

RAMBLIN' AROUND

By PAUL BAKER

The faith of millions of Americans that someone, somehow, would find a vaccine for the prevention of crippling polio, was rewarded this week. It is announced that the Salk vaccine is highly effective and that it will be possible to immunize millions of American school children against the possibility of contracting this dread disease.

When a group of representative citizens met last summer to discuss recreation problems in Carrizozo, a municipal swimming pool was declared to be the No. 1 need. It was also suggested that a recreation commission be set up, responsible to the town government, to advise and make recommendations on all recreation projects, including the swimming pool.

According to an Associated Press dispatch from Santa Fe, U. S. Sen. Clinton P. Anderson has come up with a plan to save the State Welfare Board money. He would make a cut in expenses by closing Fort Stanton. Fortunately, Senator Anderson isn't running New Mexico's State government or its institutions.

Did anyone in Carrizozo catch a "flying saucer" dropped from the sky last Friday? On first impression it might have been something the wind brought in from Texas, but actually the "saucers" were pie plates dropped from a plane as an advertising stunt for the sixth annual Truth or Consequences Fiesta.

Our hat comes off to anyone who has a worthy objective in life and follows it in spite of discouragements that crop up along the way. We are thinking of Judge W. S. Campbell of Green Tree who about a year ago took the leadership of the Lincoln County Safety Council.

Two visitors to Lincoln County this week praised the work that County Safety Councils have been doing and credited them with an assist in lowering the second consecutive year, traffic fatalities in New Mexico. The visitors were James F. Lamb, State Corporation Commissioner, and Frank Martin, member of the Governor's Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee.

And Carrizozo Outlook

Volume 40, Number 32, Carrizozo News, Vol. 45 CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, APRIL 15, 1955 (Outlook, Volume 45, No. 50)

COUNTY TO USE SALK VACCINE

Lincoln County, along with the rest of the nation, received the welcome news Tuesday that the Salk polio vaccine had more than met the required tests for safety and efficiency and was ready for use on a nation-wide scale.

Plans for a community polio vaccination program, which have been under way for many weeks, will therefore go into action the week of April 18 in Lincoln County.

In that week the first inoculations of the series required for protection against paralytic polio will be given to 515 children in the first grade and second grades of all public, private and parochial schools.

It is announced that 145 children are eligible to receive the vaccine at the St. Rita School, the Carrizozo school and Ancho, which is being operated by state and local health officials, is being supplied by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. At the same time, physicians will be making arrangements for the vaccination of children not included in this program, using vaccine purchased through usual channels.

Vaccination in both instances is entirely voluntary. Health nurse, states that arrangements are being made to give the vaccine to first and second grade pupils at the following locations: At the St. Rita school, new grade school building in Carrizozo, the old gymnasium in Corona, Home Economics department at Capitan, in Ruidoso at Principal Bruce's office and at the library of the grade school. In the Hondo, San Patricio, Picocho, Tinnie area children will go to the Picocho school building.

MILLIONS FOR VACCINE The March of Dimes organization contracted for $9,000,000 worth of vaccine before it was known that it prevented paralytic polio, so that manufacturers could keep in production and thus have vaccine for distribution after licensing. This financial risk, made possible by contributions of millions of Americans to the March of Dimes has now "paid off." The vaccine is ready to be used to launch a worldwide program of protection against crippling polio.

In this country, vaccine is being offered to approximately 9,000,000 school children in high-incidence age groups. Their parents have been asked to sign request forms for its use. Doctors, nurses, teachers and National Foundation volunteers will help in its administration.

Parents of children not included in the community program who wish to have them vaccinated should consult with their family physician soon. The supply of commercial vaccine is substantial, although probably insufficient immediately to meet the demand.

USS SHANGRI-LA

MOST MODERN CARRIER — The USS Shangri-La, most modern attack aircraft carrier in the U. S. Navy, is scheduled to arrive at her new home port San Diego, Calif., in mid-April to resume operations after a 26-month modernization at the Puget Sound, Washington, Naval Shipyard.

The carrier was recommissioned January 10 after receiving the first structurally applied flight deck in the Navy. She also was outfitted with new heavy-duty steam catapults and an enclosed "hurricane" bow. Prior to use of the angled deck, failure to engage the arresting gear on the first landing attempt meant crashing into the carrier. An angled deck gives the pilot a better opportunity to become airborne for another try.

