

RAMBLIN' AROUND

By PAUL BAKER

To honor a pioneer resident of White Oaks, arrangements are being made for the annual Jackson Day dinner to be held Sunday, Sept. 19. Further details will be published next week about the dinner honoring D. L. Jackson.

Mrs. Dona Hobbs, mother of Donald Hobbs, reports that the youth is making good progress in his recovery from an attack of crippling polio. He is at Carrie Tingley Hospital. Donald told his mother how happy he was to have received so many letters from schoolmates and others. He is not strong enough to answer the letters, but hopes his friends will keep on writing to him anyway.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hodgkin, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cochrane and family and Miss Irene Hodgkin of Mountainair, visited Carlsbad Caverns on Sunday. Mrs. Cochrane is Mr. Hodgkin's sister. He reports that over 5500 people visited the Caverns Sunday. An attraction this time of year are the nightly forays of countless bats from the mouth of the cave. The bats fly south at nightfall, feed on insects during the night and return before daylight.

Editor, News: Tell the folks in Lincoln County that I am on the upgrade after my accident, but it has been slow. I must be getting short, because the minute I came to the hospital, they put the neck stretch on me. I guess I'll have to endure it till the last of this month, then I go on a brace. One thing for sure, it's no fun to hold 25 pounds on your neck day and night.

J. S. Zamora, Albuquerque.

Labor Day was just another work day at Ye Olde Print Shoppe. It's better, we've found out, to labor on Labor Day than to take the day off and then work twice as hard to catch up. Labor Day was also more of the same for ranchers, farmers and numerous businesses, including drug stores, restaurants, theaters and service stations, not to forget the school children and teachers. And at the hospital, the nurses and doctors couldn't tell the patients, "Sorry, folks—we're closing up—it's a holiday, you know."

The chances are Mrs. Housewife had her usual day also, cooking three meals, with washing and cleaning and taking care of the little ones in between. Hubby may have had a day off from his office or shop, but it's a safe bet he didn't get through the day without some exertion in or around the home.

Adding up, we'd guess that we people worked on Labor Day than otherwise. The idea of a national holiday is a good one as long as it isn't strictly enforced.

On the same subject, I'll never forget a fishing trip in Wyoming one Labor Day, quite a few years back. A friend, Ed Deming, and I started out Saturday noon in a Model T. It was a cut-away job, called a "bug," with all non-essentials such as top, running boards and fenders removed. All that was left to travel with was a radiator, engine, carburetor, set of coils, gas tank, front seat and four wheels. It was a 25-mile drive to the Clark Fork river over a wagon trail. We barely made it by nightfall, mainly because an inner tube flapped out on the rocks and it took two hours to patch all the leaks.

We slept under the stars and the next morning after getting the ashes out of our bones and ashes out of the bacon, we decided to drive up the river a few miles before starting to fish. We must have had a bad night too. We took turns cranking, but there was no response and finally Ed called it off, saying, "There's something wrong!" He examined each spark plug separately and then took the carburetor apart. "Here's the trouble," he said, "the needle valve's worn out." That was bad news because we didn't have a spare.

A rancher nearby told us another rancher up the river had a new Ford. Ed borrowed a horse and rode four miles up the valley, borrowed the part and around noon was back and had it installed.

We resumed cranking in shifts until Ed again held up his hand. This time his search led to the dry cell. He tested them one by one and began to shake his head. I knew some more bad news was coming and was fully prepared when he said "They're dead—all of 'em."

TOWN AWARDS GAS FRANCHISE TO WALTER RAY

An ordinance granting the Tularosa Basin Gas Company a franchise to sell liquefied petroleum gas in Carrizozo was adopted Tuesday night by the town board of trustees.

The ordinance, which is published in full on page 4 of this week's News, is a prelude to the town's disposing of its gas distribution system to Walter Ray, owner of the Tularosa firm.

The trustees authorized the drawing up of a resolution approving the contract to sell the gas system.

In other business, the trustees held up approval of four building permits pending an appraisal of the construction costs.

R. G. Firman, school superintendent, informed the trustees the school proposed to move in five more houses for teachers' dwellings and he asked for information about the width of C street.

Supt. Firman also requested permission to put up no parking signs on the street between B and C during football games.

