

RAMBLIN' AROUND

By PAUL BAKER

The New Mexico good will representation—400 strong—to Old Mexico returned home early this week.

A "wonderful time" is reported by the Lincoln County delegation.

Some of the impressions brought back were: There is an amazing amount of new construction in Mexico City.

Mexico is a land of extremes: desert country and tropical gardens; rich and poor—a land of 9,000 millionaires and 20 million poor people.

Prices are low on domestic goods and high on imported goods. Buicks and Cadillacs sell from $8,000 to $9,000.

There is a strong undercurrent of Communism in Mexico, but one of the chief deterrents to its spread is the opposition of the Catholic Church.

Representative Ortiz and Senator Moore met President Ruiz Cortines at a reception for members of the New Mexico Senate and House.

Sunday, May 15, is Soil Stewardship Sunday in churches over America. On this day ministers and laymen of all faiths will bring messages to their congregations.

One might truly say that we are God's people and the custodians of His pastures. Ours it is to make His laws function in the universe about us.

AN IITH COMMANDMENT By Walter C. Lowdermilk

They shall inherit the Holy Earth as a faithful steward, conserving its resources and productivity from generation to generation.

Soil conservation means holding more rainfall on the land, to save moisture for crops and at the same time abate floods.

It means farming on the level around the slopes to prevent soil washing, and keeping grass in waterways lest they become gullies.

It means growing more soil-building grass and more livestock to use it. It means protecting rangeland and pastures from overgrazing.

It means planning for each acre on each individual farm to meet the needs of the land as well as the farmer.

Land is a very special kind of property. Ownership of land (Continued on Page 5)

COUNTY MOURNS DEATH OF PIONEER VALLEY RESIDENT

Mrs. Sydney Bonnell, widow of the late Bert J. Bonnell and daughter of the late Frank B. Coe died Monday, May 2, in Roswell, at the age of 73.

MRS. SYDNEY BONNELL

Her assistance was willingly given to numerous charitable drives through the years, opening her large ranch home for fund-raising dances.

When she was a small child her family's ranch home on the Ruidoso was known as the Coe Ranch. The Apaches were still troublesome and the ranch house had allis in the windows for gun ports.

All the members of the Coe family were musical. Frank Coe had a family orchestra in which all his children played—Sydney, the piano. Dances at the ranch home were memorable events and some traveled long distances to attend them.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Bonnell operated the Bonnell Ranch as a guest ranch. For many years it was a stage stop and the only eating place between Roswell and El Paso.

She was prominent in civic life and her home was the scene of many community social and church affairs.

She is survived by three children, Frank Bonnell of Phoenix; Mrs. Marshall Sellman of Watrous, N. M.; Ralph Bonnell of Glencoe; a brother, Willbut Coe of Glencoe; four sisters, Mrs. Will-Titworth of Glencoe; Mrs. Fred LaMay of Carrizozo; Mrs. Edith Boyce Rigby of Ruidoso; and Mrs. Orville Hunt, Oklahoma City.

DISTRICT COURT

In a case tried in district court, C. E. Degner, defendant, was declared to be the owner of three mining claims in the Red Cloud Mining District.

Five cases are on the district court docket, scheduled for trial before Judge W. T. Scoggin on May 18.

A final decree of divorce was granted in district court April 30 to Kenneth M. Cady from Dorothy N. Cady. There were no children involved and the divorce action was not contested by the defendant.

Judge W. T. Scoggin granted a divorce April 25 to Charlie R. Franklin from Catherine Franklin. The mother was awarded custody of a minor child.

Motorists are reminded by State Patrolman Eddie Apodaca that the No. 4, brake and light stickers are past due.

Winnie D. Pickard, 26, and Richard Harris Semon, 22, both of Roswell. Justice of the Peace Shaw united the couple May 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Nickels were Sunday visitors to Las Cruces.

Water from New Tank To Be in Use Monday

The big day is almost here when Capitan will pay tribute to Smokey, the forest fire preventing bear.

Mr. Wilson, Henry Wehde, and Clint Davis of the Advertising Council's White House group will be in Los Angeles this week, planning the 1956 forest fire prevention campaign.

James Lambie of the White House Public Relations staff has been on the atomic tests in Las Vegas, but will also attend the Capitan event.

RECALL FIRE OF 1950 Many people in the county recall the day five years ago when the wind blew dust so thick in the air that visibility was cut to zero.

Lookout Bob Latham at Block, with so little visibility, was never sure if he saw smoke or dust. After dark, materials and men were sent to fight the blaze in the mountains, not knowing how far or wide the fire had travelled.

The fire had been burning five days when a little black cub was found in the limbs of a blackened pine tree.

Mrs. Ross Flatley was the bear's first baby sitter, keeping the cub overnight. Next day Ray Bell and Harold Walter flew the bear to Santa Fe.

Smookey to Washington The Piper Aircraft Corp. furnished a plane bearing Smokey's name and picture and after a farewell ceremony in Santa Fe, Homer Pickens flew the bear to Washington, D. C.

BONITO HEARING ENDED MAY 4

A two-day hearing on the proposed Bonito water rights transfer was concluded in Carrizozo at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon.

John H. Bliss, State engineer, has before him an application by the Southern Pacific to transfer its Bonito stream water rights to municipalities on the west slope, Carrizozo and Nogal, present users of Bonito water.

The proposed transfer has been protested by the Pecos Valley Artesian Conservancy District, challenging the right of the Southern Pacific to transfer the water.

A protest to the proposed water rights transfer by Southern Pacific, filed by the legal firm of Shipley & Seller of Alamogordo, was denied Monday by Engineer Bliss on the grounds that it was filed too late for inclusion in the hearing.

Residents of Ancho are reported to be active in setting up their rights to continued use of Bonito water.

Tuesday's hearing was devoted mainly to arguments on the Bonito's natural stream flow and its effect on recharging the Roswell artesian basin.

