

RAMBLIN' AROUND

By PAUL BAKER

"It's still not too late to save Lake Bonito for Lincoln County," was an opinion expressed this week by a person who stands high in our judgment. He said the validity of transferring water from communities showing need for it to another community was a highly debatable legal question.

NATURE RULES DESTINY

In commenting on your article in the June 3 issue of the Alamogordo News concerning the disposing of Lake Bonito, I wish to bring to your attention that the Destiny of Alamogordo is ruled by the hands of Nature and not by the hands of just man. Therefore, Nature's resources are to be used as Nature decrees. I don't think you will have long to wait in order to be convinced that Nature or God is the Dealer. You may remember Lincoln County's history and recall also that Nature is the Potter. Some vessels Nature creates for honor and some for dishonor, according to the season.

CLAY HARVEY, Alamogordo.

Disposition of Bonito lake was the subject of considerable discussion at Tuesday night's meeting of the town board of trustees. Acting Mayor Zumwalt said the town administration was doing all it could to get the maximum amount of water from the Bonito. The legal firm of Garland & Sanders of Las Cruces has been engaged by the Carrizozo town trustees to continue negotiations on the contract to be submitted by Alamogordo, possibly by next week.

A meeting is to be held at the City Hall Thursday night to further discuss the swimming pool project and other recreation for Carrizozo. It is to be hoped that out of this meeting will grow a community-wide association to administer not only the swimming pool, but all phases of year-round recreation. Such an association with community-wide support and with the advice and counsel of the schools and churches could build a year-round recreation program, the need for which is becoming increasingly evident.

It has been said on good authority that the Red Canyon Camp personnel may build up to around 1500 in the near future, which is double the number of men stationed there at the present time. A recreation association, representative of the entire community, should be able to tie all ends together and come up with a program that will meet the needs and approval of all.

Our personable governor Edwin Mechem was visiting old friends and making new ones in Carrizozo Wednesday. He wasn't campaigning, just visiting. Said he'd be back later for the more serious business of campaigning for United States Senator. The governor's party jolted down from Corra on the old Highway 54 and looked with envy at the paralleling new highway, now at a final stage of blacktopping. "For a minute," the governor said, "we thought we were on the wrong road as an up-state truck came bowling along over the new construction." (The new road has not yet been opened for through traffic.)

A note from Channing T. Howell, superintendent of the Gran Quivira National Monument, says: "We see in the Lincoln County News that you have received some nice rains down there. We are looking forward to the completion of the work on Highway 54." (We hope to see a lot more of the Howells and other friends from the northern part of the County when the highway is finished.)

We were privileged last Sunday to attend the summer rodeo of Patrol 5 of the New Mexico Mounted Police, held at the Peter Hurd ranch. A better place for a picnic lunch than the shaded fruit tree grove at the Hurd ranch would be hard to find. It was a year ago when the Patrol met in the same spot that they answered a call to fight the big fire in Ruidoso and last Sunday word was received that another fire had broken out south of Ruidoso. Prompt action by the Ruidoso Fire Department took care of the situation and Mounted Patrol members finished their lunch, and went ahead with their rodeo. A dust storm marred what otherwise would have been a perfect day for participants and spectators. Good horsemanship and good sportsmanship were evident all afternoon and at the close of the last event, the open country race, everyone was somewhat tired and lousy... also somewhat dusty.

$1700 GIVEN FOR SWIMMING POOL

Carrizozo's municipal swimming pool project progressed far beyond the talking stage this past week when a number of substantial contributions were made in order to get the project started at the earliest possible time.

Joe Sargent, chairman of the temporary finance committee, reported Wednesday night that he had collected $1700, in amounts of $100 each from the following contributors: Marvin H. Roberts, Joe Sargent, Lincoln County News, Ortiz Bros., Fred English, Luther King, A. T. Roberts, John Harkey, Big Jo Lumber Co., Welcolum Armstrong, Friday Sherrill, Petty Bros., Leandro Vega, Carrizozo Mercantile Co., W. W. Gallacher, Jack Harkey and Irving Withers.

A WELCOME GIFT

On their first day in business in Carrizozo, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Jones contributed $100 toward the swimming pool fund. They opened for business Wednesday the newly purchased Carrizozo Mercantile Co.

