

RAMBLIN' AROUND

By PAUL BAKER

The town of Vaughn is making good progress on the development of its water system. The Santa Fe Railroad has agreed its water wells at Vaughn and that town in turn is to supply the community of Vaughn with water. The price of water delivered into Vaughn's pipeline is to be 8 cents per 1000 gallons. There is no restriction on the amount of water Vaughn can use for household and domestic purposes. The only restriction is that the water not be used for irrigation.

Contrasted with Vaughn's fair and generous treatment of Vaughn, the contract Carrizozo has been handed suffers by comparison. We are told that the delivery of Bonito water must be restricted; will cost 20 cents per 1000 gallons delivered and that in addition the town must spend its own money to develop other possible sources of supply.

There is not enough water in the Lake Bonito system to serve Alamogordo and take care of the present users, hence Carrizozo and other towns along the line are asked to go back on a rationing basis in order that a new user may be supplied.

It is this inequitable arrangement that has prompted a number of Carrizozo property owners to employ Attorney George A. Shipley to go into the courts asking for an adjudication of their rights to Bonito water. A request will be made that the water supply of the present users not be limited for present or future needs.

In a speech in Tucuman this week Senator Anderson said that New Mexico must not lean too heavily upon the present Federal funds being expended in this state. We should, he said, make every effort to develop our own resources and industries.

One argument advanced in the transfer of Bonito water to Alamogordo is that it is needed there to supply the needs of the military installations. How long these will be maintained at their present high level is a question no one can answer. We know from past experience that military expenditures are the first to be curtailed when national security no longer demands them. To transfer Lake Bonito water to Alamogordo on the assumption that military needs there will always remain at the present high level would be a grave mistake. For its present and future welfare, Lincoln County needs all the water the Bonito and Eagle creek systems can produce.

For sheer tenacity of purpose and sticking to a task until it is finished, we take off our hat to Frank Bonnell, Captain ranchman, who is still on crutches favoring a broken ankle because he wouldn't give up. Four weeks ago Mr. Bonnell and a friend started out in a jeep to treat a calf that was afflicted with screw worms in its ear. The calf was located and began to run. Mr. Bonnell rode the animal from the back of the jeep and for a time the calf had the upper hand. It pulled the roper from the jeep and dragged him about thirty feet through cactus and brush. In Mr. Bonnell's words: "When the calf finally went down I was back-to-back with a big cactus. I felt sure my ankle was broken, but with the help of my friend, we went ahead and put the medicine in the calf's ear."

E. C. Luvaul, father of E. F. Luvaul of Carrizozo recently underwent a major operation at Fleming Memorial Hospital in Elgin, Texas. Eighty-four years of age, the senior Luvaul is making a fine recovery. Members of the Masonic Order in Giddings, Texas, donated blood before and following the operation. E. F. Luvaul plans to spend the winter with his father in Texas.

Has frequent exposure to the mist of DDT in some cases adversely affected the health of human beings? In some cases it has, according to Granville Knight, M. D., said to be one of the leading medical authorities in California on the effect of insecticides on the human system. In an interview in the El Cajon (Calif.) Valley News, Dr. Knight has this to say:

"Authorities disagree as to the dangers inherent in the new pesticides. While all know that a large enough dose of DDT and the other chlorinated hydrocarbons will kill a man, they are doubtful that repeated contact with minute amounts can be serious."

A number of physicians believe that the widespread use of DDT may account for the increasing incidence of liver inflammation and virus diseases of animals and man that has been noted in the past few years.

"MORE TRAFFIC PATROL NEEDED" DISTRICT JUDGE

New Mexico's serious traffic accident problem cannot be solved until the state highway patrol is brought up to full strength, District Judge, W. T. Scoggin told the Lincoln County Safety Council in Carrizozo Wednesday night.

"The state highway police is undermanned right now," he said. "It should be two or three times as large as at present, and in addition there should be a traffic investigation department of around 60 men so that regular patrolmen won't be called away from duty for traffic investigative work."

Judge Scoggin addressed part of his remarks to high school students from Ruidoso, Capitan and Carrizozo who attended the meeting in the interest of safety council organizations in the high schools.