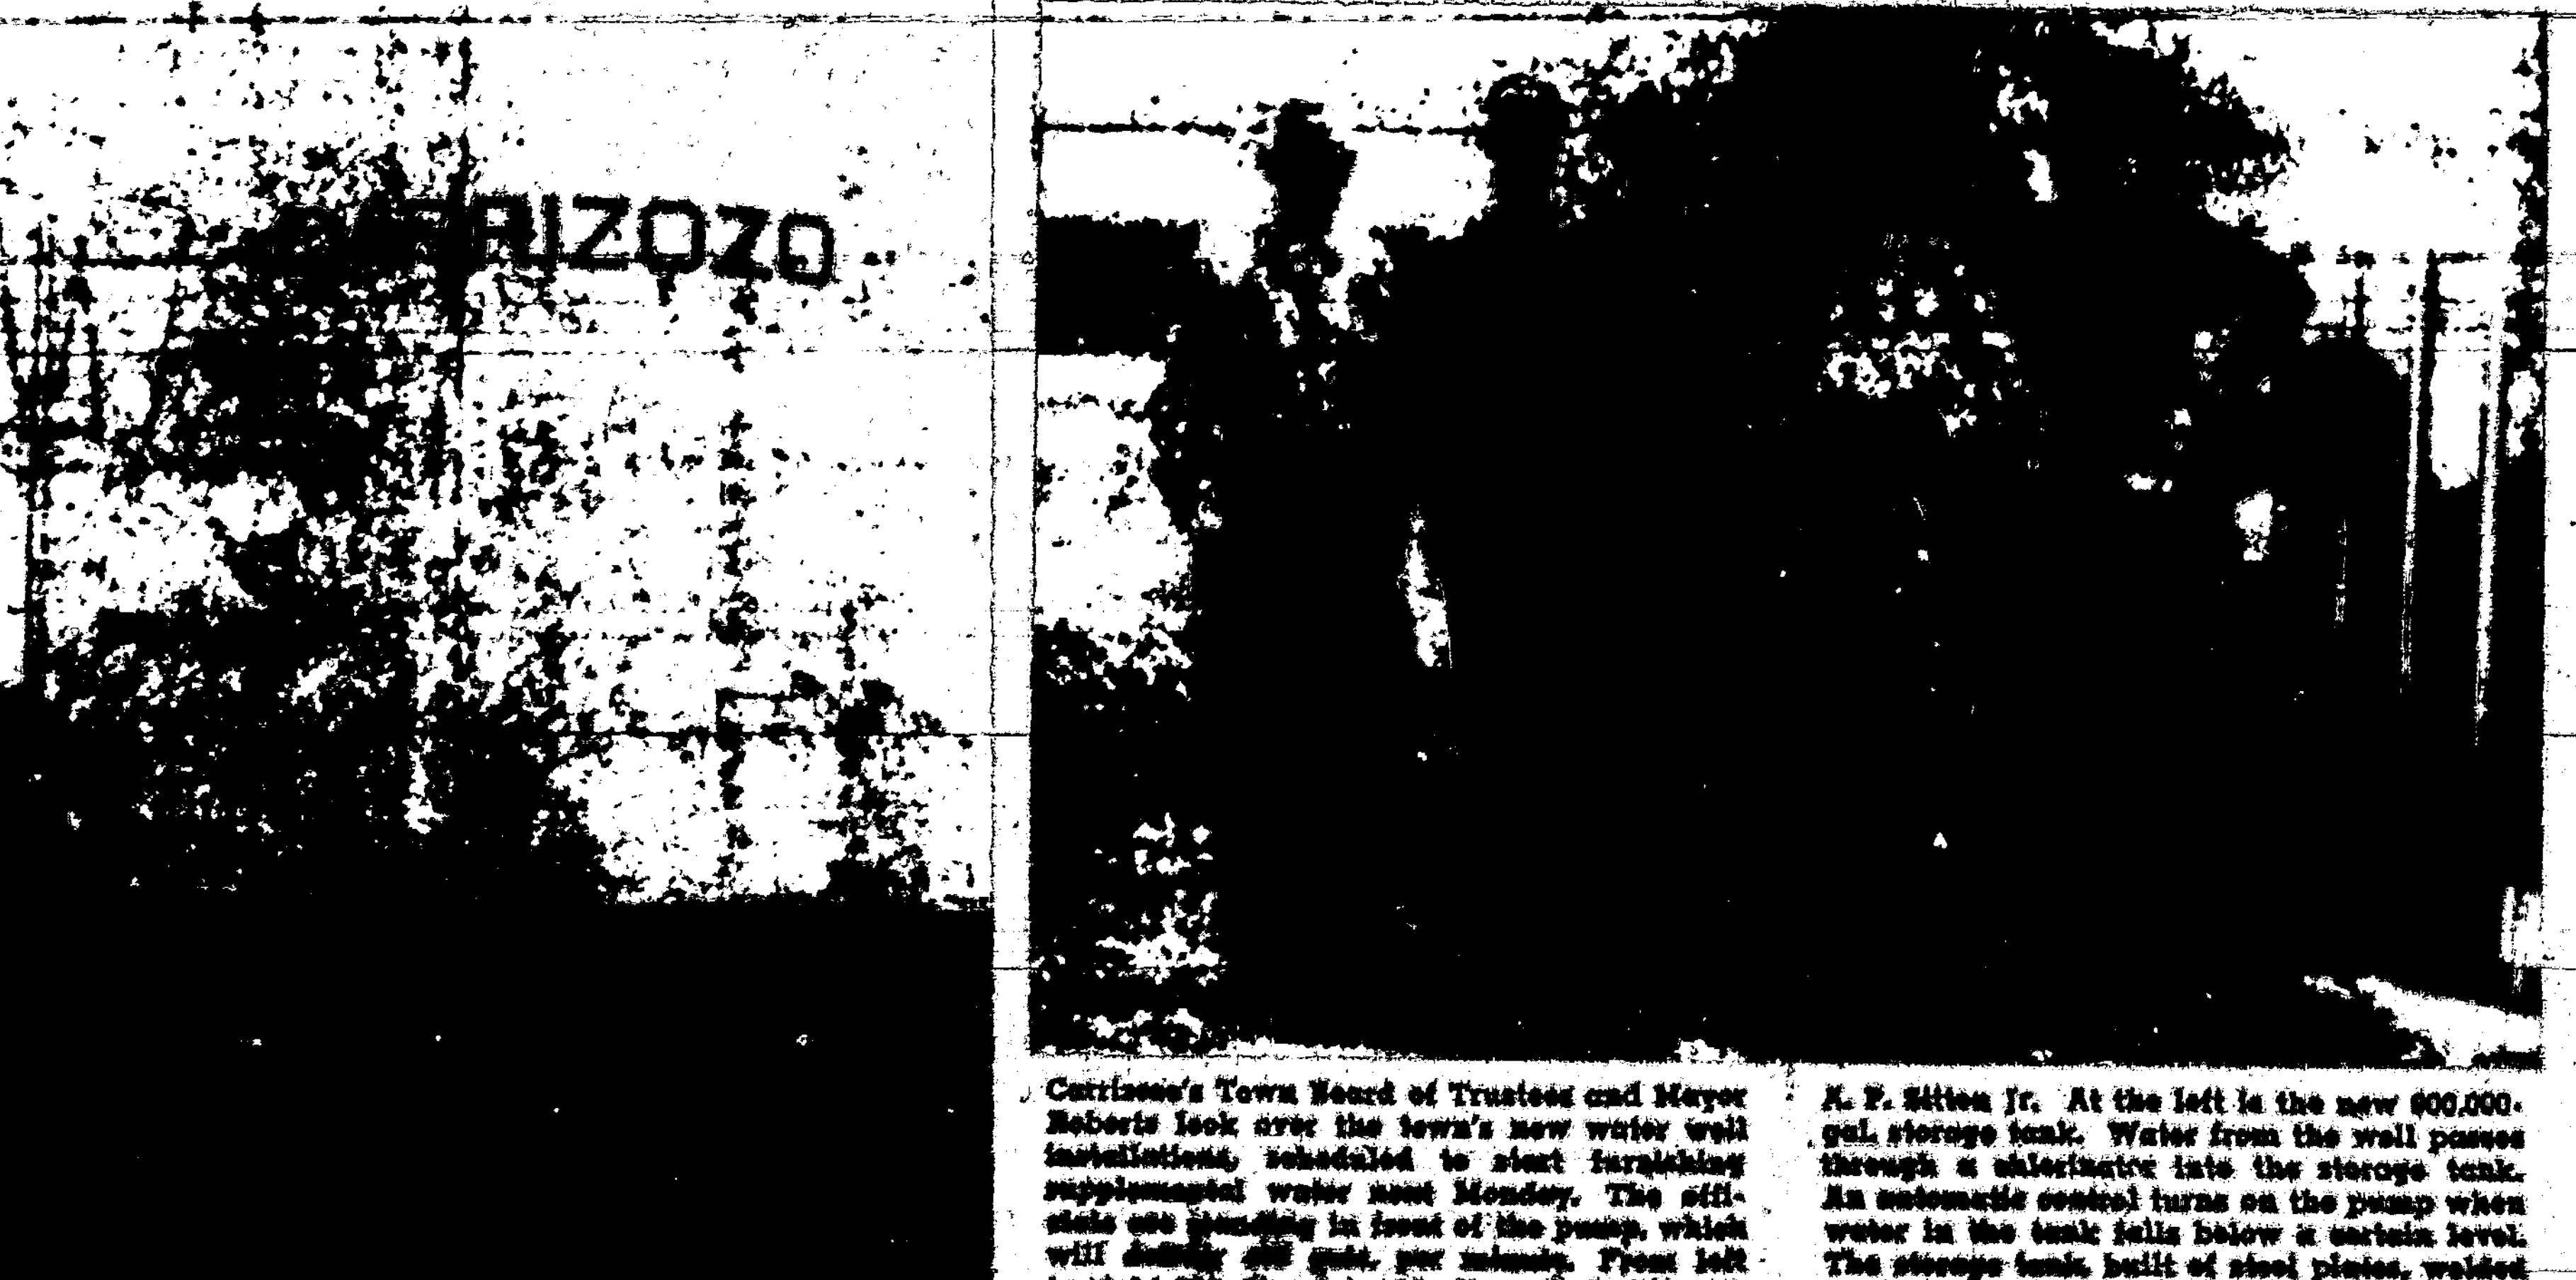

Three major witnesses for the applicants were William Turney, Arthur Brown, and W. Carlos Fowell, all Santa Fe consultant engineers.

The Southern Pacific was represented at the hearing by Carl Gilbert and Charles White, general counsel for the company in New Mexico.

Bowen, Zumwalt and Floy Skinner testified on behalf of the Nogal Water Users' Association, stating that the Nogal area depended on the Southern Pacific pipeline for its water.

Carrizozo's need and reliance on the Bonito water was presented by Mayor Marvin A. Roberts, Trustee Clifton B. Zumwalt, Will Ed Harris and H. G. Welk. The town well recently drilled, it was pointed out, was for supplemental purposes and no one knew how dependable the supply of water would be.

Shearing operations are about over in the county, and some of the ranchers had to pay as much as 40 cents a head to have their sheep shorn. Wool is selling fairly well now.

CARRIZOZO

Carrizozo's Town Board of Trustees and Mayor Roberts look over the town's new water well installation, scheduled to start trucking supplemental water next Monday.

A. F. Sitten Jr. At the left is the new $60,000-gal. storage tank. Water from the well passes through a strainer into the storage tank.

Set Date for Selective Service College Tests

Brigadier General John P. McFarland, State Director of New Mexico Selective Service System, announces an additional Selective Service College Qualification Test to be held Thursday, May 19, 1955, at eight testing centers.

This will be a "clean-up test" for the benefit of students prevented by illness or other emergency from taking the test on December 9, 1954 and April 21, 1955 and for those who failed to make application before the deadline for either of these tests.

Applicants for the test should submit their applications at the earliest possible date. Applications postmarked later than May 9, 1955, will not be accepted.

The testing centers in the State of New Mexico are:

- Albuquerque, University of New Mexico
- Las Vegas, New Mexico Highlands University
- Portales, Eastern New Mexico University
- Roswell, New Mexico Military Institute
- Santa Fe, St. Michael's College
- Silver City, New Mexico Western College
- Socorro, New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology

The State Director said that he could not emphasize too strongly that students who have a certificate of admission for the test of December 9, 1954 and April 21, 1955 which they failed to use on the assigned date must submit a new application if they wish to take the May 19 test. "The old certificate," he pointed out, "will not admit a student to the May 19, 1955 test." He must secure a new certificate of admission.

Application blanks for the May 19 test may be obtained from the student's nearest local board and should be sent in as soon as possible to the Selective Service Testing Section, Science Research Associates, Chicago, Ill.

Students who attain a prescribed upper class standing or make a score of 70 or better on the May 19 test are eligible for consideration by the local boards for deferment during the next academic year. Local Boards are not required to defer students who meet one or both of their criteria, but their classifications are subject to appeal.

Here's a safety tip from the New Mexico AAA Motor Club: Now is the time to have your brakes checked. They may be all right for slow city driving, yet be completely inadequate for highway use. Before you take that vacation trip, BE SURE to have your brakes checked; you may need ALL your braking action when you least expect it.

Walker AFB Has Open House On Armed Services Day

A loudspeaker broadcast of a ground controlled landing by a giant B-36 intercontinental bomber will be one of the Armed Forces Day Open House features at Walker Air Force Base. Sunday afternoon, May 22, Civilian visitors will have an opportunity to see and hear how an aircraft is guided to a safe landing without the pilot ever seeing the runway.

