RAMBLIN' AROUND

By PAUL BAKER

Advised in the classified section of this issue of the News is a request for bids on form lumber, new lumber, gravel and sand. Part of the material is stockpiled at the site of the Carrizozo swimming pool and some new lumber is stored in the Western Lumber Co.

The material was bought to build the pool with the assistance of Army contribution of labor. When this offer later was withdrawn, funds on hand were not sufficient to hire help to build the pool. Donations in the amount of $2512.24 are on deposit in the bank, plus a credit at Big Jo Lumber Co. for 599 sacks of cement.

The passage by the last legislature of an act remitting to communities 1c on each pack of cigarettes sold locally, provides towns considerable funds for recreation purposes. The funds are earmarked for recreation use only.

The Carrizozo swimming pool committee, with the consent of the town trustees, discussed pool construction this summer with representatives of Fiesta Pools, Inc. It was believed that the money to come in from the cigarette tax would be sufficient to finance a good-sized, well-constructed swimming pool.

Mrs. W. H. Rickerson, city clerk, has received two remittances from the cigarette tax. The sum was $125.61 for July and $243.57 for August. If maintained over a year, the total for recreation purposes would be considerably in excess of the original estimated $1500 yearly. It should give the swimming pool committee much encouragement in their planning.

Meanwhile it has been decided to sell the material on hand provided the bids are sufficient. Anyone who has use for lumber, gravel or sand is urged to present a bid to the City Hall on or before Tuesday night, next week.

It is always inspiring to see democracy at work in the Lincoln County Farm and Livestock Bureau. After considerable study a resolutions committee draws up a number of resolutions dealing with problems vital to farmers and ranchers in the county. These are submitted to the annual meeting for discussion and approval or rejection. They are tackled, one by one. Not all of the resolutions are approved by the membership. One or two may be deleted entirely; the wording of others changed and new resolutions proposed from the floor. When the final draft is completed the resolutions are ready to go to the State Farm and Livestock Bureau meeting. Here they are again discussed and may be altered or deleted. The State resolutions again travel to the national Farm-Bureau Federation, where, if adopted, are the recommendations of a powerful voice in American agriculture. But they all started at the grassroots.

The Lincoln County Farm and Livestock Bureau held its annual meeting in Carrizozo for the first time. The Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce is to be congratulated on being the host at supper and extending a welcome to the farmers and ranchers to come back again next year—and oftener.

Service beyond the call of duty, we call it. Reference is made to a public servant who worked all day October 12 (Columbus Day). Said person didn't discover it was a public holiday until almost quitting time. When planning a summer trip thru the mountain states, it is a good idea to allow a couple of extra hours each day for delays due to road construction. That extra time allowance might keep the blood pressure from building up. Some of the delays are unexpected and for odd reasons. On our way to Yellowstone Park we ran into a road block on the canyon road above Cody. It turned out that a Forest Service crew was trying to get a 60-foot log around a bend and through a tunnel on the road. If they could get the log through, the next step was to try it with an 89-ft. bridge girder. After an hour's wait, we were told to go ahead; they got the log through.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Aguayo are improving a residence and property in La Luz, where they plan to move in a few weeks. Mr. Aguayo's father, a brother and an uncle were old-time settlers in La Luz. Mr. Aguayo recalls that his uncle, who had built a rock house by Dog Canyon, in the 1870's, was shot in the arm with an arrow by raiding Apaches. He escaped to the family home in La Luz, where the arrow was extracted.

According to the Alamogordo News, they are now migrating steers in Texas instead of merely branding them.

Annual Meeting Of Farm Bureau Held in Carrizozo

County Commissioner Chas. A. Jones was re-elected chairman of the Lincoln County Farm & Livestock Bureau at Saturday's annual meeting in Carrizozo. Mrs. Charles Jones was re-elected County chairwoman, and W. G. Shrecongost was named to continue in his capacity as secretary and treasurer of the organization. Walt Wilson was elected vice-chairman.

Registration for the county-wide meeting was at 9:30 in the morning. The meeting opened with invocation by Rev. H. T. Ray, followed by an address of welcome by Mayor Marvin H. Roberts. Joe Skeen responded for Farm Bureau. J. H. Fulmer Jr., president of the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce, also spoke briefly. A business meeting followed, presided over by Chairman Jones.

Business session resumed at 1, with election of officers and delegates to the State Farm & Livestock Bureau. Nine delegates and three alternates were elected, as follows: Pete Gnatkowski, Edd Downing, Dimmitt Bond, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Skeen, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Knight, Frank Sultemeler and Corbin Hester. Alternates: Bert Pfingsten, John Allen Hightower and Clint Sultemeler. County Agent Ralph Dunlap conducted the election.

Several guests were introduced including John Augustine and Wayne Powers, both of Las Cruces. They are, respectively, executive secretary and organizational director of the State F&LSB; also G. V. Clayton and W. H. Cook, and R. W. Crawford of Las Cruces.

In his talk during the afternoon, Mr. Augustine stressed the importance of farm and livestock people working together to "build up your net income. That's what counts," he said. "More people should be taking an active part in farm bureau and to combat Communist forces that are working to take over."

The latter part of the afternoon was devoted to a discussion and vote on 21 proposed resolutions affecting County farms and ranches. Twenty of these were adopted, some with changes. In addition, four resolutions were proposed from the floor and adopted when the meeting convened in the evening after adjourning for supper.

The supper was served in the school cafeteria to approximately 150. Expenses of the meal were paid by the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce. State Sen. J. G. Moore, secretary-treasurer of the C. of C., in a brief talk, welcomed the Bureau members and their families and expressed the hope they would return here for their annual meeting next year.

The Carrizozo High School Band, under the direction of Leon White, played several numbers before supper.

A snack bar, opened by members of the Carrizozo Junior Class, furnished noon-day refreshments. The Lyric Theatre ran a special matinee for the children of attending Bureau members.