The trustees authorized a resolution permitting this action.

Vernon Petty, appearing on behalf of the Lava Vista subdivision, asked the town to accept the dedication of a street thru the tract, Lava Loop road; also a connecting alley.

Loop road is a 30-ft. wide, one-way street. By owning it, Mr. Petty said, the town would be free to use the street to install any type of public utilities.

The Lava Vista subdivision has recently been surveyed by R. E. Long, licensed surveyor.

The trustees adopted a motion to accept the street dedication.

L. Z. Manire presented a plan of group insurance for town employees. The trustees said there was no objection to signing up town employees in the plan if they wished to participate.

Town Marshal Severo Gallagos was present and discussed problems of law enforcement with the trustees.

Frank English and Herman Kelt have been appointed by the trustees to look into the possibility of purchasing electric power at a low rate from the Reclamation Service.

The trustees took under advisement a proposal of W. F. Turner & Associates to make a power study report for the town. It was suggested that the town-locker plant be included in the survey, should Mr. Turner's proposal be accepted.

Present at the meeting were Mayor Marvin H. Roberts, Trustees Clifton B. Zumwalt, A. P. Sifton Jr., Juan Martinez and E. L. Sherrill; Town Clerk Ruth S. Rickerson and Utility Manager H. G. Welk.

PINK, BLUE SHOWER FOR THE COACH

A pink and blue shower was given Coach Kenneth Willis by the boys on the football team, last Thursday night after football practice. The shower was held in the gymnasium and Coach Willis received many gifts, which he described as both "both beautiful and useful." Refreshments of cake, ice cream and punch were served.

drawing to a close, but we started up the creek for the ranch. Before long darkness closed in. We lost the trail and wandered into a beaver swamp with only a light at the distant ranchhouse to guide us. For real suspense there's nothing like wading through a swamp in the dark.

The rancher turned out to be a real friend. He not only believed our story, but said it we'd stay all night he'd give us the dry cells the next morning. After breakfast we started back, this time over the high road, carrying the precious batteries.

It was the medicine old L.E. needed. She coughed and spit a few times and then settled down to a steady puff-puff. We lost no time heading for home, arriving that evening and bringing to a close a memorable Labor Day fishing (??) trip.

5000 Bu. of Hondo Apples Have Been Sold

County Agent Ralph Dunlap reports that apple packing in the Hondo Valley is going along satisfactorily, although a shortage of boxes and packing trays have slowed up production some.

At the present time over 5000 bushels have been sold, for an average price of $4.91.

"This price," Mr. Dunlap says, "includes all apples that were packed through the shed. Prospects are that at least 10,000 more bushels will be packed this year."

At a meeting last Thursday the shed management set a rate of $1.45 per packed out bushel for anyone interested in packing apples through the shed. Also, if the cost is less, the difference would be refunded.

YOUTH SEVERELY BURNED WHEN SHIRT CATCHES FIRE

Three-year-old boy suffered severe burns on his arm last week when his shirt was burning in a fire. His shirt caught on fire and the youth became frightened and started to run. By the time his family could catch him, his arm was severely burned.

Mr. Betty Knudsen is assisting part time at the office of the town clerk in Carrizozo.

Fort Stanton Land Hearing Sept. 14

County Clerk James E. Harcrow this week reminded all who are interested of the scheduled hearing on Fort Stanton lands Tuesday, Sept. 14. He was unable to find out the exact hour for the hearing to begin.

What disposition to make of the 26,000 acres of valuable rangeland surrounding the State Hospital will be discussed.

In a statement from Washington in August U. S. Sen. Dennis Chavez said: "I have opposed turning over this property to anyone until we can determine what the best proposal is and what the most beneficial use will be."

It is expected that Richard Strahlen, director of public welfare for New Mexico, will be present; also a large delegation from Lincoln County.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Carl of Carrizozo recently returned from a 4000-mile trip to Pennsylvania. A highlight of their visit in the East was attendance at the annual reunion of the Carl family in the Stone Valley Picnic Grove on Sunday, July 11, for a picnic dinner and supper. ### WILL HARRISON'S Inside the Capital

MORE WORKERS GO TO SCHOOL

SANTA FE, Sept. 8—Health and welfare department people have been consulting the law books since that suit was filed against State School Superintendent Tom Wiley for paying an employe $335 a month while attending six weeks' summer school to get herself a Ph. D. degree. The health and welfare offices have been sending employes to school for as long as two years at a time. They do it, however, with federal money and the federal agencies encourage the practice for training in certain specialties.