Fay Harkey made a substantial contribution to the swimming pool this week. He offered his services free of charge in supervising all plumbing installations in construction of the pool. The plumbing work will be one of the major items of expense in building the pool.

Funds already available will be presented to the meeting Thursday night, at 7:30 at the City Hall. All clubs, lodges and organizations are urged to have a representative at the meeting to discuss setting up an organization to administer affairs of the swimming pool and consider other recreation.

Funds raised thus far, while far short of the estimated sum to complete the pool, will enable construction to start as soon as the plans are drawn and approved. Army technicians are now at work on the plans.

Dedication of Old County Court Room Set for Sunday, June 20

Dedication of the courtroom restoration at the Old Lincoln County Court House has been set for Sunday, June 20.

Governor Edwin Mechem will head a list of distinguished visitors, including State Supreme Court Judges and other present and past members of the legal profession.

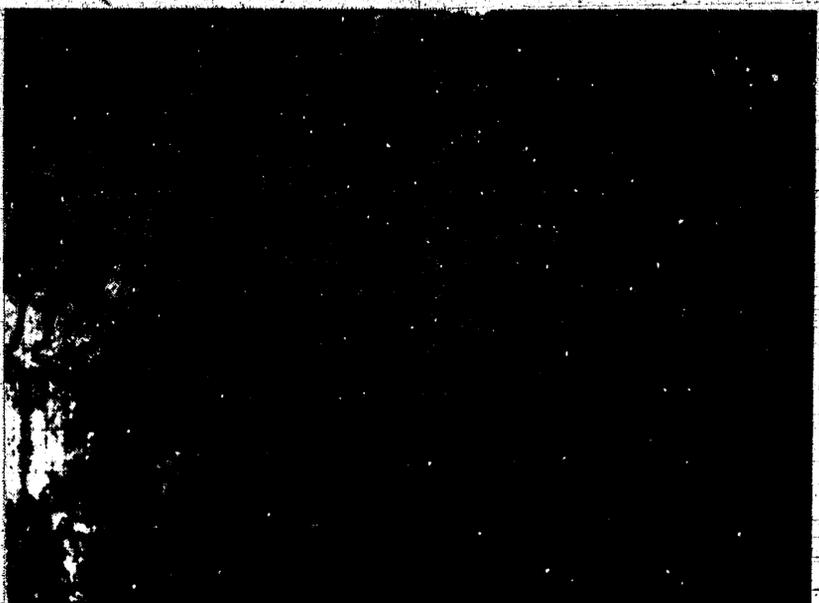

It is planned to reenact an authentic courtroom scene of the days when Lincoln was the county seat of a vast territory.

John Boylan, custodian at Old Lincoln County Courthouse Museum, has been nearly two years doing research for the restoration. With no photographs of the courtroom known to exist, plans for the furnishings had to be taken from his own drawings, made according to verbal descriptions of old timers who had attended court there in the early days.

At one time county seat of the largest county in the United States, Lincoln was the scene of many interesting court trials during New Mexico's territorial history. Civil and criminal suits from all points in the entire southeast corner of New Mexico were heard.

Gov. Edwin Mechem Speaker at Ruidoso

Gov. Edwin Mechem addressed a convention of the Cotton Ginners in Ruidoso Tuesday evening. He discussed phases of cotton yields and usage; also the program of the National Cotton Council which has suggested that subsidies be stopped on cotton and that market expansion be stressed. A salesmanship job lies ahead, he said, showing the masses to which cotton can be put.

GPA MEMBERS PRAISE HOSPITALITY AT THE BONITA

Members of the White Mountain GPA who attended last week's meeting at "The Bonita" were high in their praise of the hospitality and food provided by Arvel and Louise Rannels.

The members received their new shoulder patches which consist of a buffalo head on a white background, with the wording "White Mountain GPA."

The association will meet again July 1 at the VFW Hall in Capitan.

Funds Earmarked for Hiway 37 Improvement

County Commissioner George Fuchs and Rep. I. S. Drake returned from Santa Fe Thursday of last week with the news that the State Highway Department will make available $225,000 for Highway 37 construction after the first of the year.

C. O. Erwin, chief highway engineer, informed them that bids would be let for highway improvement from the Ruidoso Airport toward Angus, following the old route mainly, with new base and black top.