NEW EL AUTO BOARD ADVANCES EDUCATION

SANTA FE, April 13—Educational Progress: The new board of the Spanish American Normal at El Rito inaugurated its regime by firing ten Republican lady dishwashers and hiring ten Democratic lady-dishwashers.

Anti-Gene Autry Rule: Santa Fe's H. Gene Autry, cousin of the singing one, has advanced to a stature rivaling that of Seven-Foot Pickett, the corporation commissioner, in having a regulation drawn against his activities.

The governor, comptroller and purchasing agent struggled for weeks to curb Autry after he moved in on the purchasing department in late March to snatch $133,000 worth of state business on the five per cent margin allowed in-state bidders against outsiders. As an agent representing the De Soto paint company and the Elax-O-Lite firm of St. Louis, he bid $3900 higher than the company themselves but got the business on highway department purchases. The Autry-curbing rule excludes agents without established businesses from enjoying the five per cent privilege. Autry was manager of one of the Democratic campaign parties last year.

Pickett Plot: Old Seven Foot, the corporation commissioner, is designing an elaborate scheme to beat the constitutional amendment which would place full control of all utilities in his department. He doesn't like it because it does not constitutionally guarantee that corporation commissioners will be chosen by election rather than appointment. Ingram Pickett, the tall commissioner, who refers to the amendment only as No. 6, will say: "If you're for elective officials vote No. If you're for appointive officials vote Yes."

He hopes by keeping it simple and by spreading the word far and wide to knock the measure that would give his department more power and which incidentally would also forbid Pick to run for governor without resigning from the commission. Pick and his strange bedfellows, such as the Public Service Company of New Mexico and the telephone companies, are given a good chance of defeating the amendment leaving utility regulation just as it is now. The vote is September 21.

DEMOS FEELING WELFARE CUTS

Confidential reports reaching the governor's office from field workers in the welfare department carry the disturbing news that serious and dangerous resentment against the Democratic party is developing from the chopping down of welfare department payments to some 42,000 needy. Explanation that the condition developed under the Republicans hasn't penetrated at all. Party leaders who pooh-poohed the subject during the legislature are now among the most demanding for immediate correction of the situation. Meanwhile the welfare department itself wasn't showing much concern. Manuel Baca, a long-time political figure in San Miguel was named manager of the Meadows Home for the Aged at $405-plus after a long record of difficulty in the institution because of political management.

UNFRIENDLY ENGINEER BANISHED FOR GOOD

The move-in on the highway department by road contractors was emphasized this week by the disclosure that their No. 1 enemy, Technical Engineer T. B. White, will be demoted to a post where he has no contact with contractors. He is slated for the unimportant and long abandoned post of urban engineer in state road jobs inside the city limits but have nothing to do with the construction. It was Whitey with his tough demands on contractors who did more than any other to get his brother-in-law, Pete Erwin, fired as chief engineer.

Gov. John Simms is trying to walk a tight wire in the appointment of members to the interstate streams commission and a new water engineer. It's not only a question of satisfying the voters in the several areas

Desert Dan says
 A party once said that one day of good weather in New Mexico makes up for a month of average Eastern weather. I ain't never been East, but it must be true. For some good reason young men were advised to go West. You hear lots of compliments on the scenery in the East, but good weather's seldom mentioned. And there's one good thing in favor of a dust storm in New Mexico now an' then. It keeps us from gettin' overcrowded.

Sportsmen Boost State's Economy
 New Mexico sportsmen not only pay their own way. They also make a tremendous contribution to the State's economy, according to Joseph A. Bursay, director, State Tourist Bureau.
 Last year, he states, resident fishermen spent an average of $124.57 for the year's fishing trips. There were 87,300 licensed resident fishermen.
 Non-residents spent $6,514,182 — an average of $188.44 per fishing trip. Most of this money was spent with sporting goods stores, cafes and grocers and gas and auto service stations.
 Of the $1,843 who hunted in the State last year, they spent on an average of $87. It all totals a possible 30 million dollars, a great deal of which came from out of the State. Included is the sum of $23,375 in money collected for fines.

And your cooperative must continue to be able to furnish you with reliable electric service."
 The new rates are as follows:

The report deals fully with the possibilities of developing ground water for irrigation. Also included are maps and the description of nearly a hundred watering places.