Ground controlled approach landings, commonly referred to as "GCA," are made when aircraft must land under adverse weather conditions. The task of guiding a multi-million dollar bomber to an accurate landing when visibility is at a minimum requires the use of complex radar and radio equipment and skilled airmen to operate this equipment.

At Walker AFB, as at all USAF bases around the globe, this responsibility is charged to the Airways and Air Communications System of the Military Air Transport Command.

A radar scope indicates to the ground controller the position, direction, altitude, and speed of the aircraft and instructions for a safe landing to the pilot by radio. With these instructions for a safe landing the pilot flies his aircraft by instruments alone.

Aerial Hunters In Carrizozo Hospital

Wayne Withers and Orville Luttrell were patients in Carrizozo Hospital this week, having been transferred from the hospital in Socorro after their plane accident.

The two men were in the air hunting predators near Magdalena last Thursday morning when their light plane was caught in a down draft when only 75 feet in the air. Luttrell, the pilot, gunned the plane, but it crash landed on its belly.

In the crash, Withers was knocked unconscious. Luttrell, also injured, probably saved his flying partner's life by dragging him from the plane, which had caught fire.

Flying weather was described good the morning of the accident. The hunters had killed several eagles and were tailing a bobcat when a down draft caused the plane to drop suddenly. Luttrell said later that in 3000 hours in the air he had never encountered a like freak air current.

Withers' inner leg bone between the knee and the ankle was broken and his left ear was nearly severed. The ear was expertly stitched and bandaged and Sunday he said he was experiencing no pain from that source. Luttrell's principal injury was a fractured vertebrae disk.

4-H Observance Sunday, May 15

More than 8,000 4-H club boys and girls and their parents and friends will join in the observance of National 4-H Club Sunday, May 15, says Tiny Faye Jones, associate state 4-H club leader at New Mexico A&M College.

Club members will participate in church activities and special programs to call attention to the day, which emphasizes spiritual development as a vital part of the well-rounded citizen.

"Special observance of the day will give 4-Hers an opportunity to demonstrate their loyalty and to realize their own responsibilities to the church of their choice," Miss Jones said. "I urge all club members in the state to consider and help carry out the objectives of 4-H Sunday and to associate their church and religious activities with their everyday living."

BRAZIL HAS LARGEST STADIUM

Brazil boasts the largest stadium in the world, Maracana, which seats more than 150,000 spectators, says the National Geographic Society. Completed in 1950 and built of reinforced concrete, it provides an impressive setting for soccer games. Brazil's national sport. Soccer players are among the most lionized notables of the country. Their salaries sometimes reach $20,000 a year. A 9-foot moat inside the stadium around the playing field protects players from zealous fans.

CONSTANT RADIO CONTACT

During the final landing approach, the ground controller must transmit radio instructions continuously. If there is more than five seconds of silence during the instructions, the pilot must pull his plane out of the landing pattern and start the GCA landing all over again.

The GCA unit containing the radar and radio equipment has its own power generator. The unit is mobile and can be moved alongside the runway.

Three airmen operate the GCA unit during a landing. In order to qualify as a fully skilled operator, approximately one year of intensive training, including three months of study at a ground controllers technical school, is required.