"The lives and property lost on the highways in our nation every year is a national scandal," he said.

"Without the help of the schools," Judge Scoggin said, "our traffic safety program cannot succeed." He told of the success of a traffic safety education program in Phoenix, which starts when the child first enters school.

"The driving habits that young people learn now will stay with them for the rest of their lives," he said.

Paul Vance, principal of Ruidoso High School, spoke on safety council organizations in high schools, the need for such councils and what they can accomplish in traffic safety education.

Frank Martin, of Santa Fe, a member of the Governor's Safety Coordinating Committee, was another speaker. He explained the organization of senior traffic patrols in high schools.

Judge W. A. Campbell of Green Tree, president of the Lincoln County Safety Council, presided at the meeting, which opened with an invocation by Rev. W. B. Holmes, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Ruidoso.

Among the law enforcement officers attending were Sheriff Glen Bradley, Manuel Chavez, probation officer; State Highway Patrolman Eddie Apodaca and State Highway Patrol Captain E. A. Talaya and Capt. Funk.

Census to Measure Equipment on Farms

Although the number of farmers in the United States continues to decline, and the food needs of a growing population continue to increase, American farms, through mechanization and improved methods, have been able to feed a total U. S. population now reaching 163 million.

An inventory of much of the mechanized equipment and farm facilities responsible for this increase in production with less manpower will be a part of the 1954 Census of Agriculture to be taken in October and November.

Farmers will be asked to report on the number of tractors of various types kept on the place. Back in 1920, the number of tractors on farms was first counted. Less than four percent of all farms had a total of a quarter million tractors. Thirty years later, there were over three and a half million tractors on almost half of the farms in the United States. During the same period, the number of farm horses and mules dropped from 25 million to less than 8 million.

MACHINERY INVENTORY

Other equipment to be counted this fall includes grain combines, corn pickers, pickup balers, and field forage harvesters. Farmers will also be asked to report the number of automobiles and trucks used on their farms. In the thirty years following the 1920 census, the number of cars was doubled and the number of trucks increased seventeen fold.

A similar increase in the use of gas and electric light in farmers' homes has been noted. The number jumped from seven percent in 1920 to over 78 percent in 1950. In addition to electricity, the current census will determine the number of farms having telephone, piped running water, home freezer, television set, milking machine, electric pig brooder, and power feed grinder.

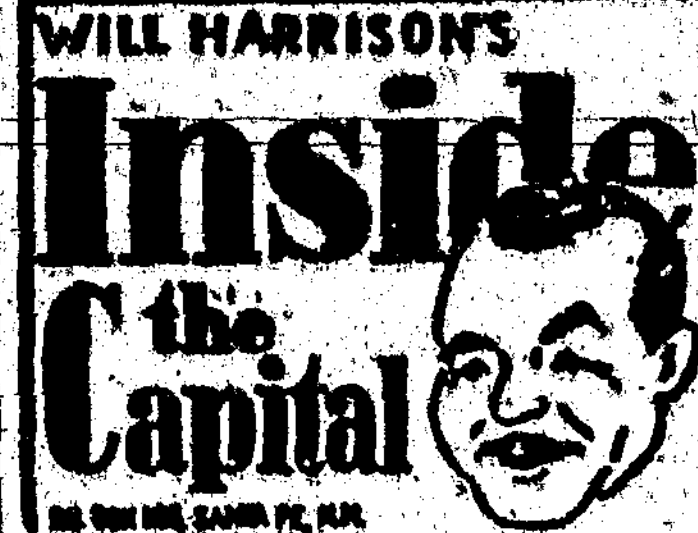

The inquiries on television and the electric pig brooder are new in this year's census. Four years ago, five million dwellings in the United States had television, with less than three percent of these being rural farm homes.

Former Resident Visits in Carrizozo

Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Kahler of Rosenberg, Texas, were in Carrizozo Tuesday, en route home after a vacation. Mr. Kahler first came to Lincoln County with his parents in 1906. He recalls that his grandfather, Wm. Kahler, hauled water from the Southern Pacific pipeline to distribute to customers around town for 25 cents a barrel.

A brother, "Dink" Kahler was in the Carrizozo post office for several years.