A contract for widening the Skyland Hill section of Highway 37 out of Ruidoso will be let at the same time, according to Mr. Erwin. This portion of the highway has been the cause of numerous accidents and three fatalities in recent years.

In determining to proceed with Highway 37 improvement toward Angus, the commission was said to have considered a traffic count made last year, also with the completion of Highway 54 the need for a connecting link with the mountain playground area of Lincoln County.

Lions Club Endorses Swimming Pool Project

At their dinner meeting, Monday night, the Carrizozo Lions Club voted to give their full cooperation to the community swimming pool project. The club recommended that no less than a five-member commission be named to administer the pool; that all monies collected in the operation of the pool be placed in a recreation fund and that representation on the commission be community-wide.

Fred English, who has completed his term as president of the Lions Club, was elected zone chairman for the next year. A zone meeting of Lions clubs is to be held in Carrizozo June 21. The dinner will be served in the school lunch room.

Lions Wrestling Card At H. S. Gym Friday

Two former world champions are featured on Friday night's wrestling card. They are Yagui Jock of El Paso, holder of the world's middleweight championship from 1926 to 1928. He will referee Friday night's bouts.

Ruidoso Valley Given Deputy for Summer

The County Commissioners, in session Monday, allocated money for a paid deputy for the Ruidoso Valley. He will be employed for a three months period, starting June 8.

The commissioners accepted the resignation of John Cloud as justice of the peace for Corona Precinct 13.

It was a long day for the commissioners and did not end until 7:30 p.m. They spent the greater part of the day on budgetary problems, preparing for the budget hearing July 12. The public is invited to attend this hearing.

Miss Gertrude Ayers Succumbs in Carrizozo

Lincoln County lost another of its long-time residents Monday in the passing of Miss Gertrude Ayers. She had been ill for a number of years.

Miss Ayers was born September 27, 1890, at Mesa, Ariz. She came to Lincoln County 46 years ago with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ayers, and settled on a ranch at Jake Springs.

A few years ago, after the death of his wife, Mr. Ayers and his daughter moved to town.

Due to ill health, Miss Ayers was prevented from taking an active part in community affairs but she was loved by all who knew her and her neighbors were frequent callers.

As she requested, her remains will be cremated and the ashes spread over the family ranch near Oscura.

She is survived by her sister, Mrs. Ann Adams of Los Angeles, a nephew, Jack Adams of Douglas, Ariz.; two nieces, Mrs. Pat Frazier of San Francisco and Mrs. Jean Spence of Douglas.

Mrs. Ann Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Adams were with Miss Ayers when she died.

Abraham B. Helms

Graveside services were conducted Wednesday at the cemetery in Nogal for Abraham B. (Uncle Abe) Helms of Carrizozo who passed away June 6 after a long illness. He was 79 years of age, born in Bates County, Missouri, September 16, 1874.

Carnival in Town

The carnival being sponsored by the Carrizozo Lions Club, arrived in town Wednesday and was being set up across from the Court House. Progress of putting up the carnival's concessions and rides was watched with keen interest by small fry on the sidelines.

Fire Investigator Finds Low Pressure in Mains

The Carrizozo town board of trustees met Tuesday night with Clifton B. Zumwalt, acting mayor, in the absence of Marvin H. Roberts. Present were Councilmen R. L. Sherrill, Juan Martinez, Alva P. Sifton Jr., H. G. Welk, utilities manager, and Mrs. W. H. Richardson, clerk.

Reports were read of previous special meetings, one of which was with a representative of fire underwriters board. He checked water pressure at various parts of town, reporting a pressure at the fire plugs of 9 lbs. across the tracks and 21 lbs. at the school house. He indicated approval of the board in the new plans for water modernization and improvement as drawn up by Ashley Clasen, the town's engineer.

The trustees granted Clarence E. Shaw a permit to build a 2-car garage, cost $250.

The trustees took under consideration the request of School Superintendent E. G. Firman for an adjustment on the electric utility rates being charged the school.

Approval was given Mr. Welk to submit a contract to the Army to sell them ice at the rate of $6 per ton at the ice plant.