At the conclusion of the evening meeting, Secretary W. G. Shrecongost was asked by Chairman Jones to write letters of thanks to the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce, the Carrizozo school band, Junior Class and Supt. R. G. Firman.

The drawing for door prizes was in charge of Walt Wilson. Mrs. Edd Downing had the winning ticket for a French fryer and Mrs. Maud Risinger a portable ice chest. In appreciation for efforts during the past year, Farm Bureau gave County Agent Dunlap an electric blanket.

A list of resolutions adopted will be found on Page 6 of this issue of the News.

New St. Rita Pastor Arrives in Carrizozo

Rev. Fr. Dennis Villafranca of Magdalena arrived in Carrizozo last Friday to become pastor of the St. Rita Catholic Church. He has been in New Mexico nearly two years and previously five years in Kansas City, Kansas.

Following completion of his ecclesiastical studies in Atchison, Kans., Fr. Villafranca spent ten years in the missions in Puerto Rico. It was there he first met Archbishop Edwin V. Byrne, who at the time was bishop of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Fr. Villafranca says he enjoyed working among the people of Puerto Rico. Spanish is spoken more freely than English and there is little race discrimination. When the word came to the island that World War II had ended, he was called upon to make the announcement in the public square. When the throng gathered there heard the news their voices rose in a chorus: "Blessed Be God!"

Regarding his work in Magdalena, Fr. Villafranca says "I worked hard and in 13 months the parish was built up to a self-supporting basis." He is grateful for the warm regard expressed by his parishioners there and for the going-away gift given him.

Bear Hunting in the Bonito Country

By LOUISE RUNNELS

Since bear season opened the first of September in Lincoln County, Sammy Jones of Carlsbad, with his nine bear dogs, has given 14 men and two small boys from Texas and New Mexico the thrill of killing a bear. Some of these men are excellent shots with the bow and arrow.

It's a real picture for anyone to be along on one of these hunts—to see Sammy start out from camp up one of the autumn-colored trails with his "lead dogs" in front and the others trailing behind, waiting for Sammy to tell them to go.

All the hunts were made in the Bonito country, 3 or 4 miles from Sammy's "Blue Hole" camp, which was also picturesque. On these hunts there was Sammy and his well-harnessed mule and most of the time six or seven horsemen. On one hunt Pamela Sue Hall and Fletcher Hall of Capitan went along.

Excitement begins when the first dog yelps and takes off. Now is when everyone gets in "high," and the man whose day it is to shoot the bear is given the right-of-way. The ride is fast and over any kind of country to keep within hearing distance of the howling dogs.

Sammy knows each dog's bark when they are on a cold trail or a hot one, or when their bark signifies the bear is tired. When the hunters arrive, there the faithful dogs sit, waiting for the kill. Moving pictures are taken of the bear in the tree and as he falls to the ground. Then the dogs tackle the animal and wait for some fresh liver and fat as their reward.

One day Sammy didn't go out

Belen Man Stricken As Result of Bite by Infected Wood Tick

R. K. Dunlap, Garage Department maintenance foreman, of Belen, is convalescing from Rocky Mountain Fever, caused by being bitten by an infected tick, while he was on an elk survey in Colorado.

Mr. Dunlap and Virgil Jones of Capitan were working together in Colorado at the time the former was bitten by an insect. It seemed of no importance at the time and the two men later went to the eastern part of the state on their work.

Mr. Dunlap began to have dizzy spells and blurred vision, but otherwise did not feel ill. They left for Capitan and arrived after nightfall. Mr. Jones tried to get Mr. Dunlap to stay all night, but he wanted to get home to see his doctor in Belen. Two or three times on route he had to stop when he felt the spells coming on.

Mr. Dunlap could not tell his physician what had bitten him, but the doctor suspected it might have been a tick and began treatment. He took a blood test, but the sample was broken in shipment and another had to be taken. Upon its return, the physician's early diagnosis proved to be correct.

ASK GEAR BE FUMIGATED

It was the Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever, caused by the bite of a wood tick, which may transmit an organism. The tick is more common in northern states than New Mexico.

It was requested that the pickup and all camping gear be fumigated to kill the tick should it still be there. A person must be bitten by an infected tick to contract the fever.

In reporting the occurrence this week, Mrs. Margaret Rench of Capitan states that Mr. Dunlap is very ill, though doing as well as expected. "He was fortunate," she says, "to have had a physician who formerly practiced in Colorado and was familiar with the symptoms and the treatment."

The physician said this is the first case of Rocky Mountain fever in New Mexico that he was aware of. (In Carrizozo this week Dr. A. N. Spencer said he knew of no similar cases in New Mexico this year.)

on a hunt. When asked why, he replied that he had lost his best bear dog. "Too bad," said the interested party, "which one is gone?" "Arvel Runnels," Sammy answered.

The young boys, each of whom killed a bear, were: Robert Runnels and Anson Kelth, age 11, both of Bonito. The successful bow and arrow hunters were Fred Hurd, A. W. Shaw and Bob Lee, all of Houston, Texas, and Jim Ramsey of Lincoln.

Others were Bill Wallace and Bill Patterson of Carlsbad; Johnnie Harris, Lawrence Day, Doff Miller, Curly McKay and Frank Green of Odessa, John Fitch of Monahans and Harvey May of Santa Fe.

Eagle Creek Directors To Meet in Capitan

Directors of the Eagle Creek Water Association are to meet Monday, Oct. 24, in Capitan. They will discuss the assistance sought from the Federal government and various problems relating to the application before State Engineer Stephen Reynolds for the transfer of Eagle Creek water rights to the Association.

This application has been held up on several technical grounds. It was reported this week by Frank C. Boyce, attorney for the association. It is planned to send a delegation to Santa Fe to discuss the matter with the state engineer.

Attorney Boyce recently conferred with Sen. Dennis Chavez in Washington regarding the Eagle Creek storage and distribution system. Mr. Boyce was assured full cooperation from the Senator and his staff in the effort to secure Federal funds for Eagle Creek development at the next session of Congress.