Have Trouble With Your Tax Return?
 What are the chances of getting into trouble with your income tax return?
 There are slightly more than two chances out of 100 that your return will require minor adjustment after you send it in. There is one chance in 100 that you will have to confer with an Internal Revenue Service official to iron out details. There are two chances in 100,000 that you will settle in tax court. And only one chance in 100,000 that your case will go to an actual court of law. But — here is good news — chances are 9% out of ten that your return will be accepted as filed. — Changing Times.

 Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Callaway, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Blakely and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Garcia and family from Santa Fe spent an enjoyable Easter Sunday at White Sands. The children enjoyed the Easter egg hunt.

Green Corn Dance at San Felipe Pueblo
 Santa Fe. — The Indian Pueblo of San Felipe, 27 miles north of Albuquerque, is preparing for its annual May 1 fiesta and Green Corn Dance. Brown walls gleam smoothly with freshly applied adobe mud. Lights burn longer into the night in plaza dwellings, where intent women work patient hours over intricate costumes of feathers, beads and shells. The men hold solemn "kiva" conferences and strange rites are being planned for the coming celebration.
 Surrounding the "village" are the low-lying river fields gleaming green with budding shoots. It is for these and their promise of ample crops that the Green Corn Dance Ceremony is given.
 The San Felipe fiesta has long been a favorite day for pow-wow, trading and general entertainment throughout this area.

Artist and author John Melgare has been commissioned to do a mural painting in the office of Counsellor George Zimmerman. When that is completed, he has another commission from Madeline Kuder for a pastoral scene at the O-Bar-O. More people in both the Yucca Grill and Bar last Tuesday than those places could hold. No one seemed to know of any special occasion, just one of those things. The new permanent Range Camp Commander at Red Canyon is Lt. Col. McCarthy. He received his assignment April 4. He was on recruiting duty in Iowa and was transferred here from Omaha. His family will move here anon. Lions Club meeting last Monday night was the best one they have had in a long time with 22 members and guests being present. Along with Lt. Col. McCarthy, Yord Harris, field director of Boy Scouts and John Blomfield, district executive of Boy Scouts of America were the guests of honor. Each one gave a short talk which was most interesting. "Lefty" and Irene Hayes sure did give Welcom Armstrong a rough evening telling him about the things he would encounter on his Mexico City trip—especially the part about the burro milk. Incidentally, that Memorial Train sold out all reservations and it became necessary to make up another companion train in order to accommodate a waiting list. Abolishing all ribbing and hokum momentarily, this trip constitutes a memorial presentation by delegates of the U. S. to El Presidente of Mexico, in recognition of Mexico's independence. Joe and Sharon Sargent, two of the most popular of the younger set, spent the week end in Albuquerque. Sharon continues on the hale and hearty list. After twelve years of service in the U. S. Army, the well-known Sgt. Grady has applied for discharge and will receive same within the next two weeks. "Grady," as everyone calls him, will return here for the time being. He is scheduled to finish his roping and cutting arena at the Mill Iron Lazy Three Ranch. Number 40 at Petty's Lava Vista Court really went all out for Easter Sunday. The big dance at Capitan last Saturday night had quite a popular guest. "Shady" Lane seemed to capture all female hearts with his gallant manners and the "Gaby Hayes" beard. A regular conquistador, no less. This isn't exactly a scoop by now, but our friend, Bobby Leslie has himself a wife, and I'm not foolin'. Formerly Shirley Bird, Bobbie met her at Tucson and they were married at Flagstaff, Arizona. They had known each other for most of their lives. Be sure to read the interview with Mrs. Jack Garrett on Anchorage, Alaska. It did not appear in last week's Lincoln County News due to the fact that the cuts could not be obtained in time for use. After reading that interview, maybe you will want to join "Popular Pollard" and me, We're a-headin' for the Klondike. Miss Betty Wolford of Santa Fe spent the week end at the Mill Iron Lazy Three Ranch, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Barham and Bud Taylor. Mrs. H. H. Walker and family, of El Paso, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Peyton and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Crandell and children all of Tularosa; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Barham and children, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dunning and Forrest, Bud Taylor and Betty Wolford, Mrs. Valli Goldsberry and Kathleen were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Taylor on the Lazy Y Slush at an Easter celebration. The kids located 46 of the 48 eggs that had been colored and hidden. There was enough food for a regiment. Deelish! Pollard, Dimica Miller and "Mac" McIntyre spent the week end in Tucumcari, visiting Pollard's brother and family. Sorry to report that our good friend W. H. Baker received a slight setback and continues to reside in the local hospital. He is improving