DEMPSEY SAYS HE DIDN'T SAY IT

Congressman John J. Dempsey says a story which has been passed around Santa Fe since last Christmas quoting him as telling a group at a cocktail party that Senator McCarthy was the best man in the Senate is not exactly true. Dempsey says he expressed approval of McCarthy's position on a certain issue and was apparently misunderstood by those present. Dempsey and his colleague, Rep. Antonio Fernandez, have refused to state their views on McCarthy, explaining that he is not a member of their party. Tom Childers, Republican candidate for Congress and an outspoken critic of McCarthy, challenged the Democrats to say how they felt about the Wisconsin senator. Childers, incidentally, is being showered with mean letters from McCarthy fans.

SIMMS INTERVIEWED AT COCKTAIL PARTY

First hint of a retreat on the avowed intentions of both parties to repeal the pre-primary nominating convention laws came from John Simms the governor-running Democrat when he was interviewed Sunday as part of the entertainment at a big cocktail party in Santa Fe. Simms said he was for repeal all right but did not want to go back to the direct primary. He expressed the belief that some kind of a compromise could be worked out. A couple hundred guests paused in their drinking and eating to hear the Simms interview which was also broadcast by a Santa Fe radio station.

Party interviews, singing commercials such as soon will be offered by Candidate Tom Childers, free beer and barbecue for all comers as was offered by Democrats at Las Vegas the other day, television shorts, show the 1934 candidates going farther than ever before to get an audience.

MONEY DECLINE CONTINUES

Taxes for the support of the schools and the welfare department slipped again in August below the figures of a year ago at a time that school enrollment and the welfare lists are climbing rapidly. The sales tax, major support of the schools, was off for the fourth month in a row, the most protracted decline in the past 15 years, and there is no indication that it will not continue to slip. All major sources of money for the welfare department are producing less than last year—the liquor tax, cigarette tax and compensating tax (that's the sales tax on transactions made outside the state for use in the state.) Candidates continue to ignore the situation that is definitely moving toward a forced decision of increasing taxes or reducing the amount of money for the schools and the welfare people. They are afraid they will offend the school group or the welfareers if they advocate economies, or offend the sap citizens if they suggest raising taxes.

The Republican artillery squad has been digging into the conduct of the 1949 house of representatives which John Simms served as speaker and which wound up with a minor scandal concerning the payment of employes who did not work. Chief among them was the wife of a Dona Ana county representative who was paid as a clerk while she was living with a sister in Mexico City. The money, which was given to her husband, was returned after the circumstances of the payment appeared in the newspapers. Other alleged illegal payments caused the Santa Fe district attorney to file criminal complaints against the chief clerk of the house which were later dismissed. Simms had no direct involvement in the situation but there will probably be an attempt to bring him in because he signed the pay vouchers and attested to their correctness.

FISHING REPORT

Fishing good in Chama and Brazos and Upper Rio Grande; fair at Eagle Nest, Red River, Jemez, Bluewater and Caballo. Very good at Elephant Butte. At Conchas, cat excellent, bass good, crapple fair, pike poor. Most taken on top water pluge.

Silver City area—No information on stream fishing. Bear and Wall lakes poor.

BEARS APLENTY

The September 1 opening of bear season (with or without dogs) was timely for two more bear-harassed areas that have reported to the Game Department. From the Llaves area in Rio Arriba County came several reports of bear damage to orchards and livestock, and lion predation to boot. And in the Sapello area, farmers report bear have damaged crops.

PROTECTIVE COLORATION FOR HUNTERS

Tests made by the Game Department strongly indicate that fluorescent colors are the best protection for hunters. In comparison with bright red and sharp plaids of non-fluorescent fabrics, the 35 men who participated in the test unanimously chose fluorescent red or orange for highest visibility under varying weather conditions. But the Department warns hunters again not to place too much reliance on what the hunter wears. "Be sure it's legal before you shoot!"