This was Mrs. Kahler's first trip to Carrizozo. She was thoroughly enjoying the visit and meeting many of her husband's old-time friends.

WILL HARRISON'S Inside the Capital

SANTA FE, Oct. 13.—The biggest development in the campaign, press-wise, for New Mexico Sunday in the Albuquerque morning Journal's devastating editorial against going back to democratic state control.

Whether you like the Journal or not it is the biggest paper in New Mexico, and whether you respect the press or not it does still have some influence on voters. And that piece Sunday made a more convincing argument than the usual Journal editorial.

The article argued that the only question in the state campaign is that of maintaining the Governor Mechem-type statehouse, which has been considerably cleaner than the old pattern, or going back to the Santa Fe of the 1940's. It didn't mention any names but the argument was clearly one in behalf of Republican Alvin Stockton against Democrat John Simms for governor.

The weakness in the article was that it presumed that Simms would return the old crowd that so undermined the Democrats that they lost in 1950 after running as five to one favorites.

BOTH PARTIES IN THE ACT

Simms may be plotting just such a DeVargas-like recoupation of the statehouse but it's not very well indicated on the record. There are Democrats on every corner who will admit the Mechem administration has made a big clean-up, and they ought to know because they are the ones who voted him in. The better smell at the capitol, however, comes not only from the governor's office. There has also been a much better atmosphere in the office of attorney general, presently conducted by Richard Robinson, Democrat, and the state corporation commission that is going along under Democrats Jim Lamb, Ingram Pickett and Johnny Block, with special emphasis on the first commissioner named. The responsibilities of Lieutenant governor have been handled by Tibo Chavez of Belen in a manner that has brought him the respect of all those familiar with his duties and opportunities. Tom Willey, state school superintendent and a Democrat, is perhaps the most popular and successful officer the state has had in that post. Also successful and unmarred

NO MONOPOLY ON GOOD OR EVIL

It's impossible to get the statehouse beyond the accusations and suspicion of everybody but this present group of officeholders is closer than any of recent years. The team is made up of Republicans and Democrats and offers little support for the theory that Republicans have a monopoly on morality in government.

Simms has rebuked some of the old political privateers to the point of suffering their opposition but he's putting up with the support of others with smeared reputations with no outward effort to shake them off his tail. On the other hand, Stockton has in his coterie some with reputations not yet so ripe as the old ones on the other side but just as promising.

The danger both of these young men in the event of election is not any rottenness of their own but the possibility of letting the crooks slip in behind them. Stockton is naive and Simms has shown a tendency to let public business slide without close supervision.

The big consideration of the campaign is, as the Journal says, good government or bad; which of the tickets is better fitted to perform is a question that still needs to be answered before November 2.

COUNTRY NEWS CALLING THE SHOTS

The Albuquerque Journal's outburst was the more notable because of the growing reluctance of the big presses in the state to take a forthright and community-representative position on election questions.

Once the makers and the killers of candidates and issues the big press in New Mexico has given way to the country papers as leaders in such matters. It was the Fortales News, the smallest daily in the state, that launched the run of John Simms for governor. The Lincoln County News caused the politicians to perk up their ears to the

SOCIETY MIGHT HAVE AIDED THESE ERRANT YOUTHS

(Jaffa Miller, head of the New Mexico Industrial School for Boys at Springer, brought an interesting report to the Institute on Relations with Youth held in Carrizozo last week. Much of the report was prepared by boys of the Ninth and Tenth Grade Citizenship Class at the school. They suggest ways that their own delinquency might have been prevented. The language used is exactly as the boys wrote it.)

WHY THIS REPORT WAS PREPARED

During the study of our national Constitution in our citizenship training many questions were raised by the members of the class as to whether or not state and national laws and law enforcement agencies are violating the provisions of the Constitution. These questions related, in most cases, to the provisions concerning equality and justice before the law. Finally, it was suggested that the class write a constitution of its own, elect officers, and present their own suggestions in writing for consideration by higher authorities of the school and, possibly, the state of New Mexico. To this suggestion one boy replied,

"What good will this do us, if we elect officers and nothing is ever done about it? When we return to our home towns, they'll pick on us whenever anything happens whether we're guilty or not."