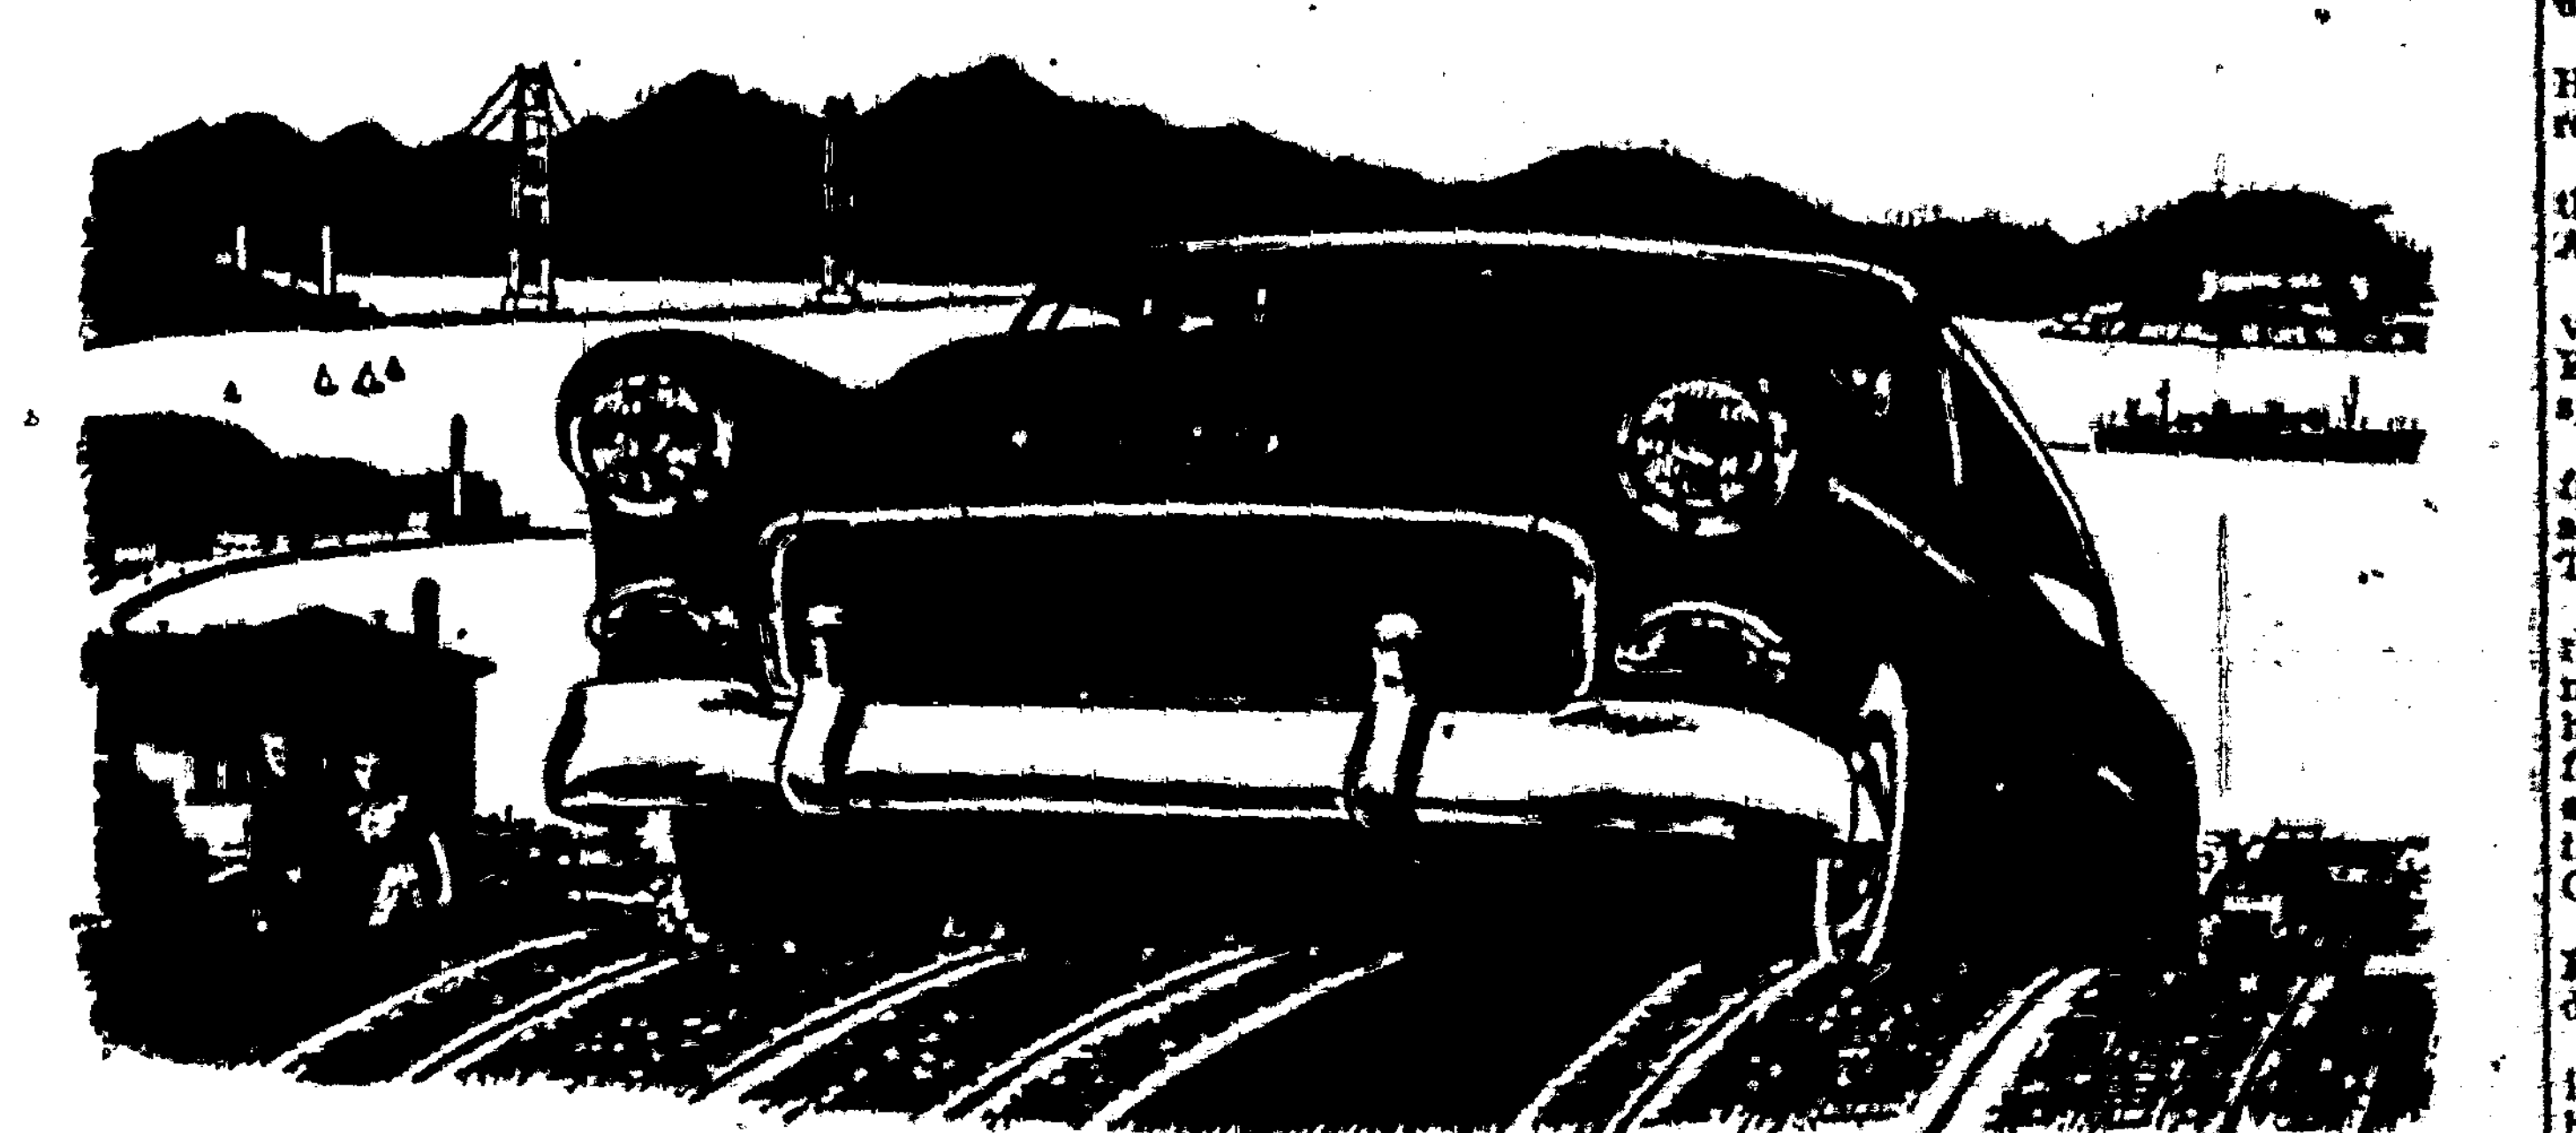

Pilots practice GCA landings regularly during good weather in order to maintain their instrument proficiency in making safe

Punch-line to the year's hottest power story—

Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8"!

This is the engine that's writing a whole new chapter in the book of automobile performance records. This is the engine that has stood up to the toughest "double tests" at the stopwatch where sports experts gather to compare the abilities of the 1955 cars.

For example, in the recent NACAR stock car competition at Daytona Beach, Florida, Chevrolet literally ran away from every other car in its class—and a raft of others besides. In the one-mile, straightaway run for low-priced cars, the first two places—and six of the first ten—went to Chev-rols. And in acceleration runs from a standing start against all comers, the Meteorite Chevrolet beat all other low-priced cars—and every high-priced car except one!

What's behind this blazing performance? A compact honey of a V8 that only the world's leading producer of valve-in-head engines can build. Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8".

It puts a new kind of fun in your driving life. You're in charge of 128 high-speed horsepower—or if you're looking for even more excitement, the new "Super Turbo-Fire V8" (optional at extra cost) puts 190 h.p. under your foot.

Pick the one you'd rather have fun with, then come in and get behind the wheel. You'll see why the Meteorite Chevrolet is showing its heels to every one else on the road!

Combine your new Chevrolet purchase with your vacation plans! Order a new Chevrolet through us, then pick it up at the place in El Paso, Midland, San Antonio, Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, or San Diego. You'll have a substantial share of your vacation travel made!

Grand Officers Visit Comet Chapter

Mrs. Nina Crawford of Hurley, Worthy Grand Matron, and Filida Black of Raton, Worthy Grand Patron of the Grand Chapter of New Mexico, made their official visits to Comet Chapter Monday night, May 2. A banquet preceding the meeting was served in the dining room of the Masonic Temple. Mrs. Bernice Nickels acted as toastmistress. The "guests-of-honor" table was centered with a Maypole centerpiece. Other table decorations carried out the colors, flowers and theme of the Worthy Grand Matron, as did the Chapter room decorations. Individual favors were miniature May baskets filled with nuts, candy and spring flowers. A trio of Rainbow Girls composed of Margo Dunch, Ann Gallacher and LaVern Mac-Smith sang "Let the Sunshine In." During the evening meeting, held in the Chapter room, Mrs. Betty Nickels, accompanied by Mrs. Eloise Daniels of Las Cruces, played "Intermezzo" by Provoost. Mr. and Mrs. William Glen Bradley received the degrees of the Order. Additional guests from Tularosa, Ruidoso and Alamogordo were present. Dr. Caylor had fond memories of a country store and post office like this and wanted his picture made in front of the store. Bob Murrell is a director of Soyland, Inc. of San Antonio, and had a very interesting story to tell concerning their product—nature's soil builder for flowers, shrubs, lawns, vegetables and trees. Joe Rodgers of Eagle Creek had his mother, Mrs. W. R. Rodgers and sisters, Kathleen