Freeze Sets Back Hondo Valley Fruit

Fruit in the Hondo Valley suffered a severe setback due to the freeze of last Friday night, according to County Agent Ralph Dunlap.

Bert Pfingsten reported a loss of 80 percent of the fruit buds, including peaches, plums and cherries. This low temperature will likely kill the fruit in the bud even though the blossom has not opened.

The fruit in the lower part of the valley is more affected by the freeze, as the fruit buds were farther advanced. It will take a week for all the buds to show the full effect of the freeze.

Many of the growers hope for a full crop on the late blooming varieties, such as Romes.

Two Uranium Mills in State at Full Production

Chairman John Block Jr. of the State Corporation Commission reports that two of the ten milling facilities for processing uranium ore in the entire country, are located in New Mexico. One near Grants (Anasconda), and the other at Shiprock (Kerr-McGee). The mill at Grants has announced two expansions since last May. The one at Shiprock just recently is hitting full operation.

In the past week five more uranium companies have been incorporated in New Mexico (Plaza Largo, Metropolitan, Missouri, Bell and Aztec). This brings the 1955 total to thirty.

Other incorporations include: The Lincoln County Savings & Loan Ass'n of Carrizozo (Domestic) — D. O. Murphy, J. C. Moore and F. C. Boyce, $500,000 capital stock.

HONDO VALLEY PTA ELECTS OFFICERS

At the regular meeting of the Hondo Valley PTA in March the following officers were elected by acclamation: president, Mrs. George Sisneros; vice-president, Mrs. Judd McKnight; secretary, Elsie Kimbrell; treasurer, Frank Gomez.

The meeting was highlighted by a talk by Frank Titsworth, chairman of the school board, who clarified some of the facts concerning the erection of the new grade school and gymnasium to be built adjoining the Hondo High School. Mr. Titsworth exhibited the blueprints and explained some details of the present plans. It is hoped that the contracts will be let within the next two or three months and actual construction can begin.

Other matters discussed were the payment of expenses of a boy to Boys State and a program to be presented by grade schools in conjunction with an enchilada dinner in April. Mrs. Titsworth announced that the Band Boosters' Club contemplates sponsoring a Gay Nineties Show, but the date, as yet, has not been set. Mrs. Irene Stevens read a selection on American schools.

Another important matter brought to the attention of parents by Superintendent Montes was the plans for inoculation against polio. The final details of the inoculation await the outcome of present experimentation, and Dr. Starr of Picacho has offered to take care of the inoculations in the area of the Hondo Valley Schools. There will be more specific details about this announced later.

It was also decided that the First Annual Exhibit of School Projects will be held at the high school some time the early part of May.

The social hour was made most delightful by cake and coffee served by the hostesses, Mesdames Casey, Pacheco, Pablo Montoya, and others.

