

RAMBLIN' AROUND

By PAUL BAKER

A very good piece of news was received this week via Fred English. He has heard from Dr. A. L. Sadowski that he is returning to Carrizozo to establish a dental office, having passed the recent state board examination. Dr. and Mrs. Sadowski and son have been in the East for several weeks. They are expected to arrive the first part of next week.

Confronted with the mounting cost of maintenance on the old county courthouse and the necessity for another remodeling job, the Lincoln County Commissioners are giving consideration to building a new courthouse.

It would be an addition to the present courthouse annex and sufficient in size to accommodate all offices now using the old courthouse, including the judicial chamber and jury rooms. The County Commissioners are confronted with two problems. Number one is that District Judge W. T. Scoggin has informed them that the County, to comply with the law, must provide quarters separate from the jail for the detention of minors. The only available space for these quarters are two rooms south of the courtroom on the upper floor. An expensive remodeling job will be necessary to convert these rooms into suitable quarters, with entrance off the courtroom or a separate stairway.

Number two is that the county is faced with the expenditure of approximately $10,000 for maintenance of the old building—$2500 for replacing windows and casements and around $7500 for stuccoing the exterior.

The courthouse, built in 1913, is nearing the end of the trail, and the commissioners, rather than continue to spend money on the old structure, are asking the people of the county to give serious consideration to putting up a new building.

An informal meeting was held at the courtroom Tuesday afternoon of this week, at which the problems mentioned above were discussed. All three county commissioners were present, District Judge Scoggin, District Attorney C. C. Chase, county officials, and several citizens. The commissioners announced that at their meeting this Thursday they would appoint a representative committee from all sections of the county to study the need, advisability and cost of replacing the old courthouse.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Harris and Jerry Lynn write from Durant, Okla., that they have enjoyed reading the News sent to them this summer, adding, "We will be returning to Carrizozo about the middle of August." . . . It is good to see Coach Duane Darling back in Lincoln County after a summer of college work at Silver City. Coach Darling will be in Albuquerque next week in the capacity of assistant coach of the South football squad which meets the North in a high school football classic Saturday on Zimmerman field. Asked how Captain's football team will shape up this year, Coach Darling said his squad would be small this year, as last. "But we'll have 11 men on the field," he said, which could mean, barring injuries, that the Tigers will have another good year. Basketball prospects are bright again in the Tigers. Tularosa will not be a district competitor this year, having moved up to Class B. . . . Roy Harman asked us the other day why we didn't tell all former Lincoln countians how pretty and green our hills are after the recent rains, and urge them to come now for a visit. It's a good suggestion. How about taking that trip, our way, now? . . . An action picture by Blakely, taken at Sunday's Kids' Rodeo in Capitlan, along with the list of winners, will be printed in next week's issue of the News. . . . Deputy Sheriff Albert Vega asks the News to express his thanks for the many kindnesses shown him while he was in the hospital.

Stage Set for Lincoln Pageant This Week End

SAN JUAN EVE FESTIVAL NEW FEATURE OF PAGEANT

Singing hymns, and led by candle bearers, a procession will wend its way across the pageant scene in Lincoln this week end. It will be the opening scene of the pageant. Members of St. John's Chapel in Lincoln will participate in the procession—the San Juan Eve Festival. A church set on the pageant grounds is complete with bells. Fernan Montes and Mrs. Montes are directing the procession and the fiesta scenes which follow.

ENCHILADA SUPPER TO BE SERVED SATURDAY NIGHT

Ladies of the Catholic Church in Lincoln will serve an enchilada supper Saturday night at the Lincoln School House. Pageant visitors and residents of Lincoln are invited to eat there from 5 o'clock until 7:30, August 6.

DISPLAY OF PHOTOGRAPHS OF OLD TIMERS

A display of photographs of old timers is being prepared by John Beylan, curator of the Old Lincoln County Courthouse Museum, and is to be a special exhibit at the Museum on Old Timers Day, August 7. The photographs are from the Museum's own collection begun by former Governor Curry when he was State Historian in residence of the Courthouse. They will be of particular interest to old timers from all Southeast New Mexico.

By DAN STORM

"A Day in Old Lincoln" to be held Sunday, Aug. 7, holds more than common interest for residents of Southeastern New Mexico because in the old days Lincoln County included Chaves, Roosevelt, Lea, Otero, Eddy and Curry Counties.

The hill country and the Pecos Valley have always been one big neighborhood after all. The historical pageant depicting early days in Old Lincoln County "The Last Escape of Billy the Kid," has grown in popularity year by year so that it has become necessary to give the performance two nights of August 6 and 7. Additional seating capacity has been constructed by Red Ramsey, Edward Penfield, St. Salas, and other residents of Lincoln. Nearly 300 residents from all parts of Lincoln County join to gather every year, working to make the historical pageant and the Day in Old Lincoln a little better. The purpose of the whole thing is to honor the pioneers of the Old West, to have an annual gathering for the residents of far-flung Lincoln County, and to extend a welcome to people near and far to come to Lincoln for a day or two of friendship and good times. Johnny Thomas of San Patricia, an apple grower and rancher, plays the part of Billy the Kid.