Lions Club Officers

The Carrizozo Lions Club, meeting Wednesday night, was honored by the presence of a number of officers, both international and from neighboring clubs. They were:

Tom Kirkham of Breckenridge, Texas, special representative for Lions International; Dan King of Tularosa, district councillor for Lions International; zone chairman G. W. Sherwood of Silver City and Joe Coe of Ruidoso. Mr. Coe is also president of the Ruidoso Lions Club; also Jack Kearney, president of the Tularosa Lions Club and Bob Hobson, past secretary-treasurer. Other guests were John Blomsheld, district executive for Boy Scouts of America, and Harry Morris of Carrizozo.

Following dinner, Joe O. Sargent, club president, turned the meeting over to Mr. King who introduced Mr. Kirkham. He spoke of the work that Lions Clubs are doing for their communities in his district, comprising over six hundred clubs in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

It is not the size of a Lions Club that counts, he said, and gave several examples of clubs with less than 25 members that have done outstanding work. One small club in Oklahoma raised $2900 to restore a crippled boy to health; another raised several thousand dollars to pave and improve four blocks between the town and its school; another wrote out a check to buy an expensive light conservation machine for its public school.

Mr. Kirkham said he was aware of the many contributions the Carrizozo Club has made toward community betterment.

Mr. Blomsheld spoke briefly on the work of Scouting in this district. Funds raised in this part of New Mexico, he said, are spent almost entirely for the benefit of Scouting in this area.

Football team co-captains Richard Vega and Tom Barnett escort Miss Nancy Jo King across the football field, to be crowned Homecoming Queen. Half-time ceremonies in Friday night's game between Corona and Carrizozo included marching by the Grizzly Band and Girls' Pep Team. The homecoming ended with a party in the band room after the game.

Registration Board Scans Voting List

The Lincoln County Board of Registration met in the County Clerk's office October 17 and 18, to purge the list of registered voters.

A new law requires the registration board to meet the third Monday in October each odd numbered year. Serving on the board are H. E. Kelt, Herbert Smith and Wilbur McKnight.

Notices of proposed cancellation of registration are being mailed to approximately 600 registrants who have not voted in the last two general elections.

The board will meet again November 8 to take final action on the above registrations.

The County Commissioners meet in regular session Nov. 7. District Court convenes Oct. 24.

Lincoln Waterusers Discuss Well Plans

Officers and members of the Lincoln Community Waterusers Association were meeting in the Old Courthouse in Lincoln this Thursday night to discuss progress being made to provide a source of domestic water supply.

The State of New Mexico has advised the association that bids would be advertised for contract to drill a water well in Lincoln.

Plans are to be laid at the meeting for raising the required one-third of the construction cost. It can be paid for with labor and material.

The members will also be advised at the meeting of the approximate location of the pipeline and storage tank. Other matters to be discussed are fire hydrants and the use of meters.

FIRE DESTROYS MORRIS SAWMILL

The F. J. Morris sawmill burned last Saturday night, origin unknown. It was a total loss except for a little lumber. The fire was sighted and reported by a tourist on Highway 350. The Capitan Fire Dept. went to help.

Mrs. Morris was at home alone. She was not aware of the fire until the return of Mr. Morris after midnight from Clovis, where he had been delivering a load of lumber.

He is going to use the Flatley's mill until his own equipment arrives and is installed. Business will continue with no delay.

E. S. Eaker Acquires Rolland's Drug Store

Ownership of Rolland's Drug Store in Carrizozo was transferred last week to E. S. Eaker, proprietor of Paden's Drug Store.

Mrs. Sadie Rolland announces that for personal reasons she is retiring from the drug store business for a little needed rest. The prescription stock will be moved to Paden's Drug Store.

Rolland's store, with the exception of the prescription department, will continue to be operated by Chevo Baca and Tino Lopez, both of whom have been with the store many years.

They will carry a wide variety of merchandise and continued patronage will be appreciated by them.

Paden's Drug Store will make every effort to take care of the prescription needs of the community and will also continue to carry a large stock of sick room supplies and other merchandise. "Red" and Mrs. Dollie Ward will be there to serve old customers and welcome new customers.

Rolland's Drug Store was established in 1906 and Mrs. Rolland has personally conducted the business for the past 20 years. In retiring from business life, Mrs. Rolland said this week "It has been a pleasure to have had the opportunity of helping with Art, Red, Tino and Chevo to serve the wonderful people of Carrizozo and Lincoln County these many years and I am deeply grateful for the many pleasant memories of these busy years."

COMMODITY APPLICATIONS

The Lincoln County Welfare office advises that all county welfare clients who have not yet signed the new application forms for commodities are required to do so before October 31, which is the date for the next issue of commodities.

Press Ass'n Joins "Eat More Beef" Campaign

The New Mexico Press Association this week urged its members to cooperate fully with the New Mexico Farm & Livestock Bureau and the American Farm Bureau Federation in their campaigns to encourage more consumption of meat.

Ed Guthmann, president of the New Mexico Press Association and publisher of the Springer Tribune, issued the following resolution:

"Whereas the livestock industry of the State of New Mexico is of paramount importance to the economy of the State, and

Whereas overproduction in the meat industry of the nation is bringing about a depressed condition in the market which is being seriously felt by our livestock growers, and

"Whereas the American Farm Bureau Federation, by request of the nationwide meat industry, is entering upon a campaign to encourage the people to consume more meat for a healthful diet,

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that the New Mexico Press Association urge its members to offer cooperation in said campaign and to render every reasonable assistance in publicizing the work of the Meat Production Committee of the New Mexico Farm & Livestock Bureau.

HOLDUP IN THE LORDSBURG SALOON

One evening in 1904 two men walked into M. Q. Hardin's Gem Saloon in Lordsburg, pulled their guns and lined up the 15 to 20 customers against the wall with their hands above their heads.