R. C. Nunez was elected vice-chairman; George Limacher, secretary and Mrs. Wilbur McKnight, chairman.

At the business meeting, reports were made on the wool bill and Ft. Stanton bill, progress on the soil conservation projects and the meeting of the Farm Bureau's State Undergraduate Water Committee, held May 21 in Albuquerque. This meeting was attended by A. T. (Bert) Pflingsten and Ralph Bonnell. Regarding this meeting, they reported:

All districts in the State were represented. The purpose of the meeting was to formulate legislation to introduce in the next session of the State Legislature regarding underground water districts.

The committee recommended local control of underground water by a board of directors for each water district. Under the proposed legislation, various water districts in the State would be divided into five precincts, with one director or supervisor from each precinct. These would be elective offices. It was further proposed that municipalities in districts would have one director on the board, thus keeping control in the ranch and rural areas.

MOUNTED PATROL HAS FIELD DAY

Members, their families and guests of the New Mexico Mounted Patrol, Lincoln County Troop 5, met Sunday at the Peter Hurd ranch for their annual horse show. Twelve events were run off during the afternoon, starting with a polo ball knock and ending with a mile and a half cross-country race.

Twenty-four troop members attended. A short business meeting was held, after which the new license plates were issued members. An excellent picnic lunch was served by the hosts Peter Hurd and Tom and Bill Babers.

Following are the events, with the first, second and third place winners listed in order: Polo Ball Knocking Race—Bill Babers, Wilbur McKnight, Jose Herrera.

Barback Race—Tom Babers, Grady Eldridge, Fletcher Hall. Bred Race—Penny McKnight, Tom Babers, Fred W. Pflingsten. Mounted Firing—Fletcher Hall, Tom Babers, Hute Marr.

Gerald Marr was shaken up by a fall when the saddle slipped from his horse in the pony express race. Gerald came back strong, however, to lead the field in the 50-yd. men's foot race.

Officials were Dimmitt Bond, Geo. Zimmerman, Will Ed Harris and Paul Jones.

Hosts for the July meeting of the Mounted Patrol will be Ralph Bonnell, Kenneth Noaker and George Perry.

Approximately 85 attended, including members, guests and their families. Three prizes were awarded in most events. They were hand-painted plates. The artistic drawings were by Peter Hurd.

WILL HARRISON'S Inside the Capital

NEW KIND OF CHIEF LEADING DEMOCRATS

SANTA FE, June 9 — Tom Brown of Artesia, whose choice as Demo state chairman appeared to be universally approved at first is now getting a critical eye from some quarters.

People in Carlsbad, 35 miles from Artesia, are recalling that it was Brown who led the 1953 effort to split Eddy county. Some liquor people have been hunting around for information on a report that Brown, a prominent Protestant layman, is a dry.

And some of the northern party members have taken a wait-and-see position on the surprising choice.

Governor-running John Simms insisted on a change of chairman after a formidable group had organized for the retention of Rex Meador. Sen. Dennis Chavez and Sen. Clint Anderson both recommended for Meador. Also going for him were Joe Montoya, candidate for lieutenant governor, Corporation Commissioner Ingram Pickett, Natalie Byck, the candidate for secretary of State; Georgia Lusk, candidate for school superintendent and Land Commissioner Johnny Walker.

The only one in that bunch known to be pleased with Meador's replacement by Brown is Senator Anderson. He and Brown are intimate friends socially and politically and perhaps Anderson more than Simms was responsible for getting Brown in. He definitely was not Simms' first choice. If the others are displeased there's not much they can do about it except perhaps to insist on an assistant chairman being delegated to handle party affairs in the north.

Mayor Paul Huss of Santa Fe has been mentioned for that spot.

Brown is about as far as possible from the New Mexico pattern of politicians. It's a little hard to understand how he is going to cope with some of the common activities of New Mexico campaigns — lining up the liquor vote, paying out money to keep district leaders in line, dividing up jobs among the loyal.

Al Brown, a Kern tee-totaler and often a lay preacher, will make quite a contribution to New Mexico public affairs if he can conduct a successful campaign without yielding his sense of moral values.

STATEHOUSE IN A HURRY

It's getting so Gov. Ed Mechem can't attend a press convention without getting a clam or two. Last week at Santa Fe a speaker standing beside him referred to his opponent, Sen. Clint Anderson, as "our next senator."