FIESTA DANCERS

The Fiesta Dancers under the direction of Roman Nunez and Fred McRelgus form a picturesque touch of the pioneer atmosphere. Bill Shrecroft, formerly of Roswell, plays the part of the voice of Billy the Kid. The scenes of the pageant, all turning points in the life story of Billy the Kid, are: Fiesta scene, Death of Tunnish, the McQueens come to Lincoln, the killing of Sheriff Brady, end of the trail for Buckshot Roberts, the Three Day Battle. Gov. Wallace comes to see the Kid, bringing in the Kid, the Kid and Bell and the Last Escape of the Kid.

The Day in Old Lincoln and the historical pageant are sponsored by the Lincoln County Historical Society which was founded in order to keep alive the colorful days of the early Southwest.

Wilbur E. Coe, Glencoe, president of the Lincoln County Historical Society, is the son of the late Frank Coe who figured prominently in the scenes depicted in background music for the pageant and is master of ceremonies of the afternoon program of "A Day in Old Lincoln." Residents of all the surrounding neighborhoods are cordially invited to a Day in Old Lincoln.

Deputy Sheriff Knifed At Dance in Corona

Deputy Sheriff Albert Vega was back in the Sheriff's office Thursday morning after four days in the Carrizozo Hospital. He received a knife wound in his left side while attempting to break up a fight Saturday night at a dance in Corona.

Four men from Forales, N. M., charged with participation in the affray, were given a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Clarence Shaw and were bound over to district court under $5000 joint bond.

A pocket knife which Sheriff Wm. G. Bradley said was taken from the person of Joe T. Flores has been sent to the Federal laboratories in Washington to determine if a stain on the knife is blood.

Legislators Asked For Views on Welfare Legislation

Stating "It is my present intention to convene the legislature some time during the next two months," Gov. John Simms on July 20 mailed questionnaires to members of the state legislature, asking their advice on several proposals to raise money for the Department of Public Welfare.

"I earnestly request your advice in order that we may discover areas of mutual agreement, if such areas exist," the governor's letter stated in part.

Stating that the present reduced payments as of July 15, 1955, could be continued indefinitely with no new revenue, it was pointed out that "statistical studies compiled by the Welfare Department indicate that $2,500,000 per year of new revenue must be found if the legislature desires to restore payments to the March 31 level."

The governor's letter then outlined a number of new and additional taxes which would provide funds.

Rep. S. M. (Bally) Ortiz this week made public the letter he has received from the governor's office; also his reply, mailed August 1, 1955. It follows:

POSITION OUTLINED

The Hon. John P. Simms, Santa Fe, New Mexico. Dear Governor Simms:

"I believe that the legislature should appropriate additional funds for the Welfare Department. I favor raising additional funds by taxation, but oppose suggested tax increases on parimutuel betting and upon personal incomes for the reason that I believe both sources have been hit as hard as they should be. I do favor an increase in taxes on beer, both in kegs and bottled and also favor an increase in the severance tax on uranium."

"I am not in favor of a lien law, at least in the form submitted to the last legislature. I am not in favor of a relative responsibility law."

"I would be glad to consider any other safeguards proposed. I believe that Welfare payments should be returned to the March 31, 1955 level immediately and suggest the Department use all or part of the $620,000.00 voted by the last legislature for that purpose."

"It does not appear to me that legislators should be requested to leave their businesses and incur the expense of several days in Santa Fe, without any reimbursement." (The last paragraph was in answer to a question in the governor's letter: "Would you be willing to waive per diem and mileage to attend a special session, with the understanding that the session in all probability will last no longer than two or three calendar days?")

SEN. J. G. MOORE OPPOSES NEW TAX LEGIS NOW

Sen. J. G. Moore told the News this week he has written Gov. Simms his opinion that a special session of the legislature is needed to appropriate money to put the assistance program back to its former level.

This can be done, he said, by an appropriation from the general fund, which exceeds $3 million dollars.

Sen. Moore wrote that he does not believe it will be necessary to consider additional taxes until the legislature meets in 1957. He expressed his opposition to a suggested income tax levy, a lien law and a relative responsibility law. And, he added, "If I got paid for it."

ACTORS IN PAGEANT "THE LAST ESCAPE OF BILLY THE KID"—Among scores of men and women reenacting stirring scenes of the Lincoln County War are those pictured above: St. Salas as Sheriff Brady; Cecil Harlan as Deputy Hindman; Earl Simmons as Dick Brower; Roman Maes; Deputy Matthews and Barney Aldaz, Bob Ollinger.

Sheep Demonstration At County Ranches

The Downing Ranch north of Capitlan is to be the starting point August 18 for a demonstration on ram lamb selection, as well as several other aspects of interest to sheep men.

Ivan Watson will start the program at 10 o'clock in the morning by selecting ram lambs out of a herd of the Downing sheeps.

An exhibit of the ram lambs selected last year at the Clyde Harley ranch will be on hand for the group to see.

From the Downing ranch the group will go to the 9th ranch for the noon meal and afternoon program, County Agent Ralph Dunlap said this week.

J. E. Stauder will give the group information on the wool incentive price, as well as hold a discussion on the use of sheep jackets.