RUIDOSO PLANS ASPENCADE TOUR

RUIDOSO (Special) — Plans drawn up last week by a special committee of the Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce are for the largest Aspencade tour into the colorful White Mountains ever sponsored here.

Last summer organized sheriff's posse and riding and roping clubs of West Texas and New Mexico were invited to ride in the Aspencade, and members of five such clubs took part. This year invitations to such groups have been mailed by Mrs. Blanche Sturt, manager of the Ruidoso chamber.

The date of the Aspencade—Sunday, Oct. 10 — ties in with others of the mountain areas in New Mexico and will probably catch the autumn colors at their height. Already some aspens are turning to gold in the higher reaches of Sierra Blanca, more popularly known as "Old Baldy".

Added to the Ruidoso tour of the aspencade canyons this year will be a square dance Saturday night, October 9, the night before the ride into the hills. Arrangements are being made with Herb Gregerson, operator of Carrizo Lodge, and known all over the Southwest among square dancers, to hold the foot and fiddle session at his place. Admission to the dance will be $2 per couple.

The Aspencade will start at 9 o'clock Sunday morning and riding clubs will be in a parade contest.

Interdenominational church services will be held at some scenic place along the trail. A chuck wagon dinner is to be served by the Chamber of Commerce at $1.50 a plate for adults $1 for children.

LAS CRUCES WAS SETTING FOR SNOW-BOMBACH NUPTIALS

St. Genevieve Catholic Church in Las Cruces was the setting for the recent candlelight ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Dolores Bombach and Glenn Austin Snow. The Rev. David Kirgan officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roman J. Bombach of Las Cruces and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Snow of Carrizozo.

White candles in tall candelabra burned at the altar, and floor baskets of gladioli and bouquets of white daisies formed a background setting.

Mrs. Fred Daniels played a prelude of wedding music as guests assembled and accompanied Mrs. Charles Treet who sang "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over tulle, designed with molded bodice having portrait neckline edged in applique lace and accented with seed pearls. Rows of lace with seed pearl trim extended down the bouffant floor length skirt of tulle. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a cap of lace.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis, centered with a purple orchid with white satin streamers, and a rosary, loaned by her grandmother, Mrs. Aloys Biel. The bride wore the traditional blue garter, and in her shoe was a sixpence, gift of her aunt, Mrs. Otto Bombach.

Mrs. Curtis Fairbanks, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor, and Mrs. Robert Williamson of Hagerman, and Miss Marion Bombach, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids. Another sister, Miss Peggy Bombach, was junior bridesmaid.

William Gallacher of Carrizozo was best man, and William Evans of Aztec and C. B. Goldston of Artesia were ushers.

Mrs. Fairbanks wore a gown of aqua lace and tulle, fashioned along lines similar to the bridal gown. She wore a harmonizing velvet bandeau cap with seed pearl trim and carried a colonial bouquet of pink amaryllis and pink carnations tied with satin ribbons.

Mrs. Williamson wore a gown of identical shade and design as that of the matron of honor and the bride's sisters wore organza frocks of delicate aqua and carried matching bouquets. The attendants wore pink pearls, gifts of the bride.

Mrs. Bombach chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of turquoise silk with small pink hat and gloves. Mrs. Snow was attired in a gray gown with pink accessories, and each wore an orchid corsage.

A reception followed in the home of the bride's parents.

Among out-of-town guests were the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Anna Brazel of Carrizozo; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bombach and daughter, Jeannie, Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Morland and Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Hartley of El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. William Evans of Aztec, and Miss Peggy Ray and Pay Myers of Alamogordo.

Mr. Snow and his bride left on a short honeymoon trip and following their return, are making their home in Socorro where the bride will teach in Socorro High School and Mr. Snow is county sanitarian.

The bride wore for going-away a summer suit of pink with matching accessories and the orchid from the bridal bouquet.

RANGE CONDITION REPORTED GOOD IN ARABELA COUNTRY

By RALPH DUNLAP
County Extension Agent

During the past week I have been traveling around in the Arabela area and the range in that area is looking good. Large areas are covered with grass heading out and several ranchers contended that the range was the best in several years.

Even though the grass is good this year, I would like to point out that you will not be wanting it if you will let it go without grazing during the coming year. The increase in vigor of the grass by not grazing will more than offset the loss in grass not used.