Attorney General Dick Robinson in ordering a State car for his office to be equipped with a siren, red light, spot-light and two-way radio needs that special equipment it was explained in connection with his position as "the State's chief law enforcement officer."

The outbreak of two daily newspapers in Artesia where was none before was attributable in some part to an incident during the primary campaign in which some Artesia businessmen tried to get the Artesia weekly to print a story about the son of a county commission candidate being registered as a conscientious objector.

The paper refused and the ensuing developments brought the invitation to Lincoln O'Brien to start publication. The New Mexico Education Association people are concerned about school board members setting up an organization of their own with conflicting purposes. Board members are talking about a $10,000 a year secretary to be paid with school funds.

Tom Burns of Rio Arriba county has closed 70,000 acres and some five miles-of-stream-to-hunting-and-fishing as a result of the recent game department squabble in which District Warden T. J. Ramsey of Espanola lost his job. . . . Representation is still burning in Republicans over the recent fighting about the Federal judge appointment that went to Waldo Rogers. Most of the big whoevers in the party from the governor down were pushing for Bob Bots of Albuquerque. But they were of the old Taft brand Republicans. Rogers was known to have been a before-Chicago Ike man and got the nod.

408 Visit Gran Quivira Monument During May

During the month of May, 408 persons visited the Indian and Spanish mission ruins at Gran Quivira National Monument, according to travel figures released this week by Channing T. Howell, park superintendent. May's figures bring the year's total visitors thus far to 1918. Visitors recorded from 23 states represented 28% of the total. Most of them viewed the exhibits in the museum, which contains many artifacts recovered from the ruins during excavations. Many visitors combined the tour of the ancient ruins with a picnic in the pleasant camp grounds.

Army Asks Assistance Of Public In Locating Downed Target Drones

White Sands Proving Ground. The importance of recovery of radio controlled aerial targets (RCATS) on or near White Sands Proving Ground was stressed this week by Col. Wayne Wood, Range Operations Officer.

The RCATS undergoing tests on the Proving Ground as aerial targets are small, red aircraft, self-powered and controlled by radio. They are floated gently to earth by use of a parachute and, if not extensively damaged after their flight, can be reused. This feature results in a substantial saving to the government and thus to the taxpayer.

Col. Wood emphasized that persons finding these craft or other objects unattended on the range should immediately notify the Range Service Branch—phones 2-1150 or 2-1155—and advise the location.

Another reason for aiding in their recovery by proper authority, he said, is the fact that the RCATS are government-owned property and persons removing them, or parts therefrom, are subject to Federal prosecution.

The RCATS are 12 ft., 3 in. in length and have a wing span of 11 1/2 ft. They are powered by a 4-cylinder motor and have an endurance of about one hour. They fly under 25,000 feet and are rated in the 200-knot speed class.

Property tax values were depressed in New Mexico in 1932, failed to recover until 1935, then declined again in '36 and did not regain their 1935 levels until '46.

Carrizozo to Attend National Music Camp

Carrizozo will be represented at the famed National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich., this summer, by Paul T. Turner and Misses Sally and Sandra Turner, students at the Artesia public schools. These young people are planning to specialize in trombone, flute and violin at the camp this summer.

The National Music Camp was established at Interlochen in 1923 to provide specialized advanced instruction for unusually talented young musicians, and has expanded its program to include actors, artists and dancers.

The camp, which runs from June 27 through August 23, boasts six symphony orchestras, three symphonic bands, twelve choral organizations, and opera company producing 50 operas each summer, and numerous other activities which provide training and experience in the arts. A complete recreation program, with instruction in land and water sports, provides an ideal balance between work and play for the campers.

About 1100 students will attend the National Music Camp's regular season.

Norman Crider Wins At Twirling Exhibition

Norman Crider returned Monday from Abilene, Texas, where he won the twirling division of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletes track meet held at McMurry College.

He was one of four trophy winners; the others being coaches whose boys had made the most points, and was the only actual competitor to receive a trophy; also three medals.

The track meet is one of the nation's largest and Norman had the opportunity to see athletic stars from Florida, California, Washington, Idaho and many other states. A number of records were broken.

This contest brought Norman's total awards to 18 medals and 9 trophies.