At the 9th ranch Ivan Watson will give pointers on selecting ewes to be used in raising ram lambs.

Charles Jones and Edd Downing will be in charge of arrangements for the demonstration.

Clean-up Day at Angus Cemetery August 13

By DOROTHY GUCK

The annual Angus Cemetery clean-up day will be held the second Saturday of August, on the 13th. Many Lincoln County pioneers are buried in the peaceful little graveyard among the pines in Angus, and their children and grandchildren are keeping their place of rest a memorial grounds of natural beauty.

Once each year, residents of Lincoln County gather at the little Angus schoolhouse with picnic lunches and working tools and togs. Some years they repaint the schoolhouse, or build new benches. Some years they mend the cemetery fence, and other years they just hop a few weeds and visit.

If you can spend the day at Angus, fine; if not, and you care to help with the upkeep of the graveyard and school, send a donation to Mrs. Henry Peebles, Nogal.

Official Describes FHA's Role in Building Homes

The role of FHA in assisting home builders in New Mexico was explained Tuesday night in Carrizozo by Libburn C. Homan of Albuquerque, State director for the Federal Housing Administration. His talk was before a small but interested number of members of the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Homan was introduced by Bob Gibson, C. of C. vice-president.

FHA does not compete with private enterprise, Mr. Homan said at the beginning of his talk. In all cases loans for home construction are locally financed whenever possible. When financing cannot be secured on approved homes, a Federal agency in Dallas—the Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Committee—is frequently of assistance in contacting available capital.

Mr. Homan said that the FHA is also insuring existing housing if it meets certain requirements. FHA, during its many years of operation, has had a remarkable record. The average loss to the agency, nationwide, has been 3/100 of 1%. In New Mexico only three FHA homes have defaulted in 20 years, Mr. Homan said.

To qualify for FHA insurance, homes must meet a number of requirements and they must be designed to last for fifty years. Neighborhood, lot size and location, zoning and accessibility must meet standards set up by FHA. The insurance runs from 20 to 30 years.

"If you are planning to make an application for an FHA commitment," Mr. Homan said, "consult our office first and bring a sketch of your proposed home and location. It may save you considerable time and expense."

State Signbord Act Needs Amending, in Opinion of Judge

A section of the New Mexico signboard act of 1953 is unconstitutional, District Judge W. T. Scoggin stated in an opinion given Tuesday in district court in Carrizozo. His statement regarding the act was part of a ruling in the case of the State of New Mexico vs. Bill Brem.

The case was an appeal from the State of a dismissal in justice of the peace court in Green Tree wherein Mr. Brem was cited for maintaining an illegal highway sign without purchasing and displaying a permit tag.

The State sought to establish through Attorney Richard Van Heuben of the State Highway Department, that the sign was illegally situated. The defense claimed otherwise.

The part of the act which, in the opinion of Judge Scoggin, is unconstitutional, is that which assesses an annual fee varying with the size of the sign. That stipulation, the judge stated, is designed to raise revenue and does not come within the scope of "police powers" as defined in the act.

Both attorneys for the defense and for the State spent some time arguing whether or not the sign erected by Mr. Brem constituted a traffic hazard and whether the signboard act goes beyond the normal police powers of a state.

Judge Scoggin ruled that the act does come within the state's police powers, in as much as it is safety highway legislation and that signboards require some regulation.

He further ruled that the sign in question was not a hazard and recommended that the Highway Department grant Mr. Brem a license upon being presented with a proper application and payment of $5 fee.

Judge Scoggin commented that the signboard act does not set up standards and that it should be amended by legislation.

As now set up the act assesses a $5 fee with application to erect a highway signboard to defray the cost of investigation. An annual fee is then assessed, based on the size of the sign: 50 cents if the advertising area does not exceed 50 sq. ft.; $1 if such area exceeds 50 sq. ft., but does not exceed 100 sq. ft.; $2 if such area exceeds 100 sq. ft.

Mr. Brem was represented by attorneys G. T. Watts and Geo. L. Zimmerman.

Ground Observer Corps Is Being Formed in Corona

By MRS. A. E. MULKEY

The Corona Volunteer Fire Department is sponsoring a ground Observer Post in Corona.

Have you ever heard of the Ground Observer Corps? I had, so I started asking questions around town, and I found out that we have a local citizen who has been appointed Post Supervisor of the Local Ground Observer Corps Observation Post.

Phillip E. Wilson, sixth grade teacher of Corona school, was appointed Post Supervisor at a meeting held July 11, 1955, in Corona. The Volunteer Fire Department is sponsoring the Ground Observer Post in Corona. Interviewing Mr. Wilson, I asked him if there was an actual threat of invasion. Mr. Wilson informed me that there will always be a threat as long as an aggressor nation has long range bombers that can reach anywhere in the world.

In the event of World War III, we must assume that the enemy will strike first with all they have. The enemy will try to knock us out in a single blow. If we are to survive, prevent a surprise atom attack, we must have warning. To have warning we must have Observation Posts such as the one being organized at the present time in Corona.

I then asked Mr. Wilson, "What about our present warning system?" Mr. Wilson said, "Today our warning system consists of two factors—radar and civilian spotters in the Ground Observers Corps."