Miss Joy Miller Elected Historian

At the recent State meeting of Future Teachers of America held at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, Miss Joy Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lee Miller, was elected State Historian. Tom Cook of ENMU was elected President of the State organization and Alta Hamilton of New Mexico Western took the office of Secretary-Treasurer. Miss Miller is a senior Business Education major at New Mexico A&M where she has been active in the William B. O'Donnell chapter of FTA and is press chairman for her social sorority, Delta Zeta. Summarize Progress in Agricultural Research Progress in New Mexico's agricultural research for 1953-1954 is summarized in the 85th Annual Report of the Agricultural Experiment Station, New Mexico A&M College.

The 70-page illustrated report covers research work done at State College in the fields of livestock, range improvement, dairy and poultry, field crops and soil, vegetables and fruits, agricultural economics, and home economics, as well as that done at the Espanola Valley Substation, Middle Rio Grande Substation, Northeastern Substation, and the Plains Substation.

It also gives the names of the publications and papers published during 1953-54 the project changes, the personnel changes, the cooperative work, and a financial statement.

In the introduction to the research reports, it is pointed out that many of the details of the studies have been omitted to give the reader an over-all view of the findings in as brief a form as possible. Persons wanting more information about any of the studies are invited to write to the Experiment Station, State College.

Single copies of the report may be obtained free of charge from the County Extension Agent.

If you must burn brush, grass, or trash, select a still, damp day, preferably about 4 p.m. Have help and fire tools handy. Be sure fire is "dead out" before leaving area. Consult your state fire laws.

The White Sands of southern New Mexico are practically pure gypsum. Science has found at least thirty different uses for this non-metallic mineral.

A Good Lawn Needs Fertilizer

Adequate fertilizer — especially nitrogen — is one of the basic requirements for a fine, healthy lawn.

No grass, regardless of how superior or how well it is adapted to its situation, can be expected to compete successfully with weeds and insects and to stand up under heat, drought, and other trying conditions if it is not properly fed.

Cool-season grasses such as bluegrass, which is adapted to northern New Mexico, require a minimum of two pounds of actual nitrogen per 1000 square feet each year. Preferably this should be divided into three applications at monthly intervals during the early part of the growing season.

Organic fertilizers, such as cow manure, or inorganic chemical fertilizers will supply the needed nitrogen. In either case, it is best to know the approximate nitrogen content of the material used so you can estimate the amount of actual nitrogen you are applying.

Late application of fertilizer is not recommended if crabgrass is a problem. Once the crabgrass gets a start, any further fertilization will feed it as well as the cultivated grasses.

Control Screwworms With EQ-335 Smear

Cattlemen should look out for screwworms and treat all livestock wounds to prevent infestation. Mild winters, similar to the one just past, induce an early worm build-up. To prevent and curb infestation use EQ-335 smear. It contains lindane which gives a lasting effect. One application a week, except in severe cases, will do a job. Screwworms increase rapidly once present. If headed off from the start, a lot of trouble can be avoided.

County Trackmen Take Points at Play Day

Highlands High School of Albuquerque, scoring 83 3/4 points, won the White Sands Relay Saturday and permanent possession of the Tom Charles trophy.

A record number of high schools—21 in number—competed in the track events.

Lincoln County athletes placed in a number of events—Gallegos of Captain and Huey of Corona in the pole vault; Payne of Captain in the 880-yd. run and high jump; and Harkey of Carrizozo in the broad jump. Carrizozo won second place in the mile medley. The team members were Billy Lopez, who ran the 220; Skipper Harkey, 220; Sammy Spedham, 440 and Billy Hicks, 880. Other Grizzly performers in the track and field events were Leroy Sidwell, shotput; Lake Hite, 220; Leroy Nowell, javelin; Lonnie Nowell, 440 and Richard Means, hurdles.

In the team totals, Carrizozo tied with Gadsden for sixth place with six points. Capitarr totaled 3%, Ruidoso 1 and Corona 7%. Ruidoso took fifth in the mile medley.

The weatherman provided a warm, sunny day and a crowd estimated at 7000 gathered in a natural amphitheatre in the dunes.