Upon being convinced that something could be done to help these boys, and their children later on, to prevent them from having to be committed to institutions, all of the boys of the class quite willingly set out to write their suggestions, most of which are quoted directly in this paper. The only ones that have been left out are those that repeat what another boy has included in his report.

It was suggested to the class that criticism of present conditions in New Mexico would be of little value unless they, the boys of the class, presented some solutions for the prevention and handling of problems they have faced and will face in the future. In order to do this the following outline was used for writing their reports:

Things that towns should try to do to help boys stay out of trouble

Things the public schools should try to do to help boys stay out of trouble

How a boy should be treated if he does get into trouble so as to help him stay out of trouble later during his life.

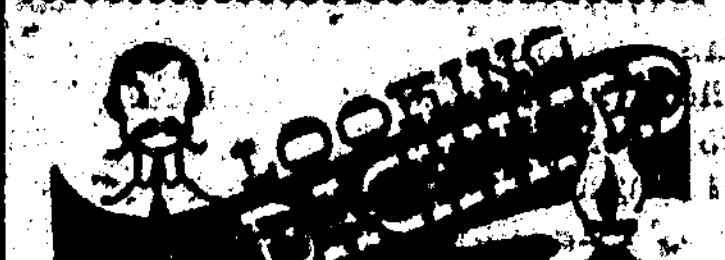

Things a boy himself should do to stay out of trouble, even if the community is unable to give him much help or encouragement.

Their suggestions, exactly as they wrote them, follow:

1. Things that towns should try to do to help boys stay out of trouble:

"Have an efficient police force to keep an eye on bars and bootleggers!"

LINCOLN COUNTY IN BYGONE YEARS

20 Years Ago

Compiled from the files of the Lincoln County News, October 12, 1934

Tuesday morning about 4:30 the plant of the New Mexico Light & Power Co. at White Oaks was completely destroyed by fire. Dink Mayers and Mr. Sloan were there and promptly used the fire hose, but due to high winds and the extremely dry and combustible nature of the surroundings, the entire plant was a mass of flames within a few minutes.

The grocery merchants did a rushing business in coal oil; the Carrizozo Sport shop and the Carrizozo Hardware Company completely sold out their oil lamps, and ordered more. The Carrizozo Home Laundry is using wash boards and flat irons for a few days.

The many friends of Messrs. Wright, Fulmer and Snow regret their heavy loss and are glad to know they intend to rebuild the plant as soon as materials are assembled.

A very entertaining program was given at the A-T-A meeting last Friday evening with Mrs. Emma Degitz in charge. A. N. Spencer sang "Let's Make Love Like the Crocodiles," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. D. E. Kelley. Clela McClintock did a Tap Dance, accompanied by Leslie Cooper and Rhoda Freeman played two piano selections.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Hightower entertained the Ascho bridge club Friday. Jack Pruitt was awarded high score.

Mrs. Paul Mayer is still in Tularosa with her mother who has been critically ill.

Herman G. McKibben, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McKibben of Corona, has enrolled in the Civil Service Department of the Chilocoe Business College in Missouri.

GRIZZLIES WIN FROM VAUGHN

The Carrizozo Grizzlies breezed past the Vaughn Eagles with comparative ease last Friday night on the Carrizozo field. The score was 25 to 7.

The Vaughn team had an off-night defensively and offensively and the game was marred by numerous penalties. The Grizzlies were penalized 12 times for a total of 140 yards, while the Eagles drew 5 penalties for 55 yards.

Carrizozo marked up 11 first downs, gained 205 yards by rushing while losing 10. Nine passes were attempted and 4 completed for a total of 97 yds.

Vaughn made 5 first downs and gained 92 yards rushing, losing 52, for a net gain from rushing of 39 yards. Fourteen passes were attempted and 3 completed for 85 yards.

The previous week Vaughn had defeated Roy 27 to 7. At half time Margo Duncan was crowned Queen of the Homecoming. Her escorts were Leroy Sidwell and Tingo Gallegos. In front of the Carrizozo bleachers the crown was placed on her head.

The Carrizozo High School Marching Band followed with a salute to Carrizozo and a salute to Vaughn.