and Molly of Portales for a visit recently. Bill Gause of Portales was also in the party. The Wayne Hamiltons of El Paso were visiting the Lindamoods over the past weekend. Joe Wigley, Bill Manning, Buddy Guthrie and Billy Petree of the REA were business visitors in Alto Thursday of last week. Mrs. Gladys Payne of Rowell visited the Lincoln Whites and George Creels on Saturday. On Sunday the Creels visited with her in Ruidoso at the Skyland Court. Mrs. Payne's mother, Mrs. Davis, is the owner of the court. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Adams of El Paso visited the George Dingwalls Friday of last week. The R. H. Williams of Amarillo are spending some time at their summer place up Eagle Creek Canyon. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barber of Capitan were Alto visitors on Sunday. George Green of Lubbock was busy on his Little Creek ranch over the week end cultivating his young orchard. Rev. and Mrs. William E. Holmes, Jr. of Rowell were over Monday for a visit at the Alto store. Rain stopped construction workers on Highway 27 Monday at 2 p.m. at Alto.

Wool Growers To Vote On "Self Help"

Wool growers of New Mexico will be asked to vote sometime this summer on Section 708 of the National Wool Act of 1954—the "self help" portion of the Act, empowering the Secretary of Agriculture to sign agreements with an agency for the promotion, advertising, and related market activities of wool and lambs.

Funds for this promotional work, if favorably voted upon, will be deducted from the incentive payments to wool growers. Deductions may not exceed one cent per pound on shorn wool or a comparable amount from payments on lambs and yearlings with full wool pelts sold for slaughter. The deduction on the hundredweight basis has been calculated not to exceed four cents for slaughter animals.

Lambs and yearlings will be considered to be in full wool if they have never been shorn or if they have a minimum of one and one-half inches of wool growth. Section 708 will not become activated and deductions will not be made from the incentive payments unless the producers voting favorably account for at least two-thirds of the number of sheep or two-thirds of the production of wool by volume represented in the referendum.

J. Richard Stauder, extension sheep and wool marketing specialist at New Mexico A&M College, says, the American Sheep Producers' Council has been formulated to undertake the promotion of wool and lambs, and the Council has signed an agreement with the Secretary of Agriculture to start promotional work on a national scale if the "self help" program is approved by the nation's sheepmen.

The annual revenue under the "self help" program to be used for promotional activities will amount to approximately two million dollars, Stauder adds. Producers will be advised later of the date of the referendum.

In 1954, nearly two million casualties were recorded for motor vehicle accidents.

In 1954, 7700 pedestrians were killed in U. S. traffic accidents.

Payments for Wool, Mohair for 1955

This is a reminder to producers of wool and mohair to retain all their "Sales Tickets," "Settlement Sheet," or "Account Sales Sheets," showing the net weight and price received for wool, mohair and sheep and lambs marketed by them from April 1, 1955, through March 31, 1956.