CLASSIFIED

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY AGENT

By RALPH DUNLAP

This week I am going to try a different type of news article. I hope by this means to let you know a little more about the happenings in the County. Much of the material would not be of interest to a large area, but at least part of it may be of interest.

The apple growers in the Hondo Valley are becoming increasingly aware of the damage done by the freeze to the fruit in May. This freeze killed a large part of the fruit above San Patricio in the Hondo Valley. Some of the fruit not actually killed has been damaged by the frost so as to cause a frost ring to grow in the fruit and a shriveling of parts of the apple around the calyx.

Below San Patricio the apple crop is good in most orchards, with the Delicious apple trees having the poorest crop in the entire area.

The freeze has had some peculiar effect. A rancher on Nogal Mesa reports that he has apricots, peaches and apples this year. No other apricots are reported in Lincoln County. The Nogal area has some peaches and apples also.

In his test for Bangs and tuberculosis in Lincoln County, Dr. G. D. Allen, Bureau of Animal Industry veterinarian, found only two reactors with Bangs disease. One of the two cows barely showed a reaction to the test. This is an excellent record in such a large area, with over 220 cows tested. If you want to keep the Bangs disease out of your herd have every new cow tested when you buy the cow and re-test her in three to six months. Also you can protect your herd by having your calf herd vaccinated. To do this you should have them vaccinated at 5 to 12 months of age. Dr. Allen plans to complete the testing of milk cows in Lincoln County by the end of July.

Now is the time for you flower growers, gardeners and fruit growers to start inspecting your plants and trees for insect damage. It is much easier to control any insect when it is young than when it is older. Also there are fewer insects and reduced spray cost.

TAG TEAM CONTEST FEATURES TWO EX-CHAMP. WRESTLERS

According to promoters in the United States and Canada, the "White Savage," who takes one of the roles in a four-man rough and tumble tag team match in Carrizozo Friday night, is without doubt the roughest man for his age (he is 24) the game has ever known.

Yaqui Joe, an ex-champion of the mat, will referee, and one of the tag team contestants will be Vincent Lopez of San Diego, Calif., former holder of the world's heavyweight wrestling championship.

Leo Numa will be back for the affray and the fourth member of the team will be El Toro Campos of El Paso.

Promoter Martin has requested that ringside first row ticket not be sold to children under 12, because, he says, in a tag team match "anything can happen."

VINCENT LOPEZ Ex-heavyweight Wrestling Champ (1938-1943)

County 4-H Contest Dates Are June-July

The dates for the 4-H County contest are set for June and July. The girls dress revue and home economics judging will be held July 13 at Hildoso and the livestock judging contest June 23, at a place to be selected.

Winners of the county contests will compete in the district contest held at Artesa July 28 or at State 4-H Encampment at State College on August 10 to 14.

State SS Office Takes Over Regional Duties

The State office of the Soil Conservation Service now has assumed all duties and functions formerly carried out in New Mexico by the former regional office, R. A. Young, State conservationist reports.

The SCS regional office which formerly served New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Colorado, was abolished as a part of the USDA reorganization announced last November 2. Monday, June 14, the enlarged New Mexico state office will be located at 1015 Tijeras ave., N. W., Albuquerque.

In addition to Young, the New Mexico State office staff will include Ray C. McDaniel, deputy state conservationist; L. J. Korn, assistant state conservationist; J. S. McCorkle, soil conservationist; C. W. Bennett, State engineer; H. J. Maker, State soil scientist; Charles Koch, his assistant; K. P. Blair, administrative officer; M. V. Compton, his assistant; A. W. Aicher, agronomy specialist and Tracy Haggis, range specialist.

State Conservationist Young pointed out that SCS technicians will continue to assist the states of soil conservation districts as in the past, but will be on much closer working relations with farmers and ranchers. The cartographic and engineering and watershed planning units of the former regional office remain in Albuquerque as units of the Washington office and will continue to furnish assistance to the states.

Have Spray Equipment Ready for Action

Fruit insects won't wait until you get spraying equipment in usable shape. A great deal depends on having the equipment ready to go into action on short notice.

Timeliness in applying chemicals is vital to insect control. When pests appear in damaging numbers, effective control demands immediate action.