PURELY PERSONAL

by post mail

"I know not what the truth may be—I tell it to you as 'twas told to me." Not too long ago, a lonesome, homesick young soldier walked into the Bell Telephone office, completely broke. He asked Don Nett, how he could get a call through to his home without reversing the charges. Don instructed the operator to place the call for the three minutes, deciding that he personally would pay for the call. With eyes brimming with tears, the young lad rushed into the phone booth, said "Hello, Mom," and never said another word. Obviously, Mom did all the talking. About three days later the soldier once more walked into the office and reimbursed Don for the phone call. "Friend 'Tex' Fischer of Osage Peak was sent to William Beaumont Hospital at Fort Bliss. Now we hear that Tex will receive a medical discharge, with major surgery to be performed after said discharge, complete with disability compensation. That walk-in cooler at the Cactus is the only one of its kind in Carrizozo. That means ice cold beverages of all kinds at all times. That is a right nice little place, complete with dance floor, and the scene of some really competitive shuffleboard. Memo to Richard Sidwell: When you pull the trigger don't close both eyes. Sharon Sargent was taken from the Lincoln County Municipal Hospital here to a Roswell hospital for a complete and thorough check up under a specialist. Sharon is back now, enjoying a normal routine of life, — the diagnosis being that nothing is seriously wrong. Joe was a pretty happy guy, Saturday night. "Mac" McIntyre is back from his ten-day leave in Alabama. Lotta pets were lost, cause "Mac" drove in with the same car, he has had right along. Understand that "Mac" is next on somebody's list for quite a deal. As time and opportunity permits, the Carrizozo Country Club is undergoing a rejuvenation with Mitchell, Coniell and O'Brien doing the face lifting. Seems like Ye Scrivener lost a steak dinner bet to O'Brien. The basketball game between the Red Canyon Renegades and the Carrizozo Grizzlies was a really hard fought battle, with the Grizzlies winning 57 to 54. Everyone knows the playing and team work of the Grizzlies, but the surprise came from watching the Renegade players. They really play ball and made some excellent long shots. Better weather will doubtless bring a better turn out. Ranchers Leonard Dunning will attend the Breeders Convention in Albuquerque this week. Mrs. Dunning will attend the Quarter Horse meetings, in which field she excels — and Mr. Dunning will attend the cattle breeders meetings, — and ditto. And on the subject of conventions, friends, Sally Ortiz, Mozaun Calentine and Welcolm Armstrong have reservations on the Representatives Train headed for Mexico City, to be away ten days. This is strictly a political deal. Nice to see Pfc. Connel again. Seems as how some of these guys get a rather rough deal now and then merely through a conflict in personalities. The R. C. Barnhams, out on the Mill Iron Lazy Three Ranch, entertained a pretty, young house guest over the week end, one Nancy Sargent of Santa Fe. Nancy rides a champion barrel racing horse, trained by R. C. In case you are wondering about the big sign which will top the C.C., — it is definitely coming and is expected to arrive ere long now. Also, a new sign will be erected at the roadside drive. Where can this gal locate a piano player or who can transpire and also ad-hib? The Harbort Cousins leave soon for Seattle and thence overseas. Mrs. Cassart's children will accompany them. Sure glad to report that a grand old gentleman by the name of William H. Baker is very much improved and will be greeting old friends once more. Dance at the C. C. Saturday night. Music by Gene Williams and His Stardusters — an all pop orchestra from Holloman. See you then. Pay no attention to the rumors which are floating around concerning the Yucca Grill. I have it direct from the "horse's-mouth." Poco nuevos: Adios.

Farm and Ranch

Daily Grooming of Tractor is a Must

You don't need a currycomb, but the modern farm "work horse" — the tractor — needs a daily grooming just like old Dobbin used to need.

A stalled tractor is a bad way to begin a day. Wipe off ignition cables, coil, distributor, and spark plug insulators every day or two. Grease attracts dust. And damp dust is a moist wick causing voltage to leak or short circuit. Then engines will miss, stall, or fail to start. For a good cleaning job, use a cloth moistened with solvent.

Record the number of hours you operate the tractor. Spark plugs should be cleaned, adjusted, and checked every 100 to 300 hours — that's equal to 5000 to 15,000 miles on a car. Dirty or fouled plugs waste fuel and power and cause frequent overheating.

Also, keep water in the battery up to the required level and make sure holes in the vent plugs are not clogged.

Check the oil level daily, and

Kill Clover Mites With Insecticides

Early in spring and late in fall householders often notice tiny insect-like creatures, the clover mites, around the windows.

This tiny mite feeds entirely upon plants, but will migrate to other locations at certain times of the year. It does not bite and is not poisonous. But if it is crushed, it can cause an ugly stain.

These mites, only one-tenth of an inch long, are not easily killed. Aerosol bombs containing pyrethrum are moderately effective against mites which are touched by the spray. But DDT is not at all effective and effects of the aerosol do not last long.

You can also use safe mite-killing chemical "aramite" on shrubby foundations or grass as recommended by the manufacturer. Malathion as recommended on label will also control mites out-of-doors.

lubricate such vital points as king pins and tie rod ends.

Service your air cleaner daily. When operating in dusty conditions, check the bottom cup for dirt, twice a day.