Hardin was a cousin of John Wesley Hardin, the Texas outlaw, says Claude Fuller of Lordsburg, who remembers the holdup story well. Hardin's saloon was patronized by railroad men.

One of the robbers held his gun on the men lined against the wall and ordered Hardin to get behind the bar and open the safe. Hardin was either nervous or stalling, and took some time at trying to open the safe. Finally, the bandit holding the gun on the customers said to his accomplice, who stood over Hardin with a revolver:

"If he don't open it up pretty quick, shoot his damn head off and we'll go."

Hardin opened the safe immediately.

The bandits walked out of the saloon with money, diamond rings, watches and other valuables, and disappeared. The loot amounted to several thousand dollars in value.

The next night two strangers engaged a room in a three-room hotel in Separ, east of Lordsburg. By then news of the holdup had gotten around by telegraph. There were no phones in those days. Mr. Weems, the hotel owner, was suspicious of the strangers and wired the officer at Lordsburg, Herbert J. Mc-

Grath, who later became the famous sheriff of Grant County.

The officer, with two special deputies, rode horseback to Separ and kicked in the door of the men's hotel room. Both men rose up in bed with guns in their hands. The Lordsburg officers turned loose with shotguns and killed the two men.

A gun in the hand of one of the robbers was Hardin's gun that had been taken in the saloon robbery. It turned out that the robbers were the notorious Gates brothers of California, who had a reward on their heads. The Lordsburg officers received the reward.

The Gates brothers were buried in Lordsburg's Boothill Cemetery.

Some time ago, Fuller visited the old burying ground, whose graves had markers. He has lived in Lordsburg for nearly 60 years and has long been familiar with the early-day cemetery. Winds have leveled the slight elevations that once marked the graves, and the cemetery now looks like any smooth, little windswept spot around Lordsburg. Even an old-timer can't tell where the graves were.

FIRST BUILDING IN CARRIZOZO

The El Paso and Southwestern Railroad was completed to Carrizozo on August 3, 1899. White Oaks Junction was a name only, and it wasn't until around 1901 that the present town of Carrizozo began to rise from the flat. John W. Harkey, who came to Carrizozo Flat 56 years ago, believes that the first building in the town was a little grocery store and cantina on a corner lot right north of the present railroad station. The 20x30 frame building had a shed roof.

Less than three years after the El Paso and Southwestern reached White Oaks Junction it linked up with the Rock Island Railroad at Santa Rosa. That was on February 1, 1902.

COURTHOUSE DATE

Years ago while working on the roof of the courthouse in Carrizozo, John W. Harkey noticed a date penciled on a board in the attic. The notation read: "Finished in 1913." It was a notably out-of-the-way record for the completion date of a public building.

THREE NEW POLIO CASES IN NEW MEXICO

Two cases of polio in Bernalillo County and one in Curry were reported by the October 8 bulletin of the New Mexico Department of Public Health. This year to date 113 cases of polio have been reported in the state, compared to 194 last year in this date. The five-year median is 96 cases.

Sunday, Oct. 23, Rev. Charles L. Conder will celebrate Holy Communion at 7:30 a.m. at St. Anne's, Glencoe. This will be the only Episcopal service in Lincoln County on that date, and all families are invited to attend the Pecos Deanery Rally at St. John's Church, Indiana Ave., Alamogordo at 11 a.m. that day.

Rev. Conder will preach at morning-prayer-in-St. John's and St. John's congregation will host the Deanery visitors at noon luncheon, after which there will be addresses by Rev. Messrs. Ralph Channon of Carlsbad and Charles Davies of Roswell, and sectional meetings until 3:15 p.m. The Bishop's Committees of Ft. Stanton, Glencoe and Ruidoso Episcopal Churches will meet Monday, Oct. 24, at the Shier residence in Hollywood to plan the annual Every Member Campaign.

New Plymouth 4-Door Hardtop

Belydere four-door hardtop is an entirely new model introduced by Plymouth in its 1956 line of cars. Aerodynamic styling, push button driving and powerful new Hy-Fire engine are among outstanding features. Safety door latches and other safety items are standard equipment.

'56 Plymouths to Be Displayed Friday

Plymouth's new aerodynamic 1956 cars will be displayed by the Shafer Motor Co. beginning Friday, Oct. 21.

Roy Shafer says the new models incorporate major advances in every phase of automobile design, with special emphasis on engine performance, safety and aerodynamic styling.

Plymouth has a wholly new engine for 1956. It is a more powerful Hy-Fire V-8 with a polysphere combustion chamber design, a 277 cubic inch displacement and an 8 to 1 compression ratio.

Other major innovations include:

Alfalfa rear fenders which emphasize and contribute to the aerodynamic feeling of the new models.

A push button drive selector for Plymouth's PowerFlite automatic transmission.

New 90-90 Turbo-Torque PowerFlite V-8 models. Ninety degree angles at the inlet and outlet blades of the torque converter impeller give faster break-away performance.

A new line of Suburbans. In Plymouth's 1956 line-up, the Suburbans are on an entirely separate group of cars and are available in a wide selection of two-door, four-door, two-seat, three-seat V-8 and six cylinder models.

New safety door latches to keep doors closed even under severe impact.

New 12-volt electrical system, new pull-type door handles and new deck lid hatch.

Highway Hi-Fi, a new car phonograph providing an hour uninterrupted entertainment, and new Search-Tune radio.

Safety Features
Plymouth dealers will continue to offer safety belts, anchored to the frame and available for both front and rear seats on all models. Other safety features are standard.

Press Ass'n Joins "Eat More Beef" Campaign

The New Mexico Press Association this week urged its members to cooperate fully with the New Mexico Farm & Livestock Bureau and the American Farm Bureau Federation in their campaigns to encourage more consumption of meat.