If a producer of wool or mohair ships and markets his clip to a marketing location other than the customary marketing point of local producers, and the gross proceeds from such clip includes marketing cost (transportation commission, grading, etc.), such marketing cost shall be shown on "Sales Ticket," "Settlement Sheet," or "Account Sales Slip."

All sales tickets, etc., will have to be filed in the County ASC Office.

If there is any other information you wish to know about the incentive payments on wool or mohair contact your local ASC County Office.

Effect of Stilbestrol On Carcass Grades

Cattlemen, packers and consumers are asking if feeding stilbestrol to fattening cattle has any effect on carcass grades and value. Early tests at the Ralston Purina research farm indicate that stilbestrol has no appreciable influence on the quality of beef produced.

Two lots of steers fed at the Purina farm were recently shipped to the stockyards together. One lot had been fed stilbestrol; the other had not. Two reputable packer-buyers graded these animals without knowing what either lot had been fed. From the stilbestrol-fed lot, five graded prime, three low prime, one high choice, and one choice. From the control lot where no stilbestrol was fed, two graded prime, five low prime, and two high choice. Both groups of steers averaged the same—low prime. In another Purina test, carcasses from two lots of ten steers

FCDA Gives Data For Home Shelters

The Federal Civil Defense Administration, in an informative bulletin being distributed to all Regional, State and local civil defense organizations, has provided interim instructions for modification of existing home shelters and shelter designs to meet the hazard of radiological fall-out resulting from atomic or H-bomb attack.

These instructions, the agency said, soon will be amplified by means of additional shelter information being prepared by FCDA specialists.

The interim instructions call attention to a technical manual entitled "Home Shelters For Family Protection In An Atomic Attack" (TM 5-5), published by FCDA in July of 1953, and which can be purchased for 30 cents from the U. S. Government Printing Office in Washington, D. C.

The manual gives detailed specifications and instructions for building a wide variety of home shelters. With some modification, the agency declares, all of the shelters recommended in the manual will give varying degrees of protection against radiological fall-out.

The cost of material for these shelters, depending upon the type, will vary from $10 to $166 per person.

For locations where no attack is probable, but which may lie within a possible fall-out area, cheaper types of cover will give protection, the FCDA instructions point out. This may be accomplished by using lighter or less costly materials in the construction of shelters described in the manual, with the recommended modifications.

Where such shelters are not available, a number of things can be done by the individual for self-protection.

were tested for dressing percentage, carcass grade and value. One lot had been fed stilbestrol; the other had not. Otherwise, the two lots were equal in all respects.

Shipping shrink in the control lot was 4.1 per cent, compared to 3.44 per cent in the stilbestrol-fed lot. Chilled carcass dressing percentage was 60.4 in the control lot compared to 59.8 in the other. The percentage of carcass weight to farm weight was identical in both lots, 57.7 as was the selling price, $23.50 per hundredweight.

In the control lot, seven graded choice and three good. In the stilbestrol-fed lot, eight graded choice and two good. These early tests strongly indicate that stilbestrol has no appreciable effects — up or down — on carcass grades and value.

Cancer Research Money Returned

Albuquerque, May 2 (Special)—Grants in excess of $10,000 for research projects in two New Mexico schools have been announced by the New Mexico Division of the American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Nan Giese, State ACS Director, said the research awards were for $5,400.00, to Dr. W. J. Everaich, of University of New Mexico and for $4,870.00 to Dr. Roland K. Robins, of Highlands University, Las Vegas.

This brings to $15,145.00 the total in research grants awarded in New Mexico in recent years by the American Cancer Society committee on research financing, the Director said.

These funds are a part of the forty percent sent to National

News & Views From The Nation's Capital

By JOHN J. DEMPSEY
Representative in Congress

Washington, May 5—Foreign affairs once again during the past week edged back into the Washington spotlight strongly enough to divert a considerable amount of attention from domestic problems that are pressing for solution. Viet Nam and Formosa crises developed troubles, both internal and external, for the administration.

The uprising against Premier Diem in the Saigon area of Viet Nam, which he appeared to have quelled at least temporarily, brought into the open the strained relations between France and us in that far-off powder keg where Communists still keep the fuses burning. This is one more case of division between free nations, where despite our sincere efforts, supported by our dollars and goods, we are falling because of internal political intrigue that we do not understand. President Eisenhower characterized the situation as "strange and inexplicable." The Communists, who have wrested control away from the French in northern Viet Nam can explain it. It is a repetition of the "divide and conquer" strategy that they have used so successfully in all of the satellite countries, in Korea and in China itself.

CONGRESS TAKES REALISTIC FARM VIEW

One of the most encouraging trends in this session of the 84th Congress carries particularly gratifying significance for New Mexico and the other states in the area of prolonged and severe drought. Passage of the Agriculture Department appropriations bill by the Senate, after refusing to support the amendment proposed by Senator Williams (R-Def.) to cut $55 million from the Soil Conservation program funds, was unquestionably intended to let Agriculture Secretary Benson know how the Congress feels about preserving our resources on the farms and ranches.

The action of the Senate in passing two other measures also emphasized Congressional recognition of the need for continued and expanded assistance for the drought-ravaged areas. The Senate approved one measure which extends for two years from next July 14 authority for emergency livestock loans in those areas. My bill making the same provision is before the House Agriculture Committee, where favorable action is probable shortly.

The other Senate passed measure permits additional acreage allotments for basic farm crops when natural disaster, such as drought or flood, has destroyed a crop important to that area. Many New Mexico farmers have lost acreage allotment because of the prolonged drought and through no fault of their own.

Headquarters out of monies obtained in the annual "Cancer Month" Campaign held in April, Mrs. Giese explained.

"They are in addition to the sixty percent which is retained in the New Mexico Division and budgeted for use in the state education and service program," she said.

The current funds campaign goal for New Mexico is $75,000, an amount established on the basis of increased activities through extension of active organizations in more than half of the state's counties.

Arid Lands Scientists Visit Gran Quivira

Visitors to Gran Quivira National Monument during the month of April totaled 469 persons in 137 vehicles, according to Channing T. Howell, superintendent. Visitors were recorded from 16 states, Alaska, Belgium and the Honduras.

In addition to the above travel figures, the International Arid Lands Symposium, a group of world-famous scientists, visited the Monument April 30, while on their two-day field trip.

The group made a tour of the Mission and Indian ruins and enjoyed a picnic lunch in the area. Included in this group were visitors from 18 foreign countries, and a number of our states.

There is no admission charge to visit the Monument; to view the 300 year old Spanish missions and the Thirteenth century Indian ruins. The Monument is open all year and can be reached by traveling north on Highway 54 and 10 from Carrizozo, or south on Highway 10 from Mountainair.

Life Conference

Of the Dust of the Ground

"And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground." This is more than a legend, more than ancient history, more than poetry. It is a basic truth of life. All that man is and has is formed of the dust of the ground.

First of all, let us remember that even though we may not live to eat, nevertheless we eat to live. No food, no man; no sult, no food. It is as brutally blunt as that! And the problem is acute, for man has so ruthlessly plundered his planet that he has barely enough land left to feed himself.

Wherever civilization flourishes you will find it rooted deeply on good soil. And when the soil fails, civilization perishes. Human institutions die when man slaughters the forests and murders the land by erosion. The death of the land brings the death of man's culture. Such a policy is nothing less than social suicide. The Church is rooted in the soil... Democracy is rooted in America's fertile acres. But if we continue in our downward spiral of soil deterioration, its ideals will starve as surely as did the democracy of Rome.—Rev. C. W. Keisler, Cobblekill Methodist Church, Cobblekill, N. Y.

responsibility in conserving the earth for the generations which follow them. To this end I shall devote my best knowledge in guiding efforts of those who till the soil so that the land which nurtures us shall be fruitful without end.