FIRST PERIOD

The Carrizozo School Band played the Star Spangled Banner and Jon Sanders kicked off for Vaughn. Leroy Sidwell taking the ball on his own 30 and returning 14 yards. He almost got away. Tom Barnett made 4 yards on an end run and Robt. Vega circled right end for a 1st down on the Vaughn 39. Sidwell and Tingo Gallegos alternated to carry to ball to the Vaughn 27, but Carrizozo was penalized 15 yards back to the Vaughn 44. Gallegos gained 4 through the middle. A Vega pass to Barnett was good for 10 yards. Nowell ran hard over the right side and a measurement was called for. It was 4th down and inches to go. Sidwell made it first down on the Vaughn 13-yard line. Barnett ran 7 yards around left end and Tingo Gallegos sprinted the remaining 11 yards for a touchdown. The try for point was wide. Carrizozo 6, Vaughn 0.

Palomarez kicked off and Vaughn marked up one first down before being forced to punt. Sanders got away a high 40-yard boot. Lou Chavez was down under it and tackled Tingo Gallegos almost as he caught the ball. Sidwell ran right end for 13 yards and a first down. Nowell punted 35 yards to the Vaughn 28, but a 15-yard penalty for roughing the kicker gave Carrizozo the ball at midfield at the start of the second quarter. Nowell's punt rolled into the end zone and the Eagles put the grades just because teacher

doesn't like him."
"Good teachers, a good school,
and try to make the boys
happy."
"I would suggest that they allow a boy to suggest some of his lessons and agree upon certain classes with the teachers. It is because of the lessons are too hard that there is so much truancy in schools."
"They should improve their grounds and add some kinds of recreation besides basketball, football and baseball. In most schools this kind of recreation is the only kind they have. They should also install cafeterias in public schools. Most schools now have them but sometimes they are so small that most of the students roam the streets during lunch hours looking for something to do."
"The schools should try to help for some kind of recreation during the summer months for different age groups."
"Schools might form a government or committee to call on Teen-agers and see what his troubles are and try to help solve them with his help."

providing funds for acquiring,

buildings of the State, State Agencies, State Departments and State Institutions, but not in-the State, and indebtedness of the State of New Mexico is herefour and one-half million dol-

Section 2. The State Treasurer shall prepare negotiable serial bonds of the State of New Mexico, to be known as "State Building and State Institution Bonds
—Series 1955—", in denominations

as the Governor shall determine,
and to be numbered consecutively,
and to be dated January 1st or July 1st of the year in which they are issued. Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of not to exceed four per centum (4%) per annum, payable semi-

not more than three (3) years after the date of their issue and they shall mature thereafter in substantially equal annual installments in such a manner that all of said bonds shall mature not later than twenty (20) years after the date of their issue. Both principal and interest shall be payable in lawful money of the United States at the office of the State Treasurer in the City of Santa Fe, State of New Mexico, or at such other place as may be designated in said bonds. Said bonds shall be signed by the Governor, attested by the Secretary of State under the seal of the State and countersigned by the State Treasurer; and the full faith and credit of the State of New Mexico is hereby pledged for the prompt payment at maturity of the principal and interest of all of said bonds which may be issued and sold as provided in this act.

Section 3. The proceeds from the sale of said bonds shall be expended solely for acquiring, improving, constructing and Mexico subject to taxation for State purposes sufficient to pro-shall be levied, assessed and collected at the times and in the manner that other taxes for state purposes are levied, assessed and collected, and it shall er shall keep separate ac-

of the bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this act, or any person or officer being a party in interest, may either at law or in equity, by suit, action or by mandamus, enforce and com-and credit of the State of New Mexico is hereby pledged. This

INSIDE THE CAPITAL

shortage of dentists in some parts of the state after the bigger papers had been nagging less convincingly about it for years; the comments of the editor of the Hot Springs Herald prompted Democrats to turn their attention to their troubles in Sierra last week.

The country press is watched more and more by politicians because they feel it is more likely to represent the feelings of the communities it serves than the larger papers, some of which have become securely conservative of merely the instruments for the opinion of those who own the stock.

SPORTSMEN!