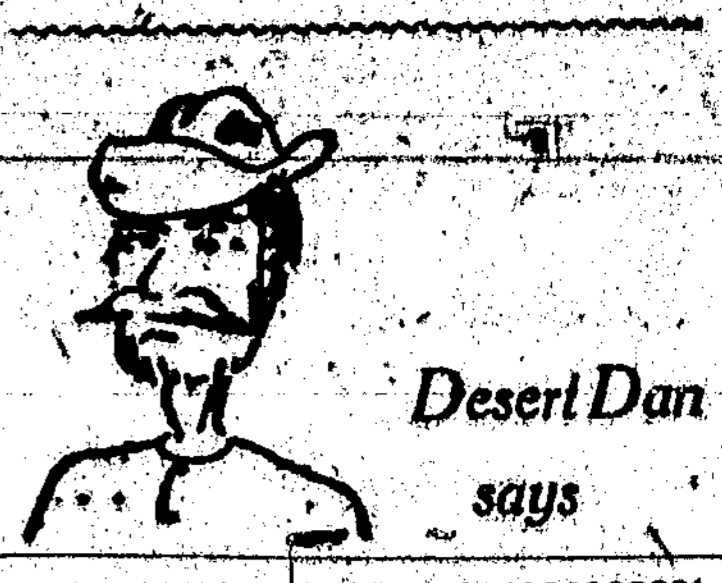

Ed Guthmann, president of the New Mexico Press Association and publisher of the Springer Tribune, issued the following resolution:

"Whereas the livestock industry of the State of New Mexico is of paramount importance to the economy of the State, and

Whereas overproduction in the meat industry of the nation is bringing about a depressed condition in the market which is being seriously felt by our livestock growers, and

Whereas the American Farm Bureau Federation, by request of the nationwide meat industry, is entering upon a campaign to encourage the people to consume more meat for a healthful diet,

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that the New Mexico Press Association urge its members to offer cooperation in said campaign and to render every reasonable assistance in publicizing the work of the Meat Production Committee of the New Mexico Farm & Livestock Bureau.

MONEY AND BANKING
In Everyday Living
THE BIG BOSS, with the big machine, vacuum cleaner, re- may on the size of your pay- (frigerator, deep-freezer, and so check, is the consumer. If the product you help make is su- perior to any competitor's . . . if it's priced lower, because you helped to produce it more efficiently, the consumer will buy that product — and so make higher pay possible for you. The better you produce, the more YOU benefit, in the end.

DO YOU "BURN MONEY"?
You may be doing so every day, without realizing it. Ac- cording to house-wiring ex- perts, too few people will face the fact that a two-socket electrical outlet is intended to accommodate just two plugs. The householder who burdens such an outlet with an "octo- plug" arrangement of multiple plug-aruns a risk: That motor- operated appliance (washing machine, vacuum cleaner, re- frigerator, deep-freezer, and so on) will burn out more quick- ly than they should. It's a good idea to have your elec- trical contractor look over your home — especially the kitchen, laundry, porch, and bedroom—with an eye to in- stall additional outlets where they're needed. HOLDUP IN THE LORDSBURG SALOON

One evening in 1904 two men walked into M. Q. Hardin's Gem Saloon in Lordsburg, pulled their guns and lined up the 15 to 20 customers against the wall with their hands above their heads.

Hardin was a cousin of John Wesley Hardin, the Texas outlaw, says Claude Fuller of Lordsburg, who remembers the holdup story well. Hardin's saloon was patronized by railroad men.

One of the robbers held his gun on the men lined against the wall and ordered Hardin to get behind the bar and open the safe. Hardin was either nervous or stalling, and took some time at trying to open the safe. Finally, the bandit holding the gun on the customers said to his accomplice, who stood over Hardin with a revolver:

"If he don't open it up pretty quick, shoot his damn head off and we'll go."

Hardin opened the safe immediately. The bandits walked out of the saloon with money, diamond rings, watches and other valuables, and disappeared. The loot amounted to several thousand dollars in value.

The next night two strangers engaged a room in a three-room hotel in Seaman, east of Lordsburg.

By then news of the holdup had gotten around by telegraph. There were no phones in those days. Mr. Weems, the hotel owner, was suspicious of the strangers and wired the officer at Lordsburg, Herbert J. Mc-

A gun in the hand of one of the robbers was Hardin's gun that had been taken in the saloon robbery. It turned out that the robbers were the notorious Gates brothers of California, who had a reward on their heads. The Lordsburg officers received the reward.

The Gates brothers were buried in Lordsburg's Boothill Cemetery.

Capitan

By MARGARET RENCH.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Newman of San Francisco, Calif., spent a few hours with Mrs. Jim Howard October 10. The ladies had not seen each other since they were children living in White Oaks 52 years ago. She and her husband attended the University in Albuquerque where they will visit while on this trip. From here they went to Roswell to visit her brother, Roy Treat and family. He is a sheep rancher.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Webb returned this week from their mission in Missouri. They had a good trip though they traveled in rain all the trip there. The return was much different and very hot. They were glad to arrive safely home again.

Little Richard Griego had his arm broken while playing football several days ago. He is doing nicely. It happened at school while the little ones were having a game of their own.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Philpott and three children went this past week end to visit her aged mother (Mrs. Barkley) who is seriously ill in the Alamogordo Hospital. From there they went to Mayhill where they formerly resided. They enjoyed it even though some of it was sad. Mrs. Barkley is in her late 70's and has paralysis. She knows many old timers in our vicinity.

Atlantic Fleet ships and planes from the United States, Great Britain, Portugal and France joined Forces September 22 to participate in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Exercise Centerboard. Taking part in the joint anti-submarine warfare operation aboard the Destroyer USS Robert K. Huntington was Reyes C. Padilla, Radioman 2/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Padilla of 507 Pennsylvania Ave., Alamogordo, formerly of Capitan. On completion of training Oct. 2 the ships visited Lisbon, Portugal, for seven days' liberty and recreation for the crews.