He further explained "Radar, an electronic device, is in operation 24 hours a day, but there are dangerous, unavoidable gaps in our present system through which low flying enemy aircraft could sneak undetected. That is what our job here at the Observation Post in Corona is. The volunteer civilian plane spotter can fill the gaps in our radar network, but there are too few of them at the present time to do the job adequately.

"The thousands of patriotic citizens now in the Ground Observers Corps need and deserve (Continued on Back Page)

INCOME TAX DEAD SESSION TOO, MAYBE

SANTA FE, Aug. 3—Here's a run-down on that special session of the legislature which the governor said he planned to call some time before Sept. 20 to dig up dough for the welfare department.

A big increase in the state income tax proposed by the governor looks like its dead. Neither legislators nor the people are going for it.

Alternate opinion is developing along three lines:

1.—Raise relief payments to what they were before the first of April, no higher, provide the money from the $3 million surplus in the general bank account, and pass stiff laws for relative responsibility and for recovery of money advanced from the estates of relief clients.

2.—Tax liquor, cigarets and horse race betting for the amount needed.

3.—Do nothing at all.

MOST EVERYBODY HAS A SCHEME

A lot of other ideas are floating around the edge: Republican, Sen. Ray Chavez of Guadalupe would legalize gambling; Bill Neills of Los Alamos, a member of the EDC, would have a payroll tax; Rep. Anderson Carter of Portales would set up a withholding law for collecting the present income tax as practiced by the federal government and let it go at that; several members think the whole thing could be settled by a tough purge of the undeserving from the relief lists.

Republican Ed Hartman, the comptroller under Gov. Ed Mechem, confounded the situation with his letter to legislators and newspapers proposing to solve the welfare problem by cutting the greatly increased appropriations to other agencies and giving the saving to the welfare program.

It's as sound as anything that has been proposed but the 85 per cent Democratic legislature is not to let itself be led out of the wilderness by a deposed Republican.

COULD PASS UP THE WHOLE THING

The confusion and lack of agreement has developed to the point that there is an outside possibility that there might not be any special session. Already it is obvious that the special meeting cannot be held and the welfare subject disposed of without serious political backfire from one quarter or another.

If it should develop that the political trouble would be less by skipping the session than by calling it there won't be any special session. That, however, would be an extreme and unlikely to come about. And if it should it would mean that the Dem-

ment. William Jennings Bryan, who walked down "La Via de los Estados," said: "If we had not seen the New Mexico Building I would have felt that my visit to the Exposition was not complete."

Clarence Spence sold his wool clip of around 80,000 lbs. to the Ifeld Company.

Pieris Perry of Glencoe reports the well sunk for Messrs. Maxwell and Lahonn afforded an abundance of good water at 704 feet.

Rev. O. H. Hullinger has been called as pastor of Carrizozo Baptist Church.

crats were in for trouble next year. Only one easy way out has been offered. Rep. Fred Cole of Artesia would take care of the situation by appropriating a million dollars worth of the wooden nickels now being used in Artesia to celebrate its 50th anniversary.

BANKING TERMS DEFINED

"Household Equipment Loans" are loans we make to finance the purchase of washing machines, refrigerators, stoves, and many other kinds of equipment to lighten household chores. If you can use new equipment, a low-cost loan from us can help you to get it now, and pay for it, conveniently, LATER.

WE PAY YOU "RENT" for the use of the money deposited in your savings account with us — in the form of compound interest. Your balance draws interest even on the interest which your dollars earn for you — and that helps build your savings!

VILLA'S STOP IN DEMING

It was a summer morning in 1914. Pancho Villa, wearing a blue serge suit and a ten-gallon hat, was standing on the steps of a Pullman car in Deming and making a speech.

Among the crowd listening to Villa, just before his train moved westward out of Deming, was John Walter Clark. Forty-one years has passed, but Clark has never forgotten the magnetism of the Mexican revolutionary, bandit, or Robin Hood. Clark stood about 15 feet from Villa.

"I couldn't understand what he was saying in Spanish, but I felt he had the power of drawing people to him," Clark said. "I can still see him standing on the steps of the car. He was a plain-looking sort of fellow, but he had personality and he drew you to him."

Villa talked for about five minutes. There were no gestures, no oratory. There was a sureness in the man's way of speaking. Clark felt Villa was certain of what he was saying.

The stop of Villa's train in Deming was not publicized in advance. The first Clark knew of it was when he saw Mexican officers in uniform in uptown Deming. He remembers someone saying, "There's Raul Madero." He was the son of Francisco Madero, one-time president of Mexico.

Clark hurried to the station, where quite a crowd of Anglos and Spanish-Americans had gathered.

Villa, his officers and troops stopped in Deming for breakfast in the Harvey House at the railroad station.

At the time Villa stopped in Deming he was in control of Juarez. The United States government permitted his passage through El Paso, New Mexico and part of Arizona to the State of Sonora, Mexico, where the Mexican leader was to attend a conference. The trip through American territory by train was much easier than an overland journey from Juarez to the Sonora conference place.

The Villa party traveled in a special train of a dozen or more cars. There were two or three flat cars loaded with French and Italian automobiles, cattle cars with horses, boxcars with supplies, two or three chair cars for the troops, and about the same number of Pullman cars for Villa and his officers. The party was also accompanied by a band which played a few numbers for the Deming people.