Over two hundred oldtimers of the area met for a reunion. Among those introduced were Mrs. Maybelle Prather, "oldest mama," who came to Otero county in 1881; Mrs. Viola Hunter, who was born in Otero county in 1884, and Tony Curtis, "oldest papa," who first came to Otero county in 1880.

Spring Clean-Up Do's and Don'ts

It's time to get started on spring clean-up around the farm, says County Extension Agent, Ralph Dunlap, but it's also important to know where to stop.

"Farm clean-up is largely a do-it-yourself job, but there are several chores necessary for fire safety," he warned, "which demand the 'know-how' of a specialist."

Don't attempt to do the work of a licensed electrician, a furnace contractor or a chimney sweep, is the advice of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the National Fire Protection Association, co-sponsors of Clean-Up Week. Bungling jobs like these would just increase your chances of a fire on your farm.

There are plenty of things you can and should do though: Dispose of quick-burning trash and rubbish, clear out the winter's crop of weeds, dead shrubbery and litter, paint, remove or replace old rotting wood and fencing, and clean and repair home tools and machinery.

Where electrical wiring is concerned, however, your best and safest bet is an experienced electrician. Let him, and not your own guesswork, determine the safe electrical load for your circuits. And incidentally, have him take a look at your lightning rod system while he's at it. It might need repair or better grounding.

A Delco Products leveling device, is now being used successfully on buses, can be adapted to trucks to raise or lower the bodies of same to the level of a loading dock.

What Soil, Water Tests Mean to the Farmer

Soil and water tests have many potentialities for helping to improve crop production. The limitation to their use does not come so much from weaknesses in the methods of testing as it does from weaknesses in interpreting those results. Dr. H. E. Drege, soils specialist at New Mexico A&M College, said today.

Water analyses are pretty well standardized, but several different ways of making soil tests are used. If the soil testing methods used are reliable for our western soils, then laboratory tests can pin down the cases where soil conditions are limiting yields, Drege stated. Likewise, testing irrigation waters can help to run down the cause of a salt or sodium problem as well as warn a farmer about the possible consequences of continued use of a poor-quality water.

Since the interpretation of soil and water tests is equally as important as the tests themselves, selecting the organization that will make the tests is

News from the EPNG Compressor Station

Robert Smuts' is home from the hospital in El Paso, where his knee was operated on. It is healing nicely.

Pam DeLoe is back from Boger, Tex., feeling fine after tonsilectomy. Mrs. DeLoe's sister and husband came and took Mrs. DeLoe, Pam and Mary Louise to Boger last week. C. L. went after them over the Easter weekend.

Champ Turner, Jr. is still walking on crutches because of a knee injury on April 1, while on a school picnic.

Our Easter dinner in the recreation hall Sunday was a huge success. We had ham and all the trimmings, and almost everyone in camp attended. There was enough ham left for sandwiches for the evening meal, and then a picture show, "I Married My Wife," was shown.

Douglas Elliott, son of the Fred Whitmyres, is here on a furlough. He is stationed in Florida, and has been in the Armed Services for a year.

Carl Eford was home for the Easter holidays. He attends ENMU, at Portales.

Mrs. Merle Plants received word that her father is unconscious, suffering from shock due to the death of her grandfather. There is a series of cottage prayer meetings in the camp area this week—trying to get everyone in a prayerful mood for the coming Baptist revival in Corona starting Friday night. For Monday night, we met in the J. B. Dickie home; Tuesday night in the C. E. Buttrill home and Thursday night in the C. L. DeLoe home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gibbons were in El Paso with relatives over the Easter week end.

The Carl Buttrill's home was the gathering place for Mrs. Buttrill's folks this week end. Those who came were Mr. and Mrs. Halley Ray and boys, Gary and Garland, of Kirtland; Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Ray and girls, Jeanne and Lynne of Gage, and Mrs. Adell Galle and boys, Marshall and Jere, of Jal; also her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Galle of Denver City, Texas.

Mrs. Oeco Noyes' parents from Farmington brought her two young nephews, Steve, age 9 months, and Gary, 3, for the Oeco Noyes to keep indefinitely. Their family now consists of four boys.

of prime importance, the soils specialist explained. To get the most for their money, farmers should have the testing done by reputable persons or companies who are familiar with local conditions. Then, if fertilizers or soil amendments are recommended, untreated strips should be left in the fields so that a direct measurement can be made of the value of the treatment.