Johnny Soderback is a carpenter at the Block ranch. He is doing splendidly, his boss reports, feels good, is happy and enjoying his work. Good luck Johnny. Mrs. Annie Ramey of Lincoln gave me a wonderful surprise by paying me a nice visit Saturday afternoon. She is feeling fine but it is hard for her to get around because of arthritis, but with her determination she will win that battle. She has great courage.

Louise, Champ and Lorene Ferguson all went together to witness the homecoming game in Las Cruces Saturday while he was playing. They truly did enjoy it.

Billy Ferguson came home for the week end from A&M. His grandmother, Mrs. Fritz, was here to greet him. She returned last week from her visit in Carrizozo with Mr. and Mrs. Pete Johnson, her daughter and husband.

R. G. Stewart St. of Capitan and R. G. Firman of Carrizozo attended the Odd Fellows Grand Lodge in Hobbs. They went Sunday and returned Tuesday night. They had a wonderful time.

Mr. and Mrs. Newt Robinson visited her mother, Mrs. Daisy Gehring, this past week end. She is going home with them for a few days and she will have the pleasure of riding in their new GMC pickup.

W.M.U. met at the home of Mrs. Key last Thursday. After the meeting they worked on a quilt she had in the frame. Two new members were added—Mrs. Lair and Mrs. Leo Powell.

Mr. and Mrs. Kerr spent last Thursday night at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Robinson.

John Fitzworth, cousin of Geo. Fitzworth, deceased, of San Dimas, Calif., came to visit Mrs. Fitzworth. Since she was gone, he stayed at the Mountain Valley Motel going from there to visit with the old-timers. Everyone enjoyed him.

Mrs. John Philpott and children are going to Pampa, Texas, to visit her mother, Mrs. Lottie Howerton, for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones of Roswell (parents of Charley Jones) came to see the football game here Friday night. They stayed at the Mountain Valley Motel for the night, drove to Carrizozo the following day, then returned to Roswell.

Barney (Mr. Barnosky) is driving a new two-door Ford. It's a beauty.

Expand Polio Vaccine Program

Based on the recommendations of the National Advisory Committee on Poliomyelitis Vaccine, the Secretary of Health, Welfare and Education has announced this week that in addition to the five year through nine year age group, another age group may now also receive poliomyelitis vaccine.

It was suggested that each state select the next age group to be chosen on the basis of the number of poliomyelitis cases each group had had. Dr. Stanley J. Leland, Director of the New Mexico Department of Public Health, announced this week that in New Mexico children one year of age through 10 years of age could receive poliomyelitis vaccine, as far as available supplies permit.

Because of their high susceptibility to polio expectant mothers may also receive vaccine.

GRIZZLIES TAKE HOMECOMING TILT FROM CORONA 19-0

Scoring one touchdown in the first quarter and two in the fourth, Carrizozo displayed a strong running game to down Corona last Friday night, 19-0. It was the Grizzlies' homecoming game.

Corona's main threat came in the third quarter when a well-placed "kick" by Sheldon Dickie went out of bounds on the Carrizozo one-yard line. Dickie's punting was consistently good throughout the game. Jeff Morriss punted out of the end zone and it was Corona's ball on the Zozo 25-yd. line. Dickie gained three as the quarter ended. Lyman Strickland gained four, but the Grizzly line stiffened and held for downs.

Early in the first quarter Natie Palomarez uncorked a long touchdown pass to Billy Hicks, but it was nullified by an offside penalty on the Grizzlies.

In the first quarter Carrizozo took over the ball on Corona's 47-yd. line. Line plunges by Palomarez, Tom Barnett and Richard Vega advanced the ball deep into Cardinal territory—from where Lonnie Nowell scored on a pitchout from R. Vega. The try for point failed.

Following the kickoff by Palomarez and Dickie's return to the Corona 30-yd. line, Strickland gained nine yards around right end. Carrizozo was penalized 15 yards for unnecessary roughness and a long pass Huey to Dickie was nullified by a five-yard penalty against Corona. Carrizozo took over on downs and neither team had an advantage on an exchange of fumbles until R. Vega took Dickie's punt and rambled back 45 yards. The Grizzlies were threatening as the half ended, Carrizozo 6, Corona 0.

The Carrizozo Marching band and the 30-girl Pop Team took the field at half time. The girls formed a colorful picture in their red skirts and white blouses. They formed a "V" for victory and a "C" for the Cardinal team and visitors.

Nency Jo King was crowned Queen of the Homecoming by team co-captains Tom Barnett and Richard Vega. Little Sandra Willis and Dean McCollum were crown-bearers in the procession across the field.

Dickie kicked off for Corona to open the second half. Skipper Harkoy returned to the Carrizozo 42-yd. line. Nowell and Vega teamed up to gain 20 yards in three plays, but the Corona line held and Carrizozo was forced to punt. Two 15-yd. penalties set the Grizzlies back on their heels and the Cardinals made their touchdown bid.

The Grizzlies began to roll early in the fourth quarter. Tom Barnett was injured after gaining eight yards, but he stayed in the game and set up the second Zozo touchdown with an 18-yd. run through the line. Palomarez, Nowell and Barnett continued to make yardage until Nowell went over the second TD. Vega's pass to Barnett was good for the extra point.

Lake Hite and Barnett sparked the drive for the Grizzly third TD. Hite started the fire with a 15-yd. run from midfield. Barnett ran for 14 and repeated for 11. Hite carried over for the touchdown. The pass for extra point failed.

The kickoff by Palomarez was fumbled by Strickland but recovered on the Corona 37-yd. line. Bryan ran right end for a first down as the game ended. Carrizozo made 16 first downs. Corona 8.

300 Livestockmen in "Ranch Day" Tour

"Balancing livestock with a range forage supply is the first principle of good range management," Fred N. Ares, superintendent of the Jornada Experimental Range, told three hundred livestockmen who attended the 15th Ranch Day on the Jornada, October 10. "Records on the Jornada which date back to 1915 show that a flexible herd makeup, combined with a proper stocking rate, has raised our beef production 30%, reduced death losses from an average of 2.0% to 1.2% per year, and helped us to smooth out our marketing programs," Ares said.