By SWEET STRALEY

Over the week end Jo Ann, Pete Cope, and Esther Straley and Willis Kilpatrick of Corona were contestants in the Captain A.J.L.A. Rodeo. Cope won first in the steer riding of the 13 to 15 age group on Saturday, third Sunday, and first in the finals. Jo Ann won third in the barrel race of the 16 to 18 age group, first Sunday and second in the finals.

Esther won second Saturday in 16 to 18 age group, third Sunday and third in the finals.

Pete and Willis had hard luck in roping their calves.

Tommy Knight, Cope, Rookie, and Pete Straley and Willis Kilpatrick camped out Saturday night. They attended the rodeo dance in Capitan. Jo Ann and Esther and Katie Snodgrass, also attended the dance.

Those attending the rodeo performances from Ancho were June and Tommy J. Straley and Sam Richardson, and those of the Geological Survey group were Pete Zubovic, Dr. Richard Scott Al Honka, Leonard Tolozko and Bill Matheny.

Tall, attractive Katie Snodgrass came up from El Paso with Jo Ann Straley for the rodeo at Capitan.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Taylor of Denver City, Texas, spent last week end in Alcarilla with Mr. Taylor's brother, Ben Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and Ben made a trip to Corona last Saturday.

B. W. Wilson accompanied con Charlie on a trip to Colorado and Kansas last week.

Word has been received by railroad channels, that Edwin Williams has been promoted to chief division engineer on the Southern Pacific Rio Grande Division. Ed spent part of his boyhood in Ancho and was a popular student in school. Ancho's congratulations to you, Ed.

Mrs. Paul Wilson and her mother, Mrs. Foster, of Carrizozo, were guests of Mrs. George Straley last Friday.

The Clark is the new third truck operator at the Ancho depot. Jim Brownlee and Ralph Aragon are the new men working on the section. Jim is from Tucumcari and is a student foreman.

Jerry Delaney and small daughter Linda of El Paso were up for a few days. Jerry is now employed by the American Airlines in El Paso. The Straleys and Knights also has as their guests for the week end Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stevenson and young son, Scott, of Las Cruces.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Straley arrived Sunday from California. Lee is on two-weeks' furlough. He doesn't know yet where he will be permanently stationed. Lee and Dorothy went on to Carrizozo to visit Dorothy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lindsay were in El Paso for the week end. Mrs. Lindsay stayed in El Paso for a few days longer to visit her daughter before she leaves for New York.

Bill Matheny of the Geological Survey group left Monday for Virginia to have some dental work done.

Mrs. Ivy Pope has gone to Carlsbad for a few days this week.

Cooper Hightower of Tucumcari was by to visit Jimmie and Jackie for a little while last week.

INSIDE CAPITAL

been in the middle of a fight going on within the department. One of the subjects in dispute concerned the Alamogordo's captain's jurisdiction in Ruidoso. For some reason or other state police like that Ruidoso beat... State Patrolman A. J. Munsey of Portales must have felt let down when the state police commission admitted that he had been assigned for a month to guard Racing Secretary Ray Lewis at the Ruidoso track. Only a day earlier Munsey had firmly and repeatedly denied that he was looking after the racing official... Members of the new police board expressed surprise at their July meeting about some of their favored applicants for jobs on the force not being in the priority list and decided to take a hand themselves in hiring the help, a function not usually undertaken by board... The new board did its best to keep under cover the Taffoy transfer and the relieving of Capt. Archie White from his command of the Albuquerque district... The operation of one new board is edging toward the same kind of administration that preceded the near collapse of the whole police operation in 1950. Disappointment and resentment is running high about the loss in the House of Representatives of the big road building program and the projects on the San Juan river which held forth big benefits not only for San Juan county but the Espanola, Albuquerque, Belen, Socorro and (ugh) Truth or Consequences areas. Unless there is a quick turn about in Congress next year, before the early March primary filing, Reps. Tony Fernandez and Jack Dempsey might draw serious opposition for renomination.

HAVE NOT COUNTIES TO HAVE LESS

People of the have-not counties are taking another look at that proposal to change the membership of the state house from 55 to 64 members and juggle the allocation to the counties. It is one of the amendments that comes up in the September special election.

Twelve counties which at first glance are unchanged because they would have the same number of members in the new house are in reality faced with a 20 per cent reduction because of the 20 per cent increase in the total number in the chamber. They are Valencia, Colfax, Union, Harding, Luna, Sierra, Quay, Curry, Hidalgo, Chaves, Taos and Catron. Even further reduced are Socorro from 1 1/2 to 1 member, San Miguel from 3 1/2 to 3, Mora from 2 to 1, Sandoval from 1 1/2 to 1, Torrance from 1 1/2 to 1, Guadalupe from 1 1/2 to 1, Lincoln from 1 1/2 to 1. Gainers in the proposal would be Albuquerque from 6 to 9 members, Santa Fe from 2 1/2 to 3, McKinley from 2 to 3, Otero from 1 1/2 to 2, Escondido from 2 to 3, Roosevelt from one-half a representative to 2, DeBaca from one-half to one, Grant from 1 to 2, San Juan 1 to 3, Los Alamos from one-fourth to one, Lea from 2 to 3.