Extensive tests have shown that the grass roots are only as vigorous as the top growth is, and an over-grazed range has a very shallow root system that is easily affected by drought. In comparison, a vigorous grass has a deep root system that can stand considerable drought.

SHANKS RANCH CUTS LAMBS FROM EWES

The Shanks Ranch cut all their lambs off from the ewes last week, as they felt it would not affect the lamb weight and yet give the ewes a chance to take full advantage of the good grazing conditions. In this way the ewes will have six weeks on green grass before frost and will be able to carry over into the breeding season in better condition. With this system the rancher is more likely to get a larger percentage of lambs next spring.

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY AGENT

BY RALPH DUNLAP

Name John J. Chappell Agent-at-Large in Lincoln, Otero Counties

John J. Chappell of Albuquerque, has been appointed county agent-at-large in farm and home planning in Otero and Lincoln counties. Chappell received his B. S. degree in agriculture in 1950 from New Mexico A & M College. From 1950 to 1951 he was instructor with the veterans on the farm training program in Bernalillo County and from '51 to '53 served as farm management supervisor at the Laguna Indian Reservation. A veteran of World War II, he is married and has two children. He will make his headquarters at Carrizozo.

LEROY HOFFARTH GOING TO LUNA COUNTY

Leroy Hoffarth, assistant extension agent in Torrance County, is to become extension agent in Luna County. Hoffarth received his B. S. degree in animal husbandry from New Mexico A & M College in 1950. Ricardo Pino, former assistant county agent-at-large at State College, has been appointed assistant extension agent in Torrance County. Pino received both his B. S. and M. S. degrees in agriculture from New Mexico A & M College.

AMISTAD GIRL IS STATE WINNER IN ESSAY CONTEST

Patricia Copeland of Amistad has been named state winner in the 1953-54 nationwide essay contest on "Building Fertility to Cut Farm Costs." Miss Copeland received $50, first place award at the Las Vegas Zone meeting of supervisors of Soil Conservation Districts last week.

Runners-up in the contest were Larry Brewton of Artesia and Robert Elkins of Farmington. The youth essay contest is sponsored by the National Grange and the American Plant Food Council.

RECORD OUTPUT OF WORLD WOOL EXPECTED IN 1954

World wool output in 1954, according to the Foreign Agricultural Service, will set a new record of 4,420 million pounds, grease basis. FAS said this figure compares with production of 4,370 million pounds last year and is an increase of almost 500 million pounds above the pre-war level of production, adding that "current production and consumption are approximately in balance."

Lincoln County Fleeces Win Awards at Ogdon Wool Show

New Mexico wool producers sent three fleeces to the National Wool Show in Ogdon, Utah, recently and batted 1,000 in the judging, says Ivan Watson, extension animal husbandman at New Mexico A & M.

A fleece exhibited by T. J. Sutherland of Ruidoso, which won a first place award in the range fine wool class, was later declared grand champion fleece of the show.

The other two fleeces exhibited by Clyde Marley of Roswell and J. T. McKnight of Picacho won first place awards in their respective classes.

Marley's fleece was exhibited in the 1/4 blood range class; McKnight's in the 3/4 blood range class.

Farm Bureau Clarifies Price Support Scale

The New Mexico Farm and Livestock Bureau announces that a great many farmers in New Mexico have not had the correct interpretation on recent variable price support action taken by both the House of Representatives and the Senate.

The impression has been left that the 82 1/2% to 90% scale was set for 1955 and each year thereafter.

Soil Erosion in State Is Serious Problem

Governor Mechem has recognized the seriousness of the erosion problem in New Mexico by proclaiming September as Soil Conservation month. He has asked everyone's support of the conservation program to save soil and produce more crops.

NATION HAS RECORD TURKEY CROP IN 1954

New Mexico's turkey crop will be about 3% less than last year, says J. Z. Rowe, extension economist at New Mexico A & M College. But, the U. S. crop will be a record this year, according to a preliminary estimate by the Crop Reporting Board—about a 9% increase above last year.

Production of small varieties of turkeys is up 16%, the economist says. These varieties now make up 30% of all the turkeys raised in the nation.