To put equipment in condition for instant use, you'll need the following: (1) check the entire machine for needed spare parts; (2) check the pumping operation thoroughly; (3) check hose connections—hose replacements should be made of chemical-resistant rubber, and (4) clean nozzles and entire spraying system thoroughly.

News and Views from Your Nation's Capitol

By JOHN J. DEMSEY
Congressman from New Mexico

WASHINGTON, June 3 — Two New Mexico areas which have been ravaged intermittently by flash floods despite the general drought conditions that have existed in the State are provided protection in the first flood control omnibus bill to come before the Congress in four years.

The measure now under consideration by the Flood Control Subcommittee of the House Public Works Committee, of which I am a member, includes a $10,000,000 project for the Rio Grande and tributaries at Albuquerque — the Sandia Conservancy District — and the Rio Hondo basin project near Roswell which carries a $4,799,000 authorization. Each of these is provided for in separate bills, I have introduced and are now included as items in the general bill.

The Rio Hondo project in Chaves county has been delayed for several years during which various flood control plans have been under study. I was able, however, to prevail upon the committee to act upon it at this time. While it does not include Spring River, source of the recent $1,000,000 flood damage to Roswell, it does provide for protection against the flood threat to Roswell which has always been regarded as the most serious. At my request the Army Engineers have made a preliminary checkup on Spring River and a committee resolution will be adopted authorizing them to make a complete survey so that legislation can be introduced to correct that condition also. That project can be made supplemental to the Rio Hondo Basin flood control work.

DEFENSE HAS HUGE NEW MEXICO HOLDINGS

The Army, Air Force and Navy have total land holdings in New Mexico, according to current inventory figures, of 3,326,184 acres. Because of this many of the largest organizations in the State are protesting the Army's proposal to acquire 647,000 acres additional in southern New Mexico adjoining the present anti-aircraft artillery range of Ft. Bliss. The area is situated east of Highway 54 and north of the Texas-New Mexico line and would require 21 ranchers to give up their private property in addition to that to be acquired from the State and by transfer of public domain.

New Mexico now is virtually one-half owned by the Federal government, but much of the land held by other agencies such as the Public Domain, the National Forests, etc., is available for grazing use. That held by the Army and Air Force, is for the most part, taken entirely out of production of any type.

As a result of the objections made the House Armed Services Committee has agreed that full hearings will be held in New Mexico before any decision is made on the Army's request. I have been assured that every objector will be given opportunity to be heard and that the Army must show beyond all question that the acquisition of this additional land is essential to the proper conduct of the defense program.

I have asked those concerned in New Mexico to advise where and when they would like to have hearings held.

Poultry Is Perishable Food

Poultry is a perishable food and should be stored carefully. Freshly-killed, freshly-drawn or cooked poultry should be put in the refrigerator, loosely covered, preferably at temperatures as low as 35 or 38 degrees. The cellophane or film wrap on frozen poultry should be removed and the poultry re-wrapped loosely before it goes in the refrigerator. Use the poultry within two or three days at the most.

Alamogordo Drills in New Water Well

(From the Alamogordo News) ALAMOGORDO, June 3—About 50 per cent more water was flowing into the city's reservoirs today as a new water well south-west of town joined the city's daily flow.

Water-superintendent Bob Pender began metering of the flow from the new well about 4 p.m. Tuesday and reported over 1 1/2 million gallons in the city's concrete storage reservoirs Wednesday. As the 2-million capacity of the reservoir was reached, the superintendent turned the flow into the city lines.

The new water source brought the city's daily supply to 2600 gals. per minute. Water from the new well, Mayor Mullins said, will also be pumped into Holloman AFB lines.

A test shows the well's water contains 11 grains hardness, as compared to the present 35 grains of Alamogordo water.

Mayor Mullins said that in the last four years the city's water resources have greatly improved, stating that Alamogordo now has 6 1/2-million gallon storage capacity. When the La Lira reservoir is finished, he said, storage capacity would reach 82-million gallons.

The index of prices received by New Mexico farmers for all farm commodities at 275 on May 15 was 2 points above that of a month earlier but 14 points below a year ago.

Comptroller Ed Hartman who was an aspirant for governor himself for a while; Hartman's father-in-law, Purchasing Agent H. F.