The proposed change hits the so-called Spanish American counties reducing the 11 of heavy Spanish-American population from 35 per cent of the membership to 26 per cent. Rio Arriba stays even, going from 2 1/2 members to 3 which exactly adjusts the county's representation in the enlarged chamber.

STATE GAME DEPARTMENT NEWSLETTER

SPECIAL HUNT APPLICATIONS
Application blanks for special hunts are promised for July 27 delivery at headquarters of the Department of Game and Fish. Immediately on arrival they will be distributed to license vendors, conservation officers and the Albuquerque office.

All applications must be in the Santa Fe office by 10 a.m. August 29, with fee enclosed. Fee will be returned to unsuccessful applicants after the drawings.

FOUR LITTLE ORPHAN
A soft-hearted Albuquerque lady has applied to the Department of Game and Fish for a permit to keep an abandoned young raccoon. The staff member who issued the permit remarks, "The lady doesn't know just how abandoned a raccoon can get! Wait till it starts taking things out of her pocket-book."

HIGH MOUNTAIN WATERS ALL PLANTED
Fish planting of high mountain lakes and streams by plane and pack animal is almost completed for this year, according to Roy Barker, Chief of Fish Management for the Department of Game and Fish. The following lakes and streams have been stocked since July 1: Lakes Hazel, Encantada, Spirit, Baldy, Johnson, Ruth, Alice, Pioneer, Lucero, Horseshoe, Lost Stewart, Katherine, Morphy, Williams, and Middle Fork Lake of Rio La Caca; Abiquiu, Polvadera, Bear, Beaver and Latir Creeks; West Fork of Gila; Rio Padre, Chilmayoses, Pecos (Beatty's to Falls), Mora-Pecos (below flats), Panchuela (upper), Brazos Meadows, Rio En Medio, Rio Del Medio, Hollinger, Capullin, Panchuela West, Nambu and Frijoles. These plantings total 406,570 trout fry, 210,270 New Mexican cutthroats and 196,300 rainbows.

New teachers in Corona school this year will be Mrs. Ellen Wyatt from Bowie, Texas; Gerald Stewart from Ada, Okla., and Robert Cook from Northampton, Mass. All other teachers were here last year.

Most of the Corona School bus drivers and their wives are attending the Bus Drivers' Rodeo at Silver City this week.

Mrs. Howard Surratt entertained in her ranch home, Friday, July 29, with a bridge and Somba party. She was assisted by her house guest, Mrs. Nellie Kelly from Carrizozo. Guests were Meses Lucille Turner, Carolyn Bates, Geraldine Perkins, Zelfa Atkinson, Francis Lovelace, Pallie Dishman, Edna Lovelace, Ada Hester, and the Misses Joanne and Helen Kay Atkinson. The bridge prize for high score was won by Mrs. Perkins. Mrs. Francis Lovelace won high score prize in Somba. Lovely refreshments were served by Mrs. Surratt and Mrs. Kelly.

Miss Beulah Brown has been visiting her grandmother in Roswell.

Vacation Bible School Opens Next Week

The Corona Presbyterian Church will hold Vacation Bible School next week, August 8 through the 12th. Morning classes will be from 8:30 to 11:30. All boys and girls from 4 years up are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bryan of Albuquerque were home visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bryan, last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Parker and son, Jimmy, of Albuquerque were here visiting his mother, Mrs. Alex Jenkins, Sunday. Jimmy is home on furlough from the Navy. He is stationed at Long Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Clive Jolly of Albuquerque were also guests in the Alex Jenkins home last week end.

Miss Wanda Thomson has returned from a visit with relatives in Waco, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McKibben left Wednesday of his week for El Paso where they will stay for an indefinite period with their daughter, Mrs. Jewel Jones. Mrs. McKibben recently suffered a partial paralysis of her right side, and has been told by her doctor that the lower climate at El Paso might benefit her health.

Vernon Jones is back home with his grandmother, Mrs. Stella Jones, after spending the summer with his father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, in Albuquerque.

J. E. Sheffield, son of Mrs. R. L. Sheffield, has been here from Oregon the past three weeks, visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Yandell and daughters, Jo Evelyn and Carolyn, left Sunday on a vacation trip to Cheyenne, Wyo.

Youthful Riders Win Places in Rodeos

Louie Erramouse and Jimmie Strickland attended rodeos at Earth, Texas and also at Claud, Texas, last week. Louie won second in bull riding and Jimmie won third in bronc riding at Earth, Texas. At Claud Rodeo Louie won second in bareback riding, and both Louie and Jimmie won second in the wild horse riding contest. Louie's younger brother, Johnnie won second in bull riding at Capitan at the kids rodeo last week end.

T/Sgt. McKinley Evans Jr. and Sgt. Reilly of the U. S. Air Force Ground Observer Squadron from Albuquerque called on Phillip Wilson last week in the interest of the Ground Observer Corps being organized in Corona. Phillip Wilson is Corona's Post Supervisor.

Old Courthouse Visited By Record Number

Attendance at the Old Lincoln County Courthouse Museum in Lincoln reached a new high during the month of July. It was reported this week by John Boylan, curator of the Museum.