"For truly, the earth is the Lord's end and the 'fulness thereof, but the responsibility for its stewardship is vested in man."

Age Distribution Of Poliomyelitis

In New Mexico during the years 1950-1954 inclusive, the annual attack rate of paralytic poliomyelitis and deaths from all forms of poliomyelitis, combined, showed heaviest concentration in the pre-school years of life, according to the New Mexico Department of Public Health.

Among the children under one year of age who contracted poliomyelitis, there were only two under one month of age and seven between one month and six months. These are the periods when other diseases take their heaviest toll of infants. However, from six months to one year, twenty-four babies were attacked although the incidence of other diseases is much lighter at this time than during the first six months. Apparently from six months to three years of age is one of the most critical periods.

Certain studies have indicated heightened susceptibility to this Information is not available in New Mexico at present to determine any such differentials; however some consideration has been given to the prevalence of the disease in females during the child-bearing years. The sex ratio in this population group is not significantly different; however of the 96 cases reported between the ages 15-29, forty-four were male with one fatality and 54 were females with three fatalities. There were 38 cases in persons 30 years of age and over with 12 males, no fatalities, reported, and 24 females, one fatality reported.

Suggested by FCDA

The Federal Civil Defense Administration, recommended today that families and individuals keep a 7-day reserve supply of food and water on hand as a home defense against nuclear attack.

Theodore M. Wilcox, acting director of the FCDA Welfare Office, said this increase over previous recommendations for a three-day supply results from super-bomb hazards.

The delayed second blow of the hydrogen bomb — radioactive fallout — may cause longer confinement under shelter.

"The change is an evolution in our planning to safeguard Americans in the light of new disclosures about the larger weapons," Wilcox said. "The weapons have grown bigger and our planning must change accordingly."

He pointed out that fallout "might keep people in shelters for anywhere from a few days to a week, depending on the in-

Thank Offerings

Episcopal women of Lincoln County will assemble at St. Anne's Church in Glencoe on Thursday, May 12, to present their united thank offerings. These offerings, made in gratitude for daily blessings, will become part of the united thank offering of the women of the entire Episcopal Church, to be made at the forthcoming Triennial Woman's Auxiliary meeting in Honolulu in September.

The last offering in 1952 of over $2,000,000 has been used to build and restore Episcopal missions in U. S. A. and abroad, and to support women missionaries. Part of the offering sustains Episcopal work at San Juan Indian Mission near Farmington, N. M. and Spanish-American work in El Paso.

Following 10 a.m. celebration of Holy Communion by the Vicar, Rev. Charles L. Conder, the three branches of the Woman's Auxiliary at Fort Stanton, Glencoe and Ruidoso will hold a business meeting.

Episcopal teen-agers met last Sunday at the Elzy Perry, Jr. home at Stetson, with Rev. Charles L. Conder speaking on "Development of American Christianity." Mrs. Perry served refreshments. The meeting date for next meeting was changed to May 29th at Bart Pavey's home in Tinnie. Services next Sunday will be at St. Anne's, Glencoe, at 9 a.m. and at Ruidoso at 11 a.m. Mrs. Bart Pavey will be at the organ at Glencoe.

NAMED Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow is Dolores Arnette of Enterprise, Alabama. The award was presented at the American Table banquet in Philadelphia. Dolores received the highest score of the 48 state winners in a home-making examination given by General Mills in cooperation with the nation's schools. She will receive a $5,000 scholarship for her college education.

"Electronic Brain"
Switches S.P. Cars

A railroad yard where radar and an "electronic brain" have practically replaced push buttons in switching freight cars swiftly and safely, is being constructed by Southern Pacific at Houston, Texas, according to D. J. Russell, president of the railroad.

This automatic system is effective even though foggy weather may cut visibility in the classification yard almost to zero, Russell said.

As each car is nudged over a small artificial hill called the "hump," a towerman "orders" it to its scheduled position in the yard through an automatic switching system, it was explained.

When it starts to roll down the "hump," the car is automatically weighed and is clocked for speed by radar as it enters an electric retarder (a series of rail brakes) set in the track. An electric computer instantly notes the car's weight, speed, rollability, distance to roll and other factors including even wind resistance. Then, like a mechanical "brain," the computer "tells" the retarder at what speed the car can be released so it will roll to its destination in the yard and there couple smoothly and safely into a new train. The new $7 million, four-mile-long yard is now approximately two-thirds completed, and is scheduled for dedication this fall.

Here's a safety tip from the New Mexico AAA Motor Club: One time when two's a crowd is on a bicycle. Ride ONE ON A BIKE and be safe. You need the control you HAVE only when you're riding alone — and you need to be able to see cars and pedestrians. One on a bike is enough.

EXPLORING THE BAD LANDS

Research in the Carrizozo lava flow by Dr. Lora Mangum Shields, of Highlands University, is discussed in the May issue of New Mexico Magazine.

Dr. Shields, in an article titled "Exploring the Bad Lands," reports on her investigations made possible by a research grant from the National Science Foundation to study plant nitrogen sources.

(Concluded from last week)

My collecting gear, to the consternation of bus drivers, included two plant presses, a dip net for fish, a shovel and three U. S. Army shoulder packs filled with cameras, vials and test tubes for plant samples. I was alternately mistaken for a lady geologist and a uranium prospector.

Starting south from the northern tip of the lava with an army bag over each shoulder, the straps criss-crossed front and back, with the plant press a plastic bag for specimens, and a shovel, I was traveling far from light. The weight of the two army packs caused their coarsely woven straps to cut deeply.

Within the first couple of hours, I found two plant specimens not previously collected and saw three deer, one a large buck which stood quietly at attention until I had unharnessed my left shoulder to get out a camera, but escaped before it was possible to focus. As the day wore on, I was tempted several times to discard one army pack, but dared not since one held more than five hundred dollars worth of photographic equipment and the other contained all the vials for samples, without which the trip would have been to no purpose.

At other times it was possible for a while to slip the straps to a less tortuous position and walk with glorious freedom in the bright, crisp fall day. The blue contours of mountain tablelands against the skyline lifted the spirits, but appeared unimpressive on the ground glass plate of the camera. During the course of the day I passed marginal windmills, two deserted cabins, Duck Lake, herds of cattle and, opposite the crater, a good stand of Yucca elata. The trip yielded only five new plant species.

As darkness fell, I left the lava for a dusty marginal trail, the boots lagging heavily. A couple of hours later I reached Highway 390. The sheriff's deputy had offered to pick me up but not knowing when I should reach that point, I chose to hitch a ride. It was necessary to hide my hat and peculiar collecting paraphernalia in a bar ditch, however, before a car would stop. Next day, less heavily loaded, I collected along the Lower Willows Crossing, now fenced in as part of the MacDonal ranch. I carried a new kind of cactus for three miles on a shovel, having no appropriate container for such a specimen. The day's yield in terms of new plants was only four species. My conclusion from this entire November trip was that we had collected better than I realized on previous occasions.

Pockets of earth on the basalt surfaces and the deeper lava depressions were found to support at least forty plant families, including approximately one hundred and fifty different plant species. The grass family, represented by twenty-two species within the lava, and the sunflower family, represented by twenty-three, appear numerically most abundant as to the total number of species as well as to individual plants. Only twenty kinds of plants, including five grasses, are common to the malpais and the White Sands gypsum deposit which begins fifteen miles to the south. Eight species found by Lindsey to be characteristic of the Grants lava flow are also prominent in the Carrizozo malpais, but all occur throughout the State at altitudes between 4,000 and 7,000 feet.