It is well to be especially cautious about recommendations that call for use of minor elements—potash, lime, calcium, magnesium, or sulfur," Drege said. "Our soils are adequately supplied with minor elements for most field crops. These soils also contain large amounts of potash, lime, calcium, magnesium, and sulfur, and in addition, irrigation waters carry considerable quantities of the last three elements."

JEST IN FUN

Granddad has been having such interesting dreams lately that now he has been wearing his spectacles to bed.

A small boy with a penny tightly clutched in his hot little hand entered the toy shop and drove the proprietor to distraction asking to see this and that and everything without ever making up his mind.

"Look here, my boy," said the storekeeper finally, "what do you want to buy for a penny—the world with a fence around it?" The boy thought for a moment and then replied: "Let's see it!"

The appraised value of the timber according to long-term normal market and operating conditions is $4.35 per M board feet for all species. No bid will be considered which is less than this rate, as a base rate applicable through the entire period of the sale agreement, plus at least $1.10 per M board feet for all species, the total to apply for all timber cut prior to May 1, 1957. On that date total rates will be redetermined, but in no event will the redetermined rates be less than the basic appraised value as first above stated, and in no event shall established rates below those bid become effective until at least 5,000,000 board feet have been cut and paid for. In addition to the price bid for stumpage, a deposit of $65 per M board feet to cover the cost of standing improvement following cutting, and a deposit of $1.75 per M board feet to be used by the Forest Service for paying the cost of slash disposal for the total volume cut will be required. $3,000.00 in acceptable form such as a certified check payable to the Treasurer of the United States must accompany each bid, to be applied on the purchase price, refunded, or retained in part as liquidated damages, according to the conditions of sale. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Forest Service bid forms for use in submitting sealed bids and full information concerning the timber, the conditions of sale and the submission of bids should be obtained from the Forest Supervisor, Alamogordo, New Mexico, or the Regional Forester, Albuquerque, New Mexico, before bids are submitted. TRANS-ATLANTIC TELEVISION

Would you like to see a ballet from Paris, a musical from London or an opera from Rome on your TV set? Looks like you will get a chance in the not too distant future. A new submarine telephone cable goes into operation in 1956, and the experts say it will be just as good for television as for phone calls.

4-H Clubs Call Boys and Girls

Any girl or boy who is interested in 4-H club work and is between 10 and 21 years of age, can join the 4-H club either as a member of a 4-H Club or as a member at large. The member at large carries on his work largely on his own, with help from the county extension office.

If a group of six or more boys and girls are interested, they can organize a 4-H club of their own. In the club, they will learn about the different phases of 4-H work, as well as conduct their meetings in a businesslike manner.

Here's a traffic tip from the New Mexico AAA Motor Club:

Taking a trip? Avoid crowded highways by starting out early in the morning when traffic's light and you have the road to yourself. Stop early before you are too tired to drive safely.

The first day of any future war will find most of us either out of town or out of luck.

Three-Act Comedy, "Juke Box" by Junior High School

The Carrizozo Junior High School will present a three-act comedy, "Juke Box," by Kathleen Murphy Kotz, Friday, April 22, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The cast includes:

Ma Marilyn Harkey
Frankie Buddy Duncan
Jeanie Sharon Fulkerson
Clancy Lewis Greer
Pete Joe Petty
Runt Fat Vigil
Henry Ralph Petty
Prof Bobby Rickerson
Malone Vivian Sandoval
Kate Jonette Harkey
Bets Willsa Belle O'Rear
Piggy Betty Schlarb
Silly Susan Spencer
Matilda Sharon Jones

Jeanie comes to Ma for a job in the "Juke Box." She tells Ma she wants the money to buy clothes so she can dress like the other girls. But she is really looking for her famous brother, Frankie, the Boy Crooner. Frankie is determined to smash all his "sway" records so that the bobby-soxers will forget him and he can have some peace. Clancy, the policeman on the beat, is worried for he knows that the school crowd doesn't pay Ma and that she is in danger of losing her precious "Juke Box." Malone, the pretty school teacher, tries to get Clancy to quit his profession, but he is determined to stick to it.

The professor comes in for a "plain drink of water," but Clancy argues him into buying one of Ma's "Super-dooper Sundaes" and in the meantime enables Runt and Henry, who have played hooky from a history exam, to escape out the door. The girls, Kate, Bets, Piggy and Silly, drop in for a soda and a business meeting about the forthcoming prom. Pete, who has been putting up posters for the prom and who has met Jeanie and likes her a lot, has an argument with Kate who is the "executive type."