"Visitors numbering 4071 have kept the staff at the Old Courthouse busy," Mr. Boylan said, "and we are now preparing to handle an estimated crowd of 7000 during August."

Total number of visitors for the year is recorded at 12,146, and shows an increase of 3000 over the same period last year.

"For Old Timers' Day August 7 we will use a mechanical counting device," Boylan says, "rather than attempt to register the estimated 2000 people who will go through the building in that one day."

A register book has been used in the past, but will be used only to record the signatures of old timers this year. With the current trend in attendance showing such an overwhelming increase, he believes that the "counter" may be used throughout the summer season.

Capitan Area Not to Be Sprayed for Hoppers

County Agent Ralph Dunlap has been informed by George M. Fulkerson, state supervisor of grasshopper control in New Mexico, that the area near Capitan will not be sprayed this year.

After a survey of the area, Mr. Fulkerson said he found the hoppers were getting ready to lay eggs. If a control is tried after the eggs are laid, there is little to no reduction of hoppers the next year, as next year's "crop" is already planted.

Hoppers are reported all over the West and Midwest, as well as Canada. Their eggs are very hardy and can withstand extremely low temperatures.

OBSERVER CORPS

Everyone's help in the defense of our country. With one telephone call, one spotter could start the warning that might save a city. You could be the one to make that call.

How could one call do any good, Mr. Wilson was asked. His reply was: "I will give some examples of what one call could do. One call from a civilian plane spotter could sound the alarm that would give our interceptor pilots in Air Defense Command more time to challenge the invaders in the sky before they reach their targets."

"One call could alert the Army anti-aircraft batteries in time to swing into action. One call might save our long-range bombers in the Strategic Air Command from possible destruction on the ground—give them a chance to strike back at the enemy in his own territory."

"One call could give the local Civil Defense organizations more time to sound the air raid warning. You could make that one all-important call as a Civilian Spotter if the enemy bombers ever come."

"We need at least 25 plane spotters to man the post here in Corona. Of course, the more spotters we have the shorter hours each person will have to work if the post goes on a 24 hour alert basis. A spotter works a two hour shift, and if we have only 24 spotters that will mean each spotter will have a shift every other day."

"If we have 84 spotters signed up that would mean that a volunteer would work only two hours a week. At the present time the Ground Observer Corps in this State are on a standby basis which means that only in case of an alert will the civilians be called out."