A couple of years ago, Mrs. Snow, a lifelong resident of Carrizozo, began a one-woman campaign for establishment of a roadside park within the lava along Highway 390. With small contributions obtained locally, she has made two concrete picnic tables with benches. She has plans for enhancing the natural landscaping of a chosen site along the right of way against a backdrop of lava.

Several different times, members of the Ecological Society have been interested in having a part of the lava flow set aside as a national monument. As a habitat for living things, the malpais provide an extreme contrast to the nearby White Sands.

The lava bed represents the most recent volcanic activity in the United States. Extruded within the last one thousand years from a small cone toward the north end, it filled a narrow valley forty-four miles long and one-half to five miles wide to a maximum depth of seventy feet near the center.

The earliest local reference to the Carrizozo lava flow is the Indian legend concerning "a year of fire which filled the valley with flames and poisonous gases."

Today, interest grows in the lava flow as a scientific and scenic attraction.

Maxine Hays To Wed Earl Hammer at Ceremony in August

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde C. Hays announce the engagement of their daughter, Maxine Hays, to Earl E. Hammer of Salinas, Calif. Both young people are enrolled in Abilene Christian College, where Maxine is a sophomore and Earl a junior. Maxine is a member of Zeta Phi Economics Club and the New Mexico Club.

Both plan to finish college after their wedding in August.

Former Corona Boy High School Graduate

J. R. Mayhugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Mayhugh of Harper, Texas, is graduating this year from Harper High School. He was born near Corona in the Varney Community and attended Corona school until he and his folks moved to Texas four years ago.

He started his freshman year at Harper. J. R. was elected class favorite as a sophomore and filled the office of class treasurer as a junior. He has been a member of the PFA four years.

He served as manager of the football and basketball teams for the past three years. He plans to be a lawyer. His brother, Lonnie Lee, was recently mentioned in the Harper school news as one of the best typists in his class. The Mayhughs also have a daughter, Martha, Emma, who is a freshman.

Mrs. E. E. Pounds

Tom Pounds of Cedarvale received word Monday of the death of his mother, Mrs. E. E. Pounds. She died of a heart attack. Mr. Pounds and his son, Steve, and Gertrude Watson of Corona left Tuesday for Cold Water, Kansas, to attend funeral services held there Wednesday, May 4.

Steve came from State College Las Cruces to accompany his father on the trip. Mrs. Pounds remained home to take care of the ranch.

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY AGENT

Signs to locate the various farms and ranches will be sold by the Hondo 4-H Club. The signs will have the name and distance to the place on it. Prices are $1.50 for the sign, and 50 cents extra for installing it on a post. The proceeds from the signs will be used by the members to help pay their way to 4-H camp, June 10-13.

Although scattered freezes fruit in the Hondo Valley, the general prospect is for a good crop of apples and pears, as well as some peaches.

Growers should have applied a calyx spray and possibly a cover spray by now. Lead arsenate is the best insecticide for the calyx spray, with DDT or Malathion for the later spray. Some growers use sulphur in all sprays to help control mildew and retard mite build-up.

Fertilizer was put on part of the Elzy Perry, Sr. orchard as a demonstration plot. The results from this orchard will be compared with the results from the Pflingsten fertilizer test plot.

Last year the trees in the Pflingsten plot were affected by freezing; therefore, terminal growth was used to compare the plots. The best growth of 14 inches was recorded on the plot using 18 pounds of 16-20-0 fertilizer. The check plot recorded 7.5 inches average terminal growth. A severe woolly aphid infestation affected the plots using urea as a fertilizer.

At the Tom Knight ranch, we noticed some lice on the yearling cattle we were working. The lice would not have been noticed if we had not been clipping the sides of the calves. The lice eat the dead skin and hair and seldom cause much trouble. These lice, as well as other cattle insect pests, can be controlled by putting a 5% oil base insecticide on a scratcher as described in a recent extension circular. This publication, Stop Those Horn Flies, can be obtained at the County Agent's office in Carrizozo.

The veteran umpire was behind the plate in a ball game scene being photographed by Hollywood cameras for one of those baseball epics. The umpire's hand went up, and he yelled "Strike!" "Hey, you're not following the script," the director called out. "That was supposed to be a ball!" "Tut-tut the pitcher to follow the script," declared the old-time umpire. "I tell 'em as I see 'em."

PRISON HEARING
IRES REPUBLICANS
SANTA FE, May 4—Republican members of the state penitentiary board are plotting a revolt at the May meeting over reports that applicants for jobs have been required to produce Democratic endorsements. They contend that the prison merit system approved by the last legislature bans party endorsements. . . . Filo Sedillo, Valencia county Demo chairman, member of the party state executive committee, and chief clerk of Sen. Dennis Chavez's Public Works committee was cussing mad about being unable to see Gov. John Simms during a recent official visit here in behalf of the Senate committee. . . . The Chavistas already thought the young governor was plotting to unseat the old senator in 1958, are practically sure of it now.

The Santa Fe Democratic central committee has voted to ask Taos and San Miguel to join in a united appeal for more Spanish American representation in the better jobs at the statehouse. (More and Rio Arriba were not asked to come in because their chairmen, Larry Garcia and Emeliano Naranjo, already have good posts in the statehouse.) . . . There was talk of the appointment of Charlie Horne state purchasing agent at $800 a month. The highway employe was unknown in political circles and had no special background for the post. He has lived 23 years in Santa Fe but is registered as an Artesia voter, Democrat of course. Horne was sponsored by Mayor Paul Huse of Santa Fe, state Democratic treasurer.

WALKER HOLDS
ASSESSORS' CHECKS
Land Commissioner Johnny Walker is holding a detailed list of more than $27 million dollars worth of improvements on state land that might be a jackpot for tax assessors. The improvements were found in the land offices two-year inventory of state land after only about one-third of that amount had been reported to the office. Many state land owners, a spokesman for the department said, had been reluctant to report the improve-consent . . . Paul Woofler of Soconsent . . . Paul Woofler of Socorro is among top prospects for appointment to the enlarged (from 3 to 5 members) racing commission. . . . State school people breathed a little easier after sales tax collections for April showed a 10 per cent jump over the month a year ago. The first four months show an advance of 3.7 per cent over the period in 1954, an encouraging advance but still considerably short of the 10 per cent annual increase in school costs. . . . Murray Hintz, the cost whacking director of the welfare department, closed the department's microfilming section the other day and made jobless a blind man, another paralyzed from the waist down, and a third with a withered arm. . . . The demand for an early special session of the legislature to deal with the welfare money problem has cooled, and sentiment now seems to favor a mid-summer meeting. . . . Special election voters next September will be offered two amendments (Nos. 4 and 5) that provide for the same thing in one-board control over the state hospitals and correctional institutions. . . . Governor Simms and Congressman John J. Dempsey are in a row over Simms' plan to keep row over Simms' plan to keep horses on the new executive residence grounds and the stables he is building at his own expense for their comfort. Dempsey, president of Santa Fe Estates which transferred the land for the executive residence contends that it is restricted to the shelter of governor's only and not their horses.

JOB SLAYING MISSES CASTNER

Former Auditor Bob Castner has been walking four months for a job from the new administration and is about ready to blow his top. . . . Manuel Armijo, presently assistant veterans service director, is slated to get the top job at the first meeting of the new commission. . . . It pays $7000. . . . J. B. Contreras, Gallup Republican who has been held over as director of the sales tax commission is to be replaced at mid-month.