Have Irrigation Pumps Ready for Service

Costly breakdowns of pumping plants during the height of the irrigation season can often be avoided by preventive maintenance, says Leo Dirnberger, extension agricultural engineer at New Mexico A&M College. And preventive maintenance should begin before the irrigation season.

Electric motors and switches should have a thorough inspection, grounds should be checked, fuses made intact, starting switches cleaned, and contact points on relays smoothed off or replaced. If contact points are replaced, springs should also be replaced. But don't work on the motor until the disconnect switch is open.

Drain dirty oil from bearings, flush and refill with a light ball-bearing turbine oil. Check oil twice during the season and in mid-season.

Grease bearings should have fresh grease, but don't overdo it. Too much grease may cause the motor to overheat or burn up.

In servicing the pump, open valve on the tank and let water into the water-lubricated shaft. Fifty bearings will be lubricated before the motor is turned on.

Flush oil in tube shaft and refill with clean oil, allowing about one quart of the oil to drip down into the column to make certain that all of the shaft bearings are well-lubricated. Then always pre-lubricate with a light turbine oil before starting pump. Turn the pump shaft in the direction of rotation by hand or with a wrench to make sure it is free. If it rotates easily, turn the motor on for just an instant, then off, and let the shaft coast to a stop to see if it turns smoothly and freely.

A pumping plant should have

Protect Wood Floor Finishes

Good floor finishes look well, wear well, are easy to care for, do not show patching of worn spots, and resist stains, spots and moisture.

Finishes are of two general types — film-forming, and penetrating wood seals. Paint, varnish, lacquer, and shellac are film-forming finishes.

Penetrating seals show less scratching than film-forming finishes and usually wear well because they tend to toughen the wood. Seals give a soft sheen rather than a high gloss and can be patched without leaving a spot. Most homemakers use wax on penetrating seal finishes to give added protection.

Film-forming finishes make a hard film that protects the wood but may show scratches. They eventually wear off and must be renewed to continue protection. Homemakers should clean and renew film-type finishes that begin to get thin in spots and before finishes wear through because patching may show. After several renewals it is usually necessary to remove all old finish and refinish the bare wood.

No finish is superior in all respects and each will give good service when well cared for. Follow directions carefully when applying and caring for floor finishes.

a shelter which will protect it from dust and trash. However, the shelter should have ample openings for air circulation.

The engineer says, the four "k's" to an efficient pumping plant are (1) keep it clean, (2) keep it well-lubricated, (3) keep it dry, and (4) keep it cool.

CORONA

(Too Late for Last Week)

Twenty-two Corona high school students went to Santa Fe, March 9, to sit in on the legislature. They visited the House and Senate in the morning and in the afternoon they toured the Museum and saw the oldest house and the oldest church in Santa Fe.

Dee Jay Nelson was in Corona, March 17, and presented a special assembly on electricity and electronics using original machines for demonstration. He became interested in these subjects while in high school and built his own electrostatic transformer.

Students of Corona Junior class chose their Senior class rings for 1956 Tuesday of last week. They will receive their rings some time in September.

The Corona Senior Play, "One Mad Night," will be presented Saturday, April 2, at 7:30 p.m. Before the play, from 5:30 to 7:30, there will be a spaghetti dinner. The Seniors had to postpone their play in January because of the fire in the old gymnasium. Repairs have been made and the old gym is now better than ever.

Corona's annual school picnic will be April 1.

FLIGHT FROM THE FARM CONTINUES

If you think you might like farm life, then note this disturbing trend: Farmers are leaving for the city in droves. Over 3,000,000 have migrated to urban centers since 1950, and the migration shows no signs of letting up. How come? Well, many farmers find living in the city more to their liking. Also, the drop in farm income hurts living standards. Finally, small farms are being gobbled up by bigger ones.

ALTO BRIEFS

(ALLEN RAILEY LINDAMOODY)

Mrs. Lincoln White and sons, Tommy, Billy and Harry, were in Las Cruces last Friday, where they went for the purpose of having Tommy and Billy checked at the heart clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Blaylock have moved into their new home on Mechem drive, Ruidoso, from their ranch northeast of Alto.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Dabney of the Mesa country visited with the Dingwalls Sunday evening.