The Ranch Day tour was sponsored by the Agricultural Experiment Station and Extension Service of New Mexico A&M College, the Forest Service's Forest and Range Experiment Station at Fort Collins, and the Agricultural Research Service.

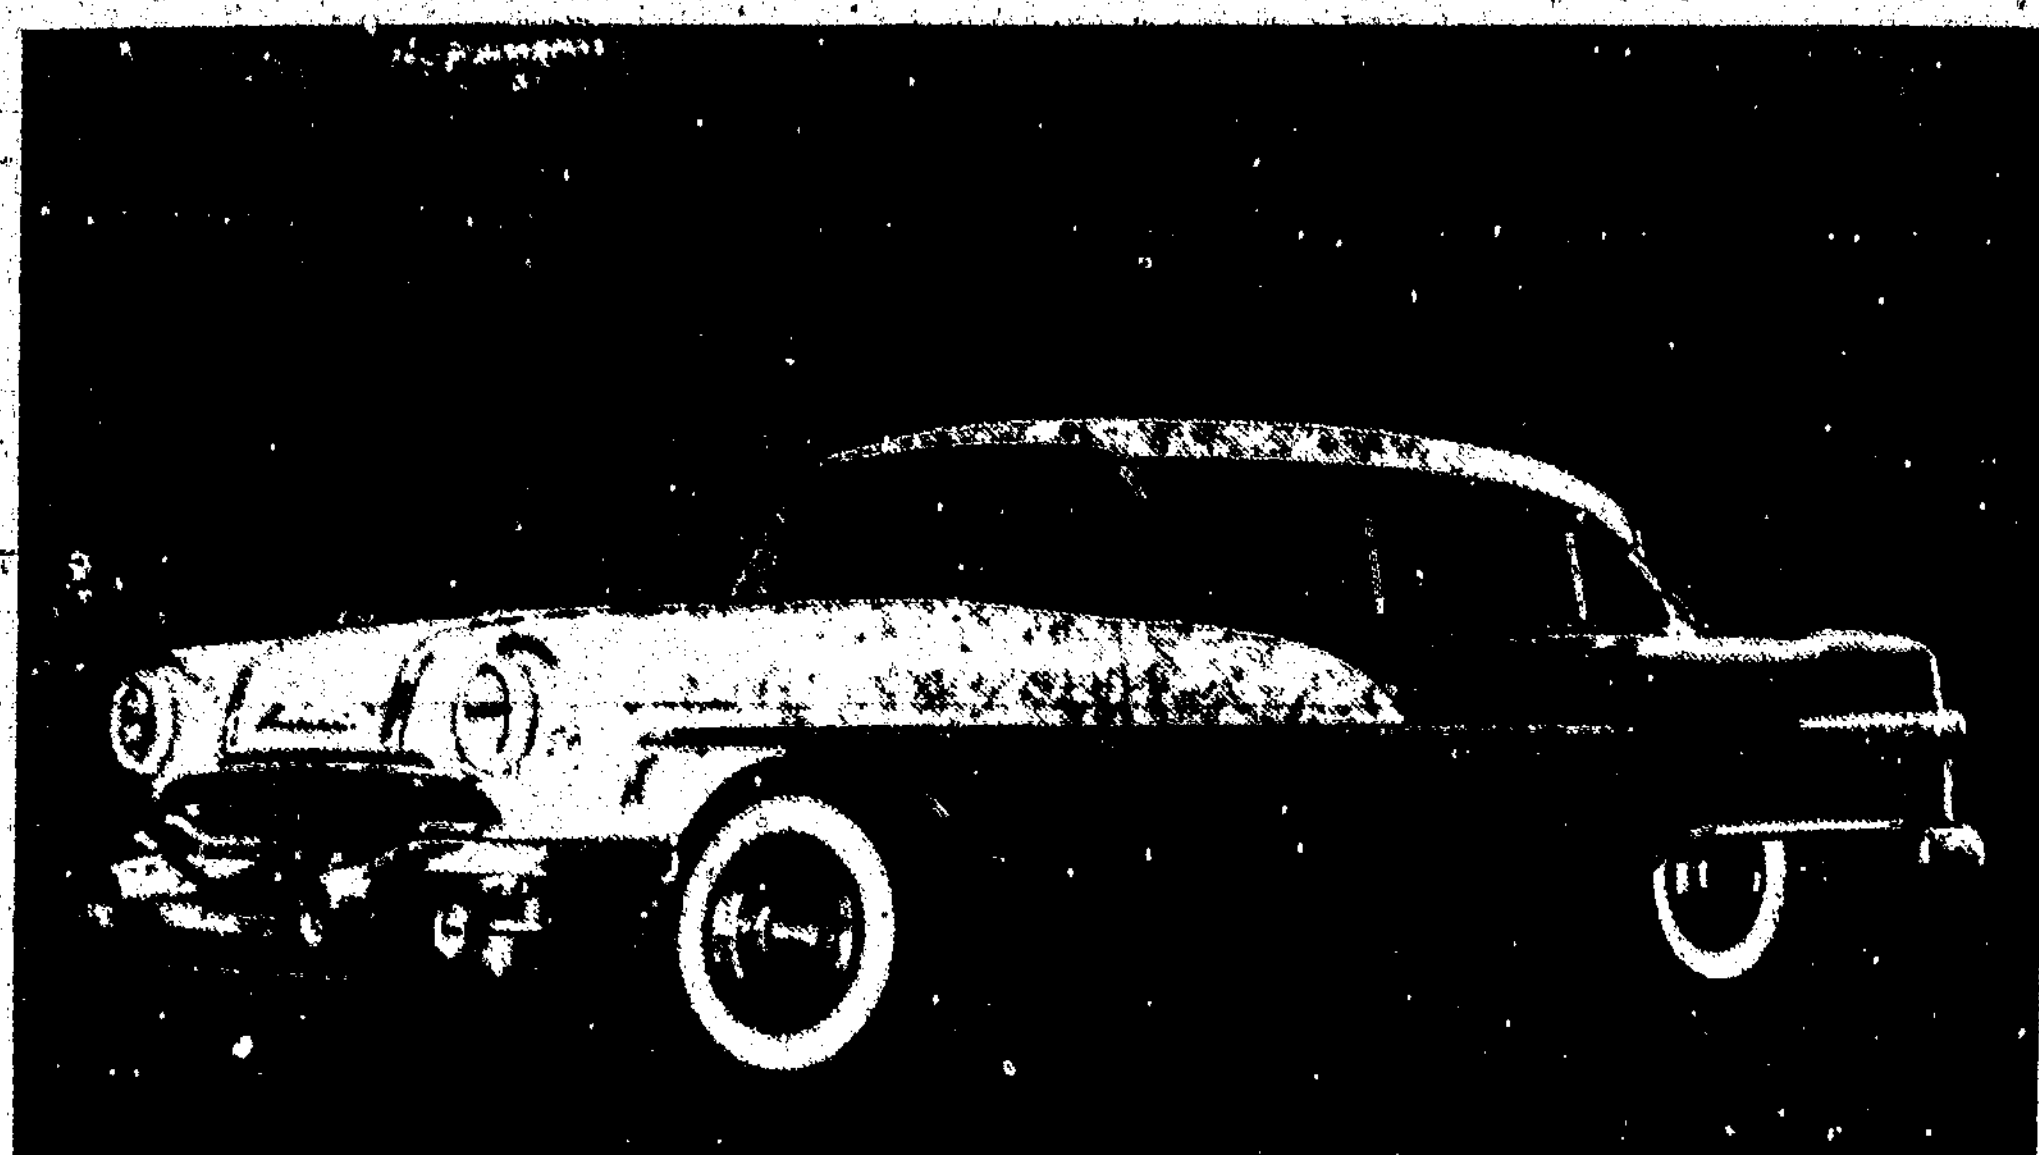

Harold A. Paulsen, Jr., range conservationist, U. S. Forest Service, Albuquerque, reported on changes in grazing capacity on the Jornada during the first 38 years that the area was an experimental range. He said there has been a wide fluctuation in the annual forage production during this time, but in spite of the fluctuation, the general trend of grazing capacity on the grassland types on the Jornada Range has shown but little change. In contrast, Paulsen pointed out that brush types appear to have gradually declined in capacity. On creosote bush and tarbush types, the decline has been slow but steady, while on mesquite, the decline in grazing capacities has been at an increasingly rapid rate during recent years.

J. F. Arnold, range conservationist, U. S. Forest Service, Tucson, explained the advantages of juniper control as a range improvement practice, saying that cabling or chaining is least expensive and the most effective on stands of large juniper or pinons. Hand chopping is probably the most effective and least costly method on stands of small scattered trees.

J. W. Bohning, range conservationist in charge of the Santa Rita Experimental Range, told livestockmen that two years after a 100-acre brush burning experiment on the Santa Rita, 88% of the burroweed, 44% of the jumping cholla, 42% of the cane cholla, and 28% of the pricklypear cactus had died. Although the perennial grasses were set back by the burn, their total herbage production had largely recovered after two growing seasons.

Kenneth Valentine, associate animal husbandman at A&M, summarized the results of a mesquite control experiment on the A&M College Ranch. He stated that good grazing management alone is not an adequate control practice. Foliage spraying with 2,4,5-T, if done in time and with proper attention is the most effective method of controlling this aggressive shrub, Valentine said.

Speakers at the noon-day program on the A&M College Ranch Headquarters were Dr. Roger B. Corbett, president of New Mexico A&M College and Elbert H. Reid, chief of the Division of Range Management. Research for the Rocky Mountain Forest and Range Service, Fort Collins, in his welcoming address. Dr. Corbett reviewed the A&M College building program and discussed the needs of additional educational and research facilities and services for New Mexico livestockmen. Reid reviewed progress in range management and management practices, and the development of an understanding of range conditions.