The professor eats four "Super-dooper Sundaes" and faints. In the excitement Ma puts the cigar box which holds the money for the prom, in his brief case. He innocently carries it off. The loss of the money is discovered. Kate accuses Jeanie and Pete denies it. At the same time Matilda Moore is trying to buy the "Juke Box" to add to her national chain of tea rooms.

The rest of the action consists of hilarious attempts to locate the money, save the "Juke Box" and determine who is going to the prom with whom.

All action takes place in Ma's "Juke Box," the corner hamburger and malt stand, where the high school crowd hangs out.

ALASKA - LAND OF MANY CONTRASTS

(Mrs. Jack Garrett, a resident of Anchorage, Alaska, for the past six years, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ferris in Carrizozo. Mrs. Garrett describes the wonders and beauties of Anchorage and vicinity to Pat Neal of the Lincoln County News.)

Anchorage is a very metropolitan city. It covers about ten square miles, has a population of 55,000 which does not include the three suburbs, making up Greater Anchorage. Industry abounds with one of the largest of salmon canneries, spruce mills and paper pulp factories. It is not uncommon to see the enormous black bear and the largest moose on the north American continent feeding upon the waste of these factories and canneries, at the edge of town. They bother no one, and no one bothers them.

Education in Alaska is presenting a major problem. The growth of the country is so great that grade school children are educated in relays of a half day at a time. Besides the University of Alaska at Fairbanks, a Methodist College will be started this spring with a beautiful campus on the outskirts of Anchorage. This will fill a need for additional education facilities for the young people.

Amusement centers of all kinds are plentiful. There are three beautiful, large theatres on Fourth Avenue, along with several bowling alleys, night clubs with floor shows, two big TV stations beaming local programs as well as NBC and CBS newscasts, and a few of the old gold-mine-rush saloons of yesteryear.

parts of Alaska are very very busy. Fishing, hunting, sailing, and skating are popular pastimes for the out-of-doors sports enthusiast.

One of the biggest attractions of the year is the Annual Fur Rendezvous. At this time they have sled-dog races, which are run down the main street. This year a young 27 year old housewife from Ohio placed second to a native Alaskan in the competition. Here is the place and time in which the trappers bring in their furs for bids. It is not a rare sight to see a five or six thousand dollar mink coat being worn over a pair of blue jeans. The Fur Rendezvous is to Alaska what rodeos are to the South-west. Yes, Anchorage does have snow in the winter. But the highways are kept open the year round with adequate equipment to take care of them. This past winter the temperature dropped one night to 36 degrees below zero. But it is a dry, still cold and a person feels it no more at 36 below than at zero. Contrary to most opinions, cars are not stalled at that temperature. When the Alaskan housewife starts to prepare breakfast, the man of the house goes out to the garage, plugs in the electric current to a "head-bolt" on the car, warming the motor sufficiently so that it starts easily. Traveling in automobiles continues the year round.

MAY IS PLANTING TIME

By the last of April all snow is melted and by the first of May, farmers in the rich and lush Matanuska Valley are planting their crops of grain, oats, wheat and an abundance of produce of all kinds. There is very little along those lines that cannot be or is raised in Alaska. Dairy farming is a highly remunerative industry. The barns are basement type with hip-roof. Rich in proteins is the hay, stored under the hip roof for winter feeding. It also serves to keep livestock warm and comfortable even on the coldest of days and nights.

Homes are heated by butane gas and fuel oil. Oil fields are being drilled throughout Alaska at this time and refineries will soon be built. This is a part of the North American continent which is undergoing the greatest development ever known. Anchorage boasts one of the biggest airports about a mile and a half from our home, where trans-world planes stop. More planes land here and take off than from LaGuardia field in New York.

Alaska is an extremely healthful country. Our children play out of doors the year round. If it gets cold, we dress for that cold and are prepared for it. Ours is a very stable economy. Standards of living are higher than elsewhere on the continent. Hundreds of families are moving in and settling down for their future life. In the past two or three years, hundreds and hundreds of FIA homes have been built within any price range desired. Rentals are plentiful. Homes can be rented for from $25 down, and efficiency apartments can be obtained for from $50 to $75. Churches of all denominations urge you to attend.

Cabbage grown in the Matanuska Valley in Alaska. Other cultivated vegetables compare in size with these.