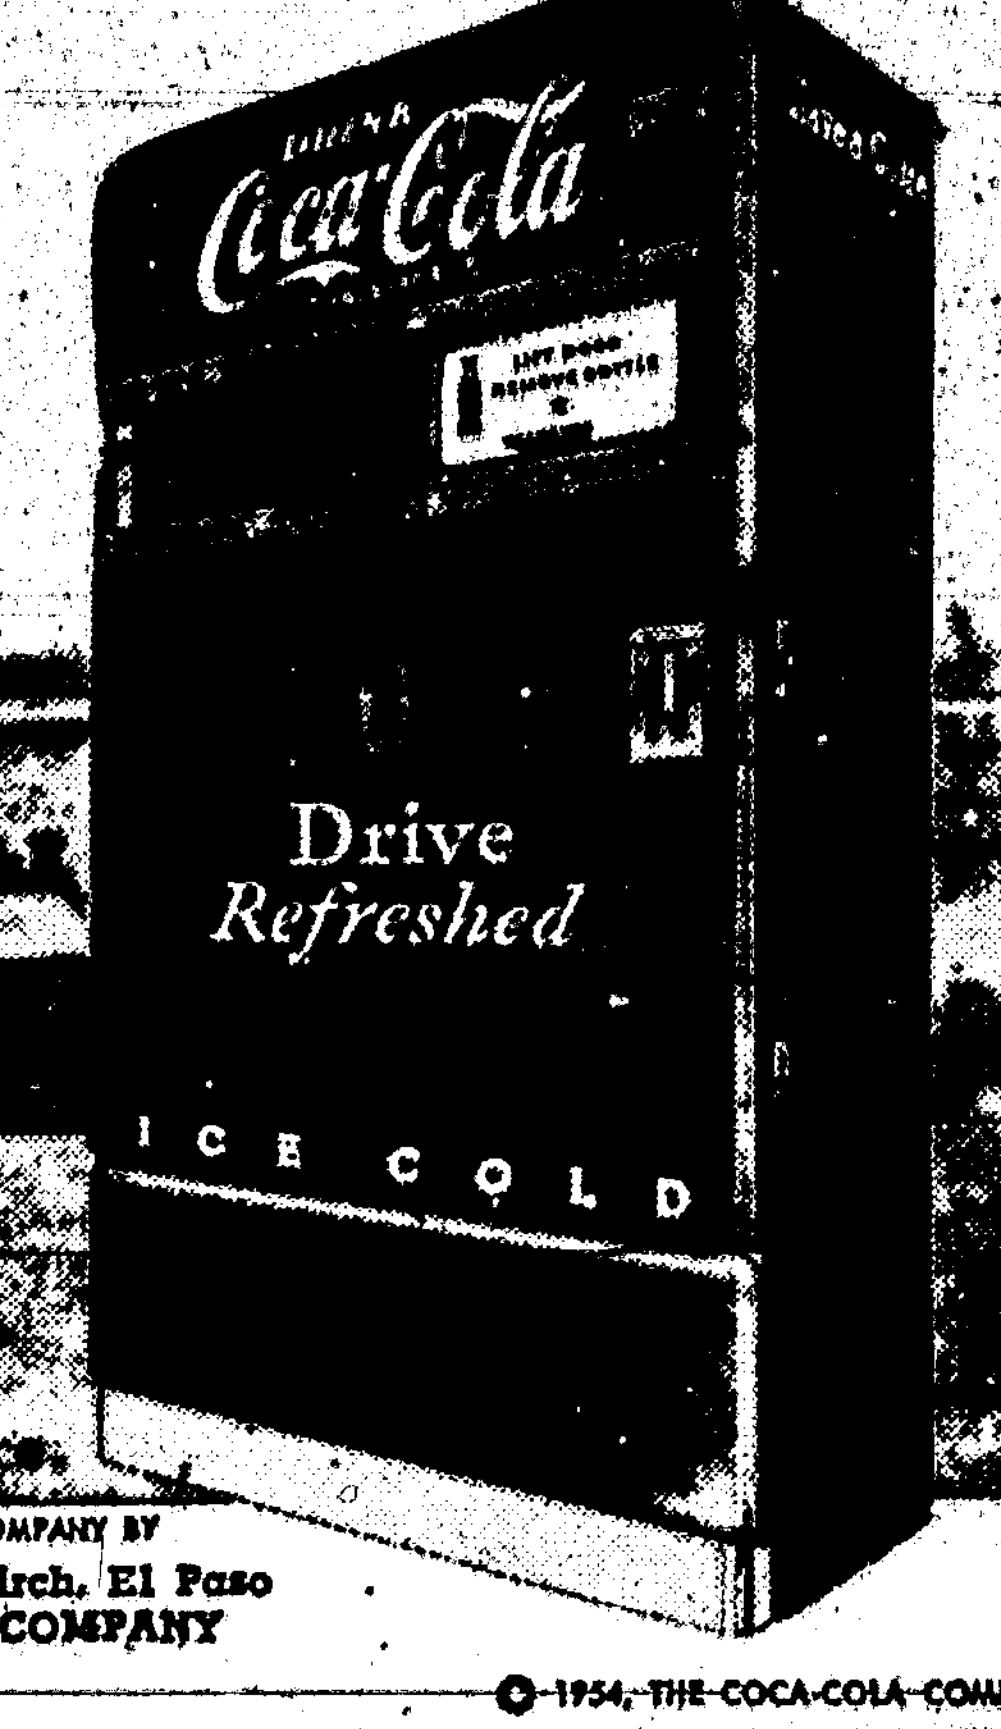

In answer to a query if learning to be a plane spotter is difficult, Mr. Wilson answered: "No. You don't have to be an expert at identifying airplanes to become a useful Civilian Plane Spotter. Any intelligent person with normal sight or hearing can learn to be an important figure in our warning system after two or three simple lessons. You are only asked to report the flight of aircraft in your area of observation, their approximate number, height and big neighborhood, after all."

"You are asked to work usually only two hours a week with other volunteers in an observation post near your home. As I have mentioned before the number of hours you work depends on the number of volunteers. The job of the observer is not easy. It is not amusing, but some day it could be the most important job of your whole life."

COALORA REBEKAHS ENTERTAIN PRESIDENT

At 7 p.m., Thursday, July 28, Coalora Rebekah No. 15 honored Mrs. Mabel McCracken, Rebekah Assembly President of New Mexico, upon her official visit with a luncheon.

Lola Carl and her courtesy committee, used gold and ice blue carnations and candles for very attractive table decorations. Jeanette Smoot acted as hostess most graciously. Pinkie Ruth Rickerson was master of ceremonies. Musical numbers, by Bobbie Rickerson, vocal solo; Nancy Teague, piano solo; R. G. Stewart Jr., trumpet solo; accompanied by Nancy Teague at the piano; and the three King Sisters, piano trio; were enjoyed during luncheon hour.

At 8 p.m. Lodge was opened by Noble Grand Maud Risinger. In a lovely ceremony the president was introduced by Eunice McBrayer and presented with a gift by Ethel Roberts. Others participating in this ceremony were Arey Garrison, Edith Leonard and Edna Jones.

Degree Captain, Opal Lee Teague and eight Rebekahs exemplified the Rebekah colors in a beautiful tableau.

Absentee members missed a friendly and informative meeting.

Bingo Added Feature At Achievement Day

Bingo will be an added feature at the Lincoln County Achievement Day to be held in Capitan September 3. The proceeds from the game will be used to pay for ribbons and prize money for the exhibitors.

Everyone is invited to attend Achievement Day, see the exhibits, play Bingo and participate in the other events.

"If you want to see what the boys and girls are doing," Ralph Dunlap, county agent, says, "now is the time to come and see it."

Along with Bingo, more events for the children are planned for the afternoon. There will be sack races, three-legged races and other events for boys and girls.