The Hondo Special Week End Deer Hunt is authorized to protect private property where excessive deer damage exists.

The feeling of the State Game Commission is that the sportsmen should be allowed to harvest the game causing the damage.

These week end hunts will be rigidly controlled to protect life and property. Hunters must check in and out of the Hondo Checking Station each day.

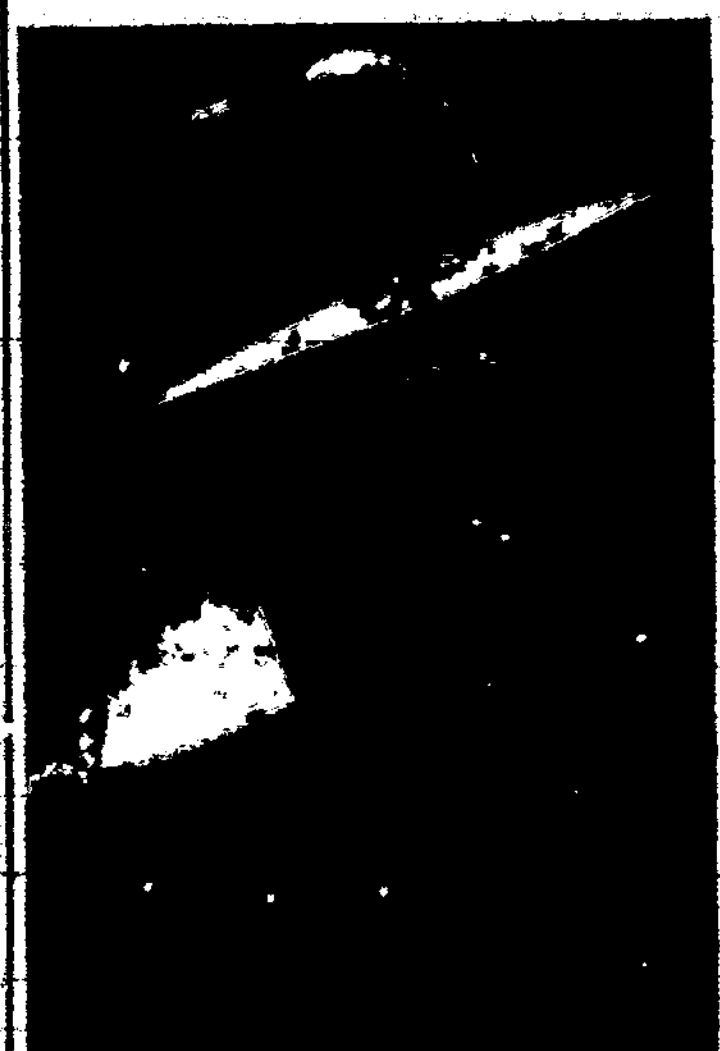

Further information can be found in your Big Game Proclamation Map, Area 12, Reg. 333.

Phillips 66 brings you the first All-Weather Motor Oil which has proved it meets the most exacting standard ever established for automobile lubrication...

Mil-O-2104, Supplement I level.

The toughest standard ever set up for automobile lubrication is the MIL-O-2104 Supplement I test. New Trop-Artic is the first all-weather motor oil to meet the requirements of this test. It is an oil which will serve you winter and summer... in all so good it can double the life of an automobile engine!

Compared to ordinary motor oils, new Trop-Artic reduces ring wear 40% or more. It cuts oil consumption 15% to 45%. It keeps pistons and bearings cleaner... longer-lasting. It saves you money by increasing service mileage. This has been demonstrated in tests representing over 150,000 miles of driving.

Trop-Artic is truly an all-weather oil... S.A.E. 10W through S.A.E. 30. Therefore it flows instantly for easy starting at sub-zero temperatures, and yet it retains the film strength necessary to prevent engine wear under high temperature driving conditions. It isn't just heavy duty. It's double duty.

Any car, in any climate, at any time of the year will perform better with Phillips 66 Trop-Artic. It is a worthy companion product to Phillips 66 Plus-Pure, the new high performance gasoline recently introduced by Phillips. It goes to the top of the station where you see the Phillips 66 shield.