Stores equal anything to be found in any metropolitan city. There are chain grocery stores as well as the independent merchant. Sears Roebuck have four mail order offices in four different locations of the city for our convenience. Clothing and general merchandise stores are of easy access for most anyone.

The thrifty Alaskan housewife has an abundant living. In the spring and summer she will can, or put in the deep freeze, all sorts of wild berries and fruits. She also has all the vegetables and meat she can store and these will cost her about three-fourths of what she would have to pay for them in the United States.

Alaska is a land of opportunity and a land of plenty. It is a little bit of Eden placed high on the North American continent, but it beckons one and all. Come to Alaska for a visit, and it is ten to one that you will remain to become a loyal citizen, as I have done.

Anchorage, Alaska is my home. It is where my heart is and neither my husband nor I would want it any other way. We like Alaska.

Pike and Bass Biting Well at Conchas Dam

Easter Sunday brought out about a hundred fishermen on Conchas Lake, according to the New Mexico Dept. of Game and Fish. Bass and walleyed pike were biting well. Crappie were more wary, biting 18 to 20 feet deep, in coves and off rocks. Catfish were looking the other way.

Texas seem to have come off with the honors over the week end. A Lubbock couple took 10 pike averaging 3 1/2 lbs., six bass averaging 2 1/2 lbs., and four crappie. Three men from Lubbock, Winters and Levelland took two catfish, 33 crappie, 10 bass and a 3-lb. pike. A party from Dumas caught 30 crappie. A couple of New Mexicans did all right by themselves, too. Bob Turner of Tucuman, trolling for pike with a trip-on spinner, came up with a 4-lb. bass. C. D. Drummond of Clovis took two pike on a 004 Hellbender plug, a 4-pounder and a 3-pounder.

Conservation Officer Jim Dillard of the Dept. of Game and Fish reports further, that the lures being successfully used are the Lazy Ike and Bomber plugs, trip-on spinners, and minnows. He adds that the water is warming up and he expects better fishing next Sunday.

Hitch-Hiking Horse En Route to Fiesta

A hitch-hiking away-backed horse, a velled lady, Hollywood personalities, rodeo beauty queens, a uranium hunt and prizes galore all make up part of the three-day Fiesta at Truth or Consequences April 15-17.

Ralph Edwards heads the contingent from Hollywood bringing with him the present master of ceremonies on "Truth or Consequences" radio and TV, Jack Bailey. Guest stars coming with Edwards are Jack Smith, the man who sings with a smile in his voice, and well-known motion picture actor, Milburn Stone.

The hitch-hiking horse started from Hollywood on April 5 with Truth or Consequences contestant George Ashworth trying to thumb enough rides for the horse and himself to reach Truth or Consequences, N. M., in time for the Fiesta. The contestant wins an extra $500 if he can find and identify the strange lady in town who appeared heavily veiled on the April 5 show with him. She will be in Truth or Consequences for the entire Fiesta.

The beauty contest features entrants from all over the state, with the winner's prize a trip to Hollywood for herself and escort, as well as a screen test or a part in a motion picture.

Three days of rodeo, a radio broadcast of the "Truth or Consequences" program, old fiddlers contest, a parade, barbecue and dancing all contribute to making the three-day Fiesta jam-packed with activity.

COMMENT FROM THE STATE PRESS

Las Cruces Citizen — The six-year statute of limitations on the second-degree murder charge in the Coogler case expires in April, according to Judge W. T. Scoggin. The statute on manslaughter expired three years ago. The two charges are automatically filled with a first-degree murder charge, Scoggin said.

"Cricket" Coogler disappeared from a Las Cruces street between 3 and 4 a.m. Thursday, March 31, 1949. Her mutilated body was found 17 days later near Mesquite, 12 miles south of Las Cruces. No one has been convicted of the killing.

Hot Springs Herald — (Editorial) — It is unfortunate that the state cut old age pensions. Too many cases now do not draw sufficient money for a decent living. Had the legislature enacted the bill which would have made the welfare rolls open to the public and available for newspaper publication, enough unmerited cases would have been disclosed which would have resulted in more money. No doubt the welfare department could get by with less employees, but then that would result in more unmerited cases getting funds because complete investigations could not be made. The legislature failed completely to take care of our older people. It is an unfortunate situation when our older people do not have sufficient means to live comfortably after contributing the best years of their lives serving humanity.