Other speakers on the noon-day program were Sherwood Culberson, Lordsburg, president of the New Mexico Cattle Growers' Association, and Buford Slover, Animas rancher. Culberson talked on importance of the livestock industry of New Mexico. He said, "The industry pours more into the economic bloodstream in the state than any other industry," pointing out that 97% of the total range area of the state is adaptable only to cattle and sheep production.

Slover told how he had stepped up beef production on his ranch in the past ten years. Good management practices have increased his average calf weights at weaning time from 361 pounds to 560 pounds. His calf crop jumped from 60 to 97%.

- 6—That for the protection of the ranchers who will not open their private or deeded lands for the special hunting seasons; the Lincoln County Farm & Livestock Bureau requests the Game Department to require written hunting permits from the land owners before selling special licenses for said lands.
- 7—Whereas there has been a great deal of surface damage done to the range lands, both private and public owned, by the pit mining improvements on uranium prospecting and proving up on claims, be it resolved that improvements be limited to core testing and that should surface damage be justified, that there be an agreement between the land-owners, lessee, and the prospector, as to the settlement of any land damage which might occur, before said land can be touched.

- 8—Whereas there is a Federal program which could eventually make New Mexico a modified certified Bangs-free state, be it resolved that the State of New Mexico strongly support the program financially so that the State can become a fully modified Bangs-free state and therefore we will have less trouble in the movement of our cattle from county to county or shipping to other states; and that stronger emphasis be placed on a testing and calthood vaccination program; that laws be passed to support State certification and supporting laws be passed to control interstate and intrastate movement of cattle.
- 9—That the Lincoln County Farm & Livestock Bureau favor the continued and increased use of voluntary federal grading of beef.
- 10—That the New Mexico Farm & Livestock Bureau appoint an advertising committee to study and plan a voluntary system advertising New Mexico fruit.