The G. P. Greens of Lubbock were here over the weekend to look over the well being drilled at their ranch property on Little Creek.

Marie Smith of Lubbock was visiting recently at the Ruidoso Chinchilla Farm. She is secretary and treasurer of the organization.

Fred Swetnam, forest ranger, recently marked a number of trees which Randall Halladay of Ruidoso is cutting and hauling to a sawmill in Hollywood.

The Charlie Martins are driving a lovely new Pontiac these days.

The A. D. Galyeans are now living on the Blaylock ranch. Mr. and Mrs. George Dingwall visited in Carrizozo for several days last week.

Mrs. Verna L. Cooper went to Weed for the weekend to visit her daughter, Mrs. Noel Akers, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith and son, Lester, of Roswell were Sunday visitors at the Peebles' ranch. Mrs. Charlie Peebles and Mrs. Smith are sisters.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Johnston and daughters, Rita Jean and Ruth Ann of Yuleta, Texas, were at their summer home Sunday. While there Jerry Pearce of El Paso, Will Mayer of Clovis and Ralph Barber of Capitan came by to see them. After this visit the men returned to Capitan and rejoined their wives and Pearce's daughter, Lillian, for a birthday celebration for Mr. Pearce in the Barber's home. Mrs. Pearce, Mrs. Mayer and Mrs. Barber will be remembered as the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Luck, who made their home at Alto for a number of years.

The above mentioned summer home is owned by the Johnstons and Pearce families. Looks like a sure sign of spring to have them up working on their piece again. Both families were here two weekends ago checking over what must be done for the coming season.

The J. W. Jones Construction Company continues to bring in more heavy road building equipment. During the past week the rock crusher was brought in and is being assembled on its permanent site.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Alvis and children were in Carrizozo on Monday of this week.

CHECK NEW RUGS FOR CLEANABILITY

New fibers and new fiber blends in rugs make it tough for purchasers to know in advance whether the rugs can be cleaned satisfactorily. To be sure, look for the "Seal of Cleanability" attached to new rugs. The seal indicates that the manufacturer has had his product thoroughly tested by the National Institute of Rug Cleaning.

The Navy's carrier-borne aircraft are within striking distance of 90 per cent of the inhabited areas of the world in time of war.

The Navy consumed 1,750,000,000 pounds of food last year.

Elmer, age 13, was puzzled over the girl problem and discussed it with his pal, Joe. "I've walked to school with her three times," he told Joe, "and carried her books. I bought her cream sodas twice. Now do think I ought to kiss her?" "Nah," You don't need to," Joe decided after a moment of deep thought. "You've done enough for that girl already."

Town and country people who plan on raising their own vegetables in a home garden this year can get a lot of good pointers from a new circular just released by the Agricultural Extension Service, New Mexico A&M College.

The circular, entitled, "Home Vegetable Gardening," tells how to plan the home garden.

