange, has officially aligned his nationwide farm group with the new anti-litter campaign of "Keep America Beautiful."

In a letter to New York headquarters of the new anti-litter organization, Mr. Newsom formally accepted membership for the Grange on the KAB Advisory Council. He said the grange has "a real interest" in "Keep America Beautiful" because it

"intends to do something about litter." He continued: "Not only does highway litter often wind up on their own property, where it is unsightly and unhealthy, but some forms of litter cause damage to farm animals and machinery."

INCIDENCE OF POLIO UP IN STATE OVER LAST YEAR

OLD SPANISH FORT FOUND IN BACKYARD

SANTA FE—It isn't often that an archeologist can go out in his backyard and dig up an old Spanish fort. That's what Bruce T. Ellis has done.

He unearthed the foundations and crumbling remains of what is described as one of the oldest Spanish fortifications in the United States. The structure, built sometime in the 1700's, was known as "La Garita"—Spanish for bastion or jail.

The archeologist received a surprise when he discovered "La Garita" was constructed on Indian ruins dating back to the 13th Century.

Ellis became interested in probing the dirt mound located 50 feet from his house when he connected its presence with mentionings in half a dozen history books. He received help from several graduate students of the University of New Mexico and began digging.

In the meantime, Ellis found out that there were several old-timers in Santa Fe who remembered what the old fort looked like before it began crumbling from disuse before the turn of the century.

As late as 1935 one wall of the fortress remained standing, but it too soon crumbled under the onslaught of playful children, treasure-hunting tourists, the weather, and finally truckloads of trash dumped on the site by the city disposal department.

The archeologist and his aides uncovered the floor plans of the bastion once shaped in a diamond with adobe walls two to three feet thick. Then they discovered what once was some sort of an Indian settlement, including an infant burial accompanied by shell beads and a carved red ornament.

Ellis said most histories describe "La-Garita" as used primarily for a jail to hold political prisoners. Most of the prisoners were stood against the thick adobe walls and shot, then buried in a cemetery across the road. It is gone now, also.

The cemetery may be the next place where Ellis and his group will use their spades. Or perhaps he'll go deeper into the Indian ruins.

REHABILITATION OF MCGAFFEY LAKE

Work has begun on rehabilitation of McGaffey lake and reservoir. This body of water near Gallup was originally an old mill pond, enlarged some twenty years ago and put to use as a reservoir. But because of seepage, it has never successfully held to reasonable levels.

The present project includes seepage control by means of a cut-off wall, raising of the dam height and water level; and increase in the size of the lake. Now covering ten acres, the lake will eventually cover 14 1/2 acres. Construction is under the supervision of Engineer John W. Hernandez of the New Mexico Dept. of Game and Fish. The Department will stock the water with fish.

As the lake is almost entirely on Forest Service land, this project provides another example of fine cooperation between the Forest Service and the Game Department in developing areas for public recreation.

The McKinley County GPA has bought a tract of land adjacent to the lake and intends to develop the recreational aspects still further for local sportsmen.

with those running for the U. S. Senate, the Congress and Governor's office," Culberson said.

Scheduled to address the convention, which is expected to attract more than 700 ranchers throughout the east side, are: Governor Edwin L. Mechem, U. S. Senator Clinton P. Anderson, Congressman John J. Dempsey and Antonio M. Fernandez; Republican Congressional candidates Warren Cobean of Roswell and Tom Childers of Santa Fe; Alvin Stockton and Raton and John Simms Jr., of Albuquerque.

Fly-by-Nighters Gyp Septic Tank Owners

"Fly-by-night" septic tank operators and high-pressure tactics of salesmen in selling biocatalysts or enzymes have come to the attention of the State Health Department recently.

Reports have been received by state sanitarians of excessive charges levied by roving operators for pumping out septic tanks. These operators usually travel about the state and have no permanent addresses.

The fast-talking operators, according to the reports, hoodwink householders and business establishments by quoting a service fee based on pound weight of gallon which seems low.

However, by the time the septic tank is emptied and the total fee added up based on the pound or gallon, the charges are usually far in excess of those charged by reputable, local service operators.

WATER STORAGE GAINS IN ELEPHANT BUTTE-CABALLO

Water storage in Elephant Butte and Caballo lakes gained 11,245 acre feet last week, according to the Hot Springs Herald. Elephant Butte showed the biggest gain, jumping from 19,200 acre feet to 29,475 acre feet. Caballo lake's storage was up to 18,902 acre feet as the result of recent rains.

Gallée, Italian astronomer and physicist, invented a practical thermometer back in 1952. The instrument was made up of a large air-filled bulb and a glass tube containing water.

EMPLOYMENT IN STATE CONTINUED TO GAIN IN JULY

The steady advance made since the first of the year in New Mexico's wage and salaried employment, exclusive of agriculture, was continued in July when the total of 179,500 was 1900 more than in June and 2100 above the one year ago figure of 177,400, according to a report released this week by M. E. Miers, chairman, executive director of the Employment Security Commission.

Norman Crider, 16, New Mexico's one and two baton twirling champion, returned Tuesday from five weeks of competition in the national championship contests in Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa. He began his tour at South Milwaukee, Wis., at the national baton twirling jamboree and then attended over a dozen contests throughout the states previously mentioned, ending with the fabulous Chicagoland Music Festival.

Norman was cited at the national jamboree in Milwaukee as being one of the world's three top baton twirlers. He returned with 12 new first place national titles and two second place medals from the Chicagoland Music Festival.

Nine first place trophies and three first place medals were won in contests in Fulton, Dundee, Chicago, Hinsdale, Morrison and Prophetston, Ill., and in Clinton, Iowa. These contests brought his total to 17 national championships, 18 trophies and 31 medals.

As a result of Norman's performances and fine twirling record he has accepted scholarships from New Mexico A&M College amounting to $1250 and the promise of an equal sum from the Las Cruces Chamber of Commerce. He will enter college in September as a special student, having completed only three years of high school, becoming a full fledged freshman at the beginning of the second semester.