New Mexico growers who are preparing to sell their turkeys should watch the markets very closely, Rowe cautions. With no additional strength expected in the markets from consumer buying this year, and with increased marketings, many turkey growers may not receive as favorable prices as they expect. There is a continuous trend toward earlier marketing of birds, which means that many growers will be watching feeding margins and the market price, in order to sell their birds at the time when they can realize maximum profits.

Even with unemployment currently at about 3,000,000, we have 60 million persons employed—over five million more than were working during the massive production period of World War II, says the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

HISTORIC COOKERY BOOKLET REPRINTED

The revised and newly illustrated edition of "Historic Cookery," that little booklet of New Mexican food recipes, is now available at county extension service offices.

This is the fourth reprint of "Historic Cookery," one of the most popular circulars ever released by the New Mexico Extension Service.

The booklet contains over 40 pages of recipes which tell how to prepare: chill sauces; meats, vegetables, soups, sandwiches and desserts, the New Mexican way.

Copies of "Historic Cookery" (extension circular No. 250) may be procured from county extension agents or by writing to the department of information, New Mexico A & M College, Box 757, State College, N. M.

Travel to Gran Quivira 40% Up From 1953

Visitor travel to Gran Quivira National Monument for the month of August totaled 816 persons, bringing the year's total to 4121, an increase of 40% over last year's figure, according to Channing T. Howell, superintendent.

Out-of-state visitors from 31 states and several foreign countries represented 51% of the total travel. Nearly all of the visitors viewed the artifacts on display in the exhibit room of the Museum. A total of 238 people held their picnics in the camp ground.

There is no admission charge to visit the monument, to view the Indian ruins and the 300-year-old missions. The monument can be reached by traveling Highway 10 and Highway 54 north from Carrizozo or Highway 10 south from Mountainair. The roads are in good condition at this time, Mr. Howell reports.

GPA Instigates Cleanup of Camping Grounds at Bonito

White Mountain GPA

The September 2 meeting of the White Mountain GPA was held at the VFW home in Capitan with a delicious chicken dinner served by the Ladies Auxiliary.

Game Warden Marlon Embrey gave a report on thirteen rock dams built in the upper Ruidoso by some Walker Air Force boys from Roswell.

Mr. Embrey was also the instigator of a clean-up job above Bonito Dam. Several organizations were asked for assistance in this work. The Walker AFB offered help and this past week sent five men and a truck from Roswell. Ed Guck brought rakes and the boys worked two days, cleaning up cans and trash left by campers. Mr. Embrey helped them one day.

Three truckloads of trash were hauled to the Capitan dumping grounds. At the GPA meeting it was decided to place trash barrels above the dam, with signs asking campers to use them. We need more barrels, and if anyone can donate any, please notify E. A. Johnson, GPA president, in Carrizozo, and he will see that they are placed in the camping area.

Bryan Cadar has donated two barrels, as have Ben Flingaten, Ray Taylor and Wesley Young. It is important that this area above Bonito Dam be clean and kept clean as the water is used for drinking purposes in several towns.

The 34th annual convention of the New Mexico GPA is to be held at Truth or Consequences at the Community Center on October 7-8-9. Everyone is invited to attend. The White Mountain GPA has collected A. S. (Heavy) Drake and George Dingwall as delegates to this convention and Louise Rannels and Bill Hart as alternates.

Because of this convention on the 7th of October, our local GPA which meets in October on that date will postpone its meeting until the following week—October 14—at the Methodist Church in Carrizozo. At this time the spinning rod and reel will be given away. Tickets are 50 cents each and can be bought from L. S. Drake in Ruidoso; Friday Sherrill in Carrizozo; Wesley Young in Capitan, or at the Bonito Store.

Cattlemen to Boost Nation's Use of Beef

Doubling the consumption of beef in New Mexico and throughout the United States in the next ten years, through an intensive beef promotion campaign will be a subject of major importance to be discussed at the next quarterly meeting of the New Mexico Cattle Growers' Association, to be held in Clovis, September 10 and 11, according to Sherwood Culberson of Lordsburg, president.

"A nationwide sales program financed by the industry itself is the cattle growers' answer to over production of beef," Mr. Culberson said. "We believe this approach to our marketing and sales problems is far better than any type of government subsidy or government purchase of our product."