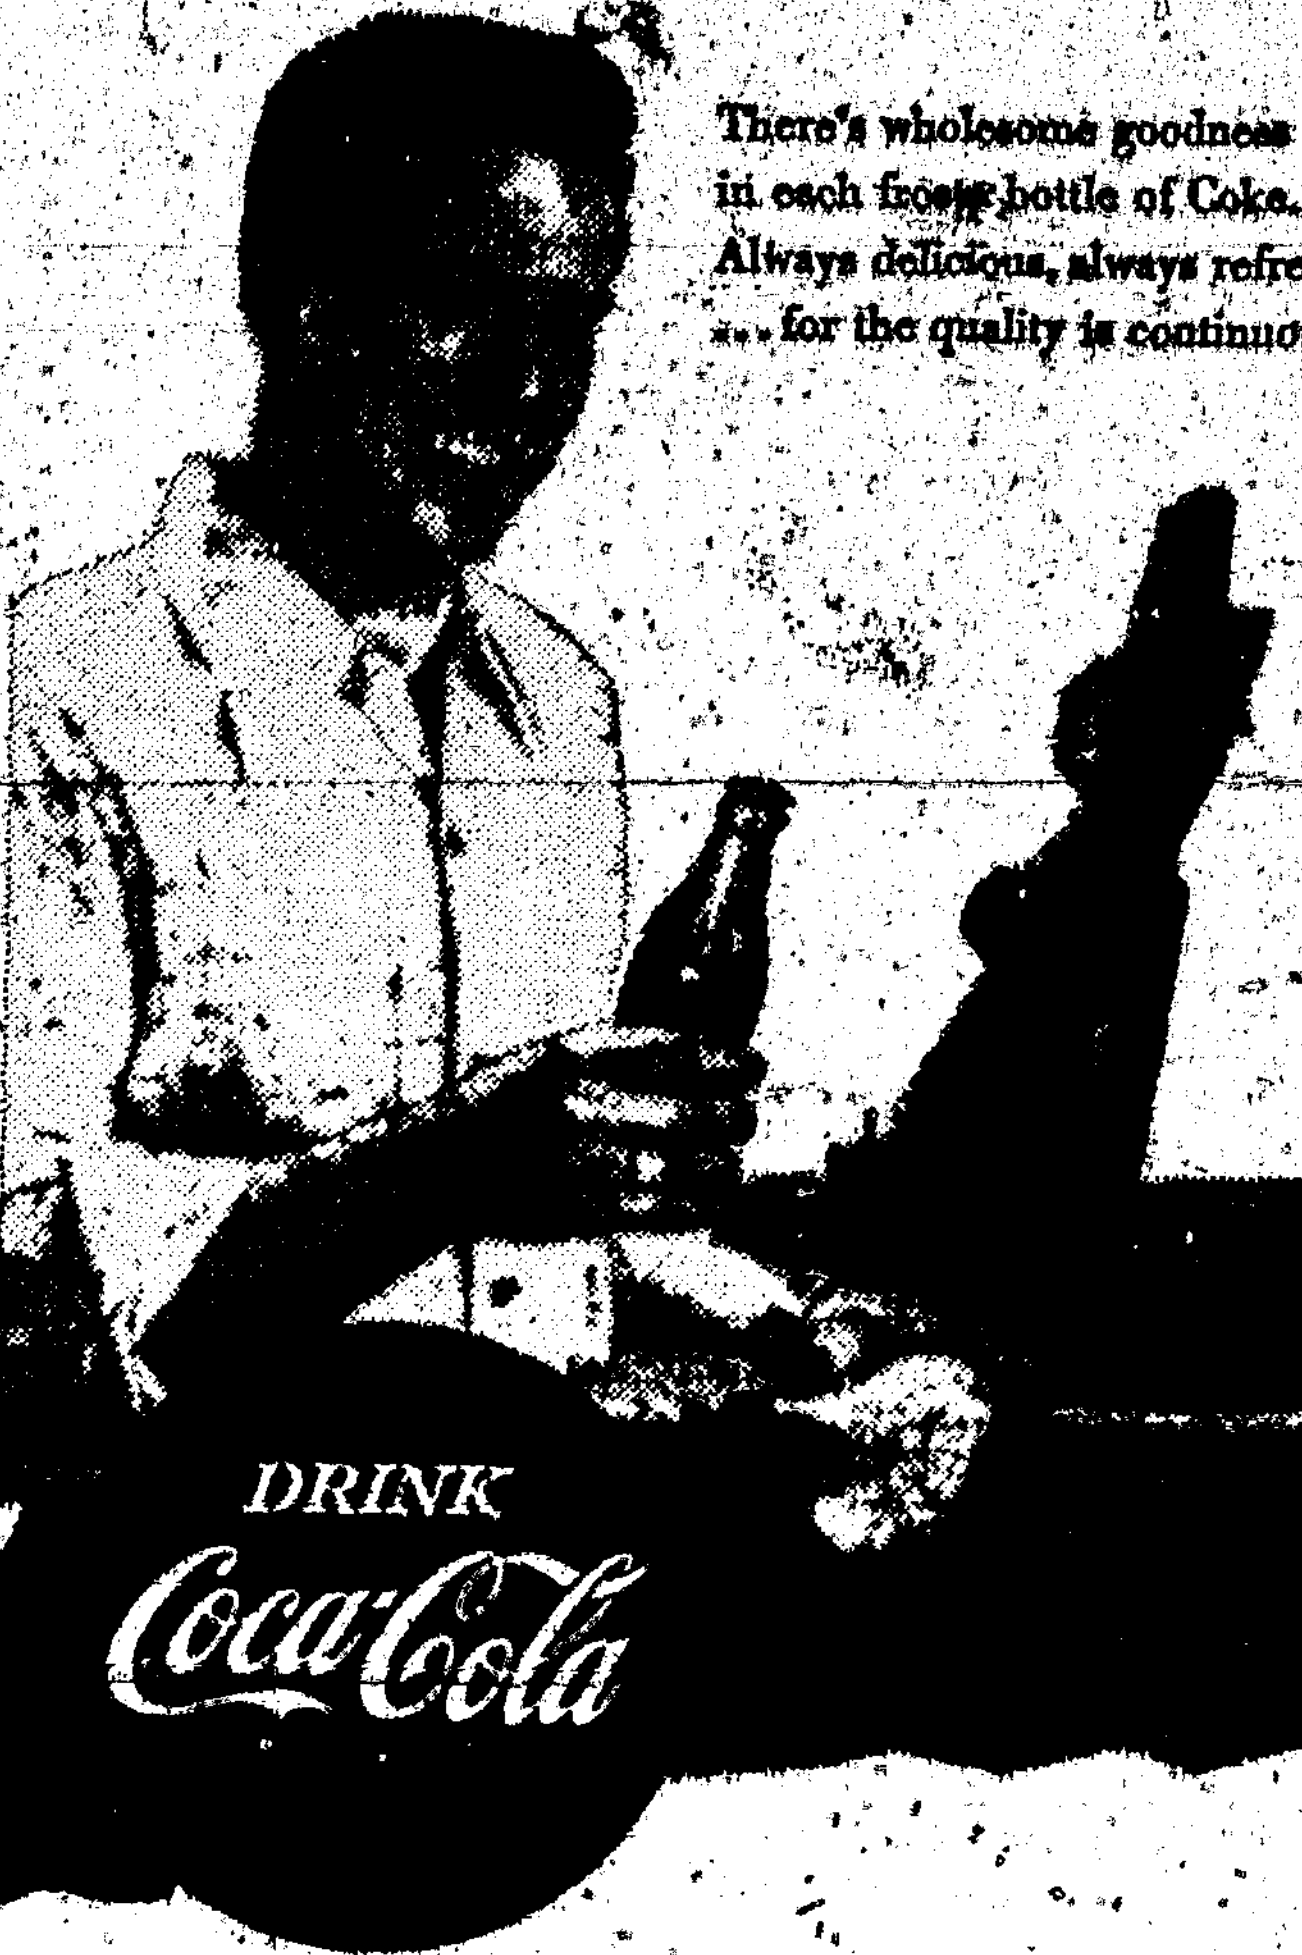

Author of the circular is W. J. Wilbanks, A&M extension horticulturist. Copies of the publication may be procured from the county extension service office at Carrizozo. Ask for Extension Circular No. 254, "Home Vegetable Gardening."

Commercial Arithmetic As We Learned It STAMPS

We do not use them. They would cost us between three and four percent. If we bought them in very large quantities, they would cost two percent in small quantities, four percent. The cost of processing would be one percent, so we would have to raise our prices five percent.

If an item is priced at plus 20 cents, we would have to add one cent plus. And do you know what your merchant does with those pluses? He just keeps passing them until they make another penny, which makes two cents we would have to add to a 21 cent item, which all adds up to very close to ten percent.

The quantity buyer can buy for two percent so the stamp company who furnishes the premiums will have to buy the premium at 20 percent or more below the quantity sale of stamps, which is four-tenths of one percent off of the two percent.

This leaves you with a premium worth one and 8/10 percent for the nine percent plus. That is what we would have to raise our prices.

Don't look now but we think someone lost eight percent.
